WITH THE BOWLERS

Thomaston 5, South Thomaston 0 The two Thomastons had it out at the Recreation alleys Monday and the Keagites went down for the full count, being defeated by Knoxians 180 pins. The slaughter was especially pronounced in the last string which saw Thomaston having a leading of 108 pins, and piling up the season's largest total, 533. Shields was the grand nabob of the occasion having high single (138) and high total. The summary:

Thomaston—V. Young, 270; Woodcock, 234; Gardner, 332; Howard, 299; Shields, 340; total, 1475.
South Thomaston—Brault, 254; Willis, 280; Ames, 243; Benner, 265; Carr, 263; total, 1295.

Burpee Furniture made a clean sweep Tuesday night, with Gulf Refining as the victim. A Furniture carried off the honors, when Beaton had high single (112) and high total The highest refiner fell 12 short of 300 mark. The summary:

Burpee Furniture—Hanson, 275; Thornton, 249; Clarke, 282; Lawry, 273; Beaton, 302; total, 1381.
Gulf Refining—Schellinger, 266; Seavey, 256; Greeley, 286; Danielson, 235; Meads, 288; total, 1331.

BETTY BOOP AND BIMBO

Another successful meeting of the Betty Boop and Bimbo club was held last Saturday morning. A novel idea was presented to the children by using the regulation studio microphone for the children to broadcast their numbers into the auditorium. Each child, no matter how soft its voice, was heard clearly in all parts of the theatre. The following members participated in the entertainment program: Helen Whitmore, Eleanor Ames, Myrtle Johnson, Virginia Rackliff, Barbara Kennedy, Barbara Murray, Virginia White, Zilda Russell, Daurice Tolman, Robert Hall, Vera Easton, Lillian Pendleton, Dot Demuth, William Young, Louise Russell, Lucy Thompson, Mary Cayton, Grace Clayton, Velora Hickman and Evelyn Gray. James O'Hara accompanied members of the entertainment cast.

The club is free to all children, 14 or under, and without obligation on the part of the children. Parents interested in the work of the club are invited to attend any of the Saturday morning meetings.

HI-LITES

In The Courier-Gazette Thrift
Club

(By The Club Manager)

Bushels of counts—pounds of headaches—sawdust weight.

And this week, things have started rearing again—in this Thrift Club—after the seven specials.

Have you seen the seven specials yet—given next weekend for the seven best subscription records this week and next—both old and new count equally on these specials—but double counts in the main Club, for new ones.

If you haven't seen the specials, go have a look.

The Radio at House-Sherman Inc.
Gov. Winthrop Desk at Stonington Furniture Co. Go in and say "I'd like to see the Governor."

Here is how the wind blows. Looks like the closest sort of race for these specials, as well as the main prizes.

At eight this morning—before breakfast for some—near dinner for others—and the edge of the evening for a few—Miss Mildred Ryan was leading for the specials by a slight majority over Mrs. Alice Emery and Mrs. Geneva Huke, which latter two were nearly tied.

Oh John! Poosh 'em oop!

Who sent the three dollars to the Thrift Club office on Monday from Camden for Mr. Dyer, and didn't sign the name. And who should get the counts for the subscription turned in on Saturday—subscription is for Anna E. Coughlin, Broad street.
Owners please stand up at once.

Club members and friends will learn with deep sympathy of the illness of one of the members, Brainard Thurston. Operated on for appendicitis at the hospital yesterday.
Satisfactory. Friends and acquaintances should go to bat for him in the club.

Next in line for the specials are the following, all tied in a triple how knock—Mrs. Irven Simpson, Miss Amber Elwell, Miss Mary Johnson, and Fred Harden. Four people—tied for this place.

Third and fourth specials are a Bulova watch at Palmers—and a beauty it is, and a $30 merchandise order at Fuller-Cobb-Davis. What a whale of a time the winner is going to have with this one

Fifth is man's suit at Gregory's.
Some say it is for a gentleman.
Sixth is Sunbeam Electric Mixmaster at G. A. Lawrence, and seventh a $15 merchandise order at Crie Har-ware Co.

These are bang up specials—every one of them. And to be won in just a few days. Better still, you are taking a shot at two prizes. A special and a regular.

This difference—the specials are won on the most money turned in, either new or old. The regulars are won on the most counts

Next tie position for the specials in the group a step behind the above group are Mrs. Helen Perry and Miss Martha Gould.

Next position is one of even more uncertainty. The following share honors for it: Mrs. W. J. Whitney, Mrs. Hattie Wotton, Mrs. Pauline Mc-Leon Rogers, Mrs. Dora Perry, Miss Edna Payson and Mrs. Judson Young.
No doubt today will change this entire lineup.

As a special prize race, she is going to be a dandy.

What about that rifle someone was going to dig up for this writer. Want one at once. Want to buy it. Prefer 30-30. Seriously.

Not quite untangled yet from the rush of last weekend. But expect to be today. All extra counts will be mailed either tonight or the first thing in the morning.

Watch this column on Saturday for more progress on the specials. This is going to be interesting—and very close, apparently.

What do you think of a bunch of fellows who would go riding—and then push the car back home. Should have alcohol in the radiator, these cool nights.

