CLIPPER SHIP ERA

Capt. J. F. Marden Tells the Men's League of Romantic
Days Asea

The spars of a clipper ship towered above the members of the Baptist Men's League while they dined Thursday night. Not far above, to be sure, for this clipper ship was only a model, yet the miniature craft possessed a fascination which was equalled only by that which possessed the men as they listened to the lecture on clipper ships given by Capt.
J. F. Marden of Stockton Springs.

Capt. Marden talked about the days of "wooden ships and iron men" as he discussed the era of the clipper ship.
He told of the model exhibited by Architect Griffith back in 1841, a model which met with frank disapproval on the part of shipping experts, to whom the clipper was an unknown factor.

His experimental plans were embodied in the 700-ton clipper ship Rainbow, whose launching was witnessed by a crowd of 30,000, which found itself cheated of the expected thrill, for the Rainbow neither rolled over nor sank, but floated as gracefully as a swan. It made the voyage to Canton, China, in 92 days, and brought back a cargo in 88 days—being then the fastest sailing ship afloat.

Later in this decade came the discovery of gold in California and clipper ships were brought into play in order that adventurers from the East might reach the Golconda at the earliest possible moment. The ships carried from 35 to 75 men before the mast and they cut the speed record from 140 to 88 days—a record which still stands unbeaten.

"Today," said Capt. Marden, "the sailing ship has gone and that type of sailor we never see. It was a day when we had a right to sweep the seas, and when some of the world's greatest fortunes were founded. The builders of the clipper ships were men of genius, but copied much from Griffith's plans. We have lost the carrying trade we once possessed, but I like to think that one day it may come back. Today it lives only in song and story.

Clipper ships cost from $75,000 to $110,000, but were built, Capt. Marden explained, at a period when materials were much cheaper.

The model shown at the Men's League meeting Thursday night was that of the clipper ship Lightning

SPECIAL MEETINGS

Major Wiseman To Be Here
Nine Consecutive Days—
Old Fashioned Gospel

Major Charles Wiseman, veteran salvationist, has been engaged to be the special speaker every night Nov.
21-28. Major Wiseman is an officer of 39 years' unbroken service to the Army. During his career as an officer he has had charge of many of the large and important commands in the country. Included in his service were appointments in charge of New York 1, Brooklyn 1, Rochester 1, N. Y., Syracuse N. Y., Buffalo, Cleveland, Newark, and Wilmington.

Meetings will start at 7.30 p. m.
This is an half an hour earlier than usual. A great deal of interest has already been manifested in regard to this campaign.

Major Wiseman's message tonight
is "Home Religion."

Sunday, 11 a. m., "The Gift Of Power."

Sunday, 7.30 p. m., "Four Neighbors and Their Friend."

Monday, 7.30 p. m., "Qualified For Service."

Join in this special series of meetings. The old fashioned Gospel is still able to meet the present need.

and was made by Capt. Marden, who devoted two years to producing something which would faithfully delineate the lines and rig of the real Lightning. The craft on the voyage from Boston to Liverpool made the fastest day's run on record—438 miles in 24 hours.

Capt. Marden told of seeing the Rockland built clipper ship Red Jacket at Funchal about 30 years ago.
For half an hour after his highly entertaining lecture he answered a barrage of questions concerning the clipper ship days, and showed himself thoroughly at home on all phases of the subject, not forgetting the part played by the "boarding house runners."

It was announced that Col. E. A.
Robbins would be guest speaker at the December meeting, giving an illustrated talk on his trip around the world.

The spinning wheel has disappeared but the Thanksgiving custom of breaking the wish-bone still exists.

Enthusiastic Group Opens Great Drive To Equip
Community Building

Thursday afternoon a group of local men and women met at Masonic

George B. Wood who is chairman of the Initial Gifts Committee For Community Building

Temple and inaugurated a drive for $10,000 to furnish and equip the new Community Building.

The meeting was opened by Mayor Thurston, who in a brief talk outlined the project and introduced the General Chairman, John M. Richardson. Under Mr. Richardson's guidance, the meeting went forward rapidly and soon a plan of procedure shaped itself with everyone present taking an enthusiastic part in the discussions. A goal of $10,000 was set as being the sum needed to completely furnish the building. This seemed a large order, but Rockland has done it before. For example, Community Park called for $15,000 and it was raised by the people of Rockland, many of whom are on the present committee.

There will be an executive committee as a sort of clearing house to coordinate the work of a score of subcommittees listed below whose many activities will bring the desired funds.

The auditorium of the Community Building will be completed by Dec. 15 and will be used for the many events now being planned. Rockland will have its first Automobile Show in years under the direction of Chairman Charles Berry and a committee composed of the local automobile dealers.

A. W. Gregory heads the Food Fair Committee made up of a group of real live wires. The Sports Committee is under the leadership of Charles Wotton, and promises something new in basketball and sports for the coming season. Robert Hudson heads the dance committee who are planning a series of dances to raise funds. Maurice Lovejoy leads the most unique committee of all and one of the most important, the Buy-A-Chair group. You will be able to read the details of this plan very soon now. Can you guess what it may be?

The extremely important Initial Gifts committee headed by George B. Wood will seek to find those wishing to equip certain rooms or make major gifts. Frank A. Tirrell and James Connellan will take care of the incorporation. The men's section of

MADE GOOD RECORDS

Battery E "Excellent" and Battery F "Very Good," In Target Practice

The ratings by the First Coast
Artillery District of the 1936 target practices of the Second Battalion, 240th Coast Artillery, have been received. Battery E's "Excellent" and Battery F's "Very Good" are the best that each has received since they were issued their present armament, the 155 M. M. G. P. F. Gun in 1931.

The scoring is based on a hypothetical target of considerable size surrounding the material pyramidal target which is used as an aiming point. Although this pyramidal target is so small that it can hardly be seen without a telescope at the range of the practice, eight miles, yet so keen was the shooting that Battery F actually hit it: equivalent in rifle shooting to a hit in the very centre of the bull's eye. Both batteries also got several shots so close as to have hit their normal target in action, a transport or light cruiser, enough to have destroyed it.

LAYING THE CABLE

At 6 o'clock this morning
there left this port a formidable fleet which would have excited much curiosity but for the fact that almost everybody on the waterfront knew that its errand was to lay the new telephone cable between Owl's Head and Crabtree's Point, North Haven.

The work was expected to occupy about six hours. At 9 a. m.
the mainland end was being put in place on the Rockland side of Owl's Head. The Snow Marine
Co. has the contract for laying the cable and the work is being personally superintended by Captain John I. Snow, president of the corporation, while Lewis Gray of Bangor, division construction foreman, represents the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. The cable is 36,000 feet long—said to be the second longest in this country.

Bert Larcombe has joined Manager Dyers staff at the National Re-employment office as special assignment officer for private placements.

HAS MADE EXCELLENT CHOICE

Mrs. Edward Bok Becomes a Member Of Colby
College Board Of Trustees

The election of Mrs. Edward Bok of Camden, and Merion Station, Penn. to the Colby College Board of Trustees was announced at the close of their meeting at Hotel Eastland yesterday.

The receipt of $322,065 in gifts and bequests to Colby College during the past fiscal year was reported by for the building construction, which, however, will not be undertaken until sufficient funds have been raised to complete the project.

The Colby president in his report stressed the academic progress of the college, pointing out that Colby has this year the largest faculty in its history and a teacher-student ratio of one to twelve. The policy of enrollment limitation and the consequent selective admission requirement has tended to raise the intellectual level of the students, he said.
This is evidenced by the increasing number of graduates who continue their education in professional schools and graduate departments of universities. This year, a Colby graduate is one of the four Rhodes Scholars from New England and two other of last year's class have also won fellowships for foreign study.

After her formal election, Mrs. Bok attended the trustee's meeting.
Other new trustees present were Hon. John E. Nelson of Augusta and Miss Clio M. Chilcott of Ellsworth who were elected as representatives of the graduate body last June. At that time, also, Associate Justice James H. Hudson of Guilford was elected to serve a second term as alumni representative.

