INFANTILE PARALYSIS CONTROL

Dr. Mortimer Warren of Portland was named by Gov. Gardiner Monday as commissioner of infantile paralysis control in Maine. A working fund of $2500 was made available. Gov. Gardiner took the action after a conference with Dr. Philip W. Davies, secretary of the Maine Medical Association. Dr. Davies, in behalf of the association, made the request for the appointment of such a commissioner. The recurrence of the disease in this State has shown the necessity of prompt action.

SCHOOL OF HER OWN

Miss Elizabeth Morrow Opens a School For Tots in Englewood, N. J. Today

Elizabeth Morrow who spent the summer at North Haven soon is to realize her hope of having a school all her own.

Today she will open a school for children too young to attend the city grades.

During her college days at Smith at the Sorbonne and at the University of Grenoble, Miss Morrow has been strongly possessed of the Morrow penchant for teaching. Her paternal grandfather was a college professor and her father, Dwight W. Morrow, always had the idea he would like to be a teacher. But the paths of law of banking and a diplomatic career, led him away from this idea.

Miss Morrow taught at the Dwight School in Englewood, a school of which her father was trustee, and also in the English School in Mexico, the country to which her father was ambassador from the United States.

MAGICIAN

Palm shadows stroke the torrid land. Sifting between their slender fingers The gleaming particles of sand. They glitter in the sun like scattered jewels. A child laughed. Tossing them gleefully. He thought they would be shining all ways. I heard him cry When the palm gathered them again into its hand. In the shadow they were only grains of sand. He did not know that the Sun is a magician. I have seen him Make diamonds out of sea water. —Katherine Washburn Harding in "The Poet."

HER SUMMER IN EUROPE

Mrs Sadie Leach Describes Some of Her Interesting Sight-seeing Trips in Belgium and France

(Third Installment)

The first function we attended at Ostend was at the Casino, where we heard a fine baritone soloist and symphony orchestra. No refreshments, not even wine, are served during the concert. There were beautiful paintings on the walls. Ostend is very lovely, with a marvelous beach and boulevard stretching out for miles.

Our next destination was Bruges, to which point we went by motor bus, passing even country fields with growing wheat and oats, canals and quaint houses in which we noticed with particular interest the beautiful curtains. These curtains are all hand done and are of various styles. I saw some sash curtains of an entirely different design than we know. The tops were done in hand made lace several inches in depth, with rings crocheted in to be hung on the rod. The balance of the curtains was usually made of fine white material. They were very dainty and effective.

At Bruges we found the square decorated in flags and pennants to celebrate the independence from Holland. We saw here the famous "Cloth House" where meetings of council were held in the time of Henry IV. The Church of the Holy Blood was of particular interest. It was built in 1519, the belfry having names of the consist of 42 bells. The name of the church was derived from the fact that in a gold casket under glass in the church is a receptacle said to contain the blood of Jesus taken when He was crucified. Twice a year this casket is taken out and conveyed in procession around the city. There are also wonderful paintings in this church. We also visited St. John's Hospital where a beautiful picture by Menling is displayed—that of St. Ursula and the Eleven Hundred Virgins who went to see the Pope at Rome.

We also saw the Notre Dame church, with its statue of Madonna and Child at the altar, done by Michael Angelo when he was only 22. It is a beautiful piece of sculpture, and considered one of Angelo's best, despite his youth.

On our way to Malines by motor bus we passed through Ghent which added interest to the trip. The first place we visited in Malines was the School of Carillon Players, located in a building beside the tower that contains the chimes. A young man who graduated three years ago demonstrated how the carillon is played by working a clavier. Then we went on to the courtyard where we listened to the evening program, an experience never to be forgotten. Jeffries Denys, head of the school, and with Anton Brees considered the greatest of carillon players in the world, was the artist. The opening number, in our honor, was "The Star Spangled Banner." Other selections were "The Palms," two old Flemish hymns, the Fourth Sonata by Nicolai, "Bells of Abergethy" and Schubert's "Ave Maria."

At 8.30 next morning we went to Brussels, first enjoying a city drive to get the lay of the land. We saw the spot where the English nurse, Edith Cavell, and the British soldiers were shot just outside of the rifle range. We visited the Werltz gallery, one of the show places of Brussels, where are displayed the paintings done by one man, all devoted to murder, suicides, and such morbid subjects. They unquestionably are the work of a man with a distorted mind, yet display uncanny art.

We passed the Palace of Justice, the largest building in the world, and Leopold Park with its familiar monument of Leopold II. The Palace of the King now used for affairs of State; the residence of the Crown Prince; the Botanical Gardens, the flower markets which are extremely lovely, and many other points of interest. One thing that fascinated me was the dog carts used for delivering milk—a small vehicle containing two huge cans of milk drawn by dogs. The peasant women were bedroom slippers in their staid prayer and meditation were substituted. The Rabbis of old endowed Yom Kippur with a devout religious atmosphere. They considered this day as the day when the Supreme Judge of all set His seal to the fate of every creature on earth. Therefore, they emphasized with great stress the necessity of fasting and prayer.

Today the masses of Jewry still fast on Yom Kippur and still observe it with great solemnity and awe-inspiring prayers. But today the keynote of all ceremonies is to raise the character of man to a higher state of humanity. The prayers strive to convey the thought that the Day of Atonement is a day of self-examination and self-criticism—a day upon which man is to scrutinize his activities of the past year, judge them, weigh them, and henceforth resolve to turn from that which his best conscience considers evil and to follow that which his higher self regards as good. For this reason, the Day of Atonement plays an important role in Jewish and social life at large as a force which makes for human betterment.—Hebrew Tract Commission, Cincinnati, Ohio.

DAY OF ATONEMENT

Twilight of Tomorrow Marks Beginning of the Most Sacred Jewish Day

The twilight of Wednesday, October 1, 1930, being the tenth of the Hebrew month Tishri, will mark the beginning of the most sacred day in the Jewish Calendar—"Yom Kippur," the Day of Atonement. In Jewish life this Holy day is also known as the "Sabbath of Sabbaths" and the "Great White Fast." Unlike the observance of any other Jewish holiday, the Day of Atonement is marked by the unique feature of fasting which begins with the chanting of the Kol Nidre melody and ends with sunset of the following day.

Like all other Jewish holidays, however, Yom Kippur has undergone a change both in its meaning and manner of observance. In the days of the Temple when the Jews dwelt in Palestine the tithers of the soil, the Day of Atonement was chiefly characterized by sacrificial rites, as specified in Leviticus XVI. Both priests and people abstained from food and drink, uttered confessions of their sins, and invoked the God of Mercy for forgiveness. The most stirring moment of the day came when, all alone, the High Priest entered the Holy of Holies and there uttered a short prayer.

But later, when the Jews were exiled from Palestine and the Temple ceased to be the central institution in Israel, the Day of Atonement assumed a new aspect. Sacrifices were no more, in their stead prayer and meditation were substituted. The Rabbis of old endowed Yom Kippur with a devout religious atmosphere. They considered this day as the day when the Supreme Judge of all set His seal to the fate of every creature on earth. Therefore, they emphasized with great stress the necessity of fasting and prayer.

Today the masses of Jewry still fast on Yom Kippur and still observe it with great solemnity and awe-inspiring prayers. But today the keynote of all ceremonies is to raise the character of man to a higher state of humanity. The prayers strive to convey the thought that the Day of Atonement is a day of self-examination and self-criticism—a day upon which man is to scrutinize his activities of the past year, judge them, weigh them, and henceforth resolve to turn from that which his best conscience considers evil and to follow that which his higher self regards as good. For this reason, the Day of Atonement plays an important role in Jewish and social life at large as a force which makes for human betterment.—Hebrew Tract Commission, Cincinnati, Ohio.

ROCKLAND IS AFFECTED

Central Maine Makes Rate Revision On Gas, Which Is Favorable To This City

A rate revision affecting a large percentage of the users of gas will be made in the Eastern, Lower Northern and Southern Divisions of the Central Maine Power Company becoming effective Oct. 1. The following municipalities are affected, and it will mean a saving to a large percentage of customers in these communities: Bath, Fairfield, Rockland, Waterville, and Winslow. On the total amount of business done last year, this will involve a reduction of approximately $11,000.

The revision is in line with this company's policy of standardizing rates throughout its territory and general improvement in service to customers. It is designed to promote the use of gas and by this make it more attractive in price to those customers who use it to its fullest extent.

So that all customers may understand the new schedule thoroughly, folders announcing the revision are now being sent out. The new rate is: First 200 cu ft or less $1.00
Next 1,800 cu ft or less 14c per 100 cu ft
Next 22,000 cu ft or less 12c per 100 cu ft
Next 25,000 cu ft or less 11c per 100 cu ft
Next 50,000 cu ft or less 10c per 100 cu ft
Balance .09 100 cu ft

Consumption Decreases Rate

Previous to this, on the old rate, it was not possible for the average customer to buy gas less than the top step of the rate due to the fact that the first step covered the first 10,000 cubic feet and practically 98% of all customers use less than 10,000 cubic feet. Under the new rate, the steps have been so arranged that the customer will receive a lower rate after reaching 200 cubic feet and a still lower rate after reaching 2000 cubic feet, so that lower rates come within the range of the majority of customers. These customers will receive the benefits of lower rates along with the large users.

