CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

beayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 9. By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—The triumplis of Christianity.— whn xii, 83; 1 Cor. xv, 20-28.

Christianity is a triumphant religion. Every possible power at Satan's com power and kingdom of Christ, and yet goes on, "conquering and to con-"The gates of hell shall not prevail against it." Christianity has triumphed over material opposition. It has ever been opposed by powerful enemies, yet in the end it has come off victorious. It was opposed first of all by Judalsm. Paul was constantly followed and persecuted by those among the Jews who re jected Christ and adhered to the Mosale rites and ceremonies, yet Christianity spread most rapidly under his leadership. The Roman empire bitterly opposed the Christian religion and persecuted Christians in a most cruel manner, yet it was not long until in Constantine a Christian emperor sat upon the throne. All other such opposition has been as fruitless. The heathen have raged, but God has laughed and Christ's kingdom has advanced.

Christianity has triumphed over sin. In Christ man has the power to receive pardon for sin and power to overcome sin. In His conflict with Satan in the wilderness Christ stood the test of all his temptations. "He was tempted in all points as we are, yet without sin. What He did for Himself He is able and willing to do for those who are Because of His death our sins may be pardened, and by His strength we may overcome sin, as He overcame

Christianity has triumphed over death and the grave. In the raising of Lazarus Christ demonstrated His power over the grave. And this demonstration was further emphasized when He Himself came forth from the Death, the greatest enemy of mankind was thus overcome Death lost its sting and the grave its victory, for Christ's resurrection is an earnest of the resurrection of all mankind. "Now is Christ risen from the dead and hath become the first fruits of them that slept."

The triumph of Christianity is abundant proof of its divine origin. Noth ing else can account for its wonderfu growth from the feeblest origin and in spite of all opposition except that it be of God. This fact should cause us to rejoice if we are Christians and to accept Christ if we are not. BIBLE READINGS.

Do not think for a moment that to be a Christian means a melting away of all manliness. Far from it. The Christian ought to be the very highest type of man, and, while we would emulate all the gentleness, all the love and all the forbearance of our blessed Saviour, we would also breathe this prayer to Him and say: "With Thy gentleness give me Thy greatness, and with Thy long suffering give me Thy holy impetuosity for the Father's glory, and with all Thy meekness give me Thy boundless spirit of determined purpose. May I steadfastly set my face toward the path of duty marked out for me, to whatever it may lead." -Rev. Archibald G. Brown.

To Render a Lasting Service.

We often do more good by our sym-pathy than by our labors and render to the world a more lasting service by absence of jerlousy and recognition of merit than we could ever render by the straining efforts of personal ambition.

This is the Lord's manner: If there be but one grain of corn in many heaps of chaff He will never leave winnow ing rather the lose it. Send He will, messenger a for messenger, until He hath rathered it into His barn.-ThomAbbertisements.

A HEALTHY OLD AGE OFTENTHE BEST PART OF LIFE

Women Passing Through Change of Life

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Nervous exhaustion invites disease statement is the positive truth. When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks with-out excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation, and on cannot bear to be crossed in any you cannot bear to be crossed in any thing, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nerv-ous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegmedicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary L. Koehne. 371 Garfield Avezue. Chicago. Ill., writes: "I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years in my family and it never disappoints: so when I felt that I was nearing the change of life I commenced treatment with it. I took in all about six bottles and it did me a great deal of good. It stopped my dizzy spells, pains in my back and the headaches with which I had suffered for months before taking the Compound. I feel that if it had not been for this great medicine for women that I should not have been alive to-day. It is splendid for women,old or young, and will surely cure all female disorders."

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams O., has learned how to do this. all the M. B's. These exchanges of sympathy and thought, of experience and theory, of encouragement and remembrance which each week pervade the letters of the colamn, can but strengthen the true bond of friendship which has been developed, not by face-to-face meeting, or an acquaintance which has grown gradually to personal love, but by the anion of kindred spirits in that which makes life better, purer, broader, and which causes us to appreciate more fully the good there is in human kind.

I'll just put my head in to say a word was left out of my last letter. I mrant to say, "quoting from their favorite old home poem," and I hoped we should get some choice ones I believe if we have any I'll have to send my favorites, "The Stranger on the Sill," by Read, and "I remember", by Hood. Here is one stanza from Read:

The barn, the trees, the brook, the birds. The meadows with their lowing herds, The woodbine on the cottage wall. My heart still lingers with them all. Ye strangers on my native sill, Step lightly, for I love it still!"

