and in Auburn and South Framingham, Mass.

Dr. W. E. Emery, of Surry, who has been critically ill for some days past, is reported very low at noon to-day.

Mrs. Harry H. Austin and child, who are spending the summer in Bucksport, are visiting Mr. Austin's parents, Arthur W. Austin and wife.

A large number of Ellsworth people are attending the Cherryfield fair to-day, and good weather to-morrow will take another large crowd to the fair.

The building at the corner of Hancock and Main streets, owned by Dr. A. C. Hagerthy, is being raised, and a store will be built in the basement.

The Ellsworth festival chorus will hold a rehearsal to-morrow evening. All members, especially those who are to go to Bangor, are urged to be present.

Rev. S. W. Sutton will preach next Sunday morning upon "The Significance of the International Congress of Religious Liberals", which meets in Boston Sept. 22-27.

Mrs. C. P. Dorr and Mrs. A. A. Braymer left Saturday for Boston, called there by the illness of Mrs. Dorr's daughter, Mrs. W. C. Lovell, who is in the Somerville hospital.

Miss Florence Smith, who has spent the summer with her parents, M. B. Smith and wife, has returned to New York to resume teaching in the New York Institute for the Deaf.

The Maine Central railroad will issue excursion tickets to Bar Harbor every Thursday until Oct. 3 at 90 cents for the round trip, and to Southwest Harbor for $1.40 the round trip.

Miss L. E. Morris entertained a party at Birch point cottage Saturday evening. Supper was served on the grounds which were prettily lighted, after which all partook of a corn-roast on the beach.

Libeons D. Patten has been drawn as grand jurymen and E. E. Brady and T. E. Hale as traverse jurymen to serve at the October term of the supreme court, which will convene at Ellsworth Oct. 8. Justice A. B. Savage, of Auburn, will preside.

The Dirigo club is arranging for its annual entertainment and ball on Thanksgiving eve. A committee of arrangements has been appointed, consisting of Charles P. Halpin, J. A. Cunningham, W. J. Clark, Jr., W. E. Clark and E. F. Small.

The funeral of Mrs. Annie E. Stanley, who died at Lamorne Friday, took place at Bayside Sunday, Rev. V. F. Hendee, of the Ellsworth Methodist church, officiating. Mrs. Stanley was fifty-seven years of age. She leaves a husband, three sisters and two brothers.

News was received here last week of the death of Mrs. Philena Swan Leland, at Watsonville, Cal., on Sept. 11, aged seventy-three years. Mrs. Leland was a native of Waltham. She was a sister of Mrs. Gideon S. Cook, of this city. She leaves two sons, who reside in California.

Rev. P. A. A. Killam, of the Baptist church, will leave the last of this week for a missionary trip through Washington county. In his absence the pulpit of the Baptist church will be occupied next Sunday, morning and evening, by Lester Norton, of Crozer seminary, Chester, Pa. Mr. Norton will preach at Hancock in the afternoon.

LaBarre Bros.' minstrels is the next attraction scheduled at Hancock hall, and will appear here Saturday evening. The company is said to be a particularly strong one, and has a good array of musical talent, headed by the inimitable comedian, Eddie LaBarre. A street parade will be given at noon, and a free concert in front of the hall at 7.30.

Thomas J. Holmes has decided to rebuild the burned store on Main street, adjoining the new Eddy building. A brick party wall will be built between this and the other store on the east side owned by Mr. Eddy. The Holmes building will be of the same general design as the new Eddy building. A. M. Foster will do the work. It is probable that the other building of the burned row will soon be rebuilt by Mr. Eddy.

Clarence E. Chase and wife (Ida Baker) were among the passengers on the Quebec express which was wrecked near Canaan, N. H., early Sunday morning, with loss of more than thirty lives. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Chase was injured, they being in the Pullman which escaped. They were returning from their wedding trip, and with the exception of their hand luggage, lost all their baggage, including trunks containing Mrs. Chase's wedding wardrobe.

A runaway horse Monday evening took an unusual route. The horse, attached to a jigger, started on Hancock street and ran down Main street. At postoffice square the runaway turned into State street at full speed, but made the turn safely, and then turned down the mill road, up which it ran until it brought up in a heap in the rocks where the rock crusher was formerly located. The horse was cut somewhat and the wagon badly damaged.

The scarlet fever has been confined to the three cases in one family on Water street, originally reported. These cases have been strictly quarantined by the board of health, and the children are now recovering. The schools of the city proper, including the high school, the opening of which was deferred for one week by order of the board of health on account of scarlet fever, will probably open next Monday. Schools in the rural districts opened last Monday.

The route of the new road, or sections of the shore road, which it will be necessary to build because of the flowage from the new dam, has been staked out. It follows the higher land, back from the present road a short distance. The route seems to be generally acceptable. Several owners of property on the shore road who have sold out to the power company, retaining their buildings, plan to move them back to the line of the new road.

At a pretty luncheon given by Mrs. L. H. Cushman last Thursday afternoon, an announcement was made of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Julia Rogers Cushman, to Alpheus Crosby Lyon, of Bangor. Sixteen girl friends of Miss Cushman were present. The dining room was decorated in green and white, and the other rooms in red and white. The place cards were pretty souvenirs, bearing hand-painted designs appropriate to the occasion. Between courses, there was music. Miss Cushman is one of Ellsworth's popular girls. She is a graduate of the Ellsworth high school, and has been a student at the Bridgewater (Mass.) normal school. Mr. Lyon is the son of Mrs. E. E. Lyon, of Bangor. He is a civil engineer—a graduate of the University of Maine and Massachusetts institute of technology.

