Leonard lake has lost its floating islands, and nobody is sorry. The power company, which feared the islands might come down till they lodged against the dam, possibly a large part of them sinking there, feels reheved. In the high wind Sunday the floating islands were driven down to the dam, and lodged at the crest. The water backed up behind the debris, and with wind and water pressure behind it, nearly the whole mass was finally forced over the dam, and was swept down river. The power company is now clearing the lake of debris that remains.

It is understood that Miss Springham will not return here, as the number of deaconnesses in this conference has been reduced, and those remaining will divide their time between several districts. There will be no service at the Methodist church next Sunday.

Three chimmey fires in the high wind

Sunday.

Three chimmey fires in the high wind Sunday occupied the attention of the firemen—one at the house of S. J. Morrison, another at the house of Alexander Black, and the third at the house of James A. McGown. At the Morrison and Black houses the chimmeys burned out without setting fire to the wood-work, but at the McGown house, wood-work in the attic caught fire. The fire was extin guished by the firemen without damage to the house. Mr. McGown compliments Chief-Engineer Goodwin and his firemen very highly on their watchfulness, and the care shown in preventing damage to the house in extinguishing the fire. He backed up his good words for the firemen by a box of cigars.

The sociable and dance given by Wm. H. H. Rice post, G. A. R., last Thursday evening, proved a most enjoyable affair. James E. Parsons was called upon to preside by Post-Commander William Small.

Mr. Parsons spoke briefly of Lee's surrender, of which the day was the fortythird anniversary. The entertainment included speeches by J. B. Redman and Milton Beckwith, singing by a quartette composed of Miss Mary F. Hopkins, Mrs. J. A. Cunningham, John O. Whitney and O. W. Tapley, with Mrs. Harvard Greely as accompanist; solos by Miss L. M. Trundy, with Miss M. A. Hodgkins as accompanist, and singing by the assemblage. Cards were then enjoyed in Grand Army hall, and dancing in Society hall adjoining. Monaghan's orchestra furnished music.

The alterations in the masonic rooms in nished music.

The alterations in the masonic rooms in the Manning block are far enough advanced to show what pleasant and convenient quarters the masonic bodies will have. The work in the lodge room is about completed. A handsome arched ceiling of figured steel has been put on, while the side walls, down to the wainscotting are covered with linerusta walton. The color scheme is buff and white. There are new electric light fixtures. The halls are papered in dark green. The greatest change, in matter of convenience, is the large kitchen built back of the dining hall in the Franklin street extension of the building. The kitchen extends entirely across the hall, making a room about 13x 33 feet. It is equipped with closets, tables, sink and other conveniences to facilitate serving banquets to large numbers witt-out confusion. The old kitchen has been made into a smoking room, from which the men's toilet opens. The former toilet room has been made into a women's toiler room. Doors into the lodge rooms have been widened. The dining or dancing hall will be newly painted.

The home of George Porter Smith and wife on Franklin street was the scene of a quiet wedding yesterday morning, when their daughter, Miss Corinne V., became the bride of Edwin S. Andrews. of Carmel. The groom is a young farmer of that town, while the bride is well known in this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. A. A. Killani, the ring service being ased. The bride was tastefully attired in a traveling dress of Copenhagan blue, with weist of white trimmed with cluncy lace. The couple was unattended, and the service was witnessed by the immediate members of the family. #### Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning April 19, 1908. By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—Sunday, our weekly Easter, and how to observe it.—John xx. :-10; 19-23; Rev. i, 10.

Wher Easter Sabbath comes we are always reminded that Christ arose from the dead upon the Sabbath, but throughout the rest of the year we fall to remember that every Sabbath is a memorial of Christ's resurrection. But it is. In the Old Testament the seventh day was the Sabbath day, but in the New Testament it was changed from the seventh day to the first in honor of the fact that on that day our Lord rose from the dead. The seventh day is no longer mentioned as the Sabbath day. The apostles met on the first day of the week, and they speak of the Sabbath as "the first day" and "the Lord's day." John says, "I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day." is no question but what the change was made and that today the first day of the week is the Sabbath, so that every Sabbath day is Easter Sabbath far as the commemoration of Christ's resurrection is concerned. It is well to remember this tremendous fact. It may help us to attach more importance to the Sabbath and inspire us to honor it and keep it holy in a higher and truer sense than we now do. This is "a consummation de voutly to be wished." There is a great increase in the desecration of the Sabbath day. The enemies of Christianity disregard it, denounce it and try in every way to break it down. Moreover, the professed followers of Christ are more and more disregarding the Sabbath. This should not be so. Man needs the Sabbath. For the best interest of body, mind and soul he needs one day out of seven "to be in the Spirit" and to rest from worldly cares and recreations. The man who disregards the Sabbath is his own enemy. shortening his life here and risking the loss of his soul in the life to come.

