THE COUNTRY CLUB

Where Many Golfers Continue To Enjoy the Happily Lengthened Season

The continued fair weather and the sustained interest of local golfers continue to give popularity to the weekly tournaments that have been a feature of the Country Club course throughout the summer. Even with several of the old stand-bys finding sport on Canadian and other courses, Saturday's field was a very good one with some creditable scores carded. Walter C. Ladd registering his best round of the season, with an 84, which gave him a neat 66 net and the winning of the match. W. O. Fuller was runner-up with a net 68 and E. R. Veazie qualified for third prize with net 69.

LIFE CONVICT DIES

Four Other "Lifers" Bearer At the Funeral Services of John Storah Yesterday

Funeral services for John C. Storah, who died at the Maine State Prison Saturday night, aged 86 years, were held at Sawyer & Simmons undertaking rooms yesterday, Rev. J. W. Strout officiating.

Among those in attendance were State Prison Commissioners H. H. Hastings and Phineas H. Gay, and the warden of the prison, Col. George A. Baker. Quantities of flowers bought by subscription among the inmates, surrounded the casket. The bearers were four men, doomed as the deceased had been, to life imprisonment—George Champion, Edward Graffam, Frank Parks and Allen Twitchell. Burial was in the State's lot in the village cemetery. Storah was committed to the prison 20 years ago for the murder of his wife in Biddeford. He had no relatives, so far as the prison officials know.

RECKLESS DRIVERS

Predominated In the August Arrests—Improper Focusing Condemned

Of a total of 423 arrests by the State Police in August, 100 were on the charge of reckless driving and 91 for violation of stop signs, it is shown by the report issued by Gen. Hanson, chief of the force. The other causes of arrests during the month were as follows: Exceeding speed limit, 54; improper registration, 37; operating car unregistered, 8; loaning registration plates, 2; no registration plates, 1; no operator's license, 18; drunken driving, 18; leaving scene of accident, 10; intoxication, 11; no tail light, 5; improper lights, 3; no light on team, 3; improper brakes, 4; no lights, 2; larceny of car, 3; larceny, 2; breaking and entering, 1; operating after license had been revoked, 1; illegal transportation, 3; worthless checks, 3; malicious mischief, 8; violating military law, 2; disturbing peace, 1; assault and battery, 1; incest, 2; manslaughter, 2; overloaded truck, 4; sexual liberties, 1; violating grade crossing law, 2; forgery, 1; improper equipment, 1—total arrests for August 423.

Patrolman Ernest Hasson of York led in the number of arrests during the month with a total of 50. The arrests during August were 50 less than during July. Of the 473 total for July, by far the largest number were for stop sign violations, there being 152 for that cause. Forty-five were for drunken driving and 39 for improper registration.

Gen. Hanson said that he desired to call the attention of the public to the matter of lights, this being especially important at this time of the year, when it is necessary to burn the lights more than usual. "Every driver should see that his lights are properly focused," declared General Hanson. "This means both the headlights and tail light. Due to the vibration of the car in driving lights will get out of focus. By attending to this matter at a service station, not only will the public be better protected but the driver can see better in night driving."

"If the public will cooperate, we will eliminate in a short time all light troubles. The lights and brakes on cars should be kept right."

Vice President Porter Resigns

Charles A. Porter, vice president in charge of the operations of the New England Portland Cement Company, today tendered his resignation to take effect Dec. 31, after 41 years of continuous service in the cement business. He had active supervision of the construction of the Thomaston plant, and has been on duty there a considerable portion of the time since operations began. He is not ready at this time to make a definite announcement as to his plans for the future.

THE NEW JUDGES

A Word About Justices Named For the Superior Court Bench

The announcement of the three new Superior Court judges appeared in Saturday's issue of this paper and is here supplemented by thumbnail sketches of the appointees:

George L. Emery is 53, is senior member of the firm of Emery and Waterhouse of Biddeford. He was admitted to the Bar in 1897, served as recorder of the Biddeford municipal court, county attorney, two terms as judge of the Biddeford municipal court. He was the first president of the Biddeford Kiwanis club, belongs to the Portland club and has had many important legal cases.

James H. Hudson of Guilford is one of the most prominent members of the Piscataquis County Bar, an able lawyer, connected with numerous enterprises and associations and one of the outstanding citizens of the county. His appointment will be a matter of much gratification to a widespread acquaintance.

Stacey St. Felix Thaxter of Portland is 46, a graduate of Harvard and Harvard Law, former law partner in the firm with ex-Governor Ralph O. Brewster and connected with many local institutions. He has served as recorder of the Portland municipal court.

The appointment of these three with the present superior court judges—Arthur Chapman of Portland, George H. Worster of Bangor, William H. Fisher of Augusta, and Harry Manser of Auburn—will make up the new circuit court bench which will be the sitting justices replacing the present supreme court bench in holding court, beginning in 1930. The Supreme Court will sit as a law court only although subject to assignments in Superior Court sessions when necessary. The present Supreme Bench of seven will be reduced eventually to five justices.

A PERMANENT AIRPORT

Curtiss Flying Service Buys Berry-Stover Field and Will Build a Brick Hangar Costing $30,000

Rockland's permanency as an airport was assured yesterday when the corporation known as the Curtiss Flying Service paid to Fred C. Black, Charles H. Berry and Herbert H. Stover a check for $24,000. In return the corporation becomes owner of the large tract of land at the corner of Holmes street and Broadway known as the Berry-Stover field, which has been used all summer by the land planes making Rockland their headquarters.

Immediate steps will be taken to level this field and construct a hangar costing $30,000, and having a capacity for housing eight aircraft. This hangar will be the same size as the one located at the Scarborough Airport near Portland. The walls will be of brick, surmounted by a wooden trussed, curved roof, covered with asbestos shingles.

It is expected to have the building completed before snow flies, and three machines will be kept there during the winter, mounted on skis after the ground is snow-covered.

William H. Winepaw, who inaugurated the Curtiss service in Rockland was an enthusiastic and consistent booster for having this city made the Eastern terminal. He found an uphill fight, for two reasons. One was that the New York officials could not see the possibility of a successful airport in a community which had only a little rising 8,000 population.

Mr. Winepaw's answer was a season which saw the Curtiss planes carrying between 3700 and 3800 passengers out of the local sea-base and landing field. The statistics of the 38 airports controlled by the Curtiss Flying Service showed that only one excelled Rockland in receipts, that one being Chicago.

The Rockland service was given without a single fatality or serious accident, and gave employment to 15 men, which constituted a worthwhile industry in itself. To the staff will be added Daniel Snow in the capacity of bookkeeper.

Rockland had another handicap to overcome, and that was the ambitious attempt to have the airport located in wealthy Bar Harbor. The famous summer resort made all manner of overtures, but Mr. Winepaw stuck loyally to his belief that Rockland was the proper place—and Rockland wins.

Major Ervin, vice president and general manager of the New England division; and Bert Hale, vice president of the entire Curtiss organization, visited Rockland over the weekend, and found themselves quite as enthusiastic over the Rockland airport as Mr. Winepaw had been.

Thirty-two men are signed up for the flying school, which indicates not only a widespread local interest but adds significantly to the Curtiss revenues.

Rockland is certainly making "altitude" when it comes to figuring as an airport.

THE TEACHERS' CONVENTION

A Large Attendance and "Peppy" Sessions—Principal Madden of Warren the New President

The Knox county teachers' convention held at the High School building yesterday proved one of the most successful in the history of that organization, with nearly 200 in attendance. Interesting speakers, profitable round table discussions and novel features marked the morning and afternoon sessions.

The morning session opened with an address by Bertram E. Packard, State Commissioner of Education, who had for his topic "Teachers' Pensions." This was followed by departmental sessions. Miss Maude Smith had charge of the elementary group, with addresses by Miss Florence Hale, State Agent for rural education, and E. E. Roderick, deputy commissioner of education.

The rural group was in charge of F. L. S. Morse. A demonstration in geography was given by Mrs. Elizabeth Libby of Rockport, and Mrs. Joseph E. Blaisdell gave an address. A round table was conducted by Miss Hale.

The secondary group (high school) was under the direction of Carlton P. Wood, principal of the Camden High School. An address was given by Dr. George M. Wiley of Albany, N. Y., deputy commissioner of education of New York State. A round table was conducted by Harrison C. Lyseth, State agent for secondary education.

