There was a large audience at the Bijou theatre Monday evening, when Charles "Sandy" Chapman, Knights of Columbus war worker, told a thrilling story of the days at the front in France. Mr. Chapman spoke here under the auspices of Philip H. Sheridan council, K. of C., and was introduced by Rev. Fr. Gorman.

Friends in Ellsworth of Corydon A. Richardson learned with regret of his death last Thursday at a private hospital in New York, where he had gone for treatment a few weeks ago. Mr. Richardson was a native of Amherst, but for some years had lived in Bar Harbor. He made many friends in Ellsworth while serving as a deputy sheriff.

A sociable and dance will be given at Knights of Columbus hall Friday evening, for the benefit of the baseball team of the Ellsworth grammar schools. Refreshments will be served. The boys of the two grammar schools have united in the formation of a baseball team this year, and hope to arrange a series of games with out-of-town grammar schools teams.

Officers of the Knights of St. Joseph were installed at a meeting of the club at the home of Andrew Luchini last week. The officers installed are Charles Drummy, president; Andrew Luchini, vice-president; Fr. Gorman, treasurer; Albert Davis, secretary. The first degree was worked. Fr. Gorman gave an interesting talk, and after the club work, Mrs. Luchini entertained with Italian stories. Refreshments were served.

An inspiring union service was held at the Baptist church last Sunday evening. Rev. R. H. Moyle of the Methodist church delivered the sermon, from the text, "I am ready." There was singing by the young people's chorus of the Baptist church. Several in the congregation manifested a desire to begin Christian lives. The union service next Sunday evening will be at the Congregational church, with sermon by the pastor, Rev. R. B. Mathews.

Monday night was a big night for Wivurna encampment, I. O. O. F., with about seventy of its own members present to entertain three grand officers and about seventy members of Mt. Desert encampment of Bar Harbor. The grand officers present were Grand Patriarch Patten of Bar Harbor, Grand Senior Warden Toward of Waterville, and Grand Marshal Carter of Bar Harbor. The golden rule degree was worked by the visitors. Wivurna encampment will go to Bar Harbor Friday evening of next week to work the royal purple degree.

The house at the corner of Third and State streets, owned by the hardwood company and occupied by Carl Richmond, was badly damaged by fire last Thursday forenoon. The fire started in the attic, and had made considerable progress before it was discovered. The whole upper part of the house was gutted and the roof burned out. It was impossible to save anything from the upper rooms, but the furniture was removed from the lower floor with but little damage. The building was insured, but Mr. Richmond had no insurance. The house was one of the old Ellsworth homesteads. It was built by Seth Tisdale for John Hopkins, the senior. (Continued on page 5.)

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, The Divine Master has called to the heavenly fields above our beloved sister, Lucy A. Cowing, therefore

Resolved, That in her death, New Century grange has lost a devoted member, one who was always present at our meetings when possible, ready to aid in every good work, and whose loss will be deeply felt in our order, the church and community.

Resolved, That we extend our sincerest sympathy to the family of our sister in their bereavement and commend them to Him who said, "I will not leave you comfortless."

"He calls them in from their labors. Ere the shadows around them creep, And folded in fair green pastures, He giveth His loved ones sleep."

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread on our records, one sent to the family and one to The Ellsworth American for publication, and that our charter be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.

MUTUAL BENEFIT COLUMN.

Edited by "Aunt Madge."
MOTTO—HELPFUL AND HOPEFUL.

The purposes of this column are succinctly stated in the title and motto—it is for the mutual benefit, and aims to be helpful and hopeful. Being for the common good it is for the common use—a public servant, a purveyor of information and suggestions, a medium for the interchange of ideas, in this capacity it solicits communications, and its success depends largely on the support given it in this respect. Communications must be signed, but the name of writer will not be printed except by permission. Communications will be subject to approval or rejection by the editor of the column, but none will be rejected without good reason. Address all communications to The American, Ellsworth, Me.

"FUST-RATE AND VERY THANKFUL."

Our country town still holds the fame of Grandam C., a sturdy dame. Whose doughty deeds, in house and field And church, her energy revealed. And whose undaunted spirit shone Through phrase and manner all her own—

"Fust-rate and very thankful." Of all the echoes from her days. Most clearly rings that homely phrase (It seems a text and sermon too). When she was hailed with "How d'ye do?"

From friend or neighbor passing by. Unfailing was her quaint reply.

"Fust-rate and very thankful." No doleful tales had she to tell. No martyr's murmur, "Pretty well!" Not she! Her happy chronic state With unctious she announced, "Fust-rate!"

And with an emphasis as glad Her grateful word would always add.

"Fust-rate and very thankful." As light survives the set of sun Her bright and cheery word lives on, A happy influence that spurs. Our hearts to utterance like hers: And when friends greet us day by day, Like her, we, blithe and grateful, say, "Fust-rate and very thankful."

—Congregationalist.

Dear M. B. Friends:

I wonder if most of you are beginning house-cleaning by the almanac, or are you waiting for seasonable weather?

It is nice to hear from "Are" again, and to know she is looking ahead to the reunion, although just now she is farther away from us than usual.

Dexter, Me., March 22, 1920.

Dear Aunt Madge:

I was much interested in the poem of "The Fox and the Hen." I have heard my father repeat portions of it so many times, and I have read the book through many times myself. I used to read the stories to my boys when they were small. They were much interested in the story where the boy cried "wolf" when there was none, and one day a wolf did come and kill his sheep. He cried "wolf," but no one would come to his assistance.

I have a "Young Reader" that my mother read at school, and I have my father's "American First Class Book," and his arithmetic. I have a hymn book that belonged to my great-grandmother when she was a girl, and it has the long s's. I don't know the age of it, as the first and last of it are gone.

This has truly been a real old-fashioned winter, with plenty of snow. Forty-one inches fell here in February, and what fell before and since has made the streets well filled. There are drifts still here that are about six feet deep, but it will soon be spring, and with the return of the birds we will forget how deep the snow has been and will soon be looking for the notice of

A letter from an interested reader of the column contained an article which I am making use of, at an opportune time, when the interchurch movement is being presented every where. It will add to the interest of this article to know that Prof. MacFarland is a Lamoine boy.

