ADOREE'S NOVEL TYPE

Piquant Actress Portrays French Farm Girl in "The Big Parade" Coming to Park Theatre.

Renee Adoree is to present a type of French girl novel to the screen in "The Big Parade," which comes to Park Theatre Friday, Aug. 27.

Who doesn't know the other type? High heels, French heels of course, Parisian-high skirt, an overdone vivacity with an outlet in spasmodic gestures and manners supposed to be typically French.

Miss Adoree in King Vidor's forthcoming film of the World Crisis of 1917-18 wears no high-heeled shoes nor shimmering silks, but the woolen sabots and sturdy calico of the French peasant. She is a farmhouse girl who falls in love with an American soldier, one of a company billeted at her village. She requires no Parisian beauty aids in order to be attractive.

In a sense 'tis her own life as a native of rural France. The French-born actress of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios first saw the light of day in a suburb of Lille where her father's circus was playing under canvas. Her mother was a famous equestrienne, and she learned to ride the circling steeds from infancy. Becoming a dancer and stage player, she was refueled out of Belgium to London by the German invasion, later coming to America and finding employment in the picture studios. The role of Melisande is said to give Renee Adoree extraordinary opportunities both for pathos and humor. She has plenty of both in her quaint Gallic self.—adv.

THE NEW DANCE

"The Valencia" Ball Room Sensation May Be Heard at Maine Music Co.

The two big radio hits now out on a Victor double record, Barcelona, played by Shilkret and The Victor Orchestra and On the Riviera, Fox Tots.

The new dance, the Valencia, which takes its name from Jose Padilla's famous number, has made the biggest sensation in American ballroom dancing, perhaps, since the days of the tango. It is in 6-8 time, and is most commonly begun in the "step-out" position, partners side by side. Instead of directly facing, some very pretty skipping steps are introduced, and the dancing position allows many combinations of steps. It may be walked like the fox-trot, or the two-step may be used. These two numbers are perfectly adapted to the Valencia. One is in "hot" style, with rhythm foremost; the other is more quietly melodious. Each introduces a vocal refrain, in the first by Billy Murray, and in the second by Carl Mathieu.

You will enjoy this record whether you dance or not. Come in and hear it or telephone to have one reserved for you. Price 75c. Add 7c for postage if wanted by mail. Maine Music Co., Rockland.—adv.

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT
 Rockland, Maine, Aug. 19, 1926.
 Personally appeared Frank S. Lydell, who on oath declares that he is president in the office of The Courier-Gazette, and that of the issue of this paper of Aug. 17, 1926 there was printed a total of 642 copies.
 Before me, FRANK B. MILLER,

THE FIRST GUN

It is evident that the State election campaign is to be a short but intensive one, which is certainly preferable to holding a long series of meetings through the heated term when nobody is in the proper mood to listen to either oratory or argument. In each county a whirlwind tour is being conducted by the Republican party, and Knox County's turn comes Saturday of the present week. It is unfortunate that neither of the Senators will be with the flying squadron—Fernald because of his sudden and possibly serious illness; Hale because other duties at this time will prevent. Senator Hale, however, will be on the stump in the closing days of the campaign.

Knox County voters will hear national issues discussed by Congressman White, who is now one of the most influential members of the National House of Representatives; and it will hear State issues discussed by the man who ought to know more about them than anybody else in Maine, meaning His Excellency Gov. Ralph O. Brewster. The county candidates will take part in the whirlwind tour, and the voters will have a chance to see and meet the men who compose the unusually strong Republican ticket. The meetings will show a complete absence of abuse and personalities, and instead will be a frank, open discussion of matters which the voters must decide Sept. 13. On page one will be found the complete itinerary to be followed by the whirlwind tour.

The Society for the Promotion of Atheism announces that it proposes to organize a society of atheists among the students of every college in America. If we were to make use of the expressive vernacular of the man on the sidewalk we should say hot stuff! But for the Christian church where should we find the colleges in which the atheists can carry out their pleasant suggestion? The board of education of the Methodist Episcopal church points out that—

Yale University was organized by ten ministers in 1701. Harvard was organized by the colony of Massachusetts Bay as a church school and was given the name "Harvard" in recognition of John Harvard, a young clergyman, who bequeathed a library of three hundred volumes and nearly $400,000 to the institution. Hamilton University, the first college in Minnesota, was organized by missionaries, and later, under the leadership of ministers, was taken over by the State. The University of Kansas was organized by the Episcopalians and Presbyterians and began as a Methodist school.

