HEADS NO-REPEAL MOVEMENT

E. M. Lawrence Of Rockland Made Chairman and Issues Call For Day Of Prayer

Edward M. Lawrence of Rockland, formerly prominent in politics in this State, was elected to the chairmanship of the dry forces of the State at a meeting in Waterville Thursday. Mr. Lawrence will supervise and help put over the program by which the drys expect to make an effort to put Maine on record Sept. 11 as being opposed to the repeal of national prohibition.

Mr. Lawrence who has been serving for some time as chairman of the Knox County No-Repeal committee will start his campaign in Lubec tonight, when he will address his former fellow townsmen, having at one time been a prominent employer in that town.

Other members of the State No-Repeal Campaign committee include Mrs. Kate B. Ellis of Fairfield, representing the State Grange; Mrs. J. H. Huddleston of Orono, president of the Council of Maine Women Favoring Prohibition; Mrs. William R. Pattangall of Augusta, chairman for Maine of the National Council of Women for Law Enforcement; Mrs. Althea G. Quimby, State president of the W.C.T.U.; Arthur A. Heald, associate secretary of the State Y.M.C.A.; Dr. John M. Arnes, district superintendent of the Bangor District of the Methodist Churches, who represents the Protestant churches of the State; W. H. Bowden of Winslow, treasurer of the Smith, and Rev. Frederick W. Smith, superintendent of the Christian Civic League.

Mr. Lawrence's first official act was to issue in the name of the committee a call to the churches to pray. In this call Sept. 10, the day before the election was set apart as a day of special prayer before the election. The statement issued is:

"Since liquor and the liquor traffic have been of the greatest hindrance to good living and to the coming of the Kingdom of God in the world; and since a most determined effort is being made in this country by the liquor sellers and others to bring back the open, legalized sale of this evil; and since the State of Maine will have the opportunity to help or retard the coming of this legalized sale in the election for delegates to the constitutional convention on Sept. 11.

"The No-Repeal Campaign committee calls upon every Christian in the State to set aside a portion of each day in which to specifically pray that this State may not go on record as favoring the return of that which will hinder the coming of the Kingdom of God among men.

"It further calls upon the churches to hold on the afternoon of Sunday, Sept. 10, special sessions for prayer and urges all the Christian people to congregate at the hours designated by the churches to pray fervently and zealously that the will of God may prevail in all things and that the liquor traffic shall not have the right to debauch our citizenry and delay the furtherance of the ideals of the Kingdom of God."

WAR ON THE SEAGULLS

Com'r Crie Wants To Hear From Persons Having Complaints—May Ask Repeal Of Law

The great army of seagulls which frequents this section of the Maine coast is facing a crisis of which bird instinct has evidently not informed it.

Spurred by numerous complaints concerning their voracity and unclean habits, Horatio D. Crie, commissioner of Sea and Shore Fisheries, yesterday authorized The Courier-Gazette to say that any persons having a grievance with the gull family to communicate with him. Should the responses seem to warrant it he said he should ask for the repeal of the law which gives "protection to these birds."

Farmers who devote most of their time to raising blueberries are especially incensed with the seagulls which swoop down upon their pastures in great flocks, and eat the berries faster than they can be picked by hand.

Commissioner Crie is in receipt of a pathetic note from an aged woman who resides in an adjoining town. "I have always depended upon my blueberry crop to pay my taxes" she wrote, "but this year I am deprived of even that revenue. The seagulls ate all of my blueberries before I could have them picked."

Fishermen complain that the gulls steal their bait, and yachtsmen complain that their boats are made untidy.

The value of seagulls as scavengers is conceded, but Commissioner Crie believes that if the law was removed and assault was made upon the gulls that they would soon shun mankind.

At present they are so tame they will eat from the hand in some instances.

COUNTRY SAFE FOR DEMOCRATS

Cong. Moran's Reply To Searspoint Woman Who Is To Marry Now That Her Party Won

"When you were campaigning here last fall," Miss Helen Connors of Searspoint, wrote Congressman Moran Thursday, "I made a certain promise which I am now keeping. I told you that if the Democratic party got in I could get married. As the Democrats were fortunate enough to win I can now do so. I want you and Mrs. Moran to come to my wedding, which will be at St. Francis' Catholic Church in Belfast, Aug. 23, with reception at Blue Bird terrace."

Miss Connors was apparently too much excited to mention the name of the prospective bridegroom.

Acknowledging the invitation Representative Moran wrote:

"I realize full well that the Democratic party has so improved the country in general since coming into power that it is now safe to do almost anything, even to getting married."

THE GENEROSITY OF JOHN GRIBBEL

Noted Rockport Summer Citizen Gives To Scotland Rare Poems By Robert Burns

Written For The Courier-Gazette By The Honorable Justice William Renwick Riddell of Toronto and Rockland Breakwater

It is not as yet known except to a very few that our esteemed and beloved summer visitor, John Gribbel of St. Austell's, Wyncote, and Race street, Philadelphia, has just become the much-envied owner of a most treasured volume.

Lovers of the Scottish poet, Robert Burns, will remember that the first collection of his poems to be given to the public was published at Kilmarnock in 1786.

The edition was small (netting Burns some thirty pounds), and copies have become very scarce, not more than about a score known to be in existence. Mr. Gribbel was already the happy possessor of three copies of this edition, when the copy which had been the property of Burns' admired and loved friend, James, Earl of Glencairn, came on the market. All will remember Burns' fervent lament for the Earl of Glencairn after his premature death in 1791, the last stanza of which reads:

The bridegroom may forget the bride
Was made his wedded wife yesternight;
The monarch may forget the crown
That on his head an hour has been;
The mother may forget the babe
That smiles so sweetly on her knee,
But I'll remember thee, Glencairn,
And a' that thou hast done for me."

During Glencairn's lifetime, Burns had written a poem of four quatrains in praise of him, ending:

Among the illustrious Scottish sons
That chief thou may'st discern
Mark Scotia's fond returning eye,
It dwells upon Glencairn.

He was an "accomplished nobleman, a scholar, a man of taste and sensibility."

It was the copy of the Kilmarnock edition which Glencairn subscribed for and received that recently came into the ownership and possession of Mr. Gribbel—and I congratulate him most heartily on the fact.

This circumstance it was which induced me to make better known an instance of his splendid generosity—which, indeed, is much better known and recognized in Scotland and elsewhere than in America. For example, about a month ago there appeared in the most influential paper in Canada, an article relating the circumstance, and speaking of it in most appreciative terms.

The story was worth telling at some length. When, in 1788, Burns was settling up with Creech, the publisher of the second edition of his Poems (the Edinburgh edition of 1787) found himself the possessor of nearly five hundred pounds, he gave some two hundred to his brother, Gilbert, who was supporting their widowed mother, and the remainder, with further profits from his pen, he devoted to settling himself for life as a farmer with his dearly loved Bonnie Jean, whom he had at length determined to marry.

He accordingly rented from Patrick Miller of Dalwhinton (who, by the way, just failed to anticipate Fulton in the discovery of steam navigation) on the farm on the Nith known as Ellisland, which he occupied in 1788. There it was that he wrote the vigorous and characteristic, if not very delicate verses:

I'll hae a wife o' my ain,
I'll partake w' naeboddy
etc., etc.

His excessive toil on this farm, it was, in the opinion of competent judges, which was the real cause of his premature death—the slanderous attribution of it to habits of inebriety is rightly discredited by all whose opinion is worth anything.

Appointed an Excise officer, Burns did not for a time fail to continue to reside and work as a laborer on his farm. He finally abandoned it in 1791 and removed to the town of Dumfries, where he resided until his death in 1796.

His neighbor on the bank of the Nith was Mr. "Scots Cousin," Captain Robert Riddell, a gentleman who owned Friar's Carse, the adjoining estate—this was, "more Scottish," Glenriddell. On it was a "Hermitage"—what we would call a Belvedere or, prosaically, a Summer house—in which Burns, to whom Riddell had given a key, was wont to sit and indulge his poetic fancy. The well known lines:

Thou whom chance may hither lead
Be thou clad in russet weed,
etc., etc.

were written in this Hermitage—at least in their earlier form.

Riddell is described as "a man of literary and antiquarian spirit and of kindly social nature." He was a cadet of the ancient Norman-Scotts family of Riddell of that ilk, i.e., Riddell of Riddell in Roxburghshire; Sir Walter Scott's "Ancient Riddell's fair domain," which Riddell had not yet lost through devotion to scientific agriculture, as he did in the succeeding generation.

Dr. Currie tells us that "From him and from all the members of his family, Burns received not kindness only but friendship—and undoubtedly Burns entertained for him the warmest feelings of gratitude and affection. He speaks of him as 'the worthy Glenriddell, deep read in old books.' In 1791, Burns presented Glenriddell with two quarto volumes of manuscript, some in his own handwriting and some written by another hand—in a note, Burns says 'The Transcriber was one of the Clergy.' Burns prefixed the following:

"As this Collection almost wholly consists of pieces original or unfinished, fragments, the effusion of a poetical moment and bagatelles strung in rhyme simply pour passer le temps, the Author trusts that nobody into whose hands it may come will without his permission give, or allow to be taken, copies of anything here contained; much less to give to the world at large, what he never meant should see the light at the Gentleman's request, whose from this time it shall be, the Collection was made, and I will add, to his amiable Lady, it is presented as a sincere though small tribute of gratitude for the many, many happy hours the author has spent under their roof.—There, what Poverty even though accompanied with Genius must seldom expect to meet with at the tables and in the circles of Fashionable Life, his welcome has ever been, The cordiality of Kindness and the warmth of Friendship. As from the situation in which it is now placed, this M. S. S. may be preserved, and this Preface read when the hand which now writes and the heart which now dictates it may be ebbing in the dust; let these be regarded as the genuine sentiments of a man who seldom flattered any, and never those he loved.

