HEARING ON BRIDGE

To Be Held By Col. Kingman, District Engineer At Stonington, Aug. 27

The application of the Deer Isle-Sedgwick Bridge District of Stonington, Maine, for approval of plans of a highway bridge to be constructed across Eggemoggin Reach between Byard Point, Sargentville, Little Sally Island and Little Deer Isle, Maine, will be considered at a public hearing on the subject, to be held by John J. Kingman, district engineer, in the Stonington Opera House, Tuesday, Aug. 27, 1935, at 9 a. m. (daylight time).

The plans submitted by the applicant show a fixed bridge of the suspension type consisting of three spans. The distance from center to center of the channel piers is to be 800 feet. The span on each side of the channel span is to have a distance of about 400 feet between the face of the abutment and the center line of the channel pier. The channel span will afford a vertical clearance of 50 feet at mean high water for a width of 400 feet.

AMONG OLD FRIENDS

Alden Hayden, 36 Years Absent, Still Attached To Knox County

Smiling, alert and evidently very happy over his annual summer visit amid old home scenes, Alden Hayden, 87 of Medford Hillside, Mass., was a visitor Saturday at The Courier-Gazette office.

"The Courier-Gazette," said he, "is one of my best friends, and I couldn't live without it." The paper has followed him to his home in the Bay State 36 years and its three issues a week are devoured from first column to last.

Mr. Hayden was on the staff of the W. H. Glover Co. as journeyman and foreman for 25 years, and it followed naturally that he continue as a carpenter and builder when he transferred to the mother State. He retired from active duties two years ago, but being only 85, he felt a bit guilty about it, and continues to putter around his beloved shop, as he expresses it.

Mr. Hayden is a native of South Thomaston and one of his first acts upon reaching Maine was to drop down there and call upon old friends. Alas! the number has been sadly depleted by time, and a feeling of sadness came upon Mr. Hayden as he visited familiar spots and missed so many familiar faces.

Mrs. Hayden is with her husband, and they are looking forward to Jan. 12, 1936, which is marked in the calendar as their 60th wedding anniversary. In Medford Hillside they make their home at 44 Emery street. With them on their Knox County visit are their son, Stanley Hayden, and his wife of Keene, N. H. The party is stopping at Leeman Oxton's in West Rockport. Mrs. Hayden was formerly Alice Oxton of Camden.

Another son, Arthur, resides in Gloucester, and is in the jewelry business.

Herbert E. Simmons of The Rockland Awning Company, does all the awning work for the Samoset Hotel, nationally famous for its location, comfort and distinctive service.

WHEN SCHOOL OPENS

Lots Of Children Are Going To Need Shoes and Clothing—Help 'Em

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—In a few weeks school will be opened, and there are a great number of children who will be unable to attend because of lack of clothing, especially shoes and boys' pants. An earnest appeal is made for clothing of any kind.

A great many mothers are planning to buy new outfits for their boy or girl, and I was wondering if the discarded suits or clothing would not just fit some of my large family.

Two weeks ago through these columns I asked for a stove, shoes and baby carriage and thanks to The Courier-Gazette the good people who responded with gospel measure pressed down and running over—two stoves instead of one.

WHAT, A BURIED TREASURE!

Rockland Man Tells Of Pirate Gold and An Obdurate Uncle Sam

The Courier-Gazette has been handed a copy of The Adventure Log, in which appears the following letter:

Editor of The Adventure Log:

Some time ago I wrote to you of a long ago shipwreck, brass cannon lying at the bottom of the sea, of a lone some gold piece washed by countless seas of high water mark. I read your answer to my request and thanks for same.

I also spoke of a buried pirate treasure that I had located after a number of years of very careful investigation. This treasure has been searched for years and I have had a number of people to whom I have told the story offer to pay all expenses and go and get it. It is quite a long story. Should you be interested I will write it for you, but here are the facts of what I am up against. Where this treasure is located is on a U. S. Government island, therefore a government reservation.

I have been on the island, located the spot where the treasure is buried. I have applied to the superintendent of lighthouses in that district and was informed that no digging would be allowed on the island. I next wrote a letter to a congressman at Washington who forwarded my request to the War Department under whose control the lighthouses and reservation come. I have just received a reply from the War Department informing me that they cannot grant my request for digging on a government reservation.

What am I to do? I am up against a solid wall of red tape and tradition, a small request to grant with no harm done to a rocky sea bound island, only one spot to dig. Can you suggest a way of getting through this red tape and obtaining a permit?

E. R. Smith,

491 Main street, Rockland, Me.

In response to this letter the magazine gave some advice (valuable, no doubt), but it was missing from the clipping above published. If there is any Capt. Kidd story lying around these parts Uncle Sam should loosen up, and give E. R. Smith carte blanche to get busy with his shovel.

THE LEGION FAIR

Thomaston To See Parade With Unique Features—Committees Busy

The American Legion Fair scheduled for Aug. 22, is claiming the attention of the community. Miss Kay Turner, who is planning the parade, has several new features. The first 10 floats will be decorated to represent songs sung in World War days: "Over There", "Rose of No Man's Land", "K-K-K-Katy", "There's a Long, Long Trail", "Mademoiselle from Armentieres" Pack up Your Troubles", "Keep the Home Fires Burning", "The Dark Town Strutters Ball", and "The Star Spangled Banner". These songs will be sung as the parade passes.

Division 2 will sing burlesque songs: "The Man on the Flying Trapeze", by John Creighton; "The Lady in Red", "Pickles" Young; "Lazy Bones", Ralph Ayers; "The Last Round Up", "Pink Elephant", "You're the Cream in my Coffee", etc. There will be characterization of the quintuplets, the upside-down-stomach patient, and various others.

Mrs. Katherine Risteen, president of Williams-Brazier Post Auxiliary, is laboring strenuously to complete the list of the necessary committees. She desires it to be known that assistance from everyone will be gladly received. Hitherto there has been a lack of sufficient cooked food, and an appeal is made for a much larger supply.

The same is true of articles, fancy and otherwise.

Committees are: Candy table, Mrs. Blanche Lermond, Mrs. Ella Edgett, Eleanor Feyler, Lella Smalley; cooked food, Mrs. R. E. Dunn, Mrs. Kate Linnell, Mrs. Lullie Weston, Mrs. E. P. Starrett, Mrs. Annie Willey; vegetable table, Mrs. Sadie Chaples and helpers; fir pillows, Edna Smith, Cora E. Currier, Martha Cogan, Lillian Dornan; children's table, Emma Kailoch, Olive Brazier, Mabel Achon; aprons, Edna Young, Shirley Williams, Bernice Knights and helpers; fancy table, Katherine Risteen, Helen Lynch, Hazel Anzalone, Della Dennison; coffee table, No. 1, Lella Williams, Della Cogan and helpers; coffee table No. 2, Annie Mank, Lucretia McNeil and helpers; hot dogs, No. 1, Mattie Spaulding, Ora Woodcock and helpers; hot dogs, No. 2, Olive Pales, Margaret Spear and helpers; grabs, Edith Clark.

Aprons or material for same will be gladly received by Mrs. Edna Young, also material for fir pillows will be welcomed by Mrs. Edna Smith.

ANDY HUTCHINS WON

Plenty Of Breeze Yesterday For HAJ Boats and Was Good Race

Yesterday's race of the HAJ boats was the fastest of the season, due to the stiff southerly breeze which prevailed during the afternoon. It was a bit hazy, to be sure, but the yachtsmen were not handicapped by it. Andy Hutchins was first across the finish line.

WITH A REDUCED OVERHEAD

Reorganized Lime Co. Will Begin Active Campaign—H. Nelson McDougall Executive Head

Organized on a basis which greatly reduces its fixed overhead obligations the local lime company finds itself, under the terms of the Federal Corporation bankruptcy act, a new concern known as the Rockland-Rockport Lime Co., Inc.

Under the reorganization plans there has been no change in the personnel of the local management, but control of the company, through ownership of capital stock is materially changed.

Under the terms of the reorganization, the majority of the capital stock in the new company is now held by the former holders of first mortgage bonds of the old company, such holders being for the most part individuals and banking institutions of the State of Maine.

The executive management of the new corporation is headed by H. Nelson McDougall, as chairman of the board of directors. The board of the new Rockland-Rockport Lime Co., Inc., is thus composed: H. Nelson McDougall, chairman Portland; Hon. William T. Cobb, George B. Wood, Knott C. Rankin, Putnam P. Bicknell, all of Rockland; Blin W. Page, Skowhegan and O. Kelley Anderson, Boston.

The executive officers are George B. Wood president and general manager; Harry A. Buffum, treasurer; Ardrey E. Orff, auditor; Knott C. Rankin, general superintendent.

It is the expectation of the new management that the Lime Company hereafter will be well able to earn its fixed charges and continue operations as a going concern regardless of general current business conditions.

