TO ABATE A NUISANCE

City Fathers Are Taking Vigorous Steps Toward Ending Career Of City Dump

The City Government is taking vigorous action in the matter of securing permanent abatement of the nuisance existing at the City Dump, foot of Talbot avenue. At the present time opportunity exists to secure a large slice of Federal aid in completing the project and to that end the city government has bent its best efforts several days past and 13 weeks' labor for 20 men, staggered, has been obtained.
This labor hinges of course on the securing of other funds to provide for the necessary materials and that is the immediate problem facing the City Government and those who wish to see the nuisance removed before convention season begins in July.
The first necessary step in completing the project is the construction of the stretch of granite abutment across the mouth of the cove. This will retain all fill matter and make control of odor comparatively simple. To build this wall the city's scow must be strengthened and replanked to handle stone and equipped with proper machinery. Local firms have offered the use of stone handling gear and an engine for the scow. The granite pierhead now standing on the shore side of the dump can be used in the new wall and the granite foundation wall off Tillson avenue in Jameson's Cove has also been offered, so that part of the expense is taken care of.

Money must be raised for the equipping and strengthening of the scow and also to hire the trucks to haul chips, etc., for the fill inside the finished wall. The whole expense of this project will be approximately $1000 and when completed not only will the dump nuisance be abolished but the spending of much money for labor will have been made possible.
Summer visitors get their first real view of old ocean across this spot and next July will see the influx of thousands to the Legion Convention, this to be followed by two other conventions. It seems imperative to the city fathers that this eyesore be remedied and contributions will be welcomed by Mayor Thurston or any of the aldermen.

HART IS PRAISED

Union Man Exercised Care In Blueberry Picking And Hears From It

Halver Hart of East Union got into the Associated Press column the other day, and this despatch from Augusta tells how:
"Halver Hart of East Union has found a way to handle blueberries that brings both profits and the praise of the State Agriculture Department.
"He has installed modern grading machinery and packing devices which produce boxes of large berries covered with transparent paper. The size of the berries and the attractive packing have brought him premium prices in the New York market while other growers have been getting a very low price, the division of markets of the Agriculture Department points out.
"Mr. Hart is certainly demonstrating what we have been trying to teach producers for a long time—put up quality stuff in attractive packages, and there is always a good market," said Charles A. White, chief of the division."

RECALLS LINCOLN'S MOTTO

Rockland, Aug. 18.
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
Many Democratic political campaigns have given out propaganda as to how Gov. Brann has saved the State financially. Little do many realize that what has been accomplished for the State was made possible through the Legislature which is Republican by majority and its Republican Council.
Such incidents as this will perhaps bring to mind Abraham Lincoln's famous motto:
You can fool some of the people all the time.
You can fool all the people some of the time.
But you can't fool all the people all the time.
M. F. D.

PLINY ALLEN'S BID

In Knox County are numerous couples which were united in marriage by Rev. Pliny A. Allen, former pastor of the Rockland Universalist Church, and he would like to have as many as possible attend church at Hope Corner next Sunday at 10:30 daylight time. The service will be followed by a picnic at Camp Norrab on the east side of Hobbs' Pond, the members of the party to take their lunches. "Some of them might get a kick out of telling me what they think of me," jocosely adds the pastor.

A NEW PRESIDENT

M. R. Pillsbury, who succeeds Mr. Perry as president of Knox County Trust Company

Morris B. Perry yesterday tendered his resignation as president of the Knox County Trust Company, influenced by the condition of his health. He has given valued service since the opening of that institution July 17, 1933, and will remain on the board of directors. Mr. Perry is succeeded as president by Mr. R. Pillsbury, who has had a long and valuable banking experience in Portland and Rockland and who will also be a member of the board of directors. Other vacancies, resulting from these changes, will be filled shortly.

ETNA CAMPMEETING

Speakers and Psychics of National Reputation To Be There

Etna Campground is ready for its 58th annual campmeeting, which is announced as the largest and most important event of its kind to be held this season in the United States. The elaborate two-weeks' program, commencing Sunday, will bring to Maine speakers and psychics of national reputation who will present the subject of Spiritualism in the light of the most recent scientific investigation. Beginning Aug. 26 and continuing through Sunday, Sept. 9, there will be 15 days of lectures, public seances and music, with plenty of relaxation in the way of special concerts and entertainments. The campground, with its ideal setting of lake and grove, is alive with the importance of the coming event, and already more than 50 cottages are occupied. One of the notable events will be Governor Brann and staff will be present. The new Club House will be open to all visitors. The grounds are in perfect condition, and Etna, brimming with enthusiasm, is ready for the biggest event in its more than a half century of growth.

RACE AT CAMDEN SUNDAY

There will be a race for the H.A.I. class of sail boats in Camden Sunday, sponsored by Mrs. T. Charlton Henry, who has presented a beautiful silver cup for winner of this race. The boats will be sailed by the owners of the several boats, and professionals will be allowed as crews, as is the custom in the July series of the races held by these boats. This race is being sailed on Sunday to give the public a better chance to see these boats in action. Passenger boats will leave the Camden Yacht Club at 2:15 Daylight Saving Time and follow the race from start to finish. A small fee is charged.

WHY THEY COME TO MAINE

Read What Gilbert Patten Says About Coast Of Romance and Beauty

Nowhere else along the entire Atlantic Seaboard may a lover of nature's beauty and grandeur find a strip of coastline comparable to that which stretches eastward and northward from Kittery to Calais. The Coast of Maine! One who seeks nature's balm for the weary soul may nowhere else discover it so lavishly by landscapes and seascapes combined. Nowhere else in the world may the summer motorist so comfortably and easily come into close communion with so many varying delights of land and sea. The Atlantic Highway, Route 1, is the Grand Artery from which diverge many minor veins which the leisurely tourist may explore to his heart's satisfaction.

Yet not all the long-lingering days of a single summer in Maine are enough for one fully to explore and absorb all the beauties and pleasures to be found along this varying and almost fantastic shore-rim of approximately 2500 miles. The traveler who gives his first full week will come back like a bee to clover, to taste again and again.

There is a legend that Thorhail, a gigantic Icelander, was the first white man to behold the rugged shores of Maine; but it is an undoubted fact that Sebastian Cabot discovered the Maine coast in 1498, six years after the landing of Columbus at San Salvador. But it was not until 1567 that an English vessel, commanded by John Rut, came to the coast of Maine. Captain Rut and some of his men landed and made a somewhat limited exploring expedition into the interior, and they were the first Englishmen ever to set foot upon American soil.

There is another legend, perhaps wholly fantastic and untrue, that some of the earlier settlers of Maine were deserters from another English ship; that they fled inland to avoid being retaken and that some of their descendants are living today. Readers of Ben Ames Williams' stories of "Frontier" the actual location of which is only some 16 miles off the Atlantic Highway, have sometimes wondered if thin traces of the blood of those deserters do not flow in the veins of the characters—literally drawn from life—which he depicts so realistically.