Mrs. Bok is the fifth woman on the Colby Board. The daughter of the late publisher, Cyrus H. K. Curtis, Mrs. Bok has long been a summer resident of Maine, maintaining a home in Camden, where she has been influential in many civic improvements. Mrs. Bok founded and is now president of the Curtis Institute of music in Philadelphia and has sponsored many other musical and philanthropic enterprises.

In 1931, the Polish government conferred upon her the Chevalier's Cross of the Order of Polonia and Restituta, and in 1935, the Austrian Government conferred the Knight's Cross, First Class, Austrian Order of Merit.

She has received the honorary degrees of Doctor of Humane Letters from the University of Pennsylvania and of Doctor of Music from Williams College.

THANKSGIVING TURKEY CHEAPER

Aristocrat Will Cost About Same As Chicken—
Lower Prices Prevail

That aristocrat of
the barnyard, known as the Turkey Gobbler, is here in force for the Thanksgiving function, but not quite so high hat in financial circles, as the retail price this year will range from 25 to 30 cents a pound, in contrast with the 35 cents which you were obliged to pay a year ago.

Earl Perry, manager of the Perry Markets makes one's mouth water as he talks about those fancy northern birds, and of the fine quality of the natives which are sprinkled into the big supply. Turkeys run a bit smaller this year because of the nature of the summer weather and sundry other things. A smaller bird, however, is just what the average family is looking for, so this is no drawback.

The gobblers are already on the counters, and the orders are going in as fast as telephone lines are obtainable.

Geese, ducks and chickens, the last named especially good, will retail at about the same price as turkeys but the price like that of turkeys had not been designated yesterday.

Roast pork, another popular dinner table factor will sell this year at 28 cents a pound, which is considerably lower than last year's figures.

Vegetables are in large quantity, and good quality, with the indispensable celery lower than last year.

Cranberries are scarce, and higher than last year. Canned cranberry sauce, is growing in popularity.
Strawberries are in the market,
together with persimmons, extra nice Florida oranges, cucumbers, iceberg lettuce, and fancy Italian chestnuts which you can roast before the fireplace, keeping one eye on the chestnuts and the other on your best girl.

Nice large oysters to be used as turkey dressing are on tap.
Of course there are some new wrinkles. For instance, canned King eels and canned smoked salmon.
Don't forget to order early.

THE ROTARIANS

A Strong Thanksgiving Message Presented Before Them By Dr. Lowe

The members of the Rockland Rotary Club listened yesterday to a splendid Thanksgiving address by one of their own number, Rev. John Smith Lowe, pastor of the Universalist Church.

Dr. Lowe spoke of the obligation
we owe to nature, and environment, and to circumstances which permit us to live in the United States at a time when the world is torn with war and rumors of war. He spoke at some length on the broad field of Rotarian activities. Declaring that opportunities exist in this country which can be found in no other, he referred to foreigners who have come to these shores and made good. He compared the present religious life with that which existed in Puritanical times, and that which prevails in other countries.

There was one visiting Rotarian, Israel Cutler of Old Town; and one guest, Charles T. Smalley.

The classification committee will have charge of next Friday's entertainment, which will again be provided from within the ranks.

FROM A PET-SHOP WINDOW

His eyes said, Come and buy me
I'll be as good as gold:
I'll never chew your slippers,
I'll give you faith untold.
His eyes said, I'll amuse you,
I'll take your mind away
From silly little worries—
How you and I could play!
His eyes said, Do not leave me,
We two belong together:
I'll follow you across the world,
Through fair and stormy weather.
His eyes said, Come and buy me,
I'll love you till I drop:
I turned—and then, a weeking,
I walked into the shop!

OPPORTUNITY CLASS

Holds Its Fifteenth Annual Banquet—Clever Skit Presented

The 15th annual banquet of Opportunity Class of the First Baptist Church was held Wednesday, with 125 persons attending. The supper chairman was Mrs. Elizabeth Williamson, assisted by Mrs. Elvira Wooster, Mrs. Eda Post, Mrs. Clara Gregory, Mrs. Aurilla Verner, Mrs. Cora Richards, Mrs. Maud Grant and Mrs. Eva Greene. The decorating committee comprised Mrs. Anna Brazier chairman, Mrs. Pauline Saunders and Mrs. Maude Tibbets, who used pine and red berries, red and green crepe paper and red candles in attractive combinations. Bouquets of red roses were used as table centerpieces.

The after dinner speaking presided over by Mrs. Alice Kaler, included remarks from Rev. and Mrs. J. C. MacDonald, Mrs. Nellie Magune and Mrs. Clara Emery. A letter of greeting from Mrs. Lena Browne was read and enjoyed.

Mrs. Alice Karl was in charge of the unique program, Mrs. Karl taking the part of "The Old Woman Who Lived in the Shoe" and introducing her family in this manner—Granddad, John Kellenberger, mother, Mrs. McKusick; father, Osmund Palmer. Of her 21 children only the following were at home to be presented—son Pierre Havener, twins, Gladys Grant and Edna Gregory, triplets, Mildred Havener, Ernest Brazier, and Donald Karl, quadruplets, Anna Brazier, Ross McKinney, Florian Clark, and Gladys Grant. Other children present were Bert Gregory, Norma Havener and Elmer Ames. There were vocal solos by Osmund Palmer, Lillian Joyce, Donald Karl, Gladys Grant, Mildred Havener and Ross McKinney, vocal duets by Gladys Grant and Edna Gregory, piano solo, Edna Gregory and trombone solo by Florian Clark and Mrs. Lillian Joyce acted as accompanist.

The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was played for the golden wedding couple and many old time favorite songs were sung. The clever skit was written by Mrs. Alice Karl and received hearty applause.

AN OFFICERS' CLUB

Three Branches of Service Represented in New Penobscot Organization

Officers of the Regular Army, Maine National Guard and Organized Reserve Corps, were in session at the Camden Hills Camps of the Civilian Conservation Corps, Camden, where the Penobscot Officers Club, was formed.

A meeting was called for Dec. 3 at the Camden Camp, at which the officers and ladies will attend a buffet luncheon and social hour.

The primary purpose of the organization is to promote a more personal contact between the various arms of the service.

Officers at the dinner and subsequent meeting were:

Major George Blaney, U.S.A., Capt. M.D. MacLaughlin, Inf-Res., Capt. R. O. Quenneville, Eng-Res., Lt. Paul A. Scammon, Ca-Res., Lt. E. Kenneth Mills, CA Me. N. G., Lt. Wm. R. Hoffes, CA Me. N. G., Lt. R. O. McCarthy, Med-Res., Lt. Burton White, Inf-Res., Lt. Percy Blaisdell, CA Me. N. G., Lt. R. W. Calkin, CA-RES. Lt. C. U. Bishop Jr. Inf-Res.

Prof. Marion J. Bradshaw, who is to give an illustrated lecture on "The Peoples and Problems of India" at the Congregational Church Sunday evening, is one of the most popular lecturers in Maine. A world traveler, expert photographer, and keen impartial student of world affairs, Dr. Bradshaw is eminently qualified from personal experiences and observation to speak with authority upon many of the world's most perplexing problems. This lecture is open to the public, and will begin at 7.30 p. m. A vocal solo will also be rendered by Mrs. Nettie Bird Frost at this evening service.

The Congregational vestry will be open Tuesday for those who wish to contribute articles for the Thanksgiving baskets which are annually distributed by that church. Vegetables, pies and jellies are needed, but cash will be gratefully accepted if the donor so desires. Mrs. Kennedy Crane will receive the offerings.

THEY WERE AMAZED

Came To See Winter Sports At Hosmer's Pond and Went Away Popeyed

As a result of the intense interest displayed in the winter sports development at Hosmer's Pond, at the meeting in Augusta, called by the Maine Development Commission, Wally Lovell and Win Robbins, both well known in winter sports activities in New England, came to Camden last Sunday to look over the work in progress. They both expressed amazement at what has been accomplished, not only considering the short time but, more impressive, the spirit of co-operation and enthusiasm that has made this work possible. They covered the whole area including ski trail possibilities on Bald Mountain, and then discussed the proposition until about 9 p. m.

These men know the winter sport areas in practically all parts of the country and sum up the Hosmer Pond project as building for fame unequalled by any other area in the country. "You have everything and your success will only be limited by the extent to which you follow through and complete all the plans you have outlined," was their final expression of opinion.

