Wiscasset, formerly one of Maine's great shipbuilding centers, now famous for its front doors and myriad objects of historic interest, is the subject of the fourth of a series of articles on Maine towns which will appear in The Portland Sunday Telegram next Sunday.

In addition to Mr. Eldens article, which should be read by everyone interested in the history of Maine, next Sunday's Telegram will be completely filled with good things to read.

The football season is upon us and you will find your favorite Maine college and school teams well represented in a most complete sporting section.

Elmer, the hero of Fera's funny page widely known as "Just Boy," comes into his own next Sunday as the title of one of the most interesting comics of the day.

An automotive section bigger and better than ever, Railroad Reminiscences, The Saunterer, The Haskin Information Bureau and Letter, society events of the week and "The Doings of the Gumps" are some of the interesting features which, with the most complete general news coverage obtainable, are helping to make Maine's Sunday newspaper so popular.

The edition sells out every Sunday. To avoid possible disappointment order your copy today from your local dealer—and become a regular reader.

ALL IN CUSTODY

Four Convicts Who Escaped From Maine Prison Back In The Toils.

The four convicts who escaped from State Prison last June are again safely in custody. Closely following the announcement that James E. Bennett had been shot, probably fatally in Everett, Mass., Warden Lester D. Eaton yesterday received a telegram stating that Edward Arnold, fourth member of the quartet to be recaptured, was in custody at El Paso, Texas, charged with the theft of an automobile.

The information came from the Bureau of Investigation in Washington. Whether Arnold will be surrendered to the Maine authorities was not indicated.

Arnold was serving his second sentence at Thomaston, having been sent the last time from Cumberland County for a term of from 1 to 2 years for larceny. He was first committed from York County.

DODGE BOOZE ISSUE

Gov. Smith Told Chicago Democrats Many Things, But Not About That.

A few subjects jotted down on the back of a torn envelope provided the ammunition for Gov. Al. Smith's message to Cook County Democrats in Chicago Sunday—a recital which his friends considered an opening bid for the Democratic nomination for president in 1928. Coincidentally Mayor Dever, who introduced the New York chief executive as "the most brilliant party leader in the nation" was considered to have started a boom for renomination. Neither speaker, however, mentioned candidates, but the subject was assumed by the 100,000 sons of Democracy who leaders of the party said attended the picnic and jollification.

The subject of prohibition, likewise, was not touched upon either by the wet liberal of New York or the Chicago mayor, who has drawn praise from the dries, although many Democrats had gone to the picnic expecting some pyrotechnics on the question.

Newspapermen who had gone all the way from Broadway with the understanding that Gov. Smith was going to "tear the lid off" also were disappointed.

Gov. Smith outlined a tentative program of reform in Washington that he said would save $200,000,000 a year and bring governmental affairs in line with the progress in science and business in this "air-plane age."

The serious part of his talk was directed at the economy record of the national administration.

WITH THE SPORTSMEN

Deputy Game Warden Smallwood Is Busy—The Outlook Elsewhere.

Open time on partridge and woodcock today.

In this neighborhood Deputy Game Warden Fred Smallwood, in charge of the Knox County Game Preserve, reports hundreds of duck occupying the preserve at the Bog and Oyster River in the old powder mill section. And no hunting is allowed here the deputy keeps them stirred up to prevent them getting too fat for the fall flight.

Friday the deputy will start the planting of wild rice at the Bog for feed. After the plants appear this portion of the preserve will require almost constant attention to prevent the muskrats destroying the tender shoots of the rice as they appear.

Deputy Smallwood will liberate 2000 salmon in Chickawaukie Lake tomorrow. He has already put 8,000 yearlings into Alford's and Crawford's lakes.

The story comes from Camden that "Jess" Cross of that town has the record for Megunticook. During this season 44 fish have been caught from his boat and he took 24 of them himself. Last week he caught two salmon weighing five pounds and three and one-half pounds.

Deer and birds are more abundant in the Maine woods this year than ever before.

Reports from guides and camp proprietors received by the State Fish and Game Department and by the Maine Publicity Bureau, all tell of abundance of big game and of birds as well.

A greater number of hunters are coming to the Maine woods than in many years, when the deer hunting season opens in the eight northern and eastern counties of the State Oct. 15, in the opinion of the big woods camp proprietors. Many of the camps report full bookings for the entire season which closes Nov. 30.

The one deer law passed by the last Legislature is not expected to reduce the number of hunters. Those who are planning to come to the Maine woods for a hunting trip will come just the same, according to information received by the camp proprietors, whether the limit is one of two deer, about the only change being that the sportsmen's parties may run larger in number.

Less deer were killed last winter in Aroostook County by wildcats than in many previous seasons, the guides report, and the deer seen not only are plenty but in fine condition. Good prospects for deer hunting are reported in the Ox Bow region and around Eagle Lake and the Fish River chain. Birds also are reported plentiful in the Fish River region.

In the Jackson region in Somerset County there are said to be more deer than last year and both deer and partridge are reported unusually plentiful in the vicinity of the West Forks and along the lower Enchanted section. The Jim Pond section deer outlook is particularly good.

Many yards of deer have been reported in the vicinity of Norcross and Willimantic, as well as other parts of Piscataquis County.

The northern part of Toppsfield and the head waters of the Kennebec and Machias rivers have as good prospects for big game as any part of Washington County has had for years, according to report, while duck hunting is said to be good at Tunk and Schoodic ponds, as well as along the coast.

The Cupscupic and Kennebec Lake territory in Franklin County will afford good deer and partridge hunting, according to reports from that section.

The exhibit of the Inland Fisheries and Game Department at the Maine Building at the Eastern States Exposition attracted a great deal of attention from visitors at the big Springfield, Mass., fair, and is believed to be responsible for arousing interest among groups who have not yet visited Maine in hunting and fishing in the Pine Tree State.

Miss Myrtle Hodgdon, chief clerk of the Inland Fisheries and Game Department, who was in charge of the exhibit, received many inquiries regarding the hunting attractions of Maine. In addition, a considerable number of inquiries has been received at the offices of the Maine Publicity Bureau in Portland, regarding the routes to take for the best hunting grounds in Maine and the accommodations to be found there, in which the seeking the information say that they became interested through the department exhibit at Springfield.

All applicants for teachers' certificates in Wyoming must pass an examination on the Constitution of the United States and of the State of Wyoming.

There was no midway at this exhibition, but there was a very fine exhibit of farm stock, tools and horses. One of the great attractions was the horse show of Monday and Tuesday evenings. All who like to see good horses should have attended. In visiting the stable the writer saw such care bestowed on horses as one could hardly imagine. That they were deserving of such care, one would only have to see them to understand. The real show was in the arena when the judges made their awards of ribbons. The six horse team of Wilson & Co., of Chicago made the great hit of the Monday night show. It seemed incredible that horses could be trained to drive so smoothly and so easily handled. Tuesday afternoon they judged the cattle in the arena while the judging of the sheep, pigs, and poultry went on at other places. In other buildings were exhibits of work done by the Juniors, canning and hand crafts of all kinds. The Boy and Girl Scouts were also featured, having their camps on the grounds. It was a busy place from one side to the other of the grounds with something doing everywhere.

Wednesday morning found us on our way home. Saw a few of the Maine autos enroute, but as each was for himself there was no display like the going out trip. There was no special incident. Everything worked smoothly and we arrived home on Thursday having spent a night in Portland.

BOND ISSUES LEGAL

All doubt as to the legality of the bond issues approved by the voters of Maine in special election on Sept. 14 was swept aside Tuesday by the announcement from high official sources at Augusta that both the $2,000,000 for the proposed bridge over the Kennebec river and that of $6,000,000 for highway construction are absolutely legal. In order to obtain the right to issue these bonds the approval of the voters first had to be obtained for a constitutional amendment. In days immediately following this election some fear was expressed as to the legality of the bond issues on the ground that by a technicality the voters had approved of a total way beyond the amount intended by the legislature, and by constitutional limitation.