The selection of Mr. McDougall as chairman of the directorate argues strongly for the success of the new concern. Brought up in the center of the Knox County lime manufacturing belt, and serving officially in connection with the recent bankruptcy proceedings, Mr. McDougall is keenly alive to the needs of this industry and will go about vigorously and understandingly to restore the measure of success which obtained in former periods. Mr. McDougall is president of the National Bank of Commerce in Portland, and his prominent standing in the financial world lends emphasis to his executive connection with the reorganized lime company.

The present officials have meantime been making a careful survey of the building trades industry, and are ready to adapt the Lime Company's splendid facilities to a new and enlarged scope. To this end President Wood has devoted painstaking attention, and he is convinced that the effort is not going unrewarded.

and through binoculars you can see a throng of people entering the building. Done by master artists, the painting required four years.

Whereas the Southern States have no fence law—Canada has the opposite. Miles and miles of rail fences! Should a man ever lack fuel up there, his fence would warm him for some time.

In the evening, along with several hundred other people we strolled on Duferin Terrace overlooking the St. Lawrence, while a band played English airs. The broad river, the lights gleaming on the opposite shore, the citadel frowning from above, the night boat starting for Montreal, and then a huge liner slipping out into the stream, headed for Europe—I just stood, leaning on the rail, and pictured Montcalm and Wolfe and the dark night when the English army noiselessly sneaked past the impregnable city and landed above, and how the next morning, back there in 1759, after a short and stiff battle the land of Canada passed to England.

Then a ride in a caleche (a horse drawn, two wheeled gig) made us feel that we had done Quebec. But the real treat was still ahead. Bill and I walked up to the citadel, and were met at the entrance by a tall, red coated and black helmeted guard. He escorted us through the walls and turned us over to the captain of the guard. A treat? You bet! Because they were the Royal Buckingham Guards—the King's own. The lieutenant-governor of the colony has to spend two weeks of a year at the citadel. Being a direct representative of the king, while he is there the royal guards are on sentry duty. So while only in Canada we had a glimpse of real England.

GREAT DAYS IN CAMDEN

Yesterday marked the opening day of the Penobscot Bay antique loan exposition, to which the attention of this paper's readers has already at considerable length been directed. The group of summer and local residents of this immediate region, who over a year ago suggested the possibility of such an exhibition, will look with pleasure, not to say amazement, upon the results achieved by the committees, numbering more than 100, working under the direction of the splendid organization that has made the occasion possible. The entire Penobscot Bay area has been combed for months for only the choicest pieces of furniture, glass, china, silver, pewter, lace, embroideries, etc. Such a wealth of material has been discovered that it has been a task of eliminating rather than accumulating. To further insure the highest standards in each individual exhibit the final seal of approval has been given by recognized authorities in each classification.

That the region of the Penobscot Bay, should have been singled out for this form of publicity confers a distinction which several of the largest cities have been proud to enjoy. To many parts of the nation, where these exhibitions of antiques have had vogue, have been drawn visitors from remote distances, even from as far as across the country, so great and far-reaching is the interest that the subject creates.

During this week of the display we shall look to see the Opera House at Camden visited by eager throngs of the appreciative.

WANTED: MORE SIGNBOARDS

Writing from Iola, Kansas to the Boston Transcript, Charles F. Scott remarks:

I have just returned from a motor trip in the course of which I toured the New England States. Among a thousand things to praise I found one thing lacking and that is signs bearing the names of towns and villages through which the highway passes. One who is trying to follow a map finds it difficult to keep himself oriented if he does not know the name of the town in which he finds himself. Comparisons are odious, but sometimes they are instructive. Out West as the motorist approaches a town he finds a conspicuous sign reading something like this: "Raytown—Population 235—City Limits." Or it may be "Maytag—Unincorporated." But every town, no matter how small, posts its name at its front door. I suggest the Transcript start a crusade to have New England towns adopt the custom. It would be a boon to every tourist.

Commenting thereupon a reader of this paper adds:

How closely this applies to Rockland and many of the towns of Maine. We could do a good bit of advertising by the putting up of a score or so signboards at the country and regional cross-roads, carrying the name of Rockland and the number of miles necessary to getting the traveler to that point of destination. It is my conviction that the name of our city is far less to be seen on signboards than it deserves to be."

WORTH THINKING ABOUT

Down Bar Harbor way next week takes place the annual recognition of what is known as Summer Visitors' Day, an occasion in which figures a pageant, with a variety of side activities that give color to the day. It is a very pretty way of emphasizing the figure that the summer visitor cuts in the vacation months of the Maine year. What is done by our down-east neighbor in this way of appreciation had some elements of recognition in the Old Home Week that Rockland used each summer to celebrate memories of which, and the gladness of it all, continue to be happily recalled. We are confident that a resurrection of Old Home Week would be hailed with general appreciation, calling back from far and near as guests of the occasion those who formerly were harbored here and would be happy to renew, amid once familiar scenes, contacts with old-time friends and acquaintance. It is not too early to be thinking upon such an occasion of get-together as would make memorable the year that follows this.

Camden Took Both

Camden's string of victories soared upward to an even dozen at Community Park Sunday afternoon, when under a weeping sky the lads from the mountain town both ends of a double-header with the Rockland Orphans.

The first game was a reminder of Civil War days—being the First Battle of Bull Run as far as the home team was concerned. The contest went along about even Stephen until the fourth inning, when the men from the mountain fell like a ton of brick upon the Coast Guard pitcher, Carter, and piled up seven runs. After that the demoralized Orphans offered but little opposition, and Camden piled up one of the largest scores of the season.

Lord, who went hitless until the fourth inning, made amends by cracking out four successive singles. A new man in the Camden lineup was young Miller of Rockport, who showed himself a chip of the old block by making three singles in a row.

The re-entry of Charlie Wotton into the game featured the Rockland side of the game. He played only three innings, but in spite of long absence from practice was the "same old Charlie," as one Camden player expressed, and the effect of his presence was at once seen.

The second game was a decided improvement, but with the same eventual result. Rockland tried out Makinen, the "Strikeout King" of the Big Five League. He fanned two men in the first inning, but none thereafter.

Lieut. Bagley on the Camden mound mixed in lots of provokingly slow ones with his speedy delivery, but the best Rockland could do was six hits off him. Both pitchers were generous, 13 passes being issued, and one man patched.

There were two distinctly sensational plays—Wotton's one-hand catch of a foul near the fence; and Joe Leonard's one-hand shoestring catch made on the dead run. "Chuck" Ellis in addition to playing a fine game in central garden, smote a nice triple.

Camden 5, St. George 4

The Camden Chick-ens staged a father and son affair on the Camden field Saturday afternoon and though the success of it seemed some times to hang in the balance it was the coolness of Daddy Boydton which kept Camden's slate from suffering its first crack.

Last Thursday night the St. George Colts forced Camden into an extra inning, and Saturday afternoon the contest was extended to 11 innings before the Colts struck their colors. The crowd meantime witnessed one of the best exhibitions yet seen in the Twilight League, with batting honors going to St. George and fielding honors to the home team.

It is not easy to beat any team whose infield accepts all of its 39 chances, and that's what Camden did, with three double plays thrown in for good measure. Hats off to Lord, Plaisted, Wadsworth and "Chick" Maynard!

The Colts got away to an imposing start. "Ike" Simmons reached third on a single, an error and Wiley's sacrifice. Maurice Simmons chose that auspicious moment to hit the ball so hard it went across the roadway on the port side of the school building, and the man at the new score board chalked up two tallies for St. George.

Camden took the lead in the fourth on Mayhew's triple but lost it again in the sixth when Monaghan drew a base on balls, M. Simmons tripled and Smalley singled. Score, St. George 4, Camden 3.

The score was again tied in the eighth, when with two down the sun blinded Simmons at first and a thrown ball went off the diamond. A single by Thomas netted the coveted run.

The ninth and tenth innings were unproductive of runs for either side, and St. George went out in order in the first half of the eleventh.

And then it was all over in a flash. "Dumpy" Monaghan who had made a startling one hand catch in the second inning, muffed Thomas' high fly and Til, slid safely into second. "Chick" Maynard who had been playing like the proverbial house afire all the afternoon, drove out a nice single between left and center, and the game was over.

St. George 4, Camden 3

All things must have an end, and so with the winning streak of the Camden Shells which stopped last night on that team's 13th game. And it was the St. George Colts which turned the trick, after having just failed in two extra innings. It was a jubilant throng which greeted the victorious Colts when they pranced off the field at St. George last night, and nobody begrudged the youngsters their achievement.

Camden offered a pitcher new to the Knox County Twilight League—E. Wadsworth, a brother to good old "Snake" Wadsworth, the team's highly capable first sacker. The youngster fanned nine St. Georgians and held them to six hits. He seems to have the earmarks of a good moundman. Being a Wadsworth he would. Maurice Simmons served 'em up for the home team, and in only one inning did he allow more than a single hit. His hitting was directly accountable for three of the Colts' four runs.

St. George passed into the lead in the fifth when Polky walked, I. Simmons singled, Monaghan doubled and M. Simmons singled. Camden tied in the sixth, and the tie was broken in the last half of the sixth when W. Mackie walked and I. Simmons and Wiley singled.