By another coincidence, Esther, one of the poems you mentioned I selected for last week's issue. We shall be glad of others of your list.

M. A. B., I have not forgotten that pin. but there has been a delay on the part of those to whom I have written in regard to furnishing them, so I think we will wait and decide at the reunion about the de sign. To tell you the truth, we talk at that reunion, and talk, getting personally acquainted, and before we know it some body says it's time to go home and the pin has not been decided upon; so this year we will make that one of the definite things to settle, and I will do my best to have them ready for those who would like one early this fall. There, I believe I have not promised anything like that before, and intend to perform it unless some "unavoidable circumstance" prevents.

I will now copy one recipe from the "Aunt Madge Cook Book" which has been highly recommended to me by an old friend. The recipe is used in Kansas, and the Sponge Cookies have become quite SPONGE COOKIES—Beat to a froth three eggs and add a cup of sugar; beat five minutes. Stir into this one and one-half cups of flour (scant measure) in which one teaspoon cream tartar and one-half of soda have been sifted; add a little sait, flavor with lemon and drop in spoonfuls about three inches apart.

all of the Mutuals at the reunion, let none who cannot be there feel that they are "left out". You will not be forgotten, and hold on to the hope that another year you may be there. AUNT MADGE.

The State, by provision of law, collects certain sums from towns as taxes. This is the money paidito the State toward supporting State institutions and for the regular purposes of disbursement and appor tionment back to towns through the State treasury.

Here are the figures for Hancock county -figures taken from the official records. They are not "campaign" figures. They ury. They show how much counties receive back—many counties receiving more than they pay in State taxes. Study of the sum anything like the smartness desired, but fishermen hope that a few cooler days with a little scarcity of feed for them in the water will sharpen their appetites.

Dr. J. W. Grindle's new largest are some anything like the smartness desired, but fishermen hope that a few cooler days with a little scarcity of feed for them in the water will sharpen their appetites. cock county's totals.

"EXTRAVAGANCE!" SHOUTS DEMOGRACY. Here is how the State's money is spent so far as this county is concerned. Is there extravagance in any particular? Should any sums be curtailed? Is not every dollar noted here justly demanded by the county's needs and honestly expended? Is not the expenditure justified by legitimate progress? Yet democracy urges retrenchment and assails the motives of legislatures that have granted these sums! hat of democracy's business judgment? Democracy is challenged to name one misappropriation, one case of extravagance emocracy dares not prejudice its case by specifying. It contents itself; with pure and brazen demagogy-making general allegations with the hope of fooling some one out of a vote.

WHY DOES MAINE SPEND MORE? The taxable wealth of the people has increased, not the rate of taxation. The mills, the lowest it has been in nearly half a century. By the end of the year the State will have reduced the public debt in 1906 by almost $300,000—bringing the total debt down to a round million. There are $250,000 in Maine's treasury seeking State ends for purchase before maturity.

The larger part of the State's increase evenue has come from taxes on copora tions—exceeding a million in 1905. In ten years the valuation of Maine timberlands has been nearly doubled, and a special commission is now exploring with a view of getting at the just valuation of timber-lands for further assessment. The republican platform pronounces for equalization in taxation, and is doing practical work to that end. How can democracy criticize?

Is not the showing of Hancock county a satisfactory one? Corporations and wild ands are paying more-counties and towns are paying less—the State tax rate has been reduced a quarter of a mill. Do the taxpayers want "Gold King" Davis— Western mine operator and diverter of Maine's cash capital into his foreign schemes—do they want "Promoter" Davis at the head of State finances?

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1906.

What Shall the Answer Be? Before another issue of THE AMER-Maine mean is published, the voters of Maine will have recorded their views upon the issues that have been so fully and freely discussed in the campaign that is now closing.

No campaign in recent years has been conducted by the democrats with more vigor, with more relentleasness, with more disregard for the truth and with more disingenuoususes than the present one. They have 3' ped at nothing and stooped to nothing that by any chance would airn a vote their way.

Starting out with the slogan: "Shall M time be Honest?" they have clearly à-nonstrated that nuder their rule mer good State could not very well continue to be honest if its affairs should by any chance come under their control, and be handled in the same way they have handled facts and figures on the stump, in their newspapers and other printed matter.

