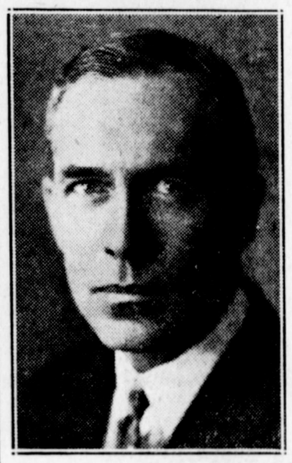
PARK THEATRE

"The Keyhole," a Warner Bros. production that brings a new motion picture team in Kay Francis and George Brent to the screen, will come for Monday and Tuesday. It is an enthrallingly different picture, representing the gaiety and luxury of Park Avenue penthouses and the glamor of balmy nights under a Cuban moon, with native orchestras dispensing pulsating Spanish rhythms in every cafe to welcome Havana's pleasure loving crowds at the height of the season. A picture that offers two such outstanding favorites in the principal roles, is in itself something out of the ordinary as an attraction. The popularity of the lovely, dark-haired Kay Francis has been growing by leaps and bounds the past year, while George Brent, who flashed into the limelight only a year ago, has gone steadily on making good the promise of his early performances.—adv.

TONER RE-ELECTED



At a joint meeting of the Rockland and Rockport School Boards last night Ernest Leroy Toner was re-elected superintendent of schools for another year. His retention in office is a fitting tribute to the progress the schools have made under his direction.

THE BOY SCOUTS

District Executive Dropped For Time Being—Kimball Succeeds Lewin

The Pine Tree Scout Leaders Association met Tuesday night, President Howard Chase presiding. Plans were discussed for the holding of a preliminary trial to choose contestants for the council jamboree to be held in Rockland, May 20. It was decided tentatively to hold this elimination contest some night the week of April 23. Previous to that time each troop will hold contests to determine who the two best men are in each event. There are four events—knot tieing, bugling, fire by friction and fire by flint and steel.

District Executive Chandler announced that those who had fulfilled the requirements for Scout leaders' training course would receive their certificates. Seven men were eligible for this award: G. Walter Kimball, Scoutmaster Troop 3; Harold Whitehill, Scoutmaster Troop 2; Howard Chase, Scoutmaster Troop 8; Linwood Aylward, assistant Scoutmaster Troop 2——all of Rockland; Donald Knapp, and Charles Grant, Scoutmaster and assistant, Troop 100, Friendship; Percy Young, assistant Scoutmaster Troop 2, Rockland and Troop 11, South Thomaston; and Thomas Holmes, acting Scoutmaster of the new Waldoboro troop.

The April meeting of the Rockland district committee was held at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night. The matter of finances was discussed at some length. It was finally decided to dispense with the services of the district executive until such a time as it would be possible to raise the funds necessary for his expenses. It was voted that this committee remain intact and continue its meetings and even increase its activities in order that scouting in Rockland might not suffer.

Definite plans for financing scouting are to be taken up at the earliest possible time, but it was felt that nothing could be done until the bank situation was cleared up and the financial condition of the district determined.

Commissioner Theodore Lewin's resignation was accepted with regret. Mr. Lewin is manager of the A. & P. store and felt he did not have the time to devote to scouting, though he wished it clearly understood that he would help out in any way he could. G. Walter Kimball, Scoutmaster of Troop 3, was unanimously elected as commissioner to replace Mr. Lewin.

It was voted that Chairman McAlary write a letter of appreciation to the Pine Tree Council thanking them for the help and assistance given the Rockland District. The next meeting will be held in May, the date to be announced. These members were present: Chairman A. F. McAlary, E. L. Toner, C. H. Duff, Benjamin Dowling, Lawrence Leach, Rev. Walter S. Rounds, Capt. R. F. Saville, Donald Haskell, guest, and District Executive Chandler.

TURNED THE TABLES

Willis Ayer Triumphs In Battle of Wits—Presents Fine Paper

Wars and rumors of wars filled every seat at yesterday's Rotary luncheon, for Willis I. Ayer, The Brook's perennial practical joker, was the advertised speaker and the word got around that his many victims and store assistants had organized a campaign of collaboration with the program that would even all old scores.

The battle of wits started as President Sheldon opened the meeting and continued with unabated hilarity until the irrepressible Willis neatly turned the tables on his hecklers with a rollicking "vital statistics" survey, followed by one of the most constructive and well thought out expositions of true Rotary spirit heard in many a moon.

"How's your backbone" was the thought used in comparing his boyhood with that of the youths of today and the struggles and hardships of the merchants and workmen of the nineties as compared with the situation of the present. He stressed the long hours, hard physical labor and small profits of those days compared to this age of modern conveniences and luxury become necessities Our struggles in the grip of the present economic difficulty test our ability to measure up to the high standards set up by those of the preceding generation. It is a question of backbone and service. In the course of his talk Mr. Ayer paid tribute to many fine old business houses and men now departed, stirring warm memories in many a heart.

It was voted to accept the invitation of the Forty Club to the joint meeting of the county service clubs with Bill Cunningham April 24 at Temple hall. Charles A. Emery became honorary chairman of the goat committee and Supt. E. L. Toner presented the necessity of the Red Cross to locate in a rent-free headquarters. I. R. Cutler of Old Town and H. H. Nash of Camden were visiting Rotarians.

BUDDIES INVADE FRIENDSHIP

District Council Of the American Legion Honors Victims Of the Akron Disaster

The Knox, Lincoln and Sagadahoc District Council, American Legion, held its meeting in Friendship Thursday night, with the Friendship members of Williams-Brazier Post as hosts.

A delicious lobster stew was served at K. of P. hall at 6 o'clock. At 7.15 a parade was formed, headed by Chief Marshal Walter O. Hastings and followed by Winslow-Holbrook Drum Corps of Rockland, headed by that popular drum major O. E. Wishman. The veterans marched in columns of two, headed by Enoch M. Clark, Williams-Brazier Post commander, colors and their guards, county and department officials, followed by 125 members of Council to Bossa's hall where the meeting and entertainment were held.

It was voted to annex Waldo County to this District Council, making a total of 11 Posts now affiliated. The veterans stood for 30 seconds in silence in memory of those brave officers and enlisted men who met their death in the Akron disaster.

The Army Day observance was carried out in all the speeches. The principal speakers were E. Vaughn Cleaves of Bar Harbor, department commander; James L. Boyle of Waterville, department adjutant; Arthur L. Leech of Kennebunk, department Americanism officer; William B. D. Gray of Thomaston, department director of marksmanship; and Raymond E. Rendall of Alfred, who is a candidate for department commander of Maine for 1933-34.

Williams-Brazier Post at a recent Post meeting voted to instruct its delegates to the Department Convention in Portland July 4 to pledge their support to Mr. Rendall.

It is hoped that each of the 11 Posts will organize a junior baseball team.

It was declared one of the best council meetings to date. The next is to be held in Boothbay Harbor in May.

MRS. HEATH WINS THE CUP

Large Crowd On Hand To See Climax Of the Ladies' Graceful Skating Contest

Standing room was at a premium in the Spanish Villa skating rink Thursday night, the center of attraction being the graceful skating contest for ladies. Preliminary contests had been held on each of the five preceding Thursday nights, and the five winners, chosen by popular vote, appeared in the finals on this occasion.

Four waltzes were played for the final test, and the large audience was given ample opportunity to admire the skill of the contestants and draw their own conclusions.

Votes were dropped into a sealed box, and counted by a committee of three, selected from among the spectators by Manager Allen, who in his long career as a sports promoter, has shown absolute fairness and impartiality.

The silver cup was awarded to Mrs. Hattie Heath, who received 75 votes. Mrs. Iola Rector was second with 62, and Miss Margaret Torrey was third. The other contestants were Mrs. Myrtle Dudley and Miss Louise Fields. Each possessed an individual style of skating and all furnished excellent proof as to why they had been selected in the elimination contests.

The crowd was naturally a partisan one, but those who were disappointed in the result joined generously in applauding the winner.

Next Thursday night will see the start of a graceful skating contest for couples, which will probably show an intensified interest.

Meantime the skaters should remember tonight's confetti party with skating until 11.45.

TWO WARSHIPS COMING

Word was received here yesterday that two commissioned warships will visit Rockland the first week in May—U.S.S. Indianapolis coming on the 2d, and U.S.S. Hamilton on the 3d. The Hamilton is probably continuing experimental tests, but why the cruiser Indianapolis is coming again at this time was not indicated.

Friends of Commander K. F. Hill, who was a patient at Knox Hospital for a number of weeks, will be well pleased to learn that he has resumed his duties with the Trial Board, and will probably be present during the trials.

A SILVER WEDDING

'Twas a Quiet Affair Until Seth, Ma and Others Broke In On the Scene

If the folks living in the vicinity of 32 Camden street could have seen the "picturesque arrival" at the door of their good neighbor A. W. Gregory last night they would have gasped with excitement, and wondered if the real Seth Parker, his good wife "Ma" and all the little Parkers had not come. The occasion was the celebration of the 25th wedding anniversary of Al and May Gregory.