27th April 1791. Robt. Burns."

Burns after 1791 lived in the town of Dumfries; there also resided in Woodlee Park, Glenriddell's brother, Walter and his wife Maria Riddell, an authoress (poetical and non-poetical) of some note. The poet was a frequent and a welcome guest in this Dumfries home.

Unfortunately he one evening, presuming on this friendship, offered an insult to Mrs. Riddell's family tradition has it that Burns, somewhat under the influence of liquor, left the other gentlemen at the dinner table and sought the lady in her boudoir—the husband following shortly after, witnessed the unpardonable insult to his wife. At first, the breach did not seem impossible to be healed; Burns wrote the penitent verses:

The friend whom wild from Wisdom's way,
The fumes of wine infuriate send
(Not moodiness nor madness more astray)—
Who but deprecates that hapless friend?

Mine was th' insensate frenzied part,
Ah! why should I such scenes out-live?
Scenes so abhorrent to my heart
"Tis thine to pity and forgive."

But the hopes of forgiveness and reconciliation proved illusory and all communication between the former close friends ceased. Maria Riddell, indeed, on Burns' death not long after, wrote of him in most appreciative terms.

Whether, as tradition has it, the reconciliation when well in view was prevented by gossip and unwise remarks of Burns to his cronies, we need not enquire. Si non e vero, e ben trovato.

Then it was that were penned the verses which have ever seemed to tarnish the fame of Burns. Of the husband he wrote:

Sic a reptile was Wat
Sic a miscreant slave
That the very worms damn'd him
When laid in his grave
etc., etc.

Of the wife, the hand which wrote the Epistle from Esophus to Maria, now wrote the Monody on a Lady Famed for her Caprice:

How cold is that bosom which folly once fired,
How pale is that cheek, where the rouge
lately glistened;
Want only of wisdom denied her respect,
Want only of goodness denied her esteem.

The loss of the friendship of the Woodlee Riddells was a blow to the poet, but worse was to follow. Glenriddell took up his brother's

THE BELEAGUERED CITY

I have read, in some old, marvellous tale,
Some lonely strong and vague,
That a midnight host of spectres pale
Beleaguered the walls of Prague.

Beside the Moldau's rushing stream,
With the moon moon overhead,
There stood, as in an awful dream,
The army of the dead.

White as a sea-fog, landward bound,
The spectral camp was seen,
And, with a sorrowful, deep sound,
The river flowed between.

No other voice nor sound was there,
No drum, nor sentry's pace;
The mist-like banners clasped the air,
As clouds with clouds embrace.

But when the old cathedral bell
Proclaimed the morning prayer,
The white pavilions rose and fell
On the alarm air.

Down the broad valley fast and far
The trebly army fled;
Up rose the glorious morning star,
The ghastly host was dead.

I have read, in the marvellous heart of man,
That strange and mystic scroll,
That an army of phantoms vast and wan
Beleaguere the human soul.

Encamped beside Life's rushing stream,
In Fancy's misty light,
Gigantic shapes and shadows gleam
Portentous through the night.

Upon its midnight battle-ground
The spectral camp is seen,
And with a sorrowful, deep sound,
Flows the River of Life between.

No other voice nor sound is there,
In the army of the grave;
No other challenge breaks the air,
But the rushing of Life's wave.

And when the solemn and deep church-bell
Entreats the soul to pray,
The midnight phantoms feel the spell,
The shadows sweep away.

Down the broad Vale of Tears afar
The spectral camp is fled;
Faith shineth as a morning star,
Our ghastly fears are dead.

THE NEW CITY CHARTER

There are no matters of greater present concern to Rockland than those that have natural association with the new city charter, which provides for a city manager and the council form of government. Because the welfare of every citizen is bound up in it, there is a civic duty resting upon each to inform himself upon what the charter means and whether its adoption will provide a better system of municipal machinery and at the same time bear more easily upon the citizen whose taxes keep that machinery in operation. It is the conviction of that group of citizens officially selected to study the matter, that the new system should be adopted. The Legislature has confirmed their judgment by enacting the charter upon which the full body of voters is expected to pass. The text of the charter is being printed in this paper for public consideration. We earnestly commend its study, to the end that citizens may intelligently vote next month upon its acceptance or rejection. We believe that their voice will be for the charter's adoption.

FRIEND TO KNOX COUNTY

In the death of Robert Law this community notes the passing of a generous friend, one of those outstanding figures in the Knox County summer colony, who kept himself in touch with its social and business affairs and was responsive always with a contribution when matters of a financial character fell to be considered. In the several campaigns where the needs of the Knox Hospital were under consideration, his check for a generous amount was among the earliest to be recorded, and this object of his friendly regard was only one of the many to whose calls he cheerfully responded. We have lost a warm-hearted friend.

AN OLD-FASHIONED TITLE

We do not encounter today the old-fashioned title of Deacon, which in former times arose naturally to the lip when speaking of or to men of a certain community distinction. This was not confined to his church affiliations, whence the title took its rise, but the citizen upon whom it sat with a certain grace found himself addressed by it in every phase of his active life, social, business or political. The times are not so distant but that names can be recalled—Deacon Brainerd, heading the granite industry, Deacon Torrey, of the brass foundry, Deacon Gould, merchant in boots and shoes, Deacon Crie, whose name yet figures in a business sign—these were men active in the affairs of their various churches and the responsibilities of the street, and spoken of always by the title which carried with it respectful recognition of qualities of head and heart worthily worn. There are deacons in the churches today, succeeding with full credit to those of earlier times and held in as general regard. Our point deals with the disappearance of the title, which seems to belong to the times that saw it used, and was somehow expressive of community existence less hectic in character than that with which we are today familiar.

GOOD TIMES IN BATH

This matter of the twin destroyer contracts coming to our neighbor on the Kennebec supplies occasion for congratulations, which will be showered from every side. It means the employment of a thousand skilled workmen over a period of no less than two years, with the attendant launching upon the community of handsome payrolls, whose ultimate destination is the shop-keeper and the ensuing activity of business in its multiplied channels. Happy days.

AFTER A LONG JOURNEY

The report of Wolf's periodic comet having just been sighted through Lick Observatory's giant telescope renews interest in the subject of heavenly visitors. We know that there are among the readers of this paper a number of students of the skies, who will hail the comet's return to the vicinity of the sun after an absence of seven years, rambling through space impenetrable to earthly vision, but finding its way back with a certainty that can be traced in seconds and inches. In the presence of such marvels one finds himself lifting his hat.

WRECKED AT CAPE NEDDICK

The 59-foot power vessel, Edward J. laden with 9,000 pounds of lobsters grounded on the rocks east of Cape Neddick lighthouse Thursday. It was expected that the vessel would be a total loss. S. C. Burns of Cumberland, the captain, and C. E. Simmons, the engineer, of Friendship, rowed ashore in a dory.

NOTICING

Have any of this paper's readers, gifted with the noticing faculty, noticed—

THAT however beautiful the bride may be, the reporters with the cameras manage to divest her of that distinction.

THAT those two granite hitching posts on Middle street are eloquent reminder of days gone by, which on the whole were days worth living.

THAT the ground on Limerock street cleared by the removal of the Old Beals Hall offers a very good spot to build on.

THAT the towns around us seem to be getting lots more in the way of public music this summer than Rockland is getting.

THAT the 1830 motor truck advertised in this paper was really of the 1930 vintage.

THAT if you drive down to the head of railroad wharf you can get a view of Rockland Breakwater in its full stretch across the harbor—a beautiful sight on a calm day.

THAT when the paper is delayed in getting to press the whole neighborhood overflows with impatience.

THAT somehow the Go light always appears to flash off just as you arrive there and are in a great hurry.

THAT it is almost amazing, the things you found you could do without during the past months of economizing.

THAT when other topics seem to lag, there is always some erroneous report about the hospital that can be talked over.

THAT when after shaving you examine your face in the mirror you ask yourself where that "safety" business comes in.

THAT if we could all of us speak with that pleasing voice of the telephone operator, what a charming world it would be to listen in.

THAT many of the earlier generation of our citizens in setting out trees to ornament home places set them, as the old saying went, too close apart.

THAT the clumsy-fingered public have great admiration for those expert young women who operate the type-writer at lightning speed without so much as glancing at the keyboard.

THAT when the rain pours, instead of worrying about its interfering with your own plans you are glad for the farmers, it shows your head and heart are sound.

THAT nature could have made life very pleasant by providing such a moon as that of last night for every fair evening.

THAT Allie Burpee still has the first bat used by an organized Rockland ball team and will be proud to show it to you. He also has the first baton used by a Rockland Band—belonged to his grandfather.

THAT the newly painted front of the Munsey Motor Co.'s building on Limerock street gives it a decidedly more cheerful appearance.

THAT if Rockland cannot build warships it is mighty glad to see neighbor Bath getting fat contracts.

THAT it will not be an easy matter to tell the time of day by the Butler clock until those dials are painted.

THAT the proposed Democratic barbecue in Searsport will have nothing on the one Dr. Crockett sponsored in Thomaston many years ago.

THAT Deputy Sheriff Charles A. Cavanaugh of Rockport has one of the largest and best gardens in Knox County this summer.

THAT happy days are near at hand for lovers of that delectable pastry known as blackberry pie.

THAT this is the month of family reunions, for which Knox County is justly famous.

THAT Rockland voters will have to do lots of advance studying before they go into the polling places Sept. 11.

Lively interest is being shown in the educational field day to take place Tuesday at "Rose Cliffs," the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lawrence, 112 Beach street. The hours will be 10:30 to 12:30 and 2 to 5 p. m. Evening at Methodist Church at 7:30. There will be many brilliant speakers to talk on horticulture (chiefly about roses) and reptal. Everyone in Knox County is invited. Take basket lunch and camp chair.

