ST. GEORGE'S WONDERS

Correspondent Hopes John Gordon and Boze Will Tell More About Them

The Tenant's Harbor correspondent of this paper writes:
"We read with pleasure the article on Indian relics, by John Gordon, in Saturday's issue of The Courier-Gazette and hope he will keep us informed if he finds anything else along this line. We also wish he would explore that small 'cave' near Port Clyde village, and tell all about it in this paper. These things are very interesting and people like to read about them."

"Up near Seavey's Cove is what is known as 'Devil's Den.' Over in 'Pollyanna' we have the 'roaring spout.' Up in the village at Smalietown is a 'gold mine,' so called, where people have been digging for gold off and on for years. We have never heard whether anyone found much, but they do say gold is there. We also have a 'mineral spring,' and used to have a 'haunted house,' but that was torn down years ago; also the 'gospel shop.'"

"We think Boze could tell us something about the gospel shop and the Davenport house from 'Dad's diary.' Then we have what is known as the 'salt works,' which we think was over near Clark Island."

DWINAL IT IS

Gov. Gardner yesterday nominated ex-Senator Zelma M. Dwinall as Judge of the Knox County Municipal Court, to succeed the late Col. Walter H. Butler. This is in accordance with the exclusive information furnished by The Courier-Gazette Tuesday.

DULL AT STONINGTON

"There is very little doing in the quarries here," writes Alex McGuffie of Stonington to the Quarry Workers' Journal. "The John L. Goss Co. has two gangs of quarriers at work but the prospects of work for the winter are darn poor. The Deer Island company's quarry has been shut down flat for a month but it has one gang of stonecutters working on a small coping job. Now is the time that we could stand to have some of those federal jobs come out."

A LION'S STORY

How Joseph Dondis Rose From Newsboy To a Theatrical Magnate

The Rockland Lions had a half-hour overtime period yesterday, held by the fascinating story of Joseph Dondis, manager of Strand Theatre, who had been induced to narrate some of his personal experiences.

The child of a Russian emigrant who had come to this country with the lure of gold paved streets, almost literally speaking, was forced to shift for himself before he had reached his teens, and as years came on apace learned more of the world's buffetings than falls to the lot of one man.

There were some eccentric turns when the Wheel of Fortune began working on the career of Joseph Dondis in a hundred. How he triumphed over many reverses, compelled often to go back to his original task of peddling, forms a story that might have furnished the plot for a Horatio Alger novel.

When his parents left for America it was an emigrant group of six which boarded the steamship for a stormy passage of the Atlantic, the other members being Joseph and James, and their two sisters.

The paternal parent, a man of well advanced education, was obliged to swallow his pride when his adopted country failed to yield the easy riches which he had expected, almost for the asking, and he went to work in a Newark, N. J. factory.

The family became burned out, and was assigned to Fall River by a Jewish organization formed for the protection of emigrants. The boys were sent to school but after the lessons were over young Joe picked up stray pennies selling newspapers. During the Spanish War he threw in this line of work, vending his wares among the patrons of the Fall River Lido.

Deciding to shift for himself he secured a position in a hotel on Tremont street, Boston, and to that city the family moved. His next work was with the B.A.A.

Peddling stationery did not pay expenses so he headed for Maine with $200 worth of oil cloth which he tried to sell, with poor results. In Portland he heard much about Rockland being a lime city, so thither he came with another Jewish boy, well equipped with oil cloth, but only a few cents in his pocket. This was Feb. 1st, 1903. A long period of stormy weather interfered with peddling plans, and started in the face by an overdue board bill he went to Long Cove where he earned money enough to satisfy the landlady's demands. Later this peddling was continued among the islands, but the profit which Joe made more than offset his partner's losses, and the latter finally returned to Massachusetts.

A crockery store in Rankin block proved a failure and back to peddling went Joe.

The bottling business, with its ramifications, and into which politics got mixed, brought further reverses upon young Dondis and recounting these adventures, he paused to state solemnly that he should advise any young man against entering that line.

Again it was the peddling game—novelties this time—and this time fortune smiled to the tune of a weekly profit from $200 to $300. Dondis lost no time in satisfying the demands of his creditors.

On came the World War and Dondis established himself in the fish business at Long Island, buying one year $20,000 worth. Then came two unfortunate deals with Rockland fish concerns not now in business, and once more he found himself penniless, with a child in the hospital, and dependent relatives to be looked after.

Again it was peddling which saved this victim of so many ups and downs, his net receipts going as high as $600 in a single day.

The remainder of Mr. Dondis' narrative concerns his more recent experiences in the theatrical game—of his experiences as an independent theatrical owner and manager; of his losing battle in the matter of securing motion pictures; and of his present connection. From him the Lions learned that Rockland is about the only motion picture location in the country which has shown a profit in 1931 and 1932, although materially reduced.

The Rockland Lions Club yesterday welcomed a new member, Dr. Dana S. Newman.

Chester Black and Carleton E. Morse were appointed for the January entertainment committee.

One trouble is said to be that those who have the cash haven't the courage, but, then, there are still plenty of others who are perfectly willing to be courageous with the other fellow's cash.—Boston Herald.

THE NEW LIBRARIAN

Miss Coughlin Well Fitted For Duties and Earnest In Her Purpose

Miss C. Winnifred Coughlin entered upon new duties Monday as librarian at the Public Library, succeeding Miss Margaret Snow who leaves today for a course in library training in Riverside, Calif. The selection by the trustees—headed by William T. Cobb as president—of a Rockland girl for the position has brought forth general commendation.

Miss Coughlin, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Coughlin and a niece of Miss Anna E. Coughlin of the High School faculty, is a graduate of Rockland High School '24 and of Gorham Normal School '26. She had four years' extension work at Hunter College, two summers in the local library under Miss Snow, and four and a half years in the Brooklyn Library, from which she came to the Rockland position.

The training and experience Miss Coughlin received in Brooklyn assure Rockland citizens that she will be highly efficient. The Brooklyn Library, one of the most modern in the country, has 30 branches, classified as major and minor, stations, library extension, etc. The Bedford branch, over which Miss Coughlin presided, is the most important branch, classified major, with possibly the Montague branch an exception as there are held the main supply of reference books used in an interchanging system similar to our State Library. Also at the Bedford Branch library training classes are conducted. The extension service supplies hospitals, jails and even some factories.

Questioned as to her plans for the Rockland Library, Miss Coughlin stated that as yet she had not become thoroughly acquainted with her new quarters and did not feel qualified at this early date to set forth her intentions. "However, please assure Rockland citizens," she emphatically said, "that I shall serve them to the best of my ability."

And those of us who have observed Miss Coughlin's progress since school days feel certain that she will.

SONNTAG WAS RE-ELECTED

To Head Chamber Of Commerce For Second Term—Last Night's Annual Banquet

"Tagged" Last Year, said Carl H. Sonntag, who was re-elected president of the Chamber

"The low point of economic disturbance has been reached," said Homer E. Robinson, master of ceremonies

The Rockland Chamber of Commerce held its annual banquet at The Thorndike last night and enthusiastically ratified the directors' choice of Carl H. Sonntag as president for a second term.

The merchants expressed themselves abundantly satisfied with the beefsteak dinner provided by Landlord O'Neil, in the course of which they practiced their vocal powers under the leadership of Dr. William Ellingwood, who concluded his efforts in true Ed Wynne fashion.

The Union Chamber of Commerce sent down a good sized delegation, and it received a very cordial greeting.

Homer E. Robinson acting as master of ceremonies, expressed the opinion that the low point of economic disturbance had been reached and that we are heading for better times.

"Some people," said he, "think they are going to wake up some morning and find prosperity on the job, but it isn't done that way. We have got to have co-operation."

Mr. Robinson in referring to the re-election of Mr. Sonntag, characterized him as an able thinker, a square shooter and a good fellow to work with.

Acknowledging this gracious introduction and the enthusiastic reception which accompanied it, President Sonntag said he was "tagged" last year, but didn't know how it might work out this time. The functions of a Chamber of Commerce president, as he sees them, are to listen to those who kick, to those who endorse, and to hand over to committees of our own people honest to goodness work. "I have had the pleasure of working with these committees," said President Sonntag, "and have found them clear-thinking men with their feet on the ground. I look forward with genuine good feeling to working with them again."

Miss Lenore W. Benner presented an elaborate report as acting secretary, and the members listened with surprise and satisfaction as she outlined her plans.

lined the many matters which have received the Chamber's attention. The financial statement as presented by D. C. Leach, showed these interesting figures:

Cash balance, Nov. 1, 1931, $1094.27; received from dues, $2406.25; miscellaneous receipts, (including meeting receipts, $208.10; total $3708.62; expenditures, $3068.40; cash on hand, $3700.

The predicament of the railroads, as brought about by truck competition, formed the subject of a two-hour talk by B. F. Cleaves, executive secretary of the Associated Industries of Maine.

He foresaw the possibility of the further regulation of truck traffic, also the possibility of federal subsidy for railroads—a matter which he opposes in principle, but which would be welcomed if it came as a last resort.

He showed how tremendously the trucks are cutting into the railroad freight service, giving concrete instances where shippers have taken up that form of service.

The remedy, as Mr. Cleaves sees it, would be to lop off non-productive branch railroad lines, leaving to the trucks that freight which is in less than carload lots and on short hauls, while the railroads maintain their main line and be subsidized, if necessary.

CITY ELECTIONS

Republicans and Democrats Divide Honors In Maine Municipal Contests

AUGUSTA—Mayor Robert A. Cony, Republican, was re-elected to his third term Monday, defeating Emory O. Beane, Democrat, 3,100 to 2,382. The Democrats elected two aldermen and three councilmen, a gain of one for the minority group in the upper chamber and two in the lower.

WESTBROOK—Rufus K. Jordan, Democratic candidate for mayor, defeated Mayor King F. Graham, Republican, and Democrats elected seven of the 13 members of the board of aldermen and their candidate for city clerk Monday. The vote for mayor was: Jordan, 2,193; Graham, 1,630.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.—Dr. Sylvester P. A. Pickering, Republican, dentist here for many years, was elected mayor of Portsmouth by a majority of 312 over his Democratic opponent, Albert J. Rowe.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

"What means this glory round our feet?" The Magi mused, "more bright than mine!" And voices chanted clear and sweet, "What the Prince of Peace is born!"

"What means that star?" the shepherd said. "That brightens through the rocky glen?" And voices answered overhead, "Sings 'Peace on earth, good will to men!'"

"Tis eighteen hundred years and more Since those sweet oracles were dumb; We wait for Him, like then of yore; Alas! He seems so slow to come!"

But it was said, in words of gold No time or sorrow e'er shall dim, That little children might be bold In perfect trust to come to Him.

All round about our feet shall shine A light like that the Wise Men saw, If we, our loving will incline To that sweet Life which is the Law.

So shall we learn to understand The simple faith of shepherds then, And clasping kindly hand in hand, Sing 'Peace on earth, good-will to men!'"

And they who do their souls no wrong, But keep at eve the faith of morn, Shall daily bear the angel-song, "Today the Prince of Peace is born!" —James Russell Lowell.

ALL OVER THE COUNTRY

Have Gone the 150,000 Christmas Trees Shipped By a Rockland Corporation

R. E. Estes, treasurer of the Rockland Christmas Tree Corporation and for eight years one of the largest carload shippers of fancy balsam Christmas trees from Maine, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia completed his last car shipment yesterday and, after a strenuous season, feels that many homes throughout the United States will be well prepared to welcome Santa Claus with the finest lot of trees ever shipped. The development of this business the last few years, by Mr. Estes personally, is not only something for him to be proud of, but is most interesting to those who know little about it.

The selection of good trees which are symmetrical, well shaped, good colored, and well limbed is the problem each year, and it requires much traveling and cruising throughout Maine, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia before the quantities necessary to fill orders has been secured. Experienced foremen of the many crews of men hired assist in locating the trees during the summer months, and early in November cutting starts to prepare the bundles to buyers' specifications from different parts of the United States. These specifications vary in accordance to the sections of the country buying the trees.

The work continues through November and early December, and carloads are packed and wired—leaving their shipping points as early as Nov. 20, and each day after until Dec. 10, arriving at destinations through the United States on days specified by the many wholesale buyers.

