CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For Week Beginning April 23, 1913.

Topic.—Favorite verses.—1. In the Psalms.—Ps. xix, 1-4. Edited by Rev. Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

In a study of favorite verses from certain books of the Bible no better selection could possibly be made to begin with than the Psalms, for no other book in the Scriptures has been regarded with as much special and personal affection as the Book of Psalms.

In them are beautifully described the innermost spiritual experiences of saints of God which awaken a responsive chord in the hearts of all the followers of the true God. "This book," says Calvin, "I am wont to style an anatomy of all parts of the soul, for no one will discover in himself a single feeling whereof the image is not reflected in this mirror. Nay, all griefs, sorrows, fears, doubts, hopes, cares, anxieties—in short all those tumultuous agitations wherewith the minds of men are wont to be tossed—the Holy Ghost hath here represented in life."

A book of such a character could not but make a deep impression upon the minds and hearts of men and provide all ages and classes of men with favorite selections made precious by some personal experience or association.

The first Psalm describes the happiness of the godly and the unhappiness of the ungodly and has ever been prized as an inspiration to godliness and a warning against ungodliness. Who has not studied the Psalmists' picture of the blessed man who "walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly" . . . but whose "delight is in the law of the Lord" and whose prosperity and fruitfulness are likened "to a tree planted by the rivers of waters?" And who has not been deeply impressed with the contrasting picture of the ungodly who "are not so, but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away," with the inevitable conclusion that "the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, but the way of the ungodly shall perish?"

The nineteenth Psalm speaks of the revelation of God in nature and in His law, and almost every verse in it is a favorite one. How familiar and how majestic the words, "The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament sheweth His handiwork. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge. There is no speech nor language, and their voice is not heard." The testimony of the universe to God's existence and glory is a silent one and yet no less powerful and convincing. No nobler words could describe God in His law than those of the Psalmist here: "The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul; the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple. The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart; the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes."

The twenty-third Psalm is the Shepherd Psalm, illustrating the tender and loving care of God for His children by that of the shepherd for his sheep. Its verses are the favorite of all ages—childhood, youth, manhood and declining old age. "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want." All through the singular pronoun is used—"my," "I," "me"—from the first verse to the climax, declaring, "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever." Precious words:

Thou art as much His care As if nor man nor angel Lived on earth or in heaven.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. i, 1-6; viii, 1-9; xvi, 6-11; xxiii, 1-6; xxvii, 1-4; xxxii, 1, 2; xxxiii, 12-22; xxxvii, 1-5; xli, 1-11; xlii, 1-11; xlviii, 1-4; xli, 1-13; xlix, 1-8; xcii, 1-3; c, 1-5; cvii, 1-8.

The Eye of a Master.

It is said that the head of the Thames Iron Works company, that built the Thunderer, is a victim of chronic rheumatism. He is wheeled over the immense works and oversees everything that is being done.

He knows every foreman in the shops and has the designs of every piece of machinery by heart. They point to him as a living illustration of the old saying, "The eye of the master can do more work than a thousand hands."

Christian Endeavor is meant to give us "the eye of a master," which sees what needs to be done in our societies.

The eye of the master plans as well as sees. Shall we remain dull and blind or become bright and seeing?—Ripple in the Christian Endeavor World.

Bryce on Christian Endeavor.

Hon. James Bryce, British ambassador to the United States, has recently visited Dunedin, New Zealand. While he was in that city an Endeavorer sent him a copy of the Christian Endeavor World containing his portrait and a birthday greeting to him. In reply Mr. Bryce wrote: "Thank you for sending me the article regarding the Endeavor movement. I shall read it with great interest, knowing how much it has effected for good in Britain and perhaps even more so in North America."

The King's Business First.

A young English miner in order to attend to his duties as superintendent at a Junior Christian Endeavor society sacrifices one shift of his work every week. The King's business first!

Mutual Benefit Column.

EDITED BY "AUNT MADGE."

Its Motto: "Helpful and Hopeful."