WHAT TO LEARN.

Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine.

Learn to attend strictly to your own business—a very important point.

Learn to tell a story. A well-told story is as wholesome as a sunbeam in a sick room.

Learn the art of saying kind and encouraging things, especially to the young.

Learn to avoid ill-natured remarks and everything calculated to create friction.

Learn to keep your troubles to yourself. The world is too busy to care for your ills and sorrows.

Learn to stop croaking. If you can not see any good in this world, keep the bad to yourself.

Learn to hide your aches and pains under a pleasant smile. No one cares whether you have the earache, headache or rheumatism.

Learn to greet your friends with a smile. They carry too many frowns in their own hearts to bother with yours.

—Sent by Aunt Susan-by-the-Sea failed, and pointed out some results which would seem to indicate that they have not been perfectly successful.

We were told once that there could never be another great war in the world but in 1914 came the greatest war the world has ever known. As soon as the armistice was signed, problems came up that have not yet been solved. The League of Nations, which it was hoped might bring order out of chaos, has been pigeon-holed somewhere between the national capitol and the White House. If you are going to raise the question of whether civilization has failed or not, you must be prepared to show whether or not the home, the school, the church, the business and the state—the principal things in civilization—have failed either here or abroad. If they have failed in the past to do what has been thrust upon them, is civilization now big enough and strong enough to handle the problems of the present day? Is this boy or that girl to be a failure in the world? Not if they have been properly prepared by the schools for what they are to do.

It is not a question of whether civilization has failed in the past, but whether it is going to fail before the problems of the present. Has this church or any church failed? No one can say that they have done all that they could do, but no one probably would say that they have failed either. What we want to know is if they are big enough and broad enough to tackle the job which is now confronting them. The boy finds that his success in the future depends upon the training he receives in his youth. Ancient civilizations came up and lived in a little circle, even Rome and Greece moved in their day in comparatively little circles, but the civilization of this day is different. The hope of the world depends on what you and I represent in the home, the church, and business. Our civilization goes beyond our own borders into foreign fields, and therefore we should apply to the churches some of the principles that are applied to the schools. Do you want your schools to remain static or are you making wise provisions as to what those schools shall be in ten or twenty years?

DANGERS OF A COLD

Ellsworth People Will Do Well to Heed Them.

Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood, and backache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Here is an experience told by a resident of this locality.

Levi W. Bennett, retired farmer, Mill St., Ellsworth Falls, Me., says: "After taking cold I noticed my kidneys were weak and disordered. I also have had headaches and dizzy spells and at times rheumatic pains in my shoulders, arms and hips. I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills at E. G. Moore's Drug Store and after using them awhile, the trouble disappeared. I can recommend Doan's to anyone suffering from kidney troubles. Whenever I find my kidneys aren't acting right, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they never fail to cure the attack."

Lowell, Mass.—"I was all run down and had an awful pain in my right side, was persistently constipated and had very dizzy spells. I suffered for three years and was perfectly miserable until a friend was telling me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I found it a wonderful medicine. I can now do twice as much work and I recommend the Vegetable Compound to other women. You can use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. M. THEALL BESSEY, 186 Appleton Street, Lowell, Mass.

Why women will continue to suffer so long is more than we can understand, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound!

For forty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

YOUR CHILDREN NEED LAXATIVE.

The children need your closest attention, especially after "stuffing" themselves with sweets, etc., at a party or the like.

They are liable to get up in the morning complaining of cramps, bad tasting mouth, liable to have puffed eyes from restless slumber; feel tired and cranky; distempered and whimpering. Act promptly. Give them a dose of Dr. Price's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, which millions of mothers were given by their parents, and who themselves are administering to-day, to their little ones.

Only the purest of herbs are used—no harmful drugs—will relieve pleasantly the ordinary cases of children's illness, constipation—worms, etc.

Symptoms of Worms: Constipation, deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

Mrs. Wm. G. Bonin of Caddo, Oklahoma, wrote regarding Dr. True's Elixir: "I have used it for our children for the last twelve years, and certainly know the value of it."

How would YOU like a raise like this?

—and for 34 Years Work

THAT is the kind of increase in salary the minister has received. His living expenses have risen just as fast and as far as yours.

But he is paid on the average just 52 cents more per church member than he was paid 34 years ago.

The Minister Never Fails You

Every officer of the Government with a war message to deliver appealed to the ministers first of all.

But 80% of the ministers receive less income than government economists figure as a minimum for the support of an average family.

When hospitals need money they enlist the support of the ministers—and receive it.

But when sickness visits the minister or the members of his family they must be treated in a charity ward. His pay is less than a day laborer's.

8 out of every 10 ministers receive less than $20 a week—about half the pay of a mechanic.

We Pay Him Half the Wages of a Mechanic

And of these pitifully inadequate salaries, how much do you contribute? Nothing if you are outside the church; an average of less than 3c a day if you are a church member.

All of us share in the benefits of Christian ministers to the community. They marry us; bury us; baptize our children; visit us when we are sick. In their hands is the spiritual training of the youth.

We Are All Profiteers at Their Expense

Part of the Interchurch World program is this—a living wage for every minister of Jesus Christ; an efficient plant, and a chance to do a big man's job.

If you want better preachers, help to pay the preachers better. It's the best investment for your community—and for your children—that you can ever make.

CITY MEETING.

CITY FARM BUILDINGS NEED EXTENSIVE REPAIRS.

Changes Voted in System of Book-keeping and Handling of City's Finances—Bills Scrutinized.

The board of aldermen held two meetings in one last Wednesday evening—first a recess meeting of the annual meeting, and following this the regular April meeting. The full board was present. Mayor Heath presiding.

Supt. Carlisle of the city farm appeared before the board to report the need of repairs on some of the outbuildings at the farm. Overseer of the Poor Charles P. Smith, who had inspected the buildings, corroborated him. The barn and shed adjoining, used as a tie-up and woodshed, were in especially bad condition. Asked how extensive repairs were needed, Mr. Smith said it would be necessary to "start at the bottom and go to the ridgepole." He said the buildings had been badly neglected for years.

The full board will investigate, and appointed Saturday, April 17, for a visit to the farm.