Estimated Savings

An example is cited of a customer who uses around 2000 cu. ft. of gas per month. Here is how it works out: First 200 cu. ft. $1.00

Next 1800 cu. ft. @ 14c. 100 cu. ft. 2.52
Total cost, $3.52

Comparison with the old rate shows: 2000 cu. ft. @ 20c. net per 100 cu. ft. $4.00; saving to customer of $4 minus $3.52 or 48c.

Suppose this same customer heats water in addition to using gas for cooking purposes and that there is a consumption of approximately 3000 cu. ft. per month. Instead of paying a flat rate of 20c. net per 100 cu. ft. or $6.00, here is how the new "sliding scale" rate works out: First 200 cu. ft. $1.00
Next 1800 cu. ft. @ 14c per 100 cu. ft. 2.52
Next 1000 cu. ft. @ 12c per 100 cu. ft. 1.20
Total cost, $4.72

A saving of $1.28.

In making a rate study it must be borne in mind that once an installation is made for gas service, costs of construction, maintenance, interest, taxes, overhead, etc., remain the same whether gas is used in small or large quantities. Consequently, the more gas a customer uses the less it costs per cubic foot. True, the only customer who does not get a reduction under this schedule are those who use less than 200 cu. ft. a month. This is due to the fact that these customers use only about enough gas to pay for the fixed costs of serving and no further reductions are possible to this class of customers. Under the new schedule the greater the use, the greater the saving.

Prepayment Service Discontinued

Prepayment service will be discontinued as it is impossible to use this device with a sliding scale rate. Prepayment meters will be kept in service only until such time as is required for the necessary meter changes.

Rate Proves Very Satisfactory

All gas customers, after October 1, will be billed at the new rate. This same schedule of rates has been in effect since January 1, 1930, in Augusta, Hallowell and Gardiner, and has proven to be very satisfactory.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

DIE LORELEI

Ich weiss nicht, was soll es bedeuten,
Das ich so trauig bin;
Ein Märchen aus alten Zeiten,
Das kommt mir nicht aus dem Sinn.
Die Luft ist kühl und es dunkelt,
Und ruhig fließt der Rhein;
Der Gipfel des Berges funkelt
Im Abendsonnenschein.
Die schönste Jungfrau sitzet
Dort oben wunderbar,
Ihr goldnes Geschmeide blitzt,
Sie kämmt ihr goldenes Haar.
Sie kämmt es mit goldenem Kamm,
Und singt ein Lied dabei;
Das hat eine wundersame, Gewaltige Melodei.
Den Schiffer im kleinen Schiffe
Ergreift es mit wildem Weh;
Er starrt, nicht die Felsenriffe,
Er schaut nur hinauf in die Höh.
Ich glaube, die Wellen verschlingen Am Ende Schiffer und Kahn;
Und das hat mit ihrem Singen Die Lorelei getan.

(Translation)
I know not whence it cometh
That my heart is oppressed with pain,
A tale of the past chaineth
My soul with its magical strain.
The cool, and the daylight waneth,
The Rhine so peacefully flows;
And, kissed by the sunbeams of even,
The brow of the mountain glows.
The fairest of maidens sitteth
In wondrous radiance there,
Her jewels of gold gleam brightly,
She cometh her golden hair.
With a golden comb she combs it,
And sings so plaintively,
O potent and strange are the accents
Of that wild melody.
The boatman in yon frail vessel Stands spellbound by its might;
He sees not the cliffs before him,
He gazes alone on the height.
Methinks the waves will swallow
Both boat and boatman anon;
And this with her sweet singing
The Lorelei hath done.

DEATH OF FRED POST

Was Serving Sentence For Slaying Former Proprietor of Park-Main Hotel

Frederick L. Post, who was given a sentence of 10 to 20 years for manslaughter in Lincoln County Supreme Court April 25, 1924, died in the State Prison hospital Saturday. He would have been eligible to parole in four years.

Post, who was a former Rockland man, but had been making his home in Bridgeport, Conn., was convicted of slaying Mrs. Sybil E. Hamilton while they were seated in an automobile on an isolated country road in Jefferson. Three bullet wounds were found in the breast of the woman's body.

Post claimed that the shots were fired by some hunter, but in the car were found empty and loaded shells of the same calibre which had caused Mrs. Hamilton's death, and powder burns showed that the discharges had been at close range. The crime was committed Oct. 10, 1923. Mrs. Hamilton had been proprietor of the Park-Main hotel in this city.

Post was committed to the State Hospital in Augusta, and was adjudged not insane. When he was brought back to the Lincoln County court for trial he retracted his plea of insanity, and pleaded guilty to the charge of manslaughter and was sentenced as above stated.

Several years ago he fell and fractured one of his hips, and was transferred to Knox Hospital for the necessary surgical treatment. He had been in the prison hospital three years.

Post was about 72.

LOST IN GARDINER

Rockland High Finds the Kennebec Team An Unusually Smart One

Rockland High journeyed to Gardiner Saturday and was defeated by Gardiner High 21 to 0. Gardiner kicked off to Rockland and the ball was carried to Gardiner's 40-yard line where Rockland lost on downs. Gardiner carried the ball up to Rockland's four-yard line and Andrews, Gardiner's star back, carried it over for the first score.

The second quarter neither team scored. The punting of Dunton, Rockland's end, was the big light of this period. Hooper of Rockland also showed some classy field running this period, but could not get loose.

The third quarter started with Captain Merry of Gardiner off on one of his long end runs which netted Gardiner another touchdown. Kidder kicked for the extra point.

The fourth period started off again with Gardiner scoring another touchdown. It was made by Capt. Merry and the goal was kicked by Kidder. Hooper of Rockland made some lengthy gains in this period.

For the winners the work of the four regular backs, Capt. Merry, Andrews, Donovan, Kidder was outstanding as well as the line work of Lamb center, B. Andrews right end and Hewitt left tackle.

For the losers Hooper, Rockland's left halfback, showed plenty of class, while the outstanding linesmen were the long end runs which netted Gardiner another touchdown.

"Walt" Gay, Rockland's snappy quarterback, who was not able to play because of water on the knee, was badly missed. Duncan, Rockland's regular fullback, who started the game had to quit on account of a sprained ankle which he received during scrimmage last week. The summary:

Gardiner 0
Dunton, le Larabee, lg
Snowman, lg
Bicknell, c
Aylward, rg
Glover, rt
Mazzeo, re
Knoxton, qb
Hooper, lb
Flanagan, rlb

Subs for Rockland: Haskell, Moulaison, Green. Subs for Gardiner: Costo. Touchdowns made by Andrews, Merry 2. Points after touchdowns, Kidder 3. Time, 8 and 10 m. periods. Referee, Shute. Head linesman, McCall. Umpire, Beane.

WORRYING ABOUT ROCKLAND

There are seven games facing this year's Morse high football eleven and from a pre-season standpoint the club has an excellent opportunity of tying the record of the 1921 eleven which won five out of seven games, and possibly surpassing that record of recent years. Westbrook and Rockland are the two schools that on the face of present conditions may lick Morse. Both have fast eleven with scoring power. Westbrook defeated the alumni 6-0 last week and the Lime City boys whaled Skowhegan 18-0 at Skowhegan. However, the Rockland game is at Bath, which gives Morse a slight edge in that it is true high school teams play far superior football on their home grounds.—Bath Times.

The Lord is our defense and the Holy One of Israel is our King—

Massachusetts Republicans, after a hectic encounter with the primaries, are now in for a campaign full of excitement and strain. It is vain to speculate at this distance of a month from voting day what is going to take place, but it looks more like a contest between wets and dries, than between the two national political organizations upon strictly party measures. The Democrats as a party are distinctly allied with the wet side of the question which is today nationally prominent. This is true in New York as well as in Massachusetts, and doubtless in some other states. It can be recalled that in earlier days the same party arrayed itself against the Maine Law, as it was then known, and nothing but defeat attended its campaigns. Maine Democrats eventually passed from opponents of prohibition to be its supporters. We find it possible to believe that a similar result may attend upon the present agitation. There are those who prophesy the passing of both the present parties and a nationwide realignment of the entire voting population upon the sharply divided lines of dry and wet.

