MADE FIVE RUNS

Were Not Bad Fires, But the Firemen Ran All the Same

Oh, for the life of a fireman! nothing to do but play cribbage and watch the crowd pass by.

Maybe that's what you think, but here is the Department's record for the past two days.

Tuesday—Fire near the fireplace in Mrs. Ethel Ludwig's tenement. Damage small.

Tuesday—A run to Ingraham Hill, where an automobile, owned by Jack Garnet was going up in flames.

Wednesday, 6 p. m.—Chimney fire at Fred C. Galtcomb's apartments on Grove street.

Wednesday, 11.30 p. m.—Chimney fire at the American House.

Wednesday at 12.30 a. m.—Chimney fire at Walter Griffin's residence, 48 Brewster street.

The firemen slept the rest of the night.

We're hoping that Mrs. Wahl, of Wisconsin, who left $5,000,000 to Harvard to found a school of journalism, hadn't been reading our stuff.

IN BUSY SARASOTA

Freem Young, With An Eye
On Real Estate, Sees Bank
Made Into Hotel

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
After a 36-hour trip, I reached Jacksonville and am now in Sarasota—in the land of sunshine, trailers and strawberries. This trailer life is just like what fishermen call "smoke boating." Never had so much fun in my life. Think of 1,600 trailers anchored for the winter and occupied by 4,000 persons. That is what is happening here right now.

Saw Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Thorndike recently, and Mr. and Mrs. John Watts are living near us. The latter accompanied us to the State of Maine day picnic held recently and attended by about 150. After making inquiries, I have learned from reliable sources that Sarasota is caring for 40,000 tourists at the present time.

At the time of our departure from here last year there was a structure known as the American Bank building which had been erected during the boom. This building was converted into a modern hotel last year and now has 100 rooms, rates single, $6, and every room is taken. This applies to all other hotels in this vicinity also. Many homes were built here during the year and several are under construction now.

Oranges are higher than last year, 75 cents to $1 a bushel; grapefruit, 50 cents a bushel; while the nicest strawberries are five cents a quart and they sure are good for the palate.

I hope all the ill ones at home are fully recovered and that blessings and prosperity in abundant supply will attend their every effort.

NEW STORE OPENS

Today sees the opening of Rockland's newest business house, the department store of Mansfield Gove Inc. which is located at the corner of Main street and Tillson avenue in the Thorndike Hotel block. This is the store formerly occupied by Fuller-Cobb Inc.

The new proprietors, Laurence K. Mansfield and Karl J. E. Gove come to this city from Salem, Mass., and are already located here with their families. Both are thoroughly familiar with department store merchandising and the retail trade.

The new store will be open today for inspection only, and for regular business starting tomorrow. The store has been renovated throughout and its stock is brand new and up to the minute. The store front is attractive in its new dress of black paint.

LIONS UP IN THE AIR

Principal Blaisdell Had 'Em
Guessing With His Topic
"Gas Bags"

The Rockland Lions Club had an especially happy session at The Thorndike Hotel yesterday, thanks to the entertaining address by Joseph E. Blaisdell, principal of Rockland High School.

At the very outset Principal Blaisdell proved himself a good storyteller, and had his listeners in a jolly frame of mind when he announced his rather unusual subject—"Gas Bags."

There proved to be nothing "personal" in his story which related to his World War experiences with a balloon company.

The personnel of a balloon company, he said, was one of the most technical of any branch of the service. At the outset there were 196 enlisted men and officers, but this was cut down to 170. The speaker described very interestingly the company's daily routine, which always began with sending up each morning for the purpose of learning atmospheric conditions. The bags are filled with hydrogen, and the members of the crew were cautioned about rubbing against them with their woolen shirts. Static electricity is also caused during a thunderstorm.

One day one of the observation balloons attained a height of 5000 feet. Those on board maintain telephone connection with the ground. At night the balloons are tied down securely and kept tight so they will not roll. In the morning they are inflated again.

Principal Blaisdell was in the service 17 months, in the course of which he traveled 12,000 miles. He was first assigned to the Medical Corps detachment which examined many northern recruits.

Mr. Blaisdell evoked much laughter when he told of his happy faculty of being left behind. On one occasion he was knocked down by a motorcycle, sustained a broken ankle and for 14 weeks was laid up in a hospital. Once more he was sent to the hospital with a detachment of mumps victims.

When he finally did start northward it was in a craft called the Moccasin, which had more or less trouble on the way and while still in New York Mr. Blaisdell read where she had sunk at her dock.

Mr. Blaisdell's story was told in a delightfully informal manner. The Club had a most cordial welcome for Allen C. Whitney, the new manager of the J. J. Newberry store, who is a member of the Lincoln Lions Club, but who will undoubtedly soon be transferred to the Rockland Club.

George Sleeper reported the sale of 107 tickets for the Community Food Fair, which was regarded as satisfactory in view of the fact that they were received one week late.

Chairman Brunberg of the entertainment committee announced that Col. Peck of Providence would be the speaker at next Wednesday's meeting.

The club endorsed the efforts being made by the Sea and Shore Fisheries Department to advertise, advance and protect that industry.

District Governor George W. Dyer announced that the Camden-Rockport Club was to have a ladies' night at Tranquility Grange hall in Lincolnville Tuesday night, March 30, and that the Lincolnville Church would serve the supper. The Rockland Club accepted an invitation to attend, and the meeting of March 31 will be omitted in consequence. Lions Gregory, Senter and Orbeton will act as committee of arrangements.

