HOSPITAL DAY

To Be Observed By the Knox General—The Public Is Invited.

The Knox County General Hospital is to be among the hospitals of the country which are to join in the observance of National Hospital Day. What is it?

Since 1921 the 12th of May has been set apart each year as National Hospital Day. From small beginnings the observance has grown until now hundreds of hospitals open doors to the public and several millions of people visit the institutions and participate in the program.

National Hospital Day was originated in the United States but the movement has grown so that it is now observed in Canada, Alaska, Australia, New Zealand, Hawaii, Egypt, the Philippines, China and other countries. It is expected that the observance will soon be worldwide.

The object of National Hospital Day is to afford the public an opportunity to visit the hospital to gain a first hand knowledge of the facilities, the aims and ideals, and the problems and needs of the institution which is serving the community. It is confidently believed that with a clearer understanding of hospital procedure and organization, many of the wrong notions regarding the hospital will disappear from the minds of the people. As a result there will be a strengthening of the hospital's position as a community asset.

It is not intended that the day shall be an occasion for the solicitation of contributions or donations. Its purpose is solely to welcome the public, to show what the hospital is doing and how it does it.

The day is sponsored by the American Hospital Association and it has the unqualified support of governmental officials and public spirited citizens. President Coolidge has said, "The observance of May 12th as National Hospital Day throughout the country, with the aim of directing public attention to the fine humanitarian effort of these institutions of mercy, is deserving of all co-operation and support."

The public of Knox County is invited to visit their General Hospital Saturday of this week, between the hours of 1 to 5 and 7 to 9.30, when the superintendent, Miss Richardson, assisted by the full hospital staff, will take pleasure in receiving visitors, showing them about the institution and explaining its work.

MINTURN

Miss Charlotte Stanley is with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Staples.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Staples are accepting congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

Luck seemed to be following the fishermen last week. Two large halibut were brought in, one weighing 141 pounds, caught by Oscar Johnson and Edwin Gott, the other 130 pounds, caught by Chester Spague.

The entire community was saddened Friday by the death of one of its esteemed members, Mrs. Cora Bridges, "Aunt Cora" as she was known to everyone, had been sick for a long time. She leaves a daughter, Bessie Thompson, a sister, Augusta Bridges and brother Roland Stewart, besides a large circle of friends. Funeral services were held Sunday at her late home.

THE SEVEN REASONS WHY

Community Chest Should Receive Universal Support Next Tuesday—Its Sturdy Achievements of 1927.

Rockland is the only city in Maine free from the annual series of "drives" to secure funds to operate its necessary charitable organizations and its immunity is due to the fact that the Rockland Community Chest finances all of these organizations from one treasury supplied in a single intensive campaign. By so doing the men and women of this city are freed from the necessity of contributing to seven separate drives and also are freed from the demands on time and energy necessitated by seven separate drives with their incidental expenses. The duplication of labor and expense is made needless by Community Chest and in addition the executives of the participating organizations are freed from financial worry and the unhappy task of raising their own expense money. Instead they are able to devote all their energy to the work of their particular organization with a resulting increase in efficiency that has been gradually apparent and is entirely gratifying.

The Red Cross local chapter, the local branch of the Salvation Army, The Home for Aged Women, the Rockland Boy Scouts, Rockland Girl Scouts, Civil War Memorial Association and the children's playground are supported by the Chest and do not put on any canvass for funds.

These organizations are all charitable in their work and aim at public and social service. Some one of the seven may make a wider appeal than the other to the individual, but all agree that all aim for the betterment and advancement of our community mentally, morally, physically and as a social community.

The Salvation Army is as much a Rockland institution as is City Hall and fills a great place in the social life of the community. Its work is very broad, reaching where other agencies cannot reach. Its efficiency has been increased many times over since the advent of Community Chest. "A man may be down but he is never out."

