Famous Musical Organization Will Give Three Concerts At The Strand

The working machinery of the group which is to put over the visit here, Nov. 5 of the U. S. Army Band has been organized with President McAlary of the Chamber of Commerce as general chairman. Tickets will be in charge of Jerome C. Burrows, Basil Stinson will supervise the parade and the program will be looked after by Charles L. Robinson and Mrs. Faith Berry. Joseph Dondis will attend to arrangements, Mrs. Gladys St. Clair Morgan, publicity and John M. Richardson, advertising.

The famous band will make but three stops in Maine and will give three concerts here, afternoon at 2, children's special at 4 and the very complete evening performance beginning at 8 o'clock. The early concert will be 75 cents, the children's matinee a quarter and the evening scale $1.00 and $1.50. All seats will be checked in the evening.

The visit of the band is in the nature of an educational project rather than a money-making proposition, hence the low prices. It is the desire of the sponsors that as many individuals as possible hear these

VISIT THE NEW "WOOLWORTHS"

Latest Addition To Rockland's Business Establishments Will Hold Open House Tomorrow

Rockland may well feel a bit proud tomorrow when it inspects the latest addition to its business houses, the new Woolworths at 396-398 Main street. The doors will be thrown open at 2 p. m. and the public is invited to inspect the store in every nook and corner. Kirk's Orchestra will provide music until 5 o'clock and again open house will be held in the evening 7 to 9 o'clock. There will be special decorations and the whole staff will devote itself to making the visitors welcome. No merchandise will be sold however during these hours, the store being open for business Saturday.

It was just 21 years ago that the now familiar "Woolworth" sign appeared in Rockland with the opening of the then up-to-the-minute store in Masonic Temple. The passing years have brought prosperity to the store, but new modes and methods have served to antique the old shop and render the present move imperative. Hence the block 396-400 Main street was acquired and the lower floor remodelled into the fine plant which the public will view tomorrow.

The frontage of the new Woolworth is 40 feet with all glass exposures in the latest mode and double recessed entrances. The windows are lighted by 19 lamps of 100 watts each, concealed by heavy valances. The store depth is 75 feet and the interior finish is in the conventional Woolworth mahogany throughout with buff walls and white ceiling. The lighting is by the so-called "Fifth Avenue" system with a total voltage in excess of 6500. The fixtures are all of the very latest type and will present a decidedly different arrangement than was found in the former store. Each counter is numbered under the new system, all being in direct contact with the commodious office at the rear. New wall cases for display of flat seasonal goods are noted.

The basement contains a model stock room, a unique freight chute, a well equipped rest room and lunchette for the women employees and a men's rest room. There are 11 full time employees headed by Manager George W. Gay, with a score of part time sales people available on call. The details of the transfer and opening have been in the capable hands of District Supt. Frank B. Newton, and all has worked without a hitch. The present plant is approximately the same size as the old, having some 30 feet more counter, 383 feet in all, but great gains are apparent in arrangement.

The general remodeling contract was awarded to George D. Campbell of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., who completed ahead of schedule, using only 45 days. William T. Smith of Rockland did the plumbing and heating with his usual skill and despatch. The wiring was done by the Central Maine Power Co. and the interior painting and setting of equipment by Woolworth engineers. No plans have been made for the remodeling of the two upper floors as yet and the present tenants will not be disturbed.

The opening of the new store completes a long time dream of Manager Gay who first entered the Woolworth employ 22 years ago and whose seven years' residence in Rockland has gained him a wide circle of friends.

Arkansas Senator Boomed For Presidency—What Roosevelt Is Supposed To Have Said

Enthusiastic friends of United States Senator Joe T. Robinson in the State Democratic convention at Little Rock, Arkansas, Friday, tossed his hat in the ring for the 1932 Presidential nomination.

In seconding the resolution of endorsement, former Governor Charles H. Brough of Arkansas assured the delegates he had the word of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, that in event he was unable to obtain the nomination he would support Robinson.

Gov. Brough, to whom reference is made in the despatches has spoken in Knox County, and is understood to have relatives in Union.

MONTPELIER WAS OPENED

Tuesday's Informal Reception and Tea Given In Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. K. Curtis

"Montpelier," a landmark whose stately white walls now rear themselves upon the heights at Thomaston overlooking the St. Georges River, sounded its first note of semi-public character Tuesday afternoon when it was made the scene of a reception and tea, given jointly by the Knox Memorial Board and Gen. Knox Chapter, D.A.R. in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. K. Curtis.