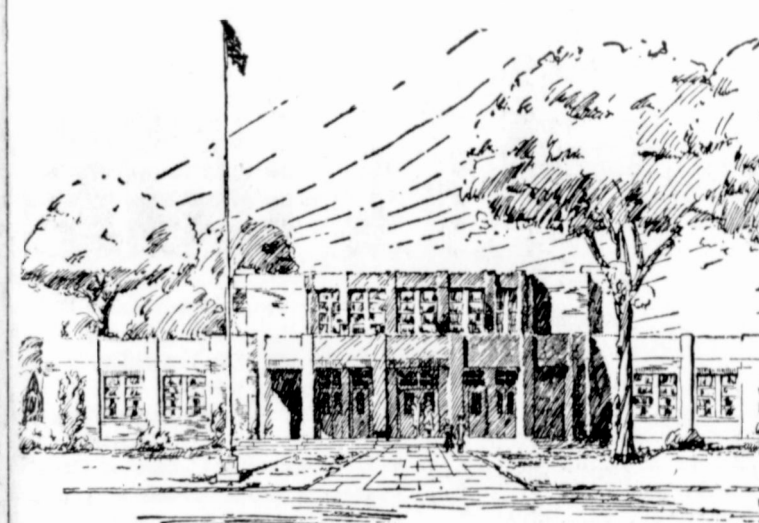

Lion Annis was appointed chairman of a committee to arrange for attending the big convention in Portland.

The nice chicken pie dinner served yesterday was supplemented by bottles of chocolate milk shake, presented with the compliments of Leon White, local agent for Round-Top Farms. Krin-ko seemed to go to the right spot.

Lions had a happy session with Joe Blaisdell

ON PAY-AS-WE-GO BASIS

Community Building Equipment Fund Drive
Gives Account Of Stewardship

Citizens of Rockland:—

On Feb. 2, 1936, ground was broken for the new Community Building and on Nov. 18 of that year at the request of Mayor Thurston, I accepted, with misgivings, a mandate to head up a drive to equip it at an estimated cost of $10,000.

The past four months have been a revelation of the splendid vision and co-operative spirit of the people of this city. Volunteer workers of ability and enthusiasm have stepped in from every side in the unanimous effort to fit this building to fill the great social need it will serve as a true community center. The original loose organization is now a permanent welfare corporation, The Rockland Community and School Improvement Association, which will continue active until the equipment is installed and paid for. It is the present plan to spread the campaign over a period of two years in order to make the public burden not too heavy.

It should be understood that this group is not an operating agency of the building and has functioned as such in conjunction with the municipal officers only as an emergency measure until the Board of Governors, appointed already by the city and soon to be named on its behalf by the Y.M.C.A. directors, can be organized and take over active management. From that time on the R. C. and S. I. Association will operate solely to procure equipment.

The drive to raise funds started on Dec. 18 while the building was still far from completed, an opening ceremony being held with the W.P.A. troupe and orchestra furnishing entertainment, this affair netting $85.52.

Under chairmanship of Joseph Emery the fine stage is ready for use though not entirely completed of course. The sum of $288.33 has been expended thus far including the installation of heavy steel I beams to make the hanging fixtures forever safe. Mrs. Mary Perry Rich has donated the use of 150 theatre chairs and there have been delivered at the building 400 twin chairs of extraordinary sturdiness and comfort. These are not yet billed, but will amount to $1200. All other bills are paid and the corporation is adhering strictly to the pay-as-you-go policy.

minimum at all public functions. Also the teams were not at the top of the league which further depleted attendance. Consequently Principal Blaisdell's proffer of $175 for the seven games seems very fair. In addition the High School gave to the stage the curtain now used and loaned the use of its public address system during Community Fair. The school authorities and pupils feel their personal welfare is vested in the building, hence their fine participation during all events at the building. Community Fair netted well over $2000, but for purposes of this article that sum is used. The Fair, first in a series, was one of the most healthful signs of community co-operation in many years. Parker E. Worrey was general chairman and found unanimous co-operation. The Fair will be repeated next year and other important events scheduled include an automobile show in November and a Sportsman's Show in early January. Numerous conventions and group gatherings are considering use of the plant, all destined to bring business and a fair name to this city.

WORKED DAY AND NIGHT

Steam Lighter Sophia's Crew Repairs Cable and Makes Islesboro Happy

The steam lighter Sophia, owned by the Snow Marine Co., is back at her berth, purring contentedly, after performing a feat which has earned her every vote at Islesboro.

The Central Maine Cable between Dice's Head and North Islesboro had been out of commission several days. Islesboro oil burners were out of commission, and there was a general state of discomfort.

The Sophia, commanded by that capable and genial skipper, Capt. Charles W. Carver, went onto the job Monday morning, worked all that day and until midnight Tuesday before the damage had been repaired.

A leak was found 600 feet from Dice's Head and the ends were spliced. Within 32 feet of North Islesboro, more trouble was found, and a new section of cable was laid from there to the shore. Within a short time oil burners were again sizzling, electric lights were gleaming, radios were functioning and there was a general state of happiness among the permanent residents of Islesboro.

The work was done under the direction of the Central Maine's Bel-fort foremen, and a crew of 25 worked speedily and expertly with him.

Camden's wonderful array of willing workers is bending every effort just now to the end that Y Minstrels, April 15 and 16, shall be a great success.

JOHN MAY'S RISE

Rockland Boy Becomes General Sales Manager of Large Corporation

John May of Worcester was named general sales manager of the American Steel & Wire Co., Feb. 24 by C. P. Blackmer, president. Mr. May will undoubtedly be elected a vice-president and director of the company at the annual meeting in April. His headquarters will be in Cleveland.

Mr. May for the past six years has been assistant general manager of sales in charge of the company's specialties. He has been the only executive of the sales department of the company in Worcester. He will succeed D. A. Merriman, vice-president and general sales manager who retires in September.

Mr. May, rather than having charge of a sales force, has been the liaison official between the sales and the production departments during his service in Worcester. Changes in policy regarding specialty products such as wire rope, electrical wire and cable have been under his jurisdiction. Working with him have been several sales engineers.

In his new capacity he will have full charge of all sales and sales policies of the American Steel & Wire Co.

Mr. May came to Worcester from New York in 1931 as assistant general manager of sales and has held the position during the intervening period.

He was born in Rockland, Me., and was graduated from the University of Maine, as an electrical engineer in 1905.