The record for Megunticook. During this season 44 fish have been caught from his boat and he took 24 of them himself. Last week he caught two salmon weighing five pounds and three and one-half pounds.

MAINE MOTORCADE

The Maine Building At Springfield Among Features of Fall Exhibition.

The first Maine Motorcade left Portland Monday morning, Sept. 21, at 8.45 with 60 autos and several trucks headed by the State Motor Police who acted as escort the entire way.

Each auto was provided with a State and National Flag, which for most part were attached to the radiator. A large white banner with "Come to Maine" in large letters was fastened to the rear of each car. Aside from one auto from Camden and two from Rockland there did not seem to be any from this locality. There was one with a New York license plate.

After the night's rain the road was slippery. Just before reaching Saco one of the autos became unmanageable and jumped onto the electric car track. No harm was done and the string took up their way, soon overtaking the head section which had not waited.

The first detour was soon after leaving Portland, where a new bridge is going in over the railroad track near the round house and yards, a much needed improvement as the old bridge was very narrow. This detour is well made, wide and well protected by watchmen and lights. Others occurred on the route not nearly so good. Just before reaching Wells, the school children were seen standing at salute as we passed and all along the way we were greeted with waving of hands and blowing of auto horns.

WILL SHOW NO FAVOR

Judge Miller Makes Position Plain In Regard To Intoxicated Drivers—The Hunt Case.

In Rockland Municipal Court yesterday Judge Frank B. Miller made it very plain that he intends to show no discrimination in his sentences for drunken driving. Having administered jail sentences in previous cases to men proposed to make "flesh of one and fish of the other," he said yesterday. He furthermore made it very plain that if drunken driving persists that he will increase the extent of his jail sentences.

The case in hand was that against Frank M. Hunt, who, while driving home last Saturday night in his Studebaker motor car was in collision with the Maxwell car owned and driven by Maurice L. Kallach of North Warren. Mr. Hunt was subsequently apprehended in Rockland, but the complaint on which he was arraigned Monday was for "reckless driving." On this complaint which was made by State Patrolman Beal, he was let off with the nominal fine, but the affair was not allowed to end there.

Chief Field of the State Highway Police came to Rockland Monday, made a quiet but thorough investigation of the case, and Mr. Hunt was re-arrested, this time for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

No defense was presented at yesterday's trial. Attorney Frank A. Tirrell contenting himself, for the time being with an earnest but ineffectual plea to have a double fine imposed in lieu of a jail sentence. When this failed an appeal was taken, and the case goes to the January term of Superior Court.

Mr. Kallach described the collision on the Warren road, and said that Mr. Hunt's car was ditched after it occurred. Mr. Hunt did not leave the car, and when Mr. Kallach told him that there had been a collision he remarked that he believed he did hear a noise. His speech was thick, the witness said.

"Did anybody approach you with a request not to press the matter?" asked Judge Miller.

"I was told that the damage would be settled, and was asked not to appear in court," the witness replied.

"Who approached you?"

Witness gave the name of a well known Rockland citizen.

On cross examination Mr. Kallach said he was going about 20 miles an hour, and that he came to a stop about 100 feet from where the collision took place.

"Did you notice that Mr. Hunt's car had a flat tire?" asked Mr. Tirrell.

"I did not."

"Did you notice anything wrong about Mr. Hunt except that his speech was thick?"

"Yes he was pretty near unconscious, and almost lost his seat."

"What would you say as to his condition?" asked Judge Miller.

"I should say that he was under the influence of intoxicating liquor."

Officer Myron Drinkwater told of receiving information from Warren as to the accident and of watching for a car with a certain number. He finally saw it pass the foot of Spring street, and with City Electrician Elmer Pinkham gave chase in the police patrol wagon. Mr. Hunt was overtaken in Bay View square and brought back to the police station. In the car was found a bottle containing two-thirds of a quart of gin and two bottles of ginger ale. Mr. Hunt's face was flushed, his voice was thick and he lurched when he left the car. Witness thought he was under the influence of liquor to quite an extent.

"Why did you ask him to drive the car back to Rockland if you thought he was drunk?" asked Mr. Tirrell.

"Because I wanted to see how he drove."

Special Officer Pinkham told of getting the telephone message from Warren and of the pursuit of Mr. Hunt's car, which he said kept on the left hand side of the road going up Camden street.

Fred L. Cheyre told of the preliminary moves made by the police and of their return with Mr. Hunt.

Patrolman Lamont A. Wellman testified that Mr. Hunt leaned forward as he was being led into the station, that he talked thickly and that his breath was strong of liquor. "I would say that he was quite well advanced in intoxication," said the officer.

State Patrolman Willis H. Beal said that Mr. Hunt talked thickly but that he did not know if he could say that but that this was his usual way of talking. He couldn't testify as to whether the man was intoxicated or not, as he had no trouble in understanding him.

Attorney Tirrell said that his client would be in the South during the winter, and that it would be very inconvenient for him to come back to Rockland for a jury trial. For this reason he would be willing to pay a double fine, as recommended by the chief of the State Highway Police, and which, Mr. Tirrell said, was agreeable to the various officials.

Judge Miller quoted Associate Justice Barnes as saying at the last term of court that drunken drivers were a menace to all other automobiles and to all people using the highways. "I have a responsibility on my hands," said he. "If I should discriminate I would be charged with inconsistency. How can I face the people of this community, after giving some jail sentences if I let other offenders off with a fine. I don't care whether such a course has been suggested by the highest police official or not, the responsibility is on me, and I want it distinctly understood that I cannot omit a jail sentence in this case and that I won't do it. An intelligent man who knows the penalty, and a man with a business capacity is more culpable than the less intelligent man and ought to be made to feel that he cannot get away with a light sentence."

Mr. Hunt was sentenced to two months in jail, and ordered to pay costs of court amounting to $15.35. Appeal was taken.

The Courier-Gazette

THREE TIMES A WEEK

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT
Rockland, Maine Oct. 1, 1925.
Personally appeared Frank S. Lydell, who on oath declares that he is president in the office of The Courier-Gazette, and that of the issue of this paper for Sept. 29, 1925, there was printed a total of 6,408 copies. Before me, FRANK R. MILES, Notary Public.

Whoever will come after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me. For whoever will save his life shall lose it; but whoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it.—Mark 8:34, 35.

Former Gov. Henry Allen is to be sympathized with in his indignation over the world continuing to remember, to the disadvantage of his imperial State of Kansas, the visitation of grasshoppers, away back in 1874. It was the sole occurrence of the plague, but for some reason people still couple it with any mention of that State.

"To judge from recent reports from Argentina," says Gov. Allen, "the Kansas grasshopper visitation was as mild as a cloud of gnats in comparison. Tens of thousands of tons of locusts have been trapped. Barriers of steel sheets many miles in length are set up to stop the pests. The government has a special bureau to cope with them. They have come not only one year, but a number of years in succession. But for some unexplainable reason the Kansas grasshopper which showed up in serious proportions only once will always be more famous than the Argentine variety, just as the Kansas 'cyclope' is more notorious than the more numerous ones in Illinois."

The A. L. A. safety department declines to exculpate the driver of a car who seeks to ascribe the blame for an accident to the remarks of his passenger. This is simply passing the buck. A driver who knows his business knows that he cannot and should not pay attention to remarks from the tonneau or anywhere else. If he is of a nervous type or easily confused by such remarks, and is really a safe driver otherwise, and intends to remain one, he has a remedy so simple that it is almost unnecessary to state it. A polite request from him will always prove effective in killing this hazard, and no safe driver who is annoyed and rendered unsafe thereby will hesitate to make use of it.