The afternoon session was opened by community singing led by Mr. Lyseth, followed by a business meeting. A demonstration of assemblies was given by Principal Joseph E. Blaisdell of the Rockland High School, who put on the "Washington Show," given so successfully last year, this feature being particularly enjoyed by the visitors. Miss Hale addressed on "Among My Books" was another delightful feature, her talk touching upon books of value to teachers, fiction, biography, and those compiled for reference and teaching uses.

"A Quiet Front" was named by the speaker as the best book for teachers (or anybody else) to read at this time.

Dr. Wiley gave an address having for his theme "Keeping the High School Pupil Up-to-date," carried both interest and enlightenment. Whether you work for the mass or the individual, do not lose sight of either, he urged.

Commissioner Bertram E. Packard urged new teachers to join the pension system whereby they become contributors.

Expressions of approval were made to the committee in charge, composed of the retiring officers: President, Charles C. Phillips, Rockland; vice president, Miss Bets Smith, Thomaston, and secretary and treasurer, Miss Mary E. Taylor, Camden.

The new officers are: President, Clarence Madden, principal Warren High School; vice president, Roger Danforth, Vinalhaven; secretary and treasurer, Miss Mary E. Taylor, Camden (re-election). Delegates to the State Assembly in Portland, Mrs. E. Butler Phillips, Rockland; Joseph E. Blaisdell, Rockland; Supt. F. L. S. Morse, St. George; Ronald Billings, Rockport; Supt. Charles E. Lord, Camden; Mrs. Martha Carter, Thomaston; Supt. E. A. Smalley, Vinalhaven; Supt. Jesse Fuller, Appleton; alternates, Miss Ellen J. Cochran, A. L. Whittemore, Rockland; Mrs. Elizabeth Libby, Rockport; Carlton P. Wood, Camden; Mrs. Ruth Brackett, Thomaston; Clayton Hunnewell, St. George, and Roger Danforth, Vinalhaven. Delegates to the National Association, Supt. F. L. S. Morse, St. George.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had to live my life again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and this to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

THE WISH Well then: I now do plainly see This busy world and I shall never agree: The very honey of all earthly joys Does of all meats the soonest cloy: And they, methinks, deserve my pity, Who for it can endure the stings, The crowd, and buzz, and murmurings, Of this great hive, the city.

Ah, yet, ere I descend to th' grave, May I a small house and large garden have! And a few friends, and many books, both true, And some love ne'er will from me flee, A mistress moderately fair, And good as guardian-angels are, Only below'd, and loving me!

Oh, fountains! when I you shall I Myself, ead of unpeaceful thoughts, esp'y! Oh fields! oh woods! when, shall I be made The happy tenant of your shade? Here's the spring-head of Pleasure's flood; Here all the riches lie, that she Has coin'd and stamp'd for good.

Pride and ambition here Only in far-fetched metaphors appear: Here nought but winds can hurtful murmurs scatter, And nought but Echo flatter. The gods, when they descended, hither From Heaven did always choose their way: And therefore we may boldly say, That 'tis the way too thither.

How happy here should I, And one dear she, live, and embracing die! She, who is all the world, and can exclude No desert solitude. I should have then this only fear—Lest men, when they my pleasure see, Should either throne to live like me, And so make a city here.

—Abraham Cowley.

The Courier-Gazette

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK

Rockland, Me., Oct. 1, 1929.
Personally appeared Frank S. Liddle, who on oath declared that he is Pressman in the office of The Courier-Gazette, and that of the issue of this paper of Sept. 28, 1929, there was printed a total of 6225 copies.
Before me, FRANK B. MILLER,
Notary Public.

Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding.—Proverbs 3:5.

The conclusion of the Curtiss people to make Rockland an airport sets a feather in the cap of the little coast city which many a far larger community would be proud to wear. We think it will surprise our readers to learn that at only one point where the Curtiss service is established has the business the past year exceeded the receipts had out of Rockland, and that was from the huge city of Chicago. Much money is immediately to be spent in the erection of a hangar with the accessories usual to a first-class flying field, and by another summer we may look to see our city featured upon the map as one of the busiest points of air contact upon the New England coast.

"Be careful." It is the familiar admonition, heard daily many times in the home and perpetually upon the street. Does its repetition blunt the senses? The National Safety Council, reasoning with statistics, points out that in the United States, as a result of accidents "one person dies every five minutes." The Black Crow would answer, "He can't do that," but what the safety council desires to point out is that here is a worse record than can be found in any other country. Automobiles are the greatest of all killers, the fatality rate having risen, according to the same authority, from 22 per 100,000 of population to 195 in sixteen years. Of 96,000 fatalities last year 27,500 are attributed to automobiles, while 24,000 are given as due to accidents of many kinds in homes, such as tripping over rugs, slippery floors, stumbling over obstacles, falls from ladders, etc. More than 6000 lost their lives in homes as a result of explosions and through poison. Industrial accidents resulted in 24,000 deaths, besides permanent injuries to 100,000 and payments amounting to $200,000,000.

Winter is only a little way around the corner. It brings cold weather with its attendant sickness and suffering, in particular among the class not equipped financially to cope with it. With this class of the less fortunate the more active field of the Salvation Army lies, and here it is that the money invested in the army receives its most needed and helpful application. For nearly half a century this organization has carried on in Rockland and its vicinity a humanitarian work the sum of which it would be impossible to set down in figures. It is with this record of activities among the unfortunate that the army goes before our people with appeal for funds. We hope its present canvass may not fail of success and that there shall be no abridgement of its beneficent work among the needy and the down-and-out.

Once upon a time what was known as the line gale was regarded by our people as the natural accompaniment of the month of September. Perhaps the more significance attached to the recurrent manifestation of nature because this was a community deeply interested in shipping, and anxiety ran through nearly every family when the autumnal tempests beat into rage the waters of this exposed coast and took their toll of Knox County ships and sailors. The regions far south of us are now contending with these over-wrought forces of nature, but our own coast has so far had no touch of that old-time "line gale" with which it used to be so familiar.

That daylight time went off the map with the close of September is a matter of congratulation among those of us who were deprived of its privileges and compelled chiefly to deal with the features of it that conflicted with the stand-pat communities. The annoyance of adjusting affairs to divided schedules was considerable, especially in communities like this, where the great group of summer residents operated upon the fast time. We will not go so far as to maintain that daylight time should not be used at all unless universally, but we should like to see the experiment of universality, which has become a fixture in Great Britain, tried out in this country.

Regarding that play which thousands of Bostonians are now wild to see who never would have cared about it had not the mayor refused to allow it performed, there is apparently a good deal to be said upon both sides. Heated citizens are distending the columns of the local papers saying it. This censorship of plays is a little piece of business. It seems to arrive nowhere. If there should be real censorship exercised for a year the movie houses would either have to change their bills radically or go out of business.

It was the most deliberate of hurricanes. Took several days to make up its mind just where it meant to hit.

HOOVER INTERVENES

Comes Out Squarely For Flexible Principle of Hawley-Smoot Tariff Bill

President Hoover Tuesday threw himself squarely into the Senate dispute over retention of the flexible principle in the Hawley-Smoot Tariff Bill, which Democratic leaders hope to eliminate by the aid of votes of some of the Republican Independents.

In his first public statement regarding the tariff since the measure came before the special session of Congress, the Chief Executive declared it was of the utmost importance for the future protection of the farmers, industries and the consumers that there should be maintained the system adopted in 1922 by which the President may increase or lower customs duties on commodities on recommendation of the Tariff Commission.

The statement was issued only a few hours after Senator Simmons of North Carolina, the Democratic leader in the tariff controversy, had offered a motion to eliminate the flexible provision. This motion was in the form of a substitute for one by Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee, proposing changes in the committee bill which among other things would make the difference in the costs of production at home and abroad the basis for alterations of duties rather than the difference in competitive conditions in American markets as proposed by the House. Immediately after news of the President's action reached the Senate, Harrison of Mississippi, contented on the floor that in issuing his statement Mr. Hoover had "repudiated" the Senate Republican leaders. He launched into a long speech on the subject, taunting the Republican leadership in his characteristic fashion. Recalling that only last week Senator Watson of Indiana, marshal of the Republican forces, had assured the Senate that he had advised the President repeatedly to keep out of the Senate tariff controversy, the Mississippi said that notwithstanding this—when the Senate reached the heart of this whole controversy, the flexible provisions, we understand the President called the correspondents in and says he is for this flexible provision. President Hoover's statement noted that in his message at the opening of the special session of Congress, he had emphasized "the importance of maintaining the flexible tariff" as a necessity in protection of public interest.

