HANCOCK RED CROSS.

Annual Meeting of County Chapter Held in Ellsworth.

The annual meeting of the Hancock county chapter of the American Red Cross was held at Knights of Columbus hall last Wednesday afternoon. About twenty were present, nearly all from Ellsworth and Bar Harbor.

David B. Ogden of Bar Harbor, chairman of the executive committee, made his annual report covering the work of the chapter for the past year, and outlining plans for the coming year. The home service report was presented by Miss H. V. C. Ogden.

A nominating committee, composed of Fred C. Lynam and L. A. Austin of Bar Harbor and Mrs. A. P. Wiswell of Ellsworth submitted the following names as members of the executive committee for the ensuing year, and a vote was cast for them:

David B. Ogden, Bar Harbor; C. L. Morang, Ellsworth; John H. Stafford, Bar Harbor; Mrs. Eliza Herrick, Bluehill; Mrs. W. J. Gott, Brooklin; Mrs. W. B. Joy, Southwest Harbor; Dr. J. S. Bragg, Winter Harbor; Mrs. E. A. Torrey, Stonington; F. C. Lynam, Bar Harbor; Mrs. A. E. Lawrence, Bar Harbor; Miss H. V. C. Ogden, Bar Harbor; Dr. Robert Abbe, Brooksville; Mrs. W. Jay Schieffelin, Ashville; A. H. Lynam, Bar Harbor; B. B. Whitcomb, Ellsworth; H. E. Hamlin, Ellsworth; Miss Belle Gurnee, Bar Harbor; Miss Gertrude Peabody, Asticou; Miss Clara B. Wood, Bucksport; Mrs. Parker Kennedy, Bucksport; Mrs. J. B. Clark, Gouldsboro; Miss Anna C. Witherie, Castine; Rev. G. Graffam, Swan's Island.

Mr. Lynam then offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this chapter record upon its minutes the high appreciation in which it holds the services rendered to it during the war by Messrs. Hamlin, as chairman, Tapley as treasurer, and Whitcomb as secretary. Upon these gentlemen devolved the duty of organizing this chapter into a going concern and to their efforts is due all the success of its work for the public good.

Miss Higgins, the recently appointed county nurse, submitted the report of her department, mostly in the way of recommendations for the coming year. The work of the department for the past year was covered in a report published by Miss Higgins' predecessor, Miss Gould, a few weeks ago.

Miss Jackson, New England director of the Junior Red Cross, urged the importance of a Junior Red Cross membership in this county.

The purposes of this column are succinctly stated in the title and motto—it is for the mutual benefit, and aims to be helpful and hopeful. WHEN SOME ONE CARES.
When you meet some disappointment, an' yer feelin' kind o' blue;
When yer plans have all got side-tracked, er some friend has proved untrue;
When yer toiling, praying, struggling at the bottom 'uv the stairs—
It is like a panacea—jest to know that some one cares.

Some one who can appreciate one's efforts when he tries;
Some one who seems to understand—an' so can sympathize;
Some one who, when he's far away, still wonders how he fares—
Some one who never can forget—some one who really cares.

It will send a thrill of rapture through the framework uv the heart;
It will stir the inner bein' till the tears-drops want to start;
For this life is worth the livin', when some one yer sorrow shares—
Life is truly worth the livin', when you know that some one cares.

Oh, this world is not all sunshine—many days dark clouds disclose;
There's a cross for ev'ry joy bell, an' a thorn for ev'ry rose;
But the cross is not so grievous, ner the thorn the rosebud wears—
An' the clouds have silver linin'—
When some one really cares.
—James E. Hilkey.

—Selected by Alexia.
"Some one cares." It means sympathy; it means remembrance; it means personal interest. Therefore, it is heartening; it is encouraging; it is uplifting.

