THE ALARM WORKED

The would-be burglars who sought to break into Ewell's store at Wiley's Corner last Wednesday night reckoned without the burglar alarm. The moment they began to pry the rear door open this guardian was immediately on the job. The signal awoke Ardie Thomas across the street, and away the burglars went, hot-foot, leaving behind the bags in which they had planned to cram their loot.

FOUND ON THE SHORE

Body of Miss Evelyn Donohue Discovered Near Cushing Wharf

Miss Evelyn Donohue, 47, a resident of Erin street, Thomaston, was drowned during the night near the Cushing wharf in that town, the body being found on the shore at 9 o'clock this morning by Elmer Armstrong. The body was taken to the Stanley R. Cushing undertaking rooms.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Donohue and made her home with her sister, Miss Katherine Donohue, and the knowledge that she had long suffered from fits of despondency, leads to the theory that her death was self caused.

SAM MORRILL SAYS

That the Month of May Will Come In Cool and Go Out Stormy

Sam Morrill, Lewiston weather prophet, predicts that there will be a change in the temperature and weather during May. On the whole, however, the temperature and precipitation will be normal to above normal. The warmest part of the month will be the first half, although during the first 12 days of the month, the weather will be a repetition of April. Memorial Day comes in the last storm period, and electrical showers are predicted for the day.

There will probably be three storm periods during the month, the first, the worst of the three, if there is any difference, will be from the 8th to the 14th; the second, from the 19th to the 25th; and the third, from the 28th to the end of the month. The weather from the 20th, will be reverted to the good old fashioned kind of "a merry month of May." The month will come in fair and cool and go out stormy.

The first week has been set as the earthquake period near the equator, and the last week of the month as the quake period in the northern hemisphere.

BANKS DEALT ANOTHER BLOW

Five In Maine, Including Security Trust Company, Under Ban Of Further Restrictions

The banking situation in Knox County became appreciably worse yesterday when the State Bank Commissioner ordered the Security Trust Company placed on an even more restricted basis, which prohibits the cashing of checks and withdrawals of any portion of the deposits.

The continuance of these privileges after the National banks had been closed was a very definite boon to the community, but the heavy withdrawals since March 15 led the State Banking Department to place further restrictions on the State Trust Company and Augusta Trust Company of Augusta, the Maine Trust and Banking Company and Gardiner Trust Company, both of Gardiner and the Security Trust Company of Rockland.

These five banks, owned by Financial Institutions, have 15 branches, those in Knox County being located in Camden, Union, Warren and Vinalhaven. Bank Commissioner Annis said his action was made necessary "by increasing demands for withdrawals and to avert forced sale or collection of assets under the present depression economic conditions in order that the full value of the assets may be conserved for the benefit of depositors."

THE EDUCATIONAL CLUB

Senator McLean To Be Afternoon Speaker—Our Delinquent Girls

"High lights of our Recent Legislation" will be presented Friday afternoon at G.A.R. hall at 445 by State Senator Albert C. McLean, who will also give pointers as to how one should mark ballots on the five issues to be decided Sept. 11.

By special request the discussion will be on Capital and Labor. The social inequality, the great difference in wages for different kinds of labor, old age pensions for government workers, school teachers and other favored classes, but the larger masses with nothing should be considered seriously.

Mrs. Rebecca Ingraham and Mrs. Maude Cables are chairmen for the annual supper at 6 to be followed by the annual meeting and election. The club closes its 13th year with 1050 memberships paid, which is regarded as specially creditable during this so-called financial stress.

The new superintendent of the State School for Girls at Hallowell, Miss Edith Gardiner of New York, comes to present the evening's address. Subject, "How shall we deal with our delinquent girls?" Miss Gardner will relate her personal experiences in work among Maine girls and will answer questions.

The pictures are of rare excellence, to be shown by George A. Harrison of Portland, a new set on "The Canadian Rockies," prepared by the Canadian National R. R.

AVIATION NEEDS TRAINED MEN
Air Transportation has steadily grown during the past three years. With this growth there has been an increase in personnel and equipment. The Personnel required to service these planes must be trained men.
The CURTIS-WRIGHT AIRCRAFT SCHOOL offers this necessary practical training to young men. Back of this school stands a great organization — The Curtis-Wright Corporation — which designs and builds all types of military planes and engines for the United States Army and Navy; and commercial planes and engines for the majority of the leading air transport operators in the United States and foreign countries throughout the world.
Our Representative, Parker Hart, will be at Thorndike Hotel, in Rockland, from 10 A. M. to 7 P. M., on Wednesday, May 3, to discuss this important matter. See him and learn about our interesting plan on HOW TO GET STARTED IN AVIATION.

A ROCKLAND LANDMARK IS DOOMED

A notable transformation is being wrought on Limerock street, opposite the entrance to High street, where two buildings owned by Mrs. Alice Hicks of Talbot avenue are being demolished.

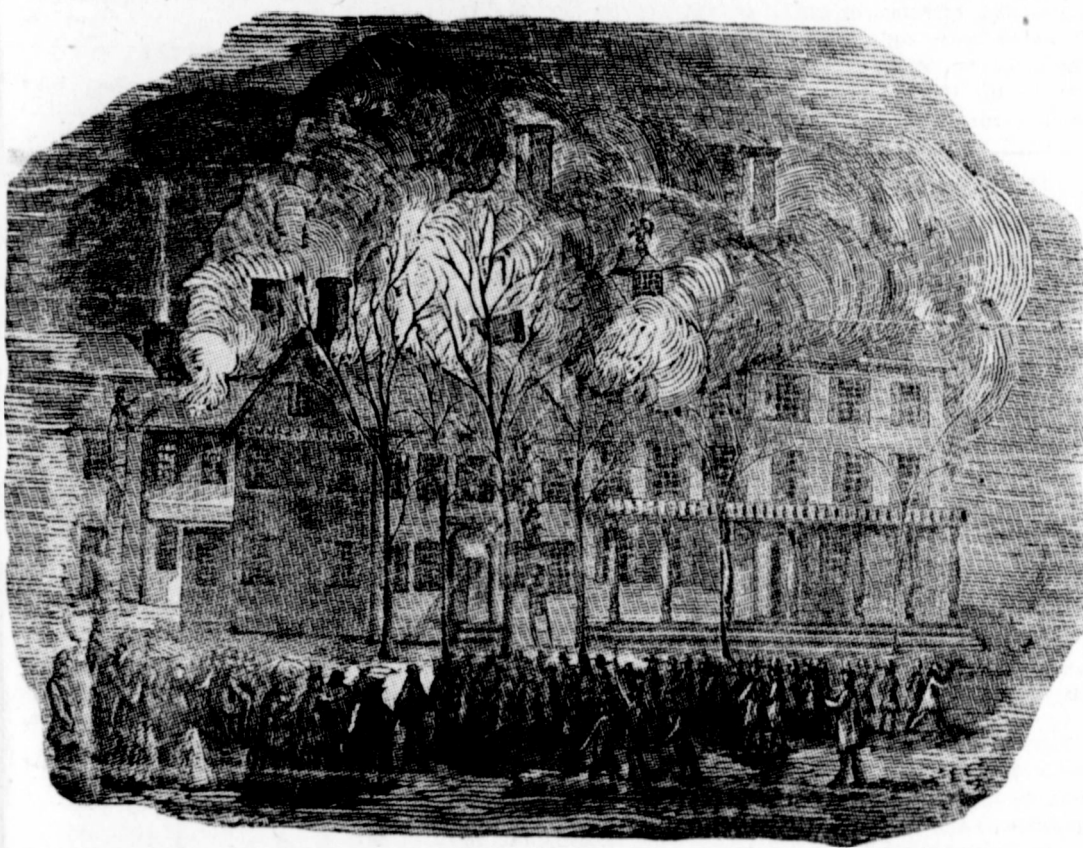

One is the dwelling which for a long period of years was the home of Ed. Ward, and which more recently has been occupied by Lewis W. McCartney, plumber. The other is the building long rear, and bordering upon the brook, will be left undisturbed for the present, at least.

The work of demolition is in charge of Fred M. Blackington, a contractor who has never found a job too large or too strange to feaze him. The repository building with which this little story is very largely concerned, was at one time a part of the old Commercial House, which Beal's hall, and the echoes of a rehearsal had scarcely died away the night the fire broke out.

Fred W. Wight recalls how Daniel Pratt, "The Great American Traveler," used to speak in front of the hall, and how one night somebody threw a tomato at the orator, completely filling one of his ears. He likewise remembers the apt retort made by the great American traveler.

Mr. Wight also remembers that a known as the Hicks Carriage Repository, but which, as we shall see, is one of the city's ancient landmarks reminiscent of days when Rockland was in its infancy.

The partial collapse of this structure, rendering prohibitive the cost of repairs is responsible for Mrs. Hicks' decision to wipe both buildings off the map and to substitute for their unpleasant appearance an area of greensward which will be vastly more appealing to the eye in a locality made attractive by such structures as the Public Library, Knox Hospital, William Bok Home for Nurses and the Knox County Court House. The buildings at the stood on the site of the present postoffice, and whose destruction by fire in 1859 was one of the most sensational chapters in Rockland's history.

The ell, which afterwards filled such a wide variety of uses, and which is now being demolished was known as Beal's Hall, and housed Rockland High School, with the late A. D. Small as principal and Miss Annie Harrington, a sister of Mayor Charles M. Harrington, and later the wife of Principal Small, as assistant. Down stairs there was a class conducted by Miss Lottie Young.

SUPERIOR COURT BEGINS

Looks Like Two Weeks' Term At This Writing—Eleven More Divorce Entries Have Been Made

Knox County Superior Court convened this morning with Justice William H. Fisher of Augusta presiding. The other court officers are: Stenographer—E. T. Richardson. Sheriff—Frank F. Harding. Clerk—Milton M. Griffin. County Attorney—Jerome C. Burrows.

In charge of grand jury, A. O. Pillsbury; in charge of traverse juries, Mr. Pillsbury and Harry Young; crier, Granville N. Bachelder.

Messenger—Ralph Tripp of Thomaston. Prayer was offered by Rev. W. S. Rounds of the Congregational Church.

The grand jury is now in session, but the traverse jurors do not report until tomorrow, when there will be begun the pauper case of Rockland vs. Calais.

Six naturalization cases are in order for hearing tomorrow forenoon. Clerk Griffin looks for a term which may last two weeks.

These divorce cases have been entered since the February term: Mildred Evelyn Hoyle of Camden from Ronald Lester Hoyle of Roxbury, Mass., married at Rockland, March 15, 1924; cruel and abusive treatment and non-support. Libellant asks for custody of minor child, Norma Frances. Wilbur for libellant.

Evelyn L. Norwood of Camden from Douglas R. Norwood of Boston, married at Camden, Sept. 9, 1929; cruel and abusive treatment. Libellant asks to resume her maiden name, Evelyn L. Mayhew. Perry for libellant.

Herbert A. Harris of St. George from Marguerite E. Harris of Rockland, married at Rockland, Sept. 7, 1921; desertion and cruel and abusive treatment. Smalley for libellant.

Margaret A. Porbus of Sherwin R. Porbus, both of Rockland, married at Rockland, Aug. 25, 1919; at Warren, Oct. 1931; cruel and abusive treatment and non-support. Otis for libellant.

Marguerite E. Harris of Rockland from Herbert A. Harris of St. George, married at Rockland, Sept. 7, 1921; cause, desertion. Libellant asks for custody of minor child, Richard T. Payson for libellant.

Gertrude E. Sylvester from Edward N. Sylvester, both of Rockland, married at Rockland, Oct. 9, 1914; cruel and abusive treatment. Libellant asks for custody of minor children, Eleanor R., Edward C., Laura E., Blanche E., Betty L. and Roberta M. Payson for libellant.

Ruby C. McEnan Peterson from Rognor Peterson, both of Vinalhaven, married at Vinalhaven Feb. 28, 1931; cruel and abusive treatment and non-support. Libellant asks to resume her maiden name, Ruby C. McEnan. Roberts for libellant.