Mr. Lovell and Mr. Robbins have been appointed on a committee of three by the Maine Development Commission to inspect areas in other parts of Maine where similar developments might be feasible. They received tremendous inspiration when they viewed Hosmer Pond Sunday. To have this continued interest from these men will be of great value to the Bay Region. That they know what they are talking about on the subject of winter sports is well evidenced by their past experience. Everett C. Gration, chairman of the Maine Development Commission, referred to them as the two best informed men on the subject in the State.

Mr. Lovell is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire class of 1930. While an undergraduate he was elected vice president of the International Intercollegiate Ski Union, was eight years a competitor in events at Lake Placid, New York; a member of the Eastern Amateur Ski Association; has ridden almost all the big hills from coast to coast and has continuously followed winter sports as a competitor and instructor; a member of the University of New Hampshire Ski Team that held international intercollegiate winter sports championship in which he won numerous events, one of which was international speed skating; winner of the Gamet Trophy and the Gov. Baxter Trophy for ski jumping; State champion 1926 at Rumford; qualified for 1928 Olympic ski team; instructed in skiing for three years at Bridgton Academy; worked with the White Mountain development in winter sports, specializing chiefly in Mountain Climbing and down hill proficiency skiing.

Win Robbins of Brewer, U. of M. 1932, member crack winter sports team of U. of M. specializing in proficiency skiing and cross country work. Considered pioneer ski explorer of the Katahdin region. His last trip to the summit of Mt. Katahdin, Monument Peak, was in March 1935, one 16 mile day to carry in—two days climbing to the summit and one day to carry out. One stretch that was a four hour ascent was less than a quarter hour descent; also specialized in Mountain climbing and cross country skiing.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Supper will be served at 6.30, preceding the Elks' meeting Monday night.

The Townsend Club will hold a supper Tuesday night from 5.30 to 7. Beano will follow.

The Rockland Postoffice has been allotted $640.25 to cover expense of delivering Christmas mail.

Ruth Mayhew Tent is sponsoring a benefit beano party next Monday evening at G.A.R. hall at 7.30. The public is invited.

Ernest Johnson, Edwin Smith, David Curtis and Ralph Rawley went yesterday to Waterville to attend the Boys' Conference.

It may be that prosperity has returned, but it is not reflected in the increasingly long line which forms in front of the overseer of the poor's office.

Winslow-Holbrook Post, A.L. holds its annual food show Dec. 13. Names should be left with Miss Benner at the Chamber of Commerce, and the deadline is Dec. 9.

Death from natural causes was Dr. H. J. Weisman's report after viewing the body of a three months' old child found dead in the arms of her mother, Mrs. Walter Withee.

Perley A. Brackett, manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co. office in Peabody, Mass., for the past six and a half years, has been transferred to manage the office in Concord, N. H.

Mrs. E. E. Ufford, formerly of this city, died yesterday afternoon at her home in Union, aged 80 years. Funeral services will be held in the Methodist Church in that town Monday at 2 p. m. Obituary deferred.

A new tank truck owned by McLoon Sales & Service, and driven by Frank Prescott, became the center of attention on Park street yesterday afternoon when it backfired and burst into a blaze. The fire department got the upper hands of things before much damage had been done.

They turned the town of Fairhaven, Mass., upside down the other night—all because its High School football team defeated its ancient rival, New Bedford 8 to 7. It was an especially important victory for Fairhaven, as it ended New Bedford's five-year supremacy. Fairhaven won five games, lost one and tied one this season giving Coach Sam Szek the privilege of claiming the Bristol County championship and of having Fairhaven lead the Class C teams in Massachusetts. The game above referred to was attended by 4500 persons. The New Bedford Standard-Times devoted most of its first page to an account of the game and the bonfire with which it was celebrated. Our 'grats to Sam and Ethel.

Victims of ardent beano fans, holiday gobblers will be delivered Wednesday to 29 homes in Rockland, Thomaston and Camden, this being the sequel to fortunate playing at Thursday night's party at I.O.O.F. hall under auspices of St. Bernard's parish. Head liner in the ticket selling race, Miss Ione Lorraine, received a turkey award. Her nearest competitor was Thomas Pietroski, salesman of the card winning the grand prize of bird and fixings which went to C. F. Joy. Successful beanoists, some doubly so, were: Miss Winifred Coughlin, Frank Linekin of Thomaston, Mrs. Grace Curtis, Frank DeCoste, Miss Annie Delmonico, June Henry of Thomaston, Patrick Sweeney (2), John Knight (2), A. V. Sawyer (2), Miss M. Chisholm, "Buddy" Chisholm, Harold Glover, Mary Flanagan (2), Miss Helen Burns, Miss Margaret Adams, Mrs. Horne, (2), R. K. Foley, Dorothy Boynton, Mrs. Helen Elliot of Thomaston, Mrs. John Thompson and Miss Katherine McDonald of Camden.

ATTENTION

Certain malicious rumors have been circulated that I have sold my barber shop. Please be assured, this is not so. I am still doing business at my old stand over J. J. Newberry's store. I have always appreciated the patronage of my old customers very sincerely. New customers are also invited, and the usual special attention is courteously extended. Service with a smile is my guiding principle. John Guistin—adv. 140-11

Among the prime Thanksgiving Day attractions must be listed the fine Thanksgiving dinner at Hotel Rockland. Make your reservations early.—adv.

Be patriotic! Also help yourselves to some bargains in home-craft articles, by buying the lovely things made by Rockland ladies! Rugs, chair-sets, holders, pillow-tops, braided mats; pictures, etc. See our window display. What-Not Gift Shop.—adv. 140-11

Members of King Hiram's Council, R.S.M., are asked to remember the annual assembly which will be held Dec. 4. Election of officers takes place at that time. Claremont Commandery, K. T., elects officers Dec. 7.

Holiday hours will be observed at the Postoffice Thanksgiving Day. The lobby will be open all day but the general delivery window will be closed and there will be no delivery by the R.F.D. or city carriers.

Few persons in Rockland read the news of the Spanish war with such keen interest as do Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Brown. They spent several days in Madrid, scene of the present slaughter, and are familiar with many of the localities named.

Attractions at Strand Theatre next week: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, "Reunion," with the Dionne Quintuplets grown up; Wednesday and Thursday, "Magnificent Brute," with Victor McLaglen and Binnie Barnes; Friday and Saturday, "Give Me Your Heart" with Kay Francis and George Brent.

Surviving relatives of the late Herbert Spear, omitted in the recently published obituary are Mrs. Lena Hamlin of Bath, a daughter; Arthur Spear of Waldoboro, a son; Charles Spear of Rockland, a brother; and Mrs. Edgar Butler of The Meadow road, a sister; and seven grandchildren.

All eyes are on New Haven this afternoon to see if Harvard will maintain its recently improved form and hold off the Yale bulldog. And will Northwestern retain its clean slate after meeting Notre Dame? These are all matters which will find millions of pairs of ears bent attentively to the radio.

THANKSGIVING ISSUE

Because next Thursday is Thanksgiving Day, and a universal holiday The Courier-Gazette will go to press Wednesday afternoon. Will advertisers and contributors please bear this in mind and have their matter ready as early as possible.

Dr. Rupert L. Stratton and Phillip Smith leave next Monday for Montreal where they will embark on a steamship bound for Europe, where a number of weeks will be spent in sightseeing. An informal itinerary will be arranged as they proceed but one country is already eliminated from consideration, that being Spain, which is in the throes of a civil war.

The recount of the votes cast on the three liquor questions at the September election was a very brief formality as far as Rockland was concerned. Question No. 2 was the only one which appeared close, and the wets were found to have a widened margin when it was found that the Ward 4 clerk had recorded only 146 yes votes, whereas the actual number cast was 246. The vote was so far apart on the other two questions that the matter was taken up. The recount took place in the Secretary of State's office, Rockland, being represented by its city clerk E. R. Keene. Rev. F. W. Smith of the Christian Civic League was an observer.

A week prior to President Roosevelt's Rockland visit last summer mail for him and other members of his party came in care of Joshua N. Southard, commodore of the Rockland Yacht Club, and was duly delivered to the proper parties. His name and address were requested, but Mr. Southard assumed that this was only one of the necessary formalities, and gave the matter no further thought. Thursday he received a steel engraving of the President and it bore his autograph. The picture measures 11x14 inches, and it is needless to add that the Commodore prizes the unexpected gift very highly.