TEXT OF THE NEW CHARTER

are subject to, under the laws of the state.

Sec. 11. Composition and term of city planning board. The city planning board shall consist of 3 members, each to serve 3 years, except that at the 1st appointment under this charter 1 shall be appointed for 1 year, 1 for 2 years, and 1 for 3 years, and thereafter 1 shall be appointed each year.

Sec. 12. Duties and powers of the city planning board. It shall be the duty of the city planning board to keep itself informed of the progress of city planning in this and other countries, to make studies and recommendations for the improvement of the plan of the city with a view to the present and future movement of traffic, the convenience, health, recreation, general welfare, and other needs of the city dependent on the city plan; to consider and report upon the designs and their relations to the city plan, of all new public ways, lands, buildings, bridges, and all other public places and structures, of additions to and alterations in those already existing, and of the layout or plotting of new sub-divisions of the city. All acts of the council or of any other branch of the city government affecting the city plans shall be submitted to the board for report and recommendations. The council may at any time call upon the board to report with recommendations and the board of its own volition may also report to the council with recommendations on any matter which, in the opinion of either body, affects the plan of the city.

Any matter referred by the council to the board shall be acted upon by the board within 30 days of the date of reference, unless a longer or shorter period is specified by the council.

The board shall submit to the council an annual report summarizing the activities of the board for the fiscal year, the recommendations made by it to the council during the year and the action of the council during the year on any and all recommendations made by the board in that year.

The city engineer shall serve as chief engineer of the city planning board. The board of health of the city shall advise the planning board from time to time of any municipal improvements within the scope of the planning board which, in the opinion of the board of health, would improve the healthfulness of the city.

Sec. 13. City planning board to be a park commission. The planning board shall be a board of park commissioners and as such shall have the powers and duties of park commissioners provided for by section 84 of chapter 4 of the revised statutes.

Sec. 14. Board of health. At its 1st meeting in 1934, or as soon thereafter as may be, the city council shall appoint a board of health of 3 members, 1 for a term of 1 year, 1 for a term of 2 years, and 1 for a term of 3 years, and annually thereafter there shall be appointed by the city council 1 member of the board of health for a term of 3 years.

The members of the board of health shall hold office until their successors are appointed and qualified. If for any reason a vacancy occurs in the membership of the board of health, the vacancy shall be filled forthwith by the council for the unexpired term.

ARTICLE VII

Business and Financial Provisions

Sec. 1. Accounts and records. Accounts shall be kept by the auditor showing the financial transactions of all departments of the city. Forms of all such accounts shall be prescribed by the auditor with the approval of the city manager. Accounts shall be kept in such a manner as to show fully at all times the financial condition of the city. The auditor shall furnish to the manager, prior to the 1st regular meeting of the council in each month, a report containing in detail the receipts and disbursements of the city on all accounts, the expenditures made and the obligations incurred during the preceding calendar month, and a balance sheet showing the financial condition of the city, of the several funds, and the total unexpended balance to the credit of each department.

Sec. 2. Auditing of accounts. All the accounts of the city shall be audited annually by a qualified accountant to be chosen by the council.

Sec. 3. Reports. The auditor shall publish each month a statement of the financial condition of the city.

Each of the administrative officers and boards shall annually on such a date as may be fixed by the council, render to the manager a full report of the transactions of his department for the year. On the basis of these reports, the manager shall prepare and publish an annual report. In addition to a summary of the services rendered by the various departments the report shall show:

1. Receipts classified according to sources.
2. Expenditures classified according to objects. The classification of receipts and expenditures in the report shall conform in general to the classification in the auditor's books.
3. Balance sheets.
4. Such other financial information as may be required by the council.

Sec. 4. Annual budget. Not later than 1 month before the end of the fiscal year the city manager shall submit to the council budget estimates for the ensuing fiscal year. This budget shall be compiled from detailed information furnished by the administrative officers and boards on blanks, the forms of which shall be designated by the city manager; and shall contain:

- (a) Exact statement of the financial condition of the city.
- (b) Itemized statement of appropriations recommended for current expenses, and for permanent improvements, with comparative statements in parallel columns of expenditures for the current and next preceding fiscal year. An increase or decrease in any item shall be indicated.
- (c) Itemized statement of estimated revenue from all sources other than taxation; and a statement of taxes required with comparative figures from the current and the next preceding year.
- (d) Such other information as may be required by the council.

The budget shall be published not later than 2 weeks after its submission to the council. The council shall fix a time and place for holding a public hearing upon the budget, and shall give the public notice of such hearing, which shall be at least 10 days before the final passage of the appropriation resolve.

Sec. 5. Appropriation resolve. Not later than 1 month after the beginning of the fiscal year the council shall pass an annual appropriation resolve, which shall be based on the budget submitted by the city manager.

The total amount appropriated shall not exceed the estimated revenue of the city.

Before the annual appropriation resolve has been passed the council may make appropriations for current departmental expenses, chargeable to the appropriations of the year when passed, to an amount sufficient to cover the necessary expenses of the various departments until the annual appropriation resolve is in force.

Sec. 6. Transfers. The council in the appropriation resolve shall provide for a reserve fund from which transfers may be made only by vote of the council, and no transfer of any money shall be made from any fund other than this reserve fund until the end of the fiscal year, at which time, after all warrants have been paid out of the various funds, the auditor shall transfer to this reserve fund any remaining balance or balances in these various funds, except balances in the school fund; the council may then authorize a transfer from the reserve fund to any other fund in which there is an overdraft created by any actual emergency.

Sec. 7. Borrowing. The borrowing of money by and for the city shall be limited as to form and purpose according to provisions 8 and 9 of article VII of this charter. The credit of the city shall not in any manner be loaned to, or in aid of, any individual, association, or corporation except that suitable provisions may be made for the aid and support of the poor of the city.

Sec. 8. Bond issues. Money may be borrowed by the issue and sale of bonds or notes, pledged on the credit of the city, for the acquisition of land, the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent public improvements, and the payment or refunding of bonds, notes and certificates of indebtedness previously issued. No order providing for the issue of bonds shall be passed without public notice by posting a notice of the same in 2 public places in the city of Rockland and advertising same in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the county of Knox at least 2 weeks before final action by the council, and the approval of 4-5's of all the members of the council. Every issue of bonds shall be payable within a term of years, not to exceed the period of the useful life of the improvement for which they are issued, and in no case to exceed 30 years. Bonds issued after the adoption of this charter shall be payable in equal annual serial installments, including principal and interest. Every order for the issue of bonds shall provide for a tax levy for each year to meet the annual serial installment of principal and interest, and such amounts shall be included in the tax levy for each year until the debt is extinguished.

Sec. 9. Temporary loans. Money may be borrowed in anticipation of receipts from taxes during any fiscal year, but the aggregate amount of such loan at any time shall not exceed 80% of the revenue from taxes received during the preceding fiscal year. All such loans shall be paid out of the receipts from taxes for the fiscal year in which they are issued. Money may also be borrowed in anticipation of revenue from bond issue in case such bond issue has been authorized.

Sec. 10. Sinking fund. Until the bonded indebtedness of the city of Rockland, in force at the time of the adoption of this charter, is paid, the city council shall raise and set apart each year for a sinking fund, a sum equivalent to not less than 2% of the total appropriation for that year. The sinking fund shall be applied only to the payment of that bonded indebtedness of the city, the payment of which has not been provided for by serial installments.

The sinking fund shall be invested in the bonds of the city or in such other bonds as savings banks in this state may from time to time be authorized to hold for investment, or may be deposited in such savings banks.

Sec. 11. Payments. Money shall be paid out only on warrants on the city treasury issued by the auditor and countersigned by the city manager.

The auditor shall examine all pay rolls, bills, and other claims and demands against the city and shall issue no warrant for payment unless he finds that the claim is in proper form, correctly computed and duly certified, and legally payable.

The auditor may require any claimant to make oath to the validity of a claim, may investigate any claim, and for such purpose or purposes may examine witnesses under oath.

Sec. 12. Bonds of officers. The city council shall require bonds, with sufficient sureties, from all persons trusted with the collection, custody, or disbursement of the public moneys.

Sec. 13. Collection and custody of city moneys. All moneys received by any officer, employee, or agent of the city, or in connection with the business of the city shall forthwith be paid into the city treasury, and shall be deposited with such responsible banking institutions as the council may determine. All interest from such deposits shall accrue to the benefit of the city.

Sec. 14. Purchasing of supplies. The purchasing agent shall purchase all supplies for the city and for the several officers and boards thereof, except supplies for the schools which he shall purchase only upon requisition by the superintendent of school committee.

The purchasing agent shall see to the delivery of supplies to each department and take and file receipts therefor. He shall conduct all sales of property unfit or unnecessary for the city's use, after such sales have been authorized by the council.

The city manager shall act as purchasing agent until the council by ordinance shall provide for the appointment of a purchasing agent.

AYER'S

Lots of folks are getting all "het up" over the new Industrial Code. Well, what's the use. We've got to sign it and like it and perhaps it may be just the kind of medicine we need. Let's hope so. But surely now is the time to buy.

FOR MEN—
DRESS SHIRTS at same old low prices 59c, $1.00, $1.50
WORK SHIRTS 59c, 65c, 75c
KHAKI PANTS $1.00, $1.25
WORK PANTS 98c, $1.25, $1.98
SWEATERS—all wool $2.50
OVERALLS $1.00, $1.50
SHIRTS AND DRAWERS 25c, 45c, 65c
UNION SUITS 50c, 75c, $1.00

FOR BOYS—
BLOUSES AND SHIRTS 59c, 65c
PANTS—Shorts or Knicker 59c, 65c, 75c, 85c
SWEATERS $1.00, $1.25
SWEAT SHIRTS 59c
OVERALLS 59c, 75c, $1.00
KHAKI PANTS $1.00
CHILDREN'S WASH SUITS 59c, $1.00, $1.50

We are not trying to frighten anyone, but everyone ought to see that with the new wage scale, shorter hours and the cotton tax added to the cost of goods, prices of all goods are to be much higher. The time to buy is before prices advance.

