Egg Prices Likely To Enjoy That Distinction During the Spring

The poultry bulletin just issued by County Agent R. C. Wentworth, with material provided by R. N. Atherton, extension economist, includes the following timely information:

"Egg receipts until summer at the Four Markets are likely to continue greater than a year earlier. The usual spring crop of broilers may come to market somewhat later this year, due to inability of commercial hatcheries to obtain an adequate supply of hatching eggs in March.

"Stocks of shell eggs have not accumulated to the same extent as last year, due partly to severe weather, heavier consumption and a poor demand for storage.

"A large part of March egg receipts were of poor quality, due to frost damage, or being held too long before shipping, so that it was inadvisable to store them. The eggs, which otherwise would have gone into storage, were forced into immediate consumption, thereby forcing the price downward. Buying for storage purposes is likely to be much more cautious than in 1935.

"Feedstuff markets advanced sharply during the week ended April 14, as a result of unfavorable weather retarding pastures and stimulating demand.

"Egg prices appear to have reached their seasonal low point in March; prices throughout the spring and summer will probably be lower than a year earlier. Poultry prices are likely to remain high during the spring. A heavier rate of egg consumption now than a year ago is indicated by increased receipts and lower storage holdings."

Spring is here. Drive a clean car. Washed for 79 cents at Fireproof Garage.

A W. C. T. U. MEETING

Members and Guests Listen To Program on Missions and Temperance

Members of the Rockland W.C.T.U. with invited guests to the number of 50 odd enjoyed supper together Friday night at the Methodist vestry. After supper a program on Missions and Temperance was presented under direction of Mrs. Jeannette Dunton. Greetings to guests and friends was extended by the president, Mrs. Clara Emery, who said that at the present time the W.C.T.U. is the only large organization upholding and working for temperance. This record of membership and achievement has not lessened but increased. We have been dismayed and disappointed but not downhearted. With renewed energy we fight our peaceful war, summoning to our aid those who believe that the only way to deal with an evil is to suppress it. Continuing to teach the young to spread information and to gain new members to strengthen our organization we believe in the ultimate triumph of the principles of prohibition and total abstinence and thank God for an opportunity to work in this branch of His service.

Miss Faith Lurvey sang a solo. Rev. Howard A. Welch of Warren, guest speaker, gave a very interesting address on Christian Missions saying in part: "The missionary movement is often spoken of as sending out missionaries from Christian countries to convert the pagans, when as a fact there are no Christian countries. Paganism is to be found

IS TOURING STATE

Mrs. Ruth Walsh, After Intensive Study, Will Discuss Alcohol Education

Mrs. Ruth E. Walsh, educator and speaker for the Maine W.C.T.U., is making a tour of the State in the interest of Alcohol Education, in which she has recently taken an intensive course of study at the seminar at Evanston, Ill.

She is especially well fitted to give this information as to what alcohol is and what it does, from a scientific standpoint, with its new and interesting technique. Her culture, her diversified experience, her charming platform presence, make her a speaker par excellence.

Mrs. Walsh is to speak at the Baptist Missionary conference at Rockport Tuesday, April 28; at the Lincoln county W.C.T.U. convention at Damariscotta April 29 and at the Baptist Missionary society, First Church, Bath, Thursday April 30; and at Nobleboro, before the Baptist Missionary Society in the afternoon May 1st. In the evening of May 1st, Mrs. Walsh is to be the speaker before a W.C.T.U. Membership supper group at Thomaston. Miss Margaret Crandon, W.C.T.U. county president, has charge.

From Thomaston Mrs. Walsh goes on to Waldo county, Belfast, Freedom, Knox, Thorndike, with every date taken up to early June, when she starts for the Convention of the National W.C.T.U. in Tulsa, Oklahoma. On her return from the West Mrs. Walsh will take up her duties as pastor in the Alleghash Baptist Church, where for some years the family have had a summer home.

all about us. Mission work begins at home and extends into all the world. We as Christians must unite our efforts and our gifts and spread into every realm of life. Everyone has a contribution to make to the world, and the field is the world. The missionary spirit that has carried Christianity into all the world is the spirit of love, the spirit of giving, of sharing.

Wherever the gospel of Jesus Christ goes there is a new realization of the personality of men, women and children. There is a recognition of harmful things. Against alcohol as a poison that tears down and destroys. In Japan the Christian understands that church members are not to smoke or drink. Today we see Japanese missionaries coming to us. Madam Kaji Yajima, called the Frances Willard of Japan, came to America when 90 years old that she might pray with her Christian sisters. Everywhere great plans were made to welcome and feed her. She said: "Dear Sisters, I appreciate your welcome but haven't you made plans for prayer?" Whereupon a great mass prayer meeting was called in Washington.

More recently Kagawa, who has aroused much interest in this country, is a burning soul, who wants to help people. He condemns war and liquor as having no place among Christians.

Under the topic of Temperance, Mrs. Mary Perry Rich, W.C.T.U. County Director of Christian Citizenship, made a stirring appeal to all church members, parish workers and all affiliated friends to take hold and help bring in a large day vote in Knox County next September when we can vote on the local option law. She said: "We believe there should be no unemployment on the part of any interested in the dry cause and unthinkable there should be any on the part of Christians. The five great documents of history, the Bible, Magna Charta, Declaration of Independence, Constitution of the United States, the Emancipation Proclamation, all brought freedom to man. We are fighting to bring man freedom from alcohol. Rev. Frederick Smith says the church vote is the key. Those who did not vote or voted wrong on the repeal, have lost out, for since repeal there has been a tremendous increase in the arrests for drunkenness and arrests for drunken driving. It is a terrible thing for the church to have failed in upholding moral laws. Now is the time for us to retrieve on our losses. And if lost now we shall be entering upon a long wet era. We must begin at once a campaign of education, informing the electorate as to what local option is, what the questions mean, how to vote. We must have co-operation and a systematic plan.

Rev. Charles E. Brooks gave a brief report on what Rev. Frederick Smith had said regarding the local option campaign at the Methodist conference. The work must be local, they must begin early, must contact all voters, see that they are informed and that in September they get to the polls. The task is up to all those who desire our city to be a safe and respectable place to live in. Following an open discussion it was voted the chairman appoint an advisory committee to plan for the campaign.

