Mutual Benefit Column.

EDITED BY "AUNT MADGE".

Its Motto: "Helpful and Hopeful."

The purposes of this column are succinctly stated in the title and motto—it is for the mutual benefit, and aims to be helpful and hopeful being for the common good. It is for the common use—a public servant, a purveyor of information and suggestion, a medium for the interchange of ideas. In this capacity it solicits communications, and its success depends largely on the support given it in this respect. Communications must be signed, but the name of writer will not be printed except by permission. Communications will be subject to approval or rejection by the editor of the column, but none will be rejected without good reason. Address all communications to

HULLO!

(By the Late Sam Walter Foss.)

When you see a man in woe,
Walk straight up and say "Hullo!"
Say "Hullo!" and "How d'y'e do?"
How's the world been using you?
Slap the fellow on his back,
Bring your hand down with a smack!
Walk straight up and don't go slow,
Shake his hand and say "Hullo!"
Is he clothed in rags? Oh, ho,
Walk straight up and say "Hullo!"
Rags are but a cotton roll
Just for wrapping up a soul;
And a soul is worth a true
Hale and hearty, "How d'y'e do?"
Don't wait for the crowd to go,
Walk straight up and say "Hullo!"
When big vessels meet, they say,
They salute and sail away;
Just the same as you and me,
Lonely ships upon the sea,
Each one sailing his own jog
For a port beyond the fog.
Let your speaking-trumpet blow,
Lift your horn and cry, "Hullo!"
Say "Hullo!" and "How d'y'e do?"
Other folks are good as you.
When you leave your house of clay,
Wandering in the far away,
When you travel through the strange
Country far beyond the range,
Then the souls you've cheered will know
Who you be, and say "Hullo!"

Dear M. B. Friends:
Cordiality, good cheer, heartening; that is what the poem means. As people meet each other to-day, there is more of the "hail fellow, well-met" spirit than was shown a generation or two ago. Perhaps formality was conducive to respect, and in no way was it more fully shown than in letter-writing. Think of a son beginning a letter to his father "Respected Sir." Compare it with the "Dear Dad" of to-day. The latter form indicates a bond of sympathy and understanding between father and child.

Take business letters. A generation or two ago business letters exchanged between gentlemen and ladies, opening with "My dear Mrs. A." or "My dear Mr. B." would have been almost sufficient evidence for a divorce suit to be started. Think of the staid and stern old grandfathers of the Puritan stock being addressed as "Gramp." Oh, my! It can't be imagined.

Sure, the "Hullo" of the poem has softened many of life's hard places and opened the door to sympathy. Not only that, but no doubt it is the most frequently-used word in the English language. Am I not right in that last statement?

I am reading "Dear Enemy," by Jean Webster, who wrote "Daddy Longlegs," which has been dramatized. Before I began reading it I said, "it cannot equal Daddy Long-Legs," but the same sparkle of wit and quaint humor is all through it. Some of you will remember "Judy" came from the John Greer Home, an orphan asylum. In this book "Sallie McBride," a society girl, has become superintendent of that home, and her renovations and innovations are worth a careful study by officers and trustees of similar institutions. The illustrations by the author are clever and amusing.

I have refrained from looking at the last pages of the book to see if "Sallie" marries the Washington politician or the grave, Scotch doctor who ministers to the orphans' ailments. At present, the pendulum seems to swing a little farther towards the doctor than it did at first. The good aunt, whom you met for the first time at the last reunion, offered to loan me the book, which, as it is composed entirely of letters written by "Sallie," reminds the owner, so she says, of a conversation on the telephone where you hear but one side.

I don't know how it happened that the first three lines appeared in our last week's column, as I wrote the matter relating to Ella Wheeler Wilcox and have never seen anything in Anna McCall's "Tower Room" relating to her.

What will be the result of women becoming voters remains to be proved. Will they have the purifying influence in politics which has been claimed for them? I was once present at a State convention of a woman's fraternal organization, and there was considerable "log-rolling" before the annual election of officers, as different sections had their candidates in view. Evidently the politicians are catering to the new element introduced into public and official business.

These thoughts are independent of all party issues or interests, for nothing partisan or sectarian has a place in the column. You know we plan to live just a little above all creeds and platforms, except the creed of mutual help and the platform of good comradeship.

Don't forget the Macedonian cry of "Come over and help us." Give us some more suggestions or reviews of books of current events, of deportation or importation, of experiences and of outings, of hints and suggestions for saving time or work, of Christmas preparations and of how to keep the anniversary and the weeks before it so no one will feel "in a hurry all over," as one described getting nervous. The doing away of excessive expense the past year or two simplified the Christmas work and did not lessen the cordial "spirit of good will" among friends.