The Delineator for June has an interesting article by Abbie Farrell Brown on "The Pilgrim's Plymouth." Our attention will be called more forcibly to this tercentenary in the latter part of the year, and with our own State's centennial, ought to recall many historical facts to the minds of the older generation, and fix a few dates in the memories of the young folks. From the article alluded to we take a few sentences:

1620—1920! Once again pilgrims are flocking to Plymouth. This time by team, by trolley-car, by motor car, along smooth roads in the beautiful summer weather. They are coming—for what? To see the place of a great beginning and to remember the spirit which builded for a great end. It is a peaceful harbor this summer morning—a crescent of green with wooded hills at the horns, holding sparkling water, fair islets and a misty beyond. Three thousand miles lay between them and their lost homes across that beyond. Three thousand miles of ocean that harassed the Pilgrims so cruelly, in their frail ship for eighty-three days. Tempest, sickness, birth, death, hunger, cold, doubt, meeting treachery—we can hardly imagine the horrors of that voyage to an unknown spot, which finally turned out, not to be the place for which they held charter. Before the end of that first dreadful winter every soul in the colony had been seriously ill, and only half of them survived. The last of the actual Pilgrim homes is the old Howland house, recently restored, and dating from 1626.

In the registry of deeds and in Pilgrim hall are old records and manuscripts, among them the will of Miles Standish; the famous deed by which one cow was divided (not carved) into thirteen lots among as many families. In Pilgrim hall are chairs of Elder Brewster and Governor Carver, and the cradle of Peregrine White, that seaborn baby. Miles Standish moved over to Duxbury, and here he lies in the little burial ground between his two wives, guarded by four ancient cannon. Here also lie John and Priscilla Alden, his neighbors still, and Peregrine White is buried near by.

Let us come back to Maine. From the Maine Year Book of 1821: Bowdoin college, at Brunswick, incorporated June 24, 1794. A board of trustees numbering thirteen, of which Rev. Elijah Kellogg was one. A board of overseers composed of forty-five members, and the following the "executive government of the college": Rev. William Allen, A. M., president; Parker Cleveland, A. M., professor of mathematics and natural philosophy and lecturer on chemistry and mineralogy; Samuel P. Newman, A. M., professor of the Latin and Greek languages; Alpheus S. Packard, A. M., tutor in geometry, etc.; Benjamin Hale, A. B., tutor in metaphysics, etc.; John Abbott, A. M., librarian. The library contains about 4,500 volumes.

Commencement was held on the first Wednesday of September. The vacations were: First, four weeks from commencement; second, six weeks from the first Wednesday in January; third, three weeks from the first Wednesday after the third Monday of May.

The students there to-day might be interested in the following regulations: The undergraduates are required to attend public worship at the usual and appointed place, provided, however, that any student, who desires to attend steadily, on the services of any other regular Christian society in Brunswick, may have liberty, if of the age of twenty-one years, by signifying his desire to the executive government; or, if a minor, by producing to the government a written request from his parents or guardian, for that purpose. HER FIVE YEARS' TROUBLE ENDED
Mrs. Bunten Does All the Work of Her 18-Room House Since Tanlac Built Her Up.
"All my troubles have left me since I began taking Tanlac and I am enjoying better health than I have in five years," was the statement made recently by Mrs. J. R. Bunten, of 875 Congress St., Portland, Me.
"I had suffered so long that I did not seem to care for anything and life was hardly worth living," continued Mrs. Bunten. "My digestion was so bad that I had practically lost my appetite and what little I did eat soured on my stomach and kept me in misery for hours. My nerves were so terribly upset that a night's rest was nearly impossible, for I would roll and toss until it was nearly morning before I could close my eyes to sleep. I got up every morning weak and tired out and feeling so miserable that my housework was a burden. I tried many different medicines, but none of them did me any good and I was growing worse and worse all the time in spite of everything I could do."
"As I had heard so many people talking about Tanlac I made up my mind to give it a trial. I have taken only two bottles, but they have made such a wonderful change in my condition that already I feel like a different person entirely. My appetite has returned and I can eat whatever I want, as I am no longer troubled with indigestion in any form. My nerves are as steady as a clock and I sleep just as soundly as can be from the time I go to bed until it is time to get up. And of mornings I feel so fine that I am doing all my housework in this house of eighteen rooms, and I don't get tired one bit except in a natural way. I have regained my vitality and energy and I give Tanlac credit for it all."
Tanlac is sold in Ellsworth by E. G. Moore, in Sullivan by Dunbar Bros., in Little Deer Isle by H. G. Eaton, in Ashville by C. C. Small, in South Bluehill by M. B. Grindle, and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv't.

