JULY

[For The Courier-Gazette]
July's first bow was made with favor.
Of sun and soft winds' wifery:
The roses June could not bestow,
He gave with prodigality.
The glory of the summer is,
His brother in the solar line:
The wealth of summer's graciousness
They bear, absolved from man's design.

The dawning spring, he bids, forget;
Behold the thought of future gloom,
Inviting to the gladness of
Of all green things that now find room,
Without a hope, without a fear,
Joyful, just in their being here.
With welcome fruits, in daily dress,
He crowns the early summer's measure,
A boon to vision, that now is,
To memory, to be a treasure.

THE ROCKLAND FAIR

The vaudeville program at Rockland Fair next week will repay all patrons, even if there was no Carnival and no horse trotting. The Boston house with which Manager McKinley has been dealing offers the following:

Mack and Mack, in a comedy acrobatic and knockabout act.
Here we see good variety and plenty of action all the way.

READY FOR BIG SHOW

Camden Regatta Is Only a Week Away—Electric Decorations Are To Be Turned On Tonight

One of the most unique contests ever staged in Maine is scheduled on the program of the Camden Yacht Club motorboat regatta to be held in Camden harbor Friday and Saturday, Aug. 9 and 10. The thousands who will attend the affair will have the opportunity of seeing a huge amphibian plane with Captain Bill Wincapaw at the controls in an effort to out-manuever a fast outboard racer with Arthur Ricker, Portland sportsman driving, if present plans materialize.

Captain Wincapaw made a sizable wager last week that he could drop non-explosive bombs on a fast outboard racer from the skies and Mr. Ricker promptly covered the money. It is the opinion of Mr. Ricker that no aviator can cut corners with a fast outboard and wants to prove his contentions.

Captain Wincapaw stated that he would fly at an altitude of 500 feet or less and would drop a dozen bombs. They will be of a special type and light enough to eliminate danger from the force of their fall yet heavy enough to make them fall fast and true to the mark.

The contest will be held on Friday afternoon around 6 o'clock and should be a thriller. The plane will swoop, dive, bank and zoom as the boat twists and wiggles like a fish will flee from a hawk. This event is made possible through the courtesy of Messrs. Wincapaw and Ricker and members of the committee are very grateful that it can be staged at that time. It was first scheduled for the postponed Sebago Lake regatta.

*****
The regatta is but a week away and Camden harbor will be the best of the entire regatta. More than a half dozen boats including Hays of Bar Harbor, Patchett of Philadelphia and Northport, Alexander of Dark Harbor, Morton of Boston, Pierce of Providence and McNeil of Camden have been entered. Many of these craft will do more than 45 miles an hour and will be entered in the free-for-all as well as their own special race. Imagine the thrill of watching six of these big, fast boats cutting through the water at 45 miles an hour. The runaway entry list is larger than the list at the Portland meet.

Among the prizes are to be a beautiful ship's clock donated by the Camden Rotarians and a $200 prize by the Camden business men. These will be given besides the $1500 amount already listed. The regular prizes will include banjo clocks, compasses, cups and cash—all of them are worth competing for.

The fireworks display will be very elaborate. For instance the manufacturer who hails from Rockport has given a piece for every piece bought by the committee. In that way a double display will be offered on Friday evening after the airplane-boat contest.

The lineup for the Eastern Maine regatta certainly is a mighty interesting one. For instance—serial contests, lighting display, fine races, fireworks, dances, dinners, reunions, Camden is due for a colorful week-end. It will be without a doubt the greatest sporting event ever staged in this section of the State.
The Curtiss Flying Service will play a big part and will have two ships on hand for passenger work. A stunt exhibition will be given by a base pilot over the harbor in a Ploegling. Bill Wincapaw and Harold Moon will fly the boats.

The time is set, the weather man is tipped off and the committee is ready for the big affair. The program book made its appearance this week and was published by the Eastern Maine Public Service Company under the direction of Dick Reed.

The officials, newspapermen and committeemen attending the regatta are to be entertained on one of the finest steam yachts afloat. At a meeting of the Camden Rotary Club this week Cyrus H. K. Curtis, noted Philadelphia publisher and beloved summer resident and native of Maine told members of the regatta committee that he would gladly offer the handsome $2,000,000 yacht Lyndonia for the committee boat during the races. The Lyndonia will be anchored inside the course.

Mr. Curtis is very anxious for the regatta to become a huge success and has made a handsome contribution to the fund. He is especially interested in the yacht club, being its commodore and donor of the $100,000 clubhouse. He was given a rousing cheer at the gathering.

A MIDSUMMER FESTIVAL

"Rose Cliffs," Nee "Rose Hill," Was the Scene Yesterday of a Delightful Social Affair

The attractive summer home of Mrs. E. M. Lawrence was the scene of a delightful midsummer musicale and tea yesterday afternoon, given under the auspices of the Woman's Educational Club. Cloudless skies, the beauty of gardens in bloom, the spreading lawns and pretty grove combined to make the setting an ideal one. The guests were received by a committee composed of the officers of the club, headed by the president, Mrs. Mary Perry Rich. Colonial bouquets were distributed by Virginia Flint, Margaret Ellis, Ruth Dondis, Florence Dean and Faith Ulmer, daintily gown and wearing pink frilled caps.

Following a social hour refreshments were served from tea tables set in the grove, presided over by various members of the club, assisted by Dorothy Feeney, Ruth and Mary Lawrence and Faye Hodgkins. A pleasing feature prior to this period was the pretty dance given by Ruth Dondis and Florence Dean in the grove among the trees, the dancers in lovely pink Colonial costumes making a picture not soon to be forgotten. They were accompanied by Miss Bertha McIntosh at the piano.

