SHAKERS'
SARSAPARILLA
A Wonderful Medicine for Impu-rities of the Blood.

Shakers' SARSAPARILLA cleanses the blood of scrofula and all other impurities, excites the appetite,
regulates the stomach and bowels, and increases the blood. It promotes the elimination and generation of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. It is a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions. It purifies the female system of all morbid humors and debilitating humors,
and expels the first symptoms of hereditary humors in children and youth. It is truly wonderful in its action, and has been recommended by nurses and general doctors, emulating and drooping, invigorating and strengthening both the mental and physical forces.

Dear Sir:—In answer to your inquiry concerning the composition of Shakers' SARSAPARILLA, as prepared by the Society of Shakers in Canterbury, N. H., I would say that I have been familiar with the preparation of SARSAPARILLA since its introduction
from my personal knowledge of those concerned in its preparation, which to me is proof that it is just what it purports to be.

DIXIE CROSBY, M. D.
Lawrence, Jan. 10, 1880.
N. A. BRIGGS, Esq., Dear Sir:—I have said "Corbett's Shakers' SARSAPARILLA" for the past twenty-five years, and consider it to be the best of all remedies
preparation of SARSAPARILLA in the market.
My opinion is based partly upon the reputation of the manufacturers, and partly upon testimony of those of my customers who have used it.
Yours very truly, CHAS. CLARKE, Druggist.

This truly great medical compound, invented by Dr. Thomas Corbett, a member of our Society, was first used as well as in the best of all remedies
preparation of SARSAPARILLA, none of which bear any comparison to it in the variety, quality and quantity of its ingredients. Druggists warrant as genuine every bottle bearing the signature of THOMAS CORBETT.

Inquire for Corbett's Shakers' SARSAPARILLA.
In behalf of the Society,
NICHOLAS A. BRIGGS, (Trustee).

MRS. LYDIA E. PINKHAM,
OF LYNN, MASS.

Discoverer of
LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND,
the positive cure
For all Female Complaints.

So common to our best female population, are generally manifested by the uneasy, restless sensation of the patient. The stomach and nervous system are consequently disordered in most diseases of the uterus. There is also a dull, heavy pain constantly felt in the lower portion of the back, or a severe, burning, and sharp pain that is almost unbearable; a soreness through the loins, pubis or lower portion of the abdomen, and through the upper portion of the thigh; a sense of fullness in the stomach; a frequent occurrence of pain and irritation in the head; a sense of constant weakness, and constant running from one or both eyes sometimes follow as a sympathetic symptom of diseased uterus. And the weakness of the muscles leads to a constant bearing down pain, a pulling from the bowels that render it very painful to walk or stand for any length of time.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S
VEGETABLE COMPOUND
restores the blood to its natural condition, directs the vital power, purifies, strengthens the muscles of the uterus, and infuses it into place and gives it tone and strength, so that the cure is radical and entire. It cures the liver and pelvic organs. It gives tone to the whole nervous system; it restores dis-ordered organs to their natural position. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by it. The patient, who could before walk but a few steps and with great pain, can, after the use of this remedy, walk several miles without discomfort. It removes every portion of the system and gives new life and vigor. It restores Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Faintness, destroys all cravings for stimulants, and restores the system to its natural position. It will entirely remove the worst forms of Falling of the Uterus, Leucorrhoea, Painful Menstruation, Infantation or Uteration, Irregularities, Fooding, &c.
For the cure of Kidney Complaints of either sex
this compound is unsurpassed.

No family should be without Lydia E. Pinkham's LIVER PILLS. They cure Constipation, Biliousness, and Torpidity of the Liver. 50c per box.

THE SIFTING OF PETER.

A FOLK SONG.
BY H. W. LONGFELLOW.

"Behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat."—[St. Luke 22:31].
In St. Luke's Gospel we are told
How Peter in the days of old
Was sifted.

And now, though ages intervene,
Satan is the same, while time and scene
Are shifted.

Satan desires us, great and small,
As wheat, to sift us, and we all
Are tempted;
Not one, however rich or great,
Is by his station or estate
Exempted.

No house so safely guarded is,
But he, by some device of his,
Can enter;
No heart hath armor so complete
But he can pierce with arrows fleet
Its centre.

For all at last the cock will crow
Who hear the warning voice, but go Unheeding.
Till thrice and more they have denied
The Man of Sorrows, crucified
And bleeding.

One look of that pale, suffering face
Will make us feel the deep disgrace
Of weakness;
We shall be sifted till the strength
Of self-conceit be changed at length
To meekness.

Wounds of the soul, though healed, will ache;
The reddening scars remain, and make Confession;
Lost innocence returns no more;
We are not what we were before Transgression.

But noble souls, through dust and heat,
Rise from disaster and defeat
The stronger,
And conscious still of the divine
Within them, live on earth supine
No longer.

[Harper's Magazine for March.

A QUIET HOUSE.

"Dear me," sighed Mr. Turmoyle, as a burst of shrill, childish laughter sounded from the nursery down the hall stairs and into the sitting-room where he was counting out some accounts. "I wish those children would be quiet. Ain't it most bed-time, Tillie?"

"They are probably undressing," Mrs.
Turmoyle replied, quietly. "I'll go and see if they are ready for bed."

"Do keep them quiet until they are,"
There was an interval of profound silence, and in about half an hour the mother returned.

"They are asleep now, she said."
"Tom had dressed the kitten in Bessie's doll's clothes."

The accounts finished, Mr. Turmoyle leaned back in his chair.

"I wish you had some management
with those children, Tillie," he said. "I went over to Stone's on business last evening, and you would not have known there was a child in the house. And Stone has five, while we have only three."

"Perhaps they were all abed,"
"They were all in the next room,"
was the triumphant reply of her husband.

"Stone is proud of them, and well he may be. There is Willie, just the age of our Tom, studying Latin instead of dressing kittens in doll's clothes, and Amy, who will not be four years old for three months, reads well and knows the multiplication table through. Look at our savages!"

"They are getting along well at school,
dear. I think Mark is too young yet to study. The others did not go to school until they were five."

"And Tom just manages to write a decent letter at twelve, while Willie is at Latin grammar. And as for manners, why, Tom will make more noise alone than Stone's five children put together."

Mrs. Turmoyle, being a woman of sense, did not continue the argument, but mentally resolved to see Mrs. Stone the next day, and talk with her about the wonderful secret of having five children
and a quiet home.

"I am sure I can't do it!" the gentle,
loving mother thought, with a sigh.