LEAGUE OPENS TOMORROW

Six School Teams To Battle For Knox-Lincoln Pennant, Vinalhaven Favored To Repeat

The Knox and Lincoln League enters upon another season tomorrow with games at Rockland, Camden and Thomaston. At the outset the champion Vinalhaven team is favored to repeat because of the fact that it lost few players by graduation, and retains two pitchers who, to say the least, have no superiors in the league.

It is too much to say that Vinalhaven "will win in a walk" but if that team runs true to form, it means that interest in the league will center upon the fight for second place, which should be a strenuous one.

We are publishing the complete league schedule, as furnished by the six coaches. Should there be any inaccuracies, or any changes since it was given, will the managers promptly notify this paper?

PLANES FLY AGAIN

Maine Air Transport Co. Makes Announcement Of Its Season's Plans

The Maine Air Transport Co. yesterday started its third year of operations here.

The company started in 1930 with one plane and now has seven in operation. Two are based at Rockland, which is the home base. Three will be based at New Bedford, where the company has started a schedule service between New Bedford, Wood's Hole, Edgartown and Nantucket. The other two planes will be at their Hudson River base in New York for charter service. These planes are equipped with the latest flying instruments and radio for blind flying, including radio beams, and receiving weather reports while in flight.

The pilots who will operate these planes at New Bedford and New York are now taking advance training in blind flying and radio in order to qualify for the new pilots' ratings to be able to fly schedule routes for interstate flying. In order for a man to get this pilot's transport rating, he has to have 1200 hours or more of solo flying as a transport pilot. Most of the Maine Air Transport Co.'s pilots are eligible for this rating.

The Maine Air Transport Co. has also added to its equipment a fast 40-foot cabin cruiser, so that passengers may be assured of getting to the different islands in foggy weather. This boat may be chartered at reasonable rates at any time for pleasure sailing, fishing or emergency trips when planes are not able to fly. It will be in charge of a very able captain.

The annual stockholders meeting of the company will be held May 5 at 11 a. m. at its office on Tillson avenue.

MADE MORE DEMANDS

Unemployment Council Tells City Fathers How That $8000 Should Be Spent

A demand upon the City Government relative to the disbursement of the $8000 allowed the city monthly by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, was presented to Mayor Richardson who, told the Unemployment Council in so many words that no man or no committee could come in from the outside and tell the administration what it should do. The proposition put up by the unemployed was substantially thus:

"It is demanded by the workers of Rockland in mass meeting that such funds as are allotted to Rockland by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for relief purposes shall be used for relief purposes only.

"That these funds be paid out in cash relief on the basis of five dollars per week per family and one dollar extra for each dependent, five dollars per week for each single worker, with no discrimination.

"That no part of the funds be used to hire laborers on city jobs, this would throw regular city workers into the unemployed.

"That under no circumstances should any man be employed out of these funds at less than the regular rate of pay for city employees or in any kind of forced labor undertaking."

Despite our having been taught that money is the root of all evil, there are times when we incline to the belief it is the jack of all trades.—New Orleans States.

Barbara F. Tirrell for libellant. Sarah B. Pinkham of Union from Raymond B. Pinkham of Union, married at Union, Nov. 28, 1918; adultery. Libellant asks for custody of minor children, Virginia May and Raymond B. Tirrell for libellant.

Dagmar I. Upton of Camden from David M. Upton of South Portland, married at Portsmouth, N. H., Oct. 28, 1930; non-support. Libellant asks for custody of minor child, Lyndal E. Perry for libellant.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

LADY MAY
You will know her by her bonnet with the strings a-blowin' out,
An' a laylock she's a-wearin' in her hair;
You will know her by the sunshine she's a-scatterin' about,
An' her whistle in the birches over there.
You will know her by her slippers, an' the color of her eyes,
An' the kisses on her pretty, poutin' lips;
You can tell her by her giggle, an' her look o' glad surprise,
An' the dewdrops on her rosy fingertips.
She's a-comin' up the meadow, don't you see her yaller gown?
She's a tiptoe, an' a-trippin' right this way,
With a trail o' joy behind her, an' a new moon for a crown.
An' a-bless your heart! why, howdy, Lady May?

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK

I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him.—Psalm 91:15.

Child Health Week began yesterday and will be celebrated all over the country through the co-operation of all the children's protective societies, health officials, doctors, character building organizations, and welfare organizations. Child health falls into three groups—first, the protection and stimulation of the normal child; second, aid to the physically defective and handicapped; and third, the problem of the delinquent child. The Child's Bill of Rights reads: "The ideal to which we should strive is that there shall be no child in America that has not been born under proper conditions, that does not live in hygienic surroundings, that ever suffers from undernourishment, that does not have prompt and efficient medical attention and inspection, that does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygienic good health, that has not the complete birthright of a sound mind in a sound body, that has not the encouragement to express in fullest measure the spirit within which is the final endowment of every human being."

The parcelling out of the Democratic plums is believed to be close at hand, but some of the aspirants to federal office are not altogether happy. They are discovering that their allegiance to Democracy must be of the hard and fast type, and that in submitting their records they must show how they have been enrolled. Many a careless Democrat has often enrolled as a Republican to help out some candidate in the primaries, and the same is of course true concerning Republicans. But James A. Parley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee is looking for followers of the faith who are dyed in the wool, and incidentally he wants to know how long these candidates have been Democrats. And lest they forget he is reminding them that the Democratic National Committee owes a lot of money and faithful Democrats are expected to wipe out that debt. In other words the candidate crop is being reminded that it is a business administration, spelled in capitals.

As a beverage, gasoline may not be quite as palatable as "three point two," but as a revenue producer it is not to be sneered at. Government reports show that State gasoline and motor fuel taxes, and licenses for the sale of gasoline yielded a total revenue of more than $514,000,000 in 1932. The tax was at an average rate of 3.6 cents per gallon. Consumption of gasoline declined 7.5 percent from the previous year. Delaware and Maryland were the only States reporting increased consumption. The total revenue was allocated as follows: To State highways, $301,788,231; to local roads, $94,073,954; to State and county road bond payments, $50,726,362; to city streets, $16,776,050; to costs of collection and administration, $2,832,820; and to other than highway purposes, $47,941,483.

The attitude of Rev. Frederick W. Smith in determining to seek a referendum on the beer bill may not be regarded by many persons as a diplomatic stroke, but the threats sent to him through the mails will certainly not help the case. Maine's attitude toward beer is undoubtedly much more lenient than it was before the adoption of the 18th Amendment, but its attitude toward the exercise of violence against a man who believes he is acting within his rights on a moral proposition is just as fully condemned as it ever has been. It may be that the threats received by the superintendent of the Christian Civic League are merely hoaxes, but any attempt to carry them out would be pretty apt to mean the selection of anti-repeal delegates to the Constitutional convention.

During the present month six States will register their views regarding the 18th amendment—Rhode Island, Wyoming, New Jersey, Nevada, New York and Delaware. The anti-prohibition leaders claim that the wets will triumph in all of these States—in fact they do not concede the loss of a single State—but the other side gathers a crumb of comfort in the statement of F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League that Indiana, June 6, will furnish the first real battleground. "If Indiana rejects the repeal proposal, the 18th Amendment will remain in the Constitution," he predicts.

Judge Zelma M. Dwinall of Rockland Municipal Court, and former State Senator, is being strongly urged to again become a candidate for the Republican Congressional nomination in this district. He was a candidate in the last primary election losing to Donald B. Partridge by only a few hundred votes. Mr. Partridge's county is no longer

ROCKLAND GETS FIELD DAY

Patriarchs Militant From All Over Maine Will Parade In This City June 7

The annual field day of the Department of Maine, Patriarchs Militant, I.O.O.F., will be held in this city June 7, bringing hundreds of uniformed Odd Fellows and many other visitors. The Department Council will meet here on the night of the 6th. It has been many years since Rockland had the Patriarchs Militant field day, and the other Cantons are delighted at the prospect. The committee from Canton Lafayette comprises London C. Jackson, Jr., Oliver B. Lovejoy and Luke S. Davis.

The four branches of Odd Fellowship—Jodge, encampment, canton and Rebekahs—were well represented in the procession which marched Sunday to the Congregational Church, where exercises were held commemorative of the 114th anniversary of Odd Fellowship. The pastor, Rev. W. S. Rounds, preached on "David and Jonathan." "The great and crying need of today is the same kind of friendship demonstrated by them," he told the members of the Three-Link fraternity. "It was one of the best anniversary sermons we ever listened to," declared one of the veteran members of Knox Lodge.

Canton Lafayette and its Auxiliary meet tomorrow night to discuss field day plans.

Encampment Odd Fellows of the 14th district met in Camden May 25, when the Belfast Encampment will confer the degree. The grand patriarch and grand high priest will be present.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

District Twenty, B.S.A., held its rally Thursday night. Although the time limits for the contests were very short, the boys did remarkably well. There were no contestants for fire-making by friction, and firemaking by flint and steel, due to lack of equipment. Six Scouts entered the individual knot-tying contest, the fastest time for the nine knots being 38 seconds, made by Fraser of Troop 2. Walter Staples, the one entrant for bugling, gave a fine demonstration and is assured of representing his troop at the jamboree. South Thomaston, Friendship, and four Rockland troops were present. Games were played after the rally.

Court of Honor will be held Thursday of this week at the Central Maine room at 7:30 p. m. All merit badge applications and test cards should be in Mr. Kimball's hands the day before the court.

Has anyone an old cook stove, that is not being used and is in good condition, that he would give to the Scouts for use in the Oakland Park cabin? One is badly needed and the gift would be greatly appreciated.

Troops 100 and 100A in Friendship held a Court of Honor Friday night. Fourteen Scouts received tenderfoot pins and two Scouts received second class pins. These new troops have the sincere best wishes of the District.

Dr. Raymond H. Brown, Scoutmaster of the troop in Damariscotta, was in this city on business last Thursday.

CAMDEN

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gill of Boston spent the weekend at Carmonwill Lake Megunticook.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Taylor and son Clifford are enjoying a motor trip to Philadelphia where they will visit his parents Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Taylor.

Wallace Bryant and Irving Johnson of Boston spent the weekend at Lake Megunticook. They were accompanied by two friends from Boston.

Comique Theatre bookings for the week: Tuesday, "Strange Love of Molly Louvain," featuring Lee Tracey and Ann Dvorak; Wednesday and Thursday, Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen in "Hot Pepper"; Friday, "Goldie Gets Along"; Saturday, Edward Robinson in "Silver Dollar."

Dan Coney of Augusta was in town the last of the week, calling on friends.

The body of Harry Hatch, who died several months ago in Auburn, was brought to Camden Sunday for interment in Mountain Street cemetery. Mr. Hatch was native of this town but had lived for several years in Salem, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Robertson of Lexington, Mass., are guests of their son Kenneth Robertson, manager of the Comique Theatre.

Mrs. E. E. Boynton entertained the Half Hour Reading Club Monday at her home on Free street.

All ladies of Megunticook Grange interested in forming a circle are asked to meet at the Grange hall Wednesday afternoon. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock.

Miss Margaret Ruggles of Thomaston will be speaker at the next meeting of the Camden Garden Club, May 9. Her subject will be "A Garden Path Through Italy."

Miss Maude M. Thorndike is enjoying a vacation from her duties as manager of the Western Union Telegraph office and will visit her sister, Mrs. Oscar Bryant in Dexter. U. D. Chandler is substituting.

ROCKPORT

Mrs. Wilbur Cross and daughters Alice and Mary of Rockland and Mrs. George Butler and children spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Storms who have been staying for several months with their daughter, Mrs. John Newman in Rockland, have re-opened their home on Commercial street.

An all-day meeting of the Farm Bureau will be held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Nina Carroll beginning at 10:30 a. m., subject, "Good Nutrition for the Family." Miss Lawrence, home demonstration agent, will be present. Dinner at noon.

Mrs. Frank A. Peterson has closed out her business and with her mother Mrs. Mercy A. Towle has gone to Rockland and will occupy an apartment in the Albert Peterson house on Granite street. Mrs. Peterson, during her 11 years in business, has made many friends who deeply regret her departure.

Mr. and Mrs. Erling Heistad who have been visiting his father, Hans Heistad, have returned to Lebanon, N. H.

