STRAND THEATRE

Jean Harlow and Clark Gable are reunited as co-stars by popular demand in "Hold Your Man," which comes Monday and Tuesday. The smashing success of "Red Dust," in which they were teamed romantically, brought such a response from public and exhibitors that Anita Loos, famous "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" author, was assigned to provide a new vehicle for the screen lovers.

"Hold Your Man," which teams them romantically, has an under-world flavor and is a rapidly-moving, rowdy, worldly story of timely tempo. In it Miss Harlow plays the part of a gaudy creature who is willing to allow herself to become the lure in a "love racket" for the sake of her man. Gable, as the man in the case, is a light-moraled chap who finds his real worth when the girl is sent to jail because of the trouble his racket gets her into. The plot is thrilling and with a climactic background in a women's reform school.—adv.

AT MEDOMAK CAMP

Everything Is In Readiness For Regatta Day Next Monday

The annual regatta day of Medomak Camp, Washington, will take place at Medomak Lake next Monday. This festival has become one of the outstanding gala events of the camping season and is greatly enjoyed not only by the boys themselves and their parents, but by visitors from many of the local communities adjacent to Washington. A small admission is charged, the proceeds of which go for the benefit of the Union Church at Washington Village.

The midway games and water sports will start promptly at 3 p. m. There will be swimming races, novelty races, exhibition diving, and a most varied program. Other features of special interest will be boat races, canoe races, and sailing races. The Medomak band will, also, be present to furnish musical entertainment between the various races.

In the evening at 7.30 a band concert will be given under the direction of Roland Tapley. Mr. Tapley is one of the leading violinists and concert artists for the Boston Symphony Orchestra and has been in charge of the music department at Medomak Camp for a long period of time. He is assisted by Robert Gerson, instructor in music in the Philadelphia schools.

Following the concert the dramatic department will present "The Merchant of Venice." The cast is composed of a group of Medomak boys who have shown unusual ability in dramatics and the play will be of unusual interest as part of it will be in true Shakespearean style while some portions of it will be given as a farce. A musical adjunct is included which is most unique and interesting.

Following is the cast of characters for the play:

Antonio, Irving Anthony, New Bedford.

Bassanio, Roger Garrison, Longmeadow, Mass.

Gratiano, William Wise, West Newton.

Portia, Greeley Stahl, Brooklyn.

Nerissa, Adrian Sanford, New York.

Prince of Morocco, John McGillivray, Newton Lower Falls.

Prince of Arragon, Laurence Bepo, Robert Gordon, Melrose.

Shylock, Oliver Loud, Columbus, Ohio.

Old Bepo, Norman Locke, Bridgeport.

Jessica, Hunt Curtis, Stony Brook, L. I.

Laurence, Laurence Smith, Boston.

Tubal, Abbott Spencer, New York.

Duke, Robert Packard, Montclair, N. J.

There will be exhibition diving by Charles Baldwin, Wollaston, Mass.

John McGillivray, Newton Lower Falls, Mass.; Gordon Wentworth, Auburndale, Mass.; John Tower, Auburndale, Mass.

In the Chinese lifesaving races will be Charles Baldwin, Wollaston, Mass. and Howard Stone, Bridgeport, Conn.

The water sports are in charge of Charles Kendall and Harry Lyon, and the boat racing will be under the supervision of Hunt Sutherland, sophomore at Dartmouth. The participants are Walter Beckhard, Brookline, Mass.; Norman Draper, Charlotte, N. C.; Joseph Garrison, Longmeadow, Mass.; George Pushee, Amherst, Mass.; Bill Byrnes, Cambridge, Mass.; Robert Whiting, Great Neck, N. Y.; Winfield Harrington, Malden, Mass.; Adrian Sanford, New York City.

TRINITY STREET'S SCARE

Fire At Frank Leo's House Communicates To Four Other Dwellings in the Neighborhood

Fire which broke out in the ell of Frank Leo's house on Trinity street shortly before midnight Wednesday caused no small alarm in that congested neighborhood, and if there had been any wind of consequence it is doubtful what the outcome would have been.

Chief Pettie's men found themselves busy handling four lines of hose, but only one of these was turned onto the blazing Leo building for the reason that the other three were required to prevent the flying sparks from doing damage to other houses.

The flames communicated to the garage of Patsey Lombardo whose premises adjoin those of Mr. Leo on the west. The structure was partly destroyed.

Three houses owned by Mrs. Frances Guistin, and occupied respectively by Sidney Monroe, John Williams and herself, required attention of the firemen. Because of this careful oversight the incipient flames started by the sparks gained no headway. There was however some water damage.

Mr. Leo saved none of his furniture and his automobile was destroyed.

Capt. Fred Cheyne had an uncomfortable experience when molten tar from the roof of the Lombardo garage fell upon one of his hands. He thought at first it was hot water, but learned the difference soon enough and his hand has since been done up in a formidable array of bandages.

George Burns didn't exactly get burned but he encountered an article of over-heated clothing that startled him, to say the least.

The neighborhood is counting itself fortunate to have escaped so luckily. Mr. Leo's loss was about $2000.

TO PASS ON SIX ISSUES

Rockland Voters Will Have a Busy Day September 11—Here's What They Face

Voters will have their hands full when they go to the polls in that special election Sept. 11, for there will be five general issues for them to decide upon. Here they are:

First. The State of Maine will vote on the Twenty-first Amendment which, if approved by two-thirds of the States, will repeal the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. This is the Prohibition Amendment which was adopted by the United States 15 years ago. This Amendment prohibits the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages throughout the United States. Congress has voted to submit the amendment to the people of the country. The record so far is, 20 states have voted to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment and none have voted not to repeal. Each State will decide its own action through its own State Constitutional Convention. The people of Maine on Sept. 11 will elect delegates to the Maine Constitutional Convention. Voters should inform themselves which delegates are for repeal and which are against, in order that they may vote intelligently.

Second. The voters of Maine on Sept. 11 will decide whether or not they wish to authorize the use of voting machines in the elections. The machine method is intended to do away with errors or fraud in the counting of votes. The amendment, if adopted, will allow cities and towns to use the machine method, although it will not compel them to do so.

Third. Will the voters of Maine authorize a $2,000,000 bond issue for "the relief of conditions threatening the peace, health and safety of the inhabitants of the State or political divisions thereof?" The Eighty-seventh Legislature passed this act with a Referendum attached when the depression was at its height last winter, and when distress was so great that it appeared as though some cities and towns might be entirely unable to meet the abnormal relief needs.

Fourth and Fifth. The fourth is a proposed tax of 2 per cent of the gross income of electric light and power companies doing more than $50,000 gross business annually in Maine, and the fifth is the proposed Intangible Property tax. This would impose a new tax of two and one-half mills annually on each dollar in excess of $4000 belonging to any individual, partnership or corporation within the State of Maine.

