A FISH STORY

A chonometrical croaker was hauled in Thursday by Capt. Francis Holmes, of the Reeds Beach fishing fleet along the Delaware Bay shore at Cape May. The captain was dangling his line over the side of his boat when the croaker, a fish nosing among the clam beds for dainty morsels, bit and as he was brought up his captor could hear a distinct tick, tick, tick. The four-pound fish was opened and inside of him was a watch, which one of the party with Capt. Holmes had dropped over the side a little while before. Despite a plunge of several fathoms and its incarceration inside the croaker, the timepiece had not missed a tick.

THE CLIPPER RED JACKET
Capt. Willis Snow Supplies Information That Was Asked For.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
Responding to the communication of Capt. E. A. Brutus of East Boston, printed in your Saturday issue, in which he desires information respecting the clipper ship Red Jacket, I have talked with men in years past who were on board the ship, in particular George H. Hayden of Rockland, now in his 91st year, all his life a ship carpenter and who as a boy was aboard the Red Jacket just after her launching.

Mr. Hayden tells me that the poop came forward of the after house well toward the mainmast and that the fly rail with open stanchions came the whole length of the poop.

I have a print of the Red Jacket, taken from a painting by Fred Cozzens, that seems to show her without a fly rail, but with a high chock or monkey rail the whole length of the ship. But the smallness of the print, photographed from the painting, would explain why no fly rail shows.

I have made a Red Jacket model, 36 inches long, and have on it a fly rail on poop deck that runs nearly to the main channels; and also stanchions and rails around the sides of the after house, with coach houses and wheel house. I have been told that the ship had a figurehead, a carved Indian, full length, and I have therefore put a similar figurehead on my Red Jacket model.

I hope this information may be of help to Capt. Brutus in completing the model of the ship he is making.

What About Isaac R. Staples?

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
Mrs. Anne F. Wallace of 141 Jordan street Brooklyn, N. Y., has asked me to assist her in finding the vital statistics of one Isaac R. Staples who married Melvina Palmer Spear, presumably of the Knox County branch of the Spear family. One son, Cyrus Emery Spear, was born to them in Bangor, Maine, March 28, 1841. Cyrus married a Catherine Frances Varney.

Any information concerning either the Spear or the Staples genealogy will be most acceptable to Mrs. Wallace. She possesses a copy of the Annals of Warren, so she has all the data that contains. Can any of this paper's readers help her?

MONEY IN OLD POSTAGE STAMPS

Stored away in somebody's attic are a lot of old letters that have not seen the light of day for fifty or seventy-five years, that will bring the finder dollars. Perhaps in your house there may be an old hair trunk, desk, chest or box that will yield stamps of value on the old letters. Do not burn them at house cleaning time or sell them to the junkman for a few cents for old paper, but communicate with the undersigned and turn them into money.

Do not remove stamps, as they are worth much more on the original letters. I specially want to buy these stamps as used on the envelopes in 1845 to 1857-1859.

DOES REAL SERVICE

Red Cross Forms Rockland's Health Bulwark—In Community Chest.

Undoubtedly the outstanding member of Community Chest in point of social welfare service is the Red Cross whose activities are much broader and more constructive than is generally appreciated. Some idea of the work may be gained from the appended report:

The work of the Red Cross has been carried on the general lines of that of the past two years with these activities as an outline:

- Bedside.
- Pre-natal and Baby Welfare.
- School examinations.
- Home visits to school children.
- Corrective work in school children.
- Social service.

- (a) Little mothers' clubs.
- (b) First aid classes.
- (c) Girl Scouts.
- (d) Home Demonstration with the Farm Bureau.

The bedside work has 1407 visits to 132 patients including every section of the city to the rich and poor alike. Night and day work has been done and no call has ever been refused. During this past year there have been made 249 calls to one patient, to another 68 and 54 to another a small demonstration of what this service means to the community. All of the cases would have required a trained nurse in the home for many weeks, a situation many times hard to meet.