Not an issue has been presented by the democrate that has not been treely and successfully met; not s charge made that has not been refuted; not a half-truth uttered the other half of which has not been supplied to their utter discomfiture.

They have charged graft; have they discovered any? They have charged scandal; have they unearthed any? They have charged extravagance in expenditure of the people's money; have they substantiated the charge? They have criticised giving aid to railroads in the form of tax rebates; Mr. Bass, a democrat, "hasn't done a thing" to that issue but kill it.

They have alleged the State tax to be a burden; have they told that the State debt has been reduced since 1882 from $4,000,000 to $1,000,000? Have they said anything about the tax-rate being reduced from four and one-half mills in 1882 to two and onehalf mills now?

These are some of the things they have not done. Let's enumerate a few of the things they have done. They ask: "Shall Maine be honest?" implying that she has not been and is not now and will not be until the management of her affairs is placed in democratic hands. In the light of M tine's growth in wealth and material pr sperity during the past twentyfive years; in the light of the in-Haence she wields in Congress through her pee less senators and representatives; in the light of her educational influence far beyond her borders; in the ugne of her financial and moral standing among her sister commonwealths, is not the suggestion that this good old State of ours has been and is dishonest a gratuitous insuit that deserves the severest rebuke that her outraged citizens can administer?

And is it not humiliating to know that such a charge emanates from within her own borders? It is diffiout to believe that this assault on the good name of our beloved State will not receive on election day the rebuke it richly deserves.

Shorn of all its attempts to deceive the people, the one real issue left to to the aiready discredited democracy of Maine stands forth in the lime-light of publicity-its advocacy of the open saloon; the legalizing of a trafac dangerous to every phase of lifethe individual, the home, the State, the nation. True the object they seek is thinly veiled under the guise of reaubmission; resubmission first-if they can get it; after that—the deluge.

A vote for Davis is a vote against everything that makes for political integrity in Maine; a vote for Davis to a slap in the face for a herole governor who has the courage of his convictions, who prefers defeat to compromise with what he believes to be right under the laws and constitution.

A vote for Governor Cobb is a vote for a brave man, for the principles and policies of a party that for a generation has taken no backward step in the State's march toward peace, progress and prosperity.

A Slander Rebuked.

The malicious attempts that are being made during these last days of the campaign to defeat Judge Chase for judge of probate are utterly unworthy the sanction of right-thinking citizens. In another column may be found some letters which ought effectually to counteract these shame-

Judge Chase was a member of Gov. Hill's council during his two terms; at the beginning of the second term he was appointed chairman of the committee on State beneficiaries and pensions-by far the most important committee of the council-and hun dreds of thousands of dollars of the State's funds were disbursed over his signature.

Gov. Hill's council is recognized as being one of the ablest for a generation, and Judge Chase was acknow ledged to be one of the strongest members of it. Surely if the State's interests suffered no detriment at Judge Chase's hands, those of Hancock county are in no danger.

For eight years previous to his election to the governor's council he was judge of the western Hancock municipal court, and there is no record of his decisions ever being questioned, or overruled on appeal. A man with an official record of this nature is not likely to go astray in caring for the interests of widows and

The distinguished gentlemen who are to address the citizens of Ellsworth at Hancock hall next Saturday evening on the political issues of the day are entitled to an audience limited only by the capacity of the hall. Senator Eugene Hale and Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives—each the acknowledged leader in his branch of Congress-are men who say nothing that is not worthy the attention and consideration of American citizens, and, irrespective of party, our people should give them a cordial welcome.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Democrat, is greatly disturbed over an alleged republican plot to cheat at the polis next Mon :ay. Don't worry, little one; there'll be no trouble of that sort unless you make it.

A vote for Cunningham, independent, for judge of probate, is a vote for Smith, democrat. Republicans should remember this.

A SLANDER REFUTED.

JUDGE CHASE A FRIEND TO THE /SOLDIERS.

WHAT PENSION OFFICERS AND G. A. R. MEN HAVE TO SAY-A STRONG LET-TER FROM CLERGYMEN OF BLUEHILL.

The persistent attempts of the demo cratic party in Hancock county, assisted by a misguided faction of the republican party, to besmirch the candidacy of Judge Chase have reached such-a point of malignity that it is about time to call a halt, and make public the facts in a case that has been warped for political purposes only.