After the tea hour the guests gathered in the chairs placed on the lawn facing the verandas, and listened to a musical program of much excellence, presenting an instrumental trio composed of Miss Bertha Luce and A. R. Marsh, violins, and Mrs. E. F. Berry, piano; Mme. Olga Halasz of Budapest and New York, pianist; Miss Raychel Emerson, dramatic soprano, of New York and Warren. The program:

Trio—Londonderry Air..... arr. Kreidler
Piano—Valse in E minor..... Chopin
Soprano—Still As the Night..... Bohm
Musetta Waltz from "La Boheme"
..... Puccini
Trio—Little Symphony No. 2..... Dancila
Piano—Hungarian Rhapsody..... Grieg
Soprano—The Viol..... Grieg

Just before the program opened Miss Dondis and Miss Dean did a stately colonial dance on the lawn. The instrumental trio in this music made its first bow to the public, having previously appeared only in private engagements. Their work is splendidly done.
Interest was manifested in the appearance of Mme. Halasz, who is the guest of Miss Emerson at her summer home in Warren. She is a graduate of the Royal Hungarian Academy of Music at Budapest, where she received the highest pedagogical honors, including the Franz Liszt Scholarship. During her career she has been departmental head in one of the greatest European conservatories at Budapest and director of her own conservatory. In the same city she has won the acclaim of both American and European critics as soloist, accompanist and coach. Although playing in yesterday's program on an upright piano, it was recognized by all present that here was an artist of the highest calibre. Her personality and her performance proved most interesting.

It was a pleasure to hear Miss Emerson again. Her voice, with its brilliant power and range, seems aptly fitted for outdoor singing, a most exacting task, and yesterday displayed her artistry at its best, the ringing tones, the fine diction and assured poise. Her gracious manner completely won her audience, particularly so when, as a tribute to Mr. Lawrence's birthday, she sang his favorite hymn "The Old Rugged Cross," followed gracefully with "The End of a Perfect Day" for Mrs. Lawrence in recognition of her delightful hospitality. In each instance she invited all to sing with her. It was a most fitting close for a "perfect day."

Mrs. Lawrence spoke briefly of the purpose of the Club, its aims and its hopes, and Mrs. Rich extended a vote of thanks to the hostess for the happy afternoon.

*****
The Lawrence Home
Mrs. Lawrence took the opportunity to announce that her summer home would be known henceforth as "Rose Cliff" instead of "Rose Hill," which makes the moment opportunity to mention the establishment of the Lawrence residence in Rockland. The house itself had been built by the late Charles A. Rose, and when Mr. Lawrence bought it wishing to perpetuate the name and memory, he called it "Rose Hill." Recently it has been learned there is another "Rose Hill" in the vicinity of Rockland claiming priority over the Lawrence estate, and just now when the rugged ledges are covered with beautiful pink ramblers roses, no name could be more fitting than "Rose Cliff."

The Lawrence's lived in Lubec until 16 years ago when they came to Rockland. Since that time more than 150 persons have followed them from Lubec, drawn here by industries and better opportunities. These people have purchased homes, and have established themselves among the city's most valued residents.

It is a singular coincidence that four of Mr. Lawrence's children have homes on Beach street, the oldest son, Glenn A., Lloyd N., Mrs. Ella Cole, and the "baby" of the family, Arthur, at the foot or next to "Daddy" Lawrence's home.
Mr. Lawrence is expanding his business in quite a marked degree, canning blueberries and smoking fish being two innovations this year. It is interesting to note that Mr. Lawrence's grandfather, Edward Markham Lawrence, came to this country from Yarmouth, England, and was the first one to have a fish weir on the coast of Maine. Mr. Lawrence is Edward Markham 2d, and his grandson (the son of Lloyd N.) is Edward Markham 3d.

CLAIRTON'S TRIALS
Result of Interesting Experiments Made On the Rockland Trial Course

The Naval Trial Board yesterday completed a highly interesting series of standardization tests with the Collier Clairton of the U. S. Shipping Board. With the vessel drawing 24 feet she made an average of 11.38 knots on her top speed runs. Lightened of part of her cargo, and drawing 20 feet, she averaged 11.67 knots, and on a third test, drawing but 16 feet she made 12.29 knots, her fastest mile being 12.53 knots.

A model of the Clairton had previously been tested in the Navy's model tank at Washington to determine the power required to drive the ship at various speeds in different conditions of loading and trim, and the trials of the collier completed yesterday were made for the Shipping Board to get a comparison between the behavior of the full sized ship and that of the model. The model was also run with full bottom and foul propeller, and the results in these declared by the Naval officials to be startling. With a uniformly foul hull and a clean propeller the power increased about 2 percent, while with a uniformly foul hull and uniformly foul propeller the power increased about 20 percent. Increased power means a larger coal consumption, and the trials demonstrated that clean and polished propellers give a notable reduction in cost.

It was said that the Clairton may be run later with a foul bottom so as to make a full check on the model experiments.
A technical discussion of the experiments is to be prepared by R. R. Adams formerly of the Shipping Board and now operating vice president of the Grace Line.

CONVICT ESCAPES
J. T. Kelley, Lifer, Gains Freedom From the Fairfield Sanatorium

Sheriff Markham of Somerset County, was notified Tuesday by officials of the State Prison of the escape of James T. Kelley from the Central Maine Sanatorium, Fairfield, to which he was transferred from Thomaston on April 13, 1928.
Kelley made his escape about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning. He was serving a life sentence for murder and was sent to Thomaston, Oct. 22, 1927, from Portland.
Kelley's weight is given as 150 pounds, and he is five feet ten inches in height. He has dark hair and hazel eyes, has one front tooth missing and an overhanging fingernail on his left hand. He was wearing a blue suit and either a cap or a hat.
Later: Kelley was recaptured in Portland yesterday and returned to the prison hospital ward in Thomaston.

