LIPTON TO CHALLENGE

A quarter century country quest of the America's cup today finds Sir Thomas Lipton in New York, still eager at the age of 76, to press on for the elusive yachting trophy, an ambition which has outlived four straight defeats and an expenditure of close to $10,000,000. Except to affirm his intention of challenging for the cup next October, in anticipation of a series of races in July, 1927, Sir Thomas indicated that his plans were indefinite. He says he has not yet discussed with designers the size and style of yacht he will pit against America's defender.

Lincoln Academy Has No
Slackers When It Comes To Baseball.

Athletic interest at Lincoln Academy manifests itself this spring by the large field of candidates aspiring to make the baseball team. Through the courtesy of Robert Clunie, Jr., principal and coach, the following list is furnished:

Catchers, "Ned" Jones, Harold Webster, Wolcott Webster, Raymond Stevens, Herbert Flint and Randolph Woodward; pitchers, Clarence Gough, James Hall, Ross Francis, Richard Erskine and John Stoddard; first base, James Hall, Harold Webster and Clayton Staples; second base, Clarence Gough, Richard Erskine, Randall Hall, Theodore Sproul and John Dvorak; third base, Wolcott Webster and Herbert Chickering; shortstop, Wilbur Gorham, Donald Wilband and Albert Wood; outfield, Albert McLean, Robert Gamage, Clark Mayo, Louis West, Stunner Berry, Amasa Bryant, Leonard Fitch, Paul Schroeder, Warren Russell and Edward Ball.

Of the above list, the following played last year, and in all probability will make the grade this season: Harold Webster, who caught and played first base; Clarence Gough, who pitched and played second base; Richard Erskine, who pitched and played second base; Wolcott Webster, third base; Robert Gamage, centerfield; Leonard Fitch, right field; Clarence Gough, 1925, is manager, and Robert Clunie, Jr., is coach.

"I think," said Coach Clunie, "that we will make a much more impressive showing than last year's when we tied, I believe, for last place. We have some promising candidates in the 1925 class who are likely to make the 'regulars' step around a bit. Our squad is unusually large and we hope to have a second as well as a first team. We are now arranging a schedule for the 'seconds' and would like to book games with Knox County teams."

The Academy team's schedule for this season follows:
April 24—Bristol H. S. at Newcastle.
April 28—Wiscasset Academy at Newcastle.
May 1—Open.
May 5—Wiscasset Academy at Wiscasset.

CAMDEN CHEERFUL

Coach Richards' Chief Want
Is a Shortstop for "Buck's" Place.

Camden High School is not without hopes of bringing the championship cup back to that town, according to Frederick F. Richards, coach of athletics, who furnishes The Courier-Gazette with the following seasonable statement:

The team will be led by Archie Edward Plaisted, '26, manager by Carlisle Albert Leonard '27, and coached by Frederick F. Richards. Six letter men are left from last season's squad—Captain Plaisted '26, third base; Frank Thomas '26, center field; Lawrence Dailey '27, left field; Michael Arico '27, second base; Carlisle Leonard '27, pitcher; Tullson Thomas '28, catcher. These players are expected to make a strong bid for their old positions although it may be necessary to shift them in order to fill the gap left by "Buck" Ogier at shortstop.

Five candidates are out for pitcher, including Mayhew and Ames right-handers and Wentworth, Bennett and Broadhead, left-handers. Mayhew is also a candidate for first base along with H. Talbot, Burket and C. Heal. Two candidates are battling with Thomas for the catching job, Alley and Crooker. Second base and shortstop are sought by Chester Leonard, Nax J. Talbot, Crockett, Athearn and Kimball. Captain Plaisted will be forced to defend his laurels against Lincoln, Spruce and Melvin. There are nine candidates for the outfield—R. Hopkins, F. Hopkins, McCobb, A. Redman, W. Heal, Stairs, C. Thomas and Conary.

Camden High School will be there fighting to the end, and with an even break should make the going interesting for every other team in the league. Two pitchers must be developed who can share the work with Leonard, and a shortstop discovered, also, to keep us in the running. Out door practice will commence next week and everyone is anxious to get started. The cup for this year's winner has already arrived and the boys are determined that after it has made the rounds of the other schools it will return to C. H. S. at the close of the season.

The schedule follows:
May 1—Boothbay Harbor H. S. at Boothbay Harbor.
May 5—Crosby H. S. at Camden.
May 8—Thomaston H. S. at Camden.
May 10—Crosby H. S. at Belfast.
May 15—Vinalhaven H. S. at Camden.
May 19—Rockland H. S. at Camden.
May 22—Boothbay Harbor H. S. at Camden.
May 26—Lincoln Academy at Newcastle.
May 29—Thomaston H. S. at Thomaston.
June 2—Lincoln Academy at Camden.
June 5—Vinalhaven H. S. at Vinalhaven.
June 12—Open.
June 16—Rockland H. S. at Rockland.

"OUTLOOK GOOD"

Vinalhaven High School's Squad Is Out For Baseball Practice.

"Outlook good" was the laconic remark of Smith B. Hopkins, principal of Vinalhaven High School, when asked by the sporting editor of The Courier-Gazette as to his team's prospects in the Knox and Lincoln Baseball League this spring. Two candidates are out for the backstop's berth—P. Nelson of last year's team; and E. Salles, a new man. There are three aspirants for the heating end of the battery—H. Coombs, N. Sarantos and C. Webster. Coombs, who played centerfield last spring, also has an eye on third sack this year. Sarantos will not be a stranger to the box, having pitched last season when not playing third base.

Other candidates this spring are: First base, C. Vinal, F. Bunker and V. McFadden; second base, D. Johnson and G. Sweets; outfield, R. Peterson, M. Winslow, H. Friedman, A. Calderwood and F. Oakes. Of this group the seasoned men are Winslow and Johnson.

H. Anderson, who played short last season, appears to be the only candidate for that position. The Vinalhaven team has the following organization this spring: Captain, Paul Nelson; student manager, Calvin Vinal; faculty manager, S. B. Hopkins; coach, L. B. Dyer; assistant coach, H. Sanborn.

The season's schedule follows:
Wednesday, May 5—Rockland at Vinalhaven.
Saturday, May 8—Lincoln at Vinalhaven.
Saturday, May 15—Vinalhaven at Camden.
Wednesday, May 19—Vinalhaven at Thomaston.
Saturday, May 22—Thomaston at Vinalhaven.
Saturday, May 29—Vinalhaven at Rockland.
Saturday, June 5, Camden at Vinalhaven.
Saturday, June 12—Vinalhaven at Lincoln.

HOW CALIFORNIA CAPITALIZES

H. N. McDougall, Back From "The Coast," Tells of Impressions Gained There—A Comparison in Camden's Favor.

H. Nelson McDougall, president of the Security Trust Company, came back from his recent trip to the coast convinced of the triteness of that old saying—"See America first"—and he also came back more firmly convinced than ever that there is no corner of the Union where one may spend his life with more satisfaction than right here in Maine.

He draws this conclusion even while conceding the wonders of the West, both as to scenic and climatic conditions. His visit was admirably timed as to weather, and his tour of "The Coast" left nothing to be desired in the way of sight-seeing and comfort. He was accompanied on the tour by Mrs. McDougall and their daughter Evelyn.

Leaving Rockland Feb. 16 the McDougalls traveled Westward by the Santa Fe route, with San Francisco fixed as the limit of their journey.

Two wonderful days were spent at the Grand Canyon and in common with hundreds of other tourists the McDougalls gazed spellbound at the Nation's greatest show place—the most marvelous spectacle, in their opinion, which was revealed to them on either leg of their transatlantic journey. The weather was perfect and they saw the Canyon by sunlight and moonlight, bathed in wonderful and indescribable colors.

Saw Earthquake Ruins
In Santa Barbara the Rockland visitors saw the ruins of the big earthquake, including the million-dollar hotel which was so badly "shot to pieces" that it will have to be entirely rebuilt. Profiting by the lesson that steel and concrete withstood the earth's tremors while brick crumbled, Santa Barbara is being rebuilt with the materials which endure, and the new buildings which are going up are higher than the ones which were destroyed.

It was in Santa Barbara that the McDougalls had the pleasure of calling upon Mrs. Eben H. Chapin, wife of a former Rockland preacher, who is living with her mother, now 92 years of age. Mrs. Chapin believes that the earth has no fairer spot than Santa Barbara. She maintains a lively interest in Rockland people and Rockland doings, however; and there was a veritable talk-fest when the two families met.

The journey from Los Angeles to San Francisco was accomplished by motor in order that the tourists might view more leisurely the wonderful scenery which dots the 500-mile stretch. The route followed the coast line closely except when the McDougalls made upon the teams to cross a stretch of mountains. And in spite of the creepy feeling which it gave him, making indescribably sharp turns while looking off into space from an altitude of 5000 feet, Mr. McDougall found himself marveling at the wonderful feat of engineering which had been accomplished when the highway was built.