The Boy Scout movement is looked upon by the nation as a whole as the greatest saving influence extant today for the youth of the country during the critical years of adolescence. The rapidly increasing pace of our modern civilization, the passing of the old big homestead in favor of the apartment, the motion picture, modern dance—these are influencing the youth of the country.

NOTABLE VICTORY

Representative White Scores Again On Five-Year Fish Culture Bill.

Representative White won another notable victory on the floor of the House Tuesday when he put through his five-year fish-culture program bill, unopposed, and by a substantial majority.

The bill provides for a five-year building program for fish-cultural stations all over the country, which will cost $1,700,000. Maine is slated for a $35,000 station in the third year of this program which begins July 1, 1928. The location of the stations within the States are to be selected by the Secretary of Commerce.

The bill also provides an extensive program of fish study, including $750,000 over the five-year period for the study of mollusca and pond culture, and $525,000 for the study of proper husbandry of fisheries, including capture, merchandising and distribution and fish waste utilization.

Under the terms of the bill the number of fish stations will be increased from 70 to 102, and the number of employees from 484 to 678. The total expenditures under the bill are estimated at $3,475,000 for the five years.

Representative White made a stirring speech in favor of the bill, in which he pictured the decline of the fisheries industries of the United States and predicted that "fish will soon be as extinct as buffalo." If the Federal Government does not enter upon a program of conservation.

The only opposition to the bill came from Representative Cramton of Illinois, on behalf of the Appropriations committee, who declared that while he was not opposed to items in the bill, he was opposed to any measure which laid out a financial program for five years, thus dictating to the budget bureau what expenditures should be made, whether or not the expenditures fitted into the administration's budget program.

Cramton offered a series of amendments designed to make the recommendations of the White bill merely indications of priority for the guidance of the budget bureau, instead of explicit directions for a series of appropriations.

Representative Kading of Wisconsin, expressed the temper of the House toward the Cramton proposition by asking caustically: "Would this legislation ever be enacted if it was left to the budget bureau?" "No," roared the other members, who were enjoying the discomfiture of Cramton, and the Cramton amendments were voted down without debate.

STATE OF MAINE WEEK

Portland Has Made Elaborate Plans To Entertain A Host of Visitors

Sponsored by the retail division of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, Portland will next Monday usher in State of Maine week and elaborate plans have been made for the observance in the Forest City.

In addition to the active part which Portland merchants have taken in the preliminary plans for the entertainment of visitors, the theatres of Portland have arranged attractive features especially for the occasion. Vaudeville artists of world renown, silent drama stars who are famed throughout the land, will be seen on stage or screen in their newest offerings, while the Portland Art Museum and the Sweet Memorial Building, housing valuable oil paintings, water colors and etchings, will be thrown open to the public for free inspection, daily between the hours of 9 morning and 4.30 afternoon.

A special feature will be the Art and Crafts exhibit which is to take place Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium. This will be made to include every phase of craft work gathered from many sources, and art exhibits by prominent local artists and schools, comprising a display that should have particular appeal to lovers of art and craft work. There will be a special exhibit in the windows of one of the big stores.

Arrangements have been made to meet the demands of visitors coming by train, trolley or automobile. Roads leading into Portland are reported in good condition for the automobile traveler, and special courtesy will be extended them in permitting double parking time throughout the business section of the city. Tags and stickers will be given the visitors which will serve to identify their cars. "Open House" will be the rule at Station WBSH during the week, allowing visitors an opportunity in inspecting the studios of the station in the Congress Square-Eastland Hotels.

Portland, taking advantage of the so-called fast time, will be in full work and complete readiness on next Monday to give welcome to the vanguard of visitors which the city is planning to entertain during State of Maine Week.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

SONG

I came to the door of the House of Love
And knocked at the sturdy night watch;
And my true love cried "Who knocks?" and said:
"It is I."

And Love looked down from a lattice above
Where the roses were dry at the tips of the dead:
"There is not room in the House of Love
For you," he said.

I plucked a leaf from the porch and crept
Away through a desert of scuffs and seams
To a lonely place where I prayed and wept
And wore me a crown of thorns.