This business distributes many thousands of dollars each year to the farm owners, and woodsmen, and, regardless of depression, has paid the men as liberal as in the past.

THE MEANEST MAN AGAIN

The meanest person in Maine has been discovered at Ash Point, although it is not conceivable that he can belong in that community.

Taking advantage of the absence of George Hurd, who is very sick in a Portland hospital this skunk in human attire broke into Mr. Hurd's barn and not only stole the vegetables which he had worked so hard to raise, and which Mrs. Hurd had helped harvest, but stole the supply of firewood which he had laboriously fitted while in no condition to do so.

If this burglar derives real comfort from the proceeds of a burglary under such circumstances he must be possessed of a petrified heart.

The Courier-Gazette

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK
I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.—Phil. 4:12.

Yesterday's daily newspapers gave front page publicity to two men who undertook to hold up the National House of Representatives, and both hailed from Pennsylvania. One was Martin Kemmerer of Allentown who brandished a weapon in the crowded House gallery and caused a stampede, the other was Representative McFadden, who, nursing an old grudge against President Hoover, introduced a resolution calling for the latter's impeachment on the ground of "high crimes and misdemeanors." The Allentown crank was promptly ejected, and McFadden's spurge was tabled by a vote of 361 to 8, all but seven of the Democratic members hastening to join in the protest. Such men get at large occasionally.

Republican leaders are meeting in Augusta today to formulate a line of action to be adopted at the coming session of Legislature. While that party will control the House and Senate, the situation is more complex this year by reason of the fact that the State is having its first Democratic governor in 18 years—a shrewd politician who will be on the alert every minute, and whose party is strong enough in both branches to render the situation a taut one, to say the least. But while both political armies are striving for a strategic position it is hoped that neither will sacrifice the interests of the taxpayer if ever there was a time for co-operation it is right now.

Since the days of those bold experimenters in aviation at Kitty Hawk tremendous strides have been made in aviation, and no achievement in pleasure, stunt or commercial flying surprises us now. Scheduled air lines operating in continental United States carried 38,548 passengers in October, according to reports from the 31 companies operating, announces Col. Clarence M. Young, assistant secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics. Miles flown by these scheduled air lines during the month were 3,838,717, express carried totaled 99,291 pounds and passenger miles flown were 11,191,550. A passenger mile is the equivalent of one passenger flown one mile.

The Courier-Gazette doffs its hat to that excellent Augusta newspaper the Kennebec Journal which has just issued one of the handsomest Christmas supplements that ever came into this office. It is an art study in red, white and green, and it is small wonder that the advertisers of Kennebec County saw fit to advertise so liberally.

Report that the newspaper had been sold is denied by the Aroostook Pioneer, but it is hinted that there may be a consolidation with the Houlton Times. This result might be beneficial to the residents of the big garden county, and probably more profitable than was the attempt to publish a daily newspaper there.

Car loadings for the week ending Dec. 3 were considerably fewer than for the corresponding week one year

ROSENBERG RIGHT

Roosevelt's Action Confirms Expectations of Attorney Who Formerly Lived Here

In a recent issue of the Poughkeepsie Evening Star was a news item concerning a former Rockland boy, Jesse L. Rosenberg, who resided at the corner of Masonic street and Broadway. The item follows: "Action of Governor Roosevelt in commuting the death sentence of Genaro Akiyama to life imprisonment, bore out the contentions of Jesse L. Rosenberg of 15 Park row, New York city, defense counsel for both Yama and Hana in the trial before Justice Witschies in February, Mr. Rosenberg said in a statement on the outcome of the case: "As trial counsel, he said, I joined with William B. Moore, counsel on the appeals, in the application for clemency made to the Governor on behalf of Genaro Akiyama. I always was of the opinion that Akiyama was not legally responsible and I always maintained that he never would be electrocuted. The fact that two of the six judges on the Court of Appeals who sat in this case dissented when the judgment of the court below was affirmed, indicates that my contention had a very substantial basis. When two of those judges dissented it was only just to accord clemency to Akiyama. This new development should be very helpful in the case of the people against Sadako Otsuka, which appeal is still pending."

And Now Local Basketball Stars Are Seeking More Worlds To Conquer

Led by the sensational shooting of Artie Flanagan who rang in 22 points, a group of local basketball stars defeated the Rockport Aces in a close and exciting encounter 33 to 30 at the latter's gym Tuesday night. The local players, who were captained by Jim Flanagan, displayed a very fast and smooth passing attack and with the aforesaid Artie Flanagan shooting the ball from all angles of the floor, and aided considerably by the inspired defensive playing of Buck Parsons, the Rockland quintet ago, but some comfort is afforded by the fact that they showed an increase of 54,000 over the preceding week.

Cooling off in Cuba in Summer
Many Americans may have wondered why so many of their countrymen have traveled to Bermuda and Cuba in the middle of this summer, rather than wait for the opening of the winter season, when it is supposed Americans should seek southern and warmer climes. The secret is that Bermuda and Cuba do not know heat waves any more than they know snow storms. The gentle breezes that blow across these Islands all summer keep the thermometer well below 80 degrees and there is much comfort to be found while those who remain at home are sweating in the perspiration which 90 degrees can produce.

FIVE STIFF BOUTS STAGED

Only One Knockout At the Empire Last Night, But Lots of Biffing and Banging

An excellent fight card was presented by Promoter Oliver Hamlin for the benefit of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Empire Theatre last night when five sizzling bouts were staged. The main bout was a gem and brought two sterling performers to the center of the squared circle. These two boys worked with the zeal and energy of a couple of prelate boys staging their first debut under the flite spotlight.

Merrill "Tuffy" Taylor of Bangor won a close decision over Harry Scott of Augusta. Scott scored with hard rights to the kidney in the early rounds, but Taylor with his wonderful boxing kept his left to Scott's head and in the fifth round Taylor let loose with lefts and rights to head that rocked Scott to his toes. It was a great bout with plenty of clever boxing and ring generalship. Cecil Grant of Waterville and Lee Anderson of Bangor fought in the semi-final to a six-round draw, both working hard, and fighting a clean fight. In the top prelim Archie Young of Bangor beat K. O. Sawyer of Lewiston by a technical K. O. in the third round, the only knockout of the evening. Karl, lf

Gulf 4, South Thomaston 1

This game was not nearly as one-sided as the points sound, for the good Gulfers had only eight pins to spare. Schellinger had high single (113) and Hanson high total. Seavey won the prize for being the most consistent bowler, each of his strings being an 86. The summary:
Gulf Refining—Schellinger, 294; Seavey, 258; Greeley, 262; Danielson, 266; Rouger, 266; total, 1346.
South Thomaston—Brault, 246; Johnson, 267; Willis, 266; Hanson, 310; Shute, 249; total, 1338.

Rockland Eagles Won

At the Star alleys last night the Rockland Eagles kept up their good work by defeating the Waldoboro Eagles 16 pins. High string was knocked down on 125 by French who also had high total. The summary:
Rockland Eagles—Robbins, 248; Howard, 249; Phillips, 275; French, 300; Cobb, 287; total, 1359.
Waldoboro Eagles—E. Smith, 293; J. Benner, 250; E. Benner, 272; B. Smith, 268; Fitch, 260; total, 1343.

hard-hitting Harold Gray of Belfast. Hooper took this bout on short notice and put up a wonderful fight.

The first bout of the evening was a brother affair between Oliver Hamlin Jr. and Richard Hamlin. They fought three rounds to a draw. The younger of the kids, Richard, is only 7, but is a glutton for punishment and the way he sailed into his big brother was a caution. The lads are chips off the old block.

Jim Dondis did his usual good work as third man, while stopwatch Leon White kept time.

WEATHER
 More snow fell Tuesday night in a gentle storm, the ground is white and skating and sliding fill the youngsters' spare time. Without bitter cold or piercing wind, these have been fine winter days. Yesterday noon temperature was 33, melting in the sun, this morning is colder, 12 degrees a local reading at 7 o'clock. Wind is due west. Says Rideout's bulletin: It will remain clear today, with sunshiny most of the time. The temperature may rise until night and it will then become colder, wind shifting to the west and increasing. In Boston this morning the barometer was 29.93 and rising, and the temperature was 20 above.

Superior Court is in session at Ellsworth, with the expectation of a busy term. Justice Hudson is presiding.

There is urgent call at the Thrift Shop for mittens. A supply is needed immediately, and if there are those who will knit, yarn will be furnished by the Shop.

The postponed meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will take place Monday evening at 7:30 in the High School auditorium. Supt. Charles E. Lord of Camden is guest speaker. His subject, "Taxes and the School Budget," is one to which he has given much thought and study.

Mrs. June Kallioch, Mrs. Alta Tibbets, Mrs. Emily Kennedy, Mrs. George Gilchrist, Miss Evelyn Greene, Mrs. Harry French, Mrs. Edna Harvey, Mrs. Mary Thomas, and Mrs. Alvin Small have been added to Senter Crane's clerking force for the holiday season.

Great plans are in the air for the Christmas party to be given by Winslow-Holbrook Post, A.L., and Auxiliary Monday evening at 7:30 at Legion hall. Invitations have been extended to the Posts and Auxiliaries of Knox and Lincoln Counties. A joke Christmas tree will provide plenty of fun, augmented by a program of generous proportions and an abundance to eat.

In a letter to his daughter, Mrs. Edwin R. Edwards, Cedar street, Henry A. Howard, enroute by auto from New Jersey to St. Petersburg, Fla., for the winter, tells of a severe storm encountered in Virginia. The worst storm of the kind ever experienced in that section of the country, the streets and roads were rendered almost impassable, with innumerable cars in the ditches or damaged by skidding.

Rockland Chapter, Women of Hadassah, met Sunday evening at the Synagogue. Four new members were admitted. Dr. Saul Pollner was guest speaker, his discourse along the lines of his medical training, being both constructive and interesting. A collection of ample size was taken for the Jewish national fund to buy land in Palestine. Refreshments were served during the social hour, with Mrs. S. Friedman and Mrs. A. Levy in charge.

Mrs. J. Lester Sherman of Beach street, had a strange visitor Tuesday evening. While sitting quietly reading a beautiful yellow butterfly, with black spots on its wings, and measuring fully two and a half inches across, it fluttered down across the paper in her hands. It seemed lively and fearless, and after flying about for time disappeared. Mrs. Sherman could not find the butterfly again but is hoping for a similar appearance in the future.

The outstanding musical event of the holiday time is the Red Cross benefit concert to be given at Park Theatre Sunday at 4 p. m., when a chorus of 125 voices will present Maunder's cantata, "Bethlehem," and other choral numbers. The cantata of unusual beauty contains many solos for various voices. Marshall Bradford of Thomaston is conducting, this point alone ensuring a performance of high order. Admission will be free—a collection to be taken for local charity to be dispensed under the direction of the home chapter of American Red Cross.

Huntley-Hill Post, V.F.W., has a public supper tonight at 6 o'clock at the club rooms, 360 Main street, over Newberry's.—adv.

The Kickapoo has been on the job again this week, raising the ice embargo in the Penobscot River.

Miss Pearl Borgerson who has been confined to the house by illness, has resumed her duties as clerk to the clerk of courts.

Preparations are being made by the members of Park Theatre staff for their annual Christmas party to be held after the last performance next Wednesday night.

The Courier-Gazette gratefully acknowledges holiday greetings from "Boys," one of its faithful correspondents over a long period of years. May the season furnish him the good cheer he deserves.

Blanche Henry of Thomaston is playing on the field hockey team at the University of Maine. Hancock County has a representative in the person of Muriel Whitman of Stonington. Looking over the group picture one wonders how this outfit can lose.

Present day problems will be the subject of tonight's address before the Baptist Men's League, when the speaker will be Prof. James Mullenburg of the University of Maine. His subject is "Current Challenges of Our National Life." Other matters of interest will engage the meeting.

The controversy which we always hear at this season of the year concerning the length of the days is on. Today the sun sets at 4:12, and from then on will begin to make its disappearance a trifle later, until by the end of the year it will not set until 4:21. The days do not begin to lengthen, however, until Dec. 23, when they will be just one minute longer, and it will not be until well into January that the sun rises earlier in the morning.