To make regular a vote taken at a previous meeting to charge interest on taxes after August 1 at one-half of one per cent, a month, a declaration of when taxes were due having been omitted, the vote was reconsidered, and amended by adding the words, "and are hereby declared as due and payable June 1, 1920."

The vote in regard to pay of assessors was also rescinded. At a previous meeting the pay was fixed at $3.50 a day, with $1 per day extra for the member doing the clerical work. None of the assessors wishes to undertake the clerical work this year, as it will be much greater because of the requirement of the State board of assessors that all real estate shall be described by metes and bounds. They asked that provision be made for a clerk in addition to the board. Discussion followed as to the compensation to be allowed, and five ballots were taken. On the first three ballots the vote stood two for $3.50, one for $3.25 and two for $3. Positions shifted on the fourth ballot, but still without a decision, and on the fifth ballot, three voted for $3.25, one for $3.50 and one for $3, and $3.25 was fixed as compensation for three assessors and a clerk.

A ballot was also taken as to commission to be allowed the tax collector. One voted 2 per cent., four voted 1 1/2 per cent., and it was so decided. The finance committee was appointed a committee to make contract with the tax collector.

The annual meeting was then adjourned.

REGULAR MEETING.

The meeting was then called to order for the regular April meeting, with a roll call. Records of the annual meeting were read and approved.

Rolls of accounts were passed as follows:

|---------------------------|------------|
| Roll No. 2 | $3,204.23 |
| Teachers' roll: | |
| Common schools | 433.50 |
| St. Com. roll: (Phillips) | |
| Highways | $ 535.55 |
| St. Com. roll: (Marden) | |
| Highways | 1,889.59 |
| Sidewalks | 60.23 |
| | 2,485.37 |
| | $6,123.10 |

Before the rolls were passed, bills were carefully scrutinized. Bills of the assessors, giving simply number of days but not dates, were laid on the table. Also bill of Judson L. Sargent for services as constable, and of Laurel M. Poor as dog constable. A big batch of highway bills for labor breaking snow was also held up for investigation.

The finance committee was authorized to negotiate for a temporary loan of $7,000.

Alderman Small read a letter from the auditors at work on the city accounts, which he explained was not in the nature of a final report, but some recommendations that it was thought the board might wish to act upon at this meeting.

The following votes were then passed, unanimously:

Voted, That specific instructions are hereby issued and given to the finance committee that in all their settlements with, or special examinations of, the accounts of the city treasurer and the collector of taxes (special or regular) either or both of them, said finance committee must at the conclusion of such settlement, or such examination, file with the city clerk, all books of accounts, records, vouchers, and any and all items entering into or becoming a part of such settlement, or such examination, detail, together with a copy of such settlement or such examination, signed by at least two of the members of the finance committee. On delivery of all of the above-mentioned books, records, vouchers, etc., the finance committee must receipt for same to said city treasurer or said collector of taxes (special or regular), and such receipts shall be embodied or incorporated in conjunction with the usual form of certification or reconciliation now appearing or used by the finance committee.

Voted, That specific instructions are hereby issued and given to the city clerk that all books of account, records, vouchers, etc., turned over to him by the finance committee are to be suitably packaged, marked or inscribed, and filed as part of the books and records of the city of Ellsworth. That the settlement or examination account, accompanying such above-mentioned matters, is to be recorded by said city clerk in the book now entitled "Record of Annual Settlement With the Tax Collector and Treasurer of the City of Ellsworth," and after such recording, it shall be the duty of said city clerk to procure, or cause to be procured, the personal signatures of the finance committee members signing the original settlement, or examination, record or reconciliation.

Voted, That effective as of this date, the present practice of turning over the highway rolls to the collector of taxes be, and hereby is, discontinued, and that hereafter the sole disbursing officer of the city shall be the city treasurer.

Voted, That the office of J. H. Bresnahan, special collector of taxes for the years 1895 to 1904, both inclusive, is hereby declared vacant, and all the powers and authority of said special collector to collect said taxes are hereby revoked and the present finance committee is hereby authorized and instructed to serve said special collector with written notice of this action, and to notify said special collector that he must make settlement with said finance committee not later than the Saturday (May 1, 1920) prior to the next regular meeting of the board of mayor and aldermen, and that all books of accounts, records, vouchers, etc., or any other items entering into or becoming a part of said settlement detail, shall be turned over to said finance committee to be filed by them as permanent records of the city of Ellsworth, at the office of the city clerk, in accordance with the specific instructions issued to said finance committee in connection with all future settlements or examinations of the accounts of the city treasurer and collector (or special collector) of taxes.

The plan of paying all city employees semi-monthly, instead of monthly as heretofore, which this board proposes to put into effect, was discussed at some length. The aldermen were not prepared with an estimate as to how much money would be needed to put this into effect this month, and no action was taken, it being left to the mayor to call a special meeting if it is decided to pay the middle of this month.

The meeting was then adjourned.

John H. Nevells, who has spent the past seven years in the West, arrived home this morning.

The junior class of the high school will give a play at Hancock hall April 30, under the direction of F. E. Cooke.

M. R. Carlisle has reopened the Osgood livery and boarding stable, which has been run for some time past by Simon Violette.

There will be work on two candidates at the regular meeting of Irene chapter, O. E. S., Friday evening, Supper at 6.30.

Nathan Ash, the Bar Harbor liveryman, well known in Ellsworth, died at his home in Bar Harbor Sunday, after an illness of a few days.

There will be a general teachers' meeting at the office of the superintendent of schools to-morrow evening at 7.30.

The senior class of the Ellsworth high school will serve a baked-bean supper at Odd Fellows hall Wednesday, April 21. Home-made candy will be on sale.

Adelbert Sargent and Bernard McDevitt will be arraigned in the Ellsworth municipal court this afternoon, on complaint of Herbert M. Salisbury, who charges them with larceny from his muskrat traps.

Reginald Thorne of Surry, aged fifteen, was arraigned in the Ellsworth municipal court this morning, charged with an assault upon his school teacher. A more serious charge in the complaint was not pressed, and the boy pleaded guilty to assault. Sentence was suspended.

A negro giving the name of Dupre Barlow, who was tramping through this section, was arrested at Lamoine Point yesterday, on complaint of the people from that section. He will be arraigned in the Ellsworth municipal court this afternoon.