They were sitting at the table of their artistic little dining room, enjoying a light lunch with no idea of what might be in the environs. They were talking over the financial situation, and May was wondering when things were going to be better. Al replied: "Better, of course they will be better bye and bye, perhaps, before long." "Do you mean in the Sweet Bye and Bye." "No," ejaculated Al. "I mean in the here and now."

About this time a peculiar sound became audible as of a cane stubbing up the walk to the door, and a loud knock that resounded through the house brought Al to his feet. He reached the door, hesitated a moment, and with the advent of fresh courage, opened it a crack. When he saw his old friends "Seth" and "Ma," with the others, he was so flabbergasted that he stumbled back a couple of steps, made a peculiar sound in his throat, then rushed forward and dragged them in with both hands.

To say that the guests were entertained royally would be very faint praise for such an event. Al and May were at their best, and such an evening "settin' in with the home folks" and enjoying the varied program that was offered, cannot adequately be described. The happy couple were presented with a handsome pair of pewter candlesticks, and a set of silver. A few hours later the "Picturesque Bunch" got underway and steered south on Camden street, leaving Al and May in a happy and reminiscent state of mind.

SCANDAL MONGERS

"In Time Of Excitement and Unrest the Liar Is At His Best"
(Press Herald)

The inevitable conclusion one must come to, having passed through a trying period such as Portland has recently experienced is that there are a great many people living in every community who delight in fabrication of sensational stories. Without any foundation for the tales they tell, lacking even the smallest atom of truth to serve as the kernel of their story, they weave together a yarn to do malicious injury to some person whom they have never had any contact with and whom they do not even know by sight.

What inspires such stories is the great desire some people have to momentarily excite interest and attract attention to themselves. The more sensational their yarn is, the greater glory they think they have achieved and their satisfaction is intensified when they learn that many of their fellow citizens have seized upon their fabrication and tossed it along, like a football, to alarm and excite others.

In times of excitement and unrest a liar is in his element. It is the kind of atmosphere which best absorbs his unreasonable tales. If he succeeds in creating greater fear in the breasts of some other people, and can add oil to the flames of unhappiness so that all about him become panicky, he has achieved what he is looking for.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Henry H. Payson has received his credentials as Knox County probation officer.

L. C. Sturtevant (good old Stivie) must be right in his element down in Ellsworth for he is coaching his High School baseball team, and big things are expected from it. Mr. Sturtevant was principal of the same school more than ten years ago, but Ellsworth folks have followed his career with sharp eyes.

Attractions at Strand Theatre next week are: Monday and Tuesday, "They Just Had to Get Married," with Slim Summerville and ZaSu Pitts; Wednesday and Thursday, "Secrets of Madame Blanche," with Irene Dunne and Phillips Holmes; Friday and Saturday, "Pick-Up," with Sylvia Sidney and George Raft.

Youthful sea brigands who helped themselves to Otis Trundy's fishing smack, without leave from anybody, and who might have hoisted the skull and crossbones had they been given time, were rounded up by Patrolman McIntosh Thursday. Charlie isn't long on sea vernacular, but he did intimate that he would apply a half-nelson to the mischievous imps if they didn't let Commodore Trundy's fishing fleet alone.

The April meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association takes place Monday evening at 7.30 at the High School auditorium. Mrs. C. F. Snow will speak on "Patriotism," particularly in relation to the young people of today. Through her affiliation with the Daughters of American Revolution, the American Legion Auxiliary and other patriotic bodies, Mrs. Snow is thoroughly versed in the subject and the association is gratified to have her as a speaker. Negotiations are being made for a two-reel moving picture as an added feature

A painter's palette which has been treasured in the John A. Karl paint shop since the old days when the late John A. Karl and E. J. Clifton were proprietors has been transformed into a most attractive tablet by Edgar Crockett, and will have a place of honor at the painters' camp in Nobleboro. It bears the inscription "Lake View Club, 1904," and beneath this are inscribed the names of the charter members: I. A. Trueworthy, R. B. Loring, G. W. Palmer, J. A. Karl, M. E. Plummer, F. J. Perry, E. J. Clifton, R. Henry Tominski, G. H. Tighe, W. J. Perry, C. T. Colson, F. E. Perry and S. K. Hatch. L. A. Spear and A. E. Perry were associate members.

When the United States battle fleet made its memorable voyage around the world a quarter century ago a Rockland man was helping keep one of the ships in trim—Peter Nelson of 25 Winter street, who was serving on the U. S. S. Louisiana. The fleet left Hampton Roads Dec. 16, 1907, cruised down the South America coast, and reached San Diego, Calif., April 14, 1908.. July 16 the American ships were at Honolulu; Aug. 20 they had dropped anchor in the harbor of Sydney, Australia; Oct. 10 they were at Manila; Jan. 3, 1909, they were at Suez; and Feb. 22 they passed in review before President Theodore Roosevelt at Hampton Roads, Va., the port from which they had embarked. The fleet's mileage was 45,456. Any time Peter Nelson's fellow citizens get to thinking that they have "been around some" let them discuss this little outing with him.

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK

If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God.—James 1:5.

THE MILLAY FAMILY

Mrs. James O. (Anne Kittredge) Whittemore, Tells Bangor Club About It

Sidelights on the Millay family were related by Mrs. James O. Whittemore (Anne Kittredge) Friday to members of the Norumbega Club at their regular meeting in Bangor.

Mrs. Whittemore read passages from a book "Little Otis," by Mrs. Millay, mother of Edna. Otis was an imaginary son, and Mrs. Millay wrote verses concerning his conversation and doings.

The husbands of the three Millay girls and their home life in Greenwich Village were mentioned. When Mrs. Millay went to visit her daughter Edna she knew the house at once by a Maine scarecrow; a bird bath with swans swimming in it and a sign saying "do not feed the swans." There was no grass anywhere about the place, but a big sign was posted "Keep off the grass." Edna St. Vincent Millay delighted in doing such unusual things. Her home was 30 feet high, nine feet wide, and 28 feet long.

Friends of the poet laureate of Maine call her Vincent, rather than Edna. Mrs. Whittemore's subject was of especial interest to the club women who were instrumental in selecting her as poet laureate. The speaker described the opera and story of the "King's Henchman," the words of which Edna St. Vincent Millay wrote and which played before crowded houses in New York. Lawrence Tibbett took a prominent part.

FARM AND HOME

More Than 1100 Attended the "Week" At Orono, Including 17 From Knox County

"We will plant another crop of potatoes just the same." In these words George E. Findlen of Fort Fairfield touched the note of sentiment expressing the spirit of over 1,100 Maine farmers and home makers attending the 27th Farm and Home Week at Orono last week.

Struggling throughout the week with current serious problems relating to credit, taxation, home relief measures and methods of making the dollar do its utmost, the undeniable grim determination was everywhere manifested.

The attendance, though under last year's registration of 1307, exceeded the expectation of those in charge. Following are names of those registered from Knox and Lincoln Counties:

Knox County—Theodore S. Bird, Rockland; Mrs. Myrtle A. Blake, Camden; Nina Carroll, Rockport; L. E. Clark, Rockland; H. D. Crie, Thomaston; Ralph W. Cripps, Camden; Arthur S. Harwood, Hope; Miller B. Hobbs, Hope; Lucia S. Hopkins, Camden; Jessie M. Lawrence, W. M. Little, Rockland; Benjamin H. Nichols, Mrs. B. H. Nichols, Union; F. C. Morton, Rockland; Marion C. Richards, Rockport; Sarah Sleeper, Camden; Harry L. Waterman, South Thomaston.

Lincoln County—L. E. Carney, Sheepscott; G. E. Cateinau, Jr., Wiscasset; Edward B. Denny, Jr., Myrtle B. Fiske, Damariscotta; Grace A. Lawrence, Wiscasset; H. B. Marsh, Sheepscott; G. R. Ogilvie, Mrs. George R. Ogilvie, Jefferson; Mrs. Anna M. Snell, Wiscasset.

MAINE AFTER BUSINESS

If by chance you come across the latest bulletin of the State of Maine Publicity Bureau, published by Harrie B. Coe, manager, you will be impressed not alone by the persuasive eloquence of the subject matter but by its spirit of optimism. Here is one statement which, if generally reiterated and acted upon, might go far toward reviving the drooping spirit of the pessimist promoter:

"The State of Maine is going after business and is going to get it. It believes that people will 'Buy America' for their vacations this year."

Manager Coe admits that replies from the Maine advertising so far received this year are a little behind the number received for the corresponding period of last year, but believes it is due to the upset conditions through which the country has been struggling during the last four or five weeks. He adds:

"Now that there has been a definite upturn in business conditions because in Washington they are doing something instead of telling what they are going to do, we know that Maine will receive its customary proportion of the tourist money."

With a broad smile on his genial features William H. Weed invaded the editorial rooms this morning and turned loose a generous quantity of those nice pretzels manufactured by the National Biscuit Co., which he represents. A fluid, much discussed in the newspapers these days, is popularly supposed to dance attendance upon Mr. Pretzel, but perhaps it is keeping company with Mr. Prosperity, "just around the corner."

