The Tarratine hotel at Hancock Point is open for the season. Fred E. Coleman is at home from Auburn for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl S. Thorsen of New York were at their West Han-cock farm for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson C. Allen, who have been the guests of Mrs. Henry C. Smith, returned to-day to Massachusetts.

Congressman John A. Peters ad-dressed a meeting of the republican town and city committeemen of Pe-nobscot county in Bangor Monday night.

Mrs. Joseph Callahan of Dor-chester, Mass., with little daughter Janet, is here to spend the summer with her parents, John W. Hawkes and wife.

Smith's dancing pavilion was formally opened last Saturday eve-ning, with a large crowd in attend-ance. There will be another dance at the pavilion this evening.

Embert C. Osgood, driving on the Bangor road Sunday, saw a large moose near the Craig farm. The ani-mal, browsing beside the road, seemed in no hurry to get out of the way. The stable of Mrs. Altavelia Cousins on Water street was destroyed by fire Saturday forenoon. Sparks from the burning building set fire to several neighboring houses, but these fires were quickly extinguished.

Frank S. Sawyer has shut down his lath mill for the present. Mr. Sawyer says that if conditions in the lath market warrant, he will build a small mill in Ellsworth in the fall, a

In St. Joseph's church Thursday evening, at 7.30, Rt. Rev. Bishop Waish will administer the sacrament of confirmation to a class of twenty. The public is invited. The mission in St. Joseph's church, which opened June 6, closed last Sunday afternoon. It was a very successful mission. Fr. O'Toole, a Dominican father, is a forceful and eloquent preacher, and made a deep impression upon his hearers.

There were two automobile accidents of a similar nature in Ellsworth last week. Wednesday afternoon, Andrew Luchini, driving his mother's car on the Surify road, lost control of it, and it plunged into the ditch and it, and it plunged into the ditch and was overturned. The car was badly damaged. The escape of Andrew and his boy companion, John Young of Lamöine, who is attending high school here, from serious injury, is considered miraculous by those who saw the damaged condition of the car. The second accident occurred late Saturday night on High street, near the Lamoine road. A young man named Ball, formerly connected near the Lamoine road. A young man named Ball, formerly connected with theradio station at Bar Harbor and new station with theradio station at Bar Harbor and now visiting there, was driving to Bar Harbor. The lights on the car suddenly went out, and before he could stop the car, it went into the ditch and was overturned. He was taken into the Spillane home, where Dr. Arthur H. Parcher gave first aid, and he was able to preced to Ban and he was able to proceed to Bar Harbor with friends in another car. It is believed he has two fractured ribs, but was reported last night as able to be about. Two young men with him escaped injury. The car was badly damaged.

This month will mark the retire-ment from business of Ellsworth's oldest business man-oldest in busi-ness and oldest in years-James A. McGown. For over fifty years Mr. McGown has been in business for himself on the north side of Main street, in three locations. For the greater part of the time, Mr. McGown conducted a harness shop, and horse furnishings and harness were his principal lines. In recent years he added a line of men's shoes, later adding women's shoes, the shoe business thus becoming his main line. Mr. McGown would like to sell out the business entire, but if this is not done within a few days, he will have done within a few days, he will have a sale. He expects to close out the business this month. Not only has Mr. McGown had a long business record, but it has been a clean one. He has never dishonored a just bill, and no creditor has ever been obliged to dun him. It is a record he may well be proud of MUTUAL BENEFIT COLUMN. Edited by "Aunt Madge." MOTTO :- HELPFUL AND HOPEFUL.

The purposes of this column are succinctly stated in the title and motio --it is for the mutual benefit, and aims to be helpful and hopeful. Being for the common good it is for the common use-a public servant, a purveyor of information and ruggestions, a medium for the interchange of ideas, in this ca-pacity it solicits communications, and its success depends largely on the sup-port given it in this respect. Com-munications must be signed, but the name of writer will not be printed ex-cept by permission. Communications will be subject to approval or rejection by the editor of the column, but none will be rejected without good reason. Address all communications to The American, Ellsworth, Me.