Earle Achorn and Keith Crockett, students at Gorham Normal School, were at home over the weekend.

Charles Marston is moving his family from the Haskell house on Commercial street to one of the houses on Pleasant street owned by Charles Wood of Camden.

Mrs. Margaret Carr of Spruce Head spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Roland Crockett.

The B.Y.P.U. held a very interesting session at the Baptist vestry Sunday from 5:30 to 7:30. The subject of the service was "Stories That Jesus Told" and several new features were introduced by the young people with Gordon Greenlaw as leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Priest have moved into the Fred Shibles house on Beech street.

Graduation exercises of the senior class, R.H.S., will take place on the evening of June 8 at Town hall. A novel program is being arranged under the title "The Wayside Inn," and the graduates will be gowned in costumes appropriate to the carrying out of the idea.

Mrs. Sophia Currier, Miss Vina Currier, Mrs. Elsie Whitney, daughter Dorothy and son Alden of Brewer and Cyler Rich of Newport were guests of Rev. and Mrs. G. F. Currier Sunday. Mrs. Currier will remain for a longer visit the others returning home Sunday night.

Rev. F. F. Fowle and Rev. G. F. Currier attended the monthly meeting of the Knox County Ministerial Association at Union Monday. School Superintendent C. E. Lord of Camden was the principal speaker, using as his subject, "The World Court."

The Johnson Society will meet Wednesday evening at the Methodist vestry.

Regular meeting of Harbor Light Chapter this Tuesday evening, preceded by picnic supper.

George Crockett and Frank Priest entered upon their new duties Monday as assistants at the local post-office.

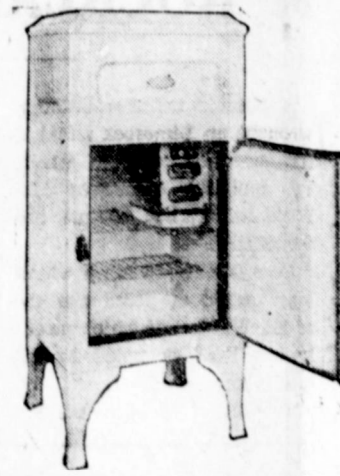

Several from this place attended the Walter Smith concert in Camden Friday evening, and pronounced it a highly enjoyable affair. Among the players were Gertrude Havener, Steward Rhodes, Vere Crockett, Maurice Turner, Maurice Miller, Weston Arey and Leroy Moon of Rockport. Mr. Smith on being informed that it was a charity affair offered a free half hour lesson to those selling 25 admission tickets. Leroy Moon was one of the three winners.

Baptist Women Did Much Good In Many Ways—Mrs. Keach President

At the annual meeting of the Women's Association of the First Baptist Church these officers were elected: President, Mrs. Florence Keach; vice president, Mrs. Rita Snow; treasurer, Mrs. Lois Cassens; auditor, Miss Leola Robinson; secretary, Mrs. Nellie McKay; chairman of committees—missionary circle, Mrs. Helen MacDonald; social work, Mrs. Margaret Maxcy; hospitality, Mrs. Etta Thompson; relief, Mrs. Harriet Staples; church edifice, Mrs. Frances Hall.

Reports testified to the large amount of worthwhile work accomplished by the Association in the past year. The mission circle held nine meetings, with large attendance and interesting programs were carried out. The social committee reported two church suppers, two suppers and socials, a watch night refreshment hour, and eight Baptist Men's League suppers, as well as supper and dinner provided for the quarterly meeting. The hospitality committee reported 489 calls made on the sick and shut-in, and the relief committee gave a large quantity of food and clothing to the needy. The church edifice committee saw that the church was thoroughly cleaned last June. The flower committee provided flowers for all but two Sundays as memorial gifts for members.

Interesting reports were also presented by Opportunity Class, Kallioch Class and the Browne Club, showing a great deal of work accomplished in addition to sending out eight missionary boxes and giving $100 in cash to various mission calls.

At the close of business this program was presented: Scripture reading, Mrs. Keach; prayer, Mrs. Hope Brewster; class motto; chorus singing; vocal duet, "Who Could It Be?" Miss Gladys Grant and Mrs. Muriel Crie, with Miss Edna Gregory at the piano; reading, poems of Annie Johnson Flint, Mrs. J. Charles MacDonald; duet, medley, Misses Emily and Gwendolyn MacDonald, Miss Gregory accompanist, and reading, a humorous sketch "Cheering the Sick" by Mrs. Hattie Richards.

"A poet's work is a reflection of his mind," we read. This may account for some of the modern blank verse we have read recently.—The Humorist.

C. J. Mathews has returned to his home here after spending the winter in Brooklyn, N. Y. and will be glad to see all his old friends.

One of J. C. Melvin's horses sustained a serious injury while in the stall last week.

Work has begun repairing the highway on Meriam Hill.

The grass is beginning to show up good after the recent rains.

Report says our genial Star Route carrier, R. J. Heald retires from the route July 1, after serving around 12 years. He will be missed all along the line.

Ralph Cripps has a flock of fine lambs, which is quite a rarity around this section of the country.

Sidney Annis who has been ill is now able to be out again.

The regular weekly dances in Community hall were opened for the season last Saturday with a confetti ball, which was well attended. These affairs are very popular, not only with the younger generation, but with the older ones as well. Some improvements have been made, among them an electric "hot dog" apparatus in the vestibule. The music is fine, and a pleasant evening always assured. Plenty of parking space.

The annual meeting of the Community Association will be held in the hall next Thursday evening. Officers are to be elected and various matters will come up for discussion, and it is hoped that all members will attend.

EAST FRIENDSHIP

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bowen of Dover-Foxcroft were recently callers at Frank Miller's.

Mrs. Walter Townsend of Boothbay is visiting her sister Mrs. Austin Orne.

R. A. Doe and F. Copeland were out of town last Tuesday on a business trip.

A. V. Grafton, R. J. Marshall and W. A. Lermond have been employed with Fred Black of Rockland burning over blueberry land.

Mrs. Harold Davis of Rockland recently visited her aunt Mrs. Hattie Burns.

B. A. Murphy and crew of men of the harbor have been in this place the past week burning over Mr. Murphy's blueberry land.

Fred McLellan is very ill. He is being cared for by Mrs. Alice Bean of Thomaston.

The correspondent will be glad to insert any items for this column if they are handed in to her.

Miss Frances Bourne who is employed by A. C. McLean & Co., is at their Boston office for a few weeks.

Two bold bad boys, aged 9 and 13, were placed on probation yesterday after confessing to a number of breaks.

Bowdoin Nealey of Bangor fished in Knox County waters without a license. In Municipal Court yesterday he paid $10 and costs for his oversight.

Ralph L. Smith of Broad street boasts the first tulip of the season, picked Sunday. The bloom, borne on a fairly long stem, is a beautiful variegated type in rose, yellow and white.

From Oakland, Calif., comes news of the death of Austin Herbert Hills, a native of Rockland, who left this city in 1873 to carve out a successful business career on the opposite coast. Obituary deferred.

On Limerock street, opposite the residence of Arthur Rokes was begun on a five-room bungalow which will have a garage attached. Freeman A. Stanley is the contractor, and the building will be ready for occupancy early in the fall.

Kenneth V. White is home from Hartford, where he attended the convention of the Amateur Radio Relay League. In Boston he was the guest of Howell Cullinan, Boston Globe news announcer, and saw the Washington-Red Sox game.

At the Commercial College Friday an interesting salesmanship play was presented by Gertrude Smith, Carolyn Reed, Myrtle Wolf, Dorothy Joyce and Arletta Maloney, this being part of the school training. The cast was directed by Mrs. Lena K. Sargent, principal.

The finals of the annual University of Maine prize speaking contest for high schools and academies took place Saturday evening at Orono, with 75 competitors representing 30 schools from all over the State. Loren Drew of Camden took second honors in the extemporaneous speaking.

In Municipal Court yesterday Hall Thomas was sentenced to six months in jail for the larceny of a large number of Rhode Island Red hens from Harold Allen of Camden. Sentence was suspended on the condition that Thomas makes restitution. Arrest by Deputy Sheriff Ludwick followed an investigation.

The Maine State Prison Minstrel show to be presented Friday night, under the direction of Marshall Bradford is exciting a great deal of attention, and, as everybody should know, is open to the public. The inmates are seeking money for their athletic fund, and are bound to give value received. The entertainment begins at 8 o'clock daylight.

Miss Bernadette Snow of the senior class of Rockland High School, competed in the Lydia Spear speaking contest at Winslow Friday night, winning third place. While this decision does not provide place in the finals to be held May 3, Miss Snow's award is especially gratifying as there were 20 contestants. Her selection was the "Beau of Bath."

Rev. George H. Welch and L. A. Walker are in Bangor today attending the Universalist-Unitarian conference at the Unitarian Church when Rev. Roger Eitz, superintendent and secretary of the National Convention and highest official of Universalist denomination, will speak on the new movement initiated by Unitarians to bring the two churches together in closer working fellowship. Dr. Eitz is a member of the joint commission representing both denominations, which was appointed to work out a practical plan for some sort of union, and which, after several conferences, suggested that they come together under what is now known as "The Free Church of America."

Free delivery by Western Union service is offered on $2 orders or over by J. J. Newberry Co. in their big grocery sale advertised on page three of this newspaper.—adv.

TO ENFORCE CURFEW LAW

Five strokes of the fire alarm at 8:45 tonight, and on each succeeding night, means that children under 15 must immediately scot for home, and be under the family roof by 9 o'clock. The City Government last night voted this to enforce the curfew law, provided for in the ordinances.

A large crowd gathered at Sandy Beach Sunday to witness baptisms conducted by the Pentecostal Mission.

Knott C. Rankin of the Rockland & Rockport Lime Corp., has been granted a patent on material and method of making waterproof mortar.

Robert McCarty, secretary of the Rockland Baseball Association has called a meeting for next Monday night to be held in the Central Maine rooms. A keen interest is already being shown in Twilight League baseball, and some interesting plans are said to be afoot.

New honors came to a valued contributor to this paper last week when Albion B. Crocker (Boze) was elected first vice president of the Somerville (Mass.) Sons of Maine Club. Other officers chosen were: Ralph A. Hight president, Hiram Turner second vice president, Aaron B. Noyes secretary and Edwin O. Russell treasurer. Harry L. Alley, Orville S. Waldron, Mazina S. Grover, Lewis H. Watts and George L. Rice are on the executive committee, and Harry A. Turfitt is steward.

One of the largest Masonic funerals this city has seen for several years took place Sunday afternoon when services were held for Simeon A. Duncan, who was drowned at Andrews Island last Friday. Mr. Duncan had twice been commander of Claremont Commandery and many Sir Knights marched in the escort. The Rockland Lodge service was conducted by H. L. Richards, W.M., with Rev. W. S. Rounds as chaplain. The bearers were Capt. John A. Stevens, J. E. Stevens, Harold L. Karl and Myron E. Young. Interment in Sea View cemetery. The funeral services for Charles Whitney Sprague, who was drowned with Mr. Duncan were held at the Burpee parlors, Rev. E. O. Kenyon of the Episcopal Church officiating. Here, also, there was a large attendance of sorrowing friends.

Mrs. Winifred Butler of Portland, Mrs. George Avery, and Mrs. E. E. Knight won honors at the card party Thursday afternoon under the auspices of Edwin Libby Relief Corps. Mrs. Millie Thomas and Mrs. Knight acted as hostesses, and there were three tables. The circle housekeepers were Mrs. Elizabeth Barton, Mrs. Effie Walsh, Mrs. Myra Waits and Miss Sarah Sansom. A happy feature of the supper was a birthday card shower for Mrs. Rebecca Ingraham in honor of her 85th birthday. The evening program included readings by Mrs. Amanda Choate, Mrs. Velma Marsh, Mrs. Nellie Higgins, Mrs. Elizabeth Barton, Mrs. Higgins' selection being an original poem dedicated to Mrs. Ingraham. It was voted to hold a benefit card party Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Cooper, Limerock street, and Mrs. Barton and Mrs. Ella Flye were named housekeepers for circle supper preceding the meeting of Thursday.