And now a big bull moose, with a magnificent set of antlers, is prowling about Ellsworth. Yesterday morning the family of M. J. Drummey, on the Franklin road, saw the moose in the road in front of the house about 6 o'clock. Mr. Drummey finished a hasty toilet and went from the house to get a closer view of the lord of the forest. The moose had gone up toward the cemetery. Mr. Drummey went through the cemetery to head him off. He came upon him unexpectedly, only twenty-five feet off. The moose trotted off a short distance and turned to look at him. Mr. Drummey remembered the old story about whistling to rabbits, and he tried it on the moose. It worked. The moose turned and started toward him. Mr. Drummey started for the tall timber which in that vicinity happened to be a cedar tree. Safely and quickly up the tree, he turned, expecting to see the moose beneath him, but the big fellow had disappeared. The moose returned to the road, stopped for a survey of the situation in front of the hearse house, and when Mr. Drummey's son gave chase, he trotted through the garden and into the pasture toward Black's meadow.

North Ellsworth Fair.

The fair of the North Ellsworth Farmers' club will take place Wednesday and Thursday of next week. An interesting programme of races has been arranged. On the first day there will be a three-minute race, special oat race, running race, peg race and slow race. On the second day there will be a running race, slow race, a peg race and free-for-all. The drawing of horses will take place the second day.

The feature of the second day will be a balloon ascension. It has been several years since there has been a balloon ascension in Ellsworth, and this will prove a drawing card to many of the boys and girls who have never seen one.

There will be a dance both evenings of the fair. Lynch's band will furnish music during the day, and Monaghan's orchestra for the dance.

Meals will be served in the lower hall on the fair grounds at all hours. The fair will be postponed if rainy.

Parish Meeting.

The annual parish meeting of the Congregational church was held at the chapel last Monday evening. J. H. Brimmer was moderator, and O. W. Tapley recorded.

The following officers were re-elected: Standing committee, A. W. King, J. F. Whitcomb, H. M. Hall; clerk and treasurer, O. W. Tapley.

It was voted to raise funds for meeting expenses by voluntary subscriptions, as heretofore.

The various appointments will be made at a later meeting.

Jellison Family Reunion.

The fifteenth annual reunion of the Jellison family will be held in Gerry's hall, Ellsworth Falls, Tuesday, Sept. 24. All relatives are invited.

CITY MEETING.

Action on Power Line Petition Deferred—State Street Cemetery.

A recess meeting of the city government was held Thursday evening. The full board was present. The principal object of the meeting was for further hearing and decision on petition to erect a power transmission line on the old Bangor road, but this matter did not come before the board, being deferred pending negotiations for a private right of way along the Maine Central railroad.

Rev. R. B. Mathews, pastor of the Congregational church, appeared before the board in relation to improvements at the cemetery back of the church. Mr. Mathews, who instituted the movement for improving the cemetery, and by private subscription raised a fund to begin the work, discovered that the cemetery was the property of the city.

The lot was deeded to the inhabitants of Ellsworth by Melatiah Jordan in 1818, for perpetual maintenance as a cemetery and for no other use. The city's ownership had been forgotten until the fact was brought to light by Mr. Mathews. A copy of the deed was submitted to the aldermen.

Mr. Mathews spoke of the need for improvement, and in view of the city's responsibility by ownership, the aldermen voted to appropriate a sum not exceeding $100 from the contingent fund for the purpose of properly fencing the cemetery, the work to be done under the direction of two members of the city government, acting with Mr. Mathews. Mayor Greeley and Alderman Stuart will so act.

The board devoted the remainder of the evening to revising the jury list. Many names were removed from the box because of age limitation or death, and new names were put in, bringing the number up to the quota—eighty-five.

A recess was taken to Thursday, Sept. 19.

The Up-River Fair.

The fair of the Northern Hancock Agricultural society at Amherst will take place on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 1 and 2. The up-river fair, as it is generally known, is looked forward to by many as the autumn leaf carnival. The woods are usually in their gayest dress at the time of this fair, and the roads to Amherst from whatever direction one approaches it lead through country where the foliage is seen at its best.

But the delight of the ride is not the only attraction. The officers of the fair association each year present a good list of attractions, and the dances and dinners are big drawing cards in themselves. Among the attractions this year are the diving dog Dewey, ball games, trial of draft horses, baby show, etc. There is always something doing at the Amherst fair.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1907.

The discovery by Rev. Mr. Mathews that the cemetery in the rear of the Congregational church is the property of the city—a fact long forgotten—has led to the aldermen making a generous appropriation for the work, already started by Mr. Mathews, of putting this spot, so long neglected, into presentable shape.

There is nothing new in the political situation. Secretary Taft's strength seems to be growing daily, and Governor Hughes is slated to be re-elected governor of New York next fall. Mr. Bryan seems to be slated for the democratic nominee, although Lieut. Gov. Chasler's friends are trying hard to cultivate a presidential boom for him. Thus far, the political situation is purely tentative, and is liable to change any day. The one thing which seems unchangeable is President Roosevelt's popularity, and the fact that if he won't take the nomination, the people want the man he thinks best fitted to carry out his policies.

There is no division of the government more cordially hated than the bureau of corporations. It is hated by the Standard people, by the beef trust, by the steel trust, and the lumber trust, by the international harvester and all other institutions and corporations which object to being prosecuted when they violate the anti-trust and the anti-rebate laws. It is so cordially hated that J. P. Morgan's daily paper devotes at least one editorial a week to making fun of the bureau and the commissioner, and to condemning its work and methods. There are other people in the United States, the great army of consumers, for instance, who love the bureau for the enemies it has made, and they are not likely to take much stock in the editorials and garbled news stories attacking its work.

CALVE, THE PEERLESS.

Famous Opera Singer to be at Bangor Oct. 5.

Owing to the tremendous demand for single tickets Calve night and in order that the out-of-town people may not be disappointed on reaching Bangor to find that it will be impossible to procure a ticket or seat, the management has decided to break over the rule this season, owing to the greatest attraction in the world, Madame Calve and her entire company, Mile Chemet, and Mons. Decresse, together with Mr. Chapman's superb New York orchestra, and the great festival chorus in their most popular numbers.

From all indications now this will be the most brilliant audience ever assembled in Maine. Never in the history of the festival have so many demands come for tickets. The management is trying to keep the Calve tickets from the hands of the speculators. In western Maine at the auction sale nearly all of the desirable seats were purchased, and the public will be obliged to pay $10 for the same to hear Mme. Calve.

