SAT NEAR COOLIDGE

Miss Ethel Payson Was In Opposite Pew At Easter
Service In Washington.

A Rockland lady, Miss Ethel A.
Payson, former superintendent of Sibley Hospital, was in Washington, D. C., Easter Sunday and sat near President and Mrs. Coolidge at Easter worship.

In a personal letter to a Rockland
friend she writes:
"The girls whom I visited have the new opposite the President's Mrs. Coolidge looked very lovely in a white ensemble suit, with high collar and hat to match. The Coolidges had as guests the Frank Stearnses of Boston, intimate friends who visit them often; also their son John. Two other interesting personages who sat near us were Senator Chalmers of Ohio and Commissioner of Agriculture Jardine. The church was full."

The Washington Post said:
"A cordon of police was necessary to handle the crowds and traffic that jammed the streets in the vicinity of First Congregational Church when the President, with Mrs. Coolidge and their son John, attended the morning service."

"So great was the pressure for admission that two services were held in the morning and entrance was gained by card only. Although the crowd, which included several hundred students and teachers from various parts of the country, was orderly, the police cordon was swept back several times by pressure from the mass."

"A curious throng of men and women lined both sides of the street as Mrs. Coolidge, attired in white coat and dress with hat to match,
beautiful in its simplicity of design,
entered the edifice."

"We are proud," the resolution said, "of the fact that our State was the pioneer prohibitory State of the union. We reaffirm our unswerving loyalty to the prohibition cause as expressed in the Eighteenth Amendment and laws supplementing thereto and go on record as opposing all attempts to repeal or weaken them."

We pledge our party to strict, impartial and aggressive enforcement of these as well as other laws, both State and National."

The water power plank adopted by the convention reads:

"We recognize that it is the established policy of this State to retain Maine's hydro-electric energy within our own borders for the use of our people and our industries, and that our future prosperity and development largely depends upon the adoption and maintenance of wise and far-seeing hydro-electric policy."

"We welcome unprejudiced and unselfish discussion of this paramount issue. On the one hand are those who believe that Maine's present hydro-electric policy is retarding the State's proper development; on the other are those, equally sincere, who hold that it is to the State's advantage and for the protection of present and future generations to adhere to our present policy even though complete development of all our water resources be
somewhat delayed."

"Between these conflicting views there is a wide divergence of opinion. Our citizens, however, are united in wishing to encourage reasonable further development of hydro-electricity while at the same time conserving and protecting the rights of future generations of Maine people."

"The present State-wide discussion of this problem is wholesome, and from it a proper solution, no doubt, ultimately will emerge. Some common ground may be found on which all can stand. This issue should be treated calmly and without prejudice and should be kept free from partisan, political or personal bias."

"We believe that all agree that under no circumstances whatever should the State of Maine relinquish any portion of its present control, jurisdiction and regulation over the hydro-electric resources within our borders."

The plank offered to the convention by Senator Charles E. Carter of Auburn and favored by Gov. Brewster was more stringent, insisting on indorsement of the principle of priority of water use and rates to the people of the State, and the maintenance of the present State water power policy until some other policy even though complete development of all our water resources be
somewhat delayed."

The convention was presided over by Wm. Tudor Gardiner, who will be a prominent candidate for the gubernatorial nomination two years hence, and his address made a most excellent impression upon the delegates.

"As we restate our allegiance,
faith and gratitude to our President, we stamp with our approval the

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Tuesday's Big Gathering of the G. O. P. In Portland
Adopts a Platform To the People's Liking.

Reaffirming unswerving loyalty to the prohibition cause, Maine Republicans, at their convention Tuesday, went on record against repeal or modification of the Eighteenth Amendment and its supplemental enforcement laws.

The resolution on prohibition was the principal plank in a platform which endorsed the National and State administrations, favored the State's continued control over hydroelectric resources, and pledged en-conduct of National affairs by our fellow Republicans," said Mr. Gardner. "To single out one phase of governmental management for special commendation is, in a way, to mar the picture as a whole of a government that comes near the standard which human minds and hands can hope to build. If we hold that government exists that hopes and aspirations for the fullness and abundance of life may be accomplished, reflect for a moment on the ringing truth of the proud statement that ours is indeed a land of opportunity. Between individual and constituted authority one of the most sensitive contacts has ever been that of financial affairs. We are grateful to the Coolidge Administration for a sound policy of public economy, reflected in tax reduction and reflected again in a stimulation of industry affecting all."

"The principle of protection we believe in, and as we survey the past we have a definite claim in its development through the services of the late Nelson Dingley. The policy has made possible the industrial greatness of America, given our agriculturalists and manufacturers the best of markets, and established for Americans a standard of living and wages unequalled in the history of the world. And we have lately asserted another policy of protection in the restrictions of immigration, to preserve America for Americans."

"We take comfort in the assistance being given the Veterans of our Wars, those who gave so freely of their youth and of their strength that we might enjoy Peace of our own choosing."

"In searching for a water power policy a common result is desired by all—the result that is best for the State of Maine. Let us not forget our common end. We want employment for our growing population, that means new or increased industries; we want extension of electric service, convenience and safety on the farm; we want cheap electricity."

"We have an economic dislike of waste, it links us to sea power tumblingly idly to the sea, and in some watersheds we have little control against freshets. We want a bigger and better Maine; bigger and better power would help. In searching for the best policy we are not to be intimidated, nor carried away by propaganda."

"The availability of power to the Maine citizen and to the Maine industry is of paramount importance.
There are different views as to the best calculated to preserve this interest and encourage full development."

"Truly the question is one for careful research, for the weighing of considerations, for the estimate of possibilities, for deliberation in such manner as will bring an early and wise determination. As Republicans we are interested in the correct solution, not as partisans, but as men and women willing to assume full share in government."

"We know the cornerstone of government is law and order; we realize that constant vigilance must be devoted to strict enforcement of the laws. But the task of law enforcement becomes easier as the spirit of obedience to the law is recognized as a quality of civic loyalty. You may phrase the thought as you will, honest consideration can bring but one conclusion."

United States Senator Simeon D.
Fess of Ohio, who addressed the convention in the afternoon, said that a continuation of an economical and business-like administration was assured under President Coolidge.

"The country has never had her course more clearly charted, nor her plot more steadily handed than today," he said. "A mind unconfused by the noxious vendor; a courage undaunted by political threats; a character unaffected by personal innuendo; Calvin Coolidge is today entrusted in the hearts of the American public with a confidence never surpassed in the political history of America."

The senator reviewed the accomplishments of the party since the administration of President Harding began after the war. He declared that under Republican administration the country had emerged from the post-war difficulties in a manner that challenges the administrations of all countries for an equal showing as to its record of government financing and its foreign relations adjustments.

The Chemical was called to the

The members of the Rockland High School girls' basketball team will be tendered a complimentary banquet at the Thorndike Hotel this evening, in fulfillment of a promise which Pro-

Knox Lodge of Odd Fellows is in the midst of a boom. The first degree has recently been conferred upon 17 candidates, and 12 are expected to take the second and third degrees next Monday night. Three applications are also awaiting action.

The Camden & Rockland Water
Co.'s crew has been searching three weeks for a leak in Main street, Camden, and yesterday Supt. McAlary was confident that the boys were within 12 feet of cornering the little rascal. Meantime the booster pump is working overtime to keep the town's water pressure at normal.

Many of the local baseball fans are strongly favoring a three cornered league with Rockland, Camden and Belfast, instead of entering the State League. The latter looks like a pretty expensive proposition, and there is a great question as to whether Rockland and Camden could stand the guff.

A number of pardon cases come before the Governor and Council today, among them the petition of M.
Frank Donohue for commutation of sentence. The petitioner states that his wife is in very poor health, that her condition is serious, and that it is imperative for her welfare that he be pardoned or his sentence commuted
at the earliest possible date.

The beautiful pelts of 12 foxes and a raccoon representing a profitable season's work by Cleve Butler of Union, are compelling attention in the display window of Fuller-Cobb-Davis. The animals were shot over Mr. Butler's dog "Paddy," who felt that it was up to him to do a good stunt, being a brother of Ernest C.
Davis' "Pep." The fox pelts were worth about $15 apiece at the time they were obtained, but the market has considerably declined since that time.