One need not turn to unsupported legends or modern fiction to be interested and thrilled by stories of Maine. The reader of history will find that the authentic records of the Maine coast country is more fascinating than the wildest dreams of the fiction makers. Here the first English settlers, themselves often the victims of Indian treachery, fought the Indians and the French. There are stories of raids, of pillage, of battles, of kidnappings, of massacres, of broken pledges and treachery, of sacrifice and heroism. It seems that almost every yard of this coast which is now washed by the sky-blue sea was once stained by the blood of men, red and white. French and English, who fought to destroy those they believed to be the aggressors.

Through the heart of this historic land runs Route 1, the Atlantic Highway, and he who travels over it may know that he is passing through a land bought and paid for with the blood of our pioneer ancestors. And when he sees the foam-crested rollers breaking upon Maine's marvelous beaches; when he sees the blue ocean laving the very feet of wooded hills and mountains; when he glimpses or skirts hundreds of beautiful lakes with tree-bordered shores, when he breathes the clear healthful air and feels the exhilaration it imparts; and, most of all, when he returns home again filled with renewed life throbbing in his veins and the memory pictures of what he has beheld calling him to return again—then he will know what men fought and died to possess this northeastern corner of our country.

To the Lions of Maine and their new Maine Coast Publicity Association must go the credit for the first united, whole-hearted, business-like effort to bring the attractions of the Maine coast to the attention of the touring motorist. Especially must this credit go to the Lions Clubs of Waldoboro, Rockland, Camden-Rockport, and Belfast. The members of those clubs tackled a big job, and what they have accomplished in this first year far exceeds their most sanguine expectation. The increased flow of motor cars following the direct route all the way from Kittery to Calais may be somewhat gauged by the fact that on August 2nd the tolls of the Carleton Bridge at Bath were $4,000 above the total receipts for 1933.

The Association wishes to give due credit for the splendid co-operation of the several State Departments and the State of Maine Publicity Bureau. Harrie B. Coe, manager of the latter privately owned institution, has been especially generous and helpful. He has co-operated to the fullest extent and has worked at all times for the common good of the two bureaus.

The Maine Coast Publicity Association, incorporated under the laws of Maine, is a non-profit corporation. Its personnel and officers are members of the four Lions Clubs mentioned above. George W. Dyer, of Camden, president of the Camden Rockport Club, is the manager, with-out pay of the Association. From the inception of the idea his enthusiasm and efforts have been unceasing. He has worked without pause almost night and day, and to his constant and efficient attention is due to an unmeasured extent the remarkable success of the movement. Headquarters in Camden are open for business and to receive, help and direct visitors every day of the season and several hours each evening.

The Association has only one object, which is to call the attention of the people of the United States and other countries to the attractions, advantages and recreation possibilities which the Coast of Maine have to offer. In no way is the organization opposed to or working against any State or private interest. On the contrary, it is working with such other organizations and interest, and will be found ready at all times to co-operate for the good of them all and the entire State. This is a fact that the entire coast of Maine should recognize and appreciate.

A leading factor in bringing people into Maine has been the Association's handsome booklet, "A Motor Tour of the Coast of Maine." This beautifully done and highly instructive publication of 96 pages was written by Daniel W. Hoegg, of Portland, a master advertising and publicity man. In it Mr. Hoegg has condensed more facts and information about the Maine coast than may be gathered from a hundred other sources.
The distribution of this booklet, of which 15,000 copies were printed, has been nation-wide. Copies are on display in practically every Automobile Association and hotel in the U.S. and Canada, and a flood of complimentary letters concerning it has come from all sides. Beyond question, Maine Coast Publicity Bureau has succeeded through this booklet in reaching thousands of tourists in their homes and has influenced them to the extent of causing them to include the coast of Maine in the itineraries for their summer trips.
The visitors who have called at the Bureau's headquarters in Camden hundreds of whom have stated that they would not have considered coming to Maine had they not seen the booklet and been interested by it.
The visitors who have called at the headquarters in Camden have come from nearly every state in the Union, as well as Canada and Mexico. There they have found a rest room which is open to every one. Everybody is made welcome and is treated with the utmost courtesy.
The Bureau Headquarters are open for service, particularly to the traveling public. Not only does it supply all available information in its line, it has placed an unusually large number of persons in hotels, tourists' homes and cabins along the entire coast of the State. It has secured renters for cottages, located missing persons, aided hundreds in making connections with trains and boats, directed to restaurants serving shore dinners or good food of any sort, assisted in viewing cottages and yachts, and performed other acts of a helpful nature. In fact, with the assistance of booklets, maps, hotel and camp and farm-board guides, and timetables for boats, buses and planes, the Association has carried on a thoroughly efficient information bureau in co-operation with the great information agencies of travel, and the automobile associations and clubs in the United States and Canada.
It now happens that, with the season still in full swing, the unusually large edition of "A Motor Tour of the Coast of Maine" is on the verge of becoming exhausted. And still calls for more booklets. A limit of ten booklets to a visitor is now in effect from all quarters of the country. This is something wholly unexpected and therefore unprepared for by the Association. In order to carry on, further financial help is needed at once. Surely it would be unfortunate to permit a good job to come to premature end. To avert it, contributions must come in without delay. Those who have been helped can help now by sending whatever amount they feel like giving to the Maine Coast Publicity Association, in Camden.

Boys, girls, mothers, fathers, all the family will enjoy the Boston Globe. Make it your Boston newspaper.

A DANGEROUS COMPANION

Jack Dodge Finds Himself Aloft With Adder Coiled Around One Of His Legs

Jack Dodge, well-known Maine aviator, took off from a Burketville field the other afternoon with two women passengers.
The plane had ascended about 300 feet when the aviator felt something cold and clammy crawling on one of his legs; he looked down and into the eyes of a large milk-adder. Dodge is not afraid of altitude and has figured in some thrilling airplane experiences in the past 10 years, but he confesses to a mortal fear of snakes.
Kicking vigorously with the leg on which the reptile was gradually coiling itself he failed at first to make any impression and almost lost control of the plane from his efforts; it careened in a fearsome manner, greatly startling the two passengers.
The snake was finally disentangled and fell in a heap into the cockpit. Dodge made a quick landing and told his ground partner, Ronald Messer, of his unwelcome passenger.
Messer, who has less fear of snakes, diverted the reptile's attention by thrusting a bunch of waste near its head. When the snake darted its fangs into this Messer seized him by the tail and threw it bodily from the plane and it was quickly dispatched. The snake was four feet long.