HIS LAST SUNDAY

Rev. F. F. Fowle Completes An Eight Year's Pastorate In Rockport

Large audiences attended the morning and evening services at the Rockport Methodist Church Sunday, it being the last day of Rev. F. F. Fowle's pastorate at that church. At the 11 a. m. service a period was devoted to the dedication of the new hymnals and at the evening service the pastor preached his farewell sermon. Special musical numbers were an original song written especially for the occasion and sung by Earle Achorn, a lay preacher and member of the church and selections by male trio, Roland Richards, Ernest Crockett and Maurice Miller.

Rev. F. F. Fowle, whose going leaves Rockport regretful

Mr. Fowle has been with the Rockport church as pastor for the past eight years, thereby establishing a record, and during that time he and his family have endeared themselves to the entire community. Their departure is deeply regretted.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowle have been unusually successful in their work with the young people. Sixty have been baptized, 40 taken into full membership and 20 into preparatory membership and the church is much stronger for the leadership it has had during this pastorate.

Mr. Fowle and family will leave Friday to make their home at Winthrop, assuming the pastorate of the Winthrop and East Readfield Churches. He will be succeeded at the Rockport Church by Rev. Zebadiah Andrews, who has just completed a pastorate at Searsport.

POPPY DAY COMING

Will Be Observed In Rockland Saturday, May 9—Its Significance

Poppy Day will be observed in Rockland this year Saturday, May 9, when memorial poppies to be worn in honor of the World War dead will be distributed throughout the city by the Winslow-Holbrook Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. The Auxiliary women are making extensive preparations for the observance of the day under the leadership of Bernice Jackson, president.

The poppies, made of crepe paper by disabled veterans, will be offered on the streets by workers from the Auxiliary Unit and co-operating organizations. "Poppy girls" will distribute the flowers in the business district throughout the day, and will also work in the outlying shopping centers. Contributions for the welfare of the disabled veterans and needy families of veterans will be asked in exchange for the flowers.

"Wearing the poppy is a personal tribute to the men who gave their lives in the country's service," said Mrs. Jackson. "By having a poppy on the coat on Poppy Day, all can show that they still remember and honor the sacrifices made for America during the World War. The poppy is the flower which bloomed on the battlefields where they fell and on Poppy Day it blooms again over the patriotic hearts where they are remembered."

"Wearing the poppy also gives the wearer a part in the vast work carried out by the American Legion and Auxiliary for the war's living victims; the disabled, their families and the families of the dead. Every penny contributed for a poppy goes to the support of this work, the bulk of the money being used here in Rockland in the welfare activities of local Legion Post and Auxiliary Unit.

TOOK CHILD BY FORCE

A Dramatic Scene Enacted In Local Court Yesterday—The Mother Wins

Yesterday's session of Rockland Municipal Court was thrown into an uproar when Mrs. Addie May Kittredge of Attawaggon, Conn. took the law into her own hands and tore her 5-year-old son, Bickford H. Brooks from the arms of Mrs. Carl Gray, with whom the child had been living since he was 10 months old.

A charge of kidnaping had been preferred by Mrs. Kittredge, who said that she had been refused the custody of the child when she demanded it a week ago last Saturday and again last Saturday.

Mrs. Gray refused to give up the boy for practical and sentimental reasons—the former being that Mrs. Kittredge, who had been remarried,

EDUCATIONAL CLUB

Holds Annual Meeting Friday, With Characteristically Fine Program

Three cities, besides Rockland, will contribute to the Educational Club's annual meeting Friday at Grand Army hall. An excellent supper is assured because it is supervised and planned by the efficient chairman, Mrs. Flora Ulmer, (telephone 781-1) and her select committee. All men interested are invited to remain without expense, as club guests, for the inspiring program at 7.15.

The afternoon session, starting at 2 o'clock, will be packed with constructive items. Dr. John Smith Lowe, Universalist pastor and local speaker of distinction, will talk on "Understanding the U. S. Constitution," this to be succeeded by an open forum at 5 p. m.

Several brief papers and talks in the "Immortal Story Series" will be supplied by members, as well as current events and half a dozen ten-minute informal discourses on helpful practical phases in psychology's intriguing invitation to self-analysis. Topics will include, "Poise, How to Escape Boredom," "How to Acquire Self-Confidence," "How to Cast Out Fears and Timidity," "Remedies For Loneliness," "Better Reading Tastes," "My Hobby," and "How to Save Time in Housework."

Guest speakers for the evening are Hon. George Otis Smith of Skowhegan, former head of an important Federal Commission, and lately returned from a winter's sojourn in California. His subject will be, "Builders, Old and New Frontiers." From Auburn will come Hon. George Weber, well known lawyer, contestant in the June primaries as Second District Congressional nominee, with six opponents, Townsend and otherwise. "The Supreme Court" will be his theme.

The closing features will be the showing of lovely colored slides of "Flowers," by Spot. Walter Hinckley of Fairfield, from the Goodwill Farm at Hinckley.

Educational Club members are asked to consider their first choice for subject of next year's afternoon papers. Current Events will continue as a favorite for discussion, members having proved they can frankly differ and openly champion their own viewpoint yet without bickering or personal verbal thrusts at opponents who venture into argument. If such discussion isn't profitable and educational for a more enlightened citizenship, what else is? Townsend Plan and Hauptmann verdict are cases in point.

In the list of honor students at Pennell Institute, Gray, appears the name of Ross Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson, formerly of Thomaston. Mr. Wilson, who is co-salutatorian with Robert Thibodeau, is treasurer of the senior class, and also of the athletic association, and has won his letter in both baseball and track.

For Air Mail correspondence you will want a box of Rytex Feather printed Stationery. This is an extra light sheet of paper printed with your name and address to match the colored printed lining in the envelope. The price is only $1.50 a box for 50 double sheets and 50 envelopes, including the printing. See samples at The Courier-Gazette office. Postage 10 cents.