Acknowledging a paragraph recently appearing in this column commendatory of the service of the local telephone exchange, Mr. Herbert, division commercial assistant of the New England T. & T. Co. writes: "Honest commendation of the faithful performance of duty is always pleasing, and is helpful to those who carry on the work from day to day. I firmly believe the general satisfaction of Rockland people with the telephone service rendered by our Rockland employees is in no small measure due to the confidence the people have in the force; and the feeling the force have that Rockland people are appreciative of their efforts."

The apple crop in Knox County is spoken of with words of satisfaction. We have been shown some of its samples, fruit we should regard as likely to top the Boston market and excellent western apples because of that high flavor which is a particular asset of New England grown fruit. Meantime the editor of this paper is wistfully looking for those old-fashioned Porter apples with which in former years he was wont to gratify a discriminating palate.

I remember, I remember
Them apples of my youth,
When rich and juicy fellows
Into which I sank a tooth;
I'm older now, and fustier,
But oh, 'tis little joy
To get these apples what don't taste
Like when I was a boy.

MAINE PROFITED
By Its Share In Springfield
Exposition — Thousands Visited Building.

Those in charge of the State of Maine Building which was dedicated during the recent Eastern States Exposition at Springfield, Mass., which ran from Sept. 29 to 26 inclusive are more than gratified with the results after a final checking up of those who visited the building during the week. A careful check shows that over 150,000 persons were residents of Maine, the rest being former residents and out of the state residents.

This means that Maine had the opportunity to let more than 144,000 persons see what the State held along agricultural, industrial and recreational lines.

Although this was the first exhibit of Maine in her own building the exhibits shown were of a high class and informative nature. The exhibition spaces for next year have already been taken and present demands indicate that the exhibit space will have to be enlarged.

As the show window for the North Atlantic States this Exposition means much for the State in letting those outside the State know what Maine has to offer.
The Exposition just closed also did more for the unification of New England than any preceding one.

IN SPORTING CIRCLES

Evidently the Bangor High School football team is not expecting too soft a snap when it comes to Community Park. Here is what the sporting editor of the Bangor Commercial had to say about the game in Tuesday's issue:

There is no rest for the weary. So Coach Ishmael McKechnie took his Crimson squad down to Bass Park Monday afternoon. And the grid squad resumed practice.

For the Bangor team is facing an acid test on this coming Saturday. It will play its first game away from home. And the first game away from the home grounds is supposed to be the proof of the pudding, as it shows just what the players can do when the fans are rooting against them, instead of supporting them.

Bangor will play Rockland High on Saturday. Phil Jones, a Bangor boy, is coaching the downriver crowd and according to reports, Phil has developed one of the best representative teams that Rockland has had in a number of years.

The Jones team defeated Belfast High in a game played on the latter's home field last Saturday by a score of 18-13. Phil brought a squad of 50 men to Belfast for the game so it can be seen that he has plenty of material to choose from.

And Rockland High is out to revenge itself for the severe trouncing that was meted out to it at the hands of Bangor at Bass Park last season. Jones' cohorts would rather beat Bangor than any other team on the schedule, as the Crimson team represents their biggest game of the season.

In the practice session at Bass park, Monday, McKechnie gave the men a skull drill, and pointed out the various mistakes of the individual players in last week's games with Ricker Classical Institute. Signal practice was held and plays that bothered on Saturday were gone through again and again.

The entire Bangor team came through the Ricker game without injury and scrimmage sessions were resumed this afternoon.

Jimmie Cole, who played a brilliant game for the Lewiston baseball team this summer, and who finished the season with Rockland, has entered Bates College.

Lewiston High football team looks like another State champion outfit.

SAINTS AND SINNERS

Bishop Johnson Says Church Should Place Evangelism First.

Believing that Christ founded the church to become a home for sinners as well as a school for saints, the Rt. Rev. Irving P. Johnson, bishop of Colorado, says that "unless and until the congregations of the church reflect Christ's attitude toward the sinner, they will never produce saints acceptable to him."

Bishop Johnson, who recently denounced the proposal to strike "obey" from the marriage service of the Episcopal church, has made public the conclusions of the commission on evangelism, of which he is chairman, that will be presented to the convention in New Orleans beginning Oct. 7.

"It is our judgment that any diocese or congregation which limits its activities to the culture of its own people and measures its responsibilities by the comfort of its own constituency is acting in opposition to the commands of Christ," said the report. Bishops, priests and laymen have an equal responsibility to place evangelism first in the church's program; not merely by the giving of money, but also by personal service rendered to the least of these brethren.

Boiler trouble kept the steamer J. T. Morse in port yesterday.

Frederick Powers has resumed the management of Armour & Co.'s local plant.

The new Miller garage, Rankin and Union streets, is in frame and being boarded. It will be a sizeable structure adding much to a busy district.

Some have honors thrust upon them and such a one is Francis E. Havener. He dropped into The Courier-Gazette office last night and modestly denied the gentle charge. Ask him about it.

The contract for the new concrete sidewalks at the postoffice has been let to Kendall Hopkins of Camden. Mr. Hopkins recently completed an extensive concrete job at the Camden postoffice. The contract for the new vestibules of the local office have been let to H. E. Barter.

The new White bus, bought for the Thomaston-Warren line, arrived from Boston last night, and attracted a great deal of attention in front of the Street Railway waiting room. The bus goes into commission Saturday morning, taking up the trolley's schedule at the same prices.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Thomas P. Landers were held at St. Bernard's church Wednesday forenoon, requiem mass being celebrated by Rev. Fr. James A. Flynn. The casket was completely covered with roses, and there were many other beautiful tributes. The bearers were three grandchildren, Charles J. and John T. Landers of Bangor and William H. Glendinning, Jr., of Rockland; and a son-in-law Edwin C. Patterson of Rockland. The interment was in Thomaston.

Rockland High put in some hard practice last night getting ready for the big game Saturday against Bangor. Dick Reed, with 10 other old High School stars, lined up against the schoolboys and it was long after supper time before the boys left the field. The High School was not strong enough to hold the locals from rolling up three touchdowns but Coaches Perry and Jones feel that the boys learned a lot of football during the scrimmage. Rockland knows what it is against for Saturday and the coaches are trying hard to find the best working combination. With Fifield, the only letter man on the front line, it is no easy task to get this, but it is expected that Frohock, center of last year's team, will report for this morning's practice and with him in the lineup the coaches won't have to worry about that position. It is hoped that the team will have a good turnout and that the students and a big crowd of Rockland fans will be on hand.

The monthly supper in the Cushing town hall gained some enthusiastic recruits Tuesday night in the persons of Judge Frank B. Miller, Clerk of Courts Milton M. Griffin, A. I. Mather, Frank H. Whitney, Edward Gonia, Elmer Larabee, E. Carl Moran and F. A. Winslow, the members of the Rockland party being guests on that occasion of Mr. Gonia. Better beans, better brown bread, better salad and better cakes and better than those served at these Cushing suppers are not to be found anywhere, and Rockland folks who like a nice little trip, over model roads, to a nice little feed, are advised to go there. The members of the Rockland party spent a most delightful evening at the side by side cottages of Mr. Gonia and Mr. Larabee, divided in their admiration of the indoor open grate fire and the view of the moonlit river which could be obtained from the piazza. Mr. Larabee regaled the party with his residence in Virginia, and there was an open forum which was productive of some very interesting anecdotes.