These are merely suggestive. The list, including our own State of Maine, could be indefinitely extended. A brief examination of the 531 colleges and universities listed in The World Almanac shows that 214, or nearly half, have a direct denominational affiliation. There are probably many others. Numbers alone are not so important. What is interesting and arresting is that the churches of all denominations were pioneers in the educational field. Financial rewards are not sure, in fact, many institutions are run at an annual loss. There is still plenty of opportunity in this field for a display of altruism.

Is the strike becoming an outworn weapon? Developments in recent days would suggest it, notably the failure of the New York subway strike, the collapse of the general strike in Great Britain and the unsuccessful coal strike in our own country. The strike is a relic of the time when men used violence as a substitute for intelligence. Laboring men realize that there must be a better way, and the leaders of both labor and industry who fall back upon such obsolete methods as the strike and the lockout, do not show sufficient intelligence to lead. The world is progressing. Men are getting together more and more. The strike and the boycott are out of date. There is a better way.

THE METHODIST FAIR

Summer Festival Scored Success—Cafeteria and Entertainment.

Yesterday witnessed the annual mid-summer fair at the Methodist Church, which met with a very satisfactory success. The Ladies' Aid had put in many weeks of careful preparation as the tasteful array of dainty and useful articles bore evidence, and buyers were not lacking. The vestry was decorated with seasonal flowers and the tables themselves draped in white.

The vegetable table with a large supply of produce was in charge of Mrs. Raymond C. Anderson. The flower table was naturally luxuriantly supplied and was in charge of Mrs. John Dunstan. The candy table was in charge of Mrs. J. W. Norton; the cooked food table, Mrs. A. E. Morton; children's table, Mrs. E. E. Strout; aprons, Mrs. Essie Day; miscellaneous, Mrs. Elizabeth Gregory; ice cream, Mrs. Susie Karl. Cafeteria lunch was served most successfully from 5 to 7 with Mrs. Myra MacDonald, Mrs. Irene Pugh, Mrs. Ida Simmons, Mrs. Lena St. Clair and Mrs. Annie Flint in charge.

In the evening an excellent crowd saw a well planned and executed entertainment. "The Bachelor's Dream" proved a charming innovation with Mrs. Milton Plummer as reader, and the carefully costumed girls of the dream represented by Mesdames Thelma Stanley, Helen Matson, Louise Doherty, Anna Gay, Elizabeth Annis, Marguerite Johnson, Margaret Johnson, Etta M. Anderson and Irene Pugh and Miss Ruth Richards. Musical numbers were presented by Miss Marie Crockett, vocal, with John McInnes at the piano. Miss Doris Hyler presented mandolin numbers; Margaret and Robert Johnson, violin; Mrs. Carrie Douglass, piano; Mrs. Etta Anderson and Carol Gardner, vocal solos; Miss Ruth Richards and Kenneth Orcutt, piano solos. The program was enthusiastically received and a handsome sum was cleared.

SCOUTING FOR GIRLS

How It Aims to Make of Their Fine Women and Citizens.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
 In order to understand the purpose of the Girl Scout organization one must know what scouting is. When Sir Robert Baden-Powell organized scouting for boys in England, the movement proved too attractive and too well adapted to youth to limit its great opportunities to boys alone. Mrs. Juliette Low, an American visitor in England and a personal friend of the father of scouting, realized the value to English and decided to introduce the movement in America. She organized the Girl Scouts of America in March, 1912, beginning with a small troop in Savannah, Georgia. Since the day of its inception the movement has never paused. In Massachusetts, as elsewhere, it developed under the finest type of women; among these being Mrs. James J. Storrow of Lincoln and Boston and Mrs. Arthur W. Hall of Brookline.

The aims and policies of the movement are very wide in their scope, in that they are non-political and inter-denominational—all aiming for the highest and best in life. They embody the ideals of womanhood and help girls to prepare themselves for their responsibilities, in the home as good home-makers, and in the community as future citizens. They show the relation between the leader and the scout, in that through the game of scouting elder sisters give their younger sisters wholesome environment, and encourage them to healthy activities which will help them to develop capable citizenship habits of service and right living.

In short they center around the three main topics of home, health, and citizenship, by which they aim to make the individual girl not simply a smart Scout, perfect in uniform covered with merit badges, nor a perfect nurse, but a fine, complete human being, a good citizen, and a profitable servant to God and her country.