A new Brownie nut cooking machine has been installed at the Strand Theatre store. Fresh cooked nuts every day.—adv.

Lime City 4-H Club met recently at the home of Miss Mary E. Ulmer, time being devoted to the making of sewing kits, many of which have been completed. The meeting was closed by having roll call and the club pledge. Another recent meeting of the group was held Monday night at the home of Miss Martha Seavey.

A cooking school which will have a special interest for men will be held in the Universalist vestry next Monday night from 7 to 9, and the feature of it will be the biscuit making demonstration given by Edward Gonia, who used to "go cook" on coastwise vessels and who can make about the best pan of biscuits or strawberry shortcake of any male resident of Rockland. Suzanne Miller will give a lighting talk in connection with the school, which is under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ralph Fowler of the Central Maine. The public is invited.

The Past Presidents' Association of the Relief Corps met Thursday night with a fine attendance of members and guests. A delicious banquet, under the direction of Mrs. Riah Knight was served at 6 o'clock and at the business session these officers were elected: President, Bertha Higgins; vice president, Mildred Condon; secretary, Doris Ames; treasurer, Riah Knight. A program in charge of Millie Thomas presented the following: Piano solos, Ernest Johnson; reading, Clara Curtis; trumpet solo, Eleanor Harper, with Ruth Harper, accompanist; readings, Beulah Ames; piano solo, Marguerite Johnson; reading, Millie Thomas. Velma Marsh, acting president of the Relief Corps, was made a member of the Past Presidents' Association. Many business matters were disposed of, the meeting proving a happy reunion for those attending.

Many Rockland citizens heard with sorrow recently of the death of William H. (Uncle Bill) Stark, who has spent several summers here, and who was an unflinching attendant of the Rockland Rotary Club meetings. His sickness was of brief duration. The deceased, termed by the local paper "the most beloved citizen of Orange, Texas," was 85 years of age and president of a large lumber concern. The papers state that thousands attended the funeral.

Thanksgiving

This is the month that, every year, finds our crops harvested and in our Northern States everything made ready for the long cold winter. Our migrating neighbors hasten to the Southland, yet millions remain to battle, enjoy or endure the mighty winds, the arctic snow and ice until spring comes.

Winter is hard for the poor, the sick and all those exposed to the elements. Let us give thanks that we are not called to suffer as did our early settlers. We have a more abundant life than they had.

Millions have just exercised our right of franchise. Many are bitterly disappointed and greater numbers rejoice. Let us remember we, the people, made our choice. It is the very backbone of democracy to abide by the will of the majority. We do it as a free people, no one was coerced, nor made afraid; we just voted. Other countries have kings and dictators forced upon them. Should we not be thankful this fall that we have advanced away from that system.

Americans have so many blessings we seem at times unmindful of them. We have our free schools and our right to worship God unmolested, not subject to surveillance or dictation. Let us be thankful for our liberty of conscience, and pay more attention to it. As we gather around our firesides, if we know any who are cold, ily clad or hungry we know what to do—Jesus said these we have with us always, that whosoever we will, we can do them good.

William A. Holman

At the Universalist Church Sunday morning, 10.45 Dr. Lowe will preach on the subject "The Grip of the Past." Church School will meet at 9.30 in the vestry and Alpha Omega young people's society at 7.00 p. m.

At St. Peter's Church (Episcopal) Rev. E. O. Kenyon, rector, the services for tomorrow will be appropriate for the Sunday next before Advent: Matins at 7.15; Holy Communion at 7.30; church school at 9.30; Holy Eucharist and sermon 10.30 and vespers at 7.30. Wednesday Requiem at 7.30. Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, Holy Communion at 7.30. The public is welcome at the services of St. Peter's.

"A Thanksgiving Question" will be the sermon topic of Rev. Charles E. Brooks at the Sunday morning service at the Pratt Memorial Methodist Church. The Friendly Men's Bible Class will meet at 9.30 a. m. The Baraca Class and the Church School will convene at noon. The Epworth League will unite with the regular evening worship service at 7.30 o'clock and conduct the service; the topic being "Thanksgiving in Song and Verse."

"Making Thanksgiving Last Forever" will be the theme of the sermon by Rev. Corwin H. Olds at the Congregational Church in the morning at 10.30. The mixed quartet will provide appropriate music. The evening service at 7.30 p. m. will be devoted to an illustrated lecture by Prof. Marion J. Bradshaw, entitled "India, Her Peoples and their Problems." This lecture will be open to the public, and will be illustrated with stereopticon views taken per-Hipson who died Friday in Randolph, Mass., will be taken to Lincolnville and following a committal service Monday, burial will be in the Youngtown cemetery. The deceased leaves his wife who was Stella Young of Lincolnville and well known in this town where she had many friends.

Frank Stuber met with an accident last Friday afternoon while scuffling with a man working on the cement sidewalk in front of the store of Carleton, French & Co. In falling, his leg was broken. Dr. James Carswell was called and he was taken in the Fire Department First Aid Truck to Community Hospital for treatment.

Frank Barnes

Frank Barnes of Lynn, Mass., died Friday in Chelsea Memorial Hospital where he had been suffering from burns received Nov. 2. Deceased was chief engineer on the barge Mary L. Connelley which was unloading gasoline at Chelsea and on the date mentioned an explosion occurred and he suffered severe burns. He was rushed to the hospital and his name was never removed from the danger list. Mr. Barnes was born in this town 47 years ago.

He leaves besides his wife, a sister, Miss Mamie Barnes of Lynn, Mass., his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnes; and grandmother, Mrs. George Barnes, of Camden, the latter being 91 years old.

Plans are being made for the annual inter-class contest of plays, and general chairman is Miss Helen Thompson, senior. The casts are: Seniors—"While the Toast Burned" Jasper Spear, Janet Wade, Avar Robinson, Mary Trone, and Martha Anderson; juniors—"Cholera Adul-tum." Winona Robinson, Esther Tolman, Freda Moody, Reine Hill; sophomores—"Ready Made Hero," Phyllis Perry, Eugene Dalrymple, Wilfred Kilpinen, Constance Jenkins, Alfred Wylie, Virginia Wylie, and Carl Perry; freshmen—"Silence Please," Verna Robinson, Marion Wallace, Ruby Starrett and George Robinson.

These plays will be presented in December.

The young people of the Baptist Church enjoyed a social recently at the vestry.

High School Notes

Education Week was an interesting one in the schools, and each received its full quota of visitors, the program arranged so that parents could view both morning and afternoon lessons the first and second visiting days. The High School evening session had excellent attendance. Two classes by Miss Goodwin, English Literature and sophomore French, were viewed; and by principal Horace Maxcy, chemistry, and World History.

In connection with the latter, mimeographed copies of a four page newspaper, "The Athenian News Record," were given away. Although Mr. Maxcy disclaimed any part with the assembly of the news he did aid in printing and assembling the 100 copies.

The staff from the sophomore class included: Editor in Chief, Sisko Lehto, assistant, Gertrude Lampinen; managing editor, Annette Haskell; assistant, Virginia Starrett; advertising, Catherine Thompson, assistants, Verna Wallace and Eugene Dalrymple; city editor, Charles Stimpson; assistant Ernest Erkkila and Otto Bowden; world affairs, Helmi Lampinen, assistants, Carl Perry, and Alfred Wylie; politics, Ruby Starrett, assistant, Bertha McIntyre; sports, George Robinson, assistants, Dorothy Simmons, Lloyd Wellington and Russell Smith; society, Margaret Nutter, assistant, Virginia Wylie; theatrical, Marion Wallace; assistant, Verna Robinson; art, Constance Jenkins; fashion, Phyllis Perry, assistant, Mildred Fuller.