Augustus D. Bird, who underwent a major operation at Knox Hospital one month ago, was removed to his home on Camden street yesterday, his condition much improved.

Glen A. Stokes of Orange City, N. J., has sold to Charles S. Russell of Orange the property on Meduncook River known as Moody Island, formerly Crotch Island.

Sylvia S. Shives of Boston addressed in Postoffice square Sunday afternoon, a mass meeting held under the auspices of the Mooney defense and other committees. The speaker took both of the major parties to task.

Everybody is exhibiting scrip these days, but how many can show a sample 125 years old? Charles Lewis of Orient street has one in the denomination of $3, drawn on a Burlington, Vt., bank.

No broken bones, but a bad bruising, was sustained Saturday night by Loren Blake, when he was run down by Xavier Winchenbaugh's car. He was examined at Knox Hospital.

Driving a borrowed car, with the owner's permission, but without an operator's license, Judson Rector ran into and fatally injured a dog belonging to Fred Condon. For leaving the scene of the accident without notification he was given his choice of paying $5 and costs or serving 30 days.

A caller at The Courier-Gazette office yesterday brought a decided suggestion of summer. He was Philip P. Dondero, the man who keeps Oakland Park on the map, and who is planning to start another season there on Memorial Day, with a noted orchestra. Workmen are already doling up the property. Mrs. Dondero came to Rockland with her husband.

Grave injustice was done to one of Wall's Wonders in our report of the last bowling match, for it was Mason who had high string, and he should certainly be given credit for his 123. This game produced two other new records, redounding to the credit of the Three Crows—a string total of 333 and a game total of 1673. Even that didn't give anybody license to call the other team Wall's Blunders.

The annual May supper for the children of the Congregational primary Sunday school will take place tomorrow at 5:30. Mrs. W. Seymour Cameron as chairman will be assisted by Mrs. Earl Perry and Mrs. Chauncey Keene, and also by parents and the primary teachers. Thursday night there will be a supper for the older children of the school at 6. Mrs. Charles G. Hewitt will be chairman and has for her committee Mrs. Charles Merritt, Mrs. John G. Snow, Mrs. Edwin Edwards, Miss Frances Chatto, Miss Mary Ginn, Miss Elizabeth Snow, Miss Ruth Peterson, William P. Kelley, Lawrence Crane, Robert Allen, Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Rounds will be special guests.

Mrs. Florence Young was chairman of the Eastern Star supper Friday. There were about 125 in attendance. The attractive decorations, striking a spring note, featured a color scheme of green and yellow, carried out in crepe paper, flowers and ferns. There were visitors from Grace Chapter of Thomaston. Forget-me-nots of Stonington. It was voted to begin all meetings henceforth at 7:30 daylight. Past Patron Hatch of Grace Chapter offered pleasant remarks. Mrs. Laura Maxey was named chairman for the supper for May 12. The program included a piano solo "Au Matin" by Goddard, Mrs. Amy Tripp; an address by Dr. Harry L. Richards; and vocal solos by Mrs. Vivian Hewitt, one of which was the Maine song written by Mrs. Blanche Heald Ellsworth of Rockport.

GLENCOVE

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Maxey and Miss Cushman of Augusta were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Maxey.

Inspector George Furbush and Louie Krieger of the Central Maine Power Co. were at the Glencove substation recently.

Mrs. Harriett Buker was calling on friends here and a dinner guest of Mrs. Helen Hall Friday.

Mrs. Alton Wincapaw attended the Jolly Six Club held with Mrs. Harry Mather in Rockland Thursday.

Lewis Wincapaw has been visiting Benjamin Perry in Warren for a few days.

Miss Carrie Newcombe of Belfast was a caller last Thursday at Mrs. Alton Wincapaw's.

Penobscot View Grange held its regular 6:30 supper before the meeting last Thursday night. There was an extra good supper, and many were disappointed because brother and sister W. A. Wheeler of Brunswick were prevented from being present on account of illness. However, an interesting meeting was held and visitors were present from White Oak, Pleasant Valley and Equity Granges. Past Master Obadiah Gardner gave a very engaging talk on costs of State auto operation and State road building.

Wesley N. Wasgatt and Carl Thurston of this city are members of the graduating class at U. of M.

The Rockland Lions Club tomorrow will listen to tales of the sea, as told by Edward O.B. Burgess of Thomaston. In a brief talk at a recent meeting Mr. Burgess told just enough to whet the Lions interest and curiosity. They are all anxious to hear the full story tomorrow.

COMING To End RUPTURE Troubles

Representatives of W. S. Rice, Adams, N. Y., originator of the Rice Method for the self treatment of rupture at home, will be at the Hotel Rockland, Rockland, Me., Tuesday, May 2, to give a personal and free trial of his method to all sufferers who want to end rupture trouble and true wearing.
No matter how bad the Rupture, how long you have had it, or how hard to hold, no matter how many kinds of trusses you have worn, let nothing prevent you from getting this FREE TRIAL. Whether you are tall and thin, short and stout, have a large abdomen, whether you think you are past help or have a rupture as large as your fists, this marvelous Method will so control and keep it up inside as to surprise you. It will restore the parts where the rupture comes through that soon you will be as free to work at any occupation as though you had never been ruptured.
The trial will be absolutely complete and thorough without a penny of cost. You owe it to your own personal comfort and safety not to miss the great free demonstration. It is a real opportunity to learn how you may be done with chafing trusses and the danger, suffering and trouble your rupture has caused.
The hours are 10 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., and evenings 7 to 8. Remember the date and place, Hotel Rockland, Rockland, Me.

Mrs. C. B. Stahl and Miss Betty Stahl were recent Portland visitors.

Of particular interest to local people in connection with the installation of the $225,000 dial system for the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. in Portland, is the fact that Allan P. Hassner is in charge of it, superintending hundreds of men, who have been employed nine months on this project. The dial installation is the largest of its kind done by employees of the company and Mr. Hassner has complete supervision of all the work. The fact that he is a native of Waldoboro, the son of O. V. Hassner, and a graduate of Waldoboro High School, brings a feeling of pride in the remarkable progress made by the young man in his particular line of work.

GEORGIA OBSERVES 200TH ANNIVERSARY

Last of Thirteen Colonies to Be Settled.

Washington.—Georgia has been celebrating its two-hundredth anniversary, and as a birthday memento the Post Office department has issued a special three-cent stamp bearing the portrait of Gen. James Edward Oglethorpe, who landed with his followers at the present site of Savannah, on February 12 or 13, 1733. The latter date has been the generally accepted one.

Georgia and Savannah are dealt with in a bulletin from the National Geographic society quoting a communication from Ralph A. Graves. "The last of the thirteen original colonies to be settled, Georgia, with an area of more than 59,000 square miles, is the largest state east of the Mississippi," says the bulletin. "In this particular she is truly a nation in herself, exceeding in size the republic of Austria, or Czechoslovakia, Greece, or Portugal, any one of the six Central American republics, or any of the three island republics of the Caribbean. She is larger than England and Wales, or Belgium, the Netherlands, and Denmark combined.

Variety of Products.

"Her situation on the Atlantic seaboard and her diversity of elevation are such that of the nine distinct climate belts to be found in the United States proper, eight are encountered within her bounds, with the result that she grows as great a variety of agricultural products as any state in the Union.

"Georgia's second city and chief port is Savannah. It is exceeded only by metropolitan and bustling Atlanta. It was where Savannah now lies that James Edward Oglethorpe, in 1733, established the first settlement of the new colony named for his sovereign, George II.

"There was a four-fold purpose actuating the founding of the last of the English colonies in America. The British government was anxious to have a buffer state between the Carolina-Virginia settlements to the north and the hostile Spaniards in Florida, and a 'shock absorber' for possible encroachments of the French from Louisiana. General Oglethorpe, on the other hand, was chiefly interested in affording a place of rehabilitation for thousands of his worthy but impoverished countrymen and a retreat for the unfortunate of other lands who were being persecuted for their religious convictions.

"The early settlers included not only Englishmen, but Scottish Highlanders, German Lutherans (Salzburgers), Portuguese Jews, Swiss, and Piedmontese.

"Like Augusta, Savannah is steeped in tradition, and historical association is the visitor's companion wherever he goes. Here he finds two monuments, the cornerstones of which were laid by Lafayette, one commemorating the Revolutionary hero, Gen. Nathaniel Greene, and the other that gallant Polish friend of liberty, Count Casimir Pulaski, who lost his life at the siege of the city in 1779.

Hero of Fort Moultrie.

"Hard by is a third monument, to William Jasper, the hero whose daring exploit in replacing the fallen colors of the Revolutionary forces at Fort Moultrie in the face of a galling fire has thrilled every American schoolboy. Jasper fell at Savannah with Pulaski in the siege of 79.

"It was from this flourishing seaport, 114 years ago, that the Savannah made the first successful transatlantic voyage in the history of steamship navigation, the passage to Liverpool requiring 25 days.

"Three venerable structures in the heart of the Forest City, so named because of the massive, moss-festooned live oaks which line its streets, attract the attention of the historically minded—the Savannah theater, one of the oldest playhouses in America, in which practically all the stage stars in the more than a century of its existence have appeared; Christ church, on the site of the original edifice where John Wesley, founder of Methodism, was once a rector and where he is supposed to have established a Sunday school (still in existence) some 50 years before Robert Raikes started his 'first Sunday school in the world' at Gloucester, England; and the third a mellow old house, now the home of a venerable Savannah jurist, in which General Sherman established his headquarters after he had completed his 'march to the sea.'

"While Savannah derives much of its delightful atmosphere from such associations, there is another side to the city which is equally arresting. It is the world's greatest naval stores market and its miles of waterfront accommodate shipping from all parts of the globe, especially vessels which come for cargoes of cotton, turpentine and rosin.

"There is also a manufacturing side to this, the oldest city in the state. One of the most interesting of its industrial establishments is a sugar refinery, the only plant of its kind between New Orleans and Baltimore, and therefore occupying a marketing advantage in an area covering 13 states."

Blunder in Law Provided King Must Share Sentence

Strange mistakes are sometimes made in drafting parliamentary bills. Some of these are merely amusing, but others might have had serious consequences if not put right.

For instance, in one case all the members of parliament who had been president of the board of trade since the board of trade act of 1909 was passed would have been liable to heavy penalties if parliament had not regularized their position.

Then, some years ago, it was discovered that divorces of Anglo-Indians pronounced in Indian courts were invalid. As the Indian courts had been dealing with such cases for a long time and many of the people affected had remarried, things would have been awkward if the law had not been altered.

Sometimes a blunder creeps in during the passage of a bill through parliament. An old bill imposed a fine as the penalty for stealing linen from bleaching fields. One-half of the fine was to go to the prosecutor and one-half to the king.

While the bill was under consideration an amendment was carried altering the punishment to ten years' transportation. But the fifty-year clause was left in, so that it appeared that the king was to share the sentence.—London Answers.

Vancouver Island Named for Prominent Navigator

Vancouver is named for George Vancouver, who discovered it. This famous navigator was born in 1758, and entered the Royal navy in 1777 as an able seaman on the Resolution under the celebrated Capt. James Cook. He became a midshipman on the Discovery, on Captain Cook's third voyage; and in 1780 he passed his examination as a lieutenant. He attained the rank of commander in 1790, and in 1791 was sent in the Discovery to take over from the Spaniards the Nootka Sound territory. He explored the Pacific coast of the North American continent, and on his return to the Old country in 1795 he devoted himself to preparing his journals for publication. He died when this task was practically completed, on May 10, at Petersham, England. His "Voyage of Discovery to the North Pacific Ocean and Round the World," in the years 1790-1795, edited by his brother, John Vancouver, appeared in London, in three volumes, in the same year.—Montreal Herald.

Habits of "Coons"

"Coons" are animals of the woodland edges and habitually frequent ground where running water is available. They build their homes preferably in hollow trees, but occasionally may be found in rocky crannies and even in bank furrows. Tracks of the raccoon curiously resemble those that might be made by the hands of a very small child. In food habits, the raccoon bars practically nothing on the menu. Frogs, fish, shell-fish, fruit, nuts, grain, vegetables, and sweets are acceptable fare with him; not equally so, but welcome at all times. If near water, the raccoon usually washes his food carefully before eating it.