I came once more to the House of Love
And knocked

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT

Rockland, Me., May 8, 1928.
I, the undersigned, being the publisher of the above-named newspaper, do hereby certify that the circulation of the same for the week ending May 5, 1928, was as follows:

Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty; for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all.—1 Chronicles 29:11.

Rural Life in Maine is the title of an interesting publication, the author of which is Henry E. Dunnack, State Librarian. The nine chapters constitute an effort to state the facts in regard to rural life conditions as they are found in Maine today, and is dedicated to the farmers of Maine—"the producers upon whom we are all dependent." The study is offered as a contribution to conserving rural life, with its old time traditions, its independence and its spirit of democracy, and everybody will agree that Mr. Dunnack has done a very fine thing. "It is generally admitted," says the author, "that rural life offers rare opportunities for wholesome, sane, and joyful living; that, on the whole, the country, with its open spaces, blue sky, sunshine and storms, the long summer days with its flowers and birds, its fishing and boating, the winter days with snow and ice, with coasting and skating, the long winter evenings, with the wood pile, the radio, the books, and the friends of one's heart, is the best place in all the world for fathers and mothers, boys and girls, grandfathers and grandmothers, old bachelors and lovely aunts. Some of us fear that there is danger that these conditions where boys grow tall, strong, and fine, where girls grow wholesome, gentle, and cultured, may be lost to our State."

Speaking old coins, here are some of the many possessed by Mrs. Howard W. At the City Government meeting Monday night the Democratic city committee presented the following list of ballot clerks: Ward 1, Fred W. Gray and Jennie A. Mank; Ward 2, Cora L. Harden and Burleigh C. Nash; Ward 3, Kitty S. Coburn and Felicia A. Parsons; Ward 4, Edward M. Tolman and Lucia F. Burpee; Ward 5, Mrs. Howard W. A Northend residence was entered last Labor Day and $30 in gold was taken. At Christmas time the burglar again got busy but only $10 was taken. Last Saturday a number of silver coins were stolen, among them several silver dollars which had been marked. The sheriff's department traced one of them to a Northend store, and a few hours later a 14-year old school boy had confessed to being the culprit. The owner of the house preferred to make no charges against him, but he was not left in much doubt as to where another offense would land him.

The May membership meeting of Knox County Fish-Game Association will be held at American Legion hall at 7:30 this evening, and is to be honored by the presence of Gov. Brewster. What he will have to say on some of the many problems of the Fish & Game Department cannot fail to be interesting.

The sheriff's force made four raids at Clark Island Tuesday and found things pretty dusty. With the exception of some malt syrup and sugar which had not begun to colabarate they found no suspicion of booze.

Good news for the lovers of first-class shore dining comes from South Thomaston, in the form of an announcement that Wessawesque Inn will open for the season next Sunday. More than you can eat and best you can desire is Mrs. Smith's motto.

Capt. A. Anderson, whose schooner the William Booth was recently lost off Chatham, after being rammed by a five-master, has hoisted his flag aboard the good schooner Wawenock.

Reports sifted in from the suburbs yesterday that it was only 20 degrees above zero in West Rockport. That's nothing, lots of our houses were colder than that.

The public landing is again in commission the float having been dropped into place.

Those flying flags give a lively and cheerful aspect to Main street.

A survey of methods used in the training of apprentices in big industries of the East has been inaugurated by the engineering extension department of Pennsylvania State College. It is expected that the survey will enable the college to improve its educational service to industrial employees, which at present is reaching nearly 10,000 employees.

MATINICUS ROCK

Lester Alley, a recent visitor in the home of A. J. Beal, returned last Saturday to White Head.

Arthur J. Beal and Austin E. Beal both afflicted with rheumatism are much improved in health and now able to move about in their usual manner.

May days—and may they be brighter than the days before May came—bright sunshine penetrates the heart and mind and reflects in every countenance.

