One of Interest to Our Readers.

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of an Ellsworth Falls man is confirmed after twelve years.

Frank E. Fernald, Waltham St., Ellsworth Falls, Me., says: "I had trouble with my back and could hardly stand the pain. It was hard for me to stoop over or straighten up. I had read a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills and got a supply. It took only one box to benefit me. I have since had return symptoms of the trouble but Doan's Kidney Pills procured at E. G. Moore's Drug Store again gave me immediate relief."

Twelve Years Later, Mr. Fernald said: "Cold settling on my kidneys sometimes disorder them, but I can rely on Doan's Kidney Pills to relieve me. The satisfactory experience I have had with Doan's strengthened my faith in them and I recommend them more highly than ever."

MUTUAL BENEFIT COLUMN.
Edited by "Aunt Madge."

MOTTO:—HELPFUL AND HOPEFUL

The purposes of this column are succinctly stated in the title and motto—it is for the mutual benefit, and aims to be helpful and hopeful. Being for the common good it is for the common use—a public servant, a purveyor of information and suggestions, a medium for the interchange of ideas, in this capacity it solicits communications, and its success depends largely on the support given it in this respect. Communications must be signed, but the name of writer will not be printed except by permission. Communications will be subject to approval or rejection by the editor of the column, but none will be rejected without good reason. Address all communications to The American, Ellsworth, Me.

CENTENNIAL *HYMN.
(Air "Orient.")

O, Maine, we exalt thee, O, Maine, we extol thee,
Thou century young in thy vigor and grace!
On high floats thy banner, its motto, "Dirigo."
Will lead us wherever our footsteps may trace.

Thy sons and thy daughters returning to greet thee,
From hilltop and valley, from mountain and plain,
Again pledge allegiance and loyal devotion
To thee, happy homeland, our dear State of Maine.

With heartfelt rejoicing, dear Maine, we extol thee,
Thy true sons so brave and thy daughters so fair,
Thy hearts are the truest, thy skies are the bluest,
O' some of our childhood, none else can compare.

The glad songs that echo from hill and from valley
Fool forth in triumphant and joyous refrain,
One hundred years striving, one hundred years guiding,
North star of the union, our own State of Maine.

—Helen.

Dear M. B. Friends:

The hymn above was written by "Helen" to be sung in her old home town celebration, but we have the privilege of using it as one of the songs at our reunion, though this is not her M. B. rally song. It will be a good idea to save this and take it with you to the reunion. I have already in my possession three fine M. B. songs. Before having them printed in the column, I hope to receive some more, so will hold them another week, only telling you that one is to be sung to the tune of "Nellie Gray," and the other to "Marching Through Georgia."

I suggested, as a date for our annual reunion here, August 26, but have had no word from any one in regard to whether or not that is a satisfactory time. If Thursday is a fateful day, we shall have to make a change from that, for, as S. J. Y. writes in a personal note, "hope that we will have one exemption from our annual gathering—namely RAIN."

Remembering Aunt Maria's injunction, I will add, "If stormy, the first fair day." I am counting on a larger number than ever before coming together this year. Oh! Do you think I have forgotten something? Why, of course, you each and all have an invitation—the same old cordial one.

Now, this early announcement gives you all time to plan for coming, from the John who "got left" last year to the friends from the far West, who "broke down" in trying to reach us in the rain last year. Also, we expect the trio of sisters back from Seattle before that time, and hope the original quartette will be here; or, why not bring the other sister, too, and make it a quintette.

I have intended for a long time to mention a book received Christmas from a good friend of mine and of the column, entitled "The Amateur Gentleman." It is an English story by Jeffry Farnol. The hero was a country youth, the son of a pugilist, but he was fond of books and acquired an education. Then an uncle who, years before, had sailed away on an "emigrant ship," died in Jamaica and left a large fortune to the lad—Barnabas by name. When his father heard of the immense sum, he said, slowly, "I bean't asleep an' dreaming, be I, Barnabas? Seven 'undred thousand pounds!"

The boy had his ambitions; he wished to be a gentleman. So he started out to meet the nobility, and certainly he had some rare experiences and found out that the standards of the young men of that day were not what he had supposed. Yet, some way, he seemed to keep his old ideals, although the training his father gave him as a pugilist did not come amiss. Of course a heroine makes an entrance into the story. The writer shows up human nature in a diversity of ways.

The August American Magazine is replete with good things. Among the prize letters in answer to "What I Want in My House," one says: "The first essential in my house is harmony. I believe the comfort of the home depends largely on its color atmosphere. The home is the playground of the soul, a safe retreat from the shocks and conflicts of the outside world." What a fine thing it would be if every young married couple could build a home on that basis; then they would find, as the writer concludes his letter: "A place where one may return from the daily grind, and feel that, east or west, home is best."

And now, I am wondering whether it was the wife or the husband who wrote that prize letter.

Another prize letter says: "I want comfort." Harmony and comfort are a good combination.

HAD RHEUMATISM FORTY YEARS Unable to Bend Knees—Claims Var-ne-sis Removed Every Sign of Disease

"I have suffered from rheumatism since I was 23 years of age. I am now 75. Of course, I thought there was no help for me, as each year I grew worse, until finally it got so bad that I had to be assisted in rising from a chair. I was unable to bend my knees and could not open or close my hands, as the fingers were swollen from a chalky deposit."

"At times I was confined to my bed, unable to lift my head from the pillow or turn over without assistance. It seemed as though every joint in my body was involved, and the pain through my hips was almost unendurable."

Var-ne-sis is a vegetable remedy that has been remarkably successful in chronic cases of rheumatism, particularly in those cases that have been treated with the ordinary remedies month after month without results.