Fish and Earthquake

Fish were biting well for a party of New Plymouth fishermen in a launch in a choppy sea off Monkau. Three, four and five fish at a time were being hauled in on lines with numerous hooks. Suddenly the biting ceased. After vainly fishing for some time the fishermen returned to New Plymouth, to discover that an earthquake and the cessation of biting had coincided in time. They were not aware of the earthquake until they went ashore. The origin of the earthquake is said to have been under the sea.—Montreal Herald.

Lifting Powers of Gases

Hydrogen will lift 0.071 pounds per cubic foot, under ordinary conditions while helium will lift 0.063 pounds per cubic foot. At sea level under average conditions, 1,000 cubic feet of air weighs about 50 pounds, while the same amount of hydrogen weighs about 5 pounds, and the same amount of helium about 12 pounds. As it is difficult to get these gases in the pure state, their actual lifting power per 1,000 cubic feet would average about 71 pounds for hydrogen and 66 pounds for helium.

Turret Spider Never Hunts

The turret spider never hunts for prey. Instead it waits at the top of its burrow for the creatures upon which it feeds to come within reach, though this may mean it must go without food for weeks or even months at a time. When it does capture a victim, however, it feeds voraciously.

Prairie Dog Like Camel

The prairie dog drinks little or no water. But years ago many western farmers believed that the complex tunnels constructed by these animals underground led to some underground source of water and as a result spent many useless hours in the vicinity of such tunnels drilling for water.

KIN OF EX-KAISER WORKS AS WAITER

Ekes Out Precarious Living in Luxembourg.

Paris.—Penniless, hungry, jobless, Alexander Zoubkoff, one-time brother-in-law of the former Kaiser Wilhelm, is anxious to quit the tiny refuge of Luxembourg, where he went when German and French police told him he was an undesirable. Bearing only a Nansen passport, which the League of Nations accorded to Russian and other homeless exiles, he must be invited by a foreign government before he can go abroad.

Zoubkoff has in mind the publication of his memoirs and a series of conferences embroidering the romance of his many love affairs, but has insisted that neither the story nor the talks will mention the name of his former royal spouse, the Kaiser's sister, Princess Victoria.

The young Russian, who is thirty-one, but who appears aged far beyond his years, has known the vagaries of fortune. When he first came to Luxembourg, he lived in a castle along the Moselle; piece by piece, his property was lost and in recent months he has kept himself from starving by working as a waiter, or dishwasher, in Luxembourg restaurants, as a sandwich man in the public parks, or as a chauffeur of taxicabs.

Today he is jobless, penniless, and looks hungry. His eyes, which won for him many romantic conquests, are as bright as ever, but they stare from a pale and thin face.

The ex-kaiser will do nothing for his brother-in-law. Zoubkoff tried several times to get word to the Kaiser in Holland of his situation and wrote many letters, all of which were unanswered. The ex-kaiser let it be known that he never approved of the marriage and that if his sister had made a mistake he, Wilhelm, could not be expected to pay for it.

His own family, while not wealthy, is in fair circumstances and his mother is understood to have promised to pay his hotel bills regularly, so long as he stays in Luxembourg. There were stories in the newspapers that Zoubkoff had gone over Europe on travels and to make speeches, but that is proven wrong by the police records, which show that, except for occasional short trips over the border, he never left Luxembourg.

Kreuger's Yacht Motor to Chase Rum Smugglers

Helsingfors, Finland.—The expensive motor which the late match king, Ivar Kreuger, had fitted to his private yacht will now do service against Finnish liquor smugglers. After the financier's suicide his personal effects were sold in order to recover some small part of the loss to investors. At the sales it was noted that small articles like neckties were bought at many times their real worth by souvenir hunters. But highly valued items such as works of art fetched only a fraction of their true worth due to the depression.

Among these was the engine from Kreuger's splendid motor yacht, Maybach. The motor had cost more than $10,000. It has now been purchased by Finnish coast guard authorities for about one-tenth its original price. It will be fitted to a smuggler chasing speedboat.

Gunmen Raid Hospital at Chicago, Loot Till

Chicago.—Bandits forced 35 persons, including a man on crutches, to lie on the floor in the office of the Swedish Covenant hospital while they robbed the cash drawer of $100.

Harry Balder, thirty-five years old, who had come to visit a sick friend, was slow in lying down. A bandit struck him on the head with a revolver muzzle. The hospital allowed him a room and surgical treatment free.

Drowns in Goldfish Bowl

Patterson, N. J.—The body of three-year-old John Pogano, of Fair Lawn, N. J., was found in the bottom of a concrete goldfish bowl in the rear of the home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Foster, neighbors. The bowl is seven feet across and two and a half feet deep.

Portia Unmerciful, Driver Complains

San Antonio.—Like father, like daughter—so when her justice of peace father was not at home the daughter held court and did the fining.

Such was the report of Herman H. Ochs, president of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, in a protest against mistreatment of motorists.

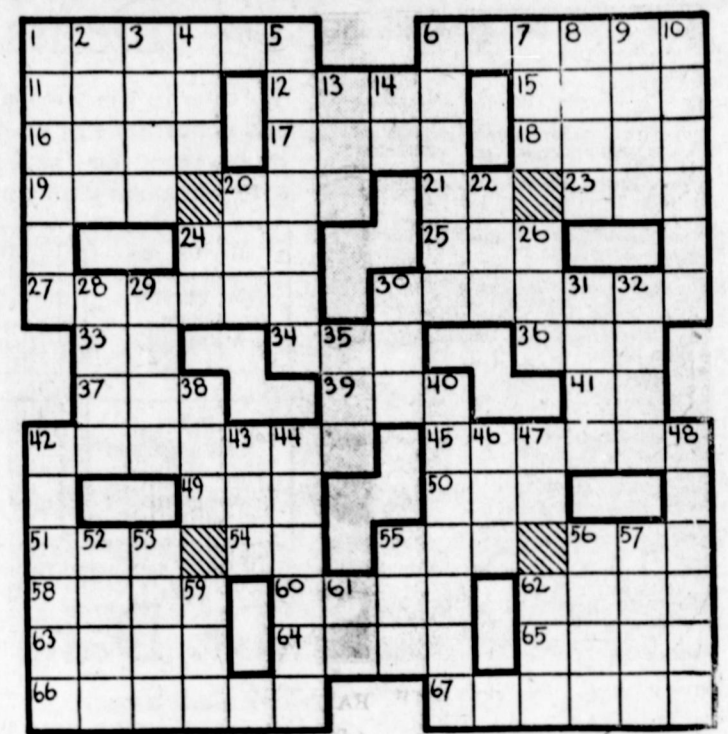

Ochs said that a Chicago motorist was escorted to the residence of a justice of peace. The justice was not there, "so his daughter held court out there by the side of the road and fined the man $15.25," Ochs protested.

"As a result the man's feelings were hurt," Ochs said, "and he declared that he would advise all his friends to steer clear of this county."

SEE ATOM BUNDLE OF ENERGY WAVES

Experiment Confirms Discovery of New Element.

New York.—Starting proof that atoms, smallest particles of matter, are really packets of electrical waves, has been obtained by bursting aluminum metal atoms.

This feat has been achieved by Dr. M. A. Tuve and his colleagues, L. M. Hafstad and O. Dahl of the department of territorial magnetism, Carnegie institute, Washington, who received the $1,000 prize of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in 1931.

Besides proving that matter is really bundles of energy waves, the present experimenters confirmed the existence of the newly discovered elements "neutron," or "neutrino."

Also, they converted lithium, boron and other atoms into helium. These amazing transformations of matter from one simple condition into another were achieved by the use of the Van de Graaff type of electrical power producing machine, a marvelous American invention from which it is expected enormous electrical power can be obtained at a very small cost.

The report of the Carnegie institute scientists' work was made public in a lecture given by Doctor Tuve himself upon the subject of "Atomic Nucleus and High Voltage."

The Van de Graaff apparatus in this case consisted of an aluminum hollow sphere, in which a moving silk belt produced an electrical charge. When there are two such spheres, one charged positively, the other negatively, a lightning-like flash passes between them.

Passing this spark or flash discharge through vacuum tubes it was possible to smash up the metals under experiment.

Very fast protons or hydrogen nuclei particles were shot at the lithium and other atoms.

Aluminum similarly treated showed an amazing result. The waves of positive electrical particles or alpha particles penetrated into the nucleus of the aluminum atoms just as an outside water wave, if high enough, leaps across the wall and enters the waves of inside tank.

Plans Speedboat Line London to New York

London.—Breakfast in London—lunch the next day in New York.

This is the startling prospect brought within measurable distance by a super-speedboat planned by a Hendon inventor, P. G. Lombardini.

Not only will it roar across the Atlantic at from 100 to 150 miles an hour, but it will carry 2,000 passengers. At cruising speed it would reach New York in 30 hours.

The secret which may make this possible is that the ship will no longer plow through the water. It will skim the surface.

The craft planned by Lombardini looks almost like a seaplane without wings, and will be driven by aero-engines and air screws instead of a propeller.

In the floats, however, will be rollers designed to reduce drag and water resistance to a minimum.

Traveling Around America

GOING TO SEA TO SWIM

A EUROPEAN visitor who recently traveled abroad in the United States, journeying with ever-increasing interest and wonder from one coast to the other, was asked to give his impressions before he sailed for home.

"Well, really," he replied, "I would say that the Americans are a nation of athletes."

He went on to say that everywhere he went he found men, women and children playing golf, tennis, baseball, football. Everywhere he saw them running, jumping, swimming, walking. "They even exercise before breakfast!" he added in amazement.

The European might have remarked also that when Americans go to sea they want to swim. His viewpoint was not erroneously taken. When Americans sail on the ocean they do want to be in it, and for their satisfaction the new ships which sail between New York and California by way of the Canal and Spanish America have built in on their sports deck the largest open-air swimming pools of the American merchant marine.

The pools are surrounded by lounging chairs and mats, on which the bathers toast themselves in the sun after dips into the invigorating salt water drawn direct from the ocean. Strangely enough, sun-stroke is practically unknown under tropical skies, and the gay beach umbrellas which adorn the open deck shelter only those whose inclination is to sit in the shade and read.

NEW YORK STYLES

Beige and Blue Are Fashionable Colors — Handbags Follow That Vogue

(Released by New York-Paris Fashions, Times Building, New York)

Smart New York shops ushered in the Easter season with a profusion of beige and blue. These two colors were almost exclusive. Although style leaders had been indicating for some time that these colors would prevail for the spring ensemble, the wholeheartedness with which the smartest emporiums offered them was simply astounding. They were seen in tailored suits, shoes, stockings, hats, gloves, handbags, boudoir accessories, traveling bags, glassware, scarves and other things. Even the Easter displays of automobiles were featured in blue, and the dealers say that this spring is the biggest one they have ever had in public preference for this color.

There were, of course, some other colors shown, but these were so rare as to be marked. Shoes in brown were in evidence and some brown in gloves and hats. The spirit of the color surge was well shown in one of the very smartest of the ultra-chic shops where one of the big show windows was devoted entirely to things in blue—suits, pocketbooks, handbags, scarves, gloves and shoes, while the other large display window was an exact replica of the same type of things in beige. All shades of the two colors were shown, any hue apparently being obtainable if it was in the limits of the two color schemes. Even the men's shops leaned strongly to blue, unusual as this is, since all colors of the rainbow are usually displayed for the masculine eye, or perhaps for the feminine eye, who buys for the man.

Another feature of the week was the display of handbags. There is no mistake that the handbag has arrived. They are shown in morning, afternoon and evening styles. Prices are unbelievably low. The finest lacquered fabric bags in every color of beige and blue, leather bags, cloth and even bags in that wonderful shiny plastic material, which has been such a rage in Paris and London. Judging from the displays, it is very smart, indeed, to have a blue overnight bag. The toilet accessories fitted snugly inside are of fine plastic with blue tops, some shown with flower decoration. The blue and beige color scheme was even carried out in some authentic old garments which stores used in miniature to accent the old-fashioned notes which are characteristic of spring styles.