This special election will have an even more direct interest for Rockland voters, who will be called upon to accept or reject the proposed new city charter the full text of which has already been published in The Courier-Gazette.

MAINE AMATEUR GOLF TOURNAMENT

At the Country Club This Saturday a Noted Field Of Golfers Will Contest For Prizes

A record list of entries plus a galaxy of amateur golf stars is expected this Saturday at the Country Club where the State Amateur Handicap tournament will be in sway.

Heading the list of the star entries is "Ike" Merrill of Camden, four times State champion and a potent factor in any tournament. Other entries are Charlie Webber of Bangor, whose closely fought battles with Merrill have aroused State interest with golf fans; Jack Leddy of Portland, U. of M. who was captain of the first golf team in Maine history; Arthur Johnson, sensational schoolboy champ who has been shooting masterful golf in many tournaments this year; Doc Tyson of Augusta, veteran of golf tournaments; H. Ricker of Poland Spring, a noted figure in Maine golfing circles, having teamed up with Ernest Newnham, pro at Poland Spring, to cop many of the amateur events this year.

Among the favorite local crop of entrants who are expected to finish close to the top is Bud Flanagan, Providence College versatile athlete star, who has been shooting in the 74 zone daily and who is all set to give an account of himself; Albert Emery, U. of Penn. member who has been showing consistent golf; Soap Rogers, another competent competitor; Bill Glendinning, a skillful entrant, and Charles Wotton, newcomer to the game who has been showing some remarkable golf. And not to forget L. McKee, E. R. Veazie and H. E. Robinson who should be heard from.

A gallery of interested golf fans are expected to overflow the club's first tee as these contenders make the initial drive. The course is in perfect shape due to the fine work of Roger Sorrent, the club's popular greenkeeper.

That the Plan Of Fish and Game Association—No Ice Fishing Until February

The first of what promises to be a happy series of monthly executive committee meetings under President Alfred C. Hocking's administration was held by the Knox County Fish and Game Association at Rockledge Inn, Spruce Head, Thursday night. Fifteen members were present, including Honorary Vice President Dr.

salmon fingerlings and yearlings to Damariscotta, Alford's, Megunticook, Crawford, and Chickawaukie lakes, together with 6000 rainbow trout fingerlings to Lily Pond, Rockport.

The coming winter will see some radical changes in hunting and fishing laws and due publicity will be given. The rabbit season will be a month shorter, and there can be no ice fishing until February.

P. P. Bicknell led the movement to open the now closed tributaries of Alford's and Megunticook lakes, and F. E. Morrow of Camden and Mr. Bicknell were designated to consult with the selectmen of Camden, Hope and Lincolnville and take the necessary steps.

Dr. Codman had a firm conviction that it is useless to stock other than main streams, as the others dry up in summer; also that catchable fish should be used in the stocking process. He also favored the construction of small dams and planting of willows.

Warden Bradbury explained that fingerlings are planted because of the lack of room in the 14 rearing stations for their retention.

Dr. Codman told of a visit to Lily Pond last summer and of the unbelievable stench which it emitted. The scum in some places being a foot thick. "I wouldn't think of eating fish out of that pond," he said. After returning to Philadelphia he was told that steps had been taken to cleanse it, and he hoped so.

It was remarked that several rainbow trout had been caught there, but the attempt to stock with Chinook salmon does not appear to be successful. Warden Bradbury said that the trout were living on them, and that dead Chinooks were frequently seen.

Speaking again of closed tributaries, Put Bicknell said: "Let's permit our summer visitors to fish where they want to, and keep the waters stocked."

"I wish the members would impress upon the public that there will be no open moose season," said Warden Bradbury. "There have been rumors that there would be an open season of five days or 25 days, but Commissioner Stobie is my authority for the statement that there will positively be no open season."

Dr. Conley thought it would be a good idea to take fish from the Bird Pool while the roads were still hard, as last season muddy conditions were encountered.

It was stated that the pool now contains about 75,000 fish, and that the epidemic which caused the death of thousands has apparently been overcome.

THE FLOWER SHOW

Final Details For Thursday's Big Event Are Approaching Completion

The annual flower show of the Rockland Garden Club takes place on Thursday at the Universalist vestry from 2.30 to 9, and indications are that it will be up to the standard of previous years, if not surpassing it. All local flower lovers and garden devotees are invited to exhibit, whether members of the club or not. The point is stressed that the show will not be of the professional type—it is designed for the amateur gardener—but to aid the committees and the judges, it is necessary to adhere to the specifications. Anyone wishing a copy may obtain same by calling Mrs. Gladys Morgan, tel. 794.

A special room will be provided for the use of the exhibitors in arranging before making an entry. A committee will then receive the flowers and assist exhibitors in classifying. Please cut flowers 12 hours before using and place in container with good supply of water, in order to have blossoms fresh. Exhibits must be in not later than 10.30, in order to give the committee time to get room in readiness for judges. The church will be open at 3.30 to receive flowers. Plant material need not be grown by exhibitor.

An important point is that each exhibitor must accompany his exhibit with his name, the name or names of flowers, and the class in which it is to be displayed.

A meeting of the committees is called for Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Universalist vestry. These committees are: Receiving exhibits: Mrs. Carl H. Sonntag, Miss Vittrill Carini, Mrs. Daniel Snow, Miss Caroline Littlefield; schedule and classification: Mrs. G. A. Lawrence, Mrs. F. M. Kittredge, Mrs. A.

J. Murray, Miss Charlotte Buffum, Mrs. Ralph L. Wiggin, Mrs. Alton Deerow, Mrs. John O. Stevens, Mrs. Hervey Allen, Mrs. George Wooster; finance: Mrs. E. M. O'Neill; wild flower exhibit: Mrs. E. Stewart Orbeton, Miss Caroline Jameson, Miss Irene Lund, Miss Edith Bicknell; publicity: Mrs. Gladys Morgan; entertainment of judges: Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Morgan; background decorations: Mrs. Arthur F. Lamb, Mrs. F. A. Tirrell Jr., Mrs. Charles H. Berry, Mrs. John Watts, Mrs. Clara Emery, Mrs. Fred L. Linekin, Mrs. George Avery; tables: Mrs. Allen; door: Mrs. Ensing Otis, Mrs. Russell Bartlett, Mrs. Earle MacWilliams, Mrs. Joseph Emery; professional exhibit: Mrs. Harriet Frost. The chairman of each committee is asked to communicate with each member of her special group.

ONE GRAND RUSH

The Re-employment Bureau at The Brook has been working overtime since it opened Thursday morning. Up to the closing hour last night 203 applicants had enrolled. Manager Frank S. Marsh says that the office is somewhat handicapped for equipment, and would be grateful to anybody loaning the use of filing cabinets. Thus far the enrollments have been very largely from Knox County, although the jurisdiction includes also Lincoln and Waldo Counties.

Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.—Josh. 1:9.

CURIOSITIES OF BEER

Over Limington way they had a young man under arrest charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated—the young man intoxicated. He was found guilty and duly penalized, though declaring his innocence of anything more violent than four bottles of 3.2 beer, which he and a comrade drank on their way to the dance. There is nothing unusual here. Young men on their way to the dance as well as to other places do celebrate the occasion by resorting to beer. The nice point involved is that of the reactionary possibilities inherent in three-point-two. If four bottles of it, shared, we may assume with friendly equals, by two young men on the way to a dance results in automobile eccentricities which invite the activity of the police, with what equanimity can the public regard the fellow-citizen who, imbibing at one sitting half a dozen bottles of this declared innocuous beverage, throws on the ignition and launches his automobile into the midst of an unprotected public?

POSTOFFICE APPOINTMENTS

Eventually it may be expected to see all the public offices shepherded by the Civil Service. Some 80 per cent of them are now thus listed and the Administration's action in placing all the postoffices therein will make the thing unanimous. Theoretically the postoffices have for some time enjoyed this form of governmental protection, but there have existed certain limitations which allowed politics its right of way, so that the incoming party should not be denied those fruits of victory whose distribution among the boys contributed to the solidifying of party support. The thing that President Roosevelt has done has been threatened by preceding administrations, but couldn't command unanimous support. The party out of power naturally viewed with disfavor any curtailment of a future freedom of appointment. Mr. Farley, whose job it is to handle the situation, frankly declares his platform of appointments to be: "Is the applicant qualified? Is he loyal to the party and sympathetic to the program of Franklin D. Roosevelt?" It ought not to be difficult for any aspiring Democrat to say yes to this.

BUTTER OF AN AGE

We have always had a friendly inclination toward archeologists, as men whose intimate association with the things of antiquity has established a ground of interest and respect upon which society in general should be proud to meet them. Their contention over the world's age, which they have gradually lengthened from Biblical figures into periods vaguely expressed in billions of years, we pass by as a subject with which we are little familiar; but when there is presented to us this recent remarkable archeological discovery by Professor Gruss of Berlin, of hazelnut butter 2700 years old, then indeed we are moved to interest. The butter was found with the remains of a citizen of the Iron Age, with whom it had been interred, in consonance with burial rites peculiar to that period, and was in a perfect state of preservation. Thus do the researches of archeology bring to us knowledge of times remote for comparison with the present. There were wonderful people in those days. We have none of us experienced butter 2700 years old, though we have encountered some of it now and then that apparently was doing the best it could to emulate those figures.

Canvassers for the Charity Fund Will Enter Upon the Work Monday

In accordance with the announcement made in this paper, presenting the plan of the finance committee of the Knox County General Hospital for the building of a Charity Fund, the official canvassers—F. KALLOCH FAMILY

The 64th annual reunion of the Kalloch family will be held Wednesday, Aug. 30, at the home of Arthur D. Kalloch, High Street, Thomaston.

"I'm terribly worried. I wrote Jack in my last letter to forget that I had told him I didn't mean to reconsider my decision not to change my mind, and he seems to have misunderstood me."—Life.

NOTICING

Have any of this paper's readers, gifted with the noticing faculty, noticed—

THAT the street floor of Maroon Temple, vacant, offers a splendid invitation to some business to set itself up in plenty of room that is centrally located.

THAT one of the things in the recent times over which you have been sores with yourself is the cutting down you had to do in connection with church and charities.

THAT the maple trees in some regions are already getting into the red while the most of us are congratulating ourselves upon getting out of it.

THAT down in your heart you resent that billboard advertising which offends the roadsides and agree with yourself not to buy anything that they deal with.

THAT when you talk into the telephone receiver with a strange voice on the other end you have a feeling of self-consciousness which you wish you could get rid of.

THAT keen-eyed readers are holding this paper to task for misspelling the name of Horatius, the gallant Roman gentleman who "kept the bridge in the brave days of old."

THAT the bridge above alluded to, was the structure over which the country people crossed the Tiber to do their Saturday shopping in Rome, and bears no relation to the game which Mr. Culbertson's contract has backed off the table.

THAT when Rockland merchants put forth a dollar day the whole region sits up and takes notice that it's sure to be another of those genuine and high-grade affairs for which the city always has been celebrated.

THAT the newspapers can't seem to get along without Mrs. Costello whom they're now chasing into New Hampshire on her vacation rest visit.

THAT the increase of advertising in the magazines of nationwide circulation is another suggestion of the upward trend in business.

THAT some kind of a destructive dig has got into the beds of phlox here and there to the vocally expressed annoyance of the feminine gardeners.

THAT when you stand at the street-side and let the interminable string of cars go by, which they finish just in time to let another interminable string go by the other way, still holding you there, you have at least the satisfaction of knowing that you played safe.

THAT the business place flying the Blue Eagle is rightly proud of the patriotic display which in due time is going to become universal.

THAT when you read that annual report of the local Red Cross you get some idea of the professional work that our doctors are constantly doing for the needy without making any charge for it.

THAT the boys and girls are eager for school to begin—just as eager as were their parents in August years ago.

THAT the Blue Eagle flags made at home and by George Burns of Central Fire Station are being displayed in an increasing number of localities.

THAT some time or other every boy has practiced standing on his head, but that this summer the girls are making them look to their lairs.

THAT barnyard golf is now quite the thing at Glen Cove with the site of the old car barn as the scene of activities.

THAT when you pay the merchant something on that little bill his whole countenance lights up and he turns to his business with renewed courage.

THAT the local stores have about everything in the fruit line one could desire, not forgetting those tasty nectaries.

THAT our hunters and fishermen should acquaint themselves with the new laws passed by the last Legislature, and bear in mind that moose will not be targets the coming winter.

THAT painting a fire escape is not quite the cinch it looks to be, and that Kendrick Seales got quite red-headed about it in decorating the one at the telephone building on School street.

WALDOBORO BASEBALL MAD

Record Crowd Saw Home Team Shut Out St. George Last Night—Rockland's Lead Increases

Sunday (3 p. m.)—Camden at Rockland.
Monday—Waldoboro at Rockland.
Tuesday—Thomaston at St. George.
Wednesday—Waldoboro at St. George.
Thursday—Camden at Rockland.
Friday—Thomaston at Rockland.
Saturday—Thomaston at Camden.

The League Standing

Rockland has gained a full game on St. George since the standing was last published and is leading the league to that extent. Waldoboro though fourth on the list looks like a real threat. The standing.

