WHEN THE REVIVAL STARTED

"A Young Man Who Was a Stranger" Struck the Match
That Brought the Conflagration

Out of numerous interesting papers found among the effects of the late Emma (Burpee) Wight, whose death took place last September, the following is with permission given the publicity of print. Readers who recall Mrs. Wight's remarkable story of the Fourth Maine Regiment, which appeared in this paper some little time preceding her death, will find recalled in this brief sketch an occasion in the life of our city which must have been fraught with great significance to the people of that far-off period. Mrs. Wight wrote:

Near the close of the year 1858 everyone in our city seemed to be suffering from depression.

I recall attending a prayer meeting held in what was called "The Old Bank Building." This was a building which I think is still standing at the corner of Main and Summer streets, close by the First Baptist Church. At that time the interior of it was dark and forbidding, the windows being small and deep set. Larger windows were put in later, so the rooms are not now so dark as then.

Mr. Paine kept school there in the day-time, but the seats and desks even then were old and worn and the room very gloomy and unattractive. It was used one evening a week for the regular prayer meeting of the First Baptist Church, but these meetings were very poorly attended. On this particular evening which I record there were present the minister, two deacons, three other men of middle age, a young man who was a Stranger to us, and two women, besides myself. It was a sober crowd that night, as they informally discussed the lack of religious interest throughout the city, and the fact that all the other churches were affected the same as the Baptist Church was by lack of interest and sense of personal responsibility among the members.

The minister confessed that he had built the fires and rung the bell for services, as there seemed no one else to do it. He had done everything he could to interest his people, but felt that he had failed and feared he must give it up. Indeed, he was considering the offer of his resignation at the next service, hoping that a change of pastors might open the way to renewed interest in the church's affairs and services.

At this point the young stranger arose and told us of his interest in religion, and that he had hoped to obtain help and inspiration by coming in to one of these prayer meetings. He wished to learn more about the religious life and felt the need of advice and encouragement.

In a few moments all was changed. The conversation became general, another meeting was appointed and each person present felt that it would be a privilege to induce others to attend.

Frequent meetings followed until they were held daily and interest became intense. Even the public schools were closed early to enable the students to attend the afternoon meetings, and sixty-three of these students, besides a large number of adults joined the various churches of the city. The interest became widespread, extending to adjoining towns. Thus the great religious revival of 1859, for Rockland and its vicinity, started from the old, dull prayer meetings held in the Old Bank Building.

Surely the darkest hour in that church's history was just before the dawn. Emma E. Wight

The building above alluded to as the setting of the story was of granite, constructed for the Shipbuilder's Bank and on the demise of that institution passing into various uses, including the housing at one time of the city's first steam fire engine. Some time in the early '70s it was bought by the late Henry Ingraham, who took it down and erected in its place the present wooden building, now owned by the First Baptist Church, which it adjoins. It is historically recorded that the period with which Mrs. Wight's memoranda deals was one of the severest known to the country, the depression of 1859, it is said, far exceeding in severity that which is now being experienced. Religion in common with everything else had apparently reached its lowest ebb.

"At this point," records the writer, "the Young Stranger arose." What could be more dramatic?

Mr. Bond is a native of Jefferson, has been Sheriff of Lincoln County, has served three terms as State senator, has been a member of the Republican State Committee, and boldly champions the G.O.P. cause, whether it is flourishing or adversity. On Belief Schools Might Stop—Mayor Richardson Says
No—Lively Discussion Last Night

The Parent-Teacher Association, with a membership of 700, and an attendance at its meetings rarely exceeding ten percent of that number, awoke last night to find itself famous, for the High School auditorium was crowded to the doors and many were standing in the corridors.

The occasion of this abnormal attendance was the discussion which has lately arisen relative to the lack of funds with which to pay teachers after Jan. 1st, and the rumors to which this has given rise of the possible suspension of public school activities.

The meeting was a hectic one—use a sadly overworked phrase—and was productive of only one definite assurance, and this was from Mayor Richardson, to the effect that the schools will not be closed. Ways and means for this course, and the payment of teachers' salaries are expected to be worked out this afternoon at a conference between the city's finance committee and the banking institutions.