THE WASHINGTON HEN CASE

Revere Poultry Buyer Held As Accessory—County Attorney Burrows' Statement

Carleton Weaver of Washington heard a disturbance in his poultry yard Monday night and rushed into his house with a shotgun blazing away at a moving shadow.
A truck was heard to leave the farm at high speed and one was found abandoned later during the night, which belonged to Jesse Havener of Waldoboro, who half an hour after the shooting, appeared at a physician's in that town for treatment.
One of his eyes was found to be so badly injured that he was taken first to a hospital in Damariscotta and later to the General Hospital in Bath. Angelo Lizzo, a poultry buyer of Revere, Mass., was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ludwick as an accessory to the alleged poultry theft.
Havener, it was stated, will be arraigned as soon as he is able to leave the Bath Hospital.
Lizzo was arraigned yesterday before Recorder Otis on the charge of aiding and abetting the robbery at Weaver's farm. The warrant jointly naming Havener and Lizzo alleged that the henhouse had been broken into and six hens, valued at $7.50 were taken.
Lizzo, who is 16, and was accompanied to court by his older brother and his father, entered a plea of not guilty through his attorney Frank A. Tirrell.
Mr. Weaver testified to hearing some noise in his henhouse and that he ran out of the house to see what was happening. He had his shotgun with him and fired at a shadow. Later he found four hens which had been dropped by the intruder. A truck which had come to a stop a few hundred feet above the house, suddenly left the vicinity.
Deputy Sheriff Ludwick testified that Lizzo had made a written confession that he took Havener to the

THAT "GOLDEN TRAIL"

Free Band Concert, Six Splendid Gifts and Bargains Extraordinary To Feature Dollar Days

No such enthusiasm has been manifested in many years as public and merchants alike are displaying over Rockland's offering of Friday and Saturday of this week via the Golden Trail to Values.
A spontaneous co-operation in the event has swept the business section, every merchant joining in the drive to make these Dollar Days and the spectacular Golden Trail ever remembered by the shopping public. Every merchant is making a vigorous, honest-to-goodness effort to give outstanding, worthwhile values and a study of the advertisements gives ample proof.
This "Golden Trail To Values" in itself is a most pleasing idea, for a wide golden band will extend throughout the entire business section with huge black arrows pointing into the stores where these values may be obtained. The great golden trail, extending at a uniform height from the sidewalk across all windows, will make a most impressive picture.
In a special effort to please the shopping public six splendid prizes will be given away including a fine refrigerator, a 50-piece dinner set, an upholstered Mahogany Easy Chair, a 9x12 Gold Seal Congoleum and a 5-piece Breakfast Suite. Every Official Dollar Day merchant will give away coupons with all purchases. Ballot boxes will be placed in many convenient places to receive these coupons which must be deposited before the closing of the stores Saturday night.
These prizes will be awarded Monday night at 8 o'clock in Postoffice Square, Mayor Tirrell making the awards. Music will be furnished by Winslow-Holbrook Drum Corps in full regalia.
An innovation in Dollar Days practice that has aroused much favorable comment is tonight's free band concert and pre-showing of Dollar Days merchandise with the official stores windows have been planned and competition in this line is very keen. The Dollar Days Gifts will be displayed in the large window of the former Knowlton's Market opposite the new Crockett store. Rockland City Band will provide music for the concert to-night in Postoffice Square with everybody invited.

MERCY

The quality of mercy is not strained; It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven Upon the place beneath: it is twice blest,— It blesseth him that gives and him that takes.—
"Tis mightiest in the mightiest; it becomes The throne monarch better than his crown: His sceptre shows the force of temporal power, The attribute to awe and majesty, Wherein doth sit the dread and fear of kings; But mercy is above this sceptred sway.— It is enthroned in the hearts of kings. It is an attribute to God himself; And earthly power doth then show likest God's, When mercy seasons justice."
—William Shakespeare.

NOTABLE CHANGES

Have Beautified "Montpelier's" Surroundings—Generosity of Mrs. Edwin U. Curtis

It will well repay the interested observer to drive through the grounds of Montpelier and see the changes already wrought through the generosity of Mrs. Edwin U. Curtis of Boston.

Mrs. Curtis, who was Margaret Maud Waterman of Thomaston, conceived the idea of landscape beautification about the mansion to serve as a memorial to her family, and the excellent work done by H. Holstad of Rockport is full of promise for a fine and suitable setting for the historic building and its rare furnishings.

In front of the old time shrubs have been planted at the terrace steps and at the exit corner, while the well has been covered by an old stone lid. But it is in the rear that the eye is held by the broad mossy steps leading down to what is designed to be gardens and shrubberies with tree-planting in the background. Most of this large rough space with its mound of earth and scattered rocks has been leveled, a driveway into the parking space constructed, shrubbery beds and a large enclosed garden have been lined out, and now the entrance to the Montpelier gift shop is being flagged to make a clean and attractive approach.

All the work planned for the future may not take place this season, but the public has Mrs. Curtis to thank for this very favorable beginning, and also for the promise of four large elm trees about the house, elms and lilacs being typical of the old Knox grounds.

ROCKLAND LIONS

Hear "Stan" Boynton's Earnest Plea For Purchase of Airport

The Rockland Lions were back in their old "den" yesterday, with an attendance of 32, including Dr. Forrest Bangs of Boston, who came as the guest of Lion A. H. Chase, summering at Warren.

Bob Russell made his debut as song leader, and infused much life into his maned brethren. A count of noses showed that quite a number of the Lions will attend the joint picnic with the Forty Club, at Oakland Park this afternoon. A ball game and supper are among the features.

The bronze marker which is to be placed on the site of the Maxine Elliott birthplace was on view. The inscription reads:

"Site of Birthplace of Maxine Elliott. The House was moved about 1875 to the north side of and is now No. 13 Hall street."

Col. E. K. Gould, a recent addition to the Lions' ranks, and through whose initiative the marker was prepared, expressed his commendation to the Club for its promptness and public spirit.

Manager Joseph Dondis of Strand Theatre, also a Lion, offered to donate to some organization which might wish their chairs lately removed from that theatre.

It was voted to omit the club meeting next Wednesday noon, and to have a ladies' night at The Thorndike instead. Supper will be served at 7 o'clock.

Fines are to be strictly enforced at future meetings.

The guest speaker Stanley C. Boynton, fresh from a bumpy airplane ride across Penobscot Bay, entered the dining hall late, to receive a very cordial greeting.

The extent to which aviation is increasing was told by Mr. Boynton with the remark that commercial lines have doubled since 1929, and that 72,000,000 miles per month are now being flown by aircraft. Wichita, Kansas, alone has 42 air lines.

Mr. Boynton told of the possibility of early airline service from New York to London, and said it was a crime for Rockland citizens not to take over the Rockland Airport, which cost $125,000 and can now be had for one-tenth of that sum. Rockland is the only city in Maine to-day without a suitable airport. The speaker suggested a joint meeting of the local service clubs, with a view to seeing what can be done about this matter.

Air schedules are now operated 99 percent perfect, Mr. Boynton said, and it is possible to leave Rockland 10 o'clock one morning, eat supper at 7 o'clock the next night in San Francisco. Some of the modern planes have 10 berths apiece.

Mr. Boynton said that the establishment of a permanent airport here would mean that 15 or 20 men, with their families would locate here, and that Rockland would be in the lane of trans-Atlantic travel. Hotels, restaurants and general business would benefit.

Mr. Boynton told of a recent interesting trip which he made to New-castle, N. B., a trip which would otherwise require two days on horseback. He covered the distance between 250 and 300 miles, in 2 hours and 10 minutes. He said that his local business has doubled this year, and that hundreds have "gone up" who never flew before. Proper encouragement would mean service the year around.

A SUMMER MORNING

Oh, glorious morning that ushers in
A day of promise sweet.
Bright ungued with vivid rosy hues
And songs of birds to greet.
Aurora, as triumphant queen
She rides across the sky.
And swift pursues her regal course,
Majestically on high.