Lillian Grandison.

AN INCREASE SOON

The following is from a Boston Sunday newspaper:—
 "An increase of 25 cents a ton in the price of hard coal may shortly be announced by Boston dealers and a jump in the price of soft coal is also imminent.
 The hard coal jump is the usual seasonal advance that always comes about the middle of August or the first of September, a leading Boston dealer stated. This will bring the price up to $16.25 for coke and nut coal, and $16.50 for stove coal.

"The increase in the soft coal market is likely because of the continuance of the British strike, and the resultant foreign demand which is taxing American output and shipping facilities, according to W. A. Clark, president of the Coal Exchange of Boston."

FIELD IS WELL BUNCHED

Rockland Displaces Camden In League Standing, But Belfast Is Not Far Behind Either Team.

The League Standing
 Thanks to Belfast's victory over Camden last night Rockland is once more heading the Maine Coast League, if only by two points. Only 1 1/2 games separate Belfast and the leaders. It's surely a great race. The standing:

Team	Won	Lost	P.C.
Rockland	14	13	.519
Camden	13	14	.517
Belfast	12	14	.461

Coming Games
 Tonight—Camden in Belfast (League) and Rockland in Brewer (exhibition).
 Friday night—Belfast in Rockland.
 Saturday afternoon—Rockland in Belfast.

Rockland 5, Camden 2

The penant rush of the Camden team was interrupted Tuesday night at Community Park, when the Texaco, recovering from their batting slump, won a decisive victory. Lanky Jordan occupied the Camden mound for three innings, didn't like the looks of the barometer, and promptly abdicated in favor of Carr. The latter held the Texacos scoreless for the balance of the game, but was touched up for six hits in five innings, and found his pathway always beset with "dusky".

It was "dusky" Aube's fifth consecutive victory, and was in a fair way to be shut-out until the ninth inning, when an error, a hit and a wild pitch were productive of two runs. Camden's rally was killed in the bud, for Aube fanned the next three batters. His fine work in the box since the middle of July continues many fans that they are right in naming him for first choice as all-league pitcher. The job is an especially congenial one for him when his Westbrook High School pal, Chamard is on the receiving end.

After two defeats at the hands of the Lankies there was joy in the hearts of the Rockland fans when last night's second inning pointed the way to a change of fortunes.

There was one out when Chamard came to bat and singled. Campbell is a summer visitor at Unity, and a former member of the Harvard varsity team. This is his second appearance in the Coast League, the other being with Belfast in a recent game against Camden. Reed's triple Today will be your last opportunity to see Dorothy Gish in "Nell Gwynn".

Pauline Starke, Johnnie Walker, Rockcliffe Fellows, Grace Darmond and Mickey Bennett, all noted players in films, are seen in "Honesty the Best Policy." Fox Films latest sensational production, which will be seen Friday and Saturday.

The other feature is Pauline Stark in "Her Honor the Governor," a story by Hyatt Daub and Weed Dickerson.—adv.

STRAND THEATRE

Saturday only brings a triple program to the Strand The Pearl of Love from the story "The Pearl of Love's Island" by the author of Uncle Tom's Cabin. There are few indeed who have not read Harriet Beecher Stowe's Pearl of Orr's Island and enjoyed the childhood love story of little Mara and Moses, and of the events that separate them in later life and the big climax when they are reunited at the end. The film version of the immortal story is named "The Pearl of Love" and it promises to be one of the great pictures of the season. Months were spent up and down the coast of Maine in some of the worst storms ever encountered before the desired results were obtained. On the screen appears a shipwreck scene that defies description. It will be hard to realize that the few moments it is on the screen took nearly six months of untiring effort in terrific weather.

The added feature picture is "The Taxi Mystery" with Edith Roberts and Robert Agnew. The Harold Lloyd comedy "Swat The Crook" will also be shown.—adv.

VAN ARNAM'S SHOW

One of the features of John R. Van Arnams Minstrels is the band. Mr. Van Arnams takes special pride in his band and each musician is an expert. The band and escort will parade the business section of Rockland at noon on Friday and the band will give a concert in front of the Strand Theatre before the evening performance. Sweet singers, nimble dancers, funny comedians with new jokes, wonderful music by their own orchestra, together with brilliant costumes and beautiful scenery combine to make the Van Arnams Minstrels an entertainment of interest and a feast for the eye. The second part of the show, or olio, consists of seven separate novelty acts, each one different from any of the others. The show is here for one day only, tomorrow, afternoon and evening.—adv.