The purposes of this column are succinctly stated in the title and motto—it is for the mutual benefit, and aims to be helpful and hopeful. Being for the common good, it is for the common use—a public servant, a purveyor of the information and suggestion, a medium for the interchange of ideas. In this capacity it solicits communications, and its success depends largely on the support given it in this respect. Communications must be signed, but the name of writer will not be printed except by permission. Communications will be subject to approval or rejection by the editor of the column, but none will be rejected without good reason. Address all communications to:

THE SHOPPING BAG.

The articles boys stow away in trousers pockets, I must say. Are many and diversified; But, gee! they're nothing put beside Those found when hunting Fido's tag. I emptied sister's shopping bag!

A card case, coin purse, a barette, A handkerchief, a yard of net, A drinking cup, a collar stay, A ticket to the matinee, A comb, a brush, a powder rag—All these in sister's shopping bag!

Some "violet talcum" in a can, A kodak picture of a man, A looking glass, a calling list, The latest "Rules for Playing Whist," A clipped outtake from some smart wag—All these in sister's shopping bag!

A crochet needle, spool and lace; A letter from her school chum, Grace; A little manicuring set, Three postage stamps, a novelette, A safety pin, a small silk flag—All these in sister's shopping bag!

A bow-of-velvet and two wings, A chamomile "poquet" full of rings, A stick of gum, a bit of soap, Free samples of complexion dose, Some tissue that will mend a snag—All this in sister's shopping bag!

And any boy whose sister prizes Into his pockets and then cries: "My goodness, brud, see what I've found! How can you pack all this around?" Should say: "Aw, that's no load to drag! Just think what's in your shopping bag!" —Lulu Keck Wiggins, in Judge.

Dear M. B. Friends:

And especially E., for I have thought of you many times the past week and of what I wrote on keeping quiet about house cleaning. I had an unexpected rush on it caused by an opportunity to have painters at this time, and before I realized it I was in it and had a lot accomplished. All done? Oh, no! But with so good a start, I have a hope that before the Fourth of July I may "pick up the remainders."

Here is something timely:

AN EVERYDAY CREED.

I believe in the efficacy of soap. I believe that work is the best panacea for most ills, especially those of the mind, and that fresh air, exercise and sleep are the best medicines for the body.

I believe in fun and laughter, both as a tonic for the blues, and as an outlet for high spirits.

I believe in the beauty of flowers, sunsets and mountains; in the music of birds and brooks.

I believe that there is a bright side to everything, and that we would be more aware of the good about us, were our hearts more responsive to its touch.

I believe in human kindness.

I believe that an ounce of frankness and explanation is worth a pound of repentance and forgiveness, and will often prevent heartache and bitter misunderstanding.

I believe in the simple life of the home, free from formality and social conventionalities.

I believe in the hearty handshake, in hospitality, comradeship, friendship, love.

—K. Stocking.

DEBHAM, MAINE.

Dear Aunt Madge:

Did I hear somebody say Esther had dropped out of the column? Perish the thought! I'm just dropping in to prove the contrary. I am as interested as ever in the column, but lack the time to write often. It would never do to speak of being busy, since that word has gone out of fashion.

As I go about my work I often think of things I will write to the column, and will speak of one or two hints or helps in this letter. Do any of you made butter and so have to wrap it in parchment paper? If so, you know it isn't always easy to separate the clinging sheets. I have used thousands of sheets, but only lately by accident learned this easy way to pick them up. Take the required bunch of sheets and sharply turn down one corner, as you would the leaf of a book (which atrociously I hope you never commit). In trying to spring back to place, the sheets at the point turned down will separate so they may readily be picked up one by one.

Are you ever bothered getting a cake out of the tin? Let it cool in the tin; then set it on the stove for a few seconds, loosen the edges with a knife and gently lift at the sides, the steam will loosen the bottom and it will come out without trouble or breaking, as is apt to be the case when taken out warm, and the bother of greased paper is avoided. Then wrap the cake in waxed paper if you want to keep it moist and fresh.

You know how at this time of year apples lose their flavor, and the tartness that we enjoy in pies or sauce is missing. A friend told me the other day to try a teaspoon of cream of tartar dissolved in a little water poured over the apples in a pie before cooking to restore the tartness. It is a great improvement, and I pass it on. I tried a little also in apple sauce, with as good results.

I tried Are's recipe for molasses cookies made from the lard with the browned flour in from frying doughnuts, and it is certain my hens won't get that part of the lard any more, as they use it.