As previously noted, the completion of the building contract of this memorial to Gen. Henry Knox was recorded several weeks ago, since which time the structure has been under charge of the committee on decoration and furnishing, whose task is necessarily an affair of moderate progress, involving as it does the accumulating of the widely dispersed articles of furniture, etc., that belonged to the original Knox home, and such other details of wall papers and associated decorations as may bring the Memorial into its finished state for exhibition.

But anticipating the public dedication which is set for the summer of 1931, the officers and directors of the Memorial Association were desirous of paying some note of acknowledgment to Mr. Curtis, through whose munificence this splendid structure is to be made one of the chief historical monuments in New England. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis giving cordial acceptance to the invitation to become the association's guests, the ladies of the committee proceeded, with the help of furniture, rugs, flowers and other commanded embellishments, to transform the first floor rooms and corridors of the building into a scene of beauty which contained lively suggestion of what the finished place is to be, when Montpelier with its completed details of adornment offers to the world a reanimated picture of what it must have been during those opulent eighteenth century days of Henry Knox.

When Mr. and Mrs. Curtis, with Mrs. Harriet Cutter of Pasadena, Calif., a sister of Mrs. Curtis, arrived from their summer home in Rockport, they were received in the beautiful oval room that faces the river, and given cordial greeting by those already present, comprising the association officials and committee members, together with the ladies of Gen. Knox Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Tea was served in the adjoining dining-room, following which, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis made full inspection of the beautiful

LOUIS LEADS THE "LIFERS"

The Kansas City Bulletin of the Northwestern Life Insurance Co. has this to say concerning the recent activities of a local man, Louis A. Walker:

"Congratulations L. A. Neither the times or your territory are exceptional, but I know that the number of calls you have made is exceptional. No combination of times or territory can beat a man who makes 262 calls, has 180 contacts and secures 91 interviews in a month's time. The result is 14 1/2 lives and $33,500 of paid for business. That gentleman, is L. A.'s record for August. When you look at his $33,500 and wish for one equally good, just remember that he bought and paid for the result with good hard work. If you are willing to pay the price of 262 calls, 180 contacts and 91 interviews, you can have as good a month."

FROM OLD PINE STUMPS

Has Grown a Big Mississippi Industry of Which a Former Rockland Man Is the Head

Alfred S. Black, Who Is Engaged In Big Southern Enterprise. From a Photo Made During His Rockland Activities

Old pine stumps have been the bane of many a Maine farmer's existence, but down in New Augusta, Mississippi there is a concern known as the American Pine Chemicals Company, which is converting them into valuable products, and at the head of that company is a former Rockland man, Alfred S. Black, who holds the offices of president and treasurer.

The company put into operation recently the most modern wood resort in existence, and the only type of continuous operating. From old and despoiled pine stumps are being obtained products heretofore unknown.

The concern is manufacturing high grade paint at the lowest known production cost; also wood preserving oils and stains. "Stump Pine" is the official trademark, and quantities

AN INTERVIEW WITH LINDBERGH

Famous Flyer Talks With Courier-Gazette Reporter, But Shies At One of the Questions

Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh flew to North Haven last Saturday night and enjoyed three days of absolute quiet at the summer home of Mrs. Lindbergh's father, Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow. Their presence there was unsuspected on the mainland until it became known Tuesday night that the fog had prevented Col. Lindbergh from bringing across a passenger to connect with the west-bound train.

The distinguished flyers came across the bay late yesterday forenoon, but this time instead of making a detour via the southern part of the county they made straight for the Curtis flying field, and took on sufficient gas and oil for a flight to New York.

The blue and yellow monoplane which Col. Lindbergh presented to his wife early in the summer made a graceful landing alongside the hangar, and while the field crew was attending to his wants Col. Lindbergh stepped into the office and chatted with the employees and the few interested spectators who were there either by chance or as the result of a timely tip.

And there a Courier-Gazette reporter found him chatting in his sunny, boyish manner, at peace with the world, and not at all disinclined to answer the hasty questions the reporter fired at him.

"Where are you bound, Colonel?" was naturally enough the first inquiry. "South," was the laconic reply.

"How far South?" "Southwest."

Ever since the youthful airman succeeded in his epochal flight from New York to Paris he has had to be continually on his guard against the inquisitive press and the equally inquisitive public, so that he has become a master hand in prompt replies that reveal no information that he does not care to reveal.

Col. Lindbergh made it very plain that Mrs. Lindbergh and he have enjoyed fully their two visits to North Haven this summer, and that, belated as the season may be, they may come again before snow flies. "I'll depend upon circumstances, the Colonel said.

