Augusta is having another boxing exhibition tomorrow night, with Ossie Stewart and Manny Davis slated for the main bout. The show has local interest as there will be two Rockland boys in the prelims—Cyclone Hooper, meeting Kid Gilbert of Augusta; and Young Smith meeting Young Burns of Winthrop. "Two sea lions" is the way the posters advertise the latter bout.

Arthur Hebert, well known in this vicinity for his many years of professional stage work, plays Judas Iscariot. Others in the cast include Ivan Young, who takes the part of Pilate, Cranston Dean, Linwood Cilley, Laura Hall, Bessie Heald, Irma McKinney, Bertrand Eugley, George Hardy, Grover Bridges and Irwin Heald. Mrs. R. S. Knight has charge of properties and scenery. Herbert Brown is managing the colored lights, and a choir, Lincoln Young.

GOLD STANDARD ABANDONED

In a day of historic financial action, President Roosevelt moved boldly forward last night for controlled inflation on an international scale.

He swung the United States off the gold standard in the world trade as an opening shot and sanctioned legislation giving him broad authority to carry through his program to lift American prices, stabilize the world exchanges on a revised gold basis and expand the use of currency.

The swiftly executed maneuvers by the confident President brought a turbulent reaction throughout the world. American stock and commodity prices shot upward. The dollar fell off in the world exchanges. Wall Street quotations on foreign currency rose spectacularly.

The judges of the competition for harmonica and rhythm bands to be held Saturday afternoon in Portland under the auspices of the Junior Department of the Maine Federation of Music Clubs are Mrs. Dawn Conant Grant of Auburn, Mrs. Mildred Stockbridge Bennett of Freeport and Mrs. Helen M. Dolley of Limerick. Miss Louise H. Armstrong of Portland has charge of the contests and Miss Ruth Burke, also of Portland is chairman of the committee on judges.

GEN. AMES' BURIAL

Body Laid At Rest In Tewksbury — More Concerning His War Record

The body of Gen. Adelbert Ames, who had been the last surviving Union general of the Civil War, Tuesday was borne to a warrior's grave. As a bugle sounded taps and the echoes of a parting volley rolled along the hills, his casket was lowered to its last resting place in a family plot in Hildreth cemetery, Tewksbury, Mass.

Gen. Ames died in Florida last Friday at the age of 97. Except for delegations representing the Legion of Valor, the U. S. Military Academy, Grand Army of the Republic and the American Legion, services at Gen. Ames' Tewksbury home were private. They were conducted by Rev. Charles W. Huntington of Waltham, an old friend.

The Courier-Gazette has already published an extended obituary of its distinguished son, but the review of his life, as found in the New York Herald Tribune reveals much worthy of republication. Here are a few excerpts:

"Adelbert Ames crowded into 15 years enough achievement for a normal lifetime. His fame as a soldier was established before he was 30 and he was only 40 when he returned to New York with most of his work behind him.

"When the first battle of Bull Run was fought, July 21, 1861, before an audience of members of Congress, government officials and society women, who drove out from Washington in their carriages, the young lieutenant was commanding a part of Griffin's battery. He was wounded in the leg, but refused to leave the field. His men propped him up on a caisson and he continued to direct the fire. In the mad retreat after the battle he clung to his caisson and reached Washington safely.

"Thirty-two years later, when he had settled on his estate at Tewksbury, Congress voted him the Congressional Medal of Honor 'for remaining upon the field of Bull Run after being severely wounded.'

"But, slowly as Congress might move, Lieut. Ames' superiors were not remiss in acknowledging his valor. On the night of the battle he was brevetted a major, the citation running, 'for gallant and meritorious services at Bull Run.' The brevet meant that he was entitled to bear a higher rank than that for which he was receiving pay.

"In the spring of 1862 his wound healed, he was in the war again, with the 20th Maine Infantry, fighting its way up the Peninsula under McClellan, toward Richmond. At the battle of Malvern Hill, July 1, 1862, he distinguished himself again and was brevetted lieutenant colonel. Aug. 20 he was appointed colonel of his regiment, but since the regiment was in the volunteer corps, it was not a rank in the regular army.

"He led his regiment at Antietam on Sept. 17, 1862, when McClellan turned back the first of Lee's great thrusts at the North. He fought at the disastrous rout of Fredericksburg, on Dec. 11 of that year, after Burnside had succeeded McClellan as commander of the Army of the Potomac.

"When the fighting began in the spring of 1863, with Gen. Hooker,

SERVED IN GREAT CATASTROPHES

Biddeford Pool, April 17
Editor of "On My Set":—

In "On My Set" you call attention to the 25th anniversary of the great Chelsea fire. At that time I was working for the Western Union in the main office, then located at 109 State street, Boston. I was one of the "Emergency squad" sent to Chelsea, on duty 48 hours with no relief, sandwiches and coffee being served at my "telegraph table" which was made from a soap box built up to the proper height with board legs. This table was "set up" on the edge of the fire zone about a block from where the fire started.

I was also on duty at the Salem fire (have forgotten date) 36 hours under practically same circumstances. I was slated for Bangor during its big fire, but escaped this "joy ride" through the kindness of J. B. Rex, chief operator. I was one of the squad of 15 operators sent to Halifax, N. S., at the time of the great destruction in that city, we were tied there three weeks.

ELMIRA T. BEVERAGE

Death of North Haven's Oldest Woman—Survived a Bad Accident 13 Years

After an illness of ten days Mrs. Elmira Tolman Beverage, 94, died of pneumonia, April 13, at her home at Pulpit Harbor. She was native of North Haven, and born March 22, 1839, on the farm that is now the Zimmerman estate. Being twice married, her first husband was William Beverage, and her second husband Hanford W. Beverage who died in 1901. For 58 years Mrs. Beverage had lived in the home at Pulpit Harbor. At 81 years of age she had the misfortune to fall and break her hip. An invalid the remainder of her life from this mishap she always mani-festated a remarkable patience, cheerfulness and endurance. In all the intervening years she had the constant and untiring care of her daughter Miss Isa E. Beverage.

On the occasion of Mrs. Beverage's 94th birthday, many friends called to see her, and sent cards of greeting and love. It was a very happy day for her. A beautiful Christian character, a woman of noble and unflinching faith, and member of the North Haven Baptist Church from girlhood, she took a vital interest in everything that had to do with the welfare of the community, the country, the church and the world at large.