An undertaker in this city has been active in circulating a report that Judge Chase, the republican candidate for judge of probate was, while a member of Governor Hill's council, unfriendly to soldiers, and is exhibiting a bill for the burial expense of a soldier which he says Judge Chase refused to allow. The following is a copy of the law bearing on this subject:

See, 65. Whenever any person who served

Chase refused to allow. The following is a copy of the law bearing on this subject:

Sec. 65. Whenever any person who served in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States during the war of eighteen hundred and sixty-one or during the war with Spain, and was honorably discharged therefrom, shall die, being at the time of his death a resident of this State and in destitute circumstances, the state shall pay the necessary expenses of his burial, or whenever the widow of any person who served in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States during the rebellion, and was honorably discharged therefrom shall die, being at the time of her death a resident of this state and being in destitute circumstances and having no kindred living within this state and of sufficient ability legally liable for her support, the state shall pay the necessary expenses of her burial; such expenses shall not exceed the sum of thirty-five dollars in any case, and the burial shall be in some cemetery not used exclusively for the burial of the pauper dead.

Sec. 66. The municipal officers of the city or town in which such deceased resided at the time of his death, shall pay the expenses of his burial, and if he die in an unincorporated place, the town charged with the support of paupers in such unincorporated place, shall pay such expenses, and in either case upon satisfactory proof by such town or city to the governor and council of the fact of such death and payment, the governor shall authorize the treasurer of state to refund said town or city to he governor and council of the fact of such death and payment, the governor shall authorize the treasurer of state to refund said town or city to he governor and council of the fact of such death and payment, the governor shall authorize the treasurer of state to refund said town or city to he governor and council of the fact of such death and payment, the governor shall not be constituted a pauper thereby; said proof shall contain a certificate from the post commander of the pos dent in this State legally liable for her burlal expenses.

The truth is that Judge Chase never saw the bill referred to, and it was never presented to the council for payment. The law relating to the burial expenses of soldiers was passed in 1887, before Mr. Chase was ever a member of any branch of the State government, and the blanks upon which application for reimbursement is made for the burial expenses of a soldier were prepared before he became a member of Governor Hill's council.

The committee having this matter in charge while Mr. Chase was its chairman considered every soldier who left less than $500 clear of all debts in destitute circumstances, and every such soldier was buried at the expense of the State upon application being made and the fact shown by the municipal officers of the town in which he resided. And in many cases where the returns of the municipal officers showed misfortune, sickness or a family of small children, the soldier was buried at the State's expense if his property exceeded $500 without any further question. During the second term of Judge Chase as member of Gov. Hill's council, the law was amended so as to include the burial of soldiers' and sailors' widows.

Since your service on the council, blanks are forwarded and an investigation instituted in each case. It was a great credit to the administration and yourself as chairman of the committee on military affairs. I know whereoff affirm, as I am thoroughly conversant with the matter when I had charge of the State pension office and as clerk for the governor and council, and as a veteran of the Civil war I would like to certify to your patriotism and loyalty to the old veterans in every consistent way.

I regretted the unfair criticism that was made upon yourself in a very few instances in the State. The character of your services as a member of the governor's council was an endorsement of your spirit and efficiency for the higher service you are being called upon now for the County and State.

Very Respectfully,

N. S. PURISTON.

My Dear Judge: It has been called to my aitention to-day that some of the soldiers in your county were opposing your nomination, assigning as the reason therefor that you were opposed to soldiers, and that while you were a member of the governor's council your official acts so indicated. I can hardly understand how any person could make such a statement or believe such a statement, if made. As chairman of the committee having charge of this department, as you did, I had

Old Age.

Old age as it comes in the orderly process of Nature is a beautiful and majestic thing. The very shadow of the eclipse which threatens it, makes it the more prized. It stands for experience, knowledge, wisdom and counsel. That is old age as it should be. But old age as it so often is means nothing but a second childhood of mind and body. What makes the difference? Very largely the care of the stomach. In youth and the full strength of manhood it doesn't seem to matter how we treat the stomach with the stomach is worn out. It can't prepare and distribute the needed nourishment to the body, and the body, unnourished, falls into senile decay. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a wonderful medicine for old people whose stomachs are "weak" and whose digestions are "poor". Its invigorating effects are felt by mind as well as body. It takes the sting from old age, and makes old people strong.

an excellent opportunity to know and to understand your feeling toward the old soldiers and their dependent ones, and I want to say to you frankly that I have never been associated with any roan who at any time and all times expressed himself by word and by his official act any more in sympathy with the soldier and sailtor or his dependent ones than you did. It always seemed to me that you were more liberal than the State or the appropriation would warrant, rather than being niggardly in assisting any one.

