HINDENBERG DEAD

President Von Hindenberg of Germany died this morning, at the age of 86 years. Adolf Hitler immediately became President. All Europe, in fact all the world, is anxiously watching to see what may develop.

YOU MIGHT TRY IT

The belief that porcupines shoot quills is a fallacy says the Pathfinder. When the porcupine becomes excited or is attacked the quills or spines become erect. Of course if another animal comes in direct contact with the spines some of them are apt to become imbedded in its flesh.

ONE YEAR AGO

From the files of The Courier-Gazette we learn that:—

Electrical storms furnished the Central Maine crew much work. About $5000 damage was done. At North Waldoboro Alvin L. Mank's buildings were destroyed.

The "Human Fly" was doing daredevil stunts in this city.

A diamond ring and other valuables were stolen from Dr. F. O. Bartlett's residence.

Mrs. Wilder W. Perry, 80, died in Camden.

William E. Parker of Easthampton, Mass. and Miss Ervilia A. Stoddard were wedded at the Stoddard home on Grove street.

STATE FIELD MEET

Nature Lovers and Scientists
To Be At Knox Arboretum
August 15

The 14th annual State field meeting of the Knox Academy of Arts and Sciences will be held at Knox Arboretum, Oyster River (near Thomaston) Wednesday, Aug. 15. If the weather is stormy the meeting will be held the first pleasant day following. Those who are planning to attend are reminded that there is bus service from Rockland to Thomaston, where taxi service will be available for the completion of the trip.

The following program, based on standard time, has been arranged:
10 a. m.—Inspecting the grounds.
12 Noon—Picnic lunch.
1 p. m.—Address of welcome, Frank A. Winslow, City Editor of The Courier-Gazette.

Response—Erle B. Renwick, assistant director Maine State Planning Board, Augusta.

The Sea Birds of Maine, Howard L. Mendall, University of Maine.

A Talk on Zoology, Charles E. Packard, assistant professor of zoology, University of Maine.

PAGE THE BUDGET DIRECTOR

According to the United States system of numeration (which follows the Arabic) a million is a thousand times a thousand and each higher denomination is a thousand times the preceding one. Millions, billions, trillions, quadrillions, quintillions, sextillions, septillions, octillions, nonillions, decillions, undecillions, duodecillions, tredecillions, quatuordecillions, quinquedecillions are the first 15 denominations, respectively, after thousands. A quinquedecillion would be the figure one (1) followed by 48 ciphers.

THE PASSION PLAY

To Be Presented In Motion Pictures At Methodist Church Sunday Night

"The Passion Play," or "Life of Christ," is a treasured heritage of the ages, to all Christian people. The dramatic versions, given periodically, in Europe, at Oberammergau, and Freiburg, are visited by hundreds of thousands of Christian people, from all sections of the world.

The public of Rockland is to be given the rare opportunity of seeing the new and world famous "Passion Play" motion picture film, produced in Europe, The Holy Land, and Egypt, with special recorded organ, orchestral and choral music, depicting many famous scenes of the Life, Crucifixion, and Resurrection of Jesus, at Pratt Memorial Methodist Church, Sunday evening at 8 p. m. and admission tickets are not necessary. A silver offering will be taken. Accompanying this wonderful film, in person, will be Rev. Laurence A. Lambert, eminent speaker and baritone soloist of New York.

THE AYRSHIRE BREEDERS

To Hold Picnic In Lewiston Aug. 11—Latest Development To Be Discussed

Ayrshire cattle breeders of Maine and their friends are planning a picnic, Aug. 11 at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hodgkins in Lewiston. A program of unusual interest has been arranged, which includes a judging demonstration and discussion of Ayrshire topics of interest, led by a representative of the National Ayrshire Breeders' Association with headquarters at Brandon, Vermont.

The latest developments in breeding Ayrshire cattle, and the methods being followed by leading Ayrshire breeders in improving their herds will be discussed. A feature of the program is a demonstration of the methods followed by experts in selecting good Ayrshire dairy cows.

The Ayrshire which is steadily gaining in popularity in Maine, is noted for its beautiful type, shapely udder and heavy production of 4% milk. The Ayrshire was developed in County Ayr, Scotland, and is red and white in color.

A NAVAL VISITOR

Rear Admiral N. E. Irwin Here Yesterday Recalled Visit In U.S.S. Oklahoma

An interesting visitor in the city yesterday was Rear Admiral N. E. Irwin, U.S.N. (retired) who stopped off at this port to meet Commander Douglas W. Fuller, U.S.N. (retired). Both officers have served very recently in the Panama Canal Zone, and it was there they formed an intimate acquaintance.

Admiral Irwin, who entered the Naval Academy from Ohio in the class of 1891 has had an active and interesting Naval career. Back in 1921 he was in command of the battleship Oklahoma, which had been ordered here to participate in Rockland's Fourth of July celebration. Looking through The Courier-Gazette files yesterday he recalled many pleasant incidents of his stay, and the 13 ensuing years rolled away as by magic. The late Reuben S. Thorndike was mayor of the city at the time, and Rockland's hospitality was extended in every possible way. It was returned in kind by Admiral (then Captain) Irwin.

Completing his sea duty Captain Irwin was detached to duty as commandant of the Portsmouth Navy Yard. From 1923 to 1925 he was on duty at Panama Canal, and from there took command of the 42 destroyers composing the Atlantic Scouting Fleet. His flagship was the light cruiser Concord. Completing this duty he was chief of the Naval Mission at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil for three years, and was then ordered back to Panama Canal for his final duty before retiring.

Admiral Irwin's home at the present time is wherever he chances to be. Just now he is headed down east looking up some friends. He is the picture of robust manhood and appears to be enjoying life fully as much as though he was pacing the quarter deck.

Why should I make the Boston Globe my Boston newspaper? Because it is a complete newspaper, made up for all the members of the family.

A REAL ROMANCE

Marked the Closing Days of the Late Cyrus H. K. Curtis and Wife

An amazing story of the fictional love of the late Cyrus Curtis and his wife, and of the almost melodramatic circumstances of her death, has just come to light, writes Elliott Norton in the Boston Post. The facts are from intimate friends.

Curtis, a Portland Me., boy, who rose from obscurity to become one of the world's richest and most noted publishers, was married twice. His first wife died in February, 1910, and he was married again six months later. The second wife was the former Mrs. Kate Pillsbury, a cousin.

The famous publisher was 59 years old at the time of this second marriage, past the age generally associated with romance. Mrs. Curtis was a little younger. Yet there was an affection between this couple as intense and beautiful as anything out of romantic fiction.

It was a habit of Mr. Curtis to carry with him at all times a photograph, or several photographs, of his wife. With friends he would fumble about his papers, pretend he was looking for something, then remark casually:

"Oh, by the way here's a new picture I have of Kate!" Whereupon he would display the photograph, with the sort of romantic pride rarely found in a man of his age. He was constantly having pictures of her made, pictures that he might thus proudly display for the admiration of his friends.

In May, 1932, the publisher was stricken with heart trouble while aboard his yacht, the Lyndonia. He was rushed to Philadelphia to the Jefferson Hospital.

His wife, so deep was the bond that united them, refused to leave him. She insisted on a room in the hospital next to his. From the time of his confinement she spent every permissible moment at his bedside, comforting him, ministering to him, doing even little things that his private nurses might have done.

Five days after he was admitted he was apparently feeling better. The hospital officials let her sit up with him a little later that night. The pair sat up together, talking of the things that most concerned them, rejoicing that he—at the age of 81—was apparently going to get well again.

She kissed him goodnight, and went to her room. Half an hour later a nurse delivered a note to her. It was from her husband. It was an amazing note, tender, vibrant with love.

He wrote, in telling: "I couldn't sleep without feeling you again how much I love you. Our love is real love. Young people don't really know what love means."

Mrs. Curtis was so affected by the beautiful message that she got up and dressed and again went in to see him. In great happiness they finally parted for the night with a kiss. She went back to her room.

In the morning when they went to her room she seemed to sleep as one who had seen a beautiful vision. Her lips were parted in a radiant smile. She had died in her sleep of a heart attack.

The publisher, shocked beyond recovery, followed her to the grave within a few months, completely broken.

AT DARK HARBOR

Some Arrivals Noted—Popular Yacht Races Will Begin Soon

Recent arrivals at Dark Harbor have included Mrs. R. B. Potts and two daughters, from New York, who are established at the Auchincloss cottage.

Miss Ruth Draper, world celebrated monologist, who has been abroad recently, has arrived at her cottage, and is entertaining guests.