LIGHTS of NEW YORK

It was when Rudolph Bischoff, now of New York's Westbury, ran the Trianon palace, at Versailles, that there arrived a short man, with a pointed, reddish beard and a head as free from hair as a large, pink pearl. Adjacent to his Roman nose, a monocle nestled in his left eye. The visitor was Gabriele d'Annunzio, Italian novelist, playwright, poet and patriot, and he said he was looking for quiet. A suite, which looked out upon flat country, veiled by autumn fog, satisfied him. All he wanted then was the largest writing table which could be procured, a reading lamp, a stand to hold a large bowl of water containing a solitary goldfish, a daily vase of flowers, and some light bulbs of red, green, blue and yellow.

"I like," he explained, "to change the color of my room in accordance with my moods."

After the things he requested had been provided he went to work and wrote his first play in French verse, for Ida Rubinstein, the famous Russian, whose beauty and dancing perhaps exceeded her acting and French pronunciation. The play concerned the martyrdom of St. Sebastian and Ida Rubinstein appeared in the title role, with scanty raiment to protect her from the arrows. After the play was produced, d'Annunzio went somewhere in the Pyrenees. Before leaving Versailles, he commended his lonely goldfish to the care of Mrs. Bischoff, begging her to have the bowl removed to her own apartment.

But it became evident that the mind of the fish fancier was not at ease. A week after his departure, Mr. Bischoff received a telegram. It said that d'Annunzio had a presentiment that the fish was dying and asked for a report on its health. Mr. Bischoff went to see the goldfish, found it in excellent health and spirits, and wired to that effect. Twenty minutes later he received a summons from his wife. He found her in a state of agitation, looking at a flat and motionless goldfish. There appeared to be no explanation, but the fish certainly was dead. Mr. Bischoff calmed his wife, disposed of the fish in the most convenient manner, and sent another wire containing the sad news and his condolences.

Back came another telegram from d'Annunzio. It thanked Mr. Bischoff for his sympathy and asked him to bury the goldfish in the garden. This was a tall order, as the fish was now beyond recall. Mr. Bischoff told his troubles to his head waiter, an Italian named Galvini, a large man with a sense of humor. Galvini said that all would be well. He secured a large sardine from the chef, wrapped it in cotton, put it in a box, and buried it in the garden. Above it was placed a marker, bearing the somewhat inaccurate statement that this was the resting place of the pet goldfish of Gabriele d'Annunzio. Two weeks later, d'Annunzio returned and asked to be shown the grave. He read the inscription and was satisfied.

In some ways this is reminiscent of the Manhattan man and the canary bird, to which his wife was extremely attached. When it expired of old age, she packed it in a box and insisted that her husband go out and bury it. His idea was to toss the box in a garbage can, but every time he started to carry out that idea he imagined that passers-by were viewing him with deep suspicion. He knew that their suspicion would be even deeper if they saw him trying to bury something in a vacant lot, such lots in New York resident districts being few and usually flanked by windows. So he walked out on the Queensborough bridge, started to throw the box into the East river, and was seized by an alert policeman. He returned home minus the canary, but with a state of mind which lasted for a week.

When Police Inspector Matt McGrath left County Tipperary, his male parent was much prejudiced against all forms of athletics, which he described as wasteful and exhausting nonsense. But when Matt McGrath won the Olympic hammer throw and returned to visit his Irish home, the old man drew him aside. "You must know," he said, "that you take after your father's family."

A number of New York financial institutions would like to get out of the moving picture business, but are in the situation of the hunter who climbed after the bear, caught it, and besought his companion to come up and help him let go.

SPRUCE HEAD

Alec T. Robb of Riverdale, N. Y., recently made a visit of two days here as guest of his old friend Capt. Foss. Mr. Robb is employed at the Grand Central Station, New York city. This is his first visit to Maine, and being fond of boating and fishing, he was delighted with what he has seen of the Maine coast. He was heard to say that Spruce Head and the people he has met here are in his opinion ideal, and he plans to spend his summer vacation here. Mr. Robb is captain of the volunteer life saving station at Lake Carmel, N. Y., where he has a cottage and spends the weekends, and was very anxious to visit a real coast station. Accompanied by Lavon B. Godfrey he made a trip to White Head which he much enjoyed. Capt. E. M. Mills, Surfmens Kelly and Grant kindly showed him over the station and explained the methods of saving life in case of shipwreck. The breeches buoy, the gun for shooting a line to a ship in the breakers, and the surf boats were all interesting to him and he says that the White Head Life Saving Station is a first class one. He also appreciated the courtesy of Capt. A. J. Beale and George Lester, keeper and assistant of White Head Light, in showing him around the reservation.

JOB PRINTING

To Us Printing is more than just putting words into type. It is the creation of a work of art, be it a simple little announcement or an elaborate booklet. Hence we take all the pride of an artist in his craft, in each job; and that is the secret of the superlative quality of The Courier-Gazette Printing.

RIVAL FOR RADIUM FOUND IN NEW RAY

Same Elements Are Generated by Big Machine.

Berlin.—The development through big voltage of a ray which may prove a substitute for radium, and in much stronger form than that possible with the present radium supplies, is described in a recent issue of the Umschau, a scientific and medical weekly.

Professors Lange and Brach, working in the laboratories of the A. E. G. German Electric company, recently succeeded with a machine which sends 2,400,000 volts through a special vacuum tube, in breaking up atoms in six different elements, among them lead. The rays generated by this current were found to be similar to radium rays, but they had a much greater strength, corresponding to 10,000 kilograms of radium.

Effect of the Rays. The effect of these "artificial radium" rays is quite different from the ordinary X-rays. The magazine reports that tests were made by Prof. Ludwig Halberstaedter of the Institute for Cancer Research of the University of Berlin, on mice, and it was found that whereas X-rays penetrated only one-tenth millimeter into the membrane, the "artificial radium" rays produced by the high voltage, reached the depth of six to seven millimeters.

Tests were made on bacteria, blood, and then the skin, and finally cancerous growths in mice, the magazine reports, with the result that a ray lasting one-thousandth of a second succeeded in halting the progress of the growth and when repeated from four to six times, completely killed it.

Similar Success. Similar success was reported from exposing the blood to the rays, where results were obtained which would have required 12 to 18 hours of radium treatment.

It is emphasized that while the experiments with animals have shown encouraging results, it still will be a long time before such experiments could be attempted with a human patient, and that at least five years of observation would be necessary to determine whether the effect of the rays is permanent enough to establish them as a practical treatment.

Payment for Oil Nets Indians $240,000,000 Pawhuska, Okla.—More than $240,000,000 has been collected by Osage Indians from oil on their allotments. The 2,227 headrights of the tribe have drawn about $110,000 each, and the lands are far from depleted, said George Beaulieu, head of the oil and gas department of the Osage agency.

The area, already having 9,480 oil wells and 431 gas wells, was described by Beaulieu as "the coming oil field of northern Oklahoma." The original allotment was 1,147,905 acres. Some of it was reserved for townships and railroads. All the rest has been leased for gas purposes and 317,762 acres for oil, he said.

He predicted that the old naval reserve area would develop into one of the best fields of the Osage, which already made this Indian tribe the richest per capita nation in the world.

Station Needs Church Only to Make Village Principal.—The St. Lazare station, principal Paris rail outlet and already a miniature city, has added an art gallery and a lecture hall to its movie theater, barber shop, terraced cafe and department store. Only a church is lacking to make it a village within Paris.

The art gallery is devoted to paintings, photographs, and sculpture of subjects in Normandy, Brittany, and Vendee, the principal provinces served by the state railways.

The lecture hall is for passengers who want to know something about the provinces they are going to visit. Colored plates will show the glories of Rouen, Chartres, Mont St. Michel, and a lecturer will give tips on things to be seen in all places.

Law Permits Disabled War Veterans to Peddle Harrisburg, Pa.—A law originally passed in 1907 gave honorably discharged disabled American war veterans the right to peddle in Pennsylvania goods they own in their own right without obtaining a license or a permit. Only residents of Pennsylvania are given the privilege. To obtain the right to peddle without licenses, the veterans must certify to their disability and discharge, and must make affidavit that the goods they seek to sell are owned by them.

Big Airplane Order Is Awarded by U. S. Army Washington.—A vast expansion in the fighting equipment of the United States army air corps was presaged when the War department awarded contracts totaling $3,850,000.51 for new airplanes and spare parts. Five American airplane manufacturing companies shared the order.

Brown Bear Knows His Bedtime The brown bear seems to know by instinct when its condition is such as to warrant its going to bed for the winter. At the close of the season, during which there has been a scarcity of food, it will not retire at the normal time, but continue searching for food in order to acquire the store of fat necessary to sustain its life during hibernation.

Railwaymen Have Thrills and Many Narrow Escapes

Railwaymen have their share of thrills. Sometimes only a second stands between disaster and preventing an accident. Some time ago on a railway line not far from Leeds a heavy traction engine stopped in the center of a level crossing. The signals were off for a fast freight express, and three men, the driver, and two rail trackmen, had a frantic and terrifying minute and a half before the reluctant road roller could be coaxed clear of the metals. Had the express hit such a solid mass disaster would certainly have occurred.

On another occasion when a train struck a motor vanload of films near Harrogate, the train rushed on carrying with it several miles of celluloid ribbons which caught light from the bursting of the petrol tank of the van. In a few seconds sheets of flame shot up all around the startled passengers in the train, but the express was brought safely to a stop and the fires extinguished without loss of life.

Another thrill which occurs in the railway world happens at times in the handling of high explosives, and the transport of inflammable materials such as petrol and spirits.—Montreal Herald.

Says Pneumonia May Be Called Friend of Aged

Certain acute or subacute inflammations in the lungs are called pneumonia, says Ohio Health News. This is a general term and does not mean a specific disease. It may be caused by any one of a number of germs which gain entrance into the lungs and find conditions suitable for growth.

It is a frequent complication of measles, influenza, whooping cough, typhoid fever and other infections and often closes the scene in chronic heart diseases, pulmonary tuberculosis, bright's disease and diabetes. There is a marked incidence at both extremes of life; in children under six years of age and, quoting Osler:

"Pneumonia may well be called the friend of the aged. Taken off by it in an acute, short, not often painful illness, the old escape those cold gradations of decay that make the last stage of all so distressing."

Cashew Nuts Grow on Trees So-called cashew nuts grow on a large evergreen tree native to tropical America and naturalized in nearly all warm countries. Many people suppose they grow in the ground because, in general size and shape, they resemble peanuts. The cashew nut was practically unknown in the United States a few years ago. In reality it is not a nut at all. It is the kidney-shaped seed attached to the lower end of the cashew apple, which is the pear-shaped, fleshy, edible fruit borne in clusters on the cashew tree. The nut is edible only after the caustic oil known as cardol has been expelled from the shell by roasting. Cashew is pronounced ka-shoo, with the second syllable accented.

Deportation Provision Under construction of the immigration statutes an alien who entered this country prior to July 1, 1924, cannot be deported if he has resided continuously in this country for five years, unless during that time he has been twice convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, for which he was sentenced to a term of more than a year. If the wife can prove legal entry she can become naturalized. No alien who entered the country illegally on or after June 3, 1921, can become naturalized in the United States.

Proof That Fish Sleep The fact that your goldfish do not close their eyes is no proof that they never sleep. The reason of this is that they have no eyelids—hence their eyes are permanently open. But experiments made in the aquarium at the London zoo proves that fish sleep; some rest on the bottom of their tanks, others are suspended mid-water, while others sleep quite close to the surface. Just as in the case of human beings, hunger will keep fish awake. Thus we hear of successful angling feats after dark.—Answers.

As She Is Spoke The English Alpine visitor was met in the lounge of the hotel by a Frenchman. "Ah," exclaimed the latter. "I've heard about you. You climbed the Matterhorn. That is a foot to be proud of."

The Englishman laughed. "Pardon me, sir," he said, "you mean 'feet,' do you not?" "Ah," said the Frenchman, greatly excited, "so you climbed it more than once, eh?"—London Answers.

The 30th annual white breakfast of the Rubinstein Club of New York of which Mrs. William Rogers Chapman is president, will be held Saturday noon, in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria. There will be dancing in the Astor Gallery.