THE REVOLVER INCIDENT

Was Not a Factor In the Forming of Rockland's New Synagogue—It Happened Eight Years Ago

A recent news story in this paper concerning the organization of a new Jewish synagogue and establishment of another cemetery, has caused a lively discussion in local Hebrew circles, accompanied by a display of indignation on the part of those who worship at the Willow street institution. This ire is directed principally at that portion of the story which referred to an alleged flourishing of a revolver. This incident, it is pointed out, occurred eight years ago. This fact was not indicated by The Courier-Gazette's informant, who, to do him justice, did not know that this affair was to appear in the article, and who subsequently expressed regret concerning its publication. It is now quite certain that the two synagogue organizations will go their separate ways, and that any further factional clash will not materialize. The leaders of the Willow street synagogue say they have no quarrel with those who wish to worship separately, and that their institution is going along in the even tenor of its way—a prosperous and flourishing institution.

President Dondis of the new synagogue says that two names were omitted from the list of its founders—Charles Grace and Lipman Cohen. The lot for the new cemetery on Upper Park street was donated by Isaac Berliawsky.

ROAMINGS

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—As I am a great lover of nature, I think I will tell you this time about my flowers and the busy little humming birds that come to gather nectar from them. I have just been watching one on my petunia blossoms. As I opened the door to get a better view of him, of course he quickly flew away. One method to make them daily visitors is to feed them by making a syrup of cane sugar and water, place in neckless bottles of three inches deep, with some bright colored paper fastened around the neck of the bottle to give it the appearance of a flower. Suspend it among the leaves of a bush or plant by tying with a string. It is very interesting to watch these little emerald and ruby birds.

I have a large collection of geraniums, fifteen different colors and shades, phlox, asters and many other varieties. Have grown snapdragons (antirrhinum) this year for the first time and they have proved to be very satisfactory. They produce spikes of gorgeous bright blossoms and are very easy of culture.

As I look around and see the lofty trees, luxuriant vegetation and so many different kinds of flowers, I often think, God might have made the earth bring forth enough for great and small. The oak tree and the cedar tree. And not a flower at all—But through His infinite love He gave us all kinds of flowers to enjoy and cheer us on our way. I am glad I am not like the man to whom flowers had no significant meaning—A primrose by the river's brim, A yellow primrose was to him, And it was nothing more.

The Roamer, Member No. 5, N.C.C. Weeks' Mills.

Those who remember Mrs. James Austin when she was Cora Pitcher of Rockland will be interested to learn that her son, Malcolm Pitcher Austin, has been soloist at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York during the summer season. Mr. Austin who is 26 years old possesses a baritone voice of great beauty and the position as soloist has been a signal honor. Mr. Austin is also the nephew of Mrs. North Waller of Wollaston, Mass., who is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stevens, Talbot avenue.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

THE FLAG GOES BY
Hats off! Along the street there comes A blare of bugles, a rattle of drums, A flash of color beneath the sky; Hats off! The flag is passing by! Blue and crimson and white it shines, Over the steel-tipped, ordered lines. Hats off! The colors before us fly; But more than the flag is passing by; Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great, Fought to make and to save the State; Weary marches and sinking ships; Cheers of victory on dying lips. Days of plenty and years of peace; March of a strong land's swift increase; Equal justice, right and law, Stately honor and reverend awe. Sing of a nation, great and strong; To ward her people from foreign wrong; Pride and glory and honor—all Live in the colors to stand or fall. Hats off! Along the street there comes A blare of bugles, a rattle of drums; And loyal hearts are beating high; Hats off! The flag is passing by! —Henry Holcomb Bennett.

Old pine stumps have been the bane of many a Maine farmer's existence, but down in New Augusta, Mississippi there is a concern known as the American Pine Chemicals Company, which is converting them into valuable products, and at the head of that company is a former Rockland man, Alfred S. of pamphlets descriptive of the new industry were distributed from the "Mississippi Train" which has been touring the United States and Canada. Incidentally the American Pine Chemicals Company was given credit for having the "key exhibit." The present development is the largest with which Mr. Black has ever been connected, and this gives some idea of its magnitude for he has been identified with numerous large and important undertakings. "Mississippi," he writes, "will soon be known as an oil state, a large gas field having recently been 'brought in' at Jackson." It is interesting to know that Mr. Black controls more than 425,000 acres in what is believed to be Mississippi's most promising territory. He has had a very busy summer, but hopes to make a Northern visit soon.