THE SPECIAL ELECTION.

A total of 559,950 ballots have been prepared by Secretary of State Edgar C. Smith for the special election on the second Monday in September, when the people will pass upon the Carlton bill for the export of surplus power, the raising of the tax on gasoline to five cents a gallon, amending the constitution to provide a method of filling consular vacancies, and issuing bonds for the building of a bridge over the Penobscot river at Bucksport, and for general highway and bridge-building purposes.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had to live my life again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

THE WIND IN A FROLIC

The wind one morning sprang up from sleep, saying "Now for a frolic without me! I'll now for a mad cap, galloping chase! I'll make a commotion in every place!"
So it swept with a bustle right through a great town.
Cracking the signs and scattering down shutters, and whisking, with mercurial squalls, the old women's bonnets and gingerbread stalls. There never was heard a much louder shout. As the apples and oranges tumbled about: And the arches that stand with their tierish eyes
Forever on watch, ran off each with a prize.
Then away to the field it went mustering and humming,
And the cattle all wondered whatever was coming:
It plucked by the tails the grave matronly cows,
And tossed the colts' manes all over their brows,
Till offended at such an unusual salute They all turned their backs and stood sulky and mute.

So on it went capering and playing its pranks, Whistling with reeds on the broad river's banks,
Puffing the birds as they sat on the spray, Or the traveller gazed on the king's highway.
It was not too nice to hustle the bags Of the beggar and flutter his dirty rags:
"Twice so bold it feared not to play its joke With the doctor's wig or the gentleman's cloak,"
Through the forest it roared, and cried gayly, "Now,
You sturdy old oaks, I'll make you bow!"

And it made them bow without more ado, Or it cracked their great branches through and through,
Then it rushed like a monster on cottage and farm, Striking their dwellers with sudden alarm:
And they ran out like bees in a midsummer swarm.

There were dames with their kerchiefs tied over their caps,
To see if their poultry were free from mishaps: The turkeys they gobbled, the geese screamed about,
And the hens crept to roost in a terrified crowd:
Where the thatch from the roof threatened soon to be gone,
But the wind had swept on, and had met in a lane
With a schoolboy, who panted and struggled in vain:

For it tossed him and twirled him, then passed, and he stood
With his hat in a pool and his shoes in the mud.

Then away went the wind in its holiday glee, And now it was far on the billowy sea,
And the lorry ships felt its staggering blow, And the little boats darted to and fro.
But lo! it was night, and it sank to rest On the sea-birds' rock, in the gleaming west,
Laughing, to think it is fearful and strong.
How little of mischief it had done.
—William Howitt.

The Courier-Gazette

Rockland, Me., Aug. 1, 1929.
Personally appeared Frank S. Laddie, who on oath declared that he is President in the office of The Courier-Gazette, and that of the issue of this paper of July 29, 1929, there was printed a total of 6230 copies.
Before me, FRANK B. MILLER,
Notary Public.

Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth.—Romans 14:22.

FOR THE MEMORIAL

Writing from San Francisco to The Courier-Gazette editor, Fred O. Young, a former Lincolnville boy, encloses a check for $25, and says: "I wish you to hand this check to the General Memorial Committee as my donation. I notice in a recent issue of your paper, the statement by Mrs. Etta Witherspoon Martin that she has a deed from Gen. Knox to my great grandfather conveying 100 acres of land in Lincolnville. I have known that old homestead for over 35 years. It now appeals to me more than ever, being a memorial to my ancestors and also to Knox. My ancestors' old cellar now covered with grass are there, also the old colonial house. They evidently knew beautiful scenery."

The Rockland Lions made arrangements yesterday to send a good sized delegation to the charter night exercises of the Camden-Rockport Club which will be held in the Baptist Church at Camden Wednesday evening, Aug. 14 at 6:30 o'clock. George W. Gay, Frank H. Ingraham and Eugene Stoddard were appointed a committee of arrangements. Two Rotarians were among yesterday's visitors, one being Dr. Harry Asher Chase, of Boston, who has a summer home in Warren; and the other Gus Tapley Sturtevant, who has just succeeded in organizing a new club at Searsport, and who has high hopes of putting in one much nearer home. Dr. Chase told of the Boston Club's activities, and entered a plea for kindness to the blind. The club's membership includes a former Rockland man, known there as "Cobby" Bird. The speaker was Rev. A. A. Walsh of Ash Point, whose address on "Wit and Wisdom," contained much sage advice as well as some appropriate and highly amusing stories. "We are living in a day when courage is needed to face the ever changing conditions," he said. "We must cheer people on with good words; and we must talk to boys and girls in proper manner," he added. Other visitors yesterday were C. W. Brickman of Yonkers, N. Y., and Charles L. Robinson and Theodore W. Sylvester of Rockland. Rev. E. O. Kenyon, Dr. B. E. Flanders and Harold Leach were named by President Smalley as the entertainment committee for August. The speaker next Wednesday will be a member of the New York Supreme Bench.

Shadows falling athwart the walls of the neighboring building many times daily, tell of the graceful flight of sea gulls as they wing their way over The Courier-Gazette office, and if there is anything more graceful than a sea gull as it comes in from the ocean and retains its altitude without the apparent movement of a muscle, the writer has never seen it. The screaming of the gulls cannot be exactly classed as music, but there are some of us who hail it as one of the glad sounds connected with the arrival of Spring. And in tossing these bouquets at our feathered residents, we are quite well aware that they will not meet the full approval of those who own blueberry patches back in the interior. The gulls have perverted morals, and every day finds them committing grand larceny in the aforesaid patches.

