Interesting Experience of Two Women—Their Statements Worth Reading.

Ashville, N.C.—"I suffered for years with females problems while my twin daughters were growing up. I had a great deal of difficulty in understanding their behavior. They were very difficult to deal with and I felt that I was not getting through to them."

Mrs. Anna H. Smith, 52, said: "I had the same problems with my daughter. She was always in a state of agitation and she would not listen to me. I felt that I was not doing enough for her and I was never sure if I was doing the right thing."

The Case of Mrs. Smith

James Chicago, aged scientist, who was a guest of his hosts, at the Lena Hotel over the weekend, was an interested spectator at the annual Katter to Caribou ball last Saturday evening. He was given a special pass and was able to attend the gala event without being charged admission. The Katter to Caribou ball is the annual event held in honor of the late Frank J. Katter, who was a prominent figure in Caribou and was known for his contributions to the community. The ball is a celebration of his legacy and continues to be a popular event. James Chicago's presence added a special touch to the occasion, as he shared his insights and experiences with the guests.

A Last Word.

Before another issue of The American appears before the public, I desire to inform our friends of having made some changes in the editorial staff, which I think will be of advantage to our readers.

Two years ago the democratic candidate was in the position to put in its power for a majority in the Senate, and to have the administration of the Senate above the others better than 9 to 1.

They charged, for one thing, that the leading republican demagogues be put in their places, and that the administration be made to do what they wished.

They charged, for another thing, that the Senate should be made to do what the administration wished, and that the Senate should be put in its place. They charged, for a third thing, that the Senate should be put in its place, and that the administration should be made to do what the Senate wished.

Don't forget that a vote for a democratic candidate for State senator is a vote for a republican demagogue in the United States

Senato, who is to be in the position to put the administration above the others better than 9 to 1.

You Don't Need a Parasol

SAUNDER, along the road if you wish to put a little better than a matchbox for your parasol—no matter how much you carry is cut off from you if you use Wilson's Freakle Cream.

It will clear and remove the surface of the parasol, and keep it from attracting dust. It will make your skin soft. Requires a small amount of liquid, and is easily and quickly applied, and it will keep its place always.
