MUSCULAR-RHEUMATIC Aches and Pains
MUSTEROLE
DRAW them out with a "counter-irritant." Distressing muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness generally respond pleasantly to good old Musterole. Doctors call it a "counter-irritant," because it gets action and is not just a salve. Musterole helps bring soreness and pain to the surface, and thus gives natural relief. You can feel how its warming action penetrates and stimulates blood circulation. But do not stop with one application. Apply this soothing, cooling, healing ointment generously to the affected area once every hour for five hours. Used by millions for over 20 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses.
Keep Musterole handy; jars and tubes.
To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole

The teachers' meeting Monday was one of the best this year. The motto was taken from a recent church poster, "He who knows only his own side of a case seldom knows very much about that." Miss Coughlin presented a comprehensive outline of the purpose and nature of the assignment. Typewritten sheets prepared by the commercial department were distributed so that each teacher might have a copy for reference. The discussion of this outline proved so interesting that another meeting will be devoted to completing it.

Monday morning the senior civics class occupied seats on the platform at a special assembly emphasizing the organization of the 72nd congress. Ralph Chaples as chairman, opened the discussion by calling on Pierre Havener to read the article of the constitution authorizing the organization of congress on the first Monday in December. The contest for leadership was acalinated and various other problems of political machinery were discussed. Other pupils taking part included Wilbur Connon, Richard Economy, Clinton Fickett, Dorothy Feeney, Francis Fisher, Anita Gatti, Malcolm Haskell, Merton Haskell, Joan Moulaison, Arline Makinen, Allard Pierce, Lawrence Pike, Ruth Richards, Catherine Snow, Barbara Strout, Burnham Young, Israel Snow. At the Junior High assembly Wednesday morning the pupils of Miss Hagar's room presented an interesting program which opened with a song "How Do You Do?" sung by a boy's sextet composed of Dominick Cucinello, Richard Harden, James Hayes, Roy Joyce, Otis Drake and Charles Emerv. MRS. JOHN LANE

The sorrow felt in the Northern community where she had so long made her home was manifested Saturday at the funeral services for the late Mrs. John W. Lane, through the medium of many floral offerings supplemented by words and letters of condolence. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. L. G. Perry, pastor of the Littlefield Memorial Church, of which the deceased had long been a member in former years. Among those present at the services were Mrs. Margaret White of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Stevens of Boston and Mrs. Hazel Price of Somerville, Mass. The interment was in Achorn cemetery, Ralph Sellers, George Gray, Maynard Gray and William Anderson acting as bearers.

Mrs. Lane's health had been precarious for a number of years, but her condition was thought to be improving and the end came with a suddenness that shocked all who knew her. The deceased was formerly Jennie B. Allen, born in Thomaston, June 8, 1863, daughter of George F. and Lydia C. (Prescott) Allen. She came to Rockland a young girl, and was married Oct. 14,