Besides her daughter Miss Isa Beverage she is survived by two sons George F. Beverage of Brookline, Mass., and Clarence S. Beverage of Rockland, also a step-daughter Mrs. Alice M. Thomas of Hingham, Mass. Funeral services were held at the home Sunday afternoon conducted by the pastor of the church, Rev. Henry F. Huse. Interment was in the family lot in the Fuller cemetery. The bearers were Lloyd Whitmore, Ned Dyer, Jesse Brown and Fred Carver.

At a preliminary speaking contest held at the High School Friday afternoon Bernadette Snow of the senior class was chosen to represent the school at the Lydia O. Spear contest which takes place at Winslow April 28. Miss Snow will present "The Beau of Bath." If the school decides to participate in the University of Maine contest taking place on the same date, Margaret Halliday will be the representative.

A CHARTER NIGHT

Ruth Mayhew Tent, D. U. V. Has a Happy Gathering On Patriots Day

Ruth Mayhew Tent observed charter members' night at its meeting Monday, the occasion being a most happy one. The national colors were used in the dining room decorations, and the excellent supper was in charge of Mrs. Ava Jackson, Mrs. May Cross and Mrs. Allie Blackington.

Prior to the evening business session, a delightful program was presented, featuring "The Singing Sisters" — Ruth Gregory, Mary Ginn and Nathalie Jones — with Mrs. Charlotte Jackson at the piano; solos by Norma Seavey, and an original skit by Mrs. Mary Cooper in which the names of the members were cleverly concealed for guessing. Mrs. Eliza Plummer, patriotic instructor, arranged the program.

An invitation was extended the Tent to attend the reception in Portland Saturday evening, for Mrs. Hazel Merriman, national president. A tidy sum was realized from the birthday bags, with Mrs. Carrie Brown receiving the mystery. Birthday bags were again distributed, and Mrs. Lizzie French and Mrs. Carrie House appointed housekeepers for the next meeting. Readings of Jefferson and Buchanan, were presented by Mrs. Ava Jackson and Mrs. Stella McRae.

Charter members present were Mrs. Mary Cooper, Mrs. Lizzie French, Mrs. Irene Winslow, Mrs. Lena Rokes, Mrs. Bessie Haraden, Mrs. Carrie Brown, Mrs. May Cross, Mrs. Carrie House and Mrs. Mary Brewster.

Ruth Mayhew Tent, D.U.V., was organized May 23, 1932, under the jurisdiction of Mrs. Annie L. Arnold, department president. Mrs. Minnie Clark was the first president, serving from May to January, then followed by Mrs. Lena Rokes, one year; Mrs. Annie Eaton, six months; Mrs. Lizzie French, one and one-half years; Mrs. Mary Cooper, two years; Mrs. Irene Winslow, two years, and Mrs. Eliza Plummer, two years. The Tent has 49 members on its present roll.

The charter members at the time of organization were Mrs. Mary Cooper, Mrs. Minnie Clark, Mrs. S. Helen Paladino, Mrs. Irene Winslow, Mrs. Fanny Bickmore, Mrs. Lizzie French, Mrs. Emma Douglass, Miss Mabel Greeley, Mrs. Elizabeth Murray, Mrs. Adelaide Chatto, Misses Frances and Ada Burpee, Mrs. Lena Rokes, Mrs. Bessie Haraden, Miss Elizabeth Nash, Mrs. C. Louise Libby, Mrs. Carrie Brown, Miss Dorothy Snow, Mrs. Octavia Bartlett, Mrs. May Cross, Mrs. Leola Rose, Mrs. Minnie Cobb, Mrs. Carrie House, Miss Chorice Thomas, Mrs. Frances Young, Mrs. Lena B. Cables, Mrs. Mary Brewster, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown and Mrs. Aubighe Haraden. Of these members Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, Mrs. Bartlett and Mrs. Cobb have died.

THERE'S NAE LUCK ABOUT THE

And are ye sure the news is true?
And are ye sure he's weel?
Is this the time to think o' wark?
Ye jades, lay by your wheel!
Is this the time to spin a thread,
When Colin's at the door?
Reach down my cloak, I'll to the quay,
And see him come ashore.

For there's nae luck about the house,
There's nae luck at a';
There's little pleasure in the house,
When our gudeman's awa'.

And gie to me my bignest,
My bishop's satin gown;
For I maun tell the baillie's wife
That Colin's in the town.
My Turkey slippers maun gae on,
My stockins pearly blue;
It's a' to pleasure our gudeman,
For he's bathed and true.

Rise, lass, and make a clean fireside,
Put on the muckle pot;
Gie little Kate her button gown
And Jock his Sunday coat;
And mark their shoon as black as slaes,
Their hose as white as snaw;
It's a' to please my ain gudeman,
For he's been long awa'.

There's twa fat hens upo' the coop
Been fed this month and mair;
Mak haste and thrash their necks
About.
That Colin weel may fare;
And spread the table neat and clean,
Gar lika thing look braw,
For wha can tell how Colin fared
When he was far awa'?

Sae true his heart, sae smooth his speech,
His breath like caller air;
His very foot has music in 't
As he comes up the stair.
And will I see his face again?
And will I hear him speak?
I'm downright dizzy wi' the thought,
In troth I'm like to greet!

If Colin's weel, and weel content,
I hae nae mair to crave;
And gin I live to keep him sae,
I'm blest about the lave.
And will I see his face again,
And will I hear him speak?
I'm downright dizzy wi' the thought,
In troth I'm like to greet.

For there's nae luck about the house,
There's little pleasure in the house,
When our gudeman's awa'.

LEGION DRUM CORPS

The Organization Which Is Presenting "Codfish Aristocracy" Next Week

In view of the presentation of "Codfish Aristocracy" in Thomaston, Monday and Tuesday nights, under the auspices of the Winslow-Holbrook Drum and Bugle Corps, it is an opportune time to acquaint the public with the story and personnel of the Corps, which already has taken a prominent place among the State organizations.

The enthusiasm of the members of Winslow-Holbrook Post for a drum corps was aroused when attending the National Convention in Boston in September, 1930. The early part of 1931 saw the local organization a reality. The purpose is to create and maintain interest in the American Legion of Rockland and Knox County, and to establish a definite activity for participation in local, county and State Legion celebrations. The early beginnings were under the supervision of Augustus B. Huntley, president; George Jackson, treasurer; Lawrence Leach, secretary; Milton French and Ervin Curtis, business managers; and Vance Norton, drum major.

