"OS" TOLMAN, STARTER

Former Rockland Man Will Handle The Races At Union Fair

Racing fans at Union Fair next week are going to miss the work of one of the country's best starters, Sheriff Ludwick but will find a capable substitute in Oscar Tolman of West Tremont.

"Os" Tolman is no stranger to the judges stand at Union or to many folks in this section of the State. Annually for some time he has attended the Fair, along with Hollis Reed and James Whitmore, also of Tremont, and has acted as one of the judges. He lived and worked in Rockland 20 years ago and has a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Tolman conducts a large and prosperous poultry farm on Mt. Desert Island. He is one of the world's most ardent racing fans. He will handle the events like the veteran that he is. Sheriff Ludwick will be up in the judges stand helping out anytime that the duties of his office don't keep him away.

ELKS ARE COMING

Maine Association To Hold Annual Convention Here Saturday and Sunday

Rockland Lodge of Elks is to be host at the annual convention of the Maine Elks Association Saturday and Sunday. Albert C. Jones, past exalted ruler of Rockland lodge and president of the association, is in general charge of arrangements for entertainment of the Elks and members of their families attending.

The social side of the convention will take place Saturday night at the Elks home where there will be dancing cards and other forms of entertainment for association members and visitors.

Business session of the convention will be opened by President Jones at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and will be followed by the annual dinner, both events taking place at the home. President Jones hopes to have John P. Malley, past grand exalted ruler and present Federal Housing Administrator of Massachusetts, or James R. Nicholson, past grand exalted ruler who has recently returned to Boston, as the principal speaker at the business session.

Officers are to be elected and in addition to plans for the ensuing year it is expected that action will be taken toward the revival of the ritualistic contests between various lodges of the State.

A BRILLIANT FINISH

Enabled Orange and Black Warriors To Win the Season's Opening Game

A hardfought Orange and Black football team, with a never say die spirit, conquered a much heavier Brunswick High school team in a game in which the spectators were kept guessing every minute.

First Quarter: Brunswick High winning the toss decided to receive and after trying a few plays was forced to punt. Here Rockland started a pretty drive making three first downs through the fine work of Karl Glover and Accardi. But Brunswick forced Rockland to give up the ball on downs on the 23-yard line.

Second quarter: Having stopped the Rockland offense Brunswick started a drive up the field which literally tore the Rockland line to shreds. However Rockland stiffened and took the ball away on the five-yard line. Rockland's offense bogged and Karl punted, to midfield. Again Brunswick started its juggernaut and soon knocked on the doors of a touchdown but Rockland again put up a good defense on the 10-yard line and the half ended 0-0.

Third Quarter: The third quarter started off with Brunswick kicking to Rockland. Lord received the kick and ran it back 10 yards. The Rockland offense could not get started and Karl punted beyond midfield. Again Brunswick began its line smashing tactics and this time, not to be denied Brunswick scored a touchdown. Rockland stopped the try for the extra point and the score was: Brunswick 6, Rockland 0. Again Brunswick kicked off to Rockland and again the Rockland offense could not get going and the period ended with the ball in Brunswick's possession midfield.

Fourth Quarter: The last quarter was just what the football fan loves to see but very seldom does, because in an early season game there are very few tricky plays and long runs. In the last eight minutes of the fourth quarter many thrilling things happened.

At the opening it looked as if Brunswick was on the way for another touchdown however with the many beautiful knitted and crocheted spreads and homespun table covers. There were hooked rugs showing a wide variety of design.

In the display of old quilts and spreads, were noted a white spread bearing the initials P. J. B., exquisitely hand embroidered and tufted, with fringed edge, said to have been made by a girl 17 years of age; a log cabin quilt made of silk set in black velvet; a quilt in tulip pattern, with white hand quilted background bearing the tulip design in red, two shades, and green leaves; a hand woven spread in blue, over 100 years old; a lovely all white hand quilted quilt; a quilt in lily design with hand-woven back, very old; a silk and velvet quilt with elaborate embroidery and fancy stitches; and a table cover exhibited by Miss Edna Payson of Rockland, which had been woven from flax raised in Hope, Miss Payson's former home.

The judges were Mrs. Richard Elliot and Mrs. Fred Overlock, of Thomaston, and Mrs. Carl H. Sonntag of Rockland, who issued this statement: "It was extremely difficult to make a decision, limiting the choice to a few quilts. The collection was so interesting, including beautiful designs and representing painstaking workmanship. There was no quilt that should have been excluded. It was a privilege and pleasure to examine them."

These awards were made: Workmanship: An all white quilted quilt, owned by Mrs. Anna Levan, of Thomaston.

Design: A rosebud quilt, owned by Mrs. W. N. Harris, The Wavenock, Port Clyde.

Most unique: Postage stamp, with over 2000 pieces in it. Owned by Mrs. Alice Black Rodney of Rockland.

The judges gave honorable mention to a quilt owned by Mrs. Harry Moody of Thomaston, showing fine workmanship, unusually lovely material and color.

Best quilt top: Made by Mrs. Adelaide Davis of Rockland.

Special mention for workmanship: Knitted spread, shell pattern, cable edge and fringed, owned by Mrs. Harris.

Mention of handwork was also made of an attractive afghan and velvet braided rug loaned by Mrs. Rodney Brazier; blue and white hand woven spread and hand woven linen table cover, loaned by Miss Edna Payson of Rockland; white

LEGION MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

I'm Glad My Dad Belongs To The American Legion Serving America-Service

Not only yesterday's service—nor only today's—but tomorrow's, too. That is the foundation of the American Legion. Certainly that boy or girl, too, is glad you belong.

More than glad—Proud is the word. Proud you faced death to serve. Proud you are still serving, in peace as in war. Prouder still they will be when they look tomorrow upon the America—you are building today.

Peace Time Service

The Blue and the Gold button of the American Legion testifies honorable service for God and Country in war, and service to the Community, State and Nation in time of peace.

Americanism

You are backing the greatest principles of Americanism by combating un-American principles, supporting patriotic education among the children and our citizens and making our Community a better place to live in.

Non-Partisan

You will become a member of the most democratic organization in the world. No rank in the Legion, no race, no creed, Honorable discharge and service in the World War, the only requirements.

One of the most active membership drives ever planned in the city by members of Winslow-Holbrook Post has already started in compliance with requests from Department headquarters.

On Oct. 3, under the capable chairmanship of Milton M. Griffin, a banquet will be served in Legion Hall, at which time the Department Commander, Frank E. Southard, and other Department officials, will be the principal speakers.

All Legionnaires and ex-Service men are invited. The co-operation of every member is urgently requested to make this membership drive a success.

Join now, before the new Legion year commences, Oct. 20.

John Creighton of Cushing Academy Staff Gets a Fine Greeting There

John Creighton, formerly principal of Thomaston High School, who is now professor of mathematics at Cushing Academy, is thus referred to in the "Cushing Academy Bulletin" of Ashburnham, Mass.:

"John Creighton of Thomaston, A. B., Bowdoin College, will become head of the department of mathematics. Preparing for Bowdoin at Phillips Andover Academy, Mr. Creighton made an enviable record in undergraduate activities. He received Phi Beta Kappa and Cum Laude at college, and was a member of the Cum Laude Society at Andover.