The League Standing

Thomaston with its one-game victory still heads the list, and St. George has broken the second place tie. The standing:

	W	L	P.C.
Thomaston	1	0	1.000
St. George	4	1	.800
Rockland	2	1	.666
Waldoboro	1	2	.333
Camden	0	4	.000

St. George 10, Camden 2

Best Camden could do with Ricker Thursday night was to make five the fourth inning when St. George found the three Megunticook hurlers for a total of 17 bases. Six successive hits were made off Cecchi in the fourth inning when St. George scored seven of its 10 runs. Aside from that disastrous stanza it was a reasonably close game.

Center field had an attraction for most of the batters. I. Simmons pulled down four nice flies in that garden, while "Doc" Dalley distinguished himself by catching eight, and turning in an assist for good measure. An exceptionally good play by Lord was among the features. Batting honors went to the festive I. Simmons who made two singles and a triple. Boynton was the only Camden player to make more than one hit.

NEW SERIES STARTS

Finnan Haddie First In the H A J Races At Camden Thursday

The first race of the second series was sailed Thursday with "Finnan Haddie," skippered by Miss Julia Henry, coming in first. Following the race, the sailors and a large number of their friends and relatives enjoyed a tea at the yacht club with Mrs. Thomas J. Watson as hostess.

This gathering celebrated the end of the first series of these twice a week races and Mr. Watson awarded the prizes he had offered for the series. Miss Julia Henry won the beautiful first prize, a silver model of a sailboat. She received also the handsome silver cocktail-shaker offered as a special trophy by the Boston Yacht Club in a race for amateurs only. She also took three of the small silver plates offered by Mr. Watson as first prizes for individual races of the series.

The second prize, a silver model of a sailboat, went to the "He-Epus," owned by Joshua Chase and skippered by the Lees.

Mrs. Margaret Bond and Miss Helen Bond have moved into the house owned by Guy I. Levensaler, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Weston have moved into the apartment in the Bonds block formerly occupied by the Bonds. Mrs. Yvonne Little was given a party Thursday evening in her new home on Friendship street. There were three tables of bridge and refreshments were served during the evening. Mrs. Little had the house renovated and established a nursing home there. Charles D. Crowell returned last Saturday from the C.M.T. Camp at Fort McKinley, the proud possessor of a bat and ball autographed by Babe Ruth, awarded him as champion player. He also received a medal for marksmanship, an honor won by him last year also, and a recommendation for promotion to sergeant for next year's activities.

Last week at Glenhurst, Mrs. Laura S. Conroy was hostess at her annual "old friends" party on the lawn. Fifty Waldoboro residents enjoyed her hospitality and the time was passed socially and in strolling about the gardens. A visit to the unique log cabin on C. T. Conroy's neighboring estate was an interesting event. But-ter lunch was served at noon and a musical program followed.

Talent from a wide area has been gathered for the production "Heads Up" which the Methodist Church is sponsoring Aug. 10 and 11 at 365 Main street. Many people of the village and immediate vicinity are taking part, including town officials and prominent business and professional men. Warren contributes Mrs. Emma Sheldon, who appears as the heroine of the story; from Washington comes Miss Frances Crocker to take the part of the school teacher; Rev. James McKillop of Nobleboro has the part of a Scotch school boy, and Rev. George Norton of Bremen and Dutch Neck will also play a school boy; from Wins-dor Mills the cast draws Byron Whitman in an interesting role; Damariscotta and Newcastle provide Fred Harrington who will sit on the jury; Homer Carroll of North Waldoboro takes the part of a young playwright; and Rockland sends Margaret Winslow in an acrobatic specialty dance between the acts. The large cast of nearly 100 local people includes some of the best dramatic talent in Waldoboro and surrounding towns. The complete cast will be announced later.

SUNSTROKE AND HEAT PROSTRATION

EVERY summer has at least a few days of excessive heat. Whether you are on vacation or at work in the city, certain precautions should be taken to avoid sunstroke and heat prostration. It is also well to know what first aid measures should be administered to those who are afflicted.

Sunstroke is a condition of the body resulting from exposure to intense heat and the body becoming overheated. It may prove very serious.

Among those most susceptible to sunstroke and heat prostration are people who over-indulge in eating and drinking, who are not accustomed to excessively hot weather, who suffer from debility brought on by fatigue from the heated atmosphere, and who sleep in badly ventilated rooms.

To prevent sunstroke and heat prostration it is advisable to avoid all alcoholic liquor and everything else that might impair strength. Loose, light garments should be worn and the head should be protected from the heat of the sun, although the head covering should be such that it allows a current of air to circulate over the head. Don't play tennis or golf, or expose yourself long in the sun, during the heat of the day. Keep in the shade.

A person suffering from sunstroke should be carried to a cool, shady spot immediately. If possible, the entire body should be immersed in cold water in a bath tub. Ice may be added to the water. Although a tepid bath is most cooling and best for people in good health, in cases of sunstroke it is necessary to bring down the temperature of the body with ice water.

Respiration sometimes ceases in cases of sunstroke. In that case, a dash of cold water over the chest and face may help to restore it. Artificial respiration according to the prone method may be practised after the body has cooled.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Lloyd Cowan and sons John and Lloyd of Edgewater Park, N. J., are at their cottage for several weeks.
Master Byron Keene has returned to his home in Rockland after a visit of several weeks with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Davis.
Mrs. Emma Hall of Waltham, Mass., and sister Mrs. Harry Chadbourne of Somerville, Mass., were recent callers on their cousin Mrs. Lucy Smith.
Mrs. Chauncey Keene of Rockland was hostess to the T Club at a clam-bake at the so-called line brook Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Keene entertained friends from Allston, Mass., over the weekend.
Mrs. Eva Covatt, Mrs. Alice Washburn, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiley attended the funeral services of Mrs. Frank Harris in Thomaston Friday of last week.
The sudden death from heart disease of Mrs. Julia E. Harris which occurred in Thomaston July 26, while visiting her daughter, brought much sadness to neighbors and friends in this community. Mrs. Harris was born in Glenmere May 15, 1866, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Teale. She had been in poor health for several years. Funeral services were held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Norman Simmons in Thomaston, Rev. H. S. Kilborn of the Baptist Church officiating. Interment was in the family lot at the Ridge cemetery, Martinsville. Bearers at the services were Frank Hathorne, William Newbert, Everett Cook and Frank Wiley and at the cemetery Winslow Watt, Charles Davis, Frank Wiley and Walter Barter. Besides her husband, she leaves a son H. Alvah Harris of Tenant's Harbor, two daughters, Miss Edith Harris and Mrs. Norman Simmons; three grandchildren, Richard Harris, Audrey and Leon Simmons; a sister, Miss Rosa Teale of Thomaston; and several cousins.

NOW RADIO HAPPINESS AT CAMP

U. S. Radio Battery Ensemble Blazes The Trail To Success Of Radio At Camp, Cottage, Or On The Farm

Seldom is a piece of merchandise given the genuine public enthusiasm that has been accorded the new U. S. Radio Battery Ensemble. It fills a long felt need in the radio world, that of the non-technical home owner and camper and cottager (and his number is legion) who is off power lines and yet wants modern radio service.

Up to now the man not directly on the electric service line has been forced to either forego radio altogether or else supply himself with the old cumbersome battery type radio with batteries and batteries, gadgets and wires and this and that requiring a first class electrician to get started and the patience of Job and pocketbook of J. P. Morgan to keep running.

The U. S. Radio Battery Ensemble has changed all that. Now at camp one may have radio of outstanding performance, unusual selectivity and sensitivity and splendid tone. He may have the satisfaction of a handsome cabinet of the mantel type, compact and beautifully proportioned. He may have absolute freedom from the technical burden imposed by the old sets for the U. S. Radio has achieved a splendid success in pioneering this self contained battery operated receiver. It is simplicity itself in operation, the servicing can be done by a child and the economy of operation is a revelation.

Models of this spectacular new radio are on display at the store of E. E. Studley, 131 Main street Thomaston, where demonstration will cheerfully be given at any time. Models 3086 and 3084 are of the popular mantel type powered with standard Burgess battery sets and a 5-tube superheterodyne chassis and unusual speaker tone quality and clearness. Their tube equipment consists of 1 no. 230 Triode; 2 No. 232 Tetrode; 1 No. 234 R. F. Pentode and one No. 233 Power Pentode, all two volt. The handsome cabinets are 20 1/2"x19"x8 1/2" and 14 1/2"x13 1/2"x7 1/4" respectively priced at $19.95 to $29.95. You are invited to see this handsome radio at Studley's and test their splendid performance. They mean new joy and zest in life for all the family.

LET STEVE ALEX DO THE JOB

Rockland's Expert Shoe Shine Operator Will Keep Your Footwear Immaculate At a Minimum Of Expense

A famous food has made world famous the slogan "Tell me what you eat and I'll tell you what you are" but the fact remains that more jobs have been secured by having immaculate linen and clean, well polished shoes than by eating any one particular food. Some people are apt not to regard the care of their footwear as a matter of first importance, but it is that, all the same. No man or woman is well dressed when his or her shoes are rusty and unsightly. The man who allows his shoes to go muddy and uncared for is very likely to be slovenly in his business habits too.