But how are we to observe the Sabbath? God has told us. (1) We are to rest. This resting is not loafing or pleasure seeking or visiting. Body and mind are to rest from usual cares that attention may be paid to the soul. (2) We are to honor the Sabbath. The man who truly honors it will find the proper way to keep it holy. God rough His word and Spirit will reveal to him what to do and what not to do. "Remember the Sabbath day and keep it hely." BIBLE READINGS.

Busy Men and Christian Endeavor.

The other night when the rain was pouring torrents an editor met President Copeland of the Massachusetts union on a train. He had been speak-ing for a local union. When will you reach home?" he was asked. "About 1 o'clock in the morning," was the answer. "How often do you make such trips?" "About once a week." That is a sample of the splendid consecration that busy men are making for Christian Endeavor.

EASTER-TIDE.

What means the Easter-tide? New hope and joy, New faith. God's love is wide. V hate'er anney.

New trust in things above. Beyond our ken. And fuller mete of love For fellowmen.

-Lalia Mitchell.

Dear M. B. Friends:

I had a longer Easter poem laid by for this number, which wasal so kindly sentnot this year, but some years ago-by Alexis. In fact, that, and the above comprehensive, eight-line stanza came to gether. After reading this one over two or three times, I decided if we could heed all its teachings it would be quite as much as we could accomplish in one Easter-tide.

M. A. B. has taken a text from our column and given us a nice sermonette, as Janet would express it.

"Thank God every morning that you have something to do that day which must be done, whether you like it or not. Being forced to work and to do your best will breed you a hundred virtues which the idle will never know."—From M. B. column, Marc: 25, 1998.

Bless your dear heart. Aunt Madge: I must have hundreds upon hundreds of virtues, fo I rise morning after morning, week after me which I feel compelled to perform, and am always forced to work with the additions feeling also that I must do my best.

I have wondered many times if, had I only made a practice of shirking, as some do, I should not have gone through the world much easier. But I won't shirk. If only those who careless and leave the work which is theirs to do, could realize that by so doing they are heaping care and pain upon some poor souls already weighed down till it needs but a feather or two more to cause them to sink under it, would they do better? I hardly think they would, even if they could knothat the body so full of pain, the feet and hands so weary that they can hardly bear their burdens, are loaded still heavier by their careless neglect and, shall I say it-laziness If each would do his part, how much pain and suffering would be spared. Thank God there is another class who strive to lighten the duties of their overloaded sisters or brothers. Many times I meet such helpers and my heart is lightened, oh, so much, by Maybe some one will say, "I guess she not done my duty to Aunt Madge, perhaps; but I have been very, very much at work. A part of the time I have been quite ill, and really ought to have been in bed; even now I am using time which should be spent in sleep, for it is past 11 p. m. I am writing with pencil, too, for I upset my ink on the carpet— a thing I never did before in my life—one day then I was over-worked, nervous and nearly ill, and company was coming.

One reason is that I have not seemed to think of anything which would be of any us to tell the column. Maybe this is worse than nothing, but Aunt Madge will be judge. I have been to the flower display at Horticul-tural hall, Boston, and that is worth telling of, only it is impossible to do it justice. Were only it is impossible to do it justice. Were any of you there! I wore my badge and did hope to find a Mutual. I was there Sunday. March 22. I know that some of our column heard an address in which her island home was described. How true your thoughts on work are, M. A. B. If-the world's work was evenly divided everywhere-well, we can not imagine what the state of things would be. I caught a glimpse in some book or paper, perhaps some clipping sent for the column of a title like this: "Do the work child's life was spared by feeding a gruel made of entire wheat. Don't know just how it was made, but think it was a thin gruel cooked several hours and used without milk, or it might have been put in milk, as the oat-meal or barley water is. A sister read Belle's letter, and says that it may be better to feed cold milk, as it agrees with some bables bet-

How many of the sisters have hens setting? suppose the day will affect their intelligence? I have heard it said that a hen was a "fool" anyway. We are hoping for some roasters for summer eating. This is not a very healthful place for roasters after they get of any size. We like the young ones fried. Cut them up and put in spider, boil in a little water for an hour, then remove cover and allow the water to cook down; brown in butter. After removing the pieces, pour some cream into spider and thicken a little with flour.

Mr. Cooper says that human health is ach. He says that no disease can be conquered without first alleviating all stomach disorders. He further says that most men and women of this generation are half sick, owing to degenerate stomachs. And lastly, he claims that his New Discovery medicine will rejuvenate the human stomach in 90 days.

Cooper has been traveling from one city to another, conducting in each what he calls a campaign of education. For the past year he has met the public in the larger cities of the country, and his success has been phenomenal. Thousands of people have flocked to his headquarters wherever he has gone, and the sale of his medicine has been beyond anything of the kind ever before witnessed.