At preparatory school he was active in track and basketball, also a member of the orchestra and glee club. In college he played basketball and was a member of the college orchestra and president of the glee club. Other college undergraduate honors included secretary-treasurer of his class as a sophomore; class marshal as a junior; chairman of the cane committee as a senior; and member of the White Key, junior honorary society.

"Since graduation from college Mr. Creighton has done tutoring and been an active member of the 240th Coast Artillery. For the past three years he has been principal of the Thomaston High School, where he has also been instructor in mathematics. He has held various educational society honors; Vice-president of the Knox County Teachers' Association, president of the Knox-Waldo Schoolmen's Club, president of the Knox-Lincoln Athletic League, and a member of the Central Committee of Schoolmen's Clubs for the state of Maine.

"Mathematics students from Mr. Creighton's classes have had high marks in competitive examinations, and his college admission record has been very complimentary. Mr. Creighton will take over the work formerly handled by Joseph H. Randall, who has returned to continue graduate study at Massachusetts Institute of Technology."

Grangers Attend Session At North Haven — Enjoyed Sail Across Bay

Limerock Valley Pomona Grange held forth Saturday with North Haven as host. The gay-spirited group left Tillson wharf at 8 a. m. on the Str. W. S. White and returned at 8:45 as passengers on the North Haven. The day was perfect and the trip both ways most enjoyable. Many did not go, due to their recollection of the ill-fated excursion to Vinalhaven when the Steamer Castine failed to reach its destination.

By this method of travel, the hours from 9:15 to 7 may be passed on the island, and the 18 members who took the journey made good use of this opportunity to visit friends and take auto rides about that locality. Grangers and others are looking forward to taking these two excursion trips in June and September next year.

The meeting was opened in the forenoon at the K. P. hall, and much routine and extra business cared for. At noon all hied to the dining room where a bountiful dinner was in waiting, furnished by the ladies of North Haven Grange. Motoring was enjoyed until the afternoon session which opened at 2 o'clock. This was conducted smoothly, with the young and those not so young, participating in the lecture hours. All were greeted by Past Master Lloyd Crockett of North Haven Grange with the response by Past Master C. Meservey P. Ames of Vinalhaven.

Rev. H. F. Huse gave a stirring talk on events which concern the people of today, stressing the need for education and exhorting all to share in removing those drawbacks which are retarding progress. Others taking part were Supt. F. L. S. Morse, H. N. Brazier, Hanson Crockett, Jesse Tolman, Scott Rackliff and Lewis Robinson.

"The First Labor Day" was the topic of C. F. Ames. The question for discussion, namely that the farmer adopt the 8-hour day, brought out an array of pros and cons, and when the Brothers had a second chance to present views the debate waxed actively warm. It seemed that everyone had an opinion to express.

The subject "Baying on the installment plan should be encouraged" was intended to be wholly the Sisters' field, and was ably discussed. The majority seemingly were opposed to it, but a fine point was made by Elizabeth Bunker which was difficult to refute. She contended that one could have many comforts and possessions by this method, which otherwise could never be obtained, and cited numerous home furnishings which she had procured in this fashion. Her argument was clinched in the statement that in this, as in all things, one should use judgment in selection, with an eye always on income.

This discussion eventually included the Brothers, whose comments were spirited and decidedly earnest. The consensus of their belief was that Sears Roebuck buying was the most desirable purchasing plan.

Much credit is deserved by Mrs. Vernon Beverage, lecturer of North Haven Grange, for furnishing many musical numbers. Those having a part in this form of entertainment were Virginia Stone, Barbara Stone, Alice Woodman and Ruth Stone. Donald Stone sang two vocal solos, accompanied at the piano by Miss Barbara Stone. Readings were pleasingly given by Elizabeth Bunker, and

"IT IS A ROTTEN MESS"

So Says Ex-Senator Obadiah Gardner Of "New Deal," Speaking On 85th Birthday

Chuckling at such superstitions as Friday the Thirteenth and black cats, former U. S. Senator Obadiah Gardner celebrated his 85th birthday Friday by opening numerous greeting cards and telling an interesting story that the New Deal is a "rotten mess."

Although there was no special party, it was a big day in Obadiah Gardner's life because it gave him a triple-threat opportunity to exercise his favorite hobby—socking superstitions. It was Friday; it was the 13th; and a day previous a black cat jumped onto his shoulder.

"I've always had a mania for testing out fool notions," Gardner said. "When I go anywhere on the train, I always ask for chair No. 13, and I usually ask for room No. 13 in a hotel." Twelve years ago, the former Senator, who was once State Grange Lecturer, attended a luncheon of the East Union Grange, and when the meal was over, jolted the entire group with the revelation that there had been 13 at the table.

A year later he rounded up the same 13 at a Grange affair and induced them all to sit at a single table. His black eyes sparkle in spite of the fact that they gave out on him a year ago while he was engaged in preparing memories of statesmen for President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University.

Gardner's second hobby is greeting friends in the corridors of the State House. His figure seated in one of the rotunda chairs on the third floor, has become a familiar sight since he came to this city two years ago from his home in Rockland to live with his daughter, Mrs. Clarence S. Beveridge of 93 Western avenue.

Gardner says he prefers the State House because he meets more acquaintances there than at any other spot in Maine. He also likes to attend legislative sessions and public hearings of all kinds because "the affairs of government are, after all, the most important to everybody with the exception of their own business interests."

"A principle never changes," he said. The people who founded our government were so jealous of the rights of states that they went into considerable detail to make it explicit that the federal government was to deal with national and international issues, but that domestic issues were to be left to the States." He continued to declare that "The New Deal is simply socialism. It is a rotten mess. Roosevelt missed a chance to immortalize himself by carrying out his campaign promise to reduce public expenses and drive the money changers from the temple."

New Deal attempts to redistribute money were described as "rank" by the aged statesman who said that the proper method would have been to "take hold of the causes of the economic upset."

Gardner attributes the entire depression to the "money changers" who have been given an opportunity to gain more than their share of wealth and to float dubious financial schemes under the protection of special laws. If the New Deal had concentrated more on a reformation of legislation, it would have had a better record, he said.

Declining to make a prediction for the next election, Gardner warned against ignoring the trend of popular movements. He forecasted a readjustment of political parties in the near future, explaining that "neither party today commands the confidence of the people." The Republican party is handicapped in that it is still harnessed by the old political machine which was controlled by "special interests." The "young Turks," on the other hand, are anxious to break into the open.

In Maine, he said, the Republicans would be sure of the next election if they could find a strong man. But at present everyone is hedging and waiting to see what Brann is going to do.

Coming from a former Democratic U. S. senator, Gardner's open attack on the New Deal would appear startling if one did not recall that he has been the choice of both a Democrat and a Republican president for an important national position. His term as senator was short, he was elected in July, 1912, to serve 2 1-2 years to complete the term of Senator Frye.

He was then appointed by President Wilson to serve as U. S. chairman of the International Joint Commission of Great Britain and the U. S. to settle differences concerning the waterways on the U. S. Canadian border. Ousted from this position by a political party after Wilson's term expired, Gardner was hurriedly recalled to serve again as chairman by President Warren G. Harding. He was chairman of the important commission for nine years. In 1923 he retired from national life.

