HOOP SEASON ON

Rockland's Start Not Too Auspicious, But There Are Hopes

The Rockland High Orange Streaks went down to defeat Wednesday evening in the local gym when Crosby High of Belfast pinned a count of 37 to 10 on them. It was the first game of the season for the locals and although they were minus the services of their captain, George Bisbee, who was out of the lineup because of illness, they fought stubbornly. About 150 witnessed the clash.

The first three minutes of the game were scoreless, but finally Rockland worked the ball down into Belfast territory and Rounds caged the first basket of the evening with a pretty shot from the corner. Belfast then scored, and a little later went into the lead which it held throughout the entire contest. Rockland seemed to lack the offensive power. The first quarter ended with the Belfast lads in the lead 11 to 6.

In the second quarter Crosby High came back stronger than ever and went the locals almost off their feet.
With Davis and Black dropping in Belfast pointers from every angle of the floor, Rounds and Gregory pulled off some fine defensive work for Rockland. Plenty of fouls were called on each side, and again this was where the locals slipped up. McAlary played his first game of varsity basketball and showed up well on the defense, also pulling off some clever passing. Belfast always taking advantage of the breaks kept on plugging and the first half ended with the visitors leading 19 to 7. Murphy caged the only point in the quarter this being a foul.

The second half found the lineup somewhat changed. Walter Gay was playing in Murphy's forward position and netted the only three points of the rest of the game for the locals.
Fred Hall was in McAlary's guard.
As a matter of fact the lineup was a surprise to those who expected to see Bill Ellingwood at center, Murphy and Bisbee at the forward positions while Accardi and Gregory were expected to start at the guard positions.
The third quarter ended 24 to 8.

The fourth quarter saw the Belfast coach putting in his substitutes and the game ended with the score 37 to 10 in favor of Crosby High.
It is expected that the team will come back strong against the Alumni Dec. 20.
The freshman and sophomore girls furnished a preliminary contest which found the sophomores on the winning end with a 2-point margin. The score was 14 to 12. They came from behind in the last few minutes of play and furnished a thrill for the spectators.

a great number of racing stables, the Kelley stables of Bangor, the Flemand honestly believe that Clukey stable at Knox Trotting Park is at the head of the class. It is the clean-

THE LIONS CLUB

Hear About Water Supply and Is Reassured As To Drouth

There was nothing dry about the address which Supt. A. F. McAlary delivered before the Lions Club yesterday. His subject was "Water," and he handled it in an exceedingly entertaining fashion, fortified by the valuable information he has gained as manager of the Camden & Rockland Water Company's plant.

It was rather an odd day for the club owing to the fact that some of its most active members were absent on account of business or illness.
Among the absentees was King Lion Charles T. Smalley, whose place was taken by Vice President E. Stewart Orbeton.

George Gay, A. L. Briggs and H.
M. deRochemont were named as entertainment committee for January, and V. F. Studley and C. Earle Lud-wick were appointed on a committee to serve with committees from the Rotary and Forty Clubs in providing a skating pond for the young folks.

The introduction of guests revealed the presence of the city's mayor-elect, Charles M. Richardson, who was given a cordial welcome. Other guests were P. B. Robertson of Portland, C. A. Stewart of Plattsfield and Frank Brown of Rockland, the last named being included among the entertainers with the harmonica. The Lions orchestra enlivened the occasion with jigs and some of those popular old-time tunes.

It was announced that the new Cas-tine Club will have its charter night next Wednesday, and that it will also be a ladies' night.

"The drinking water which the Camden & Rockland Water Company furnishes is good," said Supt. McAlary, and is kept good, the State being very particular about that. The water belongs to the inhabitants of Maine; we lead it down into the towns and serve it to communities.