The road in some places is wide enough for three cars abreast, and at times was so narrow that there was scant room for two cars to pass. On this particular Sunday there was a constant stream of cars ascending the mountain trail, and another stream descending—yet one seldom heard of accidents on this altitudinous highway.

Meeting Movie Stars
A letter of introduction proved an open sesame to the Warner Brothers motion picture studio in Hollywood. Indeed President Warner personally escorted the Rockland visitors into realms which few persons are ever permitted to see. Sidney Chaplin and Irene Rich were starring in a photoplay which was being made at the time. Irene was very gracious to the tourists and completely captivated Miss Evelyn McDougall when she posed for snapshots and told about her studio work. She said that posing before the motion picture camera is often very tedious.

President Warner told Mr. McDougall that they were having a very large business and looking for the increase. It has reached the point where all of the larger producers have to build up their own

THE NEW "NOCARB"

Local Motorists Find Surprising Value To the Device.

Local motorists are greatly interested in the latest combustion apparatus being introduced this week by the No carb Manufacturing Co. of Camden. The apparatus in its new form is such that the manufacturers in another column are making a startling offer—that your garage man install the little attachment on your car and you use the pop-giving compound for 15 days free. At the end of that time if the apparatus fails to meet your expectations it costs not one penny.

Major John Bird of Camden who heads the No carb manufacturing Co., invites every motorist to join the carbonless motor club. Of No carb he says, "Here's how to have a carbonless, knockless motor—to forget there ever was such a thing as carbon trouble; to take all the hills in 'high'; to know that you will never again suffer the loss of the use of your car for one single minute on account of carbon, or pay a dollar for its removal; to get every ounce of power your car was designed to develop; to know that you are actually turning into power and mileage, every drop of gasoline you buy!"

No carb is sold with a money back guarantee and is installed in five minutes by anybody. After installation it requires no more attention than an eight-day clock.

SUPREME COURT

There was no session of court yesterday. Associate Justice Bassett being in Portland to confer with the other Supreme Court Justices on the validity of Gov. Brewster's action in deposing Sheriff Cummings of Kennebec County.

The half day session Tuesday was devoted to the trial of a civil case—Dr. A. W. Peabody vs. Alma J. Newhall, Thomaston parties. Dr. Peabody claimed to have sold the Newhall property and sued to recover his $190. In defense it was claimed that the property was sold, without his assistance, to Horatio D. Crie. Mr. Crie testified that he had his eye on the property since 1922, lost to appear several times, and transacted his business directly with Mrs. Newhall. The jury returned a verdict for the defendant. Alan L. Bird for plaintiff; Charles T. Smalley for defendant.

Z. M. Dwinall of the Knox Bar has been in Boston this week trying a case.

The case on trial this morning is that of Isaac Berilawsky vs. Marcia A. Burch assumpt on a note for $650, secured by a real estate mortgage. Rodney J. Thompson and Frank A. Tirrell for plaintiff; Frank H. Ingraham for defendant.

Seven jury trials have been held thus far this term, which now bids fair to run well into the third week.

APRIL BIRDS IN VERMONT

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—It may be a fact or idle fancy with the writer when he says the seasons seem to arrive later than they used to do. Spring sometimes lags behind considerably. How is it down in your native home of Knox County? Here in Vermont the trees are still bare and the fields a dingy hue, and there has been no change in the past ten days. The usual rigor at this time of year is noticeable in branch and twig. The sap, that life-blood of the tree, is rising and the budding process is in the midst of its ministry.

When I was a boy at home in St. George we always considered the robin a member of the advance guard and among the first birds to appear. He was the most cheerful and most self-confident, socially-minded friend of us boys. He came early and staid late and during the mating season his love notes were pure and passionate. At the commencement of rain he would sing lustily. Old Cock Robin was deservedly popular. They have a bird here in Vermont that frequents the creek bottoms—a handsome fellow attired in brown and black and but little known. I never saw him in Maine. The plaintive notes they speak of as "towhee" and "creewink". The blackbirds are noisily proclaiming the fact in the swampy sections. The redwings singing their "krunker" songs are heard again after a wait of many months.

It is noticeable that the month of April is a general favorite among the poets. Emerson sings of "April cold with dripping rain." Whittier of "April showers," while Longfellow attends to "Sweet April." Alexander Smith, a Scottish bard, writes of "April's tears." Shakespeare is most poetical of all when he interprets a lovely woman in the phrase "The April's in her eyes, it is love's spring." April like some other months may have a period of more promise than fulfillment. Kibb.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

"Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry."—Charles Eliot Norton

MY APRIL LADY

When dawn the stars at morning,
The sunbeams round her float,
Sweet rivulets of laughter
Are rippling in her throat:
The gladness of her greeting
Is gold without alloy;
And in the morning sunlight
I think her name is Joy.

When in the evening twilight
The quiet book-room lies,
We read the sad old ballads,
While from her hidden eyes
The tears are falling fast;
That give her heart relief;
And in the evening twilight
I think her name is Grief.

My little April lady,
Of sunshine and of showers
She wears the old spring magic,
And breaks my heart in flowers!
But when her moods are cross,
She nuzzles like a cat,
Then, by the pain and rapture,
I know her name is Love.
—Henry van Dyke.

THREE TIMES A WEEK

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT

Rockland, Maine, April 15, 1926.
Personally appeared Frank S. Lynde, who on oath declares that he is president in the office of The Courier-Gazette, and that of the issue of this paper of April 15, 1926 there was printed a total of 6000 copies.
Before me, FRANK B. MILLER,
Notary Public.

President Will H. Hays, in his open letter addressed to "all public spirited citizens," affords opportunity for those who have views upon the motion picture situation to communicate them. "You are interested," Mr. Hays writes, "in having the motion picture make the most of its great possibilities as a constructive force in American life. Here is offered a practical and effective method of aiding to that end," and he adds, "Our invitation is as wide as it is cordial. We invite every organization in this country or elsewhere which is interested in public betterment to get in touch with our Department of Public Relations and to designate those who will be points of contact with the film industry." Goodness knows that there is an enormous field for improvement in the picture business. Its influence upon the future of the world, whether for good or evil, is hardly to be estimated. Films depicting cruelty, vice, immorality and crime are too much with us. We do not know that this appeal of the open letter will stimulate the interest of any of our readers to the extent of communicating with Mr. Hays, but should it do so, we are confident that he will be glad to hear from all who may write to him. He can be addressed: Will H. Hays, President of Motion Picture Producers & Distributors of America, Inc., 469 Fifth Avenue, New York.

High and grammar school pupils of Knox County may if they desire take part in the prize essay contest in connection with American Forest Week, which President Coolidge has designated for April 18 to 24. To stimulate in the minds of pupils interest in the value of our forests and the need of protecting and conserving this great natural resource, the Maine Forest Service offers $300 in cash prizes on "The Forests of Maine, Their Protection and Conservation." Prizes will be awarded: Twenty-five dollars and ten dollars to the high school student presenting respectively the best and second best essays; fifteen dollars and ten dollars to the grammar school student presenting the first and second best essays. Pupils can obtain details of the contest from the school supervisors. We'd like to see one of those awards come to Knox County—perhaps all of them.

Chairman Wood of the Republican Congressional campaign committee has been looking things over and arrives at the conclusion that there is an excellent chance of electing Republicans in several southern districts, especially in Florida and North Carolina, where, he says, there are many new settlers from the north, and in the industrial sections of Alabama and Texas where their prosperity depends upon a protective tariff. We like to see a man of hopeful temperament selected for the chairmanship of a political committee. Whether any of us now living will be spared to see Republican Congressmen returned from a southern State remains a debatable point. It would be a grand and glorious sight.

If there is any form of sport on earth that fails to awaken in our breast emotions of excitement it is that of professional fasting, hence we were not greatly moved by the faster, Harry Nelson, who has lately been first-paged on the daily papers for his exploits in Germany. But it is a painful thing to learn that now Nelson has been arrested, together with his manager, for fraud, charged that he was fed in his cage with soup and other choice sustenance administered through a rubber tube, while an awestruck public gazed upon his emaciated features and marveled at his heroic performance.

Billy Sunday has issued his manifesto. If both parties nominate wet candidates, he declares that he will run for President on a platform "To Hell With Booze!" and he adds that the country is all right. It is the cities that are all wrong and they are trying to ruin the country.

The fourteen dollars a day that the New York bricklayers are now to receive is said to be the highest rate paid in the building trade in the United States. It is a good wage and ought to serve to make a man lay a lot of brick in a day.

No, thank you, we don't need to sit beside those aviators who are hopping off for the North Pole. That solid ice on Limerock street continues to supply us with all the reminder of winter that we stand in need of.

This is Be Kind to Animals Week. We are striving to employ it in indulging a friendly feeling for the man who rushes his car through the puddle associated with the crossing on which we have paused to let him by.

ARMOUR TO BUILD

Lengthy negotiations were completed yesterday, when Armour & Co. bought from Raymond B. Thurston a section of the so-called paint factory lot on Park street, with intention, it is stated, of immediately erecting a modern plant. The lot is 100x70 feet, and on it is proposed to erect a building 90x70, costing between $40,000 and $50,000. The Rockland branch is now located at 44 Park Street, with Harold E. Jackson as manager, and has so far outgrown its quarters that a new building became a necessity. Work will begin next month.