All Public Health Nurses employed by the Red Cross must be graduate nurses in good standing from a hospital having at least one hundred beds and they must also have had special training in Public Health work.

The pre-natal calls have increased and it is hoped they will continue as this line of work is especially valuable, a real preventive rather than curative. Books and pamphlets are on hand for distribution on all subjects in this line, and are free. Baby Welfare Work has had 1068 visits and clinics have been held under the direction of Dr. Warren Sanborn of Augusta. This summer clinics will again be held with a baby specialist in attendance. These clinics have attracted mothers from all over the county. A charge of 25 cents is made to help cover the costs. The W. C. T. U. has assisted at these clinics.

The school examination work is another outstanding activity, and 2452 children have been wholly or partially examined by the nurse. Cards are sent to the home and a home visit made where special care is needed. There have been 388 visits to schoolrooms, 44 to schoolhouses, 59 school talks and special help has been given to the teachers in their health teaching. Four children have been entered in the Children's Hospital for corrective work and eight tonsil cases have been operated on. The epidemic of whooping cough retarded all corrective work needing hospital care. The usual dental clinic work has been carried on in connection with the school pupils. In the High School the eye and ear examination is given to each pupil yearly by the nurses.

The Social Service department has had several very interesting and worth while cases. One instance was the disposition of seven children in 24 hours. The placing of children in the National Traveler's Aid Association. Special nurses have been supplied in 23 cases. Work has been found for nine applicants. A Simmons College student nurse is a yearly visitor now, one taking a course which requires special work in connection with the city. This is a special honor given to Rockland, the city picked by the college head.

Examinations were given to those pupils in the Owl's Head district and some follow up work was done. Little mother's classes have been given in the school as well as First Aid classes. Home Demonstration work in surrounding towns during the summer months. There have been 233 office calls, 137 visits in the interests of the Red Cross, 44 investigation visits and 196 miscellaneous visits.

The annual campaign for Community Chest for funds will be held May 15.

Rockland must be on its best behavior this week. The Maine Federation of Music Clubs holds its annual convention here Wednesday and Thursday.

CLEAN-UP WEEK COMING

When All Citizens Are Expected To Beautify Their Premises—Three Rules To Be Observed.

MAYOR CARVER'S SUGGESTIONS

Rubbish is bound to accumulate in and about our homes and unless it is removed it becomes a menace to health, increases the danger of fire, and furthermore gives our premises a cluttered and untidy appearance. Therefore, having full confidence in the civic pride of our citizens, I set apart the week of MAY 14, as CLEAN-UP WEEK, and ask the cooperation of all in order to establish our reputation for well kept homes. The city teams will collect rubbish that is placed in proper receptacles on the side of the street.

J. F. CARVER, Mayor.

The week commencing May 14, next Monday, has been set by Mayor Carver as Clean-Up Week, as voted by the City Council. The same general procedure used so successfully last year will be utilized again this year and it is hoped that the same satisfactory results may be obtained. The necessity for a general clean-up is realized by the majority of the citizens, and in order that the project may succeed the cooperation of every man, woman and child is solicited.

The city has been laid out in sections or zones to make it easier for the people who wish to dispose of the rubbish as well as those who pick it up. It order that the city teams may be used to best advantage certain districts are listed for certain days at which time they will be entirely covered by the city teams. Certain rules are laid down as last year so as to eliminate misunderstanding. These rules should be strictly observed.

First: All rubbish must be placed in receptacles of some kind.
Second: Receptacles containing rubbish must be placed on the curb before the date of collection.
Third: Positively no garbage will be picked up.

The above rules are simple enough so that anyone can carry them out and it is necessary that a strict observance be followed for the reason that the city teams will positively make no return trips on any days following the date of collection. The following zones have been laid out and it is hoped that the days of collection in these zones will be carefully remembered by those living in their respective communities and see to it that their rubbish is placed on the curb the night before the day of collection.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Arbor Day will be observed in the schools Friday by special programs. Visitors will be welcomed.