That is bad as the goose that flew into the bed of a sleeping vacationist, a few moons back.

Well—"Dere she am—durned if she ain't."

PERILS FOR THE MOTORIST

Justice Chapman, Addressing Rockland Lions, Tells of the Court's Viewpoint

The Rockland Lions Club had as guest speaker yesterday Justice Arthur Chapman, of Portland who is presiding over the November term of Knox County Superior Court. Although his own affiliation is with the Rotarians Justice Chapman has a most kindly feeling for Lions International, as his own son is a member of that fraternity.

Justice Chapman elected to speak upon a subject which is of universal interest—automobile laws—and he treated it from the standpoint of the motorist, the legislator and the Court, his interpretation of the rules being of especial value and interest because of the last named angle.

The speaker first considered the alarming number of fatalities resulting from automobile accidents—30,000 annually in this country.
"If you heard that bandits killed 10 or 12 persons a week in one State you would give that State a wide berth," said the speaker. "Yet that's the risk you run from automobiles in Massachusetts."

Every man who goes on the road in an automobile should know the rules, Justice Chapman asserted.
He wouldn't enter into a sport without it. There is a general lack of knowledge covering automobiles. The motorist may say: "There are too many rules, I can't remember them." He might also say that there are too many parts to an automobile, but you can't get along without them.

The underlying principle of managing an automobile is to exercise reasonable care, and reasonable care demands great care and a knowledge of the rules of the road. Avoid danger; that is what a reasonable man would do. Every operator must be ready and willing to give way.

"In court," said Justice Chapman "you will be confronted by the question: 'Did you realize that you were creating a dangerous situation?' If you did realize it you are out of luck." The motorist must have his car in good condition and perfect control of it all the time. He must have reasonable knowledge and skill. He must be alert and observe what is going on around him. It should be remembered, the speaker said, that a car going 30 miles an hour covers 45 feet a second, and a car going 60 miles an hour covers 90 feet a second. This

NOTED MISSION WORKER

Rev. Raymond Buker, Former Mile Racing Champion of America, Speaks Here Friday and Sunday

The quarterly meeting of the Lincoln Baptist Association and a missionary conference will be held in the First Baptist Church Friday and Sunday.

Friday's program features include words of welcome by Rev. J. C. Mac-Donald, the quarterly meeting sermon by Rev. H. W. Nutter at 11:30 a. m., an address by Rev. Frederick W.
Smith at 2 p. m., "Onward View of Christian Work" by Rev. J. S.
Pendleton at 3 p. m., and "The Buddhist Priest" by Rev. Raymond Buker at 7:30 p. m.

The outstanding feature of the meetings will be the presence of Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Buker, lately returned from the most difficult mission field in the world. They will speak at the evening session of the Association, and also will be the speakers at both the morning and evening services of the church Sunday.

Mr. Buker was the intercollegiate champion mile runner of America and in 1925 won a sensational race in San Francisco, the time of his mile being 4m. 18s.

Mr. and Mrs. Buker have been in the West China missionary field six years, and are now home on their first furlough.

WOMEN ARE FOR HOOVER

Declares Mrs. Yost, Director Women's Division of the Republican National Committee

Backing her assertion with evidence, Mrs. Ellis A. Yost, director of the women's division, Republican National Committee, declared Tuesday that the majority of women are for President Hoover. Mrs. Yost based

MRS. ELLIS A. YOST of Huntington, W. Va., and Washington, D. C., director of the Women's Division, Republican National Committee, who is leading women of the nation in the campaign to re-elect President Hoover.

her assertion on a survey of reports coming to her desk in the Palmer House headquarters from all States in the Union.

"Under the able and untiring leadership of our Republican women in every State," she said, "the campaign is being carried on with a devotion and zeal heretofore unsurpassed."
"There never has been a campaign when so many nationally known women enlisted in the aid of a candidate. The women's division Board of Counselors has brought together seventy women representative of most of the professions and groups organized for general welfare.

"Not only have these women given their counsel, but they are working actively in the campaign. Many of them have taken the stump for President Hoover, speaking on national radio broadcasts and addressing meetings throughout the country.

"In addition, organized activity among farm women, business and professional women, women in the home and in industry has mobilized these groups into effective campaign units. Notably active are special groups, such as the wives of engineers, who are working earnestly for President Hoover's re-election.

"It is easy to understand this tremendous interest of women in President Hoover. While many people have considered our President as a matter-of-fact economist and engineer, the women of the nation always have recognized and appreciated the idealism which characterizes his administrative policies. They have not needed fireworks to impress them.
They understand the quiet, undramatic manner in which the President gets things done.

"Women are loyal. And they appreciate the President's unprecedented record of achievement in behalf of the children and the home.

"From reports reaching me I am confident that they will give their votes in overwhelming numbers to President Hoover on November 8."

FOREWOMEN FOR TWO JURIES

Knox County Court Has a New Record—Grand Jury Reports After Brief Session

At this early stage in the proceedings it is not possible to forecast the length of the term. Judge Chapman is making use of every moment and under his method of expedition the present week may see final adjournment. In the event that the term does run into next week it is very likely that it will not reconvene until Wednesday because Court would not be in session on the day of the national election, next Tuesday.