Herbert W. Brown, 65, who will be pleasantly remembered by acquaintances and friends here, died at his home in Whitinsville, Mass., after a long illness, having been confined to the house a year or more. Mr.
Brown was born in this city, and for a number of years lived in this vicinity, working at the trade of stone-cutting. He went from here to Bath, and a few years ago removed to Massachusetts. He was married to Miss Ada S. Washburn of South Thomaston, who with a son, Karl Thomaston, and daughter, Mrs. Mabel Felch, are survivors. The remains were brought to this city and placed in the receiving tomb at Sea View cemetery, where services were held.

COURAGE

Because I hold it sinful to despond.
And will not let the bitterness of life Blind me with burning tears, but look beyond
Its tumult and its strife;

Because I lift my head above the mist,
Where the sun shines and the broad
By every ray and every rainbow kissed
That God's love doth bestow;

Think you I find no bitterness at all?
No burden to be borne, like Christian's pack?
Think you there are no ready tears to fall
Because I keep them back?

Why should I hug life's ills with cold reserve,
To curse myself and all who love me?
Nay!
A thousand times more good than I deserve
God gives me every day.

And in each one of these rebellious tears
Kept bravely back He makes a rainbow shine!
Grateful I take His slightest gift, no fears
Nor any doubts are mine.

Dark skies must clear, and when the clouds
are past,
One golden day redeems a weary year;
Patient I listen, sure that sweet at last
Will sound His voice of cheer.

Then vex me not with chiding, Let me be.
I must be glad and grateful to the end.
I grieve you not your cold and darkness—
me
The powers of light befriended.

The Courier-Gazette

THREE TIMES A WEEK

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT
 Rockland, Maine, April 8, 1926.
 Personally appeared Frank S. Lydell, who on oath declares that he is president in the office of The Courier-Gazette, and that of the issue of this paper of Tuesday, April 6, 1926, there was printed a total of 6540 copies.
 Before me, FRANK R. MILLER, Notary Public.

The windows of Heaven—Bringing all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.—Malachi 3:10.

The note annually sounded is once more touched as the snow disappears and the spring flowers begin to offer themselves for admiration. The editor of Nature's Magazine has broadcast an appeal to tourists and trippers to spare the wild flowers, to the end that others may have the joy of looking at them. Upon motorists in particular the writer urges refraining from spoliation of the roadsides, the woods and fields, upon which in past seasons they have been working such desolation by the ruthless filling of the tannoe with foliage and blossoms stripped from the country waysides. Let us ourselves each hold back the hand that would practice this form of devastation and not fail to reproach the other person who practices it.

We are confident that the action of the City Council in appropriating $250 as Rockland's contribution to the Maine publicity fund will be heartily endorsed by our people. There is none of us but recognizes with warm approval the administration's declared policy to practice a rigid economy and thereby lighten so far as possible the weight of taxation, and we do not lose sight of the fact that the many and at times insistent demands render the task embarrassing. We do not think, however, that anybody will criticize the setting apart of a modest sum each year for advertising our advantages as one of Maine's most inviting summer resort regions.

There will be a countrywide agreement with the opinion of President Coolidge that legislation should be enacted that shall serve to protect the public against the results of trouble in the coal mining fields. The President suggests two propositions. Presidential authority to appoint a strike mediation board, and machinery for coal administration in event of a strike. It is difficult to imagine why Congress should decline to give the matter earnest and prompt consideration. The recurrence of these labor troubles of which the people are the goat ought to be made impossible.

Whatever place may be assigned Colonel House when history comes to be written a century later, we have to concede that his story gives him today a very conspicuous place in the period having immediately to do with the World War. He does not for himself set up a claim to greatness, but it is difficult in reading his book to escape the impression that here is one of the most remarkable men of our generation, indeed unique in the political life of the country. One makes a mistake in leaving his book unread.

Farmers throughout the country with natural envy of this season's striking prosperity among the Aroostook County growers, evince a purpose greatly to increase their potato acreage this year. Speaking of potatoes, we never cease to wonder why, with the price of the fruit so excessive, restaurants and hotels employ it to such an overmastering degree in their fish chowders.

Another Vermont home has been placed at the disposal of President Coolidge for a summer White House. We forget how many this makes, but there is still time for Knox County to get onto the first page by adopting The Courier-Gazette's recent suggestion. It would be great publicity and needn't cost us a cent.

Europe complains of the falling off in the winter tourist business from this country, but is looking hopefully toward a summer rush. We wonder of our friends across the water are getting wise to the fact that possibly their loudly advertised detestation of America and Americans is having some effect upon the tourist business.

In England law courts would have done with Chapman in a month or so what it took our courts a year and more to bring to pass, and with a fraction of the newspaper publicity. And nobody questions that he would have had a full and fair trial.

Local members of the Three-Quarter Century Club will find special interest in the news story of their sister-member Mary A. Burnham of Scarborough, who led the grand march at a community dance Thursday evening and celebrated, by that act, her 99th birthday.

We congratulate Portland upon the three million dollar fourteen-story hotel she is to start building this spring. The Longfellow will be its name. Good idea.

KATHLEEN M. SNOW, LIBRARIAN

IN THE PUBLIC LIBRARY
 Week days: 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

"Play is a pastime, work is a satisfaction, food is an essential, sleep is a remedy, a friend is a pleasure—and a book is all five."

April—New England's first month of real spring. What does it mean? Study club programs coming to a close; longer hours of daylight; ponds and streams opening up and sending their alluring call to the sportsman; roads drying and new cars constantly appearing; shop windows filled with gay apparel that promises for warmer days; new hangings, renovated walls, new furnishings for those drab interiors; fascinating seed catalogs coming daily through the mail filling one's mind with plans for the new garden. Everything, everybody, making ready for a new lease of life, making ready for another glorious Maine summer.

How about the Library? Does the spring spirit pervade there? March records have just gone on file. Over the top again! Nearly 6000 books loaned during the month! It is the largest monthly circulation ever recorded here, nearly 1500 more books than were loaned in the same period last year. The Library is proud of this. It thinks that a monthly increase of twenty per cent is a record worth while, especially when it continues for five consecutive months.

But what about April? March has long been an outstanding Library month, whereas April records usually show a decrease. It is hard to understand this—for what an ideal month it is to finish up the left-over winter reading. It is so much easier to get to the Library, indeed an excellent excuse for the daily walk everyone longs for at the first sign of spring. Evenings are still long enough for reading and far too cold for riding, even when the roads warrant it.

Housecleaning time? Yes, but what better balm could one suggest for the strain of housecleaning than a right good novel? Readers tell us that "Annie of the Hill Country" is just the story for a tired mind. It's the record of a mountain girl's first visit to the city and is a sure cure for that tired feeling.

Then, too, there are the "Best Love Stories of 1924," an unusual collection that seems to lend itself especially to this up-to-date reading. For the reader who is not limited to fiction for pleasure reading, there is Stella Benson's "Little World."

"Did you enjoy it?" the librarian asked one lady who was returning the book to the library. "Enjoy it? Well, to tell the truth, I couldn't read it. I was too tired when I came to the end!"

"W-w-y!" gasped the librarian. "Well, because there wasn't more of it," was the reply.

Further conversation revealed that the reader had just been recovering from a lingering cold and that these cleverly written sketches of Miss Benson's, written in and about such far away places as China, Japan, India, had been a delightfully welcome find for her.

"Springtime, folks are beginning to get their cars newly painted and in order—everyone is thinking in terms of automobiles. Why not plan an exhibit of our books on automotive engineering?" So worked the mind of the librarian last week, but alas, her public had already appreciated the appropriateness of these books for spring use. The demand for this material had been so great that there were not enough books on the shelves to make even a noticeable display. Therefore this warning: Better let us reserve one of these books for you—My Ford, Its Care and Repair, or "My Automobile, Its Care and Operation," both of these were written especially for the man or woman who drives his own car. Technical terms were avoided. These are books for the average driver not for the specialist.

