NEWSPAPER HISTORY

The Rockland Gazette was established in 1846. In 1874 the Courier was established and consolidated with the Gazette in 1882. The Free Press was established in 1855 and in 1891 changed its name to the Tribune. These papers consolidated March 17, 1897.

Nothing is denied to well-directed labor, nothing is ever to be attained without it.—Sir Joshua Reynolds.

ONE YEAR AGO

From the files of The Courier-Gazette we learn that—

Edward M. Creighton of South
Union was killed near Macy's Pond in Rockville when his motor car left the highway and struck against a telephone pole.

Mrs. Adriel U. Bird's cottage at Mirror Lake was looted by burglars.

Justice Chapman of Portland was presiding over the November term of Superior Court.

Everett Chapman, former member of the H.M.B. polo team, died in Los Angeles.

Rev. F. W. Barton of Tenant's Harbor was elected president of Maine
Christian Endeavor Union.

A COMMUNITY CENTER

One To Be Opened This

Week With Bert Larcombe

As Manager

The Courier-Gazette yesterday received the following communication:

"What is thought will meet a long felt need is about to be realized this week in the opening of the Knox

County Community center, to be located at 283 Main street with Bert

Larcombe as leader and manager.

This project will have the goodwill and backing of all the citizens, and to date several organizations have promised to co-operate.

"The Welfare center has for its object the best interest of the general public, and its efforts will be largely along lines not touched by any other organization such as recreation, and instructional classes. A soup kitchen is being put in, and a thrift shop will be put into operation immediately.

"The community center will work in harmony with the city store, and officials, and already Mayor Richardson has endorsed the new movement.

Every case of whatever nature, will be dealt with, by a trained worker having 15 years' experience in this work, and undoubtedly cases will be weeded out.

It is the plan to work with every organization as far as possible.

"There will be community services held during the week with different speakers and entertainers each week."

SCHOOLDAYS OF MAXINE ELLIOTT

Judge E. K. Gould Gives Highly Interesting Sidelights On Youth Of Famous Actress

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

I have been much interested in the recollections appearing in your paper regarding my distinguished classmate, Maxine Elliott, or as we knew her best, Jessie Dermont.

In a recent issue it was stated that she never attended school on Lincoln

Street. This is an error not to be wondered at when it is known that we are peering into the mists of the past more than fifty years to recall incidents concerning this remarkable personage. She was a student in

Tommy McLain's Grammar School in the old High School building, and I have a very distinct recollection of her as I was a member of the class to which she belonged. I have no recollection of her as a High School student and do not know that she entered, but she may have. I was in the High School myself only two brief years.

We were all children in our early teens when brought together in our class in McLain's. Even then the class contained an unusual number of strikingly beautiful girls, many of whom gave promise in their early girlhood of the social and intellectual leadership which some of them afterwards attained.

Jessie Dermont was an outstanding personage among them for beauty and graciousness. Many led in scholarship and she could not be rated above the average in intellectual attainments, but she had a personality that is hard to describe, and that set her apart as a striking and unique figure.

The McLain School had a most lovable assistant teacher in the person of Mrs. Martha Leach, who endeavored to govern our class of unhappy boys and girls with love, while

Mr. McLain, the principal, by hard knocks and rare common sense in his methods, drove into the heads of the duller the principles of grammar and arithmetic. Mrs. Leach's mild rule was wasted on our class of boys and girls who might well be classed with Senator Moses' "wild jackasses."

She at last hit on a scheme that conquered us and gave her the results she sought. She drove a shrewd bargain with us by saying that if we would come to our recitations with perfect lessons and conduct ourselves in an orderly manner, the last half hour of the period would be devoted to reading one of Elijah Kellogg's books, which were not all the rage among the young people.

Jessie Dermont was selected as the reader and even then her electioneering talent was apparent. A delightful half hour passed only too quickly under the magic spell of her charming personality, and the manner in which she brought out the best that was in Kellogg's thrilling tales. It was hard to tell which we enjoyed the more, the story or the girl.

Jessie was always kindly in her association with her classmates, both in the daily contact of school life and the social events with which the young people of that day entertained themselves. Enjoyable home parties, many of them costumed affairs, were the vogue and were most entertaining.

When they ended it was the delicious privilege of the boys to "see the girls home." Jessie was most impartial and gracious in granting the privilege of being her escort, and no one boy could ever truthfully say that she allowed him to monopolize

her. She was never at any time during her school life the "best girl" of any one of her boy associates, yet most kindly and friendly to them all.

She was a girl who liked to please.

I do not recall a single instance where she ever wounded the sensibilities of her school associates. She was always tactful and liked to be a "good fellow."

On one occasion when she allowed one of her boy classmates to "see her home" from a party, she entertained him all the way to her residence by giving an outline of a love story she had been reading. It apparently had made an impression on her youthful mind. The hero of the tale had performed all sorts of stunts to show his devotion to the heroine, and the narration of the yarn apparently awoke the romance in her soul, so that when her dwelling was reached, she invited the escort in, saying she had some molasses candy she wanted to share with him.

"How in the world am I to get you into the house!" she exclaimed, sud

THREE-TIMES-A-WEEK

Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.—Hebrews 4:14-16.

NOTICING

Have any of this paper's readers, gifted with the noticing faculty, noticed—

THAT now you've got to give recognition to another form of aristocracy which established itself by attendance upon Chicago's Century of Progress Exhibition.

THAT we are officially told that in most Chinese households water is not drunk except as tea, but many of us are familiar with that custom right here at home.

THAT while Junior doesn't personally agree with it, your own conclusion is that his football clothes are hardly so conducive to your superlative appetite as the uniform he wears at baseball.

THAT now with plenty of spare time on your hands you're doubly sorry that you never carried out your intention to master some day the formal and intricate strategies of chess.

THAT the once familiar come easy, go easy, in these present times has quite lost its vogue.

