BOY SCOUTS BIG HIKE

Will Scale Mount Katahdin, Which is a Mile High.

Scout Executive John W. Thompson is at the head of a party of Boy Scouts who left Camp Meadadout on Lake Umbagog at six o'clock Wednesday morning for a trip to Mt. Katahdin. They plan to travel by automobile to Millinocket, going in on the tote as far as its condition will permit and camping probably within five miles of the base of the mountain. The ascent and descent will both be made on Thursday, if the weather and general condition of the boys warrant, in order to avoid the carrying of the heavy packs necessary for an overnight camp on the mountain. They plan to camp again at the base Thursday night and reach home Friday or Saturday at the latest.

Three other young men, Dick Reed, Fred LaCrosse and Elston McFarland, are to accompany the party. The scouts who are making the trip are all from Camp Meadadout and are in excellent condition for the long hike. They are Kennedy Crane, Jr., counselor; Francis McAlary, counselor; Harry Burns, cook; Hayden Wright, junior counselor; William Glover, Howard Chase. Each scout will carry his own rations and equipment and do his own cooking.

CITY GOVERNMENT

Vacant Chair At August Session Saddens Aldermanic Body

A note of sadness pervaded the August meeting of the City Government Monday night because of the vacant chair which told of the untimely passing of one of the members, Arthur N. Lawrence of Ward 3. Aldermen Benner, Trainer and Conant were designated a committee to draw up a set of resolutions, which was duly presented and adopted.

The Public Works committee went two sewer orders—one for improving sewer conditions on Pleasant street and vicinity, and one for an extension of the sewer on Camden street.

A. W. Gregory and 13 others presented a petition remonstrating against the setting of telephone poles on Camden street. Mr. Gregory was told that the city had held a hearing on the telephone company's petition and that nobody had appeared to offer an objection.

Victualers' licenses were granted to Frieda K. Savage of Columbia avenue and Charles A. Patterson of 47 Union street. The tender of a cemetery trust fund by A. P. Richardson as executor of the will of Harriet Bowen, was referred to the Park Commission. The tender of a cemetery trust fund by Samuel D. Rankin as administrator of the estate of Fred S. Macomber was accepted, having been favorably acted upon by the Park Commissioners.

Aldermen Benner, Saville and Trainer were named as a committee on an aerial survey, to report to the November meeting.

"How was your garden this year?" "Great! My neighbor's chickens took first prize at the poultry show!"

Wonderful Sport At Knox Trotting Park Yesterday and Another Big Afternoon Today

The attendance at yesterday's races at Knox Trotting Park was entirely disproportionate to the number and calibre of the horses assembled there for its entertainment, and could not have failed to be a matter of disappointment to a management which had succeeded in bringing such a notable field into Knox County. There is certain to be a marked attendance for this afternoon's events, and the turf fans will be out of luck if they fail to take advantage of the treat placed in store for them.

The first number on the program yesterday afternoon was the 2.27 trot, opened to Maine owned horses. A field of eight starters put in an appearance, and while first money went in straight heats to the chestnut gelding owned and driven by E. R. Foye of Gardiner there was some smart competition for the places which carried a portion of the purse. Chappelle was on hand with Senito, and captured second position in the second and third heats.

The 2.20 class, trot and pace was another octagonal contest, and furnished the sensation of the day in Nowaday Mac, the chestnut gelding owned by Carl Hughes of Bangor. Sixth position was the best this entry could make in the first two heats, and displayed spells of "bad acting," particularly in the scoring. Considerable amusement was caused when the caretaker pelted stones at the animal to make him head in the right direction, but when Nowaday Mac struck his stride he got genuine admiration instead of the ha! ha! and captured first money by winning the next three heats. Second money went of course to Miss Martha Dewey which had won the first two heats and gave Nowaday Mac a game battle in the last three heats.

The fastest time of the day was furnished in the 2.17 class, trot and pace, offering six starters. The long end of the purse was won in straight heats by Gaiety McGregor owned by John Kelley of Bangor. Vi Directum, Chappelle up, was the "runner-up." The speediest mile was 2.11 1/4.

An old friend seen in the judges' stand for this meet is Harry H. Lee of Augusta, an acknowledged expert in horsemanship and apples. His services as starter have always been much in demand, and there is a positiveness in handling of the megaphone which makes the drivers sit up and take strict notice. Yesterday's judges were C. Earle Ludwick of Rockland and Virgil Morton of Friendship. Charles Maxey of Glen-cove held the watch, and J. Crosby Hobbs of Camden was clerk.