TENANT'S HARBOR DAYS

Is there a Balm of Gilead tree in the yard of the Capt. Joshua Smalley homestead at the Harbor? Some of us still remain on earth who used to gather hinds from that tree and put them in alcohol for the family medicine chest. This was a sovereign remedy for cuts, sores, sprains, wind galls, etc. And when the medicine chest contained also tannin, mullein and eupatorium perfoliatum, you were all set for any kind of sickness. Do you find any of the aforesaid in the family medicine chest now?

What physician prescribes a dose of ipecac today as our own Dr. Stearns used to do? As the poet Holmes puts it in his "Rip Van Winkle, M. D.":

A mighty arsenal to subdue disease, Rhubarb and senna, snakeroot, thoroughwort, Ant. tart., Vin., colch., ps., castor, and black drop.

Tinctures of opium, gentian, henbane, hup., Camphor and kina, turpentine, oil, Fennel and flaxseed, slippery elm and squill.

When I read the Harbor correspondent's recent query, "I wonder if Boze wouldn't like some of those bivalves from Henderson's Point?" I felt like yelling, "You know damned well I would!" Also a mess of corn, and some slack salted, flake dried fish, and some old fashioned spruce beer in stone bottles, and some sulphur an' molasses, b' gosh!

"I keep a jar of smoked herring on draught and Sunday nights it's to the furnace and broil some for my supper. And if I could have some cabbage and fried onions as often as I liked, I'd bet I'd dream of attending a clam-bake—not like the one Al Hawley put over on us once on Clark's Island when the clams didn't bake—but a real, honest to goodness one, clams done just right, with the fixin's.

GRAND OLD FIDDLER

An Auburn correspondent writes: "Warren may be proud of her grand old fiddler Jerrel Hart, 75 years old, who at the World Fiddling Contest in Lewiston Tuesday lost the decision by only three points against a strong field that included John Wiseman of Ireland. Mr. Hart was complimented on his playing by the judges. Jerrel is a well known entertainer in Knox County. At the Wednesday matinee Mr. Sullivan needed some extra talent. Mr. Hart at a moment's notice stepped into the gap and brought down the house, as usual, assisted by H. "Dick" Emery, who is also well known in Warren and Rockland. Mr. Emery was the official pianist at the World Contest."

REDONNETT A CANDIDATE

Bradford C. Redonnett of Wiscasset will be the Democratic candidate for State Auditor in the June primaries. It was announced in Augusta Tuesday. Mr. Redonnett, who for several terms served as register for several towns in Lincoln County, will be unopposed for the Democratic nomination. Elbert D. Hayford of Farmington, the present State Auditor, will be a candidate for renomination in the Republican primary.

THAYER IS PLEASED

Major Arthur L. Thayer of Bangor is very much pleased with the support he is receiving as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. He dropped off at Lewiston on his way to Portland to attend the Republican State convention, and shook hands with several of his friends in this city. Major Thayer believes that his candidacy has advanced several points in the past two weeks; that sentiment is changing in his favor—Lewiston Sun.

MYSTERY CAMP

If, as we are told, "variety is the spice of life," surely the story of "Mystery Camp" contains sufficient spice to satisfy any normal boy, for the three boys who figure so conspicuously throughout the story experience both by land and water a wealth of adventure. A hurricane, a flooded town, a tidal wave, thunder and lightning, pirates, a mysterious vessel, an old map, buried treasure, a long swim in the dark, then marooned on a lonely sand bank—these are only a part of the experiences of the three boys, Specks Evans, Bloomy Brown and Snappy Dean, all of whom were called by quite different names at home. The story ends with a recovered treasure chest, a dead pirate, a little orphan who is taken into the Evans home, a rebuilt town and the boys all planning for school, football, etc., with college in the future, while Nibs, the dog, lifts up his voice and joins in their jolly chorus of song.

Col. Frank L. Smith, foe of the World Court, has been nominated by Illinois Republicans as their senatorial candidate over Senator William B. McKinley, who voted for the measure in the Senate. He will be opposed in the November election by George E. Brennan, Democratic chief of staff, and an avowed wet who distanced his two rivals by an overwhelming vote.

A Spring Question

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—Knowing you have a column in your paper devoted to solving hard problems, I would like to ask for information on the following question: If spring comes, will summer be far behind? Charles M. Woster, Camden, April 14.

TO USE BRIDGE

The Maine Central Railroad Co. has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to extend its line between Bath and Woolwich, by laying tracks on a combination railroad and highway bridge to be constructed by the State across the Kennebec river.

NEW TIRES FROM OLD

Knox Rubber Fusing Co. Is Retreading By the Nestler Process.

Rockland has a lively young industry at the Northend which has attracted little attention heretofore but is now coming into its own. Reference is had to the Knox Rubber Fusing Co., whose plant is located at 15 Washington street and whose business is the retreading of worn automobile tires by the Nestler process. The proprietor is Earl Randall and he plans considerable expansion in the near future.

The business is one unit in a large chain of similar stations which recast discarded tires by the fusing rather than vulcanizing process. Earl Nestler, a New York inventor, perfected the process and had it patented in 1920. A visit to the plant proves interesting.

The seven simple steps consist of first painting the sound but worn tire with a desulphurizing compound. The next step is the torching of the tire with a gas or gasoline torch to drive in the compound and complete the de-curing of the surface rubber. A second compound is then applied to the cleaned tire carcass which puts the de-cured rubber into condition for recuring. The fourth step is the application of a strip of raw rubber, tread stock called "camel back" which is placed on the tread section, low places being built up with small slips of rubber. The tire is next placed in a mold, a sand bag put inside and clamps applied subjecting tire and tread to great pressure. This whole section is then placed in a curing cabinet and subjected to a specified dry heat produced by special burners. When the curing is completed the renewed tire is painted and ready for service.

Mr. Randall plans to extend gas service to the plant next month, meantime using gasoline and kerosene. He is assisted at present by John Beecher, a Nestler operative and instructor, Chauncey Stuart, Sherman Lord and Willard Hart.

EMPIRE THEATRE

"Western Pluck," starring Art Acord, will have its last showing today. A perfect love story, thrills in plenty and a touch of mystery are found in their proper proportions. The added feature is "The Warrior Gap."

"Combat" will be the attraction Friday and Saturday. House Peters is the star and sets a new record for screen stars to shoot at. It is one of the most thrilling melodramas of the great outdoors in which this popular he-man star has ever appeared. Jammed with rapid action, fights, a forest fire and a terrific racing torrent, this picture piles all the dramatic moments that have elevated Peters to his great popularity into one perfect picture of life in the lumber camps. Through it all is woven the strand of a pretty romance between Peters and Wanda Hawley.

"The Scarlet Streak," chapter 4, and the latest Comedy will complete an excellent program—adv.

STRAND THEATRE

Packed with laughs from the opening scene to the final fadeout, "Madame Behave," a new Al Christie comedy, known as the "cousin to 'Charley's Aunt'" will be shown for the last times today. It has a good story which is logically developed, and the rapid action never lags. The result is continuous laughter until the wedding in the last scene which is delightfully photographed in colors with novel results.

On Friday and Saturday a theme of unusual interest is interwoven in the Tiffany production "Borrowed Finery," will be shown. The story tells of a cute little model employed in a wholesale dress house, who borrows an evening dress to attend a party. During the evening the dress is ruined, which leaves a girl in a rather uncomfortable predicament. How she evades the penalty of her rashness and complications that follow gives the picture its great entertainment value. An added feature picture is that ever popular Bob Custer in "Galloping Vengeance," adv.

"IN THE MAINE WOODS"

Information for the hunter, fisherman, mountaineer, camper, or camper, in the form of maps, camp directories, photographs and written articles is contained in the 1926 edition of "In the Maine Woods," issued by the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad. The booklet, which contains 160 pages, has been given the approval of the State of Maine in a specially written foreword by Governor Ralph O. Brewster.

Among the articles by Boston people is one by Arthur C. Conney telling of exploration north of Katahdin, one by Dr. Charles M. Whitney describing photography of deer and moose, and one by Miss Corinne Danforth on climbing Mt. Katahdin. There is a map of canoe routes, a table of estimated canoe distances, the Appalachian Mountain Club map of Mt. Katahdin and an extensive directory for sportsmen, illustrated by maps.

A copy of the book will be sent to any address on receipt of ten cents in stamps by George M. Houghton, general passenger agent of the Bangor & Aroostook, at Bangor, Me.

A sermon recently broadcast by an Eastern clergyman was preached from Ecclesiastes 1:9, "There is no new thing under the sun."—Arkansas Gazette.

Henry Ford in his story "The Great Today; the Greater Future," answers thousands who wonder why a multimillionaire manufacturer devotes time and money to acquiring antiques and the Wayside Inn in Sudbury. The opening chapters will appear in the Boston Globe of Sunday, April 18th.

