THE JOY OF SAVING.

Don't save for a "rainy day.

A rainy day is not a day
when you can't go out.

This is the story of a woman who never saved.

Wealth is the sum of all the things that you own.

One day, a woman
had a little girl.

Panel member, her name was Jane.

She was a happy little girl.

But, as she grew
older, she

began to think about

how to earn money.

She

thought about it every day.

Finally, she decided

she was going to save.

She

saved every penny she

could find.

She even

started saving

her

allowance.

She

kept on saving,

and

soon she had

saved enough money to buy a new dress.

She

was so proud of her

dress.

But, as

she

was

wearing her

dress,

her

mother

said,

"You

shouldn't have

spent

all that money.

You

should

have saved

it for

something else.

Next time,

you

save

for

something

important.

So,

next time,

she

saved

for

important things,

like

music

lessons and

books.

And,

she

was

very

happy,

because

she

knew

she

had

done

the

right

thing.

She

learned

a

very

important

lesson.

That

is,

you

should

save

for

important things.

And,

The main Agricultural and Industrial Exposition of the season was run up and handled about as profitably as the state agricultural building were ever put. A large number of the farmers of the state brought interesting exhibits, and the effect of the show was very favorable to the cause of agriculture. It is to be regretted that only a small portion of the farmers of the state were present at the Fair, as the general average of the exhibits would have been greatly improved by a larger number of farmers taking part in the exhibition.

The weather was warm and sunny, and the fair grounds were thronged with visitors. The state agricultural building was well stocked with exhibits of various kinds, and the state agricultural school was well represented. The exhibits of the state agricultural school were particularly interesting, and the school was well represented by a large number of students.