WET IN FINLAND

Mrs. Emery Tells of Promises Made and What Actually Happened

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

There is so very much being said in all of our papers about the great things expected from the legalizing of beer and wine, and from repeal of the 18th Amendment, all of which is as yet only in theory. Might it not be well for sane thinking people to pause a while and consider what has happened in Finland where the faith of the people in prohibition was beaten down by the same roseate promises of the wets that we are hearing, and where their program of legalized liquor has been in force for a year.

Repeal of prohibition was promised to be an effective factor in restoring the value of the Finnish money. Nothing of the sort occurred. Since repeal the rate of the Finnish mark has not undergone any notable changes; Finland's budget difficulties have not been solved by liquor. The Finnish treasury has never been so empty as it is now, a year after repeal.

Finnish wets blamed prohibition for high taxes; a year after repeal the government taxes are just as high as ever; city taxes are from 10% to 30% higher.

Unemployment was not solved by repeal, despite promises. The farm problem to be solved by repeal in Finland is more serious than ever. Wet propagandists promised Finland great loans from France in return for repeal so that French wine could be sold. These promises influenced many members of Parliament. No loans have come from France.

Liquor smuggling, a grave problem in Finland, was urged as a reason to repeal prohibition. Feb. 14 of this year the assistant chief of the Finnish Coast Guard declared in a newspaper interview:

"It was claimed after the repeal of prohibition that the activity of the smugglers and bootleggers will be very difficult because the 'public opinion' will be against them. Unhappily, this has been a mere theory without any practical value. Almost without an exception all prohibition time smugglers and bootleggers are continuing their dirty business, and the Coast Guard is not supported by the general 'public opinion' but by the jealous smugglers who betray their colleagues."

Finnish wets promised repeal would decrease the alarming crime of that country. The crime condition is now more alarming than ever before, with a noticeable increase in murders and manslaughter. The number of prisoners in jail has increased since repeal.

There is more drunkenness, although the statistics appear to show a slight decrease. The reason is that the Finnish police have gone back to the old custom of the police in every liquor country, i. e. not to arrest drunks unless they are obstreperous. Actually, conditions in Finland, especially on marketing days now are approaching debauchery. More liquor than ever is being drunk; the government originally established two dry days a week but these days are now wet.

Every wet-promise made in the United States was made in Finland. Every such promise has turned out to be disastrously false; the progress of temperance has been set back half a century; scarcely any problems have been solved and the same old grave situation that always follows the unlimited distribution of liquor confronts the Finnish people. Repeal in this country will mean only more drunkenness, more crime, more poverty, and not a single roseate hope of the wets will appear to cheer the gloom.

GREAT SPORTS WRITER

Bill Cunningham Will Address Joint Meeting of the Service Clubs

Plans have been laid for a get-together of all the service clubs of Knox County on April 24, at Temple hall, Rockland. The Forty Club of this city will be the host and this in itself insures something out of the ordinary. The clubs participating will be the Rockland Rotary and Lions Clubs, the Camden-Rockport Rotary and Lions Clubs and the Waldoboro Lions Club. Each club will perform a stunt and music will be furnished by one of the Forty Club members, Al Rougier, through the medium of his ten piece orchestra. The principal speaker will be Bill Cunningham, sports writer of the Boston Post, who will give one of his well known sporting talks. The program will be preceded by a banquet. Dick Bird, chairman of the program committee of the Forty Club, and Francis Orne, secretary of the club, are in charge of the affair.

Last Monday the Forty Club was held spellbound by Rev. Walter Rounds who spoke on the "Rise of the Dictators." The manner in which he brought out the crisis, which the entire world is facing today, was well worth hearing. His intensive study of this situation put him in a position to tell the club of things happening in Europe and our own country of which the members little dreamed. A new member, Capt. Sherman E. Willard, was taken into membership at this meeting.

Isaac E Starrett

Funeral services for the late Isaac Ellis Starrett who died March 31, were held Monday afternoon from the home of his daughter Mrs. Charlotte Hawes at Union, with whom he had made his home the past four years His death followed a period of suffering for several months, through which he was tenderly and lovingly cared for by his daughter assisted by her husband, and others. Rev H. I. Holt of the Congregational Church of Warren, officiated. Jesse Mills, A. P. Gray, Fred Starrett and Parker Starrett, lodge brothers, acted as bearers. Interment was made at the Starrett Cemetery at Warren. The many beautiful floral offerings were testimonials to the love and esteem in which Mr. Starrett was held by all.

He was a kindly and faithful husband and father and will be greatly missed, especially by the youngest daughter with whom he made his home the last few years of his life. Surviving relatives are one brother Henry S. who lives at San Diego Calif.; a sister Mrs Hannah Spear of Warren; two daughters, Mrs. Ansel Hilt, of Warren, and Mrs. Alfred Hawes of Union; three sons, Lester A. who lives in Flushing, N. Y., Everett B. of New Bedford, Mass., and Ernest L. of Warren. There are 11 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Isaac E. Starrett was the son of David S. and Mary (Hoffses) Starrett, one of a family of seven children, and was born at Warren July 1, 1852. On January 7, 1871 he married Cora E. Spear of Warren, and of this union two children were born, Lester A. and Rosa A., who now is Mrs. Ansel Hilt. August 30, 1886, he was united in marriage with Ruby Stone of Cushing, the three children of this marriage being Maude B., who married Hollis G. Starrett and who died in Warren October 2, 1906; Everett B. and Ernest L. June 28, 1902 he was married to Mrs. Grace (Hoyt) Brackett of Union and one child Charlotte, now Mrs. Alfred Hawes, was born of this marriage.

After his first marriage in 1871 Mr. Starrett was employed at the shoe shop in Warren until 1878, when he went to Marlboro and worked as laster in a shoe shop there. In 1882 he returned to the old homestead in Warren to care for his aged mother and father. On the opening of the McLoon and Stover lime quarries in 1889 he worked more than 25 years continuously there with his team, in addition to carrying on his farm until the plant ceased operations. Since then he carried on his usual farm business until 1929 when he and Mrs. Starrett, the latter being in poor health, went to Union to live with their daughter Mrs. Alfred Hawes. Mrs. Starrett died Oct. 27, 1930.

One especially happy time of his life was the trip made in February, 1915, to California where he visited his brothers Henry and Elburn, whom he had not seen for 30 years. At this time he also visited Battle Mountain, Nevada. April 15 of the same year, when he had been home but a few days, the barn which had been in use since 1843 was struck by lightning and burned.

Mr. Starrett was a member of Warren Lodge, I.O.O.F., Georges River Lodge, K. of P., and sister order, and of the Congregational Church of Warren.

VINALHAVEN HIGH SITS PRETTY

Two Of the League's Pitching Aces Still On the Mound For the Island Team

Vinalhaven baseball fans, who are very proud of the fact that their high school team has won two pennants in a row, are very anxious for the new season to begin.

"The League should see a close race this year," says Capt. Coombs, "but we are going to have that 1933 cup."

The team's schedule as announced by Walter Staples, manager, follows:

May 3—St. George at Vinalhaven.
May 6—Vinalhaven at Thomaston.
May 10—Vinalhaven at Lincoln.
May 13—Camden at Vinalhaven.
May 17—Thomaston at Vinalhaven.
May 20—Vinalhaven at Rockland.
May 24—Vinalhaven at Camden.
May 27—Vinalhaven at St. George.
May 31—Rockland at Vinalhaven.
June 3—Lincoln at Vinalhaven.

Recent rains have put the ball field in bad shape, and it is doubtful if much practice can be done before April 15. With the opening game at home this will give Coach Herbert Patrick plenty of time to look over his rookies. In this field of novices are Teele, Gilchrest, Anderson, W. Torfason, H. Torfason, Bunker, T. Erickson, E. Erickson, R. Staples, W. Staples, Claytor, Smith, Wahlman, E. Coombs, Swanson, Wadleigh, Arey, Conway, Healey, Nickerson, Lloyd, Shields, Tuomi and Bennett.

Six letter men will report to the coach, the veterans left being Lyford 1b, Coombs outfield and pitcher, Woodcock 3b, Bickford lf, Middleton pitcher and outfield, Young rf.

Finding a backstop and plugging the infield are problems which are causing Coach Patrick to lie awake nights. The loss, by graduation of Hopkins and Guilford, left two very important positions to be filled.

Baum, who played two games in the infield last year, should make one of these positions.

Bill Young who played in the outfield last year, will try out for the position which Ed. White so brilliantly filled behind the bat. Other catcher prospects are W. Torfason, Conway and Bunker.

As to pitchers Vinalhaven High is sitting on top of the world with Middleton and Capt. Coombs. Middleton was the youngster who made the Knox County Twilight League fans sit up and take notice.

With seven men reasonably sure of making the team, and a good sized field of rookies to draw from, it looks as though Capt. Coombs' challenge was far from spoofing.

[Will the Camden, Thomaston, St. George and Lincoln Academy coaches please forward their material to this paper as soon as possible.—Sports Editor].

Rideout's forecast this morning held out some hope that the sun would find its way through the clouds. Toward night the wind will diminish. This morning's barometer reading was 29.62 and rising. The temperature in Boston was 42; here 40 at 8 o'clock and wind west. Tomorrow probably fair. Yesterday noon was 44, wind southeast. A decidedly wet day and evening, but that is to be expected of April, and after each recurrence of showers the grass on southern slopes is perceptibly greener.