Some fine work was done by all of the outfielders, but the real feature play was O. Wadsworth's foul catch opposite the third base bleachers.

Edward A. Cording and bride of Wheaton, Ill., furnished the music morning and evening at the First Baptist Church Sunday, their duets including "Down From His Glory" and "Pause At His Feet," at the former, and "Only Glory By and By" and "Nailed To the Cross" at the latter service. Mr. Cording, who is the field representative of Wheaton College, led the singing at the evening service with voice and trumpet. Mrs. Cording is a sister of Rev. Paul S. James, who was the guest minister Sunday.

That the ferry from Islesboro to the mainland will be between Grindie's Point and Lincolnville Beach is now assured and the State Highway Commission expects soon to start work on the piers and highway approaches. The terminal at the Islesboro end will be on Grindie's Point, and not nearby as had seemed advisable to some investigating the best location. Much of the delay in starting construction of the piers has been caused by opposition of some summer residents near the Point to having the landing too close to their properties. The new road on Islesboro to Grindie's Point to connect with the ferry will follow closely the course of the old road.

Distance doesn't always keep an interested alumnus from returning to visit his Alma Mater. Word has come from Willis Godspeed '91, of Spokane, Washington, that he is hoping to be on Kent's Hill Saturday, to greet friends and classmates, who, living nearer, surely will be there. Also, from Yuba City, Calif., will come Mrs. Belle Greeley Schilling '88, who, during her stay in Maine, will be the guest of Stella King White '88, of Houlton. Harry E. Stetson, '93, of Missoula, Mont., writes from Portland, Me., that he hopes to attend the reunion. The classes, whose numerals are multiples of five, are urged to have a good showing in the class reunions which are scheduled for the day.

There may not be much coastwise shipping in the bay, but look across any day, and you will see plenty of yachts.

The Twilight League games now begin at 5.30 p. m. The days are shortening, and the League has only two more weeks to go.

The Samost Hotel had approximately 170 guests over the weekend, which is about on a par with last season at this time. The hotel closes Sept. 7.

Rockland and Camden play a postponed game in Camden tonight. This game, like all others for the balance of the season (Saturday and Sunday excepted) will begin promptly at 5.30.

Dr. Cornelius Greenway of Brooklyn is to be the Lions Club's guest speaker tomorrow. In former years he has addressed the local service clubs on several occasions—a brilliant, witty and fascinating speaker.

The Mother Goose Water Frolic under the direction of Miss Rosemary Lamberson of Gorham was the featured attraction Saturday at the annual water sports day observance of Camp Laughing Loon at East Waterboro. Other interesting features were demonstrations of life saving, strokes, fancy diving, canoeing drills and races. Participating in the sports was Miss Ruth Dondis of this city.

A business like looking stranger in Central Fire Station occupies the berth of the late Engine 2 and when ready for service, possibly a week hence, will probably bear that number. The new truck is a Dodge and has been equipped in this city, utilizing the 400 gallon pump and other fixings of the dismantled engine. The new machine is rugged and has met all tests with ease. Meantime the chassis of the venerable old Chandler is regulated to street department service.

Millard Hart, Olive Elwell, Alfred Young and Ansel Young had an unpleasant experience Friday night while motoring to Tenan's Harbor. They were within two or three miles of the village when they saw a car approaching, which, to use a common phrase was taking the whole of the road. Hart, who was driving drew as far as possible to the right, but could not avert a collision. Alfred Young was cut quite badly about the face, and the others received minor cuts and bruises. The driver of the other car—Thompson by name was thrown out with such force as to be badly stunned. Investigations were of the opinion that he had been dozing at the wheel. Both cars were badly damaged.

Keen interest is being evinced in the rehearsals prefacing the annual H. Wellington Smith concert in Thomaston probably the latter part of the month. These rehearsals, at Watts hall each Monday evening at 7.45, are bringing together singers from all parts of Knox County joining forces under the magic baton of Mr. Smith. In the choral work this season Mr. Smith has chosen as the high light excerpts from "Lohengrin" an arrangement similar to that of "Faust" which so delighted in last year's concert. Mr. Smith's ambition is to see the chorus take on greater proportions, possibly a hundred singers, and the ranks are still open to newcomers. The opportunity to sing under the direction of such a skilled musician as Mr. Smith, who is firmly established in New York and Boston as baritone and voice teacher, is notable. Mr. Smith has marvelous aid in this project from his wife, the gifted Edna Wellington Smith, a brilliant coach-pianist.

Patrolman Price is back on duty after a fortnight's vacation.

John W. Watts sky-motored to Boston yesterday, the guest of Adriel U. Bird on the La Touraine plane.

Dwight M. Virgin is having a fortnight's vacation from his duties as treasurer of the Burpee Furniture Co. He is visiting his former home in Oxford County.

George Gow, directory maker and baseball enthusiast, made his smiling appearance on the streets of Rockland this morning preparatory to the compilation of a county directory on a much more comprehensive scale than that of 1934.

It is almost certain that Dr. Dana Newman will attend the World Series in October. He has submitted to the Boston Post 101 coupons in the Babe Ruth contest, and he is very certain that one of them will give the lineup as selected by the ex-Home Run King.

A lecture recital "Elijah" is to be given by H. Wellington Smith, well known baritone and voice teacher, of New York, at Knox Hotel, Wednesday, Aug. 21, at 2.30 p. m. Mr. Smith, who with Mrs. Smith and several artist-pupils, is at Pleasant Point for the summer, has signified that this will be his only personal appearance here this summer, other than directing the chorus for the Thomaston concert to be given later. Mr. Smith in addition to telling the beautiful story of "Elijah" and of the music written by Mendelssohn to become a world masterpiece, will illustrate vocally, and also be aided by other vocalists.

Gilbert Harmon, a Boston University Law School graduate, who has spent two summers in the law office of Ensign Otis, was in Portland this week and successfully passed the State Bar examinations. Mr. Harmon is native of Machias, 25 years of age, a graduate of Brighton High School, 1926, Bowdoin College 1931, and Boston University Law, 1935. He will begin his active practice in Mr. Otis' office, remaining there until he decides upon a permanent location. He has made many friends during his stay in Rockland, as well as during an earlier brief residence in Warren, and is receiving congratulations and best wishes for a successful legal career.

FRANK M. ULMER

The sudden death of Frank M. Ulmer at his home on Gurdy street, as recently reported in this paper, brought sadness to many, and especially those who had been associated with him in a business way or in fraternal societies.

The deceased was 74 years of age and was one of the early employees of the now defunct Rockland, Thomaston & Camden Street Railway. He was for many years a worker in the Republican ranks, and had served that party in the Common Council and Board of Aldermen. He was also a member of the police force for a number of years. He was greatly devoted to the Knights of Pythias and had served Gen. Berry Lodge as chancellor commander. He also belonged to Aurora Lodge, F.A.M.

Mr. Ulmer was a conscientious worker, a faithful friend, and always good humored. He is survived by his wife, a sister, Mrs. Frances Driscoll, and a niece, Mrs. Isabel Higgins of Whitman, Mass.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. C. MacDonald, and the several organizations with which he had been affiliated were well represented. Eulogies for the deceased also found its manifestation in the many handsome floral offerings. The bearers were Warren McFadden, Horace Maxey, Milton M. Griffin and James Cates. Interment was at Achorn cemetery.

HAPPY HOPE FARM

Readable Nature Stories and a Plausible Recipe For Sour Milk Pie

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

"Praise God from whom all blessings flow!" That is what I've been humming this morning, in gratefulness of spirit for the rainy day we have needed so long. Garden vegetation was beginning to look like a thirsty traveler lost in the parching heat of the desert, yes, we do thank God for this beautiful rain.

Indoors Peter and Bobby hop about in their cages. Peter is a purple grackle who had the misfortune to break a wing. It never healed so he could fly, so I have taken care of him. He whistles in early morning and seems much at home in his improvised cage of hardware wire, with a cardboard roof and milk pan bottom. He scorns the choicest worm, but eagerly devours flies. If Bobby, with his bright yellow feathers is like sunshine, Peter in his purple black and dark brown coat, reminds me of that time of day when twilight merges into the restful peace of a summer night. But "sunshine" and "twilight" seem to like to hop around the living room floor together, little yellow Bobby looking so small beside gawky Peter. But when the canary flies back to his cage, Peter looks so disappointed because he cannot take wing and follow.

What would you think if you had 25 or more fish in your lap? I was lying at rest in the shallows on the edge of South Pond, when I felt something nibbling at my feet. "My goodness, a turtle!" I exclaimed, but saw nothing when I sat up. I had that particular cue all to myself and it was very pleasant in the warm water and sun, so I laid me down again to dream.

Nibble, nibble, not only on my feet but my arms this time. Moving my head cautiously I saw that I was surrounded by a school of 75 or more fish averaging three inches in length. When I slowly rose to a sitting posture, they did not take flight but continued to swim over and under my arms and across my lap. A can that had contained crab meat was retrieved from the shore and held under water. In a moment those friendly little fish were investigating and soon had it clean of every scrap of meat. I do not know what species of fish these were, but they looked like young alewives.