Aside from the statement by the President, it was explained that he had made himself clear on this question in his message to Congress—felt free to make a new declaration without transgressing what he regards as the border line between the duties of the Executive and the Congress. It was also indicated that there was no intention to deal with specific rates of the bill, as these were a matter for long study and debate in Congress and entirely beyond the capacity of the Chief Executive to determine without exhaustive inquiry. Replying to some of the contentions of the opposition, Mr. Hoover asserted in his statement that since the President could act to alter duties fixed by Congress only upon the recommendation of the bi-partisan Tariff Commission, it could not be claimed that he could alter the tariff at will or that despotic power was conferred upon the Executive.

TREES WITH WINDOWS

A hole drilled clear through the trunk of a tree, enclosed with glass windows on each side, is among the novel means taken by shade tree scientists to watch the rise and fall of the sap behind a filled cavity. At the Bartlett tree research laboratories in Stamford, Conn., where the method is used, scientists are able to check up on the effect of heat, cold, sunlight and shade, dryness and moisture on the treated tree. In course of time, healing often starts over the windows and tremendous pressure then exerted by the growing of the cambium over the surface cracks the glass.

OLDEST APPLE TREE

Claimed to be the oldest apple tree in the world is the one located on the farm of J. B. and H. W. Horton North Wilkesboro, N. C., and known as "Horton's Golden Age Apple Tree." According to records on file at the Bartlett tree research laboratories in Stamford, Conn., its age is placed at 178 years. The tree has been cut from the top, where it has a spread of limbs of 72 feet, and it is six feet five inches in diameter. It is said that in good years it bears from 50 to 75 bushels of apples. It is also said of this exceptional tree that it has not had any kind of scientific attention,

Mr. and Mrs. Louville Pottle and son visited relatives in town over the weekend.

Miss Ellen Thompson is sending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Thompson.

Mrs. Jessie Thompson returned home Saturday from State Street Hospital, Portland.

Nelson J. Lash has joined the crew of the Virginia R., Capt. Lew Wallace, at New Bedford. The boat sailed Monday on a scallop fishing trip.

Miss Rosa E. Carter underwent an operation for appendicitis Sunday in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gay and Miss Marcia Blaney of Waldoboro visited friends in town Sunday.

According to the Wickersham plan, Prohibition is to be enforced by a simple division of labor. The national Government will keep liquor out of the States and the States will keep it out of the citizens.—New Yorker.

PARK THEATRE

The stars of "Our Dancing Daughters" are with us again in their latest jazz-mad picture, "Our Modern Maidens." As you may recall, they are Joan Crawford, Anita Page and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. Today is the last time this picture will be shown here.

Triumph of mind over physical infirmities is the basic theme of "Lucky Star," coming for Wednesday and Thursday. This production brings together again the famed trio responsible for "Seventh Heaven" and "Street Angel," consisting of Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell as co-featured players, with Frank Borzage as director. The story is essentially one of salvage—Farrell as "Timothy Osborne," a war cripple, occupies his time making over and repairing all manner of cast-off things and eventually is "made over and repaired" himself.

Tristram Tupper, who went into the service of his country as a private and came out a major, and who let ten years of active writing elapse before he penned a story that had even a remote touch of war in it, has woven a thread of psychology generously into the fabric of the story that ran in a national weekly as "Three Episodes in the Life of Timothy Osborn." The film version closely follows the short story and the deft handling by Frank Borzage, plus gripping portrayals by Charles Farrell and Janet Gaynor, make this Fox Films production one that promises to set a new standard in Borzage-Farrell-Gaynor cinema achievements.—adv.

STRAND THEATRE

Rockland audiences last evening saw tart drama, rollicking comedy and gay music successfully combined when "Street Girl," Radio Pictures' enjoyable musical drama, opened for a three-day engagement. It was not the first time Hollywood has tried to unite the three on the talking screen but it was one of the first times it has been done in such an intelligent and convincing manner.

"Street Girl" should appeal to everyone, the older boys and girls as well as the younger folk. It has everything that goes to make up the perfect entertainment. Betty Compson whom Rockland people will remember for her work in "On With the Show," gives a most capable performance in the leading role. Incidentally, we can tell you that she really plays the violin.

One of the high spots of the show is the comedy, Jack Oakie, Ned Sparks and Joseph Cawthorne, all familiar to musical comedy audiences, keep you in a continual state of merriment. "Street Girl" presents four of the most intriguing musical numbers which have come to town this year. "My Dream Memory," a bewitching waltz, "Lovable and Sweet," "Prince of Good Fellows" and "Broken Up Time" are marked as instantaneous hits.

Summing up, we might say that this is a sincerely told little story concerning the struggles of a little band of musicians to climb to prominence, admirably and interestingly presented. There is never a dull moment and the plot and music, love interest and heart appeal are woven together with threads of entertainment gold that leaves little to be desired. Our best advice to you is: "Be Sure and See It."

Charles "Buddy" Rogers and Mary Brian are coming to the Strand in the next program of the week, on Thursday and Friday in "The River of Romance," an all-talking Paramount production.—adv.

Mrs. Charlotte Brackett resumed her duties with The Courier-Gazette yesterday, after a fortnight's vacation.

Mrs. Alice Marrison is having a week's vacation from the office staff of the local branch of the New England Tel. & Tel. Co.

The annual State convention of the Parent-Teachers' Association opens in Kittery Friday afternoon and will continue through the week.

The water is rapidly lowering in Mirror Lake there being but seven feet over the intake as compared with 9 1/2 at the corresponding period last year.

The fire department was called to F. J. Perry's house on Lisie street Sunday night by a blaze which had been caused by the ignition of gasoline. The damage was not more than $100 it was stated.

Miss Ruth Crouse has resigned her position as bookkeeper for the J. J. Newberry Co., and yesterday entered upon her new duties as stenographer at Knox Hospital. Miss Crouse is succeeded at the Newberry store by Miss Josephine Miller.

Miss Norma Hutchinson who graduated from Burdett's Business College in July is in Lynn, Mass., where she is secretary for the Lynn Gas & Electric Co. She is also assistant teacher in the bookkeeping department at Burdett's night school.

Edwin Libby Relief Corps meets Thursday with patchwork in the afternoon, supper at 6 o'clock. Mrs. Priscilla Smith chairman, and the usual business session in the evening, followed by an interesting program. This is important business to be discussed.

The cake table committee of the Universalist Fair is to hold a rummage sale in the church vestry Friday, with Mrs. Grace Rollins in charge. All those having articles to contribute are asked to communicate with Mrs. Rollins or have them at the vestry Thursday afternoon.

A motor car owned by Elliott Brewer, and occupied by himself and daughter, Miss June Brewer, was in collision with a car owned and driven by Frank King of Bath near Union Saturday. King was arrested by Lieut. Cashman and awaits trial tomorrow on a charge of drunken driving.

Harold H. Thayer who has been in the employ of H. H. Crie & Co. for the past six years, has gone to Lisbon Falls, where he has accepted a position with the Great Northern Paper Co., as assistant electrical engineer. Mrs. Thayer and children Pauline and Phyllis are to move to Lisbon Falls today.

Miss Bertha McIntosh announces that she will resume her Old Fashioned Singing School Nov. 4 at K.P. hall. In order to start matters in a businesslike manner, she asks that all former members who wish to be retained on the membership list communicate with her promptly; also any others who may desire to join. A course of greater interest and activity is promised, the classes to include elocution, singing and old fashioned dancing, and public entertainments to be presented.

A city bowling league is in the making. Those who wish to enter their own names or names of teams can do so at the Star bowling alleys, Park street.—The bowling season starts with a bang Thursday night when the Rockland Veterans Firemen stack up against the Waldoboro Veterans Firemen.—High scores at the Star alleys last week were made by the bowlers: C. Fitch, Waldoboro, 131; "Ty" Cobb, 128; J. Sullivan, 127; Benner, 123; C. Walters, 123; C. Lawry, 120; H. Carr, 118.