W. H. Estabrook is moving from 12 Gurdy street to Washington street.

Capt. Charles Rich left this morning for New York on business.

Robert Gregory who recently returned to Lowell Textile Institute after spending the spring recess at home has been elected president of his fraternity, Omicron Pi.

Roller polo (or roller hockey, to give it its new high hat title) has made a great hit in Portland this winter. And so did some of the pop bottles thrown by poor losers.

A report on principal acts of the recent Legislature will be made at noon tomorrow at the W. H. Glover & Co. office by Representative L. A. Walker at the Knickerbocker Class. All men are invited.

Honduras despatches in the daily newspapers Thursday told of a million-dollar fire at Tela, the chief fruit port on the northern coast. Walter Bay, radio operator, whose summer home is at Ash Point, was on duty there for a time.

The five masted schooner Marie De Ronde which has been a silent but conspicuous figure in Rockland harbor since the "bustin' " of the shipping business, is soon to be towed to Portland, where she will be converted into a barge. The tug Tamaqua will perform escort duty.

Edgar F. Hanson, who served as mayor of Belfast ten years and who put Dana's Sarsaparilla on the map, is dead in Miami, Fla., at the age of 80 years. He was a spectacular figure in the Maine political world, as well as in business affairs.

Sylvester, Jefferson, College of Technology; George S. Cunningham, Whitefield, School of Education; Gerald Beverage, North Haven; Graham M. Hills, Rockland.

Evening classes at Rockland Commercial College will be omitted during the absence of Mrs. Lena K. Sargent, principal, next week. Day school classes will be in charge of Mrs. Ethel Griffin, who with the benefit of several years of teaching in the public schools in Miami, is well fitted to carry on the work.

You Remember The World War

You remember you bought sugar, in only one store on Sugar Cards, and got it regularly. You also remember you bought at the same store Baking Cream. That was The Wight Company.

Now they are preparing it again. You remember that it made better biscuits and more moist cake, than any Cream of Tartar, made anywhere.

You can buy it at Perry's or ask your grocer to get it for you, or call 1005-M and it will be delivered to you at your home if in this city, within 24 hours.

Packed in ½lb. and pounds only.

There will be a public supper at Legion hall tonight from 5 to 7 under the auspices of the Auxiliary, with Mrs. Bernice Jackson in charge.

Miss Mary Lawry of the Sargent School of Physical Education is home for the spring recess. Miss Lawry's prowess in basketball continues. She made the first team of the freshman class at Sargent.

Rt. Rev. Robert E. Campbell, O.H.C., D.D., Bishop of Liberia, will be preacher at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Sunday at the 10.30 service. Bishop Campbell has been heard in Rockland on previous occasions, and his return is hailed with keen interest

The government steamer Gov. A. M. Randol, which has been overhauled at the South Railway, during the past few weeks, had her trial trips in the harbor yesterday, and will take home a rank card filled with A's. She will probably leave this port Monday, and will soon be succeeded here by the Gen. R. N. Bachelder for a similar overhauling.

"Chummy" Gray's departure for Wilkes-Barre, Penn., planned for Thursday has been postponed until the coming Thursday. Wilkes-Barre is represented in the New York and Pennsylvania Baseball League and Chummy is hoping to make the team, but with a full understanding that he must compete with some pretty classy candidates.

Forty-four children of the Boys' and Girls' Service Club enjoyed an Italian dinner Wednesday, made possible by "left overs" in cash from previous contributions. Next Wednesday the dinner will be furnished by members of Golden God Chapter, with Mrs. Maud Blodgett as chairman. Capt. Wilbur and Lieut. Ann Morrison of the Salvation Army spoke to the children at the club meeting of last Saturday afternoon.

The three-act comedy, "Codfish Aristocracy," by Adelyn Bushnell, is to be presented in Watts Hall, April 24-25, under the auspices of the drum corps of Winslow-Holbrook Post, A.L. whose members hail from various parts of Knox County. The cast numbering 30 persons will be coached by Miss Bushnell who will also direct the staging and general presentation. The play is said to be one of the cleverest from Miss Bushnell's gifted pen, and is being eagerly awaited.

A get-together of the Third Battalion Patriarchs Militant I.O.O.F. was held Wednesday night. Canton Molineaux worked the P. M. degree on C. M. Havener, George Graves, and Milton Rollins. Brig. Gen. Herman E. McKinney of Auburn, accompanied by two staff officers, was present. The Auxiliary served supper and worked the degree on Miss Doris Bowley of Warren. Canton Lafayette invited the department council to hold a field day in Rockland June 6-7.

E. C. Powell, So. Hope, was in town this morning reporting that spring officially opened there yesterday when he heard the first loon of the season. This caused a speeding up of housecleaning, preparatory to the opening of the Sweet Shop, April 19. Mr. Powell brought down a copy of the Union Weekly Times. We note in the "Delectable Mountain" correspondence that 'Willis Ayer is very sick with slow fever." Mr. Ayer is now an indispensable resident of Rockland, the "slowness" having quite vanished from his system.

Edwin Libby Relief Corps observed annual roll call Thursday night. In response to the name of Mrs. Clara Green, an interesting letter from her was read. Mrs. Green, whose home is on Bunker street, is the Corps' oldest member, now in her 90th year. She is also the oldest charter member, and while she has never served as president, Mrs. Green was the first past president, serving in that capacity at the first meeting after organization. Out of town members answering to roll call were Mrs. Carrie Chapman of Boston and Mrs. Winifred Butler of Portland. Two new members were initiated—Mrs. Helen G. Perry and Mrs. Doris R. Ames. The entertainment program featured readings by Mrs. Rebecca Ingraham, Mrs. Nellie Higgins on "Grand Army Day," Mrs. Eliza Plummer on "Anniversary of the Founding of the G.A.R." and Mrs. Velma Marsh; and a vocal duet by Mrs. Ida Huntley and Mrs. Marsh. Housekeepers were Mrs. Ida Huntley and Mrs. Adelma Mullen. Those for next week will be Mrs. Elizabeth Barton, Mrs. Bertha Everett and Mrs. Ella Flye.

Members of Rubinstein Club having copies of the Bi-Centennial Chorus Book are asked to notify Mrs. Helen Wentworth, president, tel. 1118. These are needed for choral practice for the program to be presented before Les Camarades Musicaux of Bath early in May. Mrs. Wentworth would appreciate receiving copies of the operas "Martha," "Carmen" and "Samson et Delilah" from former members of the Wight Philharmonic Society, for this same purpose. Miss Adelaide E. Cross is to act as choral conductor for the club and an important rehearsal has been called for next Friday afternoon, directly after the program.

The Rockland Lions Club which is to have a night session at Edward Gonia's cottage, Crescent Beach next Wednesday, has been so fortunate as to secure for guest speaker Rev. Orville J. Guptill, executive of the Maine Sea Coast Missionary Society. Mr. Guptill journeys up and down the Maine coast winter and summer carrying supplies and the gospel to islands and out of way places which would often have a very drab existence but for the visits of the Sunbeam. The romance of the Maine coast is not all told in books and newspapers; much of it is found in the inexhaustible fund of information which men like Mr. Guptill accumulate—all in the day's work.

PALM SUNDAY

[For The Courier-Gazette]

Zechariah, ancient prophet
In days of history old,
Foreordained a new Messiah,
And in prophecy foretold
The coming of the Savior,
The King of Kings to be,
And wrote the message plainly
As all who read can see:
"Rejoice O daughter of Zion,
Daughter of Jerusalem behold
Thy King!" though coming lowly,
Great wonders to unfold.
'Twas writ and time in passing
Brought the Christ Child to his own,
And for a time he labored
And made his humble home
Among the lowly people—
For his own received him not
As the promised true Messiah—
The old prophecy forgot.

When Jesus with two disciples
Unto Jerusalem drew nigh,
He sent them to the village
A colt and ass to there untie.
Obedient to the order
The animals were brought,
And straightway Jesus mounted
And the winding pathway sought.
A multitude before him
Spread their garments on the way,
And cut from trees green branches
To strew o'er the broad highway.
And those who went before him,
And those who followed on,
Sang "Hosanna in the Highest"
To the Christ so lowly born.
When wondering people questioned
And asked who this might be,
The multitude made answer:
"Jesus, the propnet of Galilee."

In memory of that wondrous day,
The people now do bring
Palm leaves in sweet remembrance,
And loud Hosannas sing,
To thee, most loving Father,
Thy children kneel and pray,
And give praise and adoration
On this most sacred day.
"Hosanna in the Highest,"
To our Lord and Savior King.
We offer heart's true homage
And loud Hosannas sing!

Elizabeth O. Marsh.

SERMONETTE
For Our Sakes

The first Palm Sunday is over. Most of the vast concourse of people have left, but Jesus is talking to those who remained. His heart is troubled and he tells them so frankly. He asks, "What shall I say? Father save me from this hour; but for this cause came I unto this hour." In thus answering his own question he was faced with the alternative every man and woman must avail themselves of in hours of despair, the appeal to God. Some meet the supreme hours with faith, others without belief.

It is in such hours that faith in God sustains the Jew and the Christian, Catholic or Protestant.

The divine Redeemer was no exception. How true it is that we can experience no grief or suffering or humfliation that he did not experience.