Team	Won	Lost	P.C.
Rockland	6	2	.750
St. George	6	4	.600
Thomaston	4	3	.571
Waldoboro	3	4	.429
Camden	1	7	.125

Because no formal decision has yet been made in the recent Camden Waldoboro game it is not included in the above standing.

Rockland 7, Camden 2

The Texacos batted freely in Thursday night's game at Camden, and their early lead was never threatened. Freeman and Ogier had a nice little race for batting honors, each making three singles. Flanagan's triple was the longest hit of the game. Plasted did some classy work around the mid sack, while Wadsworth's foul catch over behind the first base bleachers was a gem. Carter pitched another nice game for Rockland. The score:

Waldoboro 6, St. George 0

A young lad by the name of Goggin who hails from Gardiner way stood the St. George batters on their heads, figuratively speaking, at Waldoboro last night. A clean single by Westberg and a very scratchy scratch hit by M. Simmons was all the champions were able to do with him, and there was only one inning in which the visitors threatened. This was the sixth when they had men on second and third. Goggin then delighted the Waldoboro fans by striking out Archer and M. Simmons in succession.

M. Simmons started the game for St. George but after allowing three singles and a double, passing two and hitting two, he was replaced in the fourth inning by the Vinahaven schoolboy Middleton. And neither was it Middleton night, for he allowed three singles and a double in three innings, besides patching two. Waldoboro scored its runs in blocks of two, and honest to goodness hits were factors in all of the runs. Goggin's single and Andrews' double driving in all scores. A big crowd watched the game and voiced its delight over the home team's fine showing.

Some Line Drives

Togus is playing in St. George this afternoon, and St. George returns the compliment Sunday afternoon. "Jit" Ricker is scheduled to pitch for the champions at Togus, while Jimmy Fitzpatrick will do the honors for the Home team, with Clyde Sukeforth on the receiving end. A play by play description of the game will be furnished to all parts of the field through amplifiers.

A young member of the Rockland team who is beginning to attract much attention is "Bum" Freeman, who seems to be able to give a good account of himself in about every position, and who will soon be rating as one of the team's best hitters.

Camden and Rockland will oppose each other at Community Park Sunday afternoon. With one eye on the pennant the Texacos will keep the other sharply on Camden, which while not a winner of many games has a distressing habit of throwing a scare into rival camps.

The following from the Bath Times will interest veteran Knox County fans:

"Ed Brown, Bath taxi-driver and former baseball pitcher of considerable renown, drops in this morning to speak a little piece about pitching a straight drop. And believe it or not Ed agrees that it can't quite be done. He tells of Walter Underwood, Coby College twirler of about 45 years ago, who after his college career pitched in the various leagues around Maine. He had the closest thing to a straight drop Ed ever saw. It was a ball that came in high and swooped down fast."

Ed tells of the late T. P. Neagle of Bath, an old time catcher of fame. It seems that T. P. was one of the few ball players who could whack out Underwood's delivery consistently. In fact, he used to call 'em. They were playing Augusta one day and after Ed had reached first on a single T. P. strode to the plate, shouted down to first base, 'Stay right there, Ed, I'll bring you around.' And he cracked out a triple to keep his word."

Brown has appeared many times on Knox County diamonds, while "Tommy" Neagle, as backstop for Rockland, was the idol of the local fans. Those were the good old days when the ball ground was on the other end of Broadway.

Come on boys, a little more pep in starting the games. The shortened days mean fewer innings. The fans should insist upon a prompt start.

Manager Dailey has resigned as manager of the Camden team, feeling that he has done his full share this season. His successor is George Boynton who will see the season through, doing his level best, as usual.

Pitching for Norway Wednesday Chummy Gray won a 4 to 1 victory over Livermore, allowing only eight hits. Among his team-mates are Jimmy Cole, formerly of the Rockland team in the Maine Coast League, and Lombardo, the star first baseman of the Togus team.

HALE HAS CLEAR FIELD

But Much May Happen Before Next June's Primaries—What About Brewster?

Will Senator Hale have a set-up in the Republican primary of 1934? Some of his friends and a few Republican leaders incline to an affirmative answer. Others are doubtful. He is now serving his third term in the Senate.

No one has said he would oppose the Senator; at least not publicly so, but there are a number whom rumor couples with a desire to do so, as well as some whom it is well known would like to get into the running.

Former Congressman Nelson of Augusta is the one most frequently suggested. It is an open secret that the former member from the old Third District would like to be a Senator. He has never denied it.

Then there is ex-Gov. Gardiner. Ever since he first broke into politics as a member of the State House of Representatives there have been stories of his ambitions. So far these stories have proved true. It was said that he wanted to be Speaker and Governor. He has had both jobs. It was also told that he longed to serve Maine both as a Congressman and a member of the United States Senate. He has had neither of these. Next year offers an opportunity for him to get in as a seeker for either of those places.

Under the circumstances Nelson, beaten last year by Moran, cannot be expected to ask for another term in Congress in the House. This being so Gardiner has no reason for not getting into the game if he wants to. There might be a reason why he would not feel to enter.

This reason is Nelson. Before Nelson went to Congress and Gardiner became Governor and during that period they were law partners, as well as close friends. The ex-Governor, according to his friends, says that he would not buck Nelson; and Nelson's friends say that he would not oppose Gardiner.

There are those who expect to see Brewster opposing Hale again next June. What their reasons are is not known.

Should Brewster decide to eliminate himself as a candidate for any office in the primary next year it will be the first time in 18 years that his name has not been on the primary ballot. In 1916-18, he was there as a candidate for the House of Representatives from Portland; in 1920-22, as a candidate for Senator from Cumberland County; in 1924-26, as a candidate for Governor; in 1928-30, as a candidate for U. S. Senator and in 1932, as a candidate for Congress in the third district.

It has been said that Louis A. Jack of Lisbon Falls may be a candidate for the Senatorship against Hale. Jack has done it before and he is one of the kind of men that are apt to repeat, for he takes it with a smile whichever way the verdict runs.—Lewiston Journal.

A NEW WINNER

"Thousand Eyes" Captures Shark Races at Camden—Natives To Compete

Fog lurked around Camden's outer harbor Thursday but the fifth race in the second series was pulled off by the H.A.J. boats. "Thousand Eyes" winning the event by about 10 minutes, with Kitty Gribbel of Philadelphia as skipper. Next Tuesday "natives" will man the shark boats and compete for the cash prizes, $30 and $15, offered by T. Charlton Henry and Thomas J. Watson, respectively.

Thursday's summary:

"Thousand Eyes," Gribbel, W. G. 1 hour, 29 minutes, 47 seconds.

"Vixen," Chatfield, W. H. 1 hour, 31 minutes, 9 seconds.

"Hi-E-Pus II," Chase J. 1 hour, 33 minutes, 6 seconds.

"Viking," Hutchins, J. C. 1 hour, 33 minutes, 40 seconds.