A hushed expectancy awaits.
The trees stand straight and tall.
The perfumed air, so pure and sweet,
Floats round about us all.
The voice of Nature bids us rise
To view the beauty given.
Sense all the wondrous grandeur
Of this gift divine from Heaven.

Camden's last ditch rally last night brought that team into a tie with St. George for second place. The standing:

	Won	Lost	P.C.

Camden	3	2	.600
Waldoboro	2	3	.400

Collegians 8, St. George 7

The Collegians made a surprising come-back in Tuesday night's game at Community Park, and it carried them into the lead of the championship series with St. George, the count now standing Collegians 2, St. George 1.

Both sides were guilty of considerable Dumb Dora stuff in Tuesday night's contest, and there were times when it savored more of Alderbrush League days than it did of a championship series in 1934 A. D. But it started with fireworks, and ended with fireworks, so that the fans got their money's worth.

A wild heave by Archer put the locals in Dutch in the first inning, and emboldened by their two-run start five of the St. Georges proceeded to pummel Foggy Bennett for two singles, a double and two triples in the next two innings. It was well they did for the only St. George man who hit the ball safely in the last six innings was Westberg, and he had to be satisfied with a single. Only two Harborites reached first base after the third inning.

St. George meantime qualified in the Dumb Dora class long enough to allow the Collegians four runs, and the score went 7 to 4 in favor of the visitors until the sixth, when the Collegians picked up one run, followed by another in the seventh, so that they were only one score in arrears when they went to bat in the last half of the eighth.

Farnham led off with a nice single which was converted into a double through slow fielding. Grafton singled. There was a temporary check in the rally when Jeff Mesley fanned, but Dimick and Bennett came across with singles, and the game was won—for St. George went out in order in the ninth.

There were some very illuminating plays to make one forget the other kind, including long running catches by Fowler and Monaghan and that leaping one-hand catch by Walter Dimick.

And hats off to the Bennett boy, whom some thoughtful and excitable bleachers wanted removed in the third inning. He did a splendid chore.

Dark Harbor Race Mishaps

Thrills a-plenty attended Saturday's racing of the 17-foot sailing craft of Dark Harbor summer colony. David Tiffany was thrown overboard when a line parted as he was trimming the spinnaker on his boat, his right shoulder being dislocated. He was unable to swim with the disabled arm but managed to keep himself afloat until he was pulled from the water.

Capt. Sidney B. Norton brought his boat alongside the disabled Tiffany craft to help clear away the tangled cordage which resulted from the severed line. In the excitement of getting the wreckage clear a knife used to cut the snarled ropes slipped and

Capt. Norton's left hand was severely cut, three fingers being slashed to the bone. He was taken to Dark

Harbor for treatment by Dr. W. S.

Garcion and later taken to Camden where several stitches were taken to close the wounds.

A stiff breeze from the southwest caused a number of mishaps. The jib on the boat of S. W. Markoe was literally torn to ribbons and some-gee boat shed its rudder.

UNION

Bro. and Mrs. Carl Lumpen of Brooklyn, N. Y., who have been spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. August Wick, have returned home.

Will Davies of Massachusetts is visiting friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Conance and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thorndike of West Rockport called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watts Sunday.

Mrs. Viola Hall who has been spending the winter in Camden is visiting old friends in this place.

Miss Hilka Kauppinen, who was a visitor at August Wick's, the past few weeks has returned to her home in Norwood, Mass.

Miss Mabel Butler and Mrs. Lillian Browning of California called on Mrs. Elta Butler and Mrs. Myrtle Watts last week.

Perley Jones who has been operating his lumber mill here has completed the work and is moving it to North Appleton.

Residents of Union and surrounding towns will be privileged to hear a lecture by Stephen A. Haboush tonight, Thursday, at 8 o'clock in the High School auditorium. Mr. Haboush will speak on "My Shepherd Life in Galilee," in native Galilean costume.

Next two men, but the game was won.

A meeting of the Democrats of Ward One is scheduled for Thursday night at Democratic headquarters and all interested Democrats are invited.

The new 10,000-ton cruiser New Orleans now on the West Coast, is to be on the Rockland Course next month, according to private advice received by The Courier-Gazette.

Jack Briggs, a former Rockland boy, for the past five years employed by the Janis Shoe Corporation of New York city, announces the opening Saturday by Harry Berman of a ladies' shoe department.

Harriet Ware, composer-pianist, who so charmed a Rockland audience July 26 in a joint recital with Walter Mills, baritone, is giving a birthday broadcast by invitation of the National Broadcasting Company Sunday at 3.45.

Because he missed one issue of the Vinalhaven steamer and had to wait for the next one explained why Harry Wandless found time to run in and shake hands with the newspaper folks. Mr. and Mrs. Wandless have been upon visit to their summer place at Vinalhaven, which they are presently to close for return to Boston.

Members of Garden Club are to be guests at Garthgannon Lodge Tuesday afternoon at 2.30, the meeting to be open for members and their house guests only. Barbara Newbert and Alfred Chapman, pupils of Elise Allen Corner, (School of the Dance) appear in dance numbers at Tenants Harbor Friday evening. They also were featured there on Wednesday night. Mrs. Corner, who has recently returned from summer sessions at the Chalf School in New York tells of Jerome Andrews, one of the teachers there, who is a former Rockport boy.

The Rockland Pirates took the field at Rockport in the last game clad in attractive new jerseys of maroon color with orange lettering. The word Pirates is written in script along the front and the words "Ideal Lunch" sponsors of the sweaters, printed on the back. The sweaters must have been just what the Pirates were lacking as they best Rockport 2-1 knocking the champs out of the league lead.

Out in the Mid-West there is a Rockland boy who has lately taken over a business connection, and now having a birthday party at home that suggested to the folks at home that the best gift they could make him in recognition of the event would be a subscription to The Courier-Gazette. It was a matter easily negotiated, and testified to the discriminating taste of the young man away from the old home town.

Due to last minute postponement the rehearsal Tuesday night of the Wellington Smith chorus at Thomaston had rather a smaller attendance than usual. However, much work was accomplished, and definite plans laid for further rehearsals and the concert on July 28. Mr. Smith has called for a rehearsal for Thursday evening at 8 at Watts hall, and stresses the importance of everyone being present.

FOR WHAT PURPOSE?

Is Ickes In Earnest About Quoddy? — Not Politics, Possibly

(Bangor Daily News)

As we recall it, Secretary Ickes, Public Works Administrator, rejected Dexter Cooper's application for a $47,000,000 allotment of Federal funds for the development of the Quoddy tide power project for the single reason that there was no market for the power. From the engineering viewpoint the thing was perfect, but—no viable or reasonably prospective market. So, though technically sound, the scheme was economically unsound.

President Roosevelt, while expressing sympathetic interest in the Quoddy project, also pointed out the lack of market, and in a highly publicized letter urged Maine to see what could be done about that, "directing" Gov. Brann to appoint a commission to explore the possibilities. The Governor at once appointed the commission, which, of course, will require considerable time for investigation and study before making its report.