The annual meeting of the Knox County Medical Society was held at The Thorndike Tuesday night, the time being devoted to an excellent supper and the election of officers. The following were chosen: President, Dr. A. W. Foss; vice president, Dr. F. F. Brown; secretary, Dr. James Carswell of Camden; delegates to the Maine Medical Association convention, Dr. William Ellingwood and Dr. Neil A. Fogg; censors, Dr. C. E. Wasegat of Camden and Dr. Harold Jameson.

In some respects the idea of fingerprinting children seems to be a good one. At least it will settle the question as to who used the guest towel in the bathroom—Philadelphia Inquirer.

WALDOBORO

The meeting of the past grands and past noble grands will be held in Camden Dec. 21. There will be supper as usual and a Christmas tree. Each member is requested to take a small gift and a good attendance is desired.

At the Wednesday evening meeting of the Lions Club William G. Reed spoke very interestingly of experiences during his stay in Philadelphia. Plans were made for a Christmas tree and program to be given Friday evening when ladies might be observed. King Lion Lawrence T. Weston presided at the meeting. The Lions are making preparations for charitable work during the holidays.

Members of the I.T. Club of the Baptist Church held a Christmas tree and program in the vestry

Monday evening. Santa Claus was present in person and a jolly time was passed.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Storer are in Portland where Mr. Storer is serving this week on the traverse jury of the U. S. District Court.

The Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. L. T. Weston Tuesday afternoon. As A. L. Shorey was unable to give his address on "Rocks" a program concerning the South American countries was arranged by Mrs. H. R. Smith, each member having an assigned part. The next meeting will be held in the chapel of the Congregational Church and a Christmas tree will be on the program. Mrs. Alice Glidden, Miss Grace Yorke and Mrs. Evelyn Spear are members of the committee having the affair in charge. Each club member will invite a child.

Down town streets are rapidly assuming a holiday appearance. The long strings of colored lights intercrossed add to the beauty of the scene. Most conspicuous and lovely is the window in K. K. Weston's store where a miniature snow storm is in progress. Christmas trees with a profusion of beautiful gifts and twinkling with lights add to the attractive scene. This window might well be copied by a professional and is the design of Mrs. Weston.

MRS. ELIZABETH HOCKING

(Communicated)

The funeral service of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Hocking, of St. George, was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Francis Johnson, Bay View street, Camden, last Friday, being conducted by Rev. Leroy Campbell. The burial took place in North Parish cemetery, St. George. There were many beautiful flowers.

Mrs. Hocking left four daughters and two sons: Mrs. Elizabeth Morris, of Hall's Quarry, Mount Desert Island; Mrs. Beatrice Johnson, of Camden; Mrs. Annie Fuller, of Attleboro, Mass.; Mrs. Hattie Gardner, of Rockland; William T. Hocking, of Tenant's Harbor; and George P. Hocking, of Attleboro, Mass.

Mrs. Hocking and her husband Robert came to this country fifty years ago from Cornwall, England, and settled in St. George.

In England Mrs. Hocking had been a member of the Presbyterian Church but here she always attended the Baptist Church.

Sixteen years ago her husband died, and she never quite recovered from the sorrowful effects of that shock. The last three years of her life were years of suffering, but she never complained or murmured at her lot. "God is good," she would say, "God knows best." Her very patience and goodness made the sorrow of her loved ones the more acute. During the past six months she made her home with her daughter Beatrice, who helplessly saw her precious mother slipping away, knowing that even the most devoted care could not keep her. Mrs. Hocking was one of the world's most devoted and kind-hearted women, accepting everyone in a heart-warming way. She had implicit, unquestioning faith in the goodness of humanity. "So sweet," "Always a good word for everyone," "Always had such a nice way," "No one could say anything against her," are some of the testimonies to the charm and character of the little woman who was "Grammy" to everyone in St. George.

It is with deep compassion for her bereaved family and regret over the human loss that her passing is recorded.

FRIENDSHIP

Two hundred bags of Red Cross flour have been secured for this town through the efforts of the American Legion, and are being distributed.

ROCKPORT

Schools in town will close Dec. 23 and re-open Jan. 2.

The condition of Isaac Philbrook has shown marked improvement since entering Knox Hospital last Friday.

One of the most attractively lighted Christmas trees thus far seen in this town is that on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDonnell, High street.

The G. W. Bridge Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Annie J. Gardiner, Camden road.

At the local gym next Friday evening a triple-header basketball game will be played. The High School boys will play two games, one with Brownville Junction and the other with Waldoboro High. The girls' team will play Waldoboro High School girls. All three games promise to be very exciting and a large attendance is expected.

The members of the senior class, R.H.S., have been improving their spare time the past two days by putting the Town hall in readiness for the social and dance which they are to give this evening. The decorations will conform to the Christmas season, the color scheme of red and green being effectively carried out. A short program will be given before the dance, and refreshments will be served.

Rev. F. F. Currier returned Tuesday noon from Bangor where he was called Monday by the illness of his mother, Mrs. Sophia Currier, who, that morning entered a private hospital for a surgical operation. Her condition is reported as very encouraging.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wotton and son Gordon were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rider.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick F. Richards entertained members of the Nisumogum Club and their husbands at supper and bridge Wednesday evening.

More toys are needed for the Christmas baskets and contributions of same would be much appreciated by the welfare committee, who will be in session this afternoon at Masonic hall from 1 to 5 for relief sewing.

An informal meeting of the Tryto-help Club was held Monday evening at the Baptist vestry and was greatly enjoyed by the 15 members present. A covered dish supper was served at 7 o'clock and the remainder of the evening devoted to talking at a quilt and a social time. At next week's meeting Christmas baskets will be prepared and later distributed among the shut-ins.

High School Notes

The drawing classes are making some very attractive Christmas cards under the direction of Mrs. Hopkins. Members of the senior class have been considering different styles of graduation invitations but no decision has as yet been reached.

Informal basketball games were played last week between the R.H.S. girls and Rockport Local girls.

A meeting of the R. Club was held Monday night after school.

MINTURN

Staples-Matthews

A wedding ceremony of interest to many friends was performed by Rev. O. W. Osgood Dec. 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Staples, when their youngest daughter Edith Abbie was married to George Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Matthews, the double ring service being used.

The couple stood under an evergreen archway which was studded with pink roses. They were attended by the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Staples, and the bride was given away by her father, Warren Staples, the wedding march being played by Mrs. Myrtle Staples. The bride wore a blue flat crepe dress. The young couple were congratulated amid showers of rice. They received many gifts. Refreshments were served, and everyone enjoyed the happy occasion.

APPLETON

Miss Abigail Counce

At the advanced age of 93 years, and the last of a large family of brothers and sisters, Miss Abigail Counce died Dec. 9, at the home of her niece, Mrs. Electa Robbins in Searsmont, with whom she had lived for many years. She had been frail of body, yet the end came unexpectedly and peacefully, without prolonged illness.

A woman of many excellent traits of character, and of industrious nature, Miss Counce was well and favorably known in Appleton, the town of her birth and also in Searsmont. She is survived by several nephews and nieces, and by many friends, all of whom will miss the words of counsel and wisdom which they often heard from her lips. The funeral services were held from her late home Sunday at 2 o'clock. Interment was in the family lot in Pine Grove cemetery.

A Fisherman's Paradise in Wales The little Welsh town of Corwen is a delightful place for anglers to go to for a holiday. It is on the swift flowing Dee which rises above Bala Lake and is under beeting heights of the Berwyn mountains. Tickets for fishing can easily be obtained from the local angling association. It has some noted pools, trout and grayling streams. There is often a good autumn run of salmon and grayling rise well from September to December. There are some pike in the deeper pools. Many delightful glens can be reached from Corwen and the scenery is of the most beautiful, especially the climb to the summit of Moel Fferna's 2050 feet.

Mrs. Laura Osborne and sister Mrs. Harriet Wiley of Camden were dinner guests Sunday of their cousin Mrs. A. I. Perry and family at Willow Brook.

There was a gentle fall of snow Sunday night which left a good covering over the fields, and present indications promise more snow.

One can hardly realize that only two weeks from another Christmas day. The correspondent extends greeting to all friends of this column and wishes them a happy year.

North Hope was well represented at last Saturday's day-session of Hope Grange. Three from here were given the first and second degrees, and North Hope also furnished the program which seemed to meet with much approval. There was a good company present with several visitors and the day was full and pleasantly passed. The report of the State Grange delegates was very interesting. There was also nomination and election of officers.

NORTH HAVEN

Mail bags are increasing in number with each boat.

Monday morning brought the first snow storm of the winter. Turning to rain in the forenoon most of the snow soon disappeared.

Saturday night as she was about to descend the stairs at the Grange hall Mrs. Julia Beverage caught her heel on one of the steps and fell the length of the stairway, and suffered severe bruises and a dislocated shoulder.

She was treated by Dr. Woodman, and later went to Rockland where x-ray revealed that no bones were broken. Friends express deep sympathy for Mrs. Beverage at this painful mishap and best wishes are extended to her.

The Unity Guild conducted its annual Christmas sale Wednesday afternoon at the Knights of Pythias rooms.

Miss Etta Beverage has finished her work at the Lodge for the winter.

Mrs. Mary Shepard Fein, with her young son Charles, returned Saturday to Philadelphia. Both have become very enthusiastic about North Haven, and young Charles could hardly keep back the tears at going away. It is expected they will return after the holidays.

The big chorus under the leadership of Abbon Beverage promises to be a musical event in North Haven. The chorus will sing at both services Christmas Sunday, Dec. 25.

C. S. Staples was in Rockland Monday on business in connection with the Security Trust Co. of which he is a director.

"PINCH OF SALT"

That And Other Indefinite Terms Do Not Apply To Modern Recipes.

Do you remember the recipes that used to read "Two heaping teaspoonfuls of flour," "one scant coffee cup of sugar," "butter the size of an egg," etc.? You and your neighbor exchanged recipes and you wondered why, with all your pains, your cake didn't turn out to be the product of perfection that her's was.

"The reason," explains Edna M. Cobb, home management specialist for the Extension Service, "was probably no more nor less than that your teaspoon was not the same size as her's, or your idea of heaping was more generous."

Today recipes say a cupful and mean a cupful, neither scant nor heaping, but exactly level. But some of the measuring cups used by present-day housekeepers still differ widely in their capacities.

Some manufacturers, however, have made measuring cups that come up to standard specifications that are recommended by the United States Bureau of Home Economics and adopted by the American Home Economic Association.

There are two kinds of measuring cups. The single-capacity cup and the sub-divided cup. The single-capacity type has four to a set—a quarter, third, half, one and one cup capacity. These provide for very accurate measurements with dry ingredients, as a quarter cup of flour can be leveled off as smoothly as a full cup. In the sub-divided cup, a series of graduations indicate the varying capacities. This type is suitable for measuring liquid ingredients. Both kinds should be in the equipment of every kitchen. When a new cup is purchased, it should meet the standard specifications.

A handsome Christmas card carrying the donor's name goes forward with the gift. Call at the office or telephone 770, and the order will be filled.

"Lack of Light" Chief Cause Of Accidents, Statistics Prove

Safety in the home, as well as comfort and convenience, call for the elimination of those dark, dangerous places where a false step may lead to tragedy.

Statistics compiled by life insurance companies indicate that 35 per cent of all accidental deaths, or 30,000 per year to be exact, happen in the home—and that darkness, or "lack of light" is their principal cause. In addition to deaths, 4,500,000 non-fatal injuries happen in that supposed haven of refuge and safety.

Man's latest gadget to overcome these hazards is a wall light which all but thinks for itself. It operates on batteries, and can be fastened to the wall at any point not otherwise lighted. The pull of the chain floods the stairway or other point where light is essential, just in time to prevent husband or wife from stepping on the family cat and taking a nose dive for a fractured leg or a broken head.

One of these new lights has a "time switch"—a great aid to failing memories. A pull chain turns on the light. It stays lit for a fixed time, then goes off of its own accord. Of course, if desired, the light can be turned on for steady light for as long a period as needed.

And for those with perfect memories, who never forget anything, there is a similar light without the time switch feature.