He prays "Father, glorify thy name," and a voice from heaven answered, "I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again."

Here is the reason for Christianity. Let the philosophers scoff if they will. The supreme hours come to all. Not always death, for there are hours requiring greater fortitude than to face death, but always if we have faith we have God. Jesus said, "This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes."

William A. Holman.

STRAND THEATRE

You'll laugh so heartily that you'll cry when you see "They Just Had to Get Married," the funniest motion picture in years, which comes Monday and Tuesday with its two leading roles played by the screen's greatest man-and-woman comedy team—Slim Summerville and ZaSu Pitts. Here is a picture which runs the whole gamut of comedy, from biting satire to riotous farce, with a fast pace which at times will have you literally holding onto the arms of your seat, thrilling with dangerous exploits at the same time you are shrieking with laughter. "They Just Had to Get Married" is a comedy classic. The cast appearing in support of Summerville and Miss Pitts includes Roland Young, Verree Teasdale, Fifi D'Orsay and many other popular screen players.—adv.

The next meeting of the Farm Bureau will be held April 13 at the Community House in charge of Mrs. Lida Creamer, home management project leader. The subject is "Storage Spaces In the Kitchen" and anyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

Happy Workers 4-H Club met at the home of the leader Mrs. Ada Elwell Saturday afternoon for its ninth meeting, with 11 present. The cooking-housekeeping girls studied the table of weights and measures used in cooking and made fudge for refreshments, Esther Light and Mildred Elwell doing the cooking. Several nice articles in the sewing project were brought for inspection. Guessing games by the assistant leader Miss Eleanor Achorn furnished recreation. The next meeting will be April 8 when Miss Clark will be present for the judging contest. She will also meet the Boys' Club on the same afternoon at 4 o'clock for their judging contest.

THE ROOSEVELT SALAD

ALONG with the new administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt has come the new Roosevelt Salad, which promises to attain great popularity this spring and summer. Named in honor of the new President, the Roosevelt Salad was first introduced on his inauguration day in the United States Senate Restaurant in the Capitol at Washington by Chef George Baumgartner.

Within a week after its introduction to the inaugural crowds at Washington, the new Roosevelt Salad had appeared on the menus of prominent hotels and restaurants throughout the country, especially in New York, Atlantic City, Cleveland and Chicago, and had met with popular favor. The ingredients are vegetables commonly grown in all parts of the country, making the new salad as inexpensive as it has been found to be wholesome and delicious. Following is Chef Baumgartner's recipe for:

Roosevelt Salad

1 cup chopped celery
1 cup shredded white and red cabbage
½ cup green peppers
1 cup mayonnaise
1 cup diced carrots
1 cup French peas

Thoroughly mix the above ingredients and serve on crisp lettuce. (This amount serves an ordinary family.)

OUR BOOK CORNER

Arthur Kallet and F. J. Schlink have written a practical book called 100,000,000 Guinea Pigs — which seems a very strange title until we read it. Then all is clear—we are the Guinea Pigs being experimented upon by manufacturers of everything from mouth wash to cold creams. And there are 100,000,000 of us in the United States. This book presents statements regarding drugs, cosmetics, food products, and patent medicines which claim to do things they not only are unable to do, but are in many cases actually harmful, the authors say.

A Chinese library known as the Fung Ping Shan Library, was recently opened at the Hong Kong University by the Governor, Sir William Peel. The library is the gift of a Chinese benefactor, to enable the University of Hong Kong to become the chief center in South China for the collection and preservation of ancient Chinese literature and classics, and to encourage in the Chinese community the study of the language and tradition of their motherland. Sir William Hornell, vice-chancellor of the university, declared that the library was a storehouse of Chinese tradition and ideas—modern as well as ancient, dynamic as well as static—a storehouse which should be open for all time to all those who wish to consult its accumulated wisdom.—Christian Science Monitor.

Since Rose Franklin dissected an average American family for the education of Broadway Theatre audiences in her play "Another Language," there has been something like a score of others who have aspired to the same ambition. Daniel Kusell is the latest with his comedy "The Party's Over" He presents a poignant picture of a smug pre-depression family, who, fat with comfortable prosperity, has fallen back into a parasitical rut. The author has written this vignette of American life with a great deal of charm, a tolerant understanding and a fortunate sense of humor.

Again quoting from the Monitor: Sir James Barrie was recently selected as the favorite dramatist of the patrons of the Liverpool Playhouse, the oldest repertory theatre in Great Britain. Sir James proved an easy winner, his plays receiving 216 votes in a plebiscite specially taken to find the favorite works of playgoers. Galsworthy was second with 193, and G. Bernard Shaw an indifferent third with a score of 78. Frederick Lonsdale, William Somerset Maugham and Noel Coward came next in order, the latter obtaining 41 votes. The most popular single play was Barrie's "Mary Rose," for which 55 people voted, followed by John Masefield's translation of the Norwegian play "The Witch," which had two votes less.

The voting covered a wide field, ranging from the drama of Great Britain to that of America and the Continent of Europe. Moreover, the plebiscite reached all sorts of people, for the plays voted for included such widely different kinds of dramatic art as the "Frogs" of Aristophanes, "The Silver King" and "East Lynne," while Shakespeare, Eugene O'Neill, Tchekov, Pirandello and A. A. Milne were not forgotten. It is surely significant that Sir James Barrie and Galsworthy should have so easily beaten all other competitors. The modern world is frequently said to be cynical, hard boiled and disillusioned. But disillusioned, hard-boiled and cynical people do not choose Barrie as their favorite dramatist—nor, for that matter, Galsworthy, although he is not, like Sir James, a romantic.

Order a plentiful supply of gladiolus bulbs. You will need more than you think when it comes to cutting them next summer. Six stalks make only one bouquet.

In cold snaps when the windows frost over, a double thickness of newspaper between the sash and the seed boxes will be a good protection and may save loss of plants.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Where a hotbed is impracticable, a cold frame makes an excellent substitute, one of its chief values being as a place into which to transplant from seedboxes started in the house.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Nothing makes a neater and more compact miniature hedge for edging than dwarf signata pumila marigolds.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Garden plans should be finished by this time to furnish the basis for the seed order. Draw them to scale. Garden advisors always say you ought to draw plans. Do it just once for the experience.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Try some of the dwarf dahlias as annuals. They grow as easily as asters or zinnias.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Try some of the South African daisies, dimorphotheca, arctotis, venidium. All are of attractive colorings and grow well in hotter and dryer situations than most. There are some striking orange tones among them.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

A sieve is a necessity in flower seed sowing. The soil should be sifted for seed boxes and it is best sifted over seeds when planted in the open ground.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Get in bags of plant food to be ready for fast work when the season opens. Shredded cow manure is becoming a standard in lieu of the old-time stable manure. It is clean and easy to handle.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

All perennials and hardy annuals can be sown on the frozen ground if it is desired to get an early start. Sow all kinds of poppy seed. Iceland poppies scattered now will give plants to bloom next fall up to freezing weather and furnish beautiful cutting material.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

You can sow poppy, larkspur and bachelor buttons seed any day the snow is off the ground with good results.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

You will want for cutting calendulas, cornflowers, larkspurs, and baby's breath. Order a plentiful quantity of seed.

◆ ◆ ◆ ◆

Try sweet sultans for cut flowers. They are full brothers to the cornflower or bachelors button, but much handsomer. You will need to plant a succession, as their blooming season is short.

While the weather checks many an ambitious plan to get sweet peas planted on St. Patrick's Day, according to traditional formula, they can just as well be started indoors and transplanted and will probably give better vines in consequence. They transplant readily.

Fabrikoid, resembling tweed, in the new vagabondish flat envelope style is used. The back strap handle is in a soft patent finish of the same material and continues around the front in neat band trim with button closing. This meets the practical demands of the mode in that it is not only sturdy and not easily scuffed but also that it cleans easily with soap and water. It is to be had in black and the other favored colors.

BIG SEARCHLIGHTS TO BE TRIED OUT

Designed to Detect and Illuminate Aerial Targets.

Washington.—Considerable interest is being taken in the searchlight equipment which will be operated at Fort Knox during the air exercises to be held in May. Three anti-aircraft artillery regiments will arrive at Knox early in May.

An anti-aircraft artillery regiment is composed of a headquarters battery, a gun battalion, and a machine-gun battalion.

The gun battalion includes a headquarters battery and combat train, a searchlight battery, and three 3-inch anti-aircraft gun batteries of four guns each.

The searchlight battery is the largest unit of the anti-aircraft regiment. It includes three platoons of five lights each, with six additional lights in reserve. Its purpose is to discover and illuminate aerial targets at night in order that the guns may open fire on the target. Each platoon consists of five searchlight sections and the section consists of a searchlight and its power plant, a sound locator and corrector, and a comparator or distant electric controller by which the direction in which the searchlight beams point may be made parallel to the source of sound as indicated by the sound locator.

As usually operated in the field, the sound locator searches the atmosphere in a certain sector to detect the sound of airplanes. When such sound is heard the operators center the source of sound, which they can do within about three degrees of arc, and a correction is applied for sound lag. As the sound locator continues following the target the searchlight is turned by means of the distant electric controller to the direction of the airplane, as shown on the dials of the comparator and, when it is judged that the plane is within range of the searchlight, power is turned on and the searchlight beam should be directed toward the airplane.