Excellent traveling conditions from Rockland to South Hope, via Rockville. That plague spot on the side of Bowley Hill is being eradicated.

An invitation has been extended to the Democratic women of Rockland to attend an informal meeting at the BPW rooms, Main street Friday evening. The rooms will be open at 7.30.

All members of the Rubinstein Club who have tickets remaining from the annual concert are asked to turn them in to Miss Mabel F. Lamb, 100 Limerock street, before the end of the week.

The members of the Junior Y. P. C. U. held a business meeting and social in the Universalist vestry Friday evening, with Mrs. C. A. Knick, erobacker in charge. Plans were made for an entertainment to be given later in the season. Games were played and refreshments served.

The Chevrolet sedan which was stolen from Sea View Garage Friday night while the salesman had gone after the number plates, was abandoned near Lincolnville Center, where officers recovered it Saturday afternoon. The daylight robber who stole it has not been apprehended.

The program at Penobscot View Grange, Thursday evening, will center about "Home," with the emphasis on "Mother" and "Music," this being National Music week and Sunday being "Mother's Day." There will be a circle supper at 6.30 p. m., before the meeting and there will probably be degree work. The Grange has been invited to attend Megunticum Grange in Camden, Wednesday, May 16 and there to work the third and fourth degrees and furnish the program.

Camden Herald: It was noted some few weeks ago in The Courier-Gazette, of Rockland that two residents of that city had in their possession old coins bearing the dates 1795 and 1797. That's pretty odd, but we are advised today by Mrs. Alice Carroll of Washington street, Camden that she can go them one better, having a silver half dollar dated 1774, all in good condition. She also writes that she has a row of bow gun made by an old Indian for her father when he was a small boy. This gun she states must be at least 96 years old.

Rockland High School meets its annual meeting at Community Park Wednesday afternoon and will find the latter loaded to the gunwales with re-vergent thoughts as the result of the drubbing it received on home grounds recently. Rockland is not a member of the Knox & Lincoln League but will do the next best thing by showing how easily it could win the pennant if it did belong. Charlie Emery will be in the box for Rockland and Tony Gatti will have his chance behind the bat, as "Fipps" Frye wrenched his ankle in Saturday's game and will not be able to play for a while.

Slip Covers is the title of the new circular just issued by the extension service of the College of Agriculture in response to many requests for information on this subject and for use at meetings conducted by the extension service and county farm bureaus cooperating. In this four page publication, Helen Spaulding, author and extension home economics specialist, points out that slip covers are valuable for either decorative or utility purposes and that they have a very definite advantage over permanent upholstery in that they can be easily cleaned. The types of covers commonly used, shaping of cover, methods of finishing and suitable materials are discussed. A copy of this circular number, 39, may be secured from either the local home demonstration agent or by writing to the extension service, College of Agriculture, Orono.

The W. C. T. U. held its annual Mother's Day meeting at the Congregational vestry Friday afternoon. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Clara B. Emery and after a short business session and brief remarks by Mrs. Emery on the Child Welfare program of the W. C. T. U. Children from the second Grade Crescent Street school under the direction of Miss Helen Spaulding presented a health playlet "Health Fairies at School." This was followed by "The Health Charm," presented by Fifth Grade pupils, directed by Miss Margaret Buttomer. The little folks were picturesquely costumed to represent their parts and the speaking and acting showed both ability and training. It was a very pleasing and worthwhile presentation of health facts. Many mothers of the children were there by special invitation. Samples of recommended soaps and ointments were passed to the mothers and boxes of cereals and tubes of tooth paste to the children. Each child present was given a nice red apple.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had to live my life again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of those tastes is loss of happiness.
-Charles Darwin.