Mother Quill had taken her noon-day siesta and was just starting out with her son Johnny to look up a meal of juicy twigs. She selected a poplar in Happy Hope farm woods and climbed up to a small bough, all unaware of the human eyes watching her. Johnny clambered after her and started out on the small limb. Mother Quill turned and seemed to say, "Johnny, don't you dare come out on this limb. It won't hold us both!" Like some little human boy, Johnny didn't want to mind, so he kept on. Quick as a flash mother Quill whirled about and slapped her progeny's black nose with her quilled tail. "Here, here! here, here!" squealed Johnny, almost losing his balance. "I told you to get back!" grunted mother Quill. "You'll get another slap if you come any farther," holding her caudal appendage ready.

Johnny fussed a bit, then backed off the limb and went to choose one for himself.

The "mother lady," Mrs. Curtis, has returned to her home. During her several weeks' stay at Happy Hope Farm she won our lasting regard by her tact, efficiency and sterling worth.

In closing I would like to tell my sister housewives how we use up some

First Measure Is To Correct Defects

Problem Child Is Apt To Be Unhealthy; Expert Medical Care Needed

By Dr. E. A. Farrington
Director, Bancroft School;
Secretary, Special School Association

It is axiomatic that a sound mind must have a sound body, but the retarded child usually cannot boast of either. He is all too apt to show signs of ill-health, vague and indefinite, perhaps, subtle and hard to locate, but nevertheless present, ceaselessly and stubbornly resisting all efforts to overcome the resultant mental handicap.

The first task of the educator must therefore concern itself with correcting physical defects, and building up and maintaining the body at its highest point of efficiency.

Correcting Abnormalities
The problem may be attacked from several angles. First comes the correction or amelioration of structural abnormalities, such as weak and relaxed or stiff and contracted muscle-groups, shortened tendons or bones, muscular incoordination, bad posture, and faulty breathing habits. Next, attention must be given to defective eyesight and hearing, to teeth and tonsils, and to the removal of meaningless muscular activities, such as rhythmic motions of the hands and fingers, string-twirling, and button-twisting.

Next comes a study of the diet. Many problem children are difficult to feed. They dislike the staple articles of a nourishing diet, though they need such foods as milk, eggs, cereals, green vegetables and fruit, as much as any child. Usually they prefer to eat meat, fried food, sweet desserts or candy. A carefully planned course of training must often be persisted in for weeks or months before the child learns to eat simple foods at regular intervals, and to abstain from eating between meals.

This is the fourth of a series of articles on the "problem child." Dr. Farrington will reply to questions addressed to him at the Bancroft School, Haddonfield, N. J.

of the sour milk, so plentiful these sultry "dog days" when it's difficult to keep milk sweet. A mock lemon pie is very nice, we think. Heat the sour milk 'til it separates, making cottage cheese of the thick part. Thicken the whey with cornstarch, sweetening to taste and adding one egg for each pie. Flavor with lemon extract and bake in single crust. Finish with meringue or not, as you wish.

I also add raisins and flavor with vanilla or dried orange peel to make another kind of sour milk pie that we enjoy.

Stampnology

By John Guistin

These stamp subjects are sponsored through the courtesy of The Courier-Gazette, to broaden the general knowledge of the average collector, along historical and geographical educational lines. The information is strictly authentic. The writer seeks to discuss United States commemorative stamps only and solicits criticism; also invites criticisms, etc.

No. 9—Thirty Cent—Columbus announcing his discovery, from the painting by R. Baloca, which now hangs in Madrid, Spain. Printed in dull and dark green on plate M-58, 1,576,950, issued. This item is rising steadily in price.

No. 10—Thirty Cent—The design of this value was taken from the painting, "Columbus at La Rabida," by R. Maso. 617,250 were printed in orange-brown from plate N-59.

The proposed Boy Scout stamp was again sidetracked for another year at least. All blame rests on scout officials for lack of furthering the issuance of this stamp in honor of this beloved organization.

On November 1 the postoffice department will issue a stamp in honor of the one hundred anniversary of Michigan becoming one of the United States of America. As usual it will be a three-center, maybe.

Now for a bit of history on this occasion: Those of you who know the history of Michigan probably look up the dates and question why the first of November, 1935, was selected for the date of issuance of this commemorative stamp, when Michigan was not admitted to the Union until Jan. 26, 1837. A simple answer if presented, for it was about this date plans were first inaugurated for the formation of a State by working on a constitution and the organization of the state government. It was finally completed and formed on Jan. 26, 1835, but the necessary number of ratifications to formally make it a state were not until Jan. 26, 1837, when it took its place with the others.

The Governor issued a proclamation declaring the time between Jan. 26, 1935 and Jan. 26, 1937 to be celebrated as the 100th anniversary. This proposed stamp has been approved by Postmaster General James A. Farley to be issued; however the design has not thus far been announced.

I wish to express my sincere regrets to the seekers of the Gen. Henry Knox cachet issued on July 25. In regard to those who did not send their covers until late, they may retrieve them by sending a self-addressed envelope, or leave same in my office and will be used next year. Do as you wish.

Properly Stowed Bags Add to Comfort

Comfort, pleasure, and safety on a tour depend largely on efficient loading of the luggage, and modern body designs have done much to ease the problem, as these views of Chevrolet models reveal. In the upper left view, the suitcases have been fitted in snugly, the adjustable front seat having been moved forward to allow extra legroom, and the driver is now pushing back the seat to clamp the bags in place for the day. Upper right, the tourist is utilizing the baggage space back of the rear seat. The two lower pictures show the loading of a coupe compartment and a sedan trunk.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

By Carrie J. Williams, Central Maine Power Co., Home Service Department.

Oven Canning

The two methods of canning now commonly used, are the open kettle, or cooked in the kettle method which most of us are probably more familiar with and the jar cooked or cooked in the jar method which may be cold or hot packed. The open kettle way, the food is heated through more evenly and quickly than when it is packed into jars.

Cold pack means filling jars with uncooked or cold food. The chief disadvantage in using this phase of that method is that a longer time is necessary for the center of the can to get hot.

Hot pack method has the advantage of both the open kettle and cold. With the hot pack a certain amount of pre-cooking is done before the food is placed in jars. The shrinking which takes place through cooking makes for easier packing, fuller jars, and any air in the food is driven out in the heating.

General Directions for Canning Vegetables

1. Precook all vegetables. Time varies from three-eight minutes or more depending on the vegetable. Cook until flexible enough to handle and pack easily or until skin loosens so they can be removed quickly if they are to be taken off.

2. Pack in hot clean tested jars to within one-half inch of top. Skim to get a good pack, but don't use a spoon and avoid a tight pack because that requires a long time for the heat to penetrate to the center of the jar.

3. Add one teaspoon of salt to each quart jar.

4. Fill jars to overflow with boiling water. Remove all air bubbles. Adjust the cover by partly sealing one clamp or turning a lid to one-fourth back with a screw top.

5. Preheat oven to 275 degrees. Place jars in a shallow pan or cookie pan far enough apart to insure a good circulation in the oven. Begin recording time of processing from time food is placed in oven. The time is about one-third to one-half longer for fruit than in the hot water bath.

6. Remove seal immediately, cool quickly but avoid a direct draft and don't let jars touch while cooling. When cold invert for several hours to detect any leaks.

"One hour from the field to the can" is a good guide toward improving quality and insuring safe keeping of canned foods.

Helpful Hints

1. To prevent discoloring—apples and pears.

a. Let stand in brine two oz. or four tablespoons of salt to one gallon water.

2. Grape juice. One pint sugar to six parts grapes. Cook until it boils, strain and put in jars boiling hot. No further cooking.

3. Peaches—Cling and Freestone. Cling—Firm and hold shape throughout.

Freestone—Better flavor, apt to be ragged when canning.

Cool thoroughly before storing or edges turn pink.

4. Use over ripe or soft fruit for jam or marmalade.

5. Tight packing causes much spoilage.

6. Time periods based on use of quart jars. Reduce time 5 per cent for pints—add 20 per cent for gallon.

7. Do not keep opening oven door while food is processing.

Syrups for Canning

1. Very thick—One cup sugar to one-half cup water.

2. Medium—One cup sugar to two cups water.

3. Thick—One cup sugar to one cup water.

4. Thin—One cup sugar to three cups water.

Advantages of Oven Canning

1. There is no need for any special canning equipment.

2. The oven heat control maintains the proper temperature throughout the processing period.

3. Does away with the need for watching and canning.

4. One can do other things while the food is processing.

5. Saves the time, labor and energy of lifting water to fill large containers for water-bath method.

6. Saves the fuel necessary for heating water.

7. The method is easy, clean, convenient, cool, practical and modern.

STARTS WEDNESDAY AT THE STRAND

Grace Moore, Leo Carrillo, Michael Bartlett and Robert Allen in "Love Me Forever"

Music takes flight on the wings of song to inspire a great love in Columbia's "Love Me Forever," starring Grace Moore, coming for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The magic in the voice of a lovely top-hat daughter of luxury starts the flame of romance burning in the heart of a man who can never have her.