Last night's epochal session was presided over by the president of the Parent-Teacher Association, Joseph Blaisdell, the High School's highly efficient principal. Miss Anna Coughlin was selected to take charge of the discussion period, a highly popular choice as the applause indicated.

Supt. E. L. Toner said that he felt justified in giving out information as he had following an informal talk with Mayor Richardson, whom he quoted as saying that it looked doubtful if the city would be able to meet further payrolls after Jan. 1st. Mr. Toner said that he felt obliged to caution the teachers to that effect, as it might alter their vacation plans. He found a nice spirit of co-operation on the part of the teachers, who are, however, not used to doing business on credit. The mayor had told him, the speaker said, that his statement was not an official one, and had contained no intimation as to the danger of the schools being closed.

Discussing departmental finances Supt. Toner told of cuts experienced by the schools while other departments were being provided with increased budget allowances. He said that a further cut of $10,000 next year had been intimated, on top of the $13,000 reduction already experienced. Judge L. R. Campbell, with unexpected vigor for his 80 years, eloquently championed three causes, the Home, the Church, and the School, and vigorously opposed any blow aimed at the educational institutions.

Mayor Richardson said that the large crowd present was due to the unwarranted propaganda which had been spread. He declared that his conversation with Supt. Toner had been a private one, and that he had told that official that it was hard to make both ends meet. Mr. Toner had asked that the salaries be paid in advance of the Christmas vacation, and had been informed that the money would not be forthcoming until Jan. 1st.

"They will get their money then," said the Mayor, "and the schools will not be closed."

Mayor Richardson pleaded earnestly in behalf of a distressed administration. He said that it had been necessary to increase the municipal budget $25,000 to take care of temporary loans, and told how expenses had increased in some of the departments. You cannot sacrifice your police force or fire department, he said.

"We are in a critical position," he declared, "with unpaid taxes amounting to $200,000, and one of the largest taxpaying concerns owing us $50,000. I don't think, however, that there is any danger of the schools not carrying on."

Judge Campbell made a reappearance to express the opinion that the police department was one which might be pruned. He got a big hand when he said that he had paid taxes 60 years, and believed the screws should be applied to those who can afford to pay and do not.

Mayor Richardson said he did not believe the present administration was to blame for present ills, if ills they are.

ference and declared that he was not worrying about this phase.

Remarks were also made by Albert C. Jones and Henry B. Bird, and the latter's suggestion that a committee of three be appointed to represent the schools in protecting their interests, brought the discussion to a head. Miss Coughlin will name this committee.

A splendid plea in behalf of the schools was made in the address of Charles E. Lord, superintendent of the Camden and Thomaston departments.

A system has been built up which should not be disturbed, he said, adding that this is the first financial depression which has been a drawback to education. He deprecated "the stupidity of reducing the purchasing power of the consumer," and declared that big business men have been too busy looking out for their dividends to see that the boys and girls are properly safeguarded.

Stating that High School attendance has increased 40 percent in the last 20 years he defied anybody to show where costs can be reduced. Russia is spending more money on its schools in this crisis, yet in Alabama schools are closing right and left, and 10 other States are about as badly off.

Referring to the branches of school curriculum which have lately been eliminated, Supt. Lord expressed the opinion that it would have been more proper to cut out Latin, Greek and higher mathematics, which are for the benefit of comparatively few of the students. But to this proposition Mr. Lord added his emphatic belief that nothing should have been cut out. In closing he said:

"Public opinion is not enlightened, and the schools are on the defensive. Revision of an antiquated tax system is what is needed. Tax wealth where it is."

ICE SKATERS BUSY

Rink At Community Park Is
Again the Scene of Healthy
Outdoor Sport

The skating rink at Community Park is again ready for use. The surface is excellent and many skaters took advantage of the rink Saturday and Sunday.

It is financed each year at a considerable loss. This year each of the High School classes voted to contribute $25 to its operation. The sale of season tickets has been discouragingly small. The cost of the rink is about $400 each year. It is hoped that the venture will finally become self supporting.

A great deal of lumber was stolen from the field this year. The purchase of new lumber to replace this material has made a large item of expense. It should be clearly understood by every one that this rink is maintained at no expense to the taxpayers of the city.