Copies of the address of Percival P. Baxter before the Federated Women's Clubs of Piscataquis County are in circulation. In this speech which was entitled "Shall the State of Maine Permit the Export of Surplus Water Power?" the former Governor took a very definite stand. "After having given careful study to the Act in question," he said, "I have decided to vote Yes on the referendum because I believe that the best interests of the people and industries of the State will be served if the Act becomes law by vote of the people."

"I never saw so many snakes in any of the 27 seasons I have been coming to Maine as there is this year," remarked W. H. Lamb, an essence dealer who is known to a large percentage of the State's population. Mr. Lamb attributes it principally to the dry season, and believes the reptiles which he sees crossing the big highways are making for water. It may be explained, incidentally, that the essences Mr. Lamb deals in are not the kind that makes a person see what isn't.

Everybody at Crescent Beach this season has remarked with much regret the absence of the Luils, who have been coming to the Beach regularly for many seasons. A letter from John Z. Lull to The Courier-Gazette yesterday, finds him located in Longmont, Colo., this summer. "We have wished many times," he writes, "that we were in our little cottage at Crescent Beach for they are having an unusual summer here. We enjoy the cool ocean breezes much better."

Nothing as good as a trip to the seashore if you would escape the summer heat, and this opportunity is offered by Sunday's excursion to Old Orchard Beach. The special train leaves Rockland at 7:20 a. m., and brings you safely home at 10:25 p. m. all for $2.50—which is about what palm leaf fans and soda water would cost you at home.

If you see the policemen making rapid upward gestures with their right arms, don't think they are examining their wrist watches. They are probably polishing those handsome new silver badges presented to them recently with the compliments of Patrolman John T. Berry.

R. A. Simmons of Glenmere recently caught near Haddock Rock, to the southward of Metinic, a codfish on the tail of which was snapped a United States Bureau of Fisheries tag, No. 59,935. The department will be acquainted with the interesting fact.

THOSE SHY LITTLE HERRING

Empty Sardine Cans Await Their Appearance In Rockland And Other Packing Centers

Years ago there was a plaintive little song which enjoyed much popularity. As nearly as the writer can remember it ran somewhat like this: With its ears cut short, and its tail cut long, oh, where, oh where is my little dog gone?

And this applies unfortunately to the local sardine situation. Two weeks back the herring were wiggling their tails along Knox County shores, and gradually working their way into sardine cans. Of a sudden the schools were dismissed, and nobody knows where the finny pupils have gone. The seiners are hunting, and meantime the Lawrence and Underwood factories are marking time until they shall reappear.

The Lawrence folks, in fact, are turning their attention to the packing of blueberries until such time as the recalcitrant herring again seek their Penobscot Bay haunts.

An Eastport despatch in Tuesday's Bangor Commercial had this to say about sardines:

"The large sardine factories of L. D. Clark & Sons and the Booth Fisheries Company received their first supplies of herring last week, as did also the newly built large sardine factory of David Blanchard which employs about 150 persons."

"The Clark factory is known as one of the largest on the coast and had a Maine coast record a number of years ago of packing 255,000 cases of sardines principally 100 cans to a case, which has not been equaled by any coast cannery, but in late years their season's pack usually amounts to 150,000 cases."

"The Booth cannery turns out 100,000 cases annually and often had been among the first to be started up early in April and operated up to November and employing about 150 with daily supplies of 50 to 75 heads of herring. Numbers of the larger canneries have used 100 heads of fish daily but rarely care for such an amount steady."

"The new Blanchard factory was built on the same site of the former Blanchard Manufacturing and Cannery Co., which was destroyed last year by fire in May, after being in business nearly 45 years."

"Two large sardine factories at the frontier coast town of Robbinston, 15 miles from Eastport and located on the border river St. Croix close to the Canadian shores, were opened last week. The Holmes Company factory and No. 10 of the Seacoast Cannery Company of Eastport, the only two factories in town. They had been idle since last October, so their opening was of great financial importance to several men and women depending almost entirely upon factory work for a few months."

"With the general opening of all factories all along this part of Washington County coast, where there are 25 within a 15-mile radius, the great number of small houses and camps near the shores and near the factories are again occupied by factory workers, usually an entire family occupying the small quarters where comforts are limited during the season. Many of the families arrive from nearby county farms and Canadian islands a few miles away and are content to get along without amusement during the short-packing season."

"Up to last week there had been somewhat limited work in the number of factories that had been started up soon after the legal packing season on April 15 as the spring schools of herring had not been as plentiful as anticipated, but now the summer schools have reached the Bay of Fundy and Passamaquoddy Bay and from there branch out into East Maine coast waters, and within a short time swim all along the Maine coast, so that the various factories can now be operated until fall."

MOVIES

STRAND THEATRE

The Clara Bow fans will turn out in large numbers tonight to see and hear their favorite in the much-heralded role of bareback rider and female pugilist, in the talking picture, "Dangerous Curves."

They were not disappointed, even though the girl who has made "It" a by-word failed to furnish whoopee of the mad flapper variety. In fact there must have been those who were delighted to hear their idol in a part which called for more serious acting as a complement to the customary vigor and vivacity of La Bow.