He faces disaster with a smile—for he cherishes an ideal—an ideal that will never die. Thrilling drama, coupled with the glorious singing of Grace Moore, makes of "Love Me Forever" the record-breaking entertainment it is. Featured with Grace Moore are Leo Carrillo, Michael Bartlett and Robert Allen. Victor Schertzinger directed.—adv.

Double plays, Plaisted, Lord, Bok; and Cram, Snow and Moon. Struck out, by Wardsworth 8, by Cram 5. Base on balls, off Wardsworth 1, off Cram 5. Hit by pitcher, Leonard, Empire, Roberts of U.S.S. Manley.

U. S. S. Manley 2, Rockport 3

Making 18 hits for a total of 25 bases the U.S.S. Manley's baseball team slaughtered Rockport at Rockport Saturday night by the score of 12 to 3. Every batter on the U.S.S. Manley team got at least one hit. Scoring in each of the first four innings the visitors coasted to an easy win. Baker's pitching and the fine support of his team-mates, especially Roberts, who made several brilliant plays, were the highlights of the game.

FRIENDSHIP

A lovely place is Friendship. Upon the coast of Maine, It lies against the ocean And justifies its name.

We see the mighty waters, The tides that go and come, The island off the harbor Beyond the billows' foam;

And in the town the people With peace and joy we meet, And feel the hearty handshake With which they warmly greet.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE RESTORED BY BANKS

American Bankers Association Describes Its Activities to Aid Better Understanding

NEW YORK. — Eight different lines of activity through which the American Bankers Association is constantly aiming to promote better public understanding and opinion in regard to banking and the attitude of bankers toward legislation are described in detail in a statement made public here by R. S. Hecht, president of the association.

The aim, he says, is "to strengthen the real basis for good opinion in regard to the banks," through fostering informative bank advertising in the newspapers and in other ways. The statement was issued in reply to suggestions received urging a nationwide public educational program in regard to "the business of banking and its place in the economic life of our country."

Mr. Hecht declares that "we have tried very hard to convince the public that the banking fraternity has truly profited by the lessons of the past, is determined to approach all questions of banking policy from the broad viewpoint of public welfare and is prepared to carry its full share of the burden in connection with all efforts to restore sound prosperity in this country."

The Means Employed

In describing the various measures of the association "to exert a beneficial influence on public opinion regarding the functions, methods and operations of banks," Mr. Hecht enumerated the following activities:

1. The Public Education Commission, which prepares plain language talks about banking for use of bankers and others before school, civic clubs and over the radio.

2. The Constructive Customer Relations program, installed in many banks to help qualify bank employees to provide a better informed and more sympathetic attitude among their customers regarding banking.

3. The Publicity Department, supplying city and country daily and weekly newspapers with articles regarding banking and allied subjects and furnishing the general press with news and information regarding the activities of the association.

4. The Advertising Department, supplying members of the association with a series of informative newspaper advertisements setting forth in brief, popular language the methods and policies under which banks operate, their effective practices for protecting depositors' funds, the services they render and the various ways in which they cooperate with business in their own communities in fostering sound recovery and progress.

5. The Executive Officers and the Committee on Banking Studies, who are active, particularly at Washington, in consulting with Administration and Congressional leaders in formulating proposals for banking reform based on broad lines of public welfare.

6. The Agricultural Commission, promoting among bankers in the farm districts the practice of aiding their farm customers in installing on their farms better financial and operating methods.

7. The American Institute of Banking, having primarily to do with the technical education of the younger banker, but now directing these efforts toward also playing a part in improving public relations for banking as a whole, particularly through stressing the public responsibilities and the ethical aspects of practical banking.

8. The publication of "Banking," the official organ of the association, circulating among bankers, bank directors

CARNIVAL QUEEN

Miss Doris Hall Winner Of Royal Honors At Rockport's Carnival-Regatta

Races by boats from the Tarratine Yacht Club, Islesboro, were the principal feature of the last day of Rockport's three-day Carnival-Regatta and were carried out under even better weather conditions than the races on the previous day.

In the 21-foot class, Boat 5, owned by Winthrop Aldrich of New York and Dark Harbor, was the winner and in the 17-foot class, Boat 17 owned by Cross.

Summary—21-foot class:

Boat No.	Owner	H M S
5	Winthrop Aldrich,	1 25 58
3	Lang Horne Gibson,	1 36 0
4	A. J. Drexel Paul,	1 36 48
2	Dudley Howe,	1 37 13
1	Charles Alexander,	1 41 69
7	Dillon,	did not finish
17-ft. class:
17	Cross,	1 43 30
5	Austin Flagg,	1 44 12
20	Brandiger,	1 47 43
30	William Elkins,	1 48 8
12	Jennings,	did not finish

Interest in the evening centered about the crowning of the Carnival Queen. Miss Doris Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vesper Hall of Rockville, and a graduate of Rockport High School, class of 1935, was the winner of this title and received the cash prize of $50. Miss Hall was in the lead practically from the start of the contest and the final count was 340,620, with Miss Barbara Dwinall of Camden, second, receiving 230,120.

While the financial returns from the Regatta will not equal those of previous years, it was in every way a success, drawing thousands of people to Rockport's beautiful waterfront, the use of which was generously donated by Mrs. Mary Louise Bok.

Officers and committees in charge were: Lloyd B. Rhodes, president; Alton Crane, vice president and general chairman; Lida G. Champney, secretary; Harold S. Davis, treasurer; Dora Packard, purchasing agent; Mrs. Mildred Rhodes, tickets, assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Lowell; directors, Lloyd B. Rhodes, Alton H. Crane, Lida G. IS STILL MISSING

Wilbur F. Senter, Brunswick Merchant, Left Home Last Friday Night

A posse of nearly 50 men failed Saturday to find any clue which might lead to the discovery of Wilbur F. Senter, who disappeared from his summer cottage at Bailey Island Friday night. Mr. Senter owned a chain of department stores throughout the State.

The 62-year-old merchant, who has been in ill health for more than a year, was last seen by his son, Alfred, who has been his companion at the cottage for the past four weeks. Together they went on long walks along the shore and through the woods. Friday night they were on their way to the postoffice when Mr. Senter told his son to continue on alone, since he expected friends from Brunswick and wanted to change clothes.

When Alfred returned from the postoffice and inquired of the housekeeper, he found that his father had not returned to the cottage. A check with the Brunswick friend showed he had not planned to visit Mr. Senter. Alfred notified Brunswick police and an all night search ensued. A trafficked police dog, owned by Everett Wiley of Pittston, also failed to lead the searchers to Mr. Senter.

Mr. Senter's cap, identified by his son, was picked up Saturday morning 200 feet off Dickinson's point, Bailey Island, nearly two miles from the Senter cottage by water.

Continued searching Sunday and yesterday was also fruitless.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food does not digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A more bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 5c.

SERIOUS SALLIES

—by— SALLY LOWE

Dangerous Beauty!

Black guns pointed towards the churning river. Large and fat in the green trodden grass. People pass. It is a day of parental demonstration with churlish children. The sun plays around the old granite fort like a sizzling torch before the night drops it into the yesterday. Copper streaked granite! Thousands of circular steps lunge down to the water's edge . . . and out beyond-half way across that watery gap, the river demon churns his silver foam. A swarm of rapids splash with glee! The dangerous fortress . . . even now! Fort Knox at the Bucksport bridge!

A "Jitney" closeup!

They scampered on the beach like three blind mice ready for the inevitable limburger! One was as tanned as a Grecian God, while the other two pale and wan companions feebly soaked themselves in oil with that hope of attainment in their eyes! After about an hour of sunning, they clamored up a steep incline to the woods. Pitched near the sea, very simplified in style stood the four cornered boy scout's paradise . . . a tent. In they went more than conscious that strange eyes were following. What a difference without that assurance of greasepaint! Like odd shaped peanuts without the gloss of outer skin!

Goodbye!

The white boat pulled and heaved against a slimy slide of old wharf timber. Night lights flickered in the alcove of the black harbor. Men and women pushed and shoved aboard . . . lined the first and second decks, and crept to the top hurricane deck for a smoke with the stars. Above the rumble and whistle of wheels and engines . . . a voice cupped by two pugy hands. "Go bye." Then a sigh, and a gentle wave like a wet dish rag! Sorrow behind that big coat! "Come along now! Say goodbye to your mother." Small boy looks up at mother, clings tightly, relinquishes the hold, and bizzes up the gangway to the bow of the liner. Parents splutter about tonsils, hospitals, and pasteurized milk. What a goodbye! Mother and daughter fling down the gangway dressed like Santa's bar maids. They left their mugs at home, but not their waxy smiles. Business men in sombre soft shirts and arms full of golf clubs and valises. Hardly a nod. Just a change of expression around the mouth by one muscle then blankness. The whistle blew. Saunterers meander along decks again.

Hardly a word, just the ding dong of the engine rooms, and a last final blow for "Goodbye."