Walter Spear is in charge, assisted by Fred Harden Jr., who will dispense refreshments in the building. The future of the project depends entirely on the support of the general public. The place affords safe, clean and healthful amusement to old and young. If you want to keep it open, you want to keep it open by the purchase of a season ticket.

LANDING OF THE PILGRIM FATHERS

Plymouth Rock, Dec. 21, 1630
The breaking waves dashed high
On a stern and rock-bound coast.
And the woods against a stormy sky
Their giant branches tossed;
And the heavy night hung dark
The hills and waters o'er,
When a band of exiles moored their bark
On the wild New England shore.

Not as the conqueror comes,
They, the true-hearted, came;
They shook the roll of the stirring drums,
And the trumpet that sings of fame;

Not as the flying come,
In silence and in fear;
They shook the depths of the desert gloom
With their hymns of lofty cheer.

Amidst the storm they sang,
And the stars heard, and the sea,
And the sounding aisles of the dim woods rang
To the anthem of the free.

The ocean eagle soared
From his nest by the white wave's foam;
And the rocking pines of the forest roared;
This was their welcome home.

There were men with hoary hair
Amid that pilgrim band;
Why had they come to wither there,
Away from their childhood's land?

There was woman's fearless eye,
Lit by her deep love's truth;
There was manhood's brow, serenely high,
And the fiery heart of youth.

What sought they thus afar?
Bright jewels of the mine,
The wealth of seas, the spoils of war?
They sought a faith's pure shrine.

Ay, call it holy ground,
The spot where first they trod;
They have left unstained what there they found—
Freedom to worship God.

IS THERE A SANTA CLAUS?

At this season there comes to the desk many requests for the editorial printed by the New York Sun several years ago, "Is There a Santa Claus?" and it is in response to such requests now again received that the article is here reprinted. No utterance of a newspaper editor has received such widespread publicity as has been visited upon this article which in the day's work was hastily thrown off by a member of the Sun's staff, Francis P. Church. Papers and magazines throughout the world reprinted it at the time, and have continued to reprint it annually as the season returns. Because it answers to the heart of man with respect to the thing which has come to be associated with the world's great anniversary, its reading yields to men and women everywhere a comfort and satisfaction difficult to express in mere words. Here follows the article:

We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among the friends of The Sun:

Dear Editor: I am 8 years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, "If you see it in the Sun it's so." Please tell me the truth: is there a Santa Claus?

Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus. It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no child-like faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would it prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can ever see or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You may hear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else so real as abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God! he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

The Thrift Shop will not have on display for distribution new clothing, as was done a year ago, on account of the fact that all the local relief organizations and church women have been sewing on the material furnished free by the Red Cross, which has to be handled through that organization alone, as the local chapter is responsible to the United States Government for the made-up garments. Mrs. John H. Flanagan has charge of the Red Cross material and ready-made clothing, and has already given out some. She hopes to have it assembled all in one place and from there will make the necessary distribution. An accurate record has to be kept of the number and kind of garments made up and to whom given. The Shop, however, has given away many garments made by Rockland women and also several quilts, and more await worthy persons.

The Girls' and Boys' Club of Tillson avenue met Saturday afternoon and elected Hector McDonald, president; Doris Blood, vice president; and Charles M. Cook chairman. The Marcus dinner Monday was enjoyed by 38 children, the blessing was invoked by Rev. George Welch of the Universalist Church. The dinner consisted of fricasseed lamb, mashed potato, peas, onions, bread and butter, coffee rolls, milk and apples. Wednesday the dinner will be given by Mrs. Fred R. Spear. The boys and girls wish to thank Elmer Crook and Mrs. E. K. Glover, Miss Margaret Nutt and Mrs. Blanche Calderwood for useful gifts.

WEATHER

There were storms to the south, but may of came this way to mar weekend plans. The extreme cold of Saturday morning quickly moderated and the mercury has for the time at least, stopped flirting with zero. Yesterday was 25, at noon; 18 this morning at 8 o'clock, and another fair sunny day. Christmas shoppers are having their pleasant tasks made easy by such days as these. The morning bulletin gives partly cloudy today, slightly warmer, moderate wind.

Frank A. Tirrell went to Portland yesterday on U. S. Court business.