Mrs. Frank O. Hill entertained the crowd May 1. Cards and games were played and a short intermission was called to serve refreshments.

Mrs. Austin B. Beal was out riding in the new boat "Eleanor E" last Saturday. She carried along hook and line and caught a few fish.

The grass is always greener in the other fellow's yard, but we don't have to wear colored glasses to see green grass springing up in our own backyard. We hear people inshore are eating dandelion greens. Um!

Callers the past week were Frank Ames, Elmer Ames and Oscar Ames of Matineus and Peter Mitchell and John Anderson of Orieheaven. It is planned to keep a sharp lookout for boats speeding in this direction and stand ready to greet friends, neighbors, relatives or stranger. All are welcome.

Mrs. Frank O. Hill received a flock of chicks from Rockland recently. She says it's a good thing the flock was large as they are rapidly diminishing notwithstanding the best of care and remarks that there will be no more chicks in the Hill family without the care of mother hen.

Mrs. Arthur J. Beal and daughter Miss Mary Peabody were busy the past winter with needle, thread and thimble too, making from start to finish ten bed comfortable of the largest size. With that kind of work the winter passed rapidly.

It is with regret we learn that Wessley Ames of Matineus, after a short illness, died in Rockland very soon after arriving there for treatment last Sunday afternoon. Our sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

Residents of Crescent Beach report having seen last Monday what appeared to be a vessel on fire in the direction of Hurricane. As no disaster has been reported it is more probable that it was a forest fire on the island.

It is the Rockland City Band which will give the concert next Sunday afternoon and not the Boys' Band as reported. The idea of having the concert in Post Office square has been abandoned owing to uncertainty of the weather.

One of the most attractive bits of sign painting ever appearing locally is on exhibition at the Crie studio. It is 10x16 feet and depicts the landscape near the Stearns farm, Camden road, with a golf course in the foreground and a charming summer hotel nestling at the foot of Mt. Megantic. The work was entirely done in the studio. About the middle of the month the sign will be erected on the lot for George E. Allen of Camden the agent.

The first American-LaFrance pumping engine of the Bangor Fire Department will be given its tryouts and official tests the latter part of next week. The pump is type 91, same chassis and power plant as Rockland's new ladder truck. Roy H. Small, State agent for LaFrance, was a welcome visitor at The Courier-Gazette office this morning and arranged for a representative to attend the demonstration. Massachusetts officials and many from Maine will be in attendance. It looks like a nice party.

As the result of a recent trip to Boston Dr. F. B. Adams has installed at his office in the Spofford-Spear block one of the finest electric machines ever built for the medical profession. It bears the endorsement of the United States Public Health Service, Army and Navy and hospitals in this country and abroad and Dr. Adams is more than delighted with the results he has already achieved from it in the treatment of such familiar ailments as muscular paralysis, neuritis and inflamed joints. To use a familiar expression the machine does almost everything but talk, and the grateful patients are doing that.

Cruising along the Northend waterfront yesterday Edwin Hall and Frederick Clough espied an enormous turtle making its way to the water's edge. They headed the critter off, and took him to the McLain School where he was identified by the highly interested teachers as an alligator terrapin, which would probably tip the scales at 35 pounds. The shell was 15 inches in length, which would indicate that the terrapin has attained considerable years, as a 20-inch shell usually means an age of 300 years. The turtle measured three feet from tip to tip.

Knox County theatregoers who attended the performances in Lakewood Theatre Skowhegan, last summer will be interested to learn that renovated and enlarged it will be formally opened by the Lakewood Players Monday evening, May 21. While this date is fully a week ahead of the opening of any previous season, the installation of a heating plant in the theatre along with other modern improvements, make this advanced date possible. Everything will be in readiness for the beginning of theatrical activities at the new playhouse and statewide interest in the project is indication that a record audience will be on hand that evening to greet the Lakewood Players. Rehearsals begin next Monday with the arrival of the plays from New York.

