La France SHOE FOR WOMEN

The "WHY" of the Flexible Welt

Here is something new for women to whom ordinary shoes seem clumsy and uncomfortable. It is the La France Flexible Welt. The little illustration below shows in a graphic way how elastic this shoe is.

The leather sole bends with remarkable ease, thus adapting itself to every position assumed by the foot, particularly when walking.

This shoe produces the effect of lightness and a delightful sensation of comfort. Perhaps a good way to express it would be to say that the Flexible Welt feels like no shoes-at-all, except that the foot is supported just as fully and satisfactorily as would be the case if a heavy stiff shoe were worn.

We want every woman who is looking for a maximum of comfort combined with true beauty and the latest shoe styles, to come in and ask to see this Flexible Welt Shoe.

Republican Rally.

The final republican rally of the campaign in Ellsworth was held at Hancock hall last Saturday evening.

Lynch's band played several selections in the square, and then marched to the hall.

The speakers were Senator Eugene Hale and Hon. Charles C. Fairchild, of New York.

Senator Hale was suffering from an affection of the throat which prevented him from using his voice in his usual manner. The audience, which completely filled the hall, anxious to hear all the senator had to say, kept the strictest silence, and gave the closest attention to what he had to say.

Briefly, but comprehensively summarizing the situation in Maine, he urged voters to realize not only the importance of voting, but also of voting straight. He commented on the personnel of the ticket from the governor down, laying special emphasis on the importance in view of the coming tariff revision of electing republican congressmen. No stronger county ticket, he said, could be presented. He paid a splendid tribute to Ellsworth's candidate for representative to the legislature, Judge Peters, and emphasized the importance to the city and to the State in having a man of his character and ability in the Maine legislature.

The senator expressed regret at his inability to make an extended address, and gave way to Mr. Fairchild, who spoke at length on national topics.

Col. H. E. Hamlin presided. With him and the speakers on the platform were L. M. Moore, of the city committee, Mayor F. F. Simonton, M. S. Smith, John Malone, F. E. Moore, ex-Mayor Norris, Rev. W. F. Emery.

Connick for $35.62 for work on drain across his property on Hancock street was taken from the table, and it was voted to allow Mr. Connick $10.

On recommendation of the democratic city committee, William K. McGown was appointed ballot clerk in ward 4 in place of Olin L. Sargent, who is away from the city.

The city was notified of suit brought by John A. Stuart for services as driver of the hose wagon for April last, and $100 damages. Mr. Stuart was removed from the position by vote of the board on April 13 last. An order to his credit for the amount due him from April 1, up to the time of his removal, was passed by the city, but has not been called for by him. The city voted to place the matter in the hands of an attorney. Judge John A. Peters has been retained for the city.

A special road roll amounting to $38.52 for work at North Ellsworth, was passed.

Street Commissioner Woodward was instructed to report on the condition of the Surry road and Happytown road with the view of making repairs on them.

North Ellsworth Fair.

The fair of the North Ellsworth farmers' club opened to-day with delightful weather, and a good first-day attendance. The North Ellsworth fair always furnishes a good exhibit and a good time for all who attend.

To-morrow will be the big day of the fair. One of the principal attractions will be Co. G., N. G. S. M., from Bangor. The company will arrive at North Ellsworth about 11 o'clock Thursday morning, attired in the neat service uniforms of olive drab, and will march to the grounds. Here a space will be set aside for them, and they will give an exhibition of tent pitching.

The company will change from its service uniforms to the new full dress blue uniforms which were recently issued to the company, and an exhibition drill in the manual of arms, both in close and extended order, will be given. An exhibition of guard mounting, which will be a very attractive feature, and a drill will complete the program.

THE AMHERST FAIR.

Popular Up-River Exhibition Only Two Weeks Away.

The fair of the Northern Hancock agricultural society at Amherst is only two weeks away, Sept. 28 and 30. This always popular up-river exhibition promises to be better than ever this year. The exhibition of fruit and vegetables will be unusually large, for it has been a good year for farm produce.

For attractions the association has provided a good program. There will be base ball games each day and a ball each evening. The Brownie troupe will give an exhibition of fancy and trick bicycle riding and tight wire acts. The trick mule Maud, and the trick dog Dewey will also appear.

The trial of draft horses will take place Wednesday afternoon. The baby show at 4 o'clock Wednesday will be another feature.

Meals will be served at the hall. If it is stormy either day of the fair, it will be held over another day.

Killed at Bluehill.

Charles Milton Wood, aged seventy-six years, was killed Saturday afternoon, being run over by his own team.

Mr. Wood was hauling sand to Parker Point with his team of oxen and a cart. He was seated on the pole of the cart. Passing a familiar road the oxen started to turn in, and in straightening them out, Mr. Wood fell. One wheel of the loaded cart passed over his body, lengthwise. He was almost instantly killed.

Mr. Wood was one of the old residents of Bluehill, and a highly-esteemed citizen. He leaves a widow and one daughter—Mrs. Augusta Carter, of Brooksville.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 20, 1908.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE. Topic—Commending our society.—I. By supplying church workers.—II. Tim. II, 1-3; Prov. xxii, 6.

The first method suggested for commending the Christian Endeavor society was that of church attendance. Church attendance naturally suggests church work as a second means of commendation. Church attendance should always be associated with church work. It should and will inspire us to this end. No one can worship God long "in sincerity and truth" without desiring to enlist in the Lord's work in the church. The work of the church and the need of workers will frequently be emphasized from the pulpit, and then will come the opportunity of the true-hearted Christian Endeavorer to offer himself in the Lord's service.

To have a part in the upbuilding of a church spiritually is a great privilege. It is nothing that should seem irksome to us. It is nothing of which we need be ashamed, for "we are co-laborers with God" and with the best Christian saints who have ever lived. As in the days of the Master, "the harvest is great and the laborers are few."

It is not possible to elect every member of a church to some office, nor, indeed, to give each one a definite work to perform. But to those who are willing work will come. God wastes no fit material. If we need and want a secular position we seek it, but how seldom do we do this in the church! We are like the idlers on the street who in Christ's parable said they were idle because no man gave them work—a poor excuse. Work does not usually seek men; they must seek it. But why will we be idlers in God's house for this poor excuse? If you are given no specific duty to perform, seek work.

A zealous young man wanted a Sunday class of boys in a certain church. He decided to seek a class. Nor did he go to the slums. He had one scholar in view in the best section of his church, and around him he gathered six or seven others. He taught them faithfully and led every one of them to Christ. He is now an elder in his church, and his boys, now young men, are teachers in the Sabbath school and leaders in the Christian Endeavor society.