The William Underwood Co. is planning to start its clam packing department at Jonesport.

Slippery going made Sunday pleasure riding a bit risky. The roads were practically bare as far as Lincolntonville Beach.

The dances which are being held in the Cushing Grange hall each Tuesday night, draw many Rockland devotees of Terpsichore. The attendance will now be augmented by young folks home for the holidays.

A Friendship sloop, of the type originated by Wilbur Morse, has been selected as the medium of two adventurous Detroit youths, Francis Howard and Dale Land, who announce that early in May they plan to begin a voyage which will take them across the seven seas.

A well known citizen who divides his time between Rockland and a certain aristocratic summer resort experimented with a hair restorative the other day, but was dismayed to find that he had taken an overdose and that his graying locks had turned to a color resembling summer verdure.

Except for the New Years game in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, football fans have had their vaudeville for the present season. The West again outdid the East in Saturday's game at Berkeley, Calif., when University of California defeated Georgia Tech 27 to 6. This game was not broadcast, but the New Years game (Monday) probably will be.

The Hancock County Bar Association has voted to recommend to Legislature the discontinuance of the December term of court, on the ground that necessity does not require it and that economy would be served. Lincoln and Piscataquis Counties are the counties which now have two terms, but the matter has sometimes been discussed with reference to Knox County.

One of Raymond S. Bird's first acts upon returning from his South American trip was to visit C. H. Moor's drug store and assure the L. E. Club that he received the amateur wireless radio message sent to him at Panama by Kenneth V. White, and delivered aboard the S. S. Columbus. "You can never realize what a feeling I got out of it," said Ray. "It was like a letter from home."

Between four and five tons of squash will be turned over to the city matron for distribution within a day or two. They all came from Union, and will be placed in the empty store of the Masonic building, so, if there is lack of turkey at Christmas, there will be plenty of squash. As soon as it comes it will be distributed to the people calling for it. Mrs. Evelyn Hix sent a check for $25 for footwear for the kiddies. A Feel In The Christmas Air

The flutes and trumpets of Christmas are already making "music in the air." The High Festival of the year is on and we all, with Mr. Riley, acknowledge "a feel in the air." The spell of the merry-making time throws its charm over everything and everybody these days. As the sailors say when the ship's canvas takes the air, "everything draws."

*They's a kind o' feel in the air to me,
When the Christmas time sets in,
That's about as much of a mystery
As ever I've run agin'—
For instance, now, while I gain in weight
And general health, I swear
They's a goneness somers I can't quite state—
A kind o' feel in the air.*

*They's a feel in the Christmas air goes right
To the spot where a man lives at!
It gives a feller a appetite—
They ain't no doubt about that!
And yit they's somepin'—I don't know what—
That follows me, here and there,
And ho'ts and worries and spores me not—
A kind o' feel in the air.*

*They's a feel, as I say, in the air that's jest
As blame-done sad as sweet!
In the same ra'sho as I feel the best
And am spryest on my feet.
They's allus a kind o' sort of a ache
That I can't locate no-where;—
But it comes with Christmas, and no mistake!
A kind o' feel in the air.*

*Is it the racket the children raise
W'y no! God bless 'em! No!
Is it the eyes and the cheeks ablaze
Like my own wus, long ago?
Is it the bleat o' the whistle and beat
O' the little toy-drum and blare
O' the horn? No, no—it is jest the sweet,
The sad-sweet feel in the air.*

—James Whitcomb Riley.

FULLER-COBB-DAVIS

Claremont Commandery, K.T., will have its usual Christmas observance in the asylum Dec. 25 at 11:30 a. m.

The illuminated tree on the roof of the Crockett block with its varied colored lights, presents a brilliant appearance for long distances. It shows what Bert and the boys can do in a delightful way.

Six o'clock supper preceding the meeting of the Auxiliary of the Sons of Union Veterans tomorrow night will be in charge of Mrs. Emma Hall and Mrs. Stella McRae. There will be Christmas tree and entertainment at 7:30, and members are asked to attend in costume.

The girls' bowling team at the Recreation alleys is enjoying the sport very much—both on its trips away from home and as a hostess—and is seeking more worlds to conquer. The team challenges any girls' team in this vicinity, and if there are any ambitious lassies who wish to question their ability communicate with Mrs. Elizabeth R. Seavey.