I enjoyed Narcissus' letter very much. Narcissus saved me from starvation once, in the days when as a school m'ama I taught near her home. I had not eaten much at breakfast, and the forenoon recess found me famished, and wondering if I dared go in and ask for a lunch. While I hesitated, Narcissus ran home, found her mother making cookies, got one for herself and one for "teacher." I'll never forget that cookie, Aunt Madge; it went straight to the right spot.

Aunt Maria is gadding in Boston and vicinity. When she gets back, I think she had better be writing to the column, or someone will be saying she has "dropped out." Don't remember having seen anything from her for months, except a quotation or two.

Now one delinquent is heard from, I hope others will break their long silence and write a good long letter. I met a lady at a grange meeting last September who told me how interested she was in the column, and if she

Women of Middle Age

From 40 to 50 Woman's Critical Period.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, severe headaches, melancholia, dread of impending evil, palpitation of the heart, irregularity, constipation and dizziness are promptly treated by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life.

This is the most critical period of woman's life and she who neglects the care of her health at this time invites incurable disease and pain. Why not be guided by the experience of others and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It is an indisputable fact that this grand old remedy has helped thousands of women to pass through this trying period with comfort and safety. Thousands of genuine and honest testimonials support this fact.

From Mrs. HENRY HEAVILIN, Cadiz, Ohio.

Fort Worth, Texas.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and derived great benefit from its use. It carried me safely through the Change of Life when I was in bad health. I had that all gone feeling most of the time, and headache constantly. I was very nervous and the hot flashes were very bad. I had tried other remedies and doctors, but did not improve until I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has now been some time since I took the Compound and I have had no return of my old complaints. I always praise your remedies to weak women."—Mrs. HENRY HEAVILIN, R. F. D. No. 5, Cadiz, Ohio.

From Mrs. EDWARD B. HILBERT, Fleetwood, Pa.

Fleetwood, Pa.—"During the Change of Life I was hardly able to be around at all. I always had a headache and I was so dizzy and nervous that I had no rest at night. The flashes of heat were so bad sometimes that I did not know what to do.

"One day a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me a strong, well woman. I am very thankful that I followed my friend's advice, and I shall recommend it as long as I live. Before I took the Compound I was always sickly and now I have not had medicine from a doctor for years. You may publish my letter."—Mrs. EDWARD B. HILBERT, Fleetwood, Pa.

From Mrs. F. P. MULLENDORE, Munford, Ala.

Munford, Ala.—"I was so weak and nervous while passing through the Change of Life that I could hardly live. My husband had to nail rubber on all the gates for I could not stand to have a gate slam.

"I also had backache and a fullness in my stomach. I noticed that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was advertised for such cases and I sent and got a bottle. It did me so much good that I kept on taking it and found it to be all you claim. I recommend it to all women afflicted as I was."—Mrs. F. P. MULLENDORE, Munford, Ala.

is probably due to uric acid in the system—the blood must be purified—the poisonous acid driven out and general health must be improved.

Thousands testify that Scott's Emulsion rids the system of poisonous acid by enriching the impoverished blood, and its concentrated nourishment is converted into red blood corpuscles which drive out rheumatism.

It is especially valuable to aged people.

DANGER FROM GRIPPE

Lies in That Cough and Weak, Worn-out Condition.

Grippe, pleurisy, pneumonia, these are greatly to be feared at this time of the year.

To prevent grippe from being followed by either pleurisy or pneumonia, it is important to drive the last traces of it out of the system quickly.

Our advice is to take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil, and get your strength and vitality back quickly.

Mrs. A. A. Grabbill, of Strasburg, Va. says: "Grippe left me weak, run down and with a severe cough, from which I suffered four years. I tried different remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good until I took Vinol, from which I received great benefit. My cough is almost entirely gone, and I am strong and well again, and I am glad to recommend Vinol to others who suffer as I did."

Try Vinol with the certainty that if it does not benefit you we will give back your money.

Mr. Gray had been employed by Mr. Goddard as foreman ever since he sold his farm and buildings to him several years ago. He had served the town as road commissioner several years, to the complete satisfaction of his fellow-townsmen, always giving the best, not thinking of his own gain, as his was one of nature's unselfish dispositions, and the record he leaves is of the best.