THAT the older you grow the oftener the telephone call is for somebody else.

THAT nowadays when the farmer calls at your door you feel a sense of shame if you don't buy something of him.

THAT feeling of chagrin when you cross your fingers to remember something to say when the other fellow gets done, and then you can't recall what you crossed 'em for.

THAT there is nothing that goes straighter to the heart of a man than a properly made lemon pie.

THAT the fur coat beginning its early manifestations agreeably suggests the appearance of the mercury in the lower brackets.

THAT you wish the nickel you accidentally let fall to the floor could express the same amount of enthusiasm when dropped in the contribution box.

THAT you're uncertain whether the lessening of brunk banking about the city homes suggests faith in a warmer winter or a departure from one of the long observed customs of our forefathers.

Further reports of the Friday meeting of the Knox Hospital Auxiliary are that Mrs. E. K. Leighton will act as chairman for organizing auxiliary chapters in other Knox County towns. Mrs. Joseph Emery was named chairman of members in Rockland. Mrs. Kennedy Crane of card parties, Mrs. F. A. Tirrell, Jr. of benefit dances, and Mrs. D. L. McCarty of sewing. It was voted to organize a junior auxiliary, and Miss Agnes Flanagan was appointed to have charge of this feature. Auxiliary meetings are to be held the first Tuesday of each month, with sewing at 2 o'clock and business at 4 o'clock. Beginning Nov. 6 Hospital Donation Week will be observed, when gifts of farm produce, preserves, jellies, etc., will be gratefully received. Nov. 8 has been designated for the first benefit card party, to be both afternoon and evening at the Bok Nurses' Home, with play to begin at 2:30 and 8 o'clock sharp, respectively. All card games favored by any group of guests will be in order. Reservations may be arranged with Mrs. Crane or any member of the Auxiliary. The present officers are: President, Mrs. John H. Flanagan; vice president, Mrs. Marie Singer of Thomaston; treasurer, Mrs. Beulah Allen; secretary, Miss Charlotte Buffum.

TWO STORM PERIODS

Sam Morrill Predicts Them For Coming Month Second and Third Weeks

Sam Morrill, Lewiston weather man, is still predicting earth shocks, and although he predicted them for October when none occurred, he continues to predict them for November. He also predicts sleighing by Thanksgiving. He expects a noticeable amount of snow on the ground by that time.

November, taken as a whole, will be a repetition of October, as far as weather is concerned. The temperature will be normal to below normal, and the precipitation, normal to above normal. The warmest part of the month will occur during the first 10 or 12 days. Considerable stormy, cold weather is expected during the last half of the month. There will be two storm periods, the first from the 7th to the 13th; and the second, which will be the worst of the two if there is any difference, will be from the 19th to the 25th. Mr. Morrill stated that he looked for November to come in fair, and go out cold and stormy. He predicted earth shocks during the first two weeks of the month.

A W. C. T. U. INSTITUTE

Knox County Workers Are Up and Doing On the Matter of Prohibition

The W. C. T. U. Institute at the First Baptist Church opened with a good county representation. Morning devotionals were led by Mrs. L. G. Perry who spoke on the power of prayer.

"Why, When and Where Institutes," by Mrs. Hope Brewster, explained the working of this department with the expressed wish that there might be one held in every union during the year. Mrs. Lillian Joyce sang "Be Brave, Be Strong," "Temperance Teaching," by Mrs. Clara Emery, called attention to the need of teaching youth the salient facts about alcohol—that it is a poison, a habit forming narcotic drug. Through the department of S. T. U. co-operating with public school educators, essay, poster and medal speaking contests are held and the mother and young child are reached through the department of Child Welfare.

Miss Margaret Crandon, county president, in "Instructions to Local Unions," said: "Make much of evangelistic department; do not attempt to carry on more departments than you can do well; put more emphasis on education; use the Union Signal, Young Crusader, and needed material; get the facts about intoxicating power of beer and be able to state them to people and teach them to the children."

Noontide prayer was offered by Mrs. Charles E. Brooks. Picnic luncheon and a social time was enjoyed.

At the afternoon session Miss Mabel Seavey led the devotionals. Mrs. Clara Sawyer of Thomaston moved that a letter of greeting from the Institute be sent to Miss Alena Young who has recently undergone a successful operation upon her eyes at Boston hospital. This was adopted.

A paper on "Peace" was read by Mrs. Sawyer, in which she mentioned some of the resolutions adopted by the Council for Prevention of War at their recent meeting in Washington. "We regard the naval building program as a threat to disarmament. Such a program based upon borrowed money is an unsound policy. We recommend that our President be empowered to put an embargo upon shipment of armaments to foreign countries at war. We urge recognition of Russia and Japan to give Philippine independence, urge the right of conscience." Mrs. Sawyer read a poem, "How Big Was Alexander."

Mrs. Mary Perry Rich spoke wittily on "After Repeal, What?" In answer to the much mooted question "Is the world going to the dogs?" She said we must have faith in the best things; must try to separate people from the foregone conclusion that everything was lost. The man, who, under the influence of liquor, went home and mended his wife and children, was not conscious of what he was doing, although he was hanged to satisfy the law, was not the guilty party. It was the people of the community who allowed the poison to be sold. The drys must organize and put new energy into a program for restoration, renovated and improved by viewing it from the side lines of the wet regime. Politics is citizenship in action, and politics is what it is because the Christian citizens stay out of it. Shall we take this rattlesnake liquor out of his hole and put it in the parlor? Will it be less dangerous because easily seen and approached. Mrs. Rich offered the resolution that the Institute commend the Editor of The Courier-Gazette, W. O. Fuller, for his continued defense of prohibition.

Mrs. Margaret Crie sang "My Task."

