STORY OF THE LOBSTER

As Seen By a Correspondent Who Has Carefully
Studied the Situation

(By Russell W. Thurston)

Lobsters are one of Maine's natural assets, but during the past few years lobstering as a trade has been somewhat like the lobster themselves in that the journey from ocean bottom to kettle has been accompanied by a change of from black to red on the balance sheets. In Maine, lobster fishermen and dealers have sustained such heavy losses that the extinction of the business has seemed a certainty. Although the reasons for this condition are well-known to a few, the general public has not been aware of the several obstacles that have gravely hindered the progress of the lobster industry and made profits next to impossible.

These obstacles were divided into two main groups, domestic and foreign. The chief domestic difficulty was the lack of uniform laws governing the lobster fisheries of the states of the Atlantic Seaboard from Cape Hatteras, the southern boundary of the lobster's habitat, to West Quoddy Head. Maine law prescribed a carapace or body shell minimum measurement of 3 1/2 inches, as against the lesser minimum requirements of other States. In practice this meant that Maine dealers lost many customers because they could not supply the chicken lobsters so much in demand in American markets. Since they were not allowed to sell these shorter lobsters, they also

LIKED EARL'S TALK

Starter Ludwick Tells Forty Club About Development of Light Harness Racing

The main business of the Forty Club meeting Monday was a discussion of the program of several service clubs and more and better publicity for the Maine coastal counties. The entire matter was referred to the Civic Improvement Committee of the club and the president instructed the committee to gather all the information available on the plan, to be presented at a later meeting.

The real pleasure of the meeting came with the introduction of C.
Earle Ludwick as the guest speaker.
Mr. Ludwick chose for his subject a topic which is very close to his heart,
"Light Harness Horse Racing." Earle showed very plainly that he was full of all kinds of information on the game. He started with a brief resume of the history of horses and races in the United States, the first race horse being Imported Messenger which arrived at New York some 60 years ago.
The next was Hambletonian 10 and every race horse in the United States can trace ancestry to these two horses.

In the 60 years the training and breeding developed the speed from 2.30 to 2 minutes with Star Pointer the first horse to break the 2 minute mark at 1.59 1/2 in 1897. The present record holders are: Trotting, Peter Manning, running against time at 1.56 1/2 for the mile; pacers, Dan Patch, 1.55 1/2, record made in 1905; 2-year-olds, Hanover Bertha, 2.02, running against time at Lexington, Ky., in 1929. The fastest two heat record is held by Protector with 2.01 1/2 and 1.59 1/2 made in 1931, and winning the Kentucky Futurity purse of $14,000.

The increase in speed since racing was introduced to the United States is due to better training and better equipment. The equipment now is all special and tailor made for each horse, of the best and lightest material available. The result of all this is that all the best horses in this class are raised in the United States.
The outstanding trainer is Walter R.
Cox of Massachusetts and his first assistant is Bert Griffin. As an example of Mr. Cox's ability Earle told the story of two horses purchased on sight unseen. Mr. Cox's spotter, Ed Allen, reported two horses for sale in Kentucky—Janet Speed and Mabel Trask. Janet had a reported speed of 1.59 1/2 and Mabel was supposed to be a washout. Cox bought them and tried them out on the Dover track.
After this tryout he reported he had bought a horse and a washout all right, but that Mabel was the one that would turn out to be the winner.
And later races proved he was right.
The Russian government offered him a large fee to go to Russia and train horses, agreeing to pay his round trip transportation for a visit to the United States each year. He is the only trainer to win first, second and third places in one race. His horses did that in Kentucky, winning $63,000.

In Maine the outstanding trainer is "Franny" Simmons of Rockland, and as proof of this Earle cited the training of Violet Patch, a 14-year-old that Simmons trained to 2.12 1/2 to win six records. The outstanding driver is Henry Clukey, who for the past three years has been the second large-est winner in the world. Even in Maine winners call for high prices.
Noon Time was bought for $120 and last year after winning Maine record was bid for at $1000.

Earle told some race track stories, one of a race at Fryeburg. Here the race had run many heats and finally was down to three horses. Of the three one was about run out, but all drivers wanted to get it over with, rather than wait until next day. It was dark however when the final "Go!"
was given. When the horses reappeared out of the dark the tired horse was in the lead to win. Later Earl asked the driver what he had done to pep up his horse to win. "Wal," said the driver, "on the other side of the track I saw I had no chance to win, so, in the dark I cut across the infield."

Earle spoke of the effect of crowds on the starter sometimes. It seems that a real Down East Yankee was starting a race. The horses were hard to handle and many false starts made. The stands were getting very uneasy and finally started a yell for the starter to let them go. The effect on the starter was for him to lean well out of the box and yell as the horses went by "Go, blast ye go!"
The talk was closed with an informal discussion by way of the question and answer method, many questions indicating the great interest held in horse racing.

Out of the Distant Past, No. 18

The island town of Monhegan, final stopping place between Rockland and Europe, presents many revelations to visitors from the mainland, but it will doubtless surprise many readers to learn that this Atlantic outpost once boasted a remarkably fine band. Above we see it in full regalia, but the names of the members are unknown to the writer who will be duly grateful if they are provided by some of our island friends.

THE TWINS FROM ZANZIBAR

Rockland Folks Crowding To See Strange Couple
From the Cannibal Country

The Zanzibar Twins, strange people with heads of apes and bodies of human beings, will be on exhibit at 401 Main street (formerly the E. H.
Rose tailor shop) up until a late hour Saturday night of this week. Thursday, Friday and Saturday the exhibit will open at 11 a. m., and continue through until 10 p. m., each day.
These strange creatures from the Island of Pemba, off the Southeast coast of Africa, are a guaranteed attraction from the Century of Progress Exhibit at the World's Fair.

Rockland folks have seen many circus and dime museum freaks in them, and many fakes, but there is no fake about this show, and everybody who has visited the exhibition is advising everybody else to go.

When the show was in Bath last week among those who saw the Zanzibar Twins was the former shipbuilder, Nathaniel T. Palmer, who 50 years ago sailed in the vicinity whence these strange people come, and stopped at Mobassa, then the home of J. William Kane, the man who brought the twins to this country for exhibition at the Century of Progress in Chicago.

"They're the real thing, all right,"
said Mr. Palmer enthusiastically, after his visit to the exhibit. "Why,
it seems like yesterday that I sailed along the Zanzibar Islands off the coast of Africa and heard of this strange race. At that time, half a century ago, there were but six Europeans on the Zanzibar Islands out of a population of 100,000 people. They told us of the strange natives that had heads like rubber balls and all the characteristics of apes but were possessed of the bodies of human beings. And they warned us not to touch on Pemba Island, for not only was it infested with small-pox at that time, but they pointed out that these Swillies were cannibals."

But up to date the Swillies have eaten nobody in Rockland, and their
"at homes" are having an increasingly large attendance each day.

BIGGEST BIRTHDAY PARTY

Rockland's Premier Birthday Celebration Will Be Opened Saturday By Senter Crane Co.

What will undoubtedly be the biggest birthday celebration in this city during 1934 starts next Saturday when Senter Crane Company will observe their eighth birthday anniversary.

On May 5, 1926 came Main street's biggest change in years when W. F.
Senter and Kennedy Crane bought the modern four-story building and the extensive business it contained from W. O. Hewett Co. Mr. Crane located here as resident operator of the store which became a unit in the great Senter chain of stores which has been steadily expanding through the past decade.

Mr. Crane brought an energetic, go-getter spirit to the business and to the atmosphere of Main street as a whole. Senter Crane Company promptly became a vital part of the city's business and general life as well, participating generously in every public welfare project and contributing much to the developing spirit of the city.

The store itself has steadily expanded its activities and holds an important place in the life of this whole section, steadily gaining prestige and increasing its host of patrons and friends. The first four years were in times of vigorous business and general prosperity, and the staff was largely augmented as the business grew. The past four years have been shadowed by a world and national depression which has directly affected every man, woman and child and every institution in this community, yet it must be remembered with pride that during these four years the full staff of Senter Crane Company has been kept intact and the former H. W. Piffeld Co.
store of Vinhaven added as a subsidiary.

So the great anniversary sale will open Saturday with the whole staff striving to out do itself to make the affair a success and the management offering a supreme array of prices as may be seen from its four pages of advertising in this newspaper.
The store's regular guarantee of "satisfaction or your money back" applies to all sale goods, and charge accounts are welcomed. It is part of the store policy to extend charge account courtesy on a monthly basis.
By having its large volume of business on this cash basis direct savings in general overhead are made which are passed along to the customers in the form of lower prices. Senter Crane Company offers no premiums or gifts.

THE BAPTIST PARISH
R. S. Sherman Elected Moderator — Pleasing Reports
From All Departments

The annual meeting of the First Baptist Society (Parish), was held in the parlors, last night, supper being served to about 150 members. The business meeting was called to order by the church clerk, Charles H. Morey, and after prayer by Rev. J. C. Mac-Donald, Osmond A. Palmer was elected temporary moderator.

The nominating committee with L.
A. Packard as acting chairman, presented this list of officers, who were elected by unanimous vote: Moderator, Raphael S. Sherman; clerk, Charles H. Morey; treasurer, Joseph
W. Robinson; assistant treasurer,
Mrs. Lois P. Cassens; auditor, Millard
Hart; trustee for seven years, Frank W. Fuller; member of financial board for five years, Maurice R. Snow; collectors for three years, G. Carl Cas-sens and Mrs. Abbie Hanscom; music committee, E. H. Crie, Mrs. Walter Snow and Mrs. Frank Keach; sexton, Ralph E. Stickney. The nominating committee for next year is composed of Vesper A. Leach, Edward J. Morey and Mrs. Zona Mattatall.

The report of the treasurer showed a very satisfactory condition, the year closing with practically no deficit in current running expenses. The report of the treasurer of benevolences, E. J. Morey, showed an expenditure of over $1800 and a balance of nearly $200. It was voted to contribute from this balance, $25 for assistance to other parishes, through the State office, $25 direct to the Ellsworth Baptist church and $25 to the committee on Rural Religious Education.

