SEEKS SPEAKERSHIP

Representative Ellis L. Aldrich of Topsham has announced his candidacy for speakership of the House in the 84th Legislature. Mr. Aldrich was elected without opposition as a member of the House from the classed towns of Arrowsic, Phippsburg, Topsham, West Bath and Woolwich. Early in the session he was recognized as an outstanding member. He watched legislation with utmost care and ever championed what he believed was for the best interests of the people and the State in general.

Mr. Aldrich was born in New York, June 12, 1874, graduated from Cornell University in 1897 and from Cornell Law School in 1899. He was admitted to the practice of law in 1900. He is a member of the Congregational Church, United Lodge of Masons, Rotary Club, Brunswick Golf Club and of Sigma Chi college fraternity.

HATCHET MT. CAMP

Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Jones of Hatchet Mountain Camp have been in Boston for the past few weeks attending the annual Camp Exposition. The first reunion of Massachusetts Hatchet Mountain Campers was held at the Hotel Hemenway, Boston, April 16. A special luncheon was given at 12:30 and a theatre party in the afternoon.

Invitations have been received by all former Rockland campers to attend the get-together which is to be held in this city on Saturday, May 7. Mrs. Edna Cook, who is a trained nurse in a boys' private school in New York during the school year, has been engaged as nurse at Hatchet Mountain Camp for the 1927 season.

Next week will be Mike Sacks week at the Strand. The popular comedian will be given the heartiest kind of a welcome.

NEW CITY OFFICIALS

Mayor Pease Makes Appointments—They Are In the Saddle Tomorrow.

Student-Mayor Palmer Pease and his City Council met last night in a most amicable session despite the fact of different political complexions. All of Mayor Pease's appointments met with such favor that the confirmations were immediate. It was no easy job that confronted the young executive because there were several applications for each office especially in police and fire departments.

These appointments will actually take over the routine work of operating the several departments tomorrow and are even now preparing for their tasks. The experiment will not be allowed to descend to the joke stage by Mayor Pease or the officials themselves. Such a condition would result in the summary removal of the offending official and would bring disgrace to the boys and girls of the Rockland School and Grammar School who have carried through this very difficult experiment with splendid morale. The daily routine of the offices and departments will be carried on as usual and the decisions will be put up to the new incumbents. Tomorrow noon at Rotary Club dinner Mayor Pease and Carver and their official families will be special guests. Here are the appointments:

Chief of Police—Francis Orne.
Chief Engineer—Richard Bird.
Commissioner of Public Works—Frank Knight.
City Clerk—Parker Young.
City Treasurer—Myer Benovitch.
Tax Collector—Samuel Smalley.
City Matron—Ruth Koster.
Secretary to Mayor—Alice Hodgkins.

Supt. of Schools—Judson B. Flanagan.

Principal High School—Donald Merriam.

Sub-principal—Wesley Wasgatt.

Assistant Engineers of Fire Dept.—Carl Ladd, Emory Trafton, Theodore Bird.

Permanent Firemen: Leland Blackington, Mervyn Harriman, Bernard Winchenbaugh, Earle Moore, Vito Mannone, Lloyd Clark, G. Nelson Glidden, Donald Haskell, Clayton Richardson and Walter Anderson.

The patrolmen will be Peter Pellucane, Harry Hersey, Butler Parsons, Ted Lawrence, Robert Wallis, Fred Anderson, George Condon, James Flanagan, Oiva Lampi, George Wood, Jr., John Flanagan, Tony Gatti, Jerome Frye, Norman Kallach, Raymond Cross, Ralph Fowler, Henry Marsh.

PASSED THIRTEEN HUNDRED

Knox County Citizens Making Generous Response To the Call of the Mississippi Sufferers.

The call of President Coolidge for a ten million dollar fund for the relief of the Mississippi Valley sufferers is receiving generous response. The first call of $5,000.00 was promptly met by the country and the demand created by the situation for double the amount meets the same cordial reception.

The call upon the Knox County Red Cross Chapter, the first allotment of $1,325 being doubled by the call of President Coolidge and Secretary Hoover, is being splendidly answered. From the branches in Camden, Thomaston, Vinalhaven and Owl's Head come handsome contributions and when the canvass is completed there is no question but that Old Knox will stand in its usual place at the head of the Well Done column.

The total amount of contributions reported by the Chapter this amount is $1,345.80. These amounts as noted in this paper are sent forward at once to National Headquarters at Washington.

Checks should be made payable to "American Red Cross." Contributions may be given to the Red Cross representative in each town or sent to The Courier-Gazette office. The list now stands:

DANGER IS OVER CONFIDENCE

Civic League Field Worker Concedes Rum Running But Points To Improved Social Conditions.

Supt. E. H. Emery of the Christian Civic League, accompanied by H. A. Markley, field worker, have been in the city for a few days, giving on good city the once over, and doubtless finding that conditions are wonderfully improved over those which obtained in days that can well be remembered.

Mr. Markley addressed the United Baptist quarterly meeting in this city Tuesday, spoke yesterday before the Damariscotta Association and today will appear before the South Kennebec Association. Mr. Emery meantime has been attending the Congregational Conference in Bar Harbor. Before each of these organizations was laid the necessity of the new foundation which the churches are providing for Civic League work. Denominational control is given by the choice of directors in the several conventions. They consult with and advise the Civic League in regard to its policies and personnel.

At the annual meeting in Portland, in February, plans were made for a continuance of the work, the principal speaker at that time being Arthur J. Davis, superintendent of the New York State Anti-Saloon League. The field is being carefully surveyed for a new worker and it is hoped that Supt. Emery, who has resumed his field and office work after a severe nervous breakdown last summer, following 20 years of arduous work.

SEEING BOSTON

Uncle Fernando and Niece Visit "Old Ironsides" and Other Wonders.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

Recently the Maine Central Railroad advertised an Easter excursion to Boston. I took it in, and my grand-niece, Miss Ruth Conant, a Junior in Rockland High School, went with me to see some of the historical places and things she reads about in her school studies. Leonard Hall met us at the North Station in Boston and took us to his home in Charlestown. He was a former Appleton and Hope boy, now a 30 year resident of Boston and Charlestown. His pleasant home is within a stone's throw of Bunker Hill Monument.

Within an hour after our arrival we were "doing" the monument and Ruth was climbing and counting the stairs. She counted 294. The policeman on duty there gave us a verbal history of the place and its surroundings, and when he learned we were from Maine proceeded to "boost" Maine. Said his daughter was attending University of Maine at Orono. The next morning we visited Charlestown Navy Yard, and went all over and into "Old Ironsides," the old Frigate Constitution. We read on the metal plate on board that she took part in 41 engagements with the enemy, and never was defeated. From her deck to the drydock, less than 100 feet away, was the Raleigh one of United States latest sea-going fighting machines. What a contrast between the ancient and modern.

We were told that they were to try to move the Constitution into the drydock for the next month. If she doesn't fall to pieces in the moving it will be a wonder.

We next hurriedly visited Faneuil Hall, Faneuil Hall Markets, Boston Custom House (going up in the tower 555 feet, where we can see all over Greater Boston and harbor); then Gordon College where we met Chauncey Stuart of Rockland, a student there and son of Rev. Oscar W. Stuart. With him we visited the Fine Arts Museum where pictures and statuary both beautiful and horrible can be seen. It is well known of time to see these works of art properly. Here we ended that day.

Sunday we attended divine service at Tremont Temple.

Monday we went to Franklin Park where one can see animals and birds from all parts of the world, and study natural history. The lions in the animal house gave us a "roaring" welcome—a noise new to me, and different. The Hypo gave us a view of himself, not granted to every visitor. Do not miss visiting this Park when you go to Boston.

From here to Cambridge to visit Agassiz Museum of National History. One can view this wonderful collection a full week and then not see it all. Mounted specimens of birds, reptiles and fishes that have lived on the earth, in the air, or in the water from since the dawn of creation up to the present time. The geology department will show you specimens of every mineral or metal found in or on this planet, with specimens that may have come from other planets, along with some wonderful works of art. There are glass flowers, so natural looking, as to deceive the eye. The secret of making is said to have died with the inventor. F. S. Philbrick. Rockland, May 3.