Mr. May's first business connection was with the New York Telephone Co., in New York. After five years with that concern he joined the New York sales force of the American Steel & Wire Co. For seven years he covered western New York state for the company. Then he went into the New York office as assistant manager of the wire rope sales department under Fred A. Keys, also a former Worcester man. Upon Mr. Keys' death in 1921, Mr. May was promoted to New York manager of the sales in the electrical and wire rope departments. He was transferred to Worcester after 10 years of service.

Mr. May lives at 30 Olsego road. With his wife and daughter, Betty May, Mr. May will leave for Cleveland as soon as a successor is chosen to take his position. He is president of the Quinsigamond Boat Club and a member of the Worcester Club and the Worcester Country Club. He attends the First Unitarian Church.

According to Mr. May the office of assistant manager of sales will be transferred from Worcester to Cleveland, his successor having headquarters in that city. —Worcester, (Mass.) Telegram.

Chief Allen F. Payson is to head the committee on stage, properties and electrical effects. Associated with Mr. Payson will be Percy Luce, Colby Thompson, Charles King, Frank Pearce, Fred Eddy and Robert Smith. With such a group of strong armed men on the job the Y Minstrels with regard to their stage setting cannot help but be perfect. Tickets may be secured now at the George H. Thomas Fuel Co., McKay's Drug Co., and the Camden Drug Co.

THE MATTER OF AGE

One of the absurdities of the present controversy over the Supreme Court is the attempt to depict its brilliant members, as men who are physically crippled and well along toward their dotage. The age of 70 may impress youth that way but adult readers who have passed middle age know that mental genius has seldom reached its culmination when three score years and ten have been reached. Let history tell it:

Between the ages of 70 and 83, Commodore Vanderbilt added 100 millions to his fortune.

Kant at 74 wrote his anthropology, metaphysics of ethics and strife of the faculties.

Tintoretto at 74 painted the vast Paradise, a canvas 74 feet by 30. Verdi at 74 produced his masterpiece, Otello; at 80 Falstaff, and at 85 the famous Ave Maria, Stabat Mater and Te Deum.

Lamarck at 78 completed his great zoological work, the Natural History of the Invertebrates.

Oliver Wendell Holmes at 79 wrote Over the Teacups.

Goethe at 80 completed Faust.

Tennyson at 83 wrote Crossing the Bar.

Titian at 98 painted his historic picture of the Battle of Lepanto.

SENDING BY EXPRESS

To expressmen the world over this is an anniversary filled with significance, the 98th of the birth of the express business. It was on that date that William F. Harnden started to carry packages in a cart between Boston and New York. Out of this very humble beginning has grown the present express industry as conducted by the Railway Express Agency. It is indeed a far cry from a cart between Boston and New York to the fast passenger train and air Express service available today. Reliability and satisfaction in service are mottoes which the express company has striven to live up to, and the verdict with the people is a favorable one.

LEGISLATIVE TANGLES

There is the usual amount of pulling and hauling at this session of the Maine Legislature. There always has been, and there always will be so long as the world has many men of many minds. This year the problems are especially acute as the administration had first to meet the tremendous obligations fastened onto it while Gov. Brann was in power—more than $2,000,000 the figures say. This debt may have been justly contracted, and we make no attempt to say that it was not, but the fact remains that before Gov. Barrows and his Republican Legislature could spin a thread it had to meet the above obligation before an early, fixed date. All of the suggested attempts to raise the money which will be necessary to meet the budget have met with opposition and criticism, and so would any attempt to shave appropriations and limit public privileges. Taxes have never been popular since the first one was imposed, and they never will be, but the sad, cold fact remains that if we are to have good roads, take care of our unfortunate, and meet a hundred and one other obligations we must pay our proportional part—and like it. Agreeing upon the best method is the unenviable task imposed upon Legislature, and it is easy to see today why so few are willing to leave their private business and play that thankless role.

ALTOGETHER TOO BAD

The Quoddy Project blundered its way through several administrations, serving no other purpose, apparently, than to furnish political capital, and now nobody seems to know how the wasted millions can be turned to advantage. If the purpose aimed at by men whom we credit with being honest and sincere had been fulfilled, or stood the remotest prospect of being fulfilled—that would be one thing, but within recent weeks it has been intimated from apparently authentic sources that "the jig is up," and now there is a racking of brains to see what can be done with the somewhat doubtful assets, notably the houses, in the $1,000,000 Quoddy Village. The State agent of the Passamaquoddy Indians, Flagg Cummings, suggested Tuesday, that they be given to the Indians, who could move them to Pleasant Point.

TWENTY STRAIGHT FOR CAMDEN

Knox County Team, Eligible For the Bates Tournament, Exhibits Its Wares Here

Camden 27, Rockland 17
Camden High School Knox and Lincoln League champions, and this sections representatives in the annual Bates tournament, won its 20th consecutive victory Tuesday night at the Community Building by defeating Rockland 27 to 17 in an exciting and spirited contest.

A large crowd turned out to watch the champs in their final encounter, before entering the tournament, and to get a line on what they could do on a large court. In other words it was Camden's final test.

With both teams using a zone defense the scoring was held down in the first two periods, and Camden led by slim 5 to 4 and 11 to 8 margins.

In the second half the Red Herd broke loose and led by Belyea, who had heretofore been held to but two baskets, dropped in five more to bring his total to 14 and his team's to 27—a comfortable 10-point lead over Rockland.

Although the Rockland court warriors fought valiantly they were unable to cope with Camden's superior shooting abilities.

Belyea, Wadsworth, and Richards starred for Camden and the home forces Morgan and Murgita were outstanding. The score:

A very classy Rockland girls team took the Camden lasses into camp in the preliminary encounter by outscoring them 33 to 18.

With Misses Till and Pike displaying rare skill in the front court and the rest of the team passing well Rockland never was in much danger after a close first period.

A Fisheries Measure

A bill to make the Commissioner of Sea and Shore Fisheries a member of the Maine Development Commission and appropriating $25,000 for the advertising of sea products was favored at a hearing Tuesday by Representative Albert B. Elliot of Thomaston, and Richard Reed, publicity director of the Sea and Shore Fisheries.