The searchlight is an electric arc light of 800,000,000 candlepower at the focus of a parabolic mirror 60 inches in diameter.

With the average airplane as a target it is generally conceded that a searchlight can pick up the target at an average range of two miles, but once the target is in the beam of light it can be seen for about six miles' range.

Soft Tires on Motors Cause Wastage of Gas

Ames, Iowa.—Gasoline mileage has a direct ratio to tire inflation, Ray G. Paustian of the Iowa state highway commission has discovered after three months of research.

Soft tires mean wasted gas, Paustian says. His tests show that for every ten pounds the tire is allowed to drop below its normal pressure an 8 per cent decrease in mileage is obtained from gasoline.

The experiments also showed that the tire diameter increased one-half inch as the speed of the car varied from zero to 60 miles per hour. On the cars used in the experiment, there were seven fewer revolutions of the wheel per mile at 60 miles per hour than there were at five miles per hour.

Scientific Expedition to Hunt White Indians

New York.—A new attempt to locate pig-headed white pigmy Indians, reputed to live in an unexplored section of Brazil, has been begun by Brooklyn museum scientists headed by Desmond "Bud" Holdridge, it was announced by Lee Trenholm, New York manager of the expedition, on receipt of a letter from the expedition's base in Brazil.

Two searches of the Sierra Parima jungles have failed to find any traces of the legendary tribe, although the vicinity of the Gatrimany rivers has been searched. The new attempt will be along the Demini river.

Trenholm said maps had been found almost worthless by the explorers.

"Electric" Palate to Give Dope on Food

New York.—An electrynx, or "electric palate," that tastes and gives readings of the acidity, or juice character and also indicates the ripeness of apples, oranges, lemons, and other fruits and vegetables, together with the recording of the acid contents of tea and coffee, has been developed by R. C. Hitchcock, electronic engineer. It was demonstrated for the first time here recently.

This latest scientific achievement is so sensitive that it records the action of one-millionth of an ampere, or about one-tenth the "wing power" of an ordinary horse fly and is 100 per cent more sensitive than any of its type now on the market.

Previous recording meters of this sensitivity were expensive and not readily portable. The electrynx was primarily designed for the measuring of the minute currents that flow in photo-electric tube circuits.

Traveling Around America

OFF TO MARKET

YOU or I would find carrying a load of pottery to market on our backs a ticklish if not impossible task, but this Guatemalan "cargadero" doesn't seem to mind.

At San José, one of the Central American ports touched by ships en route between New York and California, the visitor is amazed to see natives carrying great loads to market with marvelous grace and apparent ease. They cover great distances—anywhere from 15 to 100 miles.

Just before market day, the roads are dotted with Indians wending their way to market striding on tireless legs, arms swinging rhythmically, their great burdens towering above their shoulders. Many of these loads—a pile of pottery, a cargo of maize, fruits, baskets, or cloth—are balanced deftly on the top of the head, the result of centuries of practice.

At the "mercado" or public market, the Indians unload the wares from their shoulders. They sit against the walls of the market buildings or alongside the curb, their merchandise spread out before them.

The market contains an immense number of novelties of interest to tourists. Quaint Indian pottery, handwoven cottons in gay colors, bright shawls or serapes, baskets, hats, in and outside the market walls, vie for attention with piles of blue-looking "frijoles" or beans, exotic fruits and fish. Here and there in the marketplace one spies natives squatting near small charcoal braziers and cooking meals in a limited space that would make an American housewife throw up her hands in amazement.

OUR STANDARD OF LIVING

Thousands of years ago men and women dwelt in caves. The women and children huddled together while the men went out with spear and hatchet to secure that primal want of all mankind—FOOD.

This food was the raw flesh of wild animals: clothing, wild animals' skins. Comfort, as we know it, was then unknown. Safety for self and family was dependent upon the skill to kill.

The only law was the law of might. The strong survived—the weak and sick perished.

Gradually, through the ages, man's standard of living improved, until today the standard of living the world over is higher than any time since the dawn of history and people of the United States have more of the comforts and luxuries of living than the people of any other country.

We, of the United States, are blessed with greater prosperity, greater pleasure, luxury and more conveniences than any other group of people in the history of mankind.

America abounds with opportunity for study, safe and healthful work—the kind of work that leaves the worker with enough leisure for recuperation and recreation—time to partake of the joy of living.

Working conditions are better than in any other country. Not only are working conditions better and hours of labor shorter, but most important of all, our workers enjoy an opportunity to earn sufficient income to meet the cost of the highest standards of living in all human history.

During the last score of years the income of the average family has more than doubled. This has resulted in allowing most of us to enjoy comforts and pleasures that our fathers could but dream of.

But there are still those among us who have failed to prosper in like proportion. There are families whose annual income is below that necessary to properly raise their children—our future citizens. It is our duty to our community to furnish these wage earners with the standards of living. General employment at high wages is the heart of our prosperity.

One method of creating this opportunity of service to others is to foster home industry—promote our community's welfare—enjoy the highest standard of living possible to each one of us individually.

Senior Play Is Successful

The play, "It Happened in Hollywood," drew a large audience to Watts hall Friday evening. The frequent applause showed the appreciation of the audience. The cast had been wisely selected and responded very cleverly to the coaching of Miss Rita Smith and Miss Eleanor Seeber. The attractive setting of the stage added to the interest in the scenes. It is rarely that a play by young persons passes off so smoothly. Without detracting from the merit of any other, Charles Stackpole in the character of Jarvis, the butler, did particularly good work. One other feature which deserves mention was the drop curtain acting. Miss Smith and Miss Seeber were called to the stage and presented bouquets of flowers. The play had enough of real life in it to hold the attention of the audience to the end.

The cast: Jarvis, the butler, Charles E. Stackpole; messenger, Donald F. Anderson; Tom Garrity, press agent, Forrest E. Grafton; Alan Tremayne, with movie aspirations, Richard W. Feyler; Josie Pembroke, daughter of the house, Evelyn M. Beckett; Princess Dolores, Hazel H. Harrison; Phyllis Duganne, reporter, Phyllis M. Belasco; Bert, chauffeur temporarily, Albert P. Gould; Doreen Downing, movie star, Marjorie E. Mills: Polly O'Connor, comedy actress, Charlotte Dyer; Mrs. Pembroke, the lady of the house, Elizabeth Woodcock; Sir Humphrey, Myron S. Simmons: announcer—Ernest Doyle. The High School orchestra furnished music.

Mrs. Faustina Brown Meservey

Deep sadness prevails over this community, caused by the death early Monday morning of Mrs. Faustina (Brown) Meservey, wife of Frank L. Meservey and oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Brown. She had been very ill the past four weeks

"Tena," as she was lovingly called, was born in Appleton June 24, 1915. She had always resided in this town and it was here she went to school, graduating from A.H.S. last June. She was married later in the same month to Frank L. Meservey Jr. of North Appleton and the marriage was a very happy one. She was of sunny disposition, with always a smile and pleasant word for everyone.

Through her school years she entered heartily into all activities, performing her part in a manner which showed both ability and sportsmanchip. Her life was short but in those years she had so endeared herself to the hearts of both older and the young folks, that she will not easily be forgotten. No words can tell, nor can one know what good has come or yet may come from that life

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to the young husband, the parents, the sister, the grandparents and all other relatives. Everything that was possible was done for her, but all to no avail. The funeral was held at the Baptist Church Thursday afternoon following a prayer at the home at noon.

THE REALM OF MUSIC

Gladys St. Clair Morgan

The recent student day program of the Rubinstein Club is still a matter of commendation with those who were fortunate enough to hear it. The variety of talent offered—piano, violin, trumpet and guitar—was unusual, and never had there been more finished and better poised performers, down to the tiniest tots. It was thoroughly delightful and it is not stretching a point to say that the audience would have welcomed the opportunity to sit through the program again.

Once again this is opportunity to stress the efficiency of home teachers—teachers who have had the advantage of excellent training, who maintain their homes here, and who have the interest of our children close at heart. There is not one but gives richly of time and training outside of what we pay for. At all times they show an individual interest in the child and never fail to co-operate in promoting musical interest among young people. They merit loyal support and consideration.

Our attention is being directed largely now to the forthcoming harmonica band contest in Portland, sponsored by the junior department of the Maine Federation of Music Clubs, for in that contest will appear the Rockland School Harmonica Band, organized and trained by Mrs. Ruth E. Sanborn. This band is going to give them a "run for their money," in the vernacular of the day. Mrs. Sanborn is also chairman of the contest, which takes place April 22. There will be a unison competition and a two-part competition. The Julia E. Noyes cup, now held by the Shailer School group of Portland, is to be the trophy in the unison contest, and the Counsellor's cup is offered for the first time in the two-part contest. Bands will number not less than 10 nor more than 25 members, and a conductor or accompanist is optional. All numbers will be played from memory. Selections in the unison playing are "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes," and "Battle Hymn of the Republic." For the two-part playing "Silent Night" and "Juanita" have been chosen. Each club is invited to send one soloist, and ensemble numbers will be given during the recess of the judges. It is expected the Rockland band will appear in the broadcast, so we must all put a red line around April 22 to jog our memories and listen in.