Feel blue
Some mental disorders, periods of depression, etc., are definite reactions from imperfect or sluggish action of the digestive organs. In these cases, 1 or 2 doses of "L.F." Atwood's Medicine will dispel the gloom and restore an active, hopeful mental condition, by removing the cause. Headache powders and unreliable tonics may give temporary relief, but the safe, natural processes that this well-known remedy set in action can have no harmful effect.
It is well to keep a generous supply on hand, and to take small doses regularly. This will improve your general condition, enable you to work better, and give a fuller enjoyment of life. There is no cheaper health insurance. Buy a large bottle today, 60 teaspoonful doses for 50 cents. "L.F." Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.

DO ALL MY HOUSEWORK

Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could hardly stand, says Mrs. Kwarcinski.

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered with displacement and irregularities and I did not know what to do. My mother advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and use the Sanative Wash so I took her advice and used these remedies and cured myself. I feel fine and do all my housework which I could not do before, as I could hardly stand up and I have three healthy children. You can use this letter if you wish, for your remedy is certainly wonderful for sick, run down women."—Mrs. A. KWARCINSKI, 3227 W. Oakdale Ave., Chicago, Ill.
For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been making women strong and well, relieving backache, nervousness, ulceration, and inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularities and periodic pains. It has also proved invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the Change of Life.

STANDARD OIL CO. OF N.Y.
The sign of a reliable dealer and the world's best Gasoline

The Cogswell Memorial Clock at Central Falls, Rhode Island, built to commemorate the Cogswell family, who were among the early settlers in Rhode Island.

THE number of conveniently located Socony gasoline stations is always increasing. All over historic New England and New York State, Socony service has grown with every community.

The Socony standard of service has always been to furnish Socony products wherever the need for them—however small—was manifested.

As a result, the scope of this service has been constantly broadened. The public requires motor fuel and oils of Socony quality. Motorists demand them because they are uniformly clean and efficient—none better are produced today.

Those most interested in gasoline economy—large users—have found that the regular use of one standard motor fuel of uniform quality gives the greatest satisfaction over long periods. There is less carbonization, a permanent carburetor adjustment is possible as well as more accurate checking of mileage.

You can fill up regularly with Socony gasoline almost anywhere from Eastport, Maine, to Lockport, New York, and from Long Island to the Canadian border. Begin today!

Look for the red, white and blue Socony sign.

Candy was sold from a booth in the center and tea served on the small tables scattered over the lawn. The proceeds, $110, will be used toward defraying the expense of sprinkling the streets. The Bluehill team was defeated by Ellsworth, Wednesday, at Academy field, score 7 to 6. With several of the regular players out of the game, the Bluehill line-up presented a somewhat ragged appearance in the field. The locals out hit the Ellsworth team, but threw the game away by costly errors in the fourth and sixth innings. A rally was started in the ninth which netted Bluehill three runs, but it failed to get the tying run across the plate. Saturday the team went to Bar Harbor and were decisively beaten, 9 to 2. Pettie pitched fine ball for Bar Harbor, and with strong support, kept the hits well scattered. Young and Rowe starred at the bat, while Robinson for Bluehill made three sensational running catches in left field. In the first inning, Emery of Bar Harbor tripped over the plate and fell, breaking his left arm. This is the third accident of the kind that has occurred at the athletic field during the past two seasons, the other two victims being Sturtevant of Ellsworth and Saunders of Bluehill. A return game will be played at Academy field next Saturday. July 27. S.

Trees Valuable to Farmer.

The value of trees on a farm can hardly be overestimated. A principle laid down by wise observers is that 5 per cent of all areas of plains and prairie states should be put into trees. The forest waters the farm. This is a potent fact in all regions where irrigation is practiced; it is not less true in all the rest of the country.

Lamoine.