A large attendance marked the meeting of Golden Rod Chapter, O.E.S., Friday evening, with supper under the direction of Mrs. Louise Brown and Mrs. Florence Philbrook. Work was conducted under the new ritual, Mrs. Elizabeth Barton being taken into membership. Visitors represented chapters from Florida, Portland, Camden and Thomaston. A feature of the evening was the vocal solo given by Mrs. Hazel Atwood, contralto. Among the early activities planned by the Star will be a rummage sale, definite date to be announced in a few days.

Prize-winners at Carr's alleys last week were: L. Smalley, Packard, Hinkley, Jacobs, Graham and D. Stone.

The freshman class at Bates College this fall numbers 195 students. The only Knox County member is Martha Burkett Gordon of Union.

There will be a meeting of the L.T.L. Friday after school in the Baptist Church, up stairs. All who have made posters for the poster contest are asked to have them in Friday.

Harry B. Maxcy, engineer for the Maine Central Railroad, has leased from the Eastern Real Estate Co. the house on Broadway formerly occupied by Allan J. Murray.

The Kallach Class will meet Wednesday with Mrs. Nina Gregory, at Glenview, an all-day session with picnic dinner at noon. For particulars call Mrs. Arthur Packard, 616-J.

A new sign was run to the mast-head yesterday at what was formerly the Rockland Hardware Store. It reads "Crie Hardware Co." The painting was done at E. H. Crie's studio.

"Lucky Star" an all-talking picture with Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, stars of "Street Angel" will be at Park Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. Previewers say this delightful young duo record their best work in "Lucky Star."

The foliage is not yet at its best in Knox County for the reason that the Frost King has been a bit more benignant down this way. The writer saw some wonderful autumn leaves at Orono Saturday and in the vicinity of Boothbay Harbor Sunday.

Fair-minded persons have two subjects uppermost this week—one the Brockton fair, which always draws liberally from Knox County; and the Lincoln County Fair at Damariscotta, which many of us attend, not only because we like it, but because Lincoln County folks so generously patronize our Rockland and Union fairs.

Miss Mildred Tuttle, osteopath, will practice in Rockland this winter with offices at the Tuttle home, corner Broadway and Limerock streets, Tel. 684-J. Miss Tuttle is a Kirksville graduate and has actively practiced seven years, the first five in Camden, N. J., and the past two in Camden, Maine. She will engage in the general practice of osteopathy with special attention to foot troubles.

A delegation of Rockland football fans saw Maine defeat Rhode Island 7 to 0 at Orono Saturday. They saw Maine men make and receive some splendid forward passes, and they saw Rhode Island fail six times in eight beautiful passes. Phil Jones, who is coaching the University of Maine freshman team was on hand to greet the Rockland fans, and was looking forward to the approaching games in which his charges figure.

W. S. Petee, chief engineer of the fire department again calls attention to the hindrance caused by the rush of motor cars to the scene of a fire. The vehicles arrive before the fire apparatus can fairly get set for its important work, and a costly delay often ensues. Sunday night's fire on Lisie street, although a small one, was a striking instance of what the fire department is up against. Motorists must exercise common sense if they wish property saved.

We have the word of many prominent theatre reviewers that "Street Girl," now at the Strand Theatre, is one of the real musical comedy hits of the season presented on the talking, singing screen. It is interesting to note, in this connection, that this picture just reached Broadway where it seems destined for a sensational run. It was given its world premier about two weeks ago in Portland, and after securing a marvelous audience reaction was immediately booked for New York.

The current issue of The Exciter, the little magazine issued by the Central Maine Power Company, devotes quite a bit of attention to the Rockland territory. In its columns are found a full account of the big field day at Oakland Park; a portrait of A. J. Daris, Rockland's leading appliance salesman who was recently made a member of the "130 Club" of the Easy Washing Machine Co.; a bunch of chatty news items concerning the Rockland Division; and a whole page of snapshots taken at the Oakland Park field day.

At the meeting of the W.C.T.U. Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Ada Young is was voted to have Mrs. Jeannette Mann, a national speaker come here for Oct. 22. These delegates were elected to attend the State convention to be held in Bangor, Oct. 9-11: Ex-officio, Mrs. Hope Brewster, Mrs. Clara Emery, Miss Florence Hastings, Miss Ada Young; delegates, Mrs. Evelyn Sherman, Mrs. Mary P. Rich, Mrs. Grace Ludwick, Mrs. Robert Webster, Mrs. Alfred Triner, Mrs. Ada Simmons and Mrs. Abbie Richardson; alternates, Mrs. Jeannette Dunton, Mrs. Alice Kittredge, Mrs. Lottie Gregory, Mrs. Ava Jackson, Mrs. Elta Stoddard and Mrs. Laura Maxcy.

Motoring in Auburn Saturday with a number of passengers Harry H. Brown, former Rankin block merchant, suddenly found his car directly in the pathway of a runaway horse attached to a Turner Centre ice cream outfit. Mr. Brown made desperate efforts to avoid a collision, but the plunging animal crashed into the front end of his car, badly damaging it. Mr. Brown was then furnished with a fine example of how nice some persons can be, for Auburn citizens who witnessed the accident—and there were many of them, because it took place near the city center—volunteered to assist Mr. Brown and the ladies. The manager of the Turner Centre Company arranged to have the car thoroughly repaired, and, learning that Mr. Brown and his friends were anxious to return to Rockland at once placed his own car and chauffeur at their disposal.

NOT A CANDIDATE

When his present term expires in December Jonathan S. Gardner will not be a candidate for re-appointment as commissioner of public works. He authorized this statement yesterday, coupled with the announcement that he is considering two offers, either of which would require his presence elsewhere. Mr. Gardner has made the city an admirable official, particularly in the matter of new road construction, at which he is an expert. No man can hold this office and not experience criticism, but with the money at his disposal he has accomplished everything that could reasonably be expected. He has attended to complaints as rapidly as it can be done with a limited crew. He has been courteous and accommodating under trying conditions.

A cement sidewalk is being built on North Main street, between Warren and James streets.

Mrs. Fred Colony returned Sunday to her home in South Bluehill after spending the week with Mrs. Edwin Carmen.

Carl Hoffes has bought the Young fish market, the proprietor of which for some time past, has been Arthur E. Saunders.

Rockland Lodge, F.A.M., will have work on the Master Mason and Fellowcraft degrees at tonight's regular meeting.

The S. K. Ames Corporation store at Bangor was broken into Sunday night, the burglar collaring $12 in cash, but nothing else.

R. B. Magune has bought through Freeman Young's agency the property bounded by Maverick, Birch and Frederick streets, and will build.

Edward Hayes has bought the Perry house on Summer street and will reside there. The deal was made through Freeman Young's agency.

Maurice L. Hall who is attending Higgins Classical Institute, spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Arthur W. Hall.

The Henry H. Payson farm in Hope has been leased for five years to D. E. Brownell of Camden who will occupy it. The deal was made through the Gregory & Swett agency.

Oscar M. Ellemes resumed his duties at Central Fire Station yesterday after a fortnight's vacation which was devoted largely to a New York trip and seeing the sights of Coney Island.

The Littlefield Memorial Ladies' Aid will hold its monthly meeting with picnic supper, Wednesday evening at the vestry. Friends not members of the society will be welcome and furnished supper at a nominal fee.

Jesse A. Tolman deposited on the editorial desk yesterday a branch plucked from a shrub known as the carnation flower—smilax her-maceia. It is a beautiful vine, but distance lends enchantment, for the flowers are as ill-smelling as the name would seem to indicate. It is a popular bird food.

Vice President C. M. Kallach of the Security Trust Co. narrowly escaped serious accident yesterday when he was struck by the mud-guard of an automobile turning from Union street into Masonic and thrown violently to the pavement. A wound on the head and severe bruises made up the sum of injury, but Mr. Kallach, undaunted, was at his accustomed desk shortly afterward.

Wessaweskeag Inn received a surprise visit Sunday from that well known comedian, Bob Ott, who was accompanied by his leading lady, Miss Frances. They had motored across from Brunswick in order to enjoy one of Mrs. Smith's nice shore dinners, whose praises Bob sounds wherever he goes. When the Bob Ott Company comes to Park Theatre two weeks hence a portion of the cast will make headquarters at Wessaweskeag Inn.