'TAS A THRILLING STORY

Which Captain Wincapaw Told To Boston Aero Club—May Receive Lifesaving Medal

Captain William H. Wincapaw, eminent New England flyer, delivered a stirring talk before the Aero Club of New England at the Boston Art Club Thursday night. His thrilling stories, relating to the many rescues in which he has participated, were applauded by an enthusiastic audience.

The well-known Rockland flyer traced the history of his nationally famous trek to the lighthouses of the Maine coast every Christmas. "During the time I was basing my flight operations at Rockland," Captain Wincapaw said, "I had numerous occasions to fly to the nearby islands at night on emergency flights. On these hops the only navigational aids were the lighthouses. These lights were certainly valuable on dark nights. It was there that I appreciated the lonely lives the keepers and their families endure from year to year. So every Christmas I make it a point to fly to the lighthouses north of Boston to drop a bundle at each station."

"During the past three years I have included the Coast Guard stations and we made 91 calls on the 1935 trip. The flights are made possible by Adriel U. Bird, Boston business man who is a native of Rockland. Mr. Bird, as most of you know, is president of the La Touraine Coffee Company."

"He is an extremely air-minded man and it is the Bellanca Airbus of the La Touraine Company that I am privileged to fly now. This plane is used to carry executives of the company between the branch offices in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Syracuse, Chicago and Jacksonville."

IS JEOPARDIZING THE TOWN

Such Is Charge Made With Regard To Granite Quarrymen's Attitude

The attitude of some of the granite quarrymen in the controversy over the pending bill of prices is sharply criticized by members of the craft who feel that there should be no further delay. Representatives of the latter faction yesterday asked this paper to publish the following statement:

"There is considerable dissatisfaction among a large majority of the quarrymen employed at Clark Island and Willard's Point over the needless delay in the actions of their representatives in not making a settlement with the quarry owners."

"The paving cutters had their representatives meet in conference at Boston, several weeks ago and realizing the true condition of the paving industry agreed to continue on their old bill of prices and go to work."

"While the quarry owners were willing to extend the same terms to the quarrymen the representatives of the quarrymen would not accept their old bill of prices in marked contrast to the action of the wisdom of the paving cutters."

"With the limited market for Maine paving which is New York City, as all Massachusetts granite products must come from Massachusetts quarries, it places the six or seven hundred men who are dependent upon the granite industry in Knox County and at Oak Hill in a serious predicament."

"As there is somewhere in the neighborhood of $16,000 of a weekly payroll divided between the four quarries involved namely: Oak Hill, Vinalhaven, Willard's Point and Clark Island it is the opinion of a vast majority of the workmen that it is a display of poor judgment on the part of the quarrymen to take any stubborn stand as both the paving

Captain Wincapaw told of a thrilling rescue he effected at Monhegan Island under unfavorable circumstances several years ago in taking a man off the island who had suffered a broken back in a fall. "We flew this man back to Rockland," Captain Bill said, "and was given immediate hospital attention and I am happy to report that he is alive and well on the island today."

Captain Wincapaw also told of the part he played in the February rescue of 7 CCC youths who were stranded on an ice floe off Brewster, Mass. (Within the next few weeks application is being made by New England officials of the National Aeronautic Association to the Treasury Department, calling for the award of a Life-Saving medal to Captain Wincapaw for his part in the CCC rescue.—Ed.)

He described the tremendous advances that are being made in aviation, citing the new airports that are being built, the trend towards faster airplanes and the new aids to navigation that are being perfected by research engineers of the Federal government. He also told of the need for the marking of towns and cities. "Every town, city and village in the United States should be adequately marked. This would be of tremendous value to the private pilot, in particular."

"The work of painting an air-marker on the roof of a prominent building is not a mountainous task," Wincapaw said. "The local Chamber of Commerce, the local newspaper or even the local Boy Scout troop could undertake to erect such a marker at little expense. In fact, Federal funds are available for this type of work. From experience I find that an air mark needs to be refreshed about once a year and aviation isn't asking a great deal when it pleads for better air-marking."

The Aero Club dinner meeting was presided over by Alan Andrews of Fall River, president of the organization. The Aero Club is the oldest of its kind in America, having been founded in 1902. A host of aviation notables attended the meeting to hear Captain Wincapaw, including Dr. Alexander Forbes, whose periodic flights to Labrador attract broad attention, Dr. H. V. Clayton, well-known meteorologist; Lieut. Commander Carl Shumway, noted dirigible expert; Captain Charles Snow, expert navigator; and G. W. Mason, regional vice-president of the National Aeronautic Association.

"UNBELIEF"
There is no unbelief:
Whoever plants a seed beneath the sod
And waits to see it push away the clod,
He trusts in God.

Whoever says when clouds are in the sky,
"Be patient, heart; light breaketh by and by,"
Trusts the Most High.

Whoever sees 'neath Winter's field of snow
The silent harvest of the future grow,
God's power must know.

Whoever lies down on his couch to sleep,
Content to look each sense in slumber deep,
Knows God will keep.

The heart that looks on when eyelids close,
And dares to live when life has woes,
God's comfort knows.

There is no unbelief:
And day by day, unconsciously,
The heart lives by that faith the lips deny,
God knoweth why!

WATCHING "PENNSY"

That State and Massachusetts Holding Primary Elections Today

President Roosevelt carries his reelection campaign to Pennsylvania's presidential primary this week to gauge his strength in the East against both Republicans and Democratic opponents.

Roosevelt lost Pennsylvania to Hoover in 1932. In Tuesday's primary, the vote he polls in comparison to that of Senator William E. Borah, candidate for the Republican nomination, may give some indication of how the State will go in the November election.

The Pennsylvania primary also presents the first formal test of opposition within his party to Roosevelt's renomination, in the candidacy of Col. Henry Breckinridge, New York attorney, appealing for support of conservative Democrats who do not approve New Deal policies.

Massachusetts also will hold a primary election today but lack of any national contest makes it of secondary importance.

Both parties perfected organization for their national conventions last week. The Republicans chose Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon as keynote at Cleveland and Representative Bertrand H. Snell of New York, House minority leader, as permanent chairman. Democrats picked Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, keynote of the Chicago convention, to repeat at Philadelphia, while the post of permanent chairman went to Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Senate majority leader.