WHY PICK ON UNION?

Second Attempt, Yesterday Morning, To Burglarize Branch Bank—Few Dollars Taken From Postoffice.

Burglars made another raid at Union Common yesterday morning, and got scant reward for their pains. A few dollars taken from the Postoffice till was the sum total of endeavors which had promised richly, and whether through disgust or oversight, the yeggs failed to take about $30 worth of stamps which were in plain sight.

The bank robbery did not materialize for the simple reason that the inner vault could not be penetrated; and this result recalls a similar raid of two or three years ago, when would-be burglars also went away empty handed.

Whether these yeggs are the real article or the moving picture type is the problem which the county officials must solve, and to which the citizens of Union are now giving more consideration than they are to the loss of the few dollars and the ruined combination of the Security Trust Company's Union Branch safe.

The trail of the burglars was first found by Ernest Moody, clerk at Gordon & Lovejoy's store in the new Masonic building. He found the lock of the front door broken and a hurried investigation showed that an attempt had also been made to force the back door with a jimmy. The latter means toward effecting an entrance was probably tried first, and it failed because the bolt held after the lock gave way. The chances are that the burglars became frightened while working on the front door, as the store was not entered.

Mr. Moody gave the alarm and in due season it was discovered that the Post Office and Security Trust Company's branch bank had been broken into.

At the bank the front door was jimmied and the lock broken. The burglars blew the combination from the safe door, and with the aid of a Prestolite tank and torch next essayed to reach the inner vault. Two holes were started, but they did not penetrate the steel more than three-sixteenths of an inch and the attempt was abandoned. The tank and torch were left behind. The serial number on the tank is 888,746.

PLAYGROUND PLANS

Pauline McLoon Rogers Is Elected Director — Busy Season Expected.

Pauline McLoon Rogers was elected director of the Children's Playground at the annual meeting of the Association held Tuesday afternoon. The work for the 1927 season was laid out and plans completed which indicate a season of marked success. A further co-operation with all the local churches is in prospect with a home letter through the school children that should do much to popularize the grounds beyond the usual degree.

An effort is to be made this year to bring such comfort to parents and kiddies alike that mothers will find it a pleasant place to come with the youngsters and spend an hour in reading, chatting or sewing while the kids are busy in sand box or with swing and slide. To this end the side seats along the Limerock street fence are to be continued and provided with suitable wooden canopies aiming to provide protection against sun or showers. These tentative plans and others with the health and well being of the youngsters of Rockland as their objective are in the making.

The Children's Playground is the smallest member of the Community Chest family as far as its financial side goes, but it occupies a very large niche in public esteem because it works solely for the welfare of the city's small children, boys and girls. Its equipment is fairly complete and eminently safe, so much so that no accident of any consequence has ever occurred on the lot. Clean drinking water and excellent sanitary conveniences are available and the lot is carefully fenced.

The Playground Associates feel themselves very fortunate in their choice of director. She has had several years special training along the lines of organized play and athletic instruction in addition to having been an accomplished athlete on her own account.

These officials of the Association were elected: John M. Richardson, president; Willis I. Ayer, Henry C. Chatto, vice presidents; S. S. Lord, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Pauline McLoon Rogers, director; governing committee, E. S. Rhodes, Mrs. W. O. Fuller, G. H. Blenheim, W. C. Ladd, A. W. Gregory, Mrs. J. H. Flanagan, A. C. McLoon, Mrs. Eugene O'Neill, J. W. Thompson, Mrs. John L. Snow, E. L. Toner and Mrs. Nina Beveridge.

nation was found on the floor and two wires hung down from the electric light fixture, from which the bulb had been removed. Sheriff Frank F. Harding and Deputy Sheriff Earle Ludwick went to Union immediately upon receipt of the news and were there joined by Deputy Sheriff Arthur Fish of Appleton.

The possibility of obtaining a clue through finger prints resulted in the sending to Augusta for a finger print expert, and the department sent Mr. Shepherd of the State Highway Police. He was accompanied on his flying trip across country by Mr. Young, also of the State Highway Police. The burglars had evidently anticipated just such an investigation, and probably wore gloves while engaged in their futile efforts to break into the vault.

The damage to the safe, through the broken combination creates a generous expense item, but this is lost sight of in view of the fact that the yeggs were foiled.

The Post Office is located in the eastern end of the Masonic building and getting into was an easy matter for the burglars, as all they had to do was open one of the windows with a jimmy.

Postmaster Mitchell keeps the safe purposely unlocked, but leaves little of value in it over night. The wooden cash drawer yielded a few dollars in change, and this was taken away, possibly as a souvenir. The stamps were untouched.

Sheriff Harding and his assistants were told by one or two persons that the bank light was not burning at 9:30 p. m., but this statement was qualified somewhat by the subsequent remark of the informants that they were "almost sure of it."

A number of strangers were reported to have been seen in Union in the past two days, Tuesday morning two men were seen to leave an automobile and after looking carefully around the Common they held a whispered conversation.

There were some dim footprints inside of the bank, and of these measurements were taken. The premises around the bank were covered with gravel and yielded no clues.

NINETY-FOUR AND CHIPPER

A man who has eaten 6600 boxes of Puffed Wheat ought to look fairly explosive as to contour, but Grandpa B. Jones Bell, of Tyrone, Pa., carries most of his weight in breadth and height. For 18 years he has eaten a box of Puffed Wheat every day, dividing it into three equal portions—one-third of a box for each meal. Friends and neighbors who stopped in to congratulate him on his 94th birthday elicited this information when they put the usual question to him: "To what do you attribute your long life and good health?" "Puffed Wheat," said Grandpa, with a grin. Whereupon he was able to join in the festivities—eating baked beans, pie and cake—no matter how indigestible—adv.

As a result of the efforts of Supt. A. F. MacAlary of the Water Co. and the Hydrant Editor of The Courier-Gazette it was discovered that public sentiment and good fire department practice agree on the new orange and black hydrant. They are possessed of a high degree of visibility.

The lobster smack Louise McLoon, Capt. John Crowley, arrived at Boston Tuesday. From Rockland to Nova Scotia and back to Boston with a fare of lobsters was accomplished in six days. Nothing said about John.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had to live my life again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

MOTHERHOOD

The night throbs on; O, let me pray, dear lad! Crush off his name a moment from my mouth. To then my eyes would turn, but they go back. Back to my arm beside me, where he lay—So little, Lord, so little and so warm!

I cannot think that thou hadst need of him! He was so little, Lord, he cannot sing. He cannot praise thee; all his life had learned Was to hold fast my kisses in the night.

Give him to me—he is not happy there! He had not felt this life; his lovely eyes Just knew me for his mother, and he died.

Hast thou an angel there to mother him? I say he loves me best if he forgets. If thou allow it that my child forgets And runs not out to meet me when I come—

What are my curses to thee? Thou hast heard The curse of Abel's mother, and since then We have not ceased to threaten at thy throne. To threat and pray thee that thou hold them still in memory of us.

THREE TIMES-A-WEEK

Rockland, Maine, May 5, 1927.
Personally appeared Frank S. Lydell, who on oath declares that he is President of the office of The Courier-Gazette and that of the issue of this paper of May 3, 1927 there was printed a total of 6400 copies.
Before me, FRANK B. MILLER, Notary Public.

I trusted in thee, O Lord: I said, Thou art my God. My times are in thy hand. Psalm 31:14, 15.

The response to the call for funds for the Mississippi disaster is most generous, and there yet remain many contributions certain to be heard from. Never was there more desperate need. Have you responded?