"Twells III," Sailer, Betty, 1 hour, 33 minutes, 56 seconds.

"Pezazz," Taylor, W. 1 hour, 34 minutes, 26 seconds.

Wednesday will be Grange Day at Eastern Music Camp. Grangers will be on the grounds all day, but the concert in the afternoon at 3:30 will be open to the public as usual. The program will be presented by the faculty orchestra, directed by Paul White, with Louis Cornell as piano soloist, playing the first movement of Grieg's Concerto for piano and orchestra.

"Hay Fever," to be presented Aug. 24-25 for the benefit of the Public Library, under the direction of Artwood Levensaler, has to its credit long runs in New York and London. The action takes place over a weekend in the Bliss country home. The Bliss are a perfectly delightful family, suggesting in many of their charming eccentricities, the Sangers of "The Constant Nymph." Each member of the family has a guest to the others invited a weekend for the weekend and a more fantastic house party cannot be imagined. Judith Bliss is an actress retired from the stage; David, her husband, is a novelist; the two children, Simon and Sorel, are typical young moderns. Their guests are merely a nincompoop to them, an excuse for the domestic play acting which is meat and drink to them all. The results are deliciously amusing. The lines are replete with clean, sparkling humor, and there isn't a dull moment from start to finish. Everyone who attends can be assured of a delightful evening, and also being his bit toward helping the Public Library meet the demands of the reading public.

WEATHER

The fog envelopment this morning suggests that dog days, which asserted themselves in early July, are apparently staging a return engagement. As we all know, it is the Dog Star Sirius that is responsible for this phase of midsummer weather, by rising with the sun in the hot period.

In old times the heat was attributed to the combined effect of the star and sun. Thus a period of 40 days after the conjunction took place was called dog days. Formerly this was the last of July, but through the procession of the Equinox (you know what that is) the conjunction now takes place about July 1st, which starts the dog days in much earlier. That's why we had them in July. There was no body to blame but the Equinox, which held its procession in advance of the Presidential election and perhaps accounts for some of the existing foggy conditions. The Weatherman gets this information from the almanac and declines to be held accountable. Morning temperature above 60 and clearing later promised.

Folks who reside in the northern section of Broadway were so mad yesterday that they almost melted the telephone wires talking about it. The cause of their irritation was an innocent mooly cow, which had evidently lost her calf for she moored all night with that rich contralto voice that cows affect. If that calf remains lost some of the residents are going to move.

The Courier-Gazette staff was put to rout yesterday when Harrison MacAlman entered the office with a pasteboard box which he said contained a curiosity. It has been placed in cold storage awaiting identification by Norman Lermond.

Local music lovers are planning to motor to the Eastern Music Camp tomorrow afternoon to see Dr. Howard Hanson, director of the Eastman School of Music of Rochester, N. Kendall Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Green of this city, sang at the midsummer ladies' night observance of the Camden-Rockport Lions Club Wednesday evening, his selections being "Tell Me Charming Creature," "Thought of Thoughts," and "Sylvia." Marshall Bradford was at the piano. Mr. Green possesses a most pleasing voice, coming rightly by it with the musical background provided by his father, and also uncle, Harold Green, who have long been active in local musical circles.

A boy with a blouseful of green apples nearly broke up a Twilight League game at Community Park the other afternoon. He sauntered in from a nearby orchard with an unbelievable quantity of fruit stored in his clothing, and began "Scotch-grabbing." There's a psychology about this proceeding that causes a crowd to forget everything else, and somebody might have made a home run without interrupting the spell. After disgorging about a bushel of apples the youngster went his way and order was restored.

It was aboard the yacht he was stricken and he was immediately rushed to a Washington hospital, where the best medical aid was administered, but to no avail. Services were held at the home Friday afternoon, Rev. A. G. Davis, officiating. Besides the family, a large number of friends and neighbors gathered, all imbued with the spirit of sympathy. OUR JUNIOR PUZZLE

A PIERCING SCREAM!

Betty left off a piercing scream and threw her arms up in a great fright. She said she was in the barn and something dashed out from under a hay mound and ran right over her foot. Her brother Bobby asked her if it were an automobile as he had parked his little old flier in the barn. If you want to see what Betty saw, take a pencil and join all the numbered dots together, starting with dot number one and ending with dot number forty-three.

A MODERN SHOE SHOP

Sulo Pentilla, Thomaston's Progressive Shoe Repairer, Makes Old Shoes Like New and Sells New Ones, Too

Sulo Pentilla started making shoes when but 13 years old and has devoted his whole life to the industry. In the days of his apprenticeship a large percentage of all shoes were made by hand. He has developed as the art of shoe manufacturing has developed, and thus knows every branch of the business. In 1931 he opened a first class shoe repairing shop in Thomaston and this venture has prospered. The fine record of his work has spread far and wide, and customers come for a radius of 40 miles.

Before coming to Thomaston Mr. Pentilla was engaged in the same line in Portland. His Thomaston shop is thoroughly modern with the latest Goodyear system machinery which enables him to produce a real factory job which looks and wears like new.

The old fashioned nailing process which is notoriously unsatisfactory has no place in this shop. Here the fine grade leather taps are glued to the shoe with a strong waterproof glue and then sewed firmly and permanently in place by the powerful Goodyear machines. Other machines smooth and bevel the job until it is almost impossible to tell it from brand new taps and heels.

The result is a steadily increasing clientele of pleased customers who bring or send their shoes and those of their families to this efficient shop.

For those who have trouble with their feet and need specially built shoes, Mr. Pentilla gives his personal attention and turns to account his skill as a maker of shoes. He studies the feet, measures them carefully and produces a last that means all-time foot relief and comfort to the customer.

Last fall he introduced a line of shoes for men, women and children and this venture has met with great success. So strong has the demand become that the line is now complete in all sizes including babies shoes. At the present time he is showing school shoes for children at very attractive prices. Sport shoes are featured, also standard lines including the Emerson shoes for men. A pleasing feature of the shop is a selection of leather novelties.

He also carries a line of scythes imported from Finland made of the best quality steel obtainable. Both machine made and hand made are carried in stock and he sells quite a number every year. They are reasonably low in price.

REWARD OF MERIT TO LORD

Fine New Service Station Of Sherman H. Lord Wins
Golden Ply Silvertown Agency

Sherman H. Lord, who recently completed his modern tire and battery service station at 59 Camden street (Maverick Square), has been awarded the coveted agency for the famous new Silvertown Golden Ply Safety Tire Agency.

Mr. Lord spoke most enthusiastically yesterday to The Courier-Gazette reporter concerning the new Golden Ply tire.

"High speeds and smaller wheels, setting up a terrific centrifugal force, together with the heat of friction caused by the rapid revolution of the tire on the road and the constant flexing of the tire carcass, bring about tire failure under today's service conditions," declared Mr. Lord.