Two welcome callers at the newspaper office yesterday were John Taylor, the live-wire Secretary of Camden's live Y. M. C. A., and Rev. E. D. Huse, pastor of the Baptist Church at North Haven, who had been in attendance on the sessions of the Lincoln Association at Camden, where he was one of the principal speakers, making an eloquent address upon "The Cross in Which We Glory." Mr. Huse has just completed his first winter on the island, a novel experience, for all his pastorate hitherto have been inland. He did not say that the winter had been a long one—probably he was too busy with the problems of a new field to notice it—but he did express himself as looking forward to the vacation time when North Haven fills up with summer residents—and residents it is well known who lend much help to the churches and to the island life generally.

A LOOSE GAME

Free hitting and erratic fielding were the outstanding features of yesterday's game at Community Park, when Rockland High defeated Thomaston High 16 to 11.

Emery was effective until the fifth inning when Coach Levensaler seemed to prudent to swap horses mid-stream. Jim Flanagan succeeded the bespectacled twirler and Thomaston's rally, which had begun to assume sizeable proportions was checked. Feyer, the Thomaston pitcher, had his troubles all the way through, but to his credit it must be said that many of the Rockland runs were due to errors.

Traflet led the batting onslaught with a pair of nice two-baggers and two scratch hits, while Jim Flanagan was close on his heels with one double and two singles. Feyer, who went in as a pinch hitter in the fifth inning, was out of the game in the eighth.

One of the best fielding plays was the catch made by Stevens in the eighth.

Interest in the game lagged, and the crowd apparently found a fist fight between two kids more to its liking. This scrap was stopped by Mayor Carver. There should have been somebody in authority to check the dozen or so youngsters who were throwing mud into the grandstand. Baseball is not popularized by these prehistoric demonstrations.

The summary: Rockland High: Traflet, ss. Fowler, 2b. Jim Flanagan, cf. p. D. Gatti, 3b. Jud Flanagan 1b. Freeman if. Feyer if. Peterson rf. L. Bickmore rf. T. Gatti c. Emery p. Collamore cf. Lincoln Baptist Association, held Sunday at the Chestnut Street Baptist Church, was largely attended by representatives and delegates from 32 churches. Dinner was served by the ladies' circle and supper by the Philanthia class. The following officers were elected: Moderator, Rev. H. M. Purrington of Warren; clerk and treasurer, Rev. Ernest M. Holman of Camden; auditor, W. W. Perry of Camden. There were 100 delegates and visitors in attendance. The association offering was $31.54. The program was one of unusual interest and all of the addresses were greatly enjoyed, the following being of especial interest: Dr. E. C. Whittemore, director of the Board of Christian Cooperation, spoke on the subject "The Evangel of the Dispersion." Secretary J. S. Pendleton of the United Baptist Convention of Maine spoke on "Lincoln Association and the Kingdom of Maine." Rev. F. H. Knoll, pastor of the Church of the Church School Improvement Plan.

The first meeting of the Community Club since last December was held Thursday evening. There was a good attendance and plans for the season were made, committees chosen, etc.

Leslie C. Deane of Rockport was here on a business trip last week, also to greet old friends he worked among last year. They were all glad to have a visit from him and his mind is so well stocked with valuable information everyone appreciates the helpful suggestions he gives.

John Crie went to Rockland Saturday.

The beautiful days now make one forget the discomfort of the stormy days of April. Why do we look upon the rainy days with disfavor when it is only Mother Nature's way of doing her spring cleaning.

The beauties of green grass and flowers are so pleasing to the eye it is a lesson to the housewives to make their homes as attractive as possible.

Hatton Wilson's new boat arrived last week.

Colby Hupper went to Rockland on business last week.

Dan D. Lion is much in evidence these days and is very popular with a majority of the folks. Talk about spring tonics—it is there anything more healthful than the kind Dan is furnishing free of charge.