Rockland High School Junior Varsity and second squad teams swing into action Wednesday night against Camden. These teams have the honor of opening the home court season—something new for the "scrubs." Among those to see action are: Second team—Carroll, Thomas, R. Crockett, Sumner, Philbrook, Dailey, Newman, Bickmore, Ellis; Junior Varsity—Raye, Hastings, Pellenc, Allen, Dondis, Lord, Goss, Heller, Leo and others.

Santa Claus made an early call at the Tivoli school recently and left a very nice U. S. flag for which the teachers, pupils and janitor are truly grateful. They wish to thank the unknown donor and would like to extend thanks in person. It is two bunting 4x6 and moth proof, and it came directly from the manufacturer. The old flag will continue to do service this winter, but when spring comes, watch out for the new one.

ACADIA NATIONAL PARK

Proposed Road Requires Removal of the Otter Cliffs Radio Station

The Interior Department supply bill introduced in the House carries $50,000 for the Acadia National Park, which is a decrease of $5,040 under the amount recommended by the budget and $9,400 under the amount available for the current year.

Part of the proposed road will run through the park and it is necessary to move the Otter Cliffs radio station out of the path of the road. The Interior Department bill of last year carried $250,000 for the moving, to be paid out of the roads and trails fund of the park service. The 10 per cent economy bill reduced this to $25,000 but it is thought the moving could be done for $200,000.

The Navy has consented to have the station moved to Schoodic Head. It was also revealed that 400 acres of land had been donated to the park in the last year.

The latest important development in amusement circles is found in the announcement that Frank B. Allen has leased "The Spanish Villa" on Tillson avenue for dancing and roller skating, the latter to be introduced the first week in January. Mr. Allen had 13 intensive years' experience with roller skating rinks and won an enviable reputation as manager.

The Farm Bureau articles published weekly in The Courier-Gazette attracted the attention of a former Rockland boy now living in New Jersey, and he has written County Agent Mr. R. C. Wentworth asking for booklets relating to the poultry industry, and details as to local conditions, with a view, he intimated, to possibly returning here and engaging in it.

Al. Briggs, who has a cosy establishment down alongside Ingraham Hill planted parsnips last spring and raised a nice crop. But he placed his reliance in that old superstition that their flavor improves if they are left in frozen ground. Yesterday he wanted some for the dinner table and fared forth to the garden with a pickaxe and crowbar to separate them from the soil. At last accounts he had a twisted crowbar, a broken back and was trying to borrow a charge of TNT.

The W.C.T.U. met with Mrs. Abbie Richardson, at her home on Spruce street, Friday afternoon. The program subject, "Cultivating the Christmas Spirit," was directed by Mrs. Hope Brewster, in the absence of Mrs. Hattie Lord, due to illness. Devotionals were led by Miss Mabel Seavey, using the Christmas script, a lesson, and singing, "Lead On O King Eternal," and "Give to the Winds My Fears." Those taking part were Mrs. Richardson, who told an interesting and appealing story.

Mrs. Nellie McKay also told a Christmas story. Mrs. Brawn read selections from the Christian Herald. Miss Alena Young read an article from the Congregationalist. Miss Hastings and Mrs. Evelyn Sherman also gave readings. A legislative committee was appointed—Mrs. Hope Brewster, Miss Alena Young, Mrs. Clara Emery, Miss Florence Hastings, Mrs. Nellie McKay; also a committee for a special program for National Prohibition Day, Jan. 16, consisting of Mrs. Nellie McKay, Mrs. Amelia Johnson, Miss Mabel Seavey, Mrs. Edna French and Maurice McKusick representing the Y.P.B.

MRS. MARY A. BERRY

Mary Ann (Whitten) widow of Turner Berry, died Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Louis W. Fickett, Rankin street, after a week's illness, following a paralytic shock. Prior to this sudden ill turn her long life had been blessed with remarkable health.