Possibly the most interesting feature of the attention this young man has attracted is what his army of followers, whom he has converted to his beliefs through his medicines, have to say on the subject. The following statements are from two well known residents of Chicago and Boston, respectively, and the enthusiasm of these is characteristic of

NATIVE OF ELLSWORTH.

Recent Death of Donald R. Lord, at Scattle, Wash.

Donald R. Lord, a native of Ellsworth and brother of the late Capt. James Lord. died at Seattle, Wash., March 19, aged seventy-nine years. A Scattle paper says of him:

The death of Donald R. Lord removes a pio neer in the salmon-canning industry of the Pacific coast, the constructor of more can-

Mr. Lord had suffered long from a cancer About ten days ago he underwent an opera tion, from which he failed to recover.

Benjamin Curtis, of Weliesley Hills, Mass., who owns a summer cottage near here, presented the Willing Workers with a fine lot of late magazines for their library, and has promised to send them regularly. The members are very grateful. Old-timers remember Mr. Lord as the man who designed for John Devlin, at Astoria, the first cannery built on the Columbia river. That was in the '50s. Born in Ellsworth, Me., October 19, 1828, he came to Puget Sound in 1854, landing at Port Gamble, where he was employed as a millwright. In the same year, at Port Gamble he married Sarah A. Rose, who died two years ago

Following his construction of the Devlin cannery at Astoria, Mr. Lord designed a fancy of the industry. In later years he erected other canneries, including one on the Fraser, which he operated himself: one on Rivers Inlet, two at Blaine and two on the Skeena. His most notable achievment in cannery building, however, was the construc tion, in 1899, of the famous Pacific-American then the Franco-American-cannery, at Bellingham, the largest plant of its kind in the world. In all he had designed and built sixteen canneries on the coast.

Mr. Lord was a resident of Seattle from 1865 to 1873. He was president of the board of directors for the Seattle district which, about 1868, bought Seattle's first district-owned which was moved from its old location, at Third avenue and Spring street, to the foot of Virginia street, and was used for many years. Mr. Lord had a fight on his hands to get the board to make this move. Prior to that time the district had been leasing its buildings. Mr. Lord spent many years at Astoria where, besides building canneries, he oper explain how the fish had propagated, and ated them for other people. Later he spent the greater part of his time at various places at last started a theory of spontaneous production. Among the more ignorant this theory gained credence until a pro-fessor from Sydney chanced to kill a in Washington and British Columbia, where he constructed and operated canneries. Durhis residence in Seattle Mr. Lord built th old Plymonth church building on Second avenue, the predecessor of the present edifice which has now grown too old and too small for its congregation. He was a prominent member of the Pioneers' association.

Mr. Lord leaves three sons and three daughters-Harry C., of the steamboat inspection service; William R., of Vancouver, B. C.; Charles R., of Ladner, B. C.; Mrs. Amanda R. Prendergast and Mrs. Evelyn B. Dorr, of Chico, Wash., and Mrs. Lottie Thorne, of New Berlin, Pa. A son, Frank Lord, recently de ceased, was the pioneer canneryman of Anacortes. Half of the city of Chelsea, Mass., was wiped out by a fire which raged in the heavy gale Sunday. The loss is estimated at $10,000,000. Four lives were lost, and fifty persons were injured.

Among the structures destroyed were thirteen churches, two hospitals, the public library, city hall, five schoolhouses twenty business blocks, nearly a score of factories and upwards of 300 tenements and dwelling-houses.

TO BOOM SORRENTO. IMPORTANT TRANSFER OF PROP-ERTY THERE.

LAST OF THE JONES INTERESTS BOUGHT -IMPROVEMENTS CONTEMPLATED -HOTEL ACCOMODATIONS

The most important transaction in summer resort property in Maine in recent years, involving property to the value of a quarter of a million dollars, has just been concluded at Sorrento. The transfer means much for Sorrento, as it removes a handicap under which the town has long been laboring, and places the property in hands of parties to whose interest it will be to develop it as a summer resort. The location of Sorrento, its beautiful scenery and climate, and improvements already made there, justly entitle it to a leading place among the coast resorts of Maine and there is no reason why she should not soon rival her big sister across the bay.

George H. Grant, of Ellsworth, all its holdings at Sorrento, which includes five hundred acres of land and five large cot-tages. The millionaire brewer expended $350,000 in the development of this property. Since his death, the property been tied up during settlement of the large estate. Mr. Grant has sold a quarter interest to Mrs. H. N. Slater, of Boston, a wealthy Bar Harbor cottager.

One of the most important changes which will be made at once, in time for the coming season, will be to convert two of the large cottages-"Rockend" and "Lookout," into a hotel. Together they will have about forty rooms.

