Since county agent work in Hancock county is supported by the General Education Board of New York, it will be of interest to the farmers of the county to know that Dr. Wallace A. Buttrick, president of the board, and Dr. Rose, a member of the board, accompanied by P. W. Monahan, assistant State county agent leader, recently visited the county and expressed themselves as much pleased with the way things are going. —Hancock County Farm Bureau News.

This week the Ellsworth merchants are making a special effort to sell War Savings stamps, and to induce everyone to pledge themselves to buy as many as possible during the remainder of the year. The Ellsworth Soldier Boys' club has generously volunteered to sell stamps at its rooms both afternoon and evening for the remainder of this week. Friday and Saturday will be tag days, when everyone who buys a stamp will be tagged. Everyone should be able to lend the government the price of one War Savings stamp, which is $4.20 this week, and for which they will receive $5 in 1923.

The Baptist Sunday school will have a picnic Saturday, Sept. 14, at Contention Cove, leaving the Baptist church at 8.30 a. m. A hayrack will take children of the school under fifteen years free, and these over for 25 cents the round trip. Automobiles will be provided for all those who wish to go, for 75 cents. Those who wish may find their own conveyance. If the weather is unfavorable, the picnic will be postponed.

H. B. Moor and Martin L. Adams have been chosen as delegates from the Ellsworth board of trade, to the State board meeting at Bar Harbor Sept. 24 and 25. C. L. Morang and George P. Smith are alternates. It is expected that many other members from here will go, and the management at Bar Harbor desires an estimate of the number, in order that proper arrangement can be made for the banquet. All who intend to go are requested to notify the secretary of the Ellsworth board, O. W. Tapley.

Staples & Allen, who have purchased the Gaspar lumber mill on Patten pond stream, with flowage rights, also large tracts of timberland west of Patten pond, are planning operations on an extensive scale. The dam at the mill is being repaired, and improvements made on the mill. Two staves saws are to be added to the mill equipment. The dam at the foot of Lower Patten pond is also to be thoroughly repaired, and a dam on the brook between the upper and lower ponds, for water storage purposes, is contemplated.

The annual race of the Union River yacht club will be held next Monday, weather permitting. The race is called for 11 a. m., and the stake-boat will be at Contention Cove. The course will be a triangular one of twelve to fifteen miles. It is expected there will be five starters. Interest, of course, centers in the race between Rev. R. B. Mathews' sloop Sultan and Dr. E. H. Baker's Tiger. These sloops are well matched, and the rivalry between them is intense, but friendly and sportsmanlike. With fair weather and a good breeze, an interesting race is looked for, and it is probable that many will go from Ellsworth to see it.

Fifty-six descendants of John Fullerton one of the early settlers of Ellsworth, met at the grange hall, Bayside, Saturday, for their annual reunion. After dinner, a pleasant social hour, and an interesting program, the business meeting was held. Officers elected: President, A. E. Jones; vice-president, Capt. E. L. Fullerton; secretary, Mrs. Carrie Pratt; treasurer, Mrs. Delia Clough. It was decided to meet at the same place the first Saturday in September, 1919. All were pleased to have present Capt. E. L. Fullerton and wife from Reading, Mass., the oldest member of the Fullerton family. Others from out of town were A. E. Jones, South Brewer; Clarence Hodgkins and five children, Holden; Harry Alley, Trenton.

The Hancock county Red Cross has received an allotment of 6,800 front line packets in addition to over 1,000 hospital and refugee garments, the materials for which have been distributed to the several branches and auxiliaries and the Ellsworth work room. From information received from the district headquarters at Boston, it is evident that the chapter from now on will receive all the work it is financially able to take, excepting, however, in the line of knitted goods, as the amount of yarn available after supplying the army needs will be limited. Miss Helen Shute has been engaged as assistant to the executive officers of the chapter, and is stationed at the secretary's office in the postoffice building. The office will be open daily from 8-12 and 1-5. Telephone connection. The secretary or the assistant may be reached at any time during these hours in any matters pertaining to the Red Cross, and all are cordially welcome.

Escaped Convict Captured.
Sheriff Ward W. Wescott made an important capture last Thursday night, when he arrested an escaped convict from New Hampshire.

Sheriff Wescott was notified two weeks ago that Charles Harris, alias Percy Higgins, an old offender, serving an eight-year sentence for breaking, entering and larceny in the night time, had escaped from the New Hampshire state prison. He learned that the man had a mother living at East Oriand, and had a sharp watch kept on the place.

Thursday evening the man showed up. He was much surprised when Sheriff Wescott and Deputy Sheriff Patten appeared, and put up a bold bluff, but it didn't work. He was promptly lodged in the county jail, and Saturday the officers from New Hampshire arrived with the necessary papers to take him back to the state prison.