"A new kind of rubber compound, designed to resist heat and to bind more firmly the tread and tire plies, is the development which Goodrich tire engineers claim makes this new product three times safer than any ordinarily constructed tire."

"For months before this tire was publicly announced, it was tested on the road and in the Goodrich laboratories against every conceivable service hazard.

"On the fastest track in the United States and at the hands of impartial test drivers, this new 'Golden Ply' Silvertown stood up three times as long as any other tire."

"The Goodrich Silver Fleet then put the 'Golden Ply' tire on the highway in the north and south, and again it stood up under exceptional conditions. The Goodrich 'torture chamber,' said to subject tires to more gruelling hardships than any laboratory of its kind, failed to break the claim that the new tire is 'three times safer.'"

"The 'Golden Ply' protects the tire where protection is most needed. By preventing separation of the fabric and tread, internal blisters are eliminated. Thus, the origin of blowouts attributed to this cause is removed and a dangerous motoring hazard overcome."

You are invited to inspect the new station, to try its service and see the new Golden Ply tires.

BIG FIVE LEAGUE

Two teams seem to be the only flag contenders as the season swings into the last quarter. Rockport is fighting vigorously to overtake the champion Keag team and first place. Incidentally these teams are scheduled to hook up in the crucial game at South Thomaston tomorrow. Dropping down we find Clark Island and Rockville tie for third place striving along to get into the lead but it is not likely that either will threaten seriously. Meanwhile the Snipers and Battery F are battling for the lead of the second division. These last four teams are closely bunched bottomed by the local Pirates who are trying to pull away from the cellar and making some pretty determined stabs at it. The standing:

	W	L	P.C.
South Thomaston,	12	6	667
Rockport,	10	6	625
Clark Island,	8	8	500
Rockville,	7	7	500
Snipers,	7	9	438
Battery F,	6	8	429
Pirates,	5	11	313

Games Sunday: Rockport at South Thomaston, Pirates vs. Rockville at Rockport, Battery F vs. Snipers at Rockport, Games Wednesday: Pirates at Rockport, Battery F at Clark Island, Rockville vs. Snipers at Rockland.

Past week results: Pirates 12, South Thomaston 8; Snipers 6, Clark Island 2; Rockport 10, Rockville 5.

THOMASTON

Sharing honors with Searsport as Maine's most beautiful town, has an interesting historic background to enhance its present charm. Stately homes set well back from wide, cool elm arched streets set Thomaston apart as an ideal residential town. Here is found the famous Knox Mansion, museum of rare historical gems of the Revolutionary period, surrounded within easy driving distance by innumerable spots of Revolutionary and colonial significance. Too, modern Thomaston presents an active business aspect including within its corporate limits the great $4,000,000 mill of the Lawrence Portland Cement Co.

Rich in tradition and charming old day folk lore is St. George, most historic of Knox County's towns. Every foot of its fertile fields or rugged shore is hallowed ground, scene of some happenstance of tragedy or humor in days long passed. The present day St. George, comprising a group of prosperous hamlets centered about historic Tenant's Harbor, though smaller by far in population than a half century ago is rich in natural resources leading to prosperity, paving on a large scale agriculture, fisheries and many beautiful summer estates.

PROMISES A LAUGH

"Aren't We All," Musical Comedy At Tenant's Harbor Next Week

"Aren't We All!" the production that St. George Lodge I.O.O.F. at Tenant's Harbor is staging in Odd Fellows hall, Aug. 22-23, promises to be a rousing success judging from the splendid way in which the characters are taking hold at rehearsals. This amusing play in addition to being check-full of clever lines and situations, presents scenes of riotous color in its choruses. There are several singing and dancing groups including: Margaret Marriott, Irene Underwood, Ruth Clark, Agnes Smith, Marjorie Romkey, Adele Hawkins, Jenny Wiley, Geraldine Sprague, Helen Kelly, Aveline Pierson, Mabel Erickson, Agnes Holgerson, Eleanor Coolbroth, Ruth Morse and Sylvia Kulju. One of the skits is "School-Daze," a scene that takes one back to the little red schoolhouse. Its characterizations are handled by Mrs. Mary Monaghan as the teacher with Robert Reid, Clifford Wylie, Fred Pratt, Herbert Hawkins and Olaf Johnson as pupils. At the close of this scene, Asthma Tartar (Ethel Auld) rushes in exclaiming that the hotel is afire. There is a mad scramble and dash until the stage is cleared, and the Chestnut Corners Volunteer Fire Department headed by Henry Allen as Chief make their entrance including Emerson and Philip Murphy, Clifford Wylie, Errol Wylie, Lewis Barter, Bill Erickson, Sam Archer, Eddie Edwards and William Gillis.

The climax of the play comes in the third act when the Villains (Everett Torrey and Robert Reid) are foiled in their attempt to steal the invention of the young hero (Ralph

ENJOYED MONTPELIER

Bath's D. A. R. Group Cordially Welcomed—Record Attendance Thus Far

In comparing the attendance at Montpelier in 1933 with the summer of 1932, it is interesting to note that for the first five days of August this year visitors to the Memorial numbered 166, while for the same period last year there were 137. Up to Aug. 11 this season 1352 have registered at Montpelier.

Following the visit of the Pemaquid Chapter, D.A.R., of Lincoln County, Montpelier was the scene of a pleasant gathering Aug. 8, of the Colonel Dummer Sewall Chapter, D.A.R., of Bath. Miss Margaret Foote, librarian of the Bath Public Library, and an ex-regent of Col. Dummer Sewall Chapter, was in charge of the excursion and proved a most efficient general.

The Bath Daughters were delighted with Montpelier and their cordial reception by Mrs. Creighton, the official hostess, and by Mrs. Vivian Hewitt, manager of the Gift Shop, who did everything possible for the enjoyment and comfort of their guests.

The visiting Daughters were Miss Margaret R. Foote, ex-regent, Alice K. Robbins, registrar, Alice G. Shorey, treasurer, Annette Merrill, vice regent, Agnes W. Humphreys, Elwina Durgin, Alice B. Fulton, Bernice P. Staples, Mrs. Charles V. Minott, Lena B. Ring, Abbie P. Minott, Ada E. Deering, Annie E. Cox, Ella J. Douglass, Alice M. Minott, Ethel M. Blake, Nellie E. Lord, Annie L. Silly isn't it?

THROWING AWAY GOOD FOOD

when economical electric refrigeration would have kept it for days

Hardly a day goes by but good food must be thrown away—left overs, butter, eggs, milk,—perishable foods. Here's where electric refrigeration draws the line between thrift and waste—pennies saved or pennies wasted.