"How many vessels would you guess are being handled in Thomaston at the present time?" The query was propounded by Mr. Washburn, the surviving member of a prominent family of shipbuilders of the palmy days of the shipping town. To the vague guess of the marine editor the rejoinder was made that the number of such vessels is today exactly one, that being the barkentine Marie Stewart. "And I can recall when the number was one hundred," the speaker added. The statement serves to illustrate the conclusive manner in which the United States has been crowded off the seas which one time it dominated. Now Japan and Norway occupy the places in which the Stars and Stripes flew from the multitudinous mastsheads of gallant ships. Those days are not likely to be restored to us, unless through the agency of a wise ship subsidy and some modification of present shipping laws, our country shall be able to overcome the differences created by the lower cost of labor in foreign countries. What this would mean to the idle yards of Thomaston, Camden, Rockport and Rockland, once alive with the noise of profitable industry, the imagination readily perceives.

We dare hope that the development within her borders of the cement industry may serve to restore to the beautiful town something of the industrial conditions of which this decline in shipping has sensibly deprived her. The spending of the huge sum of money in the development of the plant, and the weekly payroll that is to follow its completion, cannot but contribute to the business well-being of the community.

This matter of industrial development very much engages the attention of Maine people, who while interested in the things which add to the general growth and prosperity of the State as a summer vacation region, believe that there is a field for exploitation of natural resources which is not yet being properly served. The Lewiston Journal touches the subject in this pointed editorial:

The effort of a fair-minded public interest to pass a bill which would permit ready money to build dams and develop power now going to waste in Maine has failed. It did not suit the fears and the surmises of the governor and a traditional power in the chief executive has stopped the great onward march of development in Maine. It is expensive. It will cost Maine thousands more in cash than any governor can save by apple-pareings. Had we enacted both the Smith Bill and the Oakes Bill, we would have been prospering immediately. We have done neither. It is an empty victory for those who have opposed it; but the march is onward and we shall see the fruits of the new movement later on.

The British government sent a delegation to inquire into the matter of America's industrial success. The delegation included big employers, trade union leaders and official experts. Their unanimous report just published in London says that one reason for this country's prosperity is "the adaptability shown by all engaged in industry to promote productivity and eliminate waste." Nor should we lose sight of the conclusion arrived at by these eminent men with respect to the prohibitory law. "Its economic effect," their report declares, "has been very great, by the diversion of large sums into savings and the purchase of commodities, and by increasing the regularity of attendance at work."

Oregon cherry growers demand a tariff increase to protect their fruit against foreign competition. The political farmer says the tariff is the farmer's enemy; claiming that it keeps out the low-priced things he could buy abroad to run his farm for less money. The practical farmer, however, says that the tariff offers protection and equalization against cheaper labor and lower living scale abroad. Those who take the trouble to study the tariff schedule find that it admits duty free practically all supplies and commodities required to operate a farm.

The New York Herald Tribune reprints this paragraph from its issue of April 21, 1907:

Almost any man who watches a woman on a wet and windy day holding up her skirt with one hand and grasping her umbrella and pack with the other, is led to wonder why women instead of fighting for the franchise do not fight for the short skirt. Emancipated.

SPlicing ROPE

Howe W. Hall, Former Rockland Boy, Talks To Farmers.

Among the papers read Farmers' Week at Orono was one by a former Rockland boy, Howe W. Hall, who explained rope splicing and halter making.

Rope is made of hemp, of cotton, or of wire. Cotton rope is of value mainly because of its softness, and should be used in making rope halters for young animals having tender skins. Because of its strength and durability hemp rope is universally used. Of late years the supply of true hemp has been insufficient to fill the demand, and a substitute has been found in the outer fibres of the leaves of a species of the banana plant grown in the Philippine Islands. This fibre is called manilla rope.

Most rope is made up of either three-or-four-strands. Four-strand rope differs from three-strand rope in that the former is stronger and more pliable, has a more even surface, weighs more per foot, and, being constructed on a core, the strands are kept away from the very center and therefore chafe one another less as the rope is bent around the pulley.

Rope should not be coiled when damp. It should be stored in a dry place. A stiff hard rope may be made soft and pliable by placing it in water and beating the water until it boils. After boiling, the rope should be stretched straight until dry. The practice of tarring rope to protect it from the weather is of questionable value.

When unrolling a bale of new rope always start with the end of the rope found in the center and unroll counterclockwise, and when coiling by hand, coil it to the right, that is round with the sun or hands of the clock.

Mr. Hall then demonstrated splicing rope and making a halter after which those attending were given opportunity to practice.

EMPIRE THEATRE

The double feature for today is "Held by the Law" with Johnny Walker, and "Tongues of Scandal" with Mae Busch.

A western comedy, packed with fun and thrills, is promised patrons Friday and Saturday in "The Denver Dude," the Universal Picture starring Hoot Gibson.

A typical Gibson picture is promised, full of all the qualities which have become associated in the public mind with this star to make him one of the screen's most popular attractions. Gibson has become noted equally for his ability to play comedy, and for his excellence at injecting thrills and action in his productions.

"Chapter nine of 'The Silent Flier'" will also be shown.—adv.

THOSE SCHOOL SIGNS

An unsigned communication with reference to the lack of school warning signs at Warren street was received at The Courier-Gazette office recently and turned over to Supt. Toner who acted on the matter to such good effect that several of the much needed signs are nearing completion at the Manual Training quarters in the High School. The new signs will be severely located at those points where traffic hazard to the small children is greatest. Each sign is 2 by 3 feet in black with warning letters of large size in gold effect.

IT WAS A HARD LOSE

Rockland High Has a Bad Ninth Inning and Brunswick High Comes Home With the Bacon.

Rockland High lost its first game of the season yesterday—and with victory apparently in its grasp. The opposing team was Brunswick High, and the scene of the debate was Community Park. The home team got away to a poor start, and it seemed to be on the cards that it was going to get a drubbing. To the delight of the small crowd, however, Rockland forged into the lead in the 6th inning and had a two-run leeway as the final chapter was about to be written. How Rockland's hopes were swallowed in a catastrophe we shall presently see.

Coach Wotton elected to place Collamore on the mound. The tall lad from the Northend lasted only a fraction of the second round. With the score 3 to 1, two men on bases, by virtue of passes, and three balls on the batter, he swapped jobs with John Flanagan. The latter had no chance with the man then at bat, but fanned two of the next three, and would have retired the Brunswickians without a score but for an easy muff by the reliable McCarthy. The latter more than made up for this error by leading his team at bat, and making two of his three hits when they counted for runs.

Frost's double and Boucher's single gave the visitors another run in the 3d, but Flanagan held them scoreless from that moment until the fatal 9th. The Rockland team got its second wind in the 5th when singles by McCarthy and Jud Flanagan, a double by Fowler, at triple by Jim Flanagan, and a sacrifice fly by Major Pease netted three runs. Boucher made a very fine catch of his Honor's fly.

Having found itself Rockland scored two more runs in the 6th on a double by Collamore and singles by Fowler and McCarthy.

Still another Rockland run was accumulated in the 7th, but it was probably right here that Rockland lost the game, for Collamore after making a clean single over the third sack failed to run, and was called out. He had assumed, as many others did, that the ball was foul.

It was in Brunswick's half of the 7th that Jud Flanagan made that lovely catch over his shoulders, way down on the foul line.

sob dish. J. Smith drew a pass and his example was followed by Gaydos, who had succeeded Sadler in the Brunswick box. Bouchard was out. Flanagan to Pease. Successive singles by Potter and Crimmins drove in the tying scores, and Brunswick took the lead on Frost's sacrifice. Cowley drew a pass, and another run went in on S. Smith's single. Boucher was passed—the fourth walk of the inning—but J. Smith fanned. The Rockland team was retired in order, and the suspense was over. The visitors had a fine folding team and it was no disgrace to be beaten by it.

L. E. BLACKINGTON, Rockland

GIVES GREAT TALK

Alton H. Blackington To Speak in Rockland Next Week.

The Rockland teachers are always trying to benefit conditions and are ever ready to sponsor programs that will help children's welfare. It has proved no easy task to find something different, but something out of the ordinary in entertainments is now coming and the teachers are looking for public support as they present to you Alton Hall Blackington's entertainment.