The following young women have entered the fall class of the School of Nursing connected with the Knox County General Hospital, which course covers a period of three years: Miss Regina Cash, Belfast; Miss Frances Spear, Rockland; Miss Lorrissa Richards, Thomaston; Miss Sara Simonton, Camden; Miss Ethel Tolman, Vinalhaven; Miss Angelina Mazzeo, Rockland; Miss Evelyn Sorber, Waldoboro; Miss Phyllis McLaughlin, Rockland. A number of appointments have recently been made on the staff. Mrs. Nettie B. Lord of the University of Maryland as instructor; Miss Gladys Collins of Technical Normal School, Chicago, as dietitian; Miss Mildred Chandler of Providence Hospital, as operating room supervisor, and Miss Mary Whigham of St. Margaret's Memorial Hospital of Pittsburgh as night supervisor.

With a grist of business and excellent attendance the Forty Club had a busy hour yesterday. The long discussed program of taking care of the graduate members was presented by Chairman P. P. Bicknell and a committee is to be appointed to vigorously promote the protection of grade crossing propaganda with special emphasis on the Pleasant street death spot. Everett Munsey presented his maiden report on civic affairs and was given a good hand. The speaker was Doctor Wiley, a prominent educator of the New York system, whose talk was delightfully informal yet inspiring and filled with the wholesome philosophy of a traveled, observant student. His text was "Practical Idealism," State Commissioner of Education Packard and Richard Libby of Augusta were guests. Commissioner Packard was given an informal reception by his many friends in the club.

BATH LIKES "BILL"

New Manager of the Rockland-Bath Publix Theatres Stands For Progress

What Bath thinks of "Bill" Powell, who has been promoted to manager of the Bath-Rockland district of Publix Theatres is told in the following clipping from the Bath Times: "During Mr. Powell's association with the local theatre it has become one of the best known institutions of Bath and changes and renovations have been made until it is now one of the best equipped and finest of the small playhouses of New England. Operating under the Publix system, a service staff has been built up second to none and the members of the staff have been schooled to practice and carry on courtesy rules similar to the well known service of Publix Theatres throughout the nation who operate such de luxe operations as the Uptown and Metropolitan of Boston, the Paramount of New York and 1200 others over the United States.

"Under Mr. Powell's direction, the theatre has taken an active part in local activities. Special performances have been given for various organizations in Bath and in conjunction with the Rotary Club and other organizations the theatre has aided materially in raising funds for benefits such as the Florida relief and others. During a special drive last fall the opera house was awarded the greatest improvement in its district.

"Bath people are deeply appreciative of the promotion that has come to Mr. Powell, and while patrons of the opera house and his numerous friends who are not movie fans will be sorry to lose the personal contact because of the added responsibilities that his promotion brings forth, they feel that recognition of his valuable services to Publix Theatres is well merited and fully deserved.

"Mr. Powell has entered into the social and civic life of the city. By cooperating with the business men of the city in many ways he has won their respect and friendship, and the city considers him one of its own. He is a member of the Rotary Club and of the American Legion."

THE HARBOR BELL

[For The Courier-Gazette]
Fog—a gray dimness blotting out the sky. Clothing familiar faces with masks away. The sullen water swirls, but who can tell of reef or channel? Listen for the bell! Slow, comforting it calls across the foam. "This is the way, the channel's call. Come Home!"

Double—a gray dimness fogging all of life. Clothing familiar peace with masks of strife. Threading whirlpools, where the way seemed clear. And tarantling the simple faith with fear. But hark! the church bell rings across the gloam. "This is the way, the channel's call. Come Home!"

Extra POWER in Every Drop

WHEN you fill your tank with Colonial Gas—you may be sure that every drop will give you a maximum of smooth, even power.

Before Colonial leaves the refinery it is carefully tested to make certain that it meets the "power standard" set for it by our experts.

A special refining process enables Colonial Gas to burn cleanly and completely. As you use it, every single drop burns fully—assuring you "extra" power and better all round motor performance. Yet Colonial Gas costs no more than ordinary or inferior gasolines. Try it today!

FIRE PREVENTION

Gov. Gardiner, In Proclamation, Wants the Week Duly Observed

Fire Prevention Week will be Nationally observed Oct. 6-12, citizens of Maine are reminded by Gov. Gardiner who says:

To the citizens of Maine: By proclamation of the President, the week of Oct. 6-12 has been designated for the National observance of fire prevention.

The annual record of fires in the United States remains constant and appalling, with the combined losses of the whole country, in recent years, exceeding more than half of the value of all of the property of Maine.

While in our State, owing to the increased efficiency of fire departments and improved methods of prevention and protection, such losses were reduced from $4,165,339.00 in 1927 to $3,853,552.00 in 1928, there is still hope of a greater reduction throughout the coming week and year if full cooperation of the public is secured.

I hope that all citizens will take an active part in the campaign during Fire Prevention Week, and that all civic and business organizations, school officials, service clubs and other associations or individuals having a direct interest in the public welfare, will devote special attention to the supreme importance of this subject by public addresses, fire drills or other appropriate forms of instruction or observance.

R. Waldo Tyler is having a week's vacation from his duties as manager of the Pillsbury studio.

REMAKE CARS

Dents Removed and Cars Renewed By Rockland Body and Fender Shop

It is unfortunate what damage a slight dent or scratch in the finish causes to an automobile. No matter what fine running condition the motor is in, if the body of the car is damaged, however slightly, the appearance of the automobile is ruined.

Pride in the ownership of fine things demands of every car owner that he keep the body of his car in as good condition as he keeps the motor. He no more wants to drive a car with dented fenders, scarred side panels, or cracked window glass or windshield than he would wish to drive a dirty, muddy car, its lustre hidden under countless layers of dust and filth.

However, the careful car owner will give just as thoughtful consideration to the kind of work and where to get it done right as he will to having his motor put in first class condition.

In Rockland, thoughtful car owners do not hesitate over the proper place to have repair work done on damaged automobile bodies. They know that the Rockland Body & Fender Shop, 655 Main street, does the most satisfactory work of this kind in this vicinity. Any type of car body can be repaired at this shop.

The Rockland Body & Fender Shop is prepared to do any type of automobile body repairing, from the refinishing of the body, to removing dents from fenders and have a painting department with painting and Duco in all its branches. Auto tops are also repaired at this shop.

Rockland Marble & Granite Works Will See That Your Monument Is Right

Everyone who erects a memorial to perpetuate the memory of a departed one naturally wishes it to be as beautiful as possible. Those who are familiar with the designing and construction of memorials have noticed a decided trend toward simplicity in the planning and erection of grave stones and public monuments. The weird skull and cross bones

A. C. McLoon & Co. Tell About the Superiorities of This Famous Independently Produced Gasoline

The A. C. McLoon & Company of Rockland, Maine, telephone 51, is assisting in the growth and development of Rockland and vicinity by their system of production.

Texaco Motor Oils and Gasoline, of which A. C. McLoon & Company are distributors, are the result of successful achievement. It is the answer of scientists to the challenge of better lubrication and motor fuel. Texaco oils are better oils, spreading more quickly to metal surfaces, adhering more firmly, penetrating more thoroughly, yet forming a wonderful film to the surface to be lubricated allowing metal surfaces to pass over each other with less friction, quicker than other oils.

Texaco Oils are made from select crudes, highly refined and filtered through many times to remove every particle of carbon forming impurities. The carbon content of Texaco Golden Motor Oil is the lowest possible to get and is soft and flakey so that it blows out through the muffler and exhaust.

The new and better Texaco Gasoline is a truly high test gasoline giving quicker starting, freer running of motor and better acceleration and it is not necessary to change gears too much. The product can motif used so extensively during the colonial period has, fortunately, disappeared, yet there are a few memorials which when compared side by side with the best models of the day, show a decided lack of good taste. This is frequently due to the fact that a selection is made under the stress of overwrought emotion with the result that the choice is afterward regretted.

The first and most important step in making a purchase of this kind is to select a reliable dealer whose knowledge of material, design and workmanship can be relied upon to give complete satisfaction. For this work it is well to see the Rockland Marble & Granite Works of 20 Lindsey street whose long experience in this line of work fits them to give expert advice.