Fuller-Cobb-Davis

The Forty Club journeyed to Gardiner yesterday as guests of the new Gardiner Forty Club. They were fed, dined and danced and created like the proverbial kings. A complete account of the festivities will appear Saturday.

The Thomaston County Fair will be held Sept. 1-2 this year under the auspices of Battery F. C. A. C. The show will open Wednesday evening and operate Thursday afternoon and evening. There will be dances both nights and a great feature popularity contest.

A. Walter Simmons of Tenants Harbor who met with an accident on Long Cove Quarry was brought to Knox Hospital Wednesday and the X-ray located a bad fracture of the right arm, and bruises. He was taken to his home at Tenants Harbor last night and is resting comfortably.

It is good news to Rockland folk that "Enter Madame" the Bushnell coached play which has been attracting so much comment, will be repeated in Watts hall, Thomaston, tomorrow night. Tonight's house was completely sold which led the management to make the additional performance. Tickets may be obtained at Johnson's drug store.

Three venturesome damsels—Cynthia Waggart, Harriet Moran and Virginia Walker, by name—rounded the corner of Lindsey and Main streets early yesterday afternoon, and spied Frank Orbeton excavating near the main sewer pipe, 12 feet below the earth's surface. "Wouldn't it be great if we could go down there," quoth Cynthia. The response from the other lassies was prompt and affirmative and with Mr. Orbeton playing the role of Sir Walter Raleigh, down into the bowels of the earth the trio went. Harriet was very sure they must be near China, and Virginia almost swallowed her gum in the excitement of the moment, but they reached terra firma safe and sound, and quite proud of their experience in the underworld.

The three classes at Knox Trotting Park on Labor Day promise to be lively and the winner in the free for all is being already talked over.

The Hatchet Mountain Camp boys were guests of the Camden management at last night's game in Camden, and thoroughly enjoyed the wonderful pitching battle. Phil Jones was champion.

The Navy put it all over the Army at Community Park last night, the score at the end of five innings being 11 to 4. Six errors were credited to each team and four each to Umpires Beaton and Robinson. The Legionnaires, emboldened by their success on the diamond now challenge the Forty Club to a game for the supper—this is, if the Forty Club's courage will extend that far.

"ON MY SET"

Tuesday night's reception was much better than it had been for many days, with WJZ, as usual, occupying the center of the stage. The only possible complaint that can be laid at the door of this station is found in the fact that it gives so much volume that other stations on that section of the dial are out of commission while it is operating—I had several distant stations Tuesday night, among them being WTAM of Cleveland, WADC of Akron, Ohio, WBAL of Baltimore and WHT of Chicago. I heard the baseball scores over WHT and find that the Chicago station gives the games considerably more in detail than KDKA or WBZ.—Frequent references have been made in this department to the new song hit "On the Riviera." The Victor record of this song arrived at the Maine Music store yesterday, and made an instant hit with those who stopped to listen. I am inclined to think that the first purchase was Ray Eaton, who has also been listening to it on the radio. Just step into the Maine Music store and pass judgment yourself.

The ladies of St. Bernard's Church held their midsummer fair on the parish premises, corner of Park street and Broadway Tuesday afternoon and evening and are receiving many congratulations, not only upon its financial success, but the attractiveness of the affair. Booths were set up at various vantage points, each having its distinctive colors, and presided over by alert and energetic members of the committee. This was the arrangement: Fanciful articles, Miss Elizabeth Donohue and Miss Rose Adams; ice cream, Miss Emma Dorgan and Miss Winifred Coughlin; candies, Mrs. Willis Anderson, Mrs. James Derby and Mrs. J. Y. Sullivan in charge of the dining room. The tables were decorated with yellow and blue flowers, to say nothing of the interior decorations which the good cooks of St. Bernard's so well know how to prepare. The Rockland Band gave a very fine concert.

LONDON PREACHER

Rockland to be Visited By Great Successor to Spurgeon.

Beginning Monday, Aug. 30, Rockland will entertain for five days a distinguished guest from abroad in the person of Rev. Dr. H. Tydemann Chivers of London, pastor of the Metropolitan Tabernacle, made famous by Charles H. Spurgeon. For eight years Dr. Chivers has preached to Sunday congregations of 4000 at each service. When asked to account for his success he said, "I give the people bread, not pastry." His rugged, genial face radiates good cheer and it has been said that "he is the man in London best fitted to dispel the London fog".