GOOD SOCCER GAME

Rockland Beats Sanford In League Contest At Community Park

A soccer football game was played at Community Park Sunday between the Sanford and Rockland teams. Sanford won the toss and decided to play with the wind. Rockland kicked off. It was a hard fought game throughout, the ball being played from one end of the field to the other all the 90 minutes of play, and both goalkeepers being called upon time and again to protect their goals. Both filled their positions with credit as some of the shots were difficult ones to handle. The first half of the game ended with neither team being able to score.

After 30 minutes of play in the second half Thorp got an opening. He banged the ball through the goal, giving the goalkeeper no chance at all. During most of the remaining 15 minutes of play Sanford pressed hard but was unable to get the equalizing goal.

The outstanding players for Sanford were Crowley, Webster and Duffas, with Thorp, Underwood and Larson showing best for Rockland. The summary:

Herman Robinson and Glover Robinson of East Rochester, N. H., spoke informally. Leola Robinson of St. George Grange and Mrs. Leola Smith of Vinalhaven were the instrumentalists for the occasion.

The meeting closed at 5:15, after which a fine supper was laid out and then more joy riding and congenial pleasantries until boat time. Capt. Roscoe Kent and crew of the North Haven will always hold a tender spot in the hearts of Grangers, for this boat was a haven of safety at the wreck of the Castine, June 8.

Thus closed another day of pleasure for the Grangers.—By Charles E. Gregory.

The professional football team known as the Shells will soon be swinging into action and Manager Oliver R. Hamlin is already in receipt of communications from several teams which want games with the Shells. He asks that all of last year's members and those who would like to try for the team to meet in the hall over Moran's insurance office Thursday night at 8 o'clock. An interesting recruit this season will be Lieut. Bagley of the Triple C camp at Camden, who has been pitching for the Camden Shells this season. Lieut. Bagley was a star on the University of Maine football team only a few years ago.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had to live my life again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

IF ANY
"If any little word of mine
May make a life the brighter;
If any little song of mine
May make a heart the lighter,
God help me speak the little word,
And take my bit of singing
And drop it in some lonely vale
To set the echoes ringing."
"If any little love of mine
May make a life the sweeter;
If any little care of mine
May make a heart the freer,
If any little of mine may ease
The burden of another,
God give me love, and care and strength
To help my toiling brother."

"If any tender thought may cheer
Some heart that grows weary,
If gentle deed may bear annoy,
Sweet hope in pathway dreary,
May He, the Good, the King of Grace,
His Spirit be bestowing
That I may keep in shadowed place,
His Light of Mercy glowing."

A STATEMENT

FROM

McLOON SALES & SERVICE

We have, due to confliction with other departments in this business, given up the sale of new cars.

However, we wish to announce that we will under our United Motors Service franchise still carry on that high standard of service for Oldsmobile as well as all other makes of cars that has won us so many customers and will continue to stock and use quality parts only.

In short, our one objective is to maintain a complete Super-Specialized Service shop with latest testing equipment using periodical factory information bulletins enabling us to give the utmost in present day automotive service. This is the creed of United Motors Service, a national organization whose franchise we hold and in which we firmly believe.

CONSTITUTION DAY

This is the day, Sept. 17, that marks the 148th anniversary of the adoption of this Nation's Constitution, in the celebration of which, it is announced, more than 3000 counties are to take part under direction of the National Constitution Day committee. Hundreds of chambers of commerce, service clubs and other community bodies will carry out special programs in commemoration of the day on which the thirty-nine patriots affixed their signatures in agreement with the principles of our American form of government. Boston's celebration will be observed in historic Faneuil Hall, with noted speakers, headed by former Justice Patterson of Maine. More than 10,000,000 school children in all sections of the United States will take part in parades; nearly 300 radio stations will carry patriotic programs. Mayors of hundreds of cities and governors of most of the States have issued proclamations for the day's observance.

As a country-wide expression of belief in The Constitution under which this Nation has prospered and grown great the celebration will be momentous. We wish our own State and community were participating in it.

THE PERSONAL LETTER

It is a matter of supreme happiness to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hitchens and three children returned Monday to West Newton, Mass., after spending the summer at Lake Megunticook. Harvey Kimball went Monday to Mount Vernon, N. Y., where he will spend the winter. Dunbar's Cafe on Washington street closes Sept. 28. Mrs. W. J. Curtis has returned to New York City following a season passed at Portlaw. Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Randall of Warren were callers Sunday at the home of Willis Pitcher. Miss Sadie Lyon of South Braintree, Mass., was weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Heal. Mrs. Luella Manchester has returned from a visit in Bucksport. Eugene Shaw and family have moved into the Clyde Marriner rent on Park street. George C. Turner, Miss Kathleen Sullivan and J. W. Dobbs of New York City are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Wilbur. J. R. Prescott and daughters Marion and Helen of Newtonville, Mass., are in town and caring for their summer property. Mrs. Evie Curtis left Saturday for St. Petersburg, Fla., where she will spend the winter. Enroute, she will visit her son Eugene Curtis, in Hickeyville, N. Y. Mrs. Emma Connor has returned to Marlboro, Mass., after two weeks' stay in this community. The body of Alice Warren Brewer, widow of William Brewer, was brought Sunday from Dark Harbor to the Good funeral home. The deceased was a member of the Dark Harbor summer colony. Burial will be at Newton Center, Mass. Miss Marjorie Taylor leaves Thursday for Boston where she will enter the Wilfred Academy of Beauty Culture. Allen Dyer, Lewis Day and Allston Thorndike left this week to resume their studies at the University of Maine. Miss Virginia Jamieson leaves today, Tuesday, for Vasaaboro to resume her studies at Oak Grove Seminary. THE DETECTIVE TALE

Do you continue to lose yourself in the latest detective story? Or have you gone to the other extreme, where that tale of mystery briefly noticed in the reviews finds you with a languid mind that refuses response to it? The writer of this brief inquisitory paragraph has to confess for himself that the great annual output in the field of crime and its detection leaves him unmoved. Perhaps this is by reason of coming upon so many of them incapable of the excitement that one time featured "the tale which heldeth children from their play, and old men from the chimney corner." We do not go the length of absolute renunciation, for now and then the book stands forth that refuses to be denied; the real test of which lies in the second reading. If it can stand that, it is a real story. We find ourselves going back to Conan Doyle, who never fails. After an interval of a year or more you may read his stories for the second time, perhaps oftener, and always get the thrill—not that which at the first sent you sleepless to bed, but not the less a thrill.

WOMAN IN THE CABINET

We think of it as a generally shared opinion, that the political gesture of the country's chief executive in hanging the portfolio of his Labor Department upon the neck of a woman, is to be listed as perhaps not exactly the chief of his many mistakes, but at least to be ranked among them. As to the way Labor itself looks at it, let us quote from one of its leading newspapers, "Industry and Labor," which remarks: "Mrs. Perkins, of the Federal Department of Labor, can quit her portfolio any day without causing any big public official in Washington to cry his heart out. Slowly but surely all in high command have been forced to rate the lady an executive 'dud.' She has never yet realized the fact that there is a vast difference between what she contemplates as 'labor' and what the world knows as 'work.' Labor is merely a political trade mark. Work is the need of the hour.