In helping you to select a beautiful artistic memorial which will be bought at the same price of ordinary gasoline, and in view of its high antiknock qualities will do what other premium priced motor fuels will do and the motorists will save three cents or more per gallon.

The Texas Company have never found it necessary to put over a gasoline that brought a premium price, but have struck the happy medium of turning out the most efficient gasoline.

The Texas Company is the largest independent refiner in the United States having 17 refineries located in strategic parts of the United States and it is the only product sold in every state in the Union under the same brand name.

The growth of the Texas Company has been remarkable and in the last three years alone, their investments have amounted close to $200,000,000.

The growth of A. C. McLoon & Company has been of the same nature and all business is done through dealers and agents who realize that the volume business through quality means everything to them. There is not a motorist who can afford to pass up the use of Texaco products as they will save many dollars each year by constantly being serviced where the Texaco Red Star and Green T is displayed.

AILING FEET

Such Troubles Readily Corrected By Rockland's Chi-

Chiropodists do more than just look after corns, painful as they always are; they look after foot troubles in general such as ingrowing toe nails, falling arches, callouses, bunions and other ills. These may be considered of a slight nature providing they are given proper care and scientific treatment. Your neighbor may tell you in good faith of the results obtained by home methods, but if you will take the time to look just a little further, you will learn that in a large percentage a simple condition has resulted in a serious handicap. Legs have been amputated and lives lost due to infection caused by treatment of inexperienced people.

Germes require just three conditions to spread destruction throughout your entire body; heat, moisture and darkness. These conditions are present in your shoes. The results are often blood-poisoning or gangrene. It is also an error to believe that a corn or callous that has taken years to grow can be cured by applications of "Corn Cures." It is not true. If it were, the chiropodist would use them. Instead they have an investment of expensive instruments.

Miss R. E. Coltart, registered nurse and chiropodist, has been very successful in her work in Rockland. As a result of her careful treatments men and women who were suffering from foot troubles are now again able to walk with pleasure and comfort. Miss Coltart is located at 321 Main street and her expert advice will be gladly given in a free consultation. For an appointment call Rockland 593-W.

EAST WALDOBORO

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Flanders of Boston were weekend guests of relatives.

Miss Una Clark and Miss Myrtle Reeve of Augusta visited Mrs. Nellie Reeve a few days recently.

Several from this town attended Union Fair Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Rena Wiley spent Wednesday with her sister Mrs. M. A. Bowers. Mrs. Gilmore Noyes and Mrs. Harold Levensaler of Jefferson were guests Thursday of Mrs. L. L. Mank. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Black of Wallaston, Mass., were weekend guests of Mrs. and Mrs. T. T. Black.

Miss Florence Creamer of West Waldoboro was a guest over the weekend of her sister Mrs. Leslie Borneman.

Mrs. Chloe Mills of South Hope has been caring for Mrs. Charles Bowers and little daughter.

Mrs. Gardner Mank has been visiting relatives in Unity.

T. Irving Sawyer has closed Aunt Lydia's Tavern and is with Capt. Torrey on his yacht. Mrs. Esther Newbert who has been employed at the Tavern has returned to her home in North Cushing.

Mrs. Josiah Jameson and daughter Vera have been visiting her sister, Mrs. Merlin Engley North Waldoboro the past week.

Mrs. Mary Matthews of the village called on Miss Rena Wiley Friday.

Mrs. M. A. Bowers is at home from the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Shuman and children and Mrs. Ernest Robinson of Portland spent Saturday with Mrs. L. L. Mank.

Mr. and Mrs. Little of Bristol were at Charles Bowers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stratton and Mrs. Sarah Sidensparker motored to Bristol Sunday.

Mrs. Gardner Winslow and Miss Winnie Winslow of Warren were guests Sunday of Miss Rena Wiley.

Mrs. L. L. Mank spent Wednesday with her mother Mrs. Alice Burrows, South Waldoboro.

No manufacturer will ever name a car for Coolidge. It might not choose to run.—Tampa Tribune.

NORTH HAVEN

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waterman and daughter Edna spent the weekend in Fairfield.

Several members attended the Sisterhood Convention in Camden last week.

A number of the teachers went to Rockland Monday to attend the Teachers' Convention and to visit Rockland schools Tuesday, visiting day.

Mrs. Alfred Dyer recently cut her finger quite seriously on a rusty nail.

Mrs. Enice Brown, Mrs. Adeline Lassalle of Lincolnville and L. T. Leadbetter of Camden were guests recently of Mrs. Mary A. Leadbetter and Mrs. Ruth Beverage.

Herman Crockett is so much improved from his recent serious illness as to be able to be out driving in his automobile. He has gained 40 pounds in weight since returning home.

Alma Duncan and a party of girl friends spent the weekend in the Sampson Camp at Fresh Pond, a very beautiful spot for a summer home.

The muskrats are building a large den near the center of the pond.

Edw. Thompson fell on the rocks recently while duck hunting, cutting his wrist quite badly and was taken to Vinalhaven for treatment.

Harold Young was called to Lincolnville last week on account of the illness and death of his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Jordan of Medfield Mass., are in town for a short visit among friends.

Several from this place attended the Union fair last week.

There was a good attendance at the Grange Saturday evening and the time greatly enjoyed by the young people. Refreshments of ice cream and fancy cakes were served.

The Zimmerman family have closed their house here and returned to New York.

Mrs. Isadore Carver is in Camden

for the winter with her niece Mrs. Carrie Tolman.

Miss Cora Ames is visiting Mrs. Fremont Beverage.

Mrs. Sadie Alexander is visiting in Dresden and Boston. She will also spend a few weeks with Mrs. Walter Quinn upon her return.

Rev. John B. Alexander of Dresden and formerly of North Haven has returned to Yale College where he resumes his studies.

Saturday the selection engaged Daniel N. Woodman M. D., of Yarmouth, as town doctor. Dr. Woodman is a Maine man, born in the town of Sweden, Oxford County. He studied two years at Bowdoin Medical College, and then completed his studies at the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Baltimore, the University of Maryland. Twice he has taken post-graduate studies. With the years of practice, that have been his he is a man of exceptional experience, and always he has had good success in his practice. A record of 30 years in Yarmouth is a most commendable one. With the removal of the big Forest paper mills from Yarmouth to Westbrook in connection with which Dr. Woodman has had most of his work there arose the desirability of another location. A general practitioner, he is the type of doctor that North Haven needs and that the community is fortunate to get. With his family he expects to come to North Haven within two or three weeks.

The way women will hustle to accomplish some desired object was well illustrated in a Pennsylvania Grange, whose members are working hard to raise funds for a new hall.

The women planned and made an embroidered quilt containing 1,310 individual names, at a fixed price per name. The quilt itself was sold and the next day $244.51 was snugly deposited in the bank as an addition to the Grange hall fund.

MRS. MARY MADDOCKS

Mary E. widow of the late Jason Maddocks, was a daughter of the late Rufus and Paulina (Newcomb) Linscott, and was born in Appleton, Oct. 8, 1870. She had been in failing health a number of years, but by persistent effort managed her humble home until early summer when her younger sister, Mrs. C. E. Smith, and niece, Mrs. Elathia Brown, went to her assistance and tenderly cared for her until her condition became of such a serious nature that she was moved to the hospital where she died Sept. 12. She is survived by two brothers and two sisters—Mrs. C. E. Smith of Appleton, Ariel Linscott of Washington and Elbridge D. Linscott and Mrs. L. B. Dorman of this city. Besides these she will be greatly missed by her nieces and nephews who never failed in their passing that way to halt at the little cottage "Wildwood" by the side of the road to have a chat with "Aunt Lizzie" as she was called by the older ones. They were always sure of a warm welcome, some sort of refreshment, a bouquet of flowers, or, in other words, a share of the best she possessed at the time.

She had a bright, sunny disposition and was always ready to give a helping hand to anyone in need. She was a faithful member of Medomak Valley Grange and had filled every office. Surely hers was a life of unselfishness and she will be long remembered by neighbors and friends who helped in so many ways to lessen her burden of recent months, as well as by the relatives.