Seated, the next morning, in close conversation, the ladies presented a contrast as marked as the atmosphere of their own houses. The tiny, blue-eyed woman, who had no heart to suppress Tom's merry whistle or Bessie's silvery laugh,
had left a home where constant care
only secured cleanliness, and where childish disorder was manifest everywhere but in the best parlor. She looked at the tall, dark-haired woman opposite her,
noted the exquisite morning-dress, faced with light silk, spotless and unrumpled, and thought, regretfully of the mark of ten chubby fingers upon her own, printed there when her boy baby, her darling Mark, had succeeded in forcing a piece of his sweetest candy into mamma's mouth.
She noted the dainty order of the sitting-room, where every chair stood primly in its place, and not even a thread rested upon the carpet, and remembered Mark's stable for his "spresso cart," and horses under the lounge, and Bessie keeping house on the lower shelf of the bookcase.

Visions haunted her also of snippings
of paper, bits of string, and odds and ends
of doll's finery, upon the table.

Drifting from one scrap of maternity talk to another, the ladies came naturally to the care and management of children, and Mrs. Turmoyle complimented her neighbor upon the appearance of her house

and the proficiency of her little ones.

"I cannot understand how you accomplish it," she said frankly.

"By system," was the reply. "The education of my children begins, I may say, in their cradles. As soon as they can walk, they have their own proper place in the room, and are trained to perfect silence when older persons are present."

Mrs. Turmoyle thought of the noisy chorus of shouts, the eager recital of the day's pleasures or accidents, that greeted papa, aunts or uncles in her own nur-ery, and wondered if Tom, Bessie and Mark would be trained to sit in one place
for hours at a time.

"At two years of age I teach my children their letters, and after that they are sent to school. All of them were entered at three years of age in a private school, and at five in a public one. In the interval of school hours my boys have geographical puzzles, spelling games and problems, and my girls are taught sewing."

"But when do they play?"

"Their games and puzzles are sufficient for the boys, and I allow the girls to cut
and fit clothing for a large wax doll."

"But do they not have any hours for running, balls, kites, and other out-door
play?"

"I disapprove entirely of out-door play.
It ruins clothes and makes children rude.
They have out-door exercise in their long walks to and from school."

As she spoke, the hall door opened quietly and a fall of foot-steps crossed the hall to the sitting-room. Five children, three girls and two boys, came in with languid footsteps and pale faces, from which all childishness seemed stricken.
Spotlessly clean, with shiny hair and polished boots, they followed in orderly fashion the lead of the oldest, who stood before his mother, waiting for permission to speak.

"Well, my son?" she said quietly.

"There is no school this afternoon.
The senior class is to be examined," he said wearily.

"No school! Very well. I will set you some sums after dinner, and find you some words to study in the dictionary."

Silently the five sat down until the visitor departed, uncomfortably conscious of ten weary eyes and five pallid pinched faces.

Crossing her own doorway, Mrs. Tur-moyle was greeted by a merry duet:
"No school! No school!"

Then a tenor solo:
"Won't you make some bobs for my kite, mamma? There's a splendid wind."

Followed by a sweet soprano:
"And O, mamma, you promised the first holiday you would trim my doll's bonnet."

"I can't a tite, too!" struck in Mark.
"O, let me get my breath!" cried the little woman. "Where's your hat, Tom?"

"Oh, I forgot," Tom said, sweeping it off with a profound bow. "Here take this chair. And let me take your bonnet and sacque up stairs. You are tired.
Never mind bobs, if you are very tired."

"I'll help make them," said Bessie; "and I'll go and watch Tom, mamma, if you don't feel like making the bonnet."

"We'll see after dinner," said Mrs. Tur-moyle, looking from one round rosy face
to the other, marking the sturdy limbs and dancing eyes. To be sure the hair of all three must be reduced from a state rebellion before they were presentable at table, and soap and water were pleasant suggestions in the maternal eyes. There was perfect health and happiness, if the voices were shrill and the boots noisy.

"I've been to see Mrs. Stone," she said, when, washed and combed, her children gathered around her to wait for papa and dinner, "and I wondered if I could ever make my children as quiet and orderly as hers are."

"Willie Stone is a milkop!" said Tom, contemptuously, always crying because his head aches. He can't play anything, and daren't move, for fear of spoiling his clothes. Wouldn't play foot-ball, for fear he would get dust on his boots.
There's a nice boy for you! He might be a girl at once."

"And mother, the teacher had to write a note to Mrs. Stone the day that John Gray spilled the ink on Maud's apron.
She was so afraid to go home; it was awful. She said her mother would not believe her."

"Dinner, and here comes papa!" cried
Tom.

Mr. Turmoyle came in with a grave face. He made no comment on the holiday, but stopped to kiss the rosy faces with unwonted tenderness. After dinner he sent the children to the nursery, and said to his wife, who had watched his clouded face:

"Tillie, I met Dr. Holmes on my way home, and he tells me that there have been three cases of scarlet fever from the school. It is raging fearfully he says."

Mrs. Turmoyle turned very pale.
"In the school?" she murmured.
"Well, among the scholars."

There was little more to say, but the heart of each parent sent up a petition to a kind and heavenly Father to keep the plague from their door.

Yet it came. A week later Mark sickened, and in three days more all three were down. Tenderest nursing, loving care and unexpected docility of patients
brought the little Turmoyles safely out upon the road to health again.

The most nauseous medicines were swallowed if "mamma" coaxed, and the most stringent stillness was observed when papa was discovered to have tears in his eyes at Bessie's crib.

The day the children assembled in the sitting-room for the first tea-drinking was a gala day, but papa was observed to have a sad face.

"While we are thankful, dear children," he said, "for our blessings, let us not forget to sympathize with the sorrows of others. Willie and Maud Stone were buried today, and Amy will be deaf for life. The others are still very ill."

At bed-time, when the children slept
the sleep of convalescence, Mr. Turmoyle came to the nursery, where his little blue-eyed wife was laying out the morning clothing.

"Tillie," he said, drawing the little woman close to his strong arms, "I had a long talk with Dr. Holmes today, and I cannot rest till I thank you for our unbroken nursery tonight. Next to God, you saved the children."

"I am sure you never spared yourself in nursing," said Mrs. Turmoyle.

"The nursing was the smallest part of it. Dr. Holmes says it was not the scarlet fever that killed Stone's children, but their mother's 'system.' The fever found over-taxed brains, bodies weakened
by want of exercise, tempers made sullen
by a deprivation of all childish pleasure.
They were nursed by 'system,' no allowance made for suffering or weakness; and the two that are gone but precede the two now dangerously ill. If they recover from the fever they will never reach maturity unless the mother sees the error.

