THAT BIG DAM.

Outlook for Its Being Built Seems to be Bright.

It is still in the air that the big sixty-foot dam on Union river is sure to be built, although nothing can be said now of a definite character.

But certain it is that titles to lands that will be overflowed will be looked up, negotiations are under way for their purchase, and the company's chief engineer, J. A. Leonard, is here and at work.

It is said that the contracting firm of Holbrook, Cabot and Rollins, of Boston, is in negotiation with the Bar Harbor and Union River Power Co. for the construction of the dam, and that only a few details, now in process of adjustment, are to be settled before the actual work of construction begins.

Last week Mr. Patten, the treasurer of the contracting corporation, was in the city accompanied by Mr. Barrell, of the same corporation, and personally inspected the site of the proposed structure and also other physical features of the undertaking.

It is reported that in the event of the dam's being built, more than half of the available water power—some 3,000 horsepower—is already contracted for.

The construction of this dam, together with storage reservoirs along the river, involves the expenditure of from $1,000,000 to $1,250,000.

Burned to Death.

Miss Sarah Danico, fifty-eight years of age, was fatally burned in her room at the city farm in Ellsworth last Wednesday evening.

She went to her room early in the evening with a kerosene lamp, intending to do some sewing. About 8 o'clock one of the occupants of the house smelled smoke and discovered flames issuing from Miss Danico's room, but no outcry was heard.

An alarm was immediately given, the door was burst in, and the room found to be filled with smoke and flame, though the fire had not gained much headway.

Miss Danico's body was found on the floor near the table beside which she had been sitting. Evidently the lamp had been accidentally dropped to the floor, and she had apparently used a rug to extinguish the flames, but in the effort her clothing had caught fire.

The body was frightfully burned, but death was evidently due to suffocation. The flames were quickly extinguished with but little damage except to the room and its contents. Coroner Fields was summoned, but deemed an inquest unnecessary.

Her brother was to have come to remove her to Ellsworth Falls.

The funeral was held on Friday afternoon. Rev. J. P. Simonton officiating.

Celebrity Social.

A "celebrity social" was held at the Baptist vestry last evening. It was an enjoyable affair, and was well attended.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning May 14. By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Spirit filled Christians.—Acts II, 1-4, 6-7. The Acts of the Apostles is the first history of the Christian church, and with special emphasis it sets forth the fact that the power of the Holy Ghost is absolutely necessary for successful Christian work.

The conditions under which the Spirit was given were faith, patience and prayer. God promised the Spirit, and the disciples believed His promise.

Dear M. B. Friends: This bit of poetry was sent early in the year, but as we use calendars through the entire twelve-month it will not come amiss now.

PASADENA, April 24, 1905. I feel moved to say a word or two to you and our good sisters referring to my John's garden.

Dear Aunt Madge: I feel moved to say a word or two to you and our good sisters referring to my John's garden.

Dear M. B. Friends: Perhaps an afternoon at Kittery navy-yard may not prove altogether uninteresting.

A Decision Day Prayer. The following prayer, written by Dr. Clark and intended for use in connection with Christian Endeavor day, is very appropriate for any decision day period.

God expects us to prove that Christian Endeavor has a growing power.

Mutual Benefit Column.

EDITED BY "AUNT MADGE". Its Motto: "Helpful and Hopeful."

The purposes of this column are succinctly stated in the title and motto—it is for the mutual benefit, and aims to be helpful and hopeful.

- THE CALENDAR. A little bit of sunshine, A little bit of snow, A little heap of autumn leaves, These roses used to grow;

Selected by Aunt Emma.

MOTHERHOOD

Actual Sterility in Women is Very Rare—Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes.

Many women long for a child to bless their homes, but because of some debility or displacement of the female organs they are barren.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound more successfully than by any other medicine.

A woman who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution.

The following letters to Mrs. Pinkham demonstrate the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Mrs. L. C. Glover, Vice-President of Milwaukee Business Woman's Association, of 614 Grove Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I was married for several years and no children blessed our home. The doctor said I had a complication of female troubles and I could not have any children unless I could be cured.