With these preliminaries out of the way both parties were geared for the final six-week pre-conventions campaign and looked to Pennsylvania for an early and significant indication of eastern political sentiment. In addition to having the second largest electoral vote among the States, Pennsylvania's balloting will be indicative of how important a part the labor vote will play in the national election. Chairman Farley of the Democratic National Committee has predicted the State will go Democratic this year because "John Lewis is with us."

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, has pledged the support of the thousands of Keystone miners to the administration that gave it the Guffey Coal Act which regulates trade practices, hours and wages in the bituminous branch of the industry. Whether this support will offset the conservative Democratic opposition that has arisen to Mr. Roosevelt since 1932 may be reflected in the returns. Conservatives would be expected to show the numerical strength of their dislike for the New Deal by voting for Breckinridge.

Borah has not personally campaigned in Pennsylvania and his most notable supporter there is former Gov. Clifford Pinchot. The Idaho Senator is the only G.O.P. presidential aspirant entered in this primary.

In Massachusetts the two Democratic senators, David I. Walsh and Marcus A. Coolidge and Gov. James M. Curley head a slate of delegates pledged to the President and Republicans have entered an unopposed ticket of uninstructed delegates headed by former Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams and Representatives Allen T. Treadway and Joseph W. Martin.

"WAGON WHEELERS"

Are To Give a Testimonial Banquet For a Former Rockland Man

Sergt. Frederick N. Wheeler, 67, a member of the Boston police department for the past 41 years, retired from duty at rollcall in the South Boston station the other day.

A native of Rockland, Me., Sergt. Wheeler had served under 12 captains since becoming a regular member of the force in 1895. He was made a sergeant in 1908 and had been stationed in South Boston since then. He lives with his family at 719 East Second street.

More than 1000 residents of the district are expected to attend a testimonial banquet to be given to the policeman at Horticultural hall May 20, by the Wagon Wheelers, an organization in South Boston named after him. Among those attending will be Police Commissioner McSweeney, Supt. Edward W. Fallon and city officials—From a Boston newspaper.

Maybe Not Crazy, But a Little Strange

Travelers Ins. Co. Safety Service.

This illustration may be a slight bit over done, because "our fellow human beings" may not be quite as crazy as the artist has pictured them in the above. But at least by the way the artist spells out "human beings," the inference is that he regards a good many drivers and pedestrians as "cock-eyed." If sometimes drivers and pedestrians could see themselves as others see them, many would be in for some great surprises. This would be especially so when drivers do those little things which tell the wide world the kind of persons they are.

Oh, was some power the giftie gle us To see oursel's as others see us! It wad frae monie a blunder free us, And foolish notion.

It's a good notion for drivers to look at themselves in the looking glass once in a while to try to figure out just how they may appear to their fellow men when they drive as though they had the only car registered and no such person as a pedestrian ever existed.

A SURPRISE VISIT

Group Of 135 Of Jehovah's Witnesses In Knox County Over Weekend

The citizens of Camden, Rockland, Thomaston and Warren received a surprise visit over the weekend from a group of about 135 of Jehovah's Witnesses representing the Maine division of that body in the United States. Your correspondent was privileged to attend their Sunday afternoon meeting at the Grand Army hall in Rockland, and must admit that it would be hard to find a more sober minded, intelligent and hospitable group of people. There was no profanity, smoking or drinking, and no gossiping about their neighbors. The sole topic of conversation was the good news of God's kingdom, which these people positively declare, is now beginning to function in the earth. The faces of all were aglow with joy and happiness in the privilege which had been their of going from door to door in these communities with this good news.

It was learned that the sole purpose of their meeting here these past two days was in keeping with their usual custom of periodically assembling in the various large cities and towns of the State to do good to the people by declaring the purpose of Jehovah God to, within a very short time, destroy all the workers of iniquity and lawlessness, and establish that Government of Righteousness amongst men for which Christians have long prayed, "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as in Heaven."

An interesting feature of this convention was the sound car in which W. B. Fowler, regional director of the work of Jehovah's Witnesses in Maine, is now touring the entire State. Yesterday Mr. Fowler took his car to Warren and Thomaston and there repeated by electrical transcription the recent great lecture given by Judge Rutherford on "Separating the Nations." It seems that this lecture was broadcast by every known modern electrical device to the remotest corners of the earth. Your correspondent took occasion to listen to this lecture this afternoon in the Grand Army hall, and was amazed at the tremendous array of secular and biblical facts presented by Judge Rutherford in support of his argument that we have now come to the full end of Satan's reign of wickedness, and the beginning of Christ's reign of righteousness amongst men. This forenoon while the various witnesses were calling at the homes of the people in Rockport Mr. Fowler got his sound car into action and the above mentioned lecture was repeated in the streets of the city.

An hour's visit with these God-fearing, sincere men and women should convince anyone of fair mind that they are firm believers in the Bible as the divinely inspired word of God, and that in it alone is found

HOME-AG-FAX

Persons who want to buy farms applied for more than $3,400,000 from the federal land banks in March, a million dollars more than in February.

Application of high-nitrogen fertilizers, alone to hayland and pastures will not qualify farmers to receive payments under the new program.

The Soil Conservation Service is establishing a demonstration area in Aroostook county. Within this area, co-operation with the service offers several direct benefits to farmers troubled with soil erosion.

THEY HAD TO SAY "UNCLE"

Poor Old Skippers Got a Tummyful In the Last Scheduled Bowling Match

The Ganders put the finishing touches on the Skippers last Wednesday night, and incidentally closed the regular scheduled bowling season when they staged a terrific smashing of the pins in the second string of the contest, and walked off with the contest and series by a win of 30 pins. Although the Skips won two of the three strings, the 64-pin beating the Ganders gave them in the second string was too much of a back and forth and the Skips just had to say "Uncle."

Just to show how quickly things can change in this game, or any other for that matter, note that in the first string the Ganders had four of their five strings in the seventies, totaling 397. The Skippers won this string by 24 pins. But in the second round the Ganders must have been eating wheateas or perhaps it was only cracked corn, but they spread their wings and soared to four out of five strings over 100 and a total of 532. Scottle Littlefield was the hero of this eruption and if he had not faltered in his last two frames he would have made a string that he would be proud to show to his grandchildren.