Elliott urged that there be "more co-operation between the Maine Development Commission and the Sea and Shore Fisheries in publicizing and familiarizing the public with the superiority of Maine fish products."

Reed said Japanese and Canadian crabs are now being served as "Maine" lobsters in many hotels of the country. Competition from these two countries, he said, has depressed the market price of Maine scallops to $1.26 per gallon, "an all-time winter low."

Schurle said he favored inclusion of the Sea and Shore Fisheries Commissioner as a member of the Development Commission, but opposed the "ear-marking" of $25,000 to advertise sea products. These products, he said, could be adequately advertised as a part of the food products of the State, if a bill adopting $200,000 for the work of the Commission were enacted by the Legislature.

Representative Cleveland Sleeper, Jr., of Rockland urged that the Sea and Shore Commissioner be included, saying he "would represent everyone from rubber-boated fishermen to cannery kings."

Beano Opponent Boomed
Heated exchanges Tuesday interrupted a hearing before the legislative committee on legal affairs of bills to legalize "beano" and a State lottery.

Charges by the Rev. Frederick W. Smith of Waterville, executive secretary of the Maine Christian Civic League, that advocates of the "beano" bill were not "law-abiding" provoked a ripple of applause and a loud "Boo."

Display of beer signs over sidewalks would be illegal under a bill filed with the Legislature Tuesday by Senator Hussey of Augusta.

Another bill introduced would require operators of "automobile graveyards" to obtain permits from municipal officials before such places could be established. The bill was introduced by Representative Dow, Jr., of Kennebunkport.

Gov. Barrows said Tuesday night payments of old age pensions which were stopped last December when funds became "exhausted," would be resumed at once.

The Governor's announcement was made following receipt of a check totaling $104,162 from the Federal Government for the quarter ending March 31 of this year to match state funds. Barrows said $150,000 had been transferred temporarily from the state highway fund to match the federal funds.

The transfer of highway money was made possible by emergency legislation passed a few weeks ago permitting its "temporary use" by other departments. Barrows said the highway fund would be "reimbursed" as soon as sufficient money had accumulated under a liquor tax.

The Legislature recently levied a 10 percent tax on state store liquor sales to produce additional money for old age pensions.

Approximately 4,000 eligible persons for old age assistance were receiving pensions. The Governor said he believed "there will be no further interruption," adding that "as soon as possible additional pensioners will be added to the list."

Barrows said payments to be resumed Wednesday would be for pensions due in January. February payments will "follow along soon," he said. The Governor, in a prepared statement, made reference to the "effort made in the special session last December to provide the necessary revenue to prevent interruption in pension payments."

A bill levying a 10 percent tax on liquor was enacted at the special session, but Democratic Governor

Louis J. Brann vetoed it on the ground the legislation did not comply with federal requirements and would not permit Maine to receive matching funds.

Barrows commended the present Legislature for the "ready response" (Continued on Page Six) of Music Clubs meets in Rockland.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Manager Dandeneau is back in charge of Park Theatre, after a short vacation in Portland.

Special meeting tonight of Rockland Lodge F.A.M., with work in the fellowcraft degree. All Masons invited.

Rotarians are expecting an unusual treat tomorrow. Prof. Robert Tristram Coffin of Bowdoin College is to be speaker.

Temperance Day will be observed Friday in the schools. Teachers have prepared interesting programs. Members of the W.C.T.U. parents and friends are urged to visit the schools that day.

One of the most attractive prizes awarded at Community Fair was the artistic box won by Mrs. Faith Ulmer Brown at the Perry's Markets booth. The box was generously filled with fruits and groceries. Mr. Nally was the artist.

A Masonic Assembly will be held tonight at 8:30. Those not solicited will take sandwiches. Those on the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Leland Drinkwater, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick Libby.

Psalm 121, known as the traveler's favorite, is next memory lesson with intensive study and drill on patriotic devotions for March 19 Educational Club at 3 p.m. with each member's choice for a memorized poem. Chapter 23 on Maine's legislature is the Civics study. How many and who represent Knox County?

At Tuesday night's meeting of Townsend Club No. 1 six new members were taken in. Rockland Club No. 1 stands third in the nationwide membership drive. Prizes totalling $15,000 are to be given the clubs which make the largest gain up to April 1st. Ada Simmons and Anna Hahn are the membership committee.

THE WEATHER

As we take our pen in hand to write this morning, the sky is filled with swirling flakes, which experts were soon able to identify as snow. The wind was west, the Breakwater fog whistle was not blowing (page the Samoset guests!) and something seemed to tell us that the highway department would not have to break out drifted streets. But Jont Gardner was keeping a weather eye on the situation.

Rockland Lodge, B.P.O.E. will nominate officers Monday night, and the annual election, will take place March 22. Supper at 6.30.

The Albert H. Newbert Association will have its annual meeting at Masonic Temple Friday night. Chicken supper at 6.30, followed by the business meeting and election of officers.

Horace Vinal, Jr., formerly bellman at The Thordike Hotel, has enlisted in the Army at Fort Williams, and has been assigned to Co. M, Fifth Infantry. He will be transferred to Fort McKinley in about two weeks. A letter from the happy rookie says he likes the Army very much.

The Civil War Memorial Association held its annual meeting Tuesday and re-elected Col. I. Leslie Cross as president. Other officers chosen were: Vice president, Mrs. Millie Thomas; treasurer, Mae B. Reed; clerk, Col. E. K. Gould; trustees, Arthur Marsh, Eliza Plummer Lizzie French and Doris Ames.

An unpleasant sort of jinx pursues the South Thomaston Grange production "The Pajama Girl" scheduled for tomorrow night after having been previously postponed. Illness again has incapacitated two principal characters and forced a further postponement to March 12. It is planned to secure first class heating equipment from the proceeds of the play.

Scattering returns continue to dribble in for the Red Cross relief fund. From Thomaston the amounts received since the last report are: Third Grade, $151; High School, $8.70; Primary Room Federated Sunday School, .75; Mrs. W. T. Flint, $1. From friends anonymous, late contributions total $3.39, and from Vinalhaven, Mrs. Margaret Coombs, $1.