Interesting reports were presented with respect to several organizations within the church. Financial Board, E. H. Crie, chairman, reported a budget of $7575 for 1934-1935 work, $5775 being for the current work and $1800 for benevolences. The report of the board of collectors was presented by R. S. Sherman, music committee by Miss Edna Gregory, directress, Woman's Association by Mrs.
McKay, Kallioch Class by Miss Morey, Opportunity Class by Mrs. Wooster, Browne Club by Miss Stover, Missionary Circle by Mrs. Rita Snow, Church School by Miss Florence Philbrook, Cradle Roll by Mrs. Morey, Brotherhood Class by L. A. Packard, Christian Endeavor by Miss Virginia Egan, Flying Squadron by Miss Emily Mac-Donald. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald made short talks, and it was voted that Miss Egan communicate with Miss Gwendolyn MacDonald a student at Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., extending best wishes from her father's parish. Early in the meeting, Mrs. Horatio W. Frohock, representing the board of trustees, offered prayer. The meeting closed with the singing of "Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow."

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

THE STARS ARE WITH THE VOYAGER
The stars are with the voyager
Wherever he may sail;
The moon is constant to her time;
The sun will never fail;
But follow, follow, round the world,
The green earth and the sea;
So love is with the lover's heart
Wherever he may be.
Wherever he may be, the stars
Must daily lose their light.
The moon will veil her in the shade,
The sun will set at night;
The sun may set, but constant love
Will shine when he's away.
So that dull night is never night,
And day is brighter day.

WILL BE "CURTIS ISLAND"

Senator White and Representative Moran of Maine were informed yesterday by the Secretary of the U. S. Geographic Board that the board had approved changing the name of Negro Island, near Camden, to Curtis Island. The board is favorable to changing the name of Negro Island Light to Curtis Island Light, but will await formal favorable notice of consent to the change from the Lighthouse Service.

A rare privilege is in store for those attending the Lincoln Baptist Association annual meeting in Warren next Wednesday. Rev. B. L. Baker of South China will be the missionary speaker. With his faithful wife, he has served in that land 26 years, in the course of which they have experienced many adventures through flood, typhoon and threatening military clashes. Mr. Baker is a graduate of Georgetown College, and Crozier Theological Seminary. He is a native of Nicholasville, Ky. Another interesting speaker at the meeting will be Rev. C. S. Roddy, pastor of First Church, Portland, and president of the Maine Baptist State Convention. The full program will appear in Saturday's issue.

The Woman's Auxiliary of Knox Hospital met Thursday afternoon at the Bok Home for the final meeting of the season, with 20 members present, Camden and Thomaston being represented. Miss Ellen Daly was hostess. A general financial report of the year was given by Mrs. Hervey Allen. There was a lively discussion of the proposed garden to be developed on the waste land at the rear of the hospital, corner of Limerock and White streets. The secretary regrets that the nice letter and generous check from Mrs. Herman Crockett of North Haven was received too late to be reported at this meeting.

Keen interest is being displayed in the presentation of Alice Bradlee Pooler, noted channossee, in costume recital at the High School auditorium this evening at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Methuen Club. She has given recitals in many of the leading cities in the East and has been acclaimed for her talent and the uniqueness of her program. Mrs. Pooler is looking forward particularly to her Rockland appearance as she was a former resident here and hopes to renew many acquaintances made in her girlhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Patch of Thomaston are now operating a tea room known as "The Blue Patch." The property, formerly known as Allen's Tea Room is situated at Walker's Corner, Thomaston on Route 1, was purchased in March and has been thoroughly cleaned and remodeled. The tea room is equipped with modern appliances and all food is prepared on the premises. People living and visiting in this locality will enjoy lunching at the Blue Patch.

When the upper car barn at Glen Cove was demolished recently passers-by had nothing to look at except the old freight car No. 62, which had been sold by the Central Maine to David Shafter and was jacked up awaiting removal. Yesterday the passers-by didn't have even that to look at, for some agency had toppled it over the embankment out of sight. Nobody envies Mr. Shafter the job of putting Humpty Dumpty together again.

Alvin C. Ramsdell, head of the concern which recently bought the Five Kilns property for a sardine plant is assembling the materials for the long wharf which he is to build there, and meantime is getting his nine boats in readiness to take fish to his factories in Lubec and Portland. The latter factory is giving employment now to 175 hands.

Ensign and Mrs. Thomas Hand, who have been in charge of local Salvation Army work the past six months, went today to Portland where they will conduct the important work of the Divisional Headquarters at 204 Federal street. They will make their home at 84 Caleb avenue, and will always be glad to see Rockland friends.

Miss Elizabeth Hagar and her pupils in Junior High School sent May baskets filled with fragrant arbutus to Knox Hospital Tuesday as an observance of Child Health Day. The gift was so generous it was possible for every patient to have a basket, thus bringing much cheer to the shut-ins. Appreciation is felt for the kindly thought.

A bright outlook cheers depositors in the old local banks these days. This morning the Thomaston National Bank declared another 20 per cent dividend on the waiver accounts and the promised dividend checks on the Rockland National accounts will be in depositors' hands any day now.

IN SQUARED CIRCLE

Fans Seeing Much Good Sport With Legion and Foreign War Vets As Hosts

A couple of swarthy skinned boxers, who despite their dark complexion fight in the lightweight class, gave a remarkably clever exhibition of the pugilistic art at Empire Theatre Tuesday night, climaxing an exhibition which certainly afforded wide variety. The attendance was disappointingly small and may perhaps be accounted for by the fans who found three boxing exhibitions in one week—two here and one in Wadoboro—too much for their desires and their purse.

Young Dow, who hails from Lawrence, Mass., and doesn't belong to the family tree of Knox County Dows, had the goods on Kid Barrillito, who sometime or other twanged a ukelele on the southern side of the Mexican border, but no amount of banging seemed to have the slightest effect on either man.

The ball opened with an energetic bout between Kid Childs and Slim Raye. The latter was a head taller than his opponent, but this didn't discourage the kid from trying to punch it off. A couple of Bath boys then tried their luck with the home product, and crept back out of the arena sadder and wiser. The first was Young Sharkey who thrust his fighting physog into Young Keizer's fists once or twice too often. A swat on the tummy sent the Kennebec to the mat for keeps. Then came Jack Fields of Bath who befooled himself with the notion that he was a better man than Young Reynolds of Rockland. Fields went down for the count of nine in the second chapter and after he had been felled four times in the third round the towel was tossed into the ring by his conscience-stricken second. This Reynolds boy is going good. He asks no quarter and gives none.

The semi-final presented Gabby Poulin, substituting for George Lukin of Belfast, against Popeye Pippin of Bath. The men were poorly matched and the fight early developed into a shoving contest, with Gabby doing about all the shoving. Maybe if Popeye, like his illustrious ancestor, the sailor, had carried a pocketful of spinach, he might have won, but as it was he got a big hand when he left the ring, while Shover Poulin was handed a full sized box of raspberries.

Tomorrow night comes the weekly show of the New Athletic Club, and the fans are expecting to see a hardy six-round battle between Young Sylvio and Al Parent, both of whom have well demonstrated their cleverness and gameness in the local arena. Young Jovin who was raised in the garden which produced Jack and the Bean Stalk, is rather a favorite with the local fans, who are wondering if they will have to buy poses for him after he meets Young Audet of Waterville.

But the real interest tomorrow night, centers on the grudge go between Mike Quinn and Frank Seavey. There is considerable of a discrepancy in the weight of these boys, but Mike is trying to offset his 40-pound advantage by cutting down his daily supply of rations to three pounds of beefsteak. And some of the sports are betting recklessly that neither man will dare show his face in the ring.

HORROCKS CHAIRMAN

Knox County Grocers Set Up Local Code For Food Distributors

H. A. Horrocks of John Bird Company was elected chairman of the Permanent Code authority for the Food Distributors Business of Knox County Area at a meeting of the Knox County Food Council last night. Ray Eaton of the Rockland Wholesale Grocery Company was elected treasurer and H. R. Winchenbaugh of the First National Stores secretary.

The other members of the committee elected, were J. A. Jameson of the J. A. Jameson Company; Frank Gordon of Gordon & Lovejoy, Union; A. J. Linekin, Thomaston; R. B. Hopkins, Camden.

J. A. Jameson, Frank Gordon, A. J. Linekin and R. B. Hopkins represent the independent retailers, H. R. Winchenbaugh, the Chain Stores, R. Eaton the independent wholesaler and H. A. Horrocks the Voluntary Chain Group.

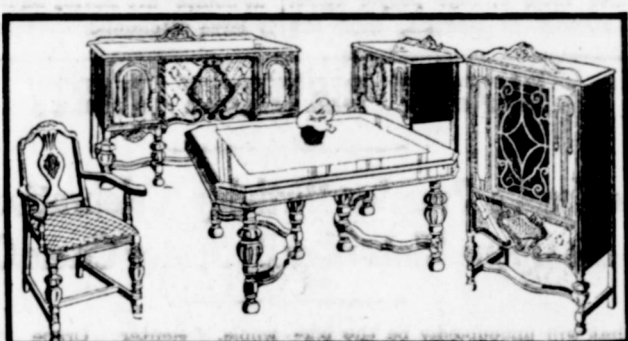

A record of the elections will be sent to the National Code Authority for the business in Washington for confirmation. The local authority must receive this confirmation before it can begin functioning as a first court of appeals in the administration and enforcement of the food distributing code.

It was announced, however, that any complaints concerning the food dealers code should be filed immediately with the secretary, who will forward them to Gordon James at Augusta for action pending receipt of confirmation. The local authority from Washington.

As explained by John D. Pennell, chairman of the State Code Authority for the business, the local group will endeavor to settle complaints and disputes by conference, advice and persuasion, or, failing satisfactory settlement, refer the case to the State Authority, from which it may go to Washington for final action.