Alton Hall Blackington, former Rocklandite, and now staff photographer of the Boston Herald, has been making a name for himself as a public entertainer. His brand of performance has been recommended by the Harvard Club, the Algonquin Club and other leading New England societies. Many Rockland people remember him but few have had the privilege of hearing him in his latest success. The following is an outline in brief of what Mr. Blackington will bring. Gorgeously illustrated talk, full of wit and pathos and delivered in a particularly bright and catchy manner. (That's what one club secretary said about him). Another wrote that you will feel that you have spent a worthwhile, and enjoyable evening when you have heard Blackington. His entertainment at present covers close-ups of Calvin Coolidge, Henry Ford, Edison, Vice President Dawes, Herbert Hoover, Mrs. John Jacob Rogers and many others. (With each scene he tells a little story, many times it is a humorous incident, and other times a point in history. Mr. Blackington also tells about the humorous and thrilling experiences of a press photographer; news-in-the-making, taking his audience along with him as he fills the day's assignments. Babe Ruth knocks home run—Leviathan, remarkable pictures of the world's largest liner—Old T wharf and some of the human interest yarns from the waterfront reporter—The Fisherman's Race, Morning, Noon and Night—Fighting the Flames at 23 below (by the way the way the Rockland Maine Fire). The story of Reubin Austin Snow, the Man on Cape Cod that Joseph Lincoln overlooked, Easter Day in Chinatown—"On Location" with Thomas Meighan and Agnes Ayres. The Eclipse of 1925—A 200 year old prohibition problem—and many many others. The entertainment will be given in the High School auditorium May 9.

to Camden and see how that team shapes up against Lincoln Academy. They will all want to see Brewer the "phenom" shortstop, in action.

For the convenience of many baseball fans who like to attend the Maine college baseball games the following schedule for the balance of the season is published:

May 6—Bates vs Colby at Waterville.
May 10—Maine vs Bates at Lewiston.
May 12—Bates vs Maine at Orono.
May 13—Bowdoin vs Colby at Waterville.
May 16—Colby vs Bowdoin at Brunswick.
May 18—Maine vs Bowdoin at Brunswick.
May 25—Bowdoin vs Maine at Brunswick.
May 25—Colby vs Bates at Lewiston.
May 27—Bates vs Bowdoin at Brunswick.
May 28—Maine vs Colby at Waterville.
June 3—Bowdoin vs Bates at Lewiston.

How far does a pitcher throw, on a regulation diamond? Of course all the boys and some of the girls, can answer that question offhand. We're listening.

The Thomaston High School team plays Crosby High in Belfast Saturday.

No more bus rides to Warren. The bus has been withdrawn.

M. C. I. made only six scattered hits off Elmer Rising at Hebron Saturday, and Hebron Academy won, 8 to 2. Hedderic of last season's Belfast team starred for M. C. I.

Frank H. Whitney's declared intention of not coming home this summer unless there is baseball, finds its counterpart in the attitude of "Roosh" Turner, a pronounced Rockport fan. Mr. Turner was on Robert Law's yacht in Southern waters during the winter, but somewhere he heard the crack of a bat, and it was all off. Northward he came willing to work at almost anything just so he can be within flitting distance of a good ball game. Countless Knox County fans would find it a drab summer without baseball.

STRAND THEATRE

Last chance today to see "The Auctioneer." You'll laugh with him. You'll cry with him. And you'll love him. The astounding success of the wizard of the stage made into a still more astounding film by a genius of the screen. In the cast are Marion Nixon and Gareth Hughes.

When James Oliver Curwood writes a story of Lake Michigan in the pioneering days of 1856, it may be taken for granted that he first conducted an extensive research into the life of the period for the sake of accuracy and color. Critics pointed to this on the appearance of his story, "The Courage of Capt. Plana," which has been adapted by Bayart for a spectacular picture entitled "A Captain's Courage," to be shown Friday and Saturday. Edward Earle has the role of the Lake Michigan schooner captain. The girl of the wild north woods is Dorothy Dwan. Jack Henderson makes a picturesque first mate aboard the old "Josephine" and Al Ferguson never played to better advantage than as the mysterious and powerful Jesse Strang, leader of a band of island desperadoes. Others in the cast are Lyle McKee, Richard Holt, Eddie DeVoe and S. J. Sandford.

"Flame of the Argentine," a melodrama, is the other weekend picture.—adv.

PARK THEATRE

Today will be the last showing of Florence Vidor and Olive Brooks in "Afratid to Love."

"Heaven on Earth," which will be shown Friday and Saturday is one of the most unusual and interesting pictures seen in a long time. It was directed by Phil Rosen, and boasts of Renee Adoree and Conrad Nagel in the leading roles. The story tells of the revolt of Edmond Durand, played by Conrad Nagel. He has been reared by a too doing aunt, his entire career mapped out for him, even to his love affairs, and he has reached a point where he would either degenerate into a tool of convention and his relatives, or chuck the whole thing and start out for himself. A passing band of gypsies brings to him the realization of the futility of his life. There follows an extremely entertaining tale of his love for the beautiful gypsy fugitive, Marcella, played by Renee Adoree, and their subsequent adventures.

The other feature picture is William Fairbanks in "One Chance in a Million."—adv.

Signs of summer activity were not lacking at Crescent Beach Sunday. Quite a number of the cottagers were getting their summer homes ready for occupancy and fixing up the posy gardens.

The highway between Woolwich and a point well over toward Rockland has been ripped up by a scarifier and is being rebuilt and rolled and will be given a treatment of tar and gravel so that by the time the heavy travel starts it will be in good condition.

William A. Walker, ex-Senator from Hancock County, and former proprietor of the Acadian House, died in Castine Tuesday. He was a son of the late Edmund P. Walker of Vinalhaven, and many years ago played on a Rockland semi-professional baseball team.

The destroyer Childs came back to port Tuesday for a resumption of her training trials, this time making use of the anti-cavitation propeller designed by Admiral Taylor. The battleship Florida, recently modernized comes to the Rockland course May 17, and there will be trials on three successive months.

Through the Earle Ludwick real estate agency Mrs. Hiram Young has sold her residence at 24 Warren street to Miss Clara E. Fuller of Beacon street, Boston, who will use it as a home. Miss Fuller formerly resided in East Union. The Youngs are to build a new house on Barker street at once.

Hooray for Winslow Ho-Lock Post! As the result of the recent membership drive it was able to turn in 175 names, or just two more than the Bar Harbor Post, with which it was competing. When the American Legion convention meets in Bar Harbor July 4-6, the Rockland membership team, headed by Commander Donald P. "ON MY SET"

The familiar voice of President Coolidge was again heard over the WEAF chain Tuesday night, when he addressed the Pan American Commercial Conference in Washington. The importance of trade relations between North and South America and friendly attitude toward each other was emphasized. I heard the speech best over WJZ.

New York despatches tell how the studio manager of WGL cut out the microphone the other night when a woman undertook to deliver a pacifist speech. "We believe in free speech," he said, "but there are certain things which are dictated by good taste. This was not the time nor the occasion for such a speech." He said that within 15 minutes of the switch in programs, 20 messages of approval had arrived at the broadcasting station.

Daniel W. Torrey of Deer Isle has been elected senior marshal for the U. of M. commencement.

E. R. Veazie and William T. Flint motored to Portland this morning, to attend the Grand Commanery session.

King Solomon's Temple Chapter has worked on the Mark Master Mason's degree tonight. Members of King Hiram's Council are all planned for tomorrow night's big meeting.

A meeting of the executive and advisory committees of the Knox County Fish and Game Association will be held at P. P. Bicknell's camp at Alford's Lake, Friday, preceded by a supper at 6:30.

National Poppy Day this year is Saturday, May 28. A very interesting poppy drive is being planned and citizens will gladly help in the great work being done by the American Legion and its Auxiliary and of paying a tribute to all who died in the service, by buying a poppy.

During the past week Game Warden Fred Smallwood has been very busy working in the interests of the Knox County Fish and Game Association, planting 170,000 trout fry in Knox County. This is the largest amount of fry ever planted in this county at any one time and is a direct result of having such a live organization as the Knox County Fish and Game Association.