"Hop-a-long Cassidy," outstanding western favorite (non-singing) of local theatre goes, returns to Park Theatre Friday and Saturday in "Trail Dust." William Boyd, himself a high type straight shooter in private life, is in his accustomed role of "Hop-a-long." Clarence Mulford's famous character, in a clean, virile, adventure filled and authentic series of Western pictures. The writer never intentionally misses a Hop-a-long picture and thinks so highly of their inspirational value that the youthful members of the C.G. Club will attend in a body and deliver your papers the better for the experience.

Nu-Enamel is proud to announce its new location in Rockland—Hustont-Tuttle Book Store, 404 Main street. Nu-Enamel, the last word in finishes. One coat covers. Leaves no brush marks. Easy to wash. Is heat and acid proof. Come in and see a demonstration of its superior qualities.—adv.

Carl E. Morse, jeweler, one of the victims of Sunday's fire, will start his smoke and water sale Saturday morning.

All boys interested in joining a troop of Boy Scouts at the Congregational Church are asked to meet in the vestry tonight at 7.30.

Prof. William Loeb, director of physical education at Colby College was the speaker at Monday night's meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. Marianne Bullard presented a group of charming vocal solos with Mrs. Faith Berry at the piano.

The lot which the city has been reclaiming from the sea just north of the Bicknell wharf is early being turned to account. A W.P.A. crew will take charge next week building an airplane base, and a parking space for motor cars will also be provided.

The stage is set for the annual Western Maine High Schools basketball tournament in Lewiston. Friday afternoon's games will be Edward Little vs. Cheverus and Camden vs. Deering. In the evening Portland vs. Morse High and Lewiston vs. South Portland.

One of the important lessons learned from Community Fair is that Rockland possesses a public address system announcer of remarkable ability in the person of Albert McCarty who made the makeshift loud speakers at Community Building perform like the most perfect installation.

Architects will be at Strand Theatre next week to plan the extensive improvements which will be made there. These will include a remodeled front, an enlarged office and the institution of lounges. The quarters now occupied by Clark the florist, will be vacated, in order to furnish additional space.

HAMLIN'S BEST BILL
Friday Night's Boxing Show
Offers Fistic Stars—Jack
O'Brien's Come Back

Promoter Oliver Hamlin has booked a big boxing show for Friday night at the Spanish Villa Rink. The main bout will be between Sailor Utah of Bangor and Butch Wooster of Rockland. Sailor Utah is a veteran of over 150 fights having fought some of the best in the country. He is a Maine favorite and the pride of Bangor. Butch Wooster has fought his way up the ladder and is ready to meet the best in the State. He showed great form in his last two fights in Rockland—game to the core and always ready to fight anyone. This bout will be one of the best seen in Rockland for months.

Cracker Favreau Rockland's fast and clever little fighter is matched up to meet Jack Courtney of Brewer. Favreau has improved in his boxing and today is classed by Maine promoters as good as any in this State. His weight, Courtney is new to this city but has held the tough Bobby Campbell to a draw, and who has been boxing in Northern Maine rings with great success.

The preliminary is one of great interest. Jack O'Brien of Rockland will make a comeback and has been training for weeks to be in the best of shape. Jack when in condition, is without a doubt the best and fastest boxer in this section. He can throw plenty of punches and move with the speed of a shadow. He will fight the tough Joe Mandell of Bangor who only two weeks ago won a great fight at Bangor. Mandell will be the acid test for Jack.

The next bout will bring together Rockland's new find, Slasher Porter, the boy who has fought only seven fights, but who held Baby Ace Bellevance of Augusta to a draw at Belfast. Porter is a coming boy and will reach the top. His opponent will be Barney Campbell of Bangor a brother to Bobby. This will be a return match as both boys have a win over each other and Friday night's bout will settle who is the best man.

The advance sale of tickets indicates a large crowd. Tickets on sale at the Corner Drug store.

At 7:30 this evening at the Universalist Church Dr. Lowe will give the third in his informal Lenten talks on "Keynotes in a Happy Life." Friends of the general public will be welcome. The musical feature of the evening will be Shelley's, "God Is Love," a duet by Mrs. Veazie and Mrs. Lowe.

A clever young Rockland artist, Kosti Ruohoma, produced the panels in the Gregory windows today. The whole decorative scheme is built around the large central panels and none of the work of the commercial artists so far shown there has equalled the fine natural grace Kosti gives his young men. Close examination of the youth depicted in the northern window will yield a pleasant surprise.

IT'S INCOME TAX TIME

Read Carefully the Information Which Will Here Be Furnished

INCOME TAX IN A NUTSHELL

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $2,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period begins January 1 and ends March 15, 1937.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? See instructions on forms 1040A and 1040.

WHAT? Four percent normal tax on the amount of net income in excess of the personal exemption, credit for dependents, earned income credit, and interest on obligations of the United States and obligations of instrumentalities of the United States. Surplus on surplus net income in excess of $4,000.

INCOME-TAX DON'TS

DON'T prepare your return without first studying the instructions on the form.

DON'T procrastinate. Early assembling of data permits a careful consideration of all tax problems.

DON'T destroy the memoranda from which your return was prepared.

DON'T omit explanation when such information is essential to an intelligent audit. Attach memoranda to your return.

Automobile Deductions

With the number of automobile owners registering in the millions, the question of deductions for the cost of operation and maintenance of a motor car frequently arises. The purchase price of an automobile, whether it is to be used for business or pleasure, cannot be deducted from gross income. If used for business, it is a capital expenditure; if used for pleasure, it is a personal expenditure—both deductions being expressly prohibited by the income-tax law.

Several deductions, however, are allowable in connection with the cost of maintenance and operation of an automobile, used either for business or pleasure. If used exclusively for business, deductions may be taken for the cost of gasoline, oil, repairs, garage rent, and other necessary operation and upkeep expenses. Depreciation, based on the cost of the car and its estimated useful life, also is deductible.