A business executive wants the man he hires to be neat, wholesome and reliable. He must make a good impression on his customer if he is to be a successful salesman. It is difficult for a man to sell a high grade article or security if his person is not in keeping.

Soiled linen or battered and dirty shoes are fatal to successful salesmanship.

Be sure of yourself. Keep your shoes neat and immaculate and feel the confidence that flows into one when he knows he is looking fit, top to toe. Form the commendable habit of letting Steve Alex shoulder your shoe problems. Drop into one of his convenient shoe shining parlors daily and know you look o. k. He uses the best of polishes and takes especial pains that every shine job is perfect. He knows the secret of properly dyeing shoes to renew their utility or to match a new gown.

Steve's shine parlors are located opposite The Thorndike, next door south of the Senter Crane Company building and at the foot of Park street two doors north of Hotel Rockland.

NEW BOILER SHOP

Stephen Brault and Son Leo Open Iron Working Plant At Maine Central Wharf

Stephen Brault and son Leo have opened a new shop as boiler makers and iron workers in the large building at the head of Maine Central Wharf, Mechanic street, formerly used by the Maine Central's marine division as office, stock room and repair department.

The head of the new firm, Stephen Brault, is a long time resident of this city and past master of the iron workers' trade. He spent 18 years with the Camden-Anchor, Rockland Machine Co. and followed that with 16 years as head of the I. L. Snow & Co. boiler department. His son Leo has grown up in amid the clamor of the boiler makers' business and for over 20 years has been in the same line.

This team will head up the new enterprise doing electric and acetylene welding, boiler and iron work and piping of all sorts. The shop is large and well lighted with excellent modern equipment. They will take on jobs of any size guaranteeing complete satisfaction and moderate prices. The shop telephone is 97-R and the house phone 97-W.

Sharing honors with Searsport as Maine's most beautiful town, has an interesting historic background to enhance its present charm. Stately homes set well back from wide, cool elm arched streets set Thomaston apart as an ideal residential town. Here is found the famous Knox Mansion, museum of rare historical gems of the Revolutionary period, surrounded within easy driving distance by innumerable spots of Revolutionary and colonial significance. Too, modern Thomaston presents an active business aspect including within its corporate limits the great $4,000,000 mill of the Lawrence Portland Cement Co.

Shen Gjin May Soon Become a Harbor of Importance On Adriatic

San Giovanni di Medua (Shen-Gjin), a seaport by courtesy of geographers, may soon be an Adriatic harbor of importance, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society. A plan, for improving the harbor, has been presented to the Albanian Cabinet Council.

"Sandwiched between Greece and Yugoslavia, Albania might be compared to a huge chess board on which the West and Near East have been making major plays since the division of the Roman Empire in the fourth century, A. D.," continues the bulletin. "The successive human moves on this animated board were made by Byzantines, Goths, Serbs, Bulgarians, Byzantines again, Sicilians, Venetians, and Turks. When the game seemed to have reached a stalemate in 1913, a Conference of Ambassadors in London declared Albania an independent State.

Harbor Site on Crescent Bay

"The bay, which is known as San Giovanni di Medua to the Italians, Shen-Gjin to the Albanians, and Chinkin to the Turks, is located in the northeastern neck of Albania. It is two and a half miles long and two miles wide, cutting a crescent into the peculiar coast line of the eastern shore. A sandy beach stretching to the west and south forms a huge comb-like barrier, with irregular sand-teeth jutting out in the bay. At the head of the bay is the town of Shen-Gjin, flanked by swamp lands. In the background is a wild, tangled mass of dispirited hills.

Oaks furnish fuel and fodder. The lowlands surrounding the bay support very little vegetation. The trees are oak of the evergreen drought resisting variety. The trees are valuable to the natives for they not only furnish fuel but also leaves and shoots which are used as winter fodder for the livestock. In the highlands is a luxuriant growth of mixed forest. Fertile plateaus found there are used for summering livestock and for cultivation.

"The people around Shen Gjin, or north of the Shkumbi river, are known as Ghegs, whose south of the Shkumbi river are Tosks. The Ghegs are chiefly dwellers in the hills and are kindred in spirit to the rugged chiefs of the Scottish Highlands. Unlike the Tosks of the south, who are very much interested in national affairs, the Ghegs' gossip and energy is of local nature. With the completion of the new harbor at Durrazo this year the south is opening a much needed trade lane. The Ghegs, realizing the value of such a harbor, have again proved true to their locality by sponsoring the development of their own harbor at Shen Gjin.

"As a race the Albanians are brave and hardy, always faithful to their pledges. Drastic means are often used to enforce their personal laws. Inhospitality is inexcusable at any time. As they are isolated from foreign markets for lack of harbors, and from local markets for lack of roads, the people rarely have little stock, living mostly on vegetables and fruit. They export a small quantity tobacco. Their olive crop of 1932, which was sold to Italy, proved an economic salvation for the country."

Mrs. Aaron Clark and Oscar Gould are on a trip to Port Kent, and may also visit the White Mountains. They plan to return Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Warren Knights are caring for the house during the absence of the family.

Miss Jennie Moody and Master Richard Wilkins who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ahern have returned to Newton Highlands, Mass.

William Tarbox of New York city is a guest at the Knox Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Copeland and daughters Alberta and Lucy of Pawtucket, R. I., will arrive here Monday on a visit to his sister Miss Myrna Copeland.

Mrs. J. Walter Strout is at Knox Hospital recovering from a serious operation upon her throat.

Thomas Scott is at home from Boston for a visit.

The funeral of Mrs. Florence I. French who died in Worcester, Aug. 3, was held at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Sidney G. Hupper in Rockland Friday. Rev. Hubert F. Leach of the Thomaston Federated Church officiated. The remains were brought here for interment in the Thomaston cemetery. The bearers were Ralph Chesley, Oliver Hann, Levi Copeland and Charles C. McDonald. Thomaston friends were among those who attended the services. Mrs. French was the daughter of Hans H. and Helen J. (Young) Shibbes, and was born in Thomaston July 21, 1863. After her marriage to Mr. French they lived for several years in Exeter, N. H. Her home subsequently and until her death was in Worcester, where for 20 years she had been matron of the city jail, having resigned that position only a few years before her death. She is survived by one brother, Edward E. Shibbes of New York city, and a number of cousins.

The concert given in Watts hall Friday evening by members of the musical college who are summering at South Cushing, was a very inspiring one. Even the unusual ears were opened by it. It was a rare opportunity to see and hear good music well executed. The repeated and persistent recalls testified the appreciation of the audience. It is to be regretted that more Thomaston people did not recognize their privilege and attend.

Miss Virginia Wellington of Boston is the guest of Miss Florence Fessenden.

Mrs. J. V. Busher of Rockland, Mass., who has been guest of Miss Elizabeth Tobie returned to her home Thursday.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

Maybe it's their persistency that causes them to rise to the top. At any rate, a friend who has considerable contact with those of "the seven millions" who have achieved high places in the business world, has a bunch of tales concerning how they go about getting what they want. One has to do with a gentleman in the financial district who is extremely fond of a certain well known sweet wafer. He sent his secretary out to purchase a supply and the secretary returned with the information that none of the near-by shops sold the wafer. The business man then ordered him to keep going until he found that particular brand, also to list the shops where he failed to find it. The secretary was gone all morning but came back with the goods. "Take a telegram," said the business man. He thereupon dictated a sizzling message, setting forth in detail the shortcomings of the wafer concern's sales or organization. The message was addressed to the president of the corporation. In it was included a list of the stores where the secretary had failed to make a buy. The next morning the president of the corporation called, full of apologies and thanks. Now every store in the neighborhood is well stocked. But the business man makes no purchases. The president brought with him enough wafers, as a gift.

Another incident along similar lines has to do with a big man in the financial district, who, when he moved his office, failed to find his favorite brand of high-priced cigars in the stores in that vicinity. He wrote to the company about the matter and received an answer which stated that he must be in error as the brand was sold in several adjacent stores. Thereupon, the financial man got the president of the company on the telephone and took him from store to store. Having proved his point, he took him to luncheon. Now all he has to do is send downstairs for his cigars.

Another instance of persistency has to do with a taxicab driver and a manufacturer. The manufacturer gave the driver an address but, called that his friend had moved. He then told the driver to turn around and go to another address. The driver, surly and ill-humored, immediately began to let loose remarks about passengers who were unable to make up their minds. The manufacturer let him rave. But when they were within a few blocks of the second address, he ordered the driver to turn around and go to another. The driver, furious, ordered the passenger out. "Don't act like that," said the passenger gently. "This'll be the last time I'll change my mind—I promise you that. "It'd better be," snarled the driver. The address turned out to be that of a police station and the driver spent the night there. That the manufacturer paid his fine the next morning is beside the point. He was entirely satisfied with his little lesson in civility.

Gadgets always interest me. I've mentioned time wasted watching cigarette, doughnut, pancake and other machines. Now comes a Toledo inventor with something that looks promising. But not to householders, canvassers, solicitors, beggars and others. On a house equipped with this device will be a sign: "This bell will not ring without inserting a dime. Coin will not be refunded to canvassers or beggars." As the coin drops in plain sight of the housewife, she can't be deceived by slugs. Have an inclination to write to the inventor to see if he can't turn out something along the same line to be attached to the telephone.

Bus top bit: "He told her he was in the street. She thought he meant Wall Street. But what he meant was he'd been thrown out of his room."

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Wathall of New York are spending two weeks of their vacation at Tenants Harbor. Mr. Wathall is the well known recorder of the New York city Museum of Marine and Commerce.