Through donations and proceeds from entertainments, the corps was able to purchase playing equipment, using the white sweater, blue pants and the regulation Legion hat for parade purposes. As interest developed, funds were raised to purchase the present equipment and uniforms which have received favorable comment throughout the county and other parts of the State where this corps has been on parade. The present uniform follows the lines of that worn by the boys during the World War. It is made up of the regulation Legion coat, golden yellow breeches, golden yellow helmet, black puttees, white belts and golden yellow shoulder cords. The Legion blue and golden yellow are colors taken from the Legion Post flag, which is standard throughout the country. The helmets are symbolic of the steel helmet worn during the war of which the members of this organization are veterans.

The corps now boasts a membership of eight drums, 16 bugles, one bass drum, one cymbal and a drum major. Already the corps has lent color and glamour to all activities of the American Legion in the county, on Memorial Day, the Fourth of July, and Armistice Day. Their efforts were rewarded at the Union Fair drum corps competition by honorary mention in 1931 and the decision by the judges of first place in 1932.

The State Department convention of the American Legion will be held this year at Portland, on July 3-5. It is to be the first All New England convention to be held, and it is expected to be the biggest event of the kind Maine has ever seen. The corps will represent the Knox County delegation at the convention and in the big parade. It is its ambition to compete on July 3 for State championship, and if successful in either first or second places will enter the All New England drum corps competition to be held July Fourth.

THANKS, MISS YOUNG

Rockland, April 17.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—May I express my appreciation of your acknowledgment of the value of religion to our national life as evidenced by your full page reference to religion in Saturday's issue?

I have expressed myself to you in the past relative to the great privilege of a newspaper editor to create public sentiment for the best things. In direct proportion to this privilege is his responsibility to society as I see life. Any evidence of definite religious sentiment expressed in your columns is noted with deep satisfaction.

Alecia L. Young.

HAS THREE HEAVY BATTERS

Thomaston High Will Depend Much Upon Them—
Simmons Probable Pitching Ace

Principal Creighton of Thomaston High School who acts in the dual capacity of athletic coach, surveys the leaden skies of April somewhat dubiously as he wonders how certain positions are to be filled on his baseball team this season.

The major problem is the box, for this year there's no Ifemy to fall back upon. Simmons who pitched some last year will probably be the ace, with R. Bucklin, Keefe and Perry apt to be called into the limelight. All of them have the ball from the starboard side.

When Henderson left school he left a large cavity at first base which must be filled. Burns, a good batter, may be the selection. He comes from that ball playing Friendship family.

The letter men who survived commencement are Grafton, captain and catcher; Anderson, ss; Keefe, Perry, If; Verge, cf; Simmons, 3b and p. Also in Coach Creighton's squad are F. Bucklin, R. Bucklin, Delano, Woodcock, Stone, Brown, Johnson and Doyle.

The infield, as now being whipped into shape, looks like Burns 1b, Doyle or Caven 2b, Simmons and Keefe alternating at third, and Anderson ss. Perry and Verge are certain to be in the outer garden with Keefe and Caven as the third man in the arc when not otherwise engaged. F. Bucklin will be substitute catcher.

Coach Creighton pins his faith on three fence-busting batters—Verge Grafton and Burns. His schedule follows:

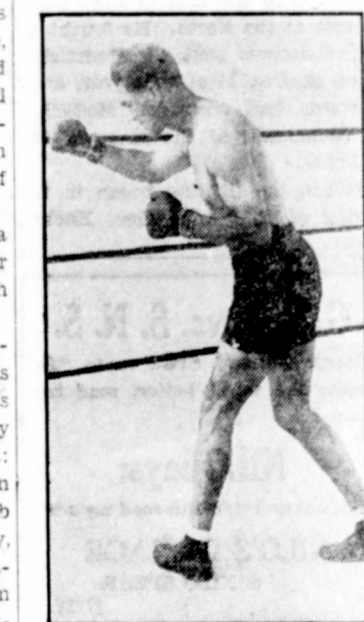

April 22—Ellsworth at Thomaston. April 29—Thomaston at Ellsworth. May 3—Thomaston at Rockland. May 6—Vinalhaven at Thomaston. May 10—St. George at Thomaston. May 12—Thomaston at Vinalhaven. May 17—Lincoln at Thomaston. May 20—Thomaston at Camden. May 24—Thomaston at Lincoln. May 27—Rockland at Thomaston. May 31—Camden at Thomaston. June 3—Thomaston at St. George.

THE BIG FELLOWS

Eastern Maine Fans To See
Schmeling and Dempsey
At Bangor Next Week

The Dempsey-Schmeling appearance at Bangor next Tuesday night is "all the talk" by fight fans in this city and vicinity.

Before Schmeling can hope to enter the ring again with Sharkey in an effort to regain his title, he has before him a contest with the man who rides well along with him as a challenger for the title, Max Baer, the hard-hitting, aggressive young giant from California.

The promoter of the Schmeling-Baer contest will be Jack Dempsey. It is his first promotion of a really major event. In signing up the Max vs. Max contest, Jack Dempsey, in this one gesture, took his place in the driver's seat as the world's foremost boxing promoter.

At the Bangor show Schmeling will meet one of his sparring partners, and Dempsey will referee all of the bouts, of which there are to be some very fast ones.

Maine Air Transport Co. has one of its planes overboard and is ready for charter trips to the Islands. Trips will be made for five or more passengers. The schedule run will begin May 1, making two trips daily, weather permitting at 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. eastern standard.—adv.

PARK THEATRE

Heralded as one of the outstanding pictures of the season, "Face in the Sky" comes for the weekend.

Spencer Tracy, Marian Nixon and Stuart Erwin have the leading roles in this tale of a traveling young signboard artist whose dreams of marrying an heiress fade when he falls in love with a little country girl. Whimsically handled details of farm life, a free-for-all fight between the painter and his helper against the farmer and his son, a kidnapping unawares, the "rescue" of the girl by a vengeful bridegroom, her escape and desperate search through New York for her lover, and a unique reunion all punctuate the progress of the story.

As an added attraction Friday and Saturday the theatre will have its first stage entertainment in some time. The Katahdin Mountaineers are real Maine boys and have been in Rockland twice before and were so well liked that the management has again brought them to Rockland, this time on a Friday and Saturday.