The members of Knox Lodge, I. O. O. F., are asked to meet at the hall at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon for the purpose of attending the funeral of the late John Simpson.

The managers have been elected at Rockland High School: Track, Francis D. Orne '27; football, Myer Benovitch '28; basketball, George B. Wood, Jr. '28; baseball, Raymond Pendleton '28.

Swarms of crickets or blackbirds, have been reported in various parts of the city. From Concord, N. H., and other localities come reports of their being found dead by the hundreds. This is believed to be due to eating buds on trees which have been sprayed.

The boys around the Central Fire Station are full of admiration for the energy shown by Forrest K. Hatch as a clam digger, but regret that so many of the shells were broken in the transaction. They are now raising a fund to buy him a clam hoe with rubber prongs.

The Rockland Community and School Improvement Association will meet at the Thorndike Hotel next Tuesday night to discuss plans for next year, and a full attendance of the members is imperative. A banquet will be served in connection with the meeting.

It is not a common thing for Maine automobile dealers to receive orders from Italy, but that's what happened to the Sea View Garage this week when an order came from Miss Beulah Pack of New Jersey, who is now touring that country. Miss Pack is an official at the Alford's Lake Camp.

Remember Jack O'Connor, who caught on the Rockland baseball team in 1915 and 1916? He is now an attorney in New York State, associated with the Hunter Manufacturing & Commission Co. In a personal letter to the Sporting Editor this week he sends regards to those Rockland friends who will recall him.

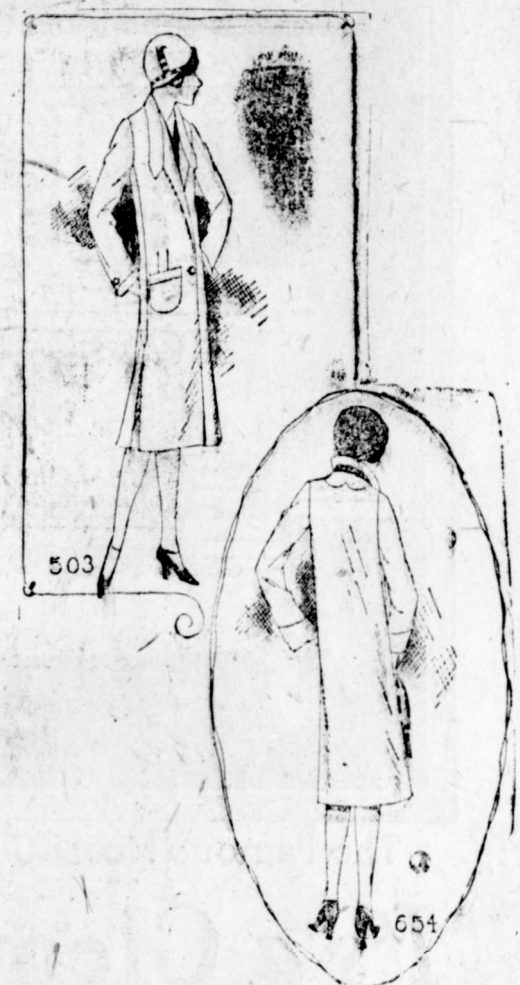

E. G. Day is installing a 40 h. p. motor in his smack Rover, in preparation for the herring season. Incidentally he expects to make it hot for the Wilham boys and Woodbury Snow, who are also putting few engines aboard. J. N. Southard and John O. Stevens are not to be overlooked in this respect and the fur will certainly fly when that ten-dollar bill is tacked onto the end of the public landing and the boat owners of the Bean Barrel Club race for it.

Miss Theresa Smith, cashier for the New England Telephone Co., has resigned from that position, and will conclude her duties at the local exchange May 1st. Miss Smith has been with the company 22 years having joined the staff as toll clerk, and being soon after promoted to book-keeper. She has held her present position the past 10 years, giving excellent satisfaction to the company and being always obliging and courteous to the phone patrons. She will make her home with her brother, La Forrest Smith. Miss Smith will be succeeded by Miss Lillian B. Barter, who entered the corporation's employ as clerk eight months ago, and who was formerly stenographer in Alan L. Bird's office. Miss Barter is a graduate of Rockland High School, where she made a particularly fine showing in the commercial department.

The prospect of a new industry locating at the Northend has been the big topic of conversation on the street this week. Late developments include the securing of an option on C. R. Dorman's partly completed house on Camden street, just south of the Thomas Hawken residence.

James P. Claffy, formerly of this city won first prize at the Lewiston fiddlers' contest Saturday night, receiving the world championship cup and $1000 in gold. The award was based on points and was unanimous. Speaking of his work in the preliminaries the Lewiston Journal of Saturday morning said: "James Claffy of Boston it was conceded to be the best reed-player in the country and champion of Massachusetts, a championship won in New Bedford. If it was a contest of speed merely, Mr. Claffy would surely walk off with the $1,000 Saturday night for he broke the record with 12 tunes and he didn't over-run his time by a second. In truth, it was largely a matter of time which decided Claffy's supremacy for it is the way he accents his music that sets everybody reeling and makes one think he's never heard a reel really played before."

"ON MY SET"

Tuesday night's reception was good in spots, with so much fading midway of it that I found solace in a book. Later in the evening WTAM and WTAM and WEAR of Cleveland came on full swing together with WHT of Chicago. Radio fans who are also baseball fans are now right in their element. WEEL gives the summary of the day's games at 6 p. m. and KDKA does the same at 10 p. m., after telling us what the weather is in Western Tennessee and Northern Texas. If you want to know how big a game this radio business is you will find your answer in a recent statement that the retail sales of radio sets and equipment last year amounted to $450,000,000, according to estimates of retailers. The total radio public is believed to be 20,000,000 listening in on 5,000,000 receiving sets. Frank A. Parrand and Ralph Tardiff are listening in on new Standardynes bought through the agency of John A. Karl & Co. Lots of us quit cold last night so poor was the reception. In the short time that my patience lasted I heard WEEL, WBZ, WNAC, and WWL, but the volume was so feeble that it was no fun listening.

The Children's Playground Association met at the postoffice Tuesday and completed the final plans for the coming summer. A covering for the band stand and equipment to produce the badly needed shade will be installed. The only new piece of apparatus contemplated is an ocean wave device though its exact nature has not been decided. The Shoot the chutes will be separated in the interest of safety. The plant as a whole is in fine physical condition and another excellent season is in prospect. An advisory committee consisting of representatives from all churches and various organizations is to be inaugurated that more children may be taught the comfort and pleasure of the Playground. The loss of the late Orel E. Davies is keenly felt by the associates, for he had an unflinching interest in the project. John M. Richardson now heads the association.

Chemical 2 had another busy day yesterday, though not quite equalling the five runs she made Monday. The opener was a grass fire on Park street near the Ulmer place. It covered quite an area but did no particular damage. The second one called the efficient little McCann product to a sharp fight near the Farnsworth place on Cedar street. An additional man has been added to the permanent crew of Central Fire Station at least for the hectic days of the grass fire season. The public should understand that there are four permanent firemen, three of them drivers. These men are each given one day off in four. That means that during the meal hours the station is necessarily in charge of but two men, the minimum crew to operate any fire engine, one to drive and the other to "throw the ring" i. e. make the hose connection at the hydrant. The addition of a fifth man makes it possible to give a considerable extension of service. James Gray, an experienced operator of the American-La France engine is the new man.

WHY PAY FOR CLEANING CARBON OUT OF YOUR MOTOR WHEN WE OFFER TO DO IT FOR NOTHING?

OUR IMPROVED NOCARB WILL DO IT!

ONE CAN BE HAD FOR A 15 DAY FREE TRIAL AT YOUR GARAGE ANY TIME UP TO MAY 15th—DON'T WAIT

NOCARB removes the carbon in your cylinders, WHILE THE CAR IS RUNNING and the carbon WILL NEVER COME BACK as long as NOCARB is used.

It works on a new principle. There is nothing to put into the gas-tank or cylinders. The active element which does the work is introduced into the intake manifold in the form of a gas evolved from handy little tablets now packed in sealed containers.

Nocarb WILL NOT gum valves. It WILL NOT affect lubrication. It WILL NOT pit or corrode valve seats or cylinder walls. But

IT WILL give more "pep" and power to the motor.

(Some say 15% more)

IT WILL silence Carbon Knocks permanently.

IT WILL gradually and infallibly remove Carbon deposits.

IT WILL keep cylinders, valves and spark plugs clean as long as you use it.

NOCARB can be installed by anybody. It requires little attention. It costs less than a cent for each twenty-five miles and saves three times that in gasoline alone. Sold on an unqualified guaranty.

OUR IMPROVED NOCARB HAS SUCCESSFULLY PASSED THE ENGINEERS' TESTS AT SEVERAL OF THE LARGEST AUTOMOBILE LABORATORIES IN THE UNITED STATES—WHAT MORE CAN BE SAID?

"Miss Brewster's Millions," one of the greatest comedy successes in years will be shown at the Park for the last time today. It had a record run in New York and is getting a great reception everywhere.