The scenes of "Dangerous Curves"—and the excellent sound atmosphere as well, are those of a big circus. Miss Bow is the bareback rider in love with Richard Arlen, a tight-rope walker. Kay Francis is the vamp who gathers all of Arlen's misplaced love to herself until the hero learns that Kay is false. Miss Bow displays vigor and enthusiasm of a new kind throughout the production. She appears as the striving little trapper who is not satisfied with her success as a bareback rider but who has ambitions in other fields. She practices courageously on the tight-rope in order to be near the man she loves and finally wins laurels as a clown wire performer. Nothing of the old dizzy flapper attitude is shown in this picture. It is all substantial, characterful acting.

"Dangerous Curves" will be seen and heard today, Friday and Saturday—adv.

ON MY SET

The return to earth of the St. Louis Robin, after establishing an endurance record of 420 hours and 21 minutes, was graphically broadcast from the Municipal Airport in St. Louis by Station KWK Tuesday night. It came to me through Station WJZ.

The Waterbury (Conn.) newspapers are having lots of nice things to say about the new "Waterbury Hour," which figures in the broadcast of Station WICC as a weekly feature on Friday noons. Frank T. Pearsons, formerly of this city, is director, and his picture appeared among a group of representative citizens in the Waterbury Republican July 27.

Friday fair and continued cool, is the weather word this morning. The drigible Graf Zeppelin left Germany last night, and at 6:30 this morning was 50 miles beyond Lyon, France, urgently requesting a weather report. The 18 passengers include seven Americans. The Zeppelin is due at Lakehurst, N. J. Sunday.

and Warner Baxter, and including Farrell Macdonald and other scintillants is heard in the presentation on the screen of this colorful story of the romantic southwest in the late 90s and "Oliver Twist," the notorious handi and killer who roamed the plans and eluded capture—adv.

THE METROPOLITAN

Boston's Famous Show House Presents Great Program For Coming Week

Metropolitan Theatre patrons will have the opportunity of viewing one of the most unusual European photographs ever presented in America, starting Friday, Aug. 2. Seldom do Americans have the opportunity to enjoy the Continental touch on the screen as is made possible in "Hungarian Rhapsody." It brings to the American screen not only one of the most beautiful women in Europe, but also one of the most talented artists. Lil Dagova wins her audiences instantaneously with her sincere and artistic portrayal in a story rich in romance and inspiring music. The scenes are impressive in their beautiful simplicity, while the photography is all that could be desired.

Gene Rodemich enters his third happy week with the popular Playboy band this time in "Creole Nights," a miniature musical show, produced by Frank Cambria for Public. The story is based on the love of a Frenchman for a Spanish girl, and is laid in the early days of New Orleans. This decided stage novelty is gorgeously set in colorful scenes and lighting effects, all breathing the atmosphere of the languorous South. The musical score is unusually spirited. In the cast are such well-known stage stars as Lang and Haley, comedians; the Three Rolling Stones, a dance trio; the Chantal Sisters, brilliant pianists; Anita La Pierre and Tom Green, both talented vocalists; and a generous ensemble of Dorothy Berke dancing beauties.

Arthur Martel will preside at the concert organ console, and in addition there will be a special Paramount News Weekly, a striking style review filmed in natural colors, and other short features of interest. Starting Thursday, Aug. 8, under the new Metropolitan policy, "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu," from the sensational story by Sax Rohmer, will be brought to the screen. This powerful photoplay was scheduled for the previous week, but will be definitely shown beginning Thursday, August 8.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE

St. George kept up its winning streak at Community Park last night, defeating the Legion-Forty Club 4 to 1. The game started off with a terrific bombardment by the visitors, Archer and Simmons making singles while Monahan and Lowell drove the ball to the boundary line for home runs. "Soap" Rogers settled down in fine style after the cyclone, and allowed St. George but four scattered hits in the remainder of the game. The Rockland team had the bases full and none down in the fifth, but tardy baserunning and lack of punch prevented them from scoring. It was a very pretty contest after the first inning. The summary:

St. George, 4 0 0 0 0 0—4
Legion-Forty, 0 0 1 0 0 0—1
Base hits, St. George 8, Legion-Forty 3. Errors, St. George 2, Legion-Forty 2. Batteries, Simmons and Archer; Rogers and Jud Flanagan. Umpire, Tripp. Scorer, Rawley.

The Chisox defeated the Central Maine-Thistles 12 to 0 Tuesday night. The combination was quite plainly outclassed with Bill Foster as the opposing pitcher, but this did not serve as an excuse for the indifferent support which was being given to Chummy Gray. The lad was pitching a good, heady game and would have held the Chisox to a much smaller score if the other members of the team had played as well as they are capable of playing.

Tonight the Central Maine-Thistles face the St. George leaders. Friday night sees the Chisox tackling the Legion-Forty Club.

The talk about reorganizing the Maine Coast League this season is nonsense. There was, however, a proposition to form an amateur league comprising Rockland, Thomaston, Camden and St. George, and it would seem very feasible as all four places have an abundance of material, and August is the banner month for baseball. Some means must be devised for cleaning up last year's deficit here and in Camden, until such time there will be no semi-pro baseball.

The Rockland team plays in Camden Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Those who saw last Saturday's game between Camden and Thomaston report a fast contest.

A tree twig bearing unusual blossoms was found in this locality the other day. It was identified by Curator Leonard of Knox Arboretum as the Sweet American Chestnut.

The schooner M. Vivian Pierce was towed into port Tuesday by the tug Smith and Monson and docked at the Rockland and Rockport Line corporation's wharf, where she is discharging coal.

The Rockland City Band will furnish music for the Camden regatta Friday and Saturday of next week. It will in fact be the band's busy week, as it also plays for the Rockland Fair.