Due to misunderstanding on the part of several jurors the grand jury did not get organized until Tuesday afternoon. It was in session Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning, completing its duties about noon, at which it returned these indictments: State vs. R. Johnson Mayhew, taking indecent liberties.
State vs. George R. Tiffany, arson.
State vs. Newell L. Kinney, rape.
State vs. Herbert A. Elliott, escaping prison.

State vs. Paul Karkos, escaping prison.
State vs. George Keating, assaulting officer.
State vs. Patrick McCormack, breaking, entering and larceny.
State vs. Howard W. White, escaping prison.

Judge Chapman and Stenographer Carter are guests at the Hotel Rockland during the term.
For the first time in history of the Knox County Court a woman has been elected foreman of each of the two traverse juries. Mrs. Mary Pillsbury of Camden is foreman of the second jury and finds herself the lone woman in this panel. An interesting coincidence in connection with this, is that Mrs. Mary Pillsbury is the wife of Allie Pillsbury who on this occasion is the Deputy Sheriff in charge of this particular jury. Mr. Pillsbury has the questionable satisfaction of having his wife under lock and key.
The first case to be taken up by the first traverse jury is that of Brown Oil Burners Equipment Company vs.

G. A. Lawrence Company and the Rockland National Bank, trustee.
This is an action to obtain payment for certain oil burners sold to the G. A. Lawrence Company and is resisted on the grounds that the burners were never satisfactory. Mr.
Brown testified to selling the burners to the Lawrence Company and that his company was willing and ready to replace the pumps on the machines which had trouble. Mr.
Lawrence testified that he had sold 13 burners in Knox County and that all of them had given him trouble and that he had notified the Brown Company that he would not pay for the burners until this trouble was corrected. The case went to the jury late Wednesday afternoon.

Perry for plaintiff. Bird for defendant.

The grand jury which saw service at this term of court, and which will also act at the February and May terms in 1933, organized with Almon M. Young of Rockland as foreman and Lloyd N. Benner of Rockland as clerk. The other members are:

Robert S. Arey, Vinalhaven Mrs. Marguerite F. Barrett, Hope Walter Bassick, South Thomaston Adolphus G. Butler, Rockland
Donald E. Clark, Rockland
Ellis G. Copeland, Thomaston
John R. Danforth, Union
Harry C. Edgcomb, Appleton
Mrs. Josephine A. Knowlton, Owl's Head
Charles B. Libby, Warren
El M. Maloney, Cushing
Vernon E. Simmons, Friendship
James Sullivan, Rockport Levi B. Torrey, St. George
Charles E. Vanner, Washington
Charles Yates, Camden
Percy E. Tolman of North Haven did not appear.

TO-MORROW
In the downhill of life when I find I'm declining May my fate no less fortunate be Than a snug elbow-chair will afford for reclining
And a cot that overlooks the wide sea;
With an ambling pad-pony to pace o'er the lawn.
While I carol away idle sorrow And blithe as the lark that each day hails the dawn
Look forward with hope for To-morrow.

With a porch at my door, both for shelter and shade too.
As the sunshine or rain may prevail;
And a small spot of ground for the use of the spade too.
With a barn for the use of the flail;
A cow for my dairy, a dog for my game, And a purse when a friend wants to borrow.
I'll envy no Nabob his riches or fame.
Or what honors may wait him Tomorrow.

From the bleak northern blast may my cot be completely Secured by a neighboring hill;
And at night may repose steal upon me more sweetly
By the sound of a murmuring rill; And with peace and plenty I find at my board.
With a heart free from sickness and sorrow
With my friends may I share what Today may afford.
And let them spread the table Tomorrow.
And when I at last must throw off this frail covering Which I've worn for three-score years and ten
On the brink of the grave I'll not seek to keep hovering
Nor my thread wish to spin o'er again;
But my face in the glass I'll serenely survey
And with smiles count each wrinkle and furrow:

Voting for Hoover

"No President ever manifested greater devotion to duty than has Herbert Hoover."—The Christian Century.

One of the most effective arguments for the re-election of President Hoover is that contained in The Christian Century under date of Oct. 26. Its editor does not hesitate to say that the Socialist party represents ideals and a program far more closely in accord with the ideals of Christianity than does either of the major parties, yet our ballots Nov. 8 "will be cast in the midst of a period of the greatest suffering our country has ever experienced in time of peace, and probably no wartime suffering has taken heavier toll of our people," says The Century. "We are in a great national and human emergency. It seems plain that the extent of duty of relieving the depression by reviving economic activity should not be complicated by a too meticulous concern for the particular method of doing it. It is a vast emergency. Recovery cannot be postponed by debating ultimate economic principles. The capitalist system may be as bad as we believe it to be, but it is the only instrument for relieving the present human woe. Relief can come only through the operation of this system."

"Mr. Hoover is now awake and aware and in full control of the forces of recovery. The nation knows what to expect of him. His policies may not be the best conceivable, but they are in operation. A new President cannot hope to take command without causing a feeling of uncertainty to run through the whole business organism, thus prolonging our distress. If Mr. Roosevelt brought any fundamental criticism of Mr. Hoover's major policies, if he had something better to propose, his claim upon the intelligent independent voter might be worth weighing."