Walter A. Scott will to-morrow open a new shoe store in the store formerly occupied by David Friend. Mr. Scott is an Ellsworth boy, who has had considerable experience in the shoe trade and shoe manufacturing. For three years he served as government shoe inspector in New England.

A distressing report became current in Ellsworth last week that Mrs. Ivory Frazier of Lakewood had died. The report reached The American from an apparently reliable source, and a brief item to that effect was published. It was a relief to the many friends of Mrs. Frazier to learn later that the report was untrue. She has been very critically ill in the hospital in Belfast, of typhoid fever. Though her condition is still serious, it is believed the crisis has been passed.

There was a hearing before Justice Deasy yesterday in the action of the city of Ellsworth against the Standard Oil Co. to compel the removal of the oil tanks on High street. The hearing was merely preliminary, to determine the sufficiency of the service in the case, which was made upon Clifton Woodward, the local sales agent for the company. Justice Deasy decided that the service was not sufficient. New service will therefore be necessary. W. E. Whiting appeared for the city and Peters & Crabtree for the Standard Oil Co.

A wedding of interest in Ellsworth took place in the home of Rev. P. A. Killam, in Allston, Mass., Monday afternoon. The bride was Miss Gussie S. Graves of Ellsworth, and the groom, Arthur L. Douglass of Bradford, Mass. The ceremony, performed by Mr. Killam, was the single ring service. Immediately after the wedding the couple left for a short trip, after which they will be at home in Bradford. Mr. Douglass is a locomotive engineer, with a position on the Boston & Maine railroad.

Harris W. Pratt, son of the late Hezekiah and Abbie Joy Pratt, died at the residence of Mrs. Tenney on Church street Thursday evening, aged seventy-one years. Mr. Pratt was born at Tremont, coming to Ellsworth when a small boy. Most of his life was spent at sea. He is survived by three brothers, Capt. Willis L. Pratt and Capt. Frank S. Pratt, of Ellsworth, and Judge Herbert Pratt of Globe, Ariz., and three sisters, Mrs. Lind Leach of Rockland, Mrs. Gussie Jordan of Auburn, and Mrs. Nellie Hood of Vershire, Vt. The funeral was held Sunday, Rev. R. B. Matthews officiating. Mrs. Greely and Miss Emory furnished music.

A series of minor accidents, due to the condition of the roadbed, has upset train schedules on the Mt. Desert branch the past week. Spreading rails have been the principal cause of trouble. There were two such accidents on the Mt. Desert branch last week, and one at Schoodic on the Washington County road. This morning there are seven freight cars off the rails at Tunk pond, and a big washout at Nicolien held up the morning train, making it necessary to transfer passengers around it, a relief train going up from Washington Junction. Even the Bar Harbor ferry boat has caught the infection, breaking down on one of her trips yesterday and drifting helplessly about the bay for a while. There is no boat connection with Bar Harbor to-day. Bar Harbor passengers on yesterday afternoon's train were held up at the Ferry, and came back to Ellsworth in the evening.

OBITUARY.

WILLIAM L. McDONALD.

Relatives and friends in Ellsworth were shocked Sunday by news of the death of William L. McDonald in Pittsburgh, Pa. A brief telegram Saturday evening announcing his serious illness was followed early Sunday morning by news of his death. He had been ill but a few days, and confined to the house only since Thursday. Not until Friday night did his condition seem serious, and Saturday he was taken from his home at Mather, Pa., to the hospital in Pittsburgh, and specialists were called. He died at 7.30 Sunday morning. Death resulted from acute mastoiditis complicated with acute meningitis.

Mr. McDonald was born in Ellsworth forty-three years ago, and spent his boyhood here, graduating from the Ellsworth high school in 1894. Soon afterward he went to the coal fields of western Pennsylvania, where his brother Frank was already located. He made rapid advancement in his work, winning the confidence of the large concerns by which he was employed, and for years he has held responsible positions. At the time of his death he was manager of the Mather Collieries Co., which was developing new properties and building a new town, Mather, in western Pennsylvania.

He leaves, besides his mother, Mrs. Ann A. McDonald of Ellsworth, one brother, Frank, of Pittsburgh.

Mr. McDonald was one who, though long employed away from his home town, retained a loyal attachment for it, and kept in close touch with Ellsworth and his many friends here through his annual visits. He will be greatly missed.

The body arrived here this morning, accompanied by his brother Frank. The funeral, which will be private, will be held at the home to-morrow afternoon at 2.00 o'clock. Friends who so desire may call at the home, 29 Elm street, this afternoon or to-morrow forenoon.

on account of colds and disorders that could be avoided. Lots of time and money are lost because of needless illness. Whenever you are out in wet weather, or have headaches, or are at all constipated, a good dose of "L.F." Atwood's Medicine taken immediately, will safeguard your health and prevent serious illness from developing. Don't wait until you begin to notice bad effects but use it whenever there is the slightest symptom of trouble. It can't do any harm, and will aid your digestion at all times.

After a short time you will be pleasantly surprised with your general condition. With your stomach, liver and other organs working properly all the time, you will take a greater interest in your work, your blood will be purer, and you will be less tired at night after a hard day's work.

Start using this well-known old standby, today. Get a bottle from your dealer, 50c for 60 teaspoonful doses. "L.F." Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.

Eliphalet Pettee and family of Seal Harbor were in town last week to attend the funeral of Mr. Pettee's sister.
The community was saddened by the sudden death of Rhoda Pettee, wife of Amos Leighton. Mrs. Leighton had been in poor health some time, but no one realized the end was so near. She was taken seriously ill last Tuesday, and passed away early Wednesday morning. Mrs. Leighton was a native of Birch Harbor, but had lived here the past two years. She was a woman of estimable qualities, and devoted to her family, where she will be greatly missed. She is survived by her husband and six children—Mrs. Flossie Colson, Cora, Genevieve, Harry, Walter and Everett, also several brothers and sisters, to whom the sincere sympathy of their many friends is extended. The funeral was held in the church, Rev. Mr. Brooks of Seal Harbor officiating. Interment was in Mt. View cemetery.