"We ought to look to regulations which would keep boats and fishermen off the lake in the interest of the public. Another protection is through chlorination. If there is the least suspicion that the water is not all right we start the chlorinator. In summer we often find a disagreeable flavor in our drinking water and some discoloration. It has no sanitary significance, but means that there has appeared in the lake what is known as algae, of which there are about 600 varieties. But you would swear that there was a dead cow in the lake. When the water gets in that condition there is a strong temptation to turn to some cold, sparkling spring, but the latter may be far more deadly."

"We often hear a discussion as to the adequacy of our water supply.
Many other communities are suffering now from lack of water, and many farmers are hauling it in barrels, but I think we are going to weather the storm—rather the lack of storm at Mirror Lake. With an even break the next six or eight weeks we will not have to draw upon Chickawaukie Lake, but there are not many who would know the difference if we did."

In this connection Supt. McAlary cited an instance of a few years ago when it was found necessary to pump from Chickawaukie. A customer approached Mr. McAlary and said:
"I know the very hour when you began to serve that water to me."
"But he didn't," said Supt. McAlary, "for the reason that he was on a circuit which was using nothing but Mirror Lake water."

The speaker told of some of the many improvements which have been made in waterworks installation. The local company is using cast iron pipes when practicable—and nobody knows the life of it. In the last few years these pipes have been centrifugally cast so that there is an even texture of the iron. These pipes are not only well protected on the outside but have a thin lining of cement, which prevents oxidation.

Speaking of water rates, which he conceded was a ticklish subject, Supt.
McAlary said that they must be such as to provide for operating expenses, wear and tear, and a fair return on a fair valuation. The value of the service to the public must also be considered. In this connection Mr.
McAlary told of a case in a Nebraska town where the public water service failed, and where water was sold on the streets at 25 cents a gallon.

U. S. S. OKLAHOMA STILL HERE

A Heated Bearing Interrupts Standardization Trials On the Eve of Their Culmination

A hot bearing intervened in the U. S. S. Oklahoma's trials yesterday, just as the mammoth war craft was about to begin her full power runs, and satisfaction because the ship is to remain longer in port at a season of the year when we are especially lonely. The city has been flooded with sailors, shivering a bit, perhaps, after their stay at Cuba, but never at loss to find some amusement which would make shore liberty worthwhile.

The theatres, restaurants and other places of business have profited com-mercially, and everybody has been pleased to have this happy and well behaved bunch ashore.

A number of the officers have been ashore briefly, and have figured in local social functions, but the fact that the ship is here on a business errand has curtailed shore leaves to a considerable extent. Commander Douglas W. Fuller, executive officer, has improved the opportunity to pay a home visit, and in the course of his stay ashore has received many congratulations upon the high standing he has attained in the Navy, and the auspicious circumstances under which he has come back into the home port. Said Captain Hellweg to a visitor on board:

"It is a pleasure to me to know that Commander Fuller had the honor of bringing the Oklahoma into his home port. I was on the bridge, with him, but I did not have time to see him to this point, and she certainly made a pretty picture as her bow clove the frigid waters and sent the spray high in the air.

The interruption to the Oklahoma's trials is viewed ashore with mixed emotions—regret that there should have been anything to mar their prompt and successful completion,

THOSE TIME-TABLES

Correspondent Wonders Why He Couldn't Find 'Em in the Paper.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:— I wonder if my eyes deceive me, or it is possible that so flourishing and enterprising a paper as The Courier-Gazette does not print the time table of the Eastern Steamship Lines on this division, and the M.C.R.R. time table in and out of Rockland?

I am of course only commenting personally as to the matter. But really, when I looked for them in the last few issues of the paper, I turned the paper over and over, looking for these tables. Not finding either of them, I really was flabbergasted. I could not believe my own eyes.

I do not of course know the reason for the omission, but your paper lacks thereby something for me. It really looks rather barren without them for I look upon those tables as a guide—nearly a help to subscribers —in fact their printing appeals to me as a necessity.

Camden, Dec. 10 [For the information of our esteemed correspondent let us state that we do not know why the steamboat and railroad companies have discontinued these timetables. For half a century and more they had regular appearance in every issue of the paper and were a great convenience to prospective travelers.—Ed.]