Tenants Harbor Days

"Beautiful skating on the marsh these days and many people are enjoying it. Come on down Homer and have your annual skate; it is fine." Harbor item in the paper.

If Demuth's orchestra will strike up the "Skater's Waltz," had Homer ever learned to waltz, he would surely accept the invitation, and would waltz right down to the old home village, put 'em on and go right to it.

So long as memory lasts, so long will I remember the first cry for the season—

"Hi fellers! come on down to the marsh an' let's go skatin'; ice will hold!"

If that occurred before the fall term of school began, our cup of joy was full and running over. I could never dance, and was not much of a skater; could go ahead fairly well, but couldn't reverse and skate backward. Something always went wrong with the reverse gear. To me skating is the poetry of motion, but I wanted to do mine out-of-doors, not in an indoor rink. What a thrill one could get down on the marsh on a clear cold day, bright sun, no snow on the ice, wind nor-west, skate from the creek up to the Beaver Dam bridge, come about, spread your coat and run fore it back again. My skating days ended early in life, but they always remain the bright spots of boyhood. For they were not carried over into my manhood days. Well, they cannot take away the fun I had in those days anyway. Boze

TREES FOR WOMEN

Novel Feature To Be Presented For Educational Club Tomorrow Night

Famous, beautiful and unusual trees of the world will pass in parade before the members of the Women's Educational Club at 8.30 Friday evening when the club meets at J.A.R. hall. Note change of place.

The unusual pictures will be shown by George W. Goodall of the Davey Tree Expert Company in connection with his lecture, "Trees Around the World." The illustrations, all of which are in natural color, come from all sections of the globe and represent years of photographing and traveling by members of the Davey Organization.

Included among the lantern slides are views of the trees along the Nile, the umbrella and so-called potato trees of Africa, the bottle trees and monkey puzzle trees of Australia and strange trees of Tasmania, New Zealand and other lands.

An unusual story of fascinating interest is woven around the pictures by Mr. Goodall. He tells of the peculiarities of these trees, their uses and presents them all as living things that may have many of the characteristics of human life.

Preceding these pictures will come the eagerly awaited address on "Practical Idealism," acclaimed by all who have heard it as inspirational, by Rev. Arthur Stray, Episcopal rector of Brunswick, one of the higher-ups in national Rotarianism, a lecturer in great demand by men's clubs. Anne Belmont, recent recipient of a gold piece for correct guessing, presents a reading "An Afternoon Bridge Game." Mrs. Jason Packard a clog dancer with Col. Philbrick on the violin. Dr. Neil Fogg, representative to legislature speaks at 5.15. Box luncheon at 6, upstairs.

GORHAM NORMAL

Plans are being made for a Christmas party to be held Dec. 21. The tables in East Hall dining room will all be decorated, prizes being given for the most attractive and most original decorations. This is being sponsored by the house committee. Miss Lillian Wallace of Pemaquid is on the invitation committee.

Miss Winifred Lamb of Lincolnville attended a party given in East Hall dining room Tuesday evening.

A student council meeting was held in center, Tuesday evening. Dean Nellie W. Jordan of South Portland presented a new honor code to the student body.

The members of the house committee gave a program on Table Manners, in Russell Hall, Wednesday. Mrs. Lillian Wallace of Pemaquid, Carolyn Crooker of Bristol, Roberta Hawthorne of Wiscasset and Burnette Bailey of Woolwich are members of the committee.

The Campfire girls attended a ceremonial service at the Congress Street Church, Portland, Sunday.

A dance given by the Washington Hancock County Club was held in center Saturday night. It was in the form of a night club with David Gallison of Hancock Point acting as master of ceremonies. The center was attractively decorated with Christmas trees and decorations in keeping with the season. Music was furnished by the "The Fella's" orchestra of which Keith Crockett is a member.

The fraternity initiation of the Lambda Phi Sigma was held Saturday and proved very amusing to the spectators as the boys being initiated were made to do many stunts. Keith Crockett, Rockport and Richard Clifford of Vinalhaven are to be initiated into the fraternity.

Lois Prior of Louisville, Burnette Bailey of Woolwich, Marjorie Nash of Jefferson and Marjorie Cutts of Boothbay attended the Outdoor Club hike.

Marjorie Nash of Jefferson and Marjorie Cutts of Boothbay Harbor attended a Sunday school party held at Miss Charlotte Millett's.

SLEEP GOOD EVERY NIGHT

— Make This 25c Test —

Don't wake up for bladder relief. Physic the bladder as you would the bowels. Drive out impurities and excessive acids which cause the irritation resulting in wakeful nights, leg pains, backache, burning and frequent desire. BUKETS, the bladder physic, made from buchu, juniper oil, etc., works effectively on the bladder as castor oil on the bowels. Get a regular 25c box and after four days if not relieved of getting up nights your druggist will return your money. Make this test. You are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. Corner Drug Store, Charles W. Sheldon, Druggist, and C. H. Moor & Co. say BUKETS is a best seller.

SPRUCE HEAD

Mrs. Eugenie Godfrey entertained at bridge last Thursday evening, her guests Mrs. Callie Morrill, Mrs. Maude Shea, Mrs. Gladys Simmons, Mrs. Margaret Carr, Mrs. Jeannette

Snow, Mrs. Grace York and Mrs. Charlotte Waterman. Lunch was served.

Mrs. Callie Morrill entertained Mrs. John McKenzie and Mrs. Alton Wall at afternoon tea Monday.

Ralph Drew returned Tuesday of last week to Gloucester (Mass.) station base 7 after spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burke.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Merrill Connors of Seguin Light and Mr. and Mrs. Giles of Boothbay were supper guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burke.

Miss Nannie Kinney and Earl Kinney of St. George were callers Tuesday on Miss Caroline Robinson and Mrs. Callie Morrill.

UNION LIME QUARRY

The Knox Lime Company resumed operations at Union yesterday, and the regular crew will put in two busy weeks before the plant shuts down for the winter. Forty to 50 carloads of limrock will be shipped to the Great Northern Paper Company's mills at Millinocket and Woodland, and this will complete the supply necessary for the corporation's winter uses.

The head of the Bank of England says he approaches the problems of the depression "not only in ignorance, but in humility." Some of our own statesmen would be in the same boat if they had the humility.—Louisville Herald-Post.

WARREN

There will be a stated meeting of Ivy Chapter, O.E.S., Friday evening, supper to be served star members at 8 o'clock. A delightful feature of the evening will be the Christmas tree each gift adorning it not to exceed ten cents in cost, with Mrs. Jessie Walker chairman of the tree, assisted by Mrs. Laura Brackett and Mrs. Alice Brown.

Warren teachers report an interesting session at the joint meeting of the Union and Warren teachers Saturday afternoon at the new building in Union. Miss Ida Hughes, teacher in the Rockland Junior High, gave a highly instructive talk on "History in the Upper Grades." Mrs. Doris Robbins, primary teacher at Union, a practical demonstration of second grade number work, and Mrs. Anne Farris, grammar teacher at Union, taught a model class in seventh grade geography, the subject "Hawaii." Following the meeting a light lunch was served by the Union teachers.

William Barrett is spending a few weeks in Boston.

Lenore Benner, Dorothy Harvie, Anne Delmonico, Gladys Kitching are the Educational Club hostesses at Grand Army hall tomorrow. The executive board meets in the dining room at supper hour for special business.

Members of the Methuen Club are reminded of the Christmas tree to be a part of the meeting tomorrow afternoon at the home of Miss Helen D. Perry, North Main street. Toys and other articles for children are to be placed on the tree, to be distributed by Miss Corbett. The singing of Christmas carols will also have a place in the program of the afternoon.

Mrs. Ralph Lamport of Portland is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Dondis, Beech street.

Mrs. Clara Johnson and Mrs. Evie Perry will be hostesses at the card party sponsored by the BPW Club tonight at Mrs. Johnson's home, Warren street. These weekly card parties, open to the public, are greatly enjoyed by attendants.

Mrs. Alice M. Spear who has been seriously ill, is convalescing at the home of her niece, Mrs. Edna Cushing, Talbot avenue.

Les Bijoux met Monday with Miss Susan Spence, Talbot avenue. Miss Spear registered highest score for the evening. An added attraction was a brilliantly lighted Christmas tree, and all members were delighted with their presents.

Mrs. Blanche Morton of Broadway, gave a benefit bridge Tuesday afternoon. Present were Mesdames George Bachelder, A. M. Moody, Ralph Trim, A. R. Havener, Levi Smith, Roy Estes, Ernest Campbell and George B. Davis. The prize-winners were Mrs. Moody and Mrs. Havener.

The Shakespeare Society meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Clara Rounds, Beech street, began the reading of "All's Well That Ends Well," with Mrs. Eva Helier as leader. Miss Carolyn Erskine presented a thoughtful paper on "The Source of the Plot." In the absence of Mrs. Katherine Perry, president, and Miss Ellen Cochran, vice president, due to illness, Miss Elizabeth Jameson, secretary, presided. The next meeting, Jan. 2, will be at the home of Mrs. Harriet Silsby Frost, with Miss Cochran as leader. Act III of the play will be read, and Mrs. Elizabeth Otis will present a paper.

The E.F.A. Club had dinner and cards at the home of Mrs. F. L. Newbert Wednesday. Honors fell to Mrs. A. M. Moody, Mrs. A. R. Havener and Mrs. Millie Thomas.

Mrs. E. B. Ingraham was happily surprised Tuesday noon when going to dinner at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Maynard Marston, to find a group gathered in honor of her birthday. There were present her two sisters, Mrs. E. S. Levensaler and Mrs. Lella Benner; Atwood Levensaler, Miss Lenore Benner, Mrs. Abbie Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Marston and daughter Ruth.

The charity ball given by the Rockland Lions Club in the Coast Artillery hall last night drew about 225 dancers, and many others bought tickets to aid the cause. Twenty-four prizes were awarded, the principal one being a master electrical mixer valued at $25. All of the others were presented to the club, which is exceedingly grateful for the fine spirit of co-operation shown. Kirk's Orchestra of 13 pieces furnished music and "Duke" Annis made a very efficient floor director. The affair netted $100 and much credit is due "Chet" Black, the boss ticket-seller.

"ON MY SET"

"Betty Graham"

The heroic part played by Confederate women of Civil War days will be exemplified by Betty Graham, youthful heroine, in the second of the series of four Civil War sketches heard Sunday on the "Roses and Drums" program over the CBS network at 8:00 p. m. EST. In Sunday's episode, the southern heroine aids General Jackson, played by De Wolf Hopper, in securing valuable information. Harper's Ferry, famous in American history, and the thrilling events which lead up to the first battle of the Civil War, will serve as locale and plot for this week's drama.

Well, folks, what are we going to do about that Boston Station, WEEI. The interference at night has become very much of a nuisance, and the programs are frequently distorted. I hear many complaints.

"For Lo! The Poor..." a story of Christmas in Snow Village will be presented by the Socynland Players when they are heard next Monday. The story opens with Uncle Dan'l in a rage such as had seldom best him. The mercury stood below zero, the snow was piled three feet high, taxes were higher and Aunt Hattie had completely forgotten her responsibilities at home in order to wrap Christmas presents for the no-account Pettigills.

Lucriza Bori, star of the Metropolitan Opera, will be the soloist featured in the Children's Concert of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Ernest Schelling, Saturday, from 11 a. m. to 12.30 p. m., over the Columbia network. Miss Bori will be heard in a group of Spanish selections.

Homemakers who are not yet convinced of the value of planned spending will get some suggestions from the talk which Mrs. Mary Harrington, farm woman of Rhode Island, will give on Dec. 21, during the Land-Grant College radio hour. Mrs. Harrington is a Rhode Island farm woman and for 11 years has kept a record of money spent for food. Exact knowledge of how the food dollar was being spent led Mrs. Harrington to make changes which have enabled her to save a considerable amount. The money thus saved has been used to buy new household equipment, magazines and flower plants, all of which have added to the comfort and pleasure of the whole family.

MAKE CHILD HAPPY

Parent-Teacher Associations Will Do Their Share At Christmas Season

Christmas stockings neglected by an overlooked Santa Claus this year may be filled by several thousand Parent-Teacher Associations now busily planning to aid the benevolent old saint in his efforts to make children happy.