"The rescue work of the present emergency has to be done within the orthodox capitalist system—there is no getting away from this fact. It is inexorable. If Mr. Roosevelt should perchance be elected a considerable period—perhaps a full year—is sure to be required for Mr. Roosevelt's leadership to adjust itself to the responsibilities of federal administration. To thus prolong the distress of millions, with no promise of ultimate gain, is intolerable."

"Those who know the quality of the President's spiritual nature believe that when he enters upon his second term he will stand forth in a new light. The inhibitions due to practical politics will be thrown off. As the nation rises from the ashes of the depression, Mr. Hoover will have the most inspiring motives to write a chapter in our national history as brilliant in constructive and progressive achievement as his first term, smothered under the depression, has been, by comparison, prosaic. No President ever manifested greater devotion to duty than has Herbert Hoover."

"In the matter of international affairs and co-operation in World Peace we know Mr. Hoover's record. He has worked in closest sympathy with the best peace-intelligence of the nation: Kellogg Pact, World Court, Russo-Chinese embargo, London naval conference, withdrawal from Haiti and Nicaragua, co-operation with the League of Nations, consultative obligation under the Kellogg Pact, the Hoover-Simmons doctrine of non-recognition. But what about Mr. Roosevelt? Who knows his internationalism? The few words which Mr. Roosevelt has spoken indicate a mind under the control of the very forces which the peace movement has continually to fight. In a letter to Richard Washburn Child, in mid-September, he slurred peace-organizations as 'mere political gestures against war,' and their advocates and supporters as 'sentimentalists and theorists.'"

"If Mr. Roosevelt is elected the Hearst shadow will be cast over every problem related to international economic recovery."

"While Mr. Hoover has, to be sure, retreated somewhat from the earlier stand upon prohibition, nevertheless if there shall develop any situation in which the presidential office is called upon to influence the course of resubmission, there are good grounds for believing that the weight of Mr. Hoover's influence will more surely fall upon the dry side than would that of Mr. Roosevelt."

STRAND THEATRE

"The Big Broadcast," a romantic comedy set against the background of a radio studio and featuring many of radio's greatest personalities is the Friday and Saturday feature.

The story revolves around Bing Crosby, Miss Lella Hyams and Stuart Erwin. Crosby is so fascinated by another woman that he never shows up at the studio in time for his broadcasts, and consequently gets himself fired. Erwin, in love with Miss Hyams finds she loves Crosby, and buys the station to restore the latter's job for Lella's sake. But Crosby remains irresponsible, and it is only after a big broadcast in which the other radio favorites are featured that the tangled lives of the three are straightened up.—adv.

UNIVERSALIST FAIR

Escaped Its Proverbially Rainy Day and Scored Its Annual Success

The heavy rains and lowering skies of Tuesday brought many frowns of worry to the brows of the Universalist ladies, who had been working long and diligently for the annual church fair, but when Wednesday morning dawned sunny skies smiled over all. The sun brought good luck, too, for the fair opening at 2 p. m. and continuing through the supper hour received splendid patronage, so that a tidy sum was realized for the church treasury.

Pine and red berries and numerous evergreen trees were used in decorations against which the bi-centennial idea was reflected in booth trimmings of red, white and blue. George and Martha Washington in authentic costume presided over Mt. Vernon and drew a steady stream of callers, Mt. Vernon proving to be a cleverly disguised "grab bag." Supper a-la-carte drew the best patronage, for the fame of Universalist cooks is known far and wide.

Mrs. Grace Rollins as president of the Woman's Society acted as general chairman, assisted by these committees:

COMING NEIGHBORHOOD EVENTS
Nov. 3—Warren—The Old Peabody Pew, presented in connection with Congregational fair.

WEATHER
Yesterday those energetic Universallist ladies rather had the ha-ha on the Weather Man, who has apparently in previous years indulged in a chuckle in visiting one of his fiercest downpours upon the day picked out for their annual church fair. For it was a day of friendly northwest winds and shining skies, a day equally favorable to church fairs or the hunter abroad in the crisp fields of sport. Following as it did a night of wind and lashing rains made it even more conspicuous. Those abroad last night around ten o'clock report a brief spitting of snow. There are no traces of it this morning, whose 7 o'clock temperature was an even zero, now moderating as a full sun and gentle northwest wind mark the progress of a beautiful fall day.
Morning bulletin notes snow flurries in various regions, with continued fair weather for the week.

Just 50 days to Christmas.
Knox Lodge of Odd Fellows will work the first degree in Waldoboro tonight.
Fred Eaton, civil engineer of the Central Maine Power Co., Augusta was in the city Tuesday.

Miriam Rebekah Lodge is to hold a harvest dinner and supper Nov. 8, with Mrs. Minnie Rogers as chairman.

At the corner of North Main and Rockland streets the cellar is being dug for a new house for E. G. Ludwig.
Lewis M. Rokes has the contract.

A meeting of the Chautauqua guarantors will be held Thursday night at 7.30 at the High School building.
All guarantors who possibly can be asked to attend.

Mrs. Flora Spear and Edward Johnson of the Silsby Flower Shop are in Worcester, Mass., attending a floral demonstration given by 25 leading floral artists of New England.