Mrs. Albert S. Peterson will be hostess to Chapin Class this evening at her home, 558 Main street.

Mrs. Michael Halligan underwent a surgical operation at Knox Hospital Friday. She is reported as doing very well.

Mrs. A. M. Newbert, son Kendall and daughter Nancy, of South Weymouth, Mass., are at The Thorndike for a few days.

Richard Stoddard and Charles Bicknell were home from University of Maine for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis I. Ayer are making a fortnight's visit in Boston.

Miss Ruth Lawrence went Friday to Rochester, N. Y., where she is attending the American Festival of Music at the Eastman School of Music, from which she is a graduate.

Browne Club meets Friday evening with Miss Katherine Keating, Mechanic street.

Priscilla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clarke, celebrated her sixth birthday Saturday by entertaining a number of little friends. They were Marie Berry, Ruth Clarke, Catherine Libby, Mary Lou Duff, Jean Abbott, Joyce and Jean Palmer, Ruth Sukeforth and Kent Palmer. The decorations of the table were of pink and green. Priscilla received many nice gifts.

The Woman's Educational Club at the annual meeting Friday will serve a baked bean supper to members at G.A.R. hall. All not solicited are asked to take sweets.

There will be a meeting of the executive board of the Garden Club tomorrow afternoon at the home of the newly elected president, Miss Helen D. Perry, North Main street.

Mrs. Clara T. Curtis was given a birthday surprise party at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Baxter, Grace street, Thursday evening. Bridge was played, with honors being won by Mrs. Audrey Teel, Mrs. Vivian Kimball and Mrs. Elizabeth Gilbert. Mrs. Curtis was presented with a pretty May basket containing gifts from those present. A birthday cake, angel cake and ice cream were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Joseph of Fitchburg, Mass., are in the city for a few days, arranging for the opening of their summer home at Rockville.

Col. and Mrs. William P. Hurley arrived Saturday from Fruitland Park, Fla., where they spent a pleasant winter, marred only by the mishap which befell Mrs. Hurley when she fell and broke one of her wrists.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Peter's Church held a delightful get-together Thursday evening in the Undercroft, with about 25 present. A chicken barbecue supper was served, the attractive table decorations, arranged by Mrs. Arthur Wisner, featuring geraniums, begonias, ferns and candles. Songs written as take-offs on the members were presented by Mrs. Mary Dinsmore and Mary Buttimer. Games and stunts rounded out the evening in jolly manner.

A MOCK RADIO PROGRAM

Marked Close Of Rubinstein Season—Mrs. Lilian S. Copping Is the New President

The 1932-33 season of the Rubinstein Club came to a brilliant close Friday evening with the presentation, before a large gathering of members and guests at the Universalist vestry, of a mock radio program under the direction of Mrs. Helen Wentworth and Mrs. Gladys Morgan. The attention and applause, as well as the appreciative laughter in the right places, betokened the pleasure derived from the clever and unique program.

The stage placed in the large doorway between the vestry and parlors was arranged to resemble a broadcasting station—hangings, a few pieces of furniture, and microphones, one of which bore the station signal—RUCL (Rubinstein Club). Participants in the program impersonating or representing famous radio personalities were introduced by Mrs. Morgan as announcer. Beginning with the morning exercises the program was carried through musical numbers, readings and skits to news flashes, the weather, the time and the sign-off. Kirk's Orchestra (seven pieces), Misses Nathalie Jones and Ruth Gregory, John Robinson, Chester Wyllie, Harold Green, R. K. Green and Misses Jane Welch, Betty McAlary and Maizie Joy, were guest artists, and their services were received with much appreciation. The program:

Morning exercises—Art Bagley and Demonstrators
(Mrs. Wentworth, Jane Welch, Betty McAlary, Maizie Joy; Mr. Bates of Kirk's Orchestra at the piano)

Seth Parker, Mr. Robinson, Ma Parker, Mrs. Wentworth, Cephas, Mr. Wyllie, Captain, R. K. Green, Neighbors, Mrs. Kathleen Marston, Mrs. Ruth Hoch, Mrs. Katherine Veazie, Mrs. Storer, Mrs. Hazel Atwood, Harold Greene, Orchestra—Waltzes—Waltzing in a Dream
My Wishing Song
Paradise
Wayne King's Orchestra (Kirk's Orchestra)

Accompanists were Mrs. Nettie Averill, Miss Della Morse of Camden, and Mrs. Marian Marsh Clark. Ushers were Mrs. Doris Scarlott, Mrs. Dorothy Crie, Miss Clemmie Blackington, Miss Edna Gregory and Mrs. Ruth Hoch.

At the close of the program members of the program enjoyed an informal buffet lunch and social hour.

A special meeting of the Junior Harmony Club has been called for this afternoon at 4.30 at the Universalist vestry to make final plans for the open meeting which will take place next Tuesday evening. Teachers presenting pupils are asked to notify Mrs. Leola Noyes as soon as possible regarding name of child, selection and composer.

The directors of the Home for Aged Women meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. W. Fuller.

The card party scheduled for Friday at the home of Mrs. Mary Cooper for the benefit of Edwin Libby Relief Corps, has been cancelled. A benefit party, however, will be given next Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Clara Curtis.

The Diligent Dames meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. C. Jones with Mrs. H. Ernest Keywood as assisting hostess.

The annual meeting of Lady Knox Chapter, D.A.R., took place yesterday at the home of Mrs. Alice Karl, who was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Adelaide Butman, Mrs. Lucie Walsh and Mrs. Grace Veazie. Mrs. Suglia Sheldon presented a report of the State Conference. An interesting report of the Continental Congress in Washington, D. C., prepared by Mrs. Irene Moran and Mrs. Helen Lord, delegates, was read by Mrs. Veazie. These officers were elected: Regent, Mrs. Maude Blodgett; vice regent, Mrs. Alice Karl; secretary, Mrs. Katherine St. Clair; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Ladd; registrar, Mrs. Clara Thurston; historian, Miss Caroline Stanley; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Perry Rich; board of directors, Mrs. Ann Snow and Mrs. Mary Cooper. Mrs. Blodgett upon presentation of the gavel gave a short talk in a feeling manner.

given in compliment to the assisting artists who aided materially in making the program the grand success it was.

Prior to the program the club held its annual meeting, when these officers were elected: President, Mrs. Lilian S. Copping; vice president, Mrs. Grace Crie; secretary, Mrs. Alice Karl; treasurer, Mrs. Muriel Crie; executive board, Mrs. Helen Wentworth, Mrs. Katherine Veazie, Mrs. Ethel Lee Hayden, Mrs. Frances McLoon, Miss Alice Erskine and Mrs. Hazel Atwood; accompanist, Mrs. Averill; choral director, Mrs. Faith G. Berry.

Mrs. Copping's election to the presidency is regarded with satisfaction as she brings to the office not only value gained when she served in that capacity from 1921 to 1924, three outstanding seasons, but vision and enthusiasm for the future.

The secretary, Mrs. Karl, reported that the club held 14 regular meetings, four of which were guest days, and exchange programs with Les Camarades Musicaux and the Schumann Club here, and with the latter club in Bangor. The return program with the Bath Club will be given May 11. A Russian musicale and tea for the public was presented on April 25. The club had a summer outing at the cottage of Mrs. Wentworth, Lake Cobbescontee. Outstanding in the fine programs for the season were "Of Thee I Sing," presented by Mrs. Copping and a chorus; "Franz Josef Haydn—Mozart His Teacher and Beethoven His Friend," Miss Erskine; Homecoming's Program; Music of the Sea, Mrs. Karl; Music of Nature, Mrs. Ellingwood; Student Day; "Geraldine Farrar," Miss Caroline Littlefield, and the radio program.

The report of the retiring treasurer, Mrs. Lorita Bicknell, covering a hectic season due to financial conditions, the bank situation and unexpected happenings, showed that the treasury is about "breaking even." A rising vote of appreciation was extended to Mrs. Wentworth, retiring president, for the efficient and cheerful way in which she has served for the past year. She expressed her keen appreciation of the co-operation received from the members.

Mrs. Edward Benner and son Hugh have returned home after spending the winter with relatives in Boston and vicinity. They motored here with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Benner and daughter Lois of Augusta whom Mrs. Benner and son have been visiting for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lufkin who have been spending a few days in the city, have returned to Isle au Haut.

Mrs. E. L. Toner entertains the Roosevelt Club this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitney and Henry Powers, of Oakland, Frank Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris, and Michael Johnson, of Bangor, were in the city Sunday to attend the funeral services for the late Mrs. Michael Johnson (Minnie Whitney), whose remains had been in the receiving tomb since her death Feb. 2. The services were held in Burpee's funeral parlors, with Rev. J. C. MacDonald officiating. Mr. MacDonald incorporated in his talk a poem of great beauty written by Elizabeth Powers Stanhope, a cousin of the deceased. The remains were taken to Brownville.

Col. and Mrs. Basil H. Stinson have returned from the State Legion gathering at Ellsworth.

In Sunday's issue of the New York Herald-Tribune appeared this social item which is of special interest to Rockland readers: "Frederick S. Fales has announced the engagement of his daughter Miss Fredericka H. Fales, to Sheldon M. Monroe. Miss Fales was graduated from the Vinton School in 1919 and from Vassar College in 1924. Mr. Monroe was graduated from Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, and since graduation has been a member of the staff of the National City Bank located at Hongkong, and latterly at Bombay, India. The wedding will take place at Mr. Fales' residence, Homeside, Premium Point, New Rochelle, May 20."

MARRIED 50 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Ball Remembered On Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Ball kept open house Sunday at their home on Grove street, the occasion being an observance of their 50th wedding anniversary which fell on May 1st. The happy affair, arranged by their daughter, Miss Lucy Ball, brought together a large number of local and out of town relatives and friends.

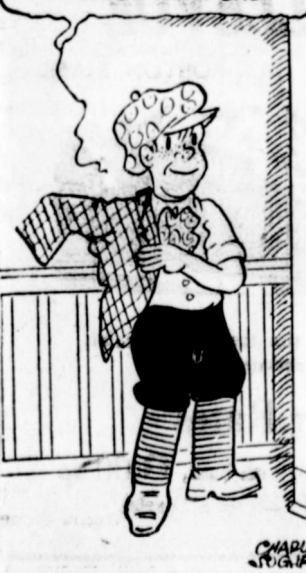

Mr. and Mrs. Ball received in the living room. Beautiful flowers, remembrances for the occasion, graced the room. Sandwiches, cakes and tea were served at a low table, presided over by Mrs. Sanford Delano and Miss Mary Kanaley of Augusta. Mrs. Ball's gown duplicated in color her wedding gown, being a rich dark red. The esteem and affection held for Mr. and Mrs. Ball were demonstrated in countless ways during the day. There were numerous telegrams of congratulation, letters and cards, gifts of flowers and gold, wedding cake, May baskets, and a purse from friends of St. Bernard's parish.

Among out of town visitors were Mr. Ball's sisters, Miss Alice Ball and Mrs. Annie Kittredge of Bucksport; Mrs. Ball's sister, Mrs. Mary Mack of Waterville; their daughter, Mrs. Percy Pinnette of Millinocket; Miss Mary Kanaley of Augusta; Mrs. Raymond Northey (Isabelle Brown) of Richmond and St. Petersburg, and Harold Swett of Portland.

THE REALM OF MUSIC

Gladys St. Clair Morgan

There is a note of rejoicing in local musical circles because Mrs. Carrie Burpee Shaw, who has been in New York and New Jersey for several years, is returning to take up her residence in Rockland in the near future. Mrs. Shaw is one of the best musicians this city has produced—not only an accomplished pianist and organist, teacher and composer, but brilliant in the history and lore of music. During her years in New York, with all her musical activities and home cares, she never lost touch with her native city, and when she comes back she will find loving hearts and admiring friends waiting to welcome her.