About $4.50 a month is the average loss in food that spoils and is thrown away. Silly— isn't it, when you consider that automatic electric refrigeration will put that $4.50 back into your pocket?

Electric refrigerators are advancing but they are still way below what we expect.

GUARDIANS OF OUR COAST

What our lightkeepers and coast guardsmen are doing to protect coastwise shipping by day and by night. The day's news from many lonely outposts along Maine's waterfront.

Manana Island

We are still on the job and very busy. Between a foggy season and station work it has kept us busy all season and we have a lot yet to do.

Tender Ilex landed coal last week also new Tyfon horn to take place of the present fog signal. As yet we don't know when it is to be installed. Mr. Sampson and Capt. Eaton inspected station recently. We like our new superintendent fine.

Mrs. Lofa Johnson of Jonesport and children are visiting her sister Mrs. Woodward for a few weeks.

We are having quite a few visitors but not as many as usual. The season around Monhegan seems dull this year. Let us hope next year will be much better.

Quite a fleet of Italian seiners here. The harbor is a busy place when they are around. Quite a few mackerel are being caught.

Deer Island Thoroughfare

B. R. Lunt and Hanford Miller arrived at this station Aug. 7 to do repair work.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Maynard and little daughter Barbara of Media, Penn., and Avery's Harbor visited at the station and had supper with us on day last week.

Mrs. Conary was in town one day last week and stayed over night with Mrs. Bessie Dunham.

The Cuckolds

Mr. and Mrs. John Livingston have returned to their home in Syracuse, N. Y. They spent a week here with Mr. and Mrs. Elliot.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tryon, Mr. and Mrs. Rose and Mr. and Mrs. Grear were dinner guests of the Elliots Thursday coming by car to Newagen. The oil house which has not been used for oil for some time has been taken down, and it improves the looks of the station very much.

Assistant Keeper Harold Seavey has rented a bungalow from Gleason Gamage, and will move his family there in September, and the two girls will attend school at Newagen. The annual bazaar given by the Library Association took place at Newagen Aug. 16.

Portland Breakwater

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sandstrom and Mr. and Mrs. E. Charles Whitney and family of Providence were callers at this station when on their trip to Bar Harbor to visit the National Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitney took Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Marr to New Meadows Inn for dinner while on their vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Webb of Fulton, N. Y. have purchased a lot at Pattengill Shores and expect to build a cottage in the near future. Mr. Webb has returned home after a week's stay in this vicinity.

Word has been received here from Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Pierce, formerly of Marshall Point, that they are nicely settled at Thomaston. C. E. Marr, formerly of Pemaquid Light is with them.

Mrs. Mabel Wheeler of Bath was a caller at the station one day last week.

Little River

Supt. Eaton and Mr. Sampson visited this station recently, landing a few supplies.

Mrs. Charles Porter and Mrs. Boynton of the village were supper guests at the light Aug. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartley, Mr. and Mrs. Allen, Mrs. William Bean and son Aubrey, and friends of Mr. Stevens, were guests at the light recently.

Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Ulric Wilcox called at this station a week ago last Sunday.

Harlan and Wyman Johnson, brothers of Mrs. Corbett were at this station Sunday.

Myron Corbett after visiting at home for a few days has returned to Roque Bluffs for two weeks before going to Aroostook.

Shirley Johnson of Roque Bluffs is visiting her cousins at the light.

The keeper caught a 20 pound halibut one-half mile from the light.

Mr. Corbett was surprised to have a telephone call from Mr. Foss, keeper of Sand Island. Mr. Foss and family were visiting in Machias.

Two Bush

Mr. Beal, the government workman who has been with us since July 6 is still here, shingling the house, boathouse and doing other jobs around the station. Mr. Beal spent last weekend with Leland Mann of Spruce Head.

Tender Ilex this morning landed the yearly supply of kerosene.

Miss Olive C. Carnes of Rockland is guest of Miss Carla Smith. When Miss Carnes goes home Miss Smith will return with her for a short visit before school opens this fall.

Elliott Smith, son of Keeper Smith arrived home, a week ago Saturday, after finishing his work at Isle au Haut. It took him five hours to come from Isle au Haut to Two Bush in his power boat.

Doubling Point Range

It has been quite busy around this station lately. Thomas Flanagan, electrician working for the government was here about two weeks wiring the fog signal at Doubling Point to connect with this station. We had bushes and trees to cut, posts to set and about 8000 feet of wire to run for a little over half a mile, but when completed it was a great improvement over having to go a half mile to start and stop the signal. It is working great, Mr. Flanagan.

Fred Pinkham, Keeper Nye's son-in-law who is an electrician, has installed a device by which I can hear plainly every stroke of the bell at Doubling Point by just stepping to my cell doorway; otherwise I couldn't tell whether the signal was operating properly or not without traveling some distance. This is another great improvement.

It is quite busy here on the Kennebec at present. The Collier Berwind, glen passed in and out by station recently and is to make four round trips in succession, bringing 7000 tons of coal to the Kennebec Coal & Wharf Co. Several large yachts, oil steamers and coal barges pass up and down by the station daily. Tug Foremost of Saint John, N. B. was due Aug. 14 with pulp barges for the Peapack Paper Co.

Harold Durgin, government engineer and surveyor was here recently surveying property at Doubling Point.

Matineus Rock

Hello everybody. Back on the job again after a vacation. No place like our beautiful Maine. The first of the trip ashore was sad, as our beloved friend and pal Capt. William R. Keene, died Aug. 2. Born in Appleton, he had many friends and relatives in Camden, Seabrook and Rockland. He was a faithful member of his lodge, 46 years secretary of the Masonic lodge at Southwest Harbor.

We visited the Odd Fellows home at Auburn, where Mrs. Keene's brother Charles Parker, makes his home. We were shown all through it and it is a beautiful place, everything one could wish for. It is a place for the order of Odd Fellows to be proud of. The last of our vacation was spent with Mrs. O'Brien and daughter of Pleasant street, a visit which was much enjoyed. We took many nice trips.

Mackerel are plenty out here, but no boats to catch them. Tender Ilex landed oil here Aug. 15.

We were pleased to meet First Assistant Batty in Rockland, and Mr. Beal, one of the workmen at Two Bush, who was visiting Mr. Mann when we called at Spruce Head.

We shall soon start hauling coal, as it was landed here while I was ashore. Best regards to all along the coast. We hope to have the telephone fixed soon.

We made retired keeper Mann a visit at Spruce Head. While he was at Two Bush we talked over the phone often, but never met. We had a trip to Keeper Elwell's light and enjoyed a picnic dinner at Pemaquid Point. We had a pleasant trip to Portland with Mrs. O'Brien and daughter of Pleasant street, Rockland, also Mrs. Keene of Manset, who is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Powers. We were in Waterville at the time Miss Earhart landed there, guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Mitchell, who have a most attractive farm. They took our party to Beigrade Lakes where everything seemed to be in all its beauty. We also visited Seabrook. Maine is beautiful as no other State can be.