Edwin Libby Relief Corps meets this afternoon for work. Public supper at 6 o'clock will be in charge of Mrs. Walter Larrabee, and the usual business session will take place in the evening.

Knox Pomona Grange will hold its annual meeting with Evening Star Grange, Washington, Saturday. Dinner will be served at noon, and election and installation of officers will be held in the afternoon.

The Bowdoin-Maine game is the mecca which will draw many Knox County football fans to Brunswick Saturday. Bowdoin's courage has been raised to the pitch where it expects to defeat Maine.

The Maine State Fair in Lewiston ran behind $5745 as the result of bad weather and unfavorable conditions.
Beginning next year the gate admission will not exceed 50 cents, a reduction from last year of 25 cents.

Congressman-elect Moran has been obliged to reject many speaking assignments this week because of a severe cold, in spite of which he addressed the Roosevelt mass meeting in Portland Monday. Friday night he speaks in New Rochelle, N. Y., Saturday night he is booked for Berlin, N. H., and Sunday night he expects to broadcast from Station WLBZ.

"The Broadway Shop," owned by Mrs. Jennie Tibbetts and operated during the summer season, was broken into Sunday night. The skylight in the kitchen left open attracted Mrs. Tibbetts' attention Monday morning, who called the police. Only chairs and tables were in the building so, no robbery was committed.
Footprints in the dust were those of a man and a woman.

A Northend correspondent writes:
"It seems strange that large boys in their teens would tear down and nearly destroy things which are a real pleasure for the younger children. Monday evening at the Warren street school yard the shuteshute was pulled away from its fastenings, making it unsafe for use. Mr.
Flanders had quite a job to replace it next morning and he feels that the perpetrators should be punished and he is quite positive he can identify them."

Oliver Hamlin, sports promoter, and manager of Rockland's local football team, has arranged a game with the Fifth Infantry team, to be played at Fort Williams. The starting lineup will probably be made up thus: Mannone, lb; Howe Glover, lb; "Dumpy" Monahan (St. George), lb; Larrabee, c; O'Brien, rg; Massalin, rt; Mazzeo, re; Fred Knight, qb; Roy Black, lbh; Valenta, rfb; Hamlin, fb.
These players and any others who would like to go along as subs are requested to report at the Coast Artillery's armory at 7 o'clock tonight.

David Rodick, State chairman of the Young Republicans of Maine, has appointed 13 county chairmen, including Donald E. Clark of Rockland for Knox County, and Arthur Greenleaf, Boothbay Harbor for Lincoln County. The organization's membership is made up of voters under 40 years of age—new blood on which the Republican National Committee sets a store in next Tuesday's election.
Distribution of literature which will give facts and figures concerning many vexing problems will be one task. Mr. Clark the Knox County chairman, is a clerk at the Maine Music Store, and attracted the attention of the organization by his energetic and successful work as a ward committeeman.

vice commander, Harold A. Thomas; junior vice commander, Edward W.
Cross; camp council, Henry C. Chatto, Elmer C. Davis, William N. Benner; patriotic instructor, Herman R. Win-chenbaugh; chaplain, Edwin Mullin; secretary, Edward K. Gould; treasurer, Edward C. Moran, Senior.

Motoring from his home in Portland one day this week Thomas E.
Kane, day clerk at Hotel Rockland, had an uncomfortable experience.
Climbing one of the Waldoboro hills the car skidded over a 20-foot embankment, and Mr. Kane and his companion, a traveling salesman received some rough treatment and the scare of their lives. Mr. Kane still shows the effects of his experience although they do not serve to efface his good looks or genial disposition.

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock

YOU ARE AT THE CROSSROADS

Every member of this Thrift Club, of The Courier-Gazette, is at the crossroads today. Either on to victory or down to defeat. These three closing weeks will tell the story. They will have to. The advance in standing secured in Reserve counts by means of subscriptions was so heavy, and so general over last weekend, that almost anything can happen in this Club. This field of Club Members, reminds one of the old Land Opening Days by the Government, when thousands lined up at the barrier, to dash into the new lands at the crack of a gun, to settle on a new home. Instead of there being less members in the winning class, today there are several times more. So it is the finish of this Club, that will have to decide. And there are seven special prizes for you—as an afterthought—to be won this week and next—while you are winning the regulars.

With the Extension Agents — And The — Knox-Lincoln Farm Bureau

Agricultural

Elbridge Genthner and Norris Waitz of Damariscotta attended the weekly meeting of the Rockland Rotary Club. Elbridge gave a 4-H Club demonstration on candling and grading eggs. This is his fifth year in club work having taken poultry each year.

Marshall Moody of Bunker Hill is using a new device for packing apples in bushel baskets. It makes a beautifully packed bushel and adds much to the value of the apples. He also uses new baskets, liners and corrugated tops for protection of the apples.

This week Knox-Lincoln County poultrymen are broadcasting poultry talks from WLZ in Bangor at 11:45 and at 12:30 over WSCB in Portland. Friday's broadcast will be by Albion Wotton of Friendship, and Saturday's by Mrs. Charles Hendrickson of West Alna.