Construction Engineer George W. Hanson and his assistant, George W. Harvey, who built the Cushing radio station, left today for New York. Mr. Hanson has been ordered to the Pacific coast where he will superintend the construction of a addition to the Mackay station at Hillsboro, Oregon. He has a very good record in regard to that he has come to be second nature to him, but he was so pleasantly domiciled in Knox County that he feels a twinge of homesickness at the thought of this transfer. His regret is shared by the hosts of friends Mrs. Hanson and he have made a last-minute run south with their friendly farewells for those marvelous Cushing beans and pies. Mr. Harvey will stay at Sayville, L. I., for a while, and will then return to Cushing to complete the installation of the ice melting machine which is expected to keep the antennae free from sleet and ice stealers. The machine is now being installed except for the transformer. The Cushing station (WAG) is exceeding the expectations of the owners, and a fourth operator has been requisitioned.

The ladies' fancywork department is always a feature at North Knox Fair, Union. Large premiums are offered for fancywork and household articles of merit. A great battle is expected at Community Park Saturday afternoon when the soccer teams of Clark Island and Long Cove decide that Labor Day tie. Soccer is a form of football which Rockland has never had an opportunity to see, but which is having a great run elsewhere. With a Swedish team on the side and a Scotch team on the other there will be great things at the Park Saturday. The game starts at 3 o'clock.

The W. P. Barrett farm in Hope was the scene of a rather unusual poultry demonstration the other day when a hen belonging to Ralph C. Pearce laid an egg weighing half a pound and measuring 9x7 1/2 inches. Mr. Pearce's flock consists of White Plymouth Rocks and Rhode Island Reds, and he is at loss to know where to place the credit. All of the hens are walking around on their heel tips looking as proud as a man with a new flivver.

Winslow-Holbrook Post and Auxiliary meet tonight when a big radio broadcast is staged. The National Broadcasting Company and the Victor Radio are offering the service and the program will be directed from Boston. The reported hour is 9 to 10:30, standard. If the Legion had to pay for the time and use of the many stations involved, it would cost $150,000. If atmospheric conditions are favorable, taps will be heard from Boston, the echo from California and the re-echo from Meuse-Argonne Cemetery at Romagne, France. Heretofore, the station is installing the necessary apparatus.

Miss Evelyn Burbank who several months ago received a cash prize of $1000 for supplying the winning name for a new brand of soap has recently received a letter from a woman in South Dakota stating that she received a similar award, having presented the same name—"Olnol." The manufacturers had agreed to double the award in case of a tie.

There's not much similarity between the names of Kendrick Seabury and Milton Sills, but the published notice of the latter's death which appeared in Tuesday's issue of this paper has somehow kept the popular young local Coast Guardsman busy assuring friends that he is very much alive and that the little, old Ford is still rattling right along.

Monaghan, who played in the outfield for the championship St. George team this season, is, as most readers know, an all around athlete, and not the least of his accomplishments is football. As captain of Higgins Classical Institute this fall his work will be watched with much local interest, as will that of Maurice Hall, a Rockland High School grad who is also in the Higgins lineup.

Tuesday night Troop 2 hiked to the shore at Ingraham hill where the boys enjoyed a corn-roast, in spite of the thick fog which settled in. Scouts Chatter, Morey, Kaler and Bower passed their 30-yard swimming test. Cub Scout MacAlman was present. Next week Troop 2 will have a meeting in the Methodist vestry at 7 o'clock. Many of the boys are paying the balance of their dues for this year in advance, which is a wise idea. Associate Scout Harry Burns of Union, member of Troop 2 is attending Kent's Hill Seminary.

Charles M. Breen of Bath sat in the prisoner's dock at Municipal Court yesterday and listened rather complacently, it seemed to the charge that he had stolen a check in the sum of $300 from the store of Samuel Rubenstein on Park street. The details as told by Mr. Rubenstein to the witness stand were almost identical with the story which appeared in Tuesday's issue of this paper. The cross examination conducted by Judge Pike, counsel for the respondent, indicated an unexpected angle of defense. Instead of taking the check from the top of the cash register last Friday night, as charged Breen says that he was invited into a crap game, together with his companion, and that Rubenstein lent heavily, finally giving Breen a check for $300 and his companion a check for $200 by way of settlement. Judge Miller found "probable cause" and held Breen for the November grand jury. New evidence was presented after adjournment, and upon motion of Frank A. Tirrell, associate counsel for the prosecution, the case was reopened and Breen was discharged. Rubenstein still stoutly maintains that there was no gambling and that the store was closed after Breen had completed the business errand which took him there.