LINES WERE CROSSED

And Hope Man Hears a Startling Prescription For His Sick Sons.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:— One evening not long ago a man who lives not far from here called a doctor by telephone for advice for his two small children who were taken suddenly ill, giving the symptoms as nearly as he was able. The doctor said "I think from your description your children have the group." "What shall I do for them?" said the father.

Just then the central switched off to a lady at Hope who was giving an other lady at Lincolnville a recipe for pickling onions, and this is what the father heard:

"Unless very young, skin them quite closely and immerse for an hour in scalding water. Then remove, sprinkle plentifully with salt and immerse for a week in strong brine.

The father had no further use for that doctor.

EDNA HOYT ARRIVES

Schooner Edna Hoyt, which was picked up off Portland Lightship last Friday night in a leaking condition and towed to Rockland by the Coast Guard cutter Ossipee, arrived at Seasideport Tuesday in tow of two tugs, completing a journey from Baltimore.

The schooner asked for assistance after it was found that her cargo of fertilizer had plugged her bilges so that pumps were useless. Investigation of the cargo and ship was begun as soon as the craft arrived at Seaside-port.

TALK OF THE TOWN

"Glorifying the American Girl," a smashing talking and singing hit that is breaking all box office records, will be seen here in the near future at Strand Theatre.

New entries at Rockland Commercial College are: Mrs. Geneva Huke and Miss Harriet Bangor of Thomaston in the day school, Miss Eleanor Butler in the evening school.

Aroostook County men who have been studying aviation at the Curtis school in this city, expect to ride home in triumph this week, an aerial invasion of the potato district being planned.

Everybody appreciates the excellent summer and fall which the year 1929 furnished, but there is also a sneaking suspicion that we are getting considerably more winter than we did last year.

Thomas F. Keating was in Waterville Tuesday attending a meeting of the Maine Hotelmen's Association.
Charles B. Day of Lewiston was elected president. The evening speakers were President Johnson of Colby College, Hiram W. Ricker of Poland Spring and A. L. T. Cummings, manager of the State Chamber of Com-

The store of Payson & Robbins at East Union was entered a few nights ago by the simple expedient of removing two panes of glass. The robber took a small sum of money and some articles of merchandise. The break was investigated by Deputy Sheriff Ludwick who is inclined to think that it was the work of amateurs, but who is working on a promising clue.

The December meeting of the Baptist Men's League, which takes place next Wednesday night, will be one of the red letter events in the history of that organization if one is to judge from the activity of the entertainment committee. The program will be entirely different from any which has been offered for some years, and the members are bound to show their appreciation of it—also of the fine supper which is being planned.

The item in connection with the recent ballot inspection failed to state the Ward 5 situation with sufficient clearness. Eight Republican ballots and two Democratic ballots were found among the defectives, giving the Republicans a net gain of six when the ballots were restored to their proper functions. The inspection revealed that vote counting in Rockland is marked by thorough honesty and that the few mistakes which occurred were such as might be found in any well ordered business establishment.

Forces are gathering for the construction of that much needed bridge across the Penobscot River at Bucksport. The directors, one of whom is Senator Dwinall, have their next meeting Dec. 18. Proposals of various bridge engineers for construction of the new bridge will be discussed.
It is hoped that the appropriation will be sufficient to enable the construction of a bridge of sufficient height to permit the passage of river traffic without a draw Mr. Barrows said. The banks of the river at the proposed site are regarded high enough to warrant construction of either a suspension or a high arch bridge.

Two Christmas kettles, zealously guarded by Salvation Army workers, made their appearance on Main street yesterday, one in front of the Woolworth store and the other in front of Senter Crane's. The proceeds will be used in the purchase of Christmas dinners for deserving poor, and should there be any money left it will be turned into the fund which is devoted to winter relief work. Last year passersby dropped $450 into the kettles, and from this fund were pur-

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had to live my life again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

O LITTLE TOWN OF BETHLEHEM
O little town of Bethlehem, How silently we here lie!
After thy deep and dreamless sleep, The silent stars go by:
Yet in thy silent streets I lie,
The everlasting Light:
The hopes and fears of all the years Are met in thee tonight.