Another attraction will be the Country Store Night Friday night only with many valuable gifts to be given away free to holders of lucky numbers. Maynard Marston will act as master of ceremonies with additional local stage talent to be presented during the Country Store by members of the Betty Boop and Bimbo Club. Country Store night will be held every Friday night and prizes will be awarded at 8:30 between the first and second shows which will give all people at the first and second shows an opportunity to draw a prize. There will be no advance in prices Friday and Saturday.—adv.

WITH THE BOWLERS

The Rockland girls' team defeated the Augusta Capitol girls at the Recreation alleys by 133 pins, the exact amount of its margin in the last string. The Rockland girls who took on the Waterville girls the same night were not quite so joyful, as they were beaten 127 pins. E. Louie had high string (90) and high total. The summaries:

WEATHER

The 14th consecutive day of east winds found Old Sol on the job and an azure sky, but that much over-worked phrase "increasing cloudiness" figured in this morning's forecast. Gentle to moderate north to east winds and little change in temperature, which at 8 o'clock registered 40. Yesterday noon was up to 50 with glorious sunshine that has been all too rare since April came in. It was the first pleasant day of vacation week.

Daylight saving in Boston begins April 30, the date selected in this city.

Manager Frank L. Clark who has been at Biddeford Pool the past three weeks, recuperating, returns home next Sunday.

Schooner Lillian, Capt. Peabody, is due the latter part of the week with grain and mixed feed from Jonesport and points east for Stover Feed Manufacturing Co.

Copies of the laws passed by the last legislature have been printed in pamphlet form and are ready for distribution. By act of legislature they will not be published in newspapers but may be had by anyone who applies to the State for them.

The Rhythm Kings dance band will furnish music for the show and public dance Friday evening, sponsored by the 4-H Club in Union. It will be held in the Union Town hall. A goodly delegation from Rockland is expected.

There will be a meeting of the Knox County Bowling League at the Recreation alleys tonight at 8 o'clock when arrangements will be made for the annual banquet early next week. Some bowlers who have not been especially prolific with spares and strikes, will demonstrate what they know about "extras" at the banquet.

A special tank wagon, navigated by Lewis Gill of the Inland Fish and Game department, has transferred 150,000 Chinook salmon fry from the Camden hatchery to the Belgrade hatchery this week. The youthful fish will be kept there until later in the season. In Camden Mr. Gill was a guest at Wadsworth Inn, and on one of the trips to Belgrade he was accompanied by Capt. John Wadsworth as official observer.

The missionary get-together of the Littlefield Memorial Church was held Monday when the 10 Junior World Wide Guild girls were initiated by the Senior Guild. Bernice Munro and Mrs. Josephine Grover read and there was a guitar trio by Miss Olive Jameson, Arlene and Genevieve Gray. Ruth Pendleton of the Senior Guild was presented the guild pin, her score for the year being 470. Fern Britto of the Junior Guild was also presented a guild pin, her score being 635. Refreshments were served by the Junior Guild.

Harold L. Kennison of Rockland and Carlo Furio of Stonington are among the 15 applicants for pardon from State Prison. The hearings before the Governor and Council take place today.

Commissioner of Agriculture Frank P. Washburn says that the department is receiving "more than the usual" number of requests for information from prospective farm home purchasers.

ROCKLAND GETS HELP

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has awarded the city of Rockland $8000 a month to be used in connection with the poor department and as an unemployment fund—the latter to be used for labor alone, and not materials. This national assistance was sorely needed and will be a great boon.

The Eastern Maine League is being organized up-State, with Bangor, Brewer, Bucksport, Ellsworth, Belfast, Corinna, Orono, Millinocket and East Millinocket said to be fishing for franchises. Jack Moran of Bangor is president of the League.

L. C. Sturtevant, former principal of Thomaston High School has lost none of his love for that town, but Saturday the baseball fans may expect to see him a "deadly enemy," when he pits his Ellsworth team against Thomaston High. Game called at 2 o'clock.

Ensign Otis is back from Washington not especially optimistic over the prospects that the Maine Air Transport, Inc., will secure the mail contract between Bangor and Boston. The matter of air mail awards appears to be on the carpet for investigation as to alleged corruption in past awards.

Rev. Dr. B. P. Browne comes from Holyoke, Mass. to address tonight's meeting of the Baptist Men's League, and as usual the former pastor will be greeted by a large percentage of the League membership. Dr. Browne's subject is "The Menace of Propaganda." Straight from the shoulder his address will come.

May 2 at the Bangor Unitarian Church a conference with prominent church officials, including Dr. Roger Etz of Boston, has been called to consider the question: "Shall the Universalists and Unitarians form a federation to be known as The Free Church of America?" Members of the local Universalist Church plan to attend.

Mrs. George W. Palmer received news from Bridgewater, Mass., yesterday of the death of her brother, Frank A. Sylvester, formerly of Rockport, who had been ill only a few days with pneumonia. Surviving relatives are three sisters—Mrs. Noble C. Huntley of Camden; Mrs. George W. Palmer and Mrs. Harold H. Waldron of this city; and a brother, Frederick H. Sylvester of Quincy, Mass. The burial will be Friday at Rockport in the family lot, with a prayer at the grave. The deceased was 65.

The Associated Press, which used to content itself with handling news despatches which related to large loss of life or property, devoted quarter of a column the other day to the appearance of a skunk on Milk street, Boston. But the point is that the Animal Rescue League secured the animal and turned it loose in Medfield. This may have been a kindly and humane act, but if Boston was frightened to death over the smelly critter, just why should it be wished onto some other community. We have tons of them and we would be glad to get rid of.

The members of the Missionary societies of the churches and the W.C.T.U. are urged to be present at the annual get-together at the home of Mrs. Edith Tweedie, 96 North Main street, Friday at 2:30. After a short business session Mrs. Gena Atherton will take charge of this program: Singing, "We Have a Story to Tell the Nations;" prayer, Mrs. Edith Tweedie; duet, Mrs. Lyman Barter and Dwight Mosher; reading, "Missionary Shadows on Africa," Miss Alice Erskine; reports from the Missionary Societies; pageant "Lester Brown's Battle." Other numbers will follow. Refreshments will be served.

Warden Raymond E. Thurston returned yesterday from his vacation trip to Panama.

Fred P. Haskell is again in charge of the Northend fish market, Abbott block. Mr. Haskell operated the market most satisfactorily several years ago.

The chimney of the Snow store at the South Railway kicked up its heels in a burst of Patriot's Day excitement yesterday, by getting itself afire. The department soon showed the smoker its proper place.