Leslie Hamilton of Bloomfield, N. J., has been spending a few days at his former home in this city, accompanied by C. O. Heckel, who for the past six years has been police commissioner of Bloomfield. Mr. Heckel is also engaged to a considerable extent in dairy farming, and has been interested in making a comparison of milk producing as practiced in Maine and his own State. One of his side trips was to Georges Lake where he caught seven black bass, and almost landed a nice salmon. He told a Courier-Gazette reporter that he had seen all of the politics he wanted.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker Stimpson entertained a jolly group of friends at Charles Young's farm at Owl's Head Monday night in honor of Mrs. Stimpson's wedding anniversary of Mrs. Stimpson's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Young. The feature was a mock wedding in which Parker Stimpson officiated. Miss Pearl Borgerson composing the amusing marriage rite.

Other features were song and dance by Misses Mildred and Dorothy Young and Frances Dolan, trumpet duet by Frank Young and Kenneth White, and Spanish dance by Miss Florence Shibles of New York city. The guests, all in costumes of different periods, were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young, Margaret and Frank Young of Owl's Head, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Stimpson, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth White, Mr. and Mrs. Leon White, sons Leon and Leighton and daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ludwig, Miss Pearl Borgerson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Knowlton, Mrs. Charles North, Miss Louise McIntosh, and Mrs. Emma Harvie of Rockland; Miss Florence Shibles of New York city, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Young and children Mildred, Dorothy and Earl, Mrs. J. Swindell, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dolan and children Joseph, Donald and Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Remsen and daughter Norma and E. Cockey, all of Haddonfield, N. J. The "newlyweds" received several pieces of crystal and joke gifts. Refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and especially enjoyed by the "seniorita" and the distinguished guests from the "White" house.

two children, Buddie and Jack Emmmons, who motored here from their summer place at Biddeford Pool.

The children of the SamOset colony enjoyed a hayride around the Smith estate in a colorfully decorated boat. In the party were Jane and Shirley Scott, Dana and Christopher Jackson, Richard and Robert Collins, Sonny and Bobbie Stanger, Buddie and Jack Emmmons, Henry III and Todhunter Windsor and Karl Corby, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Baker of Baltimore have arrived for their annual visit; also Mr. and Mrs. George C. Montgomery of Germantown, Pa., Miss Florence Logan of Brooklyn, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Bishop of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Lazere of Philadelphia and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Graham of Camden, S. C., who are motoring to Bar Harbor this weekend.

The hotel activities for the coming week will include water sports for the children in the outdoor (steam-heated) swimming pool; weekly lawn putting tournaments, card parties, camping picnics, cruises to nearby islands, baseball games on the hotel diamond, kicker golf tournaments and the semi-weekly dances.

Mr. and Mrs. George Porter of Arlington, Mass., are guests of Mrs. A. L. Vose.

The Itoveok Club is to have a picnic Monday at the Cobb Farm, South Hope, with Mrs. A. S. Peterson as hostess. Take basket lunch and material for the Red Cross Christmas bags.

Mrs. B. B. Smith has been in Dexter this week, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur K. Orne.

Mrs. Anne Haskell who has been guest of Mrs. A. H. Jones for a few days, since completing visits with other friends, returned to Belfast yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Snow and son Barton of Haddon Heights, N. J., who have been guests for a few days of Commander and Mrs. C. F. Snow at Treasure Point Farm, return tomorrow. Mr. Snow is on the staff of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, one of the country's leading newspapers in the Curtis group of dailies.

The Cooper's Beach colony was augmented this morning by the arrival at their cottage of Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin P. Browne of Holyoke, Mass., with the three young folks of the family and not omitting the dog. Mr. Browne is to occupy his former pulpit at the Baptist Church tomorrow and Mrs. Browne will sing.

Mrs. Everett Blethen's Crescent street home was the scene of a jolly gathering Tuesday night when 15 friends left for Portland, whence they went by plane to Albany. After ten days' honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle will return to Old Forge to reside. Mr. Tuttle being in business there with his father.

The bride is a graduate of Rockland High School and Castine Normal School, and is a great favorite with her associates. Mr. Tuttle has won many friends during his Maine visits, and the evident regard held for both Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle was echoed in the many fine gifts.

Among the out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Scarlett of Rockland, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond of Wayne, and Mrs. E. E. Rokes of Camden.

A Knox county homemaker who is enrolled in the kitchen improvement contest said: "Since adding an additional window in my kitchen to admit more daylight, I find our electric bill way down."

OUR JUNIOR PUZZLE

A STRANGE HUMP IN THE DESERT

"What is that strange hump!" cries the Stranger as he rushes up to a very odd looking hump on the sand. If you want to see what the hump turned out to be, take a pencil and join all the numbered dots together, starting with dot number one and ending with dot number forty-one. It is a large bird.

KNOX GIFT SHOP

Co-operative Venture At Montpelier Invites Feminine Participation

The newly established co-operative gift shop in a basement room of "Montpelier" is most attractive as one enters after a trip over the Knox Mansion, or if one wishes to visit the Gift Shop and Tea Room combined, one may enter through the large eastern door directly. Once there one is delighted with the array of beautiful hooked, woven and braided rugs, quilts in a bewildering number of designs—"bees and honey," "log-cabin," "court-house steps," "double wedding-ring," "tulip," etc., while smaller articles are there in tempting array. A notable collection of ship models is shown from a magnificent model of the Constitution by Arthur W. Hatch down to a quaint model of an old pinky by William Snow, with models of a full rigged brig and a brigantine by Charles A. Creighton. Mr. Hatch's fine model recalls the fact that General Knox as Secretary of War and Navy was instrumental in the building of the Constitution. (Old Ironsides), a frigate of 1576 tons and 44 guns. The models of the ships, barks, brigs, etc., bring back to real Thomastonians the days when the anvil chorus from the busy ship yards filled the air from sunrise to sunset as a prelude to the departure of many a fine ship and schooner from Thomaston to every port of the globe. All these interesting reminders of days gone by, may be seen and purchased at the Knox Gift Shop.

A feature that appeals to women with busy fingers—the Penelopes of the 20th Century—is the co-operative plan of the gift shop whereby hand made articles of genuine worth are accepted, displayed in these attractive surroundings and sold on commission. Tea is also served if desired and arrangements can be made with Mrs. Vivian Hewitt for entertaining small card parties in these attractive surroundings. Mrs. Hewitt is happy to show guests about and give any information desired concerning the co-operative feature of the Knox Gift Shop.

The weekly card tournament, attracted a large number of guests. Eighteen tables were at play and among those participating were Mrs. Roger R. Bamber, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard L. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wamath, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Baker, Mrs. Theodore Cook, Mrs. E. H. Maxwell, Mrs. Edward A. Olds, Mrs. Frederick E. Ballard, Mrs. Estelle Ficks, Misses Estelle and Helen Ficks, Miss Anne McLaughlin, Mrs. A. S. Carmen, Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Albro, Mrs. Charles Thorley, all of New York, Misses Florence and Anna Logan, Mrs. David F. Manning, Miss Letitia Pearson, Mrs. John A. Cochran and Mrs. Watson H. Caldwell of Brooklyn.

SOON REUNITED

Deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Haskell, Formerly of Rockland, Ten Days Apart

Worcester newspapers recently published obituaries of Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Haskell, formerly of Rockland, whose deaths occurred within a period of ten days.

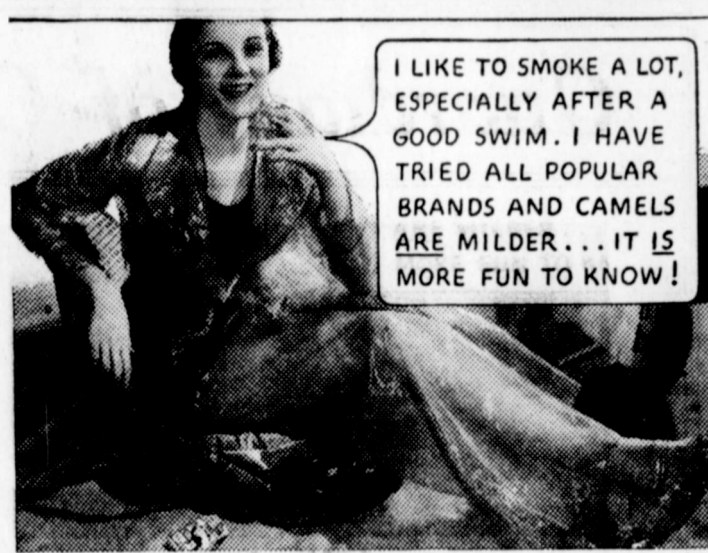

Henry Douglas Haskell, 66, died at his home, 7 Dix street. He was born in Rockland, Me., the son of the late George and Eliza (Miller) Haskell. He is survived by his wife, Frances (Burns) Haskell; two daughters, Mrs. Maude Haskell Johnson and Mrs. Florence O. Hussey, and seven grandchildren, all of Worcester. He also is survived by three brothers, Edward, Forrest and Alfred of Rockland. He was a member of Wesley Methodist Church, Rockland Lodge, I.O.O.F., and Woodmen Lodge, and was employed for a number of years at the Sawyer Lumber Company. Funeral services were from the Carl E. Nordgren funeral home, Rev. Dr. George E. Heath of Wesley Methodist Church officiated. Burial was in the family lot in Hope cemetery with committal services by Rev. Dr. Heath.

Mrs. Henry D. Haskell, 62, widow of Henry D. Haskell, died ten days after her husband. She was born in Rockland, Me., daughter of the late George R. and Lucinda (Durgin) Burns, and had lived in Worcester the last 27 years. She was formerly a member of old Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church which later became Wesley, the church she attended up to the time of her death. She was a member of the Rebekah Lodge of Rockland, Me. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Henry Johnson and Florence, wife of Robert H. Hensley, two brothers, John Burns of Worcester and Frederick L. Burns of Malden, and seven grandchildren. The funeral was held at the Nordgren funeral home, Rev. Dr. George E. Heath officiating. Burial was in Hope cemetery.