The Rockland City Band interspersed the program with popular selections.

"ON MY SET"

Considering the few electrical storms Rockland has had this season there has been an inordinate amount of static on the radio. But when the "line" has been clear, the reception has been of winter quality.

There's always somebody getting a fool notion in his head. This time it is a West Virginia coal operator who blames radio broadcasting for the heat and drought that have been holding the nation in their grip, and he has written to President Hoover requesting that all radio stations be closed for 60 days "to demonstrate whether or not radio activity is responsible for these conditions. Why not lay it onto the tariff?"

The influence of sweet clover on the milk pail will be explained by H. J. Talmadge, an agricultural expert of Berkshire County, Mass., from WGY, Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 13, at 1.25 o'clock, daylight.

Now that "Uncle Tom's Cabin" has been withdrawn from the stage this year for the first time since its first presentation behind the footlights, it is fitting that the classic should find its way to radio. Frank Oliver, director of the WGY Players has prepared a radio version and the first episode will be offered by WGY, Tuesday, Aug. 12, at 6.15 p. m., daylight. The radio version will be offered in three episodes and a chorus of male singers will be heard in the plantation scenes.

Phoebe Crosby, nationally known lyric soprano of New York, arrives at Islesboro today for the remainder of the summer. Miss Crosby is to be presented in song recital in Rockland Thursday evening, Aug. 14, under the auspices of the Universalist organ fund committee, which promises to be one of the outstanding musical events of the summer season.

NEAR PANIC AT HOPE CORNER

Church Floor Collapses While Drama Is Being Presented—Nobody Injured But Many Frightened

The church at Hope Corner, which had been advertised as an ideal setting for the presentation of "The Old Peabody Pew," proved unequal to the strain imposed upon it by Tuesday night's record attendance, and midway of the performance the floor collapsed.

The church was packed, the gallery was filled and people were standing at the rear of both gallery and floor, and in the vestibule people from all around. The second act was just beginning when without any warning the floor in the center of the church caved in. Fortunately there is a shallow basement underneath, so that the floor did not break enough to throw people below, but a post came up through with the floor broken away around it.

Pews were torn loose from the walls, and the collapse caused cracks in the walls and ceiling. The center of the floor was sagging badly.

Someone had the presence of mind to shout "Keep still, there is no danger!" and someone in the gallery beseeched the people to be quiet and stay where they were. Someone else (a Hope Corner man probably) cried: "The floor can go no further!"

Mrs. C. G. Robbins the wife of the Lawrence, Mass., Universalist minister, who summers in Camden and preaches in Hope during the summer season, rushed to the organ and began singing and playing familiar airs. Others in the audience took up the refrain and after a time the excitement ceased.

Despite this mishap, the presentation of "The Old Peabody Pew" proceeded smoothly and won high commendation. Under the skillful direction of Mrs. E. F. Glover, chairman, and Mrs. Hattie Davies, coach, the details were carefully worked out so that the atmosphere as conceived by the author, Kate Douglas Wiggin, held not only in the play itself but in the entertainment woven around—the playing of old hymns, the singing of oldtime airs, costumes of yesterday, etc.

Mrs. Glover handsomely gowned in a rich old-fashioned silk gown, her hair powdered and worn high with a rose point lace cap, acted as reader, outlining the story briefly and introducing the characters. In the cast were:

Mrs. Baxter, the minister's wife, Mrs. Eugene Stoddard, Mrs. Burbank, president Dorcas Society, Mrs. H. P. Blodgett, Mrs. Sargent, Mrs. Nettie Stewart, Widder Buzzell, Mrs. C. E. Rollins, Mrs. Miller, the sexton's wife, Mrs. Herman Stanley, Miss Lobelia Sharp, Mrs. William Hartshorn, Miss Maria Sharp, Mrs. Arthur Marsh, Nancy Wentworth, Miss Adelaide Cross, Justin Peabody, Dr. William Ellingwood.

The parts were taken with considerable skill, displaying a happy blending of humor and pathos. Miss Cross made a sweet Nancy, imbuing the part with sincerity and naturalness. Dr. Ellingwood repeated the success he enjoyed in his previous interpretation of the role of Justin Peabody several years ago.

The entertainment woven around the play featured the playing of familiar hymns by Miss Margaret Stahl, who acted as accompanist for Mrs. C. G. Robbins and her son, Douglas, in duets and songs, Mrs. W. E. Morgan in songs and Mrs. Beulah Rokes Ames in musical readings. All these participants were picturesque in old-fashioned gowns.