It is doubtful if Manager Benson has ever offered a more popular double bill than the one which will be seen at the Park Theatre tomorrow and Saturday. Everybody likes a race track story and such is "Kentucky Pride" with J. Farrell Macdonald and Mary Astor as the stars. Such famous horses as Man o' War, Fair Play and Morvich are seen. The other feature is "The Wheel," starring Harrison Ford, and Mahlon Hamilton. The features at the Park next week will be Monday and Tuesday, a Peter B. Kyne story entitled "Never the Twain Shall Meet," starring Anita Stewart; Wednesday and Thursday, a Zane Grey story, "Wild Horse Mesa," with Jack Holt, Billie Dove and Noah Beery; Friday and Saturday, another double bill—Tom Mix in "The Lucky Horseshoe" and John Bowers in "Flattery."

Harold A. Pratt of Willardham appeared in Municipal Court yesterday as complainant against Franz Gehrmann, who appears to have been somewhat peeved because Mr. Pratt refused to pay for certain "extras" which he claims to have done while working on Mr. Pratt's new house. According to the complainant Gehrmann called him names, kicked holes in two cupboard doors and then drove rocks through the new windows. Mr. Pratt said he did not actually see Gehrmann throw the rocks, but saw him pick them up and saw him digging for home after the crash came. It did not require any Sherlock Holmes inspiration to convince him that the rocks which Gehrmann picked up were the identical ones which sailed through his 15x30 panes. Mr. Pratt exhibited a bloody cap and a bloody shirt in court yesterday to prove that he happened to be in the background when the assault was committed. Gehrmann was arrested by Deputy Sheriff G. N. Barchelder and was fined $10 and costs, amounting to $2.92. He appealed.

AFTER TUG'S CREW

The removal to Maine of Capt. Lucas Crowell and Mate Gerald King of the ocean going tug Kingfisher, charged with run running, was ordered yesterday by U. S. Commissioner Jenney after a prolonged hearing. Their counsel then obtained a writ of habeas corpus to stay the removal.

The men were charged with using the Kingfisher to tow into Rockland harbor recently a barge loaded with 5,000 cases of liquor. The tug was taken on the high seas after seizure of the barge.

The habeas corpus writ gives Crowell and King the right to a review of Commissioner Jenney's action before the Federal District Court, which has power to free them.

KITCHEN CUPBOARD

By NELLIE MAXWELL

Seasonable Food

WHILE oranges are plentiful let us use them freely in our menus. They add vitamins, mineral salts and fruit acids to our diet which are very essential to health.

Orange Charlotte Russe.—Take six round sponge cakes, baked in gem pans and scoop out to make baskets. Peel oranges, remove the white membrane and cut into small pieces, reserving all the juice. To four cups of powdered sugar and allow to stand for thirty minutes. Whip one cup of heavy cream and moisten the cake baskets with the orange juice, then fill with the fruit. Pipe whipped cream on the fruit and garnish with pieces of orange.

Eggs and Mushrooms.—Dried mushrooms that have been well soaked and chopped may be used for this dish if the fresh ones cannot be obtained. Take four eggs, four pieces of toast, and a cupful of mushrooms. Make a white sauce of two tablespoonsful each of butter and flour and one-half cupful of milk. Cook until smooth and thick; season with salt and pepper, adding one tablespoonful of caramel. Toast rounds of bread, cover with the sauce to which the mushrooms have been added, then drop an egg on each, place in the oven long enough to cook the egg. Garnish with watercress.

Rice Pudding.—Well cooked rice is one of the most easily digested cereals. Put two tablespoonfuls of rice into a quart of sweet milk with one beaten egg, salt and sugar to taste and a handful of raisins and bake for several hours in a slow oven. Serve with a hard sauce.

Eggs With Rice.—When eggs are scarce and high this makes a good egg extender: Put three tablespoonfuls of washed rice into an omelet pan, stir with a tablespoonful of butter until a light brown, add a little water and steam until the rice is tender. Now add three eggs and one-half cupful of rich milk. Stir and cook until the eggs are set. Season with salt and pepper and serve at once.

If Mothers Only Knew

Thousands of Children Suffer from Worms, and Their Mothers Do Not Know What the Trouble Is.

Signs of Worms are: Constipation, deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, offensive breath, hard and full stomach with pains, pale faces, eyes heavy, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points on the tongue, starting during sleep with troublesome dreams, slow fever.

Mrs. H. N. Roberts, 582 Asylum St., Flint, Mich., writes: "My little girl is relieved of her worms." And in a later letter wrote: "Baby is fine and it was your Miss Annie Going visited friends in Bangor recently.

Mrs. W. George Payson attended the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Carrie Vaughn, in Warren last Friday.

"Free" places in London schools increased from 47,000 in 1908-9 to 130,000 in 1924-25, and the number of pupils transferred to secondary schools at the age of 11 plus increased from 25 per cent in 1910-11 to 54 per cent in 1924. This has tended to lengthen the average time per pupil spent in the secondary schools, which was two years and seven months in 1908-9, to three years and five months in 1922-23.

Inspection of the O. E. S. will be held Friday evening, Oct. 2. Supper served at 6:15. Seaside Chapter of Camden and Orient Chapter of Union have been extended an invitation and all visiting members of town are cordially invited to attend.

TENANT'S HARBOR DAYS

The Tenant's Harbor Day in The Courier-Gazette of Sept. 24, that Eureka Lodge, A. F. & A. M., held a reception in honor of Brothers J. A. Ewell, W. J. Cuddy, George Smith, H. F. Kallach and W. E. Sheerer, who have been members of the lodge for 50 years or more, was particularly interesting to me.

"Dad" was raised in Eureka Lodge in September, 1893, sixty-two years ago, and was Worshipful Master in 1870 for the first time. He held that office eight terms, his last term being in 1906. In that year I was elected Worshipful Master of Joseph Warren Lodge of Boston.

And present and past very proud of the fact that father and son were W. M. of lodges at the same time. The coincidence probably has happened many times but I never have heard of it.

At the regular communication of Joseph Warren Lodge on the present Sept. 22, we had a little celebration in honor of its being our 63rd anniversary and our 70th regular communication. Though only a kid I am fourth in point of seniority as a P. M., and on that evening I was the second oldest P. M., as only the Senior P. M. was present. I have been a member of this lodge for a third of a century, and perhaps if I behave myself may at last reach the half century mark in point of membership.

I am going to try for it anyway. As Dad's diaries go back only to 1876 I cannot check up on the 50 year members, but here are some entries in that year:

"Aug. 3. Attended lodge this evening; quite a number out. Forrest Torrey was present and took the first degree."

"Aug. 10. Attended lodge tonight. Forrest Torrey was passed to the fellowcraft degree."

"Aug. 17. Attended lodge. Forrest Torrey was raised to sublime degree."

Quick work. I was four months getting my three degrees. Boze.

A chicken supper will be given by the ladies of the Baptist Church in the vestry Friday, Oct. 2.

The pageant, "The Planting of the Tree," given by the Woman's Home Missionary Society in the Baptist church Sunday evening, was a wonderful success. It was directed by Mrs. Nina Goucher and those taking part were Miss Edna Young, Mrs. Carrie Wallace, Miss Evelyn Welt, Miss Elva Black, Miss Frances Hanner, Miss Helen Clare and Harry Perkins. They were assisted by Miss Isabelle Waltz and Miss Frances Simmons in solos and duets, Miss Gladys Bailey at the organ and Edwin Clark with the trombone. The setting of the pageant was in a beautiful garden and the floral display was striking in the extreme. Characters were filled in an efficient manner and exceptionally fine music furnished. A free will offering of $12 was taken for the treasury of the Home Mission Society.

DAMARISCOTTA FAIR

Scene Shifts Next Week From Union To the Lincoln County Town.

George D. Pastorius and Edward B. Denny, president and secretary, respectively of the Lincoln County Fair, are working overtime to make next week's program the best that Society has ever offered.

An unprecedented number of entries for the races has been received and are still coming, so much so that additional sheds are being hastily erected to supplement the half hundred already available.

John R. Braden, the famous syndicate horse of Aroostook County, will be there and will make an exhibition mile.