Mrs. Charles R. Leonard of New York, and family are at the Hadden house.

Mrs. John Turner Atterbury and Dr. and Mrs. Maitland Alexander have been established here for some time.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Jessup of New York, and Allison Flegg and two children and governess of New York are expected soon at the Philler cottage, where they have reservations.

The Anderson wedding, which was scheduled as a big midsummer event at Dark Harbor, has been called off on account of illness in the family, and it is not expected that they will be at the resort at all.

So far there has been little activity, but it is expected that the popular yacht races will start a little later.

INVADING WOODSMEN
Representative Moran Kicked Against Importing Canadians—Department's Answer

Woodsmen from Canada who did not find a cordial welcome if they come into this country seeking employment, Representative Moran was assured yesterday. He had filed protests with the U. S. Department of Labor, and received a reply from I. F. Wilson, deputy commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Mr. Wilson wrote:

"No applications for the importation of woodsmen from Canada have been granted during the current year, and it is expected that a thorough investigation will be conducted and definite evidence required as to the need for such importations before applications of the nature under discussion will be acted upon favorably."

THE CARNIVAL-REGATTA

Rockport Has Exceeded All Its Previous Notable Successes In Next Week's Program

On August 9, 10th and 11th, occurs the ninth annual Carnival-Regatta at Rockport. All the activities of this project will take place on the waterfront property recently beautified by Mrs. Mary Louise Bok.

The aims of the Carnival-Regatta are distinctly charitable, being sponsored by the Senior Class of the Rockport High School and the Rockport High School Alumni Association. The proceeds help to defray the expense of the Senior Class every spring on an educational trip to Washington, D. C., and to increase the Alumni Educational Fund which aids worthy Alumni of Rockport High School in obtaining further training in higher educational branches.

Invitations have been extended to every boy's and girl's summer camp in the State of Maine to send a group of campers to participate to the aquatic sports which includes canoeing, swimming, and diving. Last year there were representatives of twenty camps present and this year the committee looks forward to a much larger delegation. In addition to this every service Club and American Legion Post in the State of Maine has been requested to select youthful athletes to represent their cities in these events and to sponsor their participation.

The Regatta activities include a sailing race of the Shark Boats. These boats of which there are nineteen, are of Finnish construction, alike in every detail. They will race out of Rockport Harbor on Friday afternoon.

On Saturday afternoon takes place the Outboard Motor Races including events for classes A, B, and C, plus a Free-For-All. There will also be a unique and novel boat parade under the direction of an active member of Rockport's summer colony.

The entertainment for the three days consists of acrobatic and tap dancing and many musical features. A kiddie parade is scheduled for Friday afternoon and a street parade for Thursday evening. The feature act on the program is the nightly appearance of the sensational Meredith, R.K.O. vaudeville star, who will perform on the trapeze and do other acrobatic stunts 75 feet in the air. Friday evening there will be a band concert and also a grand display of fireworks.

For each of the three evenings there will be donated a prize, which will be awarded to the holder of an admission ticket. The prizes consist of a Hot Point Electric Range, an Apex Washing Machine, and a Frigidaire Electric Refrigerator. In addition to these prizes, trophies, medals, and cups will be awarded to the winners in the various athletic events and the sail and outboard races.

The Carnival-Regatta is fortunate this year in having the United States cruiser, Salt Lake City, one of the new type of fighting craft, detailed by the Navy Department to the harbor for the duration of the Carnival. Entertainment of various types has been arranged for the officers and crew of this ship. Her baseball team will meet teams from Camden and Rockport.

The Carnival end of the project consists of a midway, a merry-go-round, and a Ferris wheel. Along the midway will be many booths, where merchants will have displays and where games of skill and strength may be participated in.

A feature of this year's Carnival-Regatta will be the presence of the Honorable Louis J. Brann, who will give a welcome to the competitors in the Thursday afternoon events as well as an address Thursday evening, at which time he will be introduced by Congressman Edward C. Moran, Jr.

THOMASTON LEGION

Williams-Brazier Post Will Benefit From Tuesday's Play

Miss Edith Speare, who has arrived from New York to play the role of Alice in "Gram" Tuesday night at Watts Hall, Thomaston, is a talented actress of great experience. Last season she appeared in Miss Bushnell's play "I, Myself" in New York; and this fall she will be seen on Broadway in the same role in "Gram" that she will portray here Aug. 7. While here Miss Speare is the house guest of Miss Bushnell and Mr. Bradford.

The cast of "Gram" will now be headed by four professionals, Adele Bushnell, Marshall Bradford, Edith Speare and Anne Frolick. The remainder of the cast includes the local favorites, Ralph Chesley, Thomas R. McPhail, Isabelle Kirkpatrick, Fred Libby, Harry Stewart and Walter Conlon; the new members being Kay Turner, Herbert Lewis, Charles Perry and Oliver Ingraham. "Gram" is being given under the auspices of the Williams-Brazier Post of the American Legion. Curtain will be at 8:30. Seats are 40 cents and will be checked at McDonald's Drug Store in Thomaston beginning Saturday, Aug. 4th—adv.

LINCOLN CO. "GRADS"

Making Plans Now To Attend U. of M. Annual Alumni Meetings

The Lincoln County University of Maine Alumni Association will hold its second annual meeting and out-going Saturday, Aug. 18, in Boothbay Harbor. According to announcement just made by B. West Lewis 16 chairman of committee on arrangements. All University of Maine alumni whose regular or summer homes are in Lincoln County are being invited.

George O. Hamlin, a graduate of the University in the class of 1899, and Mrs. Hamlin have invited the Association to meet at their attractive summer home, "Te Whare," located in the Sprucewood section of the town and to have alumni as their guests on this occasion. The meeting last year was held also at the Hamlin home and was attended by nearly 60 alumni, undergraduates, and friends.

In addition to alumni, an invitation is extended to undergraduates of the University whose homes are in Lincoln County and to those boys and girls in this section who have already been admitted to or made application for admission to the University this fall.

Committee members in charge of arranging this event in addition to Mr. Lewis are: Thomas Gay 25, Newcastle; Edna Bailey 30, Wiscasset; and Steven Mank 31, Waldoboro.

TENANT'S HARBOR LIBRARY

Building Donated By Mrs. MacKenzie and Mrs. Aldrich To Be Ready Sept. 1

The statement in the Tenant's Harbor news that Mrs. R. J. MacKenzie had donated the building to be used for a public library did only half justice to the situation. Associated with Mrs. MacKenzie in this philanthropic act was Mrs. Talbot Aldrich. The building has already been moved to a site opposite the post-office and will be at once remodeled to suit the desired purpose. The proposed library will be open to patrons about Sept. 1st, and will be dedicated to the memory of Mary Elmer Jackson who died last November.

GUESTS OF STATE

Three-Quarter Century Club To Meet In Augusta Friday, August 17

Gov. Brann has very kindly and generously invited the 13,000 members of the famous Maine Three-Quarter Century Club to hold their tenth annual meeting in Augusta Friday, Aug. 17th in conjunction with "Summer Visitors' Day." Without doubt, a large representation of the "girls and boys" will be present to listen to the bands, greet old friends, enter the contests, and enjoy the programs. The morning session is devoted entirely to the Three-Quarter Century Club. The meeting will be called to order promptly at 10:30 daylight, by Mrs. Emma Gannett, the efficient president of the Club, and the first woman to occupy the chair. Mrs. Gannett promises her constituency a program brimming over with wit and wisdom.

The usual contests will be conducted "on the side"—horseshoe pitching for the barnyard golf followers; checkers for those who enjoy that game. (Incidentally it has been recently reported that a crowd from Portland is working over time practicing for this event) knitting for the ladies of the party; and fiddling contest for those who handle the bow. Those members interested in the essay contest have for their subject, "What more can we do to make a success of our meetings?"

This topic was suggested by Mrs. Gannett, and doubtless many constructive ideas will be advanced as to the set-up of future sessions. The essays must be received at the office of the Maine Public Health Association by midnight of Aug. 14.

At 12:30 there will be an intermission for luncheon. The members will, as usual, take a picnic lunch. Coffee, with cream and sugar, will be furnished by the committee in charge of the day.