Miss Margaret McKnight, an authority in Knox County on Religious Education, spoke briefly, said: "The aim of Sunday school teaching is to teach and guide the child for building of Christian character. This to be accomplished by using the natural God given equipment of every child—talent, natural gifts for certain things to be developed, distinctive tendencies or urges, direct tendency to fight, re-directed to worship, directed to reverence for God. First impressions are strongest, so it is important that the first ideas be right. Five years is not too young for the setting of trend for certain innate tendencies. Mothers and teachers must begin early teachings in religion and temperance that will be crystallized into character. God has given the natural equipment and the laws by which it can be developed to guide and lead it."

Mrs. Charles Brooks, demonstrated the use of temperance posters in teaching definite facts.

A "Quiz on the 60th Crusade Anniversary," was conducted by Mrs. Hope Brewster.

ON THE GRIDIRON

Rockland High was defeated 13 to 0 in Hallowell Saturday. Football interest in that town is at a very low ebb, according to the Kennebec Journal, and there was a very small attendance.

Higgins Classical Institute defeated the Maine School of Commerce Saturday 20 to 6. Ken Wiggin of Rockland made one of the touchdowns.

The Rockland Shells played their first game away from home Sunday, being defeated by Bangor A. A. 25 to 7. The report of the game is deferred to Thursday's issue.

The Spanish War Auxiliary and Camp served a fish chowder supper recently. Twenty were present from the Freeman-Herrick Camp and auxiliary. The out of town guests were Department Commander William Wade, from Togus; Agatha Cates, from Kent's Hill; Department Secretary Ivy Smith, Conductress Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Monahan and the auxiliary president, Viola Smith, all from Togus. The auxiliary will have its inspection Nov. 8, with a supper. Mrs. Inez Bronkie is chairman.

ROCKPORT

All places of business and schools will close at noon today and Rockport will turn out 100 per cent strong to participate in the big NRA demonstration at Rockland. About a dozen floats are promised and many marchers from here will be in line including pupils from the grammar and high schools, the school band as well as various employers, housewives, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckner Wallingford of Cincinnati, Ohio, are at the Aut cottage waiting for the deer hunting season to open.

Charles Carver met with painful injuries Thursday afternoon at Orchard Farm, Beauchamp Point, where he is employed. While gathering apples he fell from a tree, striking on his head and shoulder, and it was only by mere chance that the blow did not prove fatal. He was taken to his home by Fred Heald, a fellow employee and it was nearly three hours later before he fully regained consciousness. On examination it was found that no bones were broken and he is now making satisfactory progress toward recovery, although still confined to the bed.

Mrs. M. A. Whitney suffered an i turn Tuesday at her home and her condition is causing much concern.

Rev. G. F. Currier and family returned Friday night from a three-day visit with relatives at Brewer and Corinna.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Andrews who recently sold their home on Spruce street to Elmer E. Matthews of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., will go to Rockland this week where they will make their home for the winter with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roke.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Maguire of Portland were guests last week of Mrs. F. R. McCullagh, Sea street.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Campbell of South Portland were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert U. Rhoads. Walter Whittier moved his family Saturday into the Staples house on Church street. The B. P. Woodger house on High street which was vacated by them will be occupied by Albert Adams and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Sjogren of Eton are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith.

Officers are urged to attend the regular meeting Friday evening of the Fred A. Norwood W.R.C. as it will be the last opportunity for practice before the annual inspection the evening of Nov. 10. On this occasion it is expected that several State and department officers will be present. Picnic supper will be served at 6 o'clock for which all members are asked to contribute.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sylvester of Wollaston, Mass., were weekend guests of their mother Mrs. Josephine E. E. E. They accompanied home her sister Miss Hortense Bohndell who went on to Wollaston for a brief visit with them after attending the Teachers' Convention at Lewiston.

The M. E. Ladies' Aid will serve a public baked bean supper Wednesday evening from 5:30 to 7 o'clock at the vestry.

Miss Edith Wall and Miss Fernie Whitney returned home Sunday night from a visit with friends after attending the Teachers' Convention in Lewiston.

Mrs. Emaline Tolman

Funeral services for Mrs. Emaline Tolman who died at Bangor Saturday, were held Monday at 2 p. m. from Bowes & Crozier funeral home in Rockport. Rev. F. F. Fowle officiating. Interment was in Amesbury Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Tolman was born in Rockport March 13, 1845, daughter of Joseph and Harriet Paul Shibles, and had spent practically her entire life here. Her husband, Oscar A. Tolman, died several years ago. She is survived by a sister Mrs. Josephine Bohndell and brother Edgar P. Shibles, both of Rockport.

TALK OF THE TOWN

King Solomon's Temple Chapter holds a stated meeting Thursday night.

Edwin Libby Relief Corps will hold its annual fall fair Thursday afternoon. There will be a circle supper at 6 and the usual evening business meeting.

Canton Lafayette and Auxiliary meet tomorrow night, when the latter will be inspected by the State president Mrs. Edith Needham of Portland. Supper at 6:30.

Several members of Pales Circle Ladies of the G.A.R. are planning to attend the reception being given tonight at the Grange hall in Camden for Mrs. Lillian Lincoln, department president.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bradstreet are occupying the residence at 57 Suffolk street which they recently bought. The house at 14 Fulton street which they vacated is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Storer.

Miss Gladys Collum, who has proven a very efficient and popular operator at the Western Union telegraph office the past summer enters upon her duties next week as relief operator, her first assignment being Belfast.