"Gasoline, What Everybody Should Know About It," is a newly-acquired book with many a useful hint to the driver who is interested in getting the best possible mileage from his car. There is much valuable information about the oil wells and manufacture of the gasoline, though the chief value of the books for the average reader, doubtless lies in the information given about volatility and conservation of the oil.

Of course housecleaning and renovation comes entirely within the woman's sphere, nevertheless springtime brings many an odd stunt to the attention of the men about the house. A little repairing here, a bit of patching there, a million and one things that are not within the services of an outside carpenter. "Tinkering With Tools" is the title Henry Saylor chose for his book. It is distinctly a volume for the menfolk and has won an enviable record in its useful hints and pointers for amateur workers. There is much stress upon the necessity of selecting the proper tools and upon the care of them. There is everything in the book however, from masonry to plumbing and electric wiring, and all written in a straightforward way that makes it especially valuable for inexperienced workers.

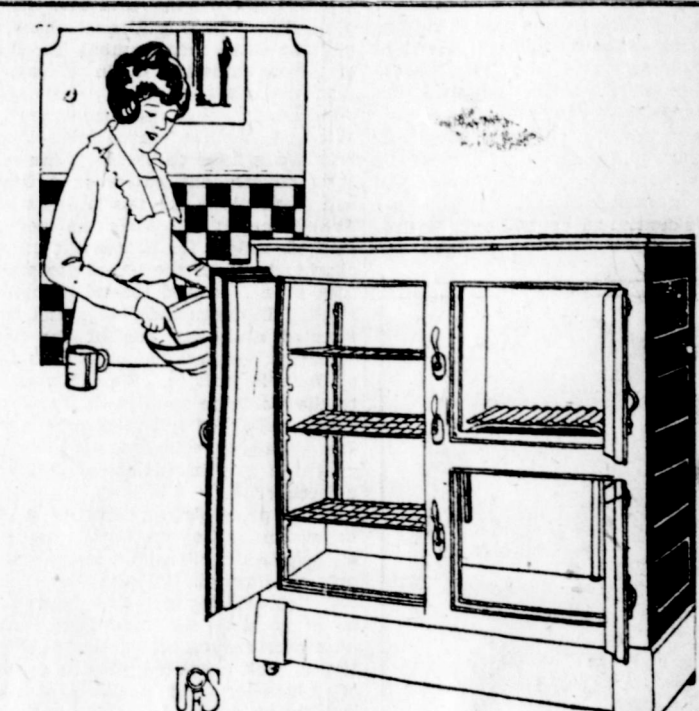

"Books for Home Makers" reads the placard on the special display table this week. The books selected are those which have to do particularly with planning, or remodeling the home. Blake's "Acquiring a Home" has been written especially for the man who contemplates buying. Emphasis is given to the importance of proper procedure for acquiring a title to the property, securing mortgages or loans, and the legal phases of the contract. The book is brief and to the point and is written for the average buyer rather than the real estate dealer or the contractor.

written by a former editor of the Scientific American, is a mine of information for the prospective home builder. In this book the author is writing for the many who plan to build a small home, costing from $5,000 to $10,000. There is information as to the legal proceedings in acquiring title, contract, etc., but the larger part of the book is given over to details of planning and construction, the use of various kinds of wood, heating plants, illumination, etc.

"Everyman's House" is an account of the actual house which was built in Kalamazoo, Michigan, and won first prize in the Better Homes for America Contest. Not only was the house built for a wage earning man with a family of several children, and one whose wife did all the work, but the house has actually been inhabited successfully by this same family. There are many illustrations and detailed floor plans, while the book proper tells of the various problems encountered and how they were overcome. Not the least attractive phase of this Everyman's House is its adaptability for extra additions and changes.

"The Small Home, How to Plan and Build It," "The Small Home, Its Possibilities," "How to Plan, Finance and Build Your Home,"—all of these give detailed plans for both interiors and exteriors.

The library also has valuable and instructive books on interior decorating, on furnishings, both on identifying types of furniture and on arranging the rooms. The House Beautiful Building annuals for 1926 are now available and supersede those of 1925 in fullness of detail and illustrations. All of the information given in these books is based on actual problems which have been presented to the House Beautiful Home Builder Service Bureau during the year.

EXCEEDED QUOTAS
 Chevrolet Sales Passed All Expectations For January and February.

Chevrolet dealers in February delivered 32,504 cars, the largest number ever sold in that month in the history of the company. The quota set for the thirty sales zones of the company was 22,002 cars, an estimate based on a conservative examination of the prospective February demands. When the total sales for the month were tabulated it was found that the increase in sales was 147.7 percent of the quota.

Despite decided increases made in the quota set for February it was found that zones had practically all exceeded their allotments. In January every sales zone exceeded its quota, ranging from 112.9 percent in the Jacksonville zone to 275.4 percent in the Omaha zone. The Omaha zone, established only three months ago, again led the zones exceeding their February allotments, with a percentage of 328.3. Minneapolis zone was second with 304.9 percent of its quota, reflecting the unprecedented growth of the Northwest's diversified industries. Oklahoma City was third with 255.4 percent of quota, Atlanta fourth, with 249 percent and Des Moines fifth, with 243.8 percent.

Of the six sales regions, Great Lakes region led in February, with Middle West, Southeastern, Flint, Atlantic Coast and Pacific Coast regions in the order named.

While the original factory production for March was set at 54,553 cars, it has already been found necessary to make three additional increases in this schedule bringing the total number to be built this month to 59,244 cars, not including the 4307 cars to be built in the Chevrolet Canadian plant at Gashwa.

TO STUDY EARTHQUAKES

Seismographic and Geodetic Station To Be Located Near Machias.

The first seismographic and geodetic station in the extreme eastern section of the country is to be near Machias. It will be established next summer by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and will specialize in a study of the causes of the coastal tilt towards the sea.

The station will be equipped with a modern apparatus for studying earth tremors and readjustments of the crust, according to an announcement by President Samuel W. Stratton of the Institute. It will be located at Cambridge Technology field where work in civil engineering is carried on during the summer. The rocky terrain of the spot will adapt it for seismic investigation.

PARK THEATRE

Alice Joyce and Conway Tearle are starring today in a remarkable feature picture called "Dancing Mothers." It's not fair to tell much of the story, as it would spoil your enjoyment of the film on seeing it. Suffice it to say that we are shown a family who are part of the New York fast set. That is, they all are except the mother, who stays at home. In this role, Alice Joyce makes one forget anything else she may have done in the past. Waiting at home for a mad-cap daughter, and a wandering husband, she decides to play a part herself in the whirlpool that threatens to engulf them all. Then comes a twist which, while perfectly logical, is one of the queerest things that has been seen in many a day. "Dancing Mothers" is fine entertainment for all audiences.

How a girl attorney saved her father's honor is thrillingly told in "Counsel for the Defence," which is one of the double features for Friday and Saturday, with Betty Compson in the title role. The star appears as a young woman just out of college who is confronted by one of life's most tragic situations just as her father is being ruthlessly shattered. She is not an experienced attorney and yet she must defend her father on hard legal technicalities because of the cunningness of the scoundrels and their success in intimidating every lawyer in town against accepting a retainer from the old man. She tackles her job undaunted by these odds however and defies the crooks and their schemes to thwart her until she finally runs them into a corner and exposes the whole nefarious plot. It may readily be seen from the little so far told about the story that Betty Compson has one of the most gripping and compelling roles of her long and brilliant career as a screen star.

"The Auction Block" is the title of the other picture, which is another film story calculated to hold an audience breathless—adv.

EMPIRE THEATRE

There are a thousand laughs in today's program and most of them come from the comedy feature entitled "What Happened To Jones," starring Reginald Denny. When Denny backed down the fire escape into the Turkish Bath on Ladies' Night, escaped into the night and ultimately stole the bride-to-be from under the nose of the would-be bridegroom. Well! Denny does it again and that's enough. For Reginald Denny can drag a laugh out of old man gloom himself. You'll laugh and you'll laugh and—well—you'll just keep on laughing. It's a scream.

The companion feature today is "Fighting Courage," with Ken Maynard, a newcomer in the ranks of Western stars at the head of the good looks, and he gets plenty of pep into his work. The plot hinges on a similarity in appearance of the hero and the bandit. Both of them are thoroughly chased all over the landscape and have to do some fast riding to escape the bullets of the posse. Besides saving the girl from danger, the hero also is commissioned to discover a lost mine and he succeeds after many close shaves and really good fist fights.