Merit That Makes Mileage

-In Tires for the Smaller Cars

Such extraordinary competence and carefulness as are characteristic of all Goodyear manufacture likewise characterize Goodyear's building of tires for the smaller cars.

Only very unusual experience and endeavor make possible the high relative value built into the 30x3-, 30x3½-, and 31x4-inch Goodyear Tires in our Plant No. 2, the world's largest factory devoted to these sizes.

In addition to the larger sizes Goodyear builds, a daily production averaging 20,000 tires of these smaller sizes alone makes them easily available, regardless of the big demand, to owners of Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, and other cars taking these sizes.

If you are one of these owners, go to the nearest Goodyear Service Station Dealer for these tires, and for Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes. He carries a stock.

30x3½ Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread $23.50
30x3½ Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with a cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30x3½ size in water-proof bag $4.50

"Fruit-a-tives", or Fruit Liver Tablets Gave Relief

385 GRANT ST., BUFFALO, N. Y.
 "I have been paralyzed on the whole right side since April 30th. I referred the case to a physician who wrote me, advising the use of 'Fruit-a-tives'."
 I would not be without 'Fruit-a-tives' for anything; no more strong cathartics or salts; no more bowel trouble for me.
 I recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to all. I feel more like 40 than 62, which I have just passed."

CATARRH

Quickly Ended by a Pleasant Germ-killing Antiseptic

The little Hyomei Inhaler is made of hard rubber and can easily be carried in pocket or purse. It will last a lifetime.
 Into this inhaler pour a few drops of medicinal Hyomei.
 This is absorbed by the antiseptic gauze within and now you are ready to breathe it in over the germ infested membrane where it will speedily begin its work of killing catarrh germs. Hyomei is made of Australian eucalyptus combined with other antiseptics and is very pleasant to breathe. It is guaranteed to end catarrh, bronchitis, sore throat, croup, coughs and colds or money back. It cleans out a stuffed up head in two minutes. Sold by druggists everywhere and by Charles E. Alexander.

MI-ONA Ends indigestion

It relieves stomach misery, sour stomach, belching and all stomach disease or money back. Large box of tablets 60 cents. Druggists in all towns.

"I HAVE NEVER FELT BETTER IN MY LIFE"

Lealand Was in Wretched Condition For Four Years But Tanlac Built Him Up.

"I don't remember ever having felt better in my life than I do now after taking Tanlac," said Fred Lealand, an employee of the Portland Shoe Manufacturing Company, and who resides at 108 Cumberland avenue, Portland, Me., recently. Continuing, he said:
 "After having three attacks of pneumonia I was left in an extremely bad physical condition and have been this way for four years. I lost a great deal of weight and was very weak, and felt tired and worn out all the time. I managed to keep going and stay at my work, but while I did, and my duties were not very hard, I was in such an exhausted condition when my day's work was done it was all I could do to drag myself home. My nerves were in an awful shape, and I was so restless I could get but little sleep, as I would just roll and toss all night long, and if I did manage to get to sleep I would wake up every few minutes with a start, as though I was frightened. I was just simply in a bad fix, and although I had tried lots of different kinds of medicine, none of them seemed to do me any good.
 "I had been reading so many statements from people who had been benefited by taking Tanlac, I decided to try it, and I am sure glad I did, for while I have taken only two bottles so far, I have gained seven pounds in weight and am gaining in weight and strength every day, and feel sure it will only be a short while before I will be as stout as I ever was. That tired, worn-out feeling is all gone, and when I go to bed I sleep as sound as a log all night long and get up feeling greatly refreshed, and can work all day long and feel as good when I am through in the afternoon as I did when I started to work in the morning. My nerves are in fine condition, and outside of being a little thin, I am enjoying as good general health as I ever did in my life. I think Tanlac is a remarkable medicine, and I am only too glad to be able to say a good word for it."
 Tanlac is sold in Ellsworth by E. G. Moore, in Sullivan by Dunbar Bros., and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv't.

MICE AND A PUMPKIN COACH

By CRAWFORD LUTTRELL

(© 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Well, my first day at the office is over, and I can honestly say that I enjoyed it," Nan announced to the anxiously inquiring two who turned to welcome her at the sound of her key in the lock.

"Pshaw!" sighed fifteen-year-old Ruth. "I hoped that there would be a young man in the office, good-looking and rich, and that he would come around on Sundays and take us all out riding to the country."

"Perhaps I can find that agreeable sort of boss next time I look for work." Then to her mother: "I am glad that things are just as they are. Personally I don't believe in mixing business and pleasure and in drawing a weekly pay envelope for time spent in trying to get a husband. Do you, muddle, dear?"

"When the right man comes along you'll know it, Nan, whether you are at a dance or buying clothes at a butcher's, I believe that there is a fate guarding these issues of life. Perhaps it sounds foolish for an old woman like me to say such things, but it is one of my pet theories, grounded in innumerable cases of fact that I have observed."

"I don't agree with you, mother," said the sophisticated fifteen-year-old. "When I grow up I am going to pick out the best-looking, richest man in town and set about making him fall in love with me. Getting married is every woman's first business in life. Why, already I am encouraging Billy McMahan. His father owns a plumbing place, I know, but he is making money so fast that in two or three years from now the daily papers will quote him about everything, calling him colonel or general or something. Blood don't count any more. Why, nobody but the ten-year census man ever asks about your grandmother."

"Oh, wisdom in short skirts!" gasped Nan. "It's hard to say such things to mother, Ruthie. You know it shocks her."

"You might just as well know how I feel about such things. Of course, I expect to go to work just as soon as I leave high school and help cheerfully so that you will have most of your salary to spend on yourself, Nan. Mother has her little income and maybe by that time prices will take a tumble and we can manage better than we do now."

Mrs. Taylor laughed a bit shakily. Then she drew a letter from her dress pocket. "I have some astonishing news, girls. Nan, you can resign tomorrow."

"Resign! Why?"

"Your father bought some mining stock many years ago and we just considered the money lost, but today while you were at the office and Ruth was at school a strange lawyer called and told me that—that we are to have three hundred dollars a month from the investment. I wanted to ring both of you and tell you to run right home, but I saved the news for a happy surprise tonight."

Ruth threw her books on the floor and began a sort of Indian war dance, chanting weirdly as she circled the two. Nan sat there as if she had been turned into stone.