Tickets will arrive in Ellsworth on or about Sept. 20, and can be purchased only through the local agent, Harry L. Crabtree. Applications should be made at once for tickets. These tickets will remain in Ellsworth four days, and no extra charge for them will be made for buying them from Mr. Crabtree. After that all applications should be made to M. H. Andrews, Bangor, where the public will have to take their chances.

Never in the history of Maine has there been given such a great concert. The expense to the management is between $5,000 and $6,000, and no one who has the slightest love for music can fail to be present on this great occasion. All the concerts of the entire festival are the most interesting since the organization of the festival. The grand opera night—Friday—is a close second to the Calve performance. The greatest cast that can be procured in America will appear—Janet Spencer, Daniel Beddoe, Cecil Fauning and others.

Wrecked Off Hancock Coast.

SWAN'S ISLAND, Sept. 16 (special).—The Italian barkentine Emilia, of Castellamare, Italy, from Aberdeen, Scotland, to Stockton Springs in ballast, ran ashore on Black ledge at 5 a. m. Sept. 12, in a thick fog. The crew got ashore on the ledge. The steam smack Herman Russing took the captain to Stonington.

The vessel will be a total loss. She is full of water, with several holes in her bottom. The bark has a registered tonnage of 385, and was valued at about $30,000. She carried sand for ballast. She is being stripped under the direction of the captain.

COUNTY GOSSIP.

Stonington and Deer Isle are now tightly joined by an iron bridge.

The oldest and best-known of the Grand Banks captains sailing out of Bucksport has "crossed the bar". Capt. John F. Peterson, the commodore of the Nicholson fleet, died on his vessel at the Grand Banks last week.

Bar Harbor's village improvement society, which has interested itself in the preservation of forests on Mt. Desert island, has received promise of expert assistance by the U. S. department of agriculture. A forestry expert will visit the island this fall, preliminary to a more extensive investigation to be made by the department next year.

Ora Frost of Mariaville, while out looking for sheep which had strayed from the flock, unexpectedly met face to face a big black bear. Mr. Frost, taken by surprise, showed good blood and emptied both barrels of the shot gun which he had with him at the bear, but being excited, either missed, or the fine shot did not affect him. Mr. Frost then clubbed the gun and fought the bear until he saw an opportunity to escape. He got away, hurried home for a rifle and returned, but the bear had decided not to wait for him.

At a Bar Harbor wedding last week the bride, a New York girl, wore a costume very much out of the ordinary. It was a classic Greek tunic of purple and white. She wore jeweled sandals beneath bare feet, while her hair, which reaches to the floor, was loosely braided and crowned with a Greek fillet. The reason for this departure was that the bridegroom was a Greek. The bride says she proposes to adopt the costume for daily use, believing it the most comfortable and healthful she can wear. Incidentally such a costume is doubtless very graceful and becoming, but it will take courage for an American girl to wear it, so closely tied up is humanity in the bonds of the conventional.

A despatch from Orono to the Boston Globe says: "The appointment by Gov. Cobb of Hon. Sumner P. Mills, of Stonington, as a trustee of the University of Maine, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. Elliott Wood, of Winthrop, is something of a significant departure. Appointments to this much-sought and important position have in times past been confined to men of mature years and long public career, but the new appointee is the youngest ever placed on the board, being thirty-three years old. Mr. Mills has had a brilliant political career. He is a native of Stonington and attended Kent's Hill seminary. He read law in the office of the law firm of Charles E. and A. S. Littlefield in Rockland, receiving much early tutelage from the senior member, who is now a Maine congressman. He finished his course in Boston university and began practice in his native town. In 1903 he was sent to the State legislature as representative from his class towns, and at twenty-nine was one of the youngest men in that body. The next session he was one of the two senators from Hancock county, and was returned at the last session. In the meantime he held nearly all the different town offices and made a brilliant record in all. He has always been deeply interested in University of Maine affairs, and his election to the board is a matter of much satisfaction to the friends of the institution."

CAPT. PETERSON DEAD.

Old Grand Banks Fisherman Died on His Vessel.

A telegram last Thursday from St. Johns, N. F., announced the sudden death of Capt. John F. Peterson, of South Penobscot, on board his vessel, the Bucksport fisherman, Hiram Lowell.

Capt. Peterson had probably made more trips to the banks than any other man living, and was the oldest captain in the business.

Born in Castine seventy years ago, he made his first trip to the Banks when eleven years old, and with the exception of two years when he was in the West Indian trade, and four years in the navy during the Civil war, he has been going ever since. His first trip as captain was in the schooner Diana, when he was but twenty-one years of age.

After the war Capt. Peterson sailed from Bucksport in the schooner Albatross, Capt. Angus Nicholson, one trip, and the next two years sailed as master of the schooners Telegraph and Daniel Webster.

He made several trips from Deer Isle, and went fourteen years out of Lamoine. During that time the three-master, F. D. Hodgkins was built for him. For the past twelve years he has sailed out of Bucksport in the T. M. Nicholson. Capt. Peterson sailed on his thirty-ninth and last trip to the Grand Banks in June, and this was his thirty-first summer in the region of fog and cod.

In all his Grand Banks experience he has failed but twice to bring in a full fare, and although he has had some thrilling times at sea, never came in with colors at half-mast for a man lost.

Capt. Peterson had a fine home at South Penobscot, where he and his wife lived. He leaves besides his wife, three children, Capt. Bolton Peterson, of this place, Joseph Peterson and Mrs. Fred Conner, of Castine.

Capt. Peterson has seen one great fleet of Grand Banks fishermen disappear and another takes its place. He has sailed in the days when 500 quintals was considered a big fare, and it would take five or six of the old-time craft to carry the load of any of the Nicholson fleet. The old fleet has nearly disappeared except a few vessels now used as coasters.

Capt. Peterson was held in high esteem by all who knew him.

The price of popularity is a willingness to be bored.