Senator Buzzell of Belfast is to be starter for the races. Senator Carlton of Woolwich, bridge fighter will be there with a miniature Kennebec bridge for exhibition. The second day will be Governor's Day and Gov. Brewster will be present.

There will be auto races, including a slow auto race. The vaudeville stunts will be numerous. Balloon ascensions every day with triple parachute drops.

The baby show will be especially interesting. The State Board of Health acting in conjunction with local physicians will look over the babies submitted, pointing out their excellencies and defects if any, giving advice and recommendations and awarding prizes to the finest physical specimens and the reasons thereof. This combines the best features both of a baby show and of a clinic.

Nearly 1,500 high school publications belong to the Central Inter-Scholastic Press Association, fostered by the University of Wisconsin. Nine hundred school editors from 45 States attended the annual meeting of the association at the university.

ROCKVILLE

The Sunday School started by Messrs. Conant and Farnham, Rockland early in the summer here has had very gratifying results and is steadily increasing in attendance.

Rev. O. W. Stuart of the Littlefield Memorial church has superintended the Bible class. There is considerable interest and the church is very grateful to these gentlemen for their kind interest.

Miss Lottie Ewell attended the Sunday School Convention in Thomaston last Thursday.

Several from Rockville attended the Montville Fair last week. G. W. Carroll exhibited his herd of Texas heifers there driving them from his farm in Union.

Mrs. O. W. Carroll is visiting in Union.

Wednesday many cars went past on their way to the Union Fair. Some fine ones, some rather dilapidated ones, some driving very fast and others more moderate. One car had trouble just above on the road, four ladies got out, then a man, and first he discarded his top coat, next his suit coat, then rolled up his sleeves and began work on the engine. The other underneath, everywhere but on top the car. But he knew his business and did the job well and off they went to the fair. Just below Smelt Brook Hill a motor truck ran into a stone wall. Some kindly man helped pull it out of trouble. Nothing wrong with the driver—the stone wall was in the way. The old horse with ancient buggy trots past and none of his machinery seems to be in repair and no stone walls are to be seen. But it's rather nice to ride in a car, isn't it?

RAZORVILLE

Missionary Overlook went to Waldo Station Saturday to officiate at the funeral services of Mrs. Abbie Hussey.

Clarence Lessner who has been in the navy for the past 15 years is home on his annual vacation with his family here.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie G. Howard of Belfast are spending their vacation at the old homestead here.

Missionary Overlook spoke at the Skowhegan Reformatory Sunday morning at Oak Hill (Norridgewock) Sunday afternoon, and at North Belgrade in the evening.

Mrs. Reuben Sargent, Miss Laurie Davis and Muriel Creamer were in Augusta on business Monday.

Mrs. Linwood P. Jones has been sick for the past few days.

The Medomac Garage, Leland Johnson, proprietor, was broken into last Friday evening and a quantity of tires taken. Mr. Johnson is unable to tell if any of the tools or money, might have been taken. The thieves easily making access to the upper floor of the garage where the stock rooms are located. Mr. Ware, the undertaker, who lives there and who from the nature of his profession is a light sleeper, heard a car stop in the night, and as it didn't start up again, went to the window and saw a car at the garage, but supposing it was either Mr. Johnson or his mechanic, gave it no further thought. It seems, however, that everybody who has anything movable should have at least one gun loaded and practice archery.

ORFF'S CORNER

Mrs. Emma Merrill is returned to her home in Brockton, Mass., after a three weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Alton Achorn.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Hawthorne and daughter Julia and son Charles of Thorndike were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Elwell.

Freeman Peaslee, who has employment in Warren, was at home over the weekend.

Mrs. Elmer Smith has returned to her home in Medford, Mass., after a short visit at Albion Achorn's.

Mr. and Mrs. Albion Achorn have closed their home and returned to Dorchester, Mass., for the winter.

If the children are permitted to do as they please and to go where they please, they will be playing in the sand pile of the devil's back yard before mother has played three hands of the bridge game.—Houston Post-Dispatch.

THE LAUREL WREATH

Who Will Win It In This Year's World's Series?

Somewhere in the ranks of the Pirates and Senators is the uncrowned hero of the 1925 world's series.

It will take a fortnight or so to determine his identity but precedent set in every previous championship conflict bears out the conviction that some one athlete aspiring or inspired, will have his name marked down on the list of baseball's Frank Merriwells.

The king himself may have something to say about disposition of this season's crown for Bucky Harris, brilliant young manager of the Senators, who goes into the series with the distinction of having been the outstanding figure of the 1924 victory of his club over the Giants.

Walter Johnson's pitching made him a heroic figure in the final game last fall; Earl McNeely drove the deciding run and Peckinpaugh's gallant efforts at shortstop also figured largely in the battle, but Harris was the all-around sensation, fielding brilliantly and wielding a potent bat.

Both Washington and Pittsburgh have a plentiful array of candidates for stellar roles—two score or more, in fact. In the pre-series speculation, names most frequently heard are Coveleskie and Johnson, Washington's great right handed pitcher; Harris, Peckinpaugh and Goslin, prominent figures in the Senators' attack at defense; and among the Pirates such sensational youngsters as Cuyler, Yde, Moore, Wright and Traynor or veterans such as Carey, Meadows and Adams.

Babe Adams and Stanley Coveleskie, incidentally, have been awarded the main laurel wreath before so that they face the same handicap of precedent as Harris. Adams gained his honors by winning three games against Detroit in 1909; Coveleskie turned the same trick for Cleveland against Brooklyn in 1919.

Here is the complete list of world's series heroes, as popularly chosen, up to date:

1903—Bill Dineen, pitcher, Red Sox.

1905—Christy Mathewson, pitcher, Giants.

1906—George Rohn, third baseman, White Sox.

1907—Harry Steinfield, third baseman, Cubs.

1908—Frank Chance, first baseman, White Sox.

1909—Babe Adams, pitcher, Pirates.

1910—Jack Coombs, pitcher, Athletics.

1912—Hugh Bedient, pitcher, Red Sox.

1913—Eddie Collins, second baseman, Athletics.

1914—Hank Gowdy, Catcher, Braves.

1915—Duffy Lewis, outfielder, Red Sox.

1916—Harry Hooper, outfielder, Red Sox.

INSTALMENT SELLING
Last year the American people spent about $160 per family for goods bought on the instalment plan, according to Good Hardware. That amounts to a total of about four billion dollars. That staggering figure represents a big increase over the previous year. Each year more goods are bought on the instalment or deferred payment plan.
Some years ago a store that sold on the instalment plan was looked upon with disfavor. Today the best stores in the country sell on time payments. Not long ago the average man or woman was ashamed to buy on instalments. Today even people with good incomes buy many things—furniture, from silverware to paint, in this way.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Spear and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Fuller left this morning in the Spear car for a trip to the White Mountains, their objective being the Philbrook Farm at Shelburne, N. H.

Mrs. J. W. Holt of South Gardiner is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Stevens, Main street.

Mrs. Fannie Crockett, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. W. Gregory, Camden street, returned to her home in Stonington Saturday.

Mrs. Elmer E. Barde and son, who have been spending the summer with Mrs. Barde's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. House, leave tomorrow for their new home in Quantico, Va. Mrs. House will accompany them.

H. A. Daniels, who has been making a brief stay in New York since leaving this city, left that city Tuesday for the lower Gulf Coast of Florida, where he will again try his luck fishing for tarpon. "Too much real estate business in Miami for the quiet life of a Matineus fisherman," writes Mr. Daniels to a friend on The Courier-Gazette staff.

The Rockland National Bank employees and guests were entertained on their annual picnic Saturday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Chase at their farm, Beech Hill.