NOTABLE MUSICIANS

Are To Delight Our People At Camden Opera House This Month

Welcome news for the local music lovers who have been bemoaning the dearth of concerts during the summer season comes in the announcement that the Camden-Rockport Lions Club and the Camden Rotary Club are combining to sponsor a concert of unprecedented interest in this part of the country, to take place at the Opera House, Aug. 23, when

Josef Lhevinne, one of the greatest pianists of all times and his prominent wife, Rosina, as well as Ira Petina, remarkable young mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will join forces with Lea Luboshutz, violinist, Felix Salmond, Cellist, Alice Chalfoux, harpist, and Doris Gouldowsky, pianist four superb artists who have given of their artistry on previous occasions for the benefit of Camden charities.

Music lovers in this part of the country never dared hope that the fates would be so kind as to bring within their hearing Rosina and Josef Lhevinne. Their importance is emphasized in over-flow attendance at all their recitals, whether individually or in two piano program. They are two artists who thoroughly understand each other. Consequently there is delightful freedom and elasticity in their playing, making their performance glow with emotional power. It has been an arresting fact that an artist of such towering artistic stature as Josef Lhevinne should ever find anyone so completely his complement on the concert platform.

At the Camden concert they will play compositions which were on their New York program last season, including the Blue Danube Waltz arranged for two pianos. Their rendition of this composition is known to be sensational.

Miss Petina was born in Russia 24 years ago, the Russian Revolution breaking out when she was eight years old. Her father, a general in the Russian army, fled to China, at this time, taking Ira and her mother with him. The little dark-haired child, even then trying to sing, was set down among strange people in a foreign land, and mastering the Chinese language is no simple task.

But languages are easy for her she speaks four and can "get along" with two others. When only 16 years old, Ira became a member of the Russian Opera Company in Harbin, China, singing all of the important mezzo-soprano roles. It was during one of these performances that a wealthy American family heard her sing and were so impressed that they made arrangements for her to come to America for an audition at The Curtis Institute of Music, where Ira was immediately accepted as a student, a desire she had long cherished. Upon the completion of her studies at The Curtis Institute, she was awarded the Degree of Bachelor of Music. Her performances with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra and the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company were widely acclaimed and led to her engagement two years ago with the Metropolitan. Miss Petina is in Camden vacationing before her extensive European tour which will occupy her from September until November. She then returns to this country to fill her contract with the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York.

Miss Isabel Frost and Miss Cecile Kelley, who were guests last week of Miss Hilda Levensaler, have returned to Kingston, Pa. Miss Frost, a former Rockland girl, spent a good part of her week in looking up old-time friends.

Tom Sleeper and Buddy Griffith of Marblehead, Mass., were guests for a few days last week of Miss Elizabeth Till, South Thomaston.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rose and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rhodes gave a "Backward Party" Saturday night at the cottage at Owl's Head of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Yates. The supper menu and games were all "backward" and other features of the party were carried out in the same idea. Needless to say, hilarity reigned. There were 12 couples present.

Mrs. Essie Day is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Austin Calderwood in Vinalhaven.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bean of Freeport who are summering at Belgrade Lakes were overnight guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Snow.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Thurston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry White in Farmington for the weekend.

Emile Williams and James Kenney, who have been guests of Sterling Morse, have returned to Kingston, Pa. They were accompanied by Sterling who will spend three or four weeks visiting friends and relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Roberts and daughters Ruth and Elianne, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Roberts in Vinalhaven for the weekend. Their visit was timed so they could take part in the celebration of Mr. Roberts' mother's 82d birthday.

Edward and George Wendell of Milton, Mass., spent the weekend with their father at Crescent Beach.

There will be a gathering for picnic supper at the Crescent Beach cottage of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. St. Clair Thursday, invitations having been extended to the Camden and Rockland Masonic assembly crowd. Dancing at the pavilion will follow.

Thomas Kelley of Kingston, Pa. was guest for a few days last week of Sterling Morse.

Miss Elizabeth Till has as guest Miss Ann Huntington of Brookline.

Mrs. Lena Larrabee and Fred Kelley, of Auburn were weekend guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Peaslee. On their return Sunday they were accompanied by Mrs. Lizzie Peaslee and Dr. Peaslee and family for a few days' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. George O'Hara of Revere, Mass., were guests for the weekend of their son James, in Camden, their visit timed to attend Mr. O'Hara's organ recital at the Camden Congregational Church Sunday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Corwin H. Olds and children, and their guest, Miss Beatrice Barrows of Toronto, left yesterday to climb Mt. Katahdin. They return Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cording and Mrs. Cording's mother, Mrs. James of Auburn, N. Y., have a cottage at Pleasant Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Cording delighted the congregations at the First Baptist Church on Sunday with their music, both vocal and instrumental. Mr. Cording is a field representative of Wheaton (Ill.) College.

T Club had a picnic Friday night at Crescent Beach, going thence to Rockport for the Carnival. Mrs. Bertram Keene of Fremont, Neb., was a special guest.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Snow had as weekend guests Gov. and Mrs. H. A. Flynn of Staten Island, N. Y., and Misses Carrie and Frances Flynn of Machiasport.

Miss Dorothy Thomas is spending a few weeks with friends in Springfield, Mass.

Speech Readers Club had a delightful outing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beale, Martin's Point, Thursday, with about 35 attending. Special guests were Lionel L. Mornault, Mrs. Alice W. Brown, Miss Caroline Bradford, Mrs. Alice Gilson of Portland; Mrs. Charles Blaisdell, Miss Priscilla Magoun of Bath; Mrs. M. C. Agry of Newton, Mass.; Mrs. John W. Northcott of New Bedford, Mass.; Mrs. W. L. Tompkins of Madison, N. J.; Mrs. Besse Wallace of South Waldoboro; Mrs. Nettie Drown of Waldoboro; Miss Eda Lawry, Stephen Ware of Friendship. Club letters for the occasion were read, among them letters from Mrs. J. C. Hill now living in Joplin, Mo., and Mrs. Nathan Witham, a former member residing in Stony Creek, Conn. Picnic dinner was spread on the lawn.

Mrs. Mary Acheson of New York City is a visitor at the Beech street home of her daughter, Mrs. Kennedy Crane. Other guests to arrive today are Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Crane of Attleboro, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Newcombe and son Teddy who have been guests of Mrs. Newcombe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stover, have returned to Binghamton, N. Y. Teddy underwent a tonsil operation at Knox Hospital.

Mrs. Alice Munro, who has been visiting her son Daniel Munro, left at 8 o'clock yesterday morning for her home in Springfield, Mass. She devoted two hours to shopping in Boston, took a bus to Springfield, and at 8:30 last night phoned her son that she was home—"not a bit tired." Not bad for a woman of 83.

Guests at "Trail's End," Ash Point: Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Ferguson of Branford, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Linehan of Cambridge, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keasley of Belmont, Mass.

Miss J. Mildred Gillette and Mrs. Edward G. Wheaton are at Crescent Beach and will be here until Labor Day. For a weekend guest they had Mrs. James F. Poes of Jamaica Plain, Mass., who came with them Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Brown have returned from a trip to Moosehead Lake and Ripogenus Dam, and visits in Dexter and Boothbay Harbor.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Glover and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spear go to Lakewood today, staying overnight at the Squaw Mountain Inn and returning home Sunday.

Visitors in the city for a brief weekend stay were Frank O. Andrews and his friend Bob White, both of Willoughby, Ohio, on a motor trip into the east, which naturally brought them to Mr. Andrews native town, where they were guests of his sister, Mrs. Frank W. Fuller.

Northend children are agog with excitement pending on the lawn fair which Norma Philbrick, Jane Packard and Sylvia Christoffensen have planned for Wednesday at 2 at Norma's home on Chestnut street. Children are invited to take their dolls. There will be a fortune teller present, and all sorts of amusements have been planned.

Have your Tennis Racket restrung to measured tension at Gregory's Picture & Framing Shop, 460 Main street, telephone 254; priced $1.75 and up. Also new stock of Mottos and other gift items.—adv.

A perfect summer day lent its added charm to the silver tea given by Mrs. Talbot Aldrich at her summer home, The Crags, at Tenant's Harbor. The Eleanor Jackson Memorial Library, beneficiary of this generous action, which was supported by the committee in charge and the many friends who took this method of showing their interest in so worthy a cause, finds some $65.00 added to its treasury, a most satisfactory result. There was a large attendance from Rockland.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Staples of Portland are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Drinkwater at Spruce Head.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Dean of Portland are vacationing at their summer home at South Thomaston.

In days of old we used to hear of garden plots. They quite go with lavender and old lace. Up on Middle Street Hill, tucked away back of the house, one can find a charming garden plot, enclosed with white painted fence and latched gate, with stepping stones about each bed that is overflowing with brilliant blossoms, tended with unceasing care by a natural lover of flower culture, Mrs. Augustus T. Low.

Mrs. J. Harry Boynton and Mrs. Willard Dart are entertaining at the Boynton cottage at Crescent Beach today with picnic luncheon.