A free talking picture "We're in the money now" will be presented in Temple hall next Wednesday night by Frigidaria. Food handlers and home owners, it will be good business to be there. Tickets free at McLoon Sales & Service.—adv.

THOMASTON TOOK OPENER

School League Starts With Win For Creightonites Over Lincoln Academy

Thirty-nine players crossed home plate on Styvie Field, Thomaston, Tuesday afternoon, during the game between Thomaston High and Lincoln Academy, and 25 of them were of the genus Thomaston.

It was the opening game of the Knox and Lincoln Interscholastic League, a somewhat elongated and eerie contest, in the course of which the three pitchers walked 17 men, the batters made 29 hits and a conservative scorer recorded 11 errors. None of the players had seen much practice because of ground conditions and could scarcely be expected to give a mid-season performance. Interest naturally palled a bit after the score had arrived at the 14 to 7 stage, and a group of spectators suffering from ennui, sought diversion by matching pennies.

There was a temporary revival of interest in the eighth inning when Thomaston swapped pitchers in mid-stream, and the newcomer, Upham, handed out six "comps."

Simmons, the Academy hurler, had troubles of his own, for every member of the Thomaston team bumped him for from one to three hits. Thomaston's new backstop, F. Bucklin, gave a very good account of himself, and it does not appear that Coach Creighton's crew is going to suffer from weakness behind the plate. Johnson made two excellent catches in port garden. Benner, with a rather unusual delivery fanned 11 in the seven innings he was on the mound. Hall was the outstanding player for Lincoln Academy.

The score:

Boothbay Harbor High defeated Wadoboro High 8 to 2 at Boothbay Harbor yesterday. The home team made 8 hits and 3 errors, and Wadoboro made 4 hits and 6 errors. Batteries: Ives, French and Crowell; Dunton and Pinkham.

St. George's Outlook

The St. George High School team will open this season without the assistance of Ernest Rawley who for several years has been its able and respected coach. Mr. Rawley is convalescing at Knox Hospital after undergoing a serious operation. The members of the team send him their best wishes and hope for his speedy recovery. Principal Hummell will manage the team.

St. George should have a good chance of winning a few games in the Knox and Lincoln League this year, with a lineup of seven veterans and five rookies.

There was a loss of three men last spring in Wilson, H. Cooper, and Slingsby. A gap was left by Wilson in the third-base position which will probably be filled by Wiley, known as "The Rabbit." Aud and Smalley are likely candidates for the position of shortstop with the possibility that Kulju may play there when he is not behind the plate. Lowell will play first base, as in former years, and Anderson will occupy second. Kulju and Mackie are competing for the catcher's position, while Pease and Polkey will face the opposing batters, Freeman, Kimley and Patterson will see service in the outfield.

The ball club is advancing the proposition of selling season tickets at a very reasonable rate. The boys

"I've Got Your Number," which is scheduled for Friday gives Joan Blondell unusual opportunity. The story touches on every phase of life in the contacts of telephone employees with the public, presenting the many interesting incidents of real, daily occurrences, including humorous events, scenes of pathos, tragedy and thrilling action. As a smart-cracking telephone operator, Joan engages in a duel of wits with Pat O'Brien, her leading man, and trouble-shooter for the company, who is as quick on the verbal trigger as Joan herself. Gordon Westcott, head of a band of confidence men, which includes Robert Ellis, Selmar Jackson and Tom Costello, furnishes the thrills with a bold robbery, a kidnapping and a hair-raising battle with a crew of telephone linemen.

"GO WEST, YOUNG MAN"

This expression was first used by John L. Soule in 1851 in the Terra Haute (Ind.) Express. Some time later Horace Greeley, editor of the New York Tribune, used the expression, "Go West, young man, and grow up with the country," in an editorial. After the saying gained popularity, Greeley disclaimed its authorship and reprinted Soule's original article.—The Pathfinder.

HAS GOOD OUTLOOK

Pratt Memorial M. E. Church Holds Its Final Conference of the Year

The fourth quarterly conference of the Pratt Memorial Methodist Church was held Tuesday night, District Superintendent A. I. Oliver of Lewiston presiding. Mr. Oliver gave a most helpful devotional address before the business session. The reports of the various departments of the church showed the year now closing to have been a successful one. The outlook for the future is most encouraging. The pastor was given a unanimous invitation to remain for another year.

These officers and committees were elected:

Trustees—Henry deRochemont, A. W. Gregory, George B. Orcutt, E. E. Strout, Gershom Rollins, Dr. H. V. Tweedie, Herman A. Stanley, Mrs. Ruth A. Ellingwood, Herman R. Winchenbaugh.

Stewards—Leroy A. Chatto, Ralph topic will deal with communion, the regular communion to follow the service. At 7 o'clock daylight time there will be a union service at the Congregational Church, the sermon to be delivered by Rev. Howard A. Welch.

The surplus alewives have been sold to the Charles Mattlage and son Inc., New York city, the company to take 2000 barrels at 60c per barrel, which is 10c more than the town could get for them last year.

Are You a Hosiery Crank?

So are the makers of NoMend Hosiery. You'd hardly believe your eyes if you could see the number of stockings which fail to pass the NoMend tests. You'd watch them go over NoMend stockings pair by pair, inch by inch... running their fingers through them... on the hunt for holes, rings, shadows. You'd wonder why on earth they reject so many. That's NoMend. Finicky because it has a reputation to uphold. That's why NoMend was first to be awarded the seal of quality by the Better Fabrics Testing Bureau.

That's why we made a special effort to secure for this sale

Grand Jury Reports Three Indictments — Traverse Jury Impaneled Today

Court is being run on standard time, but the hours have been set ahead to 8.30 a. m. and 1 p. m.

Ex-Senator H. C. Buzzell and Arthur Ritchie of Belfast were present the opening day of Court.

The Grand Jury reported the finding of three indictments at 10.30 o'clock Wednesday morning and were excused finally. A new jury will be impaneled at the November term.

The indictments are:

State vs. Merle Whalen, Llewellyn Mank and Frank Leighton, charged with assault and battery on Frank Blackington on January 13, 1934.

State vs. Edwin G. Ludwig of Rockland, charged with burning a garage and dwelling house in the rear of 69 North Main street in the day time on Feb. 18, 1934, to get insurance.

State vs. Edwin G. Ludwig of Rockland, charged with burning a garage and dwelling house in the rear of 69 North Main street, in the night time on Feb. 23, 1934, to get insurance. Mr. Ludwig pleaded not guilty and was released in $2000 bail.

Traverse jurors reported for duty this morning. There has been but one jury drawn this term.

The first case listed is an alienation suit brought by Ethel M. Jenkins of Rockland against Anna Benson of Whitefield, grandmother of Plaintiff's husband, J. H. Montgomery and A. R. Gilmore of Camden appear for the Plaintiff and Charles T. Smalley represents the Defendant.

One of the witnesses who was subpoenaed to testify before the Grand Jury refused to testify Tuesday afternoon. Judge Fisher ordered that he be sentenced to pay a fine of $5.00 or to serve two days in jail. The witness testified Wednesday morning.

Naturalization cases were heard yesterday and Knox County gained two citizens—Marion Clarissa Myers of Rockland, a native of Nova Scotia; and Uno Jaakko Iivonen of Owl's Head, a native of Finland.

One other petition was heard, and decision will be made later in the term.

MRS. O. E. ROBINSON

Mrs. Gussie B. Robinson, 58, of this city, wife of Oscar E. Robinson, died at her home April 24, from bronchial pneumonia. She was a member of the Relief Corps, and of the First Baptist Church. She leaves one daughter, Bernice, three sons, Raymond, Eddie and Oscar; one brother, George Stevens; one sister, Charlotte Nystrom; and four grandchildren, Irving, Francis, William and Oscar 3d Robinson. She leaves several nephews and nieces. Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist Church.

TENANT'S HARBOR

Mrs. Nan Wheeler has returned home after spending the past few months in Massachusetts and Philadelphia.

Mrs. Elinor Rawley underwent a surgical operation at Knox Hospital last week.

Miss Della Bickmore returned Wednesday to Thomaston where she has had employment for several years. She has been spending the winter with her sister Mrs. Etta Wall.

Deacon H. P. Kallioch is ill again, and is now confined to his bed.

Dr. C. H. Leach has so far regained his health as to actively resume his practice. He has been ill the past six months. The phone number is 60, Tenant's Harbor.

Charles Wheeler is driving a new car.

Ernest Rawley, postmaster, underwent a surgical operation at Knox Hospital last week.

Word has been received here of the death in Springfield, Mass., of Lewis Bickmore, formerly of this place, and brother of Miss Della Bickmore. Mrs. Etta Wall and Mrs. Edna Willard. Mr. Bickmore was in his usual health when he fell and sustained a broken hip and internal injuries from which he did not recover. He is survived by his wife, daughter and son in Springfield, and the above mentioned immediate relatives of this place.

ALL ABOUT STAMPS

John Guistin Gives Lions Interesting Address—Justice Fisher a Guest

The Rockland Lions Club heard a deal about stamps yesterday especially those which have been issued by the Post Office Department to commemorate some interesting event in the nation's history. The speaker was John Guistin, who is pulling every string that he can work, to the end that a stamp will be struck off in honor of Gen. Henry Knox, who was the country's first Secretary of War, and Gen. Washington's chief of artillery. One of Mr. Guistin's plans is to swamp Congress with petitions bearing 50,000 names.

Among the commemorative issues described in his talk Wednesday were the Columbian Exposition (which started the ball rolling) Trans-Mississippi, Pan-American Exposition, Louisiana Purchase, Jamestown Exposition, Lincoln Memorial, Alaska-Yukon, Hudson-Pulton, Panama-Pacific, Victory Stamp, Pilgrim Tercentenary, Warren G. Harding, Huguenot-Walloon, Lexington-Concord Tercentenary, Washington Bi-Centennial, Battle of White Plains, Saratoga, Valley Forge, Molly Pitcher, Aeronautic Conference, Rogers-Clark, Thomas A. Edison, Ohio River Canal, Massachusetts Bay Colony, and Charleston Exposition.