How the real women of the country themselves regard this cleverly studied purpose of the politician to acquire their votes in the 1936 election, you can ascertain by mentioning the matter to the next one of these level-headed women that you come in contact with.

SIXTY-ONE BULLET HOLES

"Small and Brutal Revenge" by "Gangsterism Unadorned" Says New York Editor

Under the caption "Sixty-One Bullet Holes," the New York Herald-Tribune published this editorial: "Various epitaphs suggest themselves for Huey Long. None seems so complete as the grim facts of his assailant's death. In the bloody moment when the guns of the Senator's body-guard spoke and a hail of bullets tore the body of young Dr. Weiss, a dramatic comment on the Long career was uttered more exact than any words.

"For here was gangsterism unadorned. The members of his body-guard, who had failed in their task of protecting their chief, took their small and brutal revenge on their victim exactly as might the body-guard of any racketeer. The assassin was alone. He was overpowered instantly. By every obligation of law and justice it was the duty of these guards to seize the killer and hold him for the courts. Instead, they filled him full of lead in a private execution.

"Before such thuggery it is almost absurd to cite the episodes that leap to mind in contrast. When William McKinley was shot at Buffalo in 1901, his first words were of his invalid wife. His second were of his assailant. 'Let no one hurt him,' he said. Czolgosz was protected from an angry crowd by Secret Service men and the police. He was convicted after a fair trial and executed. Twenty years earlier Guiteau, the assassin of President Garfield, met the same treatment. For a European parallel, the man who set in motion the forces which made the World War, Princip, who shot an heir to a throne and his wife, was saved for the law by the authorities and died in prison.

"It will probably never be known what mental condition prompted Dr. Weiss to his act. Perhaps he acted from high motives—high, though grievously mistaken. Perhaps brooding upon the Long record had unbalanced his mind. In any event, he was slaughtered by the Long body-guard, wantonly and vindictively, in defiance of every precedent and rule of law. Doubtless he expected nothing less and would have preferred it so. The only real sufferer is the State of Louisiana, which some years ago surrendered its liberties to a government of men, not laws, and can hardly complain of a final insult."

CAMDEN AVENGED

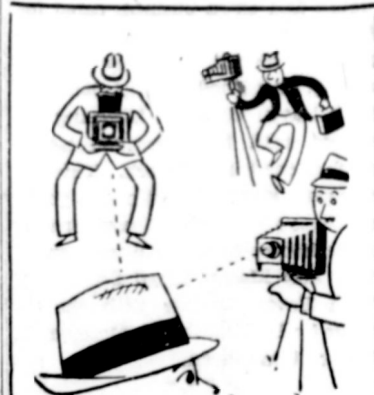

Beats Watson Shoemen Of Auburn — Classy School Game At Thomaston

Before a shivering throng which was somewhat lessened by the rival attraction of a barnyard golf tournament, the Camden Shells Saturday took ample revenge upon the C. V. Watson Shoe Co.'s team from Auburn. The game was virtually won in the first inning when Camden scored four runs on two singles, two passes and two errors. After that the Shoemen settled down to their normal game and Camden scored but seldom except in the third inning when it made three earned runs.

The Watson's also profited by errors in the second inning, and earned three runs in the fifth.

The sensation of this game was Maurice Simmons who, in five trips to the pan, made two singles, two triples and a double—all slashing hits which ran the Auburn outfielders ragged. Auburn used three pitchers, but they all looked alike to Camden, which made 15 hits for a total of 22 bases. Platted was in midsummer form.

Comfort and Health Possible This Winter In Every Knox County Home

That a new Glenwood furnace will save a large part of your fuel cost has been definitely proven. That a Glenwood Furnace will heat every room in the house and give many, many years of perfect service is well known.

Now comes a proposition that will enable anyone to have installed in their home a new Glenwood Furnace. You select the furnace suitable to heat the house, no matter how small or large and it is delivered and completely installed ready for use. There is No Down Payment. The entire amount is visited into 36 equal payments, and you get the lowest spot cash price. This makes the payments so small that you will easily meet them.

A High School Game

This column has already informed its readers of the remarkable school game which was played at Thomaston Friday when the Styvie-coached Knoxonians defeated Rawley's St. George lads. You will recall that Woodcock and Upham did a great stunt in the box holding St. George hitless and runless.

The one run made by Thomaston came in the fourth inning on a single by Johnson and error by Marriot.

All of the pitching honors did not go to the Thomaston hurlers, however, for C. Mackie, erstwhile Twilight League catcher, held the home team to four singles, which is good pitching in any man's ball-yard.

In the St. George lineup were five players who have played this summer in the Knox County Twilight League and are no longer gun-shy. The star was Smalley, who accepted

To have a heating plant in the home that will keep every room at the correct temperature and burn less fuel doing it is a money saving proposition. It adds to the value of your home, it safe-guards the health of the family and if this can be done for a little sum each month it certainly is economy to let us show you and tell you what an inexpensive plan has been worked out.

Never before has it been possible to buy a first class furnace like the Glenwood for such a low price and certainly never before on terms of nothing down and only a little each month covering a period of three years. The Burpee Furniture Company offers this service to every home in Knox County.—adv.

GLENCOVE

Russell Staples and family who have been living in the Robert Gregory tenement, have moved to the Edwin Storms house at Highland Square, Rockport.

Neighbors here are pleased to know that Forrest Smith is able to be about again, having recovered from a severe heart attack. Dr. Green of Camden is attending Mr. Smith.

Arthur Andrews has resumed his duties at Burpee Furniture Co., after two weeks vacation.

Herbert N. Brazier and C. E. Gregory attended the Pomona Grange meeting held Saturday at North Haven.

Mrs. Lizzie Gregory, Mrs. Alice Gregory, Mrs. Flora Maxcy and Mrs. Inez Packard returned Friday from a few days' visit with Mrs. Inez Strong at her summer home in Lincolnville.

NORTH HAVEN

The fall plane schedule is effective today, Tuesday, plane leaving for Rockland at 7.30, 12.15 and 4.30 standard time. The noon trip will be made only if there are five passengers collectively.—adv.

Lady: "Have you been accustomed to having a house keeper over you?" New Maid: "Madam, we never speak of having people 'over us,' But I have had colleagues."

Twenty-one delegates, representing 100 companies, attended the annual meeting of the Telephone Association of Maine, held Thursday and Friday at Lakewood. W. J. Thompson of South China, a former master of the State Grange, was elected president. Ellis W. Nash, formerly of Rockland was elected a director.

Oct. 8—Knox County Teachers' convention in Rockland.
Oct. 17—First meeting of Baptist Men's League.
Oct. 26—Examinations in this city for West Point and Annapolis.

Lucille Rankin has resumed her studies at University of Maine.

Warden R. E. Thurston is in New York for a week, on business.

The Knox County Teachers Convention is scheduled for Rockland, Oct. 8.

Ballard Business School opening at Rockport Monday morning had among its registrants Nathalie Jones, Gertrude Heal and Virginia Leach, of this city.

Due to commitments with the owners of the Copyrighted Bank Night, announcements of the winner Wednesday nights will be made only at Park Theatre.

Patrolman Carl Christofferson will be missed from his beat the next two weeks, while his vacation is in progress. If you want him next week page him at Union Fair.

There will be an important business meeting of the H. Wellington Smith Chorus at 8 Thursday night at the store of H. H. Crie & Co. Reports of the last concert and annual election of officers. All members are urged to be present.