STAR SONG

When sunset flows into golden glow
And the breath of the night is new,
Love, find afar eye's eager gaze—
That is my thought of you.
O star-vee that sits above the sky
Your lonely lattice through:
Choose any one, from sun to sun—
That is my thought of you.
And when you wake at the morning's break
To greet the dawn and day,
The star that stays till the leaping rays—
That is my thought of you.
Ay, though by day they seem away
Beyond or cloud or blue,
From dawn to night unquenching their light—
As are my thoughts of you.
-Robert Underwood Johnson.

Economy

Is one of the most essential elements of success, yet it is disregarded by many. Care for your money and it will care for you.

TIMES and customs change. But fundamental principles of thrift and saving—absolutely essential to all worldly success—do not change.

The Knox Hospital invites the public to visit it between the hours of 1 to 5 and 7 to 8.30 p. m. next Saturday May 12, when the superintendent, Miss Richardson, assisted by the full hospital staff, will take pleasure in receiving visitors, showing them about the institution and explaining its work.

Home Town Bread, a product of the F. C. Flint bakery, is made fresh every morning at sunrise in a modern plant employing 10 persons with mixing machine, moulder, wrapping machine and proof closet. New Cleansing Cream Amazing

Doctor at 83 Found People Preferred His Prescription

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong

ITS SEASON ENDS And Woman's Educational Club Reviews Another Prosperous Year.

The closing meeting of the Woman's Educational Club was held Friday evening, the speaker being Dr. Forrest C. Tyson of the State Hospital, Augusta who made his subject "Mental Diseases" one of much interest to his audience.

The development of modern psychiatry as a science has a slow process. It is a special branch of medicine and covers the entire field of mental pathology. The modern concepts of mental disorders as diseases, processes have been obstructed and retarded by the mystery of the subject and through the human elements of ignorance, selfishness and prejudice.

He mentioned the age of superstition, how insanity was regarded, then through the Dark Ages, the next period being that of the chain and dungeon, followed by the special asylum period with its methods of restraint and neglect, comparing them with the more humane treatment of today when patients are comfortably housed and provided with the best of medical care and nursing, ample food, clothing, etc.

While it is still true today that the old prejudice against mental hospitals exists, the feeling is not nearly so intense. The idea, too, that it is a disgrace to be insane and have to be committed is gradually passing away. The truth is that insanity is a mental disease and should receive medical attention just as tuberculosis, cancer or any other physical ailment, and is not a condition to be ashamed of any more than pneumonia or a broken limb. This is borne out by the fact that many milder forms of mental diseases are being admitted every year, and not for the reason that insanity is increasing but that public opinion is changing in regard to the hopelessness of mental diseases, results showing that a large percent recover or are benefited to such an extent that they can return to their homes as useful and self-supporting persons.

Dr. Tyson also refuted some of the misconceptions of mental diseases by saying that insanity does develop gradually; that many persons are cured; that it is not an unfortunate visitation to be regarded with resignation and fatalism; that asylums for those afflicted are not dreadful places and that admission does not ring down the curtain on the lives of the victims; that mental disease can be guarded against and that there are usually danger signals and symptoms of an approaching breakdown that can be recognized and medically dealt with.

In regard to the young, he said that public schools should specialize in training children to clear thinking while the child is acquiring knowledge. Children should be brought up in an atmosphere in which reasoning and not impulse is the guiding force. Sentiment, fine feeling, enthusiasm for things healthy, the strong and the beautiful, high ethical feelings should be implanted and encouraged. Such feelings lead to sound outside interests and are very important as balancing factors. He stressed the importance of nature studies, athletics, playgrounds, etc. Children should be taught to go to their parents and receive healthy unburdening of their little troubles. Mental discipline or training of the will is important but not so essential as training to clear thinking and clear feeling. All these furnish a field for prevention.

Proper mental hygiene can do much to prevent brooding. The healthy state of mind is one of satisfaction with life, and does not depend so much upon our surroundings or how much money we have, or how many troubles come to us, as upon the way in which we train ourselves to meet and deal with those difficulties and troubles.

The average person little realizes the danger of brooding over slights, injuries, disappointments or misfortunes, and everyone should train themselves not to brood but to rise above them by starting to do something for somebody else and learning to get satisfaction from what is at hand.

