A NURSE TAKES DOCTOR'S ADVICE

And is Restored to Health by Lydia E. White's Vegetable Compound.

Euphoria, Ohio—Because of the seriousness of a grave illness which was threatening to turn fatal, a leading citizen of our town, Dr. Charles J. Stevens, was advised by his doctor to return to his native town and consult the famous Lydia E. White's Vegetable Compound. This good advice he followed without delay.

The prejudice which the doctor entertained against any system of medicine, except his own, was entirely removed by the change that came over his patient, and he is now an advocate of the nostrum to the extent of recommending it to all his patients. He states that it has restored his health, and he is now able to do his work with great success.

The doctor himself has been cured of several serious diseases by the compound, and he now uses it in the treatment of all cases of illness in his family.

The compound is said to be a genuine nostrum, and it is hoped that it will be extensively used by the people of Euphoria, and that it will be a great benefit to them.

Spring Floods
They Are Full of Danger, but May Lead to a Study of Flood Stages

By Donald Chalmers

The same little pale blue house that Kate Winter used to live in was now a study in one of the biggest and most expensive apartments in the city. The quiet street where it had stood for years was now a bustling thoroughfare, the noise and confusion of the city contrasting sharply with the peace and tranquility of the old days.

Kate Winter was not the only person who had moved to the city. Everybody had moved, or was moving. Even the old trees along the street were gone, replaced by tall buildings and noisy streets.

Kate had not been happy about the move. She had loved her old home and the quiet life she had lived there. But her family had insisted on moving to the city, and she had no choice but to go along.

She had been trying to adapt to her new life, but it was not easy. She missed her old home and the peace and quiet of the country. She longed for the days when she could walk in the gardens and enjoy the beauty of nature.

But she had made some friends in the city, and she was beginning to enjoy her new life. She was learning to accept the changes and make the most of them.

Kate Winter was a wise and sensible woman, and she knew that change was a natural part of life. She would continue to adapt to her new circumstances and make the most of her opportunities.

PANTHER AND BEAR.

A Visit to the Boston Public Garden.

The Boston Public Garden has been described as a "jewel in the crown of the city." It is a place of respite and beauty where the weary traveler can find solace.

The garden is home to a variety of plants and flowers, including the famous "festival" flowers that bloom in late summer. Visitors can stroll through the garden, taking in the sights and sounds of nature.

The garden is also home to a zoo, where visitors can see a variety of animals up close. The zoo is a popular destination for families and children alike.

In addition to the garden and zoo, the Boston Public Garden is also a hub for cultural events. The garden is home to a number of art and music festivals throughout the year, providing a platform for local talent.

Overall, the Boston Public Garden is a must-visit destination for anyone visiting the city. Its natural beauty and cultural significance make it a true gem of the Boston landscape.

HANCOCK S. J. COURT.

STATE OF MESSRS. HANCOCK & KENDALL.

V.

WILLIAM H. ROBERTS.

The plaintiff in error, William H. Roberts, a citizen of the State of Maine, was charged in said State with violating the laws of said State relating to the sale of intoxicating liquors.

The basis of the charge was that the defendant was a common laborer, and was employed by the plaintiff, the vendor of intoxicating liquors, in the sale of said liquors to the public.

The defendant pleaded not guilty, and the case was tried to a jury, who found the defendant guilty.

The defendant was convicted, and the cause was brought to this Court for review.

The defendant claims that the plea of not guilty was good and valid, and that the verdict of the jury was not supported by the evidence.

The plaintiff, on the other hand, contends that the plea of not guilty was not good and valid, and that the verdict of the jury was supported by the evidence.

It is admitted that the evidence was not sufficient to support the charge, and the defendant is entitled to a reversal of the judgment.

The judgment is therefore reversed, and the record is remanded for further proceedings.

The case is remanded to the court below for further proceedings.

An Opportunity for Household Economy

The great advance in the price of cream — which is prepared from grapes — has made this ability to care for and market the grape crop in the European countries now at war, can be made advantageous to the housewives of New England.

We will find it more economical and much more satisfactory to make Royal Baking Powder, which is made from highly refined, pure cream of tartar. First, because the price of Royal has not been changed and we do not purchase any new work. And secondly, because made with Royal Baking Powder will be finer and more palatable; and finally, because it insures the absence of all danger from album or similar unwholesome products.

The old-fashioned custom of buying cream of tartar and mixing it with soda, or using sour milk, may be discarded with profit. The high cost and scarcity of cream of tartar furnishes temptation to unscrupulous dealers to substitute an adulterated product, which may be either lime phosphates or alum, that will change the baking power and may spoil the food.

CARRATHE STOMACH

The law of the land is that of the food. Many folks who use "F. L." Abdomen's Medicine for indigestion; it is a really reliable relief for CARRATHE of the stomach.

Mrs. McT. Murphy, Boston, states that F. L. Abdomen's Medicine has given her complete relief from stomach ache for ten years; that she has not had the slightest pain or discomfort since. Mrs. Murphy has had a stomach trouble for twenty-five years, and her experience with medicine has been with all sorts of them.

Mrs. Mary A. Davis, New York, says that F. L. Abdomen's Medicine has given her complete relief from stomach ache for twenty years, and that she has not had the slightest pain or discomfort since.
