FELLED BY LIGHTNING BOLT

Mr. and Mrs. Levi W. Berry, formerly of this city, had a startling experience at their home in South
Union yesterday when a bolt of lightning, which had followed the telephone wire entered the house and burst in the cellar, completely wrecking the kitchen.
Mr. Berry, who estimates that he was within four feet of the bolt, was rendered unconscious, and when he recovered he found his wife lying on the kitchen floor, also unconscious.

Both escaped injury.
Mr. Berry told a Courier-Gazette
reporter that the electrical storm was not especially severe in that locality.

THE LAKEWOOD PLAYERS

Presenting "The Detour" This Week
—"Ceiling Zero" Next Attraction
"The Detour," considered Owen Davis's finest drama, is being given this week. In the cast are Jessamine
Newcombe, Mary Rogers, Owen
Davis, Jr., A. H. Van Buren, Raymond Bramley, Joanna Roos, John Hammond Dailey and Keenan Wynn.
For the week starting Aug. 12 the Lakewood Players will present the latest New York success, "Ceiling Zero," written by Commander Frank Weed. This striking play was produced last spring by Brock Pembrton and is soon to be made into a talking picture. It is the story of the everyday lives of air mail pilots and the action of the play takes place at an aviation landing field. The central figures are Jake Lee, in charge of the airport, and Dizzy Davis, an air mail pilot noted for his recklessness and his romantic adventures. The chief feminine role will be played by Mary Rogers and others in the cast will be Joanna Roos, Kathleen Kidder, Owen Davis,
Jr., Ben Lackland, A. H. Van Buren,
Raymond Bramley, John Hammond
Dailey, Tom Tempest and Keenan
Wynn. "Ceiling Zero" is now in rehearsal under the direction of Melville Burke.

ROCKPORT IS READY

Going To Entertain Many
Pleasure-Seeking Visitors
This Week

The tenth annual carnival-regatta,
is to be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Rockport. The Navy Department has detailed U.S.S.
Manley to be stationed in the harbor
for the duration of the regatta.
Many novel and interesting events will be presented at this unique regatta. Merry-go-round, Ferris wheel, whip and kiddie cars will furnish thrills, excitement and fun for everyone. Among the numbers listed on the varied program is the amateur night and R. K. O. vaudeville.

Four State of Maine championship
swimming races will be held Thursday afternoon under the direction of the Maine Amateur Athletic Union.
There will be parades galore, street,
boat, kiddie and pet parades.
Friday evening a grand display of fireworks which will surpass any previous showing in this section of the state is being planned.

The H.A.J. fleet from the Camden Yacht Club will race Friday afternoon, and Saturday the two fleets
from the Tarratine Yacht Club, Dark Harbor will race. Special invitations have been extended to all yacht club members along the coast to join with us and make merry for these three days.

Three grand admission prizes will be awarded. A Maytag Washing Machine, a Frigidaire and a Philco Radio
are the prizes chosen.

The objects of this regatta are unique. The proceeds are used to defray expenses of the senior class
on an educational trip to Washington, D. C., and to aid worthy graduates to obtain funds for training in higher educational branches.

All persons who paid fares on Steamer Castine June 8 may receive their money back by mailing requests
prior to Sept. 14 to S. A. Rackliff,

THE CHEST DRIVE IS ON

Large Meeting Of Workers Last Night At Temple
Hall—President Gray the Speaker

The Community Chest Campaign
got off to a good start last evening and today the workers in the campaign begin their solicitation. Beginning this noon and continuing every noon throughout the week, all workers will meet at a noon luncheon-report meeting at Temple Hall. Today the ladies of the Universalist Church,
under the leadership of Mrs. H. P.
Blodgett will serve the luncheon.
Wednesday the luncheon will be served by the ladies of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Nellie McKay, chairman. Thursday noon the Congregational Church ladies will provide the luncheon, the chairman being Mrs. Corwin S. Olds. Arrangements for Friday and Saturday
luncheons have not yet been completed.

Temple hall was comfortably filled last night when George B. Wood, general chairman of the campaign, called the meeting and briefly explained the aims and purposes of the drive. He said the job of the workers was to sell to the people of Rockland the idea that the Chest was worth while and worth supporting, a thought enthusiastically endorsed by his hearers.

The first speaker, Carl R. Gray of Omaha, Neb., and Pleasant Point,
Maine, president of the Union Pacific Railroad System, was given a rousing welcome, testimonial to his former visits here. President Gray spoke informally, drawing on his wide experience to give the Chest plan his fullest endorsement. He termed the Chest as the right and wise way to give without overlapping and without, unwittingly, doing harm by the giving.
Chest dollars are wisely spent to the best advantage of the community, because study of conditions is part of the work of every Chest. He voiced the thought that the annual filling up of the Chest was a challenge to the community, the duty of the self-respecting city to take adequate care
of its unemployed.

Through a peculiarly interesting coincidence a guest at the Gray cottage is J. L. Haugh, executive vice president of the Union Pacific and general chairman of the Community Chest campaign in Omaha which is to raise $600,000 next month. Mr.

Haugh told of the splendid way Nebraskans have come through four years of fierce drought, raising the Chest from $300,000 in 1929, to $600,000 in 1935, to meet the increasing demands. To this message of courage he added the optimistic thought that communities today are building for tomorrow, ending the shadow of depression, and that through the Chest
they build wisely.

Hugh Spaulding, campaign director, received an ovation when he made his bow. Eleven years ago Mr. Spaulding stood on the same platform as organizer of Rockland's first Chest campaign and has been recalled repeatedly for Chest and other drives.
It was evident that he has lost none of his popularity, and the pleasing announcement that the executive committee has received $3445—proved that he has lost none of his skill.
Daily noonday luncheons for workers will be held at Temple hall.

Prior to the opening of the session
a 30 minute concert was presented by the Camden-Rockport School Band and the Camden Juvenile Band
under direction of Clarence Fish.
The youngsters acquitted themselves admirably, promising well for the future.

The entire city is being canvassed
this week—all residences by the ladies, under the direction of Mrs. Mary E.
Southard, chairman of the women's division. There is a women's team in each of the seven wards. The men's division, under the direction of Knott
C. Rankin, is canvassing all stores, offices and shops. Mr. Rankin has five teams. The names of the workers in men's and women's divisions which did not appear in Saturday's paper are: Woman's Division—Ward
1. Mrs. Addie Rogers, Miss Anna Winchenbach, Mrs. Carrie Grant, Mrs.
Jane Crouse, Mrs. O. M. Wotton, Mrs.
Ralph Choate; Ward 2—Mrs. Jerome
Burrows; Ward 4, Miss Margaret
Snow, Mrs. Basil Stinson, Mrs. Janie
Beach, Miss Elizabeth Hagar, Miss
Thelma Blackington, Miss Winola
Richean, Mrs. Perley Damon; Ward
6—Miss Marion Ginn; Ward 7—Mrs.
John Whalen, Mrs. Harry Levensaler,
Mrs. Augustus Huntley, Mrs. E. L.
Toner, Mrs. Men's Division, Old Timers team—Carl Duff, Willis Ayer, William Glover, Henry Bird, Osmond Palmer, Raphael Sherman, Raymond Thurston,
Louis Walker, Valentine Chisholm, Industrial Team—Reuel Soule, Clarence Joy.

Some of the teams in both divisions are not quite full and additional workers are needed. Those who are willing to assist in this work and who are not yet assigned, should report to Mrs. Southard or Mr. Rankin and volunteer their services. It is of the utmost importance that every point in this community be covered this week to the end that the Chest be filled with its complete quota.

As this is the only campaign this year everyone should contribute something to it. Should anyone be missed by the workers, they are invited to bring their subscription to campaign headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce office on Main street.
General Chairman George B. Wood and his associates in the conduct of the campaign, are much pleased with the progress that has been made to date but wish to stress upon the workers the absolute necessity of pressing forward and covering every individual in the entire community.

DEATH OF R. ANSON CRIE

Had Been Member Of Hardware Firm Of H. H.
Crie & Co. Sixty-One Years

R. Anson Crie, head of the well known hardware concern of H. H.
Crie & Co., and a member of the firm 61 years, died yesterday at the age of 81. Aside from a business career which had few parallels in this part of the State he had long been active in church and civic affairs, had served in the City Government and was a bank director. A curious coincidence, and one to which is attached a strong bit of sentiment, is found in the fact that Mr. Crie's death occurred on the day when the old store at The Brook ceased to do business.