SERMONS WE SEE. I'd rather see a sermon than hear one any day, d rather one would walk with me than merely tell the way.

he eye's a better pupil and more will-ing than the ear.

Fine counsel is confusing, but example's always clear, And the best of all the preachers are the men who live their creeds, For to see good put in action is what everybody needs.

I can soon learn how to do it if you'll

I can watch your hands in action, but your tongue too fas, may run, And the lectures you deliver may be ery wise and true But I'd rather get my lessons by observing what you do; For I may misunderstand you and the high advice you give.

But there's no misunderstanding how you act and how you live.

When I see a deed of kindness I am eager to be kind,

When a weaker brother stumbles, and a strong man stays behind Just to see if he can help him, then the wish grows strong in me To become as big and thoughtful as I know that friend to be, And all travellers can witness that the best of guides to-day Is not the one who tells them, but the ne who shows the way.

One good man teaches many, they believe what they behold,

One deed of kindness noticed is worth forty that are told, Who stands with men of honor learns to hold his honor dear, For right living speaks a language whicht o everyone is clear, Though an able speaker charms me with his eloquence, I say I'd rather see a sermon than hear one any day.

-Edgar A. Guest.

Dear M. B. Friends: Thanks to the new "H.," for the sermons we see are the ones that count, though those who are preach-ing them, by actions, may never know how far their influence extends. They are the silent forces in a community; and the strongest forces in nature are the quiet ones, as, for in-stance, light; and the "still small was more than the earthvoice quake Selfishness never stalked abroad in the land so boldy as at the present time. The struggle to win positions of prominence is almost pitiful to behold. We may well ask, "What is glory, what is fame, that men should use every energy of their being, every honorable or dishonorable means, to secure an enviable position in the world-enviable because many desire to attain it, and all from the same motive.

Don't the readers and helpers of the column taink we might have a special collection of historical matters as our part of the Maine ce nial celebration the last of June? hal celebration the last of June? Not dry, matter-of-fact history; but no doubt many of you have old let-ters, ald data, copies of hundred-year-old documents, wills, old records of interesting events-of course nothing of strictly private affairs but of general interest-which could be copied or condensed for the M. B. C. Most families have heirlooms worthy of description, or traditions, maybe, reaching back a century. Let us have all of these articles or letters, etc., dating back as far as possible. I hope you will take kindly to this proposition, for this is the year for and if we should have enough opy" for several papers no doubt 'copy' many would enjoy the contributions.

FILIPINOS WANT

Cannot Consistently Refuse "Self-Determination."

By MAXIMO M. KALAW,

Secretary of the Philippine Misson, Au-thor "The Case for the Filip.nos," "Self-Government in the Philippines," etc.

When they show sufficient capacity," "When they are able to govern themselves, "When they are educated enough." Thus run the answers of many Americans pressed with the question as to Maximo M, Kalaw.

when the Filiplnos should be granted their independence. Now, "ability," "capacity" and "sufficient education' -What do they mean in black and white?

Senator Shogun may think no people is capable of self-government that does not establish the judicial recall, or that has no Billy Sunday. John Smith of Somerville may think no people is capable of self-government that does not vote his democratic ticket, or go to church on Sundays.

"Capacity for self-government" is as broad and elastic as the world, and if that should be the criterion for the granting of Philippine independence, America might as well say to the Filipinos, "I will give yet independence when it pleases me to do so.".

Fortunately, the American promise to the Philippines is not based on such obscure and abstract conditions. It is based on a definite seizable thing When America, through her Congress. officially told the Filipino people that they would be granted their independence as soon as they could establish a stable government, no abstract or obscure condition was meant. Stable government, according to American usage, means a certain, definite thing.

The United States promised the Cubans the same thing, that "when they have established a stable government, then American troops would be with-drawn." As soon as the Cuban people elected a government sulted to themselves, capable of maintaining order and fulfilling all international obligations, there was a stable government in Cuba, and American troops were withdrawn.

