THE HEAD OF THE FAMILY

By OTILLIA E. PEFFER

From "The American".

Hyzberk's "Surprise for Thanksgiving" is a story of genuine American life. When her only daughter Elizabeth married some months ago to a young man for whom her parents had always had a decided liking, they expected that their daughter would have a home of her own very soon. However, they had no idea that she would have a home of her own in a very different way.

As sure as you are a foot high—you will like this Camel Turkish and Domestic blend!

You never got such cigarette-contentment as Camels hand you.
Camels quality and expert blend of Turkish and choice Domestic Tobaccos make this goodness possible—and make you pay no compensation for the satisfaction.

Camels mellow-mildness is a revelation! Smoke them with freedom without tiring your taste. They leave no unsightly cendrette aftertaste nor unpleasant cigarette odor.

Give Camels every test—then compare them puff-for-puff with any cigarette in the world!
HOLY CITY NOW FORGOTTEN

Established by Moravians on island in Lake Ohio, the city is of great importance.

The Wisconsin State Historical Society has published a book on the history of Moravians who settled in and around the city, which is now called Holy City, and have built their own city of the same name. The book tells the story of the settlement and its development over the years.

After the death of Joseph Smith, the founder of the city, it was abandoned and forgotten. The Moravians who had settled there moved to other areas and the city was left to decay.

In 1820, the city was rediscovered by a group of Moravians who were looking for a place to build a new colony. They found Holy City and decided to rebuild it.

Today, Holy City is a center for Moravian culture and heritage. The Moravian Historical Society is active in the city and is working to preserve the history of the settlement.

EARNING A BRIDE
By ALVY J. GARTH

Clyde had been a boy at the time of the flu, and although he had been a happy boy, he had never been a child. He had been a small boy, but he had always been a healthy boy, and he had always been a strong boy. His mother had always been proud of him.

Clyde had always been a hard worker. He had always been a good student. He had always been a good athlete. He had always been a good friend.

But Clyde had always been a very private person. He had never been one to share his feelings. He had never been one to talk about his problems. He had never been one to discuss his dreams.

And so it was that when Clyde finally decided to tell his parents about his plans to marry, they were taken by surprise.

"You're going to marry?" Mr. and Mrs. MacLauchlin exclaimed.

"Yes," Clyde replied.

"But you're only nineteen," Mr. MacLauchlin said.

"I know," Clyde said. "But I'm in love."