R. A. Crie was born June 14, 1854
in the house between Park and Grace streets and the Brook which runs in that locality was his boyhood playground. There were six brothers and sisters, all of whom died in early childhood except Susie and Alzira.
His father, Deacon Hiram Crie, used to row from his home at Owl's Head to the Brook to call on his future wife Abbie Trafton who worked for Dr. Sears at his "pill factory" located in his two-story house situated at the rear of the present Peoples Laundry.

As a boy, Anson used to sail about in this same Brook in an empty sugar
box taken from his father's grocery located where W. H. Glover's building stands. When a young man, he was apprenticed to Stephen Combs of Rockville and for two years lived there, learning the wheelwright trade.
Jan. 1, 1876, he was married to the late Ida E. Shepherd.

They lived first in the large, square house on Front street, later moved to the Parker house on Warren street, then to Granite street. In 1888 they built the house on Broadway where they lived until the death of Mrs.
Crie, March 24, 1917.

Although Anson was decidedly a
"stay-at-home," he made several extensive trips, and in company with his wife he attended the World's Fairs in Chicago, and St. Louis on the latter trip passing the winter with relatives in Missouri and Texas. They also spent four winters in Florida for
Mr. Crie's health.

Mr. Crie was treasurer of the Y. M.
C. A. the first 12 years of its existence, having been instrumental in its organization. He also had a part in equipping the gymnasium and making a tennis court on Maple street where the western wing of the Knox Hospital is located. He was librarian

of the First Baptist Sunday School Library for 12 years and was also a charter member of the Choral Choir organized and directed by the late Gen. H. M. Lord. The board of trustees numbered him on its list and on special occasions he served the church for many years. He joined the church Feb. 7, 1886. Other activities included two years in Common Council, vice president of Livingston Manufacturing Co., director of Rockland National Bank, and Vinalhaven & Rockland S. S. Co., and at the time of his death was treasurer of Chika-waukie Lodge Order of Foresters.

One of his first duties was helping make candy gooseberries in the basement where the Central Maine Show Room is now located. Lewis Childs was the candy maker. The boys were required to whistle while working.
For pay they received two gooseberries for each hoop full (75 to 100)
they "rolled."

Mr. Crie entered partnership in 1874 with his father, under the name
H. H. Crie & Co., and took over the active management of the company a few years later. Under his able guidance the firm prospered. On the death of Hiram H. Crie in 1903 his nephews were divided between R. Anson and sister, Alzira. Again death caused a change in the partnership,
when her interests went to Kelley B.
Crie in 1907.

The same trade name has been used since the founding of the business in 1860. R. Anson Crie was an indefatigable worker in his business and within ten days of his death he was about the store, giving council and directions as to the running of affairs. Almost his last words were in regard to matters connected with H. H. Crie & Co.

Last Saturday night the store of H. H. Crie & Co., at The Brook was closed, the business being transferred to its new location in Syndicate Block.
Mr. Crie was born near the same Brook, had his business there, lived near it, and his last days were spent near the Brook on Grove street.

Mr. Crie is survived by one son,
Kelley B.; three grandsons, Hiram H., Ernest K., and Donald G.; and one great-granddaughter, Alice Mackay Crie.

The funeral services will be held at the First Baptist Church Thursday at 2:30 p. m. Friends are asked to omit flowers.

SOUTH WEANS WHITFORD

Former Rockland Y. M. C. A. Secretary Falls For Its Charms, and Lawn Bowling

It is a far cry—47 years to be exact—to the time when A. H. Whitford was general secretary of the Rockland Y.M.C.A. The Association has gone, unfortunately, and Mr.
Whitford revisiting the scene of his early activities, learns that many tried and true friends have passed on, but here and there he meets an acquaintance with whom it is a source of delight to chat about the old days. Incidentally it is seven years since Mr. Whitford last visited Rockland.

When he retired as general secretary of the Buffalo Y.M.C.A. six years ago he left the association with 10,000 members, property valued at $2,000,000 and an annual budget of $600,000. The Association had 15 branches, and on the staff were 45 persons.

Six years ago, the cares of office happily off his shoulders, Mr. Whitford, accompanied by his wife, started on a tour of the world. They were gone exactly a year and two months.
Three years ago Mr. Whitford yielded to the lure of the South and became a Floridian. He bought a residence in Orlando, "The City Beautiful," which has 32 lakes within, two miles of the postoffice, while Orange County, of which it is the shire town has 724 lakes. Orlando is a city of 30,000 inhabitants, and three years' stay there have convinced the former Rockland Y.M.C.A. secretary that he has found an ideal home.

The affairs of a lifetime are not easily cast aside, and so, in spite of his retirement, Mr. Whitford still finds himself actively affiliated with Y.M.C.A. work as a member of the Florida Y.M.C.A. State committee and a director of the Orlando Association.

He had been a member of the executive committee of the National Council of the Y.M.C.A. He had also been editor and publisher of the Association Forum, a Y.M.C.A. trade

paper which circulated in 30 countries and went to the 6000 offices which represented the world's work.
"Very few buildings have been lost," said Mr. Whitford, yesterday, reviewing present day conditions in the Y.M.C.A. "When the crash came we had $250,000,000 invested in property. Up to two years ago there had been some drop in membership, but a recovery is now being shown and today there are a million young men affiliated with the Association.
We have come through this depression
thus far and are encouraged to carry on."

Mr. Whitford finds in his travels a lack of enthusiasm for the program of the New Deal. Down in the South they are willing to forgive a man who cares and dares, but they cannot follow all of his ventures. The South is affected financially the same as the North.

The tourist business in the South
has seen a remarkable come-back.
According to Mr. Whitford the four leading States in the handling of the tourist business are New York, Florida, California and North Carolina.

Of meditation, slipping in between
The beauty coming and the beauty gone.

CORN LOAN HELPED

But General Farm Program
Not a Success According To Keene of Nebraska

C. A. Keene of Fremont, Neb., a splendid example of the prosperous Mid-West farmer, told an interviewer at The Courier-Gazette office yesterday that the Administration's program designed for agriculture's benefit still falls far short of furnishing the benefits which the farmers feel they have a right to expect. He did not hesitate, however, to give due credit to the corn loan of 45 cents a bushel, which saved the day after the market had gone bloomy. Mr. Keene had 30,000 bushels in seal, and was able to move the crop in a manner which enabled prompt repayment of the loan, and the realization of a good profit.

"The farmers were not satisfied with the hog reduction program," said the Nebraskan. "The Good Lord did a better job along that line than the administration."

While Nebraska was not in the dust storm zone it had an emphatic warning of the disaster which overtook some of the neighboring States, for the sun was often obscured by dust which came from a distance of 600 miles. And one day when rain descended through this strata it was almost like a shower of mud.

When Mr. Keene left Nebraska thermometers read 107 in the shade, and last summer the temperature ranged from 100 to 112 with no cooling rains by way of benefit. Nebraska heat, however, lacks the humidity which makes some of the hot days so uncomfortable here.

At the beginning of the summer the small grains crop never seemed more promising in Nebraska, but there was a fly in the ointment in the form of black rust which had a tendency to halve the crop. Wheat has been climbing in price, and a good market is expected for the harvest. The corn crop is very promising, but was needing the assistance of rain when Mr. Keene came east.

Mr. Keene's farm comprises 1705 acres, the bulk of it under cultivation, being devoted principally to corn, wheat and oats. It is operated mainly by tenants.

Mr. Keene, who is accompanied by his wife, and his cousin, Miss Helen Marr of Fremont, is stopping at present at the Knox Hotel in Thomaston. The party plans a month's stay in the East, and one week will be devoted to Vinalhaven.

STATE FIELD MEET

Naturalists and Scientists
Will Gather At Knox Arboretum Two Days

The 15th annual State field meeting of Knox Academy of Arts and Sciences will be held at the Knox (State) Arboretum near Thomaston, Aug. 14, or, if stormy, on the first pleasant day.

The forenoon will be devoted to looking over the grounds, setting out plants in the herb garden and a picnic lunch.