He leaves a widow, two daughters—Mrs. Will F. Gray and Mrs. Clifton Bracy, and one son—Oris C., all of this town; also several grandchildren. A loving husband and father, an indulgent grandfather, an obliging friend and neighbor and an honorable citizen has gone to the reward which is prepared for the faithful. The sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved family, feeling that their loss is common to us all.

Tobacco that is cut up at the factory gets dried up on its way to you. Result—it burns fast and hot, and "bites." When you cut your own tobacco off the Sickie plug, you are well repaid for a minute's work by fresh tobacco—because all the flavor and moisture are pressed into the plug and held in by the natural leaf wrapper.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23, 1913

For years democracy has been yowling: "Take the rum question out of politics!" Being freely interpreted, this meant turn the "regulation" of the traffic over to the rum trust. Now, however, we have a governor with the courage and genius to take enforcement of law out of politics by making officers fulfill their oaths of office, regardless of their politics or that of their jurisdiction.—Kennebec Journal.

Ex-Attorney-General Pattangall announces that he is not a candidate for the office of United States district attorney—and this in spite of the fact that no other candidate has been mentioned for the place. Nor is he a candidate for any other office. He just wants to remain in Waterville; admits there's a chance of the republicans winning in 1914, but he's so confident they won't that he wants to be on the spot on the first Wednesday of January, 1915, when he expects to see the democrats resume control, and for that glad day he's willing to live lifeless. Such self-sacrifice is "truly" touching.

Maine's President and Speaker.
(Kennebec Journal.)

Unsurpassed in executive ability, always in control of every situation, far-seeing and with an amazing capacity for work, the record of the presiding officers of the seventy-sixth Maine legislature stands out as prominently as any other feature of the fifteen remarkable weeks of law-making.

Not a mistake by either officer in three and one-half months, and not a decision to question as partisan or as influenced by other than whole-souled interest in the welfare of the State which they served. This was their course and with that understanding they found no reason to hesitate. The peculiar conditions arising probably brought more difficult problems and a more varied demand upon their abilities than has been faced upon any president or speaker since Maine has been a State—situations in which no precedent could be discovered—yet rulings were instant, and with the one exception mentioned by Mr. Newbert, uncontested in the slightest degree.

President Carl E. Milliken, of Island Falls; Speaker John A. Peters, of Ellsworth—long will their fame endure in the minds of the citizens of Maine, and longer will their memories be enshrined in the hearts of the men over whom they presided.

For Congress.

(Augusta Cor. Bangor Commercial.)
Hon. W. R. Pattangall's announcement that he is not a candidate for the office of United States district attorney for Maine has given rise to much speculation here as to his attitude regarding the democratic nomination for congressman from the 3d Maine district, and the Waterville man is generally credited with having decided to enter the field at the primaries against Samuel W. Gould, of Skowhegan, the former democratic congressman, who was defeated at the last election by Cong. Forrest Goodwin, the successful republican candidate.

It is said here that many of Mr. Pattangall's friends have urged him to be a candidate, pointing out that Mr. Gould was defeated by the republicans at the last election, and that, if nominated, he would again face the prospect of almost certain defeat. Many of Mr. Pattangall's friends have told him he is the one man in the district who can certainly defeat Cong. Goodwin, and have urged him to run on the ground of his duty to the party.

These representations have not fallen on deaf ears, so it is said here, and some of those who are closest to him, and some democratic politics in Kennebec county express the belief that, when the time is ripe, Mr. Pattangall will make formal announcement of his candidacy.

School Legislation.

Important and general enactments in school matters, by the last legislature, were the act for the State certification of teachers, the teachers' pension act, an act changing the board of management of State normal schools, the law for the prevention of secret societies in the public schools, and enactments relating to more exact and uniform accounting of school receipts and expenditures.

Other enactments provide for the election of truancy officers by school committees, and for the return of educational statistics for the year ending July 1. The number of school holidays was reduced by omitting New Year's from the list, and by providing, at the option of committees, for the observance by appropriate school exercises on certain days that were formerly celebrated by the closing of schools.

New Penobscot Bay Steamer.