The Skippers, thirsting for revenge, immediately challenged for a "consolation" string, which resulted in another defeat and another challenge, and finally on the fifth string the Skips won again and called it a day. That is, all except Gene Hall, who piped them all down, called them squealers, welchers, and everything he could lay his wit sharpened long to, because as he claimed, he was "just getting his eye on 'em" and wanted to bowl some more. In order to properly soothe their injured feelings the Skips immediately laid plans for another feed and "set down" at the Shoe next week and as you who follow this column from time to time, read this, will you just use your imagination and visualize the boys sitting down to the following menu, and then drawing their chairs around the cozy fireplace and with the aid of Lady Nicotine and the humiliate Gene Hall as master of ceremonies whiling away a most pleasant evening, with song jest, and story. And here is the menu:

STAR GRAPPLERS

Will Be Seen In Wrestling Bouts At the Athletic Club Thursday Night

Jackie Nichols of Richmond, Me., light heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, will defend his title in the main bout of Matchmaker Hazen Spear's all-star card of grappling on Thursday night, when he faces off against fiery Fred Bruno of New York. Nichols and Bruno will wage their rivalry warfare over the conventional championship route, best two falls in three in with a 90-minute time limit. International Wrestlers' Association rules will govern, which means that should the bout go one hour without either gaining a pin, one fall then will decide.

Bruno is one of the roughest, toughest hordes in the mat sport today and despite his wide knowledge and ability as an orthodox wrestler, he invariably prefers to try to bull and rough his way to victory. Jackie is one of the fastest, cleanest, most scientific and resourceful men on the mat and he can handle himself in even the stormiest of going.

Ed McNeil of Halifax, beautifully muscled human powerhouse, will have it out with blustery Mad Mike Tellegen of Ukraina in the semi-windup bout, one fall to win, with a 30-minute time limit. Tellegen is a stout bad man, but McNeil's super-human strength should more than even Mike's rough advantage.

Steve Karas of Lynn, former middleweight wrestling champion of the United States Navy, will meet Tiger Joe Ferrona of Olean, N. Y., in the special bout, and Kid Hannigan of Pittsfield, Me., will tangle with Tiger Lee Collins of Texas in the feature preliminary.

Hop Woods, who scored a bit hit here last week, again will officiate the entire card.

Five thousand two hundred and twenty-nine boys and girls are now enrolled in 4-H Clubs in Maine, seven hundred and fifteen more than a year ago.

TO BUY ROBES

Purpose Of Entertainment Given By Watson-Doane Company Last Night

The Universalist vestry was the scene last night of an unique musical and dramatic entertainment presented by Watson-Doane Company, two talented young women of radio fame. Sponsored by Chapin Class, the purpose of the presentation was to raise proceeds to buy officers' robes for the recently organized young people's Alpha Omega Society.

The versatile program included solos by Miss Watson, who sang her numbers in a sweet soprano, accompanied at the piano by Miss Doane, a skillful player who also gave readings. Changing magically before their audience from one character to another, both were delightful. Introduced by Rev. Dr. Lowe, the two artists held the audience to the very end. After a piano solo by Miss Doane, Miss Watson sang a group of songs, "Beautiful Lady," "Tea for Two," and "Alice Blue Gown," "Down Through Main Street" with Miss Doane was a pleasure, as she was first "Lizzie Jones' Hired Girl;" then a farmer, and then a boy of 10.

Miss Watson, dressed in a striking Japanese costume, contributed a song from the opera "Madame Butterfly" and an original Japanese song, "Cho Cho." Miss Doane's next role was that of "Mrs. Tuttle-Adams," politician, and the impersonation was perfect.

Dressed in small boys' clothes, Miss Watson acted the role of Christopher Robin, the poems created by his father, A. A. Roberts. "The Lady Radio Announcer," in a high voice, advertised Plunkets' Pink Pills for Pale People, and gave quite a few items of local interest. Again at the piano, Miss Doane accompanied Miss Watson in three Russian songs, made more realistic by the attractive red and ermine dress, and red boots worn by the singer.

Completely unrecognizable attired in old-fashioned dress, Miss Doane became "Aunt Doleful, Cheering Sick Friends," in an extremely humorous skit given in her inimitable manner. A highly amusing sketch which included both stars, brought the program to a close, the grand finale of old popular songs being joined in by the audience.

While in the city, Miss Watson and Miss Doane were guests at the home of Mrs. Faith Berry. Gracious and charming to meet, the two ladies endeared themselves to all who met them, and it is hoped they will in the near future once more be guests in Rockland.

MRS. E. R. LUDWICK

Annie A. (Leighton) widow of Robert R. Ludwick, died Sunday at her home 61 Oliver street. The final illness covered a period of only 10 days, but there had been a gradual failure of health due to old age. The funeral services will be held at the residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Charles E. Brooks of Pratt Memorial M. E. Church officiating. The deceased was born in Southwest Harbor Jan. 31, 1855. Her marriage to Mr. Ludwick took place in Lawrence, Mass., where her husband worked for a time at his vocation of carpentering. Returning to Maine, the couple made their home in Washington until 1893. They then resided in Cushing for two years, and coming to Rockland in 1900 spent their last days in the home which they established on Oliver street. Mr. Ludwick, who was in the employ of the W. H. Glover Co. 30 years, died May 18, 1935, his demise marking the severance of a happy domestic partnership which had covered a period of more than 60 years.

Five children were born of this union—Mrs. Aral Linscott of Washington, Mrs. Frank E. Poland of Malden, Mass., Mrs. Harrison L. Dow and Sheriff C. Earle Ludwick of Rockland, who survive; and Robert L. Ludwick who died in 1910. Also surviving are two sisters—Mrs. Abbie Dooliver of Cohasset, Mass., and Mrs. O. L. Mills of Southwest Harbor.

Mrs. Ludwick had for many years been a regular attendant of the Methodist Church—one of its most active and devoted workers. Home interests claimed her unceasing attention, and the devotion which she gave to the members of the family was returned with an affection which had cheered her long life and comforted her last hours.

of these former fighting stars can you name? They're retired now, but they do a bit of leather throwing now and then, if only in the movies. Mrs. Nannie Wheeler has returned home having spent the winter in Cambridge, Mass., and Camden, N. J.