Mr. Guistin not only named the distinguishing features of the stamps, but passed around his elaborate framed collection, and was fortified with bewildering figures as to the total of each issue.

Especially interested listeners were Associate Justice and Mrs. William H. Fisher of Augusta. Mrs. Fisher has a remarkable collection of stamps, and when, in the course of their travels in this or other countries, if Justice Fisher misses his wife he knows that he is quite certain to find her at some postoffice stamp window.

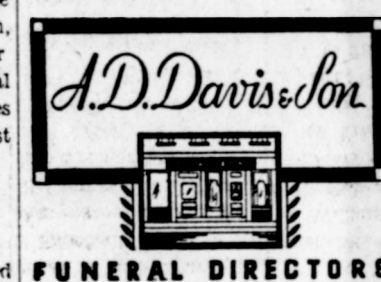

Justice Fisher, whom the Lions are always delighted to have as a guest, spoke briefly.

Other guests yesterday were District Governor Maurice C. Orbeton of Bangor, former King Lion Charles T. Smalley, Dr. Weisman, who has just located in this city and Eugene B. Sleeper formerly of Boston, who now makes his home in this city.

In honor of Mr. Smalley's visit the Lions song which he composed was sung.

ENOCH F. ANDERSON

Enoch F. Anderson, Civil War veteran, died suddenly of heart disease Tuesday after working all day at his home in Belfast. He enlisted in 1864, serving in the Navy until 1867. He was a native of Rockland, resided in Montville many years and went to Belfast 25 years ago. He was a member of Thomas H. Marshall Post, Grand Army of the Republic, the Waldo County Veterans' Association and Silver Cross Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

lost orders for the large lobsters which could be legally handled. This demand of the market was largely responsible for the minimum prescribed by the new double gauge law.

Still, further domestic troubles have been occasioned by the stubborn Yankee independence of the lobster fishermen and by misunderstandings between the dealers and the fishermen. The fishermen must organize and co-operate in order to present a united demand for fair treatment, fair prices, and generally improved conditions. As for the relations between the dealers and the fishermen, both must realize that their joint fortunes are tightly clasped in the lobster's claws and that it is folly for them to engage in useless bickerings.

Government indifference to and neglect of the native lobster business in the face of a government subsidized and protected industry in Canada's maritime provinces has been and to a degree still is the crowning indignity heaped upon the long-suffering lobstermen. This competition in its various forms is, of course, the foreign danger which threatens to overwhelm our domestic lobster business.

Most sections of Canada have no legal minimum and maximum lengths beneath and beyond which the lobsters must be put back into the water. The Canadian government does however achieve a degree of conservation by means of closed seasons. At one time these were so arranged that Canadian competition was felt in the United States only during the winter and early spring months, but now the Provinces alternate the closed seasons so that there are just 58 days in the year during which, in all Canadian waters, the taking of lobsters is forbidden. Even in that period the shipments of lobsters to the United States are scarcely diminished in volume because of the large numbers put in storage during the open seasons.

Canada protects her own market by means of a 25 per cent tariff levy on live lobsters and a 33 1-3 per cent levy on boiled ones, but has, on occasion, sent delegations to Washington to protest protective measures by the United States against lobsters imported from Canada. The Canadian government has subsidized marine transportation and has in general extended every possible aid to her fishermen. This government aid has made it possible for Canadian dealers and fishermen to sell lobsters in our markets at prices ruinous to their United States competitors.

The Canadian government is to be commended for this adequate defense of its own resources and people. It affords an example that Congress might well follow. The need for such protection in this country is shown by the fact that in 1932 10,279,000 pounds of domestic lobsters competed in United States markets with about 12,000,000 pounds of lobsters imported from Canada.

Against these formidable difficulties the Maine fishermen and dealers fought a gallant but losing battle, a battle from which retreat was impossible because, what with equipment investment and years of experience, if a lobster fisherman no longer caught lobsters, he was adrift and without provisions on the ocean of unemployment and want.

The outlook was indeed forbidding in the fall of 1933. But in the six months that have followed two great steps have been taken toward a better state of affairs and, while much remains to be accomplished, the lobstermen have set their faces toward the now attainable goal of making money in the lobster business.

The first of these steps was the amendment of the State laws with respect to the size of lobsters that may be legally kept and sold. This amendment was passed by the State Legislature Dec. 21, 1933, and became effective April 23.

The essential portion of the law as amended is commonly called the double gauge law and reads: "No person shall buy, or sell, give away, or expose for sale or possess for any purpose any lobsters less than 3 1-16 inches, or more than 4 1/2 inches in length, alive or dead, cooked or uncooked, measured from the rear of the eye socket along a line parallel to the center line of the body shell to the rear end of the body shell."

The law further provides that all lobsters caught that measure less than the prescribed minimum or more than the prescribed maximum shall be immediately liberated alive. Penalties are fixed at $5 for each lobster possessed measuring less than 3 1-16 inches, and $25 for each lobster possessed that exceeds the maximum measurement.

Previous to this amendment there was no maximum measurement, all lobsters longer than 3 1/2 inches being legal. This 3 1/2-inch carapace measurement was usually referred to as 10 1/2-inch minimum. The amended law's measurements are spoken of as 9 1/2-inch minimum and a 13 1/2-inch maximum. These of course are nose-to-end-of-tail measurements. Since an identical double gauge provision is incorporated in the national code, the Maine lobster industry is now on a parity with that of the rest of the North Atlantic states.

This immediate benefit alone is enough to commend the law to Maine lobstermen. There is however, an additional advantage gained by the maximum length provision of the law which makes it a conservation measure of the greatest importance. Forty years ago lobsters were gaffed off the rocks on the shore of Rockland's Northend. At some seasons large lobsters sold at a nickel apiece, and small ones could be procured ready boiled six for a quarter.

Along the Atlantic coast from Cape Hatteras to Labrador the lobster fisheries were declining even then, and have continued to decline ever since. Prof. Herrick in his History of the America Lobster reported that in 1889 the lobster catch was in excess of 30,000,000 pounds. Ten years later the catch had been cut in two in amount while its value had doubled. At the present time the annual catch is approximately 11,000,000 pounds, but the importation of more than that amount from Canada has forced prices to lower levels than were common in the early years of this century. The following quotation from Herrick shows the extent of the falling off in the lobster catch as early as 1902.

"A fisherman at Southwest Harbor who had trapped lobsters for half a century, gave me the following account of his experience. About the year 1875, when the annual shrinkage in the wild crop had already been felt in many places, he took at one haul from his 100 traps, which had been down two days, 1,985 pounds of lobsters. All but 15 of his pots contained lobsters, and from one, which was filled to the spindle, 35 were taken. As a contrast to past conditions, few of a marketable size were at this time to be caught (July 27, 1902). The day before our interview this fisherman's son pulled 60 traps, set off Bunker's ledge, between that point and the Duck Islands, and once a famous fishing region for this crustacean, and took only nine lobsters of marketable size. Illustrations of this kind could be extended indefinitely, but the fact of decline is the one subject upon which all are agreed. It is the burden of every report on the fishery which has been issued for a score of years."

VINALHAVEN

After the regular meeting of May 7, Marguerite Chapter, O.E.S., a May Basket Party will be held with Mrs. Dewey Brown as chairman. All members are asked to take a well filled May basket.

Mrs. Herbert Conway who has been in town a few days returned Wednesday to North Haven.

Miss Margaret Lowe has resumed her position at Senter Crane Co.'s after a vacation of several weeks.

Mrs. Carrie Bennett entertained the Depression Club Friday evening. Honors at bridge went to Mrs. Carroll Gregory and Mrs. Etta Morton.

Mrs. George Strachan recently entertained the Rainbow Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Brown spent the weekend, guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. Lawton Bray in Rockland.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Littlefield left Thursday for a visit with relatives in Hartford, Conn.

The following company enjoyed a dandelion green dinner April 29 at Camp Merrie Macs: Mr. and Mrs. E. C. MacIntosh, Frances MacIntosh, Andrew Gilchrist and Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Lane.

There were two chimney fires Monday, one at the home of Basil Webster, the other at James Barton's but the prompt service of chemicals checked what might have proven bad fires.

Capt. Ernest Hatch of Portland was in town the past week.

Capt. Lawrence Ames returned Monday to Fair Haven, Mass.

Edwin Littlefield left Monday for Wollaston, Mass. While in town he was the guest of Mrs. Edith Vinal.

Capt. John Wentworth is home from a fishing trip on the beam trawler, Boston College.

The Washington, Lincoln and White school buildings have been undergoing extensive and much needed repairs, made possible by the CWA. All three of the buildings have had a thorough overhauling on the inside, and are probably in better condition now than at any other time during their existence, in so far as the interior is concerned. The walls of the buildings have been washed, all loose plaster removed, cracks filled and walls coated with water color of apple green shade, topped by a stencil border of moss green and red. The cupola of the Washington building, which because of decay had become a serious menace to the lives of the school children has been removed, and new green shutters on the windows have replaced the old ones. The school committee plan to make some much needed repairs on the Granite Isle and Calderwood Neck school buildings. Decorating of the buildings mentioned above was under the direction of Sidney L. Winslow, local artist, and the work is highly praised.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carney returned Monday from Hall Quarry, accompanied by Mrs. Hector Carney and son.

Don't miss the once a year Senter Crane Anniversary Sale. This sale is being held at Vinalhaven as well as at Rockland.—adv.