In relation to the burial of soldiers, to my personal knowledge, because I have been over very many of those claims with you, I am thoroughly satisfied that your action in connection with the burial of soldiers would bear the most careful scrutiny by any fairminded person. I do know that you did not believe that it was right for the State to pay claims without having full knowledge of what services were rendered, and I believe that you were always animated by a desire to give these men who were in need of such assistance, all that the law would allow, and insist that they should have all that could reasonably, under the law, he given them, only insisting that they should have what the State was called upon to pay for. I am satisfied that if any one will take the trouble to investigate any of the claims that were ever allowed or disallowed by you while you were chairman of that committee of the council, he will be satisfied that your action in the matter was absolutely correct and right.

The business manner in which you conducted the matters in your charge while a member of the council, was such as to receive commendation of all who knew them, and would certainly receive such commendation from any other person interested in honest administration of public affairs and on conscientious devotion to the interests of the people in your county or the State, that you are well qualified and would render services of the very highest character and efficiency. I am Yery Try yours.

E. C. Milliken,

STATE OF MAINE.

AUGUSTA, Sept. 1, 1906.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE.

AUGUSTA, Sept. 1, 1996.

PASCAL P. GILMORE, Bucksport, Maine.

My Dear Commande: We both served in the old 18th Maine regiment and know each other so well that I feel constrained to say a word to you in relation to my old friend, Judge Edward E. Chase.

Judge Chase was chairman of the military committee of the council during his services as a member of the governor's council, and I was brought more directly in contact with him than any other member. I need not say to you that I regarded him as a thoroughly honest man, and that such was his reputation here. I think I have as deep an interest in the old soldiers who served this country faithfully as is possible for any one to have, and I wish to say to you that I believe we have never had a man at the head of the military committee who has shown higher appreciation of the services rendered the country by the men who served in the army from our good old State of Maine than Judge Edward E. Chase.

No soldier ever appealed to him with a just case who was not granted immediate and prempt attention, and who did not receive everything that could be given him under the law. If he had been z comrade he could not have shown a stronger desire to do everything in his power for our old friends than he did show during his services as a member of the governor's council. I wish you to know this, and to say to our friends for me that if our comrades ever had a true friend in the council who carefully guarded and looked after their interests to the fullest extent it was Judge Edward E. Chase, of Buschill.

Very truly yours,

Augustus B. Farnham,

Adjutant General.

BLUERILL, Me., Sept. 4, 1906.

Blueritti, Me., Sept. 4, 1906.

To the Editor of The American:

In view of the standerous statements that have been made upon the personal character of our feilow-townsman. Judge E. E. Chase, we desire to make the following statement:

We have been pastors of the two churches here for the past eight years, and know Mr. Chase by an almost daily acquaintance. We know him well, and know him to be a man of ability and reliability, well qualified in every way to discharge the duties of the office for which he is an aspirant. He is kind and indulgent in his family, benevolent toward the poor and needy, fair in his treatment of the unfortunate, public-spirited and progressive in his ideas, and one who has always discharged his public trusts with faithfulness. We feel confident that the slanderous statements referred to above emanated in the heat of controversy, and are the results of disappointed personal and political ambitions.

We take pleasure, therefore, in speaking this word of appreciation, and commending him to the confidence and support of the voters of Hancock county.

Short Sketches of Republicans to be Next Monday the battle of the ballots will be fought. It will be a titanic struggle. The party in power is the party on trial. The republican party appeals to the people for continued support, and justifies that appeal by its unbroken record of the past quarter of a century.

It has placed a ticket in the field, and asks for it the support of all who believe in upholding the constitution of the State, in the enforcement of law, and in defending the State from unjust assaults whether from within or from without.

Its nominees from top to bottom are men whose public and private life are above reproach, men in whose hands the affairs of State, county and town can safely be entrusted.

GOV. COBB. Voted for Next Monday.

No governor of Maine in recent years has been put to such tests as has Gov. Cobb. Nominated two years ago after one of the snarpest batiles ever waged within the party, he was triumphantly elected on a platform of his own choosing, and on which he has stood unflunchingly.