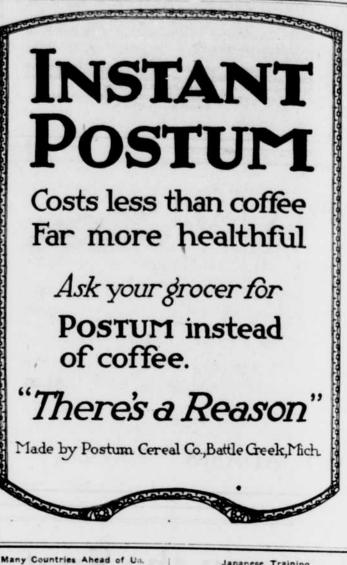

When Congress passed the Jones law, it simply borrowed the phrase "stable government" from the Cuban history and applied it to the Philippines. The history of Philippine legislation shows that in black and white, With full knowledge of what it meant, the Filipino people accepted the Jones law and immediately began setting up the stable government required by Con-gress as a pre-requisite to independence, "The stable government is now a fact. It is indeed more than that; it is an undisputed fact.

The official representative of the United States in the Philippine Islands, the Governor General, reported to the American Congress and the administration that "the Filipino people have established the stable government demanded by Congress as a pre-requisite for the granting of independencenamely, a government elected by the suffrage of the people, which is supported by the people, which is capable of maintaining order and of fulfilling Its international obligations.

The Philippine question is therefore no longer a question of politics, argument or supposition. To the Philippine mind, at least, it is now a ques-tion of whether the United States is ready to discharge its own obligations fully and completely. America went before the world in the recent war as the avowed champion of "self-determination" and Filipinos cannot see how America can consistently refuse to act.

The Filipino people, however, have no grudge or grievance against the American people. Theirs is a message of friendship and gratitude. They seek independence as the natural and logical outcome of America's policy in the islands and of America's solemn promise to them. They come willing to give privileges and concessions not incompatible with their national welfare.

The Filipino people are willing to accept independence under any of the following conditions: Under a League of Nations, guaranteeing its territorial integrity; under the protectorateship of the United States for the first few years; under a treaty of neutrality tween the United States, England, Japan, France and other powers, or even without any condition whatever-abso lute and complete independence. They have no fear of Japan. Philippine independence, in our opinion, is not inimical to Japanese interests. The Japanese are now free to come to the Philinpines, but at the present time there are less than 10,000 Japanese in the islands. There are six times as many Japanese in California as there are in the entire Philippine Archipeiago.

The Filipinos are willing to take their chance as a nation. Smaller nations beset by graver problems and dangers have taken a more hazardous chance at freedom, and have sucreeded

Get Goodyear Tire Economy for That Small Car

The 30x3-, $30x3^{\frac{1}{2}}$, and 31x4-inch sizes of Goodyear Tires are built to afford a money's worth in performance and satisfaction which only the utmost in experience, resources and care can produce.

This extraordinary money's worth begins not only with the merit of these tires, but also with the first cost, which in most cases is no greater, and sometimes actually is less, than that of other makes of the same types of tires.

The republican national convention at Chicago last week nominated Warren G. Harding of Ohio and Calvin Cool.dge of Massachusetts as candidates for President and vice-Pres-Senator Harding was one of ident. thecand dats who trailed along in the ruck with other "favorite sons" in the early convention balloting. When ft was found that the deadlock among theleaders in the balloting could not be broken, thetide turned to Harding, and became a flood. He was nominated on the tenth ballot, amid immense enthusiasm. Senator Harding is a leader who will appeal to the common people. He is of the common people himself, a boy of the farm, who worked his way through school and college, and entered political life by way of newspaperdom. He will be the next President of the United States.

The luncheon was given for members of both houses of the Philippine legislature by former Senator Gabaldon, re cently chosen resident commissioner at Washington.

Sergio Osmena, speaker of the Philippine house of representatives and head of the dominant Nacionalista party, who was recently termed "the great-est Filipino since Rizal," addressing Senor Gabaldon, said:

"We urge upon you in your capacity of resident commissioner to the United States to tell Congress and the people of that noble country that we who are gathered here today would prefer to he the lowest and humblest citizens of the Philippines with independence in our hands than the leaders that we now are in our country under the tutelage of another country."