Massachusetts sold 1,071,100 cubic feet in 1929 and Maine sold 437,450 cubic feet. Total sales for granite for building stone in the United States was $2,027,270, valued at $3,105,364, a decrease in quantity of seven per cent compared to 1928. Sales of granite for monumental purposes in 1929 amounted to 3,344,380, valued at $11,962,645, an increase of five per cent in quantity at seven per cent in value. Of this total Maine contributed 202,670, Vermont being at the top with 1,350,950 cubic feet. Granite is quarried in Maine mostly from the Barre quarries. Maine sold 68,870 short tons of crushed stone valued at $133,764 in 1929.

The work of quarrying this granite will start immediately and will give employment to many Maine laborers. Much of the granite will be taken to Philadelphia for the new building. A HEART ATTACK

May Have Led To Drowning of George Niles From a Bangor Wharf

The possibility that Capt. George Niles, 24, of Rockland, who was drowned Saturday night at Bangor, suffered from a sudden attack of heart trouble when he fell from the Maine Central wharf is advanced as a possible explanation of his drowning.

The police have ascertained for a certainty that both the captain and his companion, Albert Smith, who attempted to rescue him, seemed as usual when they returned to the wharf where their dory was moored. They had come up the river, in the boat earlier in the evening from the Eastern Manufacturing wharf in South Brewer, where Capt. Niles' schooner, Meadows No. 2, was docked.

The police held an informal inquiry and report they are convinced that Smith did all in his power to save his friend. An investigation revealed that they were intimate friends and "buddies," and that there was absolutely no basis for suspicion of foul play. Although Smith did not report the drowning to the police Saturday night, he told at least four people on the wharf of the fatality. Witnesses state that he tried vainly to search around in the dark for his captain. Smith told officers that Capt. Niles "paddled away from him" and officers credit this to the natural confusion of an ill and drowning man.

Heart failure has been prevalent in Niles' family, was brought out, although the captain has never been known to suffer from it. Smith stated that he was so excited and confused that he never thought of reporting to the police. When he saw that his attempts at rescue were futile he rowed his boat to South Brewer and notified his superior officers on the boat.

As for the police are concerned the affair is ended.

MRS. T. E. McNAMARA

That part of the city known as The Meadows lost a long-time and honored resident in the death, Sept. 13, of Hannah, the wife of Timothy E. McNamara, following upon an illness of several months. The deceased was born in Caromere town, county of Limerick, Ireland, April 20, 1867, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Savage, with whom as a young child she came to this country and had ever since made her home in Rockland and vicinity. She was married to Mr. McNamara Oct. 31, 1894, and on June 25 of the following year they took up residence at The Meadows, occupying the old McNamara home, so long a landmark in that vicinity. Here her life was happily spent, devotion to husband and friends being with her a governing characteristic, and winning from all an affection that was very marked. She was a devoted member of St. Bernard's Catholic Church, a lover of children and an unwavering friend. Tributes of esteem and love during the sickness and the final services will long be remembered by those present to her loss.

Mrs. McNamara is survived, besides her husband, by two brothers, Mark Savage of Keene, N. H., and David Savage of Worcester, who were present at the funeral services held at St. Bernard's Church Monday, at which Rev. Fr. Flynn officiated. Others present included a niece, Mrs. Mary Manning of Boston, and a brother-in-law, James H. McNamara of Eagle Rock, Va. Burial was in the Thomaston cemetery, the bearers being T. E. McNamara, Valentine Chisholm, W. J. Sullivan and P. J. Burns.

He came to Rockland a few years ago to make his home with his sister, Mrs. Leavitt, and care for her in her failing health.

Mr. Lawrence was a member of the Congregational Church at Vermillion, attending service regularly and manifesting lively interest in all social affairs in connection with the church. He was a thorough Christian, generous to a fault and having great pride in his family.

Maine Boy Amazes Mother

"My son's stomach was often upset and he was very nervous," says Mrs. Fred McCarthy, 74 Cumberland Avenue, Portland. "He was feverish and his breath was bad. I found he was constipated."

"My mother used California Fig Syrup with us, so I decided to give my boy some. It surely surprised me to see how quickly it stopped his feverishness, cleared his breath and tongue, regulated his bowels; made him a strong, energetic boy again."

"The quick, safe way to cleanse and regulate the bowels of bilious, head-ache, constipated children is with California Fig Syrup. Give it at the first sign of bad breath, coated tongue, listlessness or feverishness. Every child loves its rich, fruity flavor and it acts without griping or discomfort. Appetite is increased, its use, digestion is assisted; weak stomach and bowels are given tone and strength."