Rita Creighton Smith is to deliver the address of welcome, and Albert Abrahamson, State Director of WPA, has been invited to make the response. Prof. F. Hyland, University of Maine, will tell of the State survey of the trees and shrubs of Maine, and Florence Agnes Nelson of Livermore will speak on "The Charm of an Herb Garden." Miss Nelson suggests that members and friends who have them to spare take sweet scented and wild herbs for planting in an Arboretum Herb Garden to be established on this occasion.

The program for the following day is:

Meetings and Field Trips of Sections: Entomology, Dr. H. B. Pierson chairman, Augusta; John H. Lovell, secretary, Waldoboro. Botany, Jesse Tolman, chairman, Rockland; Mrs. Charles Penney, secretary, Augusta. Ornithology, Miss Frances Garcelon, chairman, Lewiston; Mrs. Lucius Barrows, secretary, Augusta. Geology and Mineralogy, E. M. Bailey, chairman, Andover; Paul Morgan, secretary, Thomaston.

GARDEN PARTY AND TEA

A garden party and tea will be held at the summer home of ex-Gov. and Mrs. William Tudor Gardiner, Woodwich, Aug. 16 at 4-6 p. m. daylight saving time, for the benefit of the Woolwich Red Cross work. All are cordially invited to attend. A charge of 25 cents will be made.

THE "BEAVER ERA"
Recent Conditions Were Antedated
By the Pilgrim Fathers

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
Admonition E.R.A. employees: Recent conditions were not original, being antedated by the Pilgrim Fathers. Before the incorporation of Waldoboro, history states a laborious day's remuneration consisted of a few handfuls of cereal.

An anecdote is told of Rev. Mr. Orff of North Waldoboro who, in succeeding years, led in joining in the "bonds of wedlock." Parties frequently entered a life-time servitude, their market made for the sole purpose of "everlasting glory." Three couples, by dint of egg money, accumulated a "century" of pennies and, banking on prevailing custom, landed by twos at the parsonage. Mr. Orff, performing the primary ceremony, passed the cost to the bride, who in turn passed it on to the succeeding supplicants, the sextet returning home with their wealth intact.

History may repeat itself and former habits become prevailing customs. Courage to those endeavoring to embark upon matrimonial seas in the present "beaver" era.

Capt. Charles Holbrook made a business trip to Rockland last week. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Watts of Somerville, Mass., arrived Sunday to be guests of Mrs. Alice Murphy for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reid visited relatives Sunday at Long Cove.

A party of hikers in a remote part of the Brecon Beacons came across a shepherd tending his sheep, and in the course of conversation the shepherd said: "How's the war going on?"

"Good gracious!" cried the hikers, "that was over a long while ago."

"Oh," said the shepherd, "who won?"

"We did."

"Well, what have they done with old Kruger?"

"Why, that was the South African War. We've had another since then."

"Oh, who with this time?"

"With the Germans, and we won that also."

"My word!" said the old man. "I bet Queen Victoria's pleased."—London Express.

CAMDEN INCREASES LEAD
Thomaston and St. George Are Now Tied For the Runner-Up Honors

This Week's Games
Tonight—Camden at Rockland.
Wednesday—St. George at Camden and Camden at St. George.
Thursday—Rockland at Thomaston.
Friday—Camden at Rockport.
Saturday—St. George at Camden.

The League Standing
With six straight games to its credit, and nary a defeat, Manager Maynard's Camden team looks very much as if it might be $250 richer at the end of the season. Here is how the thing stands now:

Camden 6 0 1.000
Thomaston 5 3 .500
St. George 4 4 .500
Rockland 1 7 .125

Camden 4, Thomaston 2
Camden won its sixth successive Twilight League game Sunday, and found itself three full games ahead of Thomaston the loser. The game was staged before a highly interested crowd of spectators at Styvie Field. The home team outbatted Camden, but four of the latter's hits came in the ninth inning to break a 1 to 1 tie.

The Connecticut boys Roy and Miranda appeared for the first time this season in the Thomaston lineup, but the latter was obliged to doff the mask at the beginning of the fifth inning when a foul tip off Leonard's bat split one of his fingers. Ray who is a pitcher by trade played center-field, and it was his long hit which drove in Thomaston's first run.

Three hits were all that Camden could muster off Condon before the cyclone came. Two of these were made in the eighth, but a snappy double play by Condon, Moody and Sawyer spoiled the visitors' fine hopes.

Thomaston made but one earned run off Bennett, the other being due to errors.

One of the game's star plays was made by Leonard, whose long running catch of Felt's fly saved a run. Another long running catch was made by Lord, who caught Moody's fly in foul territory. Walker and Felt turned in some excellent infield plays. To Plaisted fell the honor of leading both teams in batting.

Camden 3, Auburn 2

(Exhibition)

Bagley held the Auburn players to five hits at Camden Saturday afternoon, but an extra inning was required to settle a contest which was entirely to the liking of the fans.

A triple by Dailey and a single by Mayhew produced the only run made up to the sixth inning, when Auburn returned the compliment in reverse order, Larrabee singling and Daunis tripling, the latter also scoring on Talcott's fly to Leonard. Hits by Bok and Wadsworth contributed to the tying run in the ninth.

Auburn, first at bat in the tenth, was retired in order, and seemed likely to be the fate of Camden, for Maynard fanned and Bagley flied to third. Lord, who had gone hitless throughout the game, but who had been putting up a whale of an exhibition at short, brought the crowd on tiptoe with a smashing single. Thomas, who had already hit a single and triple, came along with another single and not to be outdone Dailey slammed out another as Lord raced home with the winning run. It was one of the finishes which makes baseball the national game and the crowd beat it for supper, saying lots of nice things about the Maynard managed outfit. Dailey, in addition to turning in the winning hit, made three fine running catches.

Vinalhaven 2, Rockport 1

(Exhibition)

Vinalhaven nosed out Rockport, Big Five leader, 2 to 1 in a tight pitchers' battle at Vinalhaven Sunday. Coombs had the edge over Cram, Rockport's ace, allowing but five hits to eight by the Rockport hurler. Cram was rather wild, giving nine passes, but was effective in the pinches, the Chiefs having 12 men stranded on the bases. Coombs had little difficulty in holding the visitors, their only run coming as the result of a two-base wild throw by Woodcock, followed by Bohndell's double.

The Chiefs scored in the first on Hopkins' pass and steal of second, followed by White's single.

Vinalhaven had numerous chances to score but Cram was too good in the pinches, while his team-mates fielded brilliantly behind him.

In the ninth Lyford drew a pass and was thrown out at second as Hopkins failed in his attempt to sacrifice. Hopkins then came through with a triple which struck just inside the foul line in right. Swanson was passed and stole second. While then hit to third and Hopkins was thrown out at the plate. Guilford then drove the ball to deep center to win the game, getting credit for only a single as the winning run scored from third. The hit ordinarily would have been good for a triple.

The expression 40 and 8, which came out of France during the World War, applied with full force to the truckload of pretty girl campers who rode through Main street Saturday night to Strand Theatre. They don't pack any closer down at the new sardine factory.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The Knox County Women's Republican Club will have its meeting today regardless of the weather. Should the sun come out the event will take place on Mrs. E. Stewart Orbeton's lawn in West Rockport, but should it be raining the rally will be at the Court House. Hon. W. R. Pattangall speaker.

There is considerable local anxiety concerning Dr. Alexander Forbes and Charles J. Hubbard, the Boston scientists who left the Boynton Airport Sunday morning for the continuation of their flight to Labrador. Their plane was equipped with a new engine, and stop had been made here for the purpose of shifting spark plugs. No word has been received here since the men took off.

Under recent ruling, dealers licensed by the Commissioner of Sea and Shore Fisheries must put on each package of lobster meat the name of licensee and the number of the license, the place of business, the date the meat was taken from the shell and the number of net pounds in the package. "Never saw such a sight in my life!" exclaimed J. N. Southard this morning when he returned from Marblehead, Mass. where he was invited to attend the opening of Marblehead's race week. The fleet contained 238 boats and is said to have made a new world record. Mr. Southard who is commodore of the Rockland Yacht Club, and accustomed to being thrilled when he sees a dozen yachts in our own harbor, says there were so many craft at Marblehead you could almost walk from one to the other. A Congregational church picnic will be held Friday afternoon at the summer home of Commander and Mrs. C. F. Snow, Treasure Point Farm, Tenant's Harbor. All members of the church and parish are invited. Take basket lunch and the children. If weather is unfavorable, the outing will be held the next day.