Mrs. Shaw wrote most interestingly awhile back concerning the so-called "modern music." Referring to a previous letter she said:

"The term 'ultra modern music' might be more appropriate to what I wrote, for there is a certain line of modern writing which is not so harrowing to the musical senses and which really contains much that is still beautiful, not withstanding its many altered chords. Even when there is a long succession of discordant combinations of sound, one can discern a certain orderly arrangement which gives a feeling that it is moving toward something understandable and restful, so that one does not really suffer from the dissonances.

"These may seem to result from the crossing of the voice parts and we can still feel that we are really going somewhere and will soon reach what may be called same harmony, at least at its close.

"But the ultra modern music seems to me to be merely an unreasonable effort to create something new and startling, something which no one else has dared to do. It is more like a somewhat brutal adventure in the use of harsh and discordant sounds which bear no relation to each other nor to orthodox harmony.

"It seems a desecration to call it music or harmony. Even the dictionary would quarrel with such application of these old fashioned terms, I am inclined to believe. It would be gratifying to give to the new music a new name, one more expressive of its character. I cannot imagine anyone being thrilled by such sounds or inspired to higher achievement in any line of endeavor; nor can I at present make sense of such terrible discords as are continued all through some of the modern compositions until the bitter end; and the end is especially bitter when its last notes form the worst discord of all. It seems to leave one in a chaotic state of feeling, perhaps because we are so accustomed to having the tonic chord at the close of all compositions.

"But the old motto, 'Live and learn' is a good one to follow; and if we give sufficient study to the subject we shall probably become able to understand and find meaning, if not beauty, in what, at present, is so unacceptable to our musical taste."

An exquisite poem entitled "Memory of Music," written by Marguerite MacAlman, was entered in a poetry contest this spring, being given third place by Leigh Hanes, editor of "The Lyric." Roanoke, Va. Mrs. MacAlman received a letter of tribute from Mrs. Irene Moran in which she said: "You should feel proud of Mr. Hanes' estimation, because 'Lyric' is considered one of the three best poetry magazines in the country. And here is the poem:

MEMORY OF MUSIC
Who then am I, to speak of music?
I, who dwell in that perpetual silence
Where no sound penetrates?
Where laughter of small children
Is spilled upon the air
And prematurely hushed,
As by an unseen hand?
Where slow, sonorous bells on Sunday
Morning
And wild remonstrances of harbor
tides
Are strangely mute;
Even as singing birds are mute.
Remembering must companion
This muffled tread of years.
Remembering
How happiness, untamed in strictured
throat,
Grew reassured by song—
"O Promise Me that Some Day You and I . . ."

Remembering
The lulling little tune
A father balanced with precision
Along the edge of nursery dusk—
"There was a crooked man,
He walked a crooked mile . . ."

Remembering
Against vast screens of shifting
knaik,
A monkey, perplexed and appealing,
Who marveled grotesquely to "Pack
Up Your Troubles."

While mad-cap, penny-fingering children
Danced round him in the street.

Forgetting
For uncertain space
How through my cupped, restraining hands
All music trickles, water-wise,
Since it is mute.
Even as singing birds are mute.

Another chatty letter from a New York friend to share with you:
"Long, long ago I saw an account of the last Rubinstein Club concert here at the Waldorf. I was there again as the guest of Mrs. Chapman and it was a most interesting program. Among the featured musicians was the Hilgar Trio—three young ladies, exceptionally fine artists. Their ensemble work is quite beautiful and they are most sincere in all they do.

"You also probably know that Mr. and Mrs. Chapman were in a rather serious automobile accident recently and were quite badly shaken up and injured. Mrs. Chapman had the more severe injuries, but they both have recovered quite completely and seem in perfect condition. It was a narrow escape.

"The last days of this season's opera were the most wonderful of all. Particularly those of the Wagner cycle. I certainly do wish you might have heard the performance of Tristan and Isolde. I was thrilled as never before. (One thing, I was sitting in the second row center and that alone was quite a thrill!) I think I have written to you before about Frieda Leider and Olszewski, the two new artists we have heard this season. They are beautiful to gaze upon and in addition sing gloriously. It was a performance that made you feel you couldn't applaud, that you must go out quietly so as not to break the spell, and made one wish for the chance of getting away alone and dreaming it all over again. I have heard operas and operas, but never a performance like this one.

"Two weeks or so ago we had a most unusual concert at the Metropolitan on Sunday evening. It was a testimonial performance to Mr. Gatti who has been manager for 25 years. Every artist of the company took part, so you can imagine what a galaxy of stars that meant. The first part was in the form of a concert with different bits of operas sung by different artists. And the second part was a surprise in the form of numerous stunts ending in a grand cabaret scene with everyone taking part. Sembrich (75 years old), Olive Fremsted, Alma Gluck (and never have I seen a more beautiful person—she was gowned in white satin, perfectly plain with a long train, silver slippers and a huge green feather fan; her hair is silver gray, and when she was brought to the footlights to be introduced, you have never seen a more beautiful or charming artist!).

"There were dozens of other celebrities who have been out of opera for some time and as they came into the cabaret scene, they were brought forward and introduced amidst much applause. There were all sorts of funny goings-on. The Ponselle sisters did a song and dance act; Bori did an Italian flower song, throwing bunches of violets to the audience. Numerous other solos, and the stunt that brought down the house was Lily Pons, diminutive person that she is, doing an Apache song and dance with Melchior (dressed as a girl) who weighs 250 pounds and is over six feet four in height. It was a riot! Altogether it was an evening that one will probably never see again, and a most interesting one to be able to see all of the artists in regular costume.

as Schelling, Harold Samuel (the celebrated exponent of Bach) and Mr. Downs himself. It was a rare treat to hear such concertos played by such artists. Our final concert is to be that of the Boston Symphony Orchestra which has developed into such a marvelous organization under its present leadership.

"Last week I heard the special performance of Aida with my friend Rose Bampton taking the second leading role. She did it very splendidly and looked very beautiful. It was rather an ordeal for her, as she had been ill for several days, but as it was such an opportunity for her, she was determined that she would go through with it. After the second act in which she had sung particularly well, the audience gave great applause, but no Bampton appeared to accept it. It continued and finally after a few minutes she did come forth, bowed and retired at once. She was called forth several times and each time seemed in a hurry to retire, which seemed unusual. We found out that at the dropping of the curtain of the act she had fainted away and only recovered sufficiently to enable her to appear and then leave at once. It was a brave effort on her part, and she sang the last act better almost than the others. I predict that she will go far in opera, for she is but twenty-three years old, and in her first year at the Metropolitan has received two major roles, something rather unusual."

The first book in any language to undertake a systematic analysis of all the chamber music works of Brahms will be published in time for the centenary of Brahms' birth, which occurs on May 7. This book by Daniel Gregory Mason—The Chamber Music of Brahms—will be available on May 2. (The MacMillan Company).

PARK THEATRE
"Mind Reader," comes for Wednesday only with Warren William and Constance Cummings in the featured roles. William plays a sort of Wallingford characterization as Chandra the Great, magician, soothsayer and mind reader.

For Thursday only Ben Lyon and Mary Brian will be seen in "Girl Missing." Palm Beach, the playground of wealth and beauty, and the hunting ground for opportunists of both sexes, is the locale of the story, and for the central figure, the authors, Carl Erickson and Don Mullaly employ a quick-witted chorus girl, whose nimble mind solves a murder mystery that is still baffling the police of the Florida winter resort—adv.

Pap Henderson Sez:

A man in the necktie business told me last week that he'd been thinkin' 'bout this prohibition repeal proposition.

Said he'd been fer it, supposin' it would help business but after thinkin' it over fer himself, an' not just thinkin' what somebody else told him to think, he had calc'lated that if people spent 2 1/2 billion dollars fer booze every year they wouldn't buy so many neckties.

So he's turned dry. A lot o' other folks has begun to wonder what repeal would do to their business, an' they're comin' to the conclusion that they've got enough competition now without startin' up any more.

IS YOUR SKIN CLEAR?

How to Keep Skin Youthful!

Alden, N. Y.—"I am glad to recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to every young girl who wants to have a fine clear complexion. For two years I was embarrassed by the condition of my skin. The eruptions that came out on my face would not clear up even though I used every outward application that my mother gave me to use," said Miss Dorothy Wingard of Kelso, N. Y. "Then I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and my skin cleared up, my blood is in good condition, I have no more eruptions but a good healthy, clear complexion, and my general health is greatly improved."

THE SAUNTERER

A. B. Crocker

The day being Saturday, the week day that the University Museum is open to the public from 9 to 4, we drop in to look over the exhibits—lest we forget. One of the latest exhibits from the hands of that celebrated worker in glass is that of fruits and berries, and the one that held our attention was our boyhood friend—the strawberry. Dr. Boteler said of strawberries: "Doubtless God could have made a better berry, but doubtless God never did."

This is not a story of the wild strawberry of fields and woods, that luscious berry which needed neither sugar nor cream. Just follow the mower, pick them up and eat them right off the stem. Just to think about those berries—"Renews the life of joy in happiest hours." We find these facts about the cultivated Fragaria virginiana.

"Duchesse (1766) discovered in his studies with Fragaria moschata, the haitian strawberry of Europe, that some plants were pollen bearing and others were fruit bearing. Some cultural methods called for a weeding out of pollen bearing plants since they were known not to bear fruit. This procedure left no pollen for pollination of the pistillate plants and of course no crop developed. It took the American strawberry growers 75 years to learn of Duchesse's work and to realize its significance."

About 1812 nurseries in North America began to disseminate improved varieties of Fragaria virginiana. In 1834 there were more than 50 varieties grown. In 1838 the Hovey, in 1876-77 the Crescent and Sharpless varieties were added. The lowly strawberry is of some importance in the commercial world, as the report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture for 1929 showed: Acres under cultivation in strawberries, 198,560; crop raised, 331,441,000 quarts, valued at $46,400,000.

Some 40 years ago when I was at the Harbor on my summer vacation, one day Dad had a hunch that the strawberries were waiting to be picked over in the Turkey woods. He insisted that I should assist in picking them. We arrived at the berry field and had picked about a pint apiece when one of those sudden showers came up. With no shelter we got very, very wet. Dad hated to go home "skunked" so we filled our pails with leaves to within a couple of inches of the top, and put the strawberries on top, and went home swinging full berry pails. "The moral of this mournful tale to all is plain and clear" Buy your strawberries in the marketplace.
Somerville, Mass.

STRAND THEATRE

Florence Arliss, wife of the famous stage and screen star, George Arliss, plays opposite her husband as his queen, in "The King's Vacation," which comes Wednesday and Thursday. She will not consent to play any role in his pictures except that of his wife and in a love story that has a happy ending. When the role calls for some other ending or another sort of characterization, another actress is invariably engaged for the part. Mrs. Arliss appeared frequently with her husband on the stage, but only the three times on the screen. Before her marriage, she played on the stage independently as Florence Montgomery, "the girl with the nice arms," as Mr. Arliss describes her in his autobiography. "The King's Vacation" is an unusually pleasing modern comedy drama—adv.

TIRE PRICES GOING UP! Equip Your Car NOW! with Firestone

NEVER BEFORE have you been able to buy Firestone Extra Quality Tires at these tire "war" prices. You will probably never have the chance to do so again, since raw material prices are rapidly increasing. Advanced tire prices must follow.

THE MASTERPIECE OF TIRE CONSTRUCTION

Used almost exclusively by master race drivers—they will not take chances or risk their lives on ordinary tires. Road speeds of today are the racing speeds of yesterday. You should take no chances but profit by the knowledge and experience of race drivers who know tires. Equip your car all around with Firestone High Speed Tires which hold all world records on road and track for safety, speed, mileage and endurance.

Firestone High Speed Tires are made by master tire builders, of the finest materials, with the Extra Features of Gum-Dipping and Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies under the Scientifically Designed Tread.

Protect your life and the lives of your family by trading in your old, smooth, thin, worn, dangerous tires. We will give you a liberal allowance to apply on a set of Firestone High Speed Tires—the safest tires in the world.

REMEMBER—your brakes can stop your wheels, but your tires must stop your car!

THE NEW Extra Quality Tire Firestone SUPER OLDFIELD TYPE

Equal in quality to standard brand, first line tires. Deep cut, thick, wide tread—rugged dependability and striking appearance. Value unequalled at prices that afford real savings.
