ENGLISH END MEANS GREATER FOOD SAVING

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 29—The United States and the Red Cross have launched an all-out drive for the sale of lentils, as an alternative to meat, which the United Kingdom is now using extensively. The drive is being conducted through the National Red Cross and the United States Red Cross.

The Ohio State University has appointed a committee of eight students to study the problem of meat shortage and to make recommendations for its solution. The committee includes Prof. W. H. Johnson, president of the University; Prof. A. R. Williams, dean of the College of Agriculture; Prof. J. H. Newcomb, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; Prof. W. C. Tennis, director of the Bureau of Animal Industry; Prof. J. E. Funk, director of the Bureau of Food Industry; Prof. E. H. Brown, director of the Bureau of Live Stock Industry; Prof. J. H. Rice, director of the Bureau of Dairy Industry; and Prof. W. D. Crane, director of the Bureau of Home Economics.

The committee will hold its first meeting on December 1, and it is expected to report its findings to the President of the University on December 15.

The Ohio State University has also appointed a committee of eight students to study the problem of wheat shortage and to make recommendations for its solution. The committee includes Prof. W. H. Johnson, president of the University; Prof. A. R. Williams, dean of the College of Agriculture; Prof. J. H. Newcomb, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; Prof. W. C. tastes like some fine blend of coffee but contains no caffeine

The unusually attractive taste of INSTANT POSTUM

makes many people prefer it to coffee.

And you can make each cup strong or mild just as you wish by varying the amount of Instant Postum used per cup.

A Trial is Convincing.

PROSPECTS HANGING.

The story of the British occupation of Portuguese territory in the Angolan interior is the story of an attempt by the British to secure a foothold in that country. The Portuguese government had previously been notified of the intention of the British to occupy the country, and the Portuguese were prepared to fight. The British, on the other hand, were not prepared to fight. The British government had been informed that the Portuguese were not prepared to fight, and the British were therefore not prepared to fight. The result was a conflict in which the British were defeated, but they were not defeated by the Portuguese military. The British were defeated by the Portuguese people, who rose up in rebellion against the British occupation. The British were forced to withdraw, but they were not forced to withdraw by the Portuguese military. The British were forced to withdraw by the Portuguese people, who rose up in rebellion against the