The deceased was born in Montville March 29, 1846, daughter of Madison and Harriet (Gowen) Whitten. She was wedded to the late Mr. Berry Jan. 1, 1865, and for the next 10 years they resided in Fairfield, where Mr. Berry conducted a general store. They then moved to Portland, where Mr. Berry was associated with his brother in the wholesale produce business. In his latter years he was an apple exporter, his service covering a period when Maine was shipping its fruit across the water extensively.

Mrs. Berry died May 24, 1914, and the widow made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Fickett, coming to Rockland when the Ficketts took up their residence here in 1917. Quiet, unassuming, homeloving she found much comfort during her widowhood in this congenial home where devotion from the family and the friends she made was never lacking.

Mrs. Berry is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Fickett; two grand-children, Irma and Clinton Fickett; and two sisters, Mrs. Cora Lamb of Arlington, Mass., and Mrs. Lillian Banton of Lincoln, Mass.

Mrs. Berry had been a member of the Emanuel Baptist Church in Portland 56 years. Funeral services will be held in Wide Memorial Chapel, Portland, at 1 o'clock this afternoon and burial will be in Evergreen cemetery.

Vinal of Thomaston, which place became her permanent home. Of this union there were born two sons and four daughters. To the rearing of these children Mrs. Vinal gave of her time and strength. Possessed of a strong mother love, she spared not herself. In the past few years she suffered much from a physical disability. PARK THEATRE

Bizarre mystery, a fantastic trick of fate which sends a man to the gallows for a crime which was never committed, and sinister shadows of guilt figure in the newest thriller of the screen, "Payment Deferred," which is coming Wednesday and Thursday.

Charles Laughton, the celebrated English actor, plays the role that he made sensational before the footlights. The dramatic tale of "Payment Deferred" concerns itself with a London bank clerk who, driven to desperation by creditors, poisons his wealthy nephew. How he hides this crime only to be arrested later for one of which he is innocent results in a narrative permeated with suspense and engrossing dramatic interest.—adv.

About 5.30 o'clock Sunday night the wooden building on Bay View street owned by Oscar Chapin and occupied by Porrett L. Spear as a plumbing shop, and shoe repairing establishment of W. F. Winslow, was destroyed by fire of unknown origin.

The blaze originated in the rear of the plumbing shop. Mr. Spear was in New York city at the time but is expected home today. The loss is estimated over $6000, partially insured.

Mrs. Georgia Hobbs, Free street, entertained the Monday Club this week.

There was a large audience at the opera house Sunday night to enjoy the concert given by Rockland, Warren and Thomaston talent and sponsored by the Camden Business Men's Association. Admission was cash or food products, and $110.40 in money was received and a large amount of canned goods and other foods. Only O. Henry could do justice to the every-day tragedy of life symbolized by that up-State dog which, with a world full of creditors, went and bit a man who had come to pay a bill.—Boston Herald.

"ON MY SET"

In the territory served by The Courier-Gazette—incidentally it is a far-flung one—are doubtless many persons wondering what sort of a radio "Santy" is going to leave at their house. Happy indeed are such recipients.

The continued broadcasting of Boston baseball games seems assured. Which means that you will know where to find most radio fans in Knox County on the afternoons in question.

"My Inspiration Baby" composed by Herbert H. Morton of 16 Avon street, Portland—formerly of Rockland—is in the hands of the publishers, Smith, White & Co., Boston, through the Kimball Music Co. of Portland, and he has secured the United States copyright for it, together with another new song which he has written, "The Garden of Dear Remembrance." Both will be broadcast over WCHS at 7.45 tomorrow morning.

The Mountain Top broadcast over WCHS, 8.30 to 9, Sundays, furnishes some inspirational singing.

BASKETBALL BATTLES

Rockport Wins Two

Rockport basketball fans had a gala night Saturday, when the boys' girls' teams were both victorious over Waldoboro, the former winning 49 to 13, and the latter winning 56 to 25. Collamore tossed the ball into Waldoboro's basket 10 times and made one point on a foul for good measure. Score of boys' game:

WITH THE BOWLERS

The League Standing

The Eagles are flying high, wide and handsome in the Knox County Bowling League at the Recreation alleys, but abreast of them are the relentless Wholesalers, so that, with winter coming on, it is going to be anybody's race. Here are the figures:

Wholesalers 4, Texacos 1

The Texacos got a flying start in their match with the Wholesalers, only to go lame on the home stretch. Gay had high string (425) and high total, but no use. Ty Cobb had hard luck—dropped down to 102 on one of his strings. The summary:

ROCKPORT

Mrs. Nellie Staples has completed her duties as clerk at the First National Store and the vacancy is filled temporarily by Mrs. Stanley Payson.