"Safeguarding Children Through This Crisis," the theme motivating major educational activities of the P.T.A. for several months past, is interpreted as the holiday season approaches as meaning "Make Children Happy at Christmas Time." Parents and teachers throughout the country have pledged themselves to use every means at their disposal to provide traditional Christmas joys for children.

Many holiday activities will be promoted by Parent-Teacher Associations, but the emphasis will be placed on making the child happy in his home. Christmas festivals will be staged in many schools, with a generous Santa Claus distributing stockings stuffed with articles designed to please the very young. Lighted outdoor Christmas trees, community Christmas celebrations, home play projects, and many other activities are being planned to add to the festive spirit.

"Our purposes are all built around the child," writes Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, vice president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, in the December issue of the Michigan Parent-Teacher, "and nothing can take from us the glow of beauty that arises from the vision of a better, happier childhood in the nation. If we needed a higher inspiration, it comes to us at this Christmas tide when all the world rejoices because a Child is born."

CAMDEN MINSTRELS

Big Legion Benefit Show To Be Given Friday and Saturday Nights

Everybody in Camden is looking forward to happy moments tomorrow evening and Saturday evening when the American Legion minstrel show is presented for the benefit of Arey-Heal Post. The entire production is compiled, staged and directed by Stephen L. Cushing, and Camden's reputation for putting on a first class performance will be well maintained.

Clarence A. Fish will direct the Camden School Band. The orchestra for the minstrel show itself is to be directed by Mrs. Stella Derry Lefebvre. Another musical group to be heard will be a trio of school girls led by Ruth Damery.

Local male singers will be heard in solo numbers. These include such well known vocalists as "Pie" Reynolds, Marcus P. Chandler, Bill Monroe, Sammy Lankton, Burt Stevenson, Jr., John Taylor, George Conant, Adin L. Hopkins, Howard Anderson and Dick Martz.

The show opens with the circle and a group of popular young women as solo performers, dancing and singing. Being featured, these include Marian Ross, Marguerite Richardson, Dorothy Stoddard, Hazel Hendrick, Ruth Morton, Florence Rogers, Edith Nash Louise Johnson, Alice Wincapaw and Hazel Hendrick.

Adin L. Hopkins acts as interlocutor. In the circle will be seen Whitehead, Redman, Thurlow, Poland, Dow, Carroll, Goodman, Thomas, Berry, Martin, Crockett, Dyer, Leach, Lankton, Boynton, Eddy, Taylor, Knight, Wing, Leighton, Dearborn, Chandler, Talbot, Williams and Herick.

At Christmas Time

A CHRISTMAS THOUGHT

ALL the old festivals, that of Christmas awakens the strongest and most heartfelt associations. There is a tone of solemn and sacred feeling that blends with our conviviality, and lifts the spirit to a state of hallowed and elevated enjoyment. The services of the church about this season are extremely tender and inspiring. They dwell upon the beautiful story of the origin of our faith, and the pastoral scenes that accompanied its announcement. They gradually increase in fervor and pathos during the season of Advent, until they break forth in full jubilee on the morning that brought peace and good-will to men. I do not know a grander sight of music on the moral feelings than to hear the full choir and the pealing organ performing a Christmas anthem in a cathedral, and filling every part of the vast pile with triumphant harmony.—Washington Irving.

The vogue of Christmas trees on roof tops seems definitely in favor. In addition to the one atop its main offices the C.M.P. Co. has set a very large tree above its elevator house on the plant building, Union street. J. A. Jameson Co. have erected a slightly tree on the roof of Crockett Block and Haskell & Corbitt have decorated their building in Camden along similar lines.

The Elks home is beautifully decorated as always, winning much praise.

The Main street decorations are less spectacular than in 1931 but are very effective. Last season it was still in place, allowing the erection of graceful arches.

The Fuller-Cobb-Davis block presents a striking appearance from all angles, especially from the harbor.

Several private homes are being decorated at the present time. A drive about the city should be very much worth while next week.

Much interest is developing in the matter of the Garden Club prizes for home decorations.

Sender Crane's Santa Claus will make his first appearance in the third floor toyland Dec. 17 and coming is anxiously awaited by many a thrilling young heart.

Audible admiration is expressed by all those viewing the Christmas effort at Munsey's Garage, Limerock street. It is understood that the tree which forms the central figure, was carefully tended all summer by William Bock to the end that it might be the pride of Bock Apartments at Yuletide.

These are busy days around Masonic Temple and the Elks home where Winkler-Hobbs Post and the Elks are engaged in Christmas work.

The usual twin trees on the open plot at the foot of Taibot avenue are in place.

F. A. Tirrell and H. Laton Jackson are adding laurels to the lighting records of upper Beech street.

Santa Claus comes to Main street every afternoon and evening—the exact hours being 3 to 4 and 7.30 to 8.30—and parks his reindeers at the store of J. J. Newberry & Co. He arrived in the city last Saturday afternoon and Kidland has been in a state of great excitement ever since.

In the store is a large box for the receptacle of Christmas requests from the children. This holiday activity resulted one day this week in the discovery of one poor family which was cold and hungry. The proprietors took the matter up with the Salvation Army and joy has replaced misery.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Pleasant Valley Grange Circle will meet with Mrs. Walter Connors, West Meadow road tomorrow afternoon with a public supper at 6.

American Legion and Auxiliary members are asked to meet at the hall Sunday afternoon at 1 to prepare for the Christmas party to take place Monday evening.

The W.C.T.U. meets Friday afternoon with Mrs. Abbie Richardson, 19 Spruce street. Mrs. Richardson is the leader and the subject, "Cultivating the Christmas Spirit."

The hall at the Warren street school is gay with the Christmas decorations which delighted the children, as they marched into school Wednesday and beheld the results of Mr. Flanders' artistic skill.

Harold M. Green motored to Portland over the weekend, returning Tuesday, accompanied by Mrs. Greene and daughter Ruth, who have been guests of Mrs. Greene's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyman, the past seven weeks.

First year students at University of Maine leading their class in scholarship and shown on the A.B.C. list for the fall semester are represented by these from Knox County: William Manning of Thomaston; Ruth Perry and Graham Hills of Rockland and John Miller of Camden. Mr. Hills' and Mr. Manning's names also appeared on the dean's list.

At the meeting of Ralph Ulmer Camp Auxiliary last evening these officers were elected: President, Ann Snow; senior vice, Myra Watts; junior vice, Laura Ranlett; chaplain, Ella M. Hyland; historian, Inez Bronkie; conductor, Emma Dick; assistant conductor, Jessie Wall; guard, Annie Trundy; assistant guard, Ella Lurvey; secretary, Helen Paladino; treasurer, Emma Carver; musician, Margie Thorndike; press correspondent, Ann Snow.

Fales Circle, Ladies G.A.R., elected these officers last night: President, Priscilla Smith; senior vice president, Mary Sistaire; junior vice president, Marcia Green; chaplain, Mary Rogers; treasurer, Ella Fayer; secretary, Mary Lamb; patriotic instructor, Marjorie Jackson; conductor, Bernice Jackson; guard, Susie Newbert; musician and counselor, Lena Merry; registrar, Elizabeth Barton; delegates to the State convention, Mrs. Green and Mrs. Sistaire with Bertha Everett and Marjorie Jackson alternates.

At the meeting of Blue Bonnet Troop, Girl Scouts, Monday, Miss Alice Gay was presented with her Golden Eaglet pin. Mrs. Ruth Ellingwood, commissioner, made the presentation in a most impressive manner. Members of Clover Leaf Troop and of the Scout Council, together with several of Miss Gay's relatives and personal friends, were present. Scout laws were demonstrated, and games and songs enjoyed. Miss Gay is not one of the few Golden Eaglets in Girl Scouting, an honor coveted by every Scout, and attained by a comparatively small number. It signifies that she has passed the tenderfoot, second-class and first-class tests, has earned 21 merit badges, and above all is living up to the highest of Scout ideals. Many Scouts are able to earn badges and pass tests, yet are not able to live up to the goal set by Scout ideals. The standards and requirements to win the Golden Eaglet are very high, and Rockland is proud that one of her daughters has the character and ability to possess it.

The icy walking Tuesday did not deter a goodly number of the Kallech Class from meeting in the church parlors for Red Cross work. Little dresses, blouses, and patchwork kept machines and fingers busy.

Manager Fenderson of the Western Union is back from a hunting trip at Calais, with no slain deer to disturb his conscience. Upon the return of Manager Teehan, who has gone to Massachusetts on a week's vacation, he will take charge of the Belfast office.

Thomas Economy is wearing Miss Mary Johnson's suit and being congratulated. It should perhaps be explained that the suit is the prize won by Miss Johnson in The Courier-Gazette's Thrift Club contest, and happens to be male apparel. Thomas was lucky; that's all.

Three Boston newsreel men, armed with cameras and sound equipment, sailed out of Rockland yesterday aboard the lighthouse tender Hibiscus to take sound pictures of the work of the Lighthouse Service on the Maine Coast. They expected to photograph the tender's crew relieving buoys, landing supplies and pumping water to lighthouse stations. The same cameramen made a short trip out of Portland Tuesday on the Tuesday, which took a liberty crew off Portland Lightship.

Dr. Freeman P. Brown's plans for the winter had not contemplated a sojourn in the South, but that is what is going to happen. Tuesday Dr. Brown received a despatch requesting him to join Cyrus H. K. Curtis in Philadelphia, and proceed South with him on the Curtis yacht Lyndonia. The itinerary calls for a voyage to Miami, Florida, in connection with which there will be a fortnight's sojourn at Havana. Dr. Brown was Mr. Curtis' attending physician during the latter's stay in Camden last summer, and the fact that he is invited to accompany the famous publisher and philanthropist to Florida is an eloquent acknowledgment of his medical ability and personal character. Dr. Brown leaves between Dec. 22 and 27, and will be away about four months.

Mrs. Joseph Dondis and sisters, Miss Ann Povich of Rockland, and Mrs. Ralph Lamport of Portland, motoring to Ellsworth Monday met with an experience which barely escaped fatal results. About three miles out of Camden their car skidded on the icy road, whirled around and finally headed for the gutter which at that point had a drop of about five feet. The car's front wheels went down over the bank bringing up against a mound of dirt which was the means of saving car and occupants. Only a bent mud guard told the story of the narrow escape, and the motorists proceeded on their way—with badly shaken nerves, however. Several other motorists were encountered on the trip who had trouble caused by icy roads.

A SARDINE PROBLEM

Com'r Washburn Takes It Up In Washington—Other Fishing Matters

Commissioner Frank P. Washburn of the State Agricultural Department, attended a tariff hearing in Washington last week to present figures showing the decline in the number of cases of sardines packed in Maine during the last three years, due, he said, "to foreign goods packed under different conditions and with the advantages of exchange rates."

"Our markets are being seriously injured," he said, and showed the figures he has compiled to support his argument. They were: In 1930 there were 1,300,000 cases packed in Maine; in 1931 there were 850,000, and up to the present date of 1932 there were 430,000.

Commenting upon the sardine situation, and other fisheries, a Boston despatch says:

By the slump in foreign money values, the enormous drop in wages abroad and the resultant scaling of the tariff wall, the foreign fishermen are able to give the American fishermen too hard a run for their money.

For instance, Maine sardine factories have closed and the fishermen have put up their boats. There was nothing else for them to do. Some of them may be on the relief lists in Maine. Norway is taking the sardine business away from them with a sardine that is so cheap that the Maine producers cannot hold the market. About two years ago Norway was exporting 330,000 cases of sardines to the United States, and Maine was producing 1,200,000 cases at that time; today these figures are reversed, for Norway is sending about 1,400,000 cases this year and Maine will offer only 300,000 cases, according to Edward H. Cooley, director of the Massachusetts Fisheries Association.

Salmon fisheries here have been dealt a severe blow by Japan, though the trade was meant for France instead of the United States. The Japanese fishermen caught and packed about 1,000,000 cases of salmon in Siberia and marked them in French because they were intended for the French market, under the provisions of the treaty, according to Japan, the advantages of "the most favored nation" clause which fixed the tariff rate on Japanese imports about two-thirds lower than the duty on goods from the United States. But Japan had hardly started this export business when France suddenly adopted an import limit of 90,000 cases. Then Japan had to look for another market and where could she turn but to the United States whose tariff was not high enough to offset the difference in cost at the low wages and low currency values in Japan.