The April 1st issue of Musical Courier has a short article about Harold Hansen, tenor, who appeared in one of the earliest Bibb concerts at Camden. It reads:

"Harold Hansen, tenor, began his musical career as a concert pianist, and even after his vocal talents were discovered did not entirely abandon his original affiliation, for he gave piano lessons during the time that he himself was studying voice with Frank Bibb. In 1924 Mr. Hansen went on a tour of the Middle west, south and east with William Wade Hinshaw's Opera Comique. He sang in Mozart's Bastien and Bastienne and took the role of Mozart in The Impressario. The next year found him singing in The Student Prince in Chicago and other midland cities. Then followed engagements with the Schuberts and with the American Opera Company. Since then Mr. Hansen has been singing over the air, his first program being the Arco birthday party on WEAF. Following this he was engaged by the Hoffman hour over WOR, Mr. Hansen's offerings to the program drawn from grand opera, both lyric and dramatic tenor arias."

On this program appeared Nelson Eddy, baritone, who was recently heard in a Portland concert. Mr. Eddy is hailed as one of the most promising young American singers of today. When he and Sigurd Nilssen were co-artists on the Arco hour it was difficult to find a more brilliant and satisfying program. The elimination of this program brought regret to hosts of music lovers.

The March issue of the Southern Workman, a monthly magazine published by the Hampton (Va.) Institute, contains an interesting article called The Musical Genius of the American Negro, by Clarence Cameron White.

He points out how steadily and legitimately the Negro race has developed its musical tendencies since the slavery period ended. Our colored people number approximately 12,000,000. In 1900 the Federal Census showed that there were 3915 Negro teachers of music in the United States Today there are nearly 8000. Negro soloists occupy prominent places in the recital field. Negro composers contribute to the concert repertoire from songs to symphonic works. Spirituals form an important part of innumerable vocal recitals. Hampton, Fisk, and Tuskegee supply choruses that gain honors wherever they appear. Many of the best popular songs come from Negro creators. The folk songs of that race now form an integral part of the folk songs of America. More than a few competent experts declare that Negro folk songs are the oldest and only authentic music of our soil, aside from unformed primitive chants of the Indians.

It is especially reassuring to know that race opposition seems destined to play almost no role in the advancement of the Negro in music. Author White quotes William Dean Howells as being on written record with this opinion: "I permit myself the imaginative prophecy that hostilities and prejudices which have so long constrained the Negro, are destined to vanish in the Arts. That is to be the final proof that God has made of one blood all nations of men."

What a wonderful show the High School Minstrels was! It seems almost incredible that a group of youngsters could put on a performance of such merit, so smoothly running and so peppy, prepared in conjunction with their studies and the thousand and one other activities that enter into high school life. The whole secret of the success was in the splendid coaching given by Miss Adelaide E. Cross and her sister, Mrs. Charlotte Jackson of the faculty staff, and the whole-hearted cooperation given by the cast and others of the student body. Efficient directorship and teamwork—a great combination—hard to beat.

On the occasion of the 50th anniversary (last Feb. 13) of Wagner's death, the Soviet officials in Russia permitted performances in his honor, "not only as a musical genius but also as a one-time revolutionist and friend of Mikhaili Bakunin."

Wagner's early political democracy quickly vanished after he realized that it interfered with his musical career He sought the help of highly placed and moneyed personages, and his chief patron became King Ludwig of Bavaria. Wagner also moved heaven and earth to persuade Kaiser Wilhelm I to attend the first Bayreuth Festival in 1876, and that monarch allowed himself to be shamed into going, although he did not hesitate to express his boredom to other occupants of the royal box. King Ludwig also was present at the initial Beyreuth Festival. Wagner sought and secured the influence of Napoleon III for the production of Tannhauser at the Paris Opera; married Cosima von Bulow, divorced wife of an aristocrat; and died in a palace at Venice. "Not much in all that, to suggest hostility toward royalty and capitalism, and overwhelming love for the proletariat," comments Leonard Liebling.

A GYPSY SONG

A lonely boy, across the upland pasture,
Was driving cattle home. The evening star
Was bright above the road and a covered wagon—
He heard a gypsy song and an old guitar,
Then laughter, soft and far.

He wandered closer, caught a breath of cedar,
The little fire's bright glow against the hill,
And glimpsed a face; the gypsy song was throbbing
With his own heart; the music seemed to fill
The night that grew so still.

Long after in the cornrows he could hear it,
Long after, in strange port it seemed to be
A little closer, by a starry window,
Or on some moon-enchanted balcony—
And then—in winds at sea.

He heard it in the desert, and the mountains
As clearly as when first the evening star
Was bright above the road—and still was lonely.
A little gypsy song! And an old guitar!
Then laughter, soft and far.

—Glenn Ward Dresbach in Christian Science Monitor.

AN ENGAGEMENT PARTY

Rockland Girl To Wed Member of Coast Guard Cutter Kickapoo's Personnel

Mrs. Elizabeth Crockett and Miss Mildred Moody gave a supper party at the former's home on North Main street Thursday, the occasion serving to announce the engagement of Mrs. Crockett's daughter, Miss Harriet L. Grover, to Samuel H. Warren of Machiasport.

The long table was prettily decorated in pink and white. Place cards in the shape of hearts bore the names of the guests spelled backward. The centerpiece was a replica of the Cutter Kickapoo floating on a sea of glass, and surrounded by miniature icebergs. From the boat were streamers leading to each place, and bearing a tiny envelope containing a card with the initials of the engaged couple. The envelope for Miss Grover contained the handsome engagement ring.

After supper Miss Grover was made to go on a "treasure hunt," mysteriously wrapped packages concealed in various parts of the house revealing an assortment of attractive and useful articles, including silver, linen, pewter, etc. Jig-saw puzzles furnished much amusement.

Guests were Mrs. Henry Jordan and daughter Barbara, Mrs. Donald Cummings, Mrs. Rudolph Jamieson, Mrs. Cora Pendleton, Miss Beatrice Mills, Miss Helen Stetson and Miss Vernette Cross of Thomaston, Mrs. May Daggett, Mrs. Jesse Carroll, Miss Arlene Chaples, Mrs. Clara Hewett, Mrs. Blanche Fales and Mrs. Walter Kimball.

Miss Grover is a graduate of Rockland High School, '26, and is a popular employe at the E. B. Crockett store. Mr. Warren, son of George Warren of Machiasport, is in the Coast Guard service, on the Kickapoo, and has formed many friends since stationed in this vicinity. The date for the wedding has not been divulged.

GUARDIANS OF OUR COAST

What our lightkeepers and coast guardsmen are doing to protect coastwise shipping by day and by night. The day's news from many lonely outposts along Maine's waterfront.

Dice Head

Keeper King has been laid up with a bad cold for the last five days but at the present is on the mend. The keeper and wife had a very pleasant surprise the first day of April. They had just sat down to eat dinner when a car drove in the yard and out came their daughter and son-in-law and grandson Kenneth, Eleanor and Harold Robbins. They drove up from Manset to spend the day with us.

The Lions Club put on a minstrel show March 29 which proved a great success, had a packed house, gallery and standing room. Everyone seemed to enjoy it according to all reports. Fifty per cent of the net proceeds was given to the Community Hospital.

The plumbing and painting has commenced around some of the cottages so it looks as if we were going to have some visitors this summer.

• • • •

Pond Island

Keeper and Mrs. Fickett have recovered from their colds and Mrs. Fickett is cleaning paint. Keeper Fickett is going around with a paint pail in one hand and a brush in the other, slapping on where it is most needed.

The winter storms and seas did some damage here and we expect there will be a workman come some time this spring or summer, as the tender Ilex landed material here recently.

Keeper and Mrs. Fickett thank Editor Fuller for the postcard he sent from Florida. He is kind to remember us and we appreciate it very much.

Miss Opal Watson is spending a few days with Keeper and Mrs. Fickett. While coming down from Bath on the boat she lost her watch overboard.

There was a fire in Popham Beach recently that did some damage to the postoffice.

The roads are still pretty bad from Popham to Bath.

Keeper Fickett says "Hello Gus" to Keeper Hamor.

Fred Osgood won first prize at the Parker Head whist club March 23.

The Osgoods' daughter Ethel is making her mother a visit in Bath this week.

The road to Bath is getting very bad and will soon be impassable, if there is much frost in the ground. The mail is late getting through every day.

We get letters regularly from Lorimer Brackett, who is spending the winter at Lake Worth, Fla. He reports quite warm weather there.

Quite a lot of traffic by here. March 28 U.S.C.G. cutter Kickapoo and two oil tankers passed.

We extend our sympathy to the people of Seguin and hope for their speedy recovery.

Our daughter Mrs. Robert Barlow has returned to her home at East Boothbay after spending two weeks at the light and with her mother in Bath.

Leona Osgood who is a member of Mr. King's guitar ensemble made her first public appearance at the Bath Opera House March 27.

Well John! about this time we used to get the old marble bag out and also get our knees muddy. Good old days.

Fred Osgood went trout fishing Saturday and caught two handsome ones, a little over eight inches. He and the keeper and the cat haven't developed any signs of the gout yet.