A cowpuncher's experience in a big city, life on a big ranch in Arizona and a thrilling cross-country race with a girl's home and future as the prize feature "The Arizona Sweepstakes," Friday and Saturday will be shown with Hoot Gibson, the "ridin' kid" of the screen, a leading role. "The Arizona Sweepstakes" was produced under the direction of Clifford Smith, whose intimate knowledge of ranch life and the happy-go-lucky existence of the cowpuncher, has been surrounded by an excellent cast which includes many of the screen fan's favorites—adv.

STRAND THEATRE

At Strand Theatre yesterday appeared a new type of race track phonograph. W. A. Fraser's novel "The Million Dollar Handicap,"

For Friday and Saturday Manager Donahis has an exceptional double feature bill, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," and Yakima Canutt in "White Thunder."

The plumbing was had in King Arthur's Court; there was no telephone system; the brave knights, the flower of chivalry, spent their time in eating, drinking, slaying dragons, rescuing damsels, and fighting. There were no carpets on the floor of King Arthur's Court—only rushes. None of the knights thought it worth while to learn to read and write. Not one knew the difference between a carburetor and a spark plug. They believed that Merlin was a mighty powerful magician. Until the Yankee arrived. He taught them different.

First he put the plumbing to rights. Then he pulled the great magician's whiskers. Then he installed telephone throughout the realm. Then he improved the knights' table manners. Then he took on a few knights in a tournament, and licked them singlehanded. Then he mounted the celebrated flower of chivalry on motor-cycles. Mark Twain wrote his masterpiece, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," to prove that the present is the best of all possible times to live in, and that the age of chivalry was not all it is cracked up to be.

Next week, Monday and Tuesday, comes "The Man Upstairs" with Monte Blue and Dorothy Devore; also James J. O'Hara will again be the regular organist—adv.

THE CITY BUDGET

An Explanation of Some Things the Uninitiated Did Not Understand.

The adoption of the city budget Monday night, showing an apparent increase of $10,000, requires a bit of explanation.

The first item is entitled "notes payable" and calls for $10,000 which the administration found necessary to take up the temporary loans which it inherited. But for this obligation the total of appropriations would have shown a net reduction over last year.

A change in the method of book-keeping accounts for the apparent increases in several of the departments which are now charged with their proportion of the water, lighting and insurance bills. Equally true this accounts for the decrease in three funds last mentioned.

This explanation shows why the High School appropriation is increased from $20,500 to $25,450; why the appropriation for common schools is increased $650; why the appropriation for fire department is increased from $2000 to $4875, and why several other departments are apparently boosted.

The slight increase in salaries is due to the addition of Miss Helen Corbett to the payroll. The increase in the interest appropriation is due to the necessary increase in temporary loans.

A much larger appropriation for permanent improvements was required in order to get sufficient aid to improve Main street at the North-end. For some reason not clear to the present administration the appropriation for registration and elections last year was only $68.50. The estimate of the real cost this year, in which there will be two elections, is $2700. It is necessary to buy additional fire hose because enough was not bought last year, and replacements are in order.

And that's that.

Tomorrow night will see the play-off of the existing tie in the High School basketball class tourney. The Seniors and Sophomores will settle the question of boys' supremacy and that plucky sophomore girls' team that fought all the rest of the school to tie before Easter will defend its laurels. It will conclude the basketball season. Tonight there will be a deal of fun at the gym at 5.30 when the Business Men will tackle the High School at volleyball.

The announcement that James J. O'Hara will again preside at Strand Theatre organ, commencing his duties next Monday, is hailed with satisfaction. Not only a musician of high order, Mr. O'Hara is the ideal theatre organ player, through his natural artistic and temperamental equipment. His recent study at the New England Conservatory, together with valuable theatre experience at the Loew's State in Boston, makes him better prepared than ever to present varied and descriptive programs.

Frank Newhall, an esteemed employee of the Central Maine Power Co., suffered a nervous collapse at the Car Barn yesterday morning. Dr. Jameson was called, and the patient was placed under proper care while the case is under observation. Mr. Newhall had the misfortune to be motorman on the Street Railway when a fatal accident occurred, some years ago, and never fully recovered from the shock of it.

Dr. Freeman F. Brown of Vinalhaven, physician and surgeon, is making ready to establish himself in practice here, and has already moved a portion of his household goods and office equipment to the new Talbot apartments on School street, which he is to occupy both as an abiding place and office. Dr. Brown is a graduate of Bowdoin Medical College and served with distinction in the surgical corps Overseas.

"THE FIRST YEAR"

The marked success scored by the Knickerbocker Players in their presentation of "The First Year" at Strand Theatre Monday night was repeated with smashing emphasis at the Tuesday night performance. The audience came in a most receptive frame of mind and gave the players a noisy and highly appreciative attention. Clarence E. Daniels as Mr. Barstow again scored a distinct personal hit and before the end of the second act set his audience into gales of laughter by simply preparatory motions, to speech. Joseph Emery was applauded to the echo and given something rarely bestowed by local audiences—a curtain call. All the players were in fine fettle and the machinery moved without a hitch. Mrs. Florence W. Thurston directed and to her high talent is due a large measure of the success of the play. Albert T. Thurston did a flawless bit of managerial work all through practice and presentation and those initiated in such things appreciate the endless labor involved. The cheerful announcement is made that the net proceeds of the play will approximate $350.

CAPT. "ARCHIE" SELLS

Thomaston, Monhegan & Boothbay Line Bought By Capt. Earl Starrett.

Earl A. Starrett of Thomaston, at present in the employ of the Rockland & Rockport Lime Corporation as a barge captain, has bought from Capt. I. E. Archibald the Thomaston, Monhegan & Boothbay Harbor steamboat route, and will take possession June 1st.

The purchase of course includes the steamer Gov. Douglass which was operated by Capt. Archibald, and Capt. Starrett will take over the mail contracts along with the good will. Daily trips will be made, and the schedule will include stops at Port Clyde. The steamer is now being overhauled preparatory to what looks like a busy and prosperous season. Along the route there will be much satisfaction that the business has fallen into such excellent hands.

Capt. Archibald, who has had a pretty vigorous life, plans to spend the remainder of his days ashore, looking after his varied interests.

CLARK ISLAND

Everett Baum who has been very ill is convalescing.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Williams spent Easter in Massachusetts with their son.

Miss Winifred Williams of Rockland spent the weekend with her father at the Postoffice.

Mrs. Grace Cronwell is in Rockland this week.

WALDOBORO

Mrs. Abbie E. Palmer died after a six hours' illness early Tuesday morning, April 30. Mrs. Palmer was born in Waldo, Me., Nov. 1, 1842, the daughter of Capt. Daniel and Mrs. Abigail Hall. She became the wife of John E. Palmer 58 years ago and had made her home in Waldo for many years. Mrs. Palmer was a quiet home-loving woman and a consistent member of the Baptist church with which she united 69 years ago. She was also a charter member of Good Luck Rebekah Lodge and this organization attended the funeral services Friday afternoon in a body. A large number of relatives and friends gathered to pay their last respects to one who will be greatly missed. The services were conducted by the pastors of the Baptist and Methodist churches. Interment was in the Rural cemetery.

Earle Smith has been at home this week on furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Riley of Rockland have been guests at S. A. Jones'.

Carl Longren, who has been spending the Easter vacation recess with his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Longren, returned to Bowdoin College Monday.

William Grant was in Portland last week.

G. E. Wentworth has returned from New Hampshire.

The men and women members of the Macabee Lodge, a joint meeting Thursday evening at the G. A. R. hall. The women, who joined the order on a charter list not quite completed, were invited by the men to witness the degree work. The team, although inexperienced, did splendid work. District Manager E. A. Rock accompanied by his assistants left for Portland and other points Friday morning expecting to return April 10 to complete the charter list for the women and increase the membership in the men's order.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Welt and Mrs. John Leland of Somerville, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Palmer of Belfast, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Palmer, Mrs. Sarah Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Palmer, Mrs. Dora Sidelinge and Mrs. Wendall Hall of Nobleboro were in town to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Abbie E. Palmer.