Do not say there is no church work for you to do. Don't wait for something to turn up. Turn it up. Do you miss any one from the church services? Visit him, and if he is sick or in trouble tell the pastor. Have young people come into the church, call upon them and make them welcome. Are there "shut ins" in your congregation? Visit them with a few flowers, a kindly smile, and read and pray with them. Does the Sunday school superintendent need teachers? Go and offer your services to him and help train up the children and teach others what you know about Christ and the Bible. If you can't find anything else to do, go to your pastor and say, "Pastor, if there is anything that you want done and no one else wants to do it, I'm the one to do it for you." If real live, active Christian Endeavorers were thus working along lines initiated by themselves and performing duties assigned to them, the church would soon wake up to the fact that Christian Endeavor means something. Every church organization is but a part of the church life. It is not an end in itself, but a means to an end—the building up of a church. What is your society? Is it living for itself or for the entire church?

BIBLE READINGS. Zech. iv, 6-10; Eccl. ix, 10; xii, 1; Mark ix, 38-41; Matt. xxv, 31-46; Acts 1, 1-11; John ix, 4; I Cor. xv, 58; Gal. vi, 1-10; I Cor. v, 11-13.

The C. E. Parent Church. The very striking "charge to the church" made by Dr. Smith Baker when Rev. Jesse Hill was installed as pastor of the Williston church, Portland, Me., contained the following sentences concerning the position of that church as the parent church of our society: "Williston church is the most historic Protestant church in the world today. Its name is repeated all over the earth by seven millions of young people in forty different nations. It stands for the old evangelical truths, not because of its greatness or wealth or age, but because in the providence of God it was the birthplace of the greatest evangelical movement for the spiritual culture of young people in the history of the world. On the Pacific coast, in the teeming west, in the sunny south, in England, Scotland, Germany, France, China, Japan, Africa, South America, Mexico and the islands of the sea, Williston is repeated ten times more than any other church as standing for the old faith of Christ and the church."

Aggressive Evangelism. The Christian Endeavor society has had twenty-seven years of unprecedented victory, but the best years are yet to come, says the Rev. Dr. J. Willbur Chapman of Philadelphia. I will have no hesitation in saying that from my point of view the door of opportunity which is widest open is that which leads into aggressive evangelistic effort. Every pastor may be strengthened and every church inspired to better service with a Christian Endeavor society on fire with a passion for souls.

Endeavor. One made life's flowing field a trampled plot. A hideous battleground, Where evil hosts were slain. Another came and found A dreary, desolate plain And made a garden spot. —James William Jackson in Epworth Herald.

Mutual Benefit Column.

EDITED BY "AUNT MIDGE".

Its Motto: "Helpful and Hopeful."

The purpose of this column are succinctly stated in the title and motto—it is for the mutual benefit, and thus to be helpful and hopeful. Being for the common good, it is for the common use—a public servant, a purveyor of information and suggestion, a medium for the interchange of ideas. In this capacity it solicits communications, and its success depends largely on the support given it in this respect. Communications must be signed, but the name of writer will not be printed except by permission. Communications will be subject to approval or rejection by the editor of the column, but none will be rejected without good reason. Address all communications to THE AMERICAN, Ellsworth, Me.

The life above, when this is past, Is the ripe fruit of life below. —H. Bonar.

Dear Sisters: Do you ever feel blue? I do, but will not give up to it. Summer is nearly gone and I planned not half done. Rheumatism has a grip on the man of the farm, so with hired men and other cares I get weary when night comes. At present I am expecting each day will bring the news of the death of a sister who lives in Massachusetts.

I was cheered by Esther's account of her vacation. That is the way mine will come this year, as we have 100 chickens less than a week old, and looking after them will be my duty, whether other things are done or not.

Dear Janet, you have my sympathy in the loss of the dear granddaughter to which you have been as a mother since the death of her father. Aunt Midge, I congratulate you on having a new son. L. E. T. be sure and let me know when you come to Maine. I hope to see some of you at the Bluehill fair, for I shall try hard to get away one day. A look into your faces will be cheering to me. Do hope there will be time for our annual reunion, as it seems a long time since our last real gathering, but I did have a fine visit from Aunt Maria and her M. last year. Saw G. in Ellsworth not long ago for a few words. Oh, Sister B., I did try washing sheets and in a few hours putting them on the bed. It was all right. What's saying; if we could have but one pair of sheets they need not go dirty. How nice, for summer outing. Let me have all the labor-saving new ways; I need them sure.

As you will see by what was written last week, this letter of Dell's has been on hand a week or two. I had the pleasure of seeing her at the Bluehill fair, also Aunt Jana, Day, and other members of our circle. Hope to see them all again and many more at Contention Cove Sept. 18. I happen to know of a few M. B.'s and connections of M. B.'s, who wouldn't mind if it rained that date, if it was pleasant Saturday.

FILLED COOKIES—One cup of sugar, one-half cup of shortening, one egg, one-half cup of milk, three and one-third cups of flour, two teaspoons of cream of tartar, one teaspoon of soda, one teaspoon vanilla, roll thin, put cookies in pan, then put filling on each. Do not let it come to the sides. Place another cookie on each. FILLING—One cup chopped raisins, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup of water, one teaspoon flour; be careful, for it burns easily.

The above was sent by L. E. T., and should have been printed before. I am keeping the poem for some future time. The following letter will give you all much enjoyment:

Dear M. B. Friends: Good evening. It is Sunday night, dark and rainy, just the night to tell stories and talk, and as my John is out choring and we've no callers, I must talk with my pen. Well, then, for a staid old couple we have done quite a lot of going about in the last month. We began by going to Bluehill field day, it being rainy in the morning, we only got half of the day there, as we had near twenty miles to ride, but the half that we got was very fine. We listened to three smart speakers, had music and singing, saw lots of folks, met our Aunt Midge, Narcissus, Novice and Ann so we were a jolly crowd. After the speaking was over we had a social time for a while, which is the best part of all entertainments. Then we went on to Bluehill to visit our own folks and call on some of the M. B.'s. We did have the best time! We were two nights and one day, and during that time made three visits and four calls. Who bests that for getting around? Then we went from Bluehill up to Ellsworth to grange day there. Got into Ellsworth before noon, looked the street sights over, then visited an old friend and her family 'till 2 o'clock—and by the way, this old friend is M. E. R., who wrote about her visit here and as she has written for the column, she is a Mutual now, and we shall expect and want her at our M. B. reunion. See? Now, to resume, as Samantha Allen says, then we went down into the city, and weren't the streets full! 'Twas great fun to watch the people come and go, see the pretty clothes and hear the hum of all that was going on. We marched around with the grangers, so as to represent our grange which is New Century, Dedham. Then we marched into the hall and tried to hark to the speaking—which was fine—but the folks who never keep still were there, as they are everywhere, and they kept coming in and going out 'till we got tired of the confusion, so we joined the street crowd again and looked at everything and everybody. Met many we knew, and had a social half hour; then started for North Orland, which is our home town.