The next Townsend Club meeting will be Thursday at 7.30 in John Morris hall. There will be speaking and music and a special picture talk by Frank J. McDonald of Rockland.

"The problem of light, always a grave one in emergency cases, is in fact completely solved by flashlight. They even help find the patients—we've crawled through barbed wire fences at midnight in an effort to locate an emergency case."

"People sometimes think nursing has lost its 'adventure' quality. Twenty-four hours in the levee camps would cure that notion. War nurses at least had dressing stations. We haven't even those—we're right in the trenches."

A Breakfast Miracle

At 7:30 the alarm clock rings and Mrs. Brown turns it off. She awakens the rest of the family with a smiling "good morning," and then dresses in a leisurely fashion. Meanwhile she awakens Ted again, helps Dad find a lost collar button, and lays out Nancy's clean dress. In about twenty minutes she starts downstairs, announcing on the way down that breakfast will be ready in fifteen minutes (one of the pleasures of having a "miracle" is that ten minutes after "eight" the family—brushed, combed, and stiffly clean—sits down to the breakfast table and each sips his well-chilled orange juice, and eats his bowl of oatmeal. Mother quickly removes the fruit juice glasses and oatmeal bowls, and Mrs. Brown prepared the cinnamon rolls for baking and placed them in the oven. Next, she stripped the sausages of their vishing casings, the modern protective coverings which seal in the delicious flavor and juices, and popped the sausages into the oven with the rolls. Then she set the Temperature Control of the oven to 350° and set the Timer Clock to start the baking the next morning one hour before time to serve breakfast. Later, she turned the electric switch to Bake and retired, knowing that the cool, moist, time-controlled atmosphere of the electric oven would "keep" the foods, and that at the appointed hour the time-controlled electric range would cook the breakfast to perfection.

NO SOURDOUGHS IN NEW MINING CAMPS

Modern Prospector Succeeds Old-Time Miners.

Montreal.—The grizzled "sourdough" of the old West, whose best friend was his six-shooter and whose favorite sports were rum and fargo, is nowhere to be found in the new mining camps now going up in the wilder and remoter regions to the north of the Abitibi gold fields in Western Quebec. Many of the new-styled prospectors are college-bred men. Airplanes and tractors are being used in developing new areas. A road that will enable American motorists to visit the "last frontier" is under construction.

An old-time pioneer gold-seeker, coming to one of the new mining camps in this "Yukon of Quebec," would find placer pans and sluices replaced by modern machinery, smoke-filled barrooms and gambling dens dispossessed by motion picture theaters and soda parlors. Instead of the clonk-boxes of gold-rush memory, neat, colorful houses line the streets, and there are no rip-roaring tendencies among the friendly, quiet village folk.

Workers, Not Adventurers.

Not only are many of the new miners well trained and fully equipped, but few come with any ideas of high adventure and get-rich-quick results. Rather, they have settled here with their families to engage in a well-ordered, steady occupation. The older, developed section is the seat of the most intense operations, with big smelters and 150 mines working to the tune of $12,000,000 worth of gold annually.

North of this region new camps are going up. With the high price of the yellow metal in world markets luring many into the industry, geological survey parties from the Quebec bureau of mines worked all last summer mapping promising mineral regions and guiding prospectors in the development of mineral deposits.

Moreover, in accordance with a program laid out by Joseph E. Perault, minister of mines and roads for Quebec province, schools for miners are being opened up not only in Abitibi but in Lake St. Jean and at points on the Gaspé peninsula and in the eastern townships. At such centers those who intend to do gold mining listen to lectures on mineralogy and geology as applied to prospecting, and go out better trained for their work.

The new highway will connect the mining area with Montreal and Hull, traversing wild forests where nature is still very much untamed. There are said to be scores of streams and lakes which have never been charted or in some cases even explored by the white man.

Planes Locate Gold.

Airplanes are helping in the work of finding the gold which even the Indians knew existed. Canadian history records that they told Jacques Cartier that he would find gold in the upper reaches of the Saguenay river, but Cartier never was able to mine enough of the mineral to make it worth while. In July, 1911, came the discovery of gold in the Abitibi district, by an Irishman named J. J. Sullivan and a Frenchman named Hertel Authier. They first struck it rich on the eastern shore of Lake Kénawistik. However, it was not until many years later—in May, 1928—that mining on a profitable basis was begun.

Today planes equipped with pontoons in winter weather and with skis in winter land on the lakes that dot the region and are speeding its development as a gold-mining center.

Science Finds a Method to Show Heart's Throbs

Sverdlovsk, U. S. S. R.—Actual observation of the minute workings of the heart soon may become a reality. According to an announcement by the Institute of Experimental Medicine, Maria Ukolova, a young staff member, has discovered a method by which this feat may be accomplished with the aid of X-rays.

Many heart diseases, which hitherto defied diagnosis, treatment or cure, are expected to be solved by the use of Comrade Ukolova's discovery, which has received favorable comment.

French Women Get Choice of Homes

Paris.—French husbands will have to follow their wives in the future, if a member's bill now before parliament is passed. At present, French law compels the wife to follow her husband "everywhere"—even to a home she dislikes. She can be divorced on grounds of leaving the legal domicile if she takes a dislike to the house or apartment and finds a nicer one for herself.

A French wife may not, at present, rent a dwelling without her husband's consent. But by the proposed law, Madame may be permitted to have her own home if she has good reason for requiring to do so.

For Rinso gives rich, lively suds that SOAK clothes 4 or 5 shades whiter and much brighter and without hard scrubbing or boiling. Clothes last longer washed this safe, "no-scrub" way. CHAIR TRICK USED AS STUTTER CURE

Distracting Attention From Affliction Effective.

Des Moines.—If attention of a stuttering person be directed from his speech defect, he can be made to talk like any normal person.

Seven years of painstaking effort have proved this fact to Dr. E. G. Lockhart, professor of psychology at Drake university, and a specialist in curing stutterers.