Raymond J. Carver, Jr., of Wallham, Mass., and Major Richard K. Carver of Tulsa, Okla., were guests of their brother, Cecil W. Carver, Wednesday, enroute to the Maine woods for a month of hunting and fishing.

Mrs. H. H. Stover, formerly of this city, and now of Portland, is reported critically ill in Dr. Truesdale's Hospital, Fall River.

Wednesday evening, Sept. 23, a few friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Morse assembled at their home on Broad street to celebrate their 24th wedding anniversary. The affair was a complete surprise to the hostess, even if Carl did come very near letting the cat out of the bag on one occasion. Ices, cakes and fruit punch were served at a buffet, and young Al Mather enlivened the party with some of his original toasts. The radio was working good and everybody had a "bully" time. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Mather, Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Burgess, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Richan, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Blackington, C. L. Robinson and A. L. Briggs.

Dr. Ruth McBeath who has spent the summer in Europe is a passenger on the steamship Metagama, due to arrive in Montreal tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Parker, who have been guests of Mr. Parker's sister, Miss Imogene Parker, Warren street, returned to their home in Haverhill, Mass., Monday.

Mrs. N. J. Paul returned to Somerville, Mass., yesterday, after a visit of two weeks in this city and vicinity.

Mrs. Margaret Mansfield, who has been the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Alice S. Hall, at Warrenton Park, the past four weeks, has returned to her home in Glen Ridge, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Linnekin, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Powers and Mrs. G. M. Derry are on a trip to Rangeley. They expect to return Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Weymouth arrive tonight from Old Orchard to spend the winter with their daughter, Mrs. A. S. Littlefield. Mrs. Littlefield has been confined to her home on Talbot avenue the past five weeks by illness, but is now able to take short motor rides.

Mrs. Lucretia Kaler of East Waldo is the guest of relatives in this city.

Mrs. Bessie Robbins George of Attleboro, Mass., is visiting her sister, Mrs. L. H. Young at Owl's Head for a week, and incidentally looking up Rockland friends.

Mrs. Henry A. Rueter who has been making four months' motor tour of Europe, has returned to her home in Boston.

Mrs. Orta J. Files who has been at W. D. Holbrook's for a few weeks, returned to Brookline, Mass., Saturday. Mrs. Files is a former resident of this city and her old-time friends are always glad to see her and look forward to her visit again next summer.

Miss Mary Birmingham is making a fortnight's visit in Winterport.

The Bible Study Club will resume its meetings next Monday afternoon at Miss Sleeper's as usual. The study will begin with the Gospel of St. John.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Jameson have gone to Vermont and Boston for a short vacation and upon their return will occupy their apartment over The Courier-Gazette office.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Whitney leave tomorrow for Fruitland Park, Fla., where they are looking forward to another pleasant winter's sojourn.

Mrs. Frances Ryder is spending her annual vacation at the W. O. Hewitt Co. store in Bangor, guest of Mrs. Frances Carr. Incidentally she will enjoy the Bangor sessions of the Maine Music Festival.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Sukeforth are guests of their son in Brockton, Mass., and also attending the fair in that city.

There will be an important meeting of the Brown Club Friday night at the First Baptist church.

Norman Watron underwent a successful operation Tuesday at the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital, Boston. The operation was performed by Dr. Anthony Howard, a prominent bone surgeon.

Mrs. Leslie Hamilton returned to her home in Bloomfield, N. J., Saturday after a visit with relatives in this city.

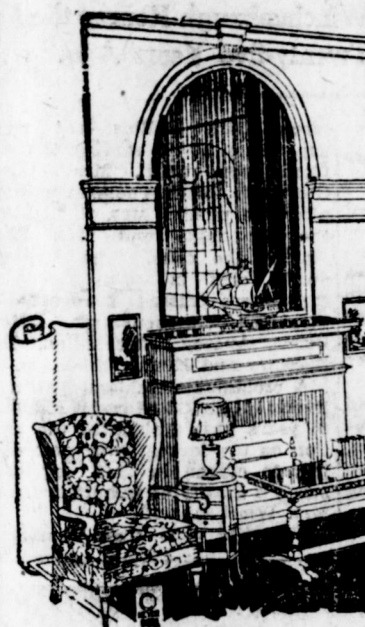

A representative of The Courier-Gazette dropped into the Lady Knox Beauty Shop yesterday and found the proprietor, Mrs. Shirley Doherty Holt, busy with the plans of improvement and modernization preparatory to a busy season. Mrs. Holt has leased the Lady Knox for the coming months and decorators are already in partial possession. Eventually the suite will be newly papered and painted, new hangings supplied and new equipment added. Present plans call for the installation of a permanent wave machine. Mrs. Holt is assisted by Miss Susan Nutt who has been employed at the Lady Knox for several months past. Mrs. Evelyn Peaslee from whom the shop is leased, will be able to give Mrs. Holt's patrons one day each week.

Time to take down those awnings Mr. Storekeeper! Call 1072-M. The Rockland Awning Co., or Manager John M. Richardson, and make arrangements to have them taken down, stored for the winter and rehung next spring. We do it at a surprisingly low figure, but it pays the rent.—adv.

EVE OF THE FESTIVAL

Bangor's Turn Begins Today—Then Lewiston and Then Portland—Rockland Sends 25 Singers.

The 29th annual Maine Music Festival opens today in Bangor and will continue there for the remainder of the week. Monday and Tuesday the scene shifts to Lewiston and the next three days will be given over to the Portland festival, with which Knox County music lovers are chiefly concerned.

Mrs. J. R. Flye, who is in charge of the local ticket sale reports that it is not up to last year's, possibly because some of the patrons who usually go to Portland may be going to Bangor instead. This may be the reason why Camden, for instance, has not ordered a single ticket. Course tickets have sold so well in Portland that it has not been an easy matter to get desirable single tickets. Mrs. Flye will not take orders after next Monday.

The Rockland chorus has dwindled appreciably in recent years, and will be represented at Portland by probably not more than 25 members. Wight Philharmonic Society has been ably trained by Mrs. Faith Berry, and what it may lack in quantity will be more than made up in quality. Two local singers, Miss Elsa Hayden and Mrs. Lillian Joyce, will be on the stage in the opera "Martha" and possibly two other members of the local chorus. Wight Philharmonic Society will be in all of the chorus numbers.

The Rockland Chorus will join the Damariscotta chorus in a rehearsal tonight, leaving this city as soon as possible after 6 o'clock. There will be about 22 in the party.

Lawrence Tibbett, world-famous baritone; the grand opera, Martha, to be sung in English and in costume and action; and Mme. Margaret Matzenauer, pre-eminent prima donna of today—these are the top-line attractions for the three evening concerts. One of this year's festival artists.

who is a newcomer to Maine auditions is Miss Caterina Gobbi, a young Italian artist who has won high praise in New York and in other cities where she has appeared in concert. Miss Gobbi will sing at the opening concert, Thursday night which will also present Lawrence Tibbett, the world-famous baritone. In reporting a recent concert by Miss Gobbi, the New York Times said: "Caterina Gobbi, lyric soprano, an artistic discovery of Arturo Toscanini, made her debut yesterday afternoon before a demonstrative audience at Town Hall. Miss Gobbi, in method, production, style, is typical of the Italian operatic school. Her voice, is of a beautiful, warm quality, capable of modulation, agreeable and persuasive to the ear. "Her program was almost entirely the selections from Bellini and Verdi composed of Italian airs, which suited her temperament perfectly, displayed the color and texture of her voice perfectly. They also gave opportunity for sincere and genuine self-expression. She won the sympathy of her hearers by an unaffected simplicity."