On Bridge hill, saw Ego, 2d, and had a minute's talk with her, and from her a very cordial invitation to come in and have tea, but we were fifteen miles from home, so couldn't stop. We had a lovely ride home in company with lots of the home folks who had taken in grange day. Rode a while behind the team which carried the banner Lake View grange won that day by having the biggest per cent of its membership there, and 'tis a pretty banner. We got home at twilight and found everything and everybody all right, and we could see that our colts had grown. And say, isn't home the loveliest place? It doesn't matter if it isn't right up to date, 'tis home and the trees, flowers, cats, and even the dooryard clutter are a little nicer than anybody else has.

I think this ends our first outing, and 'tis bed time. I'll give you the rest in the sweet, new day. Good night all.

'Tis the new day and a very beautiful one. I've the washing started, and while taking a long breath will tell you about our Bangor fair day. We got up at 3 o'clock, did the morning work that one can't do the night before, put up a lunch and started for a fifteen-mile drive to Bangor; then 'tis quite a long way out to the fair grounds, so we had a fine ride, only I am scared of the auto, but our horse isn't so we got there all right. And such Foley's Orino Laxative is a new remedy, an improvement on the laxatives of former years, as it does not gripe or nauseate and is pleasant to take. It is guaranteed. G. A. FANCY.

More proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saves woman from surgical operations. Mrs. S. A. Williams, of Gardiner, Maine, writes: "I was a great sufferer from female troubles, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health in three months, after my physician declared that an operation was absolutely necessary."

Mrs. Alvina Sperling, of 154 Cleybourne Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I suffered from female troubles, a tumor and much inflammation. Two of the best doctors in Chicago decided that an operation was necessary to save my life. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely cured me without an operation."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, the bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it? Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

A delightful day we had sight-seeing and seeing those we knew. We had seven of our own children and grandchildren to see with us, which makes everything nicer. I so wish I could make you all see the flower and plant show as it looked to me. Just that part of the fair was well worth the 50 cents. Looked and looked, 'till those with me were provoked that I spent so much time there. But ah, the Bar Harbor show; 'twas great, and they gave their show plenty of room, so every plant and flower showed up well. I bought one little plant for a souvenir of the fair, and could leave the others easier when I had one to take home.

Next we took in the dog show, and that was well worth the 10 cents we had to pay to go in. Such lovely little dogs and such large, brave-looking, big dogs. I patted them all, and found one that I wanted so much—a St. Bernard. He knew everything. I asked his price, and the man said: "I've been offered $125, but that didn't buy him." I just held my breath and passed on.

Then came the free darkey show in front of the grand stand and the trick bicycle riders which the fair managers have to interest those on the grand stand while they fool around and pretend to trot horses. This fooling and scoring with the horses and the hoody-coody girl should be done away with at the Bangor fair. The low-down, vulgar girls that will come out there and be talked about by the person showing them off, we won't call him a man, nor, and by the men looking at them, why it is a disgrace to all concerned and should not be allowed. What say all hands?

Next we looked at the machinery, rolling chairs, etc., and what fun it is to see so many different machines at work and so many of them going by electricity, too. We saw sewing machines doing nice work that were run by electricity, and all the large machines go by the gasoline engine. Truly, this is a fast world, but somehow or other it doesn't seem that the people are any happier than they were when 'twas slower times and fewer shirt waists.

Next we saw two really horse trots, then 'twas time to come home, so we had to leave all the sights and wonders, ride down through the city, and oh! the autos were so many, and I was so all of a tremble, and the good man laughed at me, but we soon got out on the country roads. Then I was very brave, and said to my John: "You needn't laugh; I haven't been in Bangor for four years, and I won't be the fair for six, so who wonders that I'm afraid of autos?"

Well, we did enjoy our ride home, and I didn't know I was tired 'till the next morning. We called it a fine fall. Now I must put out the clothes, and this afternoon will tell you about the Maddocks reunion.

Afternoon, and everything slick as a mouse's ear. Had company at dinner, but am alone now, and my John is putting wood under cover, and it makes me think winter is near. I read it, some. We have no very near neighbors, and now that we are alone 'till be lonesome a little.

Yes, we went to the Maddocks reunion Friday, Sept. 4, and it was a day of days. We got an early start, so our ride was cool, and Brenda was with us and that made it more enjoyable. We were the first at the hall in North Ellsworth, where the reunion was held, so we had time to ride around on the track. Then the others began to come and we had a long social day-time to see and talk with all hands and we had as good a dinner as ever was put before human beings.

After dinner came the business meeting, which lasted less than an hour, then there was a short entertainment which was very good. Then the young folks and some of the older ones danced, and the music was fine to listen to, so it gave pleasure to all. After an hour more of talk and hand-shaking, we called the day done and all hands went home happy and hoping to be there next year. Now I'll show you my flowers, and we'll call this long letter done. Well, we will look at the plants in the house first. Just notice my ferns. This Boston fern is very large; it has spores fifty-two inches long, and fills the whole top of the window, and is green and vigorous. See this baby fern and the smile!

Passed Examination Successfully. James Donahue, New Britain, Conn., writes: "I tried several kidney remedies, and was treated by our best physicians for diabetes, but did not improve until I took Foley's Kidney Remedy. After the second bottle I showed improvement, and five bottles cured me completely. I have since passed a rigid examination for life insurance." Foley's Kidney Remedy cures backache and all forms of kidney and bladder trouble. G. A. FANCY.

with it at the front window. Isn't it long and pretty? And so snug to where I sit to see. Yes, 'tis a joy.

Now put your eyes to my begonias. This old rose in color and the blooms three inches across them, and this bronzed leaf one, with the yellow blossoms—great, aren't they? Now this glorioxa, with six perfect blossoms—mottled throats and rich, dark red bells bound with white. Nothing prettier in the green houses, my son says. And see this little fuchsia that I got at the fair—red and white Storm King. I'll make that count soon.