Through a subsidy granted by the retail merchants' association of Bangor, arrangements have been made for a new all-year steamboat service in Penobscot bay.

The steamer Corina, of the Devereux Co., of Castine, will provide service from West Brooksville, Castine and West Penobscot to Bucksport and thence to Bangor, the Central railroad with Bangor, beginning on or before May 15.

COUNTY GOSSIP.

The East Maine Methodist conference is in session this week at Bucksport, with Bishop Henderson presiding.

From North Hancock comes the report that Calvin Graves and his two sons on Sunday afternoon dug out a fox den, capturing the female fox and four pups, all black.

The wild geese captured at Bass Harbor by Jay Wallace last week have proved to be part of a flock reared by a Cranberry island man. He thought they were thoroughly domesticated, but the call of spring was evidently too strong for them.

Here is a good old-fashioned neighborhood for you! Our West Franklin correspondent writes: There are at present living on the Great Pond road, about one mile in length, sixteen families with a population of eighty-nine. "Fifty are between the ages of six months and twenty-one years, and thirty between five and twenty-one years."

Hon. Frank E. Mace, of Great Pond, State land agent and forest commissioner under the recent democratic administration, has accepted a responsible position as manager of the timberland interests of the Great Northern Paper Co. in the Kennebec watershed. Mr. Mace will have general charge of the company's timberland and water property and privileges in his district. He will make his home in Augusta.

Farmers of Bucksport and neighboring towns have formed the Bucksport farmers' union. At a meeting Friday, C. E. Embree, manager of the Maine farmers' union, gave those present a good idea of the benefits of organization and co-operation, and afterwards it was voted to organize. A. C. Swazey was elected president; Burke Leach, treasurer; R. S. Genn, clerk; Russell E. Gray, F. W. Beal, A. B. Dunham, George A. White, H. W. White, S. R. Genn and Melville Chapman, directors.

In a letter accompanying the analysis, Dr. Evans says:
The analysis shows this water to be in good condition to use for all domestic purposes. It is free from all evidence of contact with polluting wastes of sewage origin. As is natural at this season of the year, the water is receiving a considerable amount of surface wash, but as this wash has not been polluted by contact with sewage wastes, its presence will not affect the drinking qualities of the supply. In its present condition this water is a first-class one to use for all domestic purposes.

Summer Schools for Teachers.

Summer schools for rural and elementary teachers will be held at the Farmington, Gorham, Castine and Machias normal schools, all the facilities of which will be at the disposal of the students. The instructors will be selected from the regular teaching force of the normal schools.

The cost of the school is borne by the State. There is no expense to teachers except for material used in manual training, and for board, amounting to about $7 a term.

The courses offered in the summer school will be arranged with special reference to their value to teachers of country schools. The general management, direction and teaching of country schools will be emphasized throughout the course. The director of the school will hold a series of conferences for the purpose of discussing specific problems presented from the school-room experiences of the teachers.

While there is no requirement in the number of courses to be taken, it has been found that each teacher can advantageously follow a course from three to five of the courses. Certificates showing the courses taken will be given to those teachers who attend throughout the session.

The daily program will be so arranged as to bring all recitations during the forenoon. The afternoons will be free for study and recreation.

The event of the week was a surprise party given at the home of R. C. Hagerthy and wife Friday evening, April 18, to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. To friends and neighbors of this respected family it was only necessary to propose the recognition of this event in the form of a golden wedding, and at 8 o'clock a party to the number of fifty, with ice-cream, cake, cocoa, coffee and other refreshments, appeared at their neat and cozy farm home. The affair was informal, and the evening thoroughly enjoyed. Capt. Hagerthy, who for years was in command of different vessels of the fishing fleet to the Grand Banks, was referred to by a number of his shipmates who were present, as one of the best commanders who ever walked the quarter-deck, always wearing that genial smile which gave his crew courage and determination, and his vessel always returned with a "full fare." His wife, Nancy, of similar disposition, has been the center of the home through all these years, and has shared largely in the expressions of high esteem by which they are held throughout their home town. Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it causes a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

HANCOCK S. J. COURT.FINAL ADJOURNMENT FOR THE TERM THURSDAY.*TRACY MEMORIAL EXERCISES—DIVORCES DECREED—THE CRIMINAL DOCKET—SENTENCES IMPOSED.