During the afternoon the Three-Quarter Century Club members will be special guests of the State and of Gov. Brann at the Visitors' Day program which is now being arranged. This—the tenth annual meeting of the Club, will prove a red-letter occasion in its organized. The Club was originally organized by the Maine Public Health Association in 1925, and met for the first time in Augusta.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM
If I had my life to live again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

THE SOUND OF THE SEA
The sea awoke at midnight from its sleep. And round the pebbly beaches far and wide I heard the first wave of the rising tide. Rush onward with uninterrupted sweep: A voice out of the silence of the deep. A sound mysteriously multiplied. As of a cataract from the mountain's side. Or roar of winds upon a wooded steep. So come to us at times, from the unknown. And inaccessible solitudes of being. The rushing of the sea-tides of the soul: And inspirations, that we deem our own. Are some divine foreshadowing and fore-sense. Of things beyond our reason or control. —Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

THE BOYS AND GIRLS CAMPS

The Boys and Girls camp property in Maine is valued at over $25,000,000. The Maine Development Commission tells us, and it adds that there are 183 of these camps in the state. To them come each year 13,000 boys and girls from almost every State in the union. These camps employ 3000 counselors and pay them annually $444,000 in wages. The other help such as cooks, caretakers, guides, etc. total 2100 and receive $510,000 in wages. These camp owners pay taxes to the towns of Maine, on an assessment of over $7,000,000. They buy from the Maine farmer $499,000 worth of farm produce.

The boys and girls camps in Maine are of unusually high grade. Some of the finest to be found in the country are located right here in Knox County, and we are proud of them. The camp directors compliment very highly the work of the state health department. They say that the regulations and standards maintained by the department are much higher than in other States. Because of these high standards, the ideal locations, the fine climate and the absence of poisonous snakes and insects, Maine is a summer paradise for boys and girls. Due to these facts the possibilities for future development are great.

These camps will have a larger enrollment this year than for the past three years. It will exceed last year by 15 to 20 percent.

COL. LINDBERGH'S ENEMY

Old Man Fog Forces Him Down At Brunswick, But Cows Were Saved

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was forced down in a fog at Brunswick Tuesday, bringing his plane to rest in an emergency landing field after the owner and his hired man had driven several cows away, and had then borrowed an automobile to speed on to New Jersey.

Col. Lindbergh encountered a particularly dense fog when he arrived over Brunswick, and he tried to make Portland, but was forced back.

Finally he spotted the landing field, and started to descend. As his plane dipped, he saw the cattle and circled the animals several times to avoid hitting any of them.

When David Douglas the owner saw the plane darting about in the endeavor to land he and the hired man went out and drove the cattle to another part of the field and the famous flier came down.

Col. Lindbergh continued his journey, while Douglas erected a barbed-wire barrier about the plane, so that the cattle could not get near it and damage it.

THE WALDOBORO SCRAP

A goodly number of fight fans saw last night's boxing exhibition, promoted by John Gustin. Here briefly are the results:

Main bout, Al Parent won over Walter Reynolds by a technical knockout in the fourth round.

Semi-final, K. O. Katy of Augusta knocked out Art Picard of Bangor. Preliminaries: Kid Knickerbocker and Baby Dempsey drew; Kenneth Stevenson knocked out K. O. Merrill; Baby Dempsey and Jimmie Renie drew.

Residents of Ward 3, long suffering neighbors of the odoriferous city dump, received their first almost unbearable barrage of assorted and virulent stench in the small hours of early morning low tides and east winds Monday and Tuesday. A distraught delegation waited on the Mayor in quest of relief, though not too hopefully. To their happy surprise Mayor Thurston, Commissioner Edwards, Alderman Lovejoy and others visited Sullivan's flats and soon after the city trucks were hauling lime to the area. The lime treatment has proven effective before and, though only a temporary expedient, will make the air breathable. Meanwhile Mayor Thurston asks all citizens to send him any suggestions as to improving the situation and Alderman Lovejoy has written the State Department of Sanitation for suggestions and corrective information.

Another large turnout of Lions yesterday to greet Judge E. K. Gould who described in an exceedingly interesting manner his recent trip to San Francisco where he attended the triennial convocation of the Knights Templar. The round trip occupied 24 days and covered 12,500 miles. The Lions were so much pleased with the talk that they engaged Judge Gould to tell two weeks hence of his return trip. They will be interested to know that Judge Gould has promised The Courier-Gazette a series of travel articles on the San Francisco trip, which will contain much additional information, but which will not begin until after his second lecture. Three members of the Camden-Rockport Club—George W. Dyer, Leon O. Crockett and David Crockett—were present yesterday; also Dr. A. H. Chase of the Boston Club.

Walter Mills, gifted New York baritone, who has been heard with so much pleasure in joint recitals with Harriet Ware, composer-pianist, in Rockland and vicinity during the past two weeks, and who has been at Whitehall Inn, left Wednesday for New York where he has an important audition Friday. Mr. Mills' mother, Mrs. Lily Mills, and her friend Mrs. Emma Bradlee, are remaining at the Inn for the month of August, and will be joined early in September by Mr. Mills returning from an European cruise. Mr. Mills anticipates an active season, the early part of it already solidly booked.

Down The Fairways

(By J. F.)

The Rockland Country Club played Waterville Sunday in its first match of the year and won 12-8. Fourteen players participated for each team. It was a hot afternoon but the excellent fairways and the good putting surfaces made up for the torridity of the day. After the match a lunch was served in the clubhouse, and the sandwiches, cake and coffee supplied by the wives of the players met with hearty approval from all sides.

The summary of the matches follows: Homer Robinson and Dr. Foss lost a close battle to H. N. Ervin and R. Winslow of Waterville. Winslow, Dr. Foss' opponent was a prodigious driver and nearly drove the first green both times. However, the doctor's approaching and putting held Winslow to a one up victory.

"Link" McCabe and "Beagle" Glendinning swept all three points from their rivals. F. E. Toulouse and E. E. Blair. Our general president shot a 78 and his match was never in doubt. Link scored an easy victory and strange to say, played rather a "silent" game.

Newell Vaughan and Stillman Kelley garnered three points for the home club also. Newell shot a sizzling 72 and won by 8-7 from W. Blair. Stillman's match was a nip-and-tuck affair, but he managed to eke out a one up victory from J. Young on the home green.

Art Flanagan and Al Emery were overcome by R. Moore and R. Lemieux 2½-1½. Art halved his match; Al lost his 2-1; and the best ball found the home boys' one down, Emery missing a ten footer on the 18th for birdie and a half. Flanagan and Moore staged a long-driving contest with the honors fairly even. Two hundred and sixty yards from the tee meant nothing to those boys. Moore had a 76, Flanagan and Lemieux had 77s, and Emery shot a 78.

Bill Wood and Ran Marshall also made three points for the club. Their opponents did not get the lay of the land until the Rockland boys had made a good start and then Ran and Bill were too far ahead to be overhauled. All the boys in this foursome were seeking the ball from the tees.

Hervy Allen and "Ruddy" Gilley had a fine match with their rivals J. A. Davidson and E. Young, but the opposition proved a little too strong and won by 2½-1½. Gil got going the second time and halved his match.

A. C. Jones and D. S. Stewart battled it out in a two some, and all had too many D.T.M. (Down the middle) shots for his opponent to overcome.

Our stalwart pro, "J. F." put the finishing touches to the afternoon's play by polishing off Harlan Gilman, Waterville's pro, by the tune of 7-6. Jimmy shot a 72 and admitted he was a bit off his game. Oh, yeah!

The Rotary and Forty Club played their first golf match at the Country Club Thursday with the result being 9½ to 8½ in favor of the Rotary Club. President W. Glendinning of the Forty Club and H. Robinson, who captains the Rotary Club, played neck and neck to the last hole. Glendinning dropping a long putt to take the match.

This was the first of three matches to be held at the Country Club this year. And by the looks of things it seems as though the next two matches are bound to be hot.

The ladies' handicap tourney will take place in the near future. All ladies wanting to participate leave your names at the golf shop.

Collegians and Texacos Combine In Twilight League—Recent Games

This Week's Twilight
Tonight—Camden vs. Thomaston at Community Park.
Friday—Waldoboro at St. George.
Saturday—Open.

Tonight's game between Camden and Thomaston ought to draw many fans to Community Park. Camden, with Bennett in the box, is a real threat, and Thomaston, with its new Hartford accessories is going very strong.

Fog Stops Camden Game
The late arrival of the St. George team and the early arrival of the fog nullified Tuesday night's Twilight League game at Camden and after four innings had been played Umpire Talbot dismissed school. St. George was leading 7 to 2, and the debacle was a bit tough on that team, which however has nobody to blame but itself.