The outstanding event of the week is the appearance of Cornelia Otis Skinner at the Camden Opera House tonight at 8.30. One of the most noted impersonators before the public today, she will present a program of character sketches, many of which are new. It is a rare event to have an artist of Miss Skinner's calibre in this section, and indications point to a packed house.

Sidney Benner of West Meadow suffered the loss by fire of the greater portion of his wood lot on the back side of Dodge Mountain together with 15 to 20 cords of wood Sunday. Appearances indicate that the fire originated in the camp nearby used for woodchoppers—the camp evidently having been occupied by stragglers. Before the fire was discovered it had gained such headway that the efforts of Mr. Benner his son and neighbors proved unavailing. Chief A. R. Haven sent a truckload of men. The loss means $200 or better to Mr. Benner in fire wood and lumber.

One of the banner events in the history of the Department of Maine, Spanish War Veterans Auxiliary, was the outing Sunday at the cottage of Mrs. Hattie Davies at Ash Point, bringing together seventy-five persons from Auburn, Portland, Augusta, Lewiston, Bangor, Biddeford, Saco, Togus, Camden, Rockland and New York, Missouri and Massachusetts. Entertainment features were bathing, baseball and football, to say nothing of the picnic dinner. The steamed clams supervised by Commander M. S. Dick, Horace Vose and H. W. Thorndike, scored a hit. Guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. John S. Ranlett who headed the general committee, and inside the cottage Mrs. Davies, Mrs. Thorndike and Mrs. Jessie Wall acted as hostesses. Several department and past department officers were in the gathering. A special vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Davies for her wonderful hospitality.

A correspondent writes: Each week during the summer months brings its own variety of lovely blossoms. Rockland has developed many excellent gardeners since the germ was planted deeper in the hearts of New England home makers by their interest in Garden Clubs. A ride—or better a walk—about our city will disclose excellent specimens of the highest type and beauty. For example, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Lamb of 22 Pleasant street have a garden of rare charm and worthy of high praise for the architecture symmetry and color balancing. Also outside the city limits may be found many fine gardens in a riotous glory of color. What better advertising of our city and its attractiveness to the passing throngs of motorists that whirl past daily?

In Municipal Court yesterday Knute Carlson of Rockport was fined $25 and costs on a drunkenness charge. The case was the outcome of what proved to be a comic opera murder case at Rockville shortly after midnight Saturday. Rumor had it that a woman had been slain. An imposing array of officers assembled at Carlson's home, and when he failed to come forth in response to authoritative demands a charge of tear gas was injected into the house. Carlson came out pronto, but the woman alive or dead could not be located. The case took on a gruesome aspect, and the arrival of Coast Guardsmen certainly did not have a tendency to quell the excitement. As the Kickapoo draws too much water to navigate the Rockville marshes that craft was not summoned. Eventually there hove onto the scene the supposed murdered woman and what she said was quite beyond the pale of any self-respecting corpse. What she thought about the officers breaking up a pink tea with tear gas would probably not bear repetition. The ambulance came mournfully back to Rockland without any customer.

MRS. CHARLES R. RICHARDSON

Frances (Barlow) widow of Charles R. Richardson, died Saturday night at the Merriam cottage, Owl's Head, where she had been spending the past fortnight with her son, Arthur B. Richardson of Ealing, England. The deceased had been in ill health for two years, and the decline had been rapid since the sudden death of her husband March 30. Had both lived until next June they would have been able to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Richardson's entire life had been spent in Rockland, and 48 years of it as a resident of Park street. She was born Feb. 15, 1862, daughter of George and Ellen (Kelley) Barlow.

Home life claimed her principal attention and seldom is greater affection given than that which she showered upon her late husband and the two sons, Arthur B. and Austin R. Richardson. Neighbors knew of her many kind acts, and the Universalist Church is conscious of having lost one of its most devoted workers.

Mrs. Richardson is also survived by four grandchildren, Albert, Frederick, Charles, and Margaret Richardson; and a niece, Mrs. William Weed of Rockland.

The funeral services will be held at the residence, 81 Park street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. John Smith Lowe officiating. The burial will be in Achorn cemetery.

WARREN

Edward Teague of Windsor, Vt., was overnight guest Thursday of his brother George Teague. He went Friday to Waterville where he joined Mrs. Teague at the home of her sister with whom she spent a few days.

Babies "Too Good" May Be Retarded

Mothers Should Watch Mal-Nutrition, Weakness, Fever and Convulsions

By Dr. E. A. Farrington
Director, Bancroft School;
Secretary, Special School
Association

In my last article we discussed some early signs of "backwardness" in children. Here are some others.

Any serious or long-continued mal-nutrition should be carefully studied. Severe infectious disease is dangerous. Fever, and especially convulsions, are always suggestive, and possible after-effects should be looked for. It is a mistake to pass them over as of no importance on the ground that they are due to teething or indigestion. They may indicate serious brain involvement. Especially important is any sign that the child is losing ground after an illness or has stopped or slowed down in development.

Watch For Weakness
An infant who loses the ability to hold up his head, to sit erect at the usual time, or who develops a stiff neck, ought to be carefully examined. Indications of localized weakness or stiffness of muscle-groups, as of the hand, arm or leg, inequalities in grasping power when the two hands are compared, or differences in natural leg-movements, may all be evidences of a damaged nervous system.

Babies that are too "good," that smile infrequently and seldom cry, and that play quietly for hours with some simple toy, may owe their behavior, not to a serene and untroubled disposition, but to defective activity of the thyroid or some other gland. Delay in teething may mean little unless accompanied by other signs, but a prolongation of the creeping stage, or delay in walking and talking, may be important and should be investigated.

This is the third of a series of articles on the "problem child." Dr. Farrington will reply to questions addressed to him at the Bancroft School, Haddonfield, N. J.

WARREN

The Women's Mission Circle will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Grace Wyllie, with a picnic supper at 6 o'clock. Mid-week Baptist service will also be held at the Wyllie home that evening.

The mid-summer fair of the Congregational Ladies' Circle will be held Thursday at 2:30 at the church. The supper at 6 will be served by Mrs. Carrie Smith, Mrs. Adelaide Norwood, Mrs. Ella Cunningham, Mrs. Ruth Philbrook, Mrs. Jessie Walker, Mrs. Evelyn Vining, Miss M. Grace Walker and Miss Rosa Spear. The evening's entertainment at 8 o'clock will be under the direction of Mrs. Alzada Simmons, Mrs. Mary Berry, Mrs. Flora McKellar, Mrs. Abbie Newbert, Miss Frances Spear and Mrs. Florence Gardiner. On the program are excellent numbers including a violin solo by Miss Beatrice Haskell, her accompanist, Eugene Helmer of Camden and Philadelphia, who is the regular accompanist of the Curtis Institute; reading by Miss Marguerite Haskell, Mr. Helmer to accompany; vocal numbers by Chester Wyllie and John Robinson; Miss Marybelle Marshall who is summing at Owl's Head will play piano solos; vocal solos, Gilbert Lait of Camden, son of Robert Lait, a former pastor of the local Congregational Church. A choice bit will be a one-act play, "Mrs. Willis Will," the principals, Miss Lillian Russell, Miss Edith French, Miss Christine Starrett, Miss Ida Stevens and Mrs. Alzada Simmons. Other numbers, including a surprise reading, are being planned.

Mrs. Mary Lockie and Miss Dorothea Stevens who have been in town during July returned Friday to Washington, D. C., where Miss Stevens will resume her position as teacher at the Peabody Nursery School.

The triangular garden plot on Corn Hill is a riot of color and brilliant snapdragons there are now at their best.

The story hour Wednesday at the Mathews Memorial Library for pupils of the first five grades will begin at 3 o'clock. Miss Marguerite Haskell is in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cargill are occupying the Sawyer rent recently vacated by the Robert Connell family.

Miss Virginia Robinson who has been guest of Miss Grace Black the past month, has returned to North Weymouth. Miss Black accompanied her for a short visit.

Fashion Show of Contrasts
Members added to the Warren Woman's Club, at the August meeting were Miss Annie Starrett and Miss Beulah Starrett. A fashion show in charge of Miss Frances Spear, Mrs. Sadie Barrows, Mrs. Virginia Thompson, and Miss Marjorie Spear, was a decided success and over 100 were present from Rockland, and Thomaston; also among others Mrs. Edith Bowers, Mrs. Loretta Rich, Mrs. Charlotte Hawes, president, first vice president and secretary of the Union Woman's Community Club.