"Aren't you glad, Nan, dear?" asked her mother, bending over to touch her. "I'm just staggered, stunned, but I am not going to give up my position."

"Why, child, we can live beautifully on what I have and that three hundred and send Ruth to college, too."

"I know," said Nan, seriously. "It nearly killed me to even think of going into a man's office to earn my own livelihood. All those months that I studied at business college were like a nightmare to me, but I conquered the feeling and now I won't give it up. I feel capable. I like getting up and going out every day. I like the hum of the office, people coming and going, all of it. It fascinates me."

"I'll bet there is a man in that office that you like," exploded Ruth suddenly.

"Nobody but Mr. Henderson, and he doesn't look as if he had ever been young enough to think of romance," explained Nan haughtily.

curt as it could be. Maybe I had better resign, after all!"

"Look him over first!" admonished the wily Ruth. "I thought his voice was perfectly delicious. When is he coming? Let's have supper over, then you slip on that dark blue georgette. You look like a million dollars in that."

"Ruthie, don't be so slangy!" said the mother patiently.

"Silly child!" laughed Nan, picking up her hat and starting toward her bedroom. "I told you I did not expect to mix business and pleasure. Do you think I would ever fuss up for my employer? Why, they pay me to write their letters, not to dress up like a chorus girl. I must have made some awful blunders. He said that the letters could not be mailed as they were. Oh dear, and I was feeling so efficient, too!"

"Just resign at once, dear! That will be best," insisted her mother comfortingly.

At eight o'clock sharp the buzzer sounded in the tiny hall. On her way to answer Nan instinctively put her hand to her shining brown hair and smoothed it.

Mrs. Taylor and Ruth sat waiting patiently for Nan's employer to leave. Presently they heard laughter, a man's ringing voice and Nan's little chuckle. She never laughed that way except when she was happy.

"He sounds young and good-looking, too, doesn't he, mother?" demanded Ruth, listening attentively. "They don't sound businesslike to me, either, talking about plays and books and everything."

The door opened and Nan called them. When she had presented them she turned to her mother. "Mr. Henderson wants to take me to see vaudeville over at the Palace, mother, the nine o'clock performance, you know. Is it all right?"

Mrs. Taylor looked at the young man and nodded smilingly.

Ruth followed Nan to her bedroom, and shutting the door carefully behind her, asked, "Wherefore borrow mother's seakins coat and powder your nose and rouge your cheeks—just for your employer?"

Nan had the grace to blush as she lifted a little swirl of blue tissue that was, if you please, a spring hat. "Silly!" she said again, and hurried back into the living room.

"I was just telling Mr. Henderson about our mining stock, dear, and that it made us quite independent again," her mother said, "I told him, too, that I thought it would be wise for you to resign. There was something wrong with the letters, was there not? You are inexperienced, of course."

"On the other hand, the letters were perfect, quite perfect," Mr. Henderson hastened to assure her. "You won't think of leaving us, will you, Miss Nan, that is, not yet? I am going to be right in the office now for two months."

"No, I like it," Nan smiled up at him from under the bewildering swirl of blue tissue. "I am going to work always," she added emphatically.

At the door the good-looking young man paused. His hand had a possessive touch on the little fur-clad sleeve beside him. "Of course, Mrs. Taylor, I know that some day I am going to agree with you. I am going to urge Miss Nan to resign." He laughed boyishly, flushing a little.

"Now, the only difference between sis and me is that I am open and above-board, mother," calmly acknowledged Ruth when the door had closed on the two. "I'll bet my new red hat that Nan knew about him all the time. Mix business and pleasure? All a girl wants is the chance."

"It is fate, Ruthie. I know," said Mrs. Taylor when the high-priced purr of Mr. Henderson's smart gray roaster had proclaimed that Nan had found the mice and pumpkin coach that waits for every Cinderella in the world.

HUMIDITY IN AIR CURRENTS

Observations Have Shown That Irrigation Has Little Effect on Conditions of the Air.

"Irrigation has little to do with the humidity readings in any section," it is declared by J. H. Gordon, observer of the Arizona division of the weather bureau. Any rise of humidity readings in the Phoenix station is due, he states, simply to increase of rainfall. During the past ten years there has been increase in rainfall at different points ranging from 11 to 29 per cent. Most of the humidity comes in air currents from the Gulf of California. Yet the driest point in Arizona is Ajo, a mining camp on the desert, nearest of all points to the gulf. Somewhat less dry are Yuma and Phoenix, while the greatest absolute content of moisture by cubic measure is in Tucson. While Phoenix is in the midst of a great irrigated valley, the influence of irrigation upon her climate is pronounced immaterial.

Somewhat the same result was secured by the weather bureau in studying problems of evaporation, in connection with the formation of the Salton sea, in southern California. No humidity influence could be found at stations established around the sea, while at Mecca, at the date farm, the seasons following the creation of the sea were the driest ever registered. The driest air uniformly has been found in the foothill region somewhat above the valleys.

Enough Nuts to Feed World. The nut trees of the world, it is calculated, could provide food all the year round for the population of the globe. Brazil nuts grow in such profusion that thousands of tons of them are wasted every year.

Murderous Assault at Bar Harbor. Dazed and covered with blood from two ugly wounds in his head, Maurice Giordendo of Boston was found wandering in the streets of Bar Harbor early Monday morning. He told a story of an assault and robbery by a companion, Albert Miller, with whom he had tramped across the island from Bass Harbor after leaving the tramp steamship Mohawk.

Sunday night they reached Bar Harbor, and lay down to sleep in a vacant lot just outside the town. It is alleged that while his companion was asleep, Miller struck him several times over the head with an iron rod, took his money, $7, from his pocket, and leaving him unconscious, perhaps dying, went to Bar Harbor and bought a night's lodging.

Giordendo says he regained consciousness or partial consciousness some time in the night, and tried to get up, but was unable to do so. He finally succeeded, about daylight, in getting up and staggering into town. He was taken to the hospital, where his condition was pronounced serious, but at last reports he was said to be recovering.

Miller was arrested in Bar Harbor Monday, and held to await the result of Giordendo's injuries. Earl Forsman, who left the steamship with the two men but did not accompany them across the island, and was not with them at the time of the assault, is also detained as a witness. Miller claims to be a native of Camden.