Now we'll go out of doors. Oh, no! Here's this big pot of geraniums—one pure white and the other best red. Now for out-door, and down in the field to see the gladioluses. Well, here's a lot, and all in bloom. I set out a half basket of the bulbs: Haven't they made a big show? Why, it's a window of bright color. Now back at the house, see this box of vines at the milk room window—Jennies, morning glories and nasturtiums—and full of blossoms; yes, I can make them blossom.

Now this box of dahlias beside the end door toward the barn—pink, red and straw color. Yes, we see them often—'tis the business end of the house. Here in front of the ell is a cheese box of vines and other plants that came on very early, so they have given lots of bouquets for the table; and see this box of portulacas, with their sunny faces. They always smile.

Now 'tis the out-door house plants, that will come in soon. Here's a pall of geranium, five kinds in it, and a glory of blossoms. Next is the dark red amaryllis, five blossoms and more bud stalks; then a shamrock and a snow-bound geranium in together. 'Twill look fine this winter and is pretty now. See this large pall of chrysanthemums here, won't they be a good sight later? This is a tub of hydrangeas, one large cluster of blooms and a bud. This will have to go down cellar. This carnation pink came from Orono, and 'tis rare and a great bloomer. Look at this pink ivy geranium, a whole churn full. I hardly know where I'll put it but it must come in.

Now just step into the little yard I call my garden—small, yes, but I take lots of comfort with it. See this bed of petunias—there's every color—the bed is ten feet long and near four feet wide, so 'tis a pretty sight. And this bed of asters, same size, just coming into bloom, and there will be all colors as I bought mixed seeds. Yes, I shall carry some of them to the fair. We are high up, so do not have early frosts. This bed of pansies is not real pretty yet, but the phlox bed is all right, and the zinnias, how stately and stiff they are, but I like them, they stay in bloom so long. Now look at the dahlias beside the fence, and the vines on the fence and the rose bushes. They were lovely this spring, and the vines are pretty now. I have for one vine, wild clematis, then there are Jennies, morning glories, sweet peas and nasturtiums, so I call it a garden.

Now look at the trees near the house—one tall juniper, three maples, a lilac bush and the rest apple trees. Now look at the vine—that's Sandy Point away off there, and those are the Camden hills. We can see the lighthouse dark nights. Yes, we call our view pretty, don't you?

Now about our cats; that's another joy we have. We have nine cats and kittens and of course they are fine and every one the best; but sometimes when I'm getting breakfast and their milk isn't quite hot and they all speak at once, I just holler: "shut up or get out," and now they take all the chairs and the couch, too, so we sit on a board and give up most of the bed to them. Don't some of you want a cat or two? We have all kinds, and they have real pretty names.

Now I must put in something useful, or Aunt Midge will dump this. If your pork gets to smelling sour, as it sometimes will in hot weather, just put in soda according to how much pork you have in the barrel, and 'twill sweeten it at once and not make the pork taste of the soda at all. 'Tis much easier than taking it all out and boiling the brine.

If you want a change in the taste of your cake, put in crushed bananas, and the cake will keep moist longer too. For sauce, bananas and cream cannot be beaten. Now about our reunion. If Aunt Midge hasn't set the time that we'll have to wait 'till October. The fairs and the other functions seem to be thick and many, and then we shall have our pickles made and we can feel so easy! I'm ready for winter. Yes, let's have it in October, what say, Mutuals?

Here's to you all for a lovely fall and a business winter. With love to all.

AUNT MARIA. The Maine Register. The Maine Register for 1908-9 is out. The Maine Register is an invaluable reference book in any Maine business man's office; to the professional man it is a necessity, to the newspaper man it is indispensable, and is thumbed but little less than the dictionary.

The vast amount of statistical information contained in the book is the gradual growth of years. Each year the book shows a marked improvement over the preceding year, and a comparison with one of the early volumes shows how great has been this improvement. Great care is shown in revising the book and bringing it up to date, and errors are rare. The Maine Register is published by G. M. Dowham, 390 Congress street, Portland. The price, post paid, is $2.

BLUEHILL FAIR.

MOST SUCCESSFUL IN HISTORY OF THE SOCIETY.

ATTENDANCE WEDNESDAY BREAKS ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS—A FINE HALL EXHIBITION—PREMIUM LIST.

The fair of the Hancock County Agricultural society at Mountain park, Bluehill, closed last Thursday, after the most successful fair in the history of this association.

Not only in point of attendance, but in the excellence of the hall exhibition, the fair exceeded all previous exhibitions.

The association has expended considerable money the past year enlarging the cattle shed, repairing the horse sheds and generally putting the grounds and buildings in good shape.

The exhibition at the hall was favorably commented upon by all. E J Brooks, a new comer among the summer people of Bluehill, made an excellent showing of vegetables and flowers.

In the fancy work exhibition a magnificent linen bed spread of drawn work and hand-made lace, the work of Miss Elizabeth Campbell, of Bluehill, attracted most attention.

R. G. Lord was, as usual, superintendent of the hall, and to his careful management and courtesy to exhibitors is due much of the success of the exhibit.

The stock exhibit was excellent. There was not a large showing of horses, but the cattle show, always a feature of the Bluehill fair, was good as usual.

George Pert was in charge of the drawing contest for cattle. The results were as follows: Sweepstakes—George Pert, 7,295 pounds; Charles F. Wescott, 7,005 pounds; Eugene Leach, 6,939 pounds.

Six feet nine inches and under—C. F. Wescott, 6,939 pounds; L. C. Coggins, 6,430 pounds; Frank Snow, 5,150 pounds.

There were three good ball games. Wednesday and Thursday's games were between Bluehill and Bucksport.

There was good racing all three days of the fair, but Thursday's card furnished the best sport. A. B. Chase, of Dover, acted most efficiently as starter during the fair.

Another record was broken Thursday. The third heat of the free-for-all race

Millions of bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar have been sold without any person ever having experienced any other than beneficial results from its use for coughs, colds and lung trouble.

was trotted in 2.21 1/2, which equals the track record made by Docaro last year. The track record is 2.19, made by Salinas in an exhibition mile.

York, is spending the week here looking after his business interests. Miss Dorothy Parker accompanied her father on this trip. Monday the tug Betsy Ross struck a rock in the bay and was quite badly damaged. Capt. Greenlaw was obliged to work on her all night that she might be ready to take the men to the quarry next morning.

The new house of Calvin Moon at Stonington Heights is nearly completed. It has all the modern improvements and has a grand view from all its windows. The front rooms face the south and look down on the Benvenue quarry immediately opposite.