Anderson Camp, Sons of Union Veterans and Auxiliary, will hold a joint installation tomorrow evening for members and guests. There will be circle supper at 6 o'clock. A rehearsal of the officers of the Auxiliary has been called for 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The kindergarten and nursery school conducted at the Undercroft of St. Peter's Church by Ruth Pillsbury puts into practice the more workable theories of the best child psychologists, without going to extremes of experimentation. The children learn both helpfulness and self-reliance by such activities as hanging up wraps, watering the plant, and getting out and putting away whatever equipment is used. The "work periods" are designed to develop the child's own creative ideas, with the teacher encouraging and occasionally suggesting, but never dictating. Games, songs and exercises alternate with seat work, and a light lunch followed by a ten minute rest period, comes in the middle of the morning. Miss Pillsbury's training for this type of work is mainly observation of the progressive experimental nursery school at Northampton, Mass., run by Smith College for the children of faculty members, which supplemented several courses in child psychology.

The October group of Universalist ladies, headed by Mrs. George B. Wood, reports "going over the top." The November group now holds forth, its activities largely centered around the annual fair scheduled for Nov. 15. Mrs. L. F. Chase as chairman of the group has as her helpers, Mrs. Lillian McRae, Mrs. J. S. Jenkins, Mrs. Herbert Hall, Mrs. Fred Collamore, Mrs. Edward Gonia, Mrs. Benjamin Philbrook, Mrs. Harry H. Twelve Checks of unusual value

Of all the services that we are privileged to render, we can most heartily commend our One-Year Monthly Income plan.

After the death of the insured we deliver twelve checks, one every month for a year. A favorite amount is $100 monthly.

These ready dollars in that trying first year are beyond valuation. They furnish comfort and assurance; a chance to collect thoughts, revive courage and lay new plans.

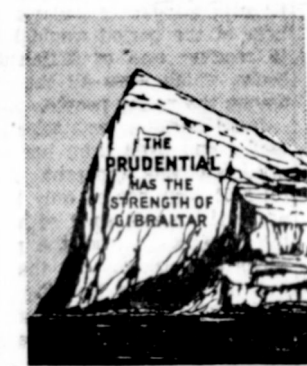

The premium, paid once, twice or four times a year, runs about a nickel a day at age twenty, a dime in the early forties or a few cents more if you start later in life.

Larger amounts or longer periods can be arranged. A choice of policy forms is available. Premium referred to above is for "Endowment at Age 65."

Set up this safeguard for your home circle and they will never be caught unprepared. It will make an ideal supplement to your lump-sum insurance.

STRAND THEATRE

"Tarzan the Fearless," the new adventures of Tarzan with Buster Crabbe will be shown Wednesday.

Described as the most unusual story ever to form the nucleus of a film plot, "Turn Back the Clock" shows Thursday with Lee Tracy in the starring role.

Tracy, as Joe Gimlet, is the man to whom this fantastic opportunity is given. First seen with his wife, Mary, eking out a miserable existence as the owner of a none too successful cigar store in New York, he meets again the wealthy Elvina, a girl from his home-town whom he once might have married and whose money would have placed him in an entirely different position in life. Through the ingenious plotting of the story, Joe Gimlet is given a chance to start all over again, to marry this wealthy girl and to become one of the prominent men in the country. With this new position, however, come complications. In the end, he is brought to the realization that to live one's life over again is only to make it worse—adv.

TIME TO BUY IS NOW

There are three good reasons why now is the time to buy goods or services which you need or would enjoy.

First, the movement is an official part of the NRA campaign. Whatever one's political or economic beliefs may be, he owes it to himself and his government to co-operate in the program for national recovery. Buy all that you can reasonably afford to buy for yourself and family—not merely to satisfy your own wants but, through increased employment, to supply other Americans with food and clothing this winter.

Secondly, goods manufactured under the NRA codes will soon be on the market. Because of higher wages and reduced working hours, they will inevitably be higher-priced than those manufactured under previous conditions. By buying today you should save money.

Thirdly, inflation of some sort is not an improbability. Although every one in his right senses, opposes a resort to the printing presses, it is possible that the President will have to agree to some compromise on currency. In any event, the purchasing power of your dollar is probably greater today than it will be at any time during the next few years.

This is, we believe, the common sense of the situation, wholly devoid of ballyhoo.

WEATHER

This is Halloween Day and there are spooks in the sky in the form of fleecy clouds which may assume threatening proportions before the left of the parade has passed the reviewing stand. With the temperature in the forties and the sun doing its best to melt the clouds, the prospects for our NRA day celebration do not appear to be especially dubious.

Beware of pickpockets!

The open season on woodcock closes today; partridges may be hunted until Nov. 15.

Mrs. Joseph Baum sends this paper wild roses which she picked near her home at Clark Island, Oct. 27.

Winslow-Holbrook Post will furnish 100 members for police and traffic duty today. Keep Main street clear.

A feature of the G. A. Lawrence Co.'s display in the Masonic Temple store is Ray Stewart's toy circus, which includes 58 feet of track, 24 cars, 38 wagons, 11 tents, 150 horses and a full complement of other animals.

C. W. Hopkins is attending a meeting of the Automobile Dealers' National Association in Boston today in his capacity as president of the Knox, Lincoln and Waldo Association. The code will be the uppermost topic under consideration.

Miss Marcia Farwell received a telegram yesterday announcing the death in Pasadena, Calif., Saturday, of Mrs. W. S. Roberts, who resided in Rockland for a number of years while her husband was pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Frank Collier who resides on the Caman road in Lincolnville numbered among his Sunday visitors a family of three moose. The animals were very tame and seemed to have no objection to posing for numerous photographers who showed up on the scene when the news spread.

J. N. Southard asks The Courier-Gazette to state that his name will not be presented to the Republican majority caucus Thursday night, and at the same time he wishes to express his appreciation to the friends who had asked him to stand and loyally pledged their support.

The Democratic caucuses are not to be held until Wednesday and Friday nights, if the city committee's schedule is followed, but certain impatient members of the party foregathered in Congressman Moran's office Sunday and took time by the forelock. The ticket finally favored is said to have been: Ensign Oik for mayor, Milton S. Dick Edwin Edwards, Charles H. Berry, H. B. Bowes, W. J. Sullivan, Marcellus M. Condon and Russell Bartlett for the respective aldermen. The caucuses will probably still be held, but as ratification meetings for the prize apples which the Powers That Be have placed on the tops of the barrels.