Dr. Chivers is making his first visit to America and will come to Rockland accompanied by Dr. J. C. Massee of Tremont Temple to conduct inspirational services at the First Baptist Church from Aug. 30 to Sept. 3. The services will be open to the general public, held each night at 7:30 and four afternoons beginning Tuesday at 2:30.

Dr. Chivers is ranked among the first few great preachers of England and it is only by extraordinary good fortune that Rockland is able to have this visit from him. He came to the ministry from the business world and has a message broadly sympathetic both with the understanding of human sorrow and of the world of real life.

Rockland's newest club is the Willow A. C., with 19 members, all of High School age, and the club house is in the building on Willow street in good old Ward 3. The club has a literary, social and athletic slant with rather high ideals. A definite program is laid out for the winter. At present the club is challenging any group in its class, 15-17 years, to any sort of athletic competition. The organization has a regular procedure, definite committees and is officered thus: President, Arthur Farin; vice president, James Flanagan; secretary, Samuel Smalley; treasurer, Myer Benovitch.

He was taken to Knox Hospital where it was found that he had four ribs broken in addition to severe lacerations of his face and head. No serious results are expected. Mr. Chase is married and has four children.

One of the lamps in the illuminated face of the Butler Memorial Clock is out and the liberal comment on the shadow shows the very general interest the citizens take in their handsome new possession. City Electrician Elmer S. Pinkham is custodian of the clock and takes great pride in the task. Each dial is illuminated by three small bulbs and the failure of one of these is noticeable through a resulting shadow. The lights come on at 7 o'clock and are shut off at midnight by an automatic arrangement on the drive shaft of the clock.

Quaker Oats "stands by" you through the morning

That's why doctors urge it to start every day

TO feel right through the morning you must have well-balanced, complete food at breakfast. At most other meals—that is, at luncheon and at dinner—you usually get that kind of food but rarely at breakfast.

Thus Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder, 58% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamins and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic urge of the world today.

It is food that "stands by" you through the morning. Food that should start every breakfast you eat.

Don't deny yourself the natural stimulation this rich food offers.

Get Quaker Oats today. Grocers have two kinds: Quick Quaker, which cooks in 3 to 5 minutes, and Quaker Oats.

Quaker Oats

All I do is "soak and rinse" on washday —yet I get whiter clothes than ever.

I NEVER used a soap that rinses out so quickly, and so completely, as Rinso does.

Best of all, the dirt and stains float off in the rinsing. I don't need to do the least bit of hard rubbing—or even boil the clothes, because Rinso not only whitens, but sterilizes, too!

My clothes last much longer this easy "soak and rinse" way because now I never have to scrub them threadbare over a washboard. Yet they are whiter, brighter than ever!

Rinso is all I need on washday. No bar soaps, chips or powders. It makes the water so soft and sudsy. Just ask your grocer for

Rinso

The granulated soap that soaks clothes whiter—no scrubbing.

These suppers are becoming famous indeed, one couple came clear from Providence, R. I. to be present at last week's. One can't help but be pleased with the fine spirit being shown by the majority of the people in working for these suppers. They give such a fine opportunity for the reunion of old friends. ## EAST APPLETON

Roland Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, with a very serious accident last week. He was raking hay with the horse-rake and the horse kicked, breaking both bones of the boy's leg below the knee. The little fellow was plucky and very brave. He was taken to Belfast to the Bradbury Hospital and is reported as comfortable as possible.

Mrs. Joseph Ames is ill. Lafayette Hall died at his home Aug. 7, at the advanced age of 86 years. He was a highly respected citizen, honest and kindly to all. His aged wife died a few months ago and since that time he had failed steadily. An older brother John Hall has made his home with him for several years, and is still remarkably smart for so aged a man. The deceased was tenderly cared for during his failing health by his daughter, Mrs. George Peabody. Funeral services were held at the home, Aug. 10, Rev. Mr. Dinslow of Montville officiating. Interment was in Pine Grove cemetery. Mrs. Genevra Robbins was the guest of Mrs. Mary Ames Friday. Several from this place attended the pictures in Union Thursday evening, "The Vanishing American." People in this vicinity are very busy finishing haying and harvesting blueberries.