For fifty years, doctors have endorsed this pure vegetable product. The genuine is always marked by the word California. Look for that when buying or you may get an imitation.

At the morning service Sunday Rev. Philip C. Hughey tendered his resignation to take effect Oct. 6. Much regret is felt at having him called away so soon for Mr. and Mrs. Hughey have been untiring in their efforts in all the work of the church. Also Mr. Hughey has given unstintingly of his time and talents in helping to build the new parsonage at Rockport Village. It had been known for some time that he had been offered the position of assistant pastor at Ruggles Street Baptist Church in Boston, but all were hoping that he would remain with us and enjoy the parsonage he has worked so hard to see finished with a given sum of money.

The fall meeting of the Lincoln Baptist Association will be held with this church.

Mrs. Fred C. Robinson

Elmer C. wife of Fred C. Robinson, who died very suddenly Thursday morning, Sept. 11 at 8 o'clock after being ill only a few hours, was born at Tenant's Harbor, June 19, 1865, daughter of John and Lydia Cook.

The greater part of her girlhood was spent in the town of her birth. At the age of nineteen she was united in marriage to Fred C. Robinson of Clark Island where they made their home for a time, later moving to Rockland and remaining there for a number of years. During the latter part of her life the family resided in Rockport. Three children were born of this union, Albert, who died at the age of fourteen months, Harry who died at sea seven years ago and Mildred who survives her. Her cheerful and gentle manner and her many acts of kindness greatly endeared her to the community but only those who knew her most intimately could appreciate her sterling worth and excellent traits of character. In the home she was a devoted wife and mother, and as a neighbor, could always be relied upon, thinking no evil and with a kindly word for all. She was a member of Harbor Light Chapter, O.E.S., and of the Twentieth century Club, being very active when health would permit in both organizations. Other surviving relatives besides the husband and daughter are two sisters, Mrs. Elmer Benner and Mrs. W. R. Shibles of Rockland, and six grand-children, two of whom, Miss Eleanor Robinson and Miss Isabel Robinson had made their home with her for several years, receiving from her tender and loving care.

The rooms were artistically decorated with cut flowers and the marriage took place in the living room in the presence of the parents of the bride and groom. HERE LIES

(For The Courier-Gazette) Within this plot, these unsplit rails surround. Lie buried many dreams which glowed with hope.

And energies of high ambition, spent. And faltering courage failed with weeds to cope.

And growths from seeds once settled in. Before wild things and idleness were bent.

With visions, by seed catalogues inspired. A dreamer rushed, with ecstasy and pride. To capture for his table his desire. And well provide for fall and winter needs.

But, with the sowing, he was fully tired. And effort ceased as purpose lost its fire. So man, through all his ages, has been prone. To see his future with a glory spread. But, failing to hold high the light of hope. Surrenders vision to his daily bread. Moving, for his proud purpose, not a stone. And saving conscience with a futile hope.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

Miss M. Ethel Whitcomb, C.S.B., of Boston, Tells the Story of "The Angelic Message"

Miss M. Ethel Whitcomb, C.S.B., member of the board of lecturership of the Mother Church, First Church of Christ, Scientist, who, addressed the public meeting at the Christian Science Church in this city Tuesday evening, was introduced by Mrs. Helen Cross, who said:

"Friends: First Church of Christ, Scientist, welcomes you here this evening to a lecture on Christian Science. A Christian Science lecture is indeed a feast of love and righteousness and our Master said, 'Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness for they shall be filled.' Over thirty years ago the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, established the Christian Science Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., for the purpose of correcting erroneous concepts of Christian Science with a true and logical knowledge of this truth which makes free. We have with us tonight an authorized member of this board of lecturership who will speak to us on 'Christian Science, The Angelic Message,' and it gives me great pleasure to introduce to you Miss M. Ethel Whitcomb of Jamaica Plain."

In Luke's Gospel it is written, said the speaker, "And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men." What are the good tidings that the angels are singing today? Christian Science answers that these tidings of great joy, these angelic messages, are nothing less than a revelation of the demonstrable fact that the same spiritual truth which healed through Jesus of Nazareth here today, bidding the dumb to speak, the lame to walk, the blind to see. Christian Science has already healed its unnumbered thousands and sent them on their way singing with the angels, "Glory to God in the highest." It is a divine fact that all that anyone can need to make him whole, to set him free from poverty, pain, defeat, sin, and what is termed old age, is the angelic message of the true understanding of God and of the real man, and to apply it.

What is an angel? To a Christian Scientist an angel is not a celestial personality with feathered wings, but an exalted idea from divine Mind, an inspirational thought-visitant.