There the matter stood until Tuesday, when, according to an Associated Press despatch from Washington, Secretary Ickes announced that he was "reconsidering" the matter, and would visit Eastport next Tuesday. For what purpose? The despatch says:

"Several weeks ago he (Ickes) acted in accordance with the unfavorable report of the public works board of review and rejected the project. Asked about his trip today, he said he was willing to give it further consideration."

This leaves us wondering what Secretary Ickes expects to learn from a view of Passamaquoddy Bay that has not already been conveyed to him in the report of the PWA board of review, particularly as regards the marketing of the power, which is the one stumbling block. The engineering is perfect.

All Maine would be delighted to see the Quoddy project win—all Maine prays that it may win. But it must be admitted that the Government's shifting and contradictory attitudes toward it are a bit confusing, even mysterious. Some would say a trifle suspicious, considering the near approach of the State election.

But, election or no election, let us fan the spark of hope (if any) for Quoddy, and give loud cheers if it wins. Further developments are awaited with interest. Secretary Ickes will survey the Quoddy scene on August 21. The State election will be held Sept. 10. Something seems likely to happen between those dates.

SUMMER VISITORS

Occasionally one hears the remark: "I did not see anything in The Courier-Gazette about my guests." A little reflection will show the impossibility of obtaining the names of all summer visitors, who come to Rockland in July and August. The paper desires to note such arrivals (the guests themselves look for it), and to this end asks its readers to send in such items, either directly to the office, or to the society reporter, Mrs. Gladys Morgan, whose telephone number is 794. Social events as well as arrivals and departures are desired.

Bernard J. Burns of Hollywood, Calif., is making a short visit to relatives in the city. He came on to Rockland, N. Y., the home office of the Eastman Kodak Company, by which he is employed, and continued to Rockland to visit his old home. He leaves tomorrow.

CHARLES F. CHESTER
Funeral services for Capt. Charles F. Chester, 81, were held at the old homestead at Owl's Head, Monday. Capt. Chester died early Saturday morning after an illness of eight weeks, which terminated in a serious operation Aug. 17, from which he never regained consciousness.

Capt. Chester leaves a most impressive record and will long be remembered as a highly regarded citizen and true friend. He lived a long, full life and passed his 81st birthday on the second of June, starting life as a seafaring man at the age of 11, he served from cabin boy to the master of his own ship when he was 19. Always under sail, he continued in the West Indies and coastwise trade for 26 years, until a superstition sent him ashore, and he left the sea forever.

Becoming a keeper in the U. S. Lighthouse service, he spent many years at Crabtree Ledge near Hancock Point, and the last 14 years of his service at Owl's Head Light, from which he retired 11 years ago. He spent a great part of his life directing the light that guided the weather-tossed sailor and directed the course of the storm-driven ship. His life to those who knew him, and his circle of friends was large, will stand out for years to come in their memory of him as a guiding light—of right living, generosity and self sacrifice, and the community feels a deep sense of loss. It is the passing of a noble spirit. Feb. 5 he celebrated his 61st anniversary of marriage to Mary E. Blake, from which union 11 children were born.

Capt. Chester is survived by his widow, Mary E. Chester; and seven children, Mrs. Etta Tribou of Rockland, Mrs. Carrie E. Ford, Westfield, Mass., Mrs. Daisy Hoskins, Springfield, Mass., Mrs. Joanna Dodge, Rockland, Mrs. Henry Chandler, Union, Colby, H. Chester, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Catherine Libby of Mattituck, Long Island, N. Y. 22 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

MRS. LEONARD VINAL
Mary Izora (Coyne) wife of Leonard W. Vinal, died Saturday at her home on Limerock street, death coming after an illness of only two hours, although she had been in ill health for a few months.

Mrs. Vinal was born March 12, 1863, at LaGrange, daughter of Andrew and Ann (Shuman) Coyne. Her marriage to Leonard Vinal took place in May, 1881, at Vinalhaven, and the home was in Vinalhaven and Hurricane until about 17 years ago when the family residence was taken up in Rockland. An outstanding trait in Mrs. Vinal's character was a great love of children and young people, and several young folks found a mother's care and love under her roof although of no blood relation. She had unflinching interest in her home and gave unselfish devotion to her husband and children. Life always held zest for her, and through her eagerness and interest gave constant joy to those associated with her.

Surviving are the husband; four sons, Fred C. of Rockland, Harvey C. of Augusta, Ross of Winterport and William L. of Rockland; three daughters, Mrs. Bessie Dailey of Rockland, Mrs. Mimmie Chiles of Vinalhaven, and Mrs. Ruth Hathaway of Fair Haven, Mass.; two sisters, Mrs. Sada Robbins and Mrs. Wilma Webster of Vinalhaven; and 18 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the family residence Tuesday with Rev. C. E. Brooks of the Methodist Church officiating. The bearers were Palmer Robinson, Thomas Fleming, Ralph Glendenning and Roy Rowland. The floral tributes bespoke the great love and esteem for the deceased. Interment was made in Achorn cemetery.

South China
The Zonta Health Camp closed last Thursday after another successful and pleasant season. The councilors, Miss Adams, R. N., Miss Margaret Perkins, Gorham Normal School; 34 Knowlton Small of Cony High and Mrs. Albert Barker of Gardiner, the dietitian, have returned to their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Libby and daughter Barbara and uncle Will Crossman spent a recent week with relatives in Massachusetts. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Libby's mother Mrs. Fanny Morrison and little Ann Libby.

Mrs. Brown of Milo is spending a few weeks with her daughter Mrs. Guy Ladd.

Fred Crossman had the misfortune to lose one of his horses.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bartlett, her mother, Mrs. Sabine and Miss Florence Plaisted and Doris Esancy went to Old Orchard last week Friday.

Recent callers at Ralph Esancy's include Mr. and Mrs. William Ward, Augusta; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Caswell, Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Small and son Kenneth, Augusta; Mrs. William Wellman, South Hope, and Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Fitzgerald and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Esancy were weekend visitors at his sister's, Mrs. William King of Warren, Measrs.

Ring and Esancy went clamming at Clark's Island and their friends here have been enjoying clams as a result of their generosity.

"SHOW ME" MONTH FORD V-8 TRUCKS

FORD ALONE OFFERS ALL THESE 5 IMPORTANT TRUCK FEATURES

1. NEW V-8 ENGINE... An 80-horsepower, 8-cylinder, V-type engine with power, speed, ruggedness for heavy jobs.
2. FULL-FLOATING REAR AXLE... Houses carries load "springs" impossible. Shaft removable without jacking up.
3. PERFECTED FULL TORQUE-TUBE... Radius rod drive... transmits braking and driving forces directly to frame. Springs free to absorb road shocks.
4. ENGINE EXCHANGE... After normal life of engine, turn it in at dealer and for $49.50 F.O.B. have a brand-new, factory-reconditioned engine installed.
5. SPECIAL FINISH... Only truck with this new baked-enamel finish, in wide variety of colors for wheels, cabs, bodies.

"Show Me" is the favorite expression of experienced truck owners and truck users, because they must run their business on facts. So Ford dealers are giving them an opportunity right now to be "shown"—or better still, to show themselves while carrying out their own work.