URGE EXAMPLE OF SELF-DETERMINATION

That friends of Irish independence in the American Congress could make more effective impression on Great Britain by granting Philippine inde-pendence than by merely expressing sympathy with Irish aspirations is the suggestion contained in a statement issued by the Philippine Press Rureau

Twice in a period of nine months? reads the statement, "the United States Senate went on record as being in sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish scople for a government of their on choice.

"Still another way for the friends of Irish independence in the American Congress to make an impressive argument would be to grant the independence that the 10.500,000 inhabitants of the Philippines have repeatedly America's own representa manded. tives in the islands have officially reported they are ready for independ and have recommended that such inde pendence be granted.

"We submit that the granting of Philippine independence would be likely to be accepted by Great Britain as even stronger proof of America's be tief in self-determination than the passage of the Irish resolutions, because Great Britain's councilors of state could not then successfully make the point that the American Congress is asking Great Britain to do something the United States itself has been asked to do and has not done.

'The Filipino people have confidence in the word of America and hope that now that the Senate has reiterated its sympathy with the principle of selfdetermination it will give Great Britain and the other powers of the world a concrete example of consistency and good faith by granting Philippine independence."

YOUNG FILIPINO WON FRENCH WAR CROSS.

Gregorio Cailles, a Filipino, recently returned to his Philippine home wear ing a French uniform and a Cro'x de Guerre with paim. Cailles in Dece ber, 1916, arrived in France and enlisted as a private. He made an excellen: record as a soldier. At one time when all the officers of his company had heen killed, he took command and led the men in a charge. He was decorated for this act of bravery by the French Government.

DO GULLS KILL SHEEP?

Has Another "Theory of a Life-time" Been Kicked to Death.

Been Kicked to Death. "The gulls are killing my sheep." Not a very startling statement to the uninitiated, perhaps, yet it made the government of the United States sit up and take notice, and will attract the attention of ornithologists the world over, for, if true, it means a re-versal of form in nature, contrary to all the known habits of gulls. As Prof. Louis Agassiz wrote to the late Senator Frye after the latter had sent him a square-tail trout pounds heavier than any Prof. Agassiz de-clared existed, it would mean another "theory of a lifetime kicked to death by a fact." by a fact.'

Gulls are the great scavengers of the coast, voracious feedlers on ani-mal and vegetable matter, but usually as carrion. Their natural diet is composed of small fish and shell fish. Never before have they been accused of the murder of anything larger han fish, and with the countless number sof gulls all over the world, with Shea. If thousands of sheep on the islands off the Maine coast where the guils con-gregate, it would be remarkable if this charge against them should be McPhee, p proven-the first known case of such depravity to their discredit.

The messagewhich made the bu-reauof biology of the United States Department of Agriculture sit up and take notice was from a Hancock county man—John G. Davis of Hog island, off the coast of Cape Rosier in the town of Brooksville. The de-martment of hwy at once and B. F. partment got busy at once, and B. E. Smith of Portland, federal game warden for Maine. New Hampshire and Vermont, made a special trip down here last Wednesday to investigate. Jordan. It was from him, in an interesting in-terview, that The American gleans the facts in the case. Mr. Davis wrote, under date of May 10, to the State department of inland fisheries and game, which turned it over to the federal depart-

I would like to hear from you at once. so I can dispose of the dead sheep, as I ion't like to have them lying around in the masture

Between the time the letter was written and the visit of Warden Smith. Mr. Davis had lost several and last Wednesday sheet more placed an al istan sheep and twelve lambs.