Fire At Bucksport.
Fire threatened the business section of Bucksport last night when the barn of Albert Eldridge on Central street, surrounded by many frame buildings, caught fire. In the high wind sparks were carried long distances, and started several small fires, and only good work by the firemen and close watch by property owners prevented a conflagration.

The fire spread from the barn to the house of Mr. Eldridge, which was practically destroyed; also a small dwelling occupied by Douglass Bridges and John Bolan, and the barn of Stephen Bennett. The loss is estimated at $7,500.

MR. PETERS HOME.
Arrived this Morning From Trip to the Fighting Front.
Congressman John A. Peters arrived home this morning from his official trip abroad with other members of the House Naval Affairs committee. He regrets his inability to reach home for election day.

He left Brest on an army transport on August 30, expecting to go to a North Atlantic port and reach home before election day. A few days off the American coast, the ship received orders by wireless to change her course, presumably on account of the presence of submarines, and instead of a North Atlantic port, Mr. Peters found himself in a southern port on Sunday, and unable to reach here before to-day.

Speaking of his trip, Mr. Peters said the party visited the principal naval establishments in Scotland, Ireland, England, France and Italy. "We visited the fighting front at three points in France and one in Italy. Everywhere we were received with the greatest cordiality, and were the guests of the different governments where we travelled, and were furnished by them with every facility for observing our own and their army operations.

"I saw a good many of our boys at the front and on the way to the front, and was struck by their good spirits, good health, and their eagerness to do business with the Germans. They have found out after contact with the Germans that they are superior to them, man for man, and that has given them wonderful morale.

"Our army, and the future accessions to it, is looked upon as the saviour of the situation. The French, especially, are tremendously grateful and enthusiastic. All say we saved Paris, and now regard the danger as over.

"It is just a question of how long it will take to drive back and defeat the German army. There cannot be any victory until we do. A peace by negotiation with the Germans wouldn't be worth a scrap of paper. The only peace we want is one where we dictate the terms, and tell them to take it or leave it."

Commenting on the election, Congressman Peters said he was naturally much gratified at the result, personally, because of the splendid endorsement he had received from the people of the third district, when he was not able to be here to take part in the campaign. "I believe the election in Maine as a whole, indicates the strong patriotic feeling of the State."

Congressman Peters expects to be at home for a few days, but business may summon him back to Washington at any moment.

FOLLOWED BROTHER.
Montelle W. Abbott, Formerly of Ellsworth, Ends His Life.
Friends in Ellsworth were shocked to learn of the death by suicide some time Saturday night of Montelle W. Abbott, for several years a resident of Ellsworth, where he was employed in the Hancock county savings bank. Mr. Abbott's body was found in Turtle Head brook at East Hampden. He had shot himself in the temple with a revolver.

His death followed by just a week that of his brother, Prof. Herbert L. Abbott, who shot himself at the home of his sister in Bucksport. Mental depression caused by his brother's death and his own illness is the cause attributed for the suicide. In his pocket was found a letter showing that he had recently been in correspondence with a sanitarium for the treatment of nervous diseases.

Mr. Abbott was a son of the late Capt. George W. Abbott of Bucksport. He studied law, and was admitted to the Hancock county bar some years ago, but had soon afterward gone into the savings bank in Ellsworth, and had not practiced law to any extent. He was of genial disposition, and had many friends here.

His father died within the past year, leaving an estate valued at $50,000, to be equally divided between the three children, of whom one sister, Miss Blanche Abbott of Bucksport, is now the only one left.

HOUSEHOLDERS NOW REQUIRED TO USE 20 PC. SUBSTITUTES

"Fifty-Fifty" Rule Withdrawn and Replaced by Universal Victory Loaf - Wheat Conservation Urged.

Orono, Maine, Sept. 11.—The "Fifty-fifty" regulation of the Food Administration has been abolished and householders are now required to use only 20 per cent wheat flour substitutes.

On September 1st, the "Fifty-fifty" rule was withdrawn and in its place retailers are required to sell one pound of wheat flour substitute to four pounds of wheat flour.

Bakers' bread will contain four pounds of wheat flour to one pound of substitutes. This is exactly the same as the housewife's bread.

The recent careful survey by the Food Administrators of the United States, France, England and Italy of the food resources of the 220,000,000 people fighting against Germany shows that, to maintain enough supplies and necessary reserves against disaster, there must be maintained in all countries a conservation of wheat flour during the coming year.

It has been agreed that the wheat bread of the Allies shall contain 20 per cent of other grains than wheat, and it is only just that we should bear our share in this saving and that our bread at least should be universal with those who are suffering more greatly from the war than ourselves.