McNeill Brown won a sharpshooter's medal at the Citizen's Military Training Camp at Fort McKinley, with a high score. He is a son of Major Ralph W. Brown, and military achievements come naturally to him.

The pedigree of the handtub G. F. Burgess, recently published in this paper was read with much interest. Attention is called to two omissions, however—being the important fact that the Burgess made her record of 223 feet in Portland. The tub also won first money in a Westbrook muster.

Nobody would ever accuse Rockland of being a home for the citrus industry, yet "it can be done in Rockland," as shown on the Charles Fales premises on Maverick street, where an orange tree (a little bit of a feller) bearing 27 green oranges, is seen alongside a lemon tree which is carrying one partly-formed lemon.

Response to a recent post card shower for Mrs. Annie Hall came to this office yesterday from her new home in Milwaukee. "This is a wonderful city, and the Milwaukee Journal has an office worth seeing," reads one of the messages. Her son Arthur, with whom she now resides, is of the Journal staff.

The handtub G. F. Burgess which is scheduled for a contest with the Baw Beese, in connection with the Waldoboro street carnival tonight, will leave the Northend at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Waldoboro, by the way, has a fleet of handtubs, all four of which will be seen in action tonight.

Albert, 13, and Ted, 10, sons of Arthur B. Richardson, former Rockland school star, are evidently going to follow in dad's footsteps when it comes to ball playing. Their home in London, England affords little or no opportunity for practice or playing, but they have been taking private lessons from their Uncle Austin and give promise of becoming exceptional players. Both are southpaws.

Annie G. Porrett of West Hartford, Conn., was detained in this city by Deputy Sheriff Ludwig, yesterday at the request of the Saco police department, and during the afternoon was taken thither by the Saco chief. It was alleged that her car had been in collision with another car and that she had left the scene of the accident hurriedly not even stopping for a red light. In defense she told the local authorities that the other driver had swung in front of her car.

For the first time in history an elaborate combination of a stage production and a motion picture has been made. It is "The Boat," the Universal talking picture coming to the Strand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. It combines a super screen production of the noted Edna Ferber novel with the highlights of Florenz Ziegfeld's musical extravaganza based on the same story. Laura La Plante, Joseph Schildkraut, Otis Harlan and other screen favorites make up the cast, while the Ziegfeld numbers are introduced via movietone by Helen Morgan, Jules Bludsoe and other Ziegfeld stars.

Nobody was more pleased over the record flight of the St. Louis Robin than were the dealers of the Exide battery for this was used on the famous airship and again demonstrated its dependability and endurance.

The officers and crew of the destroyer Reid were given a fine time in Bangor, but will the sailors forgive the Bangor newspapers for calling them "gobs"? As we recall it the press and public have been asked to refrain from using that nickname.

Dr. H. L. Stevens, real estate broker has sold E. J. Moore's farm at Reeve's Corner, Waldoboro, to William Tipping of Bangor, who will reside there. Mr. Moore recently moved to the North Waldoboro farm which Dr. Stevens sold him some time ago.

Rumor of a big seizure at the Southend yesterday gained currency when Marshall Webster and Deputy Sheriff Ludwig came un through Main street with a truckload of wet goods. The "wet goods" consisted of bottled soda water which Mr. Ludwig as president of the Children's Playground Association, was taking to the annual picnic at Oakland Park.

The annual picnic of Children's Playground was held yesterday under auspicious circumstances at Oakland Park. About 120 youngsters were in attendance with several mothers who, with Miss Laura Tibbets, aided Director Carol Flanagan. The day was spent with games, story telling and stunts. The street railway contributed a car, and soda water to go with the picnic dinner was provided by Haverer, Hewett, Granite Rock and Nugrape. A. C. McLean Co. presented the ice and the Rockland Aviating Co. the use of its truck. Taking all in all it was a happy day for the youngsters and a busy one for President C. Earle Ludwig.

"Would you believe it?
He prescribed Ice Cream!"

AND why not? Ice cream, as genuine pure and wholesome as Fro-joy, is very often prescribed for building up tired, run-down systems. Its rich content of vitamins and mineral salts, called "Youth Units"—phosphorus, calcium (lime) and soluble iron—keep body cells vigorously young and active. And healthy body cells keep five year olds and fifty-five year olds (and all the ages in between) glowingly, gloriously alive! These priceless "Youth Units", this smooth tastiness, are guarded by peak-standards of cleanliness—all the sweet country cream—all the fresh, juice-laden fruits, all the pure flavorings that go into the making of Fro-joy are tested minutely for quality. Each utensil used is nightly sterilized with live steam. The final precaution is that the Fro-joy 2-flavor pint package is a triple-wrapped, tight-sealed package which brings Fro-joy, good as good can be, to your table. Serve Fro-joy often! It's as creamy delicious as it's nourishing and good.

This week the new Fro-joy 2-flavor pint package contains

Richard Shuman

The sudden death by drowning of Richard Shuman, 31, July 20 has cast a gloom over the whole community and brought sadness to the heart of everyone. He was born in North Walpole, the son of Lester and Josephine (Davis) Shuman. When only a small boy his father died, and Richard with his mother and two little sisters came to Pleasant Point to make their home with his grandparents, Capt. and Mrs. Richard Davis.

Five years ago Mr. Shuman was married to Miss Myrna Watts of St. George, who survives him, with his mother, and two sisters, Mrs. Otis Thompson of South Portland, and Mrs. A. R. Carle of this place, besides several other relatives and a host of friends. Dick, as he was always called, was one of our smartest and best young men. He was a kind husband, and on his widow's mother also he bestowed every care and attention, and his sudden death has left both the wife and mother nearly prostrated with grief. Much sympathy is extended the sorrowing family.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Charles W. Sheldon.