George I. Keating, one of Belfast's leading Democrats died yesterday. He served eight years as clerk of courts. Mr. Keating was a prominent baseball fan, and for a long time was official scorer of the Belfast team.

The second installment in the graceful skating contest for couples will be seen at the Spanish Villa Rink tonight, when two more couples will be selected for the finals two weeks hence. This contest is exciting a great deal of attention.

Miller Hobbs, one of Knox County's best known baseball fans writes that he saw Philadelphia defeat Brooklyn 2 to 1 the other day; and shook hands with Clyde Sukeforth, the Washington boy who is catching in the big league. He also saw the Easter Parade at Atlantic City and got a good glimpse at Amos and Andy on the steel pier.

The afternoon memory class of the Woman's Educational Club is assigned for Friday's meeting the ten lines opening "And what is so rare as a day in June?" from Lowell's well known poem "The Vision of Sir Launfel," with review of the patriotic devotions, United States presidents in order with administration dates, members of President Roosevelt's new cabinet, words in songs and poems, in Star Spangled Banner, Battle Hymn of the Republic, America, In Flanders Fields. Full written drive reports are requested, as all dues are payable. A valued contributor to the recent successful afternoon was the reading by Zaida Winslow of an up and coming article on Good Reading by Mrs. C. B. Porter of Old Town, a club member.

The sophomore speaking contest at the High School Friday evening brought out an audience of more than 300 persons who paid tribute, by their attention and applause, to the splendid work done by the entrants who were Mary Gay, Donna deRochemont, Rose Flanagan, Camilla Emery, Marion Ginn, Joseph Emery, Edward Ladd, Sidney Harden, Edwin Edwards and Howard Crockett. Supt. E. L. Toner acted as chairman, and the judges were Miss Margaret Heller of Rockport High School, Supt. Frank D. Rowe of Warren and Prin. Carleton Wood of Camden High School, who found it a difficult proposition to make the decisions, so consistently excellent was the work of the youthful speakers. Miss Ginn and Mr. Edwards, each received $5 and Miss deRochemont and Mr. Harden, each $2.50. The speakers were coached by Miss Dorothy Parker of the faculty, the contest being the climax of the regular course in public speaking required in all sophomore classes. The modulation, clarity of diction, and poise displayed by the young people found particular favor.

Two days of blue sky and sun, in succession. My! My! My!

The V.F.W. Auxiliary has its regular meeting Friday evening at 7:30.

Tickets for "Codfish Aristocracy" will be checked, beginning at 10 o'clock today at Chisholm's and McDonald's.

Miss Carrie Breen is coaching the girls' track team at high school during the absence of Miss Mina E. Tower.

The Rockland Harmonica Band will broadcast Saturday afternoon, from Station WCHS at 5:45, being on the air 15 minutes.

City Clerk Keene has issued about 240 dog licenses—a good showing when it is considered that the total last year was only 254.

Mrs. Ava Lawry who has been confined to her apartments for two months due to a broken ankle is able to get about on crutches, although it will be a few weeks more before the cast is removed.

A few tickets remain for the Bill Cunningham supper and talk to be held Monday night at Temple hall, and may be obtained from Francis Orne. The affair is under general auspices of the Forty Club with the other service groups invited and guests as far as capacity will permit. The banquet is at 7 o'clock.

Miriam Rebekah Lodge at its meeting Tuesday night voted to hold a public card party Tuesday afternoon with this committee in charge: Mrs. Belle Lewis, Mrs. Lillian McRae, Mrs. Delilah Cunningham, Mrs. S. Helen Paladino, Mrs. Choris Jenkins and Mrs. Grace Rollins. A rag social and box lunch furnished a jolly time.

Rufus Tracey, who was arrested Thursday morning on the charge of window peeping, was given a nominal fine by Trial Judge Roberts. It developed that the respondent had "taken a drop too much" and had wandered onto private premises, while searching for a house whose location he did not know. Mr. Tracey has an excellent reputation, and the unfortunate predicament in which he found himself was regarded purely as a misunderstanding.

The Lions failed to take a holiday yesterday, as most of the members had expected, and there was consequently a slim attendance—so small that the guest speaker, Edward O'B. Burgess of Thomaston was held for the first meeting in May. He favored his handful of listeners with a brief talk on old seafaring days, and interested them so highly that there is sure to be a good turnout when he comes again. Seafaring may be the "dull business" that he called it, but the dramatic incidents he related didn't sound that way. King Lion Saville read a very appreciative note from the Boys' and Girls' Club of Tillson avenue, relative to their recent joint meeting. Yesterday's lunch was the first served by the new management, and the Lions speak very enthusiastically about it. The meeting next week will be a joint session with the Forty Club at Temple hall Monday night, with Bill Cunningham, the famous sports writer of the Boston Post, as guest speaker. Supper at 7 o'clock.

The Boys and Girls Service Club of Tillson avenue was presented with an American flag Saturday, the gift of Winslow-Holbrook Post, American Legion. The presentation was made by Mrs. Bernice Jackson, department patriotic instructor, of Ladies of G.A.R., who also distributed patriotic literature among the young folks.

The attendance for the weekly dinner of the Boys and Girls Club was somewhat lessened by illness, although 40 children partook of the excellent repast provided by the Methenesec Club. In keeping with the holiday there were decorations of paper streamers in the national colors, and also poppies and tulips for table trimmings. Eleanor Richardson and Dorothy Widgecombe of the club arranging the decorations. Mrs. E. F. Glover, president of the Methenesec Club, spoke to the children on the significance of Patriots Day. Mrs. Minnie Rogers as chairman was assisted by Mrs. Jane Beach, Miss Edith Bicknell and Misses Ruth and Madeline Rogers.

The semi-annual meeting of the Knox County Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, was held at the Copper Kettle last night, dinner being served. Members and wives were in attendance, and Judge E. K. Gould had as guests his son Charles and daughter Marguerite. It was voted to present "Good Citizenship" medals in the schools of Rockland, Thomaston and Camden. John Tewksbury of Camden, State president, and Judge Gould, State historian, were the featured speakers, their addresses woven around the old cemeteries and Revolutionary settlers of this section. Both speakers were in fine fettle, and their interesting and instructive talks were listened to with keen attention.

NORTH HAVEN

Tuesday morning the Westport whistled in at 6:30 upon the first trip of the summer schedule. Among the passengers was Irving Simpson who came for the day at North Haven.