He asks for re-election on the same general grounds, and neither he nor his friends believe that it will be denied him.

which he has stood unfinchingly.

He asks for re-election on the same general grounds, and neither he nor his friends believe that it will be denied him. CONGRESSMAN BURLEIGH.

Maine has acquired the habit of wisely selecting her congressmen, and of keeping them in their seats so long as they are useful—and they are always useful. Congressman Burleigh has represented the old third district so long, and his usefulness has been so well demonstrated that term after term he is nominated without opposition. And while he will have some opposition at the polls, no one supposes for a moment that he stands in danger of defeat.

FOR SENATORS.

FOR SHERIFF.

Deasy, of Bar Harbor. The former has served one term in the upper branch, where he proved himself an industrious and useful member. Mr. Deasy is one of the brilliant lights of the Hancock county bar; a profound thinker, a deep scholar, keen of wit, apt of speech, forceful of delivery, earnest and sincere. Into no safer hands than these could the large and rapidly-increasing interests of Hancock in the State Senate be entrusted.

FOR CLEEK OF COURTS.

FOR CLERK OF COURTS. No one who has had to do with the office of the clerk of courts can gainsay that the presen. incumbent, John F. Knowlton, is the right man in the right place. By nature a gentleman, by training a scholar, he has brought the attributes of both to the business of the office he has held so long and with such conspicuous fidelity that no one even in his own party has had the temerity to dispute with him the honor of nomination.

In his early years Mr. Knowlton was a school teacher; later a professor in the East Maine conference seminary at Bucksport. In his leisure moments he studied law, and a few years ago sought and obtained admission to the bar. No one who has had to do with the office

cessful candidate on the opposition ticket two years ago.
Winfield S. Treworgy, of Surry, was the nominee—a man of high character, successful in his life work, of sterling worth, not without experience in public life.

BHF received theinomination unfettered by pledge save the pledge to enforce all laws, especially the prohibitory law; or promise save the promise faithfully to attend to the duties he might be called upon to perform.

FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY.

The nominee for county attorney is Charles H. Wood, of Bar Harbor, now serving his first term. He has proved himself the peer of a long line of illustrious predecessors. The legal interests of the county are safe in his hands. He trious predecessors. The legal interests of the county are safe in his hands. He was renominated by acclamation, and will receive the full party vote.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER. Always an important office, that of county commissioner has become doubly so during the last decade or two, in which the valuation of the county has doubled, and since the State has imposed duties calling for sound business judgment and an expenditure of far more time than was formerly required.

For this office the republicans selected Fred R. Page, of Bucksport, a man whose business for many years has especially well equipped him for the work he will, if elected, be called upon to perform.

FOR REGISTER OF DEEDS. The dea'h of William B. Campbell, who was renominated by acclamation for register of deeds at the republican county convention in June, made a special convention necessary to fill the vacancy. There were many candidates, although but three were presented to the convention. The nominee was Charles Peters—a Hancock county boy born and bred, who left his home in early manhood, returning to it a year or two ago, drawn hither by ties of kindred, early associations, and business interests.

He has always been identified with the republican party, and actively engaged in promoting its interests. When the vacancy in the ticket occurred he went vigorously to work to secure the nomination, and was successful.

He has been appointed by the Governor to fill out the unexpired term of the late incumbent, and is now in charge of the office.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER. FOR COUNTY TREASURER.

Robert B. Holmes, of Ellsworth, was nominated for county treasurer, by acclamation. A life-long resident of Ellsworth, Mr. Holmes has earned the reputation of being as keen a business man as he has been a successful one. He has done valiant service for the party which has nominated him, and if elected he will serve the county with the fidelity that has characterized his business transactions in private life. in private life.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

Voters of Elisworth should not overlook the fact that a vote for Lynwood F. Giles for representative to the legislature is a vote for Senator Frye, the distinguished colleague of our own honored Senator, Eugene Hale.

Mr. Giles is a member of the Hancock county bar, a successful practitioner, and a man who is amply able to care adequately for the interests of his constituents.

Crowded Hall Welcomed Governor Cobb in Ellsworth.

Cobb in Ellsworth.

Hancock hall was crowded to the doors last Saturday evening, when Gov. William T Cobb spoke on the issues in the present campaign. The meeting was presided over by Col. John F. Whitcomb. Lynch's band furnished music.