Mrs. Winnie Horton, secretary, gave her annual report which shows that the club is in fine standing and has done good work during the year.

The club name expresses its object and purposes: Education and culture, knowledge, studies in civics, citizenship, Constitution of the United States, Civil Government, word study, the State of Maine history, pronunciation, correct formation of sentences, errors in grammar, etc. Programs have included instrumental and vocal music, historic papers by members and lectures by prominent men and women who have graciously given of their time and talent contributing much to the welfare of the club, and to all of whom the club is truly grateful. every meeting, the smallest number being seven, the largest 81. During this term 312 new names have been added, and at the present time the club registers in a paid up membership of 631, and the Woman's Educational Club of Rockland has the distinction of being the largest Woman's Club in Maine.

It is unbelievable that for the small sum of 25 cents per year one can be privileged to listen to such fine lecture courses by talented speakers, and a study season filled to the brim with worthwhile information. And from its small finance it has made donations to charitable institutions both in and out of the State, and has loaned money without interest to worthy students who are making efforts for advancements in lines of knowledge. And it is to the faithful efforts of its president Mrs. Mary Perry Rich that the success of this club is largely due.

These officers were elected: President, Mrs. Mary Perry Rich; vice presidents, Miss Clara O. Spalding, Mrs. Ida Simmons and Mrs. Clara Sawyer; secretary, Mrs. William O. Horton; treasurer, Miss Alice C. Hovey; auditor, Mrs. Maude Blodgett.

Mrs. Ida Simmons and her helpers on the membership drive made their report. Miss Bertha V. Orbeton was the successful leader of the Nina Gregory, second, and these three ladies were presented with tokens of appreciation from the club.

MRS. EMMA CLARK

Emma (Ham) Widow of Sidney E. Clark, died Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Karl O'Brien, Berkeley street, aged 74 years. She had been in ill health the past few years, suffering from an incurable malady, but offering no word of complaint. She had been confined to the house since February, and greatly saddened by the recent death of one of her lifelong friends, remarked that she would be the next in that group to go. Death was hastened by pneumonia.

Mrs. Clark was born in Rockland, Feb. 14, 1854, daughter of Joseph and Olive (Berry) Ham. Rockland remained her home until about 19 years ago, when Mr. Clark moved to Thomaston. Since the death of her husband (until last February) she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Levi Berry, receiving from her always the tenderest care and most solicitous attention.

The care of her home and the welfare of her family were the ruling elements of a life which had been spent in earnest devotion to both. Household duties she found a pleasure rather than a burden, and one of her favorite diversions was crocheting. The sorrow of the two communities in which so much of her life had been spent, tells its own tale of the affection in which she was held. She was especially fond of young people, and was never happier than when they were in her home. In her younger days she had been a soloist in the Catholic and Methodist churches.

Mrs. Clark was twice married, her first husband being Capt. Andrew Lord. She was married to Mr. Clark in 1880. She is survived by the two daughters above mentioned and a granddaughter Elizabeth Clark O'Brien. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. C. A. Knickerbocker officiating.

STRAND THEATRE

Richard Barthelmess gave the most amazing performance of his career in "The Patent Leather Kid." First National's great story of the tank corps, which opened last night. Only an artist of consummate skill could sympathetically portray the East Side boxer who is drafted into the war, enters it hating his country because of this, and who proves a real hero when he is once under fire. Pretty Molly O'Day plays opposite Barthelmess, and as the result of her work in this picture wins a personal triumph. She is easily the screen find of the year. A large and excellent company is seen in support. This is a picture that you must see and the last opportunity is today.

Along comes James Hall, her leading man, and in the story, her partner in a mining venture, who accepts her proposal to take the part of the woman if she will run things like a man. The strain is too great for the headstrong Miss Daniels, however, when she is chased by a gang of cut-throats in the dark tunnels of the mine and, after swallowing her pride on countless occasions she finally squeals for help. Thanks to the strong right arm of Hall, the day is saved. And Bebe admits that the man really is some good after all.