Floyd Colby has returned home from Bangor and Bucksport. Stephen Small is at work for Byron Tracy at South Deer Isle.

Ervin Thurston is at Stonington caring for Stephen Barter, who is ill. Henry C. Bailey, who has been visiting friends here, left for home Monday. Mrs. Bailey will return later.

Misses Ethel Adams, Ethel Thurlow and Hazel Stinson left Monday for Castine to enter the normal school. Sterling Barbour is at work at South Deer Isle building a foundation and doing other repairs for Guy Cleveland.

Much sympathy is extended George Thurston and wife in the loss of their new house, which burned with all its contents on Sept. 1. Sept. 12. MUM. Haste usually trips on its own heels.

WEDNESDAY SEPTEMBER 16, 1908. REPUBLICAN NOMINEES. NATIONAL ELECTION, NOV. 3, 1908.

FOR PRESIDENT, WILLIAM H. TAFT, OF OHIO. FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, JAMES S. SHERMAN, OF NEW YORK.

The practically complete returns of the election last Monday confirm the news flashed over the wires on the night of election day that the republicans were victorious, having elected the governor, the four congressmen, and a large majority in both branches of the legislature.

Two years ago the democrats carried eighteen of the twenty cities in Maine; this year they were successful in but ten. Of the sixteen counties in the State, the republicans were victorious in ten.

The re-election of Gov. Bleigh in the third congressional district by an increased majority is especially gratifying in view of the frantic efforts of the opposition to defeat him.

The gap made in the ranks of the republican party in Hancock county four years ago by the election of a democratic sheriff, and kept open at the election two years ago, is now closed by the election of a republican sheriff.

At the election two years ago, three democratic representatives were chosen in this county; this year but two. Two years ago Ellsworth went democratic; this year it returns to the republican column with a comfortable majority for the entire ticket.

The changes in the vote for sheriff and representative are especially striking. Two years ago the democratic representative had a majority of 72; this year Judge Peters, the republican candidate, is elected by the handsome majority of 252, a result which is extremely gratifying from every point of view.

At the last election the democratic candidate for sheriff received a majority of 149 in Ellsworth; this year the republican candidate received a majority of 136—a change of 285 votes.

The result of it all is that the people of Maine have declared that they do not believe the reckless and ridiculous stories of extravagance and graft; that they resent the unwarranted attacks made upon the men they have chosen to conduct public business; and all the other republican policies relating to national affairs.

It is equally clear that while they believe not only in the prohibitory law, but also in its enforcement, they at the same time do not believe that the Sturgis law is a satisfactory method of enforcement.

The election of a republican sheriff in Hancock county over a democratic sheriff who has been heralded all over the State as an apostle of enforcement must not be misinterpreted; it does not mean that Hancock county does not approve of all the enforcement which the present sheriff has given us; it means simply that the republican party is satisfied that its own candidate is quite as competent to enforce the prohibitory law—and all laws—as is a democratic sheriff, and also is satisfied that he will.

No such effort to win has been made by the democracy of Maine for a generation; no candidate with a wider personal acquaintance throughout the State could have been named by them, and yet it failed. Maine stands as it has stood for so long—in the republican column; proud of its record; serene in its strength; with unbounded faith in the right-mindedness of the people; its face towards the morning; victory writ large on its banner.

Amherst Celebrates. The up-river towns turned out in force last night to celebrate in honor of Sheriff-elect Forrest O. Silsby—the first up-river man elected to a county office for many years.

There was a huge bonfire, in the square at Amherst, and a serenade for the popular sheriff-elect, who expressed his appreciation of the demonstration in a few words.

COUNTY GOSSIP.

Bar Harbor's new high school, built and furnished at a cost of about $95,000, was dedicated Friday.

The town of Bucksport had an interesting little bonfire last week, when $4,200 in redeemed bonds and coupons went up in smoke.

N. W. Young, of Partridge Cove, Lamoine, last week sent THE AMERICAN a rose from a bush which has been continuously in blossom since June.

Miss Margaret Koch, recently pastor of the church at Eden, and well known throughout the county, was chosen field secretary of the State Y. P. S. C. E., at the convention in Augusta recently.

Capt. William Bennett, of the tug Bismarck, when well down Penobscot bay one day recently, saw a deer struggling in the water a long distance from land. The captain went to the rescue. The deer was taken on board of the tug, where it quickly dropped to the deck exhausted. It was wounded on the rump, apparently by dogs. After remaining on board for a time it revived, and when the boat was quite near the shore, it went over the rail into the water and swam ashore, where it disappeared in the bushes.

Correspondence.

Letter From Judge Chase. BLUEHILL, ME., Sept. 16, 1908.

To the Editor of The American: For reasons which seemed good to me at the time, and which the result of the election has justified, I have waited until the votes were counted before making a reply to the assaults upon me by the two democratic spell-binders, Sheriff Mayo and J. E. Bunker, at every political meeting at which they spoke, except one.

At this time I want to rise very modestly and say that a part of the Hancock house story retailed by Mr. Mayo from every stump he has spoken from in this county was founded upon half truths, always as misleading as falsehoods, and the other part was falsehood pure and simple. Several of the prominent men of the State were present that night, and not one of them has the slightest objection to the whole truth being told as to what was said and done there.

I doubt if Bunker is worth the notice of any self-respecting man, but inasmuch as I am about it, I want to say that the statements he has made about me at every meeting he has addressed, except the one at which I was present, are maliciously false, and the man who uttered them is a cowardly liar.

Politically I wish we had a crop of Bunkers to turn over to the democrats every year. EDWARD E. CHASE.

THE ELECTION.

REPUBLICAN GOVERNOR AND CONGRESSMEN ELECTED.

REPUBLICANS OF HANCOCK COUNTY RECAPTURE SHRIEVALTY—VOTE OF THE COUNTY IN DETAIL.

The battle of the ballots is over, and both sides profess to be satisfied with the result—the republicans because they have won a big victory; the democrats because they got out the biggest vote ever polled for the democratic ticket in Maine. Hancock county republicans have particular cause for rejoicing. They recaptured the shrievalty, and one of the three representative classes which were carried by the democrats two years ago.