Maine might well rank fifth. With the tourist business as a barometer, Florida last year was as prosperous as in the boom days. Enterprising Orlando is spending half a million dollars to set up an exposition known as "Florida on Parade" which will be in readiness for the winters of 1936 and 1937.

Recalling his early days in Rockland Mr. Whitford cites the fact that he played baseball on the Rockland local team, and that one of the other players was the late Chummy Gray. And what do you suppose his hobby is today?

Lawn bowling.

Yes, sir, Mr. Whitford is an earnest disciple of the sport which reader and Mrs. Pauline Pellicane, the accompanist. Gowns from 1805, in perfect preservation, to the present date were shown on models, Miss Winona Robinson, Mrs. Evelyn Robinson, Mrs. Alzada Simmons, Miss Barbara Richards, Miss Marjorie Spear; Mrs. Ruth Robinson of South

Manchester, Conn., and Warren; Mrs. Christine Barker, Mrs. Lillian Lindsey of Thomaston; Mrs. Mary McGraw of Roseland, Mass. and Warren; Miss Christine Starrett, Miss Janet Wade, Miss Mary Trone, Miss Nathalie Starrett, Katherine Thompson, Mrs. Mildred Kenniston, Mrs. Virginia Thompson of Medford, Mass. and Warren; Miss Dorothea Stevens of Washington, D. C. and Warren; Mrs. Carrie Smith, Mrs. Ethel Griffin.

Modern night wear was contrasted to the old ruffled nightgown and cap; the old style swim suit, compared with the backless one of today, showed a lot lost in 30 years, and no mistake! The difference between the wrapper housedress with the long sleeves and cool, crisp ones of today made everyone well pleased to be living now, instead of then, even with the depression.

Sportswear revealed a radical change also—a long suit and sailor hat of years past, things to laugh at beside the slacks, shorts, and sun tan backless dress. Shown also was a bloomer basketball suit of some years ago, and a long dress for tennis and croquet. The knitted and white linen suits and short sleeved, collarless dress of today were exhibited—quite another change. The linen duster, and long veil chic motoring costume of the early 1900s brought quite a laugh, but 30 years hence the present style of dress will be snickered at by another generation.

An afternoon dress dating 1875 was amusing. During this period only very young girls wore hats. At the time of marriage, or upon reaching the mature age of 20, a girl put on a bonnet which ever afterward formed part of her outdoor attire, unless the occasion were informal when she wore a shade hat—not much was known then of the violet ray. This costume was a plaid skirt, a black basque trimmed with hand embroidery, and a dolman ornamented with jet passementerie and Spanish lace.

A lovely dress of white linen trimmed with hand made ric rac lace, worn first in 1881, modeled by Barbara Richards. The short dresses of 1925 and 1927 were shown, and it seemed long ago that such a foolish length prevailed, but they were considered the vogue then. Graduating dresses of 1907 and 1919 were shown. Two lovely afternoon gowns were modeled by Mrs. Evelyn Robinson, and Mrs. Virginia Thompson.

As a grand finale, wedding dresses were displayed, the accompanist having swung into the "Bridal Chorus" Lohengrin. The first to step forth was a white cotton, narrow row dress of 1805; the model, Miss Christine Starrett; next, Mrs. Mary McGraw in a grey taffeta, attractive and demure dating 1880, both bridal bouquets being the nosegay type. The latter costume had fine lace fixed loosely at the wrists, had a bustle and was long, with pleats at the bottom. Particularly handsome was another of 1886, a fur trimmed cape, small feather hat, narrow-waisted "dolman" of a deep, rich red. The modern wedding gown with long trailing veil was worn by Christine Barker, Emily Smith bearing the veil.

All arrangements of flowers worn with the gowns were tastefully done by Miss Marjorie Spear, member of the committee in charge.

Thanks are expressed to the executive committee, the accompanist, Mrs. Pauline Pellicane, the models, the reader, and those who loaned dresses for the occasion.

is spreading rapidly throughout the country. Orlando has a club-house costing $20,000 and last year won the North Florida championship. Mr. Whitford is a member of the board of skips in which capacity he goes about the State. He also went to Buffalo representing lawn bowling international.

A former Knox County boy, Fred Starrett, was assistant director with Mr. Whitford in Cambridge, Mass. and later Mr. Whitford placed him in charge of the Association's hotel in Buffalo. Today he is general secretary of the Portland (Oregon) Association.

Conditions throughout the country lead Mr. Whitford to believe that prohibition will one day make its return. "Perhaps not in my time," he said, "but maybe in 15 years."

The eight-ton stack which was taken down at the Knox Woolen Mills Sunday was transported yesterday to Portland, where it will be used on a new boiler house to be erected at the Boothby Home. The 90-mile trip was negotiated without mishap, the only trouble being experienced in Bath where two telephone poles at Front and Oak streets necessitated delay. The progress of the 100 foot stack along the Maine highways attracted no end of attention.

"We just can't get along on what we are getting," a Kansas woman told relief headquarters. "My husband and I have talked it over and he said if I didn't get more he was going out and try to find a job." This woman's frank recital of her difficulties will produce smiles of amusement in some circles, but the principle involved is something more than a laughing matter.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach, you get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

ATHLETES SAY:
"THEY DON'T GET
YOUR WIND"

JOSEPHINE MCKIM, Olympic champion swimmer: "One of my rules in connection with smoking," she says, "is that I always choose a Camel. Camels are such a mild cigarette. I can smoke them steadily. They never bother my wind. I'd walk a mile for a Camel!"

GENE SARAZIN: "It's important to me that Camels are milder. Extra millions are spent for the choice tobaccos in Camels. They never get my wind or upset my nerves."

LESTER STOEFFEN, U.S. tennis doubles champion: "No matter how steadily I smoke, Camels are so mild that they never get my wind. And Camels have a better flavor."

DOCTOR HELPS

WOMAN LOSE

SURPLUS FAT

Mrs. Long didn't listen to gossipers—she had a mind of her own

Mrs. H. H. Long of Clarinda, Iowa, writes: "Kruschen was recommended by my doctor in connection with gall stone treatment, high blood pressure and acid kidney. This is my 3rd jar. I've lost 18 lbs. Doctor says I'm doing fine."

Beware of gossipers who keep you from obtaining a shapely figure by saying there's no safe way to reduce. Kruschen Salts is SAFE—it's actually a health treatment—you'll not only lose fat but you'll feel much better physically. Just take a half teaspoonful in a cup of hot water every morning—tastes fine with juice of half lemon added. A jar lasts 4 weeks and costs but a few cents. On sale at Blaisdell Pharmacy and Corner Drug Store.

Colin Clive, Ted Healy, Henry Kolker in "Mad Love"

"Mad Love," Maurice Renard's uncanny novel of strange surgical experimentation, provides the scientific basis for the latest terror-drama of the screen which brings to American pictures an amazing new mystery personality in Peter Lorre, European star of "M."

The picture playing Wednesday and Thursday, shows Lorre as a surgeon, gone mad, and using his amazing knowledge to wreck the life of a man whose wife he covets. Grafting of hands of a murderer to replace those lost in an accident by the pianist; the uncanny surgery where the surgeon, Gogol, attempts a fantastic operation, never seen before, and other creepy detail surround gripping drama in the audacious plot. A glimpse of Paris' Grand Guignol Theatre of horrors is another graphic and bizarre detail of the amazing story.—adv.

BIG FIVE LEAGUE

Cement Co. and Thomaston Sunday's Winners—Rockport Still Ahead

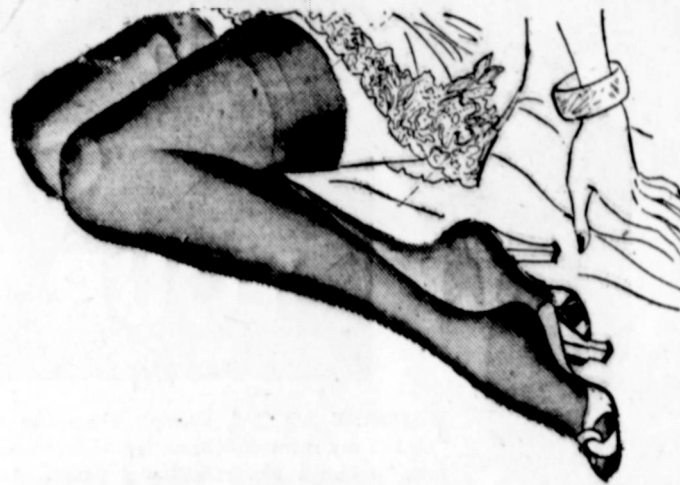

Sunday's scores: Cement Company 9, Pirates 7; South Thomaston 7, Battery F 3 (two games).