Stores generally will not reopen after this afternoon's parade. Confectionery stores and restaurants will open their doors on the blast of the diaphone as well as some other shops.

Mrs. Millie Thomas, State president of the Relief Corps, and Mrs. Elizabeth Barton, State inspecting officer, are in Vinland today for the purpose of inspecting the Relief Corps of that town.

Tony Accardi is fast becoming famous as a singer of popular song hits. Last Wednesday evening he sang before the meeting of Belfast and Camden Lions Club in Belfast and scored a hit, as shown by the three encores and loud applause.

Breezebreze concluded its first season Saturday night with over 200 couples enjoying the party which was in the nature of a Halloween masquerade. Eddie Whalen's Privates furnished music of their usual superior brand. This dance drive has been one of the reasons for Breezebreze's success. Manager Wentworth promises an early opening next season.

Horace Maxey of this city, principal of the Warren High School, is to impersonate "Seth Parker" in the Seth Parker Night entertainment which the religious education committee of the Warren Baptist Church is to present Thursday, Nov. 16. Other names in the cast having local interest are Mrs. Louie Drevett as Ma Parker, and Rev. Howard Welch as one of the neighbors, former Rockland residents, and Chester Wyllie, popular tenor of the Universalist Quartet, who will be John.

Motoring home alone Sunday night Frank French got the scare of his life near Union when his car came in collision with a large moose. The automobile was so badly damaged as to be put out of commission; likewise the moose. Mr. French got word to Game Warden Ralph W. Brown, who, with others, went to the scene of the smash and put an end to the animal's sufferings. It was Mr. French's last day of his annual vacation from J. A. Jameson Co.'s store and he is not likely to soon forget it.

The 29th annual Colby night will take place on Friday, Nov. 3, the night before the game with Maine at Waterville. At the same time "Colby Night" will be observed by gatherings in 13 cities—Boston, Hartford, New York, Philadelphia, Waterbury, Buffalo, Cleveland, Baltimore, Washington, Kansas City, Minneapolis and Los Angeles. The celebration this year in Waterville will consist of a two-day round of alumni events. Many Colby alumni from Rockland and vicinity plan to attend.

THE REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES

The Republican ward caucuses will be held at 7:30 tonight in the various ward rooms. The nominations for aldermen and members of the school board will be left entirely to the voters who attend these meetings, and indications now point to some excellent selections. It is quite likely that new candidates for aldermen will be named in most of the wards.

The annual convention of the Maine Christian Endeavor Union was held in Bangor last week. An address by Rev. J. C. MacDonald on "Reigning in Life Through Christ," is referred to in the Bangor press as "the feature address of Saturday night."

"Too Much Harmony," Paramount's lavish musical production, currently playing at Strand Theatre, has an imposing cast including Bing Crosby, Jack Oakie, Skerets Gallagher, Judith Allen, Harry Green, Lilyan Tashman and Ned Sparks. The story revolves around the activities of a group of show people, and the novel plot follows them off stage and backstage, in their homes and in their dressing rooms, revealing all of the glamour in the lives of those folks whose job it is to make people laugh and cry.

Knox County football fans were among the shivering spectators who saw Colby defeat Bowdoin 6 to 0 in Brunswick and Maine defeat Bates 12 to 7 in Lewiston Saturday. Colby showed much skill in the execution of its forward passes, but Bowdoin gained much more ground by rushing, its superior work in that department being offset by its inferior kicking and its tendency to fumble. So of course the great game the coming Saturday will be Maine and Colby at Waterville. The two winners will be playing there while the two losers, Bates and Bowdoin will seek to regain lost ground in Brunswick.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

The Nu-way Corporation, of Rock Island, Illinois, announces that the A. C. McLoon & Company are the exclusive Authorized Nu-Way Distributors for Rockland, Maine, and vicinity.

The A. C. McLoon & Company announce that they have selected the Nu-Way "Genii" Automatic Oil Burner for an exclusive offering to their friends and customers after a careful consideration of the best burners on the market. And—the many Nu-Way owners in Rockland will attest the McLoon judgment to be sound in picking Nu-Way.

Providing you use the same careful scrutiny applied by McLoon & Company, you, too, will "PICK" the "Genii." Eleven years exclusively devoted to the development and production of automatic oil burners, gives to the "Genii" definite distinction in efficiency and appearance.

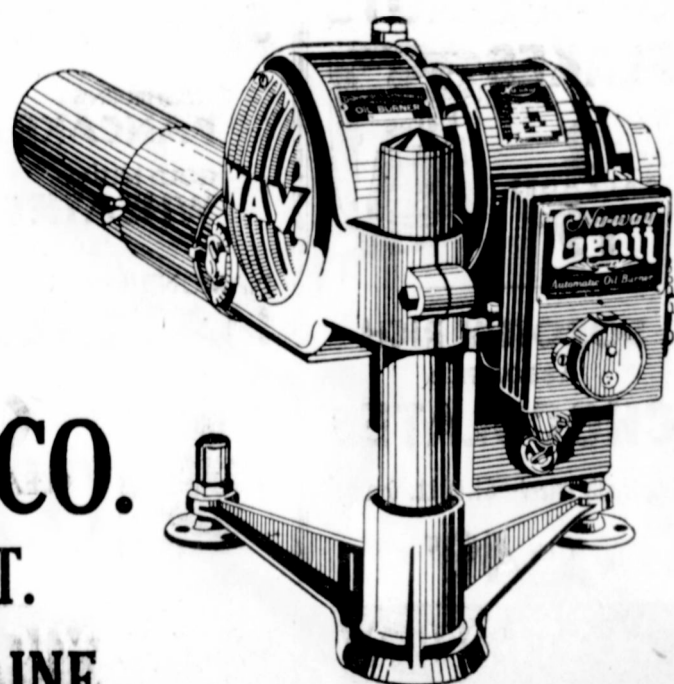

The Nu-Way Corporation has spent thousands of dollars in combustion chamber research work which has resulted in exclusive Nu-Way combustion chamber designs that produce the highest known combustion efficiency and McLoon & Company pledge that they will follow the instructions of the Nu-Way Corporation, thus giving to Rockland Purchasers the advantage of this intensive experimental work.