"You may thank your wife's management for your own children," the doctor said to me; "there was something to build on in the sturdy frames of those young savages."

Mrs. Stone could see no fault in her system, though two little graves attested its weakness. Her children, recovering from the fever, found no relaxation of home rule, and pale and dull-eyed, went back to the old routine.

Four years passed away, and Tom left home for boarding-school, a gentle, manly boy of sixteen, well up in his studies and in perfect health. Driving home from the station, after starting him upon his journey, Mr. and Mrs. Turmoyle passed Mr. Stone's handsome house, prim and spotless, the garden a miracle of order,
and no signs of busy little feet on walk
or border.

"Poor Stone!" said Mr. Turmoyle, "he frets sadly for Amy."

"It was hard to lose her, the last of the five," said Mrs. Turmoyle; "and she was such a patient child, after she had lost her hearing."

"Too patient! There will be no need now of any system in training. Five children all under the sod! Oh, Tillie!
Thank God we have not such a home as the one we have just passed. Thank God for merry voices, clear laughter, noisy feet, and even the crying of our baby May. May He guard and bless our little ones, and give them good health,
good principles and happiness, rather than give us the doubtful blessing of a quiet home."

GETTING TO THE REAR.—The following, related by an officer of the Stonewall Brigade, may interest some of our soldier
friends:

While Jackson's corps was cautiously moving to the flank and rear of the Union army at Chancellorsville, the Confederate cavalry in advance became engaged with the enemy. Soon a wounded and bleeding trooper was seen emerging from the woods in front. After looking around, he moved in the direction from which the infantry were marching, as if seeking the rear, or, as the average gray-jacket would say, the "r. ar." Soon afterward rapid firing explained that the bluejackets had closed in behind Jackson,
and it was not long before the poor cavalryman was seen coming back again.

When opposite the "Stonewall," another cavalryman from the front also arrived.
No. 1 at once recognized him, and said,
"Hallo, Bill—wounded?"

"Yes," said No. 2, "but not bad.
Let's git to the 'r. ar.'"

At which No. 1 exclaimed: "This is the damndest fight I've bin in yit. It hain't got no 'r. ar.'"—Editor's Drawer,

THE SCRIBNER PRIZES FOR WOOD-ENGRAVING.

The American superiority in the matter of wood-engraving having been recently widely recognized in England and America, the editor of Scribner, in April number, with a desire to stimulate the art,
offers several premiums, for works by pupils, in the following article:

One of the sad things—almost the only sad thing—connected with the tremendous popular interest in art that has been developed in America within the last few years, is that there are multitudes engaged in its study with the utterly futile
hope that in some way they can make it a source of livelihood to them. How many women there are at this moment
painting porcelain, and dreaming of returns, who never realize a penny from their enterprise, the public will never know, but the number is very large. The young man or young woman in the various art-schools, learning to draw, are most of them looking forward to a life of remunerative art-work which will never be accomplished. Lacking invention, genius, originality, they will not sell, and they will be much disappointed.

Newspaper Decisions.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the office—whether directed to his name or not, or whether he has subscribed or not—is responsible for the payment of the paper.

2. If a person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

3. The Courts have decided that threatening to take newspapers and periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of fraud.

STATE OF MAINE.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

By the advice and consent of the Executive Council, I hereby appoint

THURSDAY, the FIFTEENTH DAY OF APRIL,

To be kept, throughout the State, as a day of Public Fasting and Humiliation and Prayer.

This custom has come down to us from our fathers. On this day they sought forgiveness of sins, and carried all their wants to God in prayer.

Let us, with sins as numerous, wants as great, and burdens as heavy, ask, as they did, forgiveness and help from the only true source. Let us ask God for wisdom; for honesty of purpose; for peace and plenty; for state and National prosperity; for the success of every effort in behalf of free government, and let us humble ourselves before Him and acknowledge His providence in all the events of life.

Given at the Council Chamber, at Augusta, this thirty-first day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and fourth.

DANIEL F. DAVIS.

By the Governor, SUMNER J. CHADBOURNE, Secretary of State.

NEWSPAPER SCOUNDRELISM.

There are no milder words that can with any propriety be applied to the scandalous and unscrupulous conduct of the Fusion organs as the Boston Globe and the Bangor Commercial have been doing.

The Boston Globe has been publishing a series of articles, put forth by Fogg as a "reply" to the proofs of the frauds perpetrated by the Garcelon Council.

We hardly have patience to refute statements at once so absurd and so wickedly and designedly false. The Fusion town clerk of Somerville having been induced by the Fusion officials at Augusta to make out a second senatorial return, upon which he, by direction, purposely inserted erroneous initials to the name of the Republican candidate for Senator, and to which he signed or forged the names of three selectmen, the Fusion Governor and Council used that fraudulent and forged return to count out the Republican Senator.

Now come Fogg, the Globe and the Commercial to declare that the Republicans in some way obtained that fraudulent return; that in some way they got it into the hands of Fogg & Co., and that they then succeeded through some unexplained motive in having a Republican Senator counted in and a Fusion Senator counted out!

Now what is the pretext for this manifestly ridiculous charge? Here it is stated by the Globe:

It appears from the committee's investigation that the blank returns, exact facsimiles of those in the Secretary of State's office, were sent out to many towns clerks last fall. In the case of Somerville it has been shown that the blanks came from a prominent Republican.

The many more blanks like this one, which were the object of this irregular proceeding are questions which the voters of Maine better consider than the return of the Fusion party.

And this monstrous and deliberate falsehood is echoed by the Commercial, which says:

This clears the case from all doubt, and settles the fact that the Republicans sent the blank returns to Mr. Bowler, and that he filled out according to the instructions of the Fusion party.

The documents sent out by the Republicans late in November were simply blanks for certified copies of the entire record of the election in each town, with a printed form for attestation before a Justice of the Peace, and were obtained for the use of the Governor and Council to correct errors in returns as provided by law.

There is no more similarity between one of those certified copies of a town record and an official Senatorial or other return, than there is between a mortgage and one of the notes of hand that may be specified therein.

The certified copy of the record of Somerville obtained by Mr. Lacy, just as Mr. Boutelle obtained certified copies of the records of towns in his county, never went out of the hands of the Republican Council until it was used by a committee of the legal Legislature for the canvassing of the vote for Governor, long after the "tabulation" of the Somerville vote by Garcelon & Co., to count out Senator Smith.