The orchestra this season is composed of the same fine musicians who have been at the last four festivals and contributed much to the artistic success. Members of the New York Philharmonic Society and the Metropolitan Opera Company, they are all solo artists on their different instruments and under the magnetic baton of Director William R. Chapman, they produce wonderful effects. They will give seven new works never before played at the festivals, beside several overtures and the great symphony by Dvorak. The New World, which brings in so many familiar melodies that it is popular.

pleasing the uncultivated musician as well as the connoisseur. The "Marche Slav" by Tchaikowsky is always a favorite with its weird, strong harmonies and strident rhythm.

The "Overture of Oberon" by Weber and "Overture of Masaniello" by Auber are old time favorites. "Le Carnaval Romain" by Berlioz and "The Dance of the Hours" from "La Gioconda" by Ponchielli are fascinating and brilliant. The "American Fantasia" by Victor Herbert stirs all the patriotic fervor of the audience and compels it to join in the few bars near the close which brings out "The Star Spangled Banner" in its theme.

The new music promises to be especially grateful to all. The "Flight of the Bee" by Rimsky-Korsakov surprises its hearers by its rapidity of motion and marvelous rhythm. In the four movements from the "Petite Suite" by Elgar the perfection of delicate intonation and strength is reached. The soothing "Ereuse," the brilliant "Impromptu," the "Duo" and the "Gallop," all give a delightful variety.

Grieg is always a favorite composer and his music is appreciated by the Festival patrons. His beautiful "Marche Nuptiale" from "Norwegischer Brautzug" is most appealing and will delight all music lovers. The "Frühlingsranchen" or "Rustle of Spring" by Sinding makes one feel the warmth and scent the blossoms of spring days. Eugene Diaz has contributed a graceful number called "La Mariposa" from the "Venetian Carnival" by J. Burgmeier which is a gem and makes one long for more.

Archeologists at Kish have unearthed a pen 2000 years old. They wouldn't have had to go any further than our post office to have found one just like it.—Dayton News.

CROOK MEETS FATE

James E. Bennett Who Escaped From Thomaston Prison Shot In Everett.

James E. Bennett of Chelsea, sought by police of New England cities since his escape from the State Prison at Thomaston in June, was shot and probably fatally wounded Monday night in a battle with an Everett policeman. He was garbed in women's clothing and his identity was not known until he was taken to a hospital.

Two youths who recognized a car parked in a street as one stolen a few days ago from a friend notified Patrolman Felix Dumas, who approached the automobile and ordered the occupants, apparently two women, to get out. As the two stepped to the street a wig dropped from the head of one of them, revealing a man's closely-cropped hair.

The man ran and Dumas fired two shots in the air to stop him. Bennett, as he later proved to be, stopped and fired twice at the patrolman, whose next two shots took effect, wounding Bennett in the abdomen and hand. At the Whidden hospital, where he was under police guard, physicians said he would probably die. The woman with him was his sister.

Three years ago Bennett escaped from a Chelsea courtroom while on trial for stealing an automobile. He was captured later and served a short sentence. Last year he was arrested with Edward J. Rasmussen and James J. Conlon in connection with a fur robbery in Everett. The three escaped from the Everett police station. In January of this year they were arrested at Pittsfield in an automobile stolen at Bangor, and sentenced to the Thomaston State Prison. In June Bennett, Rasmussen and two other prisoners escaped. Rasmussen was captured later but Bennett eluded the police of many cities until Monday night.

PLEDGED THEIR TROTH

Rev. and Mrs. Herman R. Winchenbaugh Renew the Marriage Vows Made Twenty-five Years Ago.

Rev. and Mrs. Herman R. Winchenbaugh, bride and groom of 25 years ago, pledged their troth anew Monday night at their home on the West Meadow road in the presence of over 300 friends. The ceremony was impressively rendered by G. E. Butler of South Thomaston, an intimate friend of the family, beneath a huge bridal bell in the beautifully decorated living room. Previous to the appearance of the wedding procession Mrs. Lizette Rollins rendered two vocal solos, "Constancy," Weber, and "O Promise Me," De Koven, in a pleasing manner and she also played the Wagner "Wedding March."

The bridal procession made a piece. Mrs. Rollins had general supervision of the serving of the refreshments with Mrs. Charles Graves of South Thomaston looking after the punch; Mrs. C. L. Sleeper the gift table and Mrs. Bertha Hanley the cake. The waitresses neatly clad in white aprons and caps, were Misses Evangeline and Virginia Winchenbaugh, Maude Burns, Audrey Blackington, Doris Burrows and Evelyn Simmons.

A prominent Rockland citizen active in all civic and social affairs for 30 years past designated the reception as the largest ever accorded a private citizen in his experience, surely a gratifying tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Winchenbaugh.

The gifts were truly remarkable.

Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Winchenbaugh and Their Children—a Fine Rockland Family.

beautiful picture headed by Eleanor, the youngest Winchenbaugh daughter, clad in gold colored baronette and carrying a basket of marigolds with trailing vines of green. She was followed by Albert Levenseller, who bore the two rings nestled in the hearts of blood red roses. The two oldest children, Gabriel and Evangeline, came next, Miss Evangeline in dainty pink crepe de chine with gold lace and carrying an arm bouquet of gladioli. Then came the bride and groom, as radiant as on that glad day now a quarter century past. The bride wore honey-dew satin crepe and carried a shower bouquet of snap dragons.

The commodious house was thronged with well wishers, guests coming in numbers from South Thomaston, Friendship, the Waldoboro, Spruce Head, Thomaston and Rockland. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Silway of Methuen, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith and Mrs. David Chick of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Thomas of Bath and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hardy of Everett, Mass. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with Mrs. Rollins in charge of the work. The staircase was banked in evergreen and the reception hall done in autumn flowers and foliage. The living room was ablaze in yellow and white with an evergreen background. The corner where the ceremony took place was banked in asters and greenery and the tongue of the great white wedding bell was of gladioli. The dining room was in blue with fall flowers and the kitchen range was completely hidden beneath a mass of bloom.

The reception which followed the ceremony was a charmingly informal and jolly affair. Mr. and Mrs. Winchenbaugh were fairly overwhelmed with evidences of affection on the part of their friends. The wedding cake was made by the bride's mother, Mrs. Gardner Burns of Waldoboro and it was a masterpiece.

comprising over $50 in money, linen, silver, a toilet set, a fine mahogany clock from Pleasant Valley Grange; a silver dish from the Ladies' Circle of the South Thomaston M. E. church, silver from the parishes at South Thomaston and Spruce Head which Mr. Winchenbaugh has served so faithfully during the years; a book of original poems by Rev. Paul Shivel of Dayton, Ohio, a close friend of the family and one of the major poets of today, and a gift of silver from the West Meadow road community.

in his quiet home in a city. Not many miles away. A husband with his loved ones. Near the close of an Autumn day. As he gazed upon the faces Of those whom he loved so well There came to his heart such gladness No tongue had power to tell.

Bonding o'er his dear companion Closely sitting by his side His thoughts flew back in fancy To the day he claimed his bride "Dearest wife, do you remember Twenty-five years ago today When I led you to the altar There to plight our troth for aye?"

All these years we've walked together Hand in hand and side by side Sharing all life's joys and sorrows, Standing true what e'er betide Life has held its bitter problems, Many sorrows hard to bear, But of all the stress and trouble You have gladly borne your share.

And when God gave us our children (There were nine of them all told) How we loved these precious treasures, Lambs of God within the fold. And tonight dear, they call you "blessed" As they kiss your gentle brow, While they softly whisper, "Mother, We have learned to love you so."

There is Gabriel, strong and steady, Basil, Benedict and Ensign, too, Evangeline, Virginia and Exavier, Whose hearts are loyal and true. And then comes sturdy Manuel, With "Rocky," the youngest of all, Who strives must leave her playing At the older one's beck and call.

But we are a happy family And the home-fire is burning bright— For our trust is in God, "Our Father," As we walk in the pathway of light; And methinks as we face the future, We will take what the years may bring us And leave all the rest to Him.