The Auction Club was entertained by Mrs. M. F. Wade Friday evening. Those present were Mrs. D. B. Mayo, Mrs. W. A. White, Mrs. H. R. Smith, Mrs. S. H. Weston, Mrs. W. H. Crowell, Miss Ellen Smith, Miss Sarah Hammond and Mrs. Wade.

GORDON FOX FARM

Receivers Will Apply For Authority To Sell the Animals.

The next step in the proceedings in connection with the managing of the silver black fox industry of Frank H. Gordon, Inc. and the disposition of the property and assets for the benefit of the owners of contracts will be taken April 5, when notice served on fox owners is returnable in the Supreme Court in Bangor.

The temporary receivers and custodians, Hon. P. H. Gillin and County Attorney Artemas Weatherbee, who will be appointed permanent receivers, will apply to the Court for authority to sell the foxes at private sale or public auction.

The animals at the ranch at Lincoln are being cared for as usual, only the undesirable ones having been culled thus far.

MARK TWAIN CLASSIC

Mark Twain never wrote anything funnier than "A Connecticut Yankee," which opens at Strand Theatre Friday and Saturday, or anything more representative of the spirit of America. It is the challenge of the New World to the old. The principal character, Martin Cavanaugh, is a typical Yankee with a long line of New England ancestors. He has heard a good deal about the glories of the "good old times," and when he is suddenly transplanted to King Arthur's court he has an opportunity to find out the truth for himself. He discovers not only that the plumbing of King Arthur's castle is bad and that it is awkward to live without telephones, railroads, automobiles and other useful things, but also that he is more than a match for the Knights of the Round Table in personal courage and fighting ability. There are as many laughs in the film play as in the book. The most has been made of every situation. The sumptuous settings presented by the director, Emmett J. Flynn, are marvels of beauty.

WILLIAM D. SHAW

William D. Shaw died Thursday morning at his home in Cambridge, Mass., after a brief illness. Funeral services will be held at the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Shaw was born in this city 54 years ago and for the past 23 years had been employed by Harvard College as an electrician. He was a member of Mt. Sinai Lodge and North Camden Encampment, I. O. O. F., and the A. O. U. W. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Bertha Chick of New Hampshire, and Mrs. Fannie Shaw of Roxbury; and one son, Ralph G. Shaw of Cambridge.

Making a good rule work both ways

"The more a merchant sells, the less he has to charge;" that's an axiom of business.

On the theory that a good rule ought to work both ways, we're turning that axiom around, this way:

"The less a merchant charges, the more he will sell."

In other words, we're going to keep prices down in the belief that our business will grow up to them.

You made its debut triumphant

Instantly you knew and claimed it—this different generous soap you asked for

You feel so luxurious afterwards

Lather even hard water can't quell

And the lather! Such lather—even in dreadfully hard water. Hard water on the Continent taught the French the secret that gives Lux Toilet Form, too, that caressing, instant lather even where water is hard.

Somehow you feel lovelier, more exquisite after Lux Toilet Form. It is made by the method France uses for her finest toilet soaps.

LUX TOILET FORM has all the precious qualities that tempted you in those shockingly expensive French toilet soaps you loved but knew you should not buy!

Now not one reproachful murmur from the very thirdest conscience. Lux Toilet Form—all enchantment—is just ten cents.

In its sampler wrapper you can get Lux Toilet Form wherever toilet soaps are sold. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

DEALERS everywhere tell us how eagerly you have seized upon Lux Toilet Form, you critical women.

"I just can't get enough," says one of the biggest buyers in the country. "My customers often buy it by the dozen and some of my charge customers get it by the case of 50 cakes."

"It sells so fast we are now ordering it in quantities unprecedented in our experience," a Fifth Avenue store tells us with satisfaction.

"It's a really big seller. In 15 years in business I've never seen a new product so instantly a success." Again and again we hear the same exhilarating story.

YES, there are all the marvels that you asked for! Satin-smoothness, such delicious firmness—true savon condensé that will wear and wear! Beguiling fragrance not too pronounced!

So safe for the very precious baby

THOMASTON

William F. Henderson has moved from Wadsworth street to the Kipler house, Elliot street.

Miss Ruth Pillsbury, who was called home from Northampton, Mass., on account of the death of her father, returned to Smith College Wednesday.

E. W. Peaslee attended the Republican State convention at Portland, Tuesday.

An Easter service that was worthy of place in the Easter records of the churches, but which was unintentionally omitted was that of the Episcopal church. Two services were held at which the rector J. B. Pitcher, conducted a morning celebration at 9 o'clock at which special music was rendered, and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening delivered a very able sermon. The attendance was well sustained. The decorations were attractive, the pulpit done in white being especially so. The interior of this church naturally lends itself to the decorator's art.

The W. C. T. U. will meet in the vestry of the M. E. church Friday at 2:30 o'clock.

The Sunday morning topic at the Baptist church will be "Christian Paradoxes." Sunday evening will be ladies night. All the ladies of the town are invited and are requested to occupy seats in the center of the church. The topic will be, "Three Prize Beauty Sisters of the Bible." Can you find them?

Everett Andrews has been laid off with a bad cold.

Frank Flint has moved his family from Mrs. Nancy Bushnell's house to the West End.

N. F. Andrews has received an invoice of 500 day-old chickens.

The Mission Circle of the Baptist church will give a party in the vestry tomorrow evening. Refreshments will be served. The price of admission will be a penny for each inch of your waist measure. Please do not scrimp.

The crew at the cement plant has been increased. Material for more kilns is being hauled to the ground.

The senior class of the T. H. S. will have a dance in the Andrews Gym Friday evening at 8 p. m. A seven-piece orchestra will furnish the music.

Charles H. Mank who has spent the winter with friends in Massachusetts, was in town Wednesday on the way to his home in Cushing.

Cora C. Cushing

Cora C., widow of Charles H. Cushing, died at her home on Knox street Wednesday morning. She was the daughter of William J. Bunker and Jane M. Reed Bunker having been born in Thomaston about 1855. Her education was gained in the common and high schools of Thomaston. June 12, 1882, she married Charles H. Cushing who was also of Thomaston. Their married life was spent happily in their native town. Two sons were born to them whom they saw grow to manhood—Ralph, the elder of these sons has for long been a resident of Chicago. Stanley, the younger has always resided in Thomaston and has for several years had the care of his mother. Mrs. Cushing had a wide circle of friends. Of a family of ten children but two, a sister, Arline Bunker and a brother, Isaac Bunker, are living. Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

WARREN

Roland Berry left Monday for Boston where he will have employment. Edward Payson of Belfast has been the guest of Niven Kallach for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Biggs have left their employment at the M. Shortell & Son factory and gone to Lewiston.

Ralph Libby of South Warren is driving a 1926 sport Ford roadster, bought through Warren Garage.

The snuffs have arrived.

The Baptist missionary meeting was held at Miss Mary Kallach on Tuesday afternoon.

The children's concert at the Baptist church on Sunday evening was much enjoyed by an audience of 200 persons. The Easter lilies used in the decorations were sent at the close of the entertainment to the shut-ins.

The Baptist male quartet was entertained at supper, followed by a social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wyllie Monday night.

The Good Luck Club met with Miss Hilda Aspy last Friday evening. A part of the time was spent in sewing and the remainder in a social way. The exhibition dance by the hostess and Miss Einfeld was greatly enjoyed. The "cats" deserve special mention and praise. Those present included Misses Helen Bachelier, Nellie Sampson, Ruth Fifeled, Mary Connell, Evelyn Sawyer, Martha Connell and the hostess, Hilda Aspy. The next meeting will be held April 10 at the home of Helen Bachelier.

Rev. H. M. Purinton, pastor of the Baptist church will speak Sunday morning on the subject "Walking With." There will be a union meeting at the same church in the evening with Rev. C. D. Paul as the speaker. Miss Marie Kenniston is leader at the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting—topic, "How Can We Show Our Christian Love?"

LONG DISTANCE TALK

Chicago Man Has His Son-in-Law On the Phone in England.