The republicans have elected Bert M. Fernald, of Poland, governor by a plurality of about 8,000. His opponent, Otobadiah Gardner, of Rockland, was a strong candidate. His wide acquaintance throughout the State through his long prominent connection with the grange, made him particularly strong in the rural districts. In Hancock county he ran well ahead of the rest of his ticket, with the exception of Sheriff Mayo. Had Mr. Mayo run as far ahead of his ticket this year as he did two years ago, he would have been re-elected by the largest plurality he ever received. Bar Harbor and Ellsworth alone which two years ago gave Mr. Mayo a plurality of 288 this year gave Mr. Silsby a plurality of 251, a gain of 539 in these two towns. In Stonington, where two years ago Mr. Mayo ran 34 votes ahead of the democratic candidate for governor, this year he ran five behind Mr. Gardner.

Hancock county gives Fernald a plurality of 598 against 517 for Cobb two years ago. The total vote of the county for governor, with Long Island missing, is 7,418, against 7,165 for the full county two years ago. Mr. Silsby's plurality for sheriff is 323, with Long Island still to be heard from. Mr. Mayo's plurality in 1906 was 408.

IN ELLSWORTH.

In Ellsworth the republicans swept the city, carrying all five wards. The city gave Fernald a plurality of 182, against a democratic plurality two years ago of 48. Judge Peters received the largest plurality in the city—252, against 74 for Capt. Higgins, the democratic candidate two years ago. T. F. Mahoney, for register of probate, had the honor of receiving the largest vote in the city 908, though his plurality was one less than that of Judge Peters.

There was a complete turnover in the vote for sheriff. Last year Mr. Mayo carried the city by 149; this year Mr. Silsby carried it by 136—a gain for the republican candidate for sheriff of 285. Last year Sheriff Mayo ran 101 votes ahead of his ticket in Ellsworth; this year he was only 19 votes ahead of it.

The total vote of the city was 361 this year, against 958 two years ago. The detailed vote of the city by wards is given below.

Table with columns: Ward, Total, Plurality. Rows include Governor, Sheriff, Register of Probate, County Treasurer, and various representatives.

WEDDING BELLS.

PETTERGILL-MACCANN. At the home of Harvey D. Black and wife at 71 North Central avenue, Wollaston, Mass., on Monday evening, Sept. 7, Mrs. Black's sister, Miss Josephine Y. Pettergill, a former resident of Ellsworth, was married to Arthur Douglas MacCann, of Cambridge, Mass.

The house had been prettily decorated for the occasion and the ceremony was performed beneath an arch of woodbine, roses and hydrangeas from which tiny electric lights sparkled. The bride was given away by her brother, Fred G. Pettergill, of Brockton, Mass. Mrs. E. E. Canny, of Cambridge, was matron of honor, and Mr. Canny was best man. Miss Pettingill was bridesmaid at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Canny in August last. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edmund D. Webber, pastor of the First Baptist church of Wollaston.

At the reception which followed the ceremony the bridal couple was assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Black, Miss M. Pettingill and Mrs. MacCann, mother of the groom. The high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. MacCann are held was evidenced by the many handsome and valuable gifts. They will make their home at 874 Chalkstone ave., Providence, R. I.

All Ellsworth IS PRAISING AND TALKING ABOUT Paul Jones Flour

The sale of Paul Jones Flour has far exceeded my fondest expectations; in the last few days I've sent this splendid flour into a surprisingly large number of Ellsworth homes. That carload of it that I received direct from the mill only a few days ago is rapidly dwindling. Paul Jones flour is by no means an "unknown quantity" to Ellsworth's best cooks; they have been singing its praises for a long time. This splendid all 'round flour never disappoints; it always makes the most delicious and tempting bread, rolls, cakes, pastries and other good things to eat. It also requires much less of "Paul Jones" to cook with than it does of any other flour—a fact well worth considering from an economical standpoint. Phone me right now or drop into the store the next time you're down street, and tell me you want to try this flour; I'll guarantee you never had a better all 'round flour in your pantry, and I feel confident Paul Jones will be the flour of your choice ever after. My buying in carload lots together with my "cash down" selling methods enables me to sell this superior flour as low as..... $5.50 per barrel.

Springer, who was taken ill last week, is pleasing to all. Mrs. Lula Fernald Crabtree, of Hancock, has been visiting her parents, A. B. Fernald and wife. Mrs. L. W. Blaisdell returned Sunday from West Sullivan, where she was the guest of Mrs. A. P. Havey. Miss Charlotte Macomber returned to Charleston Monday to resume study at the Higgins classical institute. The Franklins played the Sullivans on the home diamond, Monday afternoon. Score 14 to 10 in favor of Franklin. The many friends of Mrs. J. H. West regret to learn of her misfortune, in the dislocation of her left wrist by a fall. Miss Casilena Springer, who returned from Bar Harbor Saturday, commenced a term of school in primary room, district No. 2, Monday. Mrs. A. B. Fernald was agreeably surprised Saturday evening when several friends invaded the home and wished her many happy returns of her birthday. The party was planned by her daughters. James T. Maxwell and family have closed their cottage at Hancock Point and spent Friday night in town en route to Princeton, the former home of Mrs. Maxwell, and Grand Lake Stream, where they are building a camp, where they will stay until Oct. 1, when they will return to their home in Saugerties, N. Y. On Thursday and Friday evenings the Franklin people were highly entertained by home talent playing the drama, "The Country Minister." During the five acts there was ample scope for humor and pathos, and the local players revealed real talent. In the cast of characters, which was finely made up, was the kindly parson, well done up by Frank Blaisdell. "Miss Burleigh," a favorite of the parson, was prettily taken by Miss Vida Springer. The villain of the play was clearly portrayed by Burligh Swan. Mrs. C. J. Watson as "Miss Jerusha Judkins" added to her former successes in the dramatic art. "Roxy," the child of misfortune, was charmingly portrayed by Mrs. H. F. Collins. The versatile John Homer was equally at home in the two characters he represented, "Tom Sparrow" and "Timothy Hodge." John W. Blaisdell, as "Dea. Potter, a trifle deaf," was really good in his part. Mrs. Bernice Fernald as "Granny Grimes" filled the difficult roles of two characters with tact and grace. Boyd Blaisdell and Walter Wilson were complete in their parts. As a whole it was an aggregation of talent which called out large audiences both evenings. Master Willie Maxwell and Mrs. Della Fickett were heard in pleasing piano music. Mrs. Watson sang and John Homer gave a monologue and sang between the acts. Also a male quartette sang behind the scenes a medley of popular airs. The receipts for the two evenings were over $30 which go towards the vestry extension fund. Sept. 14. B. WEST FRANKLIN. Eddie Cater is home from Foxcroft. Miss Angie Smith is home from Seal Harbor. Willard Clark and Lewis Shuman are digging wells. Those who have dug their potatoes report a fair crop. Edward Preble and daughter Helen were here calling upon relatives recently. The G. A. R. picnic at Hardison's grove Labor day was well attended. Twenty-three veterans, some from out of town, were present. Just before noon a great commotion was noticed in camp, and it was evident that a battle was to be fought. Soon the enemy appeared in overwhelming numbers. With knives and forks the veterans charged with old-time vigor. Charge after charge was made, but to no avail—the enemy conquered. In the afternoon a few impromptu remarks were made by Mrs. Olive Bliss, of Argentine, Kan., praising the veterans for the part they had taken in defending the flag that had on several occasions been attacked by foreign foes and arch traitors, but had never trailed the dust. Telephone Talks Keep in touch with the world—and see to it that the world may keep in touch with you.