One of the new features will be the dining-room opening on to a large, roomy piazza, with plate glass windows, which will afford a charming view of Frenchman's bay and the mountains. It is intended to serve dinner parties, afternoon teas, etc. The latter may be served on the lawns under the magnificent shade trees which cover the grounds. The house and grounds will be lighted by electricity.

Just a short distance from this hotel is a fine, secluded cove, with excellent beach for bathing. Visitors! to Sorrento never tire of the surroundings. There are beautiful drives and walks in every direction, and the scenery surpasses that of Bar Harbor, affording a broader view of bay, sea and mountains.

Particular attention will be paid to automobile tourists, and Sorrento will become the headquarters for Bar Harbor cottagers who wish to enjoy motoring, but are restricted from doing so at Bar Harbor. A short sail across the bay, and their automobiles are at hand for a spin through the most delightful scenery of Maine. A large garage will be built at Sorrento.

Sorrento is the same distance from Ellsworth as Bar Harbor, and all autos destiped for Bar Harbor have to pass through Ellsworth, so the distance would be the same and the roads equally as good. ferry will take the tourists to Bar Harbor.

The valuation and taxes at Sorrento are easonable. There are good stores, markets, postoffice, telegraph and telephone stations, schoolhouse, livery stable, golf links and tennis courts. There is a picturesque church and rectory and a beautiful public library, both built by summer visitors. There is a club known as Holly wood Inn club, maintained by the visit-

A beautiful lake five miles northeast of Sorrento and about 300 feet above sea level furnishes pure water for one of the finest underground systems in the country. The village is supplied with hydrants and fire apparatus. The Cockrans, prominent summer residents, last year purchased the water works and the wharf property. A new wharf has been built, and those properties will be developed and maintained for the benefit of the public.

benefit of the public.

The new owners of the Jones interests control miles of shore front that will be kept open for the benefit of all visitors. There will be no fences to bar the lovers of the water front from enjoying beaches and walks. The harbor is protected and perfectly safe for small boats at all times.

Among prominent summer cottagers at perfectly safe for small boats at all times.

Among prominent summer cottagers at Sorrento are Chief Justice M. W. Fuller, of the United States suprerre court, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. W. F. Cochran, Mrs. Daniel Lamont, Mrs. Susan V. #### FROM WASHINGTON.

Senator Hale Cautions Congress

Sprinting to Meet Roll-Call. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 13 (special)— The Maine folks around Washington and many others here have been delighted recently to see Senator Hale "give it to 'em' a little in the Senate. He is one of the eaders now engaged in the unwelcome task of convincing Congress and the country that there are breakers ahead, and that the government has not money enough to keep on living at the pace it has been

Everybody else, except the very wealthy, has had to curtail expenses, live more moderately and keep within the income. The government has been doing nothing of the kind. So many people have been in the habit of reaching into the treasury for large sums every year that they canno get it into their heads that that sort of thing cannot be kept up without bankrupting the government, or rather of forcing the treasury department to sell bonds to keep money enough in the till to pay

There never was a winter when Congressmen were surging forward with so many schemes, all calling for money, some of them calling for millions. And few people have been putting pencil to paper to figure how the continued falling off of receipts was going to affect the government's paying power.

And so Senator Hale in the Senate has been crying "halt, halt," and the Con-gressmen have begun to take notice. At first they were inclined to say that the senator was "scolding", but he has been putting the case up so there can be no doubt, and as he continued to be virtually the acting chairman of appropriations, there is no one who can speak with more authority on the subject than he. The other day Mr. Hale went after the war department like a thousand of brick for planning to reorganize and enlarge the army, at the time when internal improvements of importance had to be held up for want of funds.

Tha Maine members of the House, like all of their colleagues, have been very busy the last week answering roll-calls. Since the democratic filbuster came on, there has been no telling what hour of the day the House would have to vote, or how late into the night it might sit. Most of the Maine men have offices in the new building one block south of the capitol, and occasionally they have had to "streak it" to get into the House on time. Representatives Allen and Burleigh are somewhat unfortunate in that particular because their names begin with letters from the front part of the alphabet.

The other day Gov. Burleigh had gone over to his office, which, being on the south side of the office building, is quite two blocks distant from the hall of the House-two long blocks that one is quite five minutes in walking. Betls ring in every one of the offices for roll-call. Gov. Burleigh had no more than settled down to his afternoon mail, when the call sounded. He thought he would wait till the second call, as the list of names of members are read out twice to afford all every possible opportunity of voting. Finally as he started up the long corridor toward the capitol, the bells rang for the second call and Burleigh is only a short

The governor started at a double-quick. He ran into the nearest elevator, emerged into the tunnel, which curves its way up to the House elevator. He made tim along that underground way which would do credit to many a younger man back in the old third district. It was touch and go as to whether the governor would make it. Some other members, whose names come farther down the alphabet, were running with him. They got off the elevator at the House floor and were making through the House lobby.