Other deductible items are as follows: Sums paid during the taxable year for registration fees, drivers' licenses, personal property tax, and municipal taxes; interest on money borrowed for the purchase of a motor car, either for business or for pleasure; loss sustained by reason of damage while car is being used for business, provided such loss is not covered by insurance or otherwise; damages paid for injury to another, provided that the car was being used for business at the time, and the damage was not covered by insurance or otherwise; and the amount paid for insurance on motor vehicles used for business purposes.

Deduction For Tax on Motor Gas

If an automobile is used for both business and pleasure all of the main tenance and operating expenses connected therewith, which constitute allowable deductions for Federal income tax purposes, should be allocated to the two uses on the basis of the time that it is used for each. For example, if the total expense of operation and maintenance, plus depreciation, for the taxable year amounted to $800, and the car was used three-fourths of the time for business and the balance of the time for pleasure, the allowable deduction for Federal income-tax purposes would be $600.

If a law which imposes a tax on gasoline shows that the tax is imposed on the consumer and not on the dealer, the consumer may deduct as a tax, for Federal income-tax purposes, the amount of the gasoline tax paid by him; but the taxpayer must have kept records of the payment of such taxes in order that the deduction may be substantiated as is required by the law and the regulations. The Federal gasoline tax is not deductible by the consumer. A taxpayer may ascertain whether the gasoline tax imposed by a State is deductible by the consumer or by the dealer by addressing an inquiry to the collector of internal revenue for his district.

In any case where the gasoline purchased is used for business purposes the tax may be added to the cost of the gasoline and deducted as a business expense; but where that is done, the gasoline tax cannot be deducted separately under the item of taxes.

Deduction For Traveling Expenses

To obtain a deduction for traveling expenses, which form an important item in the returns of many taxpayers, certain regulations must be observed. The taxpayer is required to attach to his return a statement showing the nature of business in which engaged, number of days from home during the taxable year on account of business, total amount of expense incidental to meals and lodging, and total amount of "other expenses" incident to travel and claimed as a deduction. Among the "other expenses" are tips, provided they are reasonable in amount.

Traveling expenses are deductible only when the trip is on business. They are limited to such expenses as are reasonable and necessary in the conduct of the business and directly attributable to it.

Traveling expenses incurred in connection with a journey to another city to accept or seek employment are not deductible. Suburbanites who commute daily from their homes to their places of business are not permitted to deduct the cost of transportation, it being a personal expense.

Claims for deduction for traveling expenses must be substantiated, when required by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, showing in detail the amount and nature of the expenses incurred.

Deduction For Losses Other Than From Sale Or Exchange Of Capital Assets

Deductions for losses are divided into four classes, and to be allowed must follow closely the wording of the income-tax law. Losses are deductible if incurred (1) in the taxpayer's trade, business, or profession, (2) in any transaction entered into for profit; (3) from fires, storms, shipwreck, or other casualties, or from theft; and (4) from wagering transactions.

Business losses result, usually, from the purchase and sale of merchandise. Such losses usually are ascertained by means of inventories, which are required whenever in the opinion of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue their use is necessary to determine the income of any taxpayer.

The term "transaction entered into for profit" means any kind of business proposition. For example, a taxpayer purchases an automobile to be used solely for business purposes, and which is sold at a loss. As this is a business proposition from start to finish, the loss is deductible, subject to the limitations of section 117. But if he had purchased the automobile to be used for pleasure or convenience, the deduction would not be allowed; it was not a transaction entered into for profit.

A loss sustained in the theft of an automobile purchased for pleasure or convenience is deductible, as it falls in class 3. If, because of faulty driving but not of "willful negligence," an automobile maintained for pleasure is damaged, the taxpayer may claim the loss sustained, as it comes within the meaning of the word "casualty." Where damages result from the faulty driving of an automobile with which the automobile of the taxpayer collides, the loss occasioned the taxpayer likewise is deductible.

Losses from wagering transactions, whether legal or illegal, are deductible only to the extent of gains from such transactions. The excess of such losses over the gains is not deductible.

All losses are deductible only to the extent to which they are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise

Deductible capital losses are further subject to the limitations of section 117.

L. Seymour, B.S.A. This single volume gives the scope and contents of a whole shelf of garden books with complete information on every garden subject. Mrs. Talbot Aldrich of Boston was the donor of this valuable work, "The Garden Encyclopedia."

Nellie E. Pierson

Neighbors and friends in this community and elsewhere of Nellie E. (Robinson) wife of Capt. Reid R. Pierson were saddened to hear of her death Feb. 19. Mrs. Pierson's illness of bronchial pneumonia was of short duration, and death came as a great shock to Mr. Pierson who but a few days previous had undergone an operation at Knox Hospital and to her daughters, Mrs. Fernie Rice and Miss Ruth Pierson, who had been called home from Massachusetts to care for their mother.

Mrs. Pierson was a highly respected citizen and for many years past, was a faithful and willing worker in the Order of the Eastern Star and the Ladies Sewing Circle. She will be missed in many ways about town, and especially by her near neighbors who knew her best, and found in her friendship, sincerity, and loyalty. She was universally respected.

Funeral services were held at the church Feb. 22, Rev. Newell J. Smith officiating. Flowers of rare beauty surrounded the casket. A pathetic incident of the services was the absence of Capt. Pierson because of illness, and of a grandson, Richard Rice of New York to whom Mrs. Pierson was most devoted. Another coincidence was the fact that a sister of the deceased, Mrs. Louise Burton of Spruce Head, died within an hour's time of Mrs. Pierson's death and funeral rites for her were held the same day, two hours later.

The immediate relatives who survive are her husband, Reid R. Pierson; two daughters, Mrs. Fernie Rice of Medford, Mass., and Miss Ruth Pierson of Cambridge, Mass., and a grandson, Richard Rice of New York. Bearers were Dr. Moss, David Sivest, Herbert Pierson and Ernest Rawley. Interment was in the family lot, Seaside Cemetery.

AT SPRING TIDE

(For The Courier-Gazette)

In good old Tenants Harbor Days I walk again in youthful ways With boyhood comrades now once more Along the fair familiar shore. We find the tide has ebbed out low And left beyond its usual flow New harbor bottom reaches bare. We'll surely find some pleasure there.