WATCH HOW THE NEW FORD HOLDS THE ROAD

NEW FORD
TUDOR SEDAN
$525
(F. O. B. Detroit, plus charge for freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra.)

The new Ford is a great car to drive because of the way it holds the road even at high speeds.

This roadability is due to the low center of gravity, the semi-elliptic transverse springs, the Houdaille hydraulic two-way shock absorbers, and the low ratio of unsprung weight to sprung weight.

Come in and arrange for a demonstration. You'll find this roadability feature of the new Ford as outstanding as its beauty, speed, comfort, safety, reliability and economy.

Perfect balance is a great thing in a motor car.

Fade out that Motor Knock
to absolute

Zero

with the new

TYDOL ETHYL
ZERO KNOCK RATING GASOLINE

Are you bothered by the constant ping, ping, ping of a noisy motor?

Fade it to zero . . . with the new TYDOL ETHYL.

Are you aggravated by a labored pound, pound, pound,
when you're climbing hills?

Fade it to zero . . . with the new TYDOL ETHYL.

Are you tired of the spiteful knock, knock, knock,
when you're plowing through mud and sand?

Fade it to zero . . . with the new TYDOL ETHYL.

For, like a lullaby quieting a cranky babe, this new Zero Knock Rating Gasoline will hush to sleep every protesting zing and pound of a stress-resenting engine. It stops the knock by removing the cause . . . by substituting the silent, powerful push of a silken fuel for the violent "hammer-blows" of ordinary gasolines.

For the new TYDOL ETHYL is an all-star combination of two of the greatest motor fuel advances of the decade. Hi-test TYDOL, the high-test, super-power, anti-knock fuel that has taken all motordom by storm. And ETHYL, the undisputed leader of anti-knock compounds.

With the smooth and mighty power-thrust of Hi-test TYDOL has been merged the famous "knock the knock" magic of ETHYL . . .
forming a new super fuel with an absolute ZERO knock rating.

TYDOL ETHYL is a fuel for the car owner who demands the very best and will take no substitutes. And why should he? It costs but 3c more per gallon than ordinary gasolines.

Make a 10 Gallon Test

The next time you need gasoline drive up to a TYDOL ETHYL pump and try out ten gallons of this modern fuel. It will only cost you 30c more than 10 gallons of ordinary gas.

No more . . . perhaps less . . . than you have been paying for other premium gasolines.

But in any event, 30c is a small amount to gamble to prove to yourself just what a zero knock rating gasoline will do in your own car.

KNOCK RATING OF 6 PROMINENT PREMIUM GASOLINES

These 3 cent premium gasolines were tested on the Midgley (Bouncing Pin) Indicator according to an established standard scale over a period of 6 months, from November, 1928, to May, 1929, with the following results:

	MINIMUM KNOCK RATING	MAXIMUM KNOCK RATING	AVERAGE KNOCK RATING
Fuel A . . . .	6 . . . .	10 . . . .	9
Fuel B . . . .	5 . . . .	13 . . . .	8
Fuel C . . . .	0 . . . .	5 . . . .	2½
Fuel D . . . .	3 . . . .	7 . . . .	6½
Fuel E . . . .	3 . . . .	5 . . . .	4¼

TYDOL ETHYL 0 . . . . 0 . . . . 0

YOUR TYDOL DEALER NOW OFFERS YOU—

1. The same Hi-test TYDOL (green) . . . Hi-test TYDOL will continue to be the leader of non-pre-mium gasolines—unchanged in quality or price.
2. The new TYDOL ETHYL (red) . . . a de luxe, super fuel with a zero knock rating, at only 3c more a gallon.
3. VEEDOL Motor Oil . . . Made 100% from Pennsylvania and other paraffine base crudes . . . the choice of famous aviators.

COURSE OPENS AUSPICIOUSLY

Representative Audience At Camden Enjoys Program Presented By Music Stars of Music World

The second season of the Camden Concert Course opened Tuesday evening at Camden Opera House in a most auspicious manner, with practically every seat occupied before 7.30 had arrived. The audience, an intermingling of summer colonists and townspeople, presented a colorful scene, the handsome gowns of the women enhanced by rich wraps, bright shawls and soft lured scarfs, set off by the soberer garb of the men, many of whom were in summer flannels. The stage had an effective background of palms with greenery houses, banked solidly across the front of the platform.

Frank Bibb, the guiding hand and inspiration of the Concert Course, presented as his artists in this first concert Sylvia Lent of New York violinist, Dan Powell of Baltimore, baritone, and Katherine Ellis of New York pianist. These artists, with Mr. Bibb at the piano in accompaniment, presented a program which afforded an evening of thorough enjoyment. It follows:

Sarabande ..... Rameau-MacDowell
Pastorale ..... (from the Fifth Scarlatti)
Gavotte and Gigue ..... Suite Bach
Marsch ..... Mrs. Ellis
Handel
Der Doppelgänger ..... Schubert
Du bist wie eine Blume ..... Schumann
Ich rolle nicht ..... Schumann
Concerto G Minor ..... Bruch
Prelude
Adagio
Finale

Miss Lent
Intermission
Pick-Mangalagall
Dance of Olaf ..... Griffes
The White Peacock ..... Griffes
Playa ..... Griffes
Friede, A Minor ..... Debussy
Turn Ye to Me ..... Debussy
Old Scotch (Arr. by Malcolm Lawson)
The Bonnie Earl O'Moray ..... (Arr. by Fritz Kreisler)
A Ballymore Ballad ..... (Arr. by Herbert Hughes)
Dance of the Rose ..... Szymanowski
The Flight of the Bumble Bee ..... Rimsky-Korsakoff
Polonaise ..... Wieniawski