Party-Liners And the Golden Rule

Party line telephone subscribers virtually are co-tenants. They jointly pay for a single telephone line. If they were co-tenants of a building they would be careful not to infringe upon the rights of others. That same regard for the equities should keep them from infringing by appropriating to themselves more telephone service than can be exacted as their fair share of the capacity of that line. Lengthy conversations on unimportant matters, the prattling intercourse of children, phonograph concerts, and the like—these sometimes congest party lines and give cause for protest from other tenants in common. A party line telephone has been likened to a spur track on a main line of railroad. But there is this important qualification—when the telephone spur track is in-use, the entire main line is closed to traffic, not merely to other spur tracks on the line, but also to incoming trains consigned to any part of the line. Ordinary regard for the principle of the Golden Rule will do more to avert party line difficulties than all the rules any telephone company may promulgate.

Nothing Succeeds Like Success.

A Man Who is Able to Do a Thing That Others Have Failed to Do and Do it Well, is Always Successful.

And no matter what his line of business may be, he is always sure to have more than he can do. It is unnecessary to say that we refer to the Specialists of the Merrow Medical and Surgical Institute that came to Bangor and opened an office in the Graham Building less than a year ago. In a few months their business so increased that they were obliged to take on two assistants, and in March of the present year they were obliged to take on the third assistant, and at the present time they have one of the best-equipped Medical and Surgical Institutions in the State, with a staff of trained assistants and each an expert and specialist in their own line.

The new chief consulting physician is not only a specialist of great ability, but has had much experience in the leading hospitals throughout the country. With his latest modern improved appliances, as the improved X-ray and stethoscope, etc., and other improved medical and surgical appliances, he is able to cope with any disease, no matter how complicated, either medical or surgical, and it is an absolute fact that the Merrow Medical and Surgical Institute, 82 to 88 Central Street, is the most thoroughly equipped institution of its kind for the treatment and cure of chronic diseases in New England to-day, and no person requiring medical or surgical treatment of any kind should fail to visit the Merrow Medical and Surgical Institute and learn just what their disease is and if curable.

Consultation and examinations by X-ray. Office hours, 10 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m., except Thursdays. SPECIAL NOTICE. Those who cannot call in person should send at once for self-examining outfit and learn the nature of their disease and what to do to be cured if curable. Thousands of Chronic diseases that had been given up by physicians as incurable, have been cured in their own home, with much less expense than in any other way. One application was received. At recess, tucker and other games were played. As it was late, the program was tabled until the next meeting.

LAMOINE.

Lamoine grange met last week after the summer vacation. The lecturer presented a short programme after the business session. The following resolutions were adopted:

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, The great Master has called up higher our highly esteemed brother, C. E. Foster, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of our brother, our order has lost a true and faithful member who in his daily life exemplified the principles of the order in word and deed, and though we deeply feel our loss, yet we have the assurance that it is his eternal gain.

Resolved, That our heartfelt sympathy be extended to the bereaved wife and daughter, and that they may find consolation in the thought that he has been called home by a loving Father, who is too wise to err and too good to be unkind.

Resolved, That as a token of respect, our altar be draped in mourning for the space of thirty days, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of our grange, one sent to the bereaved family and one to THE ELLSWORTH AMERICAN for publication.

WILLIAM R. KING, S. J. YOUNG, NEWELL HODGKINS, Committee.

FLORAL, NORTH BUCKSPORT.

Floral grange after an extended vacation, held its first regular session Sept. 1, and resumed work apparently with renewed interest.

Sept. 7 a session was held in which the ladies filled the chairs. After the opening exercises, the gentlemen retired to the kitchen and shortly a ter all were invited into the dining hall and a delicious supper was served by the gentlemen. Not only the supper, but the manner in which it was served, was beyond criticism. The worthy master was provided with an apron, that in size should secure him success as a chef. Supper began with baked beans with all the usual adjuncts, and pies and cakes galore.

After supper the ladies were relegated to the hall while the cooks washed the dishes. How many were broken in the process will never be known. A program of unusual merit followed, made up of songs, readings, recitals and charades.

Question for next session, "Does it pay to raise pork at the present price of grain?" Samuel S. Rich will open the question.

NEW CENTURY, DEDHAM.

An interesting session of New Century grange was enjoyed by a large attendance Sept. 12. At recess the brothers served fruit, nuts and confectionery, after which there were readings by Laura Cook and others, story by E. D. Richardson, song by the grange, recitations by M. W. Ginn, and remarks by many members.

MOUNTAIN VIEW, WEST EDEN.

The regular meeting of Mountain View grange was held Sept. 11. Three candidates were accepted. After business, the lecturer presented the following program:

Solo, Octavia Hamor; reading, M. W. Hamor; question, "Which is the more beneficial to the farmer, the mowing machine or the raking machine?" opened by George W. Mayo, followed by C. S. Thomas and others. Although no vote was taken, there seemed to be more in favor of the raking machine. The next regular meeting will be held Sept. 25.

HIGHLAND, NORTH PENOBSCOT.

Highland grange met Friday evening with about thirty-five members and two visitors from Halcyon grange present. After recess a short program was carried out. The grange fair will be held Sept. 23.

Aug. 29, Fred Buck was appointed superintendent of the Orland fair to be held Sept. 30. The women's department, including the dinner, is in charge of the grange sewing circle, which is supposed to include all the women of the grange.

Sept. 5, Mark Ginn and wife, of New Century grange, were guests. Mr. Ginn's remarks were appreciated and the beautiful flowers Mrs. Ginn brought were greatly admired.

Sept. 12, an invitation from the pastor and members of the Congregational church to attend services in a body was accepted for Sept. 20.