Mrs. Glover was aided in the enterprise by an able committee, with special mention made of Mrs. George Palmer who took charge of the excellent advertising and the tickets, working untiringly for the success of the occasion. The committee is deeply appreciative of the splendid co-operation given by everyone.

HELLO PAUL! HELLO MEL!

What Happened When Rockland Man Met Founder of Rotary, Bound For Vinalhaven

"Here's the man, now; he can tell us all about Vinalhaven."

The speaker was the clerk of Hotel Eagle in Brunswick, the time was Tuesday, Aug. 5, and the man in question was M. E. Wotton, proprietor of the Simonton Dry Goods Company.

"Man in the dining room wants information about Vinalhaven—wants to spend the summer down there," enlightened the clerk. "His name is Harris—Paul Harris—invented the Rotary; maybe you've heard of him."

Had the clerk told Mel that the King of England was sampling the Eagle's menu, or that Charlie had just made a home run, it wouldn't have aroused greater interest or enthusiasm in the Rockland man's bosom.

"Paul Harris!" he gasped, "I must meet him."

And so Mel was ushered into the dining room.

"Hello, Paul!" said he, after the manner of Rotarians the world over. "Hello, Mel!" rejoined the founder of Rotarianism, after he had learned Mr. Wotton's name.

Followed a fanning bee. Mr. Harris unfortunately is not enjoying good health and he has come to the Maine coast to see what beneficial effect it will have. Somebody told him about Vinalhaven, and he's down here to see if the case has been misrepresented.

Of course he will find that Vinalhaven deserves all of the nice things said about it, plus some more nice things.

Mrs. Harris accompanies her husband. She is a native of Scotland, has always lived in close proximity to salt water, and should make a competent judge in helping Paul make his selection.

MR. WELCH RESIGNS

Former Rockland Pastor Retires At Auburn Where Two Churches Will Consolidate.

Rev. Howard A. Welch, for the last two years pastor of the Court Street Baptist Church of Auburn, read his resignation. This is a part of the plan for the union of the two Auburn Baptist churches which was recently denounced. All officers of both churches are resigning now, and officers for the new union parish will be elected when organization is perfected.

enable him to look in other fields for future work. He went to Auburn after a very successful pastorate in Brewster and previous to that he was in charge of the Littlefield Memorial Church in Rockland.

The resignation of the Rev. George F. Currier, pastor of the Auburn United Baptist Church, the second church in the proposed union, is understood to be in the hands of the committee, but has not been announced. All officers of both churches are resigning now, and officers for the new union parish will be elected when organization is perfected.

THE LOVER'S RESOLUTION

Shall I, wasting in despair,
Die because a woman's fair?
Or make pale my cheeks with care
'Cause another's rosy are?
Be she fiercer than the day,
Or the flow'ry meads in May,
If she thinks not well of me,
What care I how good she be?

Shall my silly heart be pined
'Cause I see a woman kind?
Or a well disposed nature
Joined with a lovely feature?
Be she meeker, kinder, than
Turtle-dove or pelican,
If she be not so to me,
What care I how kind she be?

Shall a woman's virtues move
Me to perish for her love?
Or her well-deserving known
Make me quite forget my own?
Be she with that goodness blest
Which may merit name of Best,
If she be not such to me,
What care I how good she be?

'Cause her fortune seems too high,
Shall I play the fool and die?
She that bears a noble mind,
If not outward helps she find,
Thinks what with them he would do
That without them dares her woo;
And unless that mind I see,
What care I how great she be?

Great, or good, or kind, or fair,
I will ne'er the more despair;
If she love me, this believe,
I will die ere she shall grieve;
If she slight me when I woo,
I can scorn and let her go;
For if she be not for me,
What care I for whom she be?

ICE CREAM THE FOOD

Ice Cream the delicious, Ice Cream the most popular dessert on the market, is made best perhaps by the Dearing Ice Cream Company and served to a well-satisfied neighborhood by C. M. Havener at the Rankin Block.

An unusual thing showing the popularity of ice cream for a dessert, is the fact that Mr. Havener sells a Sherbet. Milk Sherbet does not stay frozen very well and the majority of stores are unable to sell it on this account. The turn over of ice cream, however, at this store is large enough to warrant the owner purchasing it and selling it successfully.

From an authoritative source comes information to The Courier-Gazette that the management of the Maine Central Railroad is very seriously considering the discontinuance of the Dark Harbor-Castine steamer service next season. This step is made necessary by the steady decline in the volume of business and by the fact that the Steamer Pemquid will require extensive rebuilding to continue the run.