Plans are being made for the annual inter-class contest of plays, and general chairman is Miss Helen Thompson, senior. The casts are: Seniors—"While the Toast Burned" Jasper Spear, Janet Wade, Avar Robinson, Mary Trone, and Martha Anderson; juniors—"Cholera Adul-

tum." Winona Robinson, Esther Tolman, Freda Moody, Reine Hill; sophomores—"Ready Made Hero," Phyllis Perry, Eugene Dalrymple, Wilfred Kilpinen, Constance Jenkins, Alfred Wylie, Virginia Wylie, and Carl Perry; freshmen—"Silence Please," Verna Robinson, Marion Wallace, Ruby Starrett and George Robinson.

These plays will be presented in December.

STATE OF MAINE

County of Knox, ss.

Superior Court
next to be held at Rockland within and for said County on the second Tuesday of February, 1937.—

Arthur S. Smalley of Rockland in said County respectfully represents that he was married to Martha P. Carter of St. George in said County, at said St. George, on the nineteenth day of May, 1930; that he has ever been faithful to his marriage vows and obligations but that his said wife, unkindly of the same, has been guilty of cruel and abusive treatment toward him and he also avers that she has committed adultery.

Your libellant further avers that the present whereabouts of his said wife is to him unknown and cannot be ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence.

Wherefore he prays the bonds of matrimony now existing between him and his said wife may be dissolved by divorce and that the custody of their minor children, Adelbert, 5 years of age and Maude, aged six months, may be awarded to him.

Then personally appeared Arthur S. Smalley and made oath to the truth of the foregoing by him subscribed.
Before me,
CHARLES T. SMALLEY,
Notary Public.

Dated November 12, 1936

STATE OF MAINE

You and Your Car

Points of Personal Interest to Every Motorist

In driving, two heads are better than one, if one isn't just resting on your shoulder.

Cure For Balky Head

If the engine of your car refuses to play ball when you are trying to treat it to service, what's wrong with making it help you do the work? As an example, consider the treatment for an engine that reveals reluctance to give up its head when you want to do a valve job. This is apt to happen to some of the aluminum heads used these days, and it is handy to know that the solution is to note the following simple procedure:

Remove all the nuts from the head and then start up the engine. The head will come loose after the engine has run a few seconds.

Risks In Hand Cranking

At the start of the season for balky motors just a word about hand cranking should be apropos. Insurance companies report a surprising number of injuries from hand cranking, regardless of the trend toward more reliable starting equipment and the fact that fewer motorists bother to hand crank. This lack of experience, however, becomes a hazard in itself. Hand cranking is an art. The engine shaft never should be "rocked." Pull up on the hand crank and aim to give the engine a quick spin. Do not push down on the handle. If you can't get the crank in the right position so as to observe these rules, switch off the ignition and then move it to that position any way you like. Then switch on the ignition and proceed in the usual manner.

Remember that the hand crank may slip out of position and give you a bad shake-up even though the engine remains calm. If merely desiring to check timing, always remove the spark plugs. That will relieve compression and ease the work of turning over the shaft. Where no crank is provided the engine is timed by jacking up the rear and turning one of the rear wheels. This is best done with the aid of a special turner that is cranked from up front where the mechanic can watch the valves and the distributor rotor.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

Whenever I'm genuinely puzzled over the way a car behaves I try the idea of aiming to make the trouble worse. This often leads to a quick discovery of what's ailing the car. "Tried this the other day when an hour's search for a short circuit failed to produce results. Fuses continued to burn out, but no amount of searching for the trouble seemed to help me to a conclusion. Finally I inserted a small bolt into the fuse block in place of the fuses that had been blowing. This provided a steady path for the current. It didn't take long for a puff of smoke from an unseen portion of the wiring to reveal where to look for the elusive short circuit."

Time To Change Gears

As the slippery season approaches it is well to alter the selection of gear changes to meet the situation. Second should be used for starting the car, but never for acceleration. When it is necessary to accelerate, do the job in high. Shifting to high will not only give better acceleration but protection from skidding.

Treads Won't Stop This

While plenty of tire tread is always an advantage there is danger in assuming that the car is less likely to skid if the treads are up to par and a quick application of the brakes is made when the tires are rolling over wet leaves. The element of risk lies in the fact that traction is lost between the leaves and the road surface even if the tires grip the leaves. A car with good tires can be brought out of a leaf skid more readily, once such a skid has started, but it isn't everybody who can come out of a skid, regardless of how good the tires may be.

Watch For Counter-Skid

Speaking of skidding reminds me of a recent bus wreck in which the driver failed to figure on what is known as a counter-skid. He brought the vehicle out of the first skid but, thinking himself victor over the situation, failed to guard against a swing in the opposite direction. After they straightened out from a skid most cars tend to skid in the opposite direction, this depending on how much effort the driver went to in correcting the original skid. As a rule light cars are apt to counter-skid more than heavy ones, but such a skid with a heavy vehicle is likely to be very severe and unexpected.

How Will It Stop?

More and more motorists are coming to the conclusion that the safe speed limit of their cars is regulated in accordance with their stopping ability. This ability, however, is not entirely a matter of brakes. Some cars with splendid braking systems lack balance and poise during sharp deceleration, becoming difficult to manage as a consequence. It is a good idea to try out the car for its behavior when the brakes are applied forcibly, doing this first when the road is dry. Later when becoming more familiar with the car it would be well to try its stopping performance on a wet road. Tests should be made when the car is well loaded as well as when the driver is alone. This will provide him with a valuable conception of what to expect when, and if, he must stop suddenly. The behavior of most cars under such conditions is such as to suggest driving more slowly, especially if the roads are not level or straight.

Pitfalls In Easy Steering

The ease with which modern cars can be steered is a pitfall for the unwary. If you can get out of a parking space with no thought for the usual effort involved, remember that you can go off the road just as easily. The mad race for speed records is dependent for its success upon scientifically straight-line steering. Any slight deviation resulting in disaster. At modern road speeds no driver today can afford to indulge in more slight movements of the wheel. The latest type of steering provides varying ratios for parking and straight road travel, but it will be several years before this safer steering becomes general.

Owners Air Their Queries

Q. I have been told that overinflation is injurious to tires. Is this a fact? G. C.

A. Yes, when the tires are over-inflated there is a reduced area of road contact. This naturally imposes too much strain on the center of the tread and causes premature wear of this important area. Over-inflation is also injurious to the car, causing more shock on frame, body and engine.

Q. Does it save lubricating oil to switch off the ignition on a long downgrade? D.D.S.

A. This act in driving actually wastes oil. When the engine is running, but is not firing its mixture, there is no combustion pressure downward on the rings, with the result that oil more readily sucks up into the cylinders. Anyway, there is no advantage in switching off the ignition, and plenty of disadvantages, including the risk of blowing out the muffler when the ignition is switched on again.

Q. The engine heat indicator on the dash of my car does not return to zero when the engine is cold. It seems to be fairly accurate when the engine is well warmed up. What would cause this? G. H.

A. The temperature gauge unit in the cylinder head has been damaged through extreme temperature. Evidently this engine has overheated through lack of water or possibly a frozen radiator.

ROCKVILLE

The severe cold of Wednesday and Thursday was no longer a reminder that the weather of winter was "just around the corner" but emphatically announced its immediate presence with a temperature nearly reaching zero Wednesday night. In less than 24 hours open brooks had a heavy coating of ice upon them and Chickawake Pond displayed a thin layer of ice for some distance from the shore.

The First Automobile Show

PEOPLE weren't even sure that the horseless carriage was "here to stay" when the first automobile show was held at the old Madison Square Garden, New York, in 1900. Manufacturers of that period had different ideas as to what should make an automobile run. Some were powered by gasoline, others by electricity or steam.

George Selden, inventor of the first car in 1877, had powered his car with a gasoline engine and the successful refining of petroleum products made the gasoline engine a favorite. Selden, unable to make his car run satisfactorily with the animal fat and petroleum lubricants then in use, presented his problem to Hiram Everest, a fellow townsman who had founded the Vacuum Oil Company, forerunner of the present Socony-Vacuum Oil Company. Everest, a refiner of harness oils, developed the first petroleum lubricants for use in an internal combustion engine, thereby insuring the success of the automobile.

The Rubinstein Club

A good sized audience at the Congregational Church last night listened with keen appreciation to the concert given jointly by Les Camarades Musicaux of Bath and the Rubinstein Club of this city.