RED HEADS—WHITE HORSES

There are just as many red headed girls in New York as there are white horses, if a test made on a wager is proof. Langdon McCormick, playwright, won $10 on the short end of a 10 to 1 bet, with John P. Still, electrical engineer, thereby proving, he thinks, the superiority in one respect of Albion College over Massachusetts Tech. Counting, they cruised in a taxi some seven miles, west, east, downtown and up, including Fifth Avenue. Still resigned, when the standing was: White horses 188; red headed girls (perceptible head barred) 188.

Graham Bros. Take Over Managing Interest—Putting $8,000,000 Into the Business.

There is considerable local interest in this Detroit despatch received this morning:
At meeting of board of directors of Paige-Detroit Motor Car Co. contract was entered into between the company and Joseph E. Robert C. and Ray A. Graham, which, when ratified by stockholders of the Paige Co., will pass the controlling interest in and management of the company to the Graham Bros.
Plan will involve increasing capital stock to 1,500,000 shares from 1,000,000 and the issuance of $4,000,000 7% cumulative voting convertible second preferred stock.

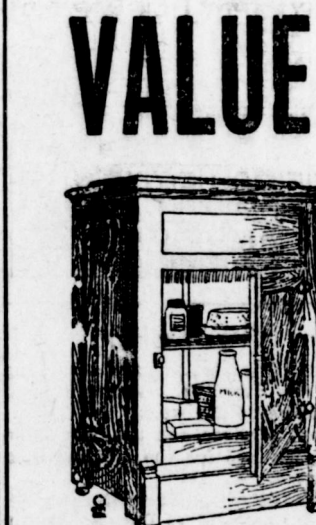

Graham Bros. will acquire at this time all of the common stock, now owned by the Jewett interests. No stock offering to the public is contemplated at this time.

Graham Bros. will immediately assume active management of the Paige business. They are putting $4,000,000 into the business at once, and plan to use another $4,000,000 for additional expansion and improvements as rapidly as may be needed for development.

SMART BOWDOIN STUDENT

The most intellectual member of the 1926 class of Bowdoin College was said to be Albert Abrahamson of Portland, who again won scholastic honors. He has just been awarded the Garth Fellowship of $1,500 at Columbia University, where he is now studying. His studies at Columbia this year are being carried on under the Charles Carroll Everett scholarship. Mr. Abrahamson was graduated from Portland high school in the class of 1922 as salutatorian. In his sophomore year he won the Smyth mathematical prize, and the Brown memorial prize. During junior year he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. In senior year he received honors in economics and won an assistantship in that subject. Recently he was appointed by President Sills to represent Bowdoin at the conference of New England colleges in Boston. There were 40 candidates for the fellowship won by Mr. Abrahamson at Columbia.

Miss Eliza Steele, Red Cross nurse, who does bedside work in the local field, goes in September to Simmons College, where she will take a four months' course in Public Health Training.

H. C. Buzzell, former President of the Senate, and turf fan extraordinary, was a visitor in the city Tuesday. "Hoot" promised that Belmont will have a ball team this season, which will make 'em all step some.

When the big superdreadnaught Colorado struck a reef in New York harbor the other day the plight of the 32-ton craft called for a great deal of newspaper attention. The commander of that craft is Capt. Franklyn D. Karnes, a former member of the Trial Board, who used to be especially fond of Rockland dunes.

Dr. Little, who preceded Harold S. Boardman as president of the University of Maine, addressed the Women's Educational Club twice, but tomorrow night will be President Boardman's first appearance before that organization. It is expected that Dr. Boardman will treat Education from the "Citizenship" standpoint, mainly and he is a fine speaker. The open forum on the Primary precedes.

Many cities are striving for the honor of having one of the new 10,000-ton scout cruisers named for them. Bath, which has proposed many ships to the Navy (and fine ones) is now saying, "why not name one 'Bath'?" Her claims are good, but why not name one for Rockland which furnishes the course on which practically all of the ships are tried? Bath Secretary Leonard of the Rockland Chamber of Commerce.

Eighteen Scouts and nine fathers turned out on Tuesday evening to a troop supper in the Congregational Church. Hunters' stew, biscuits, ice cream cake, coffee and cocoa were served up in scout camp style. Mr. Thayer spoke of the progress of Troop 6 and explained the advancement system of each grade. The fathers, not wishing to be outdone in youthful activity decided to challenge the sons to a ball game, date to be agreed upon through the managers, Walter Gay for the Scouts and Fred Black for the fathers.

It was five years ago that Mike Sacks last visited Rockland but some admirers of this popular comedian still laugh every time they hear of his droll sayings and droll ways. Next week he will be at Strand Theatre for the entire week, bringing a chorus which is very easy to look at and listen to. New scenery and electrical effects. Mike jumps all the way from Boston to fill in fine silks and a wonderful lace shawl, silk mits, bonnet and embroidered parasol of minute dimensions, with an air that matched her costume, and the other members realized at once they had no chance at all. Mrs. Ava Jackson won the prize. Comrade Woodsum and Comrade Philbrick made reminiscent remarks and told a few stories to illustrate. There will be no more circle suppers this spring, but they are planning many good times in the near future. The auction Tuesday evening found five tables of players and a good time was reported.

GRAND RODIES MEET

Masons Holding Sessions In Portland—High Office For Judge Gould.

Portland is the mecca of Maine Masons this week, the occasion being the annual sessions of the Grand Lodges.

Rev. David L. Wilson of Bath was re-elected grand master of the Grand Lodge.

The report of Charles E. Davis, grand secretary, showed that during the past year there was a growth in membership of 246 Masons, making a grand total of 43,749 Masons in the State on May 1. Mr. Davis outlined in detail the work of the various lodges, and also brought out that one new lodge was chartered during the year, the first in a period of 10 years. This is Cornerstone Lodge, No. 216, of North Deering.

The oldest Mason present was Henry Clay True of Thorndike, who is 88 years of age. He has been a Mason, always a member of Casco Lodge for 61 years.

Henry R. Gillis of Calais was elected grand master of the Grand Council of Maine, R. & S. M.

The annual sessions of the grand bodies will be brought to a close this afternoon when the Grand Commanery, Knights Templar of Maine, will hold its annual conclave, with Dana S. Williams of Lewiston grand commander presiding. It is expected that about 25 distinguished Knights Templar will be present at the session, when Edward K. Gould of Rockland probably will be elected grand commander.

"I Say This From Experience" Says V.R. Morgan of Old Town

Reduced to pitiable condition by indigestion, now hale and hearty again. Gains 23 pounds and enjoys old-time vigorous life. Gives full credit to Tanlac

At 85 Front Street, Old Town, Maine, Mr. Morgan lives with his big and happy family. Here in Old Town he was born 58 years ago, and his 240 lbs. of virile manhood typifies the sturdy stock of the Maine woods folk.

"What I went through for four months," he said, "I never want to endure again. My stomach seemed to go back on me altogether. First I had indigestion, sour stomach and bad taste in my mouth. Then came attacks of heartburn and dizzy spells. I practically quit eating, for the slightest morsel of food caused palpitation of the heart and difficult breathing. "Walking became a painful ordeal and I couldn't sleep at all. I had to tighten in my belt and just creep around the house. As a result of all these conditions I became cranky and irritable; my nerves were jumpy and I had spells of deep depression. "I tried all kinds of remedies without success. Even Tanlac at first didn't seem to help much. But after the second bottle I noticed a marked improvement. All the distressing conditions gradually disappeared and I began to recover my lost weight. Now I'm 240 lbs. and work hard every day, walking long distances with ease. I'm a new man. What I'm telling you about Tanlac is no hearsay evidence; I say this from experience."

Do you wonder that over 52 million bottles of this great natural tonic remedy have been sold? Thousands of citizens in every state of the Union have had experiences similar to that of Mr. Morgan. If you're rundown from overwork, worry or neglect, start building your way back to normalcy today. Get a trial bottle of Tanlac from your druggist. It is nature's own remedy made from herbs, roots and barks, according to the famous Tanlac formula.