Miss Lent
Mrs. Ellis, a pupil of Olga Samoff, the renowned pianist, teacher and critic, made a very favorable impression on her hearers by both her artistry and ability. Her playing displayed remarkable ease, a mastery of pianissimo tone and subtle shading as outstanding features. In the first group, chosen from the classics, the Scarlatti number, with its exquisite delicacy, proved the high light, although the Bach number was a brilliant example of technique. Her second group, all moderns, proved most interesting, with "Playera" (Granados) and the Debussy number making the general appeal. The Granados number was particularly enjoyable with its recurring theme swinging from minor to major, and in its rhythm suggesting a Spanish ballad. An encore was given to this group, a selection suggestive in its rapid staccato of dancing pixies. Mrs. Ellis, a rather handsome woman, with fair hair softly waved and combed low on the neck, wore a striking gown of pansy-purple chiffon made with long lines and flowing draperies. She has admirable poise, and a graceful manner.

Eager anticipation surrounded the appearance of Mr. Powell whom Mr. Bibb hails as a real find in the musical world. It may be said that all expectations were met and surpassed in the worth of this young singer whose art, though still immature, is rich in promise. He has a striking personality and is a very serious artist. And such a glorious voice! A voice glowing, vibrant, built on heroic line with the highest notes of no proportions. Most beautiful singing is seldom heard than his "Ich rolle nicht" (Schumann). In this his breadth of tone and splendid diction were brought into full play.

The Handel number, strongly suggestive of the "Largo," proved interesting. The Schubert song was imbued with mystery, and the lovely "Du bist wie eine Blume" was given with admirable legato. In his final group the Old Irish air "A Ballymore Ballad" made a real hit, particularly in that he dropped his serious manner for the moment and assumed a carefree roguish air that was most fitting for the song. "The Bonnie Earl O'Moray" with its dramatic ending was splendidly done, and of course everyone enjoyed "Danny Deever." As an encore to this group Mr. Powell gave Kennedy Russell's beautiful song, "Vale," with its fine legato and strong climax.

When Miss Lent appeared she was greeted as an old friend, for there were many in the audience who well remembered her winsome manner and remarkable artistry when she was a soloist in last season's concert course. Her personality is, indeed, most unusual, when it is taken into consideration that despite her youth (she is 20 years old), she is equipped musically as few veteran violinists are. Yet though adulation pours in upon her, she remains the same unaffected, unassuming girl, whose manner is more like a rather shy child than a seasoned artist. She is slight in build, wears her hair perfectly straight, and like a "Dutch cut," uses no make-up, and has lovely brown eyes. She wore a lovely gown, pale green chiffon, the skirt made in two flounces with long back, the bodice snug fitting with bertha drapery.

She plays with wonderfully clean tone, remarkable velocity in bowing, and in style ranges from the utmost delicacy to great strength. In her principal number the "Concerto," G Minor" (Bruch) the Adagio movement proved one of the highlights of her selections. In this she displayed to advantage her capacity for clean tonal quality. In her second group, which closed the program, the "Chant de Roxane" (Szymanowski), a most unusual composition, was wonderfully done, and was perhaps the outstanding feature of her evening's work. The violin part, beginning as a solo and continuing for several bars, was as a singing voice against an accompaniment of great beauty and unusual construction. Rimsky-Korsakoff's delightful "Flight of the Bumble Bee" had to be repeated, and Wieniawski's "Polonaise" made a brilliant finish. As an encore Miss Lent gave a Kreisler arrangement that was most appealing.

Mr. Bibb in his accompaniments for Mr. Powell and Miss Lent again displayed the artistry that has stamped him as one of the foremost artist-accompanists in the country. And yet as brilliant as his work is, he never detracts from the artist he is accompanying, but forms a perfect whole by the sympathetic bond he establishes. With his usual modesty he kept in the background during the applause, ignoring the fact that much of it was intended for him, and the audience was very grateful to Miss Lent when she drew him forward by the hand so that pointed tribute could be shown to him who justly deserves it.

The next concert in the series takes place the evening of Aug. 15, when Sigurd Nilssen, basso, and Harriet Colston, soprano, will be presented in a program.

Fred A. Clarke is dangerously ill at his home on Camden street.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Larson are visiting in Portsmouth, N. H., for two weeks and their niece, Miss Madeline Lord of Portland, is staying with Mrs. Larson's daughter, Mrs. Sistrare, Cedar street, during their absence.

Robert and Adella Smalley have returned home after a ten days' visit at Vinalhaven where they were guests of their aunts, Mrs. Benjamin Patrick and Mrs. Maurice Leadbetter, a resident of Portland.

Mrs. J. C. MacDonald of Independence, Kansas, arrives today to be the guest of Mrs. David N. Mortmard.

An announcement of interest to music lovers is that Phoebe Crosby, noted dramatic soprano, radio star and concert artist, is to be featured in a concert Aug. 19 under the auspices of the Universalist organ fund committee—opportunity not only to hear a nationally known artist, but to pay tribute to the success of a Maine girl, as Mrs. Crosby was formerly Phoebe Pendleton of Dark Harbor. She will be assisted by Miss Evelyn McDougall of Portland and Camden, formerly of Rockland, as accompanist, in addition to contributing two groups of piano solos to the program. Miss McDougall, a pupil of Mrs. Rupert Neiley in Portland, is very talented and has won signal honors in piano since becoming a resident of Portland.