The Standing
	W	L	P.C.
Rockport	11	2	.846
Cement Co.	10	4	.714
So. Thomaston	7	6	.538
Pirates	6	6	.500
Battery F	3	11	.214
Warren	3	12	.200

Tonight—Cement Co. at South Thomaston. Wednesday—Battery F at Warren. Thursday—Rockport vs. Pirates at Community Park (6 p. m.).

With the season winding down the home stretch seems to be just one if between Rockport and the pennant and that of course is the success of the Cement Plant. The third and fourth place teams are practically out of the running. The Rockport team has ridden the crest of the wave to eight straight triumphs and first place, so the tide must turn soon if they are to be shipwrecked. Looking through the schedule we find Rockport must fight yet to attain their lead for their seven remaining games, few appear easy. They have one each with the Dragons and South Thomaston, two tough teams; three with the troublesome Pirates, plus one apiece with Warren and Battery F, and but two of these games are to be played on their home grounds. The Dragons on the other hand have an equally tough chase, if not worse. They must play one with the league leaders and one with Battery F, as well as three mixups with those ever-dangerous Keagites. Three at home and three away left for the Dragons. A game and a half separate the two teams to date and should Rockport lose three of these remaining contests the Cement Plant must win all to cop the pennant. Well, there's the dope. Fight team, fight!

AUNT HETTY ON JOB

In Fact Everybody's On the Job Around Fair Time In Thomaston

"Whoa, January!" The rural reporter, out for a Saturday afternoon walk on the Meadow road, welcomed the hearty voice and quickly accepted Uncle Si's invitation to jump in. It was good to be jogging along behind old January again on a bright summer afternoon.

"Pretty fine horse, January," remarked the relaxing reporter.

"That's right. Him an' me's summered and wintered together a good many years, an' I guess I set 'bout as great store by him as Doc Peabody ever did by Violet, an' that's sayin' a lot. I'm right glad I overtook ye. I'm goin' to have a little business over to the city next week, an' Hetty had it laid out for me to call in an' sorter hint to ye that rozzberries is here again an' they go good with hot biscuits, or leastways they used to seem to. 'Course I know an' you know what she's up to. It's gettin' on to Fair time an' she wants to get a piece in the paper bout it. She's spendin' the afternoon up to Warren today an' they're bringin' her back after supper. Can't ye come some night next week?"

"Monday?" suggested the responsive reporter promptly and hopefully.

"All right. That's fine. Say, tell ye what I wish ye'd do—will ye put a little piece in the paper sayin' they're goin' to snipin' fir in Mis' Cogan's barn as usual an' they'll be beginnin' right off now, an' everybody's invited to come an' help as wants to? The boys is gettin' the fir today, I guess likely. Spose ye'll remember?"

"Indeed yes," said the responsible reporter.

"Thank ye. Hetty'll take that right kind of ye. I just been down to Walter Stackpole's place this afternoon. I was kind o' hopin' I'd see Ella May's brother Chick's boy an' girl Bernard an' Lois, but they wasn't there. Tother day Lois had her big doll with her there, an' she says to me she says, 'My doll carriage ain't nowhere near big enough for Betty Lou, but Harry Stewart's mother said if she'd get the carriage at the Fair she'd give it to me, an' if she gets the cart she'll give that to Bernie. The cart is goin' to be just like Gee-Gee Grafton's new one,' she says, 'an' won't Bernie be pleased!' Had it all planned out, she did, the cunning little thing."

"Well, here we be at Anner's. I ain't goin' to stop long, an' if so ye'll wait for me a spell I'll take ye along a ways further. Whoa, January!"

"No, Uncle Si, thank ye. I'll walk along from here, and much obliged for the lift."

"How d'ye like the sign on my wagon? Guess me an' January can show our colors an' advertise the Fair same as the Fords an' the Packards an' the rest. We don't travel so fur, but we give folks time to read what it says 'stead o' goin' WHOOO-OO-SH like a sky-rocket, hey, January? Well, we'll be lookin' for ye Monday. So long!"

"So long, Uncle Si. Tell Aunt Hetty I wouldn't disappoint her for the world," promised the resolute reporter.

Gordon Richardson and Bill Bicknell kept open house over the weekend at Camp Richardson, Georges River.

The outing of the Methewes Club at Round Pond Friday was unusually delightful, features being the gorgeous summer day and the unequalled hospitality of the Round Pond hostesses. Luncheon was spread in the vestry of the Little Brown Church, and afterward Mrs. J. E. Nichols of Round Pond gave an interesting story of the old church. Adjournment was made to the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. John Smith Lowe for an informal afternoon of chatting and sewing. There were 30 present. The next outing will be Aug. 23 at the cottage of Mrs. Katherine Haines at Holiday Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Dickey and daughter Virginia, of Malden, Mass., arrived Sunday to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Newman.

SUMMER VISITORS

Occasionally one hears the remark: "I did not see anything in The Courier-Gazette about my guests." A little reflection will show the impossibility of obtaining the names of all summer visitors who come to Rockland in July and August. The paper desires to note such arrivals (the guests themselves look for it), and to this end asks its readers to send in such items, either directly to the office, or to the society reporter, Mrs. Gladys Morgan, whose telephone number is 794. Social events as well as arrivals and departures are desired.

Mrs. Alice Fish has as guests her niece, Mrs. R. G. Hitchcock, and daughter Harriet, of Boise, Idaho. They came by motor, their trip taking three weeks by the way of Toronto and Quebec.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Jones motored to Lake Maranacook Sunday for the sports rendezvous.

Mrs. George W. Smith and sisters Miss Eda Knowlton of Winchester, Mass., and Miss Grace Knowlton were at "The Tobacco Box," Crescent Beach, last week. Mrs. George W. Wooster, another sister, and her daughter Harriet, were guests for a day.

Misses Margery Bartlett and Elizabeth Till motored to Waterville last week taking back Mrs. Clyde Magagn who had been guest of Mrs. S. H. Doe and Mrs. Russell Bartlett for several days. The girls went out to Fairfield and called on Miss Hazel N'Day who is a patient at the Sanitarium.

CATHOLIC LAWN PARTY Postponed From Last Night Until Weather Conditions Are Fitting

Old Sol, in his reluctance to grace Monday with his cheery presence, caused postponement of St. Bernard's lawn party and supper until the first fair day, be it today or later. The actively interested parishioners have pressed into service the time thereby gained and with added touches to the neatly perfected plans, have insured a heavy attendance when the Weather Man at length grants his consent.

Sociability, no less desirable than the point of finance, is ever at its height at these gatherings, and for the youngsters, whose first thought concerns amusement, provision has also been made. Beano does not wane in popularity and has therefore been chosen as a major diversion, with other forms of entertainment to keep it lively company.

There will be no dearth of good food at the 5:30 supper when capable cooks and willing waitresses will supervise this feature.

SNOWMAN-SHUTE

Miss Jessie Shute and Harold Snowman of this city were married July 12 at the First Baptist parsonage, with Rev. J. C. MacDonald officiating. They were attended by Mrs. Lawrence Shute and Henry Fifield. The bride was prettily gowned in white organdie worn with black velvet jacket, and Mrs. Shute's gown was of flowered chiffon. Their honeymoon was spent at the Snowman camp in Union. They are now keeping house in their recently purchased home on Willow street.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Shute. She is a graduate of Rockland High School and is a popular employee at the F. W. Woolworth Co. store. Mr. Snowman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Snowman of this city, is also a graduate of Rockland High and is associated with his father in the trucking business.

The young couple are being showered with congratulations now that the secret is out.