Provisions have been made by the Food Administration of this country for the preparation and marketing by the manufacturing and distributing trades of the country of a mixed flour complying with the international policy, which will be available for purchase by the householder.

Decrease in Garbage.

Food conservation measures which have enabled this country to save and export 141,000,000 bushels of wheat in the past year also have been responsible for decreased garbage collections, indicating that the housewife has observed the Food Administration's injunction to "put less into the garbage pail."

A statistical report covering important American cities has just been issued by the Food Administration for the year ending May 1st last. The amount of garbage collected in eighty-one cities was 10 per cent less than for the same period of the year previous. In fifteen cities there were increased garbage collections, due primarily to increased populations where war industries have sprung up or near which contentions have been established.

Many cities have been awakened to the importance of garbage utilization and there are instances where municipalities have taken over the garbage collection formerly handled by private concerns. Instead of paying large sums to contractors for disposal of city refuse they are saving this money by operating municipal reduction plants which are turning out large quantities of garbage grease.

The grease extraction from garbage has fallen off about 30 per cent in the period under consideration, according to the figures, which nevertheless indicate a material saving of fats from the decreased amount of garbage that has been collected. In other words there has been less garbage and even less grease, but what grease there was has not been allowed to go to waste, but has been recovered to a higher percentage than formerly.

The Food Administration is heartily encouraging the utilization of garbage either through reduction plants for the reclamation of materials from which war necessities are made or as hog feed. In either case it is necessary to keep garbage free from foreign materials—paper, glass, crockery, tin cans, etc., so the maximum value can be derived from minimum expense and labor.

Division of the Spoils.

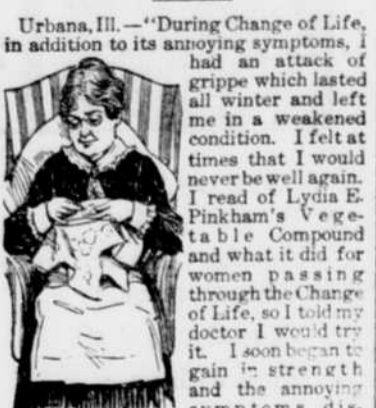

The purpose of the Food Administration in regard to the present sugar shortage is two-fold; namely, to stabilize the cost to the consumer and to equalize the distribution, both here and abroad.

The Sugar Equalization Board, recently created by the Food Administration and approved by the President, hopes by a re-adjustment in production cost and transportation rates to keep the price down to a fair level.

Due to increased cost in over-seas transportation as well as on our own railways and to a general increase in the cost of production, the price of sugar is higher than in normal times, but the creation of this board will, it is hoped, keep it down to the lowest possible level.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Need Help to Pass the Crisis Safely—Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Can be Relied Upon.

Urbana, Ill.—"During Change of Life, in addition to its annoying symptoms, I had an attack of grippe which lasted all winter and left me in a weakened condition. I felt at times that I would never be well again. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it did for women passing through the Change of Life, so I told my doctor I would try it. I soon began to gain in strength and the annoying symptoms disappeared and your Vegetable Compound has made me a well, strong woman so I do all my own housework. I cannot recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly to women passing through the Change of Life."—Mrs. FRANK HENSON, 1316 S. Orchard St., Urbana, Ill.

Women who suffer from nervousness, "heat flashes," backache, headaches and "the blues" should try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mutual Benefit Column. EDITED BY "AUNT MADGE". Its Motto: "Helpful and Helpful." The purposes of this column are succinctly stated in the title and motto—it is for the mutual benefit, and aims to be helpful and helpful living for the common good, it is for the common use—a public servant, a purveyor of information and suggestion, a medium for the interchange of ideas. It is this capacity of communications, and its success depends largely on the support given it in this respect. Communications must be signed, but the name of writer will not be printed except by permission. Communications will be subject to approval or rejection by the editor of the column, but none will be rejected without good reason. Address all communications to THE AMERICAN, Ellsworth, Me.

The following poem was printed in the Bar Harbor Times of August 17. The writer has recently become a member of our M. B. family, and I am sure these touching lines will find a response in the hearts of many of our number, and thus another bond of sympathy will be established:

Written by Mrs. Agnes Milliken after receiving a cablegram from her son, Sergeant Allan W. Milliken, who was recently gassed in France. Two stars g'ram out from their field of white, 'neath the sheltering boughs of the old, old tree. And each of these stars has a separate name in this old old anxious heart of mine. The upper star's for the lad in France. And the one beneath for the boy in camp. And when 'neath its waving tules I sit Each star shines out like a lighted lamp. O Lord, in Thy tender and infinite love, To Thee, with a chastened sorrowing heart, I come to ask that no golden trace May sever my bright blue stars apart. O upper star, oh, laddie in France, Is it my tears or the western sun? But right through the points of dark, dark blue, A golden thread all seems to run. Oh, God, oh, country, you've taken from me The brightest stars in my earthly crown. I only ask that you give them back To their mother's arms all safe and sound. They were only loaned in your hour of need, I could not give them, nay, nay, nay, So if you take them, O Lord, take me Before the dawn of that dreaded day.