The Governor and Council did not return the false returns, but counted it and tabulated it for the express purpose of counting out Senator Smith.

The original return from Somerville had the name of Andrew R. G. Smith correctly and the Council's tabulation shows that the 72 votes were originally entered for him. When it was found necessary to get rid of some of his majority the second return was obtained from Bowler, with the name entered Andrew A. R. Smith, and the 72 votes were then erased from the column under the true name and put in another column under the latter, thus taking 72 votes away from Andrew R. G. Smith and counting him out!

The villainy of this transaction is rendered more glaring by the fact that the same Council which counted this fraudulent return on which the forgery of the names of all the selectmen by one person was obvious at a glance, rejected the return from New Sharon and counted out a Republican Representative on the ground of resemblance of signatures, although the town officers forwarded affidavits establishing the fact that each had written his own signature.

With all these facts accessible to the public, the brazen attempt of the Fusion organs to defend the great villainy and to confuse the public mind by reckless falsehood, is enough to make any man blush for shame who is in any way connected with a party whose exponents have become the beautiful perpetrators and champions of infamous fraud.

—In the State of Maine, for instance, nearly every church is controlled and run in the interest of the Republican party. But the majority of the people of Maine are not Republicans. —New Religion.

It is true that for a couple of years a majority of our people have not been Republicans; but if the Rev. editor were a very close observer he would have noted the fact in his own parish and throughout the country, that a majority of the people who attend church and who contribute to its support are Republicans. That is why the Republican party has always been called the "God and Morality party." The Republicans are not only able to control the churches because of a majority membership, but in localities where there are good schools you will find them controlling town affairs and turning all the busiest wheels of industry. It is passing strange that the New Religion has just discovered this well known principle of political economy.

POLITICAL NOTES.

—The New Orleans Picayune (Dem.) remarks that ex-Gov. "Garcelon plays the baby act."

—The Boston Post feelingly remarked on Monday: "More Maine elections today, and then, let us be thankful, no more for six months." So the Post does not like the sound of the Maine elections.

—Gov. Garcelon and Councilors Brown and Foster were the ring.

—It is no use to talk, the Council could take no action without the sanction of Gov. Garcelon. —Statement of ex-Councilor Fogg.

—A German paper in Missouri has hoisted the name of Hon. Adolph Pantz for President, which leads the Boston Post to nominate Carl Schurz for Vice President, on the ground that Pantz and Schurz will go together.

—The "Second Jackson" told a Lewiston Journal reporter the other day that he thought he had signed some election certificates in blank and left them for his associates to fill in the names. That's the sort of thing he is "prone of."

—When the New York World defends Senator Bayard of the charge of being a secessionist, symbolizer five months after the beginning of hostilities, by declaring that most of the Democratic leaders of the North were in sympathy with him, it is telling a great deal of truth; but it is telling the Democratic party?

—The Lewiston Gazette thinks it is time for the members of the Executive Council of 1879 to speak. "When Gov. Garcelon says the Gazette," the question, becomes not one of politics but of common honesty and decency, in which all honest men of all parties are equally concerned."

—To the Republican spectator, the most amusing thing in politics at present are the efforts of the Fusion papers to prove that Bayard wasn't loyal in 1861, and of the Bayard organs to show that the person of Cyprian was similarly unfortunate.

The beauty of the thing is that both parties have been completely successful in accomplishing their purpose.

—At the municipal election held in Montville, March 10, 1879, J. M. Howard, Fusion representative from Montville, was defeated for Moderator and Selectman, he having been nominated for both positions at a greenback caucus, and supported by the greenbackers at the election for the office. His majority in town for representative last fall was 63.

—Hon. E. B. Washburne, one of the possible candidates for the Presidency, was born at Livermore, Me., Sept. 23, 1816. At the age of 17 he was apprenticed to the printer's trade in the office of the Christian Intelligencer at Gardiner, Me. "I am satisfied," said Mr. Washburne, at a late period, "that I learned more in the one year I was in the Intelligencer office, than I ever learned in any one year of my life."

—The appropriations of the Maine Legislature last year were $1,329,583. This year they are $1,368,957. Increase of $39,374. The increase, however, is not in appropriations for expenses that belong to this year but to last year, inasmuch as nearly $30,000 is appropriated to pay expenses caused by counting out, $18,000 for reclothing the militia, which should have been done last year, and $25,000 for paying old debts of prison. —Boston Journal.

—Mr. Coffroth of Pennsylvania to Mr. Blackwell of Kentucky: "You were a traitor to your country, and you ought to have been hanged for your treason." The fulsome Democratic editor: "Thus it is that these pestilential Republican demagogues stir up the memories of the war, and seek to kindle hatred among a now united people." Impulsive Democratic editor: "Horrible! Mr. Coffroth is a Northern Democrat." —N. Y. Tribune.

—Col. Moore of Nashua Telegraph made arrangements in many towns in New Hampshire at the town elections to get the preferences of the Republicans for a candidate for the Presidency. Up to Friday returns had been received from 62 towns in which 3302 Republicans expressed their preference for Grant, 433; for Sen. Edmunds, 324; for the nominee, 265; for Sec. Sherman, 190; for Pres. Hayes, 125; for Mr. Washburne, 88; for Gen. Sherman, 55. The rest are scattering.

—The Astorstock Pioneer pointedly says: "If Democratic or Fusion editors expect to gull their readers with the flimsy pretense that the election returns were changed by the Hale investigating committee for Grant, 433; for Sen. Edmunds, 324; for the nominee, 265; for Sec. Sherman, 190; for Pres. Hayes, 125; for Mr. Washburne, 88; for Gen. Sherman, 55. The rest are scattering."

—The friends of Mr. Blaine have done a very shrewd thing in having the Kansas convention held in St. Louis, Missouri, in the choice of a full Blaine delegation, notwithstanding two of the districts favored Grant, and instructing them to vote for Blaine, in order to set a back fire against both these rules. The two districts have chosen Grant delegates who will claim seats at Chicago, just as the Blaine districts have chosen delegates from Pennsylvania. Kansas will be called before Pennsylvania, so that the convention will be compelled to decide the question whether a State convention can elect district delegates, or can give binding instructions to them, on the Kansas case first. The friends of Mr. Blaine are determined to put Cameron and Conkling in a position where their sharp practice will cut both ways.