The horse-chestnut burr now yields itself to the early manifestations of frost and discloses the smoothly polished nut snuggled at the inside of it. Do boys today value this autumnal product as the boys of earlier times valued it? The youth of that period had fewer things upon which to exercise his imagination. Sometimes we think that perhaps for that reason, he was the happier. To gather the shiny horse-chestnut in quantities sufficient to spread upon the attic floor; to perform skilfully with a pair of them attached to a bit of string—ultimately observed depending from the telephone wire—to compare your collection with that of a rival collector—these were the tasteful joys of youth in those far-off happy days. Men arrived at a more sedate but not the less imaginative period carried a horse-chestnut in the trousers pocket as a charm against rheumatism.

Unemployment presents conditions that from every angle are little to be desired. How to deal with the question lays a tax upon the wisdom of all in authority. In Boston the Unemployed Council has addressed to the city government its demand that steps be taken immediately for the creation, out of moneys already planned for public expenditures, of a fund to be applied to unemployed, each worker to receive not less than $25 a week, plus five dollars a week for each dependent. We can visualize some individuals with an assured weekly income of that size being reluctant to hunt for work.

The slowing up of industry, which has been registering countrywide proportions, gives evidence of turning the corner and retracing its steps. It is comforting to note in the connection that in our own community these manifestations of business depression have not been in the class with those reported from other sections of the country. We think it has generally been observed that this corner of Maine is the latest to be affected by these recurrent seasons of depression and the quickest to recover when things resume their upward trend.

A correspondent, who acknowledges that he isn't intimately acquainted with the ways of what is known as high society, wonders if it is true, as the fiction magazines set forth in their stories, that such society spends its time drinking cocktails, and breaking laws generally. We have noticed in Mr. Oppenheim's novels that the characters alternately divide their time between lighting a cigaret and drinking a whiskey and soda. Whether the author named motives and observes in the regions the correspondent alludes to we cannot say.

This week sees the Lincoln County Fair holding the right of way, with an announced program that should attract all the elements of success. We can wish its management no better wish than that the success last week enjoyed by the Union Fair may be duplicated at Damariscotta.

Those additional figures given Rockland by the census bureau are thankfully acknowledged. We can look with pride upon 9075 as an arrangement easy to remember and setting our municipality well up among the smaller New England cities.

September in Maine has fulfilled every demand made upon it for beautiful weather, and the vacationists who have prolonged their stay are not sorry. And there yet remains the autumnal glory of October, with November's supplemental Indian summer.

25 YEARS AGO

A review from the columns of this paper of some of the happenings which interested Rockland and vicinity in this month 1905.

The Fourth Maine Regiment, Second Maine Battery Naval Veterans and Berdan's Sharpshooters met in Camden. Given B. Thorndike of Rockland being elected president, and John W. Titus secretary and treasurer. The Second Maine Cavalry held its annual reunion at the same time and place, electing J. W. Gillespie of Boston as president. Governor Cobb was one of the speakers at the campfire.

The armored cruiser Colorado was given a standardization test on the new Rockland trial course, being the first warship to have that distinction. The maximum speed attained was 22.2 knots. Capt. Duncan Kennedy was in command of the ship and Capt. J. H. Dayton was president of the Trial Board.

Col. Samuel N. Allen, former warden of the State Prison and governor of the Soldiers Home at Togus, died at the age of 79. He was a native of Cushnet.

Valentine Chisholm, superintendent of the Street Railway, was granted a patent on a track scraper.

An amateur roller polo league was formed consisting of Rockland, Auburn, Gardiner and Bath.

Roy Hix of Rockland who was employed in the Knox Woolen Mill, Camden, got caught in the machinery and had three ribs broken.

The W. H. Glover Co. had contracts to build a $10,000 schoolhouse in Stonington, and to practically rebuild the Burnt Island station.

B. Randall Andros, manager of the Thorndike Hotel, died suddenly at the age of 65.

F. I. Lamson leased the Walter J. Wood hardware store.

Mrs. Henry M. Falcina fell breaking one of her wrists.

Prize winning babies at the Penobscot View Grange fair were: First class, Celeste Bridges; second class, Margaret Adelaide Crockett; third class, Corice L. Thomas. The judges were Mrs. E. S. Farwell and Mrs. Laura Sylvester of Boston.

Congressman Littlefield who had been attending the International Parliamentary Union in Brussels, was given an audience, with other Congressmen, by Emperor William of Germany. They chatted for about 20 minutes, and discussed world affairs following the Russo-Japanese war. The Kaiser expressed satisfaction that the United States was building its navy.

Thirteen years later he was not quite so well satisfied.

Restricted legislation for automobiles was being urged.

Frank H. Whitney was planning to spend the winter in Fruitland Park, Fla., where a cottage had been built for him.

Thomas E. Shea, who had been spending the summer in Northport, went to Massachusetts where his company was rehearsing. C. W. Lee of Camden was a member of the company, and George Wentworth of Camden was electrician.

The Central Labor Union celebrated Labor Day at Crescent Beach, but stormy weather prevented athletics. G. B. Butler and Frank B. Miller were the speakers. A. J. Titus was chairman of the celebration.

Disgusted Rockland folks did not see the eclipse of the sun owing to the cloudy skies.

Schooner M. C. Haskell was wrecked at Chatham, Mass., Mate Paulson losing his life. The craft was owned by I. L. Snow & Co., and Capt. Arthur Wingfield.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor was making speeches in Knox County.

Among the distinguished visitors in Rockland during the summer were Judge Alton B. Parker, Attorney General William H. Moody, William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Rear Admiral F. W. Dickens, Samuel Gompers, Charles Dana Gibson and Richard Harding Davis.

Oscar G. Burns bought Benjamin Perry's oil business.

The marriages for this period were: Rockland, Aug. 30, David W. Ramsell and Abbie B. Wentworth.

Rockland, Aug. 31, Henry H. Randall and Alice L. Harrington.

Rockland, Alvin H. Arey and Cora M. Patterson.

Union, Aug. 19, John Storor of Union and Addie Howes, formerly of Liberty.

Fruit Soups Are Refreshing

By JOSEPH BOGGIA, Chef
The Plaza Hotel, New York City

IN the eyes of thousands who have been brought up in the sound old traditions of American cooking, a dinner without soup is no dinner at all. Summer and winter, whether the mercury hovers in the eighties or the twenties, they demand their soup and value it to be satisfied without it. They are rapidly learning to demand a cold soup in summer and a hot soup in winter, but one and all demand their soup.

Jellied bouillions and consommés are, of course, the familiar types of cold soups, but there is no reason why we should be restricted to these. In Norway, Germany and many other countries of Europe, cold fruit soups are widely enjoyed for their delicacy of flavor and refreshing qualities. There seems to be no good reason why we in this country should not seize the opportunity to add variety to this part of our menu.

Iced Fruit Soup—Mix and let stand in the refrigerator overnight one cup orange juice, three-fourths cup grapefruit juice, five cloves and a two-inch strip of cinnamon. Bring to the boiling point one cup of the syrup drained from a can of raspberries. Add a teaspoon of cornstarch mixed with cold water. Cook three minutes and add one-fourth cup sugar and one-eighth teaspoon salt. Add fruit juices, strain and place in refrigerator until very cold. Serve with shaved ice.

Grape Soup—Add one-half cup sugar to a half-pint of water and simmer until clear. Add one pint of juice pressed from ripe grapes, and the juice of one-half lemon. Add a half tablespoon of softened tapioca and again simmer until clear. Keep in refrigerator until very cold and serve with shaved ice.

Raspberry Soup—Let stand for one hour, one quart of mashed raspberries thoroughly mixed with one-half pound of sugar. Press through sieve. Heat slowly, stirring all the time. When boiling point is reached add one tablespoon cornstarch dissolved in cold water. When clear and smooth, add one-fourth cup non-alcoholic sherry. Remove and keep in refrigerator until well chilled. Serve with shaved ice.

RETAIL TRADE IMPROVES
American business has "ceased" the marked decline characteristic of a number of earlier months and there are some distinctly encouraging features for the immediate future. Secretary of Commerce Lamont said Monday. "The most encouraging aspects are the growth of export trade as revealed by August statistics and the distinct picking up of retail trade in this country," he said.

PIRATES WIN AGAIN

Dick Perry Wins the Fifth Straight As Pirates Top
Rockport 12 to 10

With Dick Perry pitching airtight ball as relief pitcher, the Rockland Pirates came from behind Sunday to pull the game out of the fire and walk away with the decision, 12 to 10, against the "Flying Finns" of Rockport. Rockport started off big and before the sixth inning had ended they had banded out ten hits for a total of nine runs off "Chummy" Gray starting Rockland pitcher. Matineus, Sept. 6, to Mr. and Mrs. James B. Thompson, a daughter.

away at Eddie Lofmann for enough runs to win the contest.

Al Starr led the hitting for the visitors slugging out two triples and a double. Clyde Mosher's long triple with two men on, bringing his team back in the running, was a feature for the Pirates. The score:

WALTER P. CHRYSLER'S TRAFFIC TALKS

HOT WEATHER DISPOSITIONS

The motorist is now coming up for his share of psychoanalysis. With cars practically perfect from the mechanical standpoint, and traffic rules and regulations covering almost every situation under the sun, made, and largely enforced, some other factor must be considered in order to account for slow moving traffic and accidents in general.