For Christ is born of Mary,
And gathered all about us, While mortals sleep, the angels keep Their watch of wondering love.
O morning stars, together Proclaim the holy birth!
And praises sing to God the King, And peace to men on earth.

How silently, how silently, The wondrous gift is given!
So God imparts to human hearts
The blessings of His heaven.
No ear may hear His coming,
But in this world of sin, Where meek souls will receive Him still,
The dear Christ enters in.

O holy Child of Bethlehem!
Descend to us, we pray; Cast out our sin, and enter in,
Be born in us today.
We hear the Christmas angels:

IS THERE A SANTA CLAUS?

At this season there comes to the desk many requests for the editorial printed by the New York Sun several years ago, "Is There a Santa Claus?" and it is in response to such requests just now received that the article is here reprinted. No utterance of a newspaper editor has received such widespread publicity as has been visited upon this article which in the day's work was hastily thrown off by a member of the Sun's staff, Francis P. Church. Papers and magazines throughout the world reprinted it at the time, and have continued to reprint it annually as the season returns. Because it answers to the heart of man with respect to the thing which has come to be associated with the world's great anniversary, its reading yields to men and women everywhere a comfort and satisfaction difficult to express in mere words. Here follows the article:

We take pleasure in answering at once and thus promptly the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of The Sun:

Dear Editor: I am 8 years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, "If you see it in the Sun it's so." Please tell me the truth: Is there a Santa Claus?

Virginia O'Hanlon.

115 West Ninety-Fifth Street.
Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus. It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no child-like faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus? You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You may tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else so real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God! he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

President Johnson's first Christmas letter to the alumni and friends of Colby—he follows a custom long continued by President Roberts—is full of good cheer. He reviews the improved conditions of the college, physically and spiritually, sounds a particular note of rejoicing over the recent half million dollar gift, to which other bequests were during the year added, the total funds now approximating two million dollars, and is confident that Colby is well entered upon a high plane of progress, and he concludes that:

This is a very different college from the one I knew as a student. I can think of no respect in which it is not better. The faculty is not only larger, but is composed of better trained men and women. The two years during which they carried on the college successfully without a president tested and increased their strength. They are cooperating heartily with the new administration. The student enrollment is greatly increased and is more cosmopolitan in respect to geographical distribution, economic status, social experience, and the purposes for which they came to college. Forty-five per cent of the men and twenty-four per cent of the women come from other states. Student participation in directing the life of the college is increasingly taking the place of arbitrary control. The result is more freedom and less license. There has never been a time when you could send your sons and daughters to Colby or encourage others to do so with more confidence than now.

There is no question about the recent progress that this Maine institution has made and under such a man as President Johnson there is likely to be no limitation to that progress.

PARK THEATRE

By request of many of its patrons Park Theatre is bringing back for the week of Dec. 16 three of the finest pictures of the past season.

On Monday and Tuesday, the tangle of "The Broadway Melody" will again be heard. This picture, one of the first great all talking, singing, dancing pictures to be made, is still running in a great many cities throughout the country. Leading the cast is Charles King, supported by the diminutive Bessie Love and the beautiful Anita Page.

Wednesday and Thursday one of the most spectacular of all pictures, "Noah's Ark," will return. This was considered by critics as one of the finest scenic pictures of the year, and

THE STATE GRANGE

Harriman's Election As Master Expected On the First Ballot Today

The Maine State Grange opened its annual convention in Bangor Tuesday with 1,000 delegates in attendance.

E. E. Addington, treasurer, reported receipts for the year of $40,444. The Grange closed the year with $20,731 cash on hand against $18,383 in 1928.