Gov. Cobb's speech was a calm, dispassionate, dignified review of the principal issues in the campaign. He took for his text the question propounded by the demorats "Shall Maine be honest," which he said was an insult to the people of Maine. Quoting from a psimplet being circulated by the democratic campaign managers, he proceeded to explode some of the statements and half-truths made therein. He touched upon the States finances. He said: "Maine is extremely prosperous. It has touched upon the States finances. He said:

"Maine is extremely prosperous. You know it. You see it on the farm, in the shop, in the mill and in every current of trade which blows up and down the State. The people the State of Maine is receiving more income

Since Jan. 1, 1905, the principal has been year it will be reduced still more. Twentyfive years ago the State tax was four and onehalf mills. Our debt has been reduced, the interest has been reduced, and the rate of taxation

Bill of Fred Moore for eight lambs killed by dogs at $3 each, was referred to Ald. McCarthy on committee of one.

The committee on streets, to which was referred matter of sidewalk on Spring street to Joseph Luchini's house, asked further time.

W. E. Whiting, attorney for Frank Sargent, appeared before the board to suggest a means of compromise on the claim for damages of his client from the new Mariaville road. It is probable that some satisfactory settlement will be made.

The board voted to pay note of $1,000, dated Jan. 20, 1900, to the Rose D. Jordan estate; also two notes of $2,000 each, for temporary loans made last spring.

Curtis R. Foster addressed the board in relation to the unsightly condition of the city lot in Woodbine cemetery. The matter was referred to Ald. Austin and Tripp, as a special committee. It is probable the lot will be graded and seeded.

Ald. McCarthy, of the committee to which was referred the matter of building walk from the Witham corner on Mill street to the Nevills house, reported that about 350 feet of plank would be needed.

The committee was authorized to have the work done. work done.

EAST FRANKLIN.

The Pencoscot Bay & River Steamboat Co. has purchased the steamer M. and M., for service on the bay and river route, where she will be used in connection with the steamer Rockland. The M. and M. was the first boat run on the Bucksport and Lamden route for a number of years, with Capt. W. D. Bennett and Daniel Kerst as owners. She was afterward sold to Capt. I. E. Archibald, of Rockland, and succeeded by the steamer Merryconeag, and that steamer by the Golden Rod and later the steamer Rockland. M. has been rebuilt since she was owned by Bennett and Kerst, and is now a good boat in excellent condition.

A very pleasant gathering Thursday was arranged by Fred H. Orcutt, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, who, with his family, has been spending a short time here with friends. Mr. Orcutt was a former resident of Bucksport and a descendant of Colonel Sewell Lake, who was landlord of the Robinson house from 1826 to 1832. As there are quite a number of the Colonel's descendants in town, Mr. Orcutt was desirous of meeting them all. He extended

It brought together many of the name, besides hundreds of others who enjoyed a picnic dinner and supper in Young's grove, which is noted for its grand and stately pines. THE NEW HOWARD COTTAGE.

THE NEW HOWARD COTTAGE.

One of the most attractive of Bar Harbor's cottages is the one just built here by Frank T. Howard, of New Orleans. There are many distinctive features in the Howard cottage, of which Fred L. Savage was the architect.

In going into the cottage one passes through the vestibule and then into the palm room which is a spacious apartment 20x30 feet and two stories in height. It has a glass roof and a gallery extending entirely around the room, affording a most splendid opportunity for the display of palms and flowers.

At the left of the palm room is the bit-liard room which opens from the palm room through broad sliding doors, and to the right of the palm room is the flower room and corridor leading to the kitchen wing. Passing straight shead through the palm room, one enters the hall proper—the staircase hall. From this to the right is the dining-room and to the left is the living-room. Beyond the living-room is a most charming and splendidly planned sun parlor entirely encased in glass.

Passing through the hall to the water front one notices the magnificent broad French windows on either side of a large open fireplace. These windows open on the first floor, bicycle room, etc. On the second floor there are seven commodious master's chambers, a large sitting-room and six bath-rooms.

The third story is entirely given over to servants' quarters. There are ten chambers and two bath rooms, and in addition ine third story is entirely given observants' quarters. There are ten chambers and two bath rooms, and in addition a trunk room, storage room and linen closets. The villa is picturesquely located, with a magnificent view.