Let a stuttering person hold a chair over his head or do anything else that will require concentration, the doctor asserted, and he'll repeat any statement without hesitation. The essence of the theory is the overcoming of "psychological inhibition."

Lockhart performed an experiment on a confirmed stutterer to demonstrate the success of his remedy. A twenty-seven-year-old man, unable to speak normally since he was eight was asked to repeat the sentence, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party." The man required three minutes to stammer through the time-worn sentence.

"Now lift this chair over your head," said Lockhart. This done, the man was told to repeat the sentence. He repeated it without the slightest hesitation in a few seconds. After replacing the 40-pound chair on the floor, the man again fell back to stuttering.

The subject stuttered simply because he thought he would, the psychologist explained.

"The trouble actually is much more complicated than that," he added, "but his mental state or belief is the direct cause. By centering his attention on the chair, the man took care not to drop it and at the same time forgot his speech impediment. A chair or any other device used in this fashion will remedy at least 90 per cent of cases of stuttering."

Lockhart said his remedy dealt only with cases of mental inhibition. In cases where stammering is caused by a tumor, hemorrhage or physical harm, the speech centers are affected and cannot be cured by mental means. He said these cases represented only about 10 per cent of the total number of stuttering persons.

The Drake professor frowned on the theory that alteration of blood pressure would help cure stammering. He said persons lying down or bending over would stutter just as though they were standing on their feet or head.

Drive Started to End Study of Odd Fractions

Boston.—Fractions involving fifteenths, nineteenth and other ominous-looking numbers may not confront children of the next generation.

Five thousand school children in 30 New England towns and cities are subjects in an experiment to find if fractions are as useless as educators are beginning to believe they are.

Half of the 5,000 will study fractions in the traditional manner, while the remainder will devote their time to the study of merely halves, fourths, thirds, eighths, twelfths and sixteenths.

The experiment is being conducted by Dr. Guy M. Wilson, professor of education at Boston university's school of education.

"The average adult out of school uses little arithmetic," Doctor Wilson explains. "The schools teach complicated and difficult arithmetic; the arithmetic outside of school is simple. So it must follow that the schools are teaching more arithmetic than is needed."

"Fractions form only 10 per cent of adult usage. The fraction one-half alone makes up 60 per cent of all adult fractions. Halves with thirds and fourths make up 90 per cent. Few other fractions are needed, occasionally eighths, twelfths or sixteenths in special usage. Beyond this, reading knowledge only is needed."

Tiniest Star Yet Known to Science Is Discovered

Mr. Wilson, Calif.—Discovery of the smallest star yet known, only 4,000 miles in diameter, was reported recently. Surprised astronomers found it weighs 620 tons a cubic inch, has a gravity pull 3,400,000 times stronger than the earth's and is enveloped in an atmosphere only 12 feet thick.

Dr. F. G. Kuiper, who sighted the faint white speck in the outer sky, said it was a rare "white dwarf" star. Out of the millions of visible stars, only four or five white dwarfs have been seen with the Carnegie's observer's 100-inch telescope here.

Bulking only about one-third as big as the astronomically tiny earth, the sky baby's size is emphasized by comparison of its 4,000-mile diameter with the sun, 865,000 miles, and the largest known star, Antares, 400,000 miles.

WORSE THAN WAR

WARS under 300,000
AUTOS almost 400,000

In many respects the problem of automobile accidents is worse than war. During the last 15 years the number of deaths from automobile accidents in this country has approximated 400,000. But during the 15 years constituting the total length of time of all the wars in which this country as a nation has been engaged, the number killed and who died of wounds received in action has been less than 300,000. The total war dead is exceeded by 55 per cent by the record of deaths on streets and highways in the last 15 years.

In the last 10 years, according to the Travelers Insurance Company, deaths from automobile accidents increased from 21,628 in 1925 to more than 85,000 for 1935—a gain of 67 per cent. During this same period, the number of cars on the road increased only 31 per cent, and the population of the country increased only 11 per cent. Deaths gained twice as much as the number of cars in use and six times as much as the increase in population.

GARDEN GOSSIP

by PETER HENDERSON

General Advice

IF YOU ARE bothered by cats and dogs in your garden, spray with nicotine solution as the odor is distasteful to them. Use 1 1/2 of 40% nicotine sulphate in a gallon of water.

ALWAYS BUY seed of the best quality for its far more economical. Your ground and the labor and the plant food will be largely wasted if expended on poor seed.

DO NOT cut down a tree until you are sure. It only takes a few minutes to destroy what has taken as many years to grow.

PLANTS in pots indoors should be turned part way round at frequent intervals. This prevents them from becoming one-sided.

IF YOU WORK in the garden without gloves, rub a little soap under the nails to keep them from staining.

RAIN and SUNSHINE are nature's gift to us all. They do not cost anything yet half of your garden results are because of them.

BROAD LEAVED plants in the house should be sponged occasionally with tepid water to wash off the accumulated dust. A little pyrethrum insecticide added to the water will keep the insects under control.

IT IS ALWAYS cooler under the trees or in the woods, partly because of the shade but also because the temperature of a tree is constant at 64 degrees.

THE MOST important feature in the control of insect pests is to begin early. Just as soon as they are first noticed, put remedial measures into effect at once.

JOIN A Garden Club. The interchange of ideas is of value, and people who have a common hobby are always agreeable companions.

TO WED IN MAY

Dr. Irving Tuttle Of Appleton Engaged To Talented Southern Woman

The following from a Parkersburg, West Virginia newspaper will interest many local readers:

"Warren W. Brannon announces the engagement and approaching marriage of his daughter, Mabel, to Dr. Irving P. Tuttle, of Appleton, Maine. The wedding will occur in May.

"No announcement made for some time will create more decided interest than that of the coming marriage of Miss Brannon and Dr. Tuttle as the bride-elect is one of the city's most prominent young women while her fiancé, Dr. Tuttle is also very well known in professional and social circles in Parkersburg where he was located in the practice of his profession for seven years.

"Miss Mabel Brannon is the only child of Warren W. Brannon of 925 Market street and of the late Mrs. Brannon and she is a lovely descendant of two pioneer families of the state, both the Brannon family and her maternal family, the Stumps, being prominently identified with the establishment and growth of Wirt, Calhoun and Gilmer counties, her ancestors including many legal and professional men and ministers long associated with the histories of those counties.