A total membership of 53,684 was given in the secretary's report. The figure represented a net loss of 188.

The Grange was told that two juvenile Granges were organized during the year, one at Dover-Foxcroft with 14 charter members, and the other at Auburn with 16 charter members. At two special sessions during the year 102 members were initiated into the highest degree. Resolutions on subjects ranging from rural electrification to an investigation of the recent power export referendum were submitted Tuesday after State Master John E. Abbott of North Berwick had sounded the stand of the organization on farm matters. The resolutions were referred to a committee and will be acted upon later.

State Master Abbott in his annual address, his valedictory after six years as head of the State Grange, urged adaptation of Maine's cooperative farm agencies to obtain benefits of federal farm board aid, and a study by Maine farmers of any railroad unification proposal, and predicted that the present gasoline tax system eventually would be extended to other retail transactions.

F. A. Richardson of Strong withdrew as a candidate for State master yesterday and the election of Merle J. Harriman of Readfield was forecast on the first ballot.

STRAND THEATRE

In "The Mississippi Gambler," Joseph Schildkraut plays the role of a picturesque gambler on the stern-wheel packets of the Civil War period—a role which, though entirely different in characterization and story from the glamorous Ravenal in "Show Boat," which definitely stamped him as possibly the most romantic actor now on the screen, still retains the tremendous appeal of that role without in any wise being a repetition of it.

Beautiful Joan Bennett, widely hailed as one of the younger "finds" of the screen, supports Schildkraut in the leading feminine part, that of Lucy Blackburn, the "thoroughbred" daughter of an aristocratic Southerner, whose ladylike "gameness" leads to one of the most uniquely dramatic climaxes ever screened. Because of the lavishness of the settings used in the picture, it was necessary, besides using the stern-wheel packets on the river for the exterior scenes, to construct at the studio a complete boat where the entrancingly beautiful costume ball, the interior cabin gambling scenes, and the more intimate interior shots were made.—adv.

Some of the outside newspapers have referred to E. R. Keene as the veteran city clerk, conveying an impression that he was either equipped with a set of patriarchal whiskers or had been a long-time incumbent of the office which he now so ably holds. Nine years may be a long time, looking ahead, but it seems only yesterday that Mr. Keene laid aside the paraphernalia of civil engineer to do the city's clerical work. Two previous city clerks held the office nine years—C. A. Davis from 1872 to 1880, and R. Henry Burnham from 1887 to 1895. Enoch Davies had served eight years 1895 to 1903, but had previously served more than 40 years as clerk of the Common Council.

Republicans Again Carry Bangor and Brewer, But Lose Westbrook

Benjamin W. Blanchard, Republican, was elected mayor of Bangor by 1389 majority Monday. He defeated Edward R. Hickson, Democrat, 3137 to 1748, carrying six of the seven wards. The Republicans elected six aldermen and 18 of the 21 councilmen. Mayor John Wilson, Republican, did not seek reelection.

Harold S. Burrill was reelected Mayor of Brewer as were other Republican candidates for office. The Democrats made no nominations.

Eugene I. Cummings was reelected Mayor of Westbrook in a sweeping Democratic victory. His plurality over William B. Bragdon, Republican, was 404, in a total vote of 1,765 to 1,361. The Democrats will have a majority of one in the council of 13 aldermen, having elected all three aldermen-at-large and two aldermen each in wards three and four. A proposal to adopt a new form of city charter, reducing the number of aldermen and increasing their term of office, was defeated. Referendum questions proposing half-pay pensions for retired members of the police and fire departments were adopted.

ON MY SET

The President of Mexico will be heard on a chain of stations at 8 o'clock tonight. The re-broadcasting of Marconi's London speech is also among the day's features. See daily paper schedule.

This is Rudy Valle's brother, Leigh Valley, said one of the comedians last night.

The world's news came to me Tuesday night from the Toronto Globe via Station CFRB. The quantity of news presented was quite surprising, and while it related largely to happenings in the Dominion of Canada and England the broadcaster did not neglect the United States, and American sporting events were very generously treated.