Miss Benner's section of film will be run again by special request. Two outstanding features mark tomorrow and Saturday. The great western novel "Tumbleweeds" will be presented starring the greatest of all Western actors, William S. Hart. The story has a tremendous romantic pull. CONSTANT CURLING AND WAVING RUINS HAIR

Girls just must curl and wave bobbed hair to appear the prettiest. But constant curling and waving burns and dries the luster, vitality and very life from the hair. To offset these bad effects, just get a 35-cent bottle of delightful, refreshing "Dandarine" at any drug store or toilet counter and just see for yourself how quickly it revives dry, brittle, lifeless, and fading hair. "Dandarine" is a dependable tonic and will do wonders for any girl's hair. It nourishes, stimulates and strengthens each single hair, bringing back that youthful gleam, glint and vigorous luxuriance. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears. "Dandarine" is pleasant and easy to use.

ROCKPORT

Rodney Simmons of Glenwood has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Morrill this week. Mr. and Mrs. L. P. True were recent guests of Mrs. Minnie Piper enroute from Boston to their home in Hope.

An entertainment and social was held Tuesday evening at the Methodist vestry which was enjoyed by a goodly number.

George Bagley is ill at his home on Church street.

The Baptist Associates had a very pleasant gathering at the vestry Monday evening. At 6:30 supper was served to about 25. The menu included fish chowder, pie, cake and coffee, and was under the direction of Milford Payson and Miss Mildred Graffam. The supper was followed by a business meeting and the following officers were chosen: President, G. L. Hale, vice president, Milford Payson; secretary and treasurer, Raymond Payson. Much interest is being manifested in the organization and there is already a large enrollment. Meetings will be held the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month.

Mrs. Maria W. Tibbets, who has been spending the winter with her son, Ralph Tibbets, in Glenwood, has returned to her home on Main street.

Lou Morrill, the popular manager of the Brookside store, has resigned his position on account of ill health. His many friends hope for a speedy recovery. He will be succeeded by J. M. Evans of Portland.

The Baptist church voted unanimously against any modification of the Volstead act, and a resolution to that effect signed by the pastor and clerk has been sent to Washington.

HIS EIGHTY-NINTH

Capt. E. T. Amesbury Given a Happy Surprise Out in Pasadena, Calif.

A Pasadena, Calif., newspaper, date of April 5, has the following interesting social item concerning a former well known Knox County resident:

"Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Amesbury of 1914 East Locust street entertained recently in honor of the 89th birthday of Mr. Amesbury's father, Capt. E. T. Amesbury, the affair being a complete surprise to him. Guests at the party were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carlton of Rockport, Me., winter residents in Pasadena; Miss Virginia Davis and Miss Mina Wescott of Boston; Miss Louise Amesbury of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bevans, Mrs. Katherine T. Amesbury, Mr. and Mrs. William Wirtz, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Amesbury and Mrs. Joseph McElvey of Pasadena. In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton entertained with a luncheon for Captain Amesbury. Capt. Amesbury was for 55 years a ship commander on all the seas of the world."

A number of Rockport sea captains sent their compliments by mail, couched in language that Capt. Amesbury had no difficulty in understanding, and the reading of these missives caused much merriment.

KATHLEEN M. SNOW LIBRARIAN

IN THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Week days: 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

"No man should think so highly of himself as to think he can receive but little from books."—Dr. Johnson.

Have you yet read Colonel House's Letters? Remember, only a small part of them are being given in the newspapers.

After school—What? It is never too early to begin planning for one's future.

The new school and college catalogues for the year 1926-27 are arriving daily. Remember, the library has files of catalogues from every secondary school and every college in Maine, from practically every school and college of importance in New England and from all outstanding colleges and universities in the Eastern United States. These may be consulted at the library or borrowed for home use.

In addition to these catalogue files the library has many important books on the vocations and professions. They are written in plain non-technical language for the boys and girls. They help one analyze his own ability and discuss the many vocations and professions he may enter.

The most important book of this type for girls is "Training for the Professions and Allied Occupations," published by the Bureau of Vocational Information in New York City. It lists all vocations and facilities available to women in the United States, as in the field of agriculture, business, etc. Under each is a general sketch of the scope of the work, its general trend, the training required and where it may be obtained, its opportunities and future outlook. The specific information, such as cost of special training courses, entrance requirements and a list of all institutions offering courses in the subject, is of great value.

"Choosing Your Life Work," by Rosenberger gives over half its contents to discussion of the best method of selecting one's vocation, the second part of the book dealing with discussion of the vocations themselves, training requirements, remuneration and prospects for advancement. The vocations discussed here are largely those open to men.

In "What Shall I Be," a book stressing vocations open to young men, the reader finds each occupation written up by one who has gained special knowledge of the particular profession. The less desirable as well as the desirable advantages of each are stressed.

"The Night Job," how to choose, prepare for and succeed in it, was written more for parents, teachers and vocational counselors than for young people. The authors stress character analysis and endeavor not only to show how to select one's life work but make ready for it, and having obtained it, to succeed. Stories of outstanding men who have succeeded in the right job are given as concrete examples.

For those whose work takes them with the youth of today, there are the following important new books: "Salvaging of American Girlhood," a source book for workers with girls. It gives constructive suggestions as well as criticism of weaknesses in present standards.

"Youth in Conflict" by Miriam Van Waters deals with juvenile courts and questions of discipline. "Education Moves Upward," is a decidedly clear and interesting explanation of changes in educational systems, one that every teacher and parent will find highly profitable. "The Boy of Being a Dad," "Womanhood in the Making" and the Angelo Patri books on child training all offer much of interest and value to those who are in contact with boys and girls.

Already the program committees of the town's local study clubs are getting together to plan the work for next winter. The Wavenook Club is to study Alaska, the Melrose Club will take up America-South-of-us and Shakespeare Society will continue their years work to the study of King Richard III, Merchant of Venice, and Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan."

The library is very glad to compile bibliographies of the material available on these subjects and to co-operate with the program committees in every possible way.

A six months subscription to The Churchman has just been given to the library by Mrs. A. D. Bird.

The Librarian has heard twice lately that "It's getting" so that the Public Library's a regular educational factor in this town. A compliment? Well, maybe, but what, pray tell, has been the library's function before now to these same minds?

Two classes of Freshmen a day is the schedule for courses in "Use of the Library" this week. Instruction is also to be given to the 8th graders.

At their annual meeting last Monday the Shakespeare Society generously voted to present the Public Library with $10. Although there were no "strings" to the gift, it will be used for new books.

The Famous Model "C" Glenwood

"It's a Glenwood" that's all the guarantee you need

THE one word "Glenwood" on the oven door of any range you may buy is a guarantee in itself. You don't need any further assurance of its worth. One of the oldest range manufacturers in New England stands back of that name to see that the range gives you the kind of service you have the right to expect. You can take that for granted, always.

The "C" model coal range shown here is just the right size for the average family. Its big, square oven bakes food exactly right—top, bottom and all through. It has six covers in the cooking top and is finished in either black and nickel or in pearl gray porcelain enamel that you can wipe clean in a jiffy with a damp cloth. Come in and see our new Glenwoods.

Mr. Gentner put a Frigidaire on display in Sheldon's drug store which was of much interest, also literature was sent around town so that all might know the work the Frigidaire was able to do. The following week Mrs. Gentner was called to her mother's bedside, the latter being very sick with the grippe. Mr. Gentner brought home from Dayton, O., many interesting gifts, and from other places he visited while enroute.

The Union Aid will meet with Mrs. Frank Pitcher April 22. Help finance the church services for the coming year.

A number have seen large flocks of robins of late.

This community was saddened to hear of the death of Willard E. Overlock of Washington. Mr. Overlock had been in this section several times in connection with his work, and while here made many friends. He was one of those big hearted, kind and sincere men, and association with him was an inspiration to anyone he met. His was a life of service, dedicated to God's work, in which he never was found lacking.

The Farm Bureau held a meeting last Wednesday in True's hall. Dinner was served by members of the Grange.

The friends and old time neighbors of John Robinson learned with deep regret of his death from pneumonia, which occurred Monday at the home of his brother, with whom he lived in Camden. For many years, Mr. Robinson with his wife and family lived here. Mrs. Robinson died several years ago. Six children survive them, one of whom, Wallace K., still lives here.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

MATINICUS ROCK

School closed for Easter vacation. Miss Pauline V. Beal came home for one week vacation recently.

George L. Alvey, the additional keeper, sailed from here Friday, April 2, for Goat Island, L. S.

March didn't give anything extra fine for weather—a combination of rain, hail, snow, wind and all the rough sea one cared to look upon.

Saturday, April 3, was the first real spring day for 1926. More like it, please.

March was a month of social activities with the usual merry-go-round from one house to the other and very good road conditions. What more could we ask? March 29 was the birthday anniversary of F. O. Hill. Chicken supper was served by Mrs. Hill. The table was very attractive. In the center was a large glass dish filled with artificial roses and streamers of red extended to each individual place and at the close of the feast each person drew his or her streamer, finding on the opposite end a cigar and a cheery story. The stories were read and the cigars smoked. The women and children haven't taken up the smoking habit yet, but their cigars being a confection, were enjoyed.