Sunday was so warm and balmy it brought out a good attendance at the Sunday School. There was also a picnic dinner on the piazza of one of the cottages, hammocks were hung out afterwards and several of the owners of motor boats took their friends for a ride in the afternoon. Oh! the month of May is full of joyful surprises.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her So Much

Kingston, Mo.—"I have not taken anything but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for 18 months and I cannot praise it enough. It has helped me so much. I have taken four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and now I am well and strong and feel fine. I got my sister-in-law to take it after her last baby came and she is stronger now. I cannot praise it enough."—Mrs. HATTIE V. EASTIN, R. 1, Kingston, Missouri.

Much of the nervousness in older children can be traced to the overstimulation during infancy, caused by regarding baby as a sort of animated toy for the amusement of parents, relatives and friends. Baby may be played with, but not for more than a quarter of an hour to an hour daily. Beyond that, being handled, tickled, caused to laugh or even scream, will sometimes result in vomiting, and invariably causes irritability, crying or sleeplessness.

Restlessness, crying and sleeplessness from this cause can easily be avoided by treating baby with more consideration, but when you just can't see what is making baby restless or upset, better give him a few drops of pure, harmless Castoria. It's amazing to see how quickly it calms baby's nerves and soothes him to sleep; yet it contains no drugs or opiates. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper. Leading physicians prescribe it for colic, cholera, diarrhea, constipation, gas on stomach and bowels, feverishness, loss of sleep and all other "upsets" of babyhood. Over 25 million bottles used a year shows its overwhelming popularity.

With each bottle of Castoria, you get a look on Motherhood, worth its weight in gold. Look for Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package so you'll get genuine Castoria. There are many imitations.

THE Delco-Light people use a lot of space in the big magazines to tell how Delco-Light builds up farra profits, increases egg production, cuts cost of hired help, ends fire hazards, etc., etc., etc. Then they always end up by saying, "See the local Delco-Light man for particulars." Well, I'm the man they're talking about. And I've really got the facts to back every Delco-Light claim.

LESSONS IN PHONING

Visit Odd Fellows Hall Friday Night and See How It's Done.

A better understanding by the public of the workings of the telephone system and its proper use, is the principal purpose of the demonstration which is to be given, with the aid of a miniature switchboard in Odd Fellows' hall Friday evening at 7.30. Manager E. R. Spear, who was partly instrumental in having Rockland selected as one of the cities for this demonstration, urges the general public to sit in for this interesting event.

Five persons take part in this demonstration, which is not only educational, but very amusing and entertaining. A young man seated at one end of the picture is calling, through a toll line his "lady friend" who is shown seated at the opposite end of the picture. In the center is a miniature toll board with an operator at both of these boards also. The five taking part in this demonstration, in reality it might be termed a "skit," are all employees of the telephone company, and in active service except when taken from their work to give the board demonstration.

Every detail involved in the passing of local or toll calls is shown in a convincing manner. The importance of proper voice or tone qualities; the little things that irritate the subscriber and why they are caused are shown in a most realistic manner and there is plenty of comedy, which will be sure to bring forth much laughter from telephone users who can see themselves depicted in such a realistic manner.

In many instances it is shown that some trouble encountered by the subscriber and blamed on the telephone girl is in reality caused by the subscriber himself. Oftentimes a person answers a telephone ring only to hear the operator say "Number please." The reasons for this and for many other similar occurrences are explained.

At 2.45 tomorrow afternoon the phone demonstration will be given at the High School building.

STRAND THEATRE

Characterized as the companion picture to "Wings" Paramount's great epic of the air, "The Legion of the Condemned," another story of the war from the standpoint of the aviator, comes to the Strand Theatre Monday and Tuesday. The photoplay deals with an unattached flying unit at the French front, composed of men who because of their dark pasts, wanted to die. Their daring exploits were the talk of the war. Nothing was too hazardous as an undertaking. Into this group of men who welcomed death comes Gary Cooper as the young American newspaperman, betrayed by his sweetheart. The high spot shows Cooper forced to carry his ex-sweet-