One of the features of the Easter Sunday night service was a trio sung by Mabel Bray, Barbara Stone and Ruth Stone.

Harold Morrison has entered the freshman class of the high school. Alton Lewis returned Tuesday from a visit to Portland and Bar Mills.

Among those who warned the country of its perils in 1928 was James Truslow Adams. He now thinks that within the next two years the country will experience a wonderful come-back and good times equal to any it has enjoyed. Let us hope he is as good a prophet as he is historian.

WHITE HEAD

Miss Eleanor Beal is at home from Gorham Normal School for the Easter recess of ten days.

Keper and Mrs. A. J. Beal of the Light were in Rockland on business last week Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kelley recently made a business trip to Rockland.

Mrs. Mildred Randall and child are at Spruce Head on a visit of several days with Mrs. Stanley Simmons.

Friends of Mrs. Robert Williams of South Thomaston, who recently suffered a severe ill turn, are glad to note that she is improving. Her son Robert Williams is a member of the coast guard station here.

April has proven a very cold, windy month thus far down here.

Capt. and Mrs. E. M. Mills of the coast guard have moved from the Frost apartments on Summer street in Rockland to the Barter apartments on Main street.

Mrs. Edwin Faulkingham, who has been employed at the Light at Mrs. A. J. Beal's, has returned to her home.

Frank Alley, first assistant light-keeper and family, accompanied by Mrs. S. F. Flood, daughter Christine and Miss Myrtle Faulkingham, motored to Jonesport Saturday to spend the Easter vacation. Miss Faulkingham will return to her home at Baker's Island Light having spent the winter at White Head.

The auditorium was made beautiful with Easter lilies, ferns and cut flowers with a rose-hung illuminated cross in the background. Mrs. Gertrude Benner and Mrs. Helen Perry had charge of the program and Mrs. John B. Nicholson of the music. Miss Gretchen Waltz was at the organ and Miss Jane Rider at the piano. The solo work of John Newburn and Mrs. Nicholson, and duets by Miss Frances Simmons and Mrs. Nicholson were received with enthusiasm. The children of the Sunday school took part with songs and recitations. The closing pageant was very impressive with the characters represented by Jane Rider as Jane; Shirley Burnes, Pleasure; Beulah Day, Beauty; Evelyn Whitehouse, Fame; Barbara Benner, Power; Helen Oldis, Music; Millicent Burnes, Christianity; Margaret Dickson, Faith; Barbara Lovejoy, Hope; and Betty Stahl as Love. The soft light falling from the cross and the colorful gowns and charming appearance of the young girls, made an effective ending to a pleasing program. A large audience was present.

NORTH HAVEN

Easter was fittingly observed at the island church. In the morning there was a large, fine chorus of mixed voices that sang two selections, the second in both music and words being original by Albion Beverage. The flowers were Easter lilies, potted clematis, and a basket of beautiful pink, the latter in memory of Mr. Poole. At night there was presented an Easter pageant, "The Light of Eternal Life." The cast: Gaius, a Roman guard, Herman Crockett; Simon, a spice merchant, Alton Calderwood; Mary Magdalene, a follower of Christ, Mrs. Carl Bunker; Plavius, a Roman guard, Carlton Snow; Tirzah, a woman of the market place, Phyllis Duncan; Caiaphas, the High Priest, Leon Stone; Shemuel, a scribe, Clarence Waterman, Jr.; Elimelech, a servant of the High Priest, Edward Beverage. All the parts were exceptionally well rendered. The costumes specially designed and new, added to the effectiveness of the pageant. The director and coach was Miss Jennie Beverage. Between the two parts the young ladies' chorus sang the Easter song, "Up From the Grave He Arose." Notwithstanding the dull weather and rain there were large congregations at both services.

There will be held during May, 20 pruning and grafting demonstrations in the county. The method of pruning trees will be shown by County Agent Wentworth; also the latest method of grafting which includes the new waxed cloth.

The apple fruit fly and blueberry maggot traps which were constructed and baited last fall at the farm of George Payson in East Union will be watched closely this year for the arrival of the two pests. As soon as they appear notices will be sent to all orchardists and blueberry growers who have enrolled for this service. Anyone desiring this information from the Extension Service should get in touch with County Agent Wentworth.

At this time of year many are considering starting a home vegetable garden. And what to use for fertilizer? First the land should be tested for acidity and if results show a pH6 or below, some lime should be applied and worked into the soil. Manure to which has been added some superphosphate makes a very good combination. Some mixed fertilizers should be used for starting the vegetables, either a 4-8-4 or a 4-8-7 has been found very satisfactory for the home garden. Applications of the above fertilizer during the growing season have been found very satisfactory for many vegetables.

Apple and fruit trees arrived this week, bought through the Farm Bureau Pool. All men reported exceptionally fine trees; 550 trees were bought this year in the county.

Howard Coose of Hope has ordered a five-pound package of the new Caucasian Bees. These bees originated in Russia and work in much cooler weather than the Italian. They are grayish black. The bees are being ordered through a state pool started by County Agent Lovejoy in York County.

A pruning demonstration will be held Saturday at Luther Carney's farm in Sheepscot at 9 a. m.

Orchardists of Hope plan to make their own lime sulphur this year. A demonstration will be held Tuesday at Hope Corner by County Agent Wentworth. This material is as effective and much cheaper than the commercial. E. N. Hobbs is in charge of buying the sulphur and lime.

Testing for pullorum disease was made in 28 flocks and 19,544 hens tested; 20 of the flocks having 17,000 hens were accredited. In buying, only tested stock should be obtained.

Harry Richardson, poultry specialist, was in the county last week conferring with County Agent Wentworth on plans for a poultry field day to be held in June. There will be a special speaker and demonstrations will be given on barracks house plans, and burglar alarms.

A series of 27 meetings was held this winter on "increase your income with poultry" with an attendance of 550. Over 1300 bulletins have been sent out to farmers in the county, most of these being on poultry.

There are 81 poultry accounts being kept in the county, seven more than last year. Several men have already asked for them to keep record of the cost of raising their chicks.

The Farm Bureau membership to date is one more than the total of last June. There being 757 members as compared with 756 for 1932.

THE GRADE SCHOOLS

The Fifth Grade At Warren Street Appears To Have Had Interesting Term

Tyler Building

Sub-primary. Carolyn Webster, Mavis Moore and Walter Kenney have had perfect attendance since the beginning of the school year in September. Several names have been added to the dental honor roll during the two winter terms, making a complete list of 37 children out of the 45 enrolled in the room since January, whose teeth are now in good condition. The class room growth record shows 100 per cent improvement in weight and height since September.