We are all indebted to Esther for her fine report of the reunion. We only wish many more could have been with us that day. A postscript to Esther's report adds the names of Miss Edith Rice of Lamoine and Mr. Cary of Bucksport, and she could have said with truth we had a quartette of sisters present. The letter which follows you will find intensely interesting, thanks to "Wanderer" for it.

Dear Aunt Madge: Through the kindness of one of our summer residents I was invited to go to Outer Long Island Aug. 22, on the mission boat Sunbeam. The boat is large and commodious, and our company of forty people found plenty of room on deck to sit and chat or run about as we felt inclined. Below deck there were a nice little cabin and stateroom for Mr. MacDonald, and beyond that a kitchen, engine room, and quarters for the sailors. The boat has electric lights and steam heat, and it is the third boat Mr. MacDonald has had since he began his work among the islands. The first boat cost $500, while this one cost $6,000, so one can see how the mission work has grown and expanded under Mr. MacDonald's fostering care and the financial help given him by his friends among the summer people at Bar Harbor and other towns along the coast of Maine.

They were having their annual church fair at the island the day we went down, and when we arrived just before noon all were in gala attire and were gathered at the attractive little church where they hold their entertainments, as they have so public hall. The church was gaily decorated with flags and ferns, and the dining tables were most attractive, with their glistening white cloths and gay bowers of flowers.

We were all ravenously hungry after our voyage, but we looked first at the display of fancy articles that were arranged on small tables at the left of the entrance hall. There were beautiful crocheted centerpieces and doilies, flit lace yokes and embroidered handkerchiefs. The work was all done on the island and it was beautifully done, too. They had knitting bags of gay cretonne, aprons in many designs and colors and many other articles that were tempting and useful, but I think the luncheon was the best of all. We had creamy lobster stew, with such a crisp lettuce and egg sandwiches, truly sugar cake, cream and chocolate pie, and lastly, ice cream, which was donated by the ruling spirit of our gay company. We had such delightful pretty waiters to serve the food that I felt sorry all our young men had to go to the war and we only had heads of families to smile on the pretty girls.

After dinner Mr. Martin gave us an enjoyable talk, and he was followed by Miss Mary Chase and Mrs. Haskell, a sweet-faced woman, who is ministering to the spiritual needs of the people on the island. Mr. MacDonald introduced each speaker in his humorous, inimitable way which added much to the occasion. Miss Betty Quay sang a solo and responded twice to a hearty encore. The service flag in the church had six stars, giving evidence that the islanders are doing their "bit" in the great war.

At Cranberry Island, where there are only sixty voters, sixteen young men have gone forth to fight under the colors. We left the hall reluctantly after the exercises were over, and returned to the wharf where they have large buildings for storing fish. There were great vats of salt for curing the fish, and many hogsheads filled with corned fish that would be spread later to dry on flakes outside. There were scores of flakes already spread with hake tongues and sounds. The hake sounds are used in the manufacture of chewing gum and are more valuable than the sounds of cod and haddock.

Five fishermen came in with a big boat load of fish while we were there. The men used a pitchfork to throw the fish from the boat into a square dray on the wharf, which was hauled along the slippery floor by two men. Outside on the sunny part of the wharf were great hogsheads filled with cod livers. The sun extracts the oil which rises on top of the hogshead, clear and translucent. It is then dipped off and sent to market. We were all interested in the process but I didn't hear anyone ask for a drink of the oil.

The whistle sounded all too soon for our return to the boat, and as we filed on board, Mr. MacDonald counted noses and found that Elinor Brooks, Mary Chase and Nan Baldwin were absent. Upon inquiry, we found that they were in pursuit of a hick and white rabbit that they wanted to transport to Bluehill. Our party would have been desolate without them, so we sat down to wait their return, and they soon came, flushed and triumphant, bearing the captured rabbit in a crate. The poor bunny shivered so at the sight of the crowd that he was carried below and hidden under a berth.

Then we set sail, waving farewell to the sunbathed shores of the island. The voyage home in the afternoon glow and warmth was delightful, and everyone aboard declared it was the happiest affair of the season, and wished for many happy returns.

Yours as ever, WANDERER.

Every year the already enormous sales of this really scientific treatment for catarrh grow greater, and the present year should show all records broken.

If you breathe Hyomei daily as directed it will end your catarrh, or it won't cost you a cent.