The headquarters for the Maine Elks Association, which has its annual meeting in this city next Saturday and Sunday, will be at the New Hotel Rockland. "Rockland Lodge promises to surpass the good time we had three years ago," reads the card.

Standard time will be resumed one week from next Sunday. The Bangor Daily News, which was for years a bitter enemy of daylight saving, says: "The popularity of Daylight Time has increased in Maine within the last few years. One by one, all of the larger communities, and a majority of the smaller ones, have adopted it."

The Southern Zone of the Maine Association of Optometrists will meet at 291 Main street, Thursday evening, Sept. 19, at 7.30 p. m. with Dr. Bradford Burgess in charge. Among the subjects for discussion will be "Study of Fatigue Impact in 'B' Examination," and "Pathology and Refraction."

The granite plant at Clark Island is closed until Thursday morning out of respect to the late Mrs. John Meehan, Sr., who died in Philadelphia Saturday, after a year's illness. The funeral services will be held tomorrow. The deceased was the mother of John J. Meehan, head of the well known granite firm of John Meehan & Son.

Edwin Libby Relief Corps met Thursday afternoon for sewing and at the evening meeting plans were made for a public New England boiled dinner, Oct. 10. Mrs. Flora Ulmer will be kitchen chairman and Mrs. Velma Marsh of the dining room. Plans for the annual fall fair were also discussed. The meeting on Thursday evening of this week will be devoted to important business.

The next boxing show at the Rockland Athletic Club, Tillson avenue, will be held Friday night. "I have put together the best bill I have ever offered," says Matchmaker Hamlin. In the main bout will be seen Kid Roberts of Waterville, who put the K. O. on Primo Pietroski here last year and Irish Jimmy Boyne of Bangor, who knocked out K. O. Lamouch in Lincoln two weeks ago. Young Audet meets Jimmy McDougal in the first semi-final, and Ponzi Cochran will take a chance with Frankie Merrill of Augusta in the second prelim.

Auxiliary to Anderson Camp, meets tomorrow afternoon for cards and beano. Picnic supper will be followed by a business session.

Congregational Sunday school will resume its classes Sunday, meeting at 9.30 a. m. Comrades of the Way will also resume at the usual hour of 6.30.

The meeting of Past Grands and Noble Grands Association of Knox and Lincoln Counties, scheduled for tomorrow night, has been indefinitely postponed.

Election of officers will take place at the meeting of Miriam Rebekah Lodge tonight; also degree work, and an observance of the anniversary of Rebekah Odd Fellowship.

Kents Hill School has opened its 112th year, with a registration of 165 students. Miss Ruth Scarlott of this city is member of the faculty, teaching commercial subjects.

Registered in the entering class at Gorham Normal School are Thelma Doucette, Evelyn Knight and George Hudson, of Camden; Edna L. Eugley of Lincolnville, and Priscilla Saunders of Rockland.

The Auxiliary to Huntley-Hill Post V.F.W. will serve supper to members and friends tonight at 6 at the home of Mrs. Agnes Colette, Berkeley and Orange streets. The regular meeting will take place at the hall Friday.

The offering at Lakewood this week is "The Unexpected Husband", a comedy by Barry Connors. That of the week of Sept. 23 will be "The Curtain Rises", the B. M. Kaye comedy in which Joanna Roos will have the leading role.

Rev. C. E. Brooks of the Methodist church announces a children's workers' conference to be held at the local church on Saturday, Sept. 28, conducted by Rev. Harold G. McCann of Lewiston, conference director of religious education, and assisted by Miss Sarah E. Green, assistant secretary of the board of education of the Methodist Episcopal Church, whose specialty is children's work. The conference will be open to all the Methodist churches in this section, and there will be both morning and afternoon sessions.

American Legion National convention will take place in St. Louis Sept. 23-26 inclusive. The Maine unit, expected to exceed 500, will probably be the largest ever attending a National convention other than that in Boston. The Maine train will leave Portland at 11.15 Saturday and the delegation will be accompanied by Gov. Brann, also by 60 or more members of the Junior Drum and Bugle Corps of the Harold T. Andrews Post, Portland, and the State championship drum corps of the Philip Tighe Post of Biddeford. Mr. and Mrs. Hector Staples, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDonald and Roy Gipsen of this city are planning to attend.

O. O. McIntyre had this to say in a recent New York Day by Day: "I found another dandy eating place the other day. Just a private home with verandah at Sealcliff, near Roslyn—called The Maine Maid. Such things as pickled watermelon rind, home-made apple sauce, squash, hot beets, turnips, cooked cucumbers, pumpkins and sweet potatoes. And pies with flaky crust, pies a la mode and huckleberry and bread puddings. Many big New York restaurants could study this simple fare with great profit." It is of particular interest to know that the Maine Maid is conducted by a former Rockland girl, Vivian Billings, now Mrs. Percy Roberts.

Ralph Ulmer Camp and Auxiliary met Wednesday of last week, the Auxiliary serving supper to a large number of members and friends. Mrs. Laura Ranlett as chairman was assisted by Mrs. Eva Crockett, Mrs. Mad Mather and Mrs. Inez Bronkie. Beautiful flowers were sent by Mrs. Mabel Doherty to grace the supper tables and also to be used in the impressive memorial service later conducted for the late Mrs. Ethel Marsh Philbrook. In beano Mrs. George Miller and Miss Mary Bye won prizes. Announcement was made of the prize essay on "The War With Spain" conducted by the local camp and auxiliary, the prize won by June, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Chatto, who was presented with $6—$3 each from the camp and auxiliary. The young essayist showed much thought in the work.

The fall schedule of island plane service is effective today (Tuesday). Plane will leave Rockland at 7.15, 12 noon and 4 o'clock, standard time, for North Haven, Vinland and Stonington. The noon trip will be made only if there are five passengers collectively.—adv.

The HEADLINES Say:

BOXING KANGAROO!—The Belfast Zoo houses this unique animal, which is an expert boxer, and often spars with his keeper, using his tail to very great advantage.

THE SPIRIT of feminine grace and beauty itself, Grace Bradley, promising young red-tressed delight, poses prettily for the magic eye of the action camera.

MEDAL FOR SAN DIEGO FAIR—Marilyn Stone exhibits new medal, called by Collier's Weekly the most artistic token of its kind ever designed. Replicas will be placed in museums and collections throughout the world to commemorate the 1935 exposition, now in the midst of its success.

DETROIT ALMOST LOSES ITS ACE!—Umpire Moriarity rushing to the aid of Schoolboy Rowe, as he writhes in agony on the mound after being hit by Comb's line drive.

Manure Most Important in Aiding Plant Growth

The chemist's analysis of a short ton—2,000 pounds—of well rotted barnyard manure reveals that it is made up of 1,500 pounds of water and 500 pounds of dry matter. This 500 pounds of dry matter contains approximately ten pounds of nitrogen, five of phosphoric acid, 13 of potash, eight of lime and five of sulphur—a total of 41 pounds of chemicals—plus 459 pounds of organic matter, or "humus." In addition, asserts an authority in the New York Times, it contains a supply of certain bacteria and other microscopic organisms which are essential in effecting changes in the soil—the "breaking down" of chemical compounds existing in the soil into simpler and more soluble forms.