Among the minor matters which Congressman Burleigh has recently had under way is that of the establishment of a postoffice at Eagle island, Hancock county, and notice has lately been given of favorable action thereon by the postoffice department. Rev. A. M. MacDonald, secretary of the Maine Seacosat missionary society, first became interested in the matter, and believing that the inhabitants were entitled to mail service, ampeded to matter, and believing that the inhabitants were entitled to mail service, appealed to Congressman Burleigh, who made a determined effort and was able to secure favorable action thereon. In the past the people have had very poor mail facilities, and the new arrangement will be a great improvement.

Important Decision.

It is important that you should decide to take only Foley's Honey and Tar when you have a cough or cold, as it will cure the most obstinate racking cough and expel the cold from your system. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no harmful drugs. Insist upon having it. G. A. PARCHER.

There was filed Friday a voluntary petition in bankruptcy by S. A. Nye, the Fairfield lumberman, as an individual and as a member of three partnerships. The schedules show liabilities of nearly a million dollars, but these liabilities are chiefly in the cases where the petitioner is a signer of partnership notes for which others are also liable.

Senator Hale has introduced a bill designed to terminate conflicts between Maine and New Brunswick lumbermen whose difficulties recently have been the subject of a number of diplomatic exchanges. The bill is to repeal the law which permits the free importation of logs and lumber owned and cut by Americans in New Brunswick. The lumbermen of the two countries have engaged in flerce battles on the St. John river, and the situation has become so serious that the Maine senators and Sec. Root have given a great deal of attention to working out a programme to end the trouble. They concluded that the only way was to with draw the privilege of free transportation from foreign territory of American owned

A Happy Solution There had been a long-standing differ-ence of opinion in the Plunkett family oncerning the dining-table. Mrs. Plunket maintained that its legs were to short, and ought to be lengthened at least half

"It dosen't fit our chairs, Jared, and you know it," she contended. "When we sit down to this table we're too high above it. You could have pieces of wood glued on the ends of the legs. That would be easier than to saw off the ends of all the chair-than to saw off the ends of all the chairlegs."

"I don't agree to your proposition at all, Cordelia," said Mr. Plunkett. "I think the table is just right. But I'm willing to compromise the matter. You have been wanting a hardwood floor in this diningroom for a long time, haven't you?"

"Well, we can have that new kind of hardwood flooring that is laid on top of the old floor. That will raise the entire surface three-eighths of an inch or more, and that will raise the table. of course, just so much. How will that do?"

This seemed to be a fair proposition, and without a moment's hesitation, Mrs. Plunkett accepted it as a satisfactory compromise.—Youth's Companion.

Notable Senate Utterances.

[Boston Transcript.]

Mr. Hale of Maine, the chairman of Senate committee on naval the debate in the S-nate recently, as shown by the Congressional Record of such weight and wisdom that they cannot be too much emphasized.

Cannot be too much emphasized.

Now, somebody may say that I am too severe upon these authorities of the army; but I have lived long enough to try to see more than one side of a question, and the officers of the army and navy have nothing in their minds—and that is natural—but the two establishments. The army sees nothing but the army; and the army; ade to a limmense revenue pouring in for the uses of the government is that it makes a great reservoir for army appropriations. With some exceptions, the naval officers have the same idea. Anybody who has listened to the debate for the last day or two in the other branch of Congress will see how this exploiting of enormous appropriations for the navy is brought out. We must have a navy, and we have got to-day, practically, in actual force and strength and usefulness, the second navy in the world; and yet naval officers and naval boards tell us that we need to double it.

Mr. Hale was followed by Senator

Mr. Hale was followed by Senator Aldrich, who brought out the further point that the majority must assume responsibility for expenditures, showing how the minority senators habitually seek to increase public outlay and then, when the campaign comes around, criticises the party in power for the resulting total. Mr. Aldrich for the resulting total. Mr. Aldrich said:

I hope that the timely utterances of the senator from Maine will have the serious attention especially of senators sitting upon this side of the Chamber, who are responsible for legislation. We have had in the present facely year an excess of expenditures above receipts of $83,000,000. In the corresponding period of last year we had an excess of receipts above expenditures of $2,000,000, as compared with this year. We are certain to have a large deficiency in revenue this year.

But what I especially desire to call to the attention of the Senate is the fact that there are now pending before the Senate four or five bills that involve unusual and extraordinary expenditures of more than a hundred million dollars; and I am sorry to say that one of those items of expenditure is a proposition offered by the senator from Georgia (Mr. Bacon), who is constantly an economist in observation, involving at least $10,000,000. I hope the Senate will seriously consider these questions of abstracting money from the treasury of the United States by these enormous expenditures, which are sure to be made a subject of criticism. In the approaching political campaign we shall see the senator from Georgia (Mr. Bacon), the senator from Georgia (Mr. Bacon), the senator from Georgia (Mr. Bacon), upon the stump criticising the republican party for their ecormous expenditures—made a their suggestion and with their co-operation.