Mr. Davis, who lives on Hog is-Mr. Davis, who lives on Hog Is-land, keeps flocks of sheep on West-arn and Pond islands, near by. It was on these islands that the sheep were killed. This spring Mr. Davis found sheep deal on the islands, their eyes pecked out in every in-stance, and their bodies torn open and output heads. The most direct and entrails eaten. The most direct vidence he has against the gulls is that one day, seeing a commotion among the gulls on Western island. he went there, and found them flock-ing about thesheep. On the ground was one lamb. Mr. Davis picked it up, and found it was still alive. One eye was gone. That lamb is still alive, and Mr. Smith saw it. Did the gulls kill the sheep? That is the question the bureau of biology would like answered. Mr Smith is skeptical, yet admits that if the gulls iid not kill the sheep, he does not know what did. The process of elimination seems to put it pretty squarely up to the gulls, yet there is heir previously good record behind them

What killed the sheep? Did they What killed the sheep? Did they die of disease, afterward to be torn apart by the gulls? What about the one still alive, and with an eye pecked out, and the fact that the other sheep are apparently not disased 1

Ellsworth Athletics Won Two Games During the Past Week.

The Ellsworth Athletics started the baseball season with a win at Bar Harbor last Wednesday afternoon, the Radios going down before them by the score of 22-5 in five innings. It was too one-sided to be interesting. Saturday afternoon the Ellsworth from mat its old comparis of last team met its old opponents of last year, the Rice & Miller team from Bangor. The visitors did not show up as well as last year, and it was an easy win for Ellsworth, score 10-3. McPhee, in the box for Ellsworth, held the visitors down to four hits and did not give a single base on balls. The summary

Best of Cookingwith Economy

The New Perfection Oil Cook Stove is the perfect and most economical stove.

The reason for its great fuel saving lies in the perfect and complete combustion of every drop of oil. Then, too, you are not wasting fuel by keeping a fire burning when you are not cooking.

The New Perfection provides the hottest flame for cookingthe high, white-tipped blue flame. You can have intense heat instantly by regulating the handle. Further regulation gives you an even blue flame for slow boiling or simmering. Comes in 1, 2, 3 and 4-burner sizes.

For your further convenience - the New Perfection Water Heater-quickly heats running water. It is easily connected to any circulating water system. Simple and very economical.

Improved Stereopticon. A recent development of the stereopticon operates automatically, throwing upon a screen a certain number of lantern-slide views, usually 46, but 100 or 200 or more by special adaptatior. The apparatus includes a 1,000 candle power nitrogen-tungsten lamp. condensing and objective lenses, and small motor to be connected to a lamp socket on either a direct or alternating current circuit. The machine shifts the slides automatically, allowing each picture to remain on the screen 12 seconds before being replaced by the next. The outfit with screen, slides, etc., packs into a suitcase, and is especially fitted to enable the traveling salesman to show goods by picture, though also adapted for educational displays, home entertainment and a great variety of other purposes.

Valuable Tree.

A giant kaur! tree has been logged by the Queens'and forest service and the timber sold for $1,000. It WBS known as Bell's tree and yielded 17.-000 superficial feet of timber in five huge logs, and the logging costs amounted to $500. The net stumpage came to twelve feet 6 inches per 100 super feet. Had the tree been smaller a higher prize would have been realized, as few saw-millers cared to handie it. This giant of the forest was offered to a timber-getter for $30 on the stump, being at the rate of less than 20 cents per super feet, twelve

Plea for Natural History

We content ourselves with a knowledge of the tongues, and a little skill in philology, or history, perhaps, and antiquity; and neglect that which to me seems more material. I mean natural history. I do not discommend or derogate from those other studies; I should betray mine own ignorance and weakness should I do so: I only wish they might not altogether jostle and exclude this. I wish that this might be brought in fashion among us.-John Ray (1691).

Protected From Witches.

A bride and bridegroom to olden days used to be protected from the evil influence of warlocks and witches by using gray horses to pull the bridal carriage. To be lucky, they should not married in a month the name of be which contains the letter "A." Further, none of the wedding guests should be dressed in black or green. They will be unfortunate if the engagement ring has contained either opals or emeralds.

joyed The junior class of the high school gave its drama "Patty Makes Things Hum," at Odd Fellows' hall Wednesday evening. The house was crowded. The hall was prettily decorated in white and green, the class colors. All the parts were well taken. At the close of the drama, a ball was held. A delightful eve-