HERE'S QUEER CARGO

Which Reminds One of a Famous Saying Made By David Harum

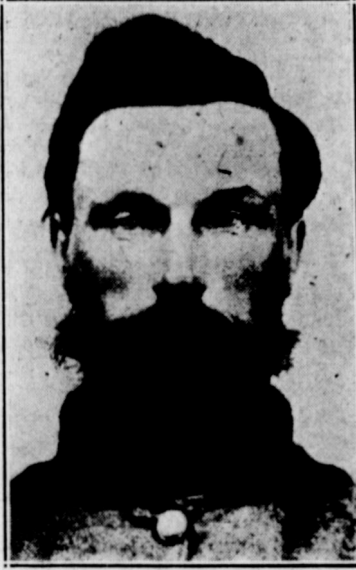

On the Yankee Line steamer, "City of Flint," which sailed Tuesday there was the strangest shipment of livestock ever to go out of the port of Boston. In a specially built crate, there was a bright little terrier who little knows what his mission is. On this terrier there are 476 trained fleas. It is his job to deliver them safely.

Prof. Heckler, of the Circus Schumann of Copenhagen, had the misfortune to lose all his trained fleas. Benson's Wild Animal Farm, Nashua, N. H., got the order to deliver these flea artists and the shipment now being made is the result.

It is well known that fleas can live only by being fed on warm blood; therefore, enough fresh pigeon blood to feed this army of fleas from Nashua to Copenhagen has been combed through the hair of the terrier. The body heat from the dog keeps the blood in the hair at the right temperature and at the same time, keeps the fleas warm. The cotton batting the dog has to lie on makes a nest and by the pigeon blood being in the hair of the dog, the fleas don't suck the blood from the dog.

This verifies the slogan that Benson's Wild Animal Farm supplies anything living from a flea to an elephant. The argument between Mr. Benson and the steamship company now is whether Mr. Benson should pay freight charges on the dog or the fleas, but that is going to be left for the lawyers to decide.

ELMER ALLEN'S CHAT

Deals With Lots of Interesting Topics, Not Forgetting a Wonderful Gun

Tenants Harbor, April 29
There are not too many people in this town who know when the State Prison was built. It was erected in the year 1823 and opened for inmates in 1824. Its first cost was $28,000 and the prisoners received from 17 to 30 cents a day for their labor. In the year 1860 there were 112 inmates.

In 1860 Ebenezer Otis was farming on Otis Point. He was also a lawyer, and our town folks always consulted him in legal matters. I think he moved to Rockland about this time and bought the house now occupied by the Catholic pastor. Eben Otis Jr. was a master mariner.

How many remember when Dr. "Osceone" (a supposed Indian), wife and girl lived here in the Glidden homestead. That's a long time ago. He had long black hair and his medicine was "roots and herbs." They said he made some wonderful cures while here. I remember he had two buckskin ponies that he and his daughter used in horseback riding. Some of our young men took to learning horseback exercise, but it never cut much figure as the doctor was always riding along with his daughter. However they disappeared as silently as they came. I never heard where they came from or where they went.

I was told recently that the Hezekiah Marshall house was moved from Glenmere to its present location around the year 1860. It was moved in sections. I always supposed that Mr. Marshall had it built; also that the house in Martinsville now occupied by William Pease was moved from near Wallston village to its present location. They used 16 yoke of oxen, a barrel of rum and a pint dipper. It is said they agreed to go 500 yards before unhooking the dipper, but after that a hundred yards was far enough. (I have vouchers for this.)

My old friend John A. Fuller who is spending the winter in Athleboro writes to me frequently and I enjoy his letters very much. Mr. Fuller was born in Appleton. His father moved his family here in March, 1834. John was 7 when he arrived in St. George. In 1864 there were three new vessels laying at Fuller's wharf at one time. They were the schooners Warren Blake, Charles W. Holt and Irene Meservy. Capt. John Bickmore built the Schooner Four Sisters this same year at the Creek. Mr. Fuller was one time master of Schooner Wild Rover. On one of his trips, while off Cape Elizabeth, a waterspout just cleared the vessel. Capt. Fuller said to Warren Pease, the mate, "My God, it just cleared us!"

Capt. Dike Gardner of Sch. Alabama ran into a waterspout near Portland harbor and lost about all of the vessel's sails. He had as a crew Mark Hooper, Edwin Alley, Joseph Rose. On another trip of this vessel Capt. Gardner had the same crew and was bringing coal to Boston. They went into Holmes Hole for a harbor. That evening as they were playing cards in the cabin they heard a strange noise. One of them said "What's that?" Mark Hooper said, "That's a death tic." They were all very scared and rushed on deck and stayed there until morning, when they left the vessel and came home. Dr. Charles Stearns was the agent of the vessel, and had to send a crew to bring the vessel home. Dr. Stearns said they were so sinful they were scared to come around Cape Cod.

In 1860, or near this date, a man named Henderson was out fishing one day near Metinic Island. He saw a large tub floating on the water, rowed up to it and in it was a colored boy about five years old, and sound asleep. He had been set adrift from some vessel. He said he couldn't tell much about it. The man took him home and he grew to manhood. His name was Over. He married a white girl. This girl was engaged to a white man but her father broke up the match, and she married the colored man for spite, so it is said. They lived somewhere near Long Cove and had quite a large family. When his son Abraham died the body was brought from Long Cove in a boat and buried in Seaside cemetery. A stone marks the burial place I think.

Joseph Grover lived on Northern Island, 75 years ago or more. One day John A. Fuller who was then 7 met this man in his father's store. The boy asked him if he ever killed an Indian. "Yes," replied Grover "but it's none of your business." There were Indians in town then and they carried a woman away from Hart's Neck. I wrote them a few weeks ago. This man Grover was a very large man, so Mr. Fuller says, in fact the largest he ever saw. Speaking of strong men, Warren Allen who lived on Allen's or Northern Island one time once carried a barrel of pork from the store of R. Long & Son down to the shore and put it in a dory which was some stunt for it was quite a ways to the shore. Sidney Wall one carried a bag of corn (112 pounds) from the store of G. W. Rawley to his home on his back, a distance of two miles, and said he could carry it back for $5. He earned the corn for doing the job.

"Please pass the toothpicks" or "Won't you have a toothpick?" "No thank you, I have one." How the men folks would hunt for a long feather with a good end on it for a "quill" toothpick. No man years ago was properly dressed unless he had a quill toothpick in his vest pocket. Where they ever sterilized after use? I never heard of it. Then again the man who could afford it had a gold one like a propelling pencil hung to his watch chain. Well those went by and now we have the wooden ones, flat, round and octagon, and they are now going the way of the quill feather.

That must have been a wonderful gun that A. J. See manufactured for gunning up in Arrostook County (so he thought) but that gun is nothing but a popgun compared to one owned by J. K. M. of this place. This gun holds two barrels. It is a wonderful shooter and it requires two five ton trucks to move it around. One day this spring a flock of wild geese was flying over Southern Island a mile away. J. K. M. had this gun down on the wharf for target practice. Epping the geese he let fly and killed every goose in the flock, 17 to be exact. About 20 minutes later a telephone call was received from Criehaven asking J. K. M. if anyone had been shooting his big gun. "Yes," he replied, "I just shot 17 geese flying over Southern Island." "Aha, so that was you," says Mr. Barter, "you killed every hen in my dooryard." And that is about 18 miles from here. Now A. J. See this is not a knock on your big gun in any way, but only to show you what large guns we have down here on the seashore. J.K.M. was using No. 7 shot. We can only imagine what the result might have been if he had used buckshot instead. You will hear more of this gun later, as the owner is getting ready to improve on it.

A big moose came trotting down Route No. 1 one day last week and through the north end of the village. When he came to the sign "Welcome to Tenants Harbor," he threw his head up and walked down to the Wawenock Hotel, looked in the windows and would have registered, but changed his mind and went up on Barter's Point, probably looked over Port Side cottage and would have gone over to Ridge Rock Cottage, but it being high water changed his mind, not wanting to get his feet wet and the last seen of him he was heading for Rockland, there being some friendly moose up that way.

HERE'S THE STORY:-

Our 4th Floor was too valuable to use as a stock-room . . .
it's all heated . . . it has elevator service . . . why not open it up as a Bargain Store where we will be free to put in irregulars, job lots, etc. and of course at ridiculous prices.

HERE'S THE WAY THE BARGAINS WILL LOOK SATURDAY

. . . Our Store Policy . . .

The Senter Crane Company policy is built on the most up-to-date department store method of doing business. The combining of general overhead such as rent, office and delivery expenses with an increased volume of business which is largely cash (the remaining being monthly accounts) results in a definite and direct saving to Senter Crane's Customers in the form of lower prices.

Some of you may think we are too insistent on monthly accounts, but that is one of the big savings we make (interest charge on outstanding accounts) and nothing is more unfair than to ask the cash customers to pay more because the charge customer is not paying promptly.

The Senter Crane Company offers no gifts, premiums or discounts because these must always be added to the selling price, but we do offer you first class style right merchandise at what we believe to be the lowest possible prices.

There is no secret to the running of a department store. We select those things that are selling in the larger cities, particularly in New York—those things that we think you will want—the price we put on them must depend on our store expenses and our store expenses are low because our volume is high; that's the only secret, and why you buy here so many Better Things for less!

WHY THE WORD "PENNY"

Nails were sold in England by the hundred until the 15th century and the price was set by the size of the nails. Those selling for 10 pence a hundred were 10-penny nails; those for six pence a hundred were six-penny, etc. When prices changed the old designations survived as the indication of size and are written 10d, 8d, 6d, etc. The letter "d" stands for denarius, the Latin word for the English penny.

DODGES MOUNTAIN

Luke Brewster Continues His Interesting Articles Concerning Our Big Hill

As the editor censored my previous installment by cutting out what particular misdemeanors Dr. Dodge was supposed to be guilty of it probably aroused the curiosity of a considerable number of readers. Perhaps it is just as well not to have printed the matter as a few of the doctor's descendants may be living in this vicinity. I shall have to arouse your readers' curiosity still further by leaving out the little encounter my ancestor and great-grandfather had with the doctor, as there are numerous descendants of Zaccos living and I wish to give offense to no one. Those who are real curious can find it in Eaton's History, although Eaton made an error in names and had the son Darius as central figure. He had nothing whatever to do with it as the son Darius settled the farm where I now reside, and never lived on Dodges Mountain.