SIFTING THEM OUT

Cases Which Deserve Salvation Army Help and Cases Which Do Not.

First sight doesn't always identify those who are confirmed beggars by shiftlessness or pan-handlers by birth. The unending puzzle in relief work is to pick out quickly those whom help will really help. That's the problem the Salvation Army in Maine is facing everyday among the coastwise poor and in the country, just as much as in city tenements. They are hidden in the crowds of those in urgent need and most deserving.

Here's an old case now making a strenuous new appeal: Widow with four daughters, all married, all separated from their husbands. All well and able to work. All with pitiful tales of "no work." Yet all refuse offered work on some pretext. They are living at four different addresses—all separately using their wits to live on the bounty of others. It took able sleuthing by the Army worker to learn that they are all one family.

Another new case: Young electrician, bright, clean-cut fellow. Out of work, wife sick, destitute. Job found for him for the very next morning. But he didn't turn up. Two days later the paper carried the story of his arrest for larceny. Investigation showed that the wife was well able to work and support herself.

Case after case! You'll find a family in depth of winter in destitution. Not a bone or a crust in the cupboard, fire out and no wood or coal. But the one thing they will not do is—work! It reminds you of the man who had lodged from the Army one winter night, with breakfast next morning, on condition of doing an hour's work in the woodyard. When no one was looking, he slipped out, leaving a chalked message at his station: "You saw me coming, but you didn't see me saw." Very different this: Old Carpenter, 74, who takes every job he can get at his age. His wife has been sick for four years, and is now dying with cancer. Savings all gone. Who wouldn't help him?

Hon. Charles S. Hichborn is chairman of the Salvation Army's statewide appeal for its statewide work. The address of the Maine State Committee is 204 Federal street, Portland.

WILLS GETS HIS CHANCE

Negro Will Fight Jack Dempsey Next September For World's Title.

Harry Wills, a one time stevedore, ended his four year quest for a heavyweight championship match Tuesday when he signed to meet Jack Dempsey in a 10-round, no-decision contest, to be staged at Michigan City, Ind., in September, 1926.

Promoter Fitzsimmons announced that neither Wills nor Dempsey had been guaranteed a cent and that both will box on a percentage, the referee to reveal. He announced that Dempsey had posted $200,000 as a forfeit; that Manager Mullins had put up $50,000 for Wills. Both Wills and Dempsey will receive $25,000 as preliminary expenses. This money was paid them Tuesday night.

WITH THE FISHERMEN

Lobsters Reported Scarce—Large Schools of Herring—Unwelcome Visitor.

Fishing schooner Sunapee, Capt. Ed. Smith, is refitting at Old Harbor.

Lobsters continue scarce hereabouts, though the Old Harbor lobstermen are beginning to play in a little better luck. Atlantic lobstermen are reporting a few sheddors. At Frenchboro the fishermen have been doing a little better than usual. The local price has gone up two cents and smacks are now paying 32 cents, though at Stonington and some other places they are paying 35. Was delighted the other day when a fine yacht, with summer visitors to Maine on board, put into the harbor and tried to buy some short lobsters to tickle the appetites of the guests. The yachtmen, after trying different fishermen, found that short lobsters were not for sale under any conditions. Eventually they bought a supply of count lobsters and fared very well.

William Palmer, of E. R. Squibbs & Sons, is visiting Percy Parkhurst, president of the Parkhurst Fisheries, Inc. He is very much interested in the medicinal oil branch of the fisheries.

As previously predicted, large schools of herring have arrived along the coast, and about all the weirs are full, or getting big lots with nearly every tide. The smack Kingfisher just carried a large cargo of good herring to the Underwood factory at Bass Harbor from one of the weirs on the northwest side of Swan's Island. The factories have been paying 35 to 40 cents. The fishermen can get all the bait they want, delivered, at $1 a barrel. The market in general is poor for herring. Capt. Morrison of Stockton Springs has been down to these weirs, and his fleet impounded thousands of bushels of herring, but the fish were, for the most part, too large for sardines and not large enough for smoked herring.

A large shark, enticed by a plentiful supply of herring, is spending his vacation in Mackerel Cove at Atlantic and has been seen several times near Dry Ledge. It is very unusual for a shark to be seen in Mackerel Cove.

Schooner Billings Bros., of Deer Isle, has just taken a load of 1300 quintals of hake to Gloucester for the Parkhurst Fisheries.

Swan's Island is developing more Atlantic fishermen, who, before long, will be skippers of their own boats and be bringing in many fares of fish to the markets. Lewis Bridges, Francis Johnson and Fremont Stanley—ages, 8 to 12—were playing in a pant at the point in Minturn near the old mill-pond, catching a few minnows for fun. One of the boys tried a cod swimming by, and the trio attacked Mr. Cod without fishing gear. They finally got their victim entangled in rockweed, and soon had a fine 17 pound cod on the bank. Because he yet showed signs of life, one of the youngsters hit the cod on the head with a quarryman's bushing hammer, which finished him. Then the young fishermen commandeered a wheelbarrow and proudly wheeled their prize to the fishstand where they realized the magnificent sum of 35 cents, which they managed to divide amicably among them, and soon all-day suckers were in evidence.

Schooner Alice recently loaded a cargo of salt at the Parkhurst plant, and carried it to the Deep Sea Company at Rockland.

The hake season is fast drawing to a close, many of the fishermen having already stowed their gear and have started rigging up for lobstering. Some who make trawling their steady business are yet on the job and are getting average fares of three to four thousand pounds. The fish are usually small, very few real big ones being brought in to the fishstands. The price for hake has remained steady at 85 cents. Mr. Johnson who has been assistant at the Patch medicinal oil station, has returned home. James A. Patch, president of the A. W. Dodd Company, is at Minturn and will stay till the station closes for the season within a week or two. Ralph Patch will return to Massachusetts, and thence to Amherst College.

Four boats are trawling from Minturn now.

Lobstermen are getting more sheddors. It is the opinion of many lobstermen that the season's production will be less than the average.

Seth Joyce and Walter Joyce have stowed their trawl gear and are now engaged in lobstering.

Addison Parker of Minturn recently got a lot of large herring.

Ray Tinker at the Garden Point weirs is delivering a doryload of herring to the fishermen for bait at $10 for a dory full.

The weirs at Opechee Island, which have not held up their reputation, and have not done much for the last few years since they were sold by Colson Robbins & Sons have this season, under the management of George Robbins, yielded bountifully. Edwin Lopaus of Seal Cove is assisting George Robbins.

Automobile engines are making good in motorboats—"The Fisherman's Doctor" in The Atlantic Fisherman.

A tip-off on the state of mind of the average lobsterman is suggested in the following observation credited to Capt. David Butler, of the Vineyard: "I haven't hauled my lobster pots for a week; but I guess there'll be some water left in them when I do."—Atlantic Fisherman.

CONCERNING SCALLOPS

Extensive scallop beds estimated to be worth thousands of dollars to fishermen have recently been discovered by Canadian fishery investigators in the vicinity of Bay Chaleur. One of the beds is said to be seven miles long and from one to two miles in width.

A rain storm of torrential violence which occurred late last summer resulted in such an unusual quantity of fresh water being carried down to the sea by the rivers that the North Carolina scallop grounds, which promised abundant supplies for 1925, have been greatly depleted, a recent investigation failing to reveal scallops in an appreciable quantity, except in small areas.

Why Gum-Dipping is so Important to Car Owners

GUM-DIPPING—the Firestone extra process builds into tires extra quality by impregnating and insulating every fiber of every cord with rubber.

This exclusive method is carried out in special Gum-Dipping plants, after which the cords are put through the usual calendaring process.

By this method, added strength and flexibility are imparted to the cords, making Gum-Dipped Balloons most serviceable and enduring over rough roads.