Fifth Grade

Although we have not written items for our scrap-books for a long time, we have not been idle. Sometimes our room is such a busy place that the day is not long enough to accomplish all we intended.

Last January one of our good friends, (Mrs. Nina Beverage) brought us 250 lovely pictures which we decided to make into jigsaw puzzles. We sold many and bought the Twice-55-Song Book. We thank Mr. Annis and Mr. Kittredge for cutting our puzzles so cheaply. Then we sold pictures and gave Mr. Flanders $1.20 to paint our blackboards. We are planning a "thermometer sale" in order to buy paint for the remainder of our blackboards. Anyone in need of a thermometer will be supplied on receipt of five cents. We also have two old-fashioned picture frames, a small carpenter-apron, two yellow candles, three caps, fans, clothespins, metal picture frames, and many other unusual things for sale.

We have had two playlets this term, using them with morning exercises. Every child had a part. The other grades were our audience. Many of the mothers came, and this also added a different touch to the situation. One day a piano teacher, Mrs. Leach, came and wasn't that a joyous day for Irma! Irma Thompson and her mother played a duet, which was enjoyed very much.

Virginia Nelson wore a real Norwegian costume and carried a doll, which came all the way from Norway, last fall. The plays were "The Battle," and "The Doll Shop." The first was a battle between good and bad foods. Many minutes were spent after and out of school making swords and shields, which had to be silvered or gilded according to the amount of paint on hand. "The Doll Shop" was a story of a little girl who came to choose a doll. Each doll did a stunt and the little girl couldn't decide, so she chose them all. The parts were well taken and were the child's own interpretation. The costumes were designed by the children and were marvelous.

Three of our classmates Marion Armata, Ethel Hutchinson, Bernard Roberts moved away this term. Bernard got homesick for Tyler building and one morning he returned to us.

Nearly all of our children have gained in weight. We thank the Parent-Teachers for the milk, and the mothers for the many delicious sandwiches, cakes, cookies and fruit they have sent.

One morning when we came to school, we found our fish-boy had been glued to a seat and need no longer be perched precariously on the edge of the bowl, he was also given a real fish-hook on his line, knowing what boys will do sometimes we have not allowed him to swim in the bowl. There are so many marbles in our bowl that it sounds like hail on the window-pane when the fish roll them about.

We have listened to the Damrosch concerts on Fridays, and the "American School of the Air" on other days. We surely enjoy our radio.

We have been changing our seats on our arithmetic ranks. Last week only three could sit in the "King Row," but this week the row is full. It is quite exciting Monday morning to find who sits in the corner back seat for the week. It is surprising how much more carefully we work, reduce, cancel and watch that mischievous decimal point.

We have quite a talented class this year. Virginia Nelson plays the guitar; Edwin Jones, saxophone; Maxine Schellinger, violin; Bill Cummings, Mary Cross, Edwin Jones harmonica; Evelyn Bartlett, Erma Thompson, Barbara Bartlett, William Cummings, Nathalie Edwards, Edwin Jones, the piano. The remainder of the school sing. And how we sing, since we bought our song books!! "Reuben, Rachel" is our favorite at the present time.

Some of the seventh grades are quite surprised at the idea of the fifth grade making a "book report." Every pupil has at least two in our loose-leaf note book and several have made seven or eight reports. We enjoy making them and we feel that if we listen on the radio every week, we are doing extra by making a report. More than half of the class reported on "A B C the Caveman."

A bouquet of tulips graces the top of our piano bought with our jigsaw money.

Last year's class gave $2.87 to the teacher instead of valentines. This money has been used to frame four historical pictures, "Signing of the Declaration of Independence," "Lincoln and his Cabinet," "Franklin arriving in France," Washington arriving for his inauguration in New York. They are small, but full of interest.

We have been reading an English History story book of 1485, "The Red Rose of Dunmore." It was very exciting and interesting. Maxine is reading a sequel, and by the intense look of expectancy on her face one afternoon we think she must have been in England for awhile.

There was no sign of "depression" in our room last Tuesday. Virginia Accardi was presenting teachers and pupils with hundred dollar bills. Mary C— informed us she had six hundred dollars in (play) money.

Bill Cummings brought a hundred dollar Confederate scrip to class, one day last week.

The monkey which was a member of our class for a few weeks, has been taken home. The Hollywood monkeys when they escaped threw plaster and sticks at their keepers, but ours being a water-monkey was better behaved.

Virginia Nelson brought a starfish and a basket made from an armadillo for us to see.

We think Ruth P. spends most of her time in Aunt Sade's attic—because of the treasures she finds. The latest was a style-book of 30 years ago that our dolls might be properly outfitted in their play.

We received a letter from Marion Armata. She wrote that the children in her class in East Boston did not know where to find Canada on the map also they received instruction over the radio twice a week. She said the school was much different, her teacher's name was Miss Dumphy. We miss you, Marion.

Stanley Farnham drew a picture of "Edward Dunmore" on our black-board. Charlotte Staples sold several puzzles for us. One lady bought six puzzles. Stuart MacAlman gave us a map. You see we have many kind friends.

We have had 25 visitors this term. Not absent: Arlene Blood, Daphne Carter, William Clough, William Cummings, Kathryn Dean, Kathleen Dean, Richard Donohue, Harry Graves, Fred Grover, Harold Heal, Edwin Jones, Donald Peters, Naomi Richards, Russell Richardson, Franklyn Spinney, Irma Thompson. Every week we have pushed our "depression" plant back into the bowl, added water and in a few hours it has grown again. This week is the tenth time, but still it grows.

New names on dental honor roll: Albert Winchenbach, Neil Russell, Fred Grover, Virginia Accardi, Oliver Hamlin.

Fourth Grade

For a term of 14 weeks, ending April 14, these pupils have not been absent: Richard Brown, Emma Callahan, Douglas McMahon, Elmer Pinkham, Arthur St. Clair, Marie Tripp. About 75 per cent of the class have names on dental honor roll. Growth is making a good increase, as shown by the weight chart. We wish to thank parents and friends who so generously furnished lunches.

Arithmetic took on increased interest when a price was put upon the written work, pay to be received in toy money. At the close of the term Raymond Lindsey led the class with John Crockett, Pauline Carroll, Lena Cuccinello, Ruth Hammond, Elmer Havener, Ritchie Linnell, Shirleen McKinney, Elmer Pinkham closely following.