The business office of The Courier-Gazette took on an appearance of marked cheerfulness yesterday upon receipt of a large bouquet of gladioli which came from the wonderful posy garden of Mrs. Clara B. Emery, Lincolnton street. They were representatives of the Kunder variety, a 1929 production, one of the most striking specimens being known as "Miss Universe." Its color is Tyrian rose and its soft velvety sheen never heard of drug store secrets.

An Essex sedan owned and operated by James Doherty and occupied also by his son-in-law, Carl Hoff, and a Chevrolet sedan, occupied by Mrs. Herbert Rector and William Kendall, figured in a sensational collision at the corner of Broadway and Park street Tuesday night. The occupants of the Rector car escaped uninjured, consequently, Lieut. Cushman and Deputy Sheriff Ludwick investigated the accident.

Alderman Ralph P. Conant will accompany Col. F. S. Philbrick to the National Encampment, leaving Aug. 22, and being gone about 10 days.

Alden Pette, an employee of the telephone company was knocked from a telephone pole by a passing car, at the corner of Union and Park streets this afternoon, and is at Knox Hospital suffering from a broken bone in the forearm.

A metropolitan touch is lent the Center-Crane Company store nights through the new display cases which set in the vestibule doors. The strongly lighted cases stand out in bold relief against the background of darkness. Mr. Crane imported the idea from Florida and this week observed that Best & Co. in New York night converted their large vestibules into furniture displays.

Percy S. Staples, who left Rockland 25 years ago, and has revisited his home city but once during that period, is spending his vacation in Camden, accompanied by his wife, and is incidentally looking up old Rockland friends. After leaving here Mr. Staples followed his vocation of photography in Ohio and Indiana, but for the past year has been in the photo service of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Those church fairs given by the ambitious South Thomaston ladies always are enjoyable and naturally attract visitors from this city and other parts of the county. Tomorrow (Friday) is the occasion, with a sale in the afternoon and one of those famous suppers served from 5.30 to 7.30 daylight. This will be followed by a presentation of that delightful comedy "The Strike of the Ladies Aid," with an excellent cast. The Grange hall is the place and everybody is going.

Adelyn Bushnell and Marshall Bradford of Thomaston are to play the leads in "Peg O' My Heart" which is to be presented for the two weeks beginning next Monday by a stock company playing the Lakesport circuit. Miss Ethel Keller also of Thomaston who has been coaching with Miss Bushnell is to play the second woman's part. Although Thomaston is not on the regular route of this company a performance will be given there Aug. 16 by special arrangement.

Capt. Albert F. Pillsbury of San Francisco, who has been the guest for a few days of his mother, Mrs. Sarah A. Pillsbury at Ingraham Hill, left last night for New York where he will remain a few days before returning to West Coast. Capt. Pillsbury has lately returned from a tour of Europe which was of exceptional value and interest to him because of the fact that he had an opportunity to inspect the large shipyards in the United Kingdom, Germany, France and Holland. Capt. Pillsbury went to London, May 7 to attend the important sessions of the International Load Line Conference, lasting from May 20 to July 5. There were 12 delegates from the United States, Capt. Pillsbury being selected especially because of his important maritime connections on the Pacific Coast.

Captain William H. Winepaw and Alan L. Bird leave the last of next week for Chicago to attend the National Aeronautical Conference making the trip in a plane piloted by Capt. Winepaw. It is expected that the trip will be made in 10 hours or less with two stops. Mrs. Lena K. Sarason, who is a passenger on this trip, will also be a passenger on this trip. The Curtis-Wright planes are looking forward to a busy Saturday this week, having contracted to take 40 St. George passengers to Vinalhaven and return. It goes without saying that this exodus is due to the fact that the St. George ball team is to play in Vinalhaven on that day. And the St. George team has some very loyal followers. The new annex to Rockland hospital has been completed, and quarters for the aviation school are being fitted up in it. The local airport has eight students and the Curtis-Wright service has a large class in Presque Isle.

ISLESBORO'S LONE AUTO

Is Used By Maitland Alexander For "Taxi" Service On His Own Estate

Unique in automobile history, is the car which is owned on Islesboro by a summer resident. Everyone knows that automobiles are prohibited on the public roads of Islesboro by an act of the Maine Legislature, but there is nothing to prevent a man having a machine on his own estate, provided, of course that he does not scoot out on the highway.