When William H. Safford answered his telephone Sunday night he was startled to hear the operator say, "Hold the line for Rugby, England, please." A moment later he heard the voice of his son-in-law, Arthur A. Oswald, who is in England. For 20 minutes the conversation continued. Mr. Oswald who designed and built the radio telephone station for the British Postal Service telling his father-in-law of the success of the venture.

The message broadcast from Rugby was picked up at an identified station on the Maine coast and relayed by telephone to New York and thence to Chicago. It was reported to be the first time a telephone conversation had been carried on between Europe and America, although such communication has been established with cities on the Atlantic coast.

It would have been very difficult to find a more attractive group of children than that which presented the delightful Easter concert in the church Sunday night. The smaller the kiddie the bigger the hit he made but everyone was greatly appreciated and the whole affair reflects much credit upon the children and the ladies who labored so faithfully to bring it about. The chorus choir of 14 voices was also very much appreciated in their rendering of several beautiful Easter anthems. Miss Marie Brown sang an Easter solo in her usual delightful manner. Quite the crowning event of the evening was when Master Charles Watts, Jr., and Master Gordon Crowley received the offering. These young men displayed much greater dignity at this time than did the older folks. The pointed Easter lily which graced the altar was a gift to the pastor from the pupils of the Sunday school as a token of their love and esteem. In speaking of this and expressing his appreciation, his usual touch of humor brought a fine laugh. There was a very good attendance in spite of very bad weather.

Mrs. Belle Lewis of Rockland was the weekend guest of her cousin, Mrs. Harvey Crowley.

Miss Jeanie McConchle returned Monday from Newburyport, Mass., where she has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. John C. Stanton, for a few days. Mrs. Stanton has recently been very ill from influenza but is much better now. Miss McConchle resumed her teaching in Rockland Tuesday.

Charles Peterson came home from Bangor Friday for a short visit.

Mrs. Azora Clark is the guest of relatives in Boston.

Mrs. Albert Davis left Saturday for Boston where she will visit relatives for a few weeks.

Mrs. Mildred Smith Elwell returned Saturday from a short trip to Providence, R. I., and New York City.

Friends here were saddened to learn of the death of Herbert Brown in Whitinsville last Wednesday. Mrs. Brown and son Carl accompanied the remains to Rockland Friday where the body was placed in the receiving tomb until the weather will permit of interment. Mr. Brown was a highly respected citizen of South Thomaston.

Willard P. Sleeper received a telegram Monday telling him of the death of his cousin, Albert Hall, in Petaluma, Calif., Saturday. Mr. Hall was born in South Thomaston in 1841, the son of George and Mary Ann (Sleeper) Hall. He, with other members of his family, left here more than 60 years ago when he went to California and eventually settled on a large ranch in Petaluma, where he married and reared a family of four sons and four daughters. Three sons and four daughters survive him. The Petaluma Argos speaks of him as one of the pioneers and one of the most highly respected citizens. One of his daughters, Mrs. Walter Graff, her husband and children have visited Mr. Sleeper twice here and some of Mr. Sleeper's pleasantest memories are those of the five years he spent in California, much of the time being spent in Mr. Hall's home in Petaluma.

Next Thursday there will be a Farm Bureau meeting in the Grange hall. It will be an all-day meeting and the subject will be "Millinery."

Miss Mahoney has resigned her position as Home Extension Agent but thinks she will be here for that meeting. Anyway someone will come to instruct and will bring some hat frames which can be purchased at a very reasonable price. Everyone should take all the materials they have on hand; also scissors, thread and needles. Silks are much in vogue this year, also hand-made flower etc.

Col. Ernest A. Robbins, Knox County member of the Republican State Committee, and Zeina M. Dival, candidate for State Senator, attended the Republican State Convention at Portland this week.

How I save hours of work on washday

and get my clothes whiter than ever without washboard rubbing

Washing my clothes this new, quick way is like having a laundress. Instead of spending all Monday over the washbasin—rubbing and scrubbing the very life out of my clothes and out of myself—I now simply soak the wash in Rinsos for an hour or two in the morning, or overnight if that is more convenient. Then I just rinse in clear water and by 10 o'clock the whole wash is blowing on the line—sweet, clean and sparkling white. The rest of the day is free for other things.

Rinsos saves me money too. For it is all I need on washday. No bar soap—no washing powders—no chipped bar soap—just Rinsos. Its tiny grains dissolve in a jiffy and gently loosen all the dirt and stains—so that they float away in rinsing. Once in a while I have to rub badly soiled spots between my fingers, but that is all.

I have found clothes last longer with Rinsos, because now I never have to rub them threadbare on the washboard. My friends tell me Rinsos is fine for their washing machines, too—so much quicker and the clothes just sparkle.

GRANGE OPPORTUNITY

Address By State Lecturer
Merle J. Harriman Farmers' Week.

I am going to name three things that it seems to me the Grange should take an active interest in at the present time said State Lecturer M. J. Harriman. First, advertising our town, our business and our State. Second the political situation, and third cooperative marketing.

This Boost Maine Campaign that is spreading all over the State should remind the Grange that we do not advertise our business as we should. The old saying "It Pays To Advertise" is just as true today as ever, and sooner or later we as Grangers realize this the better off we will be. Look at the Sunday papers everywhere containing 50 to 75 pages every Sunday, and a large part of them are advertisements, show us that in other lines of business it must pay to advertise, and why not ours?

When I mention the political situation, some will at once say, "The Grange should not mix up in politics," which is all true of partisan politics. But when we realize that politics means nothing more than "The business of Government" we must certainly admit that every good citizen should be interested in affairs of State. We have only to refer to the National Grange to see our minds at rest upon this subject. Our schools, highways, State and county officials and the enforcement of laws and subjects which we should take more active interest in than we do.

There have been a good many successful cooperative buying associations formed in agricultural communities, but few successful cooperative selling or marketing associations. As a rule a farmer can raise enough, but of what use is it to raise it, if it cannot be sold profitably? We as farmers have given too little thought to this matter and we have been content to ship our produce to Boston, receiving our pay after expense and commission have been deducted, and then shipped back to the purchaser lives right here in Maine, and pays the express back on the same commodity. How much better off both the producer and consumer would be if they could get together and save that express both ways. Many bushels of peas are raised in Maine every year, shipped to Boston and then shipped back to our summer resorts. And the same thing is true of poultry, eggs, butter and other farm products.

CAMDEN

Clarence A. Fish has taken the place of Harold Grindle as local agent of the Prudential Insurance Company.

Philip H. Thomas has returned from Florida where he spent the winter. He drove the 1800 miles from Florida to Boston in six days, finding the roads good to the Bath ferry. From the ferry to Camden the roads are a single rut and drifted in several places and not very many cars have been through.

Marcus P. Chandler is spending a few days in Boston.

Charles Thorndike has returned from New Jersey where he spent the winter with his son.

Charles Claxton, manager of the Megunticook Boys' Camps at the Lake is in town preparing for the summer opening. He reports a record enrollment for the coming season.

Camden friends of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Clark of West Somerville, Mass., will be pleased to learn that a son arrived at their home on Tuesday, April 6.

Mrs. Della Clark is visiting at the homes of relatives in town for a few weeks. In May she plans to visit her grandson in Massachusetts and later come back to Camden for the summer.

News from Dr. A. F. Green, who with Mrs. Green has been in New Jersey for three weeks, is to the effect that both of them have the flu and, it is quite uncertain when they will be able to return home.

Mrs. Caroline H. Morrison is expected Saturday at her home on Pearl street after spending the winter in Jersey city.

Mrs. Myrtle Hills has begun on the tax books at the assessors' office and it is hoped to have the books ready at an earlier date than last year. The property questionnaire used so successfully last year will be used this year and 1500 of them will be mailed this week to taxpayers.

Kenneth Arey of Worcester, Mass., is home for a few days.

Col. Ernest A. Robbins, Knox County member of the Republican State Committee, and Zeina M. Dival, candidate for State Senator, attended the Republican State Convention at Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Conley, who have spent the winter in Florida, are expected in Camden this week where they will visit for a time at the home of the daughter, Mrs. F. E. Morrow before going to their summer home at Isle au Haut.