In other words, manure is so valuable in gardening because it provides combined in this one substance three distinct soil aids: first, small amounts of the main plant food elements (nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash) and also of lime (not a food element but a "digestion accelerator" in the plant's diet); second, a supply of humus or organic matter which helps to change any uncongenial, unresponsive soil into moisture-holding, friable, productive loam; and, thirdly, an active, thriving population of bacteria beneficial to plant feeding and plant growth.

No Evidence That Ships Founder in Sargasso Sea

Sargasso sea is the name given to a region between the Azores and West Indies where seaweed is kept in a slow swirl by the action of the Gulf stream and the equatorial current. The weed collects much in the same way that floating debris collects on the surface of a river back eddy or wash. On his first voyage, notes a writer in the Indianapolis News, Columbus noted this sea. The name comes from the Spanish word sargazo, meaning seaweed.

In the days of small sailing craft, navigation was hindered by the seaweed, and mariners sought to avoid the region. In this way was encouraged the legend that the sea is a graveyard of ships.

A scientific survey of the region was made in 1925 by William Beebe, who headed an expedition sent out by the New York Zoological society. He reported that only at certain seasons do the weeds collect in the "floating meadows" referred to by some observers, and that these surface mats of seaweed are soon scattered by the wind. Beebe cruised for a month in the Sargasso sea and found no rafts of seaweed sufficiently heavy to impede his progress, or even to excite attention. There is no evidence that the storybook references to lost ships floating about in the sea are based on fact.

Betsy Ross' Husband

John Ross, son of Rev. Amos Ross, at one time assistant rector of Christ church in Second street, Philadelphia, was the husband of Betsy Ross, the traditional maker of the first American flag. Mrs. Ross' maiden name was Elizabeth Griscom. She and John were married the latter part of November, 1773. After their marriage they took up their residence in the little house at 239 Arch street, now a national landmark, where John opened up his own business as an upholsterer. John was not living when Betsy made the flag. After the declaration of war he had been placed in charge of a munition store on one of the wharves in the southern part of the city. An explosion of gunpowder on the wharf resulted in his death on January 21, 1776.

Ancient Remedies

If you had lived in a village during the eighteenth century and suffered from gout, your physician might have advised you to swallow two ounces of soap a day for three months—besides oyster shell or egg shell powder. For smallpox, says a writer in the Montreal Herald, you would have been given a black powder made from 30 to 40 toads burnt in a new pot. A daily half-pint of liquor made by boiling mistletoe berries and leaves in water was specific for fits—at least, according to the village doctor.

Life Insurance Banned

Ordinary life insurance cannot be obtained by persons in these occupations, say F. V. Smith, Indianapolis, Ind., in Collier's Weekly: Narcotic agents, wild animal trainers, aerial performers without nets or safety locks, motorcar racers and factory speed testers, steeplechase riders, storage-battery mixers, caisson (compressed air) workers, men who destroy condemned munitions, wrecking and salvage divers, sponge fishermen and turpentine farm laborers.

Warned Washington's Men

Lydia Darrah lived in Philadelphia in 1777. While some British officers were lodged in her home she overheard their plans to surprise Washington's army. Under pretense of leaving her home to purchase flour, she walked three miles through the snow and informed one of Washington's officers of the plan. Washington prepared for the attack and the British expedition proved a failure.

AUTO TOURISTS TO SET NEW HIGH MARK

Traffic to Parks and Resorts Biggest in Years.

Washington.—Automobile tourist travel, reported to be expanding by leaps and bounds in virtually all sections of the country, is expected to be the greatest in volume this summer since the vacation season of 1930.

Motor car traffic, as well as rail travel, to the western parks and forests is the heaviest in several years. New England resort districts report a 35 per cent increase in number of tourists over 1934 and midwestern resort areas have registered the largest vacation merchandise sales since 1929. Recent advance registrations at national parks exceeded by 40 per cent the attendance last year.

One travel service official predicts the 1935 domestic "travel industry" will eclipse by more than $300,000,000 the $250,000,000 accredited in 1934. The big increase in automobile sales, widespread advances in retail business and spread of travel "fever" are indicators of a booming tourist business.

More Going Abroad.

Motor vacationing by Americans abroad also gives promise of exceeding the banner year of 1929, according to officials of the American Automobile association. They report that the foreign travel division of the association already has cleared 5 per cent more American cars than in the entire year of 1930.

Travel service experts say one of the outstanding features of European traffic this year is the American invasion of the British Isles. Transportation officials report the largest number of Americans in London in seven years and the greatest American travel in history in the provincial districts of Britain.

The new "floating garages" on transatlantic liners are credited with playing an important part in making 1935 the biggest year on record for European motor travel by Americans who take their own automobiles with them.

Mostly Small Cars.

Between 75 and 90 per cent of the American automobiles taken abroad for vacation touring are reported to be in the small car field. The importance of economical operating costs abroad, where gasoline prices in several countries are as high as 50 and 60 cents a gallon, have made the small cars particularly popular for European motoring.

A. A. A. officials say the experience of thousands of motorists has demonstrated that a party of three can actually effect economies by traveling in their own car in Europe. This advantage is in addition to freedom of movement and flexibility of schedules afforded by motor transportation.

Plan Marine Museum to Include Great Warships

Washington.—Congress is getting ready to carry out President Roosevelt's dream of a marine museum along the Potomac to include Uncle Sam's great warships of other days. A bill is being put through to provide a permanent anchorage here for the Olympic, Admiral Dewey's famous flagship.

Later, when funds are available, Roosevelt hopes other ships that brought fame and glory will be brought here.

One of the old-timers which Roosevelt wants to see brought here is the wooden flagship Hartford with which stout old Farragut broke through the defenses of the Mississippi during the Civil war. Another ship still existing, although in somewhat bad condition, is the old Constellation, a sister ship of the Constitution, which saw fight in the days when the Barbary pirates were showing their disdain for the struggling young American Republic.

The Constitution restored to a state closely resembling that of its best fighting days, is anchored at Boston.

The marine museum which Mr. Roosevelt had in mind would also include obsolete submarine and iron-clad ships to trace the development of sea fighting since colonial days.

Birds Combine to Aid Robin Attacked by Owl

West Newbury, Mass.—Slumbering townfolk were aroused by screeching birds atop a tree.

Rachel Poore, who investigated, reported that a hoot owl had attacked a robin, grabbed it by the throat and tried to kill it. Bluebirds, sparrows, robins and other birds came to the victim's rescue. They made it so hot for the owl that it freed the robin and flew away.

Milk Bottle Yields Diamond

Utica, N. Y.—Milk Bottle Clean-up week, sponsored annually by milk dealers to get housewives to clear their cellars of bottles which may have accumulated during the year, resulted in the return of a diamond ring to a Utica woman. The ring was lost five months ago and was found in one of the forgotten milk bottles.

Only Female Mosquitoes Bite!

THE mosquito is the most tormenting household pest found in this country. His dismal singing often robs one of sleep and rest, and his vicious bites may itch for days. Persons lost in mosquito infested places have actually been driven mad by the pests.

But to speak correctly, this tormentor should be referred to as "she" and not "he," for scientists tell us that practically all the mosquitoes that bite and suck blood are females, and that the males rest quietly on the bushes where they contentedly suck sap, reports the American Institute of Sanitation, New York City.