APPLETON RIDGE

Saturday and Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stanley were Mrs. Katherine Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Stanley, son Forrest and daughters Irolita and Vivian. Francis Stanley, sons William, Ansel and daughter Mary of Cambridge, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Stanley and daughter Belle and son Ralph, and Dorothy Brown of Watertown, Mass. ## TWO HOMES MADE HAPPY

By Women Who Used Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I think it is the most wonderful medicine I ever tried," is the statement made by Mrs. Goldie Shoup of May View, Illinois. She declares that after taking the Compound she is in better health than before.

Mrs. J. Storms of 29 Lane Street, Paterson, N. J., writes: "I can not speak too highly of your medicine and I recommend it to all my friends."

These statements were taken from two enthusiastic letters which tell of the help that has been received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound. Both Mrs. Shoup and Mrs. Storms were in a run-down condition which caused them much unhappiness. When women are suffering from lack of strength and from weakness, their own life and that of their family is affected. When they feel well and strong and are able to do their housework easily, happy homes are the result.

Are you on the Sunlit Road to Better Health?

Farm Storage Cellar Will Pay for Itself

Have you ever had the experience of trying to sell apples, potatoes and other crops when everyone else was trying to do the same thing?

Markets glutted at harvest time often knock the profits out of a season's efforts.

Why not arrange to store some of your crops so they can be marketed in accordance with demand?

Here's where the concrete storage cellar comes in. Many a farmer who has one can tell you that its total cost was returned to him the first year by being able to take advantage of marketing conditions when they were most favorable.

You can easily build a storage cellar or other concrete improvements on your farm by following a few simple directions. Let us send you a free copy of our booklet "Plans for Concrete Farm Buildings." Write for it today.

After a month and a half at the Achorn house on Lindsey street, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hopper left yesterday for Gloucester, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Hopper are well known artists from New York, who came to Rockland to spend the night, but finding interesting material along the wharves and having been made so comfortable by the ever thoughtful hospitality of Mrs. Achorn, they remained for half the summer. During this time Mr. Hopper made several water colors of the large beam trawlers in dock, painted the quarries, some old houses near the shipyard, the Talbot house and the quaint sitting room at the Achorn's, with its old organ. Many of these will appear next season at the Boston Art Club and on Fifth Avenue, New York. Mrs. Hopper painted the Hurley house also, and had the sunlight lashed, would have finished the Ingraham house with the splendid tree in front. Mrs. Achorn has watched this collection grow from day to day and as each picture was brought home she recognized with great interest some familiar spot and greeted it with all the enthusiasm of an art connoisseur. If any more artists come to Rockland, they are to be sent to Mrs. Achorn. Mrs. Hopper thinks the children of Rockland are particularly well behaved. In painting outdoors there is always the problem of how to work without being disturbed by the too live interest of the youngsters who are apt to arrive in droves, chattering and obstructing the view, making it hard to concentrate. The little people of Rockland did none of these things, they just looked them-ran along most politely.

CARRARA CROSSES

Will Mark the Graves of American Soldiers Who Died in France.

White Carrara marble is reported chosen for the permanent crosses to mark the graves of American soldiers in France.

"Civilizations stretching back to the centuries before the birth of Christ have used this marble," says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society from its headquarters in Washington, D. C. "Carrara marble served to honor pagan gods before the Christian Diety. As the deeds of American legions will be 'written' in Carrara, so were the deeds of Rome's legions.

A 2,000-Year Old Description

"It is rare that a geographical description can be used 2,000 years after it was written but here is one of the Carrara that stands the test: "Of these Luna is a city and harbor. It is named by the Greeks the harbor and city of Selene (modern Marina di Carrara, port of Carrara). The city is not large, but the harbor is very fine and spacious, containing in itself numerous harbors, all of them deep near the shore; it is, in fact, an arsenal worthy of a nation holding dominion for a long time over so vast a sea. The harbor is surrounded by a lofty mountain from whence you may view the sea and Sardinia and a great part of the coast on either side. Here are quarries of marble, both white and marked with green, so numerous and large as to furnish tablets and columns of one block; and most of the material for the fine works, both in Rome and other cities, is furnished from hence. The transport of the marble is easy, as the quarries lie near the sea."

"That was written by Strabo, Greek historian, a few years before the birth of Christ.