Miss Alice Hansen is on a trip to Washington in company with Miss Na Allen, formerly of Camden, who is teaching in Connecticut.

Miss Elizabeth Mathews is on the road to recovery after being quite ill with chicken pox.

Raymond Pinkham has returned to his home after spending a few days in Rockland.

Mrs. Hattie Bowles is improving in health.

SOCIETY

In addition to personal notes recording departures and arrivals, this department especially desires information of social happenings, parties, musicals, etc. Notes sent by mail or telephone will be gladly received. TELEPHONE 1770

From the society columns of the New York Herald Tribune comes this item of interest to Rockland and vicinity: "Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roberts of 1649 Park avenue and Owl's Head, Me., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Brockway Roberts, to Paul Adams Jones, son of Mrs. E. L. Jones, of Union, Me. Miss Roberts attended the Low and Heywood School, Stamford, Conn., and the Gardner School in New York City. Mr. Jones, a graduate of Exeter Academy, is now a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. No date for the wedding has been set."

Mrs. Harold M. Sweet of Portland is the guest of Mrs. E. S. May.

Ralph Tardiff, manager of the basement department, Fuller-Cobb-Davis, is back on duty after a two weeks' siege with the grippe. Carl Cole of the same department is recovering from a similar attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Cook and son have returned to their home in Perry, after a year's stay at the Head-of-the-Bay. They were much pleased to be with their home friends again although they had made many new friends while here.

Miss Harriet Trask of the Gorham Normal School faculty is spending her Easter vacation in this city.

Last year at this time the Fire Department was having a strenuous session with grass fires. Chemical 2 went to Portland March 19 over clear roads to have her new pump installed. This was 1925, not 1926.

"They have had a lot of fun with me about my carload of refrigerators bringing the cold weather," said Pearl Studley yesterday. "Now tell 'em this. There is at the depot a big shipment of springs, 24 of them deluxe. See if that won't warm up the weather."

The Rehoboths are giving a dance at their school street hall Tuesday night.

It's some hard job to keep a bunch of boys and girls quiet, especially when there is a surprise in store, and Mrs. Charles proved this fact when she tried to keep 20 of 'em from shouting, long enough to let Miss Arlene through the door. The event was a surprise party given in honor of her 17th birthday. After much excitement she was presented with a fountain pen by the crowd. Games were played and the little bunny rabbit also played an important part in the entertainment. After the refreshments much good music was enjoyed and Arlene pronounced it a very happy birthday, although it was two days ahead of time. Those present were: Sybil Jones, Charlotte Pratt, Ruth Conant, Merla Lord, Olive Prang, Evelyn Jacobs, Annie Dean, Nellie Day, Vivian Chaples, Doris Daggett, Arlene Chaples, Chauncey Stuart, Wesley Stuart, Sherman Lord, Willard Hart, Dwight Mosher, George Condon, Maynard Gray, Earle Chaples, Edward Jameson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Alice Hannah Koster, daughter of Mrs. Martha Koster of this city, to Stahton Laforest Swett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Swett of Mexico, Me. Miss Koster is a graduate of Rockland High School '22 and Farmington Normal School '24. Mr. Swett is a graduate of the Mexico High School '19 and the University of Maine '24 and is a member of the Phi Mu Delta and Scabbard and Blade fraternities. No date is set for the wedding.

One of the most enjoyable events of the Methebesec Club was the annual meeting, with luncheon, held at the Country Club, Friday afternoon, thus closing a prosperous and enjoyable club season. At one o'clock 27 members partook of a delicious chicken dinner. The music committee, comprised the following: Piano duet, "Oriental Serenade," Van Gall, Mrs. Harriet Knowles and Mrs. Carle Douglas; solo, "Our United States," Edward Bok, Mrs. Grace Armstrong; piano duet, "The Revel of the Goblins," Engelman. Mrs. Knowles and Mrs. Douglas, in memory of Mrs. Boush S. Oxtun, a deceased member of the club, one of her poems "Springtime Up in Maine," was read by Mrs. Hazel Powers. Miss Annie Frye favored the club with a very fine talk on "Yellowstone National Park." Her visit there a few years ago enabling her to present a detailed account of many interesting features. Officers were elected for the year: President, Mrs. Maude Blodgett; vice president, Mrs. Edith Beverage; secretary, Mrs. Alice Karl; treasurer, Mrs. Ava Jackson; auditor, Mrs. Jennie Hill; directors, Mrs. Mary Cooper and Mrs. Emma Shaw. Chairmen of the following committees were appointed: Outing, Mrs. Annie Stevens; music, Mrs. Mary Gardner; entertainment, Mrs. Louise Ingraham. The club voted to take Latin America as the study for next season. During the year four new members, including one honorary, have been added. The club has contributed to the Near East Relief Fund, to the Public Library, presented "Renascence," by Edna St. Vincent Millay, to national headquarters at Washington; and will assist a young woman to graduate from Normal School, by a loan of funds. Much credit is due the music and entertainment committees for their work. The president, Mrs. Orla Merritt, received much praise for the efficient manner in which she has conducted affairs during the past two years and faithfully discharged the duties of her office. The average attendance for the year has been 25.

Brewster delivered an address. Mrs. Granville Shibles and daughter Elizabeth of Westbrook returned with Mrs. Gregory and are her guests.

Mrs. Alma Stinson and Mrs. Alice Philbrook will be in charge of the get-together of the service men and their ladies which is to be given in Legion hall Monday night. There will be music by Marsh's Orchestra and dancing and also entertainment for those who do not dance. Refreshments will be served. It is the hope of the auxiliary that as many service men as possible attend. All are cordially invited.

"ON MY SET"

Reception during the early half of Tuesday night was very weak and uncertain, but, proved as time went on. The sportively inclined found considerable satisfaction in the returns from the boxing bouts in Boston arena. WNAC had a good announcer and the story was well told. My distant stations that night were WJVA, of Richmond, Va., WEAR of Cleveland and WJIT of Chicago. "P. M. White, the popular Vinalhaven druggist, is a dyed in the wool radio fan, to the extent that he now has his fourth set, and still sits up until the wee sma' hours. Frank tells me that more than 240 sets are owned in Vinalhaven, which is not a bad showing for a town of fewer than 2000 inhabitants. Reception there is not afflicted with the ills to which service on the mainland is afflicted.

"Pinafore" was much in evidence last night, "Sweet Little Buttercup" n' everything. In connection with this opera "WJVC" gave an organ recital with old favorites. WJVB delighted older fans with oldtime songs—Cleveland defeated Brooklyn 35 to 32 in interstate basketball. Over WJZ H. H. Homer told an interesting story of Associated Press work in foreign fields. Next week on the same night will be told how the reports of Presidential Elections are given. An unsuccessful attack made upon Premier Mussolini by a German woman, was noted by WJZ, which also gave news of a big oil fire in California.

ORFF'S CORNER

ST. GEORGE'S PLANS

Commissioner Rawley Tells of Work Arranged For Pioneer Road Building Town.

When the subject of good roads is under discussion please remember that it was a Knox County town, St. George by name, which helped inaugurate the new era for transportation.

As far back as 1900, which, by a simple process of arithmetic, you will find to have been 26 years ago, a stretch of improved road was built from Smalley's Corner to Tenants Harbor, the basis elements of which were refuse paving blocks, chips and reellings. This handsome piece of highway immediately became one of the show places in Knox County, and did more to advertise St. George than anything else that had ever been done in that town.

The road is still in good condition, and the spirit which prompted its construction has carried on, until the town finds itself with 11 miles of State improved highway, and ambitious plans for the extension of its machinery equipment. To this end Road Commissioner Albert J. Rawley and Selectman Rodney Kinney have recently made a trip to Boston, where they bought an Adams grader, one of the latest type of road machines, which will be delivered within two weeks.

"We had no modern apparatus," Commissioner Rawley told a Courier-Gazette reporter, "but from now on we hope to be more abreast of the times, both in equipment and road building."