BEECH HILL, ROCKPORT

[For The Courier-Gazette]

I stood upon a high hill-top,
The world before me lay,
I placed my hand above my eyes,
The mighty earth to scan.

I saw the powerful rolling deep,
Like toys the boats therein,
I saw the Pote, its ice and snow,
And, too, the midnight sun,
Great Norway with her mountains high,
And with her wondrous fjords,
Small Denmark where my folks were born.

The grounds whereon they played,
Old England with her London town,
With castles, dukes and lords,
Quaint, hoary towns of Germany,
Then France, and Spain, I saw,
But now—lest I should tire you—I'll make the rest quite short:

Gray deserts, hills and kingdoms, small,
And jungles, deep and dark,
Wide rivers, valleys, plains and sky,
Until there came in view,
AMERICA, my native land,
The good old U. S. A.

I stood upon a high hill-top,
Just for a little while,
But during that delightful time
The whole wide world was mine.

Quincy, Mass. Ann Anderson.

U. OF M. GRADUATES

To Hold a Reunion in Lincoln County—Invitation To Alan L. Bird

Dr. Harold S. Boardman, president of the University of Maine, and Arthur L. Deering, president of the General Alumni Association of the University, have accepted invitations to attend the Outing of the University of Maine alumni and undergraduates residing in Lincoln County, which is to be held at the summer home of George O. Hamlin in Boothbay Harbor, Aug. 26.

Early returns indicate a large attendance at this event, which will be the first get-together of University of Maine alumni in Lincoln County for many years, if not for all time.

Both Dr. Boardman and Mr. Deering will speak informally at the gathering, bringing word concerning the activities at the University and alumni program. Extensive changes have taken place on the campus during his administration.

Mr. Deering, who is director of Agricultural Extension Service, is now serving his third year as president of the General Alumni Association, which has just presented the University with the new Memorial Gymnasium.

The entire program will be very informal, the event being intended more for an outing than a meeting.

An invitation has been extended to Alan L. Bird of Rockland, a graduate of the class of 1900 and classmate of Mr. Hamlin. Until recently, Mr. Bird was president of the Knox County Association of University of Maine alumni.

The event is scheduled to take place, rain or shine, at 4 o'clock, on the date indicated.

SMALL APPLE CROP

Is the Present Indication For Maine But Ample Elsewhere In Country

Prospects for a large apple crop in Maine this year declined in July and on Aug. 1 indications were that the harvest in the Pine Tree State would total only 282,000 barrels compared to 464,000 in 1932 and an average of 430,000 barrels between 1926 and 1930, according to estimates by the New England crop reporting service on the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

While prospects in Maine were not as good as on July 1, conditions improved in New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Connecticut, but remained unchanged in Vermont and Rhode Island. The outlook is for a 4 percent larger crop in New England than seemed probable a month ago. In eastern states outside of New England and the central states, a poor yield is indicated but a fair crop is forecast on the Pacific coast.

The estimate for the entire country is a yield of 28,371,000 barrels compared to 28,646,000 last year. The New England yield is estimated a 1,779,000 while last year the crop tallied 2,175,000 barrels.

A FAMOUS CHURCH

Rev. Francis Tees, Now Preaching In Rockland, Is Its Pastor

The history of St. Georges Methodist Episcopal Church of Philadelphia whose pulpit is occupied by Rev. Francis Tees, who is supplying at the local church during the absence of Rev. C. E. Brooks, is most interesting.

This church has the distinction of being the oldest Methodist Episcopal Church edifice in the world. The society was organized in 1767 for the purpose of erecting the building which was done, being dedicated and occupied in 1769. The society first worshipped in a sail loft in a building near Dock Creek, then in a house in Loxley's Court, and finally from November, 1769, to the present time in the edifice they now occupy.

Pilmoor preached his first sermon, that of dedication, within its walls on Nov. 24, 1769. The first love feast in America was held in this church, Jos. Pilmoor in charge, March 23, 1770.

Bishop Asbury preached his first sermon in America in St. George's the day after his arrival, Oct. 28, 1771. Also held here was the first Methodist conference in America, July 14, 1773. Four bishops—Asbury, Whatcoat, Robert Roberts and Levi Scott—served as pastors of St. George's.

St. George's also has the peculiar distinction of being mother church of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, a denomination that boasts a world wide membership of nearly one million souls, 6000 churches and 6000 itinerant preachers, 12,000 local preachers, 20 schools and colleges, and two printing plants. This church licensed Richard Allen, the first colored man to be licensed to preach in America.

Manuel Bernard in a recent call spoke of the fine talent and consummate artistry of Maybelle Pratt Strong who takes advantage of Mr. Bernard's local visits to coach with him. With only two years at the Institute of Musical Art in New York in addition to other instruction, Mrs. Strong displays unusual pianistic ability, combining technique, sensitive insight and beauty in tone coloring and expression.

Mr. Bernard remarked that he was impressed with the authority and maturity Mrs. Strong had acquired in the past year in her piano work through her own intelligent study. It is a matter of regret that opportunities to hear Mrs. Strong in recital are so few. We are constantly hoping that the future may be more generous to us in this respect.

Aug. 6, with Alfred Crayden at the piano. Our friend's comment was "Wonderful." We wish it might be made possible for many of our local music lovers to hear this gifted artist.

HONEYMOON CRAFT

What They Used To Call the Morse—Coney Island Excursion Boat Now

From Bar Harbor to Coney Island and from millionaire patrons to New York "trippers" constitutes a far cry and undeniably a long step downward in the social scale, yet a Maine institution, familiar to thousands of residents of Greater Boston, has suffered the degradation of such a transfer.

A brief item in the Rockland Courier-Gazette tells of the sale of steamship J. T. Morse by Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., to New York interests who will use the old sidewheeler as an excursion craft to carry pleasure seekers to "Coney."

For twenty-nine years the Morse served as carrier between Rockland and Bar Harbor. It is said that no other American craft, with the possible exception of the Maid of the Mist, at Niagara Falls, has carried so many honeymooning couples, but this is not the chief claim of the Morse to distinction.

No other vessel ever built has carried so many millionaires or people of slightly lesser wealth. And no other can claim to have conveyed more fine horseflesh than the staunch old craft that has left Maine forever.

Interesting anecdotes could be told of her for hours upon hours. The voyage to and from Mt. Desert Island is one of the most scenic on the Atlantic Coast, the course lying among the rocky, spruce-crowned islands across Penobscot Bay from the rugged Camden mountains. Particularly in the days before automobiles were permitted to operate on Mt. Desert Island, and when journeys about that beautiful region were made by the backboard, were steamship trips to and from the island popular.