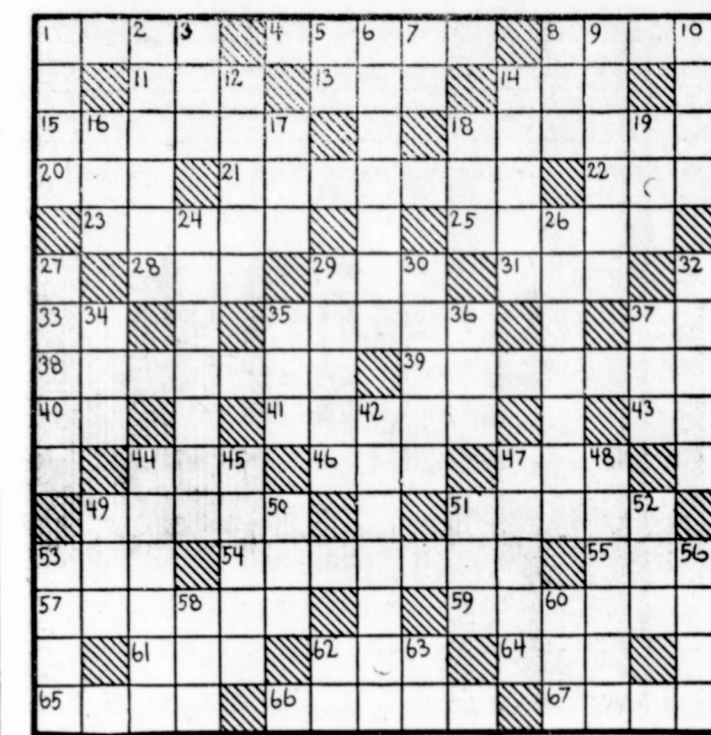

With bare feet, cautious, shunning brack, And bites of slim fish, wielding sticks We dig out clams big, old and tough Beneath the muscle hummocks rough. And hidden in the eel grass mats We find big crabs and lobsters, too. Where now such things I'm sure are few.

Then while the tide is coming in We build a stove of rocks and tin. On John Long's shore the brine above And drift wood plenty inside shore. We find in which to boil our stuff. A copper paint pan large enough The railway headhouse lying near And use the thing without a fear That poison stuff may in it dwell. For boy as well as barnacle.

Our stomachs good and full we cram Of crab and lobster meat and clam. Our feast we finish, loaf about. For still the tide is too far out. To go in swimming now once more. Our favorite sport upon that shore. But soon we seek to get our share. And one by one we homeward steal Our mothers' medicine to take And go to bed with pain and ache. Resolved to cook upon the shore Our fish in paint pan nevermore.

Jamaica, Vt. Allison M. Watts

ORFF'S CORNER

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tisdale and sons Harry and Arthur of Gardiner were callers Sunday on friends here. Percy Elwell of Unity was a visitor Tuesday at the homes of his brothers Albert Elwell and Kenneth Elwell.

Mrs. Marjorie Ralph, Miss Evelyn Ralph and Mrs. Gertrude Ralph attended church services Sunday at the village.

Albee Sidelinger, Mrs. Martha Benner, Mrs. Fannie Weaver and daughter Frances were South Union visitors Sunday.

Kenneth Elwell visited Sunday in Glenmere at the home of his uncle Leonard H. Seavey where Mrs. Elwell is caring for Mr. and Mrs. Seavey who are ill.

Raymond Jackson has so far recovered from his hand injury as to resume his work at the button factory.

Harold Hupper of Tenant's Harbor was a caller Monday at Albert Elwell's.

STRAND THEATRE

Pat's a policeman this time. He's Officer O'Malley, a tough, hardboiled copper who cannot see beyond his rule book until a little crippled girl and a lovely school teacher humanize him. By the time the final fadeout ends the story he's a regular fellow, just as Pat always is, in films indeed, in real life. Sharing stellar honors with him, Humphrey Bogart, who scored so greatly as the killer in "The Petrified Forest."

Ann Sheridan, another recent discovery of the studio, who was a high school girl in Dallas, Texas, only a year ago, plays the school teacher.

The little crippled child is played by Sybil Jason, the 7-year-old South African child actress who captivated movie audiences in "The Little Big Shot" and "The Singing Kid." —adv.

and action in correcting the situation precipitated by the veto action to which reference has been made."

No opposition was voiced at a hearing before the Legislative Judiciary Committee today to a bill proposing that Maine's seven Executive Councilors be elected by votes in their respective districts. Executive Councilors now are elected by the Legislature.

No opposition was registered against a bill which would increase from 10,000 to 20,000 the number of required signatures of legal voters on petitions seeking a referendum on measures enacted by the Legislature. The measure was supported by its sponsor, Representative Cleveland Sleeper, Jr., of Rockland.

Gov. Barrows yesterday signed a law to provide immediate and final revocation of the licenses of hunters who wound or kill any person while pursuing game in Maine woods.

Senator Fernald of Winterport favored a bill to "have the weirmen give up the month of April and take instead the month from July 15 'o August 15. Under the present law, weirs may be used from April 1 to July 15. Fernald said April was "practically valueless to weir fishermen." Ice and floating debris damaged weirs and fish did not run during April, he said.

CAMDEN

A special movie reel entertained members of the Rotary Club as an aftermath of its Tuesday's meeting. Rotary International supplied films having a background in Nice, France where the international convention will be held June 6-11.

Mrs. Mildred Rhodes of Rockport will be hostess Tuesday afternoon at a silver tea sponsored by the local W.C.T.U.

Reaching a fifth milestone on life's highway merits a celebration, or so thought Kathleen Dority who entertained Monday eight young friends in festive birthday style. Her young guests were Geraldine Bartlett, Lucille Talbot, Charles Dean, Doris Hopkins, Joyce Sylvester, Maurice Leonard, Blanche Leonard and Carolyn Frye. Cocoa, sandwiches and ice cream brought happy smiles and game playing increased the merriment.