Dr. Maitland Alexander of Pitts-burgh, long resident of the island and commodore of Tarratine Yacht Club, anchors his yacht Viator III off his summer estate, Greyledge. Now it is a long steep climb from the yacht landing to the house and while it is less than a quarter of a mile it is much pleasanter for the host and his guests to sit in a nice new station wagon and be taken to and from the landing. Dr. Alexander recently bought such a car, after buying an extra piece of land and building a road from his estate to the boat landing, and while the machine is quarantined within the gates of Greyledge there is an automobile on Islesboro just the same, the first for many years and the second in the history of the island.

A MAN OF MANY WORDS

Gilbert Patten Wove 20,000,000 of Them Into Novels That Fascinated Uncounted Readers

(By Roy Crandall)

Speaking of tree and flag pole sitters, cycle stickers, airplane coaxes and other long-endurance strivers let us not overlook the untiring champion who wrote one million words a year for twenty consecutive years and finished in good health.

To write a 20,000-word novelette every week for 20 years means 1040 books-total number of words 20,800,000. I'd say it was more arduous and nerve, and brain-racking than Marat's thoning, channel swimming or all day and cycle grinding around the saucer at Madison Square Garden. Well "Gil" Patten did it. No, not "Burt L. Standish" as millions believe but Gil Patten. Recently the fact became public current that there never was a "Burt L. Standish." Patten chose "Standish" as a pen name when he sharpened his pencil a long time ago and bent to the task of introducing Frank Merriwell to two generations of ardent hero worshippers! For more than 1040 consecutive weeks Frank Merriwell appeared before the rapidly increasing army of Merriwell "fans" and the fame of Standish spread from land to land-but back of the shadowy Standish was a very solid concrete person named Patten, who was keeping the pencil flying and the stories pouring from the roaring presses.

A week ago I learned the identity of the author and I went to see him. I have either known or seen all of the great champions of the last 40 years-John L. Sullivan, Jim Corbett, Peter Jackson, Jim Jeffries, Jack Dempsey, Jack McAuliffe, Frank Erne, Kid Lavigne, Man O' War, Eddie Bald, Tod Sloan, Snapper Garrison, Budd Doble, Ed Goers, The Uhlans, The Harvester, Gertie Ederle, Walter Hagan, Bobby Jones et al and etc! It is therefore explainable that I wished to see the undefeated long distance, heavyweight novel writing champion of the world. I found him looking as I hoped he would-as tall as Jim Corbett and 20 pounds heavier-snowy haired, sun and wind burned; a real champion. He's still a baseball "fan" but his real out door hobby is angling. He's a nexpert fly caster and his idea of an ideal day is whipling the mountain streams of his native Maine for trout.

I asked him how he ever managed to keep up the grind of the Merriwell tales for so many years. "The first million words were the hardest," he laughed "but after that each story came easier. Plots and situations simply piled upon me. I thought in terms of Merriwell situations and the thousands of letters that came from the army of lovers of the boy helped me enormously. Many real plots came in the letters which poured into the office of my publishers and these spurred me on. Also I loved to see the volumes increase in numbers! We passed the bulk of Harvard's Five Foot Shelf years ago. Now the Merriwell volumes leads that skinny shelf by more than seven yards! I've got them all bound and they occupy more than 27 feet of shelving in my summer home in Camden, Maine.

"Sometimes I wonder if any writer ever beat that output-a 'mass production' worthy of Henry Ford I sometimes whisper to myself as I contemplate the tremendous mass of books I admit myself responsible for. Recently I read Herbert Gorman's monumental biography 'The Incredible Marquis' which brilliantly unfolded the amazing life of Alexander Dumas, Pere. It proved that Dumas was the most prolific writer that either France or England ever produced! For 40 years that fat genius turned out books and plays and editorials and essays-but he had his slack periods, and as I gaze on the Merriwell 27 foot shelf I say to myself, 'I'd like to know whether in 40 years of Dumas' career he wrote as many words as there are between the covers of those books?' I have figured that they total 20,720,000 words. And hundreds, if not thousands of other stories and sketches and articles for magazines and newspapers add enough more to make my total output in excess of 25,000,000 words. Set in solid type, and proved up in newspaper column form they would reach ten-and-one-half miles! But remember please that I am talking quantities; not quality. I am still modest!"

"And you are going to revive Frank Merriwell and give us all another series of thrills I hope?" I asked. "I am not," was the quick rejoinder. "I'll like to know whether Merriwell because I am now working harder to make others write than I worked when others (and by the others I mean the Merriwell readers) were making me write. I am preparing to launch five new magazines and I shall have active editorial control and supervision over them all. No man could do justice to me painstakingly."