Ethel and Barbara Osgood came home April 3 after visiting their mother in Bath for ten days.

Deer Island Thoroughfare

Mrs. Frances C. Murphy and children came home to spend vacation with their parents and grandparents for a week. Misses Hilda and Abbie Barter came with them and stayed until Tuesday morning when Mrs. Conary went in town to stay overnight with Mrs. Elizabeth Sellers.

Spring cleaning and painting is the order of the day at Mark Island.

Burnt Island

March has made us twice glad—glad when it came and glad to see it go.

We wish to thank Editor Fuller for the pretty card he sent us from Florida.

Mrs Douglas Larrabee will occupy her grandfather's house at Boothbay Harbor.

Mrs. Staples plans to go to Portland Monday to accompany her granddaughter Mrs. Larrabee and two children to Boothbay Harbor where they will make their home. Little Dickie Larrabee has been in the Maine General Hospital, Portland, for rickets but at this writing he is well again.

Mrs. Staples attended the Ladies Aid Tuesday and reported a very nice time.

Portland Head

Mrs. Thayer Sterling called on Mrs. W. C. Dow Sunday.

Thomas Flanagan, electrician, completed work here Monday.

Delayed March winds came along with plenty force Wednesday.

Miss Mary Toothaker and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dow visited Mrs. Martha Sterling Thursday.

Miss Martha Martin was motoring with Mrs. Adora Hilt recently.

Mrs. Thayer Sterling and Mrs. W. C. Dow visited Mrs. Charles Sterling of Peak's Island Wednesday.

As we write Thursday the weather is more on the lamb type—quite a change from yesterday. Glad to see a good spring day. Already grass fires have been started and fire alarms are sounding more often.

A nation waited patiently to catch every available word following the first news of the terrible disaster when the U. S. dirigible Akron, greatest sky ship, crashed into the Atlantic Tuesday morning and 73 gave their lives. Planes seem hard hit this week. Following the Akron down comes the rescue blimp J-3 while searching for survivors of the Akron, and death claims two more. In Monday's paper we read about the Canadian basketball champions, six men killed and eight injured when their plane plunged into a muddy field at Neodesha, Kas., making a death total of 81 this week as we figure it.

Baker Island

March 22 Keeper Turner of Bear Island landed Edward Spinney and Preston Turner, government workmen, to repair the damage done by the storm some time ago, also to shingle the shed and service room.

The crew spend the evenings playing 63 and at the close of the game a great laugh is to be heard at how the score came out.

March 30 steamer Hibiscus landed cement at this station.

March 30 Preston Turner was presented a birthday cake by the keeper's wife, Mrs. Frank Faulkingham. It was his 30th birthday.

Little Lucille enjoyed riding in the truck with her father while cleaning up the wood from the shore brought in by the waves.

Keeper Faulkingham sends thanks to Editor Fuller for remembering him with a postcard from Miami.

March 29 Fred Burlem motored to Bar Harbor Hospital for Mrs. William Lockhart to bring her to Baker Island with her father and mother until she is able to continue her trip to Great Duck Island with her husband. Mrs. Lockhart is now resting comfortably. Good care by all to aid her on the trip made it a very pleasant one, and a perfect day as one could wish for. Many thanks to all for their kindness.

Rockland Breakwater

The Maine Seaboard Paper Co. steamer Malang passed in by this light at 9 p. m. March 20 and laid at anchor just inside breakwater during the storm.

The spring cleaning and painting is now in order, but will try to write a few lines once a week as we surely enjoy the "Guardians of Our Coast" news.

We wish to thank Editor Fuller for the nice card he sent, also hope to have him visit us this summer, and that goes for the rest of The Courier-Gazette's staff.

The Eastern Steamship Co. steamer Cornish did not make her run March 30. It must have been pretty rough outside.

Two Bush Island

D. L. Mann in checking up on his egg chart for the month of March found that the biddies laid 516 eggs, each hen's average 21½. Pretty good month's work. For the three months of January February and March they produced 1340 eggs. These chicks were purchased from Albion Wotton of Friendship.

Fred Batty and his cousin H Nelson have set traps. The two boys went clamming recently and the fried clams and chowder were certainly enjoyed.

Everything is up in arms here. House cleaning is in full swing.

Mrs. F. C. Batty, son Bill, nephew N Nelson of Portland and daughter Mrs. F. E. Singer who has been with her husband at Isles of Shoals light station, arrived recently.

In tearing out one of the pillars on the piazza, inside of one of the boards was written in lead pencil the words "W. B. Hatch, foreman on this job commenced April 8, 1897. Who tears this out please let me know. W. B. Hatch, 112 Fulton street, Rockland." It was torn out by the keepers March 24, 1933. Wonder if Mr. Hatch is still among the land of the living.

Fred Batty and Darrell Mann have been in Rockland on business.

There is lots of shipping passing, mostly large freight steamers and a large five-master loaded for up river ports. A five-master is very noticeable these days.

Jigsaw puzzles, baseball and cleaning house furnish most of the excitement here.

Keeper Mann was interested to read E. N. Larrabee's news letter in these columns, as years ago he was with Mr. Larrabee in the White Head coast guard. It seemed but yesterday. How the time flies as the wheel rolls on.

Manana Island

Not much news at this time as each day is routine cleaning, painting and scraping, with a little extra fog for a change. It has been fog and rain all this week so far.

We were all shocked by the loss of the Akron and crew. Our sympathy goes out to their families.

Sea Coast Missionary boat Sunbeam was at Monhegan one day last week and Mr. Guptill made us a call, as he always does when at the island.

Several ships are passing by here, one in sight most of the time. Some schooners are seen too and they surely look good to us.

Vinal Foss has a fine new punt built by Henry Stanley. They are a handy boat here, for use to get the children to and from school and the mail. The keeper is building one for himself in his spare time.

• • • •

Burnt Coat Harbor

It has been stormy at this station for the past week but we are looking forward to a few days of good weather now.

The missionary boat Sunbeam has been in the harbor twice during the past week. The lobster smack Louise McLoon of Rockland was also in Visitors at the station the past week were Miss Glenys Smith, Mrs. Herbert Wheaton, Mrs. Forest Stanley, Charles Burns, Jr. and Elliot Smith, all of Swan's Island.

The Cuckolds

Mrs. H. E. Seavey returned from Ellsworth with her little daughter Patricia. After arriving at Newagen they were unable to get over to the station for two days owing to the rough seas on the slip. While in Newagen they visited at the home of Capt. and Mrs. E. Gamage.

Friday afternoon Mr. Beal and Mr. Dodge left for Ram Island. Lawrence Gamage took them over to the station in his large motor boat.

The men at Newagen are getting good catches of fish. Some are trawling and some netting, and selling their fish at New Harbor.

Mr. Seavey has purchased a new Kenmore washing machine with a 4-cycle engine. It is a fine looking machine as well as a labor saver.

Miss Juanita Seavey who is attending grammar school at Ellsworth won first prize of $1 as the best darner in the domestic science class. The second prize of 50 cents was won by Lena Farrell.

Weston Gamage returned to his home at Newagen after working two weeks with the carpenters here.

DEAR OLD WASHINGTON!

Behold the Bouquet That Jerusha Sargent of Stickney's Corner Tosses

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

I want to say just a word of praise for good old Washington (Maine). Although we may get a black eye occasionally, remember the breeze comes and the breeze goes, and, as our late senator L. M. Staples said, perfection was never attained by man much more than by a child.

You can all come in from the north, south, east and west—make a house to house canvass—you will find so many many good people. Of course the past two years many strangers have moved in with whom we are not acquainted, and in days past many of our dear ones have moved away and when they finally located it was in other towns, but I don't believe it was for the reason that they did not love dear old Washington.

You cannot find on the map a better or kinder neighborhood than Stickney Corner. The correspondent has lived here 39 years, and in sickness and death there is nothing in the world they won't do for you, and do you want any better neighborhood than that? So come in and call on the old standbys and be royally entertained. The breeze may come and the breeze will go, but remember we all love dear old Washington.

Jerusha E. Sargent

ILLUSION: A "strong man" once gave public performances in which he stopped a 9 lb. cannon ball shot from a fully charged cannon. The audience gasped when the gun flashed and the human Gibraltar stepped forward out of the smoke uninjured, with the 9 lb. shot in his hands.

EXPLANATION: The trick lay in the way an assistant prepared the cannon for the performance. He used the regulation amount of powder and wadding, but placed the greater part of the charge of powder ahead of the shot. The cannon ball was propelled only by the small charge behind it which was just sufficient to lob the 9 lb. ball over to the strong man.

It's fun to be fooled— ...it's more fun to KNOW

A performance sometimes staged in cigarette advertising is the illusion that cigarettes are made easy on the throat by some special process of manufacture.

EXPLANATION: All cigarettes are made in almost exactly the same way. Manufacturing methods are standard and used by all. A cigarette is only as good as the tobaccos it contains.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

In costly tobaccos you will find mildness, good taste, throat-ease.

Smoke Camels critically, and give your taste a chance to appreciate the greater pleasure and satisfaction offered by the more expensive tobaccos. Other cigarettes, we believe, will taste flat and insipid to you forever after.