Connecticut and several other states, have about decided that mental tests are the next step towards eliminating the driver who is a "problem." He is to be tried, among other things, for his temperament. Under the stress of slow moving traffic which crawls in and out of big cities especially during the summer, dispositions are clearly revealed. The selfish man clings stubbornly to the best part of the road and goes at exactly the speed he wishes. He pulls over for no one, and outside of getting into a clinch with his fenders there is no way of passing him. So traffic piles up behind. He is probably a case in stubbornness. The nervous person fumes and fidgets at the wheel, and pokes the nose of the car out continually, edging and blowing his horn, and making little rushes, for an advance. He can rarely be depended upon to fit into the hole for which he plunges, and were it not for the indulgence of the driver who lets him into line there would be an accident.

The man with a sense of resentment and antagonism, refuses obstinately to let certain cars pass him, runs miles to show another car that he can pass it, and cuts off the driver who passes him, when he has the opportunity. Even those who are normally of fairly even disposition sometimes break under the strain of driving in traffic and heat combined. A clear mind, patience, and unselfishness will go a long way towards ameliorating conditions.

Weather This Week
Weather outlook for the week in North Atlantic States: Generally fair except showers Thursday or Friday. Temperature about normal Tuesday followed by considerably warmer Wednesday and Thursday and cooler at the end of the week.

Charlie Jones is back on the job at the Fuller-Cobb-Davis store, after a three weeks' stay in Dexter with friends.

The auxiliary of Sons of Union Veterans meets tomorrow evening, with supper at 6, with Mrs. Mabel Beaton as chairman.

Last week's prizes at Carr's bowling alley: Hooper, 122; V. Norton, 120; C. Smalley, Jacobs and W. L. Oliver, 116; Davis and Williams, 111.

Capt. and Mrs. H. R. Huntley are observing their 50th wedding anniversary today. They are making no special note of the occasion, but friends are not permitting the occasion to pass unnoticed.

Ralph W. Lufkin has sold his house at The Highlands 53 F. D. Delano of Hill street, who is to occupy it at once. Mr. Lufkin is moving this week into the house at 8 Otis street which he has recently purchased.

Miss Bertha McIntosh is resuming her classes in ballroom dancing Monday evening, Oct. 13, and is now engaged in making enrollment of pupils. While she will teach the usual ballroom program, she will specialize in the old-fashioned dances and the waltz.

Earle Rokes was convicted in Municipal Court Saturday of operating a motor car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and was sentenced to three months in jail. Edward Waldron of Rockport, who is alleged to be the driver, and costs for resisting an officer.

Edwin Libby Relief Corps meets Thursday evening, with supper at 6, under the direction of Mrs. Amanda Choate and Mrs. Nellie Higgins. Inspection will take place at the evening session, with Mrs. Carrie E. Doull of Portland, State president, acting as inspector. An entertainment will also be presented, with Mrs. Eliza Plummer, patriotic instructor, as chairman.

All singers who are interested in the festival at Bangor Oct. 22 are asked to join with the Philharmonic Club for rehearsal Thursday at 7.30 p. m. at the home of E. F. Berry, 25 Grove street. Bring "Hallelujah Chorus," Handel, "The Heavens are Telling," Haydn, "Lovely Appearance," Gounod, "The Dance" from "Faust," Gounod and "Love Song," Camille.
Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Crie attended the Eastern Boston Association meeting at the First Baptist Church, Winchester, Mass., Friday, meeting there Rev. B. P. Browne, pastor of the church, and his family. Mrs. Eda Knowlton of Rockland, director of religious education, and Rev. and Mrs. William H. Day of Winthrop, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Crie also called on friends and relatives in Brockton, Everett, Brookline, and Arlington, returning home Saturday, accompanied by Miss Ernestine Gethell and Miss Eda Butler who had been guests of Mrs. William Hutchings, Peabody, Mass., for two weeks.

The editorial rooms of The Courier-Gazette were enlivened yesterday by the presence of William H. Bissett, one of the new State Senators from Cumberland County. On the face of the returns "Bill" was defeated, but on inspection of the ballots showed that he had been elected by more than 100 majority. He cites it as something of a coincidence that he occupied seat No. 1 in the House for two terms, George L. St. Clair occupied seat No. 2 for two terms and Aldrich of Topsham occupied seat No. 3 for two terms—all of them having been elected members of the upper branch of the next Legislature. The session will consequently be a most congenial one for these three members. Senator-elect Bissett foresees an uneventful term, but is old enough in State politics to know that anything may happen. Mr. Bissett was accompanied on his visit yesterday by his wife. They were on their way to Vinthaven where the new senator formerly resided.

A new sanitary fish department has been added to Glendennin's Market. Telephone 993 for choice fish—adv.

Rockland City Band will conclude its pleasant and successful 1930 season with three days at Damariscotta Fair.

The Maine W.C.T.U. shows a large increase in membership. Rockland adds 16, Camden 3, Rockport 8 and Waldoboro 10.

A meeting of the managers of the Home for Aged Women will be held Wednesday at 2.30 at the home of the president, Mrs. Lester Sherman.

The October meeting of the "Men's Bible Class of the Littlefield Memorial Free Baptist Church will be held Thursday evening at 7.30. It is hoped to have a speaker.

William J. Sullivan was back in the conning tower of Perry's coal office yesterday having completed a fortnight's vacation, part of which was spent at Richardson Manor and the shores of Seven Tree Pond.

Tomorrow Dr. Kent goes to Boston to attend a clinic on the injection treatment of hemorrhoids. During this time the duties of health officer will be handled by the City Marshal. Dr. Kent will return to his office Monday.

The harmonica contest which has been in progress at Park Theatre wound up in a blaze of glory Saturday night, first prize going to Eddie Robinson. Billy Reed, who won first prize in the national contest in New York in 1915 and again in San Francisco in 1917, was master of ceremonies.

No more canes will be presented to those decrepit Forty Club members who survive until their 41st birthday according to a vote at yesterday's business session. This action is due to the advancement of the retirement age a decade. The club voted to cooperate fully in the opening of the airport and voted a letter of appreciation to the Curtis people for the services rendered Rockland by Capt. William Wincapaw.

Confusion caused by similarity of names may result in annoyance and this has been the lot of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Smith of North Main street. Mr. Smith was the steller and of R. H. S. back in '21 under the euphonious name of "Smoky," who has since been engaged in the building trades and is now employed in Bucksport. Mrs. Smith was Edith York, local stenographer and they maintain a home on North Main street. The point is that there is no rift in the life of family happiness of the Kenneth F. Smiths.

T. E. McNamara read the local news items about the peaches raised this year by Maurice Crozier, Glenview and George A. Wooster and M. B. Winslow of Limerock street. Meeting a Courier-Gazette reporter an expansive and decisive grin overspread his genial features. "Huh," he sniffed, "anybody would think those peaches had done something great. Listen, and I will tell you the story. The Meadows, from which he had that day plucked 272 peaches of the honest to goodness kind, without a tummy-ache in a carload.

Lively interest is being shown in the production of "The Old Peabody" and its companion play "Trouble on Tory Hill" to be presented at the Universalist Church Friday evening. No efforts are being spared to give the setting all the atmospheric effects associated with these plays of "ye olden days." Members of the cast and all those taking part in the entertainment or assisting in any way will be dressed in old-fashioned costumes. Mrs. E. F. Glover is acting as chairman, with Mrs. Hattie Davies coaching "The Old Peabody" and Joseph Emery "Trouble on Tory Hill."

Motoring on the Owl's Head road Sunday afternoon, John Hollister, a machinist on the U.S.C.G. Kickapoo, undertook to pass another car. His auto struck the gravelled shoulder of the highway, skidding to the ditch, and fetching up with great violence against a tree. With Mr. Hollister in his car were Austin H. Troy, commissary and navigating officer of the Kickapoo with Mrs. Troy, their three children and Mrs. Troy's sister. All of them were badly shaken and several had cuts and bruises. They were transferred to another car, and with Mr. Hollister at the wheel, went at once to Knox Hospital. Mrs. Troy and the oldest boy, "Sonny," were found to have sustained injuries serious enough to necessitate their temporary stay at the hospital, but the others escaped more luckily. The car was badly damaged.

The meeting of Golden Rod Chapter, O.E.S., Friday evening was known as "Ruth night," with all the former "Ruths" as special guests. Supper was served under the supervision of Mrs. Abbie Campbell. The table reserved for the "Ruths" was prettily decorated in yellow flowers, and each guest was presented with a Colonial bouquet. Decorations of yellow flowers were also used in the lodge room. The "Ruths" present were Mesdames Etta Sanborn, Hattie Higgins, Annie I. Flint, Georgia Small, Susie Campbell, Cora Smith, Elsie Moody, Mary Ladd, Grace Rollins, Ivy Chatto, Evelyn Peaslee, Doris Damon, Edna Melvin, Katharine St. Clair, Vivian Hewitt, Lillian McCurdy and Miss Pearl Borgerson. Mrs. Sanborn being the first "Ruth" of Golden Rod Chapter. Memorial services were held for Miss Mary Beaton and Mrs. Carrie Erickson.