The efficiency of combustion determines the amount of heat released in your home for each gallon of oil burned. YOU CAN'T BURN AIR—but with the Nu-Way "Genii" you can burn oil completely and release all of the heat from the oil.

Nu-Way RADIANT COMBUSTION produces RADIANT COMFORT in your home. Phone and ask A. C. McLoon & Company for your COPY of "RADIANT COMFORT IN YOUR HOME—THE NU-WAY."

THOMASTON

Rehearsals were begun Monday night for "The Vinegar Tree" to be presented under the direction of Adelyn Bushnell and Marshall Bradford the second week in November, for the benefit of the Nursing Association. The play is a highly amusing comedy and has met with great success on the Boston and New York stage. Two performances will be given. Miss Bushnell and Mr. Bradford will be supported by a strong local cast drawn from Thomaston, Rockland and Camden.

The Sunday "Evening of Music" at the Baptist Church proved a drawing card, more than 200 being present; as usual Rockland, Cushing, Friendship and Warren being largely represented. It has been noted that these musicals are more appreciated by the neighboring people than by the residents of the town. The program as published in Thursday's Courier-Gazette was carried out. The playing of the orchestra, Luther Clark director, received many compliments. One of the outstanding features was a number by Sarasota, arranged by Aaron Clark, for the violin with orchestral accompaniment. Miss Hazel Harrison violinist, Raymond Perry and Miss Margaret Simmons were pleasing in their duet work. Mr. Bradford as soloist, and in a duet with Mrs. Marston maintained his reputation as a singer. Mrs. Marston who has been heard many times in Thomaston church choirs and concerts, gave great pleasure to the audience. A chorus of 26 voices, Mrs. Grace M. Strout director, was handled in a masterful way. Mrs. Strout is given much credit for her work.

Rev. L. A. Campbell, minister of the Baptist Church in Camden, was the preacher Sunday morning at the Federated Church, exchanging with Rev. Mr. Leach. With the theme "Keeping the Faith," he urged the church's attention to essentials and disregard of non-essentials in a spirit of fellowship. The anthem was "O, Come Let Us Sing Unto the Lord."

Rev. H. F. Huse, accompanied by three of the high school boys, Clarence Waterman, Edward Beverage and Clifford Parsons, were in Rockland Monday, attending the Baptist meetings in session in the First Baptist Church. All four took occasion to call upon Ira Curtis at the school, and found him in good spirits and making good progress toward recovery from his recent operation.

Kendall Stone

It was indeed a sad community that learned Thursday morning of the death of Kendall Stone which occurred a little after 9 o'clock Wednesday night, at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stone.

For more than four years Kendall had been in poor health. For more than a year he was confined to his bed. At the end of this time improvement was such that he was able to get out-of-doors, go in and out with his friends, and even at times to do a little light work. Four weeks ago he experienced a relapse and going to Knox Hospital was there under treatment. A week ago he returned to his home. To those who called upon him he seemed to be making progress toward recovery. Tuesday night he suffered a heart attack, followed by another Wednesday night, in which he passed away quietly without suffering, as one falls asleep.

The deceased was born in North Haven June 24, 1912. Brought up in the village he attended the grade school, and high school and also the church school, and always and everywhere he was a favorite among his companions. A likeable boy, he was patient, cheerful and uncomplaining. The high regard in which he was held and sympathy of the whole community with the bereaved parents, whose devotion and care have been constant and untiring, were evidenced by the company that gathered for the funeral services Saturday afternoon, a company that filled the church. The services were simple and brief, and were conducted by the pastor Rev. Henry Pelton Huse. There was a wealth of beautiful flowers. Besides the parents Kendall is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Albra Pierce and a younger sister Maxine. Burial was in the Brown cemetery. The bearers were Frank Crockett, Leon Crockett, Theodore Beverage and Joseph Belmore.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

WARREN

Ann, Lois and Mary Norwood entertained several little friends at a Halloween party Thursday afternoon after school. Sandwiches, cocoa, ice cream and cookies were served and Halloween games played. Those present included Priscilla Hastings, Marilyn Ranquist, Martha Griffin, Vaughan and Warren Philbrook, Adelbert Norwood, Marie Crockett, Irma Pictel.

Pupils of the Warren Grammar school who in their own words "never have anything by way of social affairs," disproved that statement when they gathered Saturday evening at the home of their teacher Mrs. Inez Mathews for a genuine Halloween party with witches, ghosts, fortune tellers, enjoying regular Halloween games. Lights were shaded, and seasonal decorations filled the house. Everybody had a good time, and apples, marshmallows, doughnuts and cookies served as a most appropriate treat. All the youngsters were in costume.

James, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Halligan is ill with measles. Guests Sunday of Mrs. Isa Teague were her father E. D. Mank, and her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Mank and two children, all of North Waldoboro.

Several piano pupils of Miss Margaret Stahl here in Warren took part in the recital Friday evening at the Universal vestry at Rockland. They included Ruth Starrett, Sherman Simmons, Christine Jones, Miss Gertrude Stoddard, Ann Norwood, Virginia Wylie, Miss Pauline Starrett, and Miss Janet Wade. Chester Wylie also sang a tenor solo as one of the special numbers.