Miss Harriet Bell who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Emery returns today to Frederick, Md.

Miss Virginia Haskell is spending the week in Sidney, guest of Miss Margaret Davenport.

Mrs. Cleveland Sleeper, Mrs. Harriet Frost and Mrs. H. B. Fales gave a desert bridge Monday afternoon at Mrs. Sleeper's home in South Thomaston, the affair being one of the most charming of summer social events. There were 14 tables in play. Garden flowers in profusion formed decorations. Out of town guests were Mrs. Harry Leon of Charlotte, N. C.; Mrs. Fred Porter of Kellogg, Idaho; Mrs. Mary Nevell of New York; Mrs. C. H. Wemouth of Fisherville, Mass.; Mrs. J. Harry Boynton of Lexington, Mass.; Mrs. Ross Wilson of Elgin, Ill.; Mrs. Scott Kittredge of Freeport, Long Island, N. Y.; Mrs. Anton Rezac, Miss Margaret Bartlett and Mrs. Louise Kidd of Omaha, Neb.; Miss Harriet Bell of Lynchburg, Va.; and Frederick, Md.; Mrs. E. H. Ewing of Stoughton, Mass.; Mrs. Sarah Berry of Portland; Miss Ethel Weeks and Miss Mabel Chase of Newton, Mass.; Mrs. A. P. Pillsbury of South Weymouth, Mass. There was a favor for each table.

Miss Mary Haskell was home for the weekend from Bates College where she is attending summer sessions.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shear of Schenectady, N. Y., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Emery, Pacific street.

Barbara Class is having picnic supper tomorrow at the cottage of Dr. and Mrs. William Ellingwood at Crawford Lake.

Miss Nellie R. Farwell of New Orleans is visiting Miss Marcia Farwell at the well-known family home on Summer street.

Mrs. Lizzie Boyles of Cambridge, Mass., is guest of Mrs. Alice Russell of 38 Grace street.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Friese and family, George and Jeanette Friese of Plainfield, N. J., have arrived for their usual summer visit and are at Spruce Head.

WEST ROCKPORT

Funeral services for Mrs. Inez L. Varney were held from the West Rockport Church Sunday. Rev. G. F. Currier officiated. The bearers were E. Stewart Orbeton, Frank M. Robinson, Henry Lamson and Daniel Kellar. Interment in West Rockport.

DR. BLAKE B. ANNIS

SCIENCE plays such a big part today in the scheme of existence that we are all coming to demand its benefits in our physical and mental happiness—and here is exactly where Dr. Blake B. Annis belongs in our picture. Dr. Annis started to study medicine at Blake College. The wonderful help through Chiropractic to a member of his family changed his mind—so he graduated from New York Carver Chiropractic College in 1924. Also a graduate of Physio-Therapy and of General Health Service, both of Chicago, and a P.G. of National College of Chiropractic. He doesn't confine his work to the spine alone, but treats the entire body, including ear, throat, nose and feet through the latest advances and helps known in drugless healing. He doesn't over-rate; sends you out with a new outlook on life, and actually does change frowns into smiles. A Chiropractor puts in the same number of school hours required by any four-year college course. "Doc" grew up in Arrostook County where they showed the world how to grow potatoes. Felt big helping in his Daddy's general store for his first "pay." Used to manage a baseball team; crazy about Lions, too—not the real wild ones. Past King Lion and 32d Degree Mason, and if you don't like their music—blame it on him. His good-nature is contagious, and a visit with him is like the sun coming through a blanket of fog—he clears away the cobwebs!

Phone 1163 and ask: How long has he practised in Rockland?

SHERMAN LORD

WE have all been "mad" at various times during our lives, but have you ever been "pleasure-mad"? Before you pay a good price for a cheap tire, why not try paying a cheap price for a good tire? There isn't a man alive who doesn't want his money's worth, and some service, as well, and one fine fellow who is here to give it to you is Sherman Lord, at his completely equipped Tire & Battery Service, Maverick square. He started his business on Washington street. Later built his own modern tire shop here, and has "a way with him" that just brings hundreds of people looking for new tires, having blow-outs repaired, having batteries recharged or getting a new one. He handles Goodrich and Atlas tires, Atlas Batteries, good used tires too, and fills your tank with that snappy air-conditioned Amoco gas—and A-1 combination all through. His newest highspot is Evrude Outboard Motors. In fact, he's Rockland dealer for them; they only weigh 24½ pounds and if you like boats, you'll want to ask him about them. "Sherm" first opened his right eye and then his left, "down east." Sold Rockland dandelion greens for his first pencil box money; crazy about boats—built "The Crack" for himself this spring. Has "what it takes." If it's something new, he knows about it; full of sparks and fun and gets a bigger "kick" out of life than does the King of England.

Phone 1071 and ask: How long has he been our Tire headquarters?

ISAAC B. SIMMONS

NEIGHBORHOODS are actually little cities in themselves, and the people who hold them together, build up good will, afford advantages and conveniences—deserve a real tribute, that's why Isaac B. Simmons, 724 Main street is getting a big hand from the Who's Who editor today. When you want delicious ice cream, your regular smoke, the latest magazine, some candy or a cold bottle of soda or a convenient supply of groceries, "Ike" has it waiting for you, and he almost knows what you want before you ask for it. That's because he knows folks and likes them. Rockland is where he ordered Doctor Stork to land him on his first world flight. Drove cows to pasture for his first circus ticket; biggest fun in the world is helping somebody over a tough spot. Seems to feel for the other fellow and understand his problems. Is Assistant Overseer of the Poor, and was Fire Chief five years, and will carry a memory of fire fighting days with him always. Odd Fellows is his favorite fraternal order. "Courage" is his middle name and Rockland youngsters are his best pals. In fact the most popular saying around his territory is—"Let's go down to Ike's." His voice rings true; he's a natural co-operator; if there was only one piece of pie—he'd say he didn't like pie; only thing he ever destroyed in life was a grouch; and he never has to wonder about the golden rule; he lives by it. Welcome "Ike" to our "Four Star" crowd.

Find out for us: How long has he been serving this neighborhood?

IRL R. HOOPER

DO you like to see things comfortable and homey, bright and shiny, backed with the spirit of genuine service? If so, drop in at The Narragansett Hotel on Park street, where modern policies are the order of the day, and where your comfort and well being are the main purpose in every hour around the clock. Irl R. Hooper, who has been efficiently on the job here for three years, knows what good service is, and believes his patrons are entitled to the best that can be given them, and that is his working policy. There is comfort, reasonable rates, the cleanliness of the snow drifts wherever you look, and the old time hospitality that treats folks as he would like to be treated. Commercial folks make it their favorite headquarters—many of the same people coming back for years. The Narragansett was erected in 1903 by Frank Donahue, well known townsman and has always carried with it a friendly reputation wherever its guests may travel. "Irl" first fell out of his crib in Sargentville; earned his first cash helping on a boat; keen about people, boats and little things most folks never see. Marine Engineer; with Maine Central for years and knew every inch of their floating equipment; buys his cigars by the box; likes bachelor's buttons, fine tools and a youngster's laugh. No use for big booms and splash—and you can always figure to find him among the "regular fellows."

Phone 340 and ask: How many guests can he take care of?

FRED C. MALONEY

IF you want to find a man who says what he means and makes you like it, drop in and get acquainted with Fred C. Maloney, the new proprietor of Central Garage, 585 Main street. Central Garage repairs every kind of trouble on every kind of car, makes good friends and keeps them. Fred's efficient mechanic, Blanchard Start, has proved up on every kind of a good job that ever came out of a garage, and this tells you why people become satisfied customers when they once go there. They handle that quick-starting Texaco gas, 2,000-mile Kendall oil, provide storage for cars, and supply you with Apex Rebuilt Tires that have a six-month written guarantee. This writer has been told by people who use them that they outwear new tires. They cost far less. Mr. Maloney was in the ice business here several years, people learned to depend upon him, and his friends will be glad to know this same dependable policy is part of his Central Garage service. "Fred's" first toy railroad train stopped at South Thomaston; milked cows for his first ten thin dimes; some day he's going to eat dinner in San Francisco and fly back home here in time for supper; already has many solo flying hours to his credit. Lucky numbers are "7 and 11"; keeps close to folks; hates to lose track of a friend; likes to give credit to the other fellow; you can't hold a grudge when talking to him—it melts like the sugar in your coffee.

Phone 296 and ask: What percentage do you save on his Apex Rebuilt Tires?

ROLAND A. GENTNER ALVIN FRENCH

THERE is always room for one more in a community, when that one adds in some way to the benefits, facilities and welfare of the place, and so today we are extending a welcome to Roland A. Gentner, Inc., and his new service station, 148 Union street, where Alvin French is the lively manager. Mr. Gentner supplies stations all the way from Augusta to Waldoboro with Valvoline products. Royal gas, fuel oils, kerosene and is also distributor for oil burners. He keeps seven trucks warming the road, and wants Rockland folks to know that he is here to serve them with quality products and accommodation to the last letter. This includes candy, iced drinks and smokes. "Alvin" first opened his eyes in Somerville, Mass., but loved every minute spent with his grandfather at Waldoboro, and Maine is happy home base for him. He is a graduate of New England Conservatory of Music, and himself and his beloved saxophone made good grades with Al Rougier's orchestra three years. Has played all over New England and through much of Canada, and thoroughly enjoys Doug Vinal's crowd with whom he now plays. Alvin and his Chief are fast-stepping, progressive folks, who always have time to be courteous and helpful, and today they are extending you a welcome, to drive in, get acquainted and let them serve you with 20th century service, with the courtesy of all the other centuries thrown in.