If you have a hard rubber Hyomei inhaler somewhere around the house, get it out and start it at once to forever rid yourself of catarrh.

C. E. Alexander, or any other good druggist, will sell you a bottle of Hyomei (liquid). Start to breathe it and notice how quickly it clears out the air passages and makes the entire head feel fine.

Hyomei used regularly will end catarrh, coughs, colds, bronchitis or asthma. A complete outfit, including a hard rubber pocket inhaler and bottle of Hyomei, costs but little. No stomach dosing; just breathe it. It kills the germs, soothes and heals the inflamed membrane.

RHEUMATISM

Physician Believes a Genuine Remedy for the Disease has Been Found.

Rheuma, the wonderful rheumatism remedy sold by Alexander's Pharmacy and all druggists, gives quicker and more lasting relief than other remedies costing many times as much.

Rheuma passes the deadly poisonous secretions into the bowels and kidneys, from which they are quickly thrown off in a natural, healthy way.

Read what a reputable physician says about Rheuma: "I have made a most careful investigation of the formula employed in the manufacture of Rheuma, and I heartily recommend it as a remedy for all forms of Rheumatism. I find Rheuma far in advance of the methods generally employed in the treatment of rheumatism, and altogether different in composition from the remedies usually prescribed."—Dr. M. C. Lyons.

This should give any sufferer from rheumatism confidence to try Rheuma.

Twelve Tire Tests No. 11

Universal Usefulness

NOWADAYS many tire-makers are urging motorists to use non-skids on rear wheels and smooth-treads or "driving" tires on front wheels.

The reason given is that ordinary non-skids, with their small projections, make steering difficult when used in front, the effect being much the same as driving over rough roads. Though some non-skids are unsatisfactory on front wheels, it is evident that the use of two different kinds of tires involves serious disadvantages.

In the first place it becomes necessary to carry an additional spare in order to be properly equipped for emergencies. Secondly, a smooth-tread driving tire does not afford protection against skidding. The ideal tire is a non-skid constructed so that it protects against skidding and yet steers easily and smoothly.

Such a tire is the Michelin Universal Non-Skid. It is a Universal tire in fact as well as in name. Its patented tread is its most effective rubber non-skid ever devised. Yet this tread is so broad and flat that it steers just as smoothly and easily as a plain tread.

When used on all four wheels Michelins ensure the utmost economy, satisfaction and safety all around.

LOCAL AND POLITICAL JOURNAL PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON AT ELLSWORTH, MAINE. BY THE HANCOCK COUNTY PUBLISHING CO. W. H. THUR, Editor and Manager.

Subscription Price—$2.00 a year; $1.00 for six months, 50 cents for three months; if paid strictly in advance, $1.50, 75 and 35 cents respectively. Single copies 5 cents. All arrangements are reckoned at the rate of $2 per year.

The Maine political barometer Monday indicated a wide area of depression in democratic ranks, from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Sunday slackers of the anti-auto request of the government are conspicuous by their scarcity. It is getting to be very unpopular to ride on Sunday.

In the marshalling of the man power of the nation that will spell disaster to German hopes of final victory, it is expected that 75,000 Maine men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years will register to-morrow.

White, the deposed sheriff of Penobscot county, sought justification by running again for that office. He was the worst-beaten democrat in Penobscot county. Looks as if the ousted of White was one of the most popular things Governor Milliken has done.

Register to-morrow.

Men eighteen to forty-five (both inclusive), except those previously registered, much register to-morrow. Whether you were born in America or in some foreign country; whether you have a large family or are unmarried; whether you work on the farm or in the shops—no matter who or what you are, unless you are in service, if you are between these ages you must register.

If you shirk your duty, not only will you be in personal danger of arrest and severe punishment, but your country will be in danger. Chief of Staff Peyton C. March says: "The only way that Germany can be whipped is by America going into this war with her whole strength!"

The first draft obtained almost three million men. Two million more are needed. "With an American army of 4,000,000 men," says General March, "we can go through the German line wherever we please."

To get the rest of this five million, all men between the ages noted above must register. There are about thirteen millions of these. But the draft boards will discard the unfit, those with large families and those in war industries—and leave a gigantic army of determined men who are ready to rid the world of the menace of the Huns.

The Election. Maine republicans have again sent a reassuring message to the republicans of the nation. The sweep of the State is clean. United States Senator Fernald will have a plurality of about 13,000, while Governor Milliken has a plurality of about 5,500. That the governor should run behind his ticket was to be expected because of local disaffections, and the nature of the campaign waged against him.

Maine returns to Congress a solid republican delegation. Congressman Pet's home town is proud of the plurality of something like 4,500 given him, an increase of nearly 1,000 over that of two years ago. Next to gratification at this endorsement of our own congressman, is the pleasure felt at the overwhelming defeat of McGillicuddy in the fourth district, where Congressman White increased his plurality of 500 over McGillicuddy two years ago to something like 2,500 this year, and this in the face of a most active democratic campaign.