Leonardo Originated Cutting Method

"Ships will call at the same harbor to bring away the white marble crosses for the American graves in France. The marble will come down from the lavender-tinted Carrara Mountains, scalloped against a blue Italian sky, via the leveled course of the Strada Ferrata. It will be cut out of quarries (there are more than 600 in the district) that probably served the Romans and the Medici and the Venetians before America was discovered. Indeed, the method of cutting marble in the quarries is supposed to have originated with Leonardo da Vinci.

"Little needs to be added to Strabo's description. The visitor first sees the great mounds of marble chips as dustlike whitewash smears on the sides of the steep ravines. The three ravines holding most of the quarries are tributary to Carrara, a city of 25,000 quarrymen, quarrymen's wives and children, and crippled quarrymen. Carrara is dusty with dust of precious marble. It hums to the tune of 75 marble cutting factories. The noise of chip, chip, chip is ever in the air. In Carrara even the poorest houses have chaste white marble lintels and steps. The marble railway takes passengers free up the ravines where great white gashes memorialize marble even as marble statues later memorialize men. Somewhere a whistle blows. A pause. Then a dull explosion. Great blocks are swung out by booms to waiting wooden skids for a ride down to the railroad, and down to the sea.

Planned Mountain Memorial

"Carrara came near being the site of an enormous carving similar in concept to the Stone Mountain Memorial in Georgia which will carry the figures of Lee, Jackson, and other southern leaders. The sculptor who planned a gigantic statue overlooking the sea, to be carved out of the Carrara marble mountains was Michelangelo. He may have had his inspiration from the plan of Dinocrates to fashion Mt. Athos into a gigantic figure of Alexander looking out over the Aegean Sea. Neither plan was carried out.

"Michelangelo's 'David,' at Florence, as well as his 'Moses' and his 'Day and Night, Evening and Dawn,' are all of Carrara marble selected on location," as it were. Canova's statue of Napoleon I was carved out of a block of flawless Carrara as large as the body of the largest type of modern motor furniture van."

KATHLEEN M. SNOW, LIBRARIAN

IN THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Week days: 9 a. m. to 7.30 p. m.

Ah, but a man's hand should reach his grasp. Or what's a heaven for?—Browning.

To maintain harmony with the library budget it has been necessary for the librarian to take her turn at the charging desk during the staff vacations, though to do this unfortunately leaves time for only the most imperative executive duties, and makes it necessary to postpone the usual summer catch-up work, charging desk duties have their compensations.

This desk is the very hub of a library. It is the one point of contact between the public and the institution, and it gives one a certain stimulation that cannot be duplicated in any other part of the library duties. The brief that about that book that is just being returned, or a word or two concerning some forthcoming novel, means much to the librarian. It is her only means of learning just how the stock she has selected meets with the public's approval, and, too, through this medium she comes to know her public, unconsciously almost, but in an intimate way that nothing but the common love of books could reveal.

Then, there is the public viewpoint. Possibly it is equally important that they know their librarian. It does not require many repetitions of those very courteous but oh-so-penetrating remarks—"Oh, you are here! I've never seen you in the library before!"—to make one realize that one's work is not always judged by execution of results. Most emphatically, it is learned that librarians are to be seen, and not only must they be seen, but seen in action.

A casual over-the-desk chat recently brought this thought. The conversation had drifted into book tastes and one's own convictions in reading. The visitor had just returned from Europe and she said that when this question of reading ever came up she always thought of the way a lad in an Italian bookshop had expressed it. "I tell you," he had said, "I am never ashamed to admit that I do not know certain things, but I would be most fearfully ashamed not to know that I didn't know."

Though summer time is usually inactive in the publishing world, copies of the following new books are on the desk waiting to be put into circulation: "The Unhanging Quest" by Philip Gibbs; "Running Special" by Frank Packard; "Exquisite Perdita" by E. Barrington and "The Blue Car Mystery" by Natalie Lincoln. "The Show Boat" by Edna Ferber and "The Understanding Heart" by Peter B. Kyne will both be ready for circulation Aug. 29.

Of the above books, that by Gibbs has to do with the search for universal brotherhood and peace. Its scenes are laid in Russia and England. Frank Packard's story has to do with the thrill and romance of railroading, and the mystery story by Natalie Lincoln includes all the elements necessary for a hair-raising yarn—believable people, an element of horror, a mysterious death which finally involves all of the characters, a stolen motor car and the theft of a $1,000,000.

Events in the life of the beautiful and famous actress Perdita Robinson make the foundation upon which E. Barrington has based her latest book. Richard Sheridan and his wife are prominent characters in company with many another celebrated figure of the 18th century.