Ask any Ford dealer to lend you a new Ford V-8 Truck. Not just for inspection. But to work for you on a regular job where you can judge its performance better than anywhere else.

That's the way to judge a truck—right where you're going to use it! You know the hard spots, the hills, and other difficulties. Also, you want a standard of performance in your mind. You know what a truck ought to do, and we want you to judge the Ford V-8 by that standard.

Probably you are in for a surprise. The Ford V-8 is not a "heavy" truck, but its 80-horsepower motor can perform 90% of the tasks that any truck in America, of any weight, can accomplish.

Give the Ford V-8 your toughest job. Check up especially on gas consumption and oil. Prove the efficiency of the brakes. Ask the Ford dealer to take the full-floating rear axle apart. And have him apply the blow-torch test to the new-type connecting-rod bearings. Find out for yourself why this 80-horsepower 8-cylinder Ford operates at a lower ton-mile cost than a "4".

Go in for a "Show Me" test today. And remember, that no truck in America costs less than the Ford V-8!

SOMERVILLE

The home of Fred A. Turner was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. The family have moved into A. R. Colby's rent known as the Benjamin Turner place.

NORTH HAVEN

With Improvement Society meetings, Library Association and various committee meetings, these are busy days at North Haven, and activities seemingly more than for several years.

A successful candy and cake sale for the benefit of the Library was held on the grounds Tuesday afternoon.

Elizabeth Godfrey and Stafford Hamby of Taunton, and Frederic York of Providence, are guests this week at the parsonage.

Sareta Beverage of Washington, D. C., is visiting this month with her mother Mrs. Lottie Beverage.

"Tonight, Thursday, the Vinalhaven choir presents 'The Old Peabody Pew' in the old church at Peabody Harbor. This is the dramatization of the story by Kate Douglas Wiggin and is used under arrangements with Samuel French of New York City.

Prof. Gordon Gates, Ph.D., of Judson College, Rangoon, Burma, with Mrs. Gates were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beverage. Mrs. Gates and Mrs. Beverage were classmates in Colby. Dr. Gates, whose father was pastor in Dover-Foxcroft, preceding Rev. H. F. Huse, entered missionary service during the latter's pastorate. He is in this country on furlough.

Bradford Washburn, mountain climber, lecturer and author, will give an address with pictures in the church next Tuesday night for the benefit of the library. Mr. Bradford has just returned from Alaska where with his companions he climbed Mount Crillon twice. Tickets for his lectures usually sell for $1 or more. An offering will be received as last year, and a liberal response is solicited.

Mrs. Edith Leadbetter and Mrs. Lassie have returned from a visit in Camden and Lincolnville.

Church Notes

Last Sunday afternoon at a largely attended service in the new church the following individuals received the rites of baptism: Mrs. Eva Hopkins, Barbara Stone, Margaret Butler, Eleanor Brown, Marjorie Brown, Blanche Crockett and Virginia Beverage. Others are expected to unite with the church soon.

Next Sunday will be the last service in the old church for the summer. There is a prospect of a male quartet for the occasion and it is hoped to make it the best attended service of the summer. Evening service at 7.30 standard. The first Sunday in September will be the union meeting in the new church, when the preacher will be Rev. Malcolm Peabody of Chestnut Hill, Pa. A joint choir is being drilled by Prof. Lowell Beverage with rehearsals twice a week.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet, and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out, feeling in your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25-cent drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

COOL Canning

BETTER RESULTS AT LOW COST WITH THIS MODERN, BEAUTIFUL

Hotpoint ELECTRIC RANGE

Food preservation is much more simple, easier and better this modern Electric way. The Hotpoint Range simplifies other methods of canning—enables you to employ "short-cuts" that eliminate pre-sterilizing of jars and tedious watching and stirring while cooking.

Hotpoint's over-size oven, with its Automatic Temperature Control, provides a constant, even temperature for processing fruits, vegetables and meats. Hotpoint's perfect oven insulation keeps the heat in—prevents it from escaping into the kitchen. Your canning is quickly accomplished in cool comfort.

At the Legion Fair

The fair of Williams-Brasler Post Wednesday drew a large crowd of people from near and far. A good business was done at the many sales booths. The parade was a success, reflecting great credit upon the committee. The State Police acted as escort, with Chief of Police Edward B. Ahern as marshal. Features in the parade were the Rockland band, floats representing the Childs Dream, the Sand Man, Toy Shop, Precious, Santa Claus, Sweets, the Circus, Enchanted Garden, Paper Dolls, and the Playground; business and advertising trucks, fire apparatus; wagon with Aunt Hetty and Uncle Sil; girls on horseback; out of town cars and local automobiles, the Ringville Band, a two-seated bicycle, an old style high-wheeled bicycle ridden by Luke Davis of Rockland; Mae West (Ralph Chesley); the Three Pigs, represented by Hollis Gilchrist, Anson Pryor and Percy Averill; John Creighton as Mahatma Gandhi; Horribles and Noddy Colony trucks; dancing pupils of Mrs. Elsie Elliot; Corner; the children's division of old carriages and tricycles, Stinson's army band of kids, Alton Grover and Oliver Hahn as an "air-conditioned" Arabian couple.

The committee who conceived the parade were Kay Turner chairman, Mrs. Lella Smalley, Mrs. Arthur J. Elliot, Mrs. Harriet Whitney, Mrs. Abbie Feyer, Mrs. Percy E. Averill, Mrs. Peter B. Franklin, Mrs. Edward B. Newcombe, Miss Kitty Stevens, Carl J. Swanholm, Miss H. Stewart, William Hastings, Herbert Prescott, and the Copeland. In the decorating of the trucks summer visitors assisted. The parade was among the best ever presented and was highly spoken of by those from away.

Some of the many former residents who were on the grounds were Miss Florence Hyatt of Portland, Miss Maud Silva of Boston, Mrs. Maud Roney of Woodford, Miss Edith Watts and Miss Cora Murdoch who are summering at St. George, Miss Jennie Moody of Boston, Mrs. Ralph Kendall (Myra Hall), son and daughter of Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. George Newcombe and daughters Helen and Elizabeth of Washington, D. C., Maurice Hall of Portland, Mrs. Jennie Hall of Washington and Friendship, Mrs. Earl F. Wilson and daughter Sara of Gray, Mr. and Mrs. George Dunn of Maplewood, N. J., Mrs. Francis Friend and children of Skowhegan.

In the evening the Rockland band furnished music and a thriving business was done at the booths which had not sold out. Among those who served at the booths from out of town were Miss Vida Ryland of Hartford, Mrs. J. Rattenbury and A. Golden of New York City, popcorn: Sanford Comery of Belmont, Mass., Mrs. John Mason of North Easton, Mrs. Ella Edgett of Belmont.