Who is not stirred by the mighty truth that God pours forth His spiritual thoughts to man? Every moment of inspiration, intuition, goodness, gratitude, purity, or selflessness is a moment with the angels. Let us listen that we may hear them as they pass to us.

Actually to expect to hear the angels,—impartations from divine good,—and to be guided, inspired, and guarded by them as were the prophets of old, we must know God as He is. Christian Science satisfies the heart with its glorious view of God as Mind, Incorporeal Mind, the all-knowing, the all-present, divine, infinite intelligence, and this Mind, Love, tender, living, available Love in whom man lives and breathes as individual consciousness, for this Mind is the very life of all, the sole governor of the universe and man. From this Mind proceeds the only law, the divine edict of good, forth operating for, not against, humanity, a law of renewal, invigoration, and eternal unfoldment to man.

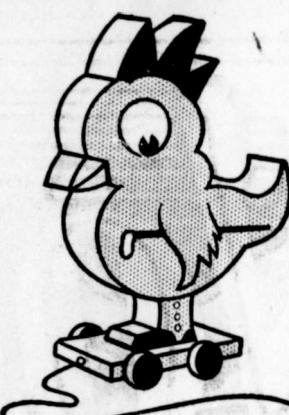

All Christians accept the basic statement of Scripture that God created man in His own likeness. Like the infinite Father, is the real man, or spiritual idea, in quality, nature, and essence. Christian Science teaches us to look away from the hateful, sinning, and warped deflection, or mortal, to become acquainted with the reflection of God,—the man who reflects the qualities of divine Mind in the radiance of right thinking.

We can never obey Scripture and put off "the old man with his deeds," the old human concept of man with his stubborn disposition, nervous temperament, and weak character and constitution,—all unloveliness,—until we catch glimpses of our identity in the likeness of divine Love, and maintain it, thereby refusing to express a thought, motive, or desire that springs not from the heart of God.

Many people come to Christian Science, seeking, as did I, to understand how to pray aright to the infinite, unseen Father. "Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss," are the Scriptural words that arouse the awakening thought to ask, How can I pray aright?

We believe that it is a vain request to ask the God who is Love itself for more love, or to implore the divine Mind which is never absent from man to come closer. Christian Science teaches us as children to recognize the Mother-love of God, ever present, every hour, everywhere, and to accept through the prayer of perception, utilization, and thanksgiving, God's perpetual outpouring of health and goodness.

How does Christian Science heal? I once passed a veiled statue that was waiting to be uncovered. I knew the statue to be very beautiful, but how ugly it looked, covered with its grimy veil! Then my thoughts, or inward eyes, turned to the real man, the beautiful, pure, and fair image of God. That which to the outward eye appears to be sick and impure man, I now realized is merely the veil which covers the real. The Christian Science treatment or prayer tears away, through its divine impulsion, the veil, and reveals man in all his God-given wholeness. The veil, then, not man, is the patient which veil, Paul says "is done away in Christ." In the language of Christian Science, "unveil" might be a synonym for "heal." Another synonym for "heal" might be "correct." God's thoughts, or angels, come through treatment or prayer, to correct the mistaken be-

Restless CHILDREN

CHILDREN will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than a more powerful medicine.

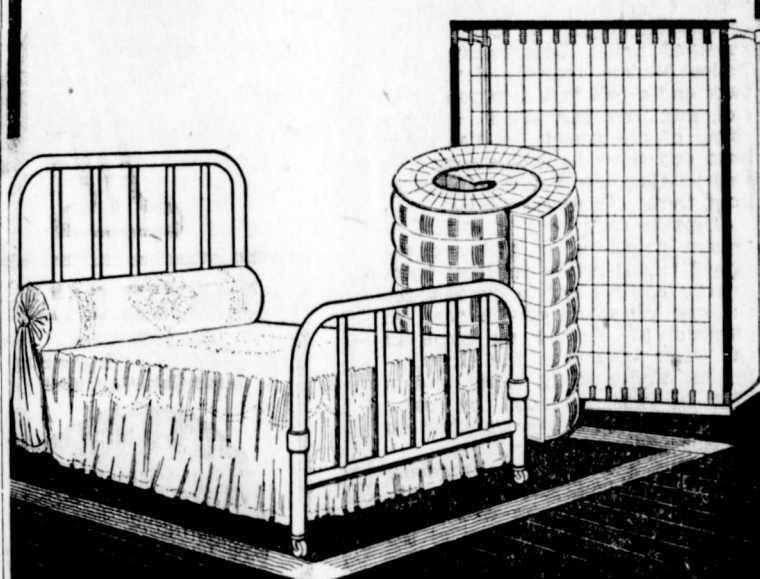

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is need. In cases of colic, diarrhea or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. A coated tongue calls for just a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed.