Miss Mabel Stark Upon Her Favorite Horse "Frisco" with Barnes Circus

Horses have again come into their own on the 1930 program of the A. G. Barnes Circus. Trained stallions that work in troupes and groups, an entire company of Shetland ponies and the finest of European manage horses are made features of a performance that is filled with new acts from the gorgeous Oriental spectacle, "Pavla," to the concluding exotic display, "The Pageant of Pekin."

The public is accustomed to hearing of the "first American appearance" of such and such an arctic star, but this is the first time that an entire shipload of trained horses have been imported from foreign lands. Aside from these equines, there is a complete menagerie number in which the splendid high school horses ridden by their trainers perform in all parts of the hippodrome track.

These various and varied horse displays, coupled with the tremendous elephant acts and the all-new wild animal numbers combine in what is by far the greatest array of dumb animal talent ever assembled.

The famous A. G. Barnes Circus comes to Rockland for afternoon and night exhibitions on Monday, Aug. 11, at Pleasant street show grounds.

SIX GINKGO TREES

A Long Island University Professor, Trics An Interesting Experiment In Liberty.

Prof. Jacob Wittmer Hartmann, of Long Island University, Brooklyn, two years ago caused six ginkgo trees to be planted on his farm at Liberty, Maine, where he and Mrs. Hartmann regularly spend their summers. These trees are probably the first of their kind to be planted in this part of Maine, and it will be interesting to note whether the three that are still alive will bear the climate of the State.

A number are found in the streets of New York and other American cities, and as it is a hardy tree, although a slow grower, there seems no reason to believe that they will not prosper in the air and soil of this country.

The ginkgo is native to China and Japan (the Japanese name is "ichu") and was first introduced to European scholars in a work issued by Kaempfer, a German botanist, in 1712; but no specimens of the tree were planted in Europe until 1754. It was already fairly numerous in the parks of Vienna in the early half of the nineteenth century and has since been planted in many public parks and private estates in continental Europe, many of them in latitudes much farther north than Liberty, Maine. The outcome of this effort to naturalize an oriental tree in this State is awaited with interest.

The German poet Johann Wolfgang von Goethe saw a ginkgo tree almost daily in one of the public squares of Weimar about 1810, and wrote an effective little poem about it, to which he gave as a title the tree's botanical name: "Ginkgo biloba."

FAMILY PRIDE

Whenever you see a family that constantly keeps the welfare of its members in mind, you can be sure family pride exists there.

One always finds respect, consideration and thoughtfulness in such a home, and when a loved one passes away, that same respect and consideration manifests itself in a fitting tribute of love and devotion.

It is significant that dozens of such families are turning to us for advice and suggestions in the choice of memorials. Choosing a memorial means choosing for the centuries and we feel that we are in a position to satisfy the most exacting demands.

May we tell you about the new trends in designs? And we are confident also, that you will be interested in learning about the relative merits of different granites. Inquiring does not obligate you in the least.

SOUTH WARREN

Lawns are being sacrificed, dust is accumulating but the good work of road building goes steadily on.

Eight members of Good Will Grange attended Pomona at Highland Saturday. What this Grange lacks in numbers is made up in their warmth of welcome. County Agent Wentworth spoke very interestingly on the farm situation. Although he did not give a very optimistic view for the coming months it was nevertheless felt to be a correct statement of things.

Grange Circle meets in the hall today, Thursday, for an all-day session. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Page motored to Gardiner last week and visited friends.

Mrs. Rose Marshall spent Sunday with her daughter Mrs. C. G. Burns in Friendship.

Charles Woodcock had the misfortune to slip on his door-step and fall last week. Dr. Keller was called and made him comfortable as possible. With characteristic vim, Mr. Woodcock insisted upon being strapped up and in two days returned to the blueberry field, although unable to do any work.

Capt. Alie Demuth is spending a few weeks at his home here.

Mrs. Ida Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith, Fred Robinson of Cushing, Mrs. Josie Hyler of Rockland and James Packard of Bangor were Sunday visitors at L. R. Bucklin's.

Mrs. J. B. Stevens and son Jack of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Smiley of Gardiner, Mrs. Inez Page, children and friend of Brewer were visitors recently at Frank Page's.

Miss Barbara Jordan of Rockland is spending two weeks of her vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Copeland and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Copeland were visitors Sunday at Cleveland Burns.