OBITUARY. The funeral of William Francis Desisles, who "passed on" Wednesday, July 21, took place at his home at East Lamoine Friday. Rev. S. W. Sutton of Lamoine and Rev. D. M. Wilson of Massachusetts officiated. There was a large gathering of neighbors, friends and relatives, whose esteem was manifested not only by their presence, but by the large tribute of flowers. "Uncle William" or "Will" as Mr. Desisles was familiarly called, was a notable man in the community, well-known indeed in the neighboring towns on the mainland and in those of Mt. Desert island. He was a direct descendant of Monsieur Louis Duparre Desisles, who in the retinue of Madame LaVal, fled from the terrors of the French revolution. Distinctive French traits actively asserted themselves in the vivacity, the spontaneous wit, the conversational force of him who, in the third generation, lived and died on the lands of the original settlement. William F. Desisles was a true son of Lamoine, always loyal to it and serving its best interests. He had initiative and vision, flung himself into enterprises which promised to advance the prosperity of the town, enlarged the homestead into "Shore Acres," and gave of his means and strength to establish the ferry, with its wharfs and large steamer, which plied between Lamoine and Mount Desert. From his earliest days he engaged in the shore fishery and in farming, and when the rumor ran that gold was to be dug out of the obdurate rock of our iron-bound coast, he zealously tried the thing out. He left nothing undone to make the most of his situation and opportunities, and through all showed himself a man of generous sentiments and sterling character. By nature he was a reformer, open-minded to truth from all quarters and eager to see best things realized. With whatever was irrational or nonsensical he was impatient, and stood always for solid and tested principles. He was one of the oldest members of Lygonia Masonic lodge, which was represented among the pall bearers. These were George Gault, Sherman Douglas, Hoyt L. Smith and William Wallace. Appropriate musical selections formed part of the services, the singers being Mrs. Herbert Davis, Mrs. Shirley Holt and Mrs. Lester Young. Mr. Desisles was the last but one of a large family, his sister, Mrs. Chelsea Hodgkins, surviving him. Some forty-four years ago Mr. Desisles married Miss Susan A. Jeffers of Boston. She also survives him. Their son, George W. Desisles, is in business in New York city. He came here immediately when he learned of the probably fatal character of his father's illness and arrived in time to be recognized by him, and be of great comfort to him. The son will remain in Lamoine with his mother till the middle of August. Last Sunday at the Unitarian church Rev. Mr. Wilson, an intimate friend of Mr. Desisles for fifty years, spoke of him as zealous for best things, a true reformer, a man of integrity and a loyal friend.

TERRIBLE CASE OF ECZEMA

Prominent Veterinary of Dover Suffered Tortures for Twelve Years

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" and "Sootha Salva" Finally Brought Relief

Dover, N. H.

"In 1906, I began to be troubled with Eczema. It started on my face and gradually spread. The second summer, I was so badly afflicted I had to lay off work. I would keep my hands tied up at night to prevent digging into my flesh while asleep. I spent hundreds of dollars in seeking relief. I would go for several months without trouble and then the Eczema would break out again and I would be in for a siege of suffering. My hands, especially across the knuckles, would be so puffed and swollen I could not do any obstetrical work or operations.

It was about three months ago I chanced to read an ad. of 'Fruit-a-lives' about a person being cured of Weeping Eczema by using this remedy and 'Sootha Salva'. I bought both and in about a week, noticed an improvement. I have now used two boxes of 'Fruit-a-lives' and one of 'Sootha Salva' and am entirely free of Eczema. My flesh is clear and smooth and I am that gratified with the result that I cannot proclaim too loudly the merits of these remedies."

E. N. OLZENDAM, D. V. M.

Both remedies are sold at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. At all dealers or sent postpaid by FRUIT-A-LIVES Limited, OGDENSBURG, N. Y.

"Judge" Hayt Testifies

Veteran Judge of the Racing Circuit Tells of the Worth of Var-ne-sis

Proof That

For 35 years Mr. George Hayt of 15 Athens St., Rochester, N. Y., has officiated as presiding and starting judge for harness horses at races all over the country.