It will be a sad day for this country It will be a sad day for this country when conservative men of the type of Hale and Aldrich, now veterans in the service of the Scuate, give place to youthful enthusiasts who, as was once waggishly suggested, "are against every tax and for every appropriation." Our legislative bodies suffer from lack of men of a sense of business responsibility, men who see suffer from lack of men of a sense of business responsibility, men who see both sides of the ledger, and realize what the burden of taxation entails. One of the great, inevitable issues of the future, all along the line of city, State and nation, is sure to be the cost of our being governed. It is already mounting up furiously, as these veterans of the Senate show. Massachusetts continues to be represented in the Senate by men who weigh this consideration carefully.

COUNTY GOSSIP.

"Forty-three years ago," says our West Franklin correspondent, "the ice left the ponds hereabouts on the 9th of April. Some said the heavy cannonading of that day, in celebration of Lee's surrender, broke up the ice."

Seaville is the name of Hancock connty's newest postoffice. It is on Long island in Bluehill bay. There are seventeen families on the island. Another of Hancock county's island settlements will soon have a postoffice—Eagle island.

Our Surry correspondent exclaims: "Oh for the electric road to Ellsworth now!" for the electric road to Ellsworth now!"
The mud-time of the year is not a delightful one in the rural districts. Some day the right man will come along with foresight enough to see a paying proposition in an electric road from Ellsworth to Surry, Bluehill and across the county to Castine, with a branch to the Eggemoggin Reach towns. And then the cross-county road will come.

The ten-inch Rodman guns that are to be shipped away from Fort Knox, at Bucksport, are now on the government wharf. These were dismounted in 1902 from the down-river battery. Seven of these guns are to be shipped at this time, and they will go to the following places: One each to Yellow Springs, Ohio; Shelby, Mich.; Holdrege, Neb., and are for the G. A. R. posts at these places; Warren, R. I., for the Massasoit monumental association; one to Frankfort, Mich.; one to Manitou, Mich. These are given to the towns. The average weight of these guns is seven and one-half tons, and they are quite an expense to take them from the battery, get them across the river, loaded on the cars and to their final homes, but in each case all expense is paid by those who are to receive them.

ASSIGNMENT OF CASES.

The remainder of the afternoon yester-day was occupied by calling the docket and the assignment of cases. Fifty-four cases were put on the trial

Inst.
Indications are that the term will be short, though the trial list is long. Justice Spear called out a considerable amount of "dead wood" from the docket, many cases which have been continued from term to term for years being dismissed or put on the trial list to be disposed of at this term.

OBITUARY.

The clder residents of Ellsworth who knew him so well were pained to fearn of the death, on April 12, of Dr. Frank H. Brimmer, at Minneapoits, Minn. He was sixty-four years of age.

Mr. Brimmer was one of six children of John and Wary Brimmer. He spent his boyho dhere, learning the dentist's trade of the lete Dr. J. T. Osgood. He practiced four or five years in Castine and for a few months in Bar Harbor. He then went West in 18.2, settling in Minneapolis, where he had lived and practiced eversince. since.

since.

Dr. Brimmer narried Miss Lizzie Wilson, of Iowa, who died about six years ago, and her death probably hastened his own. One son John, W. was born to them; he is an electrical engineer, and is now in Montana.

Montana.

He is survived by two brothers — John H. and William H., both of this city. John left last Friday night to be present at the funeral yesterday. Interment was at Minneapolis.

Dr. Brimmer was a man of rare intellectual attainments. Besides knowing his profession thoroughly, he was well-read, and was a writer of no small ability. He was a rare musician; in his younger days he possessed a fine tenor voice. His instrument was the violin, which he had played from boyhood, and in which he took great delight.

Since going West in 1872, he had been back to his old home but twice, once in 1884, and again in the summer of 1903.

Let not future things disturb thee, for thou wilt come to them if it shall be neces-sary, having with thee the same reason which now thou usest for present things. —Marcus Antonius.

CITY MEETING.

CONTRACT FOR NEW SHORE ROAD AWARDED.

BUILDING OF WEST SIDE ROAD NOT YET DETERMINED-CHANGES IN

FIRE DEPARTMENT. The mayor and aldermen met Monday

The mayor and aldermen met Monday evening; full board present.

It was unanimously voted to authorize Collector John H. Bresnahan to notify all persons owing taxes to him as collector for the city that unless payment is made within twelve days of receipt of notice, suit will be brought for same in the name of the city of Ellsworth.

Bill of Dennis C. Raynolds for $25, for repairs on private way for five years, was allowed, same to be applied to Mr. Reynolds taxes.

allowed, same to be applied to Mr. Reynolds' taxes.