Private funeral services were held Sunday at 2 p. m. from late home in Union. Rev. Mr. Nutter of South Montville officiated and his comforting words were excellently spoken. There were many beautiful floral tributes from relatives, friends and the Grange. The bearers were four of her nephews—Lorenzo and Robert Linscott, Horace Smith and William Dorman. Interment was in Miller cemetery, Burketville.

"There will be no tears in Paradise. No broken hearts nor mournful sighs; No cloud shall ever dim its skies. There will be no tears in Paradise. The birds fly north as well as south. The showers always end the drought; The sun that sets again shall

There's only one best gasoline

"What are the three best gasolines?" asked the motorist.

"There's only one best gasoline . . . SOCONY SPECIAL plus ETHYL."

READ THE VERDICTS

"If anyone doubts the quality of your new gasoline, just tell him to try it. If he doesn't find it the best gasoline he ever used, then I am no judge of good gas."

"I am not much of a hand at writing testimonial letters, but after the performance of my car last Sunday, I feel I owe you a few lines to tell you that Socony Special plus Ethyl is certainly wonderful."

"The new Special gas made my car perform in a way I thought was impossible, and I shall go a long way to use nothing but Socony Special plus Ethyl."

"When a thing is good I believe in saying so. I have been in the gasoline game a good many years, and the best gasoline I have ever sold or used is Socony Special plus Ethyl. Results are what count with me and the fact that I am selling more gasoline at a 3c premium means something. More people are stopping for Special every day."

Socony Special plus Ethyl sales have been mounting by leaps and bounds. Ten . . . fifteen . . . twenty . . . twenty-five per cent higher. From Maine to Long Island, Boston to Buffalo, in all makes of cars, large and small, new and old, this great gasoline has met with enthusiastic approval. Here only a month, Socony Special plus Ethyl has literally swept this part of the country.

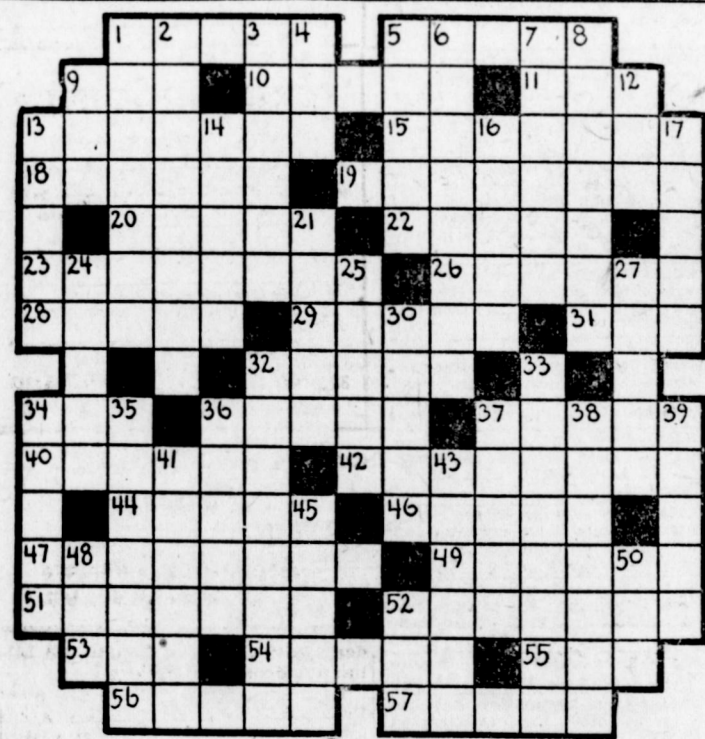

Socony Special alone was the best straight-run untreated gasoline that could be made. It was a high-compression premium fuel which thousands of motorists found so good that they gladly paid the extra cost. There was just one thing that could be done to make it better, and that was to add Ethyl anti-knock fluid. We did that one thing at extra cost to ourselves, but no extra cost to you. We took the final bit of knocking out of a smooth, even-burning, clean, wonderful gas.

Is it any wonder that Socony Special plus Ethyl is the fastest-selling high-compression premium gasoline? Fill up your tank with Socony Special plus Ethyl and feel the difference.

NORTH WASHINGTON

Mrs. Alice Lenfest was in Waterbury on business Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Morang of Bucksport, and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cunningham of this place, visited relatives in New Hampshire for a few days, returning Sunday.

Mrs. Glover McDonald and children of Tampa, Fla., who have been for some months with her aunt Mrs. M. W. Lenfest went Thursday to Charlestown, P. E. I., for a visit to her mother. She was accompanied by Mrs. Lenfest who will visit relatives there for two weeks.

STATE WILL LOSE

The New Excise Tax On Automobiles Means Big Drop In Valuation

The State valuation in 1931 and 1932 will be at least $30,000,000 less on account of the new method of taxing automobiles, it is estimated from a study of automobile valuation in the 1928 report of the board of State assessors.

Because the new tax is an excise tax and is to be collected directly by the towns and cities where the motor vehicles are owned in lieu of other tax, automobiles will not be included in the next State valuation.

The latest report from the assessors' department lists a total of 129,002 automobiles in the returns made by the towns for taxation purposes, and gives them a total valuation of $29,950,702. Since the number of automobiles owned and registered increases every year, it seems likely that, when the next valuation is made, automobiles will be a somewhat larger item in the State's total wealth than at present, even though they will not come into the valuation figures.

It does not seem likely that the towns and cities will gain under the new method of automobile taxation, either. It is said, because the new plan of taxation provides for lower rates than the prevailing local tax rates. The average local rate over the State is a little over 40 mills. In some municipalities it is as low as 33 or 34 mills, but in some others it runs up to 85 or 90 mills, and one town is said to have a rate of 111 mills, the highest ever known in the State.

The new automobile tax law provides a graduated scale of rates which start at 23 mills per dollar of the manufacturer's list price of a car and run down to three mills for the sixth and subsequent years of a car's life on the road.

The theory of the new law, whereby no car can be registered until its tax is paid, is that all cars are thus taxed and none escape. By comparing the figures on the total number of cars registered at the department of taxation with the number returned for taxation purposes from year to year, it has been figured that approximately 25 per cent of the cars owned have been evading their taxes.

On the basis of the valuation listed in the latest report, this percentage would add to the State's total wealth a sum of $7,500,000 to the total automobile valuation, but this amount, so it is said, would not be enough to offset the difference in rates under the old method of taxing cars at the same rate as other property, and the new rates set up in the excise law.

The outlook is for some close figuring to make up the loss of $30,000,000 or more when the next State valuation is made.

Needless Pain!

Some folks take pain for granted. They let a cold "run its course." They wait for their headaches to "wear off." If suffering from neuralgia or from neuritis, they rely on feeling better in the morning. Meantime, they suffer unnecessary pain. Unnecessary, because there is an antidote. Bayer Aspirin always offers immediate relief from various aches and pains we once had to endure. If pain persists, consult your doctor as to its cause. Save yourself a lot of pain and discomfort through the many uses of Bayer Aspirin. Protect yourself by buying the genuine. Bayer is safe. Always the same. All drugstores.

BAYER ASPIRIN

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

THE USEFUL LINDY

Is Now Going To Locate Ruined Cities In Jungles of South America

An air expedition will be undertaken soon by Charles A. Lindbergh over the unexplored jungle area of Central America, believed by archeologists to hold the key to the mysteries of the ancient Mayan civilization.

Little Frances Tibbetts of Windsor is visiting here for a few days.

Oliver Ricketson of the Carnegie Institution, an authority on Mayan archeology and discoverer of several Mayan cities, will accompany Col. Lindbergh on his flights over sections of Guatemala, Honduras, British Honduras and the Mexican Provinces of Yucatan and Quintana Roo.

Aerial photographs will be taken of cities already discovered and those expected to be found, and the jungle regions will be charted from the air. Dr. John C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institution, said the purpose of the undertaking was "to locate ruined cities which undoubtedly exist in the vast unexplored territory and photograph them and to map their location by compass bearings in such a way as to allow land parties to reach them without notice." The expedition was decided upon following Col. Lindbergh's visit with the Carnegie Expedition in New Mexico during the summer when he conducted experiments by photographing Pueblo cities of the southwest from his airplane. This followed Colonel Lindbergh's discovery of two ancient cities in the Yucatan on his first flight through Central America while plotting a course for Pan American Airways.