Officials of Eastern Steamship Lines have extended the return time limit from Boston on their special excursion to Boston during American Legion Week, so that those taking advantage of the excursion rate may leave all ports in Maine on Oct. 3 or 4 and tickets will be good returning from Boston until Oct. 15. Previous return limit had been October 8th. Fares will be on the basis of one-way fare for the round trip. Excursion has been arranged so that participants will be in Boston on Monday, Oct. 6 when President Hoover makes his address there and they will also be able to witness the great American Legion Parade on Tuesday, Oct. 7th.

Work has begun in remodeling and decorating the interior of the large steel building on Tillson avenue owned by the Rockland Produce Co., where one of the newest 18-hole miniature golf courses will be installed. The course, known as the 1931 advanced model Gulliver Boulevard, is not only one of the most popular in the country today but one of the most expensive, having the finest equipment available. The promoters' intention is to give Rockland a course second to none in New England and a big program is being formulated for the opening night which will be announced in a few days. Burt Hoxie the well known writer on miniature golf for the Boston Post, recently in charge of the Greater Boston miniature golf tournaments will officiate at the opening.

An interesting development in Main street business circles was made known yesterday with the announcement that Louis W. Fickett has bought his associates' interest in the Maine Music Store and is now the sole proprietor of the business in Rockland. The concern was established in 1890 by L. F. Chase and John E. Leach, who sold the business in 1917 to L. W. Fickett and Charles B. Snow. For several years this company owned and operated a music store in Gardiner which was afterward sold and a business bought in Portland. The Portland store will continue under the direction of Mr. Snow, while Mr. Fickett will devote his entire time to the store on Main street, Rockland. Under Mr. Fickett's management the Maine Music Store has developed into one of the finest establishments of its kind in the State. His foresight and enterprise have been supplemented by active participation in local affairs and a very generous attitude on the part of the store toward such.

A NEED

Just as one expresses character in the way one lives and acts, so can you express character in the memorial you choose for the one you have loved. It involves far more than merely choosing a stone as one chooses a living room chair.

Its design and its construction can tell a lovely story. Its setting means much. And surely the fitness and quality of the stone must be considered. For this is a permanent expression—made for the ages.

We will gladly advise you on these questions and you will not be placed under obligation to us when you ask them.

A NEW "RACKET"
Many Chambers of Commerce are issuing this warning to householders: against the wiles of slick portrait salesmen. The photo-enlargement "racket" is described as follows:
"The game is simple. A smooth-tongued salesman from out-of-town offers a wonderful opportunity to have your favorite photo enlarged for a ridiculously small sum, as part of an advertising campaign. Or perhaps he will let you draw a 'lucky number,' which will entitle you to a 'free' enlargement. (The number drawn is always the 'lucky' one).
"In either case, when the salesman returns with the proof he will endeavor to sell a frame for the picture. High pressure tactics, embodying the last word in 'salesmanship' persuade many customers to pay exorbitant prices, more than covering the cost of the enlargement, for cheap, gaudy frames.
"However, should you insist upon your picture without a frame, the salesman departs and is seen no more. Lucky indeed are you if you can coax or threaten the company into sending the enlargement, or returning the original photo in good condition."

THE NEW YUKON MODEL

KELVINATOR

$159⁵⁰
F.O.B. FACTORY

A BRAND NEW ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

Central Maine Power Company

at any of  our stores

There IS something new under the sun

Examine this new Kelvinator Yukon Model closely. Here is genuine Kelvinator quality all the way through, even though the Yukon's price is far below the lowest at which it was ever possible to offer a Kelvinator before.

Now you can enjoy every convenience and benefit of quality electric refrigeration; you can have ice cubes always available; you can keep foods fresh and delicious indefinitely; you can have crisp salads and dainty frozen desserts any time.

FIVE CUBIC FEET OF FOOD STORAGE SPACE

This new Kelvinator is a big electric refrigerator. It gives you five cubic feet of interior space—over nine square feet of shelf room. It freezes 42 ice cubes (4 pounds of ice) at a time. Its cabinet is massive, with heavy table top and extra thick, tight-fitting door. The Temperature Selector gives you instant choice of five different freezing speeds. Exterior finish is a special white enamel, developed by Kelvinator, on rust-proof steel. The interior is finished in white porcelain. All corners are rounded. Fittings are heavy die-cast hardware, in Butler chrome finish.

In short, here is a real Kelvinator—at a price which makes its IMMEDIATE purchase not only possible, but easily practicable. It is here, awaiting your inspection. See it without delay.

Purchase of the New Yukon Model is made easy by Kelvinator's ReDisCo Monthly Budget Plan, providing for convenient monthly payments.

SAUNTERINGS

The melancholy days have come—
The saddest of the year;
A little late for silver hake,
But the smelts are biting here.
—Ballad of Bickmore Creek.

As the days get short and the mornings get frosty, I am reminded of the days long gone, when in the bureau drawer in my room in the old home at the Harbor there was an outfit consisting of one pair duck trousers (once white), one blue woolen, turtle-neck pull-on sweater and one soft felt hat, comfortable but disreputable. Donning these I would go down stairs and in the shed find a pair of rubber boots. Putting these on I would take down the bamboo fishing pole, get the basket, and thus with my full armor on sail forth.
Had John D. Rockefeller, Henry Ford or Jupiter Pluvius Morgan happened to get in my way, I would have said to them:

"On your way boys, on your way!
I am on my native heath, I am king of the fishing tribe, and I'm going down to the crick fishin' for smelts."

And then I would saunter down through the village, head up, look every man in the eye and tell him where to go, until I reached the crick. There I would catch my minnows, find a tin can, put them in it with some water, then along the bank down to Elmina's Ledge. The boys are ahead of me, already fishin'.
There's Freddie, Role, Ed and Edwin,
Pete, Cindy and some other boys.

"Hi, fellers! how they bitin'?"
I take another look. There is no one on the ledge. I rub my eyes and say myself, "Son, you will have to visit the optometrist; there must be something wrong with your eyes.
You're seeing things."

For a moment I had a vision of what I used to see on that ledge 50 years ago.

After fishing from the ledge awhile
I would saunter up the crick again and finish on the shore near the bridge. Standing there in the sunshine on an October day, blue sky above, breathing the pure air of my native State of Maine, I could well say with the poet Wordsworth:
Great God! I'd rather be A pagan suckled in a creed outworn,
So might I, standing on this pleasant lea,
Have glimpses that would make me less forlorn;
Have sight of Proteus rising from the sea,
Or hear old Triton blow his wreathed horn.

system soon suffers. Appetite lags.
Digestion slows up. You become head-mutton, and then chopped beef took its place. Otherwise, the ingredisame.

Insects Destroy Trees

There are two hundred thousand kinds of tree-destroying insects, and their attacks upon the trees are going on all the time.
It is estimated that the American Tree association these pests cause a loss of one hundred million dollars every year. Some experts are of the opinion the loss due to the ravages of insects is far greater than losses due to forest fires.

Help Nature Save Trees

Nature, to protect her trees, enlists birds. Hence protection of our feathered friends is a phase of forest protection, says the American Tree association. Certain insects prey upon others, protecting the trees. But man must take a hand in such warfare—a warfare that must be conducted constantly.

Seems More Like It

rent philosopher, "that what matters about a hat is not its shape, its newness or its material, but the way you wear it." There is something in this, but we are inclined to think that yet more depends on who wears the hat.—Providence Journal.

Ended War of 1812

On December 24, 1814, a treaty agreed to restore to the United States all the American property seized.

Criticisms

A person who cannot stand criticism, who is always on the self-defensive, is almost invariably the person who is intensely personal and who relates everything to himself, states a student of life in the Woman's Home Companion.

Farmland Possibilities

Before the days of synthetic feeding there are vast areas to be tapped. Brazil alone could support two-thirds of the present world population, and Africa could feed many millions more than the present inhabitants of the earth.

Pretty Scottish Custom

In the song "Comin' Through the Rye" reference is to the feeding of the River Rye. Custom established a toll of kisses to be exacted from ladies who were met in crossing the stream on the stepping stones.

HOW TO FEED 'EM

That Is the All Important Problem To Consider, Says
the Poultry Specialist

"It does not matter to me so much what you feed—the all-important question is 'how you feed it' and it is probably more important at this season of the year than at any other time," said H. L. Richardson, poultry extension specialist, University of Maine, in speaking to poultrymen over the radio recently. Continuing he said: "And don't get me wrong; I would not minimize the necessity of a good ration. I simply take this way of emphasizing the fact that good poultry rations are now so abundant that there is no excuse for any poultry-man feeding a poor one. The poultryman's big job is to learn how to use the material which the poultry feedman brings to him.