The Social Club is being entertained Thursday by Mrs. Percy Miller. Mrs. Frances Vinal observed her 90th birthday anniversary at her home Saturday, many friends dropping in during the course of the day with gifts and congratulatory words. She was the pleased recipient of three birthday cakes as well. An addition to the happy occasion was the arrival of Dr. Chester Vinal and friend from Lynn to spend the weekend.

Those who attended Friday evening a surprise wedding anniversary party for Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Libby of Thomaston were Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Libby, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. McIntyre, Mrs. Ada Spear, of Warren; Fred Polson, Miss Blanche Whitmore, Mr. and Mrs. George Hewison of Auburn; Mr. and Mrs. Ned Haskell of Deer Isle; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brown, Friendship; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Libby, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Everett, Mrs. Percy Averill, Mr. and Mrs. Loring Orff, and Capt. Leander Whitmore of Thomaston.

Miss Frances Moore has an unusual record for Sunday school attendance, never having missed a session in two years. If not at home to attend, she went to the Sunday school where she was visiting.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall were their niece Miss Ruth Pendleton and friend, Miss Kathryn Ulmer, both of Rockland. An instrumental trio was a delightful added feature to Sunday evening services at the Baptist Church, with Howard A. Welch, Jr., at the piano, Roger Teague saxophone, and Harold Overlock alto horn.

Silver Wedding Celebrated

In the presence of more than 100 friends, neighbors and relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Starrett observed their silver wedding anniversary on Wednesday evening at the Rockland Congregational Church. The auditorium was tastefully decorated under the management of Mrs. Anna Starrett and Miss Susan Stevens, as well as the chapel in which the reception took place. The altar was pretty with bright autumn leaves, ferns, orange candles and phlox. Before the wedding party entered the church, Mrs. Helen Wentworth of Rockland, soprano, and Chester Wylie of Warren, tenor, sang the duet "O Promise Me" most effectively.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's bridal chorus played by Mrs. Carrie Smith, the ushers, Harry McFee, Gerald Brown, Howard Kenniston and Alfred Oxtun, and the wedding party, Mr. and Mrs. Starrett, their two children, Miss Kathryn Starrett and Parker Starrett, and those who were to receive, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wylie, Mrs. Nettie Vinal, Rev. and Mrs. Howard A. Welch, Rev. and Mrs. H. I. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Walker and Dr. Fred G. Campbell, marched in and took their places. Mrs. Starrett carried a bouquet of pink rambles from the garden of Mrs. G. D. Gould.

A musical program interspersed with readings was excellently done, with the following numbers: Prayer, Rev. H. I. Holt; soprano solos, two love songs, and an Irish song adaptation by Mrs. Helen Wentworth who always is a favorite in Warren, accompanied by Mrs. Carrie Smith; reading of an original poem appropriate for the occasion, by Miss Mary E. Kallioch of Warren; selection by an instrumental trio, Howard Welch, Jr. piano, Roger Teague saxophone, and Harold Overlock alto horn; remarks by Rev. Howard A. Welch; tenor solo, by Chester Wylie, accompanied by Mrs. Wentworth; singing and talking sketches, a surprise number on the program by Guy Irving Waltz, singing evangelist of Waldoboro, who accompanied himself on the autoharp, the first song "Let Me Hear the Songs My Mother Used to Sing," dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Vesta Siegars, mother of Mrs. Starrett; original poem by Mrs. Edna Nash, read by Rev. H. I. Holt; presentation of gifts by Mrs. Nettie Vinal in behalf of Mystic Rebekah Lodge, the Sons of Union Veterans Auxiliary and friends, and response by Mr. and Mrs. Starrett.

Following the program the guests were served ice cream and cake in the dining room of the vestry, those helping with the serving being Mrs. Alice Brown, Mrs. Laura Robinson and Mrs. Edna Moore. The waitresses were Miss Helen Boyd, Mrs. Marjorie Kenniston, Miss Marguerite Haskell, Miss Beatrice Haskell, Miss Winona Robinson, Miss Janet Wade, Miss Nathalie Starrett, Mrs. Mildred Pease, Mrs. Lillian Lindsey and Mrs. Jennie Starrett. Robert Connell passed cigars, and the guest book was in charge of Miss Nathalie Starrett. Again Mr. Waltz of Waldoboro entertained with music in a delightfully informal way. Mr. and Mrs. Starrett were married at the M. E. Church at South

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES TO RUN 308 AT BILLIARDS

ERICH HAGENLOCHER, twice 18.2 ball-line billiard champion of the world. Healthy nerves have carried him through stern international competition to many titles. Steady Smokers turn to Camels

"I know of no sport," says Erich Hagenlocher, "that places a greater strain on the nerves than tournament billiards. The slightest inaccuracy can ruin an important run. One simple rule for success is, 'Watch your nerves!' I have smoked Camels for years. I like their taste better. Because they're milder, they never upset my nervous system, and believe me, I smoke plenty." There is a difference between Camel's costlier tobaccos and the tobaccos used in other popular cigarettes. You'll notice the difference in taste and in mildness—and Camels never jangle your nerves. You can prove this yourself. Begin today!

Mrs. Maria L. Tolman

Mrs. Maria L., wife of Mason Tolman, died late Tuesday evening, Oct. 17. She had been a sufferer from rheumatism for a good many years and through it all was very patient, with always a cheerful welcome to those who came to see her. She will be greatly missed by relatives and friends. The high esteem in which she was held was shown by the beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Tolman was a kind wife and mother, one who was very devoted to her home and family; a neighbor and friend on whom one could always depend. She was an active member of the West Rockport Baptist Church and was always ready to do her part there, also in Mt. Pleasant Grange. She leaves besides her husband, one daughter Mrs. Bessie Wickham of Washington, D. C., and two sons, Reuben of Boston and Fremont who lives at home, and was ever mindful of his mother's ill health and did all that was possible to make her load easier. Rev. G. F. Currier of the Rockport Baptist Church spoke words of comfort. Interment was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

AN INVITATION

Fuller-Cobb-Davis Invites the NRA Throngs To Utilize
Their Store In Forenoon

The city is bound to be thronged with people next Tuesday, bent on witnessing the great NRA parade. Fuller-Cobb-Davis extends a cordial welcome to these folk to visit their store.