He said: "I suffered from rheumatism for five years; at times could scarcely walk. My left hand was helpless for six or eight weeks; the left shoulder badly involved, and running up into the head. I used to go up and down stairs on my hands and knees. My stomach, too, was in very bad shape, and I felt if I did not get relief I would have to give up business. I took many remedies, but received no benefit. When I began taking Var-ne-sis I was in constant pain; but after a short time I began to feel relieved. The pain left me, my stomach trouble disappeared. I am absolutely free from rheumatic pain, and feeling better than I have for years.

A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and aches, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Ellsworth people.

J. H. Donovan, prop. of restaurant, Water St., Ellsworth, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills some time whenever I found my kidneys needed attention. I have no stand on my feet a good deal while cooking and I am exposed to draughts. I know this is what causes my trouble. At times, my back has pained severely and my limbs have cramped. I also have suffered from dizzy spells. As soon as I have noticed any of these symptoms coming on, I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at E. G. Moore's Drug Store, and they have soon fixed me up all right. I certainly am glad to endorse Doan's."

SYLVIA'S WANTS

By ELIZABETH B. DAY.

(© 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Yes, Tom I'll marry you," consented Sylvia so readily that Tom was almost overcome.

Sylvia, the talented, brilliant, popular girl, with half the young men in town clamoring for even one evening of her company, accepting Tom Trainor, the moderate, determined young bank clerk with a moderate salary and very moderate prospects for the future. Truly it was amazing! It had taken Tom three years to summon sufficient courage to propose, and now he wondered for a moment why he had not done it before.

Too well he knew! His limited circumstances had at one time seemed an insurmountable barrier between them; but now that he had saved a little and was getting on better at the bank he had mustered the necessary courage to "pop" the question.

"Yes, and we'll have a church wedding and six bridesmaids and all the 'fixin's' and, Tom, I know a dear little house I'd like to live in, brand new, and only $9,000. There's a duck of a garage where we can keep our own little car, for we'll surely have one, won't we, dear? And, Tom, I saw a living room suite in town the other day for $750, and a solid mahogany set for only $1,200. You see, dear, I sort of had a hunch you'd ask me soon, so I've been scouting around, for I am a firm believer in preparedness, you know."

Tom was beginning to have "hunches" in several different directions. Now, Tom thought he had sized Sylvia up better than that. He knew her father was very "well off" though not wealthy; that they had a "flivver," as did almost everyone in the thrifty little town, but where had Sylvia acquired such extravagant tastes? Oh, but he had been a fool to dream of winning her and keeping her. He had won her, but how about keeping her? Was she, after all, like some other empty-headed girls he knew, with aspirations for a rich husband? Surely he had never lived in a manner that would cause Sylvia to believe that he had money.

Miserably he thought of the $4,000 he had managed to save, at no small sacrifice, either. Well, he was doomed to be an old bachelor, for he never could love anyone but Sylvia. He was disappointed in her, to be sure, for he had believed her the sincerest, truest type of womanhood, but he loved her none the less for his disappointment.

Sylvia, apparently mistaking his silence for bliss, was chattering so happily about a "duddy" kitchen cabinet and fireless cooker and no end of aluminum ware, the purchase of which would mean bankruptcy for Tom.

He must speak, he must tell her that all these things could not be, for years and years anyway, and probably never.

"Sylvia," he began, miserably. "Yes?" with some asperity. "I love you," finished Tom lamely. "Of course you do, dear, and I love you to distraction, and that is why I can hardly wait for all the lovely things we are going to get together."

So that was it; she loved him not for himself alone.

"Sylvia," he began again, and then stopped. Then a courage came to him, a courage he had not thought possible. It was clear that he must speak.

He did not try to take her hand or even to look at her. Gripping his knuckles together, he plunged.

"Listen, just a minute, Sylvia, I never intended to misrepresent things, but I surely must have if you think I can afford to buy a $9,000 house, several thousand dollars' worth of furniture, a car and all that sort of thing. I've tried to save, and thought I had a tidy little sum until I heard your wants. I didn't realize girls needed so much to make them happy. I somehow thought you loved me enough to start at the bottom of the ladder and climb up with me, but I guess I made a mistake.

"I'm sorry, Sylvia, but I can't expect you to marry me, for you'd never be happy on a salary of $2,500 and a bank account of $4,000, out of which we'd have to buy furniture and get started."