How a Family Doctor made Millions of Friends

FIFTEEN years after his graduation, Dr. Caldwell became one of the best-known members of his profession. A single prescription made him famous. And for forty years it has continued to make friends.

As fast as people could tell others about the marvelous way this prescription corrects constipation and relieves other troubles caused by sluggish bowels, demand for it spread until Dr. Caldwell was forced to have it filled in quantities; bottled and distributed through drug stores.

Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is the world's most popular laxative. Millions of people would never think of using anything else when they're headachy, bilious, feverish, or weak; when breath is bad, tongue is coated or they are suffering from nausea, from gas, or lack of appetite, etc.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin as you buy it from your drug store is made in accordance with the original formula from only herbs and other pure ingredients. It is pleasant tasting; its action is thorough in the most obstinate cases; gently effective for women and children. Above all, it represents a doctor's choice of what is safe for the bowels.

For 9 Years Gas Ruined Her Sleep

"Due to stomach gas I was restless and nervous for 9 years. Adierka has helped me so that now I eat and sleep good."—Mrs. E. Touchstone.

Just ONE spoonful Adierka relieves gas and that bloated feeling so that you can eat and sleep well. Acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes old waste matter you never thought was there. No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adierka will surprise you. C. H. Moor & Co., Druggists.

ECONOMY is more than "miles per gallon"

Owners tell you the Dodge Six is unusually economical on gas and oil. They emphasize, too, that this is only one item in its economy. Big, durable, oversize tires mean higher mileage. Body construction is such that utmost strength and rigidity are secured with a minimum of weight. The extra-large clutch—massive 7-bearing crankshaft—8-bearing rear axle—8-inch frame—permanently efficient internal-expanding 4-wheel hydraulic brakes—together with a score of unseen but all-important mechanical superlatives, insure that never-failing dependability which is the foundation of Dodge Six economy.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marsh, Broad street, was a happy and animated scene Saturday afternoon, the occasion being a joint celebration for the 9th birthdays of Frances Marsh and Ruth Rhodes. Games occupied the time until the refreshment hour when the little folks marched into the dining room made festive with large bouquets of gladioli and decorations in pink and yellow. The table was particularly lovely, with a large kewpie doll dressed in pink and yellow as the centerpiece. Each guest was presented with a small doll, similarly dressed, and a paper hat, and at each plate was a marshmallow bearing a jolly face made in yellow and pink icing, all the favors being the clever handwork of Mrs. Marsh.

over 17 million jars used yearly

MILLIONS more each year follow the trend of modern medicine, and treat colds without "dosing."

Twenty-five years ago Vicks originated the modern external method of treating colds. Today, Vicks is sold in more than 60 countries, and over 26 million jars are used yearly in the United States alone.

Just rubbed on, it acts through the skin like a plaster, and also releases medicated vapors which are inhaled direct to the air passages.

Pastor Kenderdine Aims at Enlargement of Church Memberships

Enlargement of church and Sunday School is the aim of Rev. Jesse Kenderdine, pastor of the Methodist Church, who has just announced the winter's program. Signs of the possible fulfillment of that hope are not entirely lacking he says. The first half of the conference year shows a better attendance than for four consecutive years. The Epworth League purposes to have 25 percent increase in membership this year and to send at least 10 delegates to Bucksport next summer. Baraca Class will present "St. Clara," another Biblical drama this year.

The winter's program follows:

WALKER-LORING

An attractive noon wedding took place Thursday when Miss Dorothy Loring of Shrewsbury and Boston also a summer resident of Owl's Head was married to Joseph Walker, son of William Walker of Rockland. The ceremony was solemnized in the Baptist Church at Owl's Head, and Rev. Helen Hyde Carlson, was the officiating pastor. The church was decorated with gladioli and other autumn flowers and Miss Edith Young played the wedding march. The bride couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Emery.

The bride wore an attractive traveling costume of brown, with beret, and carried a bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley, and maiden hair fern. The double ring ceremony was used.

Mrs. Walker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis T. C. Loring of Shrewsbury and Boston. She is a graduate of the Shrewsbury High School, and of a post-graduate course at Harvard University, and is a student of the New England Baptist Hospital and was a district nurse during last winter.

The groom is a graduate of Rockland High School, Bryant and Stratton of Boston, and of Boston University. He is a member of the National Guard of the State of Maine, and a notary public.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker left for an extended honeymoon through Northern Maine and Canada, and will later be at home to friends in Rockland.

RAMBLES AFIELD

Here, There and Yonder, Touching the Alluring Things of Nature.

[Thirteenth Ramble]

When there is a whole field of anything—whole grove of trees, a flock of hens, an orchard of apple trees, we take them as a matter of course and in after years they pass from our memory, but when there is only one specimen of its kind how vividly it stands out in our memory years after we have left the place and perhaps forgotten nearly all other objects in the vicinity.

This idea presented itself strongly to my mind as I passed the schoolhouse at West Rockport and saw the big rock in the field on the other side of the street. When I was teaching there this rock was a favorite place with all the younger pupils and many times I longed to scramble up its sides with them, but dignity must be maintained so I resisted the temptation. In speaking of it to a former resident who was once a pupil there, I learned that this rock stood prominently in her memory as one of the bright spots in her school days though more than 30 years have passed she climbed up its sides with other pupils and sat in triumph at the top.

Up the hill, a few rods back of Cora Sherer's home stood an ash tree, the only one we knew of at that time, and in fact we didn't know its name then, but we knew it was the only one of its kind thereabouts, and its long clusters of "wings" as we called its seeds, proved very attractive to us, not only for their beauty but as a curiosity to show to other children, who knew as little of ash trees as did we, for ash trees were far from plentiful in that region. Even now when I ride through the country and see young ash trees springing up along the road side, that one lovely ash tree of my childhood is recalled, and I note the fact that I have never since had the pleasure of seeing an ash tree with a load of those "wings" hanging from it and I wonder why. Perhaps I do not go where they are at the proper time, and to tell the truth I am not at all sure what is the proper time, for though I know those wings are seeds, and seeds of trees come in autumn, yet I feel sure that it was earlier than that when Cora and I went up in her father's pasture to gather them.

A juniper tree stood in a corner of the Frank Thomas yard next to the school yard and we used to gather in its shade at recess and pick off the pretty little red cones and eat them. There was no other juniper tree in the neighborhood, or if there was we didn't know of it, so that one tree meant a good deal to us, and even now I love to find a juniper tree in its cone bearing season and eat those little red, sour, spicy cones. They taste exactly as they did when we stood in the school yard and picked white older and bigger girls held down the branches for us.

Close by the stone wall just above the house now occupied by Fred Brown and family, and where I lived until I was 15 years old, grew one solitary blueberry bush; the only one near my home. How closely I watched that bush to find the first ripe berries! No other blueberries ever tasted quite as sweet or looked quite as large and tempting as did those until I grew old enough to roam farther from home and gather a pile full, first from the Will Ingraham pasture (now Leland Blackington's I think), then farther away in "Julian's bog pasture" next to the "Stevens field," so called ever since I can remember, though I never knew why.

Still later, when I was ten years old or thereabout, I went nearly round the Bog in my tramps, following wood roads till I found a clearing, and there filling my pail. Nowadays no mother would think of letting a little girl wander off in miles of strange woods all day, but then we thought nothing of it. I was perfectly fearless, and was taught that there was nothing in Maine woods to harm any one. Luckily we had no tramp or heard of such a thing as a vicious cow or horse, so I went happily on my way and enjoyed every minute of my freedom from that hated knitting work which occupied most of my waking hours at home.

Climbing the mountain on the eastern side, I found each year a wild gooseberry bush just at the last end of the trail, and only a few years ago I took the trip and found the gooseberry bush still guarding the summit of the hill and loaded with nice ripe gooseberries too. I often wonder how many other rambles know of this bush, and how many climb the hill each year to renew acquaintance with it.

Close by the wall which divides the John Sherer land from Will Ingraham's cow pasture, half way up the mountain side and on the Sherer side of the wall, grew a thrifty and malodorous skunk currant bush. Only a few years ago I found it still growing there, and greeted it as an old friend, for queerly enough I am very fond of its fruit, however others may dislike this member of the currant family.