New Tints

(Copyright 1927)

Pretty pastel shades are the order for Spring! Do your own tinting of lingerie and dainty dresses—but be sure to use real dyes. Get the actual dye powder at a druggist for fifteen cents and dilute it yourself.

Cold water tinting is easy, and results are perfect when you start with dyes. Dye tints are true; they don't streak. They give the same tints fabrics have when bought. And if you want the tint to stay, just use boiling water instead of cold.

Diamond dyes do regular dyeing of all materials just as successfully as they tint, too. Silks, or woolsens; linen, cotton goods. Your druggist has color cards and simple directions. Or, let us send Color Craft—free. A book with a wealth of ideas in full colors. Write for it today. Address, DIAMOND DYES, Dept. N35, Burlington, Vermont.

A HUMBLE START

How Ten Hens Served As Nucleus For Wyllie & Son's Big Poultry Farm.

The desirability of Maine as a place in which to raise poultry where the chickens can be raised in colony houses on open range with plenty of fresh air, sunlight and everything that goes to make better stock, is strikingly demonstrated by what is being done by F. H. Wyllie & Son of Warren. In the past decade this new poultry industry has sprung up quietly in this small community which has heretofore been chiefly concerned with woolen goods and shoe manufacturing.

Very few citizens realize that from the project he had in mind. A farm of 85 acres was bought on the Oyster River road and Mr. Wyllie and his son settled down in earnest.

They brought with them from Massachusetts three dozen hens and an incubator of 144-egg capacity. Shortly after their arrival they purchased their first incubator of 600-egg capacity and the first season hatched approximately 2000 chicks.

The second season saw the production doubled. In 1922 they purchased an incubator with 2640 egg capacity and the next year bought another of the same type. During this time they had been handling only S. C. R. I. Reds but no pedigreed stock.

In 1924 they devoted their time more especially to improving flock, egg production, type and color. To this end they purchased a pedigreed S. C. Red cockerel, at the same time transferring the birds. By this latter method they are able each spring to select only the best laying strain.

In 1925 they purchased another incubator with a 4608 egg capacity, having disposed of the original smaller modern incubators, all heated and electrically cooled, hatching a choice selection of eggs, which are produced under the best of breeding and sanitary conditions. The average weekly hatch being 3000 chicks.

Mr. Wyllie was born in Warren and spent his young life in good here, then moved to Mansfield, Mass., where he was employed in a machine shop. The last three years of his sojourn in Mansfield saw the birth and the beginning of the present industry.

He started with 10 hens as the nucleus of the present flock of 1200. Ten years ago the decision was made to return to Maine and go into the poultry business under conditions which would be more favorable to for Washington, D. C. tonight.

A large delegation from this place attended meetings in Rockland Tuesday.

The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Bert Andrews is in Walpole this week, called there by the death of her grandmother.

YOUNG WOMEN MAY KEEP WELL

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Here is Proof

St. Paul, Minn.—"Here is a little advice I would like to have you put in the papers,"

Mrs. Jack Lorber of 704 Dellwood Place wrote to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company.

"If young women want to keep their health and strength for the next thirty years of their lives, it is best to start in right now and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have tried the Compound myself and received fine results."

In describing her condition before taking the Compound, she writes, "I was afraid in my own house in broad daylight, I used to lock the doors and pull down the shades so that nobody could see me."

One day a booklet advertising the Vegetable Compound was left on her porch and she read it through. In so doing, she found a letter from a woman whose condition was similar to her own.

"I bought the Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Lorber continued, "and have had fine results. The condition I was in made me a burden to my husband. Now I ask 'How is housekeeping?' and he asks 'It is just like being in Heaven!'"

There will be a meeting of the Farm Bureau ladies May 10. Felt hats will be made and those wishing hats should be on hand by 10:30. Basket lunch will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richards are being congratulated upon the birth of a daughter, May 3.

Thomaston people to the number of three or four hundred were finely entertained and instructed by Paul C. Warren of Exeter, N. H., at the hall Tuesday evening.

Mr. Warren gave a most interesting talk descriptive of his trip last summer in the schooner Sachem which accompanied the schooner Bowdoin which conveyed the MacMillan expedition to Labrador, Greenland and Behm Channel.

Mr. Warren has a pleasant voice with good carrying power, making it easy for the audience to listen and receive. The 3000 feet of motion pictures brought to the eyes of the spectator new views of lands unfamiliar and which had been but a name to most of the audience. The pictures of the ice bergs, the rugged coast and high hills were reality and inspiring. The people as shown in their native dress, and their skill in managing their little boats were impressive.

The lecture and pictures were certainly appreciated by the audience. Mr. Warren may be assured that the friends he claimed in Thomaston have been many times multiplied by his kindness and liberality in the giving of the lecture and showing the views. An added local interest was the knowledge that the Sachem was a Morse built boat, the launching of which was attended by some of the audience. The boat has been sold, the name changed, and now is used for other purposes.

THOMASTON CARRIER

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to fill the position of rural carrier at Thomaston, which will be held in Rockland. Receipt of applications must be filed June 1.

The date of examination will be stated on admission cards mailed to applicants after the close of receipt of applications, and will be about ten days after that date. The salary of a rural carrier on a standard daily wagon route of 24 miles is $1,800 per annum, with an additional $30 per mile per annum for each mile or major fraction thereof in excess of 24 miles. Certain allowances are also made for the maintenance of equipment. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of the Post-office where the vacancy exists and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form 1977. Both men and women, if qualified, may enter this examination, but appointing officers have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles. Form 1977 and application blanks can be obtained from the vacancy office mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications must be on file with the Commission at Washington, D. C., prior to the close of business on the date specified above. At the examination, applicants must furnish unmounted photographs of themselves taken within two years.

YEAR IN PRISON

Given To Lincoln County Business Man On Complaint of Young Girl.

Howard H. Trussell, 55 one of the leading business men of Wiscasset, was given a sentence of one year in the State Prison on one of four indictments brought against him by the Lincoln County Grand Jury and charging offenses involving a girl less than 16 years of age. On the indictments alleging lesser charges he was fined $500 and costs of $150 when brought before Associate Justice Pattangall.

The trial of Trussell which promised to last several days came to a sudden ending after a little of the State's evidence had been presented. Trussell requested that he be allowed to retract his plea of not guilty and change it to one of guilty and this was permitted.

A 13-year-old girl was one of the witnesses for the prosecution and the attorneys for the defense were unable to shake her story.

Four secret indictments were returned against Trussell, and four other indictments which were secret were also found by the grand jury, but no arrests have yet been made.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hahn has returned home after having spent the winter in St. Petersburg, Fla. Enroute she made stops in New York, Belmont, Mass., and Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. William Winslow have gone to Rutland, Mass., where they will operate a sanitarium.

Mrs. Levi Seavey of Thomaston was the guest of Mrs. Donald Karl Monday afternoon at the Lady Knox Chapter, D. A. R. meeting. Mrs. Seavey is a member of Gen. Knox Chapter, Thomaston.

Miss Ernestine Davies is home from Montreal, visiting relatives in Camden and friends in this city.

Margaret, two-year-old daughter of Charles Winslow, has returned home after a successful appendicitis operation at Knox Hospital.

Dr. Neil A. Fogg went Tuesday night to Boston where he will spend a few days with his uncle, Commander Donald B. MacMillan, who has just returned from an extended lecture tour.

The following social note appeared in the April 29 issue of the Philadelphia Public Ledger: "Miss Jessie C. Evans, of 659 South Highland avenue, Merion, announces the engagement of her sister, Miss Sydney Evans, and Mr. Joel Benjamin Wells of this city and Deerfield, Mass." Miss Evans is daughter of Mrs. Laura Snow Evans, who was native of Rockland, a daughter of the late Charles W. Snow, a Rockland business man, who built and occupied the Grove street house now owned by the Misses Erskine.

Mrs. Frederick Pendleton and daughter Pauline passed through the city today enroute to their home in Dark Harbor. They will be accompanied by Miss Alice Lyburner, who will make a short visit.