ALAMOSOOK, EAST ORLAND.

Alamosook grange held its regular meeting Saturday evening with a good attendance. Quite a lot of business was transacted in regard to the fair to be held Sept. 15. It was voted to postpone the meeting of Sept. 19, as the Pomona grange meets at West Ellsworth that day. Visitors were present from East Bluehill and Arbutus granges.

Harvest Home grange met Sept. 12, with a good attendance. One member was accepted by ballot and one application was received. Considerable business came before the meeting, making arrangements for the county grange to meet here Sept. 19. There will be degree work at the next meeting, Sept. 19. Owing to the lateness of the hour, the program was omitted. There were visitors from Bayside and Alamosook granges. The grange was favored by selections from the quartet.

PENOBSCOT.

Penobscot grange met Sept. 11. Nearly all the officers were present. After the routine work, and the appointment of committees, the master called a recess. After recess, the lecturer presented the following program: Piano duet, Nina Varnum and Nella Wardwell; clipping, Carrie Perkins; illustrated reading, "Going Out West," question, "What three men came within one vote of being elected President of the United States, and yet missed the prize?" answered by Bro. L. A. Snowman; song, choir.

After the report of the committee on sick, same reporting no new cases, grange was closed in form. About thirty-five members were present, including one visitor.

MARIAVILLE.

Mariaville grange held its regular meeting Saturday, Sept. 12, with a small attendance. All were glad to greet Brother Daniel G. Young, who has been absent since the first of May. ### THE MIGHTY POWER OF MI-O-NA.

MI-O-NA, that extraordinary and perfect stomach tonic, will relieve dyspepsia in twenty-four hours. It will cure, and is guaranteed by G. A. Parcher to the readers of The Ellsworth American to cure the most pitiful cases of dyspepsia, if taken according to directions.
MI-O-NA tablets not only cure dyspepsia, but all stomach disturbances, such as vomiting of pregnancy, sea or car sickness, and the stomach sickness after excessive indulgence.
MI-O-NA cures by strengthening and invigorating the flabby stomach walls, and after a course of MI-O-NA treatment, constipation, if there is any, will entirely disappear.
Read this from the president of a New York corporation:
"I have been a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia and gastritis for two years. The most eminent physicians prescribed for me with no effect. I have been absolutely cured by your MI-O-NA tablets. The first one gave me relief almost incredible."—Herbert H. Taylor, 501 West 143 Street, New York City.
MI-O-NA is a most economical treatment—a large box of tablets only costs 50 cents a G. A. Parcher's, and the dyspeptic, nervous or otherwise, who does not give them a trial, is losing an opportunity to regain health.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

BOSTON THEATRE.
Denman Thompson's Old Homestead is now in the third week of its engagement at the Boston theatre. The veteran actor, Denman Thompson, is himself playing the part of Uncle Josh, and he is supported by an exceptionally capable company. When the curtain rises on the first act of this delightful drama of rural life in New England, there comes wafting over the footlights the sweet and wholesome fragrance of a pure New England home, the sunlight of an honest, upright character reflected in the dear old Yankee farmer. Mr. Thompson is the New England farmer to the life, and seeing his portrayal one loses sight altogether of the idea that it is a dramatic counterfeit rather than the genuine Yankee. The engagement of Mr. Thompson at the Boston terminates on Oct. 3, after which the Boston theatre stock company begins the season.

KEITH'S THEATRE, BOSTON.

The timeliness of vaudeville will never be better demonstrated than at Keith's, when the leading feature of a strong bill will be John J. Hayes, winner of the Marathon race, the American champion who defeated the athletes of the world, and almost became a subject of controversy. When Hayes returned to this country he was hailed by thousands in New York as a conqueror, among those who met him being a representative of Mr. Keith, who entered into negotiations with him for appearance in the Keith theatres.

Mr. Hayes proved to be as popular an entertainer as he is proficient as an athlete. Mr. Hayes appears in the same costume he wore in the great Marathon, and describes the race, while one of the best sets of moving pictures ever taken show its progress.

Another feature will be furnished by the famous Russell brothers, John and James, who will introduce in an entirely new act, Flora Bonfonti Russell. Still another will be a sketch by Bert Coote & Co. entitled "A Lamb on Wall Street", Hassan Ben Ali's Arabs, and the Doherty sisters will also be on the bill. Amy Anderson, comedienne, will make her first appearance in this country. Others on the bill are the Elite musical four, Potter and Harris, Phil Bennett, oddier, and the Keith special show of moving pictures.

Capt. Schwickardi Writes

RUDOLPH B. SCHWICKARDI.

"I Have the Fullest Confidence in the Efficacy of Pe-ru-na."

A War Veteran's Tribute to Pe-ru-na.

Rudolph B. Schwickardi, Capt. 39th N. Y. Vol. Inf., writes from 1818 G St., N. W., Washington, D. C., as follows:
"Having the fullest confidence in the efficacy of Peruna, both as a tonic and as a remedy for catarrhal trouble, I commend its use in the strongest possible terms. It should be in every household."

War Left Ailments.

Mr. William J. Lees, 8501 Morgan St., St. Louis, Mo., member Frank P. Blair Post No. 1, Grand Army of the Republic, and ex-Commander of the U. S. S. Benton Miss. Squadron, writes:
"The war left me with a complication of stomach, liver and kidney troubles, and I decided to take Peruna for my affliction. I began to use it about five years ago at the earnest solicitation of some friends. At that time I was only able to be up about half of the time, and my health was simply miserable. I consider a bottle off and on is a preventive. I certainly do endorse your remedy, and am glad to do so."

Helped From Chronic Catarrh.

Capt. Lemuel M. Hutchinson, Montpelier, Vt., writes:
"It gives me pleasure to write you this letter at this time on account of the good your Peruna has done me when I was quite done up with a very bad cold. I could hardly perform my ordinary duties, but from the use of Peruna I am almost restored to health. I am quite convinced that it has helped me from chronic catarrh, to which I am subject. It has also benefited my throat.

"I can truly recommend it as the best all-round medicine it has been my privilege to become acquainted with.

"Of this I am quite convinced from my own experience."
Mr. W. C. Rollins, Prairie View, Texas, Secretary of the State Normal and Industrial College of Texas, writes that for years he had chills and fever, and after taking Peruna his appetite returned, he became stronger, the fever left him, and he is now in excellent health and vigor.

Pe-ru-na Tablets.

Some people prefer to take tablets, rather than to take medicine in a fluid form. Such people can obtain Peruna tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Peruna. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peruna.