—Fogg's Chronicle claims that Oxford, Hartford, Hiram, Hebron and Canton endorsed the State steal at the last election. Oxford elected two fusion Selectmen by a Republican bolt, while all the other officers were Republicans. In Hartford the officers are all Republicans except second Selectman, while Mendall, the fusion Representative who thought he was bribed, was squarely defeated as candidate for first Selectman. Hebron and Hiram elected each a straight Republican board. Canton elected a mixed ticket. This "endorsement" is similar to the expression, "laughing out of the other side of your mouth."

THAT SECOND RETURN.—Clerk Bowler of Somerville having stated that Postmaster Soule of that town furnished him with a blank on which he made out an attested copy of the record, and that this copy was forwarded to Mr. Lacy of the Republican State Committee, ex-Councilor Fogg says "this shows it was the Republicans who secured the second return, which they are trying to charge to the account of the fusionists." Fogg must think his readers are fools not to know the difference between an attested copy of the record and a return. The Republicans secured attested copies of the record from every town in the State, showing the vote for all officers, but the Council refused to receive them as provided by law. Returns are made out on very different blanks, and purport to be signed in open town meeting. It was the second return which Bowler testified, in February, that he made out, which the Council refused to receive, and the attested copy of the record. How ready the fusion leaders are to swallow any nonsense to defend counting out, is shown by the fact that the Bangor Commercial pronounces Fogg's defense as conclusive and "scathing," and the Argus declared it "unanswerable."

—Fast Day next Thursday.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6, 1880.

Legislation on the large appropriation bills is still delayed. They are not so far along as they usually are in January. Many reasons are given by the Democrats for this, they promised before the adoption of the new rules, that when they were adopted, they would give legislation such a boom as was never before known in Congress. But the rules have been in operation two months and not a single large appropriation bill has been reported to the House. They tried at one time to put the blame of delay upon the Republican party, but that attempt failed before it got fairly outside the Capitol. The people knew where the blame belonged, and the Democrats knew they knew it. The real reason is, the Democratic party is not competent to govern this Republic. Its purposes are bad; its methods vicious and demoralizing; and it aims subversion of free government. They enact no measures for the good of the whole people, and in their excuses for such legislation as they do enact, they call up the numerous good deeds of the Republican party, but its few bad ones. They have no high aims to achieve, no principles they dare openly avow, and call upon the loyal people of the North to support. The record of the party, culled as it has been by a Republican President and Supreme Court, has been bad enough in all conscience, but with a Democratic President and Congress, the loyal people may well feel anxiety for the safety of our free institutions and the full and equal rights of all our people.

Without doubt Donnelly, of Minnesota, is the maddest and most disappointed man in the country. He contested the seat of Washburn. Of course he had no real claim to the seat, but he relied upon the Democratic majority to pull him through. He depended especially upon Chairman Springer of the Election Committee, and Representative Manning. Manning manufactured a report in favor of Donnelly, and when it was voted upon in the Committee, Springer voted against it. This action of Springer's so enraged Manning that he rushed into the House, and charged that Springer had been corruptly influenced; that through an offer to his wife he had received $5,000 for voting against Donnelly. Springer is now mad, and wants to be investigated. Of course the charge of Manning is false. Springer though a Democrat, is not a corrupt man.

—The Springfield Republican says a good many Garfield men could be secured upon the Massachusetts. The trouble with Massachusetts is she doesn't know what she does want. —Press.

That's just where you are right, Mr. Press, and it is the same trouble which affects your evening contemporary.

—The editor of the New Religion, after preaching a number of years, now gives to the world his positive creed so far as he has "formulated it." It consists of six lines, the first affirming his belief that there is still "a God in Israel." Now we are going to submit a shorter creed for his adoption. It contains only five words. There is no new religion about it. It is the old creed adopted, believed in and adhered to by his dear departed friend and coparcener in fraud, E. F. Pillsbury. Here it is:

"LOVE HIM AND HATE NIGGERS."

A NEW CATHOLIC CONVENT IN LEWISTON. —Bonnafide block on Main street, Lewiston, has been transferred to the hands of Bishop Healey of Portland, and a Catholic convent will be established in the block. The block cost the Catholics $18,500. The lower part of the building will be used for stores and will not be altered, but extensive changes will be made in the upper part, under the direction of Rev. Father T. H. Wallace, who is preparing sketches, from which designs will be made by a Boston architect. The architect was recently in the city and looked over the building. Work will be commenced on the convent by the first of May, and be pushed right ahead. A school will be connected with the convent, and intermediate and grammar branches of study will be taught by the sisters in charge. Later an academic branch will be added.

THE POOR NEWSPAPERS.—The Rockland Courier has prepared the following epitaph and expects to have the corpse ready before long:

TO THE MEMORY OF THE ROCKLAND COURIER, Which Died In the Prime of its Life, A VICTIM TO THE EXTORTION OF THE AMERICAN PAPER-MAKERS. This Monument is Mournfully Inscribed BY ITS CONTEMPORARIES.

In the death of thee, our brother, We can read our doom the more, And one long wail greet each other On the hopeless bankrupt shore.

—The article "Newspaper Scoundrelism," which we republish from the Bangor Whig, does not half tell the story of Fogg's wicked falsehoods. In the last Chronicle he gives another list of towns which he claims endorsed Garcelon and the steal. Among them he again puts Hebron, and as if to verify the falsehood by repetition, he says again, in the same article, "Buckfield and Hebron, where it is claimed corrections were made, went greenback." Every town officer in Hebron is a well-known stalwart Republican. The people of Oxford County will not be misled by this attempt to bolster up a fallen cause by brazen lies.

—Fogg says every member of the Council and all the clerks are willing to testify that the names of the towns of Buckfield and Brownfield were in the body of the returns when they came back to the Secretary's office. Early in the season, Mr. Bisbee was allowed to see the Oxford County returns. He came from this view at Augusta to the Fryeburg Court. He had copies of returns with errors and discrepancies minutely thereon. He showed these papers to a few persons, among whom was the publisher of this paper. We then noted that the return from Buckfield had not the name of the town in its body and could only be distinguished by the filing. The case was freely discussed, because the error would affect the result in this County. Later, as the conspiracy developed, Mr. Farrington saw the returns, called a Councilor's attention to the error, and made a public announcement of the defect in this paper. The Clerk of Buckfield testified that the name of the town was not written by him, but that it was put in after it left him. If the Council and clerks expect to swear down this testimony they are all as great fools and knaves as Fogg—the which we doubt.

OXFORD COUNTY LOCALS.