The republicans make large gains in both branches of the State legislature. In the Senate the republicans have elected thirty candidates against one democrat, a gain of four; while in the House, there will be some 112 republicans to 39 democrats, a gain of 14.

In Hancock county a clean sweep of county offices was made by the republicans, while two of the seven representatives are elected, a republican gain of one. The detailed vote of Hancock county is published elsewhere in this issue.

Save Peach Pits. The war department has issued a call to the boys' and girls' clubs to do a vital war service collecting, saving, drying, storing and shipping to places to be specified later, peach, apricot, plum, cherry and prune pits, the shells of hickory nuts, butternuts, walnuts, hazelnuts, and Brazil nuts, olive pits and date seeds. The meat of the nuts is not necessary.

Seven pounds of these shells make the respirator for a gas mask, when they have been reduced to carbon, which readily absorbs the poisonous chemical gases, while 200 peach pits make one mask.

Cheering Words Across the Waves. Under the glare of shot and shell. Our valiant boys all enter. To fight till freedom's standards dwell. In every earthly center. Our brave "over there" let none forget. While winning a nation's glory. Nor cast a listener's vain regret Upon a hero's story.

When anxious fear steals o'er the heart As night falls on the trenches. Good cheer from home may impart A calm that all dread quenches. A cheering message to "our boys" From glad hearts, weary never. The measure of their souls' true joys To pledge good cheer forever. Through gloom dwell in that war-torn land. A cheering line will lighten. The stress of foe on every hand. That gruesome struggle brighten. Off cheering words then let us send Across the restless ocean. While loyal souls "over there" attend. So seal our fond devotion. Buehill Falls, Maine. JAMES M. ANDERS.

COUNTY GOSSIP. Morris Bowden, sr., of Ellsworth, brings to THE AMERICAN office a Siamese-twings cucumber. There are two perfect and well-developed cucumbers, joined their entire length.

From twenty-five square rods, Carl V. Perkins of Castine, picked and sold 1,233 quarts of strawberries, for which he received $241.96 in cash, equal to a rate of $1.56 per acre. This does not include the berries used in two families.—Farm Bureau News.

The claim-to-county-championship banner which the Hancock Point baseball team hoisted a few weeks ago, came down badly frazzled at the Bluehill fair last week.

A National Park in Maine. [Kennebec Journal.]

Congressman John A. Peters not only has a 100 per cent record in support of the President's war measures, but he has a record of service for his State and the nation in other ways, that is unsurpassed by that of any statesman. A part of this service is a trip to the war fronts in France, Belgium and Italy.

In Congressman Peters the President recognizes a reliable, patriotic statesman of breadth and power, loyal to every national interest, and too big to play politics. Congressman Peters has found time to do a good chore for Maine, with all his duties on important committees of Congress and in time of war. Read what George B. Dorr, the government custodian, says:

"The resort interests of Maine have only just begun to be developed. For one person who now comes into the State for health, pleasure and refreshment, ten should come, and will, a few years hence—with right development. The national government, recognizing this and the value to the people of what Maine has to give, is now establishing, where sea and mountains meet upon its coast, the first national park in the East."

"It is a great recognition, for the national policy is to include only in the national park system what is supreme of its type and will, on development by the government, draw people to it from the whole country over. "But the national park service has a far wider aim than the development of single areas, however beautiful or interesting. It plans to make those on which the national seal is set instruments to aid in the resort development of the whole territory which they represent."

"Mount Desert Island has been selected out of all the East to represent in a single tract its coast and mountains. The whole resort industry of Maine, accordingly, both shore and inland, and all who provide for it—directly or indirectly—will be benefited by this park's creation. "In winning this for Maine, with the honor and advantage to the State that will accrue from it, invaluable service has been rendered during the past year by Congressman John A. Peters of Ellsworth, who had the vision to see what it would mean, and has used to furthering it the exceptional influence given him at Washington by the regard and friendship in which his fellow-congressmen hold him."

"The work that he has done this year for Maine's advancement as a great national resort is one that the whole State must ultimately recognize."

A Fuel Famine Threatened. ELLSWORTH, ME., Sept. 9, 1918. To the Editor of the American:

For the first time in the history of Ellsworth we are facing a fuel famine. What are we going to do about it? The supply of millwood is exhausted, and the forest wood cut of last winter is 90 per cent. sold to date, leaving little or no wood in the open market. The coal situation is dubious indeed, and to many of us here in Ellsworth the condition is serious. Isn't it about time we awoke to conditions, and if we have no fuel commission, appoint one? Is it possible that we are going cold for lack of wood this coming winter, when several of the city streets run through large tracts of firewood and many citizens are willing to buy stumps? Can't the citizens and owners of stumps get together on this proposition?