I have to smile when the Sunday papers publish articles and pictures of the gay Nineties, as if it was ancient history. Why those of us who lived our youth in that period consider ourselves as just spring chickens. The poet has said the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts, so what I am about to relate goes back over 100 years, 1832 in fact. At that time my father was six years old. His little brother had just died and my father was sent up on the mountain to spend the night. Just a few rods up by the barn in the lane was a frame house still standing at that time. The outlines of the cellar can plainly be seen today. This is where my father spent the night over 100 years ago and some years before the brick mansion was built.

Further up the lane in the next pasture north is a small swamp, perhaps half an acre in extent. It was dammed up and water, was let down through wooden pipes, laid underground to supply the old frame house with water. The depression in the old pasture where the pipes was laid can plainly be traced today.

Near this swamp is an old cellar hole known as the Waltz house lot. It must have been very ancient as it was destroyed by fire before my father's day. I think it was this spot, or nearby, that Zaccos of the Revolution had his clearing and log cabin, in the north pasture. On the brow of the hill's western outlook is a large granite boulder which was landed there in the glacial period. It is ten feet in diameter and nearly round. On one side is a straight seam from base to top. A large fragment stands on end at a space of perhaps a foot from the parent rock. We used to, as boys, wish we could start the huge boulder crashing down the mountain side tearing stone walls away and wondering how far it would go before stopping.

My older brother, when leaving home to carve his fortune in the West, about 1872, got upon the rock and made a farewell speech to his younger brothers and sisters. They were not to see him again until 30 years had passed.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep...Vigor...Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. They should pour out thru the bladder 8 pints of fluid a day which contains 4 pounds of waste matter. If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and distress. If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS... a doctor's prescription... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. Treatments of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS... the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

WARM WEATHER WARNING - CHANGE THAT WINTER-WORN OIL!

WINTER-WORN OIL takes the pep out of a car. Makes it sluggish. Makes it overheat. Takes a lot of the fun out of Spring-time driving.

That's why we say, "Change to Summer Mobiloil!" Modern engines, as you may know, are twice as dependent on fine oil as the engine of five or six years ago.

So it's much more important to get winter oil out—and get in a fresh, clean supply of oil that can "take" this extra punishment. Mobiloil is the world's largest selling motor oil because motorists find it stands up better under heat. It stays tough when spread in a thinner film.

Stop at any Mobiloil sign for the right grade for Summer driving. And if you stop at stations marked by the sign of the Flying Horse, you can also get Socony Mobilgas, Mobiloil's quality mate.

IT'S ALL OVER NOW

Down East Steamboat Service
Fades From the Picture—
Fred Green Recalls

When the Down East steamboat service was discontinued the Boston Transcript carried an interesting story from the pen of Fred C. Green, who summers at Thomaston and is very familiar with this section of the State. We quote:

Thus the onward march of the motor vehicle has crowded out of the picture one more of the things that made Maine famous. The voyage among the islands, and that through the rock-lined stretches of Eggemoggin Reach, are among the most beautiful in America.

In the old days, when Bar Harbor was at the height of its glory, steamboats plied about Mt. Desert in great numbers. In addition to the daily service between Rockland and the island, there were the several trips of the Maine Central fleet from Mt. Desert ferry, with the steamships Norumbega, Moosehead, Rangeley and Sappho operating the service. The little Goldenrod operated between Bar Harbor and Northeast Harbor. Another line ran from the ferry to the outer islands. The Sebena, was a familiar sight, as was the Cindria, which ran freight and occasional passengers between Bangor and the island ports. The Frank Jones plied between Mt. Desert Island and Portland and many can remember when the fast liner Olivette, of Spanish War fame, scooted back and forth between New York and Bar Harbor.

That was in the era when the resort was important enough to support such service. It is a legend that in those days storekeepers on the island had two scales of prices, one for the natives and one for the summer visitors. The latter was so far above the one arranged for home folks that the vacationers saw the light and used to ship their barrels of sugar, flour and other supplies via the Olivette.

Many a shipment of fine liquors from Boston and New York stores has gone to Mt. Desert Island via the Olivette, the Mt. Desert and the famous side-wheeler, J. T. Morse, which was sold a year ago. In addition, before the automobile period began, hundreds of beautiful horses were transported to and from the island each season.

As recently as 1913, the Eastern Steamship system operated, in addition to its Boston-Bangor service, a line to Portland, one to Portland, Eastport and Saint John, the Sedgewick line, the Bar Harbor service, the Kennebec River service to Bath and other points, a line between Bath and Boothbay and one between Bath and Rockland, which touched at Boothbay, Round Pond, Friendship, Port Clyde, and Tenant's Harbor. In those days the service through Eggemoggin Reach extended to Blue Hill and on the Mt. Desert Island run stops would be made at Manset on signal.

In addition to all these there was a privately owned steamship line operating between Rockland and Contention Cove near Ellsworth, making all the intermediate stops, including one on Newbury Neck, in Surry. Captain Crockett, who owned the boat, was so accommodating that he had been known to go off his course and stop his steamer to hoist a passenger and a trunk into a rowboat that would save them a long and roundabout trip to their destination.

Those were the days when, upon the arrival of the "Boston boat" at Rockland in early morning, a fleet of little white craft would steam away from Tilson's wharf and scatter like ducks toward their several destinations. As the afternoon waned they would be seen hustling back again to transfer their freight and passengers to the boat for Boston. All that has faded into the past. The only trans-shipment that will now be carried on at Rockland will be for freight and patrons bound for Vinalhaven and Stonington, which is served by a privately owned steamship.

So far as Bar Harbor is concerned, it will not be entirely cut off from steamship service for the Eastern lines have chartered the Florida, from Southern waters, and will operate her between New York and Portland, with two trips each way per week and on each Saturday continuing from Portland to Bar Harbor, there to lay over until Sunday.

Bucksport is more than two hours farther on the trip; many persons who were bound for Blue Hill, Brooklin and points in that locality, formed the habit of having automobiles meet them at Bucksport. When business began to fall off the steamship men seized on that condition as a remedy. A new road has been built from Bucksport to Ellsworth, the one from Bucksport to Blue Hill is being improved, also that to Bangor, so that the new order of things will be a time saver.

CLINTON A. THURSTON

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Littlefield Memorial Baptist Church by Rev. L. G. Perry, for Clinton Augustus Thurston, beloved resident of Rockville. A male quartet sang a favorite hymn "When the Mists Have Cleared Away." The bearers were the deacons of the church.

Deceased was born in Rockland, on Sept. 23, 1869, son of the late William J. and Martha J. (Philbrick) Thurston and died in Rockland April 26.

In boyhood he was associated with his father in his coopeage business, near their residence on Maverick street. Later he bought and operated a lumber mill at Burketville. Selling his mill he bought the Fairfield Hotel and operated it, until the American Agricultural Chemical Company hired him as manager of their main coopeage plant in East Weymouth, Mass. He sold his hotel and took this position, staying with this company several years, and when it opened the branch coopeage plant in Searsport, he was chosen to take charge of this branch, which he did until the company discontinued the branch. He then went to Framingham, Mass., and was assistant manager of Lord's Steam Laundry, later accepting the position of manager of Watson's Steam Laundry in Lowell, Mass., which position he held until the farm he had previously purchased at Rockville, and operated as a small fruit and market garden farm, wholesale and retail, needed his full time and attention.

In 1924 he lost the sight of both eyes, but he never complained, and was very helpful and a great comfort to his family. He was a good neighbor and kind friend to all who needed help.

In 1908 he was married to Miss Annie Belle Dunn of Rockland and Union and five children were born, one son, Walter, dying in infancy.

He is survived by his wife, Annie Thurston, and four children, Brainerd, Kenneth, Norman and Martha, all of Rockville; and one sister, Mrs. Flora E. Brown of Los Angeles. Mr. Thurston was a member of the Littlefield Memorial Church since October, 1926. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

A MILLION DEMONSTRATIONS in 30 days

 Nash dealers are out to show a million motorists—in 30 days—what there is that's so different in a 1934 Nash or its companion car, the new LaFayette.

Within 30 days, all America will have a better idea of modern motoring at its very best.

Nash already has built and the public has bought a million Nash cars—evidence as strong as evidence can be that Nash cars are out of the ordinary.

You are invited to ride in a Nash or a LaFayette, or both, to see for yourself how Twin Ignition steps up motor performance—how the LaFayette "jeweled movement" engineering lifts the performance of this new Nash-built car clear out of its price class. We want you to know all about the many engineering bests that belong exclusively to these two great cars.

Call us for your "One in a Million" ride. We'll expose you to no high pressure salesmanship except that which you'll discover in the performance of the car.

NORTH HOPE

Another week of cold weather and not much planting done yet. Some who have early ground have planted peas, and A. P. Allen at the Corner has had peas up for a week, yet as a rule most gardens will be late this season unless the weather warms up soon.

Quincy Peabody and crew have been sawing wood for several people lately. They were at Willow Brook Monday and part of Tuesday. The saw rig had to be hauled into the woods this year for the deep snow prevented much lumbering until late, and soft roads from the wood lot will keep it there for a time. The "man of the house" says his next year's wood will be cut before snow comes and hauled out on the first snow. A good rule to follow, the writer thinks.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Perry and daughter Berenice of Owl's Head were callers Sunday at Willow Brook. Other guests for the day were Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of Lincolnville, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Coose and daughter Frances, Miss Grace Wentworth and brother Karl of Belfast, Miss Clara Bartlett of Union. Mrs. Ida Peace was an afternoon caller.

The attendance at Hope Grange last Saturday was very good. The contest closed that day with a joint program, Margaret Robbins' side winning most points. This contest has been interesting in many ways. It has shown what many can do when they really try, and many hidden talents have come to light. This is just a beginning, each one must "keep on keeping on" and they'll be surprised at what they can do.