SUNDAY'S CONCERT

Rockland's Two Bands Furnished a Delightful Program.

A capacity audience greeted the joint appearance of the Rockland City Band and the Rockland Boys' Band in their concert Sunday afternoon at Park Theatre, and despite the disappointments that had befallen the organizations—the uniforms for the boys not arriving in season and Mr. Kirkpatrick's illness—the program was carried through with fine spirit and good musicianship.

K. V. White stepped into the breach caused by Mr. Kirkpatrick's illness, and with a rehearsal and a few changes in the plans presented a program that was both interesting and entertaining, the high light being "Dance of the Hours" from "La Gioconda." Mr. White's conducting is marked by dignity and ease, and he made a favorable impression.

Possibly the greatest interest centered in the appearance of the Boys' Band, and surely no one went away disappointed or feeling that the boys did not come up to expectations. They played splendidly, with marked rhythm, neat attacks and good style. A remarkable performance when it is taken into consideration that the band has been organized but a year and that many of the boys had never before that time played a note on any kind of an instrument. The boys presented a delightful picture in white shirts and white trousers, and their earnestness and attention was very winning. The saxophone solo "Saxofrend" by Orin Bradbury was well done and won a big hand.

Miss Dorothy Feeney also gave a sax solo with accompaniment by the City Band. Miss Feeney is making rapid progress with her studies on the saxophone, and her work Sunday was marked by lovely quality of tone, smoothness of phrasing and finish.

Mrs. Helen Wentworth, Warren was again the assisting artist, delighting her hearers in a group of songs and a group of readings. Miss Alena Hall of Thomaston played finished accompaniments for Mrs. Wentworth and young Bradbury.

The close of the concert was an inspiring one—the "Star Spangled Banner" played by the two bands.

Next Sunday afternoon the two bands will give a concert in Post Office Square if the weather permits, and if the weather is inclement in the Park Theatre. This concert will be free, and the public is invited.

This Week's Games

Saturday—Lincoln Academy vs. Thomaston at Thomaston; Camden High vs. Vinalhaven High at Vinalhaven.

The League Standing

With two victories to the credit of each team, Camden High and Thomaston High are tied for the leadership of the Knox and Lincoln League. Here is the standing:

Team	Won	Lost	P.C.

Thomaston	2	0	1000
Lincoln	0	1	000
Vinalhaven	0	1	000
Rockport	0	2	000

Thomaston 7, Vinalhaven 2

"Styves" boys crossed the hubbly bay Saturday afternoon and took a fall out of the Islanders by the score of 7 to 2. Feyler humbled 'em over very systematically, with the result that 15 Vinalhaven lads never got a chance to leave the plate. Young White, who is still in the grammar grades, attracted lots of attention by his clever work at second base. "That kid is a comer," remarked Mr. Sturtevant, the Thomaston coach. One of feature plays was a stop by Jenkins, the summary:

Thomaston High: Davis 1b, Walker 2b, Campbell 3b, Day cf, Felt ss, Feyler p, Spaulding c, Mayo rf, Stevenson lf, Hoffes lf.
Vinalhaven High: Winslow cf, Jenkins 3b, Gifford lf, Anderson c, Vinal 1b, Holstrom rf, McHenna p, White 2b, Shields ss.
Thomaston 0 0 0 1 1 2 1 0-7
Vinalhaven 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0-2
Base hits, Thomaston 6, Vinalhaven 3. Two-base hits, McHenna, Holstrom, Feyler, Campbell. Bases on balls, by Feyler 2, by McHenna 6. Struck out by Feyler 15, by McHenna 12. Hit by pitched ball, Spaulding. Umpire, Dr. Victor Shields.