★★★★ FOUR STAR FOLKS ★★★★★

By HELEN NELSON, Special Staff Feature Writer

(Copyright 1935—By Claude Moss—Reproduction in Any Way Forbidden)

JOHN I. SNOW

★★★★ "THE race is to the courageous," said Sir Thomas Lipton, "for the poor in spirit are beaten before the start is made." And so we are glad to bring before our readers today John I. Snow and The Snow Marine Co., Inc. We're going to have a hard time writing this story, because we promised not to say any good things in it—so, we'll start off with the worst ones we know. First, you couldn't beat John Snow if you tried; he doesn't know what a "hard job" is; the main ingredient in even his little toe is "courage." When they tell you about "the men who go down to sea in ships," they're also telling you about the Snow Marine Co., because this business was founded primarily to bring back ships lost in the gale; founded on rocky reefs; burned to the edge; abandoned. The wonder is that these ships can be brought up, salvaged and again made into seaworthy vessels. This company builds docks and piers; serves leading transportation lines in towing and does litigation. The name "Snow" through generations has stood for honest, dependable workmanship wherever boats are known on this east coast. The owners of this corporation are Willis, Robert W., Woodbury M., Addie E. and John I. Snow, John being President and General Manager. His laughing eyes first opened "on the hill." Sculling a fish tub is one of the best stunts he knows; has a favorite pipe; favorite old hat, favorite chewing gum (when he can't find his tobacco). Knows men; they know him—that's why his crew always makes good. His best fun these days is teaching a pair of heavenly little cherubs the "Snow" chuckle. John Snow says he never did a big job himself—his "crew did it." That's the character key note to which we pay sincere tribute today. Take a seat up front, Cap'n.

Phone 16 and ask: What year was this company incorporated?

DAVID AND SARAH RUBENSTEIN

★★★★ "ATMOSPHERE," we have been told, is a million dollar word, when you have to pay for it in the beauty of surroundings—but we are going to tell you now where there is a world of it, and where every minute spent is one of pleasure. David Rubenstein's Antique headquarters on Main street, is an education in itself. Block Front Desk and Bureau dating back to 1760; dishes from the original Black Family of Ellsworth; Waterford and Stiegel glass, beautiful hooked rugs and thousands of lovely things in china, art and statuary bring people here from far away. In addition to the neatly arranged shop, there is the old General Tilson Mansion, now the Rubenstein home, filled with rare treasures. Mr. Rubenstein covers the globe in his buying jaunts—spends six months a year searching and practically 98 per cent of his stock are originals. David and Sarah Rubenstein have been home folks 35 years. Collections are his hobby—coins, stamps, U. S. Scrip, and the antique end of his hobby, developed into this splendid business. Sarah's hobby is dishes. A New England chicken dinner could cure them of the hardest case of hunger. They get fun out of every second in their day; love to meet people; never try to make up your mind for you; and say the finest folks in the country live in Rockland. "Dave" first met Lady Liberty when he was 14, and he has been proving up on loyalty to Uncle Sam ever since.

Phone 1285 and ask: How long has he conducted this Antique business?

CAPT. ARTHUR A. BAIN

★★★★ EXPERIENCE is one of those valuable things you cannot buy. If you offered a million for it—it is not for sale. It is one thing you can possess only by working for it, days, months, years, a life time. That's why it is priceless. And if anyone has back of his reputation real experience in his work, that work is valuable to everyone he serves. Back of the success of Captain Arthur A. Bain are years of contact with the sea. He brought in the record catch that has come into this or any other port in America—3,000 gallons of scallops! His "Pauline M. Boland" has a romantic record itself; afire at sea; abandoned and sinking, when "Cap" rescued her 40 miles off Nantucket. That was her name and Captain Bain decided she was entitled to keep it. Mt. Desert is where a snappy northeast wind deposited him in the Bain home. Digging clams was his first road to pocket money; likes to take a look at the skyscrapers, tunnels, mountains and wide open spaces for his fun. Been winning friends at Owl's Head 30 years; owned a boat all that time; sticks to land more than he used to, but his boat is one of the most active in the scallop business; always on the job, and never disappoints our Scallop King, when he's looking for scallops. Arthur Bain never disappointed anyone who depended upon him—that's why he's one of our Four Star Folks.

Phone 1162-W and ask: When will the "Boland" be in from George's Bank, with another catch of scallops?

SPEIRO AND THOMAS ECONOMY

★★★★ "YES, we have no bananas," has never been sung by Speiro and Thomas Economy, of the Economy Fruit Store, 9 Park street. And that's not all, they never will sing it as they always have them for their trade. In fact, they have fruits of all kinds, in and out of season, domestic and foreign, always the best, the kind that tempt the sick, whether at home or in the hospital. Here we also find candies, fountain, cigars, magazines, and all popular brands of bottled beer. It's one of the busiest spots in Rockland. Tom and Speiro each became a boarder at the residence of their mother and father in Albania. "Tom" started his career with a box of oranges and bunch of bananas. He sent for Speiro, they got a truck and for eight years they worked like a couple of lions selling fruits and vegetables. In 1912 they opened their first fruit store and it was in Rockland and from that day they just grew and grew. Tom, sure enough, with hands down has won this week's award for being friendly, wearing such a broad smile and his hearty laughter. His eyes are brown, and his white hair is becoming; "fiddsticks!" or its equivalent, if he can't eat heaps of veal and lamb I've missed my train; has no tendency to crab; likes to bling, bling at game with a gun but can't hit the side of a barn. "Speiro" is married, happy father of five children; doesn't smoke, chew or drink; home man and handy around the house, since he can do odd chores and dig in the garden; early riser; reads the funnies; and real "Home Sweet Home" man. Tom and Speiro are like good wine, because they improve with age.

Phone 201-M and ask: How long have these brothers sold fruit in Rockland?

ANNIE AND MILDRED SMITH

★★★★ THE nearest place to home you can find at meal time in Rockland, is The Sea Grill Restaurant, 71 Park street. We can prove this to you any day. You don't have to take our word. Get good and hungry. Go there and order a meal. If what we say isn't true—we'll pay for it. Fair enough? Miss Mildred Smith, the proprietor, was brought up in the atmosphere of her parents widely known Wessaweskeag headquarters at South Thomaston, first people in the Shore and Chicken dinners there, which brought governors, celebrities and home folks from all nearby points to enjoy their wonderful food and happy surroundings. These good folks serve the same chicken and shore dinners at their Sea Grill on Park street, and it's a pleasure to bring you in closer contact with them. Five generations of this Smith family were Maine born. Long ago, Mildred's Mother and Daddy operated our Narragansett Hotel. Annie Smith, has passed responsibilities on to Mildred, her delightful daughter, but when you go in, be sure to get acquainted with them both, and you'll meet two real people. Four Star Movies is a family hobby, and either could grace the silver screen herself, without half trying. Their Sea Grill, with its fine lobster, steak and chicken dinners, its spotlessness, its blue checkered table cloths, its hot-from-the-oven rolls and pies is a welcome asset to this community, and its owners belong in the front ranks of anything that means progress.

Find out for us: How many years have these folks been preparing wonderful dinners for particular people?

CHARLES W. MAXCY
E. A. BOONE

★★★★ SEASONS come and seasons go, but our Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, on Atlantic avenue goes on forever. This is about the 34th year this Standard Bulk Headquarters has been looking out for the motorists in this East Maine Coast territory. Plainly—they belong! Charles W. Maxcy, is the Bulk Station Manager; Eugene A. Boone, is Sales Representative, and two better co-operators in a community way, you'll have hard time to find. Their plant is right up to the second, neat and tidy as a new pin; employ 14 people; two tankers take care of Socony-Vacuum users from the Kennebec to Eastport. Here are just two points we want to iron into your thoughts: Socony-Vacuum is the largest selling motor fuel in the country, and climatic control is one of its outstanding qualifications. That tells you why Socony-Service stations are so popular. Charlie's smile was first discovered in Thomaston; earned his first big half dollar on his uncle's farm; biggest kick is making sun-bonnet babies and smart this—and that in his woodcraft shop; has a weakness for detective stories. "Gene's" short pants day were spent in Portland; one wriggly worm starts an urge for his fishing tackle; we'd bet on him in a race anytime. Charlie can find "Acres of Diamonds" wherever he is, and both are good reproductions of Maine's genuineness.

Phone 115 and ask: What is their storage capacity?