Mildred Bachelier of Martinsville and Mrs. Lillias Robinson and Winslow Robinson of St. George were recent visitors at L. R. Bucklin's.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Counce and Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Libby motored to Auburn last week. They were accompanied home by Fred Polson who is visiting his sister Mrs. O. B. Libby.

Mrs. Amanda Grafton who has been critically ill from the effect of a fall, is now reported as getting along comfortably.

JERSEYS FOR WORKING WOMEN

They Will Be Light In Weight and Dark in Color, the Word From Paris

Paris is trying to placate the working women, who protested when skirts were lengthened, by designing more than usual varieties of clothes for utility wear.

The well-dressed working woman is going to wear jersey tweed for her hours on duty next winter, whether in the home or in the office. The new jerseys are light in weight and dark in color, black and white, brown and white, dark gray mixtures, and blues and greens all are important.

Fancy weaves and patterned mixtures are smart. Ensembles combine dresses and jackets or coats and skirts. Coats miss the hem-line by a couple of inches. Skirts average ten to 12 inches below the knees.

BENEFITS ARE LASTING

continually constipated and bilious. It is remarkable the lasting benefits Sargon gave me. I have a splendid appetite now, eat whatever I like without the least distress, have an abundance of strength and feel good all over.

"The stimulating effect of Sargon Pills on my liver has rid me entirely of constipation and they are the most satisfactory laxative I've ever used."—Mrs. Fred Feldman, 25 Beach Glen St., Boston.

ROCKVILLE

A happy group gathered at the Farmington farm in Rockville Sunday as a pleasant surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mills and sons. Present were Mrs. Stuart Ames and daughters, Vera, Eleanor and Elaine Ames and son Stuart of Rockland and Mrs. Herbert Baum and daughters Elaine and Leone Baum of Rockland. Albert Copeland

In the death of Albert Copeland, Warren lost one of its oldest and most respected citizens. Though a man of simple habits and tastes, he impressed everyone with his uprightness in all matters. He was born in Warren, May 28, 1848, son of Edmund and Harriet (Pooley) Copeland. He was united in marriage with Adelaide Copeland, Sept. 27, 1871, and of this union two children were born, Edwin A. Copeland of Bath and Mrs. Flora Peabody of Warren, both of whom survive him. Mr. Copeland was a faithful member of the Baptist Church for 53 years. He always enjoyed lending the helping hand where needed and all who knew him will miss his quiet smile and unassuming personality.

Mrs. G. D. Gould

Cora (Robbins) Gould, wife of G. D. Gould, who died July 31, was born in Union, the daughter of Lewis and Matilda Robbins. She was married to Mr. Gould Sept. 15, 1875 and their golden wedding was celebrated in the 1925 anniversary of that date. In the Baptist church in Warren, by a large company of friends and relatives. At the time of her death she and her husband had nearly completed 55 years of married life.

Mrs. Gould was an interested and faithful member of the Baptist Church, always attending the services as long as her failing health would permit. She was an ardent lover of flowers, and the abundance of floral offerings at the funeral service testified to the high esteem in which she was held in the community by her wide circle of relatives and friends. Besides the husband who survives she leaves to mourn her loss a son, Lewis, and two grandsons Arnold and Cleo Hooper. Funeral services were held from her late home, Rev. H. M. Purinton officiating. The bearers were Fred A. Starrett, W. E. Hahn, John L. Teague and Nelson Moore and interment was in the Fairview cemetery.

Although it is still early in the season, the truth is again beginning to dawn on us that the worst feature of a vacation is the other fellow's snap-shots you are expected to rave over.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

HO FOR CHRISTMAS COVE!

Forty Children To Be Sent There By Chamber of Commerce and Local Service Organizations

The last two weeks of August will see 40 happy Rockland kiddies at Christmas Cove, South Bristol, reveling in the pleasures afforded by Camp Miles. This outing, made possible for needy children by the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, Forty and Lions Clubs, is in the hands of a committee consisting of A. F. McAlary, chairman, H. B. Bowes, Wilbur Senter, Lester Sherman, A. C. McLoon, E. L. Toner, Dr. C. L. French, Miss Steele and Miss Corbett.

Most of the equipment which will be required for the children is already in hand, but there are still needed the following articles: 12 bathing suits, 12 pairs of sneakers, two sweaters, and 10 suits of pajamas. If generously disposed citizens have such articles and willing to furnish them, or if they are willing to furnish cash or give an order on the store, will they kindly communicate with the Chamber of Commerce or Miss Corbett, city matron. The age limits of the boys attending this camp are 7 to 12 years. This camp was established, and is being maintained by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Miles of New York who have a summer residence at Christmas Cove. Its purpose is to provide an opportunity for needy children to spend a vacation at the seashore under proper supervision and without expense.