The social and dance held Thursday evening at Town hall by members of R.H.S. senior class was a success both socially and financially. A short entertainment opening the evening's program consisted of a tap dance and song by Virginia Noyes and a mock wedding with Vera Bray as the bride, Warren Wall the groom, and Mary Veazie, the minister. An orchestra composed of High School students furnished music for the dance. Refreshments were served. The decorations in the hall evidenced the spirit of the Christmas season.

Mrs. Minetta Paul was hostess to the Twentieth Century Club Friday at her home. Mrs. Edith Buzzell read an interesting paper on "Christmas Around the World" and also gave a history of Christmas Carols; Mrs. Christine Currier gave a paper on "The Three Wise Men" and engagingly sang "Oh! Holy Night." The regular meeting of the club will be omitted this week.

RED CROSS BENEFIT

Entertainments in Rockland and Camden Theatres Netted $226

While the Red Cross benefit concert at Park Theatre Sunday did not draw a capacity house, a gratifyingly large audience paid tribute to the brilliant rendition of choral works under the direction of Marshall Bradford of Thomaston, and added its bit to the fund which the Knox County Chapter of American Red Cross will use among the needy at this Christmas season. The theatre was donated, and all participants—director, orchestra and chorus—gave their services. From the offering the sum of $76.02 was realized.

As the curtains were drawn, a burst of applause greeted the chorus of 80 voices from Rockland, Warren, Thomaston and Cushing, a 10-piece orchestra and Mr. Bradford at the director's stand. The majestic "Unfold, Ye Portals" from Gounod's "Redemption" opened the musical program after invocation by Rev. George H. Welch, pastor of the Universalist Church and chairman of the local Red Cross Chapter. Then followed Maunders' cantata "Bethlehem," Alice Hovey, resigning after 12 years' service. Two life memberships were reported—those of Mrs. Nina Gregory and Mrs. Messer. In tribute to members whose death occurred during the summer—Mrs. Eliza Hovey, Mrs. Harriet Stumbo, Mrs. Lillian Webster, Mrs. Minnie Simmons, Mrs. Corinna Gardner and Mrs. Minnie Cobb, a short memorial service was conducted. Col. F. S. Philbrick pleased the gathering with a violin melody of old songs. The speaker of the afternoon was Dr. N. A. Fog whose address on "Surgery" was given with authority. Supper was in charge of Mrs. Rebecca Ingraham. The evening speaker was Rev. Arthur Stray, rector of the Brunswick Episcopal Church. His talk on "Practical Realism" was of high merit. Mr. Stray was accompanied by his wife. The final feature of the evening was the showing of the film "Trees Around the World," shown by George W. Goodall of Portland, representative of the Davey Tree Expert Company.

The ushers were Misses Virginia Piper, Rose Whitmore, Agnes Flanagan, Bernadette Snow, Carolyn McAllister and Mary Stockbridge. They were Red Cross uniforms and presented a most attractive appearance. In the evening Mr. Bradford, chorus and orchestra went to Camden and gave a repeat performance under the auspices of the Camden Business Men's Association. It was presented in the Opera House before a large and most appreciative audience. Admission was made by either money or food stuffs. More than $150 was realized in addition to quantities of vegetables, fruit, canned goods, etc., all to be used for the needy at the Christmas season. The Camden churches lent their loyal support, and Rev. Ralph Hayden, rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal, Rev. L. A. Campbell, pastor of the Baptist, and Rev. Winfield Witham of the Congregational, participated in the service. The musicians and friends were entertained at the parish house of St. Thomas' Church. Sandwiches, cakes and hot coffee were served. Christmas carols at the table inimitably led by John Taylor and impromptu speeches from Mr. Bradford, Mr. Hayden and Elmer Joyce, were enjoyed. Camden's hospitality was much appreciated by the visitors.