Aid. Hagan moved that the contract for completion of the new Shore road on the east side of Leonard lake be awarded to Roscoe Holmes, his bid, $4.59 per rod, or $610.12, being the lowest received.

Aid. Stockbridge thought the city might save money by building the road itself, but Street-Commissioner Woodward being questioned said he would not want the job himself at the price.

The motion to award contract to Mr. Holmes was carried, and the committee on streets was instructed to draw up the necessary contract and require a bond from Mr. Holmes for the building of the road to the satisfaction of the committee on streets. In the matter of building the new road on the west side of the river, the question of expense of repairs on the old mill-road from Grant street to the beginning of the new road, was discussed. This piece of road is now practically impassable. It runs over ledge nearly all the distance; there is no material handy to build a road, and a large part of the road would have to be railed. It will be an expensive piece of road to build, but unless it is put in safe condition, the new road, or Leonard avenue, would be of little use. The question of whether the mill road is a public way accepted by the city also enters into the matter.

The question of deferring the building of the new road for the present was considered. The new road has been regularly accepted by the city, and the city has received from the Bar Harbor & Union River Power Co. its portion of the cost of building the road, under the contract between the power company and the city. All these matters enter into the consideration of the subject.

The matter of building the west side of the subject.

tion of the subject.

The matter of building the west side road was laid on the table. The full board will go over the roads, ascertain what obligations the city is under to build the road, and report at the next meeting. CHANGE IN FIRE, DEPARTMENT.

change in Fire, department.

Ald. Hagan moved that John A. Stuart be removed as driver of the fire team.

Ald. Jordan asked Chief-Engineer Goodwin if there had been any dissatisfaction with Mr. Stuart in the fire department. Mr. Goodwin said there was no dissatisfaction with Mr. Stuart, and the firemen did not want a change.

Ald. Hagan said he understood that when last year's fire ordinance was repealed, the chief-engineer wished some changes. Mr. Goodwin said the change he suggested was that the chief and not one of the drivers would be custodian of the engine-house.

Yeas and nays being called for on the motion to remove Mr. Stuart, Aid. Stockbridge, Estey and Hagan voted yea; Ald. Staples and Jordan nay.

On motion the board proceeded to elect a driver to fill the vacancy. Wallace Raymond received three votes, and was declared elected. Ald. Staples and Jordan did not vote;

C. E. Monaghan asked that some city did not vote:

C. E. Monaghan saked that some city notes which he held be renewed at 4 per cent., the interest others were receiving, and it was so voted by the board.

A recess was then taken to Monday evening, April 20.

It may be of interest to know that our society, familiarly, even affectionately, spoken of as "Village Improvement" was legally incorporated as the "Ellsworth Public Improvement Society" July 16, 1886

The Bridge hill division will give an entertainment April 24 in the high school building. Mrs. J. A. Peters, Miss Mary A. Stockbridge, Miss Mary A. Gaynor and Mrs. F. W. Rollins are the committee. The patronage of the public is earnestly solicited.

The patronage of the public is earnestly solicited.

The Village improvement society holds meetings regularly every Monday afternoon at 3 in the new headquarters in the public library. Members have access to these rooms, which are extremely pleasant and attractive, any time the public reading-room is open. The literature provided by the Civic association, bearing espacially upon village improvement, will be found helpful and suggestive to the various committee.

Such a quick response to the circular letter sent out to former residents of Elisworth is most gratifying. Within the first twenty-four hours four enthusiastic Ellsworth boys mailed their membership fee, accompanied by such phrases as these: "It is indeed a great pleasure to me to be able to assist in beautifying one of the finest places in the whole land—the city of Ellsworth." Another writes: "I take pleasure in sending the fee; am tery glad to see the spirit manifested in the enterprise. May your zeal never flag in the grand work."

POWER LINE.

Bayside Residents Ask for Injunction

Bayside Residents Ask for Injunction

Another Change Proposed.

Residents of the Bayside road have petitioned for an injunction to restrain the Ellsworth Power Supply Co. from erecting its power transmission line along that highway. There will be a hearing on the petition before Judge Spear at the county court room Thursday evening. In the meantime the power company is proceeding in the work of erecting its poles. D. E. Hurley will represent the petitioners and Hale & Hamlin the power company.

Another change of route of the power line may be necessary at this end. The city gave right of way down Water street and the Bayside road from the old Hall steam mill to the Trenton line, the company believing it could obtain right of way over private land from the power house to the steam mill.

Residents of Grant street, however, whose land it was desired to cross at the river front, asked prices which the company considers exorbitant. It is understood the company will now ask the city for permission to construct the line along the mill road on the east side of the river to State street, running from that point, across postoffice square and down Water street to the steam mill, on steel poles sixty feet high. This would take the wires far above any buildings.