"The town has 35 miles of ordinary town road to take care of, in addition to its 11 miles of improved highway. The plan for this year is to build 1500 feet of State aid improved road; 1000 feet of third class road, leading from the State road to Clark island; 200 feet of rock base road with gravel top on Clark island; and 300 feet of gravel road in Wollaston—all this in addition to the general appropriation of $2400 for roads and bridges.

"Early emergency work on the State road will begin as soon as the frost is out and weather permits. From 15 to 20 men will be employed practically all summer."

Next winter is a far cry but Commissioner Rawley's ear is carefully attuned to the demand for some method of handling the snow problem, and modern methods will probably be invoked.

Mr. Rawley has entered upon his fifth year as highway commissioner and his services are evidently to the liking of his constituents. "The reason why we are able to accomplish so much is because we have the co-operation of town and State," he says modestly.

Mr. Rawley has a most friendly feeling for the motorists' wishes. Automobile taxes last year brought his town $3662.20, which is nearly double the amount paid the previous year, and more money than was raised by the town for roads and bridges.

To visualize the international situation in the Balkans, suppose Florida and California were contiguous.—Detroit News.

EASTER ECHOES

The Easter services at the Methodist Episcopal Church were attended by large congregations morning and evening. The decorations were a profuse number of Easter lilies, ferns and potted plants with wonderfully colored blossoms which lent a beautiful effect. At the morning service the pastor, Rev. E. V. Allen, delivered a brilliant sermon on "The First Easter" giving his hearers an impressive picture and a full meaning of what that "First Easter" has meant to mankind. The anthems "God Has Sent His Angels" (Loud), and "Come Sing We Loud Hosannas" (Spence), were effectively rendered by the choir, solo parts taken by Miss Margaret Johnson, Miss Ruth Koster and Ralph Smith, whose deep bass voice was very pleasing. Miss McIntosh delightfully sang the solo "Easter Day Has Chosen Him King," diaphanous, with violin obligato by Mrs. Emma Harvey, who produced lovely rich tones that mingled with Miss McIntosh's beautiful soprano voice filling the church with an exquisite sweetness. At this service several were admitted to membership.

At 5 o'clock the Ladies' Aid under the supervision of Mrs. Ida Simmons served a fine lunch to the choir and assisting artists, this being done because of an extra rehearsal which was scheduled at 3 o'clock.

In the evening the chorus choir rendered the cantata "The Resurrection," (Manney), assisted by Mrs. Harvey, violinist and Mr. White, trumpeter, their work greatly aiding the choir. Solo parts were ably taken by Miss McIntosh, Mrs. Anderson, Mr. Porter and Mr. Milligan.

Miss Bertha McIntosh, who has been chorister at the church but a short time is being complimented upon the manner in which the cantata was rendered. The solo parts were unusually difficult but under her careful tutoring they shone out in the cantata. At the close of the service as a token of appreciation Miss McIntosh was presented a lovely Easter lily by the music committee.

The church of Immanuel, Universalist, is enjoying a very prosperous and successful year with all branches of the work effective. During the Easter season these persons were taken into membership: Ruth Marion Davis, Harriet Virginia Moran, Mary Messer Thomas, Barbara Thorndike Wiggin, Mary Sawtelle Bird, Helen Marr Bird, Marguerite Cold, Henry Graves Marsh, Maynard Howard Wiggin, Frank Stuart Rhodes, Hazel Achorn Rhodes, Florence Seline Pike, Robert V. Stevenson, Edna Marshall, Pearl Borgerson, Almon Bird Cooper and Ada Hewitt.

FOUR INDICTMENTS

Reported By Knox Grand Jury—Verdict of $7500 For Camden Securities Co.

The traverse juries reported yesterday morning and organization was effected thus:

First Jury—John S. Tillson, foreman, Thomaston; John A. Blackman, Rockland; Albert I. Briggs, Rockland; Bertwell Kaler, Rockland; Mrs. Alice Kennedy, Camden; Charles McKinley, Camden; George A. Newbert, Vinalhaven; Fred N. Philbrook, Matineus; John C. Simmons, Union; Rodney Simmons, St. George; Gertrude Starrett, Warren and Sanford E. Welt, Rockland.

Second Jury—A. Walker Brewster, foreman, Owl's Head; Everett Beveridge, North Haven; Freeman E. Carleton, Appleton; Alvah Chadwick, St. George; Harold J. Glidden, Rockland; Linton Lane, Rockport; Fred E. Linekin, Rockland; Clifford Mank Warren; Ernest Nichols, Thomaston; Carl E. Packard, Rockport; Joseph Regnier, Camden and Phil T. Ware, South Thomaston.

Supernumeraries—Loring Athern, Hope; Marcellus M. Condon, Rockland; Arthur L. Pierce, Vinalhaven and Warren C. Wotton, Friendship.

The grand jury's deliberations were brief. That body rose yesterday morning, and the forenoon handed to Clerk Griffin four "true bills." The list follows:

Charles Walters, Rockland, larceny of $150 in cash from Frank W. Fletcher, Feb. 24.

George Wheeler, Rockland, larceny of Buick touring car valued at $1000, from Erskine C. York, Jan. 24.

George Wheeler, Rockland, larceny of Essex sedan, valued at $700 from Bernes O. Norton of Belfast, Jan. 23.

George Keating, Camden, felonious assault upon William Dyer.

Naturalization day, yesterday, found a solitary applicant, Rev. Samuel Clark of Friendship, who is a native of Scotland. He was admitted to citizenship.

Much of yesterday's session was devoted to the case of Camden Securities Co. vs. P. L. Bean. This was an action on a promissory note for $7500 given by the defendant to the Camden National Bank and endorsed over to the Camden Securities Co.

The defence claimed that when Mr. Bean turned over certain properties on account of his defection with the Megunticook National Bank the understanding was that the note was considered paid. The plaintiff contended that the note was never paid, and that what property he did turn over was held as collateral to the notes for $240,000 held by the Camden Securities Co. As a matter of fact, the plaintiff further contended that the securities turned over by Mr. Bean would not liquidate more than $67,000 on those notes.

There were some spicy interchanges between the two attorneys during the progress of the case. Alan L. Bird for Camden Securities Co.; Oscar H. Emery for Mr. Bean. Verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $7500.

The case on trial this morning is William H. Milner vs. Alice E. Hare, alias Ella C. Hare, an action for alleged perjury.

At the annual meeting of the Knox Bar Association Tuesday J. H. Montgomery of Camden was re-elected president, E. K. Gould was elected to succeed the late Arthur S. Littlefield as vice president, and O. H. Tripp was re-elected treasurer and librarian, with a cordial vote of thanks for his long and valuable services. Mr. Tripp asked to be relieved of secretarial duties, which were delegated to Esmer O. Hare.

A letter was read from Bradford K. Kallach, a member of the bar who now makes his home in New Jersey, at an advanced age. He thanked his brother members for kind remembrances.

The new entries this term, exclusive of divorce libels already published are:

Talbot Insurance Agency vs. Josephine M. Knight, assumpsit on account.

Grace E. Achorn vs. Everett L. Spear & Co., negligence.

Elden Hannan vs. C. W. Hannan, assumpsit on account.

Isaac Berliawsky vs. Marcia A. Burch and Charles E. Burch, assumpsit on note.

George Wing vs. E. R. Noyes, assumpsit on account.

S. A. Schomberg vs. Co. vs. W. J. Nick, assumpsit on note.

Harold F. Avey vs. Chester Bailey, alienation.

City of Rockland vs. James Dondis, taxes.

Fred P. Knight vs. Wyman F. Cushman, land.

Consolidated Banking Company vs. Sherman W. Halliwell, assumpsit on account.

George H. Starrett vs. State Highway Commission, highway damages.

Allyn W. Peabody vs. Alma J. Newhall, assumpsit on account.

William H. Milner vs. Alice E. Hare alias Ella C. Hare.

William H. Milner vs. Dennis Hare, Charles W. Sheldon vs. Dana E. Mayo, assumpsit on account.

Dennis Hare vs. William H. Milner, Albertus W. Clarke and Isaac Berliawsky.

Mike Amarto vs. Guilliano Passalacqua.

Isaac Berliawsky vs. Marcia A. Burch.

John M. Gamage & Sons Inc. vs. A. H. Harrison and E. W. Barton, assumpsit on note.