Fletcher's CASTORIA

Christian Science was discovered and founded by a woman, made spiritually ready for such a holy trust by lessons learned from every event of her life, by human struggles, desperate privations, heroic overcomings, and deepest longings to know and to take the things of God and give them to mankind. In an hour when she was in the valley of the shadow of death, she lifted her heart to God and turned as she had done since childhood to her Bible for help. With such spiritual readiness and purity of vision did she read its pages that, she testified, as did the woman of old, the garment's hem and through the power of the same Christ, she rose confidently and walked! Now she beheld through the lens of Spirit the universe of God in all its perfection and glory. Now she felt the operation of the law she had not known before,—the healing, purifying, saving law of God. As soon as she could find her way in this new universe of light her heart, so aglow with divine Love, was flooded with compassion for all those bewildered and bound by sin and pain. For their sakes she must know the divine Principle on which her marvelous healing was based, so they too could drop their fetters at the feet of Christ. With this one star leading her on she withdrew from society with the Bible for her textbook. Here in the seclusion of prayer, she studied and worked for three years, learning in childlike simplicity from prophets and apostles. Through spiritual inspiration Mrs. Eddy received and recorded the revelation of scientific Christianity as it unfolded to her consecrated, Love-inspired consciousness. Of herself she has said that she was a "scribe under orders" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 311). The spiritual, undeviating, indestructible facts of Truth, that appeared to her God-prepared heart at that time, she elucidated in words known as the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," a book that is waking men of every nation from the morning light of hope and holier living. Her reason for writing this book she makes plain in these words which appear in court records: "I turned to God in prayer and said, Just guide me to the Mind which was also in Christ, and I took the Bible and opened to the words, 'Now go write it in a book.' I then commenced writing my consciousness of what I had seen and I found that human will was the cause of disease instead of its cure; and the divine Mind was the healer." Thus was made and

PROUD OF CAPT. CADY

Portland Police Official, Well Known Here, Has Had Quick Promotions

Rockland had an interesting visitor a few days ago in the person of Captain Stephen H. Cady of the Portland Police Department. The Police Manual recently devoted a page and a half to this popular official, and from this article, and because of the friends he has made here and those he has among The Courier-Gazette's readers in Portland, these extracts are made:

"Captain Cady was appointed a regular patrolman in 1901 and assigned to one of the roughest beats in the city. Absolute respect for the new patrolman grew apace. As sergeant he cleaned up some of the worst sections of the city during his service on the street, and in 1913 he was rewarded by being made a captain—six years after his appointment as sergeant.

"During the war he especially showed his intelligence and aptitude for handling men and situations. He organized a force of 350 special policemen among the citizens and supervised their instruction so that in emergencies, when police were called upon to do other duties, the specials could come in and cover their beats. He also had a system of co-operation of police with citizens so that they could gather valuable information in time of need.

"Throughout his career Captain Cady has been obsessed by a desire to guard against overstepping the bounds of authority and violating the rights of citizens. For this reason he has given much study to police law, and is regarded as an authority on police matters.

"Captain Cady is known as 'The Father of the Social Club.' He caused the organization of a social body while he was at Woodford Station, which he had in charge from 1918 to 1924.

"There is no better police official in Portland than Captain Cady, and nobody in the department who is more honest, more willing to give the people a chance, and there is nobody who pays stricter attention to the fine points of police service."

MAIL PATRONS, AHOY!

Receptacles For Carriers Must Be Provided, Etc. Mail Will Be Held At The Post Office

Postmaster E. R. Veazie, acting under orders of the postoffice department, is about to send notices to mail patrons in his territory that they must provide receptacles for use of mail carriers in delivering mail within 30 days or come to the postoffice to get their mail.

It has long been a provision of the rural service that the patron provide a box for the carrier to place letters in but now the postoffice department has decided that all city patrons must do the same. There will be no more ringing of doorbells by city carriers, in the delivery of ordinary mail, no waiting for the patron to come to the door, no leaving of mail on the front porch or elsewhere than in a proper receptacle.

Slots in a front door, where mail may be inserted and remain secure inside the house are preferred, says Postmaster Veazie's letter states, but the letter continues, "Unless you will cooperate with the department by installing a suitable receptacle of some kind within the next 30 days, daily delivery service will be withdrawn and it will then be necessary for you to call at the postoffice for your mail."