The new reading books, "Pilgrim Stories" are very much enjoyed. The story of Holland has proved of great interest, and each pupil found an attractive booklet, illustrating life in this country. Several of the children have made very pretty posters showing customs and dress of this land.

Health posters done outside of school hours, were brought to class by a number of the boys and girls.

As spring came on, these children seemed to take pleasure in watching birds and bringing to class reports of different birds seen. Twigs large and small from different trees in this vicinity were brought in, and the swelling of the buds even to the bursting point, has opened our eyes to the wonders of the world about us.

Tired Eyes Overheated;

Should Rest, Bathe Them

Long, continued use of the eyes should be avoided by a rest at intervals, if only for a few minutes, bathing them with ordinary cold water from the faucet.

Dr. Sol Rosenblatt explains in "Eye Hygiene and Heat," an article contributed by him to Hygeia, that it is the heat generated over a long period by excessive use of the eyes that causes them to become tired. He says:

"Heat affects the eyes in numerous ways. The heat generated by excessive use of the eyes over long hours, added to the ordinary body heat; of fever repeated over a period of years; the heat of brilliant sunlight or too intense artificial light, and the heat of furnaces over a period of time are detrimental to the function of the eyes.

"Nature provides a safeguard in a manner somewhat similar to that of the water-cooled motor. Transparent fluids are circulated within the eye, and the anterior surface of the eye is bathed with fluid coming down from the tear-gland above the eye.

"The peculiar special function of the eye requires transparency, and excessive heat destroys that quality; the loss of transparency is fatal to the function of that special organ, even though its form and strength are fully regained."

Wood Lighter Than Cork;

Is Better For Airplanes

The use of balsa wood in the manufacture of airplane models has aroused considerable curiosity in the minds of users of this commodity, particularly because of its light weight. It has the reputation of being lighter than cork. Inquiry as to the comparative weights of the balsa cork to Forest Products Laboratories of Canada brought the following reply:

"The average run of balsa will probably weigh from 7 1/2 to 12 pounds per cubic foot, air-dry, although abnormal material will occasionally be found outside this range. Such balsa as we have tested, however, was in the neighborhood of about 8 pounds per cubic foot. It is considerably lighter than the weight sometimes quoted for cork—15 pounds per cubic foot, but this figure presumably refers to compressed cork products.

"The weight of ordinary cork as noted by us from time to time from tests of stoppers used in the laboratory averages about 9 1/2 pounds per cubic foot. The greater stiffness of balsa is probably another reason for preferring its use in making model airplane parts."—Montreal Herald.

Must Have Sunshine To Live

Were the sun to go out the earth would be plunged into darkness, relieved only by the feeble light of the stars, for the moon, of course, shines only by reflected sunlight.

Within a few days the temperature would be so low that all plants and animal life would be frozen to death. Before many days the ocean would be frozen solid, and soon after the atmosphere itself would freeze, forming, first, a layer of liquid air upon the surface of the earth and then a layer of solid air.

We are dependent upon the sun for our food and fuel, for plants cannot grow without the energy of sunlight, and coal and oil are only the fossil remains of plants which grew millions of years ago.

Boston's Landmarks

Many of Boston's landmarks, dating back a century or two, fit strangely into the modern scheme of things. Faneuil hall, where American liberty was cradled, is a bustling market place. Both the Old State house and Old South church serve as subway stations. Also, there is a subway station on the site of the Green Dragon tavern, where the Boston tea party was plotted.

To complete the picture, a traffic officer is on regular duty on the circle of cobblestones marking the scene of the Boston massacre.

"Blind Flying"

An aviator is flying "blind" when he cannot see, either from the construction of his plane or from the weather conditions, such as fog, rain, etc. When flying "blind," an aviator guides his plane by means of instruments. The most important of these instruments is the earth indicator compass. Other essential instruments are a turn indicator, a bank indicator, and also a drift meter. While the precision of these instruments is great, they are by no means perfectly accurate. Skill is required to read the scales.

He Waited in Vain

She had been parked near a fire plug for three hours. As she unlocked the car and got in, a cop who had been waiting for the culprit to show up, sauntered up and remarked very kindly:

"I've been waiting a long time to see you, lady. What's your name?" She smiled her sweetest, and as she put her foot on the starter, replied:

"It wouldn't do you any good if I told you. You look like a nice boy, but my husband is about twice your size and very jealous."

This story was told by one Levi P. Coffin, reputed president of the underground railway by which sympathetic northerners aided escaped slaves to reach Canada and freedom, who for twenty years maintained a refuge station in his home at Newport, Ind. He told of seeing a slave woman, child in arms, crossing the Ohio river on the floating cakes of ice. When the woman reached shore, he said, she was taken to the Coffin home, where she was cared for and prepared for the rest of her journey, and given the name of Eliza Harris which Mrs. Stowe used in her novels.

Woman's Club Has Fine Program

The Woman's Community Club held its regular meeting at the rooms April 11 and one of the most enjoyable programs of the year was presented.

The roll call "States and Emblematic Flowers," was responded to by 36 members. During the business period the president, Mrs. Ethel Creighton, announced for the benefit of members not present at the previous meeting, that the annual guest night is to be observed in the vestry of the Methodist Church April 25 at 7:30 p. m. and that the Woman's Club of Warren will be guests for the evening.

The food sale committee reported $6.10 received from the April sale and eight members turned in the dollar which each member was to earn for the club during the year, with clever and amusing explanations as to the way in which the dollars were obtained. The meeting was then turned over to the chairman, Mrs. Bessie Stephenson, who introduced several speakers, all of whom contributed generously to make the subject "Rock Gardens" one of real interest and pleasure.

Mrs. E. R. Robbins of Camden, president of the State Federation of Garden Clubs, spoke briefly and expressed the hope that this club would seriously consider forming or becoming affiliated with some garden club.

Mrs. Emma L. Perry of Newcastle whose subject was "Rock Gardens" told in a delightfully informal way of her experiences in making rock gardens, which she said grew to be "joy gardens."

Mrs. Martha Griffin of Damariscotta told of the interest that is being awakened throughout the State on the subject of "Roadside Beautification," and urged the club members to compete for the prizes that the Portland Sunday Telegram is offering for the best results obtained.

Mrs. May Pillsbury of Camden presented her original paper "My Garden" in such a way as to make everyone forget the "tares" and remember only the "blooms."