Westberg was in the box for St. George and only three hits were made off him. Meantime the visitors had collected five off Greenlaw, including Westberg's terrific clout which carried the ball (rolling) away over back of the High School building. Fowler was still chasing the ball at last accounts. Three smart double plays were pulled off by the four innings.

Everett 6, Collegians 1

The Knox County Collegians were off their feed last night, and made rather a sorry showing against the James A. Roche team of Everett. Mass. Johnson, who pitched for the visitors, was not nearly as formidable as most of the opposing pitchers have been, but the Collegians' heavy artillery was using blank cartridges, and popped up a series of easily caught flies.

At the same time the Collegians were giving very loose support to Walker—mainly errors of omission rather than commission. While the Thomaston hurler was found for 12 hits, many of them were very scratchy, and it is also a fact that he only passed one man, while fanning 12.

The visitors had a crack third baseman in Arnold, who made an amazing foul catch, and contributed one quarter of his team's hits. Brewer played his usual sterling game for Rockland, and Gray's two-bagger was another of the few bright spots to be found on the Collegians' side.

The antics of two small dogs in front of the third base bleachers sort of recompensed the fans for their chagrin. The score:

POSTMASTER, OR POSTMISTRESS

As used by the government the word postmaster embraces both men and women but the term postmistress is most likely to be used whenever the public refers to a female incumbent of that office. Either title is correct.

VOX'S NEW EDITOR

G. L. Leavitt Succeeds
Archie L'Italien—Sporting
Events Emphasized

The current issue of "Vox," the State Prison newspaper finds a new editor-in-chief at the helm—G. L. Leavitt. In this role he succeeds Archie L'Italien whose recent attempt at escape resulted disastrously for him. L'Italien had been the editor since this paper was started three years ago this month, and the fact that he has fallen from grace does not nullify the fact that he also produced a surprisingly good publication in view of the Prison's handicapped resources for this purpose.

The new editor, Mr. Leavitt, has been one of the most prolific contributors to Vox, and has done some meritorious work with the pen.

The August issue is very largely devoted to sports, with baseball and boxing featured. The Prison team, known as the "Varsity," has won three recent victories, defeating Fairfield 6 to 2, Sabattus 17 to 6, and Appleton 6 to 2.

The boxing bouts, with the Rev. Fred Flynn, Henderson and Young as judges, and O'Donnell and Marquis as referees resulted thus: K. O. Eastman and Cowboy Miller, a draw; Sluggo Roy given verdict over "One Punch" Safford; "Sunshine" Bennett verdict over Kid Leggo; Pollock the "Nod" over Swede Jensen; "Flash" Chase decision over Kid Archibald; Kid Leo "took the measure" of Kid Curran; Snookie Bauer no match for Kit Mitchell; "Moose-Pace" Cote and Kid Tann a draw. "Cowboy" Miller proved the most versatile athlete in the field events.

WHAT IS PASTEURIZED MILK?

Pasteurization is the treatment or process devised by the French scientist, Louis Pasteur, which checks the fermentation of milk and certain other fluids by exposing them to certain temperatures. Pasteurized milk says the Pathfinder is normal milk which has been heated to a temperature of about 145 degrees and kept at that temperature for about 30 minutes to kill the various bacteria which may be present.

An Appreciation

Through the columns of The Courier-Gazette I wish to express my personal appreciation of the fine public reception given our new store, of the many kind words and of the generous patronage. I would also at this time thank the store staff for loyalty and unstinted co-operation during the difficult days of transfer.

STRAND THEATRE

Cashell Hammett's latest and greatest detective mystery, "The Thin Man," will come Friday and Saturday. And the best of the screen detectives, William Powell, plays the leading role, with lovely Myrna Loy as his leading lady.

The story is Nick Charles' story—of a retired detective who is deprived of a pleasure trip to New York on his wealthy wife's money by three baffling murders which he is called upon to solve. Myrna Loy, as Nora Charles, the wife, for the second time in her life plays a comedy role to perfection, proving that she is one of the most versatile actresses in the picture. Maureen O'Sullivan heads the supporting cast in the role of Dorothy. Minna Gombell, usually seen in comedy, goes dramatic for her emotional role as Mimmi, the lying and lecherous former wife of the "Thin Man," and Nat Pendleton, heretofore seen in underworld characters, also "changes his spots" to be a police officer in the picture.

King Solomon's Temple Chapter has a meeting tonight.
Local thunderstorms prophesied for tomorrow. We're not skipping much this summer.

Maurice B. Perry is in Pennsylvania giving the coal region the once over, and looking up some of his business connections.

Tuesday night's thunderstorm played havoc at the home of H. P. Bickmore, Center street, the lightning coming in on the aerial and putting the radio out of commission, blackening the adjacent wall and the curtains, and filling the room with smoke.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Brooks were in Portland Tuesday to attend the funeral of the late Rev. Dr. D. H. Holt, one of the outstanding Methodist leaders of this State for the past 50 years. The services, which were largely attended, were held in the Chestnut Street Methodist Church.

Word has reached the municipal authorities that the first load of "co-operative fish" the new relief project, will be collected at 5 o'clock Friday night at the Public Landing. Collection hours will be announced as time goes on and the Public Landing will be the collection place, at least for the present.

Henry E. Clukey, Maine's premier reisman, left yesterday for Rockland with a string of six flyers, and turf fans will be eagerly scanning the racing news to see what results will obtain. In the Clukey string are Billy Strathmore, The Outlook, Dr. Hanover, Peter Pokey, Volunteer and Jane Express. Some good stuff in that bunch.

THE LOBSTERMEN'S CODE

The NRA acting upon the application of lobster fishermen for a code of their own, has set a hearing for Aug. 17 at Rockland, according to advice to date received from Deputy Administrator R. H. Fiedler, who will be in charge.

While Recorder Otis was delving in his garden the other day he found something besides weeds—a coin or token which bore the date of 1777, and had inscribed indicative of some sort of affiliation with the Thirteen Colonies. Ensign refused to be disturbed by the suggestion that perhaps Capt. Kidd planted things in that garden before he died.

The 30 children from this city who attended the summer camp at Christmas Cove for 11 days, have returned. Captain Brown of the Salvation Army expresses his thanks to the Rotary and Lions Club members who so kindly furnished transportation. It goes without saying that the young folks enjoyed the outing immensely.

A Cassman appeared in Municipal Court yesterday claiming that when Mrs. Annie Kimball left his employ some weeks ago certain articles vanished from his stock. Officers with a search warrant visited Mrs. Kimball's home but all they could find was a cheap blue dress which she said belonged to her. Recorder Otis promptly dismissed the charge.

The annual drive for funds will be started Aug. 11 by the local Salvation Army and will be concluded Aug. 25. The public recognizes the importance of the work done by the Army and realizes the extra burdens it is called upon to carry during these strenuous days, hence a generous co-operation will undoubtedly be forthcoming. Full details of the drive will be carried next issue.

Nine members of the Bean Barrel Club had a scallop-fest at James Hamrahan's cottage, Cooper's Beach Tuesday night. Capt. Bill Teel caught the scallops, built the fire, and made the stew, but it is doubtful if he ever catered to nine such appetites. Earle Ludwick was said to have the record, but this is the season of political canards, so maybe he only ate four bowlfuls. Woodbury Snow was shingled from the bathtub, report says.

President Warren G. Harding died 11 years ago today.

Those who were awakened by the electrical storm yesterday morning kind of felt that the racket was being a little overdone.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Brooks and family are on their vacation. Mr. Brooks' pulpit will be occupied by guest preachers each Sunday morning during the month of August.

The Crescent Beach Association will have its annual picnic Sunday on the little island. President Henry Howard is in charge and everybody on the beach is asked to attend. A picnic dinner will be served, and coffee will be provided.

The annual summer concert of the Warren Baptist Church, under the direction of Chester Wyllie, popular tenor, will take place Aug. 16. Several of the Rockland singers are lending their efforts in the chorus numbers, and some will be featured as solo artists in the program. Mr. Wyllie has called a rehearsal for Friday evening.

"Rose Cliffs," the attractive summer home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lawrence on Beech street, is being thrown open this afternoon and evening for a lawn party and supper under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church. Supper will be served from 5 to 7, and Mrs. Ida Simmons is acting as general chairman of the activity.

THE PRISON REPORT

Gov. Brann's recommendations, made as the result of last week's State Prison investigation, are expected to be in the hands of the Executive Council sometime today. The Associated Press despatches in the morning newspapers say that "at least two of the executive body are dissatisfied with conditions," and quote Councillor Carleton of Woolwich as being ready to vote to oust Warden Thurston, but advises received by The Courier-Gazette are that at least five and possibly six of the members will stand behind him.