VICTIM OF FATE'S HARSHNESS

Sad Story of Luther K. Linkenhooper Would Move Almost Any One to Tears.

"As I was coming to town just now," said the motorist, "I saw a peculiar sight; a thin, wild-eyed man, clad in a red-and-blue bedquilt, perched in a treetop and every now and then crying 'Honk! Honk!' to the unbridled glee of a gang of men and boys assembled below."

"That was Luther K. Linkenhooper, by the symptoms," replied the landlord of the tavern at Grudge. "He accumulated three second-hand Hootin' Nanny cars; one he traded for, one his brother-in-law wished onto him and one was left him by will. None of them were of any account, and so he set to work to take 'em all apart and make one good one out of the three. The task was too much for his mind, and after he had made about five from the ruins of the three and still had a lot of stuff left, and none of 'em would move a muscle, he began to catter, then to yell, and finally took to his bed a-jibbering. Once in a while he escapes from his relatives and gets out and cuts some such caper as you saw. He thinks he is a Hootin' Nanny himself."

"But, great guns! Even a car of the name you mention does not wear a bedquilt and climb trees?"

"Mebby not. But it would if it was as crazy as Luther is."—Kansas City Star.

PRIZE CAST-OFF CLOTHING

Peculiar Whim of "Fashion" in Virgin Islands Puzzling to United States Marines.

United States marines garrisoning these new possessions of Uncle Sam can't understand the fashions affected by the natives, writes a St. Thomas (Virgin Islands) correspondent. Just why a negro or Cha-Cha Indian should wear an overcoat when the thermometer stands 100 in the shade still mystifies the "sea soldiers."

Many of the marines down here have seen service in the neighboring island of Haiti, where clothes are the least consideration of the natives. But as soon as the new arrival reaches these shores he is approached by natives begging for his cast-off clothing.

For some strange reason the native Virgin islander believes in wearing every article of clothing he can lay hands on. All American holidays are now celebrated by the natives, who spend the day parading about the streets, some of them wearing overcoats, capes, two or more pairs of trousers and a red bandana handkerchief about the neck. Also they frequently adorn themselves with the horns of cows or oxen attached to the head just in front of the ears.

Immortal "Mermaid"

She was a "famous woman," because she was a "famous" inn that served "famous" men. That was enough for the Mermaid. She was named after an enchanting lady of the vasty deep, who is a woman to her girdle and a fish to her feet. Her figure was on the signboard of the famous inn, in Friday street, London. Pass with hasty glance the bar in front—the parlor behind of the blackened roof and polished tables—tapping passages—and you have come to the inn parlor. This is the Mermaid! And the men sitting there? Ben Jonson, Fletcher, Beaumont, Carew, Donne and—Shakespeare. Shakespeare is roaring over his dog's nose, and Ben Jonson over his canary. Oh, listen to the w-ombats between Shakespeare and Ben Jonson! Mermaid, dear "famous woman," why were you not a twin?

"Twelfth Night"

"Twelfth Day," or "Little Christmas," the Feast of the Epiphany, commemorates the arrival of the Magi, or three kings of the East, who came to the crib of the Christ Child in Bethlehem to worship him as the long-promised Messiah. The old custom of merry-making in England in connection with the feast gave Shakespeare the name of one of his finest comedies, "Twelfth Night."

The Collection of "Slow" Telephone Accounts

THE PURPOSE OF THIS ANNOUNCEMENT is to show that it is desirable to save the time and labor that all expended in collecting bills that remain unpaid after the lapse of a reasonable period of time.

BILLS ARE DUE when rendered on the first day of each month, and while most telephone accounts are paid promptly, there are a number of "slow" accounts that require labor, time and expense that might better be devoted to other work that is more directly in the interest of the public's telephone service.

WE BELIEVE that this method of bringing the matter to the attention of the public, this frank and open discussion of our aims, is all that is necessary to secure proper understanding and co-operation.

COUNTY CONFERENCE.

The Interchurch World Movement in Hancock County. (Contributed.)

About seventy people gathered at the Baptist church in Ellsworth last Friday from Congregational, Methodist and Baptist churches in various sections of the county, to learn the results of the interchurch survey and plans for the coming financial campaign. Though not planned as an inspirational gathering so much as a getting together to face existing conditions and needs, yet the facts and plans as they were presented produced somehow a feeling of intense interest and deep earnestness to reach the goals that are being aimed at.

The delegates were principally pastors, community and church directors, and representatives of Sunday schools and other departments. The conference speakers came mostly from the eastern section of the State, and did splendidly their share in making the conference a success.

Rev. Mr. Capron of Bangor and Rev. Mr. MacDonald of Eastport spoke in the forenoon on world conditions and the inception of the interchurch movement, and presented the plans of the united financial campaign that will be made April 25 to May 2.

The denominational gatherings were held in the afternoon, and were pretty solemn occasions to some as they learned the amounts assigned their churches to raise. But each group seemed to come into a closer bond of brotherhood, loyalty and faith as they faced together their task in those hours from 1.30 to 3.30. It seemed to be the dawning, indeed, of a new era of purpose and faith. And it was with most earnest spirit that all came together again from their denominational meetings to listen to Rev. Dr. Ramsdell of Calais, and other speakers, plead eloquently for the cause of Christ in mission fields.

Rev. A. M. MacDonald of Bar Harbor, county campaign director, explained at the close of the afternoon session the thoroughness with which the financial campaign will be made, to bring the opportunities of the work to every interested person.

Mr. Capron spoke in the evening of the evangelistic campaign that is a part of the interchurch program, to be extended to Pentecost Sunday, May 23. He emphasized the value of personal work in evangelism by pastor and laymen. Rev. Mr. Norris gave an address to show the responsibility of laymen especially, in this combined effort of evangelical churches.

Many were present to hear these addresses and obtain from the stereopticon lecture given by Dr. Hamlen, State secretary of the United Baptist Convention, a vast array of facts relative to Christian stewardship, the need of tithing, and conditions that must be remedied in mission fields, in Sunday school and church activities and elsewhere, if the world is to be saved from its present threatening perils.