The camp contains six sleeping lodges, with separate buildings and facilities for boys and girls; a dining room; kitchen; headquarters; all equipped with running water, flush toilets, etc.; a swimming tank with cement bottom which can be filled and drained daily by the rise and fall of the tide; an athletic field for baseball and other sports; and an abundance of pure fresh spring water for drinking and cooking. The committee which selected the Rockland group was obliged, as other committees are, to furnish the camp with an approved medical and physical examination of each child recommended. This examination must be made within 48 hours of the departure for camp. Every precaution should be taken against the possibility of spreading communicable diseases.

Each child should be supplied with the following equipment: Two suits of clothing, two pairs of pajamas, two pairs of sneakers, two suits of underwear, six handkerchiefs, bathing suit, sweater, soap, towels, comb and toothbrush.

The committee carefully selects a group of the most needy and deserving children, preference being given to those who come from extremely poor homes, where the need is clearly evident. Each group as far as expedient contains an equal number of girls and boys.

Arrangement is made for transportation of the children to and from the camp by local service clubs or otherwise. It is recommended that the children shall not be given beverages of any kind or candy or other edibles enroute but a limited amount of fruit or ice cream is allowable.

Sundays between the hours of 1 and 5 p. m. are the only visiting days. Assistance in the needy cases, thus developed, will not cease with this outing, but will be followed up by those who have interested themselves in the children's welfare and reports of the supplementary work will be rendered to Jeff C. Smith, the State Y.M.C.A. secretary.

WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

Regional Executive Felker Visits Rockland To Learn of Boy Scout Plans

George Felker, a regional executive of the Boy Scouts of America, dropped in on the local officials Tuesday to see what course they desire to pursue after Scout Executive John W. Thompson completes his work here.

As many readers know it has already been voted to abolish Pine Tree Council, and the troops which have had its backing will become affiliated with the Portland division. The question of whether the local Scouts will have the services of a full time executive or one who will give them only part time is one that Mr. Felker desires to have answered, and he is coming here again Aug. 26, with the hope of meeting a larger group than the one which met him Tuesday, and the securing of a definite decision. Mr. Felker expressed himself as well pleased with the progress which the Scout movement is making in Rockland at the present time. The Scout Camp at Lake Megunticook folded its tents Tuesday, and a dozen boys, under the leadership of Scout Executive Thompson started on the long hike for Mt. Katahdin.

On his return Mr. Thompson will go to Quincy, Mass., where he will familiarize himself with the large camp which is being conducted by the organization in that city, where his lot as Scout Executive is soon to be cast.

A SCHOOL PROGRAM

Is Announced By Commander Bodenheimer of the American Legion

A letter received by Commander Louis Cates of Winslow-Holbrook Post, American Legion, from O. L. Bodenheimer, national commander, requests that immediate arrangements be made with school authorities for a program in which education and patriotism will be combined in studies this fall. The posts are expected to adopt resolutions approving the program in order that proper commanders this fall will be properly authorized to continue the program to a successful conclusion.

"Education is vital to successful citizenship," the national commander's letter reads. "The Legion believes in good citizenship. We should, therefore, be interested in education. Through education we can instill a true sense of patriotism. The program suggested teaches patriotism, as well as the necessity of education."

Tribute is paid to the Legionnaires of this State for the successful work done this year, and the national commander thanks the local post officials for their splendid cooperation.

"Now I come to you with one additional program, which I consider most important and which must be started now, even though it is at the close of your administration," the letter reads.

A summary of the program outlined by Mr. Bodenheimer follows: "1—Get your school authorities to carry on a course of study in every school on flag etiquette or flag education.

"2—Make arrangements to give the American Legion School Award Medals to school pupils.

"3—Get school authorities to give a course to every one of the advanced classes in the study of the Constitution during National Constitution Week (Sept. 14-30, which includes the anniversary of the signing of the Constitution.)

"4—Get school authorities to engage in a Legion educational program during National American Education Week (Nov. 10-16, which includes Armistice Day)."

The National commander, at National Headquarters in Indianapolis, stated that the Legion's sole desire is to help in the school program. More than one million parents in the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary have children who are now, or soon will be, of school age.

"Because of this, and because of our interest in the success of future citizenship we should take an active part in the development of universal education, and in the building up of patriotism," he said.