Daylight saving time again. We do not like it here in the country and everyone "growls" about it, but each year we have it all get used to it by the time we turn our clocks back again.

EAST UNION

A pleasant social afternoon was enjoyed at the Community Club held with Lucretia Pushaw Wednesday of last week. Sherbert and cake were served.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Payson were weekend guests of their son Merton Payson in South Windham.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kearly have moved to this place from Mars Hill and are occupying the Kearly tenement.

Morton & Payson have made a large shipment of assemblies for straw-berry crates to Falmouth, Mass., and Edgar Pressey, Bernard Esaney, Carl Cunningham and Albert Hastings have gone there in the firm's interest. They will complete the work of finishing the crates in Falmouth.

Mrs. W. George Payson and son Grevis, accompanied by Miss Marguerite Lincoln were Sunday visitors with relatives in Damariscotta.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Payson and daughter Marilyn were in Rockland Saturday.

Mrs. Achsa Jacobs of Hope was kindly remembered on her 80th birthday with a postcard shower, for which she wishes to thank the many friends.

SUNSET

The Intermediate Girls of the Sunset Sunday school met Saturday afternoon at the library for class party. Supper consisted of stew, pickles, crackers, cake, cocoa and candy. An evening of games was enjoyed. Some of the girls recited pieces learned for various occasions. Candy and popcorn was passed during the evening. Those present were Dawn and June Snowden, Winifred Forcette, Cecile Cole, Bernice Dunham, Gwendolyn Eaton, Dorothy Dunham and Marion Cole.

An interesting service was held at the church Sunday evening, an aeroplane meeting led by Mrs. Ethel Eaton, one of the Christian Endeavor leaders. Mrs. Evelyn Haskell sang a solo and a male choir sang at different times. The candlelight service was held at the end of the trip.

Mrs. Virginia Cole spent last Thursday with her mother Mrs. Pearl Hutchinson at Stonington.

The Church Aid will hold its meetings Wednesday evenings instead of afternoons from now on.

Mrs. Arthur Eaton spent one day last week with Mrs. Margaret Gray.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". They contain wonderful, harmless vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. Don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Request a substitute 25-cent drugstore. ©1931 C. M. Co.

MORE THAN 50% LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE in the NEW Firestone HIGH SPEED TIRE FOR 1934

THE new Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 is the greatest tire Firestone has ever built. With its wider, flatter tread, greater thickness, deeper non-skid, more and tougher rubber, and greater non-skid contact with the road, you get more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

This new development is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, whereby the cotton fibers inside the high-stretch cords are soaked and coated with pure liquid rubber. This provides greater strength, safety and blowout protection.

Firestone engineers pioneered and developed the first successful balloon tire in 1923, and it is only natural that

Scales Reveal Ages of Fish, Authority Claims

"There is a widespread belief that fish grow to be of vast age and live for more than a century, but this belief in the longevity of fish fades under the microscope when the fish's actual age is read from its scales," says an authority in charge of Great Lakes fisheries investigation for the United States bureau of fisheries, who explains that a fish's age may be read from its scales like the age of a tree from its rings.

He says that only a few years ago some "musk" scales were sent to him for age determination. The fish weighed 40 pounds and was 52 inches long, and oldtimers in the community gave it an age of from ten to one hundred years. The scales showed it to be about nineteen years old. Some works on natural history published in the Eighteenth and Nineteenth century tell of carp one hundred or one hundred and fifty years old and of pickerel more than two hundred years old, but these accounts are characterized as myths.

The fish expert says that he has found the average age of Saginaw bay herring to be less than five years, although these fish have been known to live as long as eleven years. Most of the whitefish taken in gillnets in the fall of the year on the North Grounds off Alpena are seven and eight years old; yet the maximum reported for this species is twenty-seven years; the oldest fish are not always the largest. As in the case of man, there are giants and dwarfs among fishes.

Condor Is Not as Fierce or as Large as Thought

The condor, largest bird of South America and once believed to be the largest bird in existence, was the subject of many fables, but eventually old facts served to deprive it of much of its awesome-ness.

Until the bird had been caught and actually examined it was believed to have a wing spread of as much as 40 feet and was said to be capable of seizing and carrying off lambs, young children and even small calves.

However, once a condor had been captured, it was discovered that its claws were blunt, short and incapable of grasping and carrying away any of the victims traditionally claimed for it.

Even its size was found exaggerated. The California vulture is its equal and other birds of greater size have been found.

The condor is a sound sleeper, in fact so much so that it is possible to creep up behind it and capture it by throwing a noose over its head.

For food, it depends largely on carrion, but does kill young animals feeding on the carcass on the ground.

Caught Knapping

Odd that the natives of West Africa and the East Indies should have to rely upon the small Suffolk town of Brandon to supply them with flints for firing their old-fashioned rifles. But Brandon is the only place in the world where flint-knapping is still carried on. The six knappers, only remaining representatives of the craft, can be seen at work in little wooden sheds, probably on the same spot where thousands of years ago ancient Britons deftly knapped the flints into slings, arrows, spears, and ax heads. Flint-knapping entails three distinct processes. First the rough flints, as dug from nearby pits, are quartered; next they are flaked into 6-inch strips and then cut into the desired shape. The flints are knapped into four sizes for fitting into the locks of muskets, carbines, horse pistols, and pocket pistols. They are shipped in barrels of 5,000. —Tit-Bits Magazine.

The Rotary Club

There is nothing secret about Rotary. Its constitution and by-laws can be obtained by anyone. Its aims and objects are to encourage and foster: The ideal of service as the basis of all worthy enterprise; high ethical standards in business and professions; the application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life; the development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations and the dignifying of each Rotarian by his occupation as an advancement to serve society; the advancement of understanding, good-will, and international peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

"Man's House Is His Castle"

Although the phrase, "A man's house is his castle," is perhaps of ancient origin, Sir Edward Coke, English jurist, is credited with having phrased the idea in the sense commonly used. "The house of everyone is to him as his castle and fortress, as well for his defense against injury and violence as for his repose," he ruled. Coke was born at Mileham, Norfolk, in 1552, and died in 1633. He was solicitor general in 1592, speaker of the house of commons in 1593, attorney general in 1594, chief justice of the common pleas in 1606, and chief justice of the king's bench in 1613.

Millions of Wise Americans Demand Kruschen Salts

Keep Cool With Kruschen

Just think of it: these new, better and different salts were only introduced into America a few years ago—yet a host of intelligent Americans are healthier and happier because of their supreme goodness.

Kruschen Salts are the daily health dose of millions of people the world over. Taken every morning during the hot weather, it helps keep the blood circulating, insuring greater comfort and protection against heat prostration.

One half teaspoon of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning gently but surely stimulates the liver, bowels and kidneys to healthy elimination.

But the six salts in Kruschen do more than cause regular elimination—the man or woman who takes them regularly need have no fear of poisons or acid polluting the system which is the cause of many annoying and depressing ills.

One bottle of Kruschen (lasts 4 weeks) will prove of vast benefit to people who have constipation, headaches, indigestion, nervousness, rheumatism, depression, acidity and auto-intoxication. Not only that but one bottle will bring about body activity—increased energy, vigor and ambition, sparkling eyes and freedom from pimples and blemishes—millions know all this—your ought to know it.

All Snugged Down!

LITTLE AMERICA, ANTARCTICA, April 9 (Via Mackay Radio)—And now Admiral Byrd is out there, 123 miles away in his 9 x 13 x 7 feet high shack under the snow, on his terrible, lonely vigil of more than six months and we are all packed down comfortably for the long Antarctic winter here at Little America.

The fierce South Polar winter is almost upon us. Already we have looked at the thermometer and found the figures "59 below zero" staring at us. We have only about four hours a day of sunlight. Yesterday the darkness came at one o'clock in the afternoon after one of these amazing Antarctic sunsets—simply incomparable for beauty.

On April 19, the sun will disappear completely and the leader of this expedition will be out there in that but all winter, for four months of which he will be in total darkness, with only candles for light. And outside his hut will rage the most violent weather known on this globe—blinding blizzards, wind screaming at 150 miles an hour—and 80 to 90 degrees below zero. It is one of the most amazing feats ever attempted. I am praying for him, that he will not get a sprained ankle or—well, any of the other terrible things that could happen to him. We expect to be in touch with him by radio at all times.

Here we have plenty to do preparing for the great exploits we hope to accomplish from next October to February. There is a never ending variety of work going on daily. Albert Ellifsen, of Tromsø, Norway, is building new dog sledges. Vernon Boyd, of Turtle Creek, Pa., is installing a wind-driven generator on top of a sixty-foot tower (and he'll have lots of wind to run it). Dr. Foulter, of Dunedin, N. Z., our leader here, is working all the time, mostly making cosmic ray observations. William C. Haines, our meteorologist from Washington, D. C., is constructing a weather observatory. Dr. Louis Potaka, our new New Zealand doctor, is arranging the sick bay (which is sailor-man talk for hospital). Ed Moody, of Tannworth, N. H., is making dog harness. Finn Ronne, from Pittsburgh, is showing his Norwegian skill in mending skis, (which I've learned to pronounce "sheez"). Clay Bailey, radio man, from sun-kissed Brawley, Calif., is tinkering with the electric generators so I can get these stories out to you people in the club better. Kenneth Hawson, our young Chicago navigator, is repairing and adjusting his instruments. The archeologist, Walter Lewisohn, of New York, one of our 13 scientists, is snapping everything in sight with a camera. Linwood Miller, of Highland Park, Ill., official sail maker, is repairing our wind proofs.