ANDOVER, April 10.—The snow is fast disappearing, and wagons have taken the place of sleighs and sleds. The roads are very muddy and travel is nearly suspended. The river drivers have been busy driving the past few days. Most of the logs have been started from the landings.

Sugar makers find the season rather unfavorable, and not the usual amount will be made.

Mr. J. W. Eaton is soon to move into the house recently occupied by Mrs. Margaret Newton.

Coughs and colds are prevailing to an extent never before known, and seem to partake of the nature of a contagious disease which refuses to yield to the usual remedies.

Our community were greatly surprised and pained last Thursday, to learn that Cyrus B. Sellev was no more. Mr. Sellev was attacked with diphtheria in a very violent form, which terminated fatally after two weeks' painful illness. He was an enterprising young man, and was surrounded by a very warm friends. His death creates a void in our community which will not be easily filled. The funeral services were held in the Congregational church this afternoon. The ceremonies were conducted by the members of Blazing Star Lodge of Masons, of which the deceased was a prominent member. An impressive sermon was delivered by Rev. G. B. Hannaford, from Rev. v. 5: "And one of the elders saith unto me, 'Weep not; behold, the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the Root of David hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.'"

—LONE STAR.

BETHEL.—There was a pleasant gathering at the parsonage of the first Congregational church, Bethel, Friday evening, when more than 100 of the society, greeted the good pastor, Rev. S. L. Bowler, and his devoted wife, each bearing a token of esteem and good-will in their hands. The evening was spent in social intercourse, an address by the pastor, singing led by the chorister, Dea. E. P. Grover (not Given), and when the party separated, it was found that 130 packages had been deposited in the pantry, every one of which is useful in the family, none more so than the pound of love of which the apostle declares, is the root of evil. The gathering was a complete surprise to the pastor and his wife, and the more pleasing to the parishioners, that it was not intended, or needed, to eke out a niggardly salary, but as a token of good will.

The ice opposite the village left the river Monday night, the 5th inst., and the lumbermen on the tributaries to the Androscoggin are improving the fine pitch of water in breaking in the logs and starting them toward the mills down the river.

There are about one million feet of spruce lumber in Sunday river and some two million feet in Bear river destined for the mills in Lewiston.

Mrs. Jones was buried Monday, the 5th inst., Tuesday Nathan Bartlett was committed to the narrow house, and Hon. R. A. Chapman died Wednesday, the 7th. Our old citizens are fast passing away.

BRYANT'S FORD, Apr. 7.—Austin A. Gray has leased his farm to John Daniels of Paris.

W. H. Davis has been appointed overseer of the town farm for 1880.

T. R. Chase has moved on to his farm at No. Woodstock.

Miss Flora Stevens is teaching a private school in the village.

The remainder of the spool factory machinery will arrive from New York this week, and by the first of May the mill will be in full operation. —BAILEY.

DIXFIELD.—Mrs. Ann T. Eastis, wife of our respected and venerable townsman, John M. Eastis, esq., passed to the higher life, Friday, April 24, aged 74 years. Though for many years in feeble health, yet "Aunt Ann," as she was familiarly called by this whole community, was constant and faithful in good works. No wayfarer ever sought relief in vain at her threshold; no afflicted or sorrowing heart ever confided in her but received consolation and sympathy. Her declining years were brightened by the unremitting attentions of her beloved children, whose high happiness was found in ministering to the comforts of one of the best of mothers. It was her constant endeavor to do her whole duty to her family, to the community in which she lived, to God and humanity. Faithful in all the relations of life, her decease is sincerely mourned by all who were blessed with her friendship. Faithful, as an earnest and devoted Christian, she was content and willing, yes, happy to trust herself in the arms of her loved Saviour, whose teaching she so zealously sought to practise. Peacefully and sweetly as a child asleep in his mother's arms, she passed away, but the bright and beautiful example she affords of the power of true Christian faith, will not soon be lost. In accordance with her desires expressed during her last illness, she was borne to her last resting place by her three sons and two nephews, whom "she loved so well," while nearly the entire population of our village mingled their tears with those of the bereaved family. "Words fitly spoken" by Rev. James Patterson, her pastor, carried consolation to the stricken hearts of the mourning friends. Mrs. Eastis was the beloved mother of our true-hearted brother, Col. Wm. T. Eastis, so well and favorably known throughout our State as an earnest and enthusiastic worker in the temperance reform, and the reformed men of Maine have to regret the departure of one who had their interests and well being near her heart, and who worked and prayed for their ultimate success and final victory. May the grace of God, sanctify this affliction to her sorrowing family and her dear friends, to their eternal gain. —A.

The general health in this place and surrounding neighborhood, is much better than it has been for several months. Late-ly several well known and respected neighbors have been, by death, removed from our midst. Among the number, and deeply lamented, is Mrs. Anne T. Eastis, the wife of Mr. John M. Eastis.

Business affairs are about the same.

Efficient work on Harlow Block, is being done by Mr. Wm. F. Putnam, and other skillful workmen. The Odd Fellows' hall is almost finished and furnished. It will be comfortable and commodious in every respect, and also a perfect model of good taste when consummated.

The interest in the Temperance cause, is altogether worthy the highest commendation. Our largest regular meeting for the season, was held at the temperance hall, Thursday evening. Mr. A. S. Austin was duly elected President—made a good speech and was followed by Bro. Abbott, who manifested his increasing faith and zeal. Rev. Jas. Patterson made a few remarks, and Bro. W. T. Eastis spoke in his usual pithy, earnest and interesting manner. We shall have a paper next Thursday evening. We solicit communications, and say to all, come.

J. P.

FRYEBURG.—On Monday, April 5, this village lost two of its oldest citizens, and the Congregational church its oldest members. At 9:30 in the morning, Dea. John Evans, a native of this town, passed from this to a better world beyond. Dea. Evans was just past three score and ten, and had been in business as harness maker in the village some fifty years. He was for many years a respected officer of the Congregational church, of which he was a useful and exemplary member for forty-nine years. He leaves a widow who is just recovering from a serious illness which until lately threatened to be fatal; also two sons, both of whom received a liberal education; one is a physician in Conway, N. H., and the other is connected with the editorial staff of the Springfield Republican; a daughter who was a successful teacher for many years, but is now married and lives in Freehold, N. Y.