THE COURT.

Sheriff—FORREST O. SILBY, Ellsworth.
Clerk—WARD W. WESCOTT, Bluehill.
Deputies—G. F. NEWMAN, Ellsworth; ROBERT M. RUMBLE, Tremont; PAUL W. SCOTT, Deer Isle; S. F. WARDWELL, Penobscot.
Stenographer—Cecil Clay, Portland.
Messenger—Philip D. Mason, Ellsworth.

The April term of the supreme court adjourned finally last Thursday. All the cases on the criminal docket were disposed of without trial.

There were but few jury trials during the term. In all, 101 cases came off the civil docket—forty-seven by judgments or verdicts; thirty-three by entry "neither party"; fifteen divorces decreed, and six cases dismissed. There were 111 new entries.

The petition of Ellen Mosley for annulment of her marriage to Alvarado Mosley, deceased, in order to establish her right to a pension as widow of her first husband, hearing on which occupied the greater part of Wednesday, was denied by the court.

TRACY MEMORIAL EXERCISES.
Memorial exercises for Bedford E. Tracy, who died December 2 last, were held Wednesday afternoon. The committee of the bar association appointed by President L. B. Deasy were F. L. Mason, C. H. Wood and W. B. Blaisdell. Mr. Mason presented the following resolutions:

Whereas, The members of Hancock county have desire to place on record our profound feeling of grief in the death of our late brother, Bedford E. Tracy, and to express our appreciation of his character as a lawyer and friend; be it therefore,

Resolved, That in the death of brother Bedford E. Tracy, this bar loses one of its most highly-honored and best, beloved members; be it further

Resolved, That we extend to his bereaved widow and family our sincere sympathy and condolence in this our common loss; be it further

Resolved, That this court be requested to order these resolutions to be entered upon its records as a testimonial to his worth and character, and that a copy thereof be forwarded by the clerk of this court to the family of the deceased.

Mr. Mason followed with a personal tribute to Mr. Tracy. Mr. Wood gave a biographical sketch of Mr. Tracy, and reviewed his private and professional life. He was followed by Mr. Blaisdell and Mr. Deasy, who spoke feelingly. All the speakers paid deserved tribute to the high character as citizen, lawyer and public servant of the man in whose memory they had gathered.

Justice Hanson responded briefly to the remarks, ordering the resolutions spread upon the records of the court, and as a further mark of respect, ordering court adjourned for the day.

COUNTY NEWS.

HANCOCK.

OBITUARY.

The death of Mrs. Eliza J. Foss, at the home of her son, Capt. A. I. Foss, Sunday morning, takes from this community one of its best-known and most esteemed residents. A few days previous she was about the house when she was taken suddenly ill, and in spite of all that skill or care could do, she obeyed the summons that called her higher.

She was born in Hancock, the daughter of David and Fannie Stratton, in January, 1833, and was therefore past eighty years of age. Early in her twenties she became the wife of Capt. Coleman Moore, of the same town. A daughter was born to them, and when the little one was two years old, a most trying experience came to the wife and mother. She had gone with her husband in his vessel for a trip South, and on the return Capt. Moore was taken with smallpox and finally died. The wife and child also contracted the disease and were quarantined in the cabin of the vessel for days, but finally recovered.

A few years later she was married to Edmund N. Foss, also of Hancock, and for forty years they lived in happy union. About ten years ago Mr. Foss died.

Mrs. Foss was a woman of quiet but sterling life. Though her life had been marked with many sorrows and difficulties, she bore them all with courage and fortitude. Hers was a kindly and sympathetic nature, and in the former years, when she had the strength, her neighborly ministrations were many and unselfish. Above all she was a toiler. Work was her best employ, and she was never satisfied if she were not busy in some form of service.

With these fine qualities of mind and heart, she endeared herself to a host of friends who feel a deep sense of loss in her departure. She was a woman of religious nature. About thirty years ago she and her husband were baptized into the fellowship of the Baptist church, of which she was a faithful and consistent member. Although by reason of the lengthening years, she was not able to help as formerly, her interest in the church's welfare never waned, and that organization loses a valued helper in her death.