Garland Class of the M. E. Church entertained a happy group of friends in the vestry Wednesday evening. Refreshments were in order, featuring ice cream, cake and some clever clove turtle favors made by Mrs. Lizzie Boyles.

Mrs. Charles Whittier, who has been spending the past six months in Fruitland Park, Fla., left Monday for two weeks' visit in St. Petersburg, and then starts leisurely North for Chicago and the Thousand Islands, reaching Rockland some time in July.

Mrs. Frank L. Greenlaw and son Merle of Deer Isle have been the guests for a few days of Mrs. John Marshall, North Main street.

Miss Evelyn J. Locke and Miss Florence Smith of Arlington, Mass., are guests of Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Knickerbocker.

The Juvenile Orchestra, with its 12 pieces, under the instruction of Emma Harvey, which made such a hit at the John Gribbel oratorical prize contest will play when the men are guests at the Woman's Educational Club Friday night. Box luncheon, discussion and address by the President of University of Maine. Special vocal music.

Miss Alice Lyburner, R. N., who has been visiting friends in Lewiston, Pa., Brookline and Somerville, Mass., arrives home today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Morgan are in Boston for today and Friday where Mr. Morgan is in attendance on a sales meeting and banquet given by J. McCormick Ross & Co., investment bankers, with whom Mr. Morgan is connected.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Bartlett are making their home for the present at Mr. Bartlett's uncle, Warren Crockett at The Highlands.

Lady Knox Chapter, D. A. R., held the closing meeting of a very successful year Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Donald Karl. Those present for the afternoon were: the regent, Mary Perry Rich, she had for her subject "Martha Washington," and portrayed the domestic side of her character, her love and devotion to her husband, and her untiring zeal in knitting socks, even while entertaining her infant guests. A dignified lady who was not above the more ordinary tasks of life. Her paper was much enjoyed by the members. These officers were elected: Regent, Mrs. Hester Chase; vice regent, Mrs. Suella Sheldon; secretary, Mrs. Mary Cooney; treasurer, Miss Kitty Coburn; registrar, Miss Ellen Cochran; historian, Miss Anna Thorndike; auditor, Mrs. Mabel Sherman. A rising vote of thanks was given the retiring regent, Mary Perry Rich, for her efforts to promote the growth and welfare of the Chapter for the past two years. One of the chairs for Continental Hall had previously been named for her by vote of the Chapter as a permanent reminder of appreciation of her endeavor the past year. The regent reported that the oratorical contest was a success, and recommended that the Chapter conduct another next year. A report of Congress, as seen by Mrs. E. F. Glover was given. The treasurer's report for the year showed that the receipts had been $635 and expenditures $594, a remarkable showing to which all the chapter helped to contribute, but credit for the most part is given to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Rich, who secured the largest contributions. The meeting adjourned, and a social hour followed, when sandwiches, cakes and tea were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Karl, Mrs. Anne Snow, Mrs. Butman and Mrs. Rich.

The masquerade costume party of the Junior Harmony Club takes place this evening at Odd Fellows hall from 7 to 10. Those having unpaid dues are asked to settle at this time.

L. Leslie Cross is in his wonted place again following a 10 day battle with la grippe.

The annual children's circle of the Congregational Society was held last Tuesday evening at 123 sat down to supper. The tables were prettily decorated by Mrs. Grace Lawrence with little May baskets filled with candy at each place. Mrs. Walter Rounds was in charge of games and Mrs. John I. Snow in charge of the supper. This annual event is looked forward to with much pleasure by members of the Sunday school.

Joseph Soffayer of Rockland and Boston was greeting local friends this week. He returned to Boston yesterday.

Miss Caroline Littlefield is in Castine, called by the death of her cousin, the late Hon. William A. Walker.

The Children's World Crusaders of the Littlefield Memorial Free Baptist Church entertained parents and friends Monday evening by giving a May party in the vestry. After a short program pictures of other lands were shown and greatly delighted the children. Ice cream and cake were served, then games were played in which all took part. Last but not least, the children bestowed upon each other pretty little May baskets. As this was the last meeting for the season, this presentation made a most happy ending for a year of service and work and will bring pleasant memories throughout the summer.

THE B. P. W. CALL

Clubs Impressed With Necessity Of Attending State Convention.

Miss Mildred A. Beale of Skowhegan, corresponding secretary of the Maine Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in the call for the annual convention in Skowhegan May 23 and 24, impresses upon each club the responsibility to send delegates.

"It is a duty clubs cannot escape. Correct policies can only be formulated by these Business and Professional Women's Clubs in convention and can only be carried out by officers chosen by this body."

"These annual meetings are not only a plan where fellowship and friendship may be found but inspiration is acquired with which to carry on the work of each club. They also provide the one period of the year when the individual has an opportunity to make herself heard and to take a direct and positive part in the administration and further development of the business and professional women of Maine."

Mrs. George B. Wood returned Tuesday night from a fortnight's visit in Boston and vicinity.

Mrs. J. M. Baldrige was a visitor in this city for a few days the past week preparatory to occupying her summer home at Warren some time in early June.

Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Foss leave Monday for a two weeks' stay in Philadelphia and Washington, including attendance of the American Medical Association meetings in the capital city.

CLEAN-UP WEEK AGAIN

When All Citizens Are Expected To Beautify Their Premises—Three Rules To Be Observed.

THE MAYOR'S SUGGESTIONS

Rubbish is bound to accumulate in and about our homes and unless it is removed it becomes a menace to health, increases the danger of fire, and furthermore gives our premises a cluttered and untidy appearance. Therefore, having full confidence in the civic pride of our citizens, I set apart the week of MAY 9, as CLEAN-UP WEEK, and ask the co-operation of all in order to establish our reputation for well kept homes. The city teams will collect rubbish that is placed in proper receptacles on the side of the street.

J. F. CARVER, Mayor.

The week commencing May 9, next Monday, has been set by Mayor Carver as Clean-Up Week, as voted by the City Council. The same general procedure used so successfully last year will be utilized again this year and it is hoped that the same satisfactory results may be obtained. The necessity for a general clean-up is realized by the majority of the citizens, and in order that the project may succeed the co-operation of every man, woman and child is solicited.

The city has been laid out in sections or zones to make it easier for the people who wish to dispose of the rubbish as well as those who pick it up. In order that the city teams may be used to best advantage certain districts are listed for certain days at which time they will be entirely covered by the city teams. Certain rules are laid down as last year so as to eliminate misunderstanding. These rules should be strictly observed.

First: All rubbish must be placed in receptacles of some kind. Second: Receptacles containing rubbish must be placed on the curb before the date of collection. Third: Positively no garbage will be picked up.

The above rules are simple enough so that anyone can carry them out, and it is necessary that a strict observance be followed for the reason that the city teams will positively make no return trips on any days following the date of collection. The following zones have been laid out and it is hoped that the days of collection in these zones will be carefully remembered by those living in their respective communities and see to it that their rubbish is placed on the curb the night before the day of collection.

Zone 1. Monday, May 9

HOOVER

Now Offers Two Great Values

The new principle, "Positive Agitation," has completely changed all previous conceptions of rug cleanliness, by getting in ordinary cleaning time 131% more dirt than even the former well known Hoover model.

Now we are showing, in addition to this cleaner, a popular-priced Hoover with the same "Positive Agitation" feature that it offered in The Greater Hoover.

You can take your choice. Both are unequalled values. We will gladly demonstrate either or both, any day you say, on your own rugs. Or come in and let us explain to you the amazing difference between these two Hoovers and an ordinary vacuum cleaner. The Hoover is easy to own; a small deposit and a few easy monthly payments make it yours.

KATHLEEN MILLAY

Her Book "Wayfarer" Shows Her Brilliant in the Field of Fiction.

Our readers like to think of the four brilliant women of the Millay family as belonging to Knox County—the three girls, Edna St. Vincent, Kathleen and Norma, and the equally brilliant mother, Cora Buzzell, whose beginnings are associated with Camden and our own city where the poet Vincent was born. Let us reprint from the pen of the literary critic of the Cincinnati Star this entertaining review of the entrance of one of the sisters into the field of book writing.