Energizing Evelyn

EVELYN BRENT of the motion pictures and stage is a confirmed "snacker" and if you understood the parlance of the stage and screen you would know that a "snacker" is one who partakes of a sweet bite between sets or acts. The value of a sweet snack, scientists point out, is to refuel the body with sugar—nature's greatest energy food—to offset fatigue. Miss Brent's snack usually consists of a piece of cake and a glass of milk.

ANNUAL FIELD DAY

Eastern Stars Numbering 130 Attended Tuesday's Gathering At Glencove

More than 130 persons were registered at the annual Field Day of the Order of Eastern Star, District No. 11, at Penobscot View Grange hall, Glencove Tuesday. Distinguished guests were Mrs. Gladys Rogers Walker of Auburn, associate grand matron, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Rogers, and young daughter; Henry Gills of Calais, associate grand patron, and Mrs. Gills; Mrs. Lettie Hubbard, associate grand conductress, and Mr. Hubbard; Harry Grindle of Waterville, past worthy grand patron, and Mrs. Grindle; past matrons McCallum and Smith from Ivy Chapter, Warren; Orta Burns and Mrs. Everett Libby of Harbor Light, Rockport; Adelaide Butman, Hester Chase, Laura Maxcy, Clara Watts, Katherine St. Clair, Mattie Spaulding, Belle Frost, Evelyn Orcutt, Gertrude Boddy and Vivian Hewitt, of Golden Rod Chapter; and past patrons Edward Gonia, Frank Maxcy, Raymond Waitis, George St. Clair, George W. Gay and George Orcutt of Golden Rod.

Picnic supper was served at 6.30, and a short business meeting preceded the excellent program which featured Mrs. Helen Wentworth in a group of songs, Mrs. Carrie Smith, accompanist; Mrs. Blanche Morton in a reading "Zingarella," Master Alfred Chapman in a buck dance, and again with Barbara Giehrst, both in fancy costume, in the Bowery Waltz Clog. Miss Irene Young, accompanist; little Sonia Corner in two dances—a Dutch dance and a Russian dance, both in appropriate costumes; Miss Hilda Asper of Rockland in a vocal solo; two readings by Miss Dorothy Harvie, "A Ballad of the Sea" and "How the Great Guest Came;" and a piano solo by Master Ernest Johnson.

An orchestra composed of Mrs. Emma Harvie, Alvary Gay, Hugh Benner and Cleo Hooper furnished music for dancing which lasted until a late hour. Streamers of colored lights and beautiful garden flowers formed decorations for the hall. The affair was successfully handled by Mrs. Gertrude Starnett.

GLENCOVE

Mr. and Mrs. Rae Newton and Miss Agnes Studley were in Southwest Harbor recently. Miss Winona Newton returned with them, also Mrs. Davie. Mr. Newton's mother, who will be a guest of the family for a few days.

Mrs. Alton Winecap entertained the Jolly Six Club Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Babcock are visiting in Hampden for a few days. Mrs. Charles Maxcy, Mrs. Egbert Maxey and Mrs. Alice Gregory are guests for a few days of their former neighbor Mrs. Inez Strong at her summer home in Lincolnville. Those from this place who heard Mrs. Carl R. Gray's talk before the Bible Study Club of the Baptist Church in Rockland speak in highest terms of her ability in explaining the scripture. Mrs. Gray spoke on the Book of Revelation.

Mrs. Metron Taylor and daughters Marion, Katherine and Avis are in Gardner visiting Mrs. Taylor's sister, Penobscot View Grange held an interesting meeting Thursday night with visitors present from Megunticook and Grand View Granges. Final arrangements were made to entertain State Master Crawford next Thursday and for the field meeting of Granges and others to be held Saturday. Gov. Brann will be one of the speakers.

What Our Lightkeepers and Coast Guardsmen Are Doing To Protect Coastwise Shipping By Day and By Night. The Day's News From Many Lonely Outposts Along Maine's Waterfront.

Petit Manan

It was quite a sight for all on here July 25 when we saw 23 of General Balbo's planes pass close to the island. They looked like a flock of birds at a distance. We learned later by radio that the 24th plane had dropped out for repairs, and passed over the island a little later, even closer than the others.

James Freeman and family returned July 25 after spending three days in Jonesboro. Miss Bernice Lowe came with them and went back to her home in Jonesboro the next Friday.

Franklin Perkins of Milo is visiting Second Asst. Roscoe Fletcher and family.

Fred Morong and helper Earle Webster are here making repairs on the signal engine.

Lighthouse tender Hibiscus passed Aug. 1, going east.

We had visitors here Monday from Jonesport and Arrostook.

Miss Muriel Fagonde celebrated her 14th birthday July 25. Her mother made her a nice birthday cake with the proper number of candles on it. Keeper Fagonde celebrated his birthday July 22, and he also had a nice birthday cake.

Burnt Coat Harbor

Catherine Chandler has returned after visiting friends in Monroe for a week.

There have been several yachts in the harbor during the past week. There have been quite a few herring seen in the harbor lately from along the coast of Maine from Jonesport to Rockland, among them the Moosebe of Jonesport, also the Patricia of Matineus Island with large herring for the lobster fishermen. The sardine smack Surfman was in for a short while Aug. 1.

General Balbo's air armada passed to seaward of the station July 25 at quite close range.

We have had quite a few visitors at the station during the past week.

A social at Redmen's hall, Swan's Island, July 29, was attended by the young folks at the station.

We had a severe thunder storm here Aug. 1 with a little rain.

Little River

Misses Mollie and Elizabeth Franklin, their aunt Miss Belle Dennison and Mrs. Stewart pastor's wife, were guests at the light July 25.

The 24 Italian airplanes from Chicago passed over this station July 25 on their way to Shedd, N. B. This is all we expect to see of the world's Fair.

The children here had great sport, catching harbor pollock off the rocks. Mrs. William Beam of the village spent last Thursday at this station.

We are expecting the Hibiscus with Supt. Eaton aboard.

A severe tempest visited this vicinity Sunday morning, striking Charles Porter's barn and burning it to the ground.

There were several visiting this station Sunday.

Bluchill Bay

We are having a wonderful summer with lots of company.

Misses Emily and Elizabeth Balch were visitors at the light one day last week and enjoyed a nice little tea party with Mrs. Foss. This was the first time they had visited a lighthouse and they were much pleased with all they saw. They enjoyed most the view from the tower, and the painting of the rooms.

Millie Foss was very glad to spend an afternoon at the light last week. Mrs. Foss is very busy this summer, employed by Miss Emily Knowles at her cottage, and as chauffeur by Miss Elizabeth Balch in the afternoon.

Justin Jr. and Leo Foss were very glad to have Lincoln Anderson, one of their school chums, visit them at the light one day last week.

Rev. O. J. Gupit of the Sunbeam visited the station recently, accompanied by his son, and nephew from California.

Mrs. Foss is ashore for a few days, papering and fixing up the rent, getting it ready to live in during the next school months.

Fred Stewart and son Carlton called at the station Aug. 1 for a little chat.

The thunder and lightning seem to linger in these parts. It is raining hard here today. Tuesday and has been for the past few days. This will close my news for this time as I must watch the weather and go ashore for Mrs. Foss.

Perkins Island

The lighthouse tender Ilex landed supplies at the station July 26. We were very much pleased to meet the new superintendent, George Eaton, also to have Mr. Sampson visit us with him.

Our daughter Mrs. Robert Barlow and son Robert Winfield of East Boothbay are visiting us for a short time.

Fred Osgood has gone seining again this year on the North, with Capt. Ford Davis of Monhegan.

Capt. Oliver of the Popham Beach and Bath mail route has purchased another boat and when work now going on is completed, it should prove a great improvement over the other.

Leona has been visiting friends and relatives in Boston and South Portland, and is now in Portland.

The Osgoods were much pleased to see Keper and Mrs. Small while on their vacation, and wish they might have had a longer visit.

There has been a great deal of traffic on the river this summer.

Mrs. Osgood wishes Mrs. Fields could see the red ramble that was given her five years ago in the coffee can.

Ethel and Vida attended the dance at Phippsburg Center Wednesday evening.

Now that Barbara, our grandchild, is walking she keeps everyone very busy as she likes to go on the bank of the river and knows how to coax her grandfather.

Plenty of raspberries, or at least more than we have had since arriving here and some are going into jars.

George Morong made a short call at the station recently.

Mrs. Robert Barlow has been making visits to Dr. Powers of Bath, having dental work done.

Philip Upton who is on the Ilex visited us while the station was being inspected.

The Chicago Entertainers held a vaudeville show recently at the Parker Head community hall.

Mrs. Osgood made a short call on Mrs. Marr at Marrowtown recently.

Boon Island

Our first assistant, Howard Gray is still with us (July 26). We expect the government boat any day to bring the new man, Charles Tracy, and take Mr. Gray and family to his home at Southwest Harbor. We surely shall miss them. Mr. Tracy has been on Narragansett for seven years, so no doubt will feel badly to leave. Drastic changes are being made under the Economy Act.

We have just watched a beautiful sunset and a rainbow, the most brilliant the writer has seen for years. It spanned the whole sky and there was a fainter one right beside it. No doubt some other lighthouse families saw it. It was a marvelous sight.

This station was visited July 21 by our new superintendent, Mr. Eaton, and Asst. Supt. Sampson.

Keepers Hutchins and Gray visited York Harbor last week, going in for mail and supplies. They rowed in, as our government boat is out of commission. The row boat would not carry all the supplies we needed, so they got Dan Donnell to bring them back.

Harold, youngest son of Keeper Hutchins, and a friend are expected at the light Thursday for a few days' stay. The boys do not visit Boon Island so much now they are older and have work ashore. It will be a pleasure to have them here.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Austin and children Shirley and Barbara of York spent the day here recently, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gray.