Master Robert Cunningham is attending Primary school at Washington village. The town boarding him at B. K. Ware's preferring to do this rather than transport him so far to a school at Bangorville.

Friday morning witnessed a wonderful landscape here. Thursday night a severe sleet storm coated and bowed down trees and bushes with ice. In some cases trees were broken down across the road. Saturday morning a robin, the first seen here, sat on one of the trees singing a spring-time song. "Queer old spring," say the oldest inhabitants.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lenfest of South Liberty visited his parents here Sunday.

The funeral services of the late W. E. Overlook were held at the C. E. Chapel at Bangorville, April 7, and were largely attended, although the weather was very inclement. Services were conducted by Missionary Charles Gifford of Lewiston, assisted by A. W. Lorimer of Bangor. Many and beautiful were the flowers, tokens of friendship.

CAPT. GEELE DEAD

Native of Waldoboro, Co. Lumbia's Former Skipper, Commits Suicide.

A despatch from Shelburne, N. S., Saturday, said:

Capt. Alden Geele, master of the Gloucester fishing schooner Thomas F. Gordon, was found dead in his cabin with a bullet wound in his head, a revolver on the floor beside him. He formerly was fishing skipper of the Gloucester schooner Columbia which competed in the unfinished sailing match of 1923 with the Canadian schooner Blue Nose. Capt. Geele had been dead for some hours. He left a wife and two children which were not divulged.

Capt. Geele was a recognized leader among the dory handline fishing captains of Gloucester. For many years he was skipper of vessels of the Gorton-Pew fishing interests of Gloucester, owners of the Thomas F. Gordon. Capt. Geele had been captain of vessels of that company for 15 years, then he left to become sailing master of the Columbia, challenger for the international cup. He sailed the Columbia one season then returned to the Gorton-Pew employ. He was born in Waldoboro but maintained his home in Yarmouth, N. S.

Mrs. Elvie Curtis of Gwl's Head was a recent weekend guest of Mrs. J. W. Watts and attended the Easter concert and meeting of the O. E. S.

State Dist. Supervisor of roads J. E. Doherty from Damariscotta was in town Tuesday on business.

Henry Crockett and Harvey Crowley began their season's work at Clark Island Monday.

It is hoped that every woman in town will remember the all-day session of the Farm Bureau to be held in the Grange hall Thursday and be there, so they may begin work promptly at 10 o'clock so none of the Home Demonstration Agent's time may be wasted. The subject is millinery. Hat frames may be purchased of the agent but take along everything you have in the line of trimmings, silk, straw, braids, etc. If you can't use it perhaps some one else may and you can exchange with them. Come any way for it is to be a very enjoyable social time and a picnic dinner will be served.

The ice has practically all left the pond but it is very cold here, the roads are bad and little of the frost is out of the ground as yet. The scream and putt putt of sawing machines is heard in every direction, as the enterprising boys are sawing and also, "Chancey Snowed." Those who are comfortably situated in the city but are longing to get home had better stay there some time yet for about all one can do here is poke up the fires and scold about the weather these raw spring days. One can even clean house without miffing.

Rich

in flavor... that's why
Quaker Oats entices
youngsters

THE way to make children like oatmeal is to give them the kind they like.

Thus millions of mothers insist on the Quaker brand. Children who ordinarily don't like oats, take readily to this rich and tasty kind.

Quaker flavor is due to exclusive milling processes which took some 50 years to perfect. Processes, too, which retain much of the "bulk" of oats, which makes laxatives less often needed.

Thus protein, carbohydrates, vitamins and "bulk" are combined in making Quaker Oats an excellent food balance.

Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. This makes the richest breakfast the quickest.

The price is the same as for ordinary oats. When a substitute is accepted, you alone are the loser.

AN APPRECIATION

In these days when an applied technical training seems necessary for any chosen profession, it is refreshing to note that occasionally there is one who takes time and pleasure in developing his own talents, as did the late Arthur H. Phillips. Small beginnings in photography, where his love of the beautiful found lodgment, grew through his untiring efforts, until in many, many homes can be found the artistic memorials of his labors, priceless to their owners, and an inspiration to others. Sheer delight in artistic progress, coupled with the delight in providing for the welfare of his family and betterment of his fellow-men, are qualities which would profit us all to consider and emulate.

A Friend.

HANDSOME NEW MARKET

The Haskell Grocery Store Now Installed in Modern Home At Ocean and Water Streets.

A handsome addition to Rockland's business establishments is the new Haskell grocery store and market, corner Water and Ocean streets.

The exterior is very attractive, the former Gallie Temple being remodeled into a two-story structure with an all glass front. The large display windows command an excellent view of the harbor and of the three street that very large stocks may be stored. The big 20x12 foot refrigerator is a natural eye-catcher. Its glass sides show the meats and meat products to great advantage in the brightly illuminated cutting room. Here is located a telephone as an added convenience. The large cold room adjoining is dim and maintained at a constant temperature of 35 degrees. The cooling medium is ice, as is that employed in approaches converging in the wide area created by the removal of the Webster building. The recessed door is reached by a flight of wide concrete steps.

The attractive exterior view is a good indication of the fine plant inside. As one enters the handsome door he sees a 70x20 foot room, light and airy with walls lined with new goods from floor to ceiling. The center is taken up by a 10x12 foot office, glass enclosed, where the bookkeeping is done. Here too are three telephones so that there is never a "line busy" at Haskell's.

On either side are the counters and display cases. The modern copper rimmed cases show to advantage the products to be disposed of. At the rear are other counters so arranged the large butter, egg and cheese refrigerator adjoining.

At the rear is a covered loading and discharging space where trucks may handle their loads free from disturbance by rain or snow. The large cellar is admirably for storage. Overhead are two tenements, not as yet completed. The former Haskell market is to be converted into tenements.

The contractor on the big job was Clarence E. Goulding and he has done an excellent piece of work in producing one of Knox County's most up-to-the-minute markets.

The painting contract was let to Earl D. Barron and the French gray and white perfection of the interior shows his skill. Albert T. Thurston had charge of the electrical installation for lighting and several power machines.

northeasterly direction over town about 6 p. m. Tuesday, after having found at least a part of their supper in W. E. Snow grain patch near Russell's Corner. The noise of their wings as they arose seemed almost incredible.

The annual meeting of the Progressive Literary Club was observed on Tuesday, with a very enjoyable program. At noon the members dined at the Thorndike Hotel. At 2:30 p. m. the hour when the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Hattie Keating, found the members assembled at the home of Mrs. Jennie W. Bird, who with Miss Lois Keene, entertained for the season's final meeting. Interesting topics of discussion were introduced under the title of Current Events, then the final act of Shakespeare's comedy "As You Like It" was read. Miss Lois Keene read a comprehensible article on the character of "Rosalind" as portrayed by noted actresses, such as the beautiful Mrs. Johnson, who in 1788 appeared at the opening of the Park Theatre in New York. Mary Anderson, six weeks before she appeared in that character in America, gave the play at Stratford on Avon, Aug. 29, 1885. In comparing two histrionic stars of former days, Miss Keene said, "Rosalind's glorious regality of form and bearing has made audiences how before her proudly uplifted head, her dazzling figure and winning voice. The club completed the reading of King Henry VI, continued from last winter, then took up a Shakespearean play of lighter vein, found in "As You Like It." For next season the historical drama of King Richard III. will be read. An interesting feature of the club programs has been the commemoration of noted men and events, which included the 88th birthday of Theodore Roosevelt; special observance of Thanksgiving Day; "Old Ironsides" was the topic for discussion; Benjamin Franklin's birthday; the luncheon given by the president Mrs. Hattie Keating was a noteworthy affair; Robert Burns' anniversary was duly celebrated, as was also St. Patrick's Day. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Hattie Keating; vice-president, Mrs. Lucie H. Walsh; secretary, Mrs. Annie Sibley; treasurer, Miss Kitty Coburn; entertainment committee, Mrs. Jennie W. Bird, Miss Lois Keene, Mrs. Katharine Mather.

Ten members of the Chapin Class who are employed by the W. O. Hewett Co. made a big success with their novelty dance at Temple Hall, Tuesday night. These ladies when they got started are too speedy for any jinx to follow, even on the 13th. The successful event was held in Temple Hall, which was very attractively decorated for the occasion with John Newman in charge. Music was furnished by Dean's Novelty Orchestra which made a big hit with the jolly dancers. A large variety of favors were distributed among the guests and they sure knew how to make use of them. Mrs. John Newman, chairman of the entertainment, did herself proud by the efficient way in which she handled the affair. Mrs. George Silensparker, chairman of the refreshments, gave excellent satisfaction. These efficient heads had some very able assistants in Miss Polly Crockett, Mrs. Caro Colson, Mrs. Edw. Colson, Miss Edith Pratt, Mrs. Maybelle Strong, Mrs. Mary Skay, Miss Shirley Glidden and Miss Ada Perry. The exact financial return is not yet known, but it will surely be satisfactory.