What has become of our old enemy, static? Thus far there has been little or no disturbance of that character. It is possible that Mr. Static has become envious of the worse interruptions which often come locally, and has retired in dismay.

In Bangor the Lions Club has taken the initiative in investigating troublesome radio interference in the form of buzzing and screeching, primarily caused by power leaks and the sending of code messages during the broadcasting periods.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the Salvation Army quarters Monday taking the form of a surprise party for Capt. Winsor. A number of members and friends of the Army presented the captain with a Christmas box which contained the price of a heater for his automobile. This unexpected token of esteem was greatly appreciated, and is very appropriate at this season, as the captain's work is of such a nature that much benefit will be derived from this gift during the next few months.

The yearly planning meeting of the Farm Bureau was held last Thursday with good attendance. Ralph Wentworth, Miss Lawrence and Miss Mason, officers, were present. Dinner and entertainment were in charge of committees who did much to make the occasion interesting and enjoyable.

SOUTH HOPE

Roy Taylor has moved to Rockport. Mrs. Augusta Annis of Camden is with her granddaughter Mrs. Hazel Hart for the winter.

Friday, Dec. 6, A. Y. Boggs passed his 90th birthday, which was celebrated in a quiet manner. A part of the day he was seen with an axe in hand chopping firewood from the stump. Mr. Boggs retains his faculties to a remarkable degree, his memory being as keen as in past years. During the day he received several visitors. He was the recipient of a nice Puma radio set and other gifts.

Friends of Mrs. Frank Payson of Warren were grieved to learn of her death. In her younger days she was a music teacher in this place, and marrying a native of South Hope, always seemed in a way to belong here and she was held in high esteem for her pleasant social manner and sterling worth. Much sympathy is expressed for the husband and family.

PLEASANT RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Shoulders droop under weight of years. Young, yet beauty has fled. Cheeks are sallow and drawn. Unpleasant pimples. Keep your system clean and you keep the beauty of youth. Its energy. Its irresistible charm. Then life is not a failure.

Clogged bowels and inactive liver cause poisons to seep through the system. Health vanishes and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets will help save you from this dark hour. For 20 years they have been prescribed in place of calomel to men and women seeking health and freedom from constipation. They act easily and smoothly. No dangerous gripping. Take nightly before retiring. Results will amaze you.

Thousands of men and women would never be without Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, a vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. 15c 30c and 60c. All druggists.

Ethel Cummings, Wilbur Abbott and Clarence Williams are ill with mumps, as well as many children and other adults.

Later information regarding the automobile accident in which Mr. and Mrs. Alton J. Cargill were injured states that it occurred in Augusta and not in Gadsden, as previously reported. Mr. and Mrs. Cargill were returning home from Mount Vernon Thanksgiving, around 6 o'clock. The traveling was exceedingly joy and treacherous, and as they approached Hussey hill, Western avenue, on the Winthrop road they encountered some 15 cars all stranded, either in the road or ditched. In order to avoid running into one of the stalled cars filled with people the Cargills car was headed toward the bank, resulting in its turning around and capsizing in the road, pinning the occupants underneath. Mr. and Mrs. Cargill both received injuries. They were taken to the home of a friend and cared for until able to be brought comfortably to their home in this place.

Fishermen Catch Tartar

Amidst the lusty cheers of the gallery the Old Timers accomplished what has hitherto seemed the impossible by beating the Fishermen at their own game of coming from behind, and Dec. 10 will hereafter be marked in red on the calendar of every true Old Timer, as it stands for a memorable occasion. To win from the unbeaten Fishermen was a thing devoutly to be wished, but to be talked of only in whispers and behind one's hand, with many qualifying explanations, and alibis.

Although the Fishermen won the first string of the match, they failed to come through with their usual strong finish and the Old Timers by steady, consistent bowling were able to win by the sizable majority of 46 pins.