"Just now, or for the past few months, you have doubtless been concerned with bringing a crop of young pullets up to the laying house in such shape that they will give a good fall and early winter egg production. In connection with this I have just one bit of advice to give you—the pullets which come to the laying house in the fall ought to be in good physical condition. I mean they should be fat. They should be kept that way during the latter part of the growing season. Do not force to maturity by the feeding of a large amount of high protein ration.

To go back a little farther, it is generally conceded that up to broiler age a pullet may be fed two or three parts of a protein mash to one part of hard grain; that is, by weight.
This will give rapid growth up to that age. As soon as the pullets and cockerels are separated and as soon as the pullets are on the range this feed balance should be gradually shifted to a fifty-fifty ratio between the protein mash and the starchy fattening hard grain.

Then as the pullet approaches maturity she will naturally require and will eat much more of the hard grain if she is given an opportunity to do so. This will slow up the sexual maturity of the birds and have a tendency to postpone egg production until the bird gets good size and weight which brings her up to the laying house in the proper condition.

"From that time on what is your problem? This can be answered very briefly by saying that the feeder's job is to get enough feed into these birds so as to maintain a good rate of egg production and at the same time maintain their body weight without forcing the birds off their feed. They must be kept with a keen appetite and that after all is the real job which the feeder has on his hands.

"How can this be done? In a pen of say one hundred hens, leg band ten of them and once each week catch these ten birds and weigh them to see if they are losing weight. As long as they uphold their weight do not alter your feeding schedule. If you see Workingmen's families spend an average of $140 annually each for medical care, according to a statement by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Of the total spent for sickness each year, about 43 per cent goes for doctors' fees, 13 per cent for medicines and a similar sum for hospital fees, with operations costing 7 per cent. It is estimated that if sickness and accidents could be eliminated the money thus saved would be sufficient to provide $5,000 in life insurance for the family of each workingman.

MONTSWEAG "SQUARE MEALS"

Our Farm Bureau is known as Montsweag. As we are on the boundary line, it comprises members in both Sagadahoc and Lincoln Counties. We feel that we have had a successful year.

Thus far, we have served eight "Square Meals for Health." May first we served one to the Bowdoinham Quarterly Conference. We expected to feed 50 people and prepared a dinner for 60; then fed 102. It was a case of "The loaves and fishes," but with the aid of "a good brother," everyone was bountifully served, and seemed well pleased.

On May 17 a group of our members served a dinner to the men's Farm Bureau members living in Sagadahoc county. On June 6 it was my good fortune to attend the meeting of the training class at Damariscotta Mills subject was "Beverages." We had a very pleasant and profitable meeting and met many new friends.

The attitude of both men and women toward "Square Meals for Health" seems to be growing better each year and more women are trying them in their homes. As "Food Project" leader for our community, I wish to say that personally I have gotten a great deal out of all the meetings. It is an old saying, that we get out of anything what we put into it.

Study American Methods

The fact that America leads in scientific methods of life insurance is recognized by underwriters in other lands, according to the Paris representatives of an American research organization. The letter states that a correspondence course, written in the United States dealing with plans and methods of selling life insurance has been translated into French and now is being studied by students of insurance in Belgium, Switzerland, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Roumania, Algeria, Greece and Canada. It is believed that the adoption of American principles of life protection will become an important factor in world stability in the future.

Underwrite Pension System

The Waverley Press and the Wilunderwritten by a life insurance company for the benefit of their employes.

The pension provides for retirement at age of 65 with income, also for in-disability before age 65. Employees may purchase additional protection by regular monthly contributions.

Talkie Insurance

It is known that many motion picture producers have protected themselves against loss of the services of stars by covering the lives of the ac-rangements have been made for safeguarding exhibitors of talking pic-of shows through breakdown of talk-

THOMASTON

Mrs. Donald P. George and son Payson returned Saturday from a visit with friends in Portland.

The meeting of the Garden Club will be held with Mrs. Lavinia Elliot this evening at 7.30.

The week evening services at the Baptist Church will commence at 7 o'clock effective Oct. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Wilson of Portland spent the weekend with Miss Fortensie Wilson.

Next Sunday will be observed as Rally Day by the Baptist Church and Sunday school. A special program and graduation in the Sunday school will be held at 9.45.

The quarterly meeting of the Lincoln Association will meet in the West Rockport church today for all day and many sessions.

The annual inspection of Mayflower Temple, Pythian Sisters, will be held next Thursday evening.

Allen Reed and Florence Washburn, both of Ayer, Mass., were married at the Baptist parsonage Saturday evening by Rev. H. S. Kilborn. Mr. and Mrs. Reed are vacationing in this district.

Mrs. W. J. Whitney of Friendship is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Starrett.

The Woman's Missionary Conference of Eastern Maine will meet with the Baptist Church, Camden, Oct. 2 with morning and afternoon sessions.

William Lenfest who had employment in New Bedford through the summer, is at home again.

Leo La Course has moved from Green street to an apartment in the Peabody house on Main street.

Miss Alice Gates who has been the guest of Mrs. Carrie Watts for several days has returned to her home in Adrian, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Risteen and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Risteen arrived home Saturday from Quebec highly pleased with their trip.

Miss Georgia Ouellette who has been a guest of Mrs. Earl A. Starrett, left Monday for her home in Bangor.

John Hewett left Monday for Portland where he will join his wife and today they are leaving Portland for Montreal. Mr. Hewett is having a week's vacation from the Brackett drug store.

Rally Day will be observed at the Federated Church on Sunday next at 11 a. m. in the vestry of the Church. A program will be presented by the members of the Sunday School, and a cordial invitation is extended to all parents to be present.

The Bible Class of the Federated Church will meet this week at 7 o'clock instead of 7.30 as announced. The menu for the Harvest Supper to be served at the Methodist vestry Wednesday, Oct. 1, at 6 o'clock, will include corned beef, vegetables, Indian pudding, pies, doughnuts and coffee.

The funeral of Fred L. Post who died in the State prison Saturday was held this morning at Sawyer & Simmons' undertaking rooms. He was buried in the prison lot in the Thomaston cemetery.

Mrs. J. Edward Elliot and children are on a visit to her parents in Fancull, Mass.

W. P. Strong and family motored to Waterville Sunday.

Robert McLaughlin and Son began the launching Monday of the largest boat they have ever built. The boat was built in their shop on Thatcher street and will be hauled to the waterfront by way of Knox and Water streets. The boat is 63 feet long, 16 feet wide and 6 1/2 feet deep. It is of the class known as "fisherman." Has a carrying capacity of 35,000 to 40,000 pounds of fish on ice. Will be schooner rigged. It has an engine room, a forecastle and a fish hold. It has a 60 h. p. Fairbanks-Morse oil engine, and is equipped with electric lights and hoisting winch. It will carry a crew of seven men. The frame is of oak covered with hard pine; the deck and house tops are white pine; the boat is strongly fastened and the workmanship good. The owners are Capt. Manuel Rose and George Chase of the Atlantic Shell Fish Co. of New Bedford, Mass.

Walter Alfred Robertson

The community was saddened by the sudden death of Walter A. Robertson which occurred Sunday morning. Mr. Robertson was born in Rockland, April 22, 1905, son of William J. and Harriet (Keating) Robertson, but had lived the greater part of his life in Thomaston where he obtained his education in the public schools. He was a young man of marked ability and pleasing personality, making friends with all who came his way, as was indicated by the many and beautiful floral offerings. For the past five years he has assisted his father in conducting a thriving lumber business in this town. He married Helen M. Doherty of Rockland. To them three children were born. His interest was in his family and home, made evident by his untiring effort to provide them with the beautiful and comfortable home where they had lived together for a year and a half. He was a member of St. James Catholic Church at which a very impressive Requiem High Mass was celebrated Wednesday morning by Rev. Fr. O'Garra. He leaves to mourn his loss a widow, one daughter, Dorothy, two sons Walter and William; his parents, two sisters Rebecca Robertson of Thomaston, Mrs. C. J. Trask of Swan's Island and a brother, Dr. W. LeRoy Robertson of Albany, Oregon. The interment was in St. James cemetery.

Rockport

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Powers, daughter Maxine and grandson Philip of Gardiner were Sunday callers on Mr. and Mrs. Leslie C. Deane.

The Baptist Ladies' Sewing Circle will hold an all-day session Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. E. Whitney.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Salisbury, Mrs. Edie Salisbury and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Champney spent the weekend as guests of relatives in Portland.

A reception to which the public is invited, will be held at the Baptist Church Friday evening for Rev. and Mrs. P. C. Hughes who are leaving next week to make their home in Boston where Mr. Hughes will become assistant pastor at the Ruggles Street Baptist Church.