Miss Taylor, principal, and consisted of numbers by each grade from the first to the eighth inclusive. The first and second grades put on a little play and dance. The kiddies were in costume and acted their parts wonderfully, showing much training on the part of the teacher, Mrs. Gould. Found Compensation for Her Affliction

A clergyman called on an old lady who had been bedridden for some years.

"Well, Mrs. Davies," he said, "and how are you today?" "Oh, I'm pretty well, thank you," was the cheerful answer.

"Ah, that's right," said the clergyman, sympathetically, "I hardly expected to find you in such good spirits, considering your affliction. I was afraid I should find you downhearted."

"No, no, sir," she cried interrupting him. "No, no, indeed, sir. I've much to be thankful for. Why, only the other night, when that house just opposite was on fire, I couldn't help thinking of all the poor people crushing each other in the street, and many of them not getting a sight of the fire at all, while here was I, all nice and comfortable in bed, and I could see it beautifully through my window without even turning over! Oh, no, I've a lot to be thankful for."—London Tit-Bits.

Evolution of Trousers

The Haberdasher says: "Trousers are comparatively young things, having come in about the same time the last century did. George III was the last English monarch who wore knee breeches as a regular thing. The change from breeches to trousers was not a studied one, however, for there was a period of transition. During that time men took to tight and gaiters, and these were the forerunners of trousers proper, that is, the straight up-and-down, loose-cut models we know today. We cannot say who first introduced them to America, but then, as now, our countrymen over here followed the fashions of England very closely, and it is quite likely that they made their appearance simultaneously in England and in the States."

COULD NOT PUT ON HER SHOES

Mrs. Daugherty Was so Weak

In a little town of the Middle West, was a discouraged woman. For four months she had been in such poor health that she could not stoop to put on her own shoes. Unable to do her work, unable to go out of doors or enjoy a friendly chat with her neighbors, life seemed dark indeed to Mrs. Daugherty.

Then one day, a booklet was left at her front door. It was reading the pages. Soon she was reading with quickened interest. The little booklet was filled with letters from women in conditions similar to hers who had found better health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. "I began taking the Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Daugherty writes, "and after I took the third bottle, I found relief. I am on my feet again, and I don't have that trouble any more, and feel like a different woman. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to everyone I see who has trouble like mine. I am willing to answer any letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. E. DAUGHERTY, 1308 Orchard Ave., Muscatine, Iowa.

KITCHEN CUPBOARD

By NELLIE MAXWELL

Everyday Good Things

WE ALL enjoy an occasional unusual dish, but the most of humanity like common things well; if we can be ingenious enough to serve and garnish them that they appear unusual, the more honor to the cook.

Boiled Dinner.—A well-seasoned kettle of boiled dinner is a dish fit to set before the king or queen either. As tastes vary so in regard to flavors, one must use judgment in cooking a boiled dinner. One New England housewife famous for her cooking never prepared a boiled dinner without slipping in a salt sack of beans—the cranberry variety—to serve with the dinner. They are so well seasoned with the vegetables and meat that they are especially tasty.

The kind of meat one likes with a boiled dinner will determine the flavor of the whole. Many people like a nice fat piece of corn beef together with a good-sized piece of fresh pork, fat and lean, others prefer salt pork or pigs' feet with salt pork. At any rate enough meat of whatever kind should be started to cook an hour or two before the vegetables are added; this gives a quantity of broth all flavored ready to begin seasoning the vegetables as soon as they are put in. Onions, rutabaga, carrots, parsnips, and beets cooked by themselves are added to the platter when serving.

Suet Pudding.—Take one cupful of suet, molasses and sour milk, three and one-half cupfuls of flour, two eggs and one cupful of dried fruit. Add a teaspoonful of soda and spices to taste. Steam two hours and serve with:

Egg Sauce.—Beat two eggs until light, add one cupful of powdered sugar, a teaspoonful of vanilla or lemon extract and three tablespoonfuls of fruit juice to suit the taste. Beat up and serve with any steamed pudding.

BAPTIST MEETINGS

Rededication Services Have Made the Church Week a Great Success.

Tuesday, the second day of the rededication services at the First Baptist Church, was marked by a large attendance and deep interest. Two hundred and fifty were seated at the banquet tables in an hour of pleasant fellowship. W. O. Fuller, the toastmaster, spoke on "The Church of the Future." Mr. E. L. Brown, Nelson B. Cobb, Mrs. Evelyn I. Hix and Dr. E. C. Whittemore.

A bright song service led by Osmond A. Palmer ushered in the auditorium service at 7:45. Dr. Charles E. Farnham leading the service of devotion. Inspiring addresses were given by W. A. Holman and Dr. Whittemore. Mr. Holman said in part:

It is impossible to properly appraise the modern Christian church and certainly not possible to understand her place in the scheme of things.

William A. Holman of Portland, one of the Tuesday night speakers at First Baptist Church.

much less to peer with prophetic vision into the distant future, without sketching the background into which the church of Jesus Christ was thrust, in a world of sin without hope, in the darkness of which she was to become a light to lighten the world.

The background of the Christian church is Israel. The Israelites were God's chosen people, because they alone, of all the nations, recognized and acknowledged Him as the one true God. Their obedience to Him, made them in an idolatrous age a "peculiar and chosen people."

"Obey my voice and I will be your God and ye shall be my people." Israel was conceived in Eden, although not brought to the conscious view of humanity until many centuries later. It is singular that as Christians, from the earliest days we have so cruelly ignored this background.

It is well to recall the fact that Israel was to occupy a unique place among the nations. Scattered and peeled and practically extinct as a nation today, yet the scriptures state positively, that she is to return to her place in the family of nations and carry out the mission originally assigned to her. The Hebrew people are not buried in oblivion, but are even now about to enact the greatest chapter in their history. Today we should look for that "Spirit of truth" which alone is able to "restore all things."

Down through the ages the history of Israel has swept, from the time, when out under the stars in Ur of the Chaldees, Abram talked with God and heard his Lord's voice, saying "Get thee out of thy country and I will make of thee a great nation and in thee shall all the families of the earth be blessed."

Through Isaac and Jacob and Moses; through prophets, priests and kings, this chosen people clung with tenacity to their belief and knowledge experienced time and again, that theirs was the one, true and everlasting God. This nation laid the setting for Christ's coming, in the fullness of time—and out of Jacob's experience was born the idea of the first church.

Jacob said "surely the Lord is in this place," and this memorial raised at Luz expanded into the tabernacle and into Solomon's great temple.

It is the idea behind every Christian church and every Jewish synagogue. Christ testified of Israel.

"Abraham rejoiced to see my day and he saw it and was glad."

"Jesus said unto them, 'Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was I am.' Again—

"Search the scriptures," said Jesus, "because they are they which testify of me;" of "Immanuel," the "Son of the Highest," the hope and promise and glory of Israel.

The light which was to lighten the Gentiles; the Saviour of the world. "The testimony of Jesus" is "the spirit of prophecy," and Jesus' testimony was that He was the Son of God.

The very soul of the Christian Church is Jesus Christ.

He is its radiant center—Life and power and peace flowed from his presence. He spoke with authority. How simply He lived. He wrote no books. He had the sacred books of the Jews—the Old Testament.

He quoted freely from the Law, Prophets and Psalms, but more often he drew from everyday life the parables and discourses that have transfused human thought.

He chose twelve simple men for disciples—left no complicated doctrines—save to do right in the sight of God. He left only two ordinances—the baptism which John practiced and which he followed, and the supper in his memory—and yet for centuries Jews and Gentiles have struggled, killed and hated each other, while Christians believed did the same, because of differences in doctrine and church practices—most of which have been needless.

and which Christ would have spurned as non-essential.

In our own denomination today Fundamentalists and Modernists are striving to rule or ruin the splendid history of the Baptist Church. So in every denomination, and all find in the Great Roman Catholic Church an hereditary foe, instead of walking in brotherly love and sharing the common heritage of Christian faith and experience.

China is showing a spirit that may well put other nations to shame. She demands not a Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist or Catholic Church; not a monarch but a united Christian Church where she may follow the Master whom she is learning to love and serve. China says: "Not creeds, but Christ."

No, not the church of the past or present, but the glorious, worshipful church of the future, the expectant hope of millions of mankind of every kindred, creed, tribe and nation. A church of broad tolerance, full of positive affirmations, of kindly charity one for another, agreed on the essentials, loving, trusting, facing the future with calmness—saying with Whittier:

And so beside the silent sea I wait the muted roar; No harm from Him can come to me On ocean or on shore. A church broad enough to contain a Moslem and a Poodick; a Cardinal Mercier and a Philip Brooks; men of different minds agreed to serve God in spirit and in truth. A church of common sense to which men will be willing to dedicate their lives and fortunes. A church which will not repel but intrigue the choicest of the younger generations and which will sweep the skepticism of today into the discard.

It may be nearer than we think. The series of rededication services will be concluded Sunday evening with an organ recital by James J. "Ham," followed by the cantata "Bethany," presented by the church choir and special soloists.