This is the secret of this fine art which some people possess of always finding good and beauty in others. They have goodness and beauty in themselves. There are such people, and there is no reason why all should not set this ideal for our lives.—F. R. Miller.

Helpsomehow society has an outing at Pleasant Beach.

[Contributed.]

The Helpsomehow society's third annual straw ride, chowder and corn roast, with peanut finale, has passed into history. All ingredients necessary for a good time were in evidence. There was a good moon and fine weather.

The crowd filled Clifton Woodward's hayrack so that we had to have an overflow meeting when the long hill was reached. The names of the chowder committee—Mrs. U. G. Hodgkins, Mrs. Rodney Higgins and Austin Maddox—guaranteed the excellence of the chowder. Even the chefs of Delmonico could not have produced a concoction that was more palatable to a supperless crowd, and its palatability was equalled only by its invisibility a few moments after we reached our destination.

The destination, by the way, or speaking more strictly, the end of the journey, was the cottage owned by Mrs. E. A. Joyce on Pleasant beach, and we received a royal welcome from Mrs. Joyce. She enjoyed the spree as much as any of us, and left no dish unturned in her effort to provide for our gastronomic needs.

On the way down several people acted as grand high hornblower, taking turns, as there was only one horn in the party. The most distinguishing achievement of the trip was the invention of a yell. Ever since its organization the Helpsomehow society has been without a yell. Famous organizations have their yells, and the Helpsomehowers determined to be handicapped no longer in this respect, and hence the invention and adoption of a yell that thrilled many a Baysider last night. (Absent members can have a copy of the same on application to the president.)

Following the chowder the whole party adjourned to the beach where a roaring fire was soon kindled, and the corn roast was enjoyed. Following the roast, a short business meeting was held in the cottage, and then homeward bound.

Mrs. Joyce received a hearty vote of thanks for her generous hospitality, and in parting, was saluted with the yell. On the way home, the modern Casabianca, Miss Pomeroy, stood on the forward deck of the craft, and with the help of the entire party, ate peanuts by the peck. We were fortunate to have with us as chaperone, Rodney Higgins, whose experience in this line made him a valuable addition to the party.

The only disappointed mortal in the crowd was a certain Mr. Hopkins, who had selected a particularly comfortable seat, and who climbed out to lighten the load uphill, only to find a usurper on his throne when he climbed in again. Songs enlivened the return trip, one of the features being an antiphonal chorus, and with a wink at the man in the moon the third annual was over.

Closing words and benediction

That alone can be called true refinement which elevates the soul of man, purifying the manners by improving the intellect.—Coleridge.

Show me the man you honor—I know by that symptom better than any other what kind of a man you yourself are; for you show there what your ideal of manhood is; what kind of a man you long inexpressibly to be.—Carlele

SEA SERPENTS.

They Exist, but Not the Monsters of the Forecastle Yarn.

[Written for THE AMERICAN by Capt. R. G. F. Canagaratne.]

I have frequently been asked if I ever saw a sea serpent, and have replied: "Yes, hundreds!" I have seen many on the coast of India, in the Bay of Bengal, and in the China and Java seas, of one to three or four feet in length, but not the gigantic sea serpents of the story books. That kind, in my cruising about the world, I never saw, and doubt if any one else ever did.

Many years ago I imagined that I saw one in the Straits of Florida, fifty or sixty feet in length, with head and mane reared above the water, propelled by wriggling along apparently at the rate of five or six miles an hour. He was a distance away from our ship. My imagination pictured the real live sea serpent I had longed to see, so the better to observe him, I went up the mizen rigging, where, to my disgust, I found it was a floating tree. Its roots gave the appearance of a serpent's head and mane, and the seas rippling along the tapering trunk that of the wriggling motion. I was greatly disappointed, and since then, by long experience at sea, have been a non-believer in the great sea serpent.

Of the smaller kind I have seen hundreds, perhaps thousands, in the localities already named, some of them a hundred leagues or more from land. Horsburgh, in his "East India Directory," describes them upon the approach to Bombay, as follows:

If a lookout be kept they will be seen on the edge of soundings, small at first, but growing larger and larger as the coast is approached.

I had found to be true on two voyages I made to Bombay, in the southwest monsoon, when observations of the sun could not be had, and they showed quite clearly my ship's position.

Many years ago I was first officer of the clipper ship Wizard, bound from Canton to New York, and had reached the Java sea where sea snakes were plentiful about our ship. The captain and I were walking the poop in the dog watch when our attention was directed to a fishhawk which swooped down alongside, caught a snake in its talons and soared aloft directly over the ship. The snake squirmed and twisted, got a turn round the hawk's neck, choked it and caused it to drop his prey, which fell directly into the negro cook's dish-tub as he sat washing his supper dishes at the galley door. The old cook rose in fright, seized a billet of wood and killed the snake.

The captain and I, having witnessed the performance, walked along to the galley to examine the snake, which was some three feet in length, of a brownish color and a dirty yellow on the belly, as they all are. Their bite is said to be very poisonous, and natives bitten by them when in bathing are said usually to die from the effect of the poison.

I said to the cook: "Doctor, that snake falling into your dish-tub gave you a fright, didn't he?"

"Oh, no, sir," said he, "it takes more'n one snake to scare a nigger. When I was in de Hongqua in de parter, dere be a dozen snakes like dat on deck every mornin', dat crawled frow de hospipes in de night."

The old cook had been nearly frightened out of his boots, as we had seen, but was brave as a lion when the snake was dead. For a "snake liar," we thought him entitled to the prize.

CASTINE NORMAL SCHOOL.

Three New Teachers—Prof. Richardson Still the Honored Head.

Miss Anna C. Witherle, A. B., Mary C. Richardson, A. B., and Hattie A. Wiggin are elected teachers at the Castine State normal school.

Miss Witherle is a graduate of the school, and of Wellesley college, and is a teacher of experience. She has been superintendent of schools in Castine.