Let us hope that the city government and board of trade will awaken and do something to alleviate this most serious condition, as the winter months are drawing near and many are facing the near-arctic weather with empty sheds and coal bins. CITIZENS.

How the Body is Nourished. The bodily process known as assimilation is well explained in these words: "As the blood, in its circulation, approaches any organ, the position that are appropriate for this organ feel its attractive force, obey it, and leaving the others, mingle with the substance of its tissue and are changed into its own true and proper nature." How important it is that the blood should be pure and rich, not loaded with worn-out and useless matters! Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and does it. It is possible for medicine to do in the way of perfecting assimilation and building up the whole system. When you have made up your mind to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, insist on having it—don't accept a substitute, for no substitute acts like it.

FROM OVER THERE. Letter Home From Hancock County Boy in Fighting Line. Alexander Ward of Seawall, in a letter to a friend, says:

"We went up on one of the most lively, active and important fronts in France July 3, and, believe me, the 26th division experienced something during July. We were under shell fire every day. Went over the top twice and drove the Germans back twenty miles in two days. I have seen more human blood this month than I did last month the month of last July. Several times I expected every minute was my last, for I had several pretty close calls, although I never got a scratch. Most of the boys in my company were killed or wounded, mostly wounded."

"I hope I live to eat my Christmas dinner at Seawall, for I am in hopes if the U. S. boys get a few more bangs at the Germans they will call this war off, for they will never be able to lick the Americans as long as they live. The old U. S. boys go after them like tigers. "I am sorry that I can't write you often, but I don't have a chance to write when we are in the line, so if you don't hear from me, write just the same. I have about a hundred letters to answer now."

"We are living in a place about the same as Ship Harbor, only no water. I have been fighting cooties in the past month, as well as Germans, every man in the army is just like a hen. I was twenty days without taking off my shoes; twenty-one days without washing my face."

WAR EXHIBIT LIBERTY LOAN TRAINS FOR NEW ENGLAND

Story of the War to Be Told by Relics

Patriots working for their country in localities far removed from those centers which are in active contact with the war are to have the war brought to them, as it were, by means of two exhibition trains to be sent out about Oct. 1 by the Publicity Committee of the Liberty Loan Committee of New England.

The trains will carry exhibits of war material now being shipped from the battlefields of Europe by Gen. Pershing and the allied governments, and soldiers who have seen service in the trenches or sailors who have been active on the seas. The purpose of the trains is to place these loyal citizens of the remotest districts in more direct touch with the battle line to which so many of them have sent sons, husbands, brothers, and to aid in the campaign for the Fighting Fourth Liberty Loan which begins Sept. 23 and closes Oct. 15.

The two trains, starting at the same time, are to traverse New England. The schedule of dates for the various towns where they will stop will be announced later. This is under the direction of the state chairmen of the Liberty Loan who are now preparing it with the local representatives and the railroads. Each train will consist of two flat cars, one box car and one tourist sleeper. The flat cars will be mounted with guns, bombs, shells, parts of airplanes and other materials of warfare on land and sea and in the air, including captured war material. Among the latter are finishing clubs taken from the Austrians who used them to "finish" the allied wounded who came within their reach.

Uniforms, official photographs and such other things as cannot well be exposed to the weather will be exhibited in the box car. The approach of the train to its stopping place is to be announced by the ringing of bells and the blowing of whistles followed by the firing of bombs or trench mortars. Each community will be asked to declare a holiday on the day of the exhibit or for at least so long as the train is in the town that every one may have an opportunity to hear the word direct from Over There and to see with his own eyes the implements that are being used by the soldiers of all nations in this greatest of all wars.

The train will probably be welcomed, as it properly should, by local committees and the exercises will be opened with prayer, for does not the train specifically represent a holiness of purpose and of sacrifice that is measured only by the vastness of the war itself? The town officials, the Old Guard and Boy Scouts are expected to be in attendance and the school children, it is hoped, will be out in full force.

There will be speeches, of course, demonstrations of equipment by veteran soldiers and brief talks by them to tell of their personal experiences on the battlefields. Opportunity will be given to those who wish to buy bonds and after the train has left the local committees will see to it that those who wish to subscribe more may do so.

Although the idea for these trains originated in New England last winter and trains similar to those were sent through the South and West in the spring, none were sent to this part of the country owing to the congestion of railroad traffic here. Whenever the trains did go they met with enthusiasm. Farmers brought their families in and the mountainous sections people journeyed on foot many miles to see the story of the war as told by the great relics exhibition.