Many Women Have Been Benefited by Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Medicine.

from Cervera's fleet at the wonderful battle of Santiago de Cuba.

The gunboat Isla de Cuba, sunk by Dewey in Manila bay, can be seen, also the queen's ship, Don Juan de Austria, and Mercedes; these are intended to be put into condition for service in our own navy.

The new training ship Boxer, launched from that yard on Oct. 10, was visited and admired by our party. Although not large, she is a very unique affair in every particular.

Thank you many times for your interesting sketches. S. J. Y. in response to the request of last week sends the following suggestion.

Dear Aunt Madge: As you requested me to send a subject for May, and as the most of our topics have been on prominent men, I thought it only fair to mix in some of the women, too.

I have been drafting from our large list of helpers, when the special topic of the month had been selected.

Keep These in Mind. The power of kindness. It wins when all coercive measures fail.

The dignity of simplicity. When the "frills" are off the man is "on."

The wisdom of economy. The man who saves makes more than he saves.

The pleasure of working. The only really unhappy, rich or poor, are the idle.

The influence of example. Practice does more than precept in showing the way.

The worth of character. In the last analysis the only real value is a clear conscience.

The success of perseverance. "Keeping everlastingly at it" brings the hoped-for result.

The value of time. Lost capital may be restored by diligent use of experience. Time lost is lost forever.

The obligation of duty. Your concern should not so much be what you get as what you do for what you get.

About ten minutes after you get the snow shoveled off your sidewalk it begins to thaw.

"Considering the tendency of trousers to bag at the knees, regardless of the care bestowed upon them," remarked the thoughtful thinker.

SPRING AND HEALTH.

BY MARY ANNABLE FANTON.

It is not more than a single generation, since spring was accepted as the doleful season of the year. Poets did praise it reluctantly, and flowers would bloom; but on the whole it was regarded as a time of general misery.

The best spring tonic that I know of is a morning plunge into cold water; a tub full of water, cool and invigorating, yet invariably soft.

You can't have the "blues" and spring fevers and moodiness if you are feeling vigorous and energetic, and you can't feel listless if the organs of the body are in good working order.

But make sure that the water is soft. A daily plunge in hard water would so roughen and harden the skin, as to bring about a condition of actual misery.

To a tub full of water add a teaspoonful of borax, well dissolved in warm water. Then the bath will not only be invigorating, but a positive benefit to the skin.

During arduous house-cleaning days, a teaspoonful of this solution should be put in all water used for any sort of cleaning. It helps the cleaning and saves the hands.

One can't suggest too many restful ideas to busy woman, and this water cure, warm at night and cold in the morning, is one of the most pleasant and healthful suggestions that modern science has yet offered to an ailing spring-time world.

Swimming Elephants.

The elephants of Burma, in India, are used for a variety of purposes. Throughout the day they work steadily as laborers in carrying the great timbers from place to place.

An Autograph Hint.

"Will you oblige me with your autograph?" asked a bore of a busy public man. "Certainly," replied the public man.

Very Likely.

On the Journey

"I am very sorry it cannot be arranged," said the young man, with a deprecatory wave of his hand, "but—" "All the latest popular novels! Last chance to get your reading matter! No books sold on train after it starts!" The newsboy bawled this in Amy Curtis' ear, and she lost all the young man said except the words "can't climb those beastly steps."

switch aside the curtains below her. Two masculine voices were wafted toward her, then the sound of a deep grunt that was decidedly masculine—and silence. Up in her eirie Amy lay, still flushing hotly with mortification. She knew that porter would tell everybody on the train next morning. She wished she could change cars. Then suddenly from the berth below the hated sound came again. Evidently there was no respite from this infliction, and, oddly enough, she felt herself pitying the man who was responsible for it. It was really a disease, she decided, and he was so young too!

Two Roses. I think the white rose is so white because Love breathed into it every holy thought, And girded it in the chasteness of the stars, To make a fitting chalice for his heart; Until, apart from every painted thing, Unkissed to color by voluptuous suns, It joins the quiet cloister of the spring Among a white-robed sisterhood of nuns.