Miss Richardson is also a Castine graduate of the class of 1899, and graduated at Wellesley college in 1905. She taught in the Castine normal before entering college, and was assistant at Potter academy. After graduation from Wellesley she taught mathematics one year in Middletown (Conn.) high school, then in the Genesee (N. Y.) state normal school. She was re-elected there at an increased salary, but declined and accepted the position in Castine where her father, A. F. Richardson, is principal.

Miss Wiggin is a graduate of North Bridgton academy, and of Gorham normal school, and also of the Boston State normal school. She has the newly instituted manual training department.

It is hoped the new sloyd department will prove as interesting to the students as the department of agriculture has. The school garden connected with this has been profitable as well as pleasant.

Face your deficiencies and acknowledge them, but do not let them master you. Let them teach you patience, sweetness, insight. When we do the best we can, we never know what miracle is wrought in our own life, or in the life of another.—Helen Keller.

Americans are known as a dyspeptic people. The extent of this disease may be inferred from the multitude of so-called "medicines" offered as a remedy. They are often in tablet form and have no value except as palliatives of the immediate effects of dyspepsia. The man who uses them may feel better but is surely getting worse. They do not touch the real cause of the disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine specially prepared to cure diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not made to give temporary relief, but to effect permanent cure. In ninety-eight cases out of every hundred it cures perfectly and permanently.

Write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet giving all the ingredients contained in his medicines, which have been so widely used for the past forty years, and the opinion of eminent medical authorities indorsing these ingredients. In Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery pure, triple-refined glycerine is used instead of alcohol to extract the medicinal virtues from the roots and preserve the same unimpaired in any climate. It has cost Dr. Pierce $200,000 to give away in the last year the copies of his People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which have been applied for. This book of 1,000 pages is sent free. WEDDING BELLS.

ALLEN-ROWE.

One of the season's most brilliant home weddings occurred Tuesday evening, Sept. 10, at the summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Allen, Lovetts Heights, when their daughter, Miss Emma A. Allen, and Harry E. Rowe, of Ellsworth, were united in marriage.

The home was very prettily decorated for the occasion, the color scheme in the parlor being green and white, while the dining room was in yellow, with a profusion of evergreen and cut flowers. The charming bride was becomingly attired in a gown of chiffon crepe de chine over white silk, with trimmings of Irish point lace. Her traveling gown was gun metal grey with black and white hat. She was unattended.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the bridal couple entered the large living room to the strain of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Howard Clark. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Taylor, of Lewiston, beneath an arch of evergreen, in the presence of a large number of relatives and guests. The ushers were Frank Rowe, of Warren, and Leon Rowe, of Ellsworth, brothers of the groom.

Immediately after the ceremony a delightful reception was held and Mr. and Mrs. Rowe were kept busy receiving the congratulations of the large number of guests present. Miss Marie Harmon dipped punch, assisted by Mrs. Isabel Tilton and Miss Lou Melcher. Miss Ethel Peterson and Mrs. I. Woodside served ice-cream, and sherbert was served by Miss Alice Golder, assisted by Mrs. Roy Porington. The presents were many. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Rowe will reside in Lewiston. They have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.—Portland Press.

Keith's Theatre, Boston.

A feature out of the ordinary will be among the leading attractions at Keith's next week—Burr McIntosh, the well-known actor and photographer, is to deliver an illustrated lecture on "Secretary Taft's Visit to the Philippines." Mr. McIntosh was the official photographer on this trip, and the camera records he made are therefore authentic.

Walter C. Kelley, "The Virginia Judge," who is scoring this week one of the greatest successes made by a monologist in Boston, will be retained for a second week.

A notable vaudeville debut will be that of Christine LaBarraque, a blind vocalist, with a phenomenal voice. Miss LaBarraque's life story reads almost like a romance. Her musical education was obtained abroad.

The Darras brothers, in a trapeze act, and Griff, a clever clown juggler, are two Keith importations from Europe to make their Boston debuts.

William A. Dillon, a brother of the widely known Dillon brothers, and himself famous as "The Man with 1,000 Songs"; Almont and Dumont, in an instrumental act; the Reiff brothers, in their dancing act; Miles and Richards, singers and dancers; Hill's educated animals; Conlin and Steele, in a bright sketch; Louis Guertin, jumper, and the kinetograph will all be on the bill.

Double Murder at Limestone.

At Limestone, Aroostook county, yesterday afternoon, Stephen Downing, aged fifteen, and his brother Oscar, aged thirteen, were shot down and instantly killed by Augustus Tardy, aged nineteen years, in a fit of anger.

The three boys and a younger brother of Tardy were hunting together. The Tardy boys had rifles, but the Downing boys were unarmed. Stephen Downing, in play, pulled Augustus Tardy back by the coat as he was climbing a fence. Tardy flew into a rage, and shot Downing through the head at a distance of a few feet. Oscar Downing started to run away, when Tardy took deliberate aim and shot him through the back. Both boys were killed instantly.

MUSIC FESTIVAL.

CAVE THE BRIGHT PARTICU-LAR STAR THIS YEAR.

NEW YORK ORCHESTRA AND FAMOUS
ARTISTS—DIRECTOR CHAPMAN
PROMISES BEST EVER.

Two weeks from to-morrow—Thursday, Oct. 3—the eleventh annual music festival will open in Bangor, and continue through Friday and Saturday—a grand concert each evening and matinees Friday Saturday afternoons.

The fact that Madame Calve, the greatest artist the world can boast to-day, is to sing on a Bangor stage ought to draw immense crowds. No artist so important as Calve has ever before favored a Maine assemblage, and with knowledge of her tremendous successes in all lands, there will certainly be a record-breaking audience for this queen of song when she comes to Bangor.

Carmen is here, and by her impersonation of that role she has made famous the cigarette girl who was the heroine of Biset. Of striking personality, with a peculiar beauty and grace which is characteristic of her, she has no equal on the stage to-day. It will certainly be a great treat to hear her in the festival concerts, and her appearance will mark another event in the remarkable years of the music festivals.

SAMSON AND DELILAH.