There was a great variety of selections, the program having a few last minute changes which were unavoidable. It was a matter of deep regret that Mr. Ramsay, although present, was unable to take his scheduled part—a stubborn case of bronchitis was the cause. Of the guest artists, mention should be made of the beautiful clear voice of Mrs. Sturtevant; of the smooth execution displayed in Mr. McPherson's piano number; the unusual and pleasing quality of Miss Leonard's voice; the varied group of songs given by Mr. Smith, the clever rendition of his encore bringing hearty applause, and the violin number of artistic phrasing and clear tone given by Mr. Sprague.

The ensemble numbers presented by both clubs deserve praise; with new laurels going to the Rubinstein trio, the organ, piano and violin being wonderful in tone combination. Each duo, trio, quartet and chorus was pleasingly given, the accompanists deserving much credit for their commendable work.

The grand finale, given by both choruses, with organ, piano and violins, was a rare combination of voices and accompaniments, and a fitting close to a concert of high merit.

The program: Instrumental Quartette—Allegro Moderato, Mrs. Carl Albee; Piano, Francis McPherson; 1st Violin, Miss Bertha Luce; 2nd Violin, Merton Sprague; Chorus—

(a) A Plantation Love Song, Deems Taylor; (b) The Clock, Sherwood; Obligato solo—

Mrs. Helen Wentworth; Mrs. Faith Berry, Directing; Mrs. Nettie Averill at piano; Aria—O Mio Fernando "La Favorita," Donizetti.

Miss Kathleen Leonard; Mr. McPherson at piano; Trio—Ye Fields of Light, Millet; Mrs. Fred Sturtevant; Mrs. Fred Cary; Clifford Smith.

Mrs. Albee at piano; Piano—Romanza, Concerto in D Major, Mr. McPherson; Mozart; (a) The Day is Done, Balfe; (b) Three for Jack, Squire.

Mrs. Albee at piano; Quintette—How Can I Forget Thee, Goldbeck; Miss Leonard, Mrs. John Sanborn, Mrs. Carleton Rice, Mrs. Sturtevant, Clifford Smith.

Mrs. Albee at piano; Instrumental Trio—Ballet Egyptian, Luigiini; Organ, Mrs. Faith Berry, Piano, Mrs. Nettie Averill; Violin, Miss Bertha Luce; Duo—Bolero, Saint Saens; Mrs. Robert Hatch, Mrs. Earl Storer; Mr. McPherson at piano; Violin—Concerto, Seitz.

Mrs. Sprague; Mrs. Albee at piano; Italian Serenade—Stevenson; Medesana Hatch, Sturtevant, Holman, Leonard, Sanborn, Rice, Cary; Obligato Solo, Mr. Smith; Mrs. Albee at piano; Aria—Ouverture La Jeune Hindoue "Lakme," Delibes.

Mrs. Fred Sturtevant at piano; Trio—

(a) O Dry Those Tears, Del Riego; (b) Southern Hush Song, Lyn; Mrs. Mildred Havener, Mrs. Gladys Grant, Mrs. Muriel Crie; Mrs. Berry at piano; Pater Noster—Verdi.

The Rubinstein Club, Les Camarades Musicaux, Mrs. Carl Albee, Organ; Miss Bertha Luce, First Violin; Merton Sprague, Second Violin; Mrs. Nettie Averill, piano; Mrs. Faith Berry, Director.

Mrs. Guy Douglas was hostess to the Tuesday Night Bridge Club at the home of Mrs. Ardrey Off, Mrs. Ronald Messer, Mrs. Lawrence Leach and Miss Maerice Blackington were the highliners.

Miss Cora Perry left Friday for a visit in Boston and Malden.

Baraca Class of the Methodist Church met Tuesday with Mrs. Ruth Ellingwood for relief sewing. Mrs. Mary Littlehale was guest of honor, as she is leaving soon to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Jesse Jones, in Southbridge, Mass. A delightful travel talk was given by Miss Caroline Jameson, and tea was served. Mrs. Littlehale poured. Both Miss Jameson and Mrs. Littlehale were presented with gifts.

Mrs. Hervey Allen attended the antique exhibition sponsored by the Antique Dealers' Association, held in the Mayfair room of the Lafayette Hotel, Portland, Nov. 17, 18, and 19. The display of old glass and jewelry was especially attractive.

Mrs. L. F. Chase was hostess to E.F.A. Club Wednesday afternoon bridge honors being won by Mrs. Benjamin Philbrook, Mrs. Bert Bachelder and Mrs. Orrin Smith.

Mrs. Emma Dick, Mrs. Jessie Wall, Mrs. Emma Carver and Mrs. Laura Ranlet attended the banquet and reception held at the Columbia Hotel in Portland Wednesday night, for the president of U.S.W.V. Auxiliary, Mrs. Martha B. Hart, of Bayonne, N. J. Auxiliary members from all parts of the State were present, it being one of the order's outstanding events of the season.

Mrs. Carl Freeman entertained W.I.N. Club Thursday night at her home at Glen Cove, honors at bridge going to Mrs. Herbert Curtis, Mrs. Ralph Glendenning and Mrs. Grace Loomis of Portland. Late lunch was served by the hostess.

The History Study Group will meet Tuesday afternoon with Miss Harriet Bird, Camden street.

Mrs. Chester Johnson, Mrs. Fred Snow and Miss Jackie Snow have returned from Waterville where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richards. They spent one day in Bath with Ned Robbins and family.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Moody, who have been spending the summer in Warren, go tomorrow to St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Wednesday afternoon card party at Grand Army hall, under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Thomas, resulted in these prize winners, Mrs. M. J. Long, Mrs. Carrie Thompson, Miss Elizabeth Donahue, Mrs. Nellie Achorn, Mrs. Elizabeth Murray, and Mrs. Abbie McDonald.

Mrs. Nellie Achorn was hostess at the card party held Friday afternoon at Grand Army hall for the benefit of the utility table at the Auxiliary of S.U.V. fair. Six tables were in play with prize awards to the following winners, Mrs. Velma Marsh, Mrs. Ethel Sukeforth, Mrs. Doris Jordan, Mrs. Nora Stickney, Mrs. Belle Lewis, Mrs. Gladys Harjula and Mrs. Abbie McDonald. The next party will be held Wednesday Nov. 25 with Mrs. Susie Newbert in charge, the proceeds to go to the grab table at the fair.

Rev. and Mrs. John Smith Lowe will leave Wednesday for Boston, where they will spend Thanksgiving with their son and friends.

Mrs. Hattie Davies, Mrs. Riah Knight, Mrs. Annie Collamore and Mrs. Millie Thomas motored to Portland Tuesday, where they attended the afternoon meeting of the Thatcher Relief Corps. They went to Freeport in the evening, being guests there of the G. W. Randall Corps at their inspection by State officers, there being present four State presidents.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Pendexter have returned from a visit in Portland, where they were guests of their daughter, Mrs. Linwood Buzzell.

Chummy Club met Thursday evening with Mrs. Velma Marsh at her home on Broad street.

Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Weisman are attending the Harvard-Yale football game in New Haven today.

Sleeper Bible Class will meet Monday with Mrs. Evelyn Snow, 8 Green street in Thomaston.

Bible Moths met Thursday with Miss Ruth Wheeler. The quilt which is to be given to a deserving family was finished and another will be started next week when the club meets with Miss Virginia Richards. It was voted that each member contribute enough food for a Thanksgiving dinner to be given some needy person.

Arts and Crafts Society meets Monday night with Mrs. Evelyn Peaslee.

Chapin Class members and husbands met Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Comins, Crescent street. The husbands enjoyed cards while the ladies had a busy evening of sewing. The meeting next Tuesday will be held with Mrs. Charles Smalley, Broadway.

A record attendance for the Rockland Society for the Hard of Hearing marked Thursday's meeting, when the members complimented Mrs. Mary Veazie with a surprise birthday shower. Refreshments were served and a social hour followed the regular practice session. Mrs. Blanche Witham giving the lesson and Mrs. Gladys Thomas the story. There will be no meeting next week, because of the holiday.

The Rockland Lions Club sent five of its members to the meeting of the coastal clubs in Bucksport Thursday night. The representation would have been much larger but for the fact that the meeting conflicted with that of the Baptist Men's League to which many of the local Lions belong. The Rockland delegation comprised Dr. Blake Annis, Ray Cross, Clifford Cross, Harold Leach and George Sleeper. They report a very successful occasion, with the Castine Club capturing the bell.