The State Farm Bureau Federation is offering $50 in cash prizes to poultrymen in the State who write the best essay on "What Our Hens Have Brought." This is being conducted in connection with the new project of the Extension Service, "Increase Your Income With Poultry." Contest conditions may be obtained from County Agent Wentworth, Rockland.

William Trussell of Dresden is planning to build a silo next year. He also is going to apply lime to his land, as by tests he found the soil to be quite sour.

Trapnetting and pedigreeing of White Leghorns will be started this year by George Hodson of Camden. He has several hundred birds and will have two pens of old birds for pedigreeing work.

With the Homes

Kitchen improvement district meetings were attended by 125 men and women in Knox and Lincoln Counties. These people are interested to take part in the launching of the kitchen improvement contest which is to be a feature of the home management extension program next year.

This winter is a good time to cut down all those old neglected apple trees that are expensive to prune and spray. George Nash of Camden recently went over his orchard with County Agent Wentworth and many trees were marked for removal.

Kitchen improvement district meetings were attended by 125 men and women in Knox and Lincoln Counties. These people are interested to take part in the launching of the kitchen improvement contest which is to be a feature of the home management extension program next year.

Miss Jessie M. Lawrence, home demonstration agent, presided over the meeting and explained the rules of the contest, stating that four cash prizes of $20, $15, $10 and $5 would be awarded to the four most deserving kitchens in the State which enter the contest and meet the requirements. Contestants may enroll until March 31, and all kitchens must be completed by Oct. 31. All kitchens are to be scored before any improvements are made and again after they are completed on the basis of the improvements made, the cost involved, and a brief written statement by the owner of the kitchen, describing the improvements, the kitchens will be judged and the awards made.

These women enrolled in the kitchen contest: Mrs. Harry L. Chase, Mrs. Grace Bailey, Mrs. Hattie Hansen, Whitefield; Mrs. Blanche Powle, Wiscasset; Mrs. Matilda Woodbury, Damariscotta; Mrs. Hannah Hendrickson, Sheepscot; Mrs. Hazel Perry and Mrs. Helen W. Gushee, Appleton.

At Wiscasset the State Home Management Specialist was present at the meeting and gave a brief talk on "The Convenient Kitchen." Also at this meeting C. N. Turner, agricultural engineer of the Extension Service, emphasized the importance of running water in the kitchen from a health and labor saving standpoint and discussed types and costs of inexpensive systems. He gave interesting moving pictures on running water.

County Agent Wentworth offered his assistance with running water

The colonial supper and Halloween frolic given by Mrs. Edith Bessie Greene at Ye Greene Arbour drew a large number of guests with these Rockland attendants: Mrs. Clara Johnson, Arthur Baker, Miss Lillian Baker, Mrs. A. H. Fields of Boston and Crescent Beach, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cross, Miss Mina Tower, Hugh Little, Miss Charlotte Dyer, Horace Maxey, Miss Neva Dyer, Maynard Wiggins, Miss Hazel Peterson, George Wiggins. Effective decorations, decorated jack-o'-lanterns, black cats and other weird decorations. Cards and Halloween games and stunts were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coombs and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Wentworth were hosts at a Halloween party Monday at the Coombs home on Masonic street, their guests being Dr. and Mrs. Dana Newman, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Peaslee, Dr. and Mrs. Blake Annis, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Allen, Mrs. Florence Ellis and Mrs. Bertha Ludwick. Bridge honors fell to Mr. Burgess, Mr. Allen, Mrs. Annis and Dr. Newman and the late lunch featured lobster salad.

One of the jolliest Halloween parties was given by Mr. and Mrs. W. Seymour Cameron at the Perry garage on Masonic street, whose decorations transformed it into a festive scene. Victrola music, dancing, featured many novel numbers and box lunch was augmented by cider and doughnuts. The guests were in costume, honors going to Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Wiseman, the latter impersonating a "tuff" with tawdry finery, vivid makeup and a choice assortment of the latest slang. Mr. Wiseman was a sailor, with a beautiful "shiner." The guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leach, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Wiseman, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Sleeper Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Following games the girls armed with tick-tacks sallied forth to call on neighbors. In the party were Nathalie Edwards, Virginia Nelson, Ruth McMahon, Barbara Murray, Dorothy Howard, Nancy Howard, Jean Cluker, Margaret Rogers and Eleanor Harper.

A MORROW WEDDING

Forecast By Announcement of Miss Elizabeth's Engagement To Welshman

Mrs. Dwight Whitney Morrow announced Tuesday the engagement of her daughter, Elisabeth Reeve Morrow, to Aubrey Niel Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Llewellyn Morgan, of Bryndyren, Llandaff, Wales. The date for the wedding has not been set.

Miss Morrow and Mr. Morgan met while her father, the late Senator Dwight W. Morrow, was attending the London Naval Conference in 1930. Since that time, Miss Morrow has visited in England, having passed three months in the summer of 1931 in Europe.

Miss Morrow is the elder daughter of the Morrow family. Her sisters are Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh and Miss Constance Morrow. Her brother, Dwight Whitney Morrow, Jr., is a student at Amherst College. She is a graduate of Milton Academy, Milton, Mass., and of Smith College in the class of '25. She made her debut in 1922.