Not only is the mosquito annoying, but he is positively dangerous. The germs of malaria are spread only through certain kinds of mosquitoes. Tens of thousands of persons in the United States suffer from that disease, which causes a lifetime of suffering for its victims. Other disease germs are spread by these insects, and very frequently when the wounds on the body are scratched the skin is broken, thus opening the way to infection.

There are more than 1,500 species of mosquitoes and they are found in all parts of the world. The insects may breed in any pool of fresh or salt water. Ditches, tin cans, stumps, rain barrels and swamps are typical places for breeding. The malaria mosquitoes do not fly more than a mile so that if their breeding places near homes are kept clean, danger from the disease will be lessened. Other mosquitoes, flies or other pests the types, as the salt marsh mosquitoes, may fly as far as ten miles, on or in the water, from which they are transformed into insects which fly away. Any of the eggs laid in the fall and some of the insects survive the winter. The number of offspring that may develop from a single pair of the insects is almost unbelievable.

The best way to rid a house of mosquitoes is to close one room at a time and fill the air with the spray of one of the various liquid insecticides available to the housewife. These sprays are harmless to human beings and animals. Their insecticide value lies in the extract of pyrethrum which they contain. This is obtained from the dried flowers of a special chrysanthemum grown chiefly in Japan. It is injurious only to cold blooded insects—in fact, a well known entomologist recently ate a quantity of pyrethrum flowers to demonstrate their harmlessness to humans.

In spraying a room to rid it of mosquitoes, flies or other pests the types, as the salt marsh mosquitoes, may fly as far as ten miles, on or in the water, from which they are transformed into insects which fly away. Any of the eggs laid in the fall and some of the in-

"Camels don't get your Wind"

FAMOUS GOLFERS SAY

CRAIG WOOD (right)—Tommy Armour—Helen Hicks—Gene Sarazen—Bill Mehlhorn—Denny Shute—Willie Macfarlane!

Their names sound a roll call of tense moments that have made golfing history, when prime "condition" and healthy nerves were at a premium. All are outspoken in their preference for Camels.

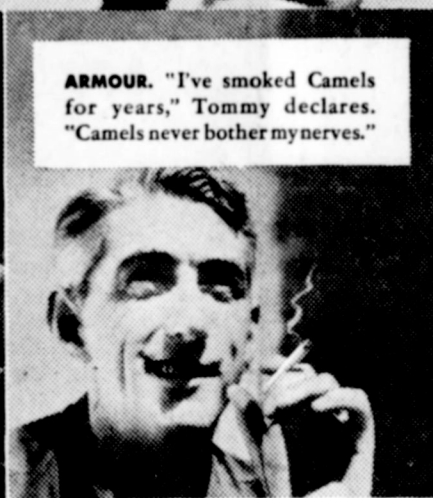

"Camels are so smooth and mild they never affect my wind," says Craig Wood, pictured at the right as he paused to smoke a Camel. Willie Macfarlane, the former U.S. Open Champion, adds: "Camels are mild. They don't get my wind." Miss Helen Hicks brings up the feminine viewpoint. "There's a delicacy of flavor in Camels that appeals to women. Camels never interfere with one's wind." And Denny Shute says: "I switched to Camels years ago. I smoke them constantly, without upsetting my nerves or disturbing my wind."

You'll Like Their Mildness Too!

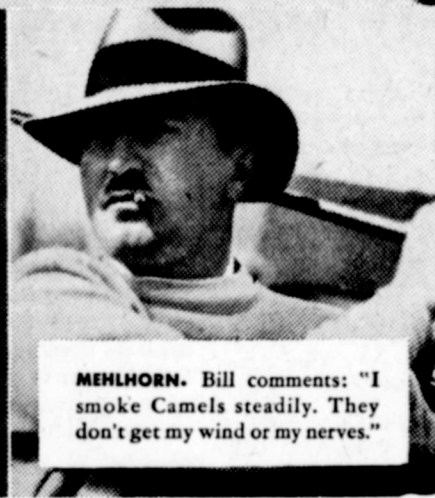

Such experiences with Camels can be matched right among your own friends. You'll like Camels too. Camels are made from costlier tobaccos. They never tire your taste.

SARAZEN. "Camels are milder," reports Gene. "They never get my wind or upset my nerves."

ARMOUR. "I've smoked Camels for years," Tommy declares. "Camels never bother my nerves."

MEHLHORN. Bill comments: "I smoke Camels steadily. They don't get my wind or my nerves."

Washington High School Notes

School began last Tuesday, attended by an unusually large body of freshmen, 26, as well as 12 upper classmen. Different seating arrangements were made to accommodate the increased number of students, and the school is now functioning smoothly, with George Field as principal, and Miss Marguerite Lincoln, assistant.

The 26 freshmen will be initiated into the intricacies of W.H.S. tonight at the annual freshman reception. This year the reception will be held at Light's Pavilion, with dancing after the initiation. Sandwiches, soda and candy will be on sale. On the committees are: Entertainment, Sophomore class; refreshments, Mildred Bartlett, Lena Johnston, Eleanor Sukeforth; social, Alma Grinnell, Georgia Hibbert, Marion Hibbert; tickets, Robert Cunningham, Marshall Nash; publicity, Charles Austin, Ruth Lenfest, Elden Maddocks. Everyone is invited to enjoy a fine time at the biggest fun spectacle of the year—initiation of the green freshmen.

The classes have elected their officers: Seniors, president, Robert Cunningham; secretary - treasurer, Mildred Bartlett. Juniors, president, Marshall Nash; vice president, Donald Smith; secretary-treasurer, Ruth Lenfest. Sophomores, president, Marion Hibbert; vice president, Charles Austin; secretary-treasurer, Mildred Turner.

The members of the senior class have ordered their class rings, which they expect to receive in about two weeks.

The officers of the Student Activities Association this year are: President, Marshall Nash; vice president, Eleanor Sukeforth; secretary-treasurer, Merl Marr, Jr. This association has charge of school athletics, and is now sponsoring baseball practice among the boys. The school also plans to have a basketball team this year.

The junior class led in an exciting hare and hound chase last Friday night. After following many false trails, the hounds finally found the right track and the chase was terminated at Cottage Cove, where the hares had a fire built, ready to roast ten pounds of wienies, which were speedily and enjoyably consumed by the hungry hounds. After the "eats" games were played by the students.

The School's future looks encouraging and it is hoped it may prove a benefit to the younger generation in future years.

NORTH WARREN

The members of White Oak Grange gave the cast of the play "Stepping High", a chicken supper Friday night. A few players were unable to be present but those who attended did full justice to the bountiful repast.

APPLETON

The Music and Bible School, in progress during July and August, terminated two weeks before the annual state Convention, the last two days of August and the first two of September. School and convention were a success. Hundreds attended the convention from surrounding vicinity, and different parts of the state, besides a good delegation from P.E.I. Canada. New Hampshire Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Tennessee and Montana. The Church of God, at the last meeting gave a rising vote of thanks to business men and houses of Boston, Portland, Bangor, Rockland and Belfast for service to the school, also to the Sheriff and his deputies of Rockland, who volunteered ready aid in case of need.