The American Legion Auxiliary meets Monday at 7.30 at Legion hall. Mrs. Elizabeth Barton and Miss Alice Barton are in charge of the supper at Legion hall tonight. WALDOBORO

Mrs. Nellie Overlock has closed her house here and will pass the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Walter Sturrock, in Providence, R. I.

Mrs. Cass Blaisdell and children have been visiting in Saugus, Mass., while Mr. Blaisdell has been on a hunting trip. Upon her return she was accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester.

Miss Molly Warner is guest of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll T. Cooney.

Funeral services for Clifford E. Loring, who died suddenly in Rockland, were held Monday at the Flanders funeral parlors. Mr. Loring, who came here from Massachusetts to make his home, had many friends in town who are saddened by his death. Rev. Stanley G. Spear of Beverly, Mass., conducted the services.

The Baptist Ladies' Sewing Circle held an all day session in the vestry Thursday with a covered dish luncheon served at noon.

Rev. Franklin Nolan and Rev. H. H. Bishop of the Northern Baptist Convention are conducting a Teachers' Institute which includes Thursday and Friday of this week and Monday and Tuesday of next week. They will also take part in the services Sunday at the Baptist Church.

The Rebekah Circle meets Monday at 2 at the home of Mrs. Ralph Benner.

"Gardens I Have Seen"

The Garden Club met in the Community House Thursday night with Mrs. Sace Weston, president, in the chair. The purchase of a piano was voted upon favorably. Mrs. A. R. Benedict spoke briefly on the subject of books published by the State Federation.

Mrs. Maude Clark Gay, speaker of the evening, took for her subject "Gardens I Have Seen." Remarking that it was like "bringing coals to Newcastle" to speak before so well informed a group as the members of the club, who had already enjoyed so many distinguished speakers, Mrs. Gay said that to keep herself "from getting into too deep water" she had chosen her subject.

She told of the gardens of Mount Vernon, of Edgar Allen Poe in Richmond, of the "Old Manse" in Concord, of those of the World's Fair in St. Louis, of many gardens holding historical interest in New Hampshire and Maine. She paid high commendation to the local club for its beautiful gardens and to the Flower Show exhibited during the past summer. At the close of the talk, Mrs. Gay was given a rising vote of thanks.

ROCKPORT

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ingraham spent Thursday and Friday as guests of her sister Mrs. Hanson T. Crockett in North Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Philbrook and Mrs. William Philbrook will leave Sunday for Miami where they will spend the winter.

Next Wednesday night at 7 o'clock there will be a union Thanksgiving service at the Methodist Church to which everyone is invited. Rev. J. W. Hyssong of the Baptist Church will preach on the subject, "Giving Thanks in Everything."

Miss Marion Weidman was hostess to the Johnson Society Wednesday night at her home on Russell avenue.

The Garden Club met Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Manasseh W. Spear with a good attendance despite the extremely cold weather. Although informal it proved highly interesting. It was voted to omit the December meeting as the Club, taking the lead in the civic welfare work of the town, will be busy with Christmas preparations. Mrs. Mildred Holmes, chairman of the civic committee will be assisted by members from all organizations in town.

Mrs. Maynard C. Ingraham, Mrs. E. E. Ingraham and Mrs. Elsie Hawkins motored to Fairfield Wednesday to visit Miss Arlene Ingraham and assist in the celebration of her birthday anniversary. Arlene was made happy with gifts cards etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wooster and daughter Nancy of Bangor spent last weekend with his mother Mrs. C. H. Wooster.

Maynard Porter who has been spending two weeks with his family left Friday for Baltimore to rejoin the ship on which he is employed.

Mrs. Augusta Shibles is in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., to remain for the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Marieta Stiles.

At the Baptist Church Sunday, services will begin with morning worship at 11; sermon by the pastor, John W. Hyssong, subject, "Denying the Faith. What does it mean?"; Bible School at 12; at 6 p. m. Christian Endeavor with Miss Fernie Whitney as leader. At 7 p. m., Gospel service, subject "The Christian Doctrine of Forgiveness".

Funeral services were held Friday at Russell funeral home for Dorothy Louise, five months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Richards, who died suddenly Thursday at their home on Amesbury Hill. Interment was in Mountain street cemetery.

PERILOUS HIGHWAYS

Chief Wilbur H. Towle of the Maine State police said Thursday 21 persons were killed and 138 others were injured in 215 highway accidents reported to his department for October. He said 123 of the accidents happened in "open country" and 92 in compact sections. Drunken driving and dangerous driving each caused 14 of the accidents, Towle reported. Fifteen were caused by reckless driving.

Guardians of Our Coast

What Our Lightkeepers and Coast Guardsmen Are Doing To Protect Coastwise Shipping By Day and By Night. The Day's News From Many Lonely Outposts Along Maine's Waterfront.

Light of the deeps thou art! As forth I glide,
From rock and whirlpool far, and Sudden there looms an ever verdurous shore,
Whose towers in the still waves stand gloried.

—Craven Langstroth Betts

Cord's Marine Messages
Editor of "Guardians of Our Coast":
Having returned home and again on the job, I have been looking over some letters received the past season, in the lot being one from Albion B. Crocker relative to my book, "Maine Lighthouses." This will of course interest you, as it goes to show how far your newspaper reaches out into this little world of ours.

Another is from a man in East Orange, N. J. This writer I should judge is of a poetical trend and I might say that one would have to have his mind deep in thought to really understand. But his poems are good if one is thinking of dying right away.

I have had a great time visiting the old sea captains' homes on the Maine coast, listening to salty yarns and with especial interest to tales of seamen's close calls. I might state that I am even a little homesick. There were times when tears came to my eyes, and then in my imagination I could see my father—how he would sit in the old arm-chair in the old homestead at Peaks Island and tell just how he had weathered the storms.

I can truthfully say there were times when I lived part of my life over, and it was great!

Robert Thayer Sterling
Portland Head, Nov. 17

The afore mentioned message from Mr. Crocker, better known to readers as "Boze" or "The Saunterer," is here re-printed in part:

"Your article in a recent issue of The Courier-Gazette was very interesting to me. Longfellow is my favorite poet, and like him, I selected the State of Maine for my birthplace—Tenants Harbor, and only about a mile from the flashing red of Southern Island Light.

"I have just passed from boyhood to young manhood (71) and was fortunate in living in Maine for the first 21 years of my life, and to me she is still home. My earliest recollections are of Longfellow's poems. The information that Portland Head Light was the poet's inspiration for "A Summer Day by the Sea" was news indeed. I wonder if that tower was also his inspiration for "The Lighthouse"? As I recall, Longfellow's grandfather was a ship captain.

"Your article was clipped and placed with the poem where it belongs. Let's have more of your recollections."

From New Jersey an encouraging note penned by John Carrel to Asst. Keeper Sterling reads:

"Your book on Lighthouses is most inspiring. This is made greater because the reflective powers of mankind set forth the majesty of the All Being; the soul is the 'Light of Man' God bless the Keepers and the Lighthouses."

THE SAVORY OF THE THYME
(For The Courier-Gazette)

The air is chill;
'Tis in November;
The sky with gray is overcast;
In the air there is the spell of the sacred autumn.
And withal a friendly comeliness.
Passers by the cottages at even,
See the windows all aglow.
Where from out the cottage ovens,
A fragrant savory flows.

Oh! think in the ever present, and too
of the days of yore,
Of the most blessed savory from out
the cottage door;
Oh! for the old time custom, and for Thanksgiving Day
With its old time Thanksgiving festival,
And the old thyme savory.
—John Carrel

Doubling Point Range

Mrs. Nye and daughter and Fred Pinkham motored recently to Portland and enroute called on Mr. and Mrs. Merritt P. Pinkham of Yarmouth. Mr. Pinkham is a retired lightkeeper.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Webber of Augusta were recent callers at the station, also Keeper and Mrs. Asa Smith of Squirrel Point Light. A welcome is extended all guests, for the sociability shortens and cheers our days.

Oil tankers and coal barges are plying by the station thick and fast nowadays. Collier Bermingden passed out recently, to return with another cargo.