Following her graduation from Smith, Miss Morrow went to Europe and studied at the Sorbonne in Paris and also at the University of Grenoble. Upon her return to Englewood she began her teaching career and for a time taught English at the Dwight School in Englewood, N. J., which she attended before going to Milton Academy.

From her college days, Miss Morrow was always interested in educational problems. When her father was appointed Ambassador to Mexico in 1927, Miss Morrow went there to live and in 1929 offered to teach in the Mexican schools without salary. Her offer was accepted and she taught English in the Lopez Cotilla and the Albert Corea elementary school in Mexico City. Upon her return to this country, Miss Morrow took some courses at the Child Educational Foundation in New York. Two years ago she took over the old Vanderboort homestead on Linden avenue in Englewood and established the Little School as a nursery school for children from 18 months to 5½ years.

One of the features which Miss Morrow instituted was outdoor classrooms. The school was later expanded under her direction to include first and second grades.

Miss Morrow is also supervisor of the Social Service Nursery School of Englewood which for the last 20 years has trained and cared for infants whose mothers work. She is one of the trustees of the school.

Like her sister, Mrs. Lindbergh, Miss Morrow writes poetry and several of her poems have been published in magazines, among them being "My Neighbor's Mind," "Wall," and "Islands."

Mr. Morgan, who has visited in this country, is a member of the firm of David Morgan, Ltd., of Cardiff, Wales, a public utilities company. The company was founded by his grandfather. Mr. Morgan is a graduate of Charterhouse School, and of Jesus College, Cambridge.

PARK THEATRE

Packed with action, thrills and excitement, the Ken Maynard World Wide western, "Between Fighting Men," which comes Friday and Saturday, is another of the fascinating dramas of the old west, dealing with the bloody days when cattlemen were making a desperate stand against the invasion of the sheep raisers. Bitter battle was waged for possession of the golden grazing lands and the war between the two factions was real war, indeed. Endeavor is made to avert a range war in "Between Fighting Men," by persuading the first sheep raiser to take advantage of the granting of the Homestead Act to circle the town rather than drive his sheep through it and into the jaws of trouble. In so doing they meet the fascinating daughter, Ruth Hall, and immediately fall head-over-heels in love with her. Their friendly rivalry, the death of Judy's father and her life at the ranch with the boys and their father, furnish the theme—adv.

CAMDEN

The Methodist ladies society will furnish a public supper in the church vestry Saturday night.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Lulla Tuttle, owner of Green Gables, that popular place will be thrown open to the public on the evening of Nov. 15, for a benefit bridge party, the proceeds of which are to be given to the Camden Relief Association. Assisting Mrs. Tuttle are Mrs. T. W. McKay, Mrs. J. Crosby Hobbs, Mrs. John Mathers and Mrs. W. Lee Dickens. Tickets 35 cents, including refreshments, and may be obtained at Boynton-McKay Drug Co.'s, Morrow's Jewelry store, Dougherty's Fruit store, or any of the persons previously mentioned.

Thursday of this week at the Comique the attraction is "70,000 Witnesses"; Friday, Joe Brown in "The Tenderfoot"; Saturday, Tom Brown in "Tom Brown of Culver"; Slim Summerville furnishes the comedy.

Mrs. Howard Anderson entertained the ladies of the Methodist society at her home on Harden avenue Wednesday afternoon.

Regular meeting of Canton Molleneux, Patriarchs Militant, I.O.O.F., Monday evening, a large attendance is desired.

Mrs. Augusta Thorndike has returned to Somerville, Mass., after spending a few days in town.

There is particular need of children's clothing and men's pants at the Thrift Shop. Donations will be gratefully received.

OUR POULTRYMEN

Harry Waterman of Knox County, and Philip Lee, Lincoln, Tell Experiences

The radio broadcast yesterday was by a Waldoboro poultry raiser, and he was introduced thus by the station announcer:

"Dr. Leon S. Merrill, dean of the College of Agriculture at the University of Maine makes this statement concerning the poultry industry in Maine. From available data, it would seem conservative to say that an increase of 300,000 hens properly distributed could result in an increased income of $500 a year on 2000 Maine farms."

"Philip Lee, a progressive poultryman of Waldoboro, will tell us today why he went into the poultry business. Mr. Lee has been county poultry project leader for the Knox-Lincoln Farm Bureau for four years. In addition, he had experience on other poultry farms before starting in the business for himself."

Mr. Lee said:

While attending school I had a small flock of hens and used to sell the eggs at retail price to a few regular customers in town.

It was surprising to see what a good sum of money these few hens were making each month, and I soon began to plan on making a real business of it as soon as conditions permitted.

I found real pleasure in raising chicks due, I think, to rapid development of the baby chick to broiler size and from that stage to the laying pullet.

If the market demands two pound broilers, it takes only 56 days to grow them, sometimes less, and if early pullet eggs are wanted, 120 days from the time the chick leaves the shell until she drops the first egg of the season is a very good average. Another encouraging feature was the relatively small amount of money needed to get started. It is a well known fact that no other branch of farming will yield so large a profit for the amount of capital invested as the poultry business. Right in our own neighborhood, it was easy to see that the persons making the most money were those having a good sized flock of hens, and on a trip through New Hampshire we also found the most prosperous class of farmers and those enjoying a high standard of living were the poultrymen.