Scallops present another outstanding example of what is happening to the American fisheries today. Boston is not yet suffering from the Japanese invasion of the scallop industry; but New York has virtually lost the entire Pacific coast trade. New York had a good business on the Pacific coast, getting $3 to $3.25 a gallon for the scallops a price accepted by the market as being fair enough. But today Japan is offering this shellfish to the Pacific coast trade for $1.25 a gallon, which she can well afford to do, as there is no duty on scallops and the fishermen get only a few cents a day in wages. This is the first year that any scallops have come from Japan. Swordfish started to come last year and is worrying the American fisherman a great deal.

A dollar buys much salmon in Japan today that it becomes relatively unprofitable, if not wasteful, for the American merchant to spend that dollar for American salmon. In fact, he cannot handle the American salmon in competition with what comes from Japan and bid for the common trade. If the Japanese currency were on a par with that of the United States a case of her salmon would cost 80 cents; but since the fall from the gold standard the yen has become so low in value that it takes only about 36 cents to pay for it, and the duty, being an ad valorem duty, adds only a few cents, bringing the Japanese salmon up to about 41 cents to compete with the American product, which comes to about $1. The scallops sold in Boston today bring $1.75 to $2 a gallon, wholesale, while Japan captures the Pacific coast trade with her $1.25 product.

SEVEN RECOMMENDATIONS

Made By Maine Automobile Association—Taxpayers Are Considered

A program which it is believed will save the State of Maine $1,000,000 was considered at the annual meeting of the Maine Automobile Association in Portland, Col. Edward E. Farnsworth of the Maine Highway Commission was among those present and it appears that the recommendations which the Association voted to submit to the incoming legislature are in line with the plans which the Highway Commission proposes to offer.

Governor-elect Brann of Lewiston was among those attending the meeting and said that there are many serious problems confronting the next legislature and that he feared many of the State's activities must be curtailed or suspended. He pledged his cooperation to any measure which he believed would prove for the welfare of the men and women of Maine. His remarks were brief but to the point and added much to the interest of the meeting.

Chief among the seven recommendations were two asking for the repeal or suspension of the mill tax and of the annual state-aid appropriation of $300,000 which the automobile association believes will affect a direct saving for the taxpayers. Repeal or suspension of the mill tax, the association pointed out, will result in eliminating from the general highway fund approximately $750,000 annually paid from direct taxes on all classes of property and therefore will result in a decrease of the state tax.

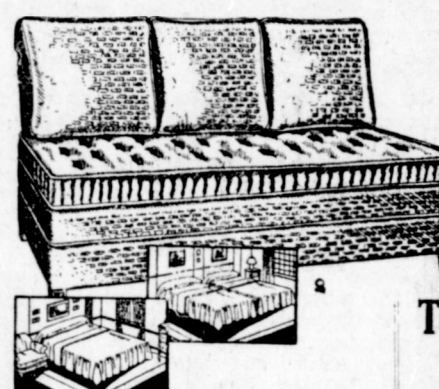

The other recommendations called for repeal or suspension of the Three-Town Act, reduction of the Five-Town Clause to a maximum of two times; repeal or suspension of Third Class highway appropriation which would aid the maintenance fund; omission of all special resolves, thus adding $150,000 annually to maintenance; and the spreading over a two-year period of the $2,000,000 of highway bonds and the $1,000,000 of bridge bonds, which would assure Maine of receiving Federal aid.

The association explained that under the omission of special resolves "the estimated income would be $7,220,000, derived entirely from motor and gas fees. After meeting the bond requirements and operating expenses of the necessary departments there remains an estimated figure of slightly less than $3,000,000 for maintenance purposes, plus about $250,000 from the cities and towns as their share of maintenance."

Enaction of this plan, the association believes, makes the Highway Department program entirely self-sustaining and will bring immediate relief to the over-burdened taxpayer. The association went on record as saying that in view of the fact that with this plan the entire expense of the highway activities is borne by the motoring public, with a saving of more than $1,000,000, and there should be no diversion of either motor fees or gas tax receipts for any other purposes. The association believes that possibly further savings may eventually be affected in some of the departments which the general highway fund supports with the exception of the State Highway Police.

All Congress has to do is to find some way to offset the cash requirements of the farmer, veteran, Communist, and children marchers with the equally insistent demands for reductions in Federal expenditures.—Washington Post.

HAWAII IS OPPOSED To Bills Destroying Territorial Government—Wallace R. Farrington Speaks

A distinguished son of Maine has again been called to the service of the people of Hawaii.

Wallace R. Farrington, who served as governor of the territory for two terms, has been named a member of the Hawaii Legislative Commission, authorized by the last legislature to combat legislation in congress which would destroy rights of self-government enjoyed by the Islands for generations.

The former governor went to Hawaii more than 35 years ago. His family lived in Maine many years and he was editor of a Rockland newspaper before going to Honolulu.

"Hawaii is unalterably opposed to measures now pending in both Houses of Congress to destroy territorial form of government here," the former governor says.

"To deny the people of Hawaii the rights of self-government as an integral part and a territory of the United States would be a repudiation of the obligations under which the United States accepted the Islands into the Union at the time of their voluntary annexation in 1898," he said. "At that time the Islands were an independent Republic.

"It would be a rank betrayal of American principles of government. The steps now proposed are un-American and unjust. More than two-thirds of Hawaii's population of 368,000 persons are American citizens like those of any State. To deny them the privileges of government which they have always enjoyed as a territory and to reduce them to the status of a colony, as is proposed in bills before congress, would be as repugnant to them as it would be to the people of any State who are proud of their American citizenship."

There are nine bills pending in the Senate Territories Committee in order to bring before Congress the recommendations of Seth W. Richardson, assistant attorney general, as a result of an investigation, under the authority of the department of justice, of law enforcement conditions in Hawaii. The major recommendations of Mr. Richardson, to which Hawaii strongly objects, propose:

First: Appointment by the President, with the confirmation by the Senate, of a high sheriff who would have complete control of the police throughout the Islands.

Second: Appointment by the President, with confirmation by the Senate, of the attorney general of the territory.

Third: Consolidation of the federal and territorial courts, thus destroying the identity of the latter.

Fourth: Removal of residence qualifications for territorial and federal officials, a step which would open the way for appointment to positions in Hawaii of persons who were not citizens of the territory.

There are two bills pending before the house territories committee both of which would abolish the territorial form of government.

A bill introduced by Representative Britten of Illinois, providing that the Governor of Hawaii shall be an Army or Navy officer, would virtually make the Islands a military reservation.

A bill introduced by Representative Williams of Texas would substitute commission government for the present territorial form of government.

A Virginia family was training a colored girl from the country in her duties as maid. On answering the telephone the first day she brought no message.

"Who was that, Sara?"

"Want nobody, Mrs. Bailey, jes' a lady sayin' 'It's a long distance from New York' and I says, 'Yes ma'am, it sho' is!'"—Judge.

OLDEST ALMANAC Anybody Hereabouts Have One Which Antedates Bangor Copy of 1737?

Lots of old almanacs are owned in Knox and Lincoln Counties, and those who possess them will be intrigued, no doubt, by the controversy up Bangor way as to who owns the most ancient copy. The following from the Bangor Commercial is indicative of the interest which is being created:

Despite claims that Mayor Josiah F. Cobb, of South Portland has in his possession a farmer's almanac of the oldest date, a Bangor man, Carl Crane, steps forth with the remnants of one many years older than that owned by Mayor Cobb. Cobb, according to a Portland paper, displays a volume of 1791 and 1792, which he thinks is the oldest in existence; but Crane has one of 1737, lacking but five years to being 200 years old. The ancient booklet is well worn about the corners and yellowed with age. The first three pages are missing, unfortunately, and only the last name of the author, Ames, is distinguishable.

In the calendar pages the time of the setting of the sun and moon is given for each day in the month, as are the signs of the zodiac and a prophecy of the weather; also a record of court days in Massachusetts, election days in Boston, etc. One quotation which strikes the eye is when the author, wishing to convey the meaning of intense cold, predicted it would be "as cold as charity." The birthdays of the world's outstanding figures are also included.

Ames addresses a modest foreword in which he expresses a desire to possess the "machine of the little Spaniard who flew to the moon and I, too, would go to see for myself." The letter "s" is made as an "f."

It is not difficult to imagine the eagerness with which the arrival of the new yearly almanac was received or the care with which it was preserved to be read and re-read during the year. In those days the family almanac and Bible comprised, often, the entire reading matter of a family, so the former occupied a place of considerable importance.

GENTLEMEN OF THE PRESS Familiar Figures In the Newsgathering World Described by Alton Blackington

City Club Life, the official organ of the Boston City Club, had this to say about "Gentlemen of the Press," the lecture which was to be delivered by a former Rockland boy:

"The entertainment will be something new and entirely different—an illustrated talk by Alton H. Blackington, called 'Gentlemen of the Press,' in which this well-known newspaper man, photographer and reporter, gives a series of close-ups, so to speak, of some of the leading figures in the newspaper world, and the events in their newspaper lives for which they are famous.

"It is essentially a human interest story, with a background which has a peculiar fascination, getting and distributing news. There are scores of famous players in the cast, such as Melville Stone who founded the Associated Press, Arthur Brisbane, Walter Winchell, Floyd Gibbons, Franklin P. Adams, better known as 'F.P.A.', F. Opper, and Sidney Smith, famous cartoonists.

"Among those at home we find Bill Cunningham, W. D. Sullivan, James Morgan, Frank Buxton, Robert L. O'Brien, Franklin P. Collier, Edgar Chamberlain and others. In all he will use about 200 slides.

"Blackington is famous for his lectures on 'The Romance of News Gathering,' his rapid-fire, swift-moving story, punctuated with wit and humor, always entertaining and always informing. In his latest production 'Gentlemen of the Press,' will be found all these elements which insure an evening well worth while."

"I dreamed last night that I had invented a new type of breakfast food, and was sampling it when—

"Yes, yes, go on."

"I woke up and found a corner of the mattress gone!"—Galt Reporter.

"BEST SPEECH YET" From the Democratic Side—That's What Lewiston Editor Says of Moran's

The Lewiston Sun (Ind-Dem.) not only gave first page prominence to Congressman-elect Moran's recent address in New York but devoted half a column of its editorial department to comment on the same. The editorials follow:

Good Democratic speech, Mr. Moran.

Keep right on insisting on tariff revision. Insist on prompt tariff revision. Not to wait for that millennial scheme of negotiations with separate governments.

And by the way, Mr. Moran, why couldn't you slip up to Albany and enlighten the President-elect a little? Show him how the tariff is supposed to favor, that domestic millennial quick medicine that Governor Roosevelt is supposed to be poisoned with, is but another protection-tariff-robbing machine. A scheme to help the farmer get rich by taking it out of us in the cost of our bread and butter.

It ought to be possible, Mr. Moran, to show the President-elect that when he goes into that fooling to try to collect at home a tax on the public on its bread, that shall provide that help and protection that couldn't be provided by the tariff tax—you ought to be able, Mr. Moran, to show the President-elect that he is making himself a bigger fool than President Hoover did, in going into that new absurd scheme so contradictory to Democratic principles. Somehow compelling the rest of us to pay out of our own earnings enough to make a few of us comfortably well off.

Now then, Mr. Moran, if you could make Governor Roosevelt see that all the time he spends fooling with trying to help the farmer is worse than wasted.

Get him all stirred up on his opportunity and duty to strike right out for tariff revision. And you might find it within your line of approval to say the first move should be to put the Underwood tariff in place of the Hawley-Smoot tariff. For a start.

Our Representative-elect has made a speech that is far ahead of any speeches credited to any of the Democratic leaders. It is more soundly Democratic, it is nearer true to the situation.

Where one would have to disagree with Mr. Moran is in claiming that the people have learned to think clearly. If they had learned to think clearly, if they are thinking clearly, how is it possible for them to sit back and merely think and leave those men at Washington, and the newly-elected leaders, to occupy themselves with the old folly, the old Hoover folly, the old quack medicine?