Supt. of Lighthouses Charles C. Brush with Mrs. Brush and two women friends spent last Saturday afternoon here and we certainly enjoyed their visit.

Mrs. Nye entertained the Ladies' Aid on Armistice Day. Refreshments were served and the group had a delightful time.

Twelve above zero here Tuesday. The Standard Oil tanker passed by as these items were being written. Kind wishes to all.

Burnt Island

Here we are at last, on our new station, and we like it greatly. We had a rough passage from Deer Island Light—everyone gave up and went to bed except Keeper Mulise.

On our way here we stayed in Rockland overnight and Mrs. Mulise called on relatives while there.

The retired keeper and Mrs. Staples, accompanied by Mrs. Foss of The Cuckolds Light made us a visit a short while ago and Keeper Stockbridge of Ram Island Light also called.

We hope Keeper and Mrs. Robinson of Deer Island like their new station. Wish they would let us know what the dog did when he chased the cat up a tree.

Willard Mulise is in Boothbay for a few days with "Gram" and "Gramp" Staples.

Best regards to all lighthouse keepers and coast guardsmen.

Petit Manan

Keeper and Mrs. William Lockhart, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Leighton and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sawyer, spent 20 days' vacation touring Northern Maine, Quebec, Montreal, reentering the United States at Niagara Falls. They visited relatives in New York city, New Jersey and Hartford. Roscoe Fletcher has been transferred from this station to Matinicus Rock Light as keeper. Best wishes and success to Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher in their new home.

William Clark of Portland has taken up his duties as second assistant here. Rev. Mr. Bowesfield of the Sunbeam called on us recently and left plenty of reading material for the winter. Mrs. Lockhart will more than appreciate it as she is the only woman on the Light, the other two being ashore that the children may attend school.

Bear Island

Capt. Lee Mann, a retired keeper, wishes to be remembered to his light-house and coast guard friends.

The Mission boat Sunbeam called Nov. 12 at the station and Rev. Mr. Bowesfield made a friendly call.

Capt. William Brogan of Danbury, N. H., a retired Army captain, is visiting us for a week's vacation.

Assistant Keeper Darrel Mann of Great Duck Island Light with Mrs. Mann and daughter June were overnight guests here recently.

Kip, have you caught the hens that roost in the trees? Hope you round them up before they freeze.

Cape Neddick

Dear Fellow Readers:—Here we are again after a long absence, but a busy time.

I lost the last letter I wrote without reading it, so I don't know whether or not I told about Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Alice Tracy calling on Keeper and Mrs. Cuskie of Fort Point Light, Newcastle, N. H. Keeper James Anderson of Goat Island Light took the women with him in his new car. They had a delightful ride and a wonderful visit.

The house had been the scene of the wedding of their daughter a few days before and some of the beautiful decorations remained.

Miss Grace McIntire came Oct. 2 from Bath and took Mrs. Coleman's aunt Mrs. Mary F. Ingham of Bath, who had been spending most of the summer with us. We then left on a vacation. That night we camped in a new overnight camp just outside of Laconia, N. H. The next morning we had breakfast at Laconia and then went through the White Mountains and Crawford Notches, the Old Man of the Mountain and Indian Head; then headed for Barre, Vt., arriving in time for supper and the movies.

The next day we went to Montpelier, saw the Capitol and then on to Burlington, Vt., up Grand Isle to Roosevelt Ferry, thence up the New York shore of Lake Champlain. The scenery was beautiful and the day perfect. Had dinner in Chazy and then to Rouses Point across another ferry (they are building a wonderful new bridge there now) down Grand Isle through Burlington and Montpelier and on to St. Johnsbury to spend the night.

Gorham was on our route the following day and then Rumbold. Stopped for dinner in Auburn and called on our friends Mr. and Mrs. Willard Brown. Mr. Brown took us through the new and old parts of the Edward Little High School. It was a great treat. We also saw one of the teachers, Miss Angie Pulsifer, who taught in the Morse High School of Bath when Mrs. Coleman attended that school. We talked a long time with her and visited her rooms.

Our arrival in Bath was in time for supper. In that city we stayed with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Milan G. Leonard and Miss Grace McIntire. There we enjoyed nice rides.

Our trip next touched Bowdoinham to visit Mr. and Mrs. David Shaw and Mrs. Mabel Robinson; then on to Gardiner where we were guests of Miss Roseltha Coleman who treated us to a great dish of ice cream and cake. We also took a ride to Boothbay Harbor and while there telephoned Mrs. Sue Stockbridge of Ram Island Light and talked so long we thought the telephone company would tell us to quit. It was a pleasure to talk like we used to when they were on Boon.

Accompanied by Miss Grace McIntire, we called on Keeper and Mrs. Nye and had an enjoyable visit including a nice long walk through the woods to the upper Light. Personally, I wouldn't care to do it in snowbanks and I don't think we will have a storm this winter but what I will think of Keeper Nye trudging through the drifts. I am wondering if the portable mill has begun operations in the grove yet. It seems a pity to destroy all the lovely trees.

We were ready to leave Bath to spend a few days in Portland when Posie's uncle by marriage, George A. Spinney, died following an operation. We stayed until after the funeral and then went to Portland.

While visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Knight of Portland we decided to make a call on Keeper and Mrs. Elwell at Two Lights. Calling the car company we learned what car to take and then asked Keeper Elwell to meet us at the car line.

I wonder if he is laughing yet at the "Sea Gulls" getting lost in the big city? Or was he angry. Anyway, we stepped out of the car and looked around for Mr. Elwell—he wasn't there. We entered into conversation with the conductor and found we were at Portland Head Light, seven miles from where we wanted to be. We had asked for Cape Elizabeth Light and evidently the company thought of only Portland Head Light. I understand it is known locally as Two Light. We won't make that mistake again. The next time we go to Portland, we'll make another trial.

Inspection took place while we were gone and so we visited Mr. Brush in the office and went through the buildings and other parts of the new depot. It was a delightful visit and every one was friendly to us. We also went through the Portland Light Ship the mate explained all parts and their uses, the hour with him being passed most enjoyably.

The next day it rained so we were unable to make calls. Woodrow Billington on Sunday took Miss Alma Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Knight, Mrs. Coleman and myself on a trip through Bingham Dam which was a wonderful experience. It is inspiring to know that we have such a splendid project in our own State.

As a whole we had a very enjoyable vacation. G. R. Biethen of York Beach substituted.

Since our return we have had as guest William Miller of Suncook, N. H., during the duck shooting season. He did very well—the best in years—and as result we had baked coots nearly every day he was here with an especially grand feast the last day. We had five baked coots and one chicken for the company who did not care for the other game. Dinner guests were Miss Grace McIntire, Mrs. Gallant, Mrs. Bertha V. Rogers of Bath and Mr. Miller. Miss McIntire, Mrs. Gallant and Mr. Miller left that night and one-half hour later George O. Melard, Dudley Leavitt and Albert McManis arrived. The latter two were on their way to spend a vacation in New York city.

Misses Alma Knights, Rosa Knights and friends passed Sunday with us. We also had a visit from Mr. Durgin of the office. Since receiving time sheets from the office I have a better understanding of what the Good Book means when it says we shall have to give an account of our deeds on earth.

We recently bought Mrs. Charles Tracy's radio which she used on Boon. We liked it, and as we had just bought new batteries, we transferred them and have a dandy machine. The cabinet is attractive also. We regret that Mr. Tracy remains ill at the Veteran's Hospital in Togus. Hope you will soon be better, Charles.

Portland Head

Sailing from summer into winter, when! What a change in atmosphere, as we busy keeping home fires burning.

Wondering how all the boys on outside stations met the change in weather and if they got all hatches battened down for "Old Man Winter."

Not very exciting the past week here.

Mr. Sterling returned from his vacation last Saturday reporting a

A WARM COMFORTABLE HOME-- is something to be thankful for...

There is nothing that gives more zest to the holiday season than a warm, comfortable home, the kind that is heated with D&H Cone-Cleaned ANTHRACITE.

Matchless draft-obedience makes D&H most economical, cutting down fuel consumption in mild weather. But, when really cold weather comes, D&H gives an abundant supply of pleasant, healthy heat.