Lefoy Clark, from Cambridge, Mass., and his pal, Stephenson Corey, from Winchester, Mass., are digging boxes of food and clothing out of the snow and parking them properly. One of the boys from New Zealand, Bernard Fleming, is constructing a big new snow melter for our drinking and cooking water. Francis Dane, of Lexington, Mass., has the sweet job of cutting up seals for dog food, while his buddy, Alfonso Carbone, of Cambridge, Mass., our cook, works until midnight, every night, baking our bread, and the rest of the time cooking our other food. Bill McCormack, of Lansdowne, Pa., pilot of our Kellert Autogyro, is trying to keep that trusty and valuable machine from being buried completely in the snow. I am as busy as a bee preparing orange colored tanks of Tydol gasoline and Vedol motor oil for the automotive campaign beginning next October against the mysteries of this strange land and, in between, our regular jobs. Comdr. Noville, Capt. Innes-Taylor and I are constantly working to dig our swell new hut out of the snow.

No monotony, no heavy time on our hands. Lots of exercise, lots of health. Not a sickness germ within 2300 miles of us. It's a great life, no fooling!

Just got a radio from the club secretary that he has received a new supply of the beautiful big Grinnell maps which the club is sending, free, with membership cards, to everybody who joins the club, for which there is no charge whatever. To join one of the world's most interesting organizations, without obligation of any kind, simply send stamped, self-addressed envelope to C. A. Abels, Jr., president, Little America Aviation and Exploration Club, Hotel Lexington, New York, N. Y. and your membership card and map will be sent you promptly. Be sure you write your name and address plainly as I understand a number of our letters sent out to prospective members have been returned to us marked "not found."

OUR CEMENT PLANT

Mrs. Ruth Whittemore Describes It In Language That is "Something Different"

From 18 Longwood avenue, Old Orchard Beach there comes to the editorial desk, a story concerning the Thomaston cement plant, charmingly different from the prosaic style which the average news writer would employ. The author of this article is a former member of the Rockland High School faculty, Mrs. Ruth Whittemore, who has found diversion the past winter in a correspondence course of fiction writing.

The prosaic old mill and sober stacks (even if they are somewhat "elevated") will probably kick up their heels when they read this unusual and fanciful description, but it is a fine bit of literary endeavor, bound to interest everybody. Mrs. Whittemore's story follows:

Most industrial plants seem to have some special spirit or flavor, some aura or essence, which identifies them forever in the mind of anyone who has ever been associated with them. Examples will occur to everyone. A peculiar odor, a specific rhythm, or some atmospheric condition are among the commonest of such essential traits. In the cement industry, however it is none of these.

Inevitably the mind comes to associate cement making with the geologic ages represented by that third day of the first chapter of Genesis before man was. The impression one gathers, even after repeated visits to the plant is that forces greater than man are at work here. I do not know what effect the constant association of daily toil therein would have upon one and I do not doubt that the people who are employed there really work, but to the visitor's eye, it seems always as though the human beings in that place were all priests and acolytes who merely performed the temple services in the shrine of the great god Force.

My introduction to all this was a T joint of Cordeau Bickford, containing within its flexible lead tube an explosive 12 times as powerful as dynamite but much more stable in its composition. Then one day I saw the stuff in action. Men, expert in the ways of explosives, had stretched a long line of this lead tubing some 25 feet from the edge of the quarry, running along the ground like the propagating stem of some trailing vine, its roots imbedded in holes drilled in the rock at regular intervals and each containing a charge of dynamite.

We watched the men for a few minutes, then made our way to a safe vantage point on the opposite side of the quarry. From there we saw the dynamite experts finish the planting of the deadly vine, the safety guard stopping a passing motorist on the highway. Then, suddenly, with a thundering roar, the whole side of the ledge rolled forward like a great wave and broke, in a foam of dust, on the quarry floor, huge chunks of limestone rolling over and over like pebbles on a shingle beach, tossed about by a receding wave.

It is this mass of material that is fed into the crusher, which, in its last analysis, is nothing but a gargantuan nutcracker. The only moving part that is to be seen is a steel cone weighing 30 tons. It is suspended so that it weaves about like a man just a little under the weather. The motion is only about two inches but Oh, so powerful! Rocks that a team of horses could not move are cracked and splintered and crushed as if they were fragile glass.

This crushed limestone is the main ingredient in that endless stream of gray gruel known as "slurry" and the object of the gruel, or gravy, making is to obtain an even mix. Since the water has to be removed before the mixture can be fed into the kilns, enormous filters are used to extract it, the partly dried cake clumping off the filter disk like mud from the "wa-a-gon wh-e-e-l!" we have heard

NORTH WASHINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Faxon, son and daughter of Ipswich, Mass., arrived Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cunningham. Mr. Faxon returned to Massachusetts Sunday and Mrs. Faxon will visit at her old home for a week or two.

W. H. Grover is re-covering one side of the Evans house roof.

It was 22 above in this place Sunday morning. Some cold! The musical notes of the festive frog were not heard in the land. Even the song birds' notes were cold and indistinct, and the crow said ha, ha, very faintly.

Mrs. Granville Turner has a fine position in the dispensary at the M. I. Hospital, at Augusta.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cunningham and son Donald were business visitors in Augusta last Thursday.

Elbridge Lefest with his team was engaged last week in starting out cord-wood for Herbert Brand.

Samuel Kennedy and Lawrence Grover are cutting cord-wood on the Evans farm, lately bought by W. H. Grover. More men will be put on the job soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gates of the village, were callers Sunday on Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cunningham.

Earl Prescott met with the misfortune of losing a valuable horse last week, the cause of death unknown.

A merry party of young people searched the so-called Hannon Ledges Sunday and were rewarded by finding large and fine bunches of arbutus in full blossom. Yellow violets too, are giving evidence that spring is here.

"Why do you want your letters returned?" asked the girl who had broken the engagement. "Argued that I'll take them to court?" "No," sighed the young man, "but I paid to have these letters written by an expert, and I may use them again some day."—Christian Science Monitor.

Popularity Begins at Breakfast

Popular people are usually well people. They are the people who feel fine, who enjoy life, who see the bright side of things—and almost always you'll find that they are the people who eat right.

If you want to be popular, if you want to go places and do things, try Shredded Wheat with milk and fruit at least one meal a day.

Shredded Wheat is a most nourishing food—whole wheat, boiled and baked—in easily digested and delicious form. It contains the carbohydrates needed for energy; the proteins needed for tissue building; the mineral salts needed for bone structure; the vitamins that help you resist disease; and bran to keep you regular. Nature might have made a better food than wheat—but she didn't!

Shredded Wheat is mighty economical, too. Start it today and see if popularity doesn't depend on the way you feel!

GULF WINS MORE "HILL TESTS" THAN 32 GASOLINES COMBINED

A BORROWED FORD tests 12 competing gasolines on Muldrough Hill, near West Point, Ky., to see which gas can pull the car and 3500-lb. load farthest up hill in high gear.

there's more power in THAT GOOD GULF GASOLINE

Will your car have more power on any one gasoline? HERE'S YOUR ANSWER...

Gulf tested a total of 33 gasolines on famous American hills—12 hills in localities from Massachusetts to Georgia—and here is what they found...

The power of different gasolines varies widely! And of all 33 gasolines, Gulf is uniformly best. 7 out of 12 times, it propelled a car and load up mountain grades farther than any other gasoline tested!

It won more hill tests than 32 other gasolines combined! Prove it! Drive into a Gulf station, fill up, and test the power of That Good Gulf for yourself!

HOW 33 GASOLINES RANKED (IN ALL TESTS TO DATE)

All gasolines tested, except a few "third grade" brands, sold for approximately the same price as That Good Gulf. Each brand is denoted by a letter.

TEST	WINNER	2 ND PLACE	3 RD PLACE	4 TH PLACE	5 TH PLACE	6 TH PLACE	7 TH PLACE	8 TH PLACE	9 TH PLACE	10 TH PLACE	11 TH PLACE	12 TH PLACE	13 TH PLACE

"IT IS ALL MOOD"

Edna St. Vincent Millay Declares In Interview That She Must Wait For It

Edna St. Vincent Millay, the poet, recently arrived home, and the talk of all things... was about groceries.

"The Riviera is the most expensive place on earth," she confided as the President Roosevelt came up the bay.

"We thought it would be cheap, but groceries cost three times as much there as they do in America. Maybe I just didn't know how to manage. We had to pay $80 a month for a couple, the same as here, and they charged a commission on everything they bought. They insisted on buying all the supplies, and when we objected to the prices they just sat and stalked."

Miss Millay and her husband, Eugen Boissevain, spent two and a half months at Cap d'Antibes. They go to their home at Austerlitz in the Berkshire, Miss Millay with a growing sheaf of poems for a new book. "I can write anywhere," she said. "But not any time... I can't sit down and just write, I must wait for the mood. No, the sea is no particular inspiration for me. It is all mood."

A HUMAN MICROSCOPE

How would you like to have a microscopic eye? A 25-year-old chap in Maine, Alvah Mason, possesses eyes which magnify objects 100 times. He can see the pores in the skin or pick out photograph records by the differences in the depressions made in the disk. The path of the needle looks as large to him as a finger track in the mud would look to normal eyes. In order to see clearly he is compelled to wear de-magnifying glasses to make objects appear smaller.

Senter Crane Company

Rockland, Maine

Our Eighth Birthday Sale

STARTS NEXT SATURDAY, MAY 5th at 9:00 O'CLOCK

This is the outstanding selling event of our store year; it's perfectly natural and right that we should remember the opening of the Senter Crane Company in 1926 by a big annual sale of this kind.

Someone has said that Anniversary Sales are artificial . . . that they don't ring true. This may be so in some cases, but not in our own case—here at Senter Crane's . . . they stimulate us . . . they give us a new fire and enthusiasm . . . and anything that fires the imagination and gives added impetus to efforts is a good thing for us and for you.

Our ANNIVERSARY SALE is our annual spurt to forward the prestige of Senter Crane's . . . the whole staff is asked to outdo itself . . . helping to quicken the pulse of the whole store to make the event a success.

Of one thing you may be certain . . . we get a lot of fun and excitement out of our Birthday Sales, but the real benefits are yours . . . it's your sale! It is designed to save you money . . . but naturally we never feel badly about the new friends we make.

SO WE CELEBRATE SATURDAY, MAY 5th - - A STORE WIDE SALE