The funeral was held yesterday at the Union church in Hancock, and was largely attended. It was conducted by her pastor, Rev. P. A. Killam, of Ellsworth. Two solos were sung—"Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "The Day of Glory," and the whole service was a simple and yet fitting tribute to a life of faith and worth. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful, bearing fragrant testimony of the love and esteem of many hearts.

Mrs. Foss is survived by two daughters—Mrs. C. W. Foss, of Hancock, and Mrs. Charles Anderson, of Bar Harbor, and two sons—Capt. Augustus I. Foss, and Wallace E. Foss, both of Hancock. All were present at the service, and also a large number of grandchildren. Interment was in the local cemetery.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

Again we are reminded of the uncertainty of life as we record the death of our esteemed sister, Carrie E. Walton.

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family in their affliction, and commend them to our Heavenly Father for the comfort which we cannot give.

Resolved, That as a token of respect for Sister Walton, our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, a copy of these resolutions be spread on our records, a copy sent to the family, and a copy sent to THE ELLSWORTH AMERICAN for publication.

If Mothers Only Knew!

By Dr. True

Nineteen-twentieths of the sickness of children have two causes: constipation and worms!

The danger of constipation is understood, but there are 50 different kinds of worms that may exist in the stomach and bowels, and children are especially apt to have them. Usually stomach and pin worms.

Signs of worms are: Indigestion, with a variable appetite; abnormal craving for sweets; nausea and vomiting; swollen upper lip; sour tongue; offensive breath; hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; face at one time flushed, then pale and in a few cases the face takes on a dull leaden hue; eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids; itching of the nose; itching of the rectum; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; little red spots sticking out on tongue; starting during sleep; slow fever; pulse quickened and irregular; body may be hot; and often, in children, convulsions.

Rid the child of worms and you will have a healthy, happy child.

NOTE—Dr. True's own prescription, sold under the name of Dr. True's Elixir, is the best remedy in the world for worms. It destroys all worm life, expels worms from the body and makes the child healthy again. All dealers, 35c, 50c and $1.00.

BLUEHILL.

ORITARY.
Joseph J. Hinckley, a native of Bluehill, died at his home in Campo Seco, Calaveras county, Cal., March 21, after an illness of three years, aged seventy-eight years. The Calaveras Prospect, of San Andreas, in an extended obituary, says of him: "Joseph J. Hinckley was a native of Bluehill, Maine, born January 4, 1835. His earlier days were spent in that State, as a ship carpenter, up to the time of the California gold excitement. In the spring of 1858 he sailed for San Francisco, crossing the isthmus and arriving in the fall of the same year."

He went to Lancha Plana, Amador county, where he became identified with successful placer-mining during the life of that camp. He moved to Calaveras about the time that copper was first discovered in that camp. He took a keen interest in everything pertaining to the development and progress of that industry, and was a recognized authority on both placer and copper-mining."

In 1864 he married Mary Coughlin, to which union were born five children—Jessie C. Hinckley, of Tacoma, Wash.; Annie M. Hinckley, of Campo Seco, Joseph J. Hinckley, of San Diego, the late Jno. N. Hinckley, of Globe, Ariz., and Mrs. R. A. Case, of Santa Cruz. Mr. Hinckley was known throughout his life as a man of sterling worth, his integrity and honor being at all times exemplified in his dealings with his fellow-men. He had been an Odd Fellow fifty-four years."

The Test of Merit

Ellsworth People Are Given Convincing Proof.

No better test of any article can be made than the test of time, and this is particularly true of a kidney medicine. Doan's Kidney Pills have stood this test and stood it well. What better proof of the merits of this remedy could you demand than the statement of an Ellsworth resident who used it successfully and tells of lasting results?

Read the following:

E. P. Lord, Ellsworth Falls, Me., says: "You may add to the endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills I gave in 1908, that I still consider them the best medicine to be had for kidney trouble. The cure they effected has been permanent, and I am always glad to make the fact known. I had acute attacks of backache, and they were especially severe when I stooped or lifted. When having one of these spells three years ago, I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and got a supply at Moore's Drug Store. They corrected my trouble in a remarkably short time and after taking them, I enjoyed much better health. I have never heard of an instance where Doan's Kidney Pills have failed to prove satisfactory."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents.

Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

BE A CHARMING WOMAN

You never saw a beautiful woman who didn't have beautiful hair. The charms of a beautiful woman lie in her hair. Many women do not realize the attractions they possess because they do not give proper attention to their hair.

The women of the "400" are famed for their beauty, not because their facial features are superior to those of other women, but because they know how to keep young by supplying vigor, lustre and strength to the hair.

Up to a few years ago PARISIAN SAGE could hardly be obtained in America. But now this delightful hair-restorer can be had in every town in America. G. A. Pacher sells it in Ellsworth for fifty cents a bottle, and guarantees it to grow beautiful, luxuriant hair; to stop falling hair; to eradicate dandruff.

OBITUARY.

With the passing away of Mrs. Sarah Ann Bunker on April 11, Franklin loses one of its oldest and most respected townswomen. She was born on what is now the Eldridge place, March 16, 1827, the daughter of Arthur and Amelia (Uran) French. She was united in marriage to Roland Bunker, of Gouldsboro, and they made their home until his death in 1890 on the Ryedale road.

Eight children blessed their union, all of whom are living except one son, who died in childhood.

Mrs. Bunker was a woman of sterling character, kind and charitable to all, loyal to her own and with a great love for her home town and its people. In her later years, when failing health came upon her, she was tenderly cared for by her children in their several homes.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roscoe Gay, Rev. G. Mayo officiating. Many beautiful flowers, expressed the respect and sympathy of friends. Interment was in Bay View cemetery.

She leaves to mourn her loss four sons—Francis A. of Howard, R. L.; Sherman H. of South Gouldsboro; Arthur W. of Franklin, and Charles K. of Somerville, Mass., and three daughters—Mrs. William A. Crabtree, of Hancock Point; Mrs. Joseph H. Cole, of Dorchester, Mass., and Mrs. Roscoe Gay, of Franklin; also fourteen grandchildren, seventeen great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild; also two brothers and two sisters.

As a shock of corn fully ripe, the Reaper has gathered her home, but the memory of her long and useful life remains to bless all who knew her.

Healthy Old Age Is What Dr. Hartman Advocates

See here, young man, I heard you complaining of the other day of being nervous, sleepless, brain-fagged, and the like. A young man, hardly in the zenith of your life, complaining of such things!

And this is very common, too. You are not the only one. Probably three out of four of the young men of to-day have just such symptoms as you describe. What does it mean?

Look at me. I am eighty-two years old. Sound as a nut. Tough as hickory. Do not know what it is to be tired. While I cannot do as much physical work as I used to when a young man, I can do a great deal. Probably twice as much as the average young man of to-day.

What has kept me so strong and well? I will tell you. I do not use tobacco. I do not use alcoholic stimulants. I do not use tea or coffee habitually. I go to bed early. I get up early. I am always doing something; something that occupies my body and mind. I love to work. I take a cold water towel bath every morning, winter and summer. It is these things that have kept me well and strong. You could be just as well and strong as I am if you would do as I do.

You may ask, do I never get sick, have I never had occasion to take medicine at all? Yes, I have got sick. Sometimes I feel a little touch of climatic trouble, like cold, malaria, slight catarrhal symptoms, but my only medicine is Peruna. I always keep a bottle of Peruna in the house. I keep a bottle of Peruna on my desk in my office. Once in a while I take some. I do not take it habitually. Take it only when I feel a little out of sorts. One swallow will perhaps be all that will be necessary, but it is always handy by.

It is a sorry sight to see the young men of to-day begin to peter out physically when they ought to be in the glory of their manhood and the height of their vigor. Eat plain food. Live frugally. Give up all weakening habits. Live as God intended you to live. Take Peruna when you do not feel as well as usual.

If you want me to I will send you a book which will tell you a great many more things about yourself and about matters that may be of great value to you. Enclose a two-cent stamp for postage and the book will be sent in a plain wrapper and you will not be troubled with any follow-up letters or advertisements. PERUNA IS FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Many persons are making inquiries for the old-time Peruna. To such would say, this formula is now put out under the name of K-A-T-A-R-N-O, manufactured by K-A-T-A-R-N-O Company, Columbus, Ohio. Write them and they will be pleased to send you a free booklet.