Wednesday evening the warmth of welcome radiated the church parlors during the informal reception. Music was furnished by Dr. J. E. Luce, soloist, Albert E. Marsh, violin; Herbert Kirkpatrick, trumpet, and Miss Marion Marsh, piano. The song service was led by Carl Cassens followed by prayer by Rev. E. V.

Allen. Fraternal greetings were brought from the city churches by Rev. W. S. Rounds, and general remarks were made by Raphael S. Sherman of the board of trustees. An address of unique power was given by Dr. Charles E. Farnham of Boston, a son of this church, on "The Ideal Church."

The public thoroughly availed itself of the invitation issued by the parish to inspect the remodeled church plant. There was a large attendance during the reception hour, 7 to 8 o'clock, and Miss Alice Erskine had general charge of the inspection. The reception itself was pleasantly informal with all the parish on the receiving committee.

Refreshments were served in the new vestry under the direction of Mrs. E. V. Hager and Mrs. Kathleen Watson, assisted by Misses Eda Knowlton, Edie Perkins, Crystal Cameron, Beth Hagar, Kathie Keating and Leola Robinson.

The evening services were very pleasing, the participation of Rev. W. S. Rounds, Rev. E. V. Allen and Rev. C. A. Knickerbocker expressing the greetings of the city's churches. Rev. Charles E. Farnham proved a real platform orator and was given a cordial reception. It is interesting to note that Mr. Farnham began his church career under the late Rev. J. H. Parsley and gained the inspiration which led him to his brilliant ministerial career in the Sunday school class of Mrs. Sadie Hall Herick. He is a brother of Mrs. W. C. Lufkin and Mrs. M. R. Snow.

JOHN SIMPSON

Death of Veteran Harness Maker and Odd Fellow—Served in Civil War.

John Simpson, senior member of the harness manufacturing concern of Simpson & Staples, and one of the oldest business men on the street, died suddenly at his home Tuesday morning. The deceased had been failing rapidly during the winter, but was downtown daily, and in fact had just returned from a business errand when he was stricken. Death ensued before a doctor could arrive. Mr. Simpson was born Sept. 17, 1847, in Bradford, Me., and until he was 16 worked on a farm and in a sawmill. When he had attained this age the Civil War was in progress and he enlisted in the 4th Maine Infantry stationed at that time in Sulphur Springs, Va. The regiment was in much of the fighting, and Mr. Simpson got his baptism of fire at Kelly's Ford, Mine Run, The Wilderness, Todd's Tavern, Spotsylvania, North Anna, Cold Harbor, and the siege of Petersburg. The 4th Maine's term of service expired after the battle of Cold Harbor, and Mr. Simpson was transferred to Co. K, 19th Maine Infantry. This was June 15, 1863. He went unscathed through all of the famous battles above listed, but Oct. 23, 1864, a sharpshooter plied him in the left arm, while he was on picket duty in front of Fort Hell. He was taken to a field hospital, and from there was transferred to a general hospital in Alexandria, Va. At City Point he had the pleasure of seeing President Lincoln, who was making an inspection with some other notables.

The Late John Simpson

Mr. Simpson was furloughed home and went to Hampden to which place his father had removed during the war. In Hampden he learned the harness maker's trade. With him worked a fellow apprentice, the late Horace C. Chapman, who was afterward in the harness making business in Rockland and who was one of the proprietors of the Bangor House at the time of his death.

Mr. Simpson worked four and one-half years as a harness worker in Hampden. Then he sailed before the mast four years.

His father had meantime moved to Grinnell, Iowa, and thither Mr. Simpson went, taking his wife. He worked at harness making and farming.

From Grinnell, Mr. Simpson went to Tecumseh, Neb., where he rented a farm of 160 acres, and raised corn, wheat and oats. He liked farming, but farm prices did not offer suitable remuneration, and he altered his course to Western Kansas, where he preempted 160 acres of government land. Like many other homesteaders he built a log house and occupied it for one winter. When the warm spring winds came he put in ample crops, and beheld with keen satisfaction how they thrived in the summer sun.

The pioneers of the West had many things to contend with, but Mr. Simpson, and hundreds of other Western farmers were not prepared for what he called a clear sky.

It was the famous grasshopper invasion, which is still a topic of discussion among the older Kansas farmers. They ate everything, even to the onions, and destroyed practically all of the crops in the western part of the State.

Mrs. Simpson came back to Maine, but the spirit of adventure was still with her husband, and he journeyed still westward, locating in the mining town of Virginia City, Nev. He worked at his trade there, but conditions did not look too prosperous, and after he had been there six months, he concluded to get back while the getting was good.

Back home he made a few trips to sea in the schooner William Burman. Then came a request from Capt. Horace A. Chapman to come to Rockland and work in the harness shop. This was in 1880. In 1881 the harness shop was moved to the quarters on Main street where Mr. Simpson and Roscoe Staples have been in the same business since their partnership was established in 1887.

Mr. Simpson was one of the most enthusiastic Odd Fellows in the city. He joined Knox Lodge in 1882 and served 35 years as its treasurer, retiring Dec. 31, 1921. He had been through the chairs in the Lodge, Encampment and Canton. He was also a member of Edwin Libby Post, G. A. R.

Mr. Simpson confessed to two hobbies. One was hunting, and the other was baseball. He had hunted buffalo and black-tailed deer in Kansas and Nebraska, and for 26 years was member of a group of local sportsmen who went annually into the Northern Maine woods in quest of deer and moose. He seldom missed a baseball game and it was one of his greatest comforts to sit in the bleachers at Community Park while the sport was in progress.

A kindly man, and four-square—a man who in spite of his quiet tastes and modest demeanor, will be sadly missed from his daily haunts. He is survived by his adopted daughter, Myrtle, a brother in Kansas, and a grandson, John Simpson of Fitchburg, Mass., who is here for the funeral.

The funeral services will be held at the residence Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Odd Fellows will have charge of the services.

CONVICTS WILL BUILD IT
Work On Two Miles of Highway Between West Rockport and Union To Begin June First.

Prison labor will be employed by the State Highway Commission in the construction of two miles of gravel State highway between West Rockport and Union this summer, according to an order passed by the Governor and Council at its meeting Thursday.

The minimum force will be 25, but the probable force will be 40 men. Paul D. Sargent, chief engineer of the State highway commission, announced. The work will be under the direction of supervisors from the highway department and the tools will be furnished by the department. The prisoners will make their camp beside the highway and will be attended by guards from the prison, an order having been passed by the Governor and Council authorizing the employment of two additional guards for this job.

The project will be commenced the first of June and will take at least two months to complete. The West Rockport-Union highway job was selected for the experiment on account of its easy access to the prison.

Although this is not the first highway project in Maine on which prison labor has been employed, its progress will be watched with considerable interest. The initial experiment in the use of prisoners on Maine road building was on the Raymond-Windham highway in 1916, and a year or two later prison labor was employed on the Camden-Lincolville highway.

Chief Engineer Sargent in a letter sent Tuesday to the chairman of the State Prison Commission, says the Commission will pay $1.75 per day of nine hours for the labor of each inmate in the State Prison in the construction of the two miles of State highway between West Rockport and Union.

"The price of $1.75 per day is subject to revision," continues Mr. Sargent in his letter.

"The Chamber of Commerce of Union, of which Dr. Plummer is the president, has taken considerable interest in this matter and has advised the highway commission that there are several sets of buildings, any one of which they will be willing to furnish free of charge for barracks or headquarters for the men.

"It is suggested that as soon as traveling is suitable, representatives of the State Highway Commission and the members of the Prison Commission make an inspection of these several buildings with a view of selecting suitable headquarters. The work will be started by the first of June, and if the experiment works out successfully, it is possible that more than two miles of road may be constructed."

MORE MCINTOSHES
Orchard Specialist Gardner Favors That Brand of Apple.

Special orchard meetings have been held in Jefferson, Hope and Union. A. K. Gardner, orchard specialist of the Extension Service and County Agent Wentworth gave talks on orchard management. In Mr. Gardner's talk he brought out the fact that the McIntosh apple is one of the best to raise for Maine conditions. The tree is very hardy and will withstand severe winters. The market also demands better quality apples than in the past and the McIntosh is meeting that demand. It is an apple which will keep by wrapping and good storage throughout the winter. It can be put on the market in December and as happened this year is still to be found in the wholesale and retail trade.

The question of overdoing the McIntosh is doubtful. This last winter in Knox and Lincoln counties there were hardly enough good quality apples to meet the demands. The question of scab was brought up but this past season other varieties show indications of the fungus so that these trees will have to be sprayed as thoroughly as the McIntosh in order to produce good fruit.

The question of spraying was discussed by County Agent Wentworth who spoke on the results obtained in the county last year on the two demonstration orchards. The value of the pre-pink spray was emphasized as being one of the most important in scab control.

In connection with the orchard spray service work which is being conducted by the Extension Service and Farm Bureau in the three towns, information is to be furnished the various men on when to spray and material to use. A tour is planned later in the year to visit the different orchards and get the results obtained from the spraying practiced by the men.