July 17 the children here gave a surprise party to Richard Rumery, nephew of Asst. Keeper Rumery, to celebrate his 11th birthday. They trimmed the room attractively with crepe paper, and put fancy touches on Master Richard's chair. A place card with his name, and a "Happy birthday from the Gang," was at his place at table. When everything was in readiness they called him in.

What a surprise! and what fun they had. The children here number only five, yet I'm sure you would have thought there were many times that number. Later in the afternoon his aunt Mrs. Rumery served sandwiches, cookies and a big birthday cake to Richard and the gang. He received many pretty gifts. That night they all said, "This is the end of a perfect day."

We saw the Italian flyers July 25, going back to Italy from the World's Fair. They passed by here about 11:30 standard, quite far to the southeast when we sighted them. We figured we were the last place in the United States to see them as they were heading for Nova Scotia and were away out to sea. I wonder if any other lights sighted them?

Wood Island

Mrs. George Woodward returned home last week after a short visit to Machias with her parents and friends.

This station was inspected July 22 by Supt. Eaton.

We are having a few summer visitors, but not so many as in previous years.

Arline Orcutt is spending this week at the light with our daughter Charlotte Woodward.

Irwin Wess has returned to his home in Machias after spending six weeks with us. While here, he and Coleman Woodward built themselves "a home in the woods"—a very nice camp with all the comforts of a "Hermite's Hut."

We are sorry to see so many of the lighthouses being discontinued and know that they will be greatly missed by everyone.

The weather is fine here at present and the summer people at the Pool number many more than last year.

Portland Head

R. T. Sterling has been doctoring a cold the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Grant of White Head are guests of the Hills. F. O. Hill's doctor ordered him to keep quiet a few days. Quite an order for F. O. but he is trying his best to obey.

The hot wet Wednesday was a bad one. We noticed those that can't stand cold weather looked a wee bit wilted.

Robert Sterling Jr., a recent guest of his cousins Miss Elizabeth and Marian Sterling of Peak's Island returned to Portland Sunday and was guest of Richard Dow for a few days.

W. R. Hill and mother Mrs. F. O. Hill motored to Redstone, N. H. Sunday, visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Robinson.

Mrs. Thayer Sterling returned home from Peak's Island Sunday where she had been caring for her sister, who is much improved.

Mrs. Ira Tupper and daughter Cynthia, recent guests of F. O. Hill and family went to Thomaston July 28, enroute to their home at Crisheaven.

Mrs. Thayer Sterling went to Two Lights, Cape Elizabeth, Monday, where she was guest of Mrs. Alonzo W. Parker, returning home Wednesday.

Recent thunder storms were brisk, effective and destructive. Last Sunday's storm struck in two places in the Fort ripping a tree from top to roots and slivered a post in one of the band stands. Just a little near for comfort.

John Robinson motored to St. George Friday of last week and was weekend guest of E. E. Kinney and family. He called on Miss C. H. Robinson at Spruce Head and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Grant at White Head, returning to Portland Head Sunday evening.

Starboard

Philmore Wass is at home with his parents Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wass for a short vacation.

Lorin Pettigrew was the guest of Gleason Colberth Jr., for a few days last week.

Miss Margaret Beal made a short visit here recently with her aunt Mrs. Lillian Colberth.

Miss Christine Henderson was weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wass.

Mr. and Mrs. Gleason Colberth were business visitors in Machias Monday.

This is the last day of July. The quarrel and severed all connection with Burns.

Burns never ceased to respect and love him, and on his death in the following April he wrote the Sonnet on the Death of Glenriddell, which many think his most beautiful and affecting poem.

No more ye warblers of the wood, no more, Nor pour your desecrating grating on How can I to the tuneful strain attend? That strain flows round the untimely tomb where Riddell lies

The Man of Worth and hath not left his peer In his narrow house, for ever darkly low

The manuscript, blotted with his tears, Burns sent for publication to a Duffries journal; and Mr. Gribbel is now its happy and appreciative possessor.

After Glenriddell's death, Burns asked for and received the two quarto volumes he had given her husband, from his widow, also a Riddell by birth; he retained them in his own possession until his death in 1796.

Currie of Liverpool (one of the fathers of hydropathy in England) desiring to write the Life of Burns, these volumes, the "Glenriddell Manuscripts," were delivered to him from the possession of Bonnie Jean Burns' widow, for the purpose, he undertakes to return them to her.

He published an edition of the Life and Works of Burns in 1800; a second shortly followed, and another edition being called for, he in 1803 intended to examine his material again with that in view. But his health broke down, and he died, having returned the manuscripts and they came into possession of his son; the son also died, and his widow in 1853 presented them to the Liverpool Athenaeum.

There they lay neglected and unappreciated for twenty years. In 1873 Henry A. Bright, a merchant of Liverpool, discovered them and had them put in the Library of the Athenaeum in a glass case. In 1913 the Athenaeum sold them to Sotheby & Co., London, for 5000 pounds. The right to do so was strongly contested by the Athenaeum, refused to cancel the sale. In Scotland it was proposed by most influential men, headed by Lord Rosebery, to have a representative committee formed in Scotland and England "for the purpose of endeavoring to have the sale cancelled, and the manuscripts saved for the Nation."

This committee was formed with Rosebery as chairman.

All this agitation came to an end as wholly unnecessary when a startling piece of news came across the Atlantic.

The editor of this paper has knowledge of some of Mr. Gribbel's "finds" as collector in various directions, notably in Burns, his collection of which is the most extensive and valuable in the world. He had already acquired four copies of the "Glenriddell Manuscripts," as noted by Mr. Justice Riddell. We have heard from other sources that the acquiring of this Glenriddell copy called from Mr. Gribbel an expenditure of over 1400 pounds—Editor.

TALK OF THE TOWN

The Sunshine Society meets Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Minnie Miles, the meeting to be followed by a picnic and social. The hostess asks that each take bowl and spoon, and sandwiches for individual lunch; she will provide everything else. All are invited.

Rev. Samuel F. Emerson of Skowhegan, will preach in the Grand Army circle, celebrating his 92d birthday this week. Mr. Emerson attended the department encampment when it was held in Rockland a year ago, and excited everybody's admiration by his activity.

Chapman Day at the Eastern Music Camp, Lake Umbagog is to be Sunday, Aug. 27. The chorus will sing the same numbers as last year and it is hoped that a large group from Rockland and vicinity will take part. Meet for rehearsal Monday evening at 7:30 at the Central Maine clubroom. All local singers are invited.

The Rangley Lakes Outdoor Association is having a big show Aug. 19, among the events being swimming races sanctioned by the New England Association; outdoor races, canoe races, rowboat racing, fly-casting, canoe tilting, canoe carrying, and various other events. Entries for the outdoor races should be made with Clinton Hoar, Rangley.

Ralph H. Smith (P. O. Box 196, Cheyenne, Wyoming) has The Courier-Gazette's thanks for Cheyenne newspapers and other publicity matter pertaining to the 37th annual Cheyenne Frontier Days, when wild men fought wild horses for the broncho busting championship of the world. All sorts of spectacular events were listed in the program for what Cheyenne proudly called "the world's greatest outdoor show."

We trust that Mr. Smith enjoyed it as much as he should have, if it carried out the terms of the advance publicity.

month has given us 237 hours of fog, yet we hate to see it go for it makes us stop and think that there is only one month more before all the keepers' family will be packing up to go ashore for nine months of the school year.

Mr. and Mrs. Wass and family have been spending a few days in Machias. While there their daughter Mrs. Hazel Woodward of Wood Island Light Station made them a visit. It was a real family gathering as they had not all been together for several years.

Mrs. A. J. Beal's plant must be very pretty. We also have a beautiful plant, a rose cactus. It stands about three feet high and is 90 inches around. It is in full bloom at this time with 38 big roses on it, each as large as a big cup.

Our new inspector visited this station Tuesday morning, coming so early that he nearly caught us napping.

Mr. Gribbel, a guest at the St. Andrews' Dinner at Philadelphia, on St. Andrews' Night, November 30, 1913, thrilled the brethren present when, called upon to speak as an honored guest, he referred to the Glenriddell manuscripts and the incensed agitation in Scotland over the sale of them—then he added:

"Where do you think these precious manuscripts are now? In my safe in Race street, bought by me over the counter like so much merchandise. For myself? No, but for Scotland, where they rightly belong."

The enthusiasm, excited by this announcement can be more easily imagined than described.

The fact was, that the manuscripts had been offered to Mr. Gribbel in November, by an American dealer, to his great surprise, as he supposed they were still in England and subject to the proceedings contemplated to have the sale cancelled and the manuscripts retained in Britain. The sale was completed and delivery made to Mr. Gribbel, November 21, 1913, and on the same day Mr. Gribbel advised Rosebery, Chairman of the Scots committee, that he was in possession of the manuscripts and that they were now a gift to the people of Scotland forever.

A deed of trust was drawn up, dated September 10, 1914, declaring the Manuscripts "a gift to the Scottish Nation," to be kept and retained in Scotland "at all time to come, for the use, benefit, and enjoyment of the Scottish Nation, and of visitors to Scotland."

The World War interfered with the intended visit of Mr. Gribbel to implement his gift in person; but after the war, he carried out his intention. He was everywhere and most justly hailed with acclaim as a real friend and benefactor to Scotland, Scots and lovers of the Scots Bard.

Should not such a splendid action be better known to his own beloved people of the United States?

It is no way diminishes, but rather adds to the graciousness and magnificence of his act, that Mr. Gribbel has no drop of Scots blood, being descended from a well-known South of England family of Hampshire.

William Renwick Riddell, (One who knows him and is proud of it).