Photographs of the style of pole which will be used if this permission is granted, show a pole which overcomes, so far as it is possible, the objection of unsightliness of poles on a highway.

There will be an Easter concert at the church Sunday afternoon, April 19. Mrs. Jenness McGown and Mrs. Benja-min Mitchell were in Bangor Monday. Herman Patten and Lillian Austin, of East Dedham, are attending school here. H. F. Maddocks will attend the demo-cratic district convention in Fairfield Wednesday, April 15.

BAR HARBOR.

BAR HARBOR.

J. William Worcester, of this town, died Monday evening at Mariaville, where he had been for the past few weeks in the hope of benefiting his health. His death was caused by tuberculosis, from which he had been suffering for some time, although, until recently, his family had hopes of his recovery. About three months ago Mr. Worcester married Miss Lena Ladd, of Cranberry Isles, and the young people made their home in Boston where Mr. Worcester was employed. His health failing, he was compelled to give up his work in Boston and come to Maine, and on the advice of his physician, went to Mariaville. He failed rapidly. He is survived by a widow, his widowed mother, Mrs. Joseph Worcester, of Bar Harbor, and several brothers and sisters.

George Carter is working for Roy Allen at North Sedgwick.

L. B. Bridges came from Long Island Saturday to spend Sunday with his family.

Mrs. Benjamin Spear and daughter, of North Brooklin, visited her son, Frank Spear, last week. Ralph Willey, who has been keeping ship on a yacht in New London, Conn., came home Friday for a month's visit be-fore the yacht goes into commission.

April 13.

About $21 was resilzed from the supper in the vestry last Wednesday evening.

Arthur Mitchell has commenced digging a cellar on the lot he recently purchased. He will build a house this spring. N. C. Ayer and wife, who have been at Houlton during the winter, are here for a few days with Mrs. Ayer's parents, W. H. Brown and wife.

Brown and wife.

Mrs. M. M. Moore held a millinery opening Saturday afternoon and evening in rooms recently fitted up for the purpose. The opening was largely attended. Refreshments were served during the afternoon and evening.

News was received here Sunday morning of the death of Miss Mary Black, of Bangor, daughter of George W. Black and wife, at the Eastern Maine general hospital of pneumonia. The remains were taken to Otis Tuesday, where services were held by Rev. J. D. Prigmore. During the high wind Sunday afternoon, the parsonage which had been raised for the purpose of relaying the wall, was blown off the blocks and jacks on which it was resting, the north side tipping into the cellar. Work was begun this morning under the direction of L. McGown to raise the building.

Abbertisen,enia There is not the slightest reason why you should not feel well and strong. That great free offer of Dr. Greene's is proving the best friend that weak and delicate people ever had. A letter sent to him at his office, 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., telling the symptoms you are suffering from, will be immediately answered by the Doctor, describing your complaint minutely, and making you understand perfectly just what ails you. And all this costs you nothing. You don't have to leave your home and you don't have to pay any doctor's fees to learn exactly what your complaint is, and how to get well and strong, from Dr. Greene, the greatest living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. The Doctor makes a specialty of curing patients through his great system of letter correspondence, and is having wonderful success. Thousands of weak, delicate men and women are writing him about their complaints and are being permanently cured. It was he who discovered that world-renowned curative, Dr. Green's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Write the Doctor at once and see what he says about your complaint. It will probably be the means of your getting back your health.

Don't forget it, Mr. Traveling Man.

You know what a comfort it is to you; you can readily realize the pleasure it gives the loved ones at home.

The third district democrats last Wednesday nominated Samuel W. Gould, of Skowhegan, for congressman. The delegates to the national convention elected are Dr. E. L. Jones, of Waterville; Samuel W. Gould, of Skowhegan, and Edward E. Brady, of Ellsworth. George B. Stuart was re-sleeted the Hancock county member of the district committee. The fight of the convention was over the delegate from Hancock county. E. E. Brady, of Ellsworth, were the candidates. Mr. Maddocks soon withdrew from the contest after the delegates had gathered in the hall and joined forces with Mr. Whittaker. The delegation had been in consultation a good deal but could not reach a decision, and the choice was finally thrown into the convention, the balloting resulting in 127 for Brady and Corty-one for Whittaker. During the balloting cries of "Brady for Johnson" and "Whittaker for Bryan" seemed to indicate the grounds on which the contest was Cought, though the delegates will go to indicate the part of the grounds on which the contest was cought, though the delegates will go to indicate the grounds on which the contest was cought, though the delegates will go to indicate the grounds on which the contest was cought, though the delegates will go to indicate the grounds on which the contest was complete ment of the costs.

We give the name and address in full of each one of these people.

We have no use for, nor would we publish for any sum of money, a fraudulent testimonial. To do such a thing would be dispondable from a moral