Thursday Aug. 9 at 2:30 p. m. at Ingraham Hill chapel Mrs. Stephen A. Harboush who is the wife of the Galilean lecturer will give an informal talk on her recent tour of the Holy Lands. Mrs. Harboush will appear in Palestinian costume and illustrate her talk with views and curios from Bethlehem, Jerusalem and Damascus. The Harvie family will furnish music and a benefit collection will be taken.

Selectmen John Crockett and George Young of North Haven were in the city yesterday in consultation with R. E. Mullaney, an E.R.A. engineer, regarding the grant of $1800 recently awarded to the North Haven Water Company. Also present at the conference was the company's engineer, Hiram Farrow. It was announced at the conclusion that work on the new water projects will begin in September.

Tenants Harbor Days

The following is from "Town Talk" once published in our native village: "Two of the most popular young folks in the village launched their bark on the sea of matrimony with a fair wind, all sail set and everything drawing on the evening of Thursday, Aug. 7, 1884. At one bell in the evening watch, the pilot came on board and the crew came aft and sang this chanty:

The old single days were jolly,
When we could do as we please,
And the tails of our old cut-aways
Were flapping in the breeze.
Now we'll say goodbye to all the boys
And the pretty girls on shore,
For we're bound out to a foreign port
Where we never sailed before.

But what is this? What thing of sea
Or land?
Femals of the sex it seems.
That so bedecked, ornate and gay,
Like a stately ship
Of Tartan, bound for the isles
Of Javan or Gadire.

With all her bravery on, and tackle trim,
Towed by the sea of matrimony,
Courtied by all the winds that hold them
In play.
An ambulant scent of odorous perfume
Her harbinger.

Jack is every inch a sailor, out upon the deep blue sea (of matrimony). The pilot then gave the skipper, and the first officer, instructions as to what course to steer their bark over the tempestuous sea of matrimony, and the bos'n sang "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep."

The bride and groom are both graduates of the local academy. (The old red school house). The bride is the daughter of one of our village sea captains and has traveled extensively with her father. She is a member of the Ladies Aid-Society and the Sewing Circle. The groom, after his graduation, attended a business college in New York State. He is now skipper of the "Emporium" at the creek. He is a member of the Good Templars.

May the course of the married couple over the matrimonial sea bring them to the desired haven of a peaceful harbor in the years to come.

The society reporter being out of town, the ship news reporter took the place of the account of the wedding. Editor T. T.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Mrs. Christine Hagen, who passed away July 29, 1933. Just beyond life's curtain,
If we could understand,
We'd find our loved one waiting
In that far better land,
And find in his great goodness,
Will lift the veil some day,
And let us join our dear one,
Who now is just away.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Archie M. York, who passed away Aug. 1, 1925. Out in Calvary softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we love so dearly,
In his lonely silent grave.
But our lips cannot tell how we miss him,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say,
God alone knows how we miss him,
In a home that is homesome today.
Just nine years ago God called him,
To that happy, peaceful land,
Leaving us to bear our sorrow,
Why we cannot understand.

Never to be forgotten by his mother, brothers and sister.

Founder's Day at Lincoln Home
Every effort is being made to make the third annual Founder's Day at Lincoln Home the most outstanding one. The date is Aug. 10, and the program will begin at 10 o'clock, continuing morning and afternoon. It is hoped that many entries from this town will be made for the baby parade, children from 3 to 6; for the doll carriage parade, children from 6 to 9; and for the style show which will exhibit fashions of Colonial days, the gay 90's, and the present. Mrs. Ida C. Stahl is local chairman to receive entries for the baby parade.

Mrs. Lydia Brown has returned home from Vinalhaven. Miss Hazel Day was a luncheon guest of Mrs. W. J. Lee, Melvin Heights, Camden last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Light were in Camden, Thursday to attend the funeral of his uncle, Sewall Light. W. A. Deering who has returned home, Charles Creamer, Roland Creamer and daughter Pauline and Miss Hazel Day, motored Sunday to Greene, where they were guests of Clarence Creamer.

Work has commenced on the foundation of a new garage and house for the Prock brothers. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunbar of Wiscasset were callers Sunday on his aunt Mrs. George Greenlaw. William Brown has employment in Portland.

Mrs. Laura Light of Gardner is visiting her son Chester.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Chapman, Ora Davis and Miss Ruth Davis, who have been visiting Miss Edna Young, have returned to Framingham, Mass.

Two interesting events of 4-H Club history have taken place within a week of each other at Medomak Athletic hall. Last Tuesday a judging contest was conducted by Miss Ruth Clark, county club agent, when awards in cooking, sewing and housekeeping were made to the Sunny Side Up 4-H Club. The Knox and Lincoln Clubs held a contest here this week with three girls making cake and bringing bread, and two demonstrating biscuits and bringing cake. Miss Louise Engley of Hovey was in this contest. In the dress review, Miss Charlotte Brad-don of Damariscotta was winner. The sewing by the girls and the skill shown in dress designing is remarkable. The next meeting will be held Aug. 7 in Medomak Athletic hall.

Miss Phyllis Belasco of Thomaston attended the concert at the Methodist Church Sunday evening.

A Children's Day concert was presented at the Methodist Church Sunday evening with large attendance. The committee in charge were Sup't. ## A DANGEROUS TRIP!

This tractor, with new body, will carry five men on history's most amazing trip.

LITTLE AMERICA, ANTARCTICA, July 20 (via Mackay Radio)—Tomorrow night! The start of the most astonishing journey ever made by mankind! An intrepid group of five men will leave here in a little French tractor, braving the Antarctic winter night, howling blizzards, temperatures of 60 and 75 degrees below zero, drifts of snow and 50 feet deep and a wilderness of bottomless crevasses covered with thin shells of snow. They will attempt to go 123 miles down to Bolling Advance Base at Latitude 80.13 South to get Admiral Byrd out of his tiny hut and bring him back to the civilization of Little America. And probably two of the number will remain there to make meteorological observations until the sun comes back to us on August 22. Some undertaking, eh?

The trip is bristling with deadly dangers, not the least of which is the possibility that the trail, marked out last February with little orange colored flags on bamboo sticks, has been obliterated by the howling, swirling blizzards.

And am I busy! The success of the trip and the lives of the men will depend entirely upon the efficient functioning of the little tractor, and the quality and operation of the gasoline and lubricating oil. As fuel engineer I feel a great sense of responsibility. I have had to drop my aviation work and assist Pete Demas, of Washington, D. C., and Bernard W. Skinner, of Winthrop, Me., in the preparation of the tractor for the trip. While only one tractor will start, two others will be held in readiness to go to its rescue at a moment's notice. The leader of the trip will be Dr. Thomas C. Poulter, of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, and with him will be Skinner, who is a tractor driver, Amory H. Walte, Jr., radio operator of Wollaston, Mass., and two others whose names haven't been announced as yet.

Every possible precaution is being taken. The tractor engines have been completely overhauled. The cab bodies I told you about previously have been reconstructed to make each tractor a self-contained traveling unit. Every mechanical detail has been checked and rechecked. The tractors are mechanically as perfect as human ingenuity and skill can make them. The ex-much of it possible only by airplane—in order to secure additional information concerning this vast frozen region to which the United States has a claim by right of discovery. And of course for the fun in it and the love of adventure.—The Pathfinder.

Dodge the Heat!

What you put inside of you makes you mind the heat more than what's outside of you! If you want to feel cool these hot days, eat for coolness.

When you have Shredded Wheat, milk, and fruit for breakfast you get all the nourishment you need to keep you going till lunch. You'll find your mind is bright and clear and you won't mind the heat so much.

When you have Shredded

Wheat for lunch it means an efficient afternoon, no matter how tropical the weather.

Nature might have made a better food than wheat—but she didn't! Shredded Wheat is just whole wheat—nothing added and nothing taken away—in digestible and tasty form.

Try Shredded Wheat today. It's good for you—good for the children—and a right food to help you dodge the heat.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Summer Visiting

Here we have one antidote for that familiar evil, being tied to mother's apron strings.

If a grandfather or an uncle has a farm, look upon that fact as the greatest good fortune, provided an invitation for the child to visit is forthcoming.

Accept by return mail, lest you begin to feel sorry for yourself over the thought of being separated from your child.

Think of what a wonderful thing it will be for the boy or girl! A chance to get out of the rut and into a new world of experience. If development could be measured, mothers would be astounded by what happens to a child during a short visit away from home. And it's surprising too how well a child behaves while visiting, so don't fret over that.