At 9:19 p. m., Mrs. Hannah A. Farrington, widow of the late V. B. Farrington, aged 77 years and 9 days, passed over to the other side to meet her Saviour whom she loved. She also was a member of the same church, having joined the same day and at the same time with Dea. Evans. She had always been an exemplary member of the church, and loved by all who knew her. She was the mother of Hon. E. C. Farrington of Fryeburg, Southwell Farrington of Lowell, Mass., D. B. Farrington of Ashbury Park, N. J., and Mrs. Seth W. Fife of Fryeburg. The funeral services were attended by Dr. Mason, acting pastor of the church; that of Mrs. F. in the forenoon, at the residence of Hon. E. C. Farrington, and Dea. Evans' at his late residence in the afternoon. A memorial service is to be had on Sunday, the 11th, at the church.

It has been very sickly here this spring, so far, but several cases have entirely recovered, and others are recovering rapidly.

Capt. Geo. H. Bradbury and S. J. Post, Jr., of New York, who bought the Gov. Dana stand and James O. McMillan residence, are both in town looking after the changes to be made before occupying them. Both will be here with their families, by June.

A very valuable book from the press of Lee & Shepard has recently appeared, entitled, "A Summer Journey through the Old World," in which our townsman, A. F. Lewis, esq., appears as one of the authors. The above work comprises 650 pages, and recounts the sights, sounds and varied experiences of the Tourjee Musical and Educational Party of '78. The Boston Journal speaks of Mr. Lewis' chapters, (which occupy one-third of the volume) on Rome, Venice, Florence, Milan, Naples and Pompeii in Italy, and Oxford, Stratford, &c., in England, as "admirably written and intensely interesting." The book is elegantly bound, with some forty illustrations, and has received very flattering notices from the press. Mr. L. has a few copies of the work for sale. Price, $2.50.

HARTFORD, April 7.—After much preparation for sap business by many in the way of improved buckets, arrangement of pans on good arches and in suitable houses, they were vetoed by a cold wave, followed by warm weather, which closed one of the poorest sap seasons ever known in this vicinity. Not one good day compared with former years. Many have closed the business fifteen days earlier than last spring.

Sheep and other stock will leave the barn in good plight. Beets and turnips add much to the fodder.

The great crop of potatoes known in v. olden times, is minus. And the Early Rose should give way to a more profitable kind. The assessors say there are many good sheep in town notwithstanding the high price offered. Not so with calves; the high price of veal has taken most of the best ones to the butcher.

The early spring will give the farmers ample time to prepare the ground for good crops. No damage to fruit trees by mice. —HARTFORD.

NORWAY.—The streets are getting dryer. A heavy dew is sufficient to cause mud. Four weeks more of the spring schools, and then the boys can have a long vacation.

Frankie Brown a son of J. D. Brown has attended the Intermediate school for two years and hasn't missed a day during that time. Teachers who can keep their pupils' interest at high water mark need never despair of having a situation.

A runaway in our streets the other day. No damage done.

A drunken man is not such a rarity as he used to be.

Some one tried to break into M. M. Phinney's store, Thursday night. A discharge of two from a well loaded revolver changed the rogue's mind.

Mrs. S. P. Harmon is having the inside of her store repaired. A Miss Chase, of Portland, will hereafter have charge of the millinery department.

Brooks Bros. are selling out. Marcus will look over the West before again entering into business. —S.

PARIS.—The Band benedict on Friday evening, last, proved to be great success. The Operetta, with parts sustained by the Misses Rawson and Mrs. Tufts, could not have been better presented. Miss Rawson's solos were executed in a manner which surprised her best friends. The Comedy, "Sophronia, O!" was a laughable and entertaining presentation. The parts were admirably sustained by Miss Brown, Miss Andrews and Mr. Edwards. The scenery was notable for its tasteful arrangement and elegance—being such as is seldom put upon a village stage. The Band played several well known and respected neighbors have been, by death, removed from our midst. Among the number, and deeply lamented, is Mrs. Anne T. Eastis, the wife of Mr. John M. Eastis.

Business affairs are about the same.

Efficient work on Harlow Block, is being done by Mr. Wm. F. Putnam, and other skillful workmen. The Odd Fellows' hall is almost finished and furnished. It will be comfortable and commodious in every respect, and also a perfect model of good taste when consummated.

Rev. Mr. Battles will preach at the Universalist church next Sunday, at the usual hour.

Mr. J. C. Marble informs us that the mining mania is as intense in Canada, as it is in Maine. Mr. Marble is interested in a Canadian gold mine, from which he has already taken several thousand dollars by simply washing it from the earth. He proposes to prosecute the work vigorously, this summer. We hope there are millions in it, as Mr. Marble is a man who uses his money and influence to develop and improve his own village.

W. E. Perkins is erecting a set of new buildings on Lincoln Street. Work is progressing rapidly on the same.

We understand that Mr. E. H. Marble will soon have a new house on his lot, to replace the one destroyed by fire.

Dea. Joel B. Thayer attained the age of 81 years, last Friday. In the evening, he was serenaded by our village Band. Mr. Thayer had intended to receive his friends on that occasion; but owing to his failing health, he was obliged to give up the projected reception.

Paris Hill Manufacturing Co. has recently put into its dry-room a condenser of excellent design, which serves to increase their capacity and efficiency four-fold. Cold water is forced through a coil of pipe located on one side of the room. All moisture in the room is attracted and condensed by these cold coils, from which it runs a stream to the well below. The invention is patented.

SOUTH PARIS.—Bolster & Robinson announce in another column, that the painting and papering season has arrived; also, that they are prepared to furnish all articles needed during this interesting period of domestic life. The new firm, composed of enterprising young men, is drawing to it a large amount of custom.

At a regular meeting of the Pacific Engine Co., No. 1, held at the Engine House Hall, Saturday evening, April 3d, the following officers were elected:

Foreman, A. E. Shurtliff; First Assistant, Geo. P. Tucker; Second Assistant, Foreman, R. M. Riley; Clerk, L. F. Keene; Ass't Clerk, W. F. Maxin; Standing Committee, A. E. Shurtliff, R. N. Hall, F. A. Thayer, J. P. Richardson. Appointed Officers: Pipe-men, J. P. Richardson, F. G. Lovering; Axmen, J. C. Cummings, W. L. Blood; Suction Hosemen, G. H. Porter, Mark Leach, C. F. Pratt, George Merrill; Leading Hosemen, W. B. Stuart, W. B. Shaw, A. F. Spaulding, I. D. Faunce, Eugene Fletcher, C. W. Bowker. —L. F. KEENE, Clerk.