OBITUARY. MRS. LOUISA S. KINGSBURY. Mrs. Louisa S. Kingsbury, one of the oldest residents of Ellsworth, died last Saturday at the home of her brother, Everard H. Greely, in West Main street, after an illness of a few days.

Mrs. Kingsbury was born in this city May 13, 1830, the daughter of Dr. Samuel and Desire Stinchfield Greely, and all her life was passed here. She united with the Baptist church in early life, and had always been a faithful member. Youthful in spirit, she retained to an unusual degree her interest in current events and a passionate love for children, animals and nature, while a remarkable memory for the events of her early years made her an interesting conversationalist.

Her husband died many years ago. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Alice Kingsbury, and two brothers, Everard H. and Dr. Harvard Greely.

Funeral services were held Monday, Sept. 9, at 10 o'clock at the Baptist church officiating.

To that end lithing boxes are given to all who care for them—attractive little banks with inspiring mottoes that should offer useful hints to grown-ups as well as children:

Ellsworth Falls Residents Speak Out for the Welfare of the Public
It is just the same in Ellsworth Falls as here in Ellsworth; our friends there speak out in the same glad, earnest way, as so many grateful Ellsworth men and women have spoken in these columns for years past.
John Lake, stone mason, State St., Ellsworth Falls, Me., says: "About four years ago, my back was lame and painful, and at times I could hardly get about, and was all bent over. My work causes more or less strain on my back and I think it had a lot to do with bringing on the trouble. I had fainting and dizzy spells, in fact, I was in pretty bad shape. I tried different kinds of medicines, but Doan's Kidney Pills did me more good than all the others combined. This medicine cured me."

MAKE your showery hunting days this Fall the good days for ducks they really ought to be, with the right shotshells—Remington UMC Smokeless "Arrow" or "Nitro Club" Wetproof Steel Lined "Speed Shells." Remington UMC for Shooting Right
Those finest of shoal-water fowl, the big mallards—which you can seldom get within gunshot of when it is calm and fair—are then not so quick to take wing. But your shells must be right. Hunting has no worse luck than a water-soaked shell that has swelled and sticks in the gun at a critical moment—to say nothing of a "miss" caused by wilting of the turned-over end of the shell.
Remington UMC Smokeless "Arrow" and "Nitro Club" Wetproof Steel Lined "Speed Shells" are made waterproof by a wonderful process, invented for them and used exclusively in their manufacture.
It took three years to perfect this process. The result is a shell that will work and shoot right throughout an all-day downpour—keeps hard and smooth with no softening of the turned-over end or bulging of the top wad in the wettest coat pocket.
You buy the same favorite brand, at the regular price, and get the Wetproof improvement without cost. The first completely waterproof shotshell, at the same time having the uniform superiority of speed, pattern and penetration for which Remington UMC "Arrow" and "Nitro Club" Steel Lined "Speed Shells" are famous.
In black powder, buy the old reliable "New Club," now Wetproof sealed at turnover and top wad.

Save Fuel Wisely
Saving fuel is working hand in hand with the Government these days. And one way to save wisely and well is to use SO-CO-NY—the quality gasoline. It means minimum consumption and maximum power.
Inferior, low-grade mixtures mean waste in the form of increased consumption, lost power and excessive carbon deposits.
There's power in every drop of SO-CO-NY. It's clean, quick starting; reliable; obtainable everywhere.
Look for the Red, White and Blue SO-CO-NY Sign. It's the wise way to save fuel.

ANNUAL CLAY PIGEON SHOOT.

The annual clay pigeon shoot given by Alexander S. Porter, jr., for the residents of Brooklin and surrounding towns, was held on Labor day at Mr. Porter's traps at Great Cove Farm. There were enough entries to provide five squads of five men each.

The competition was at twenty-five birds shot in strings of ten and fifteen. The winner of the first prize was Moulton Cooper, who broke 9 birds. There was a tie for second and third prizes, and in the shoot-off, Walter Crockett won second and Lee Flye third.

A large gallery of spectators was on hand to enjoy the fun watching the men try to hit the difficult flying targets. The prizes were war savings and thrift stamps.

After the shoot, refreshments were served under a large tent. Besides the wives and children of the contestants who were present, there were Mr. Porter's house guests and four French officers and a member of the Royal Flying corps of Canada.

Mr. Porter believes that clay pigeon shooting should continue during the war, as it improves marksmanship, quickens the eye, and will help prospective soldiers to kill more Germans, which is the particular and enjoyable business we have on hand at the present time. Also, it has been noted of late that trap-shooters were in demand in the trenches to bring down enemy carrier pigeons, another reason why trap-shooting should be kept going.

It is hoped that after the war a gun club will be established in Brooklin for regular weekly shoots.