It's equally silly to imagine all kinds of danger. If you trust the hosts, whether relatives or friends, seize the opportunity to do your boy or girl one of the biggest favors of childhood, let him get a little taste of meeting life on his own.

Avoiding summer mishaps is not difficult with proper precautions, as Dr. Ireland will explain in his next article.

HOME-AG-FA-X

Mrs. Ruth Beckwith of West Gardiner finds that the addition of lemon juice or vinegar to corn and spinach, when canning them, helps prevent spoilage and reduces the period for processing. She suggests one teaspoon of lemon juice or vinegar to one pint of material and shortens the time of processing by one-half hour.

Never follow the oft-seen nightly sprinkling of the garden. The usual light sprinkling doesn't start to wet the soil (dig down and see for yourself) and it causes the roots to grow toward the surface only to be burned by the hot sun of the next day. Drench the soil occasionally during drench and follow by very shallow cultivation.

A reduction of 72% in the Maine apple crop as compared with last year is the recent estimate of the State Department of Agriculture. The forecast placed this year's probable crop at 530,000 bushels, 68% below the average for the last five years.

Mrs. Eva Keyes of North Jay, says: "In my cooking, extra cream is always substituted for butter whenever possible because it contains the same kind of fat and reduces the time and energy required for the process of churning."

Don't let seed stalks grow on your rhubarb. If you allow the seed stalks to grow and produce seed, food which should remain in the plant is used up and the rhubarb won't make much growth next spring.

Remove spots from linen as soon as they appear because if they are allowed to dry, a chemical change may take place so that the stain becomes set.

A blend of several kinds of spice gives a pleasant flavor to pickles than does a large quantity of one spice.

EXPECTATION OF LIFE

According to the best available information the expectation of life is best in New Zealand where it is over 68 years. Australia ranks second with an average of 63 for women, 59 for men; United States, women 62, men 59; and Sweden, women 58 and men 56. India has the shortest with 23 years for women and 22 for the men.

A FAR-OFF COMMENT

Away Down In St. Augustine Elmer Allen Sels Them Thinking

St. Augustine, Fla., July 26
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

In a recent issue of your paper we noted an article by Elmer Allen of Tenant's Harbor with regard to the present general condition of the country.

I for one believe that in general the middle class of people agree with Mr. Allen. "Don't spend your money before you earn it." "Don't destroy something simply because you cannot use it." "Don't mortgage your children for the sake of a little present prosperity."

There are many other "don'ts" that the middle class would voice if they had time, but as a majority we are kept so busy trying to earn a dollar, to live on, and pay taxes out of, that we have but little time for the business or political side of our existence.

When a bunch of us does get together to in a measure conserve our resources, we find ourselves promptly represented by some politician who knows exactly what we should have and how to get it for us, and we receive the same bunch of Old Experiences, at a fresh and extra expense.

We say about sending one of our boys up to represent us: they know exactly how hard it is for us to get a dollar, and how little it buys just now, but we are told, that will not do at all, you see, should understand, that a business or working-man is not a success in politics, etc.

My conclusion is, that until our Government is run on a strictly business basis by business men, that the present condition of the middle class will not be greatly improved.

C. U. Jellison

SEES TIDE TURNING

Opponent of Repeal Shows What Other States Have Done On the Question

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

The wave of repeal hysteria which swept the country shows definite signs of retreating. City after city which voted a few months ago for repeal, has already reversed its decision, has passed stringent laws for regulating the sale of liquor, and where local option can be invoked, has forbidden it altogether. Proof positive that the much-vaunted benefits of legalizing the liquor traffic have not only failed to materialize but have brought more and worse evils than were ever laid to the door of prohibition.

At the primary election of June 27, in North Dakota, two measures, the "Monopoly Bill" and the "Wide Open Bill," came before the voters, and were defeated 3 to 2. The first would have made a political football out of the provision for a hard liquor commissioner and his deputies. The latter would have allowed the sale of liquor by anyone who could have paid a license, regardless of the fitness of the seller, location or sentiment of the community, and made penalties for violations of law an absolute farce. Either would have repealed all state protective laws.

July 10, Mississippi citizens cast a two to one vote against the repeal of their State dry laws, and are now planning a campaign to renew their fight against a 4 per cent beer, which was legalized by the Legislature at the last session. Just why the result of these elections received only a brief—very brief—mention in the daily press, doesn't require a Solomon to discover!

Mississippi was the second State to hold its dry laws among those that have voted on the question of repealing State Prohibition. The next to take such a ballot will be South Carolina which, with North Carolina, voted against Federal repeal. At the primaries, Aug. 28, the voters will decide on a proposal to advise the Legislature to legalize liquor sales.

Sept. 10 the citizens of our own State will cast their ballots on the question of whether the Prohibition clause of our state constitution shall be repealed. Are we going to be warned by the tragic experience of other states—be misled by the specious arguments of those claiming that the state needs the revenue, regardless of the proven fact that for every dollar thus received, the state must pay out twenty to meet the results of such traffic—or are we to use our own consciences and common sense and vote against such a proposal? If you believe that the sale of liquor is an evil, go to the polls and vote "No!"

A. L. Bigney.

Greenville, Me.

PETITION

[For The Courier-Gazette]

Summer days have come again!

The bright sunlight so warm and clear.

Perhaps at times with clouds and rain.

Combine to make green growth appear.

Rich is the verdure of all growth.

Trees are clothed with span of green;

The fertile fields bring nature's wealth.

The vines on walls and fences lean.

And with the sun may we have rain

To water every farm and field;

The mountain heights, the outstretched plain.

And bring the crops the earth would yield.

Concord, N. H.

Charles E. Cook.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

CLOUDS AND SKY

Left: a view taken with "color blind" film, and without filter. Right: the same scene, made with panchromatic film.

HOW, asked a recent recruit to the Guild of Snapshooters, do some photographers get those beautiful cloud effects? Is it a bit of trick photography, or what?

Nothing of the sort. Anyone can get good cloud-and-sky pictures, and without difficulty, too.

The reason why so many summer pictures completely miss the beauties of blue sky stuffed with fleecy clouds, is that most of the old-type films are not properly balanced in color correction. Those older films are particularly inaccurate in registering sky blue as it appears to the eye; it might just as well be white as far as they are concerned. Obviously, if films "see" no difference between blue and white, they cannot be expected to do very much with white clouds and blue sky.

Newer films are much more sensitive to the various colors. With a roll or pack of really up-to-date panchromatic film in your camera, you'll find the beauties of landscape, sky and seascape well within your reach.

And, if you seek to get even more striking cloud effects, use a filter over the lens of your camera. A filter is simply a bit of lightly stained glass or gelatin which filters out light of one color and permits other colors to pass into the camera.

A light yellow filter, for example, restrains the strong blue and violet rays from sky thereby increasing the contrast between clouds and sky.

Filters are available in sizes to fit all cameras, and in several grades of density. Naturally, if you use a very dense filter, you'll have to increase the exposure time considerably in taking the shot. For the average scene, using modern film and a light yellow filter, increase the opening of your lens by one stop. With what's known as a sky filter, no increase in exposure is needed.

Try This!

If you were suddenly exiled from home to what home scenes would you be most homesick? Granddad whistling in the back yard! Son on his bicycle! Now, have you got good shots of those scenes? . . . Very well, get busy. Exiled or not, that day will come when you'll want such pictures very much. And with present-day aids to snapshotting, practically any shot is within your grasp. Indoors or out makes no difference. Next week we'll discuss these important home scenes in more detail.

JOHN VAN GUILDER.

Interesting Canning Proposition

S. O. Hurd, chairman of the board of selectmen has received the following communication from the Emergency Relief Administration, which appears to be a very fine opportunity for people who have no means to provide for the coming winter, and also for those who have a surplus in their gardens to do their townsmen not so fortunate a good turn by donating the same. Any one interested should get in touch with Mr. Hurd at once, as canning commences about Aug. 1.

"We are making a concerted drive to conserve every bit of garden produce that is available as a surplus. Centers are being established where canning will be done under trained supervision, on a profit sharing basis—that is, a certain percentage of the goods canned will be turned over to the Federal Administration to distribute for relief. The remainder goes to the person or organization furnishing the produce. There will be no cost in money, and the service will be for the following:

"Persons who had seeds from the state for ERA gardens.
"Persons who have neither the equipment nor the means to do canning in the home.
"Welfare organizations who want to acquire a reserve stock of canned produce."