CATARRH

Quickly Ended by a Pleasant, Healing Antiseptic Air... Just Breathe It...

The little hard rubber Hyomei inhaler which you can get at Charles E. Alexander's or any reliable druggist's can easily be carried in pocket or purse. It will last a life time.

Into this Inhaler you pour a few drops of the pure healing oil of Hyomei. This oil is absorbed by the antiseptic gauze within, and now you are ready to breathe it in over the germ-infested membranes, where it will speedily begin its work of banishing catarrhal germs and ending Catarrh. Hyomei is made of Australian eucalyptus combined with other antiseptics and is very pleasant to breathe.

It is guaranteed to banish catarrh, bronchitis, influenza, tonsillitis, sore throat, croup, coughs and colds, or money back. It often cleans out a stuffed-up head and opens clogged nostrils in a few minutes. Complete outfit, including inhaler and one bottle of Hyomei, costs but little, while extra bottles, if afterward needed, may be obtained of any druggist for a few cents.

Vinol will Stop a Cough and Break Up a Cold

A constitutional remedy that removes the cause by building up the system. These elements contained in Vinol—Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron, Manganese and Glycerophosphates—soon create an energy that throws off the cold and prevents its recurrence. It has given ninety per cent satisfaction for sixteen years. HERE IS PROOF:

Dunn, N.C.

"I suffered with a chronic cold for four months, coughed day and night. Had to keep on working when I was not able to. I saw Vinol advertised and tried it, and I want to tell you it just cured that cold in a short time. It made me eat and sleep well, better every way."—J. C. Bagley, Dunn, N.C.

Lagrange, N.C.

"For years I suffered with a chronic cough, so I could not sleep nights and continued to lose flesh. My druggist asked me to try Vinol. It cured my cough, I can sleep nights and have gained twelve pounds. Vinol is the best tonic and tissue builder I have ever taken."—W. D. Ren, Lagrange, N.C.

"IS WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD" HE SAYS
WELLS COULDN'T DRESS HIMSELF WITHOUT HELP—NOW A WELL MAN.
"I suffered ten long years and tried all sorts of medicines and treatments, but I never got any relief until I commenced taking Tanlac," said David Wells, a well-known employee of the Dominion Marine Government Docks, and who lives on Charlotte street extension, West St. John, N.B., the other day.
"Well, sir, when I commenced taking Tanlac," continued Mr. Wells, "I was so bad off with rheumatism, and so weak and run down from stomach trouble, I could hardly walk, but ten miles and sat down and ate a hearty supper, and then carried my wife out to the park to see the fireworks. Now I claim that a medicine that will do that for a man after all other treatments and medicines had failed to even give him temporary relief, is worth its weight in gold. Why, my stomach was in such bad condition that I couldn't eat any substantial food at all, and even the things that I did eat would upset my stomach so bad I was hardly ever able to retain them. Sometimes my head would swim so bad I could hardly stand on my feet, and then again my head would ache like it was going to burst. Then rheumatism hit me, and the pain and suffering I underwent from that simply can't be told in words. I finally got to where I had to have help to get my clothes on and off. These pains kept me awake night after night, and I just kept on going down hill and getting weaker all the time until I was about all in."
"I picked up the paper one night and saw a statement from a lady who had suffered exactly as I did, and she had been greatly relieved by taking Tanlac. Well, I thought that if it had worked so well in one case it ought to do the same thing for me, so I commenced taking this medicine at once. The very first bottle of Tanlac convinced me that I had found the right medicine at last. Why, I can sit down now and eat a big meal of meat and cabbage or anything else that comes my way, and I never suffer a particle afterwards. My appetite was never better, and it seems a mighty long time between meals now. The rheumatism has left me too, and I sleep like a tired boy every night. Yes, sir, I am so well and strong in every way that I never lose a minutes time from my work any more. I am glad to pass the good word along to others who suffer as I did, and if I could only meet them face to face, I would urge them to take Tanlac and be relieved of their suffering as I have been."
Tanlac is sold in Ellsworth by E. G. Moore, in Bar Harbor by West End Drug Co., in Mt. Desert by A. C. Fernald, in Bucksport by R. B. Stover, in Bluehill by W. L. Partridge, in Tremont by O. M. Kittredge, in Brooklin by George F. Gott, in Sedgewick by Jno. W. Paris, in Gouldsboro by I. McDonald, in Northeast Harbor by Chas. N. Small.—Advt.