This is true in the State of Maine today. Look around you, and in almost every instance where you notice a well-kept set of buildings on a farm that appears to be doing business, you will also see a modern hen house.

A salesman told me the other day that he didn't bother to stop at farms that looked dead, but when he came to a place with a lot of shelters and chickens running around, he knew it would pay him to drive in. This speaks for itself. It seems reasonable to expect that this prosperous condition would continue for many years to come, for the poultry business is on a sound economic basis, and there is always a demand for quality poultry products.

So with this in mind, I took a three year course in poultry at the Essex County Agricultural School, Mass., attending school from November to March, and then working on a successful poultry farm through the spring, summer and fall, thus getting the practical experience which is worth many times more than book knowledge.

On one farm, we had 1500 layers and raised 2000 chicks, and on another there were 3000 layers and 6000 chicks. The longer I worked with the poultry, the more firmly convinced I became that this line of farming not only paid best, but was as agreeable and interesting work as one could wish for.

On our own farm, it was easy enough to make over several buildings into very good brooder houses by simply making a larger opening for ventilation and light and battening a few cracks to prevent drafts. We shifted the tie-up and made a double deck laying house with capacity of 600 hens in part of the barn facing south. The cost of this amounted to less than $20. This goes to show with what little expense for buildings it is possible to get a start and later on new buildings can be built as the business increases.

Another advantage of poultry is the diversity of products for sale. This works out well in times like the present, for if there is not much profit in one branch, such as broilers, then there usually is good money in market eggs, which makes up for the lower prices on the other products. Then there may be an opportunity to sell dressed poultry and eggs at retail, or hatching eggs and day-old chicks in the spring and surplus pullets in the fall.

Briefly, the three main reasons why I went into the poultry business are: Good income, interesting work, and the small amount of money needed to get started.

The speaker today is Henry Keller of West Rockport. He will speak on the subject, "Poultry for Profits."

STRUCK BY AUTO

Preston L. Hatch, Formerly of Dark Harbor, Fatally Injured In California

Preston L. Hatch, 51, of 618 North Kenwood, died Oct. 27 of injuries received the previous week when he was struck by an automobile while in Los Angeles. He died in the Georgia street receiving hospital, Los Angeles, where he was taken immediately after the accident. Hatch came from Riverside to Glendale in 1919 as superintendent of the Glendale-Montrose railway. He was general manager of the railway until it suspended operation January 1, 1931.

Continuing with the cement concern after the affairs of the railway had been closed, Hatch was manager of the outside holdings of the company. Interested in Y.M.C.A. work, Hatch was a member of the board of directors of Glendale Y.M.C.A. since the erection of its present building. He served as president of the board for two years during his membership of the directorate.

Hatch was closely identified with the First Baptist Church and was treasurer of the church organization for the past eight years. He was president for two years of the Tri Mu Men's Bible class of the church.

He was a member of Glendale Rotary Club and of the Glendale Toastmasters Club. Hatch was born in Dark Harbor, Me. He married Miss Violet E.

Yeaton of Islesboro, Me., in 1905. They came soon after to California and resided for a time in Pasadena.

In 1908, Hatch entered the employ of the Riverside Portland Cement Co., and became its chief electrician. From that position he was promoted to the head of the Glendale-Montrose railway.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, F. Leslie Hatch and Robert E. Hatch, and one daughter, Miss Pauline E. Hatch. A brother, Robert L. Hatch, resides in Riverside and a sister, Mrs. Edith Marshall, in Dark Harbor, Glendale (Calif.) News-Press.

THE DIGEST POLL

The final tabulation of the Literary Digest poll gives Hoover 1,150,338 and Roosevelt 1,715,789, only seven of the 48 states favoring President Hoover. The electoral vote on that basis would be: Hoover 57, Roosevelt 474. Close States are New York, Delaware, Colorado, Kansas and Wyoming.

Don't expect neuritis or rheumatic pains to give you notice of their coming, or to get rid of them by using ordinary medicines.

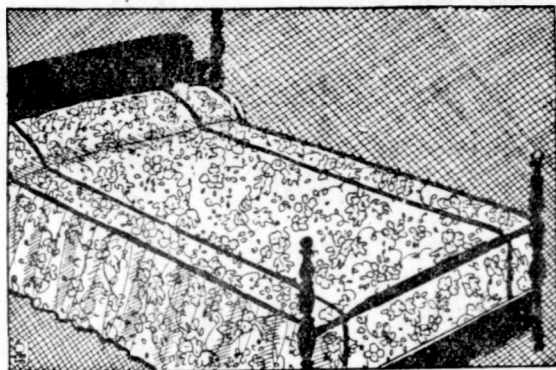

Hundreds of folks hereabouts, especially the older folks, will tell you that when your limbs or joints begin to throb and jump like an aching tooth, the best thing to do is apply Johnson's Anodyne Liniment as often as possible. Rub on gently, or saturate an old cloth and bind lightly. You'll soon have grateful warmth and comfort.

A liberal bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment costs only 35c at drug and grocery stores, or you can get three times as much for only 60c. Both will kill your pain just as they have done for thousands since 1810, when a wise old doctor wrote his prescription for Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.