HERBERT E. SIMMONS

★★★★ AWNINGS are not considered a luxury, but an investment, being the means of beautifying the outward appearance of your home, while giving protection from the heat of the sun and its disastrous effects upon your curtains, draperies and furniture. At 16 Willow street we have the Rockland Awning Co., Inc., of which John M. Richardson is president-treasurer, and Herbert E. Simmons, the man-on-the-job, 24 hours per day. Whenever you find a bright, snappy new awning around town, you can say to yourself—"100 to 1 that came from the Rockland Awning shop," and 100 to 1 you're right! They do the Samsot Hotel awning work, stores and offices, beautiful homes, smart cottages, Coast Guard work from Portland to Jonesport, (no boosting prices either because it's the Government); make truck covers, boat covers, tarpaulins, and you'll find their work in Dark Harbor, Camden, Rockport, North Haven, Vinalhaven, Northport—all around the Rockland sector. Mr. Richardson says "Simmons" deserves the spotlight in this story, because of his good judgment, efficient workmanship and ability to make everybody like him. Another reason is, when you want "Sim" during the fishing season you page him and his fishing tackle around Moosehead Lake—then decide that's a good place to be yourself. "John" is all over at the same time—has to be, as advertising manager of this happy home town Courier-Gazette. He started keeping Rockland pavements warm with his first pair of shoes; then kept them warm to and from Rockport High School where he was principal; later to and from our Rockland High School. This writer believes he's still quite familiar with school capers—but has changed his studies to people, and his fun, too. Never dodges an argument; sees both sides of the fence and plays fair.

Phone 1262-W and ask: On what nationally famous hotel does Rockland Awning Co. do all the awning work?

He—Not at all. A gentleman should always stand for a lady. Some men only do so for young and handsome women, but I believe in serving all alike.

ON RUSSIAN CRUISE

Mrs. Jane Andrews of Warren Tells of a Visit To Iceland

Mrs. Jane Andrews of Warren, accompanied by Mrs. Mattie Burgess of North Weymouth, Mass., left June 29 for a six weeks Russian cruise on the S. S. Carinthia and has written home interesting letters of her visits. Of one dated June 30, an extract is here given:

"Well, here we are, Mattie and I, on the old Ocean, calm as a clock, hardly a ripple on the water. When we left Boston on the Eastern S. S. Line, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vinal and Minnie Marshall were at the boat to see us off. Lewis Burgess went as far as New York with us. At the Cunard line docks, we had two surprises. Hat Stevens was at the boat to see us off and brought us a lovely bouquet of roses. Myrtle Haskell was also there and she brought us each a bouquet. Bradley Pipkin also came to see us off and of course Lewis stayed with us until the steamer sailed.

"The second night out we attended a reception for the officers. Last Monday night we had a "gala" dinner. The dining saloon was decorated and there were paper hats at each plate and one or two favors consisting of horns or something that would make a noise, besides many balloons.

"We have dinner at 7.30 each night. The last thing before we retire we set our watches ahead 30 minutes. We must change our watches every day until we get to Iceland, and perhaps longer. I do not know yet.

"July 5—The only unusual thing they had to celebrate the Fourth was a fancy ball and a parade of dancers in costume for which there were three prizes. We have a lecture every day on the places we are to see in Iceland. The longest time we will be away from home (the ship) will be the trip to Moscow, Russia which will take three days.

"July 8—We are again on the old Atlantic after a pleasant day at Reykjavik, Iceland (the natives spell it Island). The town we visited is small but we had a sightseeing bus ride and visited the hot springs. Many of the natives do their washing here. We went to the National Museum which was small but very good.

"Fishing and curing fish are the chief industries here. No doubt you will be surprised that they have no very cold weather here. The ground seldom freezes, as the Gulf Stream changes the climate to that extent.

"We found many nice stores in Reykjavik but the prices were high. There are no trees on the island, and the land is nothing but lava rock covered with very little dirt. It is rather a barren looking place, although they have nice looking houses and business blocks in the city we visited.

"We saw the Houses of Parliament. The people are conservative. They make few laws but abide by them, and live within their means. The streets are practically free from auto traffic—we saw only three or four cars all day. They do not live in a whirl and travel at breakneck speed.

"About 25 citizens gave us a vocal musical entertainment last night and they certainly have some fine fingers among their people. The concert was one of the best I ever heard.

"Last night was cloudy but we sat up until almost 1 o'clock thinking we would see the midnight sun. We had to set our watches ahead one hour and tonight (July 9) we set them ahead another hour. We are losing a lot of time but suppose we will gain it all back again on our return trip.

"July 13—We were in Hammerfest July 11 all day sightseeing. It costs ten cents to send a letter to the U. S. A. from here and five cents to send a card. There are good stores in Hammerfest, furs of all kinds, knitted mittens, stockings, in fact everything needed for a cold climate. We left Hammerfest July 11 and went to North Cape where passengers went ashore mostly to say they had been to North Cape. There was not much to see there but some of the party climbed a high mountain. We went ashore but did not do any climbing. Returned to the steamer and at 12, saw the midnight sun. Can you imagine the sun shining at midnight as brightly as at midday? At 1 a. m. they served lunch in the dining saloon and I think it must have been 2.30 a. m. when we retired.

"For the past three days the scenery has been grand—high mountain peaks on every side covered with snow. North Cape is the most northern point we touch at on our cruise, so since leaving we have been sailing south and made a stop at Lingen, Norway. We found that town small and not very interesting except the Lapp colony which we visited. The Lapps live mostly in the open but have small tents to crawl into when it rains. They dress warmly in woolen clothes and many furs. Don't know what they live on, as we saw nothing in the eating line and no place to cook anything. They all looked well kept especially the children.

"There are many skins on sale, especially from the large white polar bear, which make wonderful white rugs. The ermine furs are beautiful. I have seen many neckpieces but no coats. They are very expensive. They have on sale many novelties made from walrus tusks which look like ivory.

"We rode from the wharf up to the town in carriages called Stoltyerre, a high, two wheeled cart drawn by a small horse, the seat for the passengers in front, the driver standing in the rear. Our driver had a passion for passing everything on the highway and the roads were very narrow. Mattie and I held on for dear life, as we expected to be upset in the ditch any minute. We kept telling him to go more slowly but not understanding English, I think he thought we meant for him to go faster. We got into a gale of laughter but reached the Lapp colony in safety. We returned to the landing in an auto which was much more comfortable.

"Last night at about 11.30 we had our second look at the midnight sun. It is supposed to shine at this time of the year both day and night but they are having unusually cloudy weather this year and more fog than usual so we are not getting continuous sunshine.

"Our next visit is at Trondheim, Norway, and we are scheduled for a sightseeing trip and luncheon at a hotel. We are having the time of our lives sailing in smooth waters among snow capped mountains. In all my travels, I have seen nothing more beautiful."

SEACOAST MISSION

Annual Meeting Sees Two New Directors Named—Miss Douglas Resigns

The Maine Seacoast Mission's annual meeting was held at Bar Harbor last week.

Thomas Searls, the treasurer for 30 years of the Mission, reported the Mission to be sound financially and to be making expenditures of the most useful kind.

Re-elected to the directors' board: Mrs. John Markoe, Rev. William Adams Brown, Col. William Jay Schieffelin, Mrs. Luquer, Mrs. Raynor G. Wellington; new members elected to board: W. Bertram Eddison, Wilfred J. LaPoint.

Miss Laura Knowlton, Maine state director of public health work under the Red Cross, told of the co-operation between her order and the Mission, and of the Delano nursing service. This work was by Miss Rebecca M. Douglas. She has now resigned.

Mrs. Alice M. Peaslee, whose work with the women of the lighthouses and coast guard stations as well as with women who, generally, are cut off from many occupations, industrial and social, spoke interestingly upon the work. Miss Ethel Rand of Sigma Kappa, the sorority whose national philanthropy is the mission, spoke on the educational work of the Mission.

The 4-H Club work is available to the children of the isolated places of the coast and Rev. Arthur H. Sargent spoke of this phase of the many sided co-operation which the Mission gives to all.

of the Mission, talked of the work as an "Adventure in Faith," and summed up the work in a manner which took his listeners straight off across the waters with him.

The resignations of two workers was noted with regret. Family matters called Mrs. Ethel L. Corbett home after service on the loneliest isle in the world, while Miss Rebecca M. Douglas, R. N., has resigned, leaving a fine record.

The report given Wednesday shows that there was never a craft with so many duties of so many different kinds. Pastoral care, hospitalization, kindly offices in sickness or in death, organization of clubs, service of wor-