"Persons desiring to add canned produce to their stores at minimum cost.
"A building is being equipped at Rockland, the Federal Administration furnishing cans and equipment, and some arrangement will be made to transport the produce from a central point in the town to the canning plant."

with Calrod units

● Another triumph of General Electric research and engineering has now brought the economy and convenience of General Electric refrigeration within reach of every home—every income!

Sealed-In-Steel Mechanism

This new G-E "Liftop" refrigerator has the lowest operating cost of any electric refrigerator in the world—has more refrigerating capacity for current consumed. It is powered with the famous G-E sealed-in-steel mechanism—same principle as in the G-E Monitor top that is universally recognized as the standard of excellence. It operates so quietly you can scarcely hear it, and requires no attention—not even oiling.

* The above price includes the standard 1 year warranty plus 4 more years against failure, on the famous sealed-in-steel mechanism.

BOTH
for the price of one!

The new G-E "Liftop" refrigerator and "Companion" range are designed for use separately or as a combined unit.

All-Steel Cabinet

The new G-E "Liftop" refrigerator is all-steel with one-piece stainless porcelain interior and glistening white Glyptal-baked enamel exterior. The quick freezing shelf is stainless steel and will not chip or rust. There are two ice or dessert freezing trays that freeze 20 ice cubes at one time—and much faster.

Companion Range

The new fully automatic electric range—designed as a companion to the "Liftop" refrigerator—is the simplest, most compact range ever built. Its top and front is finished in stainless porcelain and sides are Glyptal-baked white enamel. There are three surface units—one 8 1/2 inch diameter, two 6 1/2 inches. Each has separate control with low, medium and high temperatures.

The unusually large oven of the G-E Companion range readily accommodates a 15 pound turkey—or bakes eight 1 1/2 pound loaves of bread at one time. It is 14x18x18. The new, specially designed oven unit has three speeds—rapid pre-heat, baking, broiling—and automatic precision temperature control.

VOLUBLE DUTCHMAN DUPE U. S. BIGWIGS

Notables Give Him Autographs and Seals.

New York.—No doubt the youthful Dutchman indulges in a chuckle or two as he paces the confines of the Ellis Island alien detention pen and awaits the word from Washington that will pack him off to his native Holland.

Hadn't he pulled the wool over the eyes of a select list of the nation's celebrities, including Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Governor Lehman of New York, Mayor La Guardia of New York city, and, apparently, President Roosevelt, too?

Pieter Jaarsma, late of Amsterdam, is the name of this super-duper who, as a sort of self-appointed good will envoy of her majesty, Queen Wilhelmina, made a specialty of gathering official seals and signatures.

A Technique All His Own.

Jaarsma, an autograph collector extraordinary, had a technique all his own, and he had lots of fun crashing the higher state circles until his migration officials caught up with him and called a halt to the game.

Just why Jaarsma went about for several years posing as a Dutch newspaper correspondent collecting signatures and seals for the queen back in Amsterdam he would not say when others pounced upon him and his album. Possibly it was merely to satisfy his vanity, possibly for a more sinister purpose.

But it is not for that that Jaarsma is languishing on hot and smelly Ellis Island. It seems that he once washed dishes in an Amsterdam hotel and that one day he abandoned his crockery and soapdishes, helped himself to 1,000 of his employer's gold guilders and several articles of clothing, and set out upon his autograph pilfering tour. This is the charge in a warrant issued by the Dutch government on which all deportations orders are now awaiting from Washington. Jaarsma's alleged theft was made four years ago, and a world-wide search has been made for him since, ending in his arrest and detention here.

During the four year interval Jaarsma went freely about collecting his seals and autographs with the aid of an adopted American name, Bernard Putnam. Hunted as a criminal, he used Queen Wilhelmina's name freely in representing himself as an international journalist in good standing and in the service of his sovereign. No one suspected anything.

Worries White House.

There was some doubt as to whether Jaarsma included President Roosevelt among the victims of his bland manner and smooth speech. Examination of his album disclosed the official seal of "the President of the United States."

Imposed upon a tri-color band of red, white, and blue. But the President's secretariat staff insisted that there was no official record of Jaarsma having made a call at the White House. They came to the conclusion that the seal was a forgery inasmuch as the State department keeps the Chief Executive's seal under lock and key. Porzery or not, the finding of the President's seal in the album was said to have caused deep concern at the White House when Jaarsma's identity was revealed.

An official page of the album there was the brilliant red paper seal of the State department beside the photograph of Cordell Hull, director of America's foreign affairs. On still other pages there looked out gold-bordered pictures of Governor Lehman, Gov. A. Harry Moore of New Jersey, and Mayor La Guardia. Setting the photographs in of tasteful fashion were the facsimile state and city seals punched into gold-leaf rosettes. It was all very imposing.

The Hollander's glib tongue and suave manner even fooled New York's police commissioner, Gen. John F. O'Ryan. The fact that the commissioner was conferring with Alfred E. Smith did not deter him from sealing the "emissary" when he wanted an autograph. He simply told O'Ryan's secretary that he would like to have the commissioner's signature for the queen, and he got it.

Will Provides Annual Painting for U. S. Flag

Duxbury, Mass.—Still bubbling with patriotism, a Civil war veteran, back in 1874, painted an American flag on the side of a corn shed.

The veteran, George Lewis Higgins, died in 1907, but under his will the flag is given a fresh coat of paint each spring.

At the time of Higgins' death the flag had 40 stars. His sister, Miss Sara B. Higgins, seventy-eight, added the last two stars, one for Arizona and one for Oklahoma.

Twins Serve 35 Years as Priests in Same Diocese

North Andover, Mass.—Rev. Michael J. Buckley of St. Michael's church here and Rev. Patrick J. Buckley of St. Patrick's church, Cambridge, first twin brothers to be ordained to the priesthood in the Boston diocese, recently completed 35 years as priests. Both are pastors, and by coincidence, their parish churches bear the names of their patron saints.

As the hatchery season draws to a close the seasonal decline in chicks hatched shows a greater decline. The June report indicates a drop of 10 per cent in chicks hatched and 12 per cent in eggs set for the year. Chicks booked for July delivery is 67 per cent below 1933 and future deliveries are also below last year. Much of the decrease has been in the East North Central States and West North Central States. New England was only 11 per cent smaller.

Cows on test in dairy herd improvement association showed a 90 per cent increase in butter fat produced over the average of all cows in the United States. The test cows produced 313 pounds butter fat as compared with 167 pound average of all cows. Since 1906 there has been an increase of 100 pounds in butter fat produced by cows in herd improvement association.

For the coming week County Agent Wentworth will be in these communities: Today, Boothbay; Friday, Alna and West Alna; Saturday, there will be a session of the annual meeting of the Knox-Lincoln County Farm Bureau at Mrs. Sidney Evans, Wiscasset. This committee consists of Lon Jewett, Head Tide, chairman; Mrs. Sidney Evans; Velis Weaver and C. N. Light, Waldo; Mrs. Norris Walz, Damariscotta; and Mrs. Maudie Ricketts, Rockland. Plans will be made for the annual meeting which will be held Oct. 25.

Many cases of corn ear worm are being reported to County Agent Wentworth. There is no treatment. Burning of all garden refuse and fall plowing will check spread of the insect. Dusting silks with sulphur will help keep worms out of the ears.

Parker McKellar's brooder house at Warren was recently hit by lightning, the bolt passing over the hot water pipes of his Mammoth brooder, stunning most of the chicks. About a dozen were killed outright.

The fall meeting of the Knox-Lincoln County Farm Bureau executive committee will be held Aug. 21 at the Farm Bureau headquarters, Mrs. Gertrude Hupper's, Martinsville. Plans for the Farm Bureau annual meeting will be made as well as the annual membership campaign. County Agent Wentworth will present the 1935 plan of work which will be discussed by the members. Henry McKellar of West Rockport, president of the organization, will be in charge. A. J. Sargent, Director George Lord of Orono will attend this meeting.

Poultrymen should not forget the annual poultry school which will be held at Orono Aug. 13-14. This is sure to be two days well spent. Programs are available either at the College of Agriculture, Orono, or from County Agent Wentworth.

Training classes are to be held on "Jellies and Marmalades" Aug. 7 and 8. Miss Therese Wood, State foods specialist, will conduct the one at Damariscotta Aug. 7. Jelly will be made with and without the use of pectin. The same amount and kind of fruit will be used for both lots and a comparison made of the number of glasses obtained from each lot and the cost per glass. Marmalade will be made at the meeting. A demonstration will be given on making the products attractive as gifts.