Mrs. E. M. Crosby is attending a trustees' meeting at the Odd Fellows Home in Auburn.

Mrs. Evelyn Taylor will be hostess this afternoon at her Elm street home to the Lend-a-Hand Club Sewing Circle.

A St. Patrick's Day ball is the latest project of the Outing Club and is scheduled for March 17 in the Opera House.

Sewing for the Seacoast Mission was the worthy occupation of the Congregational Good Cheer class when it met Tuesday night with Mrs. Harry Tounge. Refreshments and social period also had a place on the program.

Alvah L. Anderson is home from the Central Maine Sanitarium in Fairfield.

Garden Club Notes

Mrs. Pearl G. Willey is motoring to Boston next week with Mrs. Fred S. Woods, president of the Maine Federation of Garden Clubs, and Portland friends, to attend the annual spring flower show.

They will also attend the New York show and on the return trip will stop in Providence where they will be guests at the annual meeting of the Rhode Island Federation.

They will return in time for Mrs. Woods to preside at the monthly meeting and luncheon of the executive board of the Maine Federation to be held March 19 in Rockland.

Legal Notice

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE WHEREAS, Wesley W. Snowdeal of South Thomaston, in the County of Knox and State of Maine, by his mortgage deed dated February 21st, 1934, and recorded in Knox County Registry of Deeds, Book 234, Page 492, conveyed to the undersigned, Edwin V. Shea of said South Thomaston, a certain lot or parcel of land, situated on the road leading from South Thomaston Village to Spruce Head, and being that portion of the homestead farm of the late Flora A. Rollins which lies on the Western side of said road, said homestead farm being described in deed of Sydney D. Jackson et al to said Wesley W. Snowdeal dated July 31 1924 and recorded in Knox County Registry of Deeds, Book 200, Page 243, which deed and the record thereof, so far as it applies to this mortgage, is hereby made a part of this description. AND WHEREAS the condition of said mortgage has been broken, NOW THEREFORE, by reason of the breach of the condition thereof, I claim a foreclosure of said mortgage. Dated at Rockland, Maine, March 2nd, 1937.

“What have you to offer that other stores haven’t?”

A pretty blunt question, if you ask us... and someone did.

First... we have, we think, a more personal service than you can find locally... a suit to us is more than a sale... it's months and months of style service to our most valuable asset.

Second... Better selections... we don't buy a pattern because it's good for the money... we sell it because it's best for our customer.

Third... Lower prices... we don't mean we can beat the lowest price tickets... but we're willing to take a whack at the highest values.

Fourth... We have no argument with the man who doesn't give a rap about the first three.

SOCIETY

Hatetiquit Club and The Sewing Club were entertained jointly Tuesday afternoon and evening by Mrs. Lizzie French at her home on Rankin street. Sewing was followed by an excellent picnic supper, with cards for a later diversion. Mrs. Retia Cole and Mrs. Grace Rollins won honors.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Spear and son Ralph have returned to their home in Saco, after a visit with several relatives in this city.

Mrs. Harmon Davis of Portland has been in the city this week on business. Mrs. Davis is owner of the block at the corner of Main and Elm streets which was threatened by fire Sunday forenoon.

Junior Harmony Club meets Saturday at 4 o'clock at the Universalist vestry. Plans will be completed for the winter picnic to be held next week, with the usual lesson and song practice. Members are reminded of dues.

Mrs. A. U. Patterson returned to her home at Vinalhaven yesterday, after spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Schofield.

Members of the classes, conducted by Miss Alice Erskine and Miss Edith Knowlton, are invited to meet with Mrs. Knott Rankin Friday night at 7 o'clock. There will be an election of officers, and selection of class name, motto and work.

Merton Sumner came from University of Maine Saturday for a weekend visit at his home on Park street.

Officers of Golden Rod Chapter will meet at 2 o'clock Sunday for rehearsal.

V. F. Studley has returned from Boston, where he attended a furniture show.

There were 23 members answering the roll call at the Monday meeting of Lady Knox Chapter D.A.R. and a paper on "Fort Weston, Augusta" prepared by Miss Jeannette Stahl was read by Miss Ellen Cochran.

Miss Susan Spear, Mrs. Lawrence Mills and Mrs. Hazel Bartlett were prize winners when Mrs. Robert DeMuth was hostess to Monday Nites at her home on Lisle street.

Mrs. Mildred Carver Manning is a surgical patient in Knox Hospital and would appreciate hearing from friends.

Caroline, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Streeter Webster, entertained recently at her home in honor of her tenth birthday. Games were enjoyed and a dainty luncheon was served. Her guests were Mary Jane Thomas, Theresa Bishop, Ava Jones, Florence Knights, Priscilla Anderson, Ruth McMahon, Muriel Adams, Eva Mattson, Alice Hall and Louise Jones. Caroline received many nice gifts.

Clarence H. Merrifield who has been indoors with the prevailing disease is able to be out again.

Arthur Wardwell has returned from Lowell, Mass., where he spent the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Charles Clements. He was accompanied by his granddaughter Miss Ruth Clements, who will return to Lowell at the end of the week.

Miss Bernice Haining has returned from a visit of several weeks in Vermont and Massachusetts.

The third board meeting of the State Federation of Music Clubs was held recently at the Philharmonic studio in Auburn, with 30 State representatives present. During the afternoon Alexandre Lemieux entertained with the following vocal numbers, "Elle Ne Croyait Pas," from the Opera "Mignon," "If With All Your Heart" from the opera "Elijah" and "Maushia." Mrs. Eleanor Leadbetter was accompanist. An interesting feature was the presentation of the State of Maine song to the group by Miss Sally Green. This is the song which is being discussed for acceptance as a State song in the Legislature this winter. It was voted to award two scholarships to two piano pupils for a year's instruction at Prater House, Portland. There was some discussion pertaining to the State Federation which meets in Rockland the latter part of May, and also of the city of Indianapolis taking over the duties of hostess for the "Biennial" in place of Louisville. A profitable meeting disposing of many business matters.