Rockland 3, Winslow 1

Winslow High School suffered two losses Saturday. First of all it lost its way, coming to Rockland, and did not arrive until most folks were beginning to think of beans. Then it lost the game, which had to be abbreviated into seven innings because of the late start. It must be confessed, however, that the outfit from over Waterville way gave a good account of itself.
The visitors tallied their solitary run in the second inning after Doley had gone down on a misplay at third—an error for which D. Gatti redeemed himself in splendid style next time Doley came to bat. The stop and leave which he made this time would have done credit to Bob Walsh.

This was one of two plays which checked the visitors' threatened rally in the sixth. The other was the fine catch which Freeman made of Cowan's line drive into left field. So Estes' double (the only extra base hit in the game) went for naught.

The visitors never had a look in the last inning, Joseph fouling to the festive Fripp, Hapworth grounding to Jud Flanagan, and Belanger going out by the Fowler-Flanagan route, which proved so disastrous to several of the Winslowites.

Rockland had a good chance to get going in the first inning, but Trafton forgot to set the alarm clock and so Jud Flanagan's single and steal were like Maine's wasted water power.

Hapworth walked Collamore and Trafton, with one down, in the fourth inning, but Fowler's long fly remained in the air until Poulin could get under it, and Jim Flanagan fanned.

The fun all happened in the fifth inning, when Rockland scored all three of its runs on three passes, three singles, an error at third, a stolen base, wild pitch and passed ball. The men who did the hitting were Frye, D. Gatti and Collamore. Aside from some carelessness on the base paths Rockland High made a very good impression. D. Gatti was the only man on either team to make two hits, and reference has already been made to the youngster's fine play in the sixth. With Collamore holding the visitors to two hits, and only one error being made made behind him, Rockland certainly won the game on its merits.

Camden High defeated Lincoln Academy 7 to 5 in Newcastle Saturday.

At Boothbay Harbor yesterday the home team defeated Lincoln Academy 31 to 5. The game was stopped at the end of the seventh inning in which the Harbor team scored 12 runs.

The annual May Party of the Junior Harmony Club was held Saturday evening at Odd Fellows hall with about 50 members in attendance. In masquerade costumes they presented a motley picture in which appeared Mother Goose character, kysies, clowns, etc. Mrs. Leola Noyes and Mrs. Lucy Rankin chaperoned, with Mrs. W. H. Armstrong as special guest. There were many favors, such as streamers and floating birds. The Juvenile Smilers furnished music for dancing, and in the games prizes were won by Mary Lawry, Lucy French, Charles Haverer, Virginia Richardson, Katherine Cole, Lawrence Lord, Rose Moody and Helen Rubenstein. Ice cream and cake were served.

Trapped by Her Past!

"I had just started to remove my make-up when a note was handed to me. The name at the bottom caught my eye and the lights danced dizzily before me."

RECENTLY a woman who a few years ago was a popular actress on Broadway, submitted a story to True Story Magazine which created a stir even among the editors long used to reading startling and unusual stories.

It was the account of why she left the stage abruptly at the height of her career never to be seen on the boards again.

It was a tale of dread and terror as each night she swayed her thousands to smiles or tears, her eyes, masking the agony in her soul, were seeking, always seeking among the audience the one man in all the world who had it in his power to drag her down from the pinnacle of success to the ignominy of defeat.

Deep in her heart she knew that some day he would come, and that when he did her career would end.

And so when one night an usher delivered to her dressing-room a note from a man in the audience who was waiting for her reply, she knew that at last the time had come to settle her account with fate.

Her story appears in True Story for June under the title "Trapped by My Past." Told in her own words, with nothing hidden, nothing omitted and without excuse, into it she has put all the fire and drama that perhaps once held you spellbound across the footlights.

It may be that when you read it you will recognize her and if so you will then know the answer to a question you have probably asked yourself many times.

Though you may have formed the highest opinion of its beauty . . . and its performance—we urge you to come in for a personal inspection.

We want you to experience the silent, smooth performance of the new 55 h. p. high compression engine—to revel in the comfort of spacious new Fisher bodies. And thus learn why thousands of car buyers are turning to Oldsmobile.