It is something for the Second Maine District to be proud of that her Representative-elect makes the best speech yet from the victorious Democratic side.

UNION BUSINESS MEN Officers Chosen At Annual Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce

The Union Chamber of Commerce at its recent annual meeting chose these officers:

President—J. C. Creighton.
Vice President—W. J. Robbins.
Secretary—Clarence Leonard.
Treasurer—John Williams.
Trustees—Frank W. Gordon, Dr. H. H. Plumer, Carl Mitchell, H. L. Grinnell and B. H. Nichols.

The Chamber makes no claim of startling achievements the past year, but has always been on the job, and ready to take advantage of any movement that might help the town.

The new road markers, recently received will be placed at the various town entrances.

The meeting adjourned in order that the members might attend the meeting at Appleton held in the interests of the proposed Georges Valley Pike.

The Lime City aggregation was put through its first scrimmage this week and those who loomed brightest were Nick Pellicane, Doc Frohock and Vic Armata, forwards; Freeman, center; Thomas, Pietroski, Paladino and Shepherd, guards. Others who reported for practice with the first squad, were Yeager, Carroll, Karl, Dick Thomas, Newman, Philbrook, Bickmore, Sumner and Ellis.

AN ESSAY CONTEST Poultryman Who Writes Best On "What Our Hens Have Bought" Gets Prize

Austin Stearns, president of the Maine Farm Bureau Federation, has announced the judges for the state wide essay contest among poultrymen on the subject "What Our Hens Have Bought."

Since poultry has been found by economists to be the most profitable single farm enterprise in Maine during the last ten years the idea of the contest is to stimulate interest on the part of those who could well afford to increase the size of their flock, or to add poultry as an additional feature on their farm.

Prizes offered by the Maine Farm Bureau Federation are as follows: First, $15; second, $7; third, $5; the next ten highest $2 each. Jan. 1 is the date set when all essays must be mailed to the county farm bureau office in the county where the writer resides.

THE HOOP CIRCUIT Gossip About the Knox & Lincoln League Which Is Soon To Start

The Knox and Lincoln Inter-scholastic Basketball League will get underway Jan. 6, when Rockland will meet Rockport here and Thomaston will entertain Camden. The circuit will be composed of the same teams that participated last year, with Rockland, Rockport, Camden and Thomaston from Knox County while Lincoln County entrants.

All of the schools have had their candidates working hard for the past two weeks and the Rockport club has already played one game with Castine Normal School, losing in a free scoring tilt by a 50 to 38 score.

Although Rockport is the only team that has been in action to date, the fight for the pennant should be very hotly contested between Rockland, Lincoln Academy and Rockport, while Thomaston and Camden appear to have the less powerful outfits. However, upsets are bound to occur, and the latter two clubs might upset the slope bucket and cause disaster to the leading contenders.

With the exception of Lincoln Academy and Rockport all of the other schools were struck a mean blow by graduation but the Lime City has some good reserve strength left from last year while Camden, which lost the entire first team of last year, will greatly miss the services of the boys who carried off second place in the league last season. Rockland will likewise miss the presence of Planagan, McAlary, La Crosse and Knowlton, all regulars on the 1931-32 quintet which was a participant at the Bates Tournament last year. Morgan, Feyer, Johnson and Day will be lost to Thomaston, and Coach John Creighton will have a very difficult task in finding men to replace them.

Coach Robert C. Clunie of Lincoln Academy was greeted with four regulars from last year's teams, which finished in third place, when the initial call for candidates was sounded. Turkey, center; Reed and Erskine, forwards; and Fuller, guard, will be on hand to help solve Coach Clunie's trouble in moulding together a championship quintet. All of the boys who are sophomores, have had a year's experience and the Lincoln club is very optimistic in its championship view.

Another school that is bound to give all of the others a great deal of difficulty this season is Rockport, which for the past several years has been exceedingly weak. The Perkins coached club, which up until last year has never been dangerous, is rapidly developing into a team of real championship caliber and it would be no surprise at all if the scrappy outfit from Goose River finished in the sunbather position. Arey, Rockport center last year is the only man that has been lost by graduation, but his position is more than capably filled by Pee-wee Collamore who returned to school this season after being out for the past two seasons.

When the Rockland team takes the floor at the sound of the opening whistle it will be minus the services of a representative of the famous Planagan family which for the past dozen years has always had at least one member playing for the Orange and Black. Arty, who is the last of the boys was graduated last June and his absence will be greatly felt by the new mentor John R. Durrell. However, Freeman and Lee Thomas, both lettermen last season will be back and will form the nucleus from which Coach Durrell will build his team.

A brief report related in matter of fact words how the United States Coast Guard had saved or rescued from peril 5,214 persons during the year ended June 30.

Tersely, with few lines of praise for the personnel, Rear Admiral H. G. Hamlet gave statistics recounting the activities of his men from braving the freezing gales of Alaska and the ice-berg infested North Atlantic to more placid duties in regulating national and international yacht races.

To the men who faced the hardships to aid suffering persons, the Coast Guard Commandant said he was pleased to express his "warmest appreciation and acknowledgment of their faithful labors and devotion to service."

STRAND THEATRE

"Pack Up Your Troubles," the latest Laurel and Hardy feature-length comedy, which comes Friday and Saturday, marks the second full-length attraction starring the popular laugh team. More than a year ago they were starred in "Paradise Us." Since that time they have been diligently searching for a new idea for their second feature. How well they have succeeded in bringing to the screen one of the most humorous offerings of the season will be revealed when "Pack Up Your Troubles" is shown at Strand Theatre.

A flash of the humor of the World War is said to furnish one of the many hilarious moments in the comedy. The team, as a couple of misfit doughboys, wander aimlessly through fire and shell and come back with many prize packages of humor.—adv.

PARK THEATRE

A romantic "Western" team is reunited to play in "Wild Horse Mesa," another Zane Grey story, coming Friday and Saturday.

The team is made up of husky, six-foot Randolph Scott, former Georgia Tech football star, and Sally Blane, petite dark-haired beauty, sister of Loretta Young and Polly Ann Young, who have also won movie fame. Scott and Miss Blane won such popularity in "Heritage of the Desert" that they were immediately cast together again for "Wild Horse Mesa."

Fred Kohler, Lucille La Verne, Charley Grapewin and Jim Thorpe play other leading roles in the picture.—adv.

A PEACEFUL SLEEP

Thus Is Described the Anesthetic Recently Used On Henry Ford

The operation recently performed in Detroit on Henry Ford was so successful, considering Mr. Ford's age, that much interest has been expressed in the new anesthetic which the dispatches say was used in the operation by Mr. Ford's surgeons.

Dr. F. J. Stockman of New York City, who is especially familiar with this new type anesthetic, writes concerning its composition and effectiveness, thus:

"The new anesthetic which was used for the operation on Henry Ford is a relatively simple chemical—Brominated alcohol—which is known as avertin. It dissolves in water and has the characteristic of being rapidly absorbed, and hence can be given as an enema. Before its use in surgery, avertin was tested carefully on a variety of different animals commonly used in scientific laboratories. After several years of studying its effects, it was applied to human beings. The results have been so satisfactory that hundreds of thousands of anesthetics have already been produced with this rather remarkable substance. With avertin, the surgeon is able to eliminate the patient's fear and apprehension from practically every operation.

"It is even unnecessary for the patient to know that an anesthetic is being administered and this advantage has been particularly utilized in the management of highly nervous and excitable individuals. Within a few minutes after the enema, which may be given in the patient's own room, a quiet and peaceful sleep sets in smoothly, without any gagging, coughing, retching or other disagreeable sensations which often make anesthesia a nightmare to those who have passed through the experience of an operation. From then on, the patient's consciousness is suspended, and he has no memory for the harrowing details connected with the operation. The results have been so satisfactory that hundreds of thousands of anesthetics have already been produced with this rather remarkable substance. With avertin, the surgeon is able to eliminate the patient's fear and apprehension from practically every operation.

YACHTSMEN PLAN

For An International Eight-Meter Race Off Marblehead This Summer

After a two-year interval of international doldrums, existing since the last America's cup races, a high tide comes sweeping into the affairs of yachting this coming season with the announcement of Commodore William T. Aldrich, of the Eastern Yacht Club, that invitations were sent to more than a score of countries to compete in an international eight-meter series off Marblehead, beginning July 24, 1933.

Invitations will also go to the yacht clubs in the United States which include eight-meter class boats in their fleets. The international eight-meter series represents the largest day sailboat now owned on this side, active and ready to race.

The objective stated by Commodore Aldrich was to promote closer international yachting relations as well as a good time for Corinthians from the racing parts of the world.

Direct invitations were sent to the leading yacht clubs of England, Ireland, Scotland, Germany, France, Norway, Holland, Belgium, Italy, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Spain, Canada, New Zealand, Australia, Switzerland, Cuba, Bermuda and Argentina. Recognized yacht clubs in other countries will be eligible to enter.

With an eye to the times and the cutting down of expenses, conditions have been made liberal. The yachts need not be built in the country they represent, provided they are manned by citizens of that nation. Foreign yachtsmen thus have the right to purchase or charter a boat on this side and save overseas transportation.

Three weeks of racing are on the program, starting July 24 and going through Aug. 12, including the Eastern Yacht Club ladies plate, the Eastern challenge cup and Marblehead Race week.

The Eastern Challenge cup, a beautiful new trophy, designed and donated by Commodore Aldrich, represents the most important prize. The Eastern challenge cup series, which gets underway July 31 and finished Aug. 4, will be sailed by one yacht nominated from each country represented, the winner decided on the point system.

This series will undoubtedly carry the greatest international racing smack since the gold cup six-metre class race of 1925 when eight nations competed on Long Island Sound.

GEORGES VALLEY PIKE

Advocates of Improved Highway Are Working With Energy and System

Petitions containing the names of all Waldo and Knox County officials, city officials of Belfast and Rockland, and several hundred residents of Appleton, Union, Searsport and Belmont, seeking construction of the Georges Valley Pike, a proposed state highway connecting Route 101 at Union with Route 102 at Belmont, have been returned to the general committee in charge of the project, which meets this week to complete arrangements for final arguments before the Highway Commission at Augusta.

Largely attended meetings of citizens supporting the proposal have been held in recent weeks, and the sentiment has been unanimous that construction of the highway is a much needed public improvement.

Stress has been laid upon the fact that several miles of this stretch of about 15 miles is impassable a considerable portion of each year, making it impossible to get to market to sell produce or purchase supplies to obtain the services of a physician in case of sickness, or aid from nearby towns or cities in case of fire, and these points are to be strongly argued before the state commission.

SEARSMONT

The Ladies' Aid will hold a special meeting this week to make plans and choose committees to conduct sewing for children in needy families, something that has never been called for before in this town. Everyone is invited to attend and it's hoped all who can will help.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Salisbury have returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. William H. Butler, South Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller were weekend guests in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Buck and daughter Janet, recently visited his parents in Bangor.

Cyrus Young of Belfast and daughters Misses Laura and Jessie Young of Lincolnville were guests last Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Mariner.

People in this vicinity awoke on the morning of Dec. 12 to find the ground white with snow and still snowing, with the wind Northeast. It was the second small snow storm here.

The Farm Bureau meets at Victor Grange hall for the planning meeting Friday. Dinner will be served at noon.

Mrs. Lucy A. Bean observed her 92nd birthday anniversary Dec. 10. She has now exceeded the record of her own family for longevity as they averaged about 90 years. Her mother lived to be 91 years and 8 months; her father was Nathan Lamb of Lincolnville. Mrs. Bean has been very active all her life and looks much younger than her age. Just to pass away the time she has been crocheting baby's booties and has two dozen already made, which is remarkably fine work. She can see to read very well without glasses, has a good memory, and is always one of the happy kind and ready to jolly with friends that greet her. Her birthday was very pleasantly passed with callers, congratulations, cards and gifts. The occasion was graced by a birthday cake with four candles, and when lighted she was asked to blow them out, which she did, then with a smile remarked, "now, I may get married yet."

SOUTH HOPE

Mrs. Chloe Mills has returned from Union where she has been two weeks caring for Mrs. Roy Clarke and infant son.