THOMASTON CONCERT

Three Well Known Soloists Will Figure In a Program Bound To Please

Tuesday, Aug. 28 has been set as the date of the third annual Thomaston concert. This year, in addition to the presence of summer artists there is to be a chorus of 70 voices which has been in training under the expert leadership of H. Wellington Smith for the past two months. Several fine classics will be rendered by the mixed chorus as well as a number of old numbers in new settings. The solo work for the choral numbers will be taken by Miss Eunice Truesdale, soprano, Miss Edna Merritt, alto, and Rand Smith. The two former singers are now well known to those who have attended the previous concerts and heard them in special concerts arranged by the National Broadcasting Company through New York and Boston Stations. The rare tonal qualities of their voices has won for them a host of admirers both near and far, and a special treat is in store for this year's audience.

Rand Smith, baritone, will make his first appearance before this audience this year, but he comes with the highest recommendations from other parts of the country as well as being counted by Director Smith as possessing a voice of excellent quality. Director Smith is very well pleased with the progress that has been made by the chorus in preparation for this event and counts the time that he has so generously given has been well spent.

Legal Notices

STATE OF MAINE County of Knox, ss.

To the Honorable Justice of the Superior Court next to be held at Rockland within and for said County on the first Tuesday of November, A. D. 1934.

Respectfully represents Gladys R. Prescott of Rockland in said County that she was married to Victor M. Prescott of parts unknown, at Rockland, Maine, on the second day of June, 1924; that subsequent to said marriage she resided in said Rockland, until July, 1924; that said Victor M. Prescott, her husband, has been and is at all times, unmindful of his marriage vows and obligations, yet he has grossly and wantonly or cruelly neglected or refused to provide suitable maintenance for her.

ON THE FAMOUS ARNOLD TRAIL

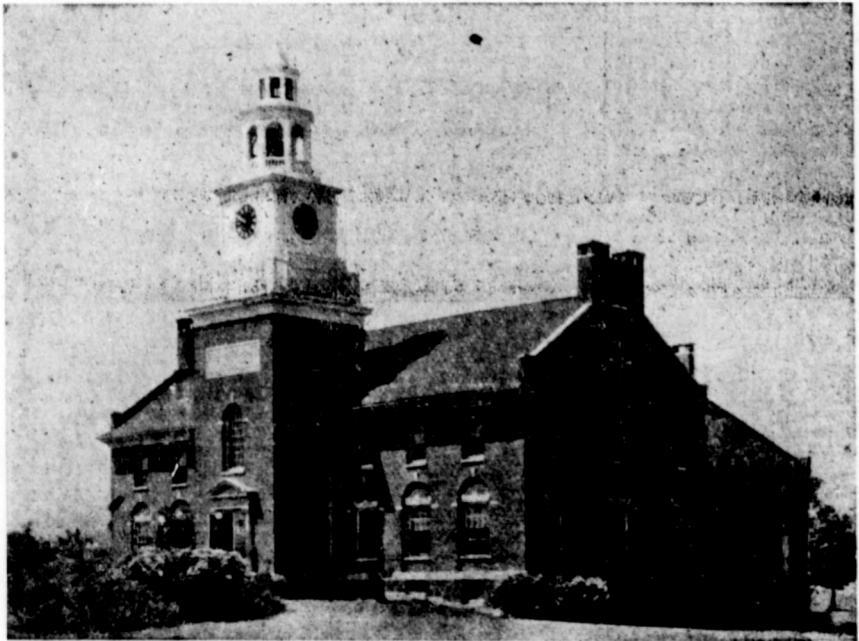

You Encounter Good Will, a Monument To Its Founder, George W. Hinckley.

Traveling along the Arnold Trail, many happy hours as they vacation here in summer.

If you pass by without stopping, you will miss a visit to many interesting places: the Museum, the Biblical Library, the Moody Chapel, the gardens, the many trails named in honor of our Maine Colleges, the Memorial of this famous institution, which is noted for the fine type of men and women that have been reared here and now are holding unusual positions in all parts of the world. Ask about the cure for leprosy, which was discovered by a former Good Will boy, now at the head of the University of Hawaii in Honolulu. Ask about many other famous Good Will boys and girls.

If you are interested in helping boys and girls, you will enjoy a visit to Good Will at Hinckley, Maine. The first cottage was dedicated Sept. 1, comes into view. Then many other buildings, Chapel, schools, farm buildings, and if you stop to count them—sixteen cottages—homes for 240 deserving boys and girls, who, through no fault of their own have become in need of a home, are seen.

On the east side of the Kennebec River are the beautiful pines. Here are seen cabins, where the boys spend Arch, dedicated to the memory of the 184 former Good Will boys and girls who served overseas during the World War. The Garden of Rocks as well as the Rock Garden, and the cottage for girls given by the Grangers of the State.

Eat your chicken dinner at the attractive Good Will Tea Room. Ask to see the Emblem of Good Will, for about this centers the ideals 1889, being purchased with funds saved by tithing. It took the Founder, Rev. George W. Hinckley, nearly five years to acquire sufficient funds for this first cottage.

Mr. Hinckley, now eighty-one years old, is still planning for more cottages for boys and girls, as soon as money is available, as he senses the great need for the salvaging of more of our American youth.

THE GRIFFIN ROCK GARDEN

Wonderful Sight Between Camden and Lincolnville Beach—Everybody Welcome

There are rock gardens and rock gardens. Some are inspirations; some are less inspiring. A rock garden of the former type is a wondrous sight, and such may be seen by motoring through Camden and across the Lincolnville Beach line where a rock garden of noble proportions and indescribable loveliness is spread out in a feast of color for the eyes.

Fashioned on the natural rocky slope rising to a background of pine and spruce trees, in its artlessness and riot of color, and reflects far more than the spoken word the love of beauty in the soul of the two women, sisters, who have made this garden. The sisters are Miss Varina Griffin, 65, and Mrs. Lelia Griffin Spaulding, 69. Up to two years ago they had their garden on land across the street. While not on such an extensive scale, it was very lovely nevertheless, and friends regretted the fact that it was hidden from passers by.

Finally the sisters decided to develop the site at the left of their dwelling, and that was the beginning. When the statement is made that all the present development has been done in two years and by the two sisters alone it seems almost incredible.

With no formal plans in hand, just a few packages of seeds and love for such work in their hearts, they undertook the work. Other than the retaining wall across the front and a stone wall of similar type on the border line, there has been no formal preparation. The seeds have been planted in pockets of earth among the rocks and ledges. Sometimes the flowers are in neat rows, sometimes in a tiny plot, sometimes in a rambling bed, sometimes hidden away in the shadow of a rock, sometimes trailing over stones, all done with no formal design, but lovely in result. Little paths permit walking among the flowers so that they may be admired close at hand, and it is like walking among friends, the flowers are so cheery as they lift their bright heads to greet the passerby.

Gay butterflies flit to and fro, and at the right as one strolls along is a shadowy pool with delicate floating lilies. There is a miniature rustic bridge, and a tiny tent, to complete an enticing picture. The stately evergreen trees at the back and side form a lovely setting of indescribable beauty, tending to intensify the glowing color of the flowers. All through the beds is a wealth of rosy petunias which serve to set off flowers of other colors in a most effective manner.