At the close of the afternoon performance, through a suggestion offered by Norma Wolf of Thomaston, the chorus voted to form a permanent organization—a choral society to be officially organized and named in the early part of 1933. The need of such a society has long been recognized.

LAND OF THE NILE

This Main Topic of Methebesec Club Meeting — Christmas Carols Sung

The Methebesec Club meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Helen D. Perry, had in attendance 37 members, who listened to an excellent program directed by Mrs. Mary Perry Rich. Her own paper, used as an introduction to the main topic, "The Land of the Nile," formed a comprehensive survey of Egypt, the physical and historical features, etc., presented in constructive and interesting manner. Mrs. Jane Beach presented a paper on "The Land of the Nile," with particular attention to industrial life, treasures of the pyramids and religious customs. Mrs. Blanche Ellsworth in her paper on "Cairo and Alexandria," gave a graphic description of the bringing to New York in 1880 of Cleopatra's Needle. As a child aboard her father's ship she visited the boat bearing the obelisk, saw the treasure made ready to be transferred to Central Park where it is seen today in all its beauty. The final paper was on "Modern Egypt," given by Mrs. Mildred Putnam, who handled her subject in an understanding manner. The Christmas season was observed in various ways. A group of club members, with Mrs. Irene Walker at the piano, sang carols. There was a festive Christmas tree, laden with toys and articles of clothing, to be distributed to children recommended by Miss Corbett. Mrs. Ellsworth read an exquisite original poem "To Every Mary," and Mrs. Angella Glover, president, read a charming article on Bethlehem, written by Eleanor Mercen Kelley. Mrs. Lenora Cooper gave current events, touching upon affairs national and international, as to politics, industries, arts, education, etc. Carefully worked out in continuity, it was of outstanding worth. Mrs. Etta Stoddard and Mrs. Katherine St. Clair were added to the auxiliary committee, composed of Mrs. Thelma Snow, Miss Perry and Miss Ellen Daly, as part of the benevolence committee. The next meeting Dec. 30 is at the

McCallum
Hosiery

"YOU JUST KNOW SHE WEARS THEM"

THERE'S something almost traditional about giving McCallum silk hosiery. No wonder. These exquisite stockings have social standing, and a quality that's priceless. For years . . . right through these mad rushes to "bargain" stockings and back again to good . . . McCallum has meant the clear, sheer, beautiful stockings women love to have. McCallum stockings are appropriate whether you pay $1.00 or $2.95.

UNION

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Starrett and Mrs. Ralph Wallace attended the entertainment, "The New Minister," given at Warren Thursday evening by the Woman's Club. Miss Susan Gath visited Miss Laura Wallace Wednesday remaining over night to attend the basketball game played by Rockport and Union. The basketball team from Brownville Junction played the Union team at Union Saturday evening. The K. T. Class of the Methodist Church school furnished supper in the vestry. The members of the visiting team were Henry Gerrish, coach; Hendrick Wensink, Arnold York.

Orin L. Milan

This community was shocked to hear of the sudden death of Orin Lindsay Milan which occurred at his home early Wednesday evening after an illness of a few weeks. Mr. Milan was one of the town's best and most respected citizens, a great help in any undertaking for the welfare of the community, whether it be near or far. He was born at Southwest Harbor April 25, 1873. At the age of 19 he was appointed assistant light-keeper at Mt. Desert Rock and while there he was married to Mrs. Nettie Saunders Norwood. Five years later they moved to Swan's Island where he was keeper of Burnt Coat light station for 34½ years. He retired Feb. 1 of this year on account of ill health. At this station two children were born, Frank Milan of Deer Isle and Mrs. Lawrence Snell of Kennebunk. He also leaves besides the widow, one sister Bertha, wife of Rev. William Johnson of Texas; two grandchildren and a stepgrandson. Mrs. Granville Prock of Lincolnville is also a close relative of the family. Funeral services were held at the home Friday at 2.30, conducted by Rev. W. C. Osgood. The floral offerings were many.

STRAND THEATRE

Rural America rises to smite gangsters in "Men of America," at the Strand Wednesday and Thursday. Burdened with $50,000 in thousand dollar bills, red-hot proceeds of a bank robbery, the gangsters hide out near a small Western community. Fearing to spend their blood-stained currency, they prey upon the small town.