Much interest is being manifested by the townspeople in the recent real estate transactions which have taken place and which, undoubtedly, mean that Rockport's waterfront will soon become one of the most beautiful spots on the Maine Coast. The latest deal reported in the sale of practically 30 acres of property from Mrs. Henry of Philadelphia, and Beauchamp Point to Col. Arthur Pollon, U.S.A., and Mrs. Pollon of New York. This land is on the western side of Rockport harbor, and includes the site of the former H. L. Shepherd cottage. It is expected that in the near future the Pollons will erect a very attractive summer home. Mrs. Pollon is the daughter of the late W. J. Curtis, a summer resident of Camden for a number of years.

The attractive home of Miss Marion Weidman was the scene of a very successful card party Friday afternoon given under the auspices of the Library Building Association. A large number of tables were in play and the financial results were satisfactory. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Leola Mann, chairman, Mrs. Mae Spear, Mrs. Annie Spear, Mrs. Linthea Lane and Mrs. Amy Miller. The kindness of Miss Weidman in opening her home for this event was certainly appreciated by the committee.

SOUTH HOPE

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Taylor have returned from Wiscasset, N. H., where they have been visiting Mr. Taylor's daughter, Mrs. A. J. Simmons.

A number from here went deep sea fishing one day last week, but not a very big catch is reported.

Mrs. C. B. Taylor spent the weekend in Rockland, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bisbee.

Crosby Hobbs of Camden was a recent caller at W. A. Mink's.

At the present writing the flower garden at W. A. Mink's is a thing of beauty. Jack Frost hasn't visited it and there you will see quantities of cosmos, asters, snapdragons, pansies, petunias, roses, nasturtiums, sunflowers and many others in full bloom. This garden was planned and cared for during the summer by Mrs. W. C. Dart of Edgewood, R. I., and the writer wishes very much she could see it at its best.

No school after Tuesday last week. Teachers' convention and Union Fair gave a vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. George Teague of Warren were recent callers at Evelyn Vining's.

Mrs. Benjamin Bisbee of Rockland was a visitor at C. E. Taylor's Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury Leimond have returned from a trip to Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Simmons of Wiscasset, N. H., are guests of W. L. Taylor a few days the past week.

Continuous service of steaks and chops and supper specials are now featured at Mrs. Thurlow's. The luncheon idea in connection with the ice cream parlors has met with local favor.

A new sanitary fish department has been added to Glendinning's Market. Telephone 993 for choice fish—adv.

Breathe Deeply

A good circulation of air means a good circulation of blood. It means better nerves, better energies and better health, so when you resolve to take at least ten deep breaths every day, filling your lungs to the very bottom, you are forming a resolution that is going to mean a good deal to your health.

The constellations of the Zodiac are: Aries, the ram; Taurus, the bull; Gemini, the twins; Cancer, the crab; Leo, the lion; Virgo, the virgin; Libra, the balance; Scorpio, the scorpion; Sagittarius, the archer; Capricorn, the goat; Aquarius, the water bearer; Pisces, the fishes.

Serious Thing, Love

Life is a love affair. Young people in love are preparing to continue love affairs in the next generation. This love we laugh and weep about is the most serious thing in the world; we should give it all the intelligence we can command.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Family Tree a Galloway

The British colony of arms says that fewer persons these days are tracing their ancestry. They have probably learned from the experience of others that when it gets back to a certain distance it isn't so hot.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Take Time to Relax

A tightening of the muscles and highly keyed-up state of nerves result from the rush and hurry of this modern age. Try to practice relaxing during the day. Just let yourself slump in the chair for five minutes. It will refresh you a lot.

Now You Know

A horse and buggy is an oil can, and an oil can is a foul ball, and a foul ball is a false alarm, and a false alarm is a boy friend who thinks he has no right to kiss her unless she is under the mistletoe.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Relief From Curse of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for many a misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 5¢ today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Charles W. Sheldon.

He Understood the New Teacher

By NORA TAYLOR

"NEXT station's Pennelon, ma'am."

Marion Caruthers looked up, nodded to the porter, quickly stuffed the magazine she was reading into her grip and put on her coat and hat. A moment later she was standing on the platform watching the train pull out.

"Miss Caruthers?" said a pleasant voice, and Marion saw before her a middle-aged man with a bald head.

"I'm Thompson, the principal of the school where you're going to teach."

"How nice of you to meet me," she said. "I'm awfully glad you're the principal, because I know I'll like you."

"You're very young, Miss Caruthers," he mused, glancing up and down her trim little figure.

"Yes, this is my first school," she admitted.

"I hope you'll like it; we do. We'll just get home in time for dinner," he continued.

"Dinner?" she gasped. "Why, up home we always have dinner at six o'clock!"

"We're just ordinary folks down here. Guess you'll have to make allowances."

Mrs. Thompson met Marion at the door and gave her a warm welcome.

"I'm glad to see you, dear. Are you very tired? How do you like our country? Dinner's just ready. I'll show you your room so you can take off your things."

When Mrs. Thompson came back down stairs she and her husband had hurried word in the hall.

"Isn't she attractive?" said Mrs. Thompson.

"What lovely eyes and such a quick infectious smile."

"Yes, but I'm afraid she's too young to manage children in a country high school. Had absolutely no experience."

The newcomers were cut short by the entrance of Marion and they hurried into the dining room.

"Biscuits!" said Marion quizzically at the dinner table. "Up North we have bread—bake Wednesdays and Saturdays."

"In my country we have none," said the professor quietly.

"And you serve string beans with pork," Marion went on in amazement. "I never saw that before."

By the time the meal was over Mrs. Thompson felt that her well-cooked dinner had fallen short of the mark.

The following day school began and Marion was busy all the rest of the week getting things organized in her classroom.

At the first parent-teachers' meeting she nearly had an open tilt with one or two of the mothers. She just could not make them see. And, worst of all, she had a feeling that they did not understand her. There was only one person in Pannellon who did and he was John Hamilton, the Latin professor.

Fall slipped into winter and the students of Pannellon county high school were known as "Uncle George's" for the holidays. Professor Hamilton's mother had invited her over for dinner, after which they had gone on a straw ride and had supper at a distant inn. It was a jolly crowd. Then the two daughters came and Marion had made a decided hit each night. Still she did not feel that she was one of them. There was always a slight coolness about these people that was apt to freeze suddenly right in the middle of a conversation, and without a moment's warning.

Among the immediate relatives attending the services were Mrs. E. C. Boody, Jr., of Waterville and Rockland, Mrs. F. A. Meeserve of Waterville, W. W. Morse of Portland, L. E. McRae and Lloyd Winberg of Rockland, Mrs. Hattie Kent and Mrs. Phoebe Kent of Swan's Island.

GEORGE A. SPRAGUE

Funeral services for the late George A. Sprague who died suddenly at his home in Allston, Mass., Sept. 21, were held last Wednesday morning at the Glendale Baptist Church, Everett, Mass. Rev. George Dailey, an everet of the deceased, officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. W. F. Randall, pastor of the church. "Rock of Ages" and "Crossing the Bar" were sung by the church soloists. The bearers were Thomas W. Brooks, Rodney Brooks, Oliver Bowley and Dr. G. W. Dickenson, of Boston, and L. E. McRae and Lloyd Winberg of Rockland. Interment was made in the Woodlawn Cemetery at Everett. The beautiful floral tributes included get pieces from Massachusetts business firms, the Masons, etc.

George A. Sprague was born in Rockland Aug. 28, 1860, the son of Phoebe and David Sprague of Swan's Island. He was married in 1885 to Lucy Stinson of Swan's Island who died seven years ago. Two daughters survive—Mrs. H. H. MacDonald of Allston, Mass., and Mrs. Willard Stratton of Reading, Mass.

Mr. Sprague was in the lobster business in Rockland for many years under the name of St. Clair & Sprague, and in recent years carrying on the same business in Lynn, Mass., the firm name being Brooks & Sprague. He was a member of Aurora Lodge of Rockland, and held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. He was particularly fond of children and young people, and to them all he was known as "Uncle George." He was respected by all for his integrity of character and kindly spirit.

Among other immediate relatives surviving is a sister, Mrs. Hattie Kent of Swan's Island.

Among the local relatives attending the services were Mrs. E. C. Boody, Jr., of Waterville and Rockland, Mrs. F. A. Meeserve of Waterville, W. W. Morse of Portland, L. E. McRae and Lloyd Winberg of Rockland, Mrs. Hattie Kent and Mrs. Phoebe Kent of Swan's Island.

Took It At Middle Age

"I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at Change of Life. Now I still take it every spring and fall and it keeps me in good health. I am able to take care of an eight-room house and garden, at the age of 71 years. I will praise the Vegetable Compound wherever I go for it is a wonderful medicine for women. They should give it a good trial by taking about five bottles."—Mrs. Clara Riley, 2100 Paxton and 4th Avenue, Sioux City, Iowa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

The annual reunion of the Snow-dale family was held Sunday at the home of Arthur Dennison, South Thomaston, with 35 present. A New England boiled dinner, augmented by dandelion greens and Linnie's famous blueberry pudding, satisfied the appetites whetted by the bracing September weather. The oldest member present was Mrs. Melvina Crawford who unquestionably enjoyed the occasion as much as anyone else.