Sylvia was silent. Oh, if she would only say something—anything to break the awful silence. Tom could not look at her; he felt weak and shaky and thoroughly miserable.

"Tom, dear," said Sylvia, snuggling close.

"Don't," he begged, moving away from her, "don't make it any harder, dear."

Sylvia sat up very straight. "Very well, then. I've listened to you often and now you must listen to me."

"Tom, you're not the first man who has proposed to me; in fact, you're the third right here in this town. I'll not tell you their names because that would be unfair. I told each of them, the same list of wants I've told you, and they let me think they could give me all those things. I knew better, and I hated them for being so dishonest, but you, you great big honest boy, have shown just how good you are. Why, honey (and this time he let her snuggle close and closer), all I want is you and your love and enough to live on, and a little coop just big enough for—well, two at first, anyway, and—"

But why go further? Isn't that quite perfect?

Ride on Goodyear Tires in That Sturdy Small Car of Yours

It surprises certain users of small cars to find that they can obtain Goodyear Tires at a first cost ordinarily not greater, and sometimes less, than that of other tires.

This initial value, as well as the very low final cost, results from the application of Goodyear experience and care to their manufacture in the world's largest tire factory devoted to 30x3-, 30 x 3 1/2- and 31 x 4-inch sizes.

Such facts explain why more cars, using these sizes, were factory-equipped last year with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

If you drive a Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell, or Dort take advantage of the opportunity to enjoy real Goodyear value and economy; equip your car with Goodyear Tires and Heavy Tourist Tubes at the nearest Service Station.

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available? $4.50 30x3 1/2 size in waterproof bag-----

30x3 1/2 Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread . . . $23.50

Lemira C., wife of Thomas J. Hodgkins, and mother of Mrs. C. L. Chamberlin of this city, died at the Chamberlin home last Friday morning, just a week after her arrival in Colfax. She had been an invalid four years.
Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, Harold C. Hodgkins, formerly of Colfax and now of Portland, Ore., and one daughter, Mrs. Sadie W. Chamberlin, of this city. She is also survived by two brothers, Crosby Wooster and Henry Wooster, both of Hancock, Maine, and two sisters, Mrs. Henry A. Brown of Bar Harbor, Maine, and Mrs. Georgia Watson of New York.

Mrs. Hodgkins was born at Hancock, March 9, 1845, the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Jeremiah Wooster. On January 5, 1868, she was united in marriage to Thomas J. Hodgkins.

The family resided in the vicinity of Hancock until 1887, when they moved to Chicago, where they have since resided. A few weeks ago they sold out and decided to locate in the northwest to be with their children. They arrived in Colfax June 4.

Charlotte of Hartford, Conn., are here for July and August.

The Juniper cemetery ladies' aid will meet with Mrs. Henry Moore August 5. All members are requested to be present.

William H. Brown died very suddenly while working on Whitcomb, Haynes & Whitney's new building, about 8 o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Brown suffered a severe attack of influenza in the winter, but his condition improved in the spring, and he had been gradually gaining since. He had been working for the past three months and expressed himself to friends only last week as feeling fine. Mr. Brown dropped dead at his work, without any warning. His age was sixty-one years. Mr. Brown was a carpenter and an expert millwright, and his services were being constantly sought. He had built some of the largest mills at East Machias, Whitneyville and Cherryfield, as well as the mills here. His capacity for this kind of work was large. He was well liked in the community, and will be missed greatly. He leaves a widow, one daughter, Mrs. Dwight FitzMorris of Boston, and one son, Leon H. Brown, of this place. They have the deepest sympathy of their many friends. Funeral services were held at the home this afternoon. Interment was in the family lot at Juniper cemetery.

CASTINE CENTENARY.

Plans for Fitting Celebration Next Week—Historical Pageant.

Castine, July 27 (special)—Rehearsals are going on in preparation for the pageant of Castine's history, which will begin the State-centenary carnival on the morning of August 5. It is interesting to note the strong community spirit brought out by this and all other phases of the carnival arrangements.