Of special interest also will be the performance for the first time in Maine of the opera of "Samson and Delilah," the story taken from the bible, the music by the famous French composer, Camille Saint-Saens, who hopes to be present as a guest of the festival.

A very strong cast is required, and has been selected to sing the solo roles in this opera.

Mr. Chapman will bring his entire New York orchestra, which was heard here last year, and has made such a success in his New York concerts the past season. It is composed of the best players from the Manhattan opera house and the New York philharmonic society orchestras, and the orchestral works which they will play are absolutely new at the festivals. The only number which has ever been given at one of these festivals is the Carmen overture, which could not be omitted from the Calve programme.

THE CONCERTS.

Thursday evening's concert will offer a popular programme, with soprano and baritone soloists, orchestra and chorus.

Friday evening Saint-Saens' "Samson and Delilah" will be sung, and seven soloists, the big orchestra and chorus will be heard.

Saturday evening will be Calve night, together with violin and piano soloists, orchestra and chorus.

Friday matinee will include an orchestral programme and song recital, and Saturday's matinee will be Children's Day, when Bangor's school children will hold forth. There will be no chorus numbers during either of the matinee performances except by the children on Saturday.

TICKETS.

Tickets for this grandest of all festivals yet held in Maine may now be procured, and early selections are advisable. Apply to Harry L. Crabtree, Ellsworth, or write direct to W. I. Brown, ticket agent, Bangor. Very low rates have been announced by the transportation lines leading to and from Bangor, and every feature now points toward the most delightful and most successful festival of the entire series.

Helps For Dinner and Luncheon.
It is the little delicacies, the dainty surprises that are the most difficult to plan and provide, and yet constitute the difference between the commonplace dinner or luncheon and the unusual.

There are many tempting biscuits and wafers made by the National Biscuit Co., which are appropriate for every occasion. Among the most popular of these are Social Tea Biscuits. These are small, slightly sweetened biscuits, and can be used as universally as a few boxes on hand, ready to open at a moment's notice, will save lots of worry and scurry when casual guests drop in unexpectedly. They are almost like a delicious cake in flavor, but crisp and crackly, this crispness and flavor being perfectly preserved by the protecting package, which excludes all dust and moisture and keeps the contents fresh and clean.

The package is so designed that the Social Tea Biscuits may be served from the box. It is the most attractive way to serve them, and the right way to get their perfect flavor. All grocers have Social Tea Biscuits. The package will show you their possibilities.

Catarrh is Curable.

Successful Experiments in Abating and Curing This Disease.

Catarrh is an entirely unnecessary disease and should not be tolerated for a single day now that Hyomei is so generally known and has made so many cures in Ellsworth and other towns. Until comparatively recent times catarrh was thought to be a blood disease and stomach disease the only remedy. Modern science finally proved this idea of the cause of catarrh, and found that it was a germ disease, and after many experiments, a remedy was decided to be Hyomei. Hyomei medicates the air you breathe; it kills the catarrhal germs; it cures the smarting and raw membrane of the passages in the nose and throat; it cures all catarrhal troubles. There is life and health in the air you breathe off their fragrant and balsams, so there is life and health in breathing Hyomei. There is no suffering from catarrh if the simple and natural treatment of Hyomei is used.

This prescription to cure the worst cases of catarrh, that Hyomei sells it under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

OBITUARY.

Mary W., wife of Coleman Bates, died at her home here Sunday night, after a lingering illness of consumption. Mrs. Bates, or "Aunt Mary", as she was familiarly called by all, was universally liked and respected; ever ready with a cheering word to help those in illness and affliction. She will be much missed, not only in her home, but in the church where she was a devoted and constant attendant until failing health compelled her to remain at home.

She was a charter member and chaplain of Nicollin grange.

She leaves besides her husband four brothers to mourn her loss—Rev. Alfred McGown, of Yarmouth, Llewellyn McGown, of Ludlow, Wilmot McGown, of Waterford, and Dr. Wilson Y. McGown, of Abington, Mass. The funeral will be held at the church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Song of the Hair

There are four verses. Verse 1. Ayer's Hair Vigor stops falling hair. Verse 2. Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the hair grow. Verse 3. Ayer's Hair Vigor cures dandruff. Verse 4. Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the scalp healthy, and keeps it so. It is a regular hair-food; this is the real secret of its wonderful success.

ELLSWORTH CAPTURED BY PAUL JONES!

The expected has happened; "Paul Jones" Flour has completely captivated this bread-loving, cake-loving, pastry-loving town of ours! Only a few weeks ago I announced the coming of "Paul Jones", and the price, $5.25. The demand for this flour was instant and has been increasing ever since—and the best of it is, everyone who has tried the flour says it's "the best yet".

YOU HAD BETTER BUY YOUR BARREL OF "PAUL JONES" FLOUR RIGHT NOW; for flour has advanced quite a bit in price lately, and on and after October 1 I shall have to get $5.50 for "Paul Jones". To-day, I'm selling it at from 25c to 50c BELOW what you'd have to pay elsewhere for anywhere near as good flour. A word to the wise is: Buy flour now—and here.

La France Shoe for Women

The arrow points to a popular new style of that best shoe for women—the La France—and where to get it. We should like to show this model to you, as well as other seasonable La France styles—all of them in high favor with particular women everywhere.

The reason why the La France is preferred by those who have worn it is because in every pair is provided a standard of quality that is never lowered. Not only are women pleased with their first La France shoes—they are gratified to find the same essentials to foot-comfort, style and wear in every succeeding pair they buy. You, too, can find among the La France styles the shoe that best meets your special requirements, and a call at this store will prove it.

When you call, be sure to ask us to demonstrate the latest addition to La France models—the Flexible Welt—conceded by its wearers and by shoemen everywhere to be far more comfortable than a turn.

THE AMERICAN has subscribers at 107 of the 117 post-offices in Hancock county. All the other papers in the County combined do not reach so many. THE AMERICAN is not the only paper printed in Hancock county, and has never claimed to be, but it is the only paper that can properly be called a COUNTY paper; all the rest are merely local papers. The circulation of THE AMERICAN, during the Bar Harbor Record's summer list, is larger than that of all the other papers printed in Hancock county.