SCHOOL AND COLLEGE

What Knox County Students Are Doing In Institutions of Higher Education

The freshman class at Bowdoin will include between 150 and 175 boys, according to indications at the opening. Up to the close of registration Wednesday afternoon 146 freshmen had been admitted and registered, while the cases of 32 other candidates for admission to the class were being reviewed by the faculty committee on admissions. At least 33 of the freshmen are Maine boys. Among them are the following Knox County students, Norman H. Bowley, Camden; Barrett Clark, Thomaston; and Kennedy Crane, Jr., and William Rounds, Rockland.

The freshman class at Bates numbers 195 students, the number being about evenly divided between Maine students, and those from outside the State. The list includes the following students from this section: Celeste Josephine Carver, Vinalhaven; Marceline Barbara Conley, Camden; Lester Paul Gross, Jefferson.

Bridgton Academy recently celebrated "stunt night." The chorus was led by Mary Lawry of Rockland.

The enrollment at the University of Maine for the fall semester, is the largest ever with a grand total of 1521, just 11 above the record set last year. All the classes gained over last season's total with the exception of the junior class which has lost 23 from its roll. The freshman class has swelled from 447 at the beginning of freshman week to 472.

SPEECH READERS

Local Club Opens Season Friday—Weekly Lessons a Feature

The opening meeting of the Speech Readers' Club will be held Friday afternoon in the club room at 2.30. A special feature this year will be the course of weekly lessons in speech reading. Miss Eliza Hamnegan of Portland will have charge of these classes, and will also give private lessons. Miss Hamnegan is a graduate of the New England School of Speech Reading, and for five years has taught speech reading in the Evening School in Portland, as well as conducting private classes.

The club, organized a year ago, has won much favorable comment. It has three aims: To create a social center for the hard of hearing; to promote the study of speech reading; to work for the prevention of deafness in children.

The meetings have been a source of much enjoyment to the members. Several picnics and parties have been held during the summer season when the regular weekly meetings were discontinued until fall.

Speech reading is the foundation on which the club is built, and it is recognized as one of the vital factors in the rehabilitation of the hard of hearing. There are approximately 3,000,000 hard of hearing children in the United States alone. Rockland is one of the 158 cities which has used the No. 4-A audiometer for testing the hearing of children in the schools. There are 88 organizations for the hard of hearing in the United States and Canada. The local club is made up of active members (hard of hearing adults) and associate members (those who are interested in the work), and is affiliated with the American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing. The present officers are: President, Mrs. Freeman F. Brown; vice president, Miss Hope Greenhalgh; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Hewitt; recording secretary, Miss Annie Prye; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. C. Hill. The meetings are conducted in a very efficient manner, and all those interested in the work are invited to attend.

Opportunity Class meets Thursday evening with Mrs. J. D. Mattaill, 202 Main street. Election of officers will take place.

HIS FAREWELL TOUR

Sergt. George J. Woods, formerly Stationed Here is Retiring From National Guard

A United States soldier, 30 years, Technical Sergt. George J. Woods of South Portland, C.A.C. DEML, master sergeant instructor, of the 240th Coast Artillery, Maine National Guards ten years, will retire Oct. 15 with the official retirement effective Oct. 31.

In anticipation of the severing of his official relations with the 240th Sergeant Woods this week is making a farewell tour of the various 240th batteries in different sections of the State. He visited the Camden battery last night, will visit the Rockland battery tonight and the Thomaston battery Wednesday night and will return to Portland the following night to pay his farewell respects to local batteries.

Sergeant Woods is widely known among Maine National Guardsmen and has played a prominent part in local military activities. He is a member of the Ralph D. Caldwell Post and has served on many important committees for that Post. An overseas veteran, Sergeant Woods holds a commission as first lieutenant in the Quartermaster Corps Reserves. He enlisted in Boston, Oct. 16, 1900 and has been stationed in this district ten years.

MRS. CLARA E. SHUTE

The funeral of Clara E. widow of Capt. Thomas L. Shute, was held at the home of her son, Alfred E. Shute, 1400 Main street, at 10 o'clock, with Rev. William Vaughan officiating. Her sons, Alfred E. Shute of Belfast and Leon T. Shute of Waltham, Mass., and sons-in-law, Everett Smith of Waltham, Mass., and George Hubbard of Bangor, were bearers.

The remains arrived Sept. 17, from Waltham, Mass., where she died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Everett Smith. Mrs. Shute was born in Rockland 81 years ago, the daughter of John and Harriet (Wooster) Perry. Her early life was spent in that city. Feb. 1, 1882, she married Capt. Shute and for many years their home was in Belfast. Capt. Shute was for many years with the Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc.

VINALHAVEN

There will be a benefit supper Thursday, 5 to 6 o'clock, at the Saints Church for Alvah Colburn. Rally Day was observed Sunday at the church with good attendance. Basket dinner was served.

PEBBLE IN A POOL

Sargon Users Increase In Like Manner—Over Five Million Approved Remedy

(By Richard L. Simms)

Atlanta, Ga.—More like a tale from the Arabian Nights of old than a record of modern business achievement reads the story of the marvelous growth and development of Sargon, the New Scientific Compound which has become the sensation of the drug trade throughout the United States, Canada and other countries.

The old illustration of the pebble dropped into the pool best describes the phenomenal and unprecedented demand and its fame is rapidly spreading over the entire American Continent like a great tidal wave. Recently compiled figures reveal that approximately 15,000 men and women are marching into the drug stores daily for Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills, the marvelous new treatment that is restoring health to countless thousands by new and remarkable methods undreamed of only a few years ago.

Already more than 5,000,000 suffering men and women have put it to the test and have told other millions what it has done for them.

Marching in regulation U. S. Army fashion—single file—this vast army of Sargon users would reach from New York to San Francisco and at the present rate of sale—would, in a few years, encircle the globe. The only explanation of Sargon's triumph in the Medical World is Sargon's true worth. Back of its triumph in the drug stores is its triumph in the homes and it is the grateful endorsements of its millions of users that has made it the most widely talked of medicine in the world today.

Sargon is extensively advertised. It is true, but no preparation, no matter how extensively advertised, could possibly meet with such phenomenal success unless it possessed absolute merit and extraordinary powers as a medicine.

There can be but one possible explanation for Sargon's amazing success and it can be told in one word—MERIT!

Sargon may be obtained in Rockland at The Corner Drug Store, Inc.—adv.

KNOX ACADEMY MUSEUM

We have recently received, as a gift from G. W. Blethen, a very fine collection of polished granites of Maine and other states, in the form of balls, cubes, discs and slabs. This addition to our already fair-sized collection of Maine building and ornamental stones, gives us the largest and finest collection in the State of polished granites. But we hope, eventually, to have a sample of every granite, slate and marble quarry in Maine. The cataloguing of our mineral collection is steadily progressing; 425 specimens thus far catalogued and labeled, as many more to follow.

STRAND THEATRE

"Bride of the Regiment," one of the most beautiful picture ever screened, will play at Strand Theatre Wednesday-Thursday. It is an all-technicolor production made by First National and based on the German operetta, "The Lady in Ermine." The novel beauty of the picture lies in its exquisite settings and costumes which represent the 1830 period in Northern Italy when that territory was under Austria's rule. Much of the film's cost was due to the construction of elaborate settings, including a castle of the period.—adv.

PARK THEATRE

An exceptionally fine bill of entertainment is to be offered Thursday. On the screen the feature is a fresh, sparkling comedy—"He Knew Women," with Lowell Sherman and Alice Joyce. On the stage the attractions are: The Pickfords in "Fun in a Restaurant"; Casino in a musical offering supreme; Dobbs, Clark and Ray in a comedy variety act, "Just Hokus"; Sam Kent in "Nonsense," a comedy singing and talking act. The feature act on the bill is the Moore Revue, consisting of two men and three women, in a singing and dancing number. The act is billed as "The Snappy Steppers," and promises to be one of the outstanding acts that has been presented to date. The attraction playing today and tomorrow is "All Quiet on the Western Front," which is upholding everything that had been promised of it.—adv.

Tuberculosis Rate Declines

The death rate from tuberculosis in California has dropped from 189 per 100,000 in 1915 to less than 107 in 1929, as a result of a program of prevention and cure carried on in that period. The state has expended three million dollars to aid in caring for patients.

Increases Business 88 Per Cent

The silver lining to the cloud of sales difficulties is clearly seen by Gerald A. Eubanks, a life underwriter of New York City. Despite the depression which has caused many difficulties, he has built the business of his agency to a volume which is 88 per cent ahead of last year.