Bickford was high man, both on single and total, his high string of 128 incidentally setting a new mark for the Christmas prize. Although Stinson started off well with 113, Old Timer Sanborn his opponent was able to nose him out by 7 pins, by steady bowling and being able to hit 'em in the pinches.

Old Timer Littlefield had a huge evening, and when the score was finally figured up to his satisfaction exclaimed: "Ain't it a grand and glorious feelin'!" Gene Hall who was again absent on account of a lodge meeting was the only one who didn't seem at all surprised at the outcome.

"If you will remember," said Gene "or bother to look back in the columns of The Courier-Gazette you will see where I prophesied this very thing two weeks ago. From now on any team that licks the Old Timers will have to step along some to do it. Any team that can roll 1270 is to be feared, and that is just as we want it. We would give more sometimes 'o badly scare a team, than to badly beat it." The summary:

Old Timers—Drew, 289; Shields, 280; Littlefield, 271; Sanborn, 278; Harry Young, 252; total, 1379.

Something very unusual happened at the Cascade alleys Tuesday when young Vic Shields bowled eleven consecutive nines. Bowling for a prize given for the most nines in a string Vic made a perfect score of ten nines in a string, and then got another for good measure. It is safe to say no one will take Vic's prize away from him. It is the first time in the history of the alleys, as far as could be ascertained, that ten consecutive boxes of the same number had been rolled.

Mrs. Katie Olson

In the passing of Mrs. Katie Olson, 71, the town has lost one of its most esteemed residents. Although she had been in failing health for several months her death came as a shock, even to the members of her family. Thanksgiving, the day previous to her death, she spent at the home of her son Samuel, enjoying the day as much as could be expected by one in her condition. She returned home and enjoyed a post card shower which had been arranged for her, then retired. Awakening in the early morning, she took some nourishment and seated herself by the fire, where very soon she passed away.

Mrs. Olson was born Feb. 15, 1858, daughter of Samuel and Tryphena (Elwell) Hathorne. She was married in 1882 to John Olson, and to them were born the following children, all of this town: Christina, Alvaro, Samuel and Fred, who with the stricken husband survive. For the past eight years she has ministered to the husband, who is only able to get around by the aid of a wheelchair, and by whom her demise is most keenly felt. She was a person of deep religious ideals, embracing the Christian faith early in life, and was always loyal to its cause. She was president of the Baptist sewing circle and manifested a great interest in the old Baptist Church. Funeral services were held at her late home Dec. 2, Rev. Mr. Timberlake officiating, the bearers the three sons and Edward K. Maloney. There were many floral offerings. Interment was in the family lot on the Hathorne farm, her home. Much sympathy is extended to all those whom she leaves.

The Greatest Performer in its field!

Performance—that's the quality in the Pontiac Big Six which enables it to stand out among all low-priced sixes. It is one reason why thousands of motorists, new to Pontiac, are now driving this fine product of General Motors.

For Pontiac has higher top speed and faster acceleration than any other low-priced six—as proved by the "fifth wheel," most accurate of all speed measuring devices. Its 60 brake horsepower developed at 3000 r.p.m. is greater than that of any six in its field. It has greater safety and ease of control because of such features as the non-squeak, internal-expanding, dirt-and-weather-proof four-wheel brakes—the largest in brake band area and most efficient to be found on any six of comparable price. And it has greater reliability, as well, because of its aircraft type bronze-backed main bearings, the adjustable pressure feed lubricating system, crankcase ventilation to keep water out of the motor oil, and the positive pump fuel feed.

As for economy, a large corporation operating 996 automobiles of 33 different makes found Pontiac's operating cost in 1928 to be one cent a mile less than that of any other low-priced six. And today's Pontiac Big Six is even more economical than previous models.

See today's Pontiac Big Six before you invest in any car within $300 of its price. Find out about its bodies by Fisher and many other big car features. Then let us appraise your present car and explain the liberal terms which will make you the owner of a Pontiac Big Six.