FRANKLIN.

Miss Elsie Keniston is at home from Northeast Harbor.

Mrs. Sadie F. Wooster arrived home from Camden Saturday.

Mrs. A. W. Lorimer and infant son are at home from Presque Isle.

Miss Cassilena Springer arrived home from Bar Harbor Saturday.

Mrs. Jennie Dyer and young son have returned home from Hampden.

Presiding Elder H. B. Haskell will hold quarterly conference here Oct. 4.

Mrs. Leslie Swan will return to Northeast Harbor soon for a few weeks.

Mrs. H. F. Collins left Thursday for Bangor, Pittsfield and other places.

Mrs. M. J. Springer has improved her home by having a front porch added.

The drama, "Aunt Jerusha's Quilting Party," is to be given by local talent soon.

Mrs. Elbridge Perkins and Miss Edith are at home, after a week's visit at Castine.

Miss Addie Stilphen, of Orland, was the guest of Mrs. Leslie Swan a few days last week.

Mrs. Harvey Bragdon and daughter, Miss Marjorie, visited friends at Sullivan last week.

Allen Smythe, of Calais, who has been the guest of Walter Wilson and wife, left Saturday.

Burleigh Swan, who is at home from Northeast Harbor, returns to Bucksport seminary Monday.

Mrs. Grace Butler French and little daughter, who have been visiting friends at West Sullivan, are at home.

Mrs. Asa S. Dyer and granddaughter, Miss Muriel DeBeck, visited friends at Hancock two days last week.

E. F. Bartlett, wife and little daughter Mildred, of Eastbrook, spent Sunday night with Mrs. George Dyer.

Mrs. Abbie Dunn is having a new roof built on her house, which will change the outward appearance somewhat.

Mrs. Crosby Wooster, of South Hancock, was the guest of Mrs. J. H. West and sister, Miss Brackett, Wednesday.

The three-masted schooner John S. Beacham is loading blocks for New York from W. B. Blaisdell & Co.'s quarry.

Walter Fernald is doing much needed work at the West-Blaisdell store in the way of drainage and cementing the cellar.

Pastor Lee and family returned from their outing at Webb's pond Wednesday. During Pastor Lee's absence the church has been cleaned and the floor oiled.

Misses Amelia and Eunice Simpson, of Newton, Mass., are spending some time at their old home, Sullivan. A brief call by Miss Eunice on friends here Saturday was a pleasure.

J. W. Blaisdell and wife and Mesdames Blaisdell rode to the head of Molasses pond and dined with Mrs. E. F. Bartlett Thursday. The day was ideal, and the drive from Macomber's mill through the woods a delight. This pond and surroundings, Cave hill and Sugar hill have some superb views. The fishing at the pond and neighboring brooks is good.

Relatives and friends of Mrs. George Googins were saddened by her death at Cambridge, Mass., recently. Her funeral at Lamoine Wednesday was attended by cousins from this locality. Mrs. Googins and Mrs. Deasy, of Prospect Harbor, whose death occurred a few days previous, were women of endearing qualities, and had many warm friends here.

The death of Miss Margaret Hunter, of Cherryfield, last week, was sad news to relatives here, and brings to mind her address one Memorial Day a few years ago. What a tribute it was to the defenders of the Union, and an eloquent testimonial to the local G. A. R. The tender, sympathetic utterances she voiced fall silently and beneficently over her own closed life.

Superintendent W. E. Bragdon has been busy with the schools, and has secured the following teachers: No. 1, Eva Springer, Franklin; 2, Mrs. Sadie F. The members of the Baptist Sunday school enjoyed a straw ride to Sand beach Saturday. Picnic lunch was served, and a pleasant day spent.

J. T. Bowen and wife gave a "barn dance" for their servants Wednesday evening. About 300 guests were present. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

Hackmatack cottage, owned by Miss Helen Beach, of Boston, was burned Friday afternoon. The fire caught around the chimney, and although quickly discovered, it was soon seen that the cottage was doomed, as there was no adequate way of fighting the flames. Attention then centered on the effort to save the furniture and equipments, and but little was lost owing to the energetic work of the inmates of the cottage and the neighbors. The cottage was occupied this summer by Henry F. Rutherford, of New York. The loss is about $15,000.

OBITUARY.

Linda, wife of George Googins, of Cambridge, Mass., died at her home in that city Sunday, Sept. 8.

Mrs. Googins' maiden name was Butler. In early womanhood she married Ferdinand Coolidge, of this town. After a few years this happy union was severed by the death of Mr. Coolidge in 1872. Later she married George Googins, of Cambridge, a native of East Lamoine. Since their marriage they have resided in Cambridge. They have visited in Lamoine nearly every summer. No children blessed either marriage; but a few years ago Mrs. Googins adopted the child of a deceased relative, and the girl has occupied the place of a loved daughter in the home.

Mrs. Googins was a noble type of womanhood. With a heart overflowing with love to God and her fellow-beings, she was active in every good work, and she occupied a large place in the church life of her adopted city, and in the hearts of her friends everywhere. In her home she manifested those graces which characterize the true woman. To the members of the home circle, the bereaved husband and daughter, sincere sympathy is extended. She is survived by no brothers or sisters, but nephews, nieces and other relatives mourn her loss. The deceased was a member of the Central Square Baptist church, Cambridge.

Funeral services were held in Cambridge Tuesday afternoon, and in the Baptist church in this place Wednesday afternoon. Rev. P. A. A. Killam officiated at the service here. The floral offerings were lavish and beautiful. The service was attended by a large number of relatives, many coming from out of town. Interment was at East Lamoine cemetery.

MAYOR OF SUNBURY
Says Per-na Is a Good Medicine.