The ladies and friends of the Baptist church are to be commended for the bountiful meals they provided at noon and supper-time. They helped to make complete the enjoyment and good fellowship of the occasion. Thanks are due to the registration committee and other committees for their good work, and to the newspapers of the county for their generous publicity aid. With the kind of spirit and co-operation that has been shown by this conference, Hancock county ought to go over the top in the coming campaign and gain new values in living and in service.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

Hancock County Association Will Meet at Bar Harbor April 23.

The annual convention of the Hancock County Teachers' association will be held at Bar Harbor Friday, April 23. Dr. James C. Chalmers, principal of the Massachusetts state normal school at Framingham, Mass., and Dr. A. E. Winship of Boston, editor of the Journal of Education, will be the speakers from out of the State. Dr. Chalmers will give two addresses, the subjects being "School District Number Four" and "Three Teaching Lessons from the Life of Theodore Roosevelt." The title of Dr. Winship's address has not been announced.

Teaching exercises will be held between 1.15 and 2.15 p. m., as follows: Head primary school, first grade, Miss Inez C. Nickels, second grade, Miss Clara E. West, third grade, Miss Mabel L. Chase. Emerson grammar school, fourth grade, Mrs. Marie K. Maddox, fifth grade, Mrs. Carrie M. Came, sixth grade, Miss Lucy E. Sturtevant, seventh grade, Miss June Andrews, assisted by Miss Elizabeth C. Husband. Bar Harbor high school, eighth grade, boys, manual training, Leon G. Lewis; eighth grade, girls, domestic science, Mrs. Arra S. Mixer; high school girls, Miss Maisie S. Higgins.

The meeting of the teachers of rural schools will be in charge of Wm D. Hall of Castine normal school, and addresses will be given by Mrs. Wilhelm Gibbs of Northeast Harbor on "The Helping Teacher," and by Miss Florence M. Hale of Augusta on "Some Characteristics of a Standard School."

Supt. R. E. Stevens of Ellsworth will have charge of the meeting of the graded teachers, and at this session addresses will be made by Miss Helen M. Gould, Red Cross nurse for Hancock county, on "The Need of Medical Inspection in the Schools," "Physical Education as a Basis for All-round Development" (with demonstration by sixth grade), by Miss Dorothea Nye, physical director of the Y. W. C. A. of Bar Harbor, and "The Teachers' Part in a Physical Education Program," by Harold A. Allan of Augusta, State agent for rural education.

The teachers of secondary schools will meet in the study hall of the high school building, and Carl Kelley, principal of the Southwest Harbor high school, will preside. Addresses will be given by Dr. Augustus O. Thomas, State superintendent of public schools, on "New Methods and Purposes in High School Teaching," and by J. W. Taylor, State agent for secondary education, on "What Are Results?"

At the session in the evening an address entitled "Maine's Part in Building the Republic" will be given by State Librarian Henry E. Dunnack of Augusta, and by Supt. Thomas. The officers of the Hancock county teachers' association are as follows: President, Irving W. Hall, Bar Harbor; secretary and treasurer, Helen M. Greeley, Northeast Harbor; executive committee, Louis C. Sturtevant, Ellsworth, and Miss Augusta Leighton, Bluehill.

Something About Olives.

Like other fruit trees, the olive tree has many enemies, including birds and insects. The most dreaded of these is a small fly called dacus oleae, half the size of a house fly. It is calculated that a single fly will destroy 300 or 400 olives. The only remedy is to gather the fruit early, and by crushing it at once destroy the larvae.

ELLSWORTH FALLS.

Mrs. Mary Dickey of Hull's Cove has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Thomas W. Grindell.

Herbert E. Flood and Albert C. Cottle have been spending a few days at their camp at Patten pond. Alfred H. Crossman of Bangor is visiting here.

Miss Emily Flood has returned home from Sullivan.

Franklin.

Calvin and Norman Dyer are on a business trip to Hoboken, N. J.

Miss Florence Dunn returned Saturday from a week's visit in Bangor. Mrs. Adelaide Dunn is at Gouldsboro with her sister, who is ill.

Miss Hilda Blaisdell, a graduate nurse from Massachusetts general hospital, is home for two months.

Mrs. J. E. Blake, who was called to Somerville, Mass., by the illness of her father, returned home Friday.

Mrs. Charles Bradbury entertained at a 6-o'clock dinner Saturday, the anniversary of her birth, and also of some of her guests.

Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Blaisdell entertained the school teachers and a few friends at a luncheon party. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. Cheesman, a student from Bangor theological seminary, preached at the Baptist church Sunday. The choirs of the two churches have united, and the rendering of hymns and anthems at the two services is pleasing.

The ladies' aid society of the Methodist church held an all-day meeting Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. Charles Dwyer. Her daughter, Mrs. James Bunker, and Miss Edith Butler, were hostesses.

The boys' and girls' agricultural club will hold its monthly meeting at the grange hall Thursday afternoon, April 15. The Franklin club hopes to make an unusually good showing this season.

Under the auspices of the Red Men, there were moving pictures at Sprague's theatre Tuesday afternoon and evening, for the benefit of Lester Bunker. A substantial sum was realized. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bunker have been seriously ill. Their friends had a wood-sawing bee for them recently.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hewitt Friday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Haver. Mr. Hewitt is with the Pacific coast navy. Friends extend congratulations.

Islesford.

Miss Mildred Young is spending a week with her parents, Wm. Young and wife.

Earle Spurling, Marion Spurling, Kenneth Jarvis and Ella Stanley have returned to Bangor high school. Irving R. Spurling accompanied them as far as Ellsworth.

Bernice Spurling has returned to Portland, where she is attending school.

The Islesford dramatic club presented the drama, "Cranberry Corners," last Thursday, at the Neighborhood house, to a large and appreciative audience. Those in the cast are Vernie Gilley, J. R. Dwyer, Fred Morse, Daniel Ham, Wm J. Faulker, Miss Evelyn Moore, Miss Annie Bodge, Mrs. Grace Hadlock, Mrs. Florence Stanley, Mrs. Georgia Morse and Mrs. Grace Fernald. Proceeds for the benefit of the Neighborhood house. The club will present the same play at Park theatre, Southwest Harbor, next Friday evening, weather permitting.