The School's future looks encouraging and it is hoped it may prove a benefit to the younger generation in future years.

"I ASK NO OTHER HEAVEN"
I ask no other heaven
Than Rio in December
When mazes gleam like copper
Down all the lanes I know;
When olanders flower,
Beside the blue-tiled gateways,
And high and proud past Gavea
The great cloud-galleons go.

When all the world's an altar
Where summer lights her candles
Of gold and acacia blossom
Upon a thousand hills;
And to the Sursurum Corda
Of wind and wave and sunlight,
We breathe the heady incense
That jasmine bloom distills.

To see brown fishers counting
Their silver catch at morning;
To watch the great white liners
Go slipping softly by;
To hail a blue boat beating
Across the bay at twilight
Her tawny canvas painted
Against a tawny sky.

Boys with golden bodies
Flash into emerald combers,
And children's broken laughter
Is lovely on the breeze
That blows from Ipanema
Around our blue lagoon
Where roads are drifted scarlet
From great flamboyant trees.

No cloudy-capped Olympus,
No mythical Valhalla,
No walls of pearl and jasper,
Can lure my mortal eyes
For while love laughs beside me
In Rio, in December,
I ask no other heaven,
No fairer Paradise!

A CLIMBING TOWN

ONE of the most quaint little villages in all Mexico is Taxco, an old mining town perched high on a mountainside in Guerrero. It is a place of red-tiled roofed houses with an extra story or two on one side to take care of the elevation, and of narrow streets cobbled in unique designs which wind and twist their way up to the laurel-shaded central plaza. On two sides of this square are markets and stores; on the third, the palace of Count Joseph La Borda; and on the fourth, the famous rose-colored cathedral built from some of the immense fortune he drew from the local mines—one of the finest cathedrals in Mexico.

Commander Joseph P. McCarthy, Spanish War Veterans. James Clark of Broadway mourned the death of a hen. The hen was 16 years old.

REVOLUTIONARY PENSIONERS OF KNOX COUNTY, MAINE

By Edward Kallach Gould, State Historian of Maine
(CHAPTER XXXIV.)

Amariah Mero

Amariah Mero of Union, was a farmer. At the outbreak of the Revolution he was living in Stoughton, Mass. He was a private in Capt. James Endicott's Company of Militia, Col. Lemuel Robinson's Massachusetts Regiment, which marched on the Lexington alarm of April 19, 1775. Later he enlisted April 27, 1775, in Capt. Wm. Bents' Company, Col. John Groaton's 21st Massachusetts Regiment in the Provincial Army, service three months and 12 days.

This Regiment became the 36th of the Army of the United Colonies in July, 1775, and Mero continued to serve in it in Capt. Bent's Company, as appears from a Company return dated Oct. 5, 1775. He next appears on the record as a private in Capt. Robert Swan's Company, Col. Benjamin Gilchrist's Massachusetts Regiment which marched to Bristol, Rhode Island, service 24 days. He next engaged in service May 19, 1781, as appears by return of men raised in Suffolk County for the Continental service, being engaged for the town of Stoughton, Massachusetts. In his declaration for pension he gives his subsequent service in the Revolutionary War.

He enlisted May 14, 1781, in Capt. Winthrop Sargeant's Company of Artillery of West Point, N. Y., Col. John Crane's Regiment Massachusetts line, and continued in this Regiment for three years. However in August, 1783, he was transferred to the Company of Artillery in this Regiment commanded by Capt. Thomas Vose, and he completed his three years service in this Company. He was honorably discharged about May 20, 1784, on the Mohawk River under the hand of Lieut. Samuel Jeffers. He was promoted to Sergeant Jan. 1, 1783 to rank from July 7, 1781.

His family consisted of his wife, Susan, age 51 years, and two daughters one 10 years and the other 6 years old. He drew a pension for his Revolutionary service of $120 per year. He died Aug. 1, 1852.

His widow's maiden name was Susan Robbins and she was married to Amariah in Sterling, now Union, March 31, 1786. The widow died in Jay, Dec. 29, 1852.

Sibley in his History of Union states that while in the service Mero went to Sorel, Trois Rivières, Montreal, Ticonderoga, and was subsequently at West Point. He was for some time in Boston or vicinity guarding the prisoners from Burgoyne's captive Army. He never was in any engagement. From his final term of service he was discharged at Fort Stanwix. He sold his rations of run to the Indians for beaver skins, and later disposed of the skins for five dollars, which paid his expenses to North Hampton, Massachusetts. Here he procured five dollars more of a friend to pay his expenses home.

In Sept. 1784, Amariah Mero came to Union from Stoughton, and bought the farm later owned by his son, Spencer Mero afterward, he settled on the farm and lived in the house with Philip Robbins, whose daughter he married. At this time there were but 13 families in Union.

March 22, 1794, Philip Robbins for 120 pounds conveys to Amariah Mero one half of his homestead farm containing two hundred and eighty acres, together with one-half of all the buildings on the farm, and one-half the western meadow on the bank of the St. Georges River.

In 1798 he buys pew No. 9, in the Meeting House for $31.50. In the act of incorporation of the First Congregational Society in the town of Union, which was passed by the Massachusetts General Court, Jan. 31, 1816, Amariah Mero's name is among the incorporators.

It is said that Mrs. Mero developed much skill in handling a boat and frequently ferried people across Seven Tree Pond. For some time Mr. Mero had the only horse in Union and is recorded that in 1793, he drove the first team that went from Union to Warren with wheels.

Mero seems to have been an enterprising man, for about the year 1790, he in conjunction with Josiah and Philip Robbins and Rufus Gilmore, made a salmon net and set it off Gilmore's land below the bridge, and in one year took more than 2,000 pounds of salmon, which were salted for winter. These fish disappeared from Union water many years ago.

In 1792 Mero was chosen for first time one of the selectmen of Union, and in 1793, 1794, 1796, 1797 he was chosen first selectman. His compensation for "making taxes" as an

SEE YOU AT "THE CIRCUS"

Snappy Entertainment Packed With Laughs Thursday and Friday

See you at "The Circus" Watts hall, Thomaston, Sept. 19 and 20. The principal roles in this hilarious comedy are taken by Frank Jacobs, Hazen Cook, Cecil Day, Bradford Jeal, Lenora Ney, Joseph Emery, Jr., Eleanor Seiber, Alton Foster, Grace Rollins, Ruth Barter, Edwin Anderson, F. L. S. Morse and Maynard Wentworth.

This circus has all the expected features—lions, clown, balloon man, freaks, chorus girls, and besides has all the comedy that develops from the efforts of the owner to auction off his freaks and animals to Sir Peter Van Mildew rather than give the circus up to his eccentric uncle, Zachariah Peabody. The impersonation of that gaudy old reprobate Zachariah by Mr. Morse, pursued by the flirtatious Lady Van Mildew, will leave nothing to be desired. Of equal intensity is the pursuit of "Squeak" by the Bearded Lady. There is the mystery of the lost "Joels," searched for all over the lot by the Constable. There is Mabel the lion, and Maudie the burro, but an untrained burro and a very distant relation of Thomaston's Violet. The Trapeze Artist will if anything out-Creighton John, a daring promise indeed!

Tickets for this mammoth show are being checked at McDonald's Drug Store. The advance sale has been good.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 50c.