Browse around the several floors, utilize the facilities of the store. Wander over its large space, inspect the varied stocks in all departments. Make this great store your store. The latchstring is out and you are welcome.

POINTED QUESTIONS

And Just As Pointed Answers On a Most Vital Matter

Why a November Sale?

Why are we making it possible to give out thousands of extra discount stamps?

Why are we reducing prices at this time?

Fuller-Cobb-Davis' customers, and Fuller-Cobb-Davis, are old partners in the "New Deal," the greatest effort in all history to bring a nation out of a depression.

The NRA with its Blue Eagle is now being displayed by nearly every house in the country. Already it has placed millions to work at livable wages, it has driven the sweat shop out of existence, it has done away with child labor, and it is bringing together people in all walks of life to accomplish a great task. All these accomplishments are far-reaching, and the benefits are being felt everywhere. At the same time it has increased labor costs, and taxes, and these in turn have increased prices.

The Task of the Merchant

The real success of the NRA depends almost one hundred percent on merchandise of every description being moved from producer or manufacturer to the consumer. This responsibility rests squarely upon the shoulders of the local merchant.

The ultimate success, depending as it does on the purchasing power all over the country, becomes a local problem for the local merchant. The National "Buy Now" campaign is in full swing. You are urged to help keep the payrolls up, at living wages, and it is your duty to buy as much as you can, and also to encourage the movement.

It is true, conditions have not improved so much here, and perhaps some have become skeptical, finding it difficult to keep up hopes, because of the slowness of any apparent improvement. However, every merchant along the street has increased the number of employees by shortening the hours, and wages have been raised to and above the minimum decided upon by the President in the Retailers' Code.

Rockland's Own Problem

The local merchant can only meet this added expense, through your purchases. You must do your part, buy as much as possible, and trade with your local merchant who is doing his part.

Fuller-Cobb-Davis recognizes the importance of purchasing power in the fight against hard times and suffering, and of course like everyone else, we intend to do our part.

We have no doubts about your willingness to co-operate with us, and the other local merchants, through purchases and words of encouragement, but we do realize the limits to which this community can respond in this or any other emergency call.

We believe that under the present conditions in and about this community, a worth while saving must be offered the customers. No matter how willingly one is to do their part, economy must not be forgotten.

Therefore, we have figured out how much we can at this time sacrifice in discounts and expenses for a sale, to encourage this great effort. These savings will be a part of our duty in this campaign to do what every man, woman, and child is hoping for.

Taking advantage of these savings will help you do your part. Fuller-Cobb-Davis urges you to buy only what you need. Buy as much as you can of the things you need now, but if unable to buy all the things, you will have done your part by encouraging the effort to bring us all back to Happy Days Again.

Knox County's Great NRA Parade

GOV. BRANN'S PROCLAMATION

STATE OF MAINE
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
AUGUSTA

Oct. 25, 1933

To the People of Knox County in the State of Maine.

It is gratifying and proper that the citizens of Knox County should join the State of Maine in the demonstration in support of the National Recovery Act.

I understand the date set for this is October 31 and I urge all citizens to devote the afternoon of this day exclusively to this celebration.

I have been in many places in Maine in the last three weeks as a spectator at NRA Celebrations and never in the recent history of the State, at least, has there been such outpouring of citizens and whole-hearted co-operation as there have been for the NRA days.

I am sure Knox County will take its place in the foremost rank in this patriotic movement.

I beg to remain,

Faithfully yours,

Louis J. Brann,
Governor.

The NRA Parade is expected to have over 5000 persons in line, the greatest in Knox County's history. Every member of NRA is expected to be in line. State dignitaries will be in the Reviewing Stand. Major R. W. Brown will be marshal, assisted by Capt. S. E. Willard, chief of staff, with aides. State Highway Police and Rockland Patrolmen will co-operate. All places of business will be closed. If Tuesday proves inclement the parade will be held the first fair day. Stores may open on the blast of the diaphone as the final parade unit passes the reviewing stand on Main street at the foot of Oak street. Every unit of the parade is expected to be in its allotted position ready to start promptly at 1.45.

The Parade Will Start At 1:45 Sharp Today

Route Of The Parade

The line of march will be from Union, at Park street, over Union to Rankin, Rankin to Main street, Main street past Reviewing Stand at foot of Oak street and to point of dismissal

Dismissal Of Parade

After passing the Reviewing Stand the Foot Troops will disband at the foot of Myrtle street and the floats will continue down Main to South Main and Water streets, disbanding at will

Formation Points Of The Sixteen Town Units

CAMDEN—Union street south, directly behind the National Guard, extending down Pleasant street to Main and thence down South Main street.

ROCKPORT—Directly behind Camden on South Main street.

THOMASTON—Pleasant street west from Union street, utilizing State and Purchase streets.

OWL'S HEAD, ST. GEORGE AND WASHINGTON—Grace street.

HOPE AND APPLETON—Myrtle street.

CUSHING AND FRIENDSHIP—Masonic street.

VINALHAVEN, NORTH HAVEN, UNION AND WARREN—Limerock street, west of Union street.

ROCKLAND—(host city, last in line)—Park street, west of Union, except Grocers and Food Handlers, who form east of Union on Park street.

(All floats will line up directly behind the business or organization division they represent)

Order Of Unit Line Up For All Towns

The Rockland lineup is given by business and unit in the order of formation. The businesses and units of each town are asked to form at their respective locations, allocated above, in the same general formation