Find out for us: What date was this station opened?

LYOYD RAFNELL

NESTLED among the trees on the bay where it is cool, four miles north of Rockland, we found the Oakland Park, where the music of Lloyd Rafnell and his Georgians is always good and where the best crowds go to enjoy dancing Thursday and Saturday nights. It is a wonderful and unsurpassed place for recreation as to picnics, organizations, clubs and conventions. His eleven piece orchestra walks away with the "decorated angel food cake" on account of their music rendered here and other places in the State of Maine. "Lloyd" came down the flue through the smoke and heated air first at Bath. Music was, is and always will be the chief interest in his life. When 14 he started tooting the trombone; had his own orchestra ten years; played in leading bands of this section; been at this park two seasons; reputation as leader A-1; enjoys all sports and can name you the champs in practically all the out door sports; Odd Fellow, Mason and Shriner; has pep, pepper and peppermint in his system; well, well and couple of more wells as strawberry pie is his downfall; enjoys staying up until the wee small hours; on close inspection find he doesn't smoke; always has the door ajar for strangers, neighbors or friends. One day there came a little tot dancing her way into Mechanic Falls and this rose bud turned out to be Helen, his betterhalf. Lawn tennis is her idea of heaven; has a favorite easy chair; not of old fashioned type; jolly person and passes off a smile to every living creature in Oakland Park. What's more rust can't destroy nor moths demolish their wealth of friends.

Phone 8219 and ask: How many years has he been connected with music since 14 years old?

PIERRE HAVENER

IT is said on the streets that Pierre Havener, 194 North Main street, has only lost "one" customer since he started his ice business, and "He died." That's some record! However, when you stop to think it over, it's not—for he gives service, weight, and clean as well as pure ice to one and all. Pierre started this business from nothing. First conveyed ice from Rockport. Next winter harvested 50 tons at Chickawaukie Lake and stored it back of his store at The Brook. That was 15 years ago. Now has a modern plant at Chickawaukie Lake equipped with cutting and harvesting machinery designed and made by himself. His "Brook" confectionery has always been a good-time "Havener" stop, providing everything a first class confectionery should have, plus a heap of kindly accommodation. Pierre first treated the neighborhood kids to his mother's cookie jar in Rockland; sold lemonade on the lawn for his first cash business; golf holds a lure for him. Western Union operator; worked for St. Clair & Allen (he liked their candy); Maine Central operator; railroaded on the Wabash. Knows every foot of road between Detroit and Chicago; ticket agent at Gary, Ind. Carries a specially built generator under his hat; sleeps with one open; starts the day with a smile; always making dates—with himself, to do things for others. If you know anyone named "Havener" who is not a friend-maker, or a natural born hustler, we would like to know who it is.

Phone 792 and ask: How many tons of ice he cuts a year for Rockland folks?

LAKEWOOD THEATRE

This week's Attraction, "Ceiling Zero"—New Play Next Week

"Ceiling Zero," the thrilling drama of the air, will continue throughout the week with a matinee on "Saturday." Written by Frank Wead, the story tells of the routine of peril and hazard that an air pilot endures in delivering government mail and the dramatic climax is reached in a scene which shows those in the Operations Office at an air field waiting helplessly for a crash that must come to a pilot who is flying blindly in a storm.

John B. Hymer, noted playwright, has written a new play "The Little Inn" and this will be given its first performance on any stage next week by the Lakewood Players. The new play is a romantic drama, the setting a New England inn with the scenes varying between 1876 and the present time. The youthful elopement of a couple in the '70s furnishes the basis of a story in which sentiment and humor of character are interwoven. When a modern young couple elope and find a refuge in the same inn the story reaches an unexpected climax.

FIVE RIDING HUNTS

The Five Riding Hunts is one of the outstanding features of Hunt's three ring circus which will come to Rockland Friday.

This is only one of the features of a special, augmented program arranged for the 41st annual tour of this favorite circus. In addition to the Riding Hunts featuring Charles L. Hunt, America's greatest riding comedian with Welby Cooke, the modern flapper, there are a number of other unusual acts, such as the Terrace Sisters, the Levines, Aerial Shellys, Hazel Williams, performing dogs, ponies, and Dolly, the children's favorite elephant. In the clown contingent are a host of hilarious fellows, including the famous John Lancaster, acclaimed by Ripley, well-known cartoonist, as the dean of all American clowns.

Hunt's Circus this year, as will be noted by all who visit the grounds, offers its program in one of the most beautiful tents ever constructed—adv. case of a duplicate, award will be given each tying contestant. Winners and answers published one week from date of story. The judges' decision will be final and incontestable. Address: Courier-Gazette Contest Editor.

REVOLUTIONARY PENSIONERS OF KNOX COUNTY, MAINE

By Edward Kallioch Gould, State Historian of Maine

CHAPTER XXII

Josiah Haskell

Josiah Haskell of Thomaston was a private in Capt. Joseph Pride's Company Col. Joseph Primes' Cumberland County, Massachusetts Regiment joined May 11, 1780, and was discharged Dec. 1780. He was also a Private in Lieut. Joseph McLeellan's Company detached from Col. Joseph Primes' Regiment by order of Brig. Gen. Peleg Wadsworth for service at the Eastward, to serve out the balance of their eight months term of enlistment; service from Dec. 6, 1780 to Jan. 12, 1781, when Haskell was discharged.

Josiah Haskell was 56 when he applied for a pension. He gives these additional facts concerning his service in the army: Enlisted in Jan. 1781, in Falmouth, in Capt. Thorp's Company 7th Massachusetts line Regiment Col. John Brooks commanding.

Served until Jan. 1783, when he was discharged at New York. He was also in Col. Henry Jackson's Massachusetts Regiment and was in the battles about Yorktown, resulting in the surrender of Lord Cornwallis. He also was in many skirmishes on the Hudson River, and in a particularly severe one at Mirrissenia near Kingsbridge, New York.

Haskell was married in Thomaston to Abigail Berry of the same place Sept. 5, 1830, by Oliver Fales. He died May 5, 1844. He received a pension from the United States, also bounty from the State of Maine, on account of his war service. In 1836 he states in his claim for bounty that he had resided in Thomaston 23 years.

Abijah Hawes

Abijah Hawes of Union, was born in Franklin, then called Wrentham, Mass., in 1752. He entered service April 19, 1775, serving as a volunteer in Capt. John Boyd's Co., of Franklin, Eben Dean being Lieutenant and Joshua Gould of Medway, Mass., being Ensign. The Company was in Col. John Grafton's Regiment. He served one month as a minuteman, and immediately thereafter eight months as a private. This company for about two months was stationed at Roxbury, Massachusetts, and then marched to Dorchester and then to Cambridge where they garrisoned Fort No. 2. He was not engaged in any battles and did not receive a written discharge, but was dismissed with the rest of the company by the Captain.

In May 1776 he volunteered for the term of seven months in Capt. Aaron Gile's Company (of Dedham). This company was stationed at Boston for a time, then went to Point Shirley, returning to Boston, and then to Nantasket where he was dismissed, his term having expired. In 1775, he entered as a volunteer in Capt. James Metcalf's Co. which was stationed at Roxbury on the road leading from Boston to Brookline. He was in the service in all about 17 months.

Hawes moved from Franklin to Union, June, 1777, where he resided until his death Jan. 10, 1839. His farm containing 346 acres is located on the western side of Seven Tree Pond and extended to the Waldoboro town line. He purchased it of Philip Robbins, Nov. 14, 1777. This farm was later owned by his son, Whiting Hawes. He was married December 1782 to his second cousin Margaret Hawes. He had received continental bills in payment for service in the Revolutionary War. The bills were depreciating, and he resolved to buy a farm with them. In order to save his means and buy as many acres as possible, he performed the journey from Franklin to Union on foot and alone. He was chosen Constable. He was a member of the Congregational Church, and was one of the incorporators and also a deacon of the church. He drew a pension and is buried in Union cemetery and has a Revolutionary marker (in 1930).

Matthias Hawes

Matthias Hawes of Union, was a gunner in Capt. Perez Cushing's 9th Company Col. Craft's Mass. Artillery Regiment. He joined Nov. 1, 1776, serving until May 8, 1777, when he was discharged. He was born at Wrentham, Oct. 6, 1754, died Nov. 4, 1828 and was married Jan. 1, 1783, in Warren to Sarah, daughter of Capt. Samuel Payson of Revolutionary memory, who subsequently moved from Warren to Hope and died there. (To be Continued)