HAPPY HOPE FARM

Wherein We Get Views On Modern Bathing Suits and "Shift" Marriages

A dark and cloudy afternoon but no rain, though the clouds appear heavy with moisture. The gardens would be refreshed by showers, but they would not be appreciated by farmers who have hay down in the fields. Hay makers have surely had good weather the past weeks for gathering the winter supply of food for their stock.

The boys are playing "cops after fugitives", a game inspired by the recent "break" at Thomaston. Now they are trying to settle who shall carry some salt to "May Belle". Sonny says it's his job and George's job is to give "Bobby Shafto," the canary, his daily sprig of chickweed. Solly Meow looks at them with a disdainful expression in his large green eyes, as though to say, "What funny creatures boys are, anyway."

Solly is more interested in that enticing sound of a mouse in the wall, or plucking old mother robin, who has two babies in her nest in the eaves trough on the barn. She has solved the tenement question by using the same nest for two seasons, this being the fourth family she has raised in it. Pa and Ma Bluebird were successful in raising a family of three youngsters in their second attempt at housekeeping. Swallows on gathering in flocks, which reminds us that the summer is speeding toward autumn.

In "On the King's Highway," by the Roving Reporter, an article which I enjoy very much, bluebirds are mentioned. Canada has already given us two weed pests both of which were on the farm when we came. One is the Canadian thistle and the other that gaudy yellow and red flower called "Devil's Paint Brush," or hawk weed, as natives call it. Again I wish to express appreciation of the Roving Reporter's interesting report of his travels. We who have to stay at home enjoy traveling by proxy, when we cannot rove in person.

A few drops of rain have fallen on the window sill and perhaps more will follow. If the dry weather continues we understand small streams will again be closed to fishing which reminds us of an incident which happened on the farm during the ban in June. Mr. S. had just arrived from Rockland, tired and dusty from having used "shank's mare" all the way, no friendly driver having given him a lift. He had scarcely entered the house when George, who had been playing by the brook, came in with a tale of some fishermen and their chauffeur who had frightened him. A glance from the window revealed two parked cars and three men strolling down the banks of the brook.

Hot and weary, Mr. S. was just in the mood to tell those strangers what he thought of their breaking the law on his place. Not heeding my advice to rest and not say anything rash, he sallied forth and marched wrathfully down to the brook. With only a passing glance at the "chauffeur" he pursued the fishermen. One turned at his approach and he saw it was a stranger and his ire broke forth. Then the other fisherman turned to face him and he saw it was an old acquaintance! At the same time a quiet voice spoke from across the brook, "I don't blame you buddy, but I'll take care of them. Come across here, boys."

It was the "chauffeur" and Mr. S. was astonished to see that he was really a United States game warden. Now Mr. S.'s acquaintance believes that he set the warden on his trail, though Mr. S. wrote him a letter of explanation. Having to pay a fine doesn't soften a man's heart toward explanations, that sound so "fishy" to him.

I have just been perusing a mail order catalog and noting the strange attire stylists are inflicting on the feminine portion of modern America. Here's one dress, with a huge ruff about the neck, tickling midday's shell pink ears, but turn about and one sees nothing but an expanse of flesh with two tiny straps holding up the ankle length skirt. "Sun tan backs," they call 'em. Well, had these lasses ventured forth so attired in our "randfather's" day, their backs would have been tanned—but not by the sun!

Personally, I can see nothing beautiful in the modern bathing suit. A few who possess perfect forms are "unattractive" additions to the beach side scenery, but matrons whose shoulders are stooped and backs are sagged from the vicissitudes of rearing families, should not be obliged to exhibit their physical faults to the public eye in order to be "fashionable." The old time bathing suit with its full skirts and bloomers was most uncomfortable for swimming. But we need not go to the extreme exposure to obtain comfort. And after all, modern America in its exposure of the body, isn't modern or "fashioned" at all. It's as old fashioned as Adam and Eve, attired in nothing but fig leaf aprons in the Garden of Eden.

Marriages in bathing suits are often heard of, but in the 18th century there were what was called "shift" marriages. If a man's husband died and left her with burdensome debts, it was customary for her to marry her next husband attired

A CANNING CENTER HERE

A Feature Of ERA Work Intended To Conserve What the Gardens Produce

In an effort to conserve every available bit of garden produce in the county, the Home Economics Division of the Emergency Relief Administration is establishing a canning center for Knox County in Rockland. Produce will be solicited from every town in the county and will be brought to Rockland, where it will be canned in tin by a crew of workers under trained supervision. A co-operative system is being worked out, whereby there will be no exchange of money, everyone paying for this service either with produce or labor. Toll in produce canned will be taken to pay for fuel, tins, labor, etc. People furnishing both produce and labor will take home two out of three cans while those contributing only produce will share on an equal basis. Anyone who has no garden product but is willing to work, will be paid at the rate of three cans an hour, until he has received an amount sufficient for his family needs for the winter. This amount will be fixed through a consultation of carefully prepared food budgets worked out by the State Extension Service. Those cans held at the Center will be distributed by the State where they are most needed.

Canning will be done in tin by the most approved methods, and will be supervised by a Home Economics trained woman, assisted by a man for the mechanical work. Produce for canning will be obtained in three ways. Surplus from the relief gardens, seeds for which were distributed by the State early in the spring, will be used, as well as any surplus contributed by other gardeners, and produce from town or city owned gardens.

Organizations for relief in the several towns, such as the Red Cross are co-operating in this project by collecting garden surplus where they know it exists and bringing it in to the centers. Towns are planning to avail themselves of this opportunity to have canned for them the produce of town and city farms. In some cases the financial worth of the enterprise seems great enough that towns are planning to buy produce to have canned for welfare use. Where no commercial cannery exists for this purpose, any individual may have canning done on the same basis, after relief and near-relief work is completed. In Rockland the center will be located in the building formerly occupied by the Rockland & Rockport Lime Corp's store. The building is being put in shape by the City and will be equipped with necessary utensils and machinery by the Federal Administration.

Miss Ada Brewster, former Home Demonstration Agent for Oxford County, is State supervisor, and the Knox County work is being organized by Mrs. Helen Cooper Richey of Auburn. Mrs. Richey is also supervising the work in Sagadahoc, Waldo, Lincoln, and Androscoggin Counties, and will establish three canning centers with a trained worker in charge of each. Mrs. Richey, who is a graduate of Nason Institute, was formerly a home demonstration agent in Twin County.

With the development of relief gardens this spring, a plan was suggested to send trained workers into the homes of the gardeners this summer to instruct the housewives about canning the produce for winter consumption. The chief objection to this plan was the expense of necessary equipment. From this plan grew the present project of operating canning centers and this idea has met with the approval of garden owners so far consulted.

In addition to offering a system whereby the State and town may acquire, without expense, canned goods for poor relief this winter, this plan offers the family in need of assistance a chance to help pay its own way and also a means for those who are comfortably supplied with food for themselves, to help their less fortunate neighbor.

PARK THEATRE

Adolphe Menjou and Eliska Landi play the romantic leads in "The Great Flirtation," the story of the tempestuous and hectic romance of one of Europe's most famous stage couples which comes Friday. Menjou plays the role of Karpath, a brilliant but egotistical actor. Violently in love with the flirtatious and beautiful Zita, played by Miss Landi, Menjou first places her in his play, later marries her and takes her to America to escape rivals for her affection. But in America the situation becomes worse as she falls in love first with Lynne Overman, then with David Manners. Finally, when she has achieved stardom at the cost of her husband's career, she throws him over for Manners. Menjou disappears. When he returns broken and dispirited, he learns that she has returned and is willing to take him back. In a skillfully acted scene Menjou proudly declines her offer of aid and leaves her forever to go West and rebuild his career.—adv.

REDEEMING MUTILATED MONEY

TO NELS OF TIMOR
(For The Courier-Gazette)
Last night I dreamt a jumbled dream:
High places and a night in June.
And as I watched 'em eddying stream
In rippling embrace it held the moon.
In the moon's reflection a face
Distorted sadly looked at me.
And while the moon hung there in space
I heard the devils shout with glee.
For they had torn your arms from me
And given you forgetfulness.
Even as I watched 'em eddying stream
To give me moons of happiness.
How could that pale, that lunar light,
When you, yourself an island sprite
In torrid lands the long years bide?

It may be fancy brought you here
To haunt my dreams with memories.
But yet I wish you'd left me, dear,
Or hearkened to my latest pleas.
Angie Taber-Allen.