Miss Brannon is herself unusually talented and accomplished, and musically gifted, both as a pianist and singer, she has been prominent in musical circles here since childhood. Strikingly attractive and with the winning gifts of personality that make for popularity, she endears herself to both young and old who admire her as a cultured and gracious example of charming young womanhood. She was educated in the local schools.

"Dr. Irving P. Tuttle is a son of Mrs. Elonia Tuttle of Rockland, Maine and of the late Charles E. Tuttle. He was graduated from high school at Rockland and from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, after which he completed a course at the Kirksville osteopathic school at Kirksville, Mo., where he received a degree in osteopathy. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi and of Iota Tau Sigma fraternities.

"Dr. Tuttle maintained an office for the practice of his profession in this city for seven years during which time he made many warm friends who will be interested to know he is claiming one of this city's attractive women as his bride. Several years ago he removed to Chula Vista, California, where he was located for some time after which he returned to his native state and has since been located in Appleton, Maine.

"While the exact date for the wedding has not been set it will be an event of early May."

Four generations were represented in the family group, Mrs. Ingraham, Mrs. Nellie Dow, Mrs. Ruth Wheeler, and Miss Ruth Wheeler. Mrs. Ingraham is a charter member of Golden Rod Chapter, O.E.S. In 1891 she served as president of Edwin Libby Relief Corps. She is also a member of Sunshine Society, the Methodist Church, and W.C.T.U. She has been a member of the Educational Club since organization, once winning $5 in gold for obtaining the most members in a membership drive. Two service pins are also in her possession. MANY STARS OUT
When Golden Rod Chapter Held Its Banner Meeting Friday Night

Golden Rod Chapter, O.E.S., held a banner meeting Friday night, with nearly 275 persons sitting down to a supper which was under the direction of Walter C. Ladd and George L. St. Clair, with other men of the order acting as waiters, and Alfred Church as head chef. The tables carried bouquets of pussy willows and tulips, and the place cards showing a frog under an umbrella carried the inscription, "Welcome to Golden Rod." Seventeen Chapters were represented in the gathering—Grace of Thomaston, Beach of Lincolnville, Fend-du-lac of Washington (which were special guests), Harbor Light of Rockport-Forget-me-not of South Thomaston, Ivy of Warren, Orient of Union, Seaside of Camden, Marion of Gardiner, Genesta of Bath, Fern of Alfred, Mt. Elgie of North Anson, Monerva of Madison, Wiwurna of Waldeboro, Farmington of Farmington, the chapter of Milton, Mass., and Golden Rod.

A delightful entertainment was put on during the supper hour: Selections by an instrumental trio composed of Grant Davis, Henry Dodge and Richard Karl; tap dance Barbara Derry and Stella Young; guitar and harmonica numbers (simultaneously), Richard Karl; solo dance, Barbara Derry; instrumental number, Florence Dean, Marian Harvie and Dudley Harvie; song and dance, Beverly Bowden; song, Roger Perry; Miss Margaret Dunton acted as accompanist.

The entertainment, following the evening meeting, a most hilarious affair, was under the direction of Ralph U. Clark, and was entitled, "Safety Lodge, No. 13, For Married Men." Gav, Alfred Church, Herman Winchenbach, Leroy Chatto, A. L. Briggs, Raymond Watts, Myron Young, Ray Stewart, Harold Rackliff. While each participant acquitted himself with distinct honors, it is not amiss to speak of Carl Work who was, as usual, the life of the party, and Dr. Peaslee's impersonation of a flapper would have done justice to a veteran of the boards.

About 60 members of Golden Rod Chapter motored to Rockport last Tuesday night and were special guests of Harbor Light whose hospitality was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Cecil Morris and children, Pauline and Richard, of Port Clyde, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ted Collette.

Already plans for next season are in the air, and an auspicious year is promised.

At 6:30 dinner was served under the direction of Mrs. Vivian Hewitt. Small tables were beautifully appointed and decorated, with flowers and other features. The menu consisted of fruit cup, creamed California chicken, mashed potato, new carrots, spring salad, rolls, cake, ice cream and coffee. Mrs. Hewitt was the recipient of high praise, not only for the delectable menu, but for the excellent manner in which the dinner was served.

The high light of the occasion was the presence of Les Camarades Muscaux, of Bath, whose members were guests for dinner and who presented a splendid program in the evening. Present from the organization were Allan Ramsay, president, Miss Margaret Melcher, Mrs. Mildred Albee, Miss Katherine McKinnon, Mrs. Caroline Cary, Mrs. Margaret Leonard, Mrs. Clara Rice, Mrs. Clara Hatch, James Royal, Francis McPherson, Merton Sprague, and Mrs. Bernice Sturtevant. Despite the fact that the program, arranged by Mr. Ramsay, underwent seven changes due to illness among members, the artists presented an evening of distinct enjoyment and worth, one that will linger long in memory. The only disappointment to the hearers was the absence of Mrs. Sturtevant whose beautiful voice, Mrs. Sturtevant who has been heard in Rockland on several previous occasions, was suffering with laryngitis which statement explains her absence.

Space does not permit detailed report of each number which was splendidly given. The entire program was consistently high class. The instrumental numbers were played with finish and style. Mr. Royal a new member was heard with interest. Mr. Sprague the youngest member shows steady improvement in his art. The accompaniments were given with sensitive feeling. Mrs. Cary's voice was shown in its unusual tonal range and power in the aria from "Le Prophete," and Mrs. Hatch's voice was shown to particular advantage in her number with Mrs. Cary. It is not amiss by any means to give particular attention to Mr. Ramsay who justly merits all praise bestowed upon him. He not only has carried on his duties as president and director of the club under trying conditions, chiefly through illness, arranged the program over and over again, but appeared in several of the programmed numbers and himself contributed a notably fine group of solos which served to show to advantage his excellent voice and superb artistry. His diction in French received particularly high com-

mentation. His work at all times shows why he has met with such marked success in vocal teaching.

The meeting with the Bath group was most enjoyable. There is a spirit of true hospitality and friendship between the two clubs.