The Muse of History is to be impersonated by Mrs. Fenwick Holmes, a new member of the summer colony, and who is better known to fiction readers as the popular Katharine Eggleston of New York. The State of Maine is to be personified by Miss Frances Pol of Bangor, who has, since childhood, been identified with the summer group in the town, while the sixteen counties of Maine are school children of Castine.

Fenwick Holmes is cast for the character of the Chevalier de Grandfontaine, while Adelbert Durbar, a born and bred Castine citizen, will revivify Jean Vincent de St. Castin. Miss Miriam Walker and Miss Flora Ricker, both Castine girls, will take the parts of Mathilde, the daughter of Modocawando, and "Winona of the Waters."

The action of the pageant is to be staged on Fort George, using the ramparts as a natural background. The characters throughout the fifteen episodes of the pageant are about equally divided between members of the summer colony and the year-round residents. This division is also true of the various committees that are bearing the responsibility of the work in making arrangements for the several activities that will completely fill the day of the carnival.

The Bangor band, under the leadership of A. W. Sprague, will furnish the music for the pageant and the afternoon concert, and will accompany the community chorus, which has been in process of organization for several weeks, under the able direction of Dr. E. E. Philbrook. Auxiliary music will be furnished by the Castine Humpitosh band, led by S. J. Perkins.

Handsome silver cups and other prizes are now on exhibition in the windows of W. A. Ricker's store. These will be awarded in the agricultural exhibits and baby show. The challenge cup, given last year to J. Y. Perkins for the best collection of farm and dairy produce, will be competed for this year, and the farmers throughout the town and suburban district are making every effort to make their gardens bring forth winning vegetables.

An afternoon ball game has been arranged with Belfast, and the evening entertainer is to be a first-class impersonator and musical genius known as "Harrall of Boston." The day will close with a community dance.

A decision was rendered by the public utilities commission Monday in the complaint of the commission on its own motion in the matter of requested light and power service in Sedgwick, Deer Isle and Stonington, dismissing the complaint, but without prejudice to renewal at some future time. Under the circumstances, it is not proper to require the other customers of the company to carry this service. At the present time the cost to the company of making this extension is at least double what would have been the cost three or four years ago, and the cost of rendering service at this time is greatly in excess of the cost thereof a few years back.

One of the expensive features of rendering service to Deer Isle and Stonington, is due to the necessity of building a submarine cable and connecting the island service with the mainland.

The commissioners suggest the organization of a local company to render service on the island, if the complainants are willing to take the chances of a loss. As to service to Sedgwick and Sargentville alone, the commissioners figure a cost of $17,910.60, and operating expense of $4,246, and a maximum revenue of $2,727.

To Test the Hearing.

The man with normal hearing can distinguish in a quiet room the ticking of a watch held in the hand of another person five feet away. A man with normal hearing can hear distinctly every word of a conversation being carried on 70 feet away. Again, if you are sitting in a concert room, a theater or a church, do you, when listening to the words of the speaker, lean forward in your seat in order to hear more clearly? If you do, it is a sign that your hearing is less normal than the rest of the audience; and the same applies, of course, to others who find it difficult to catch the words when sitting in a natural position. If you are talking to a person in the street you may find yourself listening acutely for every word he may utter. Such a practice may have become a habit with you; it shows, at any rate, that your hearing is not what it ought to be. If your hearing is not normal—see your doctor at once.

TEN years ago you might have seen one or two automobiles waiting outside the station, when the weather was pleasant.

Today the square is crowded with them. And most of the cars you generally see there are moderate-price cars.

II

Anybody who tells you that owners of moderate-price cars are not interested in the quality of their tires has never met very many of them.

We come in contact with the small car owner every day and we have found that he is just as much interested as the big car owner.

There is one tire, at least, that makes no distinction between small cars and large cars so far as quality is concerned—the U. S. Tire.

Every U. S. Tire is just like every other in quality—the best its builders know how to build.

Whatever the size of your car, the service you get out of U. S. Tires is the same. It isn't the car, but the man who owns the car, that sets the standard to which U. S. tires are made.

We feel the same way about it. That's why we represent U. S. Tires in this community.