Hon. C. C. Brooks, Mayor of Sunbury, Ohio, also Attorney for Farmers' Bank and Sunbury Building and Loan Co., writes:

"I have the utmost confidence in the virtue of Per-na. It is a great medicine. I have used it and I have known many of my friends who have obtained beneficial results from its use. I cannot praise Per-na too highly."

HON. C. C. BROOKS.

HERE are a host of petty ailments which are the direct result of the weather.

This is more true of the excessive heat of summer and the intense cold of winter, but is partly true of all seasons of the year.

Whether it be a cold or a cough, catarrh of the head or bowel complaint, whether the liver be affected or the kidneys, the cause is very liable to be the same.

The weather slightly deranges the mucous membranes of the organs and the result is some functional disease.

Per-na has become a standby in thousands of homes for minor ailments of this sort.

A cottage foundation has been commenced for Frank Gilley in a fine location in the Mayo field, near Henry Tracy's.

Mrs. Parks and son, of Somerville, Mass., Miss Z. A. Wilbur and niece, Miss Maud Buffington, of Fall River, Mass., who have spent the past six weeks with Mrs. George R. Fuller, returned home last week.

Nearly all the summer company except cottagers have left for their city homes. A few guests are still at the hotels, which expect to close about Sept. 20. Among the cottage people Joseph Cooper and Henry Inman will remain till the end of the month.

J. T. Finney, of South Framingham, Mass., for many years a station agent on the Boston & Albany railroad, who has spent three months or more at Southwest Harbor and Mt. Desert for the benefit of his health, was joined by his wife last week, both returning to Massachusetts Saturday.

Schools open to-day. Miss Iva Walls continues in the primary grade of this district; Mrs. Maud Trask is in charge of the grammar school. Miss Annie Holmes, of Lawrence, Mass., will teach at Norwood's Cove, and Miss Esther Dixon at Seawall. Miss McGee is retained for the Masset grammar school.

Fire destroyed the postoffice building Thursday morning at 2 o'clock. The volunteer fire company, by strenuous work, soon subdued the fire, but not until the upper part of the building, where the flames started around the chimney, and the staircase were destroyed, with some of the stock belonging to H. A. Foss, photographer, who really lost everything. What the fire left was destroyed by water. Fortunately the mail matter and post-office belongings were unharmed, though two valuable coats belonging to the assistant were destroyed. The building was owned by Thomas Lawton, who carried an insurance. Mr. Foss also had a small insurance on his goods. The post-office business has been removed to the vacant store in Masonic block.

Sept. 16. SPRAY.

SULLIVAN.

Mrs. and Miss Emery, who have been in town a month, have returned to their home in East Boston.

Thomas Simpson, who has lately had a very critical operation performed, is coming on slowly but surely.

Schools commenced Monday, with Mr. Whitney, a former teacher, in charge of the high, and Miss Ida Bennis, of the lower grade.

Mrs. Clara Somes, of Somerville, is visiting her brother, James Meynell. All her friends are glad to greet her here again.

The Timayenis and O'Donald cottages are still open, the latter occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Oak and Miss Richardson, of Bangor.

Many of the summer guests have returned to their homes, while some are lingering to enjoy the beautiful September and October months.

Mr. Sanderson closed his house and went to Cambridge last Saturday to resume charge of his pulpit, which has been closed all summer. Mrs. Sanderson remained until to-day, and took her father, Capt. Bennis, home with her to have a second operation on his eyes. All hope this will be a success.

The Unitarian society resumed its services on Sunday. The occasion was a very pleasant one. Mrs. Sanderson read a sermon "Thirsting for the Living God" by Rev. Francis G. Peabody. The sermon was a fine one and beautifully read, while many responded to the general theme which followed—"Immortality."

Capt. E. H. Norris, who has been sailing a yacht for Miss Sinclair, of Sorrento, is at home.

G. W. F. Hill, who has been spending a week in town, returned to his home in Hebron Tuesday.

The dwelling of James B. Webber, with contents, was burned Wednesday. There was a small insurance.

Elwood J. Robertson and family, of Sullivan, were in town Saturday with their fine new Pope-Tribune automobile.

Grindstone Inn closed to the public Sept. 13, after a successful season. Many of the cottagers will remain until into October.

Rev. Mr. Bosworth and daughter, who have been guests of Mrs. Lovina Tracy, returned to their home in Deer Isle Monday.

Steam yacht Ladoga, from Bar Harbor, was disabled in the harbor Friday, the result of a broken rudder, and is laid up for repairs.

The large number of automobiles that have come into town this year, together with those owned by residents, have educated the horses to such an extent that autos on the generally traveled highways, and under speed restrictions, are not objectionable either to residents or non-residents. A number of the summer colony come from their homes and return in their touring cars, and are enthusiastic over the road conditions and scenery of eastern Maine. It is the general verdict that the admission of automobiles has been of material benefit to the business interests of the town.

Sept. 16. E.

SORRENTO.

Mrs. Emma Haskell, of Bar Harbor, is visiting at Mrs. Cora Stover's.

M. H. Mason and Elmer Johnson, who have been in Boston for a week, returned home Sunday.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease.

While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage.

It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night.

The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

Our National Danger.

Time to Cry a Halt Before a Panic Comes.

The business spirit is crushing out the sweeter element of home life. We are in danger of a great commercial decline, because men, as a whole, think only of getting wealth.

There are thousands, both men and women, who do not take time to eat properly. They rush through life, and as a result we have an age of indigestion, nervousness, irritability, sleepless nights and morose disposition.

With the discovery of Mi-o-na tablets, there is no longer any excuse for one to have ill health from stomach weakness.

Mi-o-na strengthens the walls of the stomach, stimulates secretion of the digestive juices, regulates the liver and restores muscular contraction to the intestines and bowels, so no laxative is needed.

Sick headaches, palpitation, bad taste in the mouth, yellow skin, irritability, coated tongue and melancholy are a few of the many distressing results of indigestion. Mi-o-na never fails to dispel all these troubles.

G. A. Farther sells Mi-o-na in 50-cent boxes, and guarantees to refund the money if the remedy does not give complete satisfaction.