ROXBURY.—The lumber business on Swift river in Roxbury, Byron and Mexico, has been lively the past winter, and with the exception of closing up some jobs it is about over with for this season. We have tried to ascertain the amount of lumber to be run down the Swift river this spring, and as far as I can learn it is as follows: In Byron, Reuben Richmond has been cutting 1,500,000 spruce. C. & F. Philbrick, of Roxbury, 200,000 spruce. L. A. Thomas, of Roxbury, from 150,000 to 200,000 spruce. John Houghton, Byron, 30,000 pine, spruce and cedar, and 300 cords of Poplar. Sewell Goff, of Mexico, 60,000 pine, and 500 cords of poplar. There are some small lots besides the above. Without doubt 2,000,000 feet of spruce, pine and cedar will be run down the Swift river this spring, besides nearly 1000 cords of poplar. The logs are for the Canton Steam Mill Co., and will be run with the first rise of water, while the poplar which is for Marshall & Irish to be manufactured into paper pulp at Canton, is to be cut up 8 feet in length, peeled and run later in the season. I am also informed that Wm. M. Hall, of Mexico, proposes to utilize the poplar bark, by manufacturing from the same a new and wonderful patent medicine, which is warranted to cure all the ills known to the human race, with the simple directions on each bottle "to be well taken before shaken," full notice, price, &c., will be given at a later date. There is still about one foot of snow in the woods and most of the travelling is in sleighs.

Mr. R. L. Taylor, of Roxbury, is getting out timber for a new barn.

John Reed, who has been at work at Bemis Stream the past winter, was severely injured last week by a skid striking him on the shoulder. He is now at home in Roxbury.

The measles are still having quite a boom in this section of the County. Dr. V. M. Abbott, of Mexico, is kept busy as far as his health will permit, he being obliged to refuse many calls which he is unable to attend.

Celery has only come into public notice within the few years past, and yet scientific ex- periments and experience have proved beyond doubt that it controls nervous irritation as well as cures nervous and sick headaches to a marke degree.

But a combination of the EXTRACT OF CHELERY with CHAMOMILE which has been recently introduced to the profession and the public by myself, has produced such marvelous results in curing nervousness and headaches, and especially nervous and sick headaches, neuralgia, indigestion and nervousness, that it has excited public attention and newspaper comments; and, therefore, give the following information to the public, without answering hundreds of letters of inquiry about them.

My Celery and Chamomile Pills, for the cure of headaches and nervousness, especially my superintending and controlling of those who suffer from nervous headaches, and especially headaches, neuralgia, indigestion, sleeplessness and nervousness, and will cure any case where the organic disease of the brain or spinal cord exists. Hundreds of cases of many years' standing have been cured. No matter how long they have existed, there is always a permanent cure is morally certain. This statement is made after years of experience in their use in the general practice medicine.

These pills are also valuable for school children who suffer from nervous headaches, caused by overworked brain in their studies and for all classes of hard brain workers, whose overtaxed nervous system requires repair and relaxation. Nervous weakness and paralysis are being daily cured by these pills. They correct constipation, but are not purgatives.

Two Doctors Could Not Cure Me—MIRACLE! INDEXED!

Read this testimonial from a well known who sale merchant of Plymouth, N. H.

PLYMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 20, 1879.

Gentlemen,—About six months ago I was laid by a bad cold. He cut two gallons in my about two inches long and an inch deep. I tried everything to heal the gash, and had two different doctors, but my leg would not twice its measure, and would change in color at different times from bright red to dark purple. My body was taken out all over in red and white blotches and was feverish, and nothing I took seemed to be recommended to try Sulphur Bitters. I have taken six bottles. To my great joy it began to prove. The sores began to grow smaller and I am well man. I am well known in this vicinity, a would earnestly recommend to try them. You are able to publish this, as I wish every body to know the virtue of this great remedy.

Believe me, gratefully yours,
W. G. CHASE.

—OF—
Frauds, Counterfeits and Imitations so called Elixirs, extracts, &c. The name of Dr. Kauffman's Sulphur Bitters has incited greedy wretches who have made woeful imitations. These parties clearly intend to flourish by stealing the whole or part of the name of our justly celebrated medicine. We will be grateful to any one who will inform us when these miserable imitations are presented to them for sale.

POISONED

POISONED Mucus in the Nose.
POISONED Mucus in the Throat.
THOUSANDS die every year from poisoning
of the blood by Catarrh and the lives of thou sands more are rendered miserable by the same dread disease.
The direct tendency of Catarrh is to cause the decay and decomposition of the tissues and lead to the formation of cancerous growths. These are filled with a disease and putrefying mass the bration of which produces the most terrible maladies. As the blood-giving and the blood will be drawn. Thus when the air reaches the lungs it is laden with foul gases and deadly po isons which the same nature of the blood or cat. The blood-giving in contact with such air instead of being purified and oxygenated
prepared for its work of building up the body, it is soiled and rendered wholly unfit for its work in the system.
DROPPING IN THE THROAT.
Catarrh also causes a constant dropping in the throat. This is the same mucus developed by the disease, and it passes to the stomach, or by any one imagine to the stomach, deranging the important organs and is conveyed to the blood
and system through the process of assimilation.
CATARRH: CATARRH!!
Thus every year and every day are the seeds of disease, whose fruitage is Death, shown in the body by Catarrh. What wonder is it, then, that dyspepsia blood poisoning, and diseases of the lungs are so prevalent when a deadly poison is being constantly dropped in the system.
How Can Catarrh be Cured?
This has for many years been a perplexing study of physician and pharmacist alike. Hitherto all remedies prepared with a view to cure have been ing Catarrh he failed. Why? Because they were wrong in principle. They attempted to cure the disease. What wonder is it, then, that dyspepsia or saffron sufficed into the nose in defiance of nature's plan, what can only be reached through the pro cess of resorption. Common sense teaches that diseases of the respiratory organs can be reached in no other way.
CATARRH CURED.
We take pleasure in announcing that after many years of experiment and trial we have perfected a remedy which has proved uniformly successful in the treatment of Catarrh. It is composed of the one of the most experienced practitioners in the state. It is composed entirely of agents which penetrate into the diseased parts, and by liquid
the diseased parts and assist nature in her work of cure. This is applied directly to the diseased parts through the process of respiration. Catarrh is simple, cheap and effective. It is also clean and leaves no unpleasant taste or feeling behind.
In a short time after commencing its use the pa tient feels like a new person. It also requires no costly inhalers. These are some of the symptoms of Catarrh:
Defective eating, Inflamed and matter eyes,
Painful and Watery eyes, Loss of hearing, Ear ache, Neuralgia of the ear, Discharge from the