The closing months of the last year were marked by the appearance of many notable novels, both in America and England, most of which have been noted in these columns. Among those briefly noticed was "Wayfarer," by Kathleen Millay, a sister of Edna St. Vincent Millay, the poet. Hereafter, no doubt, there will be many who will refer to the poet, despite the brilliancy of the verse and the priority of her fame, as the sister of the novelist, for Miss Kathleen's novel is as brilliant in the way of fiction as anything Miss Edna has ever achieved in the way of poetry.

Miss Kathleen has written a novel that is both realistic and romantic, which is saying that she has stuck close to life. In which romance and realism travel hand in hand. The story opens in Greenwich Village, when it was the village of tradition, before it had become commercialized into a show place for tourists. Then it jumps to Maine, to one of the harshest and coldest parts of that land of icy lakes and storm-swept coasts. Then back to New York to find Greenwich Village all changed, and then to Maine again for good—for good in a double sense for the good of "Martha's" soul and for good when that means time.

The story is the story of "Martha," a Greenwich Village girl, who is not a painter, a musician, poet, actress, novelist or any of the folk who are supposed to have lived and had their being in the Village of those days. She had been cast out of home because she wouldn't marry the man her father had picked out for her. She went to the Village because she could be free and independent there. She had a little money and she made a little money as a model and in other ways. She made some friends and was rather contented until "John Bartlett," who had left the Maine farm and come down to New York, planning a trip abroad, fainted at her feet because he had forgotten about eating. As it turns out in the end, he couldn't have picked a better place for fainting. "Martha" was equal to the emergency and then troubles began to brew, trouble the doctor couldn't subdue, trouble for "John" and "Martha" too, as Jane Field wrote about Johnny Jones and his sister Sue. I am not going to outline the story. It is too long and too complicated for outlining, but it is not too long or too complicated for reading and understanding.

There are two or three things about the story that are unusual. It opens in war times and there is a flashing reference to the war and the armistice, but Miss Millay has contented herself with the reference, which shows that she is an author of sense and restraint. It opens in Greenwich Village when the Village was "wide open," but Miss Millay was not overcome by that fact. She goes right ahead with her story and doesn't devote herself to the obliquities that surround her hero and heroine. She indicates them without going into painful details. You can sense the worse than follies and frivolities of the Village, and that is enough. They color the background. A third, and a more remarkable feature of the tale is Miss Millay's style. It has beautiful simplicity and directness without being austere or abrupt. It is the style that con-

Wants To Help Others

Miss Bertha Matuszek

Hadley, Mass.—It is with the greatest of pleasure that I write the following for it may do hundreds of suffering people good. I suffered with nervousness and weakness, but when I started to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, my nerves became stronger and my strength returned.

"I also used Dr. Pierce's Ironic Tablets to make my blood richer, and I'm now well and strong. I hope other women who suffer will try Dr. Pierce's medicines as I know they will help them."—Miss Bertha Matuszek, East St., Box 56.

ceals style. It is never involved, never belabored, never strained. There is never any "fine writing."

There is much wit and humor, some great descriptive passages, and much understanding of the human heart and mind. "Martha" has a sharp tongue when she wants to use it. Talking in the Village in the old days, she says:

"If you had ever heard of the Village before you came to it, it would have been from some scandal-monger who would have sworn it was a den of free love, radicalism, draft-evasion, weak-kneed men and masculine women, and—oh, everything that good people love to talk about."

"Martha" can't stand having gratitude poured out upon her. "There's too much thinking and apologizing in this world as it is. Takes a lot of time and doesn't get you anywhere." "John" also has views. He is struck with the ancient fact that everybody in the Village is striving to win immortality and most of them are trying to achieve it by writing. "They almost forget about living," he says. "If nobody ever did anything but write, there wouldn't be much to write about. As it is, most writings are written about writing folks. I s'pose it's because that's all writing folks know how to write about."

The story becomes great when it gets back to Maine. A convincing and compelling picture is painted of the hard and barren life of the women, of the sameness of the days, of the long and dreary winters which Longfellow wrote about in "Hiawatha," and he knew them because he was a Maine man; of the vicious gossip of the women; of the terror of the expectant motherhood of the lure of a stranger who opened the door to a return to the gayety and color of New York. But it is a great story all the way through. Miss Millay has got mighty close to life and humanity.

TO OPPOSE SMITH

The "Merely Moist" Idea Introduced To Fool South, W. C. T. U. Says.

Democratic women standing together prevented the nomination of Gov. Al Smith of New York as the Democratic choice for President in 1924, and the Democratic women standing together can prevent his nomination in 1928. Mrs. Ella A. Poole, president of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, said Sunday in a letter to State W. C. T. U. presidents:

In announcing that the W. C. T. U. has started a campaign to defeat Gov. Smith if he is a candidate for the Presidency, a statement issued from the National W. C. T. U. headquarters at Evanston said that "The W. C. T. U. will work to educate the people of the country that Al Smith is a wet and always will be." The campaign will be pressed particularly in the South, said the statement. "Where the women are mainly dry and all Democrats."

State papers issued by the W. C. T. U. said the statement, will carry first page announcements of the opposition of the organization and Mrs. Poole soon is to start a campaign to "Arouse the Democratic women of the country to the fact that present political plans seem to be to fool the South and West into believing that Al Smith is merely slightly moist instead of being as wet as the Atlantic Ocean."

"As an organization," said Mrs. Poole's letter to state presidents, "The Women's Christian Temperance Union has no part in the controversy in regard to religion. We are, however, vitally concerned that the man who is nominated and elected as the Chief Magistrate of the United States be dry and be ready to fulfill his obligations in the execution of this law as of every other law."

During the 20 years Gov. Smith has been in politics, said the letter, he has been closely identified with Tammany Hall which was described as having stood for the saloon and for Sunday opening.

"He may talk about law enforcement," said the letter, "but has never done anything to promote law enforcement. His nomination would be considered a great victory by the wets. It can only be prevented by dry Democrats refusing to be deceived by claims that he is against the saloon and that he favors law enforcement."

BACK IN MAINE

Rev. Pliny A. Allen, Former Rockland Pastor, Located In Norway.

Rev. Pliny A. Allen, former pastor of the Universalist Church in this city, is now preaching in Norway, Me. A Norway special says:

"His coming may be said to be like a home-coming, for since 1840 some of his relatives have resided here. His coming is a return to Maine, for he was for some years a pastor in Rockland.

"Mr. Allen comes from a family of preachers or ministers, and his grandfather, the Rev. Timothy J. Tenney, came to Norway in 1810 and for six years was the well-loved pastor. His daughter, S. Adnah, married Frank A. Danforth and lived in Norway until her death, Dec. 26, 1924. For more than a year previous to her passing, Mr. Allen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pliny Allen of Mattapoisett, Mass., were with her, and so it happens that there have been less than three years since 1840 that some member of his family has not lived in town. In his boyhood days, Mr. Allen often visited his relatives so he was kept in touch with the people and the church. He graduated from Tufts College and the Crane Divinity School and was ordained at Marblehead, Mass., where he had his first pastorate. Later followed Orange and Medford, Mass., Rockland, Maine, and then Galesburg, Illinois, where in addition to ministering to the church, he was professor of Religious Education at Lombard College.

"And now he is in Norway and is fast getting into the work, having been called to attend two funeral services this week, and has called on some of the older parishioners who have been shut in for years. Mr. Allen is a 32d degree Mason, having taken all the degrees in the Scottish rites and was a member of the Kiwanis at the last place of residence. Rev. and Mrs. Allen have a family of two daughters and four sons. Esther, the oldest, is a graduate of Columbia College and at the present time occupies the responsible position of Laboratory Technician at Northwestern Medical College, Chicago; Danforth and Pliny, 3d, are students at Lombard College, Galesburg, Illinois, one a junior and the other a sophomore; Miss Virginia is a junior in the High School at Providence, R. I. Paul, 10 years, started school in Norway grades Monday and Jack the baby is two and a half years."