Mrs. Ascha Jacobs is with Miss Hattie Boggs for an indefinite time.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holmes of Franklin, Me., were recently guests at C. B. Taylor's.

Mrs. Nina Burgess and Mrs. Frances Norton of South Thomaston were calling on relatives in this place last week.

Mrs. David Esnacy of Appleton and Mrs. L. E. Davis of East Union were guests of Mrs. A. L. Esnacy Tuesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Esnacy and the Misses Nelson of South China were calling on relatives here recently.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Taylor and Mrs. W. C. Wellman were in Augusta last week and attended the State Grange.

Miss Cummings of Union was an overnight guest of Miss Annie Hart last Thursday.

Mrs. Annie Clark of West Rockport visited her sister Mrs. Kate Taylor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Taylor and Mrs. A. L. Esnacy attended Limerock Valley Pomona at Glen Cove Saturday evening.

ORFF'S CORNER

Mr. and Mrs. George Young and children of Rockland were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Elwell.

Plans are being made for a Christmas tree at the church Dec. 23. Also a pageant to be given on Christmas morning.

Kenneth Elwell visited his brother Percy Elwell in Unity Saturday.

A ladies' aid in connection with the church was organized at the Community House Dec. 6 with seven members. There are others to join and it is hoped that all the women in the community interested in the work of the church will join and assist.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hutchins of Jefferson are visiting their son Myron Hutchins and family.

The Girls' 4-H Club met at the home of the leader Mrs. Amber Childs recently and reorganized for this year, with these officers: Madelyn Kennedy, president; Barbara Tisdale, vice president; Mildred Elwell, secretary; Esther Light, treasurer; Lucille Elwell, color bearer; Mildred Elwell, cheer leader. A bread demonstration was also given at this meeting.

Elevator Key Machine in Modern Skyscraper

Every discussion of the skyscraper comes back at intervals to the elevator, for it is the key machine in the vast composite mechanism of the modern office building.

Indeed, Elisha G. Otis' invention of the elevator in 1852 may be considered a more fundamental step in the creation of the skyscraper than was the first use of structural steel in 1885, for W. L. B. Jenney's design of the Home Insurance company's building of that year, in Chicago, ten stories high—the first steel-framed skyscraper—would surely never have been realized without elevators.

Otis' contribution was not a mechanical means of going up and coming down. That had long existed. Doubtless the Greeks used a hoist in building the Parthenon. What Otis invented was a safety device, a simple arrangement of springs which, when the rope broke would grip the rails of the shaft and hold the hoist securely in position. It was the hoist plus the safety device that made an "elevator." And when the skyscraper arrived it may be said to have arrived via the elevator—World's Work.

Biblical Passage That Has Puzzled Scholars

Gog and Magog (pronounced "maygog") are used rather obscurely in the Scriptures. In I Chronicles 5:4 Gog is mentioned as the son of Shemlah in the line of Reuben, and in Genesis 10:2 Magog is referred to as the son of Japheth and a brother of Meshech and Tubal; but in Ezekiel 38 and 39 Gog appears as the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal, which is also called the land of Magog. The prophet foretold that Gog of the land of Magog would be defeated and five-sixths of his army destroyed when he came "up from the north parts" and invaded "the mountains of Israel." Here it is clear that Gog and Magog are the names respectively of a king and his supposed kingdom, but the passages contain only vague and uncertain indications as to the identity of the ruler and the location of his realm.

In Revelation 20:8 Gog and Magog are linked together as if they were both persons and they seem to symbolize all future enemies of the kingdom of God, particularly the hostile powers which are to manifest themselves in the world immediately before the end of things.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Meaning of "Hawaii"

Abraham Fornander writes: "The word 'Hawaii' is manifestly a compound word. Hava plus i or il. Whether the 'il' or 'i' is accepted as meaning 'little', 'small', the apparent sense of the New Zealand, Rarotongan and South Marquesan form of the word, or North Marquesan form, and which has its analogy in the Tahitian and Hawaiian, it is evidently an epithet, a distinguishing mark of that particular Hava from any other. Hava is the Polynesian name of an ancient place of residence.—Washington Star.

Oysters Cure Anemia

Oysters have been shown by Levine, Remington and Culp, scientific investigators, to be capable of curing the nutritional anemia of milk-fed rats. The presence of copper in the oyster is not new knowledge. The studies indicate that the inorganic elements present in the oyster are responsible for its hemoglobin regenerating capacity and that the anti-anemic potency of the oyster can be accounted for on the basis of its content of the three elements, iron, copper and manganese.

Honors War Correspondents

The War Correspondents' arch was erected by Mr. George Alfred Townsend on his mountain estate, Gapland, Md., in 1894. The inscription reads: "To the Army Correspondents and Artists, 1891-95, whose tolls cheered the camps, thrilled the firelines, educated the provinces of rustics into a bright Nation of readers, and gave incentive to narrate distant wars and explore dark lands. Erected by subscription 1904."

Playing Card Portraits

As you play bridge or whist, do you ever wonder whether the kings and queens which prove so useful to your hand have had any existence outside the pack? It has recently been revealed that two of the honors card at any rate, are portraits. According to tradition the king of hearts is a portrait of King Henry VIII in his robes of state, and the queen of hearts of Elizabeth of York, the queen of Henry VII.

Separation of Carolinas

Carolina was granted to the Lords Proprietors in 1663. In 1710 it was decided to separate the province into North and South Carolina and to appoint a governor of North Carolina independent of the governor of South Carolina, but the plan was not carried out until 1712. The commission of Edward Hyde as governor of North Carolina independent of the governor of South Carolina was issued January 24, 1712.

"Well, Dick, my boy," said his uncle, "my congratulations! I hear you're engaged to one of the pretty Robbins twins."

"Rather!" replied Dick, heartily. "But," said his uncle, "how on earth do you manage to tell them apart?"

"Oh," said the young man, "I don't try!"—Lindsay Post.

Burkettville held a successful planning meeting Dec. 8 with 17 women present at the home of Mrs. Mattie Light. Film strip pictures on liveable living rooms were shown by the home demonstration agent. A real chicken dinner with all the fixings was served under the direction of Mrs. Nettie Grinnell, food project leader.

The calendar of work for 1933 was planned, and these project leaders elected: Chairman, Mrs. Florence Calderwood; secretary, Mrs. Ruby Hannon; clothing, Mrs. Lella Turner; foods, Mrs. Mattie Light; home management, Mrs. Carolyn Leigh; librarians, Mrs. Ella Grinnell; annual meeting chairman, Mrs. Ella Grinnell and planning meeting entertainment, Mrs. Lella Turner; Red Cross, Mrs. Nettie Grinnell.

Mrs. Nettie Grinnell, food leader of the Burkettville Farm Bureau made this report concerning the work in that project during the past year: "The first meeting which was held was 'Breakfast Suggestions' with an attendance of 10. As it was difficult for many of us housewives to prepare appetizing and substantial breakfast dishes the recipes and facts learned on this subject were very acceptable as is proven by the number of recipes used, which was 60.

"The second meeting was 'Vegetables for Health.' This was a joint meeting of the men and women and there were 14 in attendance. In the forenoon the county agent gave an instructive talk concerning vegetable gardens and formulas that might be used in destroying troublesome insects. In the afternoon Miss Lawrence, our home demonstration agent, in her usual pleasing manner, talked to the women about different vegetables and the many uses found in each, also gave demonstrations of two vegetable dishes. Although there have been only 14 recipes used I do not think that this means that there has not been stamped in our minds facts concerning the necessity of vegetables as a food in our daily diet, for surely we know that from vegetables we get many of our needed vitamins and most surely we try hard to can and store all we can so we may have them to eat all times of the year.

"The third meeting which was held was 'Molasses Cookery' with 14 in attendance. The recipes given at this meeting were both helpful and useful for we have learned that molasses furnishes much iron for our bodies, therefore we need molasses foods. The recipes have been used 18 times. "We had two child feeding meetings with an attendance of 13 and 9, respectively. Miss Therese Wood, food specialist gave interesting talks and demonstrations concerning foods suitable for children. There have been three recipes used.

"Our final meeting was 'Cold Dishes for Hot Days.' There were 15 present. This subject was considered worth while, and the recipes were acceptable. They have been used 1 times.

"Although the other Farm Bureau projects are essential I think that foods project most important for it is that that pertains more to our health and it is the vigor and ambition of good health that makes us feel like doing our household activities and doing them well."

The 4-H Clubs

The junior girls of Union organized a 4-H Club at Mrs. Bertha Meserve's home Dec. 8. The 14 girls in the club selected the name "Ambitious Maids 4-H Club," with Mrs. Bertha Meserve as local leader. They are taking the cooking, housekeeping and sewing projects. The president is Madeleine Gordon; vice president, Helen Sullivan; secretary, Pauline Young; treasurer, Ruth Howe; color bearer, Wilma Hannon; cheer leader, Catherine Chandler; and club reporter, Eleanor Gleason. The program of work has already been received in the office.

State Seed Show

The Maine Boys' and Girls' 4-H Clubs had a large display at the annual exhibition of the Maine Agricultural Societies and the Maine State Flower Show in the Armory at Lewiston, Nov. 15, 16 and 17.

The whole stage was devoted to the display of 4-H exhibits and the 500 jars of canned foods arranged on especially constructed steps, made a beautiful background for the exhibits of beans, corn and potatoes. There were also 20 quilts suspended from the racks at the corners of the stage. Prizes to the amount of $270 were awarded by the three Agricultural Societies. The winners in each of the exhibits from Knox and Lincoln Counties were: First prize in beans, Edward Palmer of Aina; fourth prize in beans, Clifton Meserve of Union; second prize in canning, Falena Hill of North Whitefield; third prize in canning, Annie Rhodes of Union; sweet corn, fourth prize, Robert Faris of Union; quilts, second prize, Louise Nash of Camden.

Radio Programs

A radio talk from the Extension Service will be broadcast every Thursday from WLBZ, at 12 noon, WGBH at 12:15 noon and WAGM, at 11:45 a. m. The schedule for December is: Dec. 15, President Harold S. Boardman; Dec. 22, R. S. Adams from the Bangor Theological Seminary; Dec. 29, Loana M. Spearin, Assistant State Club Leader.

County champions in Knox and Lincoln Counties who are eligible to attend the 19th annual State Contest at the University of Maine, Orono, Dec. 29, 30, 31, and are entertained free while at the University, are: Bean, Clifton Meserve, Union; Canning, Annie M. Rhodes, Union; Cooking and Housekeeping, Charlotte Walz, Union; Sweet Corn, Robert Faris, Union; Dairy, Edwin C. Annis, Simonton; Garden, Raymond Rhodes, Union; Pig, Charles N. Light, Orff's Corner; Potato, Fred C. Hall, West Dresden; Poultry Management, Clifton Meserve, Union; Room Improvement, Edith Nash, Camden; sewing, Charlotte Bragdon, Lamoine.

ELECTRICITY ON FARMS

About 1,000,000 farms now have electricity, either through power companies or individual plants, says the United States Department of Agriculture. This is 10 per cent of all farms in the country and nearly four times that number having electricity in 1923. Since that year the number has steadily increased. About 300,000 farms have independent or unit farm-lighting plants. The others get current from power lines.

"Where did the car hit him?" asked the coroner, looking at the coroner. "At the junction of the dorsal and cervical vertebrae," replied the medical witness.

The burly foreman rose from his seat. "Man and boy I've lived in these parts for fifty years," he protested ponderously, "and I have never heard of the place."—Washington Labor.

Neuritis Pain Left In Jiffy

Don't expect neuritis or rheumatic pains to give you notice of their coming, or to get rid of them by using ordinary medicines. Hundreds of folks hereabouts, especially the older folks, will tell you that when your limbs or joints begin to ache and to do so apply Johnson's Anodyne Liniment as often as possible. Rub on gently, or saturate an old cloth and bind lightly. You'll soon have grateful warmth and comfort.

A liberal bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment costs only 35¢ at drug and grocery stores, or you can get three times as much for only 60¢. Both will kill your pain just as they have done for thousands since 1810. When a wise old doctor wrote his prescription for Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.