Seen when the sun is setting there are no words adequate to describe the beauty of the scene. At the top of the rise there are two picturesque log cabins—overnight camps. One is thrown hospitably open and here the sisters have provided a book for registration. It is a revelation to glance through that book, for there are names from every part of the country, and among those names are those of artists, landscape gardeners, horticulturists, garden experts—and each goes away with wonder and admiration in his heart that such beauty could be accomplished spontaneously, just from sheer love of flowers. A recent Sunday had a registration of 225 persons, with many others who did not register. Every day finds many visitors who are at liberty to wander among the flowers and drink in their beauty. Asked if visitors ever abuse the privilege granted them to wander at leisure through the garden, Miss Griffin said: "Never. Once in a while a flower gets trampled, but very seldom and no one ever deliberately destroys or picks the flowers."

The writer in visiting this Eden spot recently noted down some of the flowers. While not a complete list, it presents rather a formidable aspect at that, as can be seen:

Nemesia, butterfly plant, dwarf lobelia, cornflower, daisy, cornflower, coleus, aster, sedum, pink dianthus, scabiosa, nicotiana, zinnias, dahlias, ferns, larkspur, petunias, snapdragons, California poppies, pansies, Johnny-jump-up, portulaca, gaillardia, coreopsis, godetia, forget-me-nots, Chinese forget-me-nots, mandarin, salvia, clarkia, sweet William, straw flowers, lace flowers, cosmos, golden Guinea marigolds, calendulas, double marigolds, ageratum, sweet peas, African sunflowers, common sunflowers, nemophila, baby's breath, peonies, stocks, balsam, wandering Jew, California bluebell.

A visit at this place does not confine all interest to the garden, for Mr. Spaulding makes his appearance some times and adds his quaint humor and old-fashioned example that the house is built on the site of the first silver mine in Maine, and that there is some sort of a mineral spring on the property which, he believes, tends to give the intensive color to the flowers and keeps them growing fresh and strong despite the hot and dry weather.

Mr. Spaulding lays claim to 76 years, but "76 years young" can well be applied to him, as he is straight and wiry, and busily engaged in the many activities around the farm. As a side line the family raises pheasants and dogs. The pheasants are extremely lovely, the types being English ring neck, golden silver, and Lady Amherst. At present there are 10 dogs, largely of the fox and rat terrier type. Each is named and all ent law against the sale of intoxicating liquor.

Poma Lecturer Lucia Hopkins was very busy all day. Master Hopkins gave the greeting and acted as master of ceremonies. Deputy James Dornan responded to the greeting.

John Taylor, always pleasing, conducted the choir, and sang several solos. Especially pleasing was the song "Camden By the Sea," with Everett R. Grieve playing the accompaniment.

Amplifying service for the occasion was furnished by Mont Head. The weather was ideal and the attendance was about 225. Many visited the library and saw the place for the first time.—By C. E. Gregory.

COMPARING TWO ERAS

Church Paper Shows How Crime Has Increased With Prohibition Gone

Under prohibition, from 1923 to 1931, deaths from alcoholism decreased 42 percent, crime from drink 54 percent, drunkenness 70 percent, deaths from auto wrecks 50 percent. In Canada under legalized liquor in 1928-29 deaths from alcoholism increased 113 percent, crime 109 percent, drunkenness 55 percent, deaths from auto wrecks 42 percent.

What has repeal done in the United States? Statistics show an enormous increase of arrests for drunkenness (1,000 percent increase in Philadelphia) of auto accidents deaths increased 500 percent in Idaho in January, 1934; of drunken drivers (1300 percent increase in Rochester, N. Y., in three months); of bootlegging (more distillers in Detroit since repeal, with double capacity).

When beer was legalized in Washington arrests for drunkenness increased 20 percent the first month 35 percent the fourth month, 63 percent the seventh month; five months after beer was legalized in New York city drunks at the hospitals had increased 40 percent.—From the Sunday School Times.

CONGRATULATIONS

"—on your anniversary—thought I'd call in honor of the day—six years, isn't it?—it doesn't seem possible—I'd like to see you again, my dear—my best to Jim."

SUCH a sentiment from a distant friend, particularly one who isn't seen very often, is frequently cherished more than a gift. A dearly remembered voice winging its way across the miles is precious. Use the telephone to honor and observe special dates and anniversaries. When you do, you will be making one of the most gracious gestures of friendship.

To illustrate the low cost of toll calls made during the evening and night rate periods, the following typical rates are cited for a 3 minute station-to-station call (that is, a call by number) from

LIMEROCK POMONA

National Master Taber and State Master Crawford At Field Day

Limerock Valley Pomona Grange field day was held in Camden Aug. 18, National Master Louis J. Taber of Columbus, Ohio, being the chief speaker. He was accompanied by State Master Harry B. Crawford of Houlton. Master Taber has been making a flying trip visiting Grange field meetings in the State, touching the important places and this Pomona was fortunate in being able to have him. This meeting was open to the public and was held in the Camden open air amphitheatre. The Patrons and due to begin to gather at 9 o'clock a. m., some bringing their lunches and others partaking of the fine dinner served by the host. Grange on the cafeteria plan.

Patrons were present from other counties, including Hancock, Waldo, Aroostook, Cumberland, Penobscot, Lincoln and Kennebec. The exercises were late in getting started but the Megunticook Masterquaders' Orchestra, in costume, under the able leadership of Stephen Gushee kept things lively for the waiting audience. Other entertainment features included a police drill by eight high school girls; ballet dance by Edith Sheldon; tap dance by Mary Louise Meserve; a tableau "The Old Spinning Wheel" (Edna Start spinning at a real wheel); song by Ruth Sheldon.

Deputy Daniel E. Foster of Augusta, introduced as a pinch hitter, gave an interesting talk on Grange and Farm Bureau work. Miss Louise Geduld of Providence very pleasingly sang "Star Spangled Banner," accompanied by the orchestra. Mrs. E. M. Lawrence read an original poem "Alphabetical Soup."

State Master Crawford told of the arrangements being made to attend the annual session of the National Grange in Connecticut next November, and said that special meetings of the State Grange will be held early in September in different sections of the State to confer the sixth degree.

Past State Master Obadiah Gardner was present. National Master Taber who is a live wire in Grange work was very pleasingly received by the audience when introduced by Master Hopkins. He spoke of the charming surroundings of the park and contrasted it with the dry and devastated conditions of the West. He said that in his home city of Columbus he delivered an address with the temperature at 111 in the shade.

He took for his subject on this day "Co-operation and Team Work in a Changing World"—a world of riches and poverty. People of Maine do not know what suffering is compared to the Western States. He said we are living in the greatest period since the day of Calvary; that the challenge is ours and that we all have a part to do in all the things that need to be done for the good of all. He spoke of the Farm Board, the work it is doing, and the power the Grange has in helping the world on the road to recovery. It is well to remember that success is attained only by our acts being tempered with morality, truth, honesty and the fear of God. If we do not get back to God we are lost. There is a tendency on the part of some to get on in this world without working to do so. He who will not work shall not eat.

The National Master did not fail to state the strong position the Grange as a whole, takes on the liquor situation that is always before us. He cited the increase in the number of accidents, death and crime since the repeal of the 18th amendment, and urged all to do all they could to retain Maine's pro-