It seems that all the world loves a mystery yarn, at least all that important part of the world one greets over the library desk. Ideas vary of course as to just what makes a good story but for summer reading surely, mystery is the thing. Following is a list of the outstanding mystery stories of 1925 and 1926, available at the library:

London from Laramie by J. D. Ames.
The Seven Sleepers by Francis Beeding.
The Little White Hag by Francis Beeding.
House Without a Key by E. D. Biggers.
Mysteries of Ann by A. Brown.
The Loring Mystery by Jeffrey Farnol.
The Amaranth Club by J. S. Fletcher.
Dead Right by Jeanett Lee.
Blue Car Mystery by Natalie Lincoln.
Golden Beast and Stolen Idols by E. P. Oppenheim.
Voice from the Dark by E. Phillips.
The Spell of Sarnia by Mrs. Reynolds.
The Red Lamp and the Bat by M. R. Rinehart.
The Dream Detective by Sax Rohmer.
The Jade God by Sullivan.
Portrait of a Man With Red Hair by Hugh Walpole.
The Bronze Hand by Carolyn Wells.

A request came in the other day for "Something pleasant to read, something serious that will make me exercise my brain, and something so exciting that it will make my blood run cold." A rare opportunity this was for a librarian planning a balanced ration of books. Following is the diet prescribed: "Masquerading Story" by Emma Speed Sampson, a story that has many times filled the demand for something pleasant and light; "Psychology" by Everett Dean Martin, for the requested thought stimulator, and for a blood cooler, "Dracula," a romance of the supernatural which has long been listed as a banner story of horror and thrills.

The presence of many bright flowers has lent added charm to the library this week. The large bowl of old-fashioned flowers with their many gay colors was the gift of Miss Gladys Biechen, the other flowers coming from the gardens of Mrs. W. O. Fuller and Mrs. Chester Stewart.

Books of value and of special interest to Girl Scouts have been grouped on the center table of the children's room. The display is made more attractive by the presence of a miniature log cabin and a wee Scout who stands nearby watching the campfire. Pictures of the National Training Camp for Girl Scout leaders at Briar Cliff, N. Y., are also to be seen on the bulletin board in the rotunda.

EXPERT ADVICE

Recently the widow of a farmer, striving to keep the farm going, had some difficulty with her hens, and wrote the following letter to the department of agriculture: "Something is wrong with my chickens. Every morning when I come out I find two or three lying on the ground, cold and stiff, with their feet in the air. Can you tell me what is the matter?"

After a little while she received the following letter from the department: "Dear Madam: Your chickens are dead."—From Everybody's Magazine.

Simplicity

Means Surer Automatic Control
More Certain Service and Longer Life

The Nu-Way Burner is Simple

If you want the convenience of an oil burner and the comfort and health that accompany the even heat maintained by a perfectly functioning burner—

Then let's get down to the facts you want to know about an oil burner for your home.

Five Great Nu-Way Features

1. Simplicity The Nu-way has fewer parts than other burners observing the four laws of combustion. Every step towards simplification in any mechanical device means a step towards greater dependence in service, surer automatic control, longer life. The Nu-way has no diaphragms, no intricate working parts, and the fewest possible number of parts.

2. Quietness By reason of its simplicity, the Nu-way Oil Burner is the quietest burner made that burns oil by the four fundamental laws of oil combustion. The mechanism is silent. The only sound is that of the blazing oil in the brick lined fire-pot.

3. No Vibration Vibration means wear. The Nu-way Oil Burner runs without vibration. A penny stood on edge on the mechanism will remain there indefinitely, so free is the burner from vibration.

4. Perfectly Timed Ignition When the thermostat automatically starts the Nu-way Oil Burner, two things happen in perfectly timed sequence. First, the automatic ignition system is turned on and is waiting for the flow of air and atomized oil. This is the only method that insures correct lighting at all times. This timing is as important on your oil burner as on your motor car. This means positive ignition and eliminates the expense of a continuous gas pilot light.

5. Protective Devices Nu-way has two outstanding protective devices—features that prevent harm to your home should anything go wrong with your fire or burner. In the smoke pipe there is a combustion device that, should anything interfere with the fire in the heating plant, will shut off the burner at once. This means that no oil can be introduced into your heating plant without burning. There is also another protective device that makes it impossible for oil to flow upon the basement floor.
